CONCERNING CHIPS

Bi Haws

A wonderful race are the Japs. Those cute little fellows from Nip-Pon when not changing maps are polite as a basket of chips.

But they're not so nice now, if you ask it, A shade less polite and much bolder. And they've taken the chips from the basket To carry around on their shoulder.

And where did they get all those chips? You can just bet your aunt Wilhemina. They cleaned up in a nice little dip-Plomatic stud poker with China!

Prosperity, if you think about it, is pretty much a buy-product after all.

Senator Norris of Nebraska says he thinks that anyone who has a net income of $25,000 after paying income taxes ought to be able to scripp by if he smokes a corn-cob pipe instead of cigars. And don't buy too expensive bootleg.

Riding lessons given Sunday. Hamblin's Equestrian Academy. See A. L. Hamblin for rates.

We don't wish anybody in particular any bad luck, but if anyone has to lay up their cars and walk during the distression we hope its the guys who used to whip around us in the traffic and yell: "Get a horse!"

Compensation Adjustment With swine quotations scarce three cents. The times seem hard, I know, But then there is some recompense With pork chops sweet and low.

R. F. Hickok, our premier fisherman, has been wearing a deep blush all week because he came home from Wicks Lake on Sunday empty-handed.

He says if Congress and Hoover would pass up some of the folderols and investigate why fish bite one day and then refuse to bite on another day that is a dead ringer for the first they would be doing the country some good.

Reason Enough. He used to ride three blocks to work. But now he has to trudge it. He doesn't need the exercise. He's balancing his budget.

Budget balancing is the main item on the menu in Congress but nobody seems to be fighting for the check.

Believe it or not, but some of our high school plays have "The Front Page" backed clear back in the classified section for modern language.

If anybody sees Deb Voorhees dragging a broken leg around town, will they please tell him.

Hold Everything! They arrested 300 members of the nudist cult in Canada the other day. Before the local authorities start making arrests on suspicion, they want to find out whether it isn't just some poor devil of a taxpayer who has lost his shirt. Or maybe Uncle Sam's on his way home from the Geneva conference in a bar!

It's almost five o'clock and the thundering herd is leaving the office.

POURS KESOSENE
IN STOVE WHEN CAN EXPLODES

Native and Lifelong Resident of Bertrand Township;
Prominent in Lodge
Work.

Mrs. Mae Best, 57, native and lifelong resident of Bertrand township, died at 4:45 p. m. Sunday as the result of burns received when a can from which she was pouring kerosene to light the kitchen fire exploded, saturating her with the flaming liquid.

The accident occurred about 7:30 a. m. at the farm home at Bakerstown. While there were no immediate witnesses and Mrs. Best was never able to tell what happened, it is believed that she was pouring kerosene in the stove, when it unexpectedly ignited and the explosion tore the bottom from the can, and sprayed the burning oil over her body.

She ran into the yard toward the water tank. Walter Haas, a neighbor, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Henry Best, who was in another room of the house when the explosion occurred, ran to her aid wrapping woolen coats about her to extinguish the flames. She was hurried to Fawcett hospital at Niles, but the burns proved too severe for treatment.

Mrs. Best was born on a farm six miles southwest of Buchanan, in Bertrand township, June 20, 1874. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cauffman, pioneers of that district. Her husband, John Henry Best, sr., died three years ago. She was a member of the local Evangelical church and for the last 15 years had been affiliated with Bayleaf Rebekah lodge, No. 248. She was a member of the Brook Valley Gleamers and was an active worker in church and lodge affairs.

Surviving are the son, her parents, three sisters, Mrs. Frank Elodgett, Detroit; Mrs. Andrew J. Heim, and Mrs. Frank Dodge, Buchanan, and a brother, Frank W. Cauffman of Jackson.

The funeral services were held at 2 o'clock, daylight saving time, Wednesday afternoon in the Evangelical church here, Rev. W. F. Boettcher officiating. Burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

1st National Dividend Checks
Sent to Capitol

The fifteen hundred checks representing the first dividend to be paid by the First National bank of this city have been sent to the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington, D. C. where they must be audited and signed before being returned here.

