Forrest E. Brown
Candidate for the Democratic Nomination
for
County Treasurer

Ten years successful business experience. Two years member of the Berrien County Board of Supervisors for Baroda Township. Through self liquidating projects he carried the unemployment situation in his township through the past year without costing the taxpayers a dollar for poor relief. Capable, efficient and courteous service in the County Treasurer's office if he is nominated and elected.

He was the Democratic candidate for County Treasurer in the General Election two years ago.

DEAN MORLEY

Candidate for Democratic Nomination

for Representative

First District

If nominated and elected I will do everything within my power to help relieve Berrien County's real estate tax burden. I will also support any legislation that will tend to strengthen our banking institutions.

Each of the candidates in the race for nomination on the county ticket at the coming election has his or her friends, but the great mass of the voters are without favorites, and it is to this class that candidates appeal.

The danger to public interest lies in the formation of cliques and combinations among public officials, which cliques and combinations operate against economy, efficiency, etc. If the voters choose me as their candidate, I shall join no combinations except such as are necessary to promote the welfare of the office to which I am chosen.

PAUL A. RADDE

Candidate for Sheriff

On the Democratic Ticket at the Primary

Election, September 13th

ASK FOR A DEMOCRATIC BALLOT

VOTE FOR—George Foulkes

of Hartford

... for Congress

Primary, Sept. 13

The candidacy of Mr. Foulkes for Congress was not prompted by personal ambition. He became intensely interested in the plight of the farmer and home owner, both struggling under an unfair burden of taxation. He took up the cudgel and fought their battle first in North Dakota where he is himself a large land owner. He met with success and lifted much of the crushing load from the shoulders of his neighbors.

Returning to his home in Michigan he continued his study of tax conditions and the further he delved into the problem the more it was revealed that tax injustices were not confined to the Dakotas. Michigan is even more seriously tax ridden. Every state in the Union is groaning under the burden of taxes imposed.

To carry his battle for just taxation to a successful conclusion, to restore the farm and the home to their owners free from the menacing threat of confiscation by the tax-eaters, he became candidate to Congress in which assembly it is his belief that his work can be most effectively carried forward.

Everywhere in the Fourth District he has been cordially received. His plea for fairness and equity in tax matters has met with response from the voters.

While he is the home candidate of Hartford and VanBuren County, his zeal is for the welfare of the people of the entire district and the nation, particularly those interested in agriculture whose problems he understands through his long and successful experience as a producer of agricultural products.

Mr. Foulkes has been a resident of Hartford for ten years. During that time he has gained a comprehensive knowledge of conditions throughout Southwestern Michigan—a knowledge that fits him to represent the district in the halls of Congress.

In private and business life Mr. Foulkes is industrious and successful. He has taken keen interest in those things which are for the betterment of the community and the state. His deliberations upon matters of public import are invariably conservative and sound. His many and generous contributions to the needy have been quietly made and known only to those benefited by his charitable impulses.

A vote for him for the Democratic nomination for Congress is a vote to rescue the farmer and home owner—the Average Citizen—from the clutches of a taxing power that has become tyrannical; a vote to end and rule by bureaucrats; a vote to end unnecessary governmental activities; a vote to reduce taxes to a level where they can be paid; a vote to put an end to extravagance in public expenditures.

HE ASKS FOR THE NOMINATION AND ELECTION OF ALL CANDIDATES ENDORSED BY THE TAXPAYERS' ASSOCIATION AT THEIR LATE MEETING AT LAWRENCE.

(To vote for Mr. Foulkes, place an (x) before his name.)

The National Organization for the Reduction of Public Expenditures Endorses George Foulkes of Hartford, Michigan, for Democratic Representative in Congress (Fourth District.)

The following endorsement was given to Mr. Foulkes by the Representatives of the National Association, Mr. Phil Hanna and Mr. Robert Gunn, officers of the Association, at meetings held at Crystal Springs, Berrien Springs, Elba, Claire, Baroda, Saint Joseph, and other places.

