Democratic Policy of Organization in H. S. This Year

Wisner's Column

When the "authorities" disagree, the rest of us have to do some thinking on our own hook about the questions of the day. We have many opportunities. The authorities are good at disagreeing.

For example, some of them claim that we have to be thrifty all the time and others say we should be good spenders. Some say that prosperity lies in saving. Others say it lies in spending.

Which theory is correct? Do we need more spending at one time and more saving at another time?

The experts tell us that there are two kinds of goods produced. One kind is what they call "capital goods" and the other kind they call "consumers' goods." Capital goods are factory buildings, lathes, drill presses, and so on, things made to be used in making other things. Consumers' goods are clothes, food, cigars, good and bad, that are made to be worn, eaten, or otherwise consumed by the public.

Now, the more we save, the more capital goods we can get, and the more capital goods we have the more consumers' goods we can make.

The more consumer goods we make, the more we have to spend to get them used up. If we don't buy consumers' goods in larger quantities all the time, we can't make use of all our capital goods. They stand idle and there is less money for spending.

On the other hand, the more we spend, the less we save, and the less new capital goods we can have.

What to do? More saving or more spending? Thinking on our own hook, shouldn't we all the time go after better teamwork between saving and spending? Yours truly, G. M. WISNER.

H. S. ASSEMBLY HEARS LECTURE BY JAPANESE

A. Icyda Tells Students of Social Customs, Geography; Exhibits Fine Handi-work

Mr. A. Icyda, a Japanese, spoke of his native land Monday afternoon before a special general assembly at the high school auditorium.

Mr. Icyda's talk was given for the purpose of creating a better understanding between the United States and Japan.

"In Japan we have many interesting customs," declared Mr. Icyda, and he then made a statement which, perhaps, the students misinterpreted. "For instance in Japan, they never kiss and they do not know what they are missing. Needless to say Mr. Icyda was interrupted at this point by uproarious laughter.

Mr. Icyda then gave the students some idea of the smallness of the island of Japan and acquainted them with the fact that only 17 per cent of the land is useable. The speaker later brought out the point that the Japanese cannot be an agricultural race and must rely on their hands. To further illustrate his point Mr. Icyda then showed several pictures he had brought with him which were not paintings but designs in needle work, including a huge blanket with a waterfall worked upon one side in needle work and made by a high school girl of Japan.

Japan is a country only about five times the size of Michigan and has 17 times as many people.

Mr. Icyda concluded his talk by selling souvenirs of Japan.

17 Enrolled as Post Graduates

With the beginning of the school year, 17 post graduates enrolled. They are: Marie Fost, Marie Hess, Alfred Bachman, Howard Lantz, Vincent DeNardo, Walter Babcock, Dorothy Babcock, Pauline VanEvery, Ruth Pierce, Margaret Koons, Dorothy Holmes, Lloyd Kolhoff, Don Fette, Fred Smith, Robert Montgomery, Cyrus Bullard and Robert Dempsey. This is the largest class ever listed in Buchanan high school.

Due to the fact that there was much demand for commercial work, some of them were disheartened and went home. This department and the science department seem to be completely filled. One student, wishing to take science, is really taking it. It thought he will have his hands full with two hours of physics and two hours of chemistry. What do you think?

There are still others who insist on staying in the journalism class, even though a teacher has a right to limit his class.

Nevertheless, they are all sticking, after some of the scares given them that there was no more room.

Slow Soil Erosion

Experiments in Missouri indicate it would take more than 500 years for a permanently silted pasture to lose an inch of soil by erosion, reports the United States Department of Agriculture.

1928 Graduate Elected Head of Home Economics

The resignation of Miss Tina Skeels left a vacancy in the Buchanan high school faculty that has been filled by Miss Janet Thompson, a graduate of Milwaukee-Dowder.

Miss Thompson was born in Flint, where she attended grammar school and began her high school career.

Coming to Buchanan in 1926, in December, she entered the local high school in the middle of her sophomore year.