Receiver H. R. Botkin stated that there would be at least one more dividend and probably two, but that the first business of the receivership would be to repay the Reconstruction Finance Loan Corporation as fast as the loans can be collected and the assets of the institution marketed to advantage. This will necessitate the lapse of considerable time before the next dividend is paid.

Coach Bradfield
Announces H. S.
Horseshoe Meet

Curley (Butch) Bradfield has announced and enunciated that if the studies so desire, he will start a horse shoe tournament. However, here's a sad tale. Due to the present economic definition (them's Pres. Hoover's own words!) and due to the lack of the well known fund of cash, money, there will be no prizes, cash or otherwise, unless some kind-hearted individual provides them.

However, the Santa Claus theory fell flat, with the depression, so you'll have to play for fun. So gentlemen, reach for a horse shoe instead of a tennis racket and keep your youthful figure; does not irritate the disposition, it's forged!

On the level, though, gents, if you really want to pitch the equine footware, see Mr. Bradfield and make known your wish. What reminds me, do horses have high top shoes?

GUERNSEY COW IS BARBECUED
ON THE HOOF

Purebred Bought for White
Oak Dairy Farm, Dowagiac,
Roasted When Truck
Ignites.

Travellers along M-60 south of Buchanan Friday evening sniffed eagerly as the odor of rare roast beef drifted in through the car windows.

Ah, suppers on the farm! And they eat well on the farm these days, depression or no depression. That's the advantage of being there.

But at Hall's Apple Farm they caught up with the roast beef. It was, in fact, registered pure-bred Guernsey beef, that was never intended to be barbecued.

A pure-bred Guernsey cow bought by Dr. Shallenberger of Dowagiac at the dispersion sale at Hinsdale, Ill., for his White Oak Dairy farm at Pokagon, was en route by truck when in some unknown way the straw with which the animal was heavily bedded ignited.

When the driver saw the flames he drove into the Hall farmyard and a bucket brigade was formed with the watering trough to extinguish the fire. But it was found that the animal was so badly burned that it was necessary to shoot her.

FARM ANIMALS ARE ROASTED IN BEND RIVER FIRE

Fire From Unknown Cause
Destroyed Two Barns on Wm. Matthews Farm.

Two barns were destroyed by fire on the William Matthews farm a mile east of the Tichenor school in the Bend of the River section early Monday morning, the loss including one horse and two calves which were burned alive and other property to the total estimated value of $7,500.

Matthews stated that he was aroused about 2:00 a. m. by a crackling sound which he took at first to be rain on the roof, until he noticed a bright glow outside. He ran out in his night clothes and dashed water on a granary which was close to one of the burning barns. Mrs. Matthews rang the dinner bell until neighbors were awakened and came to aid in preventing the spread. The Niles fire department also came to their aid.

The larger barn was 40x56 in ground dimension with 20 foot posts and stored fifty ton of hay. A number of farm implements and a new Chevrolet were also destroyed.

The two buildings were insured. Nothing is known as to the cause of the fire.

Buchanan Artists to be Entertainers
at Bendix Lawn Fete

The talents of four young artists of this city have been fittingly recognized by Mrs. Vincent Bendix, South Bend social leader, who has engaged the Misses Teresa White, Eleanor and Mildred Miller, dancers, and Mrs. Josephine Kellie, pianist, to provide the entertainment at a garden party which she is giving next Saturday afternoon and evening at her beautiful home in South Bend.

The selection of the local artists as entertainers at an event limited to the social register of the Indiana city is a striking testimonial to the rating which their talents have received there.

Comic Farce, "Believe
It or Not."

Buchanan high school dramatic stars again displayed their ability to pack 'em in until the S. R. O. sign is in order in their upstaging presentation of "Believe It or Not" at the auditorium Friday evening.

