

DISTRICT ONE AWARDED I. & M. TAXES

Berrien County W. C. T. U. Holds 41st Annual Meet Here Apr. 27

JUDGE WHITE HANDS DOWN DECISION SAT.

Suit was Brought Two Years Ago by Frac. Dist. 14 for Taxes on $450,000 Assessment.

Atty. Frank Sanders, counsel for Fractional District No. 1, Buchanan, received notice from Judge Charles E. White Saturday to the effect that he had handed down a decision in favor of the Buchanan district in the suit brought against it by Fractional District No. 14 of Niles and Buchanan townships for the taxes from the section of the city on the north side of the St. Joseph river which contains the Ind. & Mich. dam and power house, and other items, with a total assessed value of $450,000.

Judge White based his decision mainly on the fact that District No. 1 had been permitted to collect taxes without dispute since the construction of the power house and dam in 1905 until the initiation of the suit two years ago, and that it is reasonable to suppose that the right to tax was legally transferred at the time the area was included in the city about 40 years ago.

SECRETARY SOUTH BEND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SPEAKS

Relates Success of South Bend Organization in Initiating Govt. Economy.

What politics can do to business and what business can do to politics when it sets its mind to was the theme of an interesting talk by George Firmin, secretary of the South Bend Chamber of Commerce, before the Luncheon club meeting Tuesday.

Firmin gave an account of the move initiated by the South Bend Chamber of Commerce to eliminate certain sub departments of the Department of Commerce, the reorganizations of which were heard around the United States. He read from numerous letters and telegrams from business and civic organizations over the entire country endorsing the stand taken by the South Bend organization.

As a result of the initiation of the Indiana city, President Hoover now has a reorganization under way along the lines suggested. Every organization of business men in the United States should make its influence felt on the government to induce public economy to the same extent that now prevails in business, he stated.

Secretary Firmin was introduced by H. W. Riley, chairman of the entertainment committee. An attendance of 30 members was present for the occasion.

Galen Farmer Pleads Guilty to Theft of Motor

George Hitchcock, farmer living on M-60 near Galien, was arraigned before Al W. Charles on Saturday morning, charged with the theft of a 2 h. p. gasoline motor from the Lewis & Frisner contracting outfit a year ago. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25, plus costs of $10. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Fred Hall, who found other stolen equipment at the Hitchcock farm and who accused him of stealing the motor. After being told that the officers knew of the theft and that he might as well "come clean," Hitchcock admitted taking the motor, stating that he had broken it to pieces and buried it after the first search of his premises. He was granted clemency on account of his family of five children.

IS SELECTION OF JUDGES FROM TEN BEAUTIES

Choice is Popular with Audience; Miss Clarice Banke is Runner-Up.

Buchanan was assured of most creditable representation in the 1932 Blossom Queen competition with the selection at the Princess Theatre Friday evening of Miss Pauline Hartsell from a group of ten young beauties whose assembled charms made the judges task none too easy.

After a careful review of the ten entries, the judges decided unanimously on Miss Hartsell. The last to be eliminated was Miss Clarice Banke. Other entries were the Misses Marcelle Sult, Betty Lewis, Violet Stoner, Mary Howe, Doris Whittaker, Hilma Rastatter, Esther Bradley and Alene Welbaum.

The Miss Buchanan for the present year came to this place five years ago from Portland, Ind., where she had been left an orphan and has since made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Emma Brown. She is eighteen years old just inside the age limit of 18-25 years. She made an excellent appearance on the stage and the audience was satisfied after the selection that they had one of the best representatives in recent years.

The judges of the contest were Mrs. Robert Marks and Mrs. Newton Baker of Niles, and William Ausberger of the South Bend News Times. The events of the evening were capably directed by Miss Cecilia Eisenhart, Blossom Queen of 1930, who acted as chairman for the evening. Mrs. George Roe assisted her in the arrangements. R. R. Robinson was in charge of the music, which consisted of selections by a mixed quartet, and a saxophone trio and a boys' quintet.