"We are speaking to you as representatives of the National Organization for the Reduction of Public Expenditures, which combines the activities of over six hundred local organizations working for tax reform. You have doubtless heard from public speakers and the leading newspapers of the country much about the waste of your public money by the bureaucrats in Washington and Lansing and it is not our purpose to further emphasize this question at this time. We want, however, to point out the remedy and your opportunity and duty to correct it. In November you will elect three men who will practically control the expenditures of your money during the next two years. They are first, your State Representative; second, your State Senator and third and most important of all, your Congressman from this Fourth District. The expense of all other offices, and officers are controlled from the votes of these three. Do we need to impress upon you the importance of their selection. We are not now in a position to judge the qualifications of the first named two. After due investigation, however, we feel that in the person of Mr. Foulkes you have a man who meets the qualifications demanded by our National Organization and we commend him to your thoughtful consideration for Congress from this District. His untiring efforts in organizing tax reform movements in other states has met with much success and brought about much needed reforms. He is a large-land taxpayer in his county and one of the largest in your State. A University graduate who has devoted many years to farming and a successful business career. He has not hitherto held elective office.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

MUSICAL NOTES AND PROMISSORY NOTES

Some time last spring the word went out that band concerts were to be shelved this year by the City of Buchanan in the interests of economy. The grounds for this action, it appears, was the fact that the city commission was unable to take an interest in musical notes, in view of the interest it was obliged to pay in on certain promissory notes which it had been obliged to sign when the two city banks decided to fold up like an accordion with a last expiring sigh.

But several merchants, led by the undaunted Cress Watson (barber, radio and watermelon salesman) decided that the band concerts were worth while with an advertising feature at least, and that they would see what might be done about it. They interviewed the players in the Clark band, who agreed that they would play for whatever the merchants could raise, to keep the organization together.

Messrs. Watson and his committee finally determined that it would be possible to maintain the series and made announcements to that effect. Their efforts have been more than crowned with success. Public interest has been manifested by an attendance greater than in past years. The city has had one of the best series of concerts in its history.

Cornets, John Hess, Charles Mills, William Ednie, Phil Hanlin and Robert Strayer; clarinets, Don Bradley, Jack Berry, Roger Thompson, John Strayer and Maurice Aronson; trombones, Maynard Post, Max Smith and Albert Webb; baritones, William Wood and Albert Brown; altos, Frank Mann, Carl Fuller and Vincent DeNardo; basses, Paul Wynn and Robert Dempsey; drums, Harold Pierce and Charles Simpson.

Whereas, as a matter of fact, Buchanan has only one in the field, in the person of Atty. Frank Sanders, who is entered for the Republican nomination for Probate Judge. Atty. Sanders was born in Buchanan, he was raised in Buchanan, he established his home in Buchanan and has lived and paid taxes here throughout his entire adult life to date.

It is universally agreed that in training and experience and mental qualifications, he is eminently fitted to occupy the office to which he aspires. The duties of the office are almost entirely legal and can be properly performed only by one with legal training and experience.

We Are at War!
By GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING

Here's a stirring call to arms that summons the spirit of those half-forgotten days of resolute marching men

ARTICLE II
Untraced Powers
I cite my own experience merely to show how men and women actually gain a new strength and courage when thrown upon their own resources and responsibility in times of crisis. They find in themselves powers they never suspected.
The life of a military man furnishes another example valuable in times like the present. In every army career there come occasional times of dullness. The officer, stationed at some remote army post, has his routine duties to perform. When these are completed he finds the temptation almost overwhelming to give over his leisure to cards, light reading, social evenings, painless time-wasting. It is the officer who resists that temptation, who spends hard hours each day studying the latest advances in artillery technique, in transport, in tactics—it is this officer who receives recognition when the opportunity for active service comes.