Every seat was taken by anything but a depression audience before the curtain rose on the first act. In the neighborhood of $150 net was realized, the expenses of copyright and other costs being heavier than usual.

Although the plot was slight and the dialogue ultra modern, the cast distinguished themselves and reflected much credit on their coaching by an unusual high level of acting, and several new comic stars were brought to light.

HOLD EVERYTHING

H. S. Dry Advocates Gain
One for Anti-Saloon Cause
In Tuesday Debate.

Victory, of victory there was, went to the drys in the student debate held under the auspices of the high school speech class at the Methodist church Tuesday evening, a net gain of one being registered for the Volsteadian cause in the ballot taken at the end of the contest.

The church was packed for the occasion according to Principal Knoblauch, the number present being variously estimated from 13 to 15, and the discussion, at times heated, evoked much enthusiasm, especially from the dry contingent, who seemed greatly in the majority. Most points in the discussion were whether or not the ownership of a tub in these days constituted prima facie evidence of dry law infractions, and whether or not the W. C. T. U. might or might not be a biased authority. Inasmuch as no members of that organization were present the statement went unchallenged.

Ballots were passed following the debate with the request that those vote whose opinions had been changed by the arguments presented. Only one of the audience admitted a change of conviction from wet to dry.

The high school speech class was in entire charge of the proceedings. Miss Charlotte Arnold acted as critic. The two teams had been selected and assigned sides by Instructor Knoblauch, who entered four new debaters with the view of developing material for next year. Marvin Gross gave very competent criticism of the debate.

Question: Resolved, That the 15th Amendment should be repealed.

The two teams were: Affirmative, Pauline VanEvery, Helen Mogford, Donald Burrus. Negative, Mary Donley, Otis Fienar, Phil Hanlin.

COUNTY TO LET
NILES-BUCHANAN
CONTRACT JUNE 15

Will Probably Demolish Old
Howe Residence Owned
By May-Lister on Spur Route.

Definite assurance of the construction of the spur from Buchanan south to M-60 was received last week by Frederick Howe in a letter from Grover C. Dillman of the State Highway Commission, who stated that the mile and a half of road was definitely on the state program for construction this summer.

The state will build a twenty foot concrete road of the same type as the main M-60 and will follow the route agreed between representatives of the commission and the city.

This route cuts through the northeast corner of the Chamberlain acreage to straighten out the curve past the Knight home. The intersection with the present road will be made south of the Michigan Central tracks so that it will not be necessary to change the railway crossing. According to the last survey agreed on, it will be necessary to wreck the Howe home, now owned by Mrs. May Lister.

Announcement has also been made by county road authorities of the letting of bids on June 15 for the construction of 1,506 miles of highway construction from the Thompson school on the Niles-Buchanan road to the railway viaduct. Bids are being asked on a 20-foot concrete road and also on four types of asphalt concrete construction.

Student Taste In Magazines Gets Criticized

By Madeline Hamilton
Daily many enter our school library. There is some discussion as to whether or not the choice of magazines is noticed.

A vivid contrast exists between the well-thumbed appearance of "Popular Science," "Popular Mechanics," and "Colliers" and the inevitable I'm-seldom-read book of the "Atlantic Monthly," "World's Work" and "The Saturday Review of Literature" together with other good magazines.

Why shouldn't students spend more time reading these magazines? How can the students of today expect to be better citizens tomorrow and not know the great value of reading better things? How can they rule this nation to a better advantage unless they're well-read and "up" on world conditions? Could not national spirit and co-operation in better citizenship be instilled if each individual took it upon himself to try forming the habit of reading better magazines once a month?

Editorial

By Doris Campbell
"Success is not so much sitting up nights as being awake in the daytime." Whether this comes from the fertile brain of Confucius, Voltaire, or Nene DeNardo, 'tis a beautiful thought.

For the student that burns the midnight oil every evening till the cold grey hours of dawn creep upon him, for the business man who labors diligently of an evening playing bridge, for the society host who flirts gracefully about from place to place, this epigram does most radically apply.