The selection of the queen will be made at the Liberty theater at St. Joseph on the evening of Wednesday, April 27. The theater management announces that as a new concession they will allow for arrangements for tickets by mail. Anyone desiring seats may arrange by remitting at the rate of $1 per seat to the theater management by mail. In view of the usual rush for seats, it is advisable to make the arrangements as early as possible.

The round of activities for the girls elected from the cities of Michigan will begin with that evening and will later include a banquet in St. Joseph, Sunday, April 1, and a two-day trip to Chicago, when they will be the guests of the Hotel Sherman, and will be entertained at a banquet at the College Inn and at another at the Edgewater Beach Hotel. The coronation ball will be held at St. Joseph Wednesday evening, May 4. The Blossom Day parade will be held on May 7.

And You'll Please Call Him Mister Snyder After This It ain't often that Lady Luck smiles at anybody these days, but she cast what was apparently a dazzling smile at one Morton P. Snyder, formerly known as Mort, this last week, the smile being in the form of notice that he is one of the four heirs to the property of the late Judge Walter Titus of Ottawa, Ill. The fortune of Judge Titus, comprising city and farm property in and about Ottawa, had been left to an aunt of Mr. Snyder during her life time. The aunt has just passed on.

HARLEIGH W. RILEY

HARLEIGH RILEY IS PROMOTED IN I. & M. RANKS

Manager Merchandising and Lighting Sales in S. B. Offices.

H. W. Riley, native and lifetime resident (up to now) of Buchanan, where he has climbed the rounds from "grunter" to district manager for the Indiana & Michigan Electric company, received a promotion at the hands of that company to the position of manager of merchandising and lighting sales in the property office of the company headquarters in South Bend, effective April 18, and has entered on his new duties.

People of Buchanan will be glad to learn that this merited good fortune will not deprive the city of the Riley family, who will make their home here for some time at least.

In addition to the new position, Mr. Riley will remain the nominal head of the Buchanan district as manager, although the work will be under the direction of Albert Rohl, who has been promoted to the district superintendency.

Will Complete Relaying Sewer Outlet Today

The relaying of 513 feet of 12-inch tile comprising the Third and Portage sewer outlet from the Third Street manhole to the railway grade is scheduled to be completed today by a force of men working under the direction of Wilton Letter. The tile has been relaid on planks to prevent the settling which was responsible for previous obstruction. The original installation was found to have been very unsatisfactorily done, many of the joints being entirely separated, and the entire course very uneven. Progress in reinstallation was made difficult by the large springs which filled the trench with five feet of water. The tile had originally been laid around one large spring. A large spring has burst into the sewer at the Third street manhole and some difficulty is expected in shutting it off.

HALL, FABIANO WIN IN SAVOLDI WRESTLING CARD

Joe Savoldi to Wrestle Ostopo Lithuanian Champion in Niles, April 29.

Promoter Clem Savoldi's second night of grappling entertainment resulted in victories for the two Buchanan wrestlers involved in the program.

Frank Fabiano, local soda dispenser, and Black Rhoutson of Dowagiac, both obviously very much out of condition were the participants in the first match. After fifteen minutes of tugging, sweating and bleeding, and after the mad whirl of arms and legs had slowed down enough to permit clear vision, Referee Miltenberger discovered that Mr. Rhoutson's brawny shoulders were firmly pinned to the mat. After being informed of his opponent's sad plight Fabiano gave a final grunt of approval, yawned slightly, arose and then stepped nimbly through the ropes to make room for the next act. In the near future Fabiano is to meet the present heavyweight champion of Michigan.

Fred Hall climbed the second step to the championship by defeating Joe Snyder. Snyder is the second of six men to be picked by Midget Fisher, present welterweight champ, to meet Hall. If Hall defeats these six men he will be allowed a chance for the championship, which he once held. Hall pinned Snyder with a hammerlock at the end of thirty-one minutes.