So it is in business. In this time of extreme dullness, many have sunk back into a kind of lethargy. But the wise business man, like the conscientious officer, is using his present leisure to prepare for the battles to come. He is devising new economics of production and distribution. He is studying the problem of how his product may be varied or made more attractive. He is getting ready to take advantage of the upturn when it comes. He is not accepting gloomy defeatism. He is thinking for himself.
I have touched at some length on the depression because it has so glaringly shown us the folly of carelessly delegating our thinking to others.
It has also thrown a bright light on the flaws in our political methods and on our crime problem. During the years of prosperity following the war an underworld of gangsters and racketeers unparalleled in any other civilized nation, grew up and flourished in our cities. The criminals who manned this underworld were of a new type. They were not the masked and shabby plug-uglies who filled the jails in earlier years. They were expensively dressed; they owned machine guns, high-powered cars, and speed boats; they had money in the bank. With this money they were able to establish a relation with corrupt officials and police which seemed to make them immune from prosecution.
Lulled into complacency by prosperity, our citizens passively accepted this poisonous growth with small concern.
Now that our complacency is gone we begin to study this foul phenomenon more carefully. We see it eating more and more deeply into our national life, infecting politics, extorting tribute from business, threatening our very homes. From my own study, as an individual, I am convinced that prohibition has largely financed this new postwar underworld of ours. Vast profits have drawn multitudes into the bootlegging business, and, once outside the pale of the law, they do not hesitate to turn to racketeering and other forms of crime. Thus a criminal army has been built up which defies the very government itself.
But neither the repeal nor the modification of the prohibition laws will altogether abolish crime. The estimated one million or more men, accustomed to the easy money of the bootleg and speakeasy business and with an utter contempt for law, cannot be thus converted into virtuous, law-abiding citizens overnight. Many will turn to other forms of illegitimate activity. Corrupt officials, deprived of bootleg tribute, will seek new sources of graft.
Our frontier ancestors, when the criminal element got out of control, formed themselves into vigilance committees, rounded up criminals, and strung them up on the nearest tree. Every red-blooded man, when he reads of the criminal activities of our modern racketeers and of their apparent immunity from capture and prosecution, feels a natural impulse to go out and organize a vigilance committee. But action can be taken, under the law, only through the constituted authorities. Any other course would lead to abuses greater than those it might correct.
The ability of the underworld to terrorize society lies in the fact that it is thoroughly organized, while society is not. At present it is more the gang against the individual than otherwise. Why should we not form neighborhood and community committees, so that the gang will find itself confronted with an organized body of men larger and stronger than itself? The more important his position in the community, the greater the obligation of the citizen to join the committee.
Can Force Action
Such committees, made up of substantial citizens, who regard citizenship as a paramount obligation, could force action. Suppose a neighbor of yours gets a kidnapping threat or a merchant is visited by a gangster who tries to extort tribute from him, or a section of the town experiences a series of holdups. If the individual citizen goes to the police station or city hall and fails to get satisfaction, possibly because of an alliance between officials and the underworld he is powerless.

But if the neighborhood-committee stands ready, at the very first threat of gangster activity within its borders, to take common action against the invasion, the picture changes. The threatened man immediately summons all his trusted friends, who advise with the neighborhood committee. Representing the militant citizenship of its community, it could demand positive action by the police and by the city authorities.
Committees of this kind would be vigilance committees, not in the old sense, but in the sense that they would be ever vigilant in the protection of rights and the performance of civic duties. I would consider it an honor to serve on such a committee myself.
These committees would serve many purposes beyond the suppression of racketeering. They would present a united front against the grafting of officials. They could hold weekly or monthly meetings to discuss the problems of government. Such meetings would serve to bring out and develop, as no institution we now possess among the young citizens, in every community.
One great aid to crime in America is the veil of anonymity which covers the individual. In any army, every man is accounted for. His name, rank, regiment, and whereabouts are known. If he is wanted, we know where to find him. In America we have no identification. Men come from city to city, changing their names as they would their coats. They can register as they please at any hotel, with no questions asked. It is a pleasant, easy-going custom, but it puts an insuperable barrier in the way of the police in the detection of crime. The time has come when we must abandon the right to anonymity, as enlightened European countries have done.
Every resident of our country should have an identification card, a small passport with photograph attached. Change of permanent residence should be reported to the police. The card should be shown, if necessary, upon registration at any hotel or on any other occasion when demanded by the police. The penalties for forging a card or disregarding regulations concerning it should be heavy.
I realize that the inconvenience of the card identification system would be burdensome. But it would be considerably less burdensome than the breakdown of our system for apprehending criminals. The cards would not be a cure-all, but they would be a great help. No honest man could object to a plan which would materially aid in rounding up criminals.
Just as the depression has finally opened our eyes to the magnitude of our crime problem, so has it brought home to us the very extravagant activities of unwise politicians during our prosperity orgy. While the citizens have neglected their public duties, the politicians have quietly but enormously, increased the cost of government, locally and nationally. Expenditures of the national government in 1913 were approximately $700,000,000, exclusive of interest payments on the public debt. In 1931 they had increased to approximately $2,000,000,000, exclusive of interest payments on the public debt and expenses incident to the World War. The cost of administration of local governments throughout the country increased from $1,844,000,000 in 1913 to $7,426,000,000 in 1929. The budget of one of our cities, New York, for 1932, is greater than the expenditures of the entire national government for 1903. Some of these increases, unquestionably, have been necessary for expansion and for coping with the more complex problems of today. But an alarming portion of them have been with an eye to jobs for the politicians' friends, unnecessary offices, boards, commissions, have been profligately multiplied.