After graduating from the Buchanan high school with the class of 1928 she entered Milwaukee-Dowder where she spent four years, majoring in domestic science.

She now resides with her parents at 805 W. Chicago street. She was the Buchanan candidate for Blossom queen in 1928.

No Season Grid Tickets Sold This Year—Knoblauch

There will be no season football tickets sold this year. Prices of the tickets will vary.

Five of the scheduled games will be played on the home field. This is one more game than is usually played on the home grounds. Here is a chance for all the loyal supporters to show school spirit and attend all home games.

Be ready for the first pep meeting of the season. Start the season off right by cheering Buchanan's high school team to a victory over St. Joseph, Saturday, Sept. 24.

Story of Amelia Earhart's Flight in H. S. Library

Eleven new books have been added to the library. They include stories of fiction, adventure and sports and are equally as interesting to both boys and girls.

The new books are: "The Omnibus of Sport" by Grantland Rice; "Twenty Years at Hull House" by Addams; "Ramona," Helen Hunt Jackson; "With Mekko Thru Finland," Ess H. Byrner; "On the Reindeer Trail," Thomas Williamson; "Wagtail," A. C. Gall and E. H. Crew; "Under Twenty," by May L. Becker; "In My Zoo," Paul Elpinger; "More About Max," Mabelle Halleck St. Clair; "Quicker Than the Eye" by John Mulholland; "For the Fun of It," Amelia Earhart.

Physicians Give 50 Children Free Phys. Examinations

During the past summer, fifty of the 30 kindergarten children were given a free physical examination by Dr. Gamble, Dr. Strayer and Dr. Snowden. This was done under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association. The school nurse is now examining the remainder of the kindergarten children.

Dr. Ida Alexander gave a speech Thursday at the Mothers' weekly meeting at the Dewey avenue school.

NO REGULARS NAMED FOR H. S. GRID TEAM YET

Don Fette has Charge of Big Squad Reserves and Freshmen; Second Team Lists Games.

As the first three weeks of the school year have been swiftly rolling by in constant activities, little thought has been given to Coach Bradford and his boys undergoing a heavy practice schedule.

With four line positions to fill, "Curley" has not yet named any one as regulars. The center position will be held down by August Topash and Claude Denno. The guards are looking top shape with the positions to be split between four candidates; Charles Cripe, 165 pounds of brawn and brains, from Dayton; Captain Pete Donley at 160 pounds, Bill Bromley with great possibilities, and Maurice Aronson, 155 pounds of "fight-in' Swede." The tackle positions vacated by J. R. Montgomery and Otis Flennan will be filled by the lanky giant Bob Gladwish, 160 pounds, Butterball Bachman, 190 lbs., "Big Bob" Watson, and Bill Frame. End positions left by "Ooze" Letcher and Captain Marlian Dreitzler have five candidates in Howard Donley, "Skeets" Rolan, Louie Leiter, promising Dayton boy, Fenwick and Kurkov, working for the regular positions.

In the back field there are ten experienced candidates for the 4 regular positions. Fullbacks, Ellis and Deeds; quarters, Jesse and Marrs; halfbacks, Louie and Lauren Morse, Dan Topash, Max Frieder, Lee Frame and Dick Morse.

Don Fette, star lineman of the past, is now "Curley's" assistant coach and has a squad of 30 or more freshmen and sophomores under his supervision.

The second team will play several games during the season and shows that it has many possibilities.

H. S. May Not Have Debating Team This Year

Mr. Knoblauch, teacher of the public speaking class, says that he is not sure whether there will be a debating team this year, although in case there is, Otis Flennan, Freda and Donley, E. B. Burrus, Marvin Gross, Mary Donley, and Mary Jane Zerbe will probably be the representative team.

On further questioning it was learned that the important question which arises in the state of Michigan in the debating teams, is: Resolved: That Michigan should adopt a State Income Tax Law.