In the main bout of the evening Barney Ostopo, 225-pound Lithuanian champ defeated Ad Herman in two straight falls. The first fall in seventeen minutes with a reverse body slam and the second in fourteen minutes with a flying body scissors.

Joe Savoldi, who needs no introduction to local fans, will meet Ostopo on Clem's next card, April 29th, at the Elks Temple, Niles.

Now Here's the Proposition

WHO'S GOT THE BUTTON? By Haws

The people down in London Financially. The boys in Buenos Aires Are back on last month's rent The people down in Naples Have took to jingling staples For they are out of money And badly broke or beat.

In France and Rome and Russia, In Samarand and Prussia, Are all upon the debit, And deep upon the cuff. The residents of Bravaria Of Oshkosh and Ontario Are sadly out of credit, And living on a bluff.

And still it seems so runny That all are out of money, Just where and who the guys are They owe that money to? In some so distant planet That only light years span it, Must be the guy sultanate That holds our I. O. U's.

It's Just an Old Buchanan Custom And now that the sewer has been reopened and covered again in accordance with the annual custom of the city, why don't Wilson Leiter, who has been calling the signals on the job, install zipper fastenings so it will be easier to open the subject next year?

It Ought to be Shot There was a robin singing up in the west part of town this morning. Hadn't heard of the depression, it seems.

WHAT DOES G. O. P. SERGT. AT ARMS DO FOR A LIVING

That's What Atty. Philip C. Landsman is, But What Is It?

Atty. Philip C. Landsman, rising young law merchant of Buchanan, received notification this week that he has been appointed assistant sergeant-at-arms at the republican national convention to be held in Chicago in June.

Just what a sergeant-at-arms has to do besides grab off choice seats for all his friends (and what a lot he will have if he can't) is not clear. Wear a ribbon and keep clear of the steam roller seems about all the duties in sight. Now if it were for the democratic convention—that would be something!

B. H. S. On Accredited List For Coming Year

INSPECTORS PLACE OKEH ON STANDARDS

Means Recognition of Diplomas by All Universities and Colleges.

Buchanan High School accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

of the Buchanan high school, has just been notified that this school has been accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools for the period ending March 17, 1933.

In explanation of the term of accrediting the local school authorities have been advised that it is the established policy of the Association to prepare each year a new list of approved secondary schools.

Before any school can be considered for accrediting by the Association, it must be on the highest list of schools approved and accredited by the school authorities of this state.

The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is an accrediting agency comprising twenty states and is the largest regional accrediting agency in the United States.

Advantages that high schools realize as a result of being accredited by this Association can be summarized as follows:

1. The graduates of an accredited high school are privileged to enter institutions of higher education within the North Central States without entrance examinations, provided that they have credits in the high school subjects required by the college or for admission. Since other accrediting agencies recognize schools accredited by this Association, this privilege of entering institutions of higher education without examination is extended practically throughout the United States.
2. The graduates of accredited high schools have the assurance that their diplomas will be acceptable to state boards having to do with the granting of certificates for the various professions of medicine, dentistry, law, etc. In states requiring graduation from approved high schools as a prerequisite to the obtaining of a teaching certificate, the graduates of schools accredited by the North Central Association meet the requirements of such a law.
3. A high school approved by this Association must maintain high standards and consequently the community is assured of a program of modern high school education.
4. The examination of the school at regular intervals by inspectors and supervisors serves to stimulate progress and to prevent the development of questionable practices and tendencies.
5. A high school accredited by this Association enjoys a greater prestige in the surrounding country and therefore finds it easier to attract non-resident pupils.
6. The patrons have more confidence in and are generally more willing to support an accredited high school.

Student Council Flings Leap Year Fete Friday Night

A leap year party was given on Friday evening at 8:30 in the gym under the able sponsorship of the good and party fingers of the Student Council.