And now, when our national revenues shrink, there is little doubt toward applying the logical remedy of reducing expenses. Instead, legislators resort to the vicious policy of increasing taxes, both direct and indirect. Thus the citizen finds himself burdened with the staggering load. But can he, with clear conscience, complain? He cannot. He elected these legislators. He saw them pile up lavish appropriations, and he elected them again. During the boom days the citizen was too busy in speculation himself to worry about the national debt or the local debt.
In the situation that now confronts him, the citizen is groping. What can he do now? What practical action can he take?
He is told to go to the polls and cast his vote, which is an old story to him, but by itself it will not remedy the situation, for too often the candidates of each party are incompetent or corrupt.
There is a great deal more to political duty than going to the polls to vote. A body of uniformed citizens flocking to the polls, prompted only by good intentions, is about as effective as an army made up of untrained men marching to battle.
Year after year, under universal suffrage, there has grown a wider divergence between theory and practice in our political economy.
To perform his civic duties effectively it is no longer enough for the citizen to understand the theory of politics. He must study its practice. That means time, trouble, and hard work. He must study the political forces at work in his own neighborhood, his own ward, his own district. He must go to political meetings, associate with politicians, find out who are the political leaders behind the scenes, drop in at the political clubs, look into the records and alliances of candidates for office.
Even this is not enough, unless there is some organization of non-political citizens to work with united force. Here again the neighborhood committees which I suggested earlier would have their uses. Such committees could compel the respect of political leaders and hold them to an accounting. They could hold meetings and ask candidates to appear before them, address them, and submit to questioning. Moreover, they could and should keep track of the political and financial administration of local and national affairs.
It might be inferred from what I say here that I think there are no good men in politics. On the contrary, we all know many fine men, political men, able men in politics, but there are not enough of them.
One of our problems is to attract men of higher caliber into public life. Certainly the profession of government is as important as any calling in our nation. Yet it is not even taught in our schools and colleges. We teach political science, yes, but that is a far cry from practical politics. There is no alternative for the aspiring politicians but to learn their high art and profession at the knee of the district leader or ward captain—too often with undesirable results.

Cooperations for the conduct of business, education, and charity have multiplied in number and importance in recent years. Service in hundreds of corporations is affording a new discipline for thousands of people, and this in turn should be of the highest value toward supporting progress and durability in governmental affairs. But business men too often forget that the government is the most important corporation of all. They passively permit men to occupy public offices to whom they would deny jobs in their own companies. They fail to apply, on election day, the elementary rules they have learned in their business.
No Time for Shirk
Business men say that politics is "unpleasant." So is service in the trenches unpleasant, but our citizens do not shirk it when duty calls.
Constitutions and laws do not of themselves guarantee either the efficiency or the permanence of the government. In a government by the people the responsibility of the individual must be consciously fulfilled, or failure will be the result.
Make no mistake about it. Our nation is confronted by a crisis as serious as the crisis of the war. We are at war against depression and crime. And, just as to that earlier crisis, we come unprepared. Our unpreparedness in the war cost us untold billions in money and the lives of some of our finest men. Our unpreparedness for this battle of peace has also cost us dear.
But in the war, once we were aroused we made an effort which astonished the world. Just so today the American citizen, once he is aroused to the dangers that menace his country, will, I devoutly hope and believe, gloriously redeem his indifference of the past.