And these are not the only cases, either! The inspired philosopher who happened upon this lovely bit of advice surely knew his onions. But—with all his ready knowledge and profound intelligence, he slipped up on one point! How about the poor night watchman?

School Moves to Eliminate Waste Paper Nuisance

With the student co-operation and that of the faculty, Mr. Knoblauch hopes to keep the school room halls and lavatories free from paper. If this co-operation is received the general appearance of the school will be improved. If you should walk down the halls or into the school rooms and see wads of paper lying on the floor, pick them up and deposit them in the paper baskets. This is only the beginning in the beautifying of the school premises.

This request was asked at the Thursday assembly program, when the seniors gave skits of the play, "Believe It or Not," which was presented Friday evening at 8 p. m. Selections by the high school orchestra were presented between the skits.

in chemistry. Mr. Moore reaped the benefits of the accident when Jo's blew up.

The Microphone staff has been planning a big picnic, and it took some mighty powers of persuasion to make every one come to a decision.

Quirk's pretty curls are just beginning to grow back in after the "depression hair cut" he got two weeks ago (you know—one of those half-inch ones).

The student council has undertaken to teach students how to dance at social hour every Thursday. We expect to see some high steppin' at our Junior Prom.

Our high school is getting high-falutin'! We have now organized a golf team consisting of Phil, Eddie, Bob Ellis, Glenn and John. Pretty "sporty" if you ask me!

The "court of honor" is getting a decided effect since they have obtained more power. We're going to have an obedient school yet.

"Kath" Portz displayed a new mode of hairdress last Thursday when she came to school with one lone, solitary lock sticking straight up in the air. We didn't know whether it was a new way to fix her hair, or whether she slept the wrong way on it.

Our lawn squads are doing good work in helping to make our front lawn attractive.

The Nigiri Hills
The Nigiri hills form a plateau rather than a range of hills, rising abruptly from the plains of south India to a height of 6,500 feet above sea level. The highest point is called Dodabetta, which is 8,760 feet high. They are sometimes referred to as the Blue mountains.

There are half a dozen fairly large turtles and a few smaller ones in the Nigiri slabs, and all of them are very fast in the 100 yd. dash.

Between classes and after school you can see the students exercising their favorite speedster for the future races.

Mathematics
The algebra classes should be quite good at solving mystery puzzles after solving their algebra problems all week with two parts unknown.

Learning how to inscribe regular polygons in a circle seems to have kept the geometry classes busy this last week. They are also learning to circumscribe a circle about regular polygons, and they are going to study the ratio of polygons to their radius and their apothems.

Problems of navigation, which deal with determining the course of a ship, seem to have been the course of study this past week in trigonometry classes. They are going to find the distance a ship travels in plane sailing, parallel sailing, middle latitude sailing and transverse sailing.

Home Economics
Ninth grade home economics classes have completed their first cotton dresses. Many styles were nicely carried out through various patterns, materials and colors.

During the past week the ninth grade home economics classes have been studying home hygiene and care of the sick under the direction of Mrs. Lamb. She gave them many demonstrations such as bed making, bandaging and emergency first-aid.

The projects completed by the home grade interior decoration class have proved most interesting. The projects were: rejuvenations of objects brought from home and not exceeding fifty cents; pillows, foot stool covers, refinishing of furniture and lamp shades were the most popular.

Australian Damsel Knows Her Elephants

Mighty important factors with a circus are daring trainers and faithful elephants. Miss Luella Brown, a pretty miss from Australia takes first rank with the lady trainers in handling the giant pachyderms with Dill's Circus which is scheduled to give two performances in Niles on Tuesday, May 31st at the Oak street show grounds.

Miss Brown toured Australia for several years with the largest circuses in the Antipodes and is a very talented performer. The inset shows a mother and babe, members of the monkey troop, which will help back up your belief, if you still think Darwin was right in his theory.

PROGRESS OF CLASS ROOMS DURING WEEK

Trig Classes Learn to Navigate; Eighth Grade Measures Height of Trees by Shadows.