All the students of the public speaking class will be required to prepare a scrap book based upon current newspapers and periodical articles. This should be built up on a qualitative plan with politics, economics, religion, and social questions forming the major premises or division of topics.

Should they not have a debating team, Mr. Knoblauch seems quite sure that he can find plenty of work for them to do.

New Electric Score Board is Placed in Gym

Basketball fans will be pleased to learn that a new electric score board has been installed in the gymnasium. The score board is a gift from the class of '32.

The work was done by the National Electric Score Board Co., Berrien Springs, of which Frank M. Burke, is vice president. Burke attended Berrien Springs high school, graduating in 1926. While there he earned a credit in science by building the score board at Berrien Springs. He later built the score board used at the University of Michigan.

The new score board is located in the northeast corner of the gym just over the entrance to the boys' locker room. The dimensions are: length, 6 feet, width numbers 12 inches high and 6 inches wide will enable everyone to keep the score in view. Besides the score, the board tells the quarter and minutes to play.

The score board is painted a deep maroon, trimmed in white and immediately appeals to the eye, and through remote control it will be operated from the time-keeper's table.

Who's Who

You should see our new freshman. He certainly holds up "Ye olde tradition" of being bashful. His name is Milburn Shafer and so far he has made quite a hit. He bashfully declares that he likes sports, all kinds of food, and just about everything, including brunettes.

He's just a new-comer and we are all ready to welcome him with open arms.

With the excitement of settling down to the old routine we find that here among us is an old-fashioned face—Peggy Merrefield, who left us last year for the big city, is once more gracing the halls of old B. H. S. Glad to have you back, Peggy. We hope you won't miss the big city too much.

SCHOOL DAYS

Another new senior is Freda Disterheft. She is the little girl with the big brown eyes, curly hair, and that adorable tilting nose.

Freda likes all kinds of sports. Her favorites are baseball, basketball and swimming. Her favorite pastime is reading. She must like wheeling babies, as numerous people have seen Freda and Mr. Hyink's little daughter, Eleanor Grace, out for strolls.

People that chew their fingernails annoy her.

We hope you like our school, Freda! (Maybe she's different than the majority of us.)

Reporting Inquirer

Do you think our year's school spirit could be improved over last year's?

I think the school spirit can be improved this year. The fight spirit at the game is OK, but I think the school should show the same loyalty after the game has been played.

Yes, by the cooperation of the students and teachers at the school games, and all the students taking an active part in all of the school activities.

Edna Holmes

Yes, I think that this year's school spirit could be improved. Last year at times it wasn't so good. Sometimes the officials were booed. This should never happen, and I think that if every one pulled together we could avoid this kind of stuff.

Glenn Jesse

The point is to keep it up throughout the year. Remember, don't start off with a bang and end up with a sizzle.

Geneva Troutfetter

Editorial

With 29 persons now on the staff of the Microphone that organ now embarks upon another season with high hopes of turning out a better school page than any produced in the past.

There are not only many persons on the staff but many who give promise of becoming good writers in the future.

At present there are but two people on the staff who are not members of the Journalism class. One of these, Alene Riley, has had previous experience in her field of writing and the other, the editor, will hold his position only until someone is sufficiently trained to perform the duties of that office.

The following are members of the Journalism class and are the active journalists of the school:

History of the G. A. A.

Five years ago this month the Girls' Athletic Association was organized under the supervision of Miss Mary Jo Allington. The purpose of this organization was to promote better health of high school girls. At that time, it included all the high school girls who took physical education.

The first officers were: Bertha Desenberg, president; Virginia Snowden, vice president; Mary Jane Harricker, secretary; Wilma Wilcox, treasurer. Karol Kool was business manager and a board of committees consisted of Thelma Whittaker and Mayme Proseus.

When officers were elected in the fall of 1928, several changes were made. The officers of vice president, treasurer and board of committees became parts of a long remembered past. At the same time, the highly honored office of "hiking master" came into being.