their own candidates for the various offices, met with the popular appeal. These men have been so selected by these farmer delegates on the Democratic ticket for the reason that it was considered that the Democratic party would be the right channel to bring about their election to office. He has repeatedly made the statement that any candidate so selected must agree to reduce the cost of the office to which he was elected at least one third. His untiring efforts in gathering together the farmers and rural merchants at these meetings has met with approval and there has been a wave of sentiment in his favor throughout the rural communities. It will be most interesting to watch his further efforts. The Michigan Tax Payers Association of which he is president, now have more than 17,000 members on its roster. In this movement he has received some assistance from the National Broadcasting network who gave him 35 minutes of free time a short time ago, which message was broadcast over 40 stations and was heard by many of our neighbors in this state and throughout the middle western states. Like all movements of this character he has met with some opposition from office holders and has been approached by other candidates seeking office for his support. His

The people in this community will readily recall attending these meetings last winter, a number of them having been held in this and adjoining townships. He is a farmer, a heavy taxpayer and has made the statement at these meetings that the present high cost of all governmental agencies are the direct result of the depression through which we are now going.

Republican Candidate for
COUNTY TREASURER

I am a poor boy who has worked his way thru the Benton Harbor high school and the University of Michigan. I have been unable to have expensive advertisements telling of my candidacy for the office of county treasurer. However being aware that you are skeptical of a candidate's sincerity when he spends a year's salary for his campaign, I have not given up hope that you will vote for me in an effort to keep public offices within the reach of poor but capable men.

I have chosen public service as my life's work, thus assuring you, if elected, the most honest, efficient and courteous service possible because I will need your future vote. The office I seek does not require business experience beyond being able to replace incompetent with competent help. The duties of the treasurer's office are regulated by state statutory law and the board of supervisors, leaving little discretionary power to the treasurer. Therefore, with my education and average intelligence, I should be capable to perform the routine duties of the treasurer's office.

This ad donated by very good friends—mother and father, who have always gone without so that my mind and body might develop normally.

Vote for Service for the Present and Future

Don R. Pears
Makes Statement

To the Voters of the First District of Berrien County:
As a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Representative I am asking your support at the Primary election next Tuesday.
I know that I am qualified for this important office and that I can "fill the bill" to your satisfaction. If nominated and elected I pledge honest and impartial representation to everyone in this district.

I stand for economy in state government and for reduction in state expenditures.
This is my first bid for the office. I am opposing the present Representative who has held the office for six years and is now seeking a fourth term.
In 1917, exactly 15 years ago, I was old enough to enlist in the United States Army and it was my privilege to serve in France for 19 months. Today, it is my contention, that I am old enough to serve you as your next State Representative.

As a candidate, born and raised in Buchanan, will you give me the opportunity to serve you? Will appreciate it and you'll never regret it.

Respectfully submitted,
DON R. PEARS.

New Director of Christian Science Church

Succeeding to the office from which Edward A. Merritt, C. S. E. recently resigned after 15 years service, William E. McKenzie, C. S. B. of Cambridge, Mass., took up his duties recently as one of the five directors of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., an organization whose influence now extends throughout the civilized world by virtue of its extensive publications and its maintenance of over 2600 branch churches and societies.

Mr. McKenzie, the son of a Scotch clergyman, was educated at Upper Canada College, Toronto, and Auburn Theological Seminary. After a brief pastorate, he taught English literature and rhetoric at Rochester (N. Y.) University, during which time he became interested in Christian Science. Since then he has held many important positions with the Christian Science organization.

In 1894 Mr. McKenzie became a "First Member" of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston; and in 1896, upon the invitation of Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, he came to Boston to become a member of the committee which prepares the Bible Lessons for Christian Science services. In 1898 by Mrs. Eddy's appointment, he became one of the original trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society, serving until July 1917, when he was appointed editor of the Christian Science religious periodicals, in which position he served until March 1920. Mr. McKenzie was again appointed a trustee of The Christian Science Publishing Society in January, 1922, and he now retires from that position to take up his duties as a Director of The Mother Church.

Mr. McKenzie is a brother of the well-known sculptor, Robert Tait McKenzie, and is the author of a number of familiar hymns as well as several volumes of poetry.

Scout Troop 41 Has Treasure Hunt

As a clue to long hidden loot is found and deciphered, an old stage coach hold up, of the '70's is brought to light again and discussed, as the probable origin of the trail followed Thursday night by the Scouts, after they had been gathered together by a mobilization call.