English News

Paragraph development and direct and indirect objects comprise grammar material on which the freshman English classes are working. Part of this work is taken from air exercise books.

Grammar review is also the objective of the eighth grade and perhaps it will be the main study for the remainder of the term for the benefit of those who are weak in grammar fundamentals. The Skeleton, a poem by Longfellow, is the work of the 7th grade class.

The study of the writers following the close of the Civil war is being undertaken by the sophomore English group.

Recent drama is the new study unit on which the juniors are working.

Senior English class is still reading the Tale of Two Cities by Dickens. Along with this the students are keeping a notebook on questions over the different chapters of the book.

Book reviews in various magazines and newspapers are being studied this week. Along with this comes the critical essays and notices of new books that are on the stand.

Commercial Dept.
Beginning typists who have completed their required assignment for this year are now working on word tests.

The senior typing class has finished its office training note books and will spend the rest of the year in dictation, reports, itineraries and speed work.

Business papers, rapid calculation, and interest are taking the time of the Junior High.

On the bulletin board in Mrs. Weaver's room you can see the results of last week's work by the 7th grade arithmetic classes. These are designs on paper made by using angles, circles and squares. They are also making geometric figures.

This week the 8th grade classes have spent part of their time out of doors measuring shadows to find out how tall the objects are. They measure the distances by using similar triangles.

Mr. Jewell's Dept.
No longer do the students of Buchanan high school have to go to the Kentucky Derby or to Indianapolis to see the races. All they have to do is to go up to Mr. Jewell's agricultural laboratory and pick their winners for the big turtle contest.

There are half a dozen fairly large turtles and a few smaller ones in the Nigiri slabs, and all of them are very fast in the 100 yd. dash.

Between classes and after school you can see the students exercising their favorite speedster for the future races.

Rise of Jack Knight to Fame Reads As Romance

The story of Jack Knight's rise from a small town boy to one of the nation's crack fliers with more than a million miles of flying to his credit reads like one of Horatio Alger's books.

Born in Lincoln, Kansas, in 1892, Jack came to Buchanan in 1894 and attended the local school. He went to college at Michigan State college at Lansing. Always interested in aviation he was nicknamed "Sky". However, the origin of this expression is uncertain for hog Latin was at the height of its popularity when this nickname was bestowed upon him.

When the war broke out, Jack was one of the first to enlist in the air corps and was assigned to Ellington Field near Houston, Tex. In a short time he was appointed instructor of aerial bombing and served in this capacity until the end of the war when he joined the air mail service.

His first run was from Cleveland to Bellfont, Pa., but like the pioneers of the nation's youth, he began the westward march, his second run being between Cleveland and Chicago.

He was soon transferred from the Cleveland-Chicago stretch to the Cheyenne to Omaha route and served here for ten years.

Jack recently changed from the Cheyenne-Omaha run to the Chicago-Omaha stretch because, he stated at the time, "I wanted a change of scenery. If you'd looked at the same scenery for ten years you'd want a change too." At present Jack is attached to the Boeing mail service which is part of the transcontinental, and he files one of the 16 passenger planes of that line.

Jack didn't fly the Atlantic ocean but in 1923 when Doctor Knight, his father, was dying, he made a night flight from Cheyenne to Buchanan in 11 hours. This flight was made when beacons were very rare and the instruments weren't so very reliable.
Another of Jack's notable night flights was the relay flight from Omaha to Chicago after he had already flown from Cheyenne to Omaha, over a route that he had never flown before. It is said that this flight is the one that made possible the modern, airways over which mail is now carried.

Only three weeks previous to this flight Jack had crashed in the Laramie mountains and broken his nose.

The credit of having made the first night flight, an attempt to carry serum from Chicago to New York, also belongs to this note-worthy pilot.

Jack visits his mother, Mrs. Emma Knight, of Buchanan quite often now that he is on the Chicago-Omaha flight. On one of his visits to his mother she asked him how long he intended to stay in the flying game. "Oh, until I get bumped off," was the non-committal reply.