The age-old custom was deviated from in that the girls were obliged to ask the fellows for the dances. Many of the fellows absent mindedly thanked the girls for the dances.

Miscellaneous was furnished by the "Skippy" Ebbett orchestra and ice cold pop could be obtained at a convenient booth.

Editorial

Education has as its chief purpose the betterment of society as a whole and as a method it trains the individual to be a better citizen and member of society.

Vocational guidance or aiding an individual to select a life's work and then to train him for it, is the chief method used by educators to accomplish their ends.

"I do think the student council is a benefit to the students, because it decides all our troubles for us, helps us if we want a party and suggests betterments that we never think of and makes the students feel important when representatives of the student body," states Dorothy Anderson.

When fair maidens express their likings for mashed potatoes and whipped cream cake, it's high time we look into the matter. Vivian Mogford answers this very well. She also likes swimming, riding horses, skating and dancing.

Albert Webb has been bestowing actual castles on fair maidens this week. So all you chateau diggers, get busy. It seems that "Spider" Wemm has built a castle for his project on the "Lady of Lake."

PROGRESS OF CLASS ROOMS DURING WEEK

English Students Enter Essays in National Contest; Math. Dept. Studies Mystery.

Seniors are writing essays this week. Several of the students have entered the National Scholastic contest and are writing on the subject "What is College For?" while other members of the class are writing vocational essays.

A review for the Gamma English essentials test to be given on April 21 is going on in all the English classes from the 7th to the 12th inclusive. In the 10th, 11th and 12th English classes all those who received one hundred in the Alpha and Beta tests are excused from the Gamma test.

The freshman English classes have started the study of Shakespeare's play, "Julius Caesar." Last week a test was given over parts of speech, and there were 27 perfect papers and 24 with only one error.

Editorials and editorial writing have been studied by the journalism class. The students analyzed newspapers for timely subjects on which good editorials could be written. This week they have been studying the editorial page debate.

Studying verbs has been the work of the French eleven class. The Latin ten class finished the first book of Caesar, while the Latin nine class is struggling with indirect discourse.

The algebra classes are going head-first into solving practical problems and forming equations from word sentences. Mr. Hyink is hoping that they will know their equal signs soon.

The geometry class is studying simple polygons. Sounds easy, doesn't it? But they say, "Sing Something Simple."

The trigonometry detectives are solving an "Area of Triangles" case. There are quite a few Sherlock Holmeses in that class too!

No, you're wrong! It isn't the Cuban Love song it's the Cuban war that the eighth grade history class is studying now, and are they busy?

Also the tenth grade class is studying the Industrial Revolution. We're sure the citizenship class will be fit for Congress when they finish studying the origin and making the Constitution of the United States.

Right this way! A puppet show is on! It is to be given by Mrs. Weaver's 7th grade social studies class. The show consists of a number of historical events during the Revolutionary war, including "Benedit Arnold" and "The Surrender of Burgoyne." The stage will be set up by Bob Irvin and Melvin Campbell, and the puppets dressed by Eva Kovich and Imogene Russell.

The seventh grade arithmetic class is very busy studying compound interest; likewise the 8th grade is preparing for algebra in the future year by solving formulas.

SLANG By Doris Campbell In this day and age one has to keep up with the latest expressions of the younger generation in order to understand at all what they're talking about; and slang seems to be more prevalent than ever before. It's smart to be slangy!

For instance, you'd immediately be considered mid-victorian if you innocently referred to someone as being "nice." If you wish to be complimentary, there is no better way than to speak of one as being "a honey," "a brick" or "an egg." In the vernacular of the moderne, a "nice" person would invariably be dull, and more than likely, prudish.