Eighteen scouts responded to the call and were told the tale of a thrilling historic stage hold-up on the old Chicago trail, by bandits, whose loot was never recovered. After much discussion the first clue was found to lead to the old Pears-East grist mill and there they found a leather map, which was barely legible, but showed 3 distinct trails. Later, after following the clues to widely spaced parts of town, the seekers for hidden loot decided to let it stay in its hiding place for another decade and so sought more filling treasure in the shape of a score of watermelons, which they found at the home of "Uncle" Slate, and immediately proceeded to dispose of, in the best prescribed manner.

Friday afternoon, 30 members of Troop 41 went to Thunder Mountain for a two-day trip. Friday night the newer members of the troop were introduced to the pleasures of a rope hike through the woods in the dark which succeeded in making them tired enough to sleep through almost anything. On Saturday night after a camp on the beach and an hour of story telling they took the legendary walk back to camp, and have many different stories to tell of the happenings during this walk. They all returned home Sunday afternoon.

An Increase of Nearly 100%

If elected sheriff, Bridgman can and will SAVE YOU practically
$30,000 per year

To the Taxpayers
of Berrien County

I am a candidate for Sheriff of your County on the Republican ticket. As one of the voters you have a right to demand why you should give me your support, so I take this means in meeting this demand and wish to submit for your consideration my platform on which I am asking to be nominated and elected Sheriff of Berrien County.

Now those that are opposed to me agree upon two things: first, they say Bridgman was one of the best sheriffs the county ever had; second, they all say he was too expensive. Above you will find the entire cost, including everything pertaining to the sheriff's office. It gives you the exact cost per year during Bridgman's administration from 1921 to 1924, and the administrations of others up to 1932. Now taxpayers, that tremendous increase in cost comes out of your pocket and mine. The figures above are taken from your state auditor's report and will be found at your county clerk's office in St. Joseph, Michigan.

A Working Sheriff

One of the means for reducing expenses is, I will be an active sheriff on duty both day and night and giving your calls my personal attention. There will be no salaried deputies sitting in swivel chairs while fee deputies are running up bills against the taxpayers of this county. Both the under sheriff and chief deputy will be on duty both day and night giving the people of Berrien County all the protection that is possible. In doing this you will eliminate three acting deputies out of the office at the present time.

New Officers

I will appoint new faces as officers of this county. There will be young men and active men, physically fit to perform the duties demanded of them. If they fail to meet these recommendations I will put new men in their places. They will be chosen from the taxpayers of Berrien County; they will be men having an interest in cutting down your expense and in enforcing the law. Also the Sheriff, Under Sheriff, and Chief Deputy will answer the calls instead of hiring extra deputies.

Law Must be Enforced

I solemnly promise to enforce, and mean enforce, all the laws, both state and national, without fear or favor just as long as they remain the law of the land. I will do this without either the aid of the state police or federal authorities and will do this with officers who are taxpayers in your own county.

Protection for All

Every citizen of this county is entitled to the same degree of protection regardless of financial standing or the business in which he is engaged. The farmer is entitled to protection against the thieves who steal his chickens, his pigs, his calves and his fruit; the banker is entitled to protection against the bandits who hold up his bank. Look up my record in this line and remember that I again pledge you protection. I desire the taxpayers to thoroughly understand that I am putting up my own money in this campaign, that I am not controlled by any syndicate or outside interest, and if I am nominated and elected sheriff I will be your sheriff and no outside interest can dictate the law enforcement, or the appointment of county officers.

It is on this platform that I am asking for your support at the polls on September 13th.

JESSE G. BOYLE

Candidate for Nomination for State Representative. First District Berrien County Republican Ticket. The problems confronting the next session of the Michigan State Legislature almost DEMAND the return of a man who has been familiar with the preliminary discussion on bills that have been tabled. They will require experience and training. Jesse G. Boyle has that training, is fully conversant with the situation and knows how to side-step political parley. For this reason he is able to represent his district as it should be represented. Remember him at the Primaries, Tuesday, Sept. 13th. A taxpayer and home owner.