On another occasion his mother asked him if he ever thought of jumping and he answered, "Would I think of jumping with 16 passengers in my plane? I'd rather take a mine with the lead."

"The conversation about jumping led Jack to state that he thought that most accidents were caused by pilots losing their heads. Certainly this man, with one million miles of flying to his credit and the record for night flying is not the type to lose his head."

State Dept. Defines Limits Connecting Waters

Definite limits of the "connecting waters of the Great Lakes," defined by law as "inland waters" were explained today by the conservation department in answer to numerous inquiries.

The St. Marys river, St. Clair river, Lake St. Clair and the Detroit river are classified as "connecting waters" and are subject to the same fishing regulations as the inland waters. The boundaries of these waters are defined as follows:

St. Marys river: Extending from a line drawn from Birch Point Range front light to the most westerly point of Round Island, thence following the shore of Round Island to the most northerly point of said Round Island to Point Aux Pins light, Ontario; a line drawn east and west from the most southerly point of Little Lime Island.

Connecting waters of Lake Huron on and Erie: All of the St. Clair river and Lake St. Clair and all of the Detroit river extending from Fort Gratiot light in Lake Huron to a point in the lower Detroit river where the center line of Oak street, City of Wyandotte, extended due east would intersect the international boundary line.

Must Secure Permits Before Starting Fires

Although the last two weeks of April saw an outbreak of forest fires in the southern peninsula of Michigan the damage done was not great, according to the division of forest administration of the department of conservation.

The district surrounding Baldwin suffered the heaviest loss with 150 fires burning over a total of 6,000 acres within a two weeks period. Scattered grass fires in other parts of the state did little damage.

The fact that most of the fires originated from grass fires set to burn over meadow and grazing lands led the department to issue a warning to persons starting such fires to obtain permits. The forest fire organization intends to strictly enforce the burning permit law and all persons starting fires without permits will not only be charged the costs of putting such fires out but will be taken into court. The law makes it a misdemeanor to start any but a domestic fire without a permit to do so.

Not Answered Yet
Now some economic thinker wants to know which is more important, the factory or the store, and we start celebrating on that problem if we could make up our mind whether a hen is more important than an egg—Muncie, Ind., Press.

Smokers Start Forest Fires In Michigan
Another year of "smoker fires" is in prospect for Michigan unless persons smoking in the woods are more careful with their tobacco and matches. The Division of Field Administration of the department of conservation said today in citing causes for several hundred fires already reported for the 1932 season.

The majority of the fires that have occurred in the northern part of the state so far this season have been caused by smokers, fire wardens have found. Fires have been started from carelessly tossed cigarette and cigar butts, pipe heels and lighted matches.

During the disastrous season of 1931, 39 per cent of all of the fires were attributed by the department of conservation to smokers. It is feared that unless more caution is taken on the part of smokers that the percentage will be even higher this year.

A little care in putting stubs out before tossing them away or breaking the match might save thousands of acres of forest land and game cover from destruction, the department said.

The department is also recommending the installation of ash trays in automobiles. Serviceable receivers can be obtained for a small price.

Last year two men were arrested and fined when they were discovered being careless with tobacco in the woods during high fire hazard weather. Officers have again been instructed to summon to court any persons found throwing away lighted tobacco or matches in the fire zones.

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Seventh Day Adventist Sabbath school Saturday at 10 a. m. Lesson study, "The Reign of the Heart." The keynote: Daily review of our acts, to see whether conscience approves or condemns, is necessary for all who wish to arrive at the perfection of Christian character. Many acts which pass for good works, even deeds of benevolence, will, when closely investigated, be found to be prompted by wrong motives. Many receive applause for virtues which they do not possess. The searcher of hearts inspects motives and often the deeds which are highly applauded by men, are recorded by Him as springing from selfish motives and base hypocrisy. Every act of our lives, whether excellent and praiseworthy or deserving of censure, is judged by the searcher of hearts, according to the motives which prompted it.