For people who have over-indulged in intoxicating liquors, the young set have turned to a few more common of domestic expressions for aid, and it is from this source that "pickled," "soused," and "stewed" come. "Canned," which, by all the rules of right and order, ought to belong to this same list, is used in referring to persons who have been expelled from institutions of learning; the relation of "canned" to "stewed," etc., is not far removed, however.

The old standby of the bygone era used to be "so's yer ol' man." However, this has now been replaced by the cultural and melodious—retort, "Nertz."

Well, live and learn—slang!

the window and cruised around the room. Everyone pulled his collar up around his neck for fear the bug would make a forced landing.

The excitement was over in a minute, however, when the bug decided he wasn't wanted and again flew through the open window.

G. A. A. Indoor baseball games between the several classes have begun. On Tuesday night after school the junior team beat the sophomores to the tune of 23 to 19. The seniors were scheduled to play the freshmen but forfeited because of the lack of players. Thursday, it was the freshman team that bowed to the strong junior veterans. Next week the juniors will meet the seniors in their annual tilt, and it should prove very exciting.

Home Economics The ninth and tenth grades have been finding out "whether" they really are blondes or brunettes. Persons who before thought they were brunettes, now discover they are flord blondes. It really is surprising.

Miss Skeels has been giving the students color tests to find what color will go with their eyes, complexion, and hair.

Many found good results, much to their liking. Some did not. The ninth grade notebooks are steadily being filled with fashions of all kinds.

Athletics Inter-class track meet is scheduled for this Friday. All of the past stars are out for training, besides a great number of beginners. This meet should prove a great success, as a great rivalry has sprung up between the juniors and the other classes.

It is rumored that, although the juniors think they have the meet cinched, they will meet a great surprise when they encounter the opposition from the other classes.

Glee Club

Now that the Minstrel show is over, Miss Crawford and her girls are getting back to work on the glee club songs. Some of the songs they were practicing last week were: Tscalkovsky's "None but the Lonely Heart," Purcell's "Passing By," and "The Cuckoo Clock," by G. A. Grant Schaefer.

AROUND AND ABOUT By His Majesty Bunker Bean Being ever so lucky as to write this column on April 13, the outcome will probably indicate the bad number involved.

It has come to my notice that persons object to what I say about them, but, folks, I write "nothing but the truth."

An outstanding fact has come to life. Don Roti Roti is learning gymnastics, but he's performing them in the auditorium.

Say here's news: Pauline VanEvery is an excellent debate coach.

"Monty" Montgomery is learning the plumbing trade and wheeling children about.

Tom Quirk has trouble spelling "individual."

Elsie Paul is wearing pearl earrings.

Doris Bromley is displaying a brand new bandage on her chin.

Robert Montgomery will never listen to "the other side of the story."

"Mike" Boyce walks in the upper hall before 8.

Marie Hess has a keen-gold bracelet.

R. R. Robinson is wearing a new hair cut.

Nene DeNardo has a huge secret. It concerns the feminine sex.

Eva Swartz has bangs now, too. Ed Rohl has dark, curly hair.

Say did you ever notice—Dale Boyce's red hair?

Ted Lyon's attention for a certain Hamilton.

Dick Schram's ability as a "cat" charmer? Seems as though he spends considerable time on Front street recently, trying to charm and hypnotize a cat. Then too—it is said he's turned Hessian.

Another extra: Barbara Hamilton has the flu.

Alan Stevenson is going to give us a "break" and come to the high school dance.

Well, folks, news is scarce this week so I guess I'll hoist anchor and move on.

The Old Timer's Corner

Old Timer Endorses Idea Centennial For Buchanan

For once an "old timer" was quoted in the "front page" and I will say that it was very interesting article, even if "ye editor" did write it himself. In giving us the story of the McCoy family, which some of us were more or less informed about, he also gave us comparative locations etc., which made it more interesting. And I will say in passing, that I am in hopes that Mr. McCoy's suggestion will meet with the approval of the village dads and that something will be done to put over some sort of a program or event, which will mark that point in the history of our old home town, for keeps. We have a lot of people over here that would be interested in such a thing, and I think that if your suggestion gets action, locally, that you can depend upon our old Chicago-Buchanan society to broadcast for the affair and plug for it in so far as it is possible, for we are all still Buchananites, at heart, everyone of us.