Vote for Charles L. MILLER Republican Candidate for SHERIFF Primary Election September 13th

Nominated sheriff of the Republican Ticket two years ago. Nosed out by a small margin in general election by one of Berrien's most popular men—the late Fred J. Cutler. Making no empty promises, but pledging hard work, running the office efficiently and economically as existing conditions will permit, and personally being on duty at all times. Conducting own campaign; no individual or organized political ties; no patronage promises that will prevent a clean, honest and impartial administration. Wish to take this opportunity to thank the voters for their support and vote next Tuesday.

J. H. Watson of Michigan City, was a guest Monday of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Young, Mrs. Watson and son, Wayne, who have been visiting here for the past two weeks, returned with him on Monday evening. George Huffman spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Carrie Huff, Sunday, Mrs. Huff and her mother, Mrs. Bertha Huffman, who has been visiting here for a week, returned to St. Joseph with him. Mrs. Lulu Remington and daughter, Bytha, will leave tomorrow for Daytona Beach, Fla., after having spent the past five weeks in Buchanan. En route they will stop at Cleveland, Niagara Falls, Washington and other places of interest.

Mrs. Frank Klopel of Eaton Rapids, accompanied by Mrs. Opal Geismat of Detroit and Helen and Jeanne Honeywell of Albion, were Thursday guests at the K. A. Blake home. Marion and Jean Blake, who had been visiting at the Klopel home, returned home on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie McMahlill and son and daughter, Arthur Lewis, and Elizabeth, of Gravity, Ia., returned home Sept. 1st, after visiting a week with friends here and in the vicinity of Galien. Mrs. McMahlill is the daughter of Lewis Stearns, well known here by some of the older residents, but who went to Iowa in 1835 and has never visited his old home town but once since which was in 1897. Think he would notice a few changes should he return now after 35 years of absence.

AFFLICTION CAUSES PATIENT TO SHRINK

Old Soldier Loses Ten Inches in Nine Years.

Sawtell, Calif.—In nine years Joe Mayott, a patient at the Soldier's home here, has shrunk ten inches. He is sinking into his shoes, and his head is getting larger. Joe was born in the Catskills, near South Cairo, N. Y., a sturdy youngster in the best of health. When war broke out in the Philippines Joe went over. When he came back he existed for work as a heavy-timber carpenter in Panama, where he fought numerous engagements with fever and heat. When he came out he didn't feel well. He had recurring pains in his back and legs and he found that his hat was getting too small. Now, at fifty-four, possessed of a "sense of humor" Joseph has one of the strangest afflictions known to medical science.

Physicians describe, in scientific terms, his trouble as "osteitis deformans," and more familiarly as "Paget's." Its progress ordinarily is slow and the changes are involved in the bones. The weight-bearing bones are most frequently involved, resulting in a bowing similar to that seen in rickets, and the absorption of cartilages in joints. In 1923 Joe was 5 feet 7 inches tall. In 1928 he was 5 feet 7 inches, he measures 4 feet, 9 inches. "I've got an occupation," he says. "I knit women's scarves. Imagine that, will you? I built a whole town once in Chile—and now I've got the 'something de-formans'—and they say it's pretty bad!"

Scotchman Lives Up to Nation's Reputation

Glasgow, Scotland.—During these days of fast changing records a municipal election expense record of $2.16 has been established. It is expected to stand as an all-time record.

Inglis Milton, contesting the park ward at the recent municipal ward election, returned his expenses to the town clerk's office. Milton stated that he published no election address and addressed no public meetings.

Neither, so far as he knows, did any of his supporters solicit votes on his behalf. Incidentally, Milton did not get a seat in the town council. He polled 246 votes, while his opponent, Victor D. Warren, got the seat with a majority of 3,502. Warren's expense account has not been made public so far.

Russian Girls Lack Flag, So No Year-Book

Paris.—Plans for a year book for the 1931 graduating class of nurses at the American hospital of Paris went awry because the Russian girls could not decide about the design of the flag which was to appear over their names. None of the girls is sympathetic with the Soviet regime in Russia, all of them being White Russians. But Russia had so many flags between the time of the czarist regime and the rise to power of Lenin and Trotsky that the Russian nurses didn't know which was proper. Since the Swedish girls, the American girls and the Canadian girls had their flags in the book, it was decided not to print the book unless the Russian girls could have a flag.