Then in the fall of 1929, Miss Alice Rothenbach's reign over all girls athletics began. This most venerable association has made rapid progress in its five years of existence. It is now a well organized association, still carrying on under the supervision of Miss Rothenbach.

Many changes have been made in these five years. A few of them are:

a. Promoting interest and participation in sports.

b. Encouraging the formation of health habits.

c. Promoting interest and participation in sports.

Any girl wishing to belong must have earned her five hundred point award. Three hundred points must be earned in sports. She must also have kept training rules for 16 weeks and have passing marks in three or more subjects.

In order to retain membership, each girl must earn at least 300 points during the school year, 200 of which must be in sports.

Points may be earned by playing on a team in soccer, basketball, volleyball, baseball and indoor ball. To gain a position on a team, each girl is required to be present at a set number of practices. One hundred points are given to any girl playing in one-half of all first team games. Each girl who plays in one-half of all the second team games receives 50 points.

Outside activities for which points are given are:

Hiking, dancing, swimming, tennis, skating, skiing and keeping training rules.

Point awards are given for every 500, 1,000 and 2,000 points earned. The awards consist of: a 4-inch "B" for 500 points, a 6-inch "B" for 1,000 points, and a silver pin for 2,000 points.

At the present time there are 20 members and there are about 12 more girls to join this fall. The girls are planning on many hikes, picnics, etc., in the future.

Autwiderssehen

We wept and wept in other years about our senior class. We spoke with sighs and sobs and tears. Of those about to pass.

But now we say aufwiderssehen To Senior maids and ladies. Quite sure we'll see them all again. As seasoned old Post Grads.

By Marjorie Campbell.

G. A. A. Enjoys Breakfast Hike

The high school girls were the guests of the G. A. A. Saturday morning at a breakfast hike to the Okanogan Hills Country club, where they all enjoyed breakfast.

Much interest is being shown in the tennis tournament. There are 30 girls now signed up. The first round was completed Sept. 19.

Outside activities for girls at present are: hiking and tennis. These activities not only furnish entertainment but also reward the girls with G. A. A. points.

The girls have already had two soccer practices. Every girl to play in the tournament must have had at least four practices.

Home Economics

New curtains have been made for both the cafeteria and home economics room by the sewing classes under Miss Thompson. They are green and orange respectively.

They have been fixing numerals and pads on the foot ball sweaters. Fruit and vegetables given to the home economics department are being canned by the cooking class.

Language Department

Members of Miss Shriver's French 12 class have been studying out of their French books, "France and the French People" and have been translating and reading French.

Studying grammatical material and learning class room expressions have been the labors of the French 11 class.

The subjunctive mode is one of the horrids of the Latin 10 students. They have been listening and taking notes while Miss Shriver reads "Rome and the Romans."

After two weeks of school, the Latin 9 class has accomplished the remarkable feat of writing Latin sentences.

Commercial Department

Writing a series of advertising letters has been the project for Miss Chandler's typing 12 class this week. Followers of Miss Chandler's typing 11 class have been laboring on the keyboard and basic technique.

A basic approach has been taken by the shorthand class. The students have been using words in sentences as soon as they have been learned.

Senior Hotspots

Well, well, well, well. Here the senior class of 1932-33 are back on the ole grindstone, and, oh, how they love it. (Don't even believe it) With rosy cheeks and coats of tan here they are to learn if they can't do any more.

Ah! but let them become serious and reflect on all the happy years gone by, and then they'll wish they could go to school some more. Just think of good old mathematics, geography, history, Latin, French, bookkeeping, shorthand, and whatever you don't forget! English, the one subject that everyone seems to love to the depths of the heart. (Somebody is crazy or maybe it's the heat.)

Just think of it you seniors, (or the quote from the flag slogan) you who are "the cream of the crop" your group of 1832-33 should feel proud, elated, dignified. Most of the athletes come from your class. (The big mugs, they oughta with some previous years' experience) Three of the most attractive females are just your solemn body. But, this is just cream for your (fill your gobs) and there'll be no further attempt to soften the haughty senior, or to break his heart.