You know, any one that was raised in a small town or on a farm near a small town, is sort of human and different from the people that are raised on stone pavements and have "yellow" newspapers for literature. I have always contended that a boy or girl has a decided advantage, who has known the plain living and home influence, that comes to them thru life in smaller towns or from farms. I know that the lads that lived "in town" (meaning Buchanan) when I was living on the farm, thought they were quite a lot better, for some reason, than the lads that were raised in town. We are all of one warp, that come from that "neck of the woods," and while some have acquired more of this world's goods than others, yet we are all very much alike and seem to see things more and more alike, as we grow older. I was very much pleased and surprised, not very long ago, while talking with one of the home town boys of near my age, to find that his ideas which he expressed in talking over certain subjects, was the very same as my own. We have not seen much of each other in all the years since we both left Buchanan, but we have arrived at much the same conclusions. We live much the same sort of lives, and it just goes to show that early training and influence, has its effect on making the man or woman of later years, and sort of balances the tendency toward

McCoy Article Revives Memories for John Holmes

Editor Record,
The interview with George McCoy revives some memories of my own. When I was a small lad I was coming from town to our home when we passed an old man, who by his appearance might have been anywhere between 80 and 150 years old, who was gathering old stumps from the fence corners opposite the West Bros nursery grounds, afterward the Bartness place, loading the stumps into a one horse wagon, for home fuel, and I was told his name was Daniel McCoy. He lived in one of the one story houses on the North side of Front street between the George Noble and McCumber homes. This I have never understood was the father of Russell McCoy. I have recently been informed that Russ' father was George, and whether the apparent discrepancy is in the old man being George instead of Daniel or was not the father of Russell, I do not understand. The mission, three miles east from Portage street is given in my history as being Rev. Isaac McCoy, probably a brother of Russ' father. Along in the early 1860's my brother, Enos, bought a steam threshing outfit and had for engineer, this same Russ McCoy, and he was in the crew for three seasons in that vicinity and two in Poweshiek county, Iowa, the neighborhood of the Hall, Dearborn, Wilson, Craft, and other Berrien county neighborhoods. The crew including George Bush, Hugh Koley, feeders, and a roustabout, nicknamed "Barum" went with the outfit to Iowa. Meantime, I had a good chance to get acquainted with Russ McCoy. There are two pictures in that acquaintance that stand out as prominently as a wart on a man's nose. When he first came out to work he had his head shaved, prison fashion, not the sign of hair above his collar. The other was different. The first job was the threshing of the home crop, and when the machine had been running a short time I went around to the engine and noticed that the governor belt was off, so called "flat" and he said "I'll fix it." I thought it should be on perhaps I better put it on. This to a lad of ten was taken as his belief the thing to do was to put it on, so that is what I did, and directly the machine slowed down, and work stopped, just as he knew it would. Right then he put in what seemed to me to be a half hour, giving me a McCoy pattern of tongue lashing, saying it had to be settled right then and there as to whether he or I were going to run that engine. If I, he would quit at once, etc. It would be unsafe for me to include here my opinion of that method of teaching a lad the meaning of an engine. It might be the cause of spontaneous combustion and burn up your printing office. After that Russ and I got along without friction to any alarming extent.

STETSON CHAPEL, KALAMAZOO COLLEGE.

Stetson Chapel, dedicated April 22nd, 1932 honors a leader greatly beloved and altogether worthy in Herbert Lee Stetson, "The Grand Old Man" of Kalamazoo College, Kalamazoo, Michigan. Dr. Stetson, now in his 85th year, is rounding out his 33rd year of service at Kalamazoo College. Relieved of the administrative duties of the presidency with the accession of Allan Hoben in 1922, Dr. Stetson, as President Emeritus, has remained actively engaged as college chaplain and conducts the daily chapel service.