Christian Science Churches
 "Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Sept. 11.
 Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matt. 9:35): "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people."
 Inspiring passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 135): "The miracle introduces no disorder, but unfolds the primal order, establishing the Science of God's unchangeable law."

Seventh Day Adventist Sabbath School (Saturday) at 10 a. m. Lesson study, "All the Word to the World."
 Key-note: "The Savior's commission to the disciples included all the believers. It includes all believers in Christ to the end of time. It is a fatal mistake to suppose that the work of saving souls depends alone on the ordained minister. All to whom the heavenly inspiration has come are put in trust with the gospel. All who receive the life of Christ are ordered to work for the salvation of their fellow men. For this work the church was established, and all who take upon themselves its sacred vows are thereby privileged to be co-workers with Christ."
 Preaching at 11.
 Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Silk in Cocoon
 It has been stated that a single cocoon of good quality may furnish 400 to 800 yards of reable filament.

Real Purpose Served by Cultivating Hobby

If more people had real hobbies there would be fewer cases of nervous breakdown, according to Dr. M. F. Klander, writing in Hygiein, the Health Magazine. Hobbies keep children out of mischief and they relieve the monotony of routine life for adults. It is well to be able to lose oneself for an hour, an evening, or even for a day in something that is not related to the daily tasks, this author related.
 A desirable hobby should furnish enjoyment, pleasure and gratification; it should require a minimum of equipment and expense, in Doctor Klander's opinion. Many hobbies are distinctly educational. Literature, music and astronomy are examples of that type. Physical as well as mental health may be improved by a hobby; sports are of distinct value.
 Many hobbies are started accidentally without forethought. It is well, however, suggests Doctor Klander, that parents and educators should plan indirectly to guide children in certain desirable interests in order that their leisure time may be wisely spent.
 Recreation has become a necessity, writes Doctor Klander. The trends of the times indicate that the leisure must include more training in the use of leisure time not only for the years that the student is in school but also for the time when he is an adult.

Infant Humor
 Mrs. H. M. writes: "My little grandchild was watching me pour lime along a row of beans in the garden. When I had finished she said, 'Now they will be lima beans. Now they, grandma?'"—Boston Transcript.

Dog Retrieves Live Bird
 How a gentle Alsatian named Tiger retrieved a live canary, has been reported from Lane Corv, N. S. W. The bird in its cage was placed on the lawn, and when it found the door open, escaped. Tiger, doing on the lawn, saw the pet lying among the flowers. He sprang and caught it in his jaws. Taking it into the house, Tiger laid the canary, unharmed, at his master's feet.

 NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE
 Notice having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Herman Hafer and Nettie Hafer, his wife to William J. Hovner, dated September 22, 1919, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds for Berrien County, Michigan, on the 22nd day of September 1919 in Liber 133 of mortgages, on page 559. Which said mortgage was assigned by said William J. Hovner to James G. Hanover November 17, 1930, the assignment thereof being recorded in the register of deeds office May 23, 1932, on page 94. There is now claimed to be due on said mortgage, both principal and interest, the sum of two thousand six hundred thirty-three and 33-100 ($2633.33) dollars, plus One hundred seventy seven and 59-100 ($1775.9) dollars unpaid taxes, together with all other fees allowed by law, and no proceedings having been instituted to recover said sums, or any portion thereof.

NOW HEREBY NOTICE is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, which has now become operative, and the statute in such case made and provided, the mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house in the City of St. Joseph, Berrien County, Michigan, that being the place of holding the circuit court within said county, on the 28th day of September, 1932 at ten o'clock in the forenoon. The mortgaged premises being described as follows, to-wit: The south half of the south quarter of section Ten (10) in township eleven (7) south, range Nineteen (19) west, except ten (10) acres in the southeast corner. Weesaw township, Berrien County, Michigan.

Explaining "Lloyds"
Lloyds, the famous British institution, is not an insurance company at all. It is an insurance exchange. It is the meeting place of insurance brokers and is comparable in a general way to a stock exchange. When it is stated that insurance is taken out at Lloyds, the statement means that insurance has been placed with one or more brokers or companies dealing at Lloyds.