DOWN ON THE FARM

Down on the farm, 'bout half past four,
I slip on my pants and sneak out of the door;
Out of the yard I run like the dickens,
To milk 10 cows and feed the chickens,
Clean out the barn, curdy Nancy and Jiggs,
Separate the cream, and slop all the pigs
Work two hours, then eat like a Turk,
And, by heck, I'm ready for a full day's work.

Then I grease the wagon and put on the rack,
Throw a jug of water in an old grain sack,
Hitch up the horses, hustle down the lane,
Must get the hay in, for it looks like rain.
Look over yonder! Sure as I'm born,
Cattle on the rampage and cows in the corn!
Start across the meadow, run a mile or two,
Heaving like I'm wind-broke, get wet clear thru.

Get back to the horses, then for recompense
Nancy gets straddle the barbed-wire fence.
Joints all a-aching and muscles in a jerk,
I'm fit as a fiddle for a full day's work.
Work all summer till winter is nigh,
Then figure up the books and heave a big sigh.
Worked all year, didn't make a thing;
Got less cash now than I had last spring.

Now some people tell us that there ain't no hell,<
But they never farmed, so they can't tell.
When spring rolls 'round I take another chance,
While the fringe grows longer on my old gray pants.
Give my s'penders a hitch, my belt another jerk,
And, by heck, I'm ready for a full year's work.

adults, Mrs. Bertha Mead; young people, Marian VanEvery.
7:30 p. m. Evening worship. Subject, "The Triangular Life."
Prayer service Thursday evening at 7:30.
A welcome to all our services.

KILL NOXIOUS WEEDS BY USE OF CHEMICALS

Method Safe If Proper Precautions Are Taken In Handling Chemicals and In Applying Spray

Troublesome patches of quackgrass, Canada thistles, poison ivy, or other noxious weeds which are growing in places where it is difficult to dig them up can be killed by the application of sodium chlorate or with commercial killers made from that chemical, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State college.

The sodium chlorate is used as a spray which is prepared by adding one pound of the chlorate to one gallon of water. This spray is applied with a small, hand pressure sprayer. If commercial preparations of sodium chlorate are used, they should be applied according to the manufacturer's directions.

Clothing which becomes moistened with the chlorate spray becomes inflammable when the spray dries and may be ignited by friction, so any clothes which become wet with the spray should be thoroughly washed before they dry. Dry sodium chlorate which becomes mixed with any other dry substance should be immediately discarded.

The spray is applied two or three times and the first application should be made about the time the plants are ready to bloom. The second application should be made when the plant has made new top growth and the third when growth begins again. Many plants are killed by two applications.

This method of weed eradication is not recommended for large areas. Any county agricultural agent will give residents of his county advice about this weed killing method so it may be safely used.

State Raised Ducks Released In Gladwin Co.

Release of 340 wild mallard ducks raised at the state game farm at Mason was announced today by the game division of the department of conservation.

The ducks were placed in the Gladwin state game refuge in Gladwin county, the Muskegon river marsh in Roscommon county, the Molasses river marshes in Gladwin county, on the Pigeon river state forest and game refuge in Otsego and Cheboygan counties and on small marshes and lakes in Mecosta, Ingham, Washtenaw and Jackson counties.

Since all of the ducks were wing-clipped, they will have to remain for several weeks near where they were released, and it is hoped that they will breed and rear broods.

The experiments are also designed to determine whether the young ducks will return to the areas where they were raised and whether or not these ducks are taken by Michigan or out-state hunters.

The game division is continuing investigations of the blood parasite of ducks (Leucocytozoan anatis) started last year in cooperation with the school of forestry and conservation, at Ann Arbor.

This parasite, which is carried from one duck to another by a small black fly, is known to be prevalent among wild ducks in some places and is sometimes responsible for a heavy loss of young ducks.

In 1931 some of the game farm mallards which were known to be free from the parasite before release were found to have acquired the parasite after liberation in the marshes. Observations in this spring's releases which were made on new areas, will be conducted