The building, embodying a combination of early American and Byzantine architecture, has been erected at a cost of $100,000. The funds were contributed by a large number of alumni and friends of the college.

The chapel is located on the highest knoll of the campus, dominating the quadrangle which has been outlined as the centennial building program which is to be completed in 1933.

State Flowers

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another of a series of articles on state flowers, prepared by Mrs. W. F. Runner.

OHIO
Is known as the "Buckeye state" and has for its official flower the Scarlet Carnation and the state motto is "An Empire within an Empire."

INDIANA
Is the "Hoosier State" and has the "Carnation" for a state flower. Indiana has no motto.

THE STATE OF OHIO officially adopted the Scarlet Carnation as its emblematic flower on the 29th day of January, 1904. Both houses unanimously voted for the measure. The law is as follows: "The Scarlet Carnation is hereby adopted as the state flower of Ohio, as a token of love and reverence for the memory of William McKinley."

NORTH DAKOTA
The "Flickertail state" has the Prairie rose for a state flower and for the state motto "Liberty and union, now and forever, one and inseparable."

UTAH
Is known as the "Desert" state, and has for its state flower the Segoe Lily and "Industry" is the motto.

Utah officially recognized the Segoe Lily as its choice by act of its legislature in 1911. Utah's floral queen belongs to the tulip branch of the lily family. It has a remarkable list of relatives, good bad and indifferent, close and distant. These "kinsfolks" range from the evil-smelling carnation flower, to the delightfully fragrant lily-of-the-valley; from the gorgeous and assertive butterfly tulip to the timid unassuming fairy bell. The Segoe Lily is a variety of the Mariposa tulip. Its flower is about 2 inches across, and its white petals are tinged sometimes with yellowish green, and sometimes with lilac. Mariposa, in Spanish means butterfly, and the members of the mariposa group of flowers, to which the Segoe Lily belongs, are marvelous in their hues. A visitor to the big trees of the mariposa grove relates how she found a bed of Segoe lilies in which, upon close examination, she discovered 14 distinct markings, the flowers resembling so many butterflies with wings outspread for flight, their rich color glistening in the sun. The Segoe Lily was even more to the early Mormon church in Utah than was the Mayflower to the Pilgrims at Plymouth. The Mayflower was the pilgrim's first harbinger and a blossom of hope, the Segoe Lily was not only early on the scene, to gladden a somewhat dreary landscape, but its roots proved edible. The followers of

CONNECTICUT
Known as the "Nutmeg State" has the Mountain laurel for its state flower and for the motto has "Who transported nutmegs?" Connecticut chose the mountain laurel as its state flower after a report of the Committee on Agriculture in the Senate favoring such action. One Senator opposed the bill, saying he regarded it as unnecessary legislation, but if the Clover had been recommended he would have been inclined to favor it as the nearest approach in this country, to the Shamrock he loved. He doubted, however, if there was any necessity for legislation. Another Senator declared that he was bound to favor anything three thousand women could agree on. In the House the choice was advocated in enthusiastic terms. Upon each desk sprigs of mountain laurel were distributed by persons in favor of the bill. After a short discussion it passed. In its floral relationships the mountain laurel is identified with the heath family, some of its kinsfolks being the trailing arbutus, the wintergreen, the rhododendron, the white swamp and wild honey-suckles, the flaming azalias, and the lapland rose bay. The mountain laurel is distinctly an eastern plant. It flourishes from New Brunswick to the Gulf of Mexico, but unlike so many flowers that have kept pace with man as has followed the Star of Empire westward, it has never crossed the Mississippi Valley. Once there came to the United States a Swedish Naturalist, Peter Kalm. After making acquaintance of our American flowers, he decided that the laurel was his preference. He gathered some young plants, took them to Europe, and introduced them to many a fine estate. He also contributed the plant its scientific name "Kalmia."