Now let's see what's what, etc.

Has anybody noticed how much Joe Dunlap resembles the immortal lover, Ruboff Faselino. Come on, girls, give him the big push!

Yet has to be found out the difference in height between Stretch Gladwish and Peewee Zachman.

Boy! boy! wouldn't it be sompin' to see "Glenn, the Shiek" ride Pauline Van Every to school on a tricycle. Haha!

Wouldn't it be sompin' to make a striking picture proposing to Alene Ra-hiley? Whoops, my dear.

"Northers"

Gales of north winds are known as "northers." In southern states they blow across Texas to the Gulf, following the passage of a low area or cyclone. The contrast in temperature is generally very marked as the preceding winds are warm, moist, southerly.

Won Remarkable Wager

The books of some of the old London clubs contain particulars of astounding wagers. One bet made between two members nearly two hundred years ago was a thousand pounds on a foot race that the next night to win the bet the winner would not fall down and break his leg. Astonishing as it may seem, the next member who went up tripped over the top step, fell, and was picked up with a broken leg.

Rumors to the effect that the Hartford Fair would not be held this year were dispelled this week by the circulation of posters announcing that event for Sept. 27 to Oct. 1. Many from Buchanan plan to attend the event.

Named From Three States. Keova, in West Virginia, is located on the Ohio river within sight of the three states from which its name was taken—Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia.

First United States Cotton. According to McMaster, cotton in 1784 was never seen growing in the United States to any extent at the time of the Revolutionary war except in gardens among rosebushes and vines. A little had been sent to Liverpool five years before the beginning of the war. In 1784 eight bags were sent to Liverpool, but the customs officers seized them, claiming that it was well known that so much cotton could never have come from America.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

CONCERNING HOME TOWN BOYS. Buchanan has a record of consistent support of home candidates, but in the recent primaries the instinct of loyalty to the home product was divided in the balloting for state representative from the second district.

Of the three men running for the Republican nomination, two had strong Buchanan affiliations. Representative Jesse G. Boyle is a member of the Buchanan farming community, a leader in local farm organizations, a president of the Buchanan Chamber of Commerce when that institution flourished. Boyle's record as a legislator was outstanding and marked by achievement. He is a skilled and experienced political worker, with a state-wide acquaintance in political circles. He understood how to get things done in a political way and his record of accomplishment was good. He rose to the chairmanship of the agricultural committee, and held membership on several other major committees of the legislature.

Undoubtedly the large vote which he polled in precincts in and about Buchanan was due to a belief on the part of many that his years of experience in the state legislative body and the prestige which he had accumulated in his consecutive terms of service rendered him the most effective man to serve this district as representative.

On the other hand, Donald Pears, the successful candidate for the nomination, was born and reared here and claimed this city as his residence until he was elected to office at the county seat. While yet young in years, he has demonstrated that he is a politician of more than ordinary ability. He ran successfully for the office of register of deeds for three consecutive times, thus violating an unwritten law of politics in this section that no man is entitled to an office for more than two consecutive terms. In his last campaign for that office, efforts were exerted to turn the office to another candidate, but through great personal popularity and skillful organization Pears was returned for the third time. While in that office he was elected president of the state association of register of deeds.

While Berrien, in the defeat of Boyle, is losing the services of a veteran and experienced man in an office where time and experience count for much, there is no questioning the fact that he is being succeeded by a man of unusual ability who will undoubtedly advance equally in prestige in the lower house of the state legislative body, and who will serve his electorate honestly and effectively, in the event that he outruns a certain Mr. Morley of New Troy, who will face him in the finals.

ident, Mrs. Cora Lester, second vice president, Mrs. Myrtle Keen, third vice president, Mrs. B. M. Montgomery, secretary, Miss Mattie Smith, treasurer, Mrs. Emma Knight.