Strayer, in accordance with the usual custom of passing that position about annually.

Other appointments were: clerk, Harry Post; treasurer, Ada Dacy-Sanders; marshal, Ed. Mitchell; night police, John Camp; waterworks superintendent, Arlen Clark; fire chief, Tennie Bunker; assessor, W. T. Richards; attorney, Frank Sanders.

Dry Warm Weather Experienced Here

Daughter of Kings Leaves Buchanan to Get Track Training

R. B. McKahan has shipped his thoroughbred filly, granddaughter of Peter the Great, to Indianapolis, where she will be trained for the track by George Byrde, one of the best known race horse trainers in the country. She is the daughter of Lizzie March a noted mare, who had a track record of 2:02 3-4 and who still holds the world's record for 3 straight heats by a mare in competition on a half mile track, established in 1919.

375 CHILDREN ARE IMMUNIZED FROM DIPHThERIA

Second Round of Treatments to be Given Next Week; No Ill Effects Felt.

A total of 375 pupils of the Buchanan schools have received the first round of toxoid injections for immunization from diphtheria, according to the school nurse, Mrs. Reba Lamb, and the second round will begin some time next week. The new treatment is pronounced by Mrs. Lamb and by the physicians in charge to be absolutely without ill effect. A few sore arms which occur merely indicate that the person so affected reacts more than others to the treatment, and that such person might have diphtheria much harder than the ordinary in case exposure occurred without previous immunization. The treatment differs from a number of older methods in that it is absolutely non-toxic and has been used in many thousands of cases without ill result.

Mrs. Gardiner McCracken, a graduate nurse formerly employed in Detroit hospitals, has been kind enough to give her services to aid Mrs. Lamb. Diphtheria immunization in Buchanan is being urged with a view to giving the children of Buchanan the same protection against this most fatal of all the communicable diseases as has been given hundreds of thousands of children in other communities throughout the state.

According to records of the bureau of laboratories of the Michigan department of health for the year ending June 30, 1931, material for diphtheria prevention was distributed to 79 of the 83 counties in the state. A marked decrease in the prevalence of the disease followed. Yet in 1931 there were 172 diphtheria deaths reported in Michigan, deaths which, with the present available means of prevention and cure, are considered by health authorities wholly unnecessary.

The means of prevention recommended as both harmless and reliable in literature issued by the state health department is the use of toxoid. Given in the form of three simple injections, toxoid will, it is said, safeguard for life between 95 and 100 per cent of children from diphtheria. In practically no cases has any reaction occurred following the toxoid treatments. Since nearly all children under the age of eight or ten may develop diphtheria if exposed to the disease, it is advised that they be given toxoid to provide their bodies with means of defense against the diphtheria germ. To determine whether older children require immunization treatments, physicians may employ the Schick test, a skin test that indicates whether or not a person is immune to diphtheria. This test is also used six months after a child has been treated with toxoid to make sure that he has been protected.

Toxoid and Schick test material for diphtheria immunization is furnished without charge by the state of Michigan through the Michigan Department of Health. Treatments are usually administered by local physicians. Since January 1, 1932, communities in 44 counties have been supplied with toxoid.

Dr. Paul Wallace Ha Collision on Railway Crossing

Dr. Paul B. Wallace and family returned Wednesday by train from Tappan, Mich., having left their car at Marquette for repairs after a minor accident. Dr. Wallace was approaching a railroad crossing on an S-curve when he met a car in the middle of the road directly on the track and was forced to cross on the rails to avoid a collision. The wrench bent one of the steering gear knuckles, and he was unable to control his machine, which left the road and struck a tree. He was traveling at a slow rate of speed and no one was injured with the exception of a slight cut on the forehead of his 3-year-old daughter, Beverly.
