O-4-O Class Presents Plays to S. R. O. Crowd

There was an S. R. O. crowd for the O-4-O dramatic offerings which were presented by a select cast of players at the Methodist church Wednesday evening. The 300 or more people who witnessed the plays got full time entertainment out of their attendance and responded by contributing a sum which is reported to have sent the class pledge well over the top.

Ken Blake carried the heavy parts in the first play and Harold Mullen carried the heavy part in the second—that is, unless you count the two heavy parts which Archie Morley carried off the stage as the lights went out. Other players, including Messrs. Ernest Renbarger, Willbur Dempsey, and Arthur Rose, and Messdames Harold Mullen, Lowell Swem, Harold Kramer, Thomas Rice, Frank Straub, and Ernest Renbarger, all acquitted themselves creditably. Much gratification and some surprise was expressed by the audience on account of the excellent entertainment and dramatic ability evinced by the casts.

DICK MONTAGUE FASTENS CAN TO GREYHOUNDS SUN.

Former University of Michigan Star Blanks Portage 9; to Play Again Sunday at Heights Diamond.

Whether it was that big Dick Montague, the erstwhile University of Michigan cannonball express, was putting too much stuff on it, or whether it was that the sight of that Cubs monogram on his shirt simply gave the Greyhounds a case of the jitters, the fact remains that the Portage players whiffed fourteen times and got only three scattered hits and no runs while the Merchants were garnering three markers in their contest at the Liberty Heights ball diamond Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Montague, who is now in the semi-bid time in an eastern league, contributed his services to the entertainment of the local fans and the discomfiture of the Greyhounds Sunday while on a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Montague, at the conclusion of the summer season. Aside from his superiority in the box, it was pretty much of a tie. The Merchants gave Montague effortless support and Messrs. Wolford, Bailey and Jackson connected with Feather's delivery for three two-baggers. Montague came near scoring a no-hit game, as only one hit had been made by the Greyhounds at the end of the eighth. In the ninth the big Cub rookie let down and allowed two hits and then tightened to retire the next batters in one-two-three order, leaving the runners stalled on first and second bases.

The Greyhounds are reported to be still unsatisfied with the results of the series and have requested another engagement. Since Mr. Montague has an engagement to be out of town next week-end on the occasion of the game between his alma mater and Northwestern University, there will be a difference of story to tell, or that's the way the Greyhounds tell it. Lefty Morse, local curve wizard who has been on the mound for the Niles Blues this summer, will very likely start for Manager Bob Reamers, Merchants.

FUNERAL OF HELEN LYON HELD SUNDAY

Died Friday at Epworth Hospital After Illness of Year; Buried in Galien Cemetery.

Last rites were held in the local Methodist church Sunday afternoon over the remains of Miss Helen Lee Lyon, 23, who died on Friday morning in Epworth hospital, South Bend, after an illness of a year.

The funeral sermon was delivered by Rev. Thomas Rice. Vocal music was furnished by a duet composed of Mrs. Myrtle Kean and Mrs. Flora Jennings, with Mrs. Thomas Rice accompanying at the organ. Pallbearers were the following cousins of the deceased: Marvin Mann of Cochen, Arthur Mann, Jerry Mann, Harold Mann and Lester Lyon of Buchanan and Russell Lyon of Dowagiac. Interment was made in the Galien cemetery.

At the request of the family, the following account of the life of Miss Lyon was written by a friend:

Helen Lee Lyon, daughter of Melvin B. and Lottie Hills Lyon, was born April 19, 1909 in Indianapolis, Ind. The family came to Buchanan in 1917, where the mother died a year later. After the death of the mother, Helen made her home with her grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Lyon, where she enjoyed the full benefits and advantages of an own daughter.

She entered the Buchanan schools in the fifth grade, continuing through the grades and high school until her graduation in June 1926. Following her graduation, she served one year as secretary in the office of the superintendent of schools.

She chose nursing for a profession and in preparation for this work entered Epworth hospital at South Bend, in 1923, from which institution she graduated with highest honors and markings in 1926. She served one year in her profession, which was terminated by disease. Her illness covered a period of nearly a year, during which time she was in the care of the most skillful physicians and nurses, who spared no means of advantage for her recovery. Her own courage, patience and bravery were remarkable to the end which came Friday morning, Sept. 30, 1932.

Helen held membership in the M. E. church of Buchanan, where she was a member of the Sunday School until her removal to Epworth hospital for training. There are many who mourn their loss.

Of the immediate family are the father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Lyon of Michigan; one sister, Gwendolyn, two half brothers, Harold Lyon of Glencoe, Montana, and little Lloyd Lyon; the grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Lyon, who raised Helen and the aunt, Miss Lulu Lyon, who so faithfully and devotedly nursed her through the entire long illness; besides many uncles, aunts and cousins and a large circle of friends and classmates in both school and hospital.

PLEADS FOR VICTORY THRU PARTY LOYALTY

A. Johnston Elected President of Newly-Organized Republican Club.

All it will take to elect Democrats in Berrien County this year will be Republican votes, according to Atty. Charles W. Gore of Benton Harbor, who was the keynote at the Republican rally held at the Legion hall Tuesday evening.

Calling on the Republicans of the county to assure victory by remaining loyal to the party standard bearers at the November election. Gore asked the voters to remember the concrete aid that the Hoover reconstruction program had rendered to Berrien County in the form of loans to three closed banks in Benton Harbor and the First National bank in Buchanan, permitting those institutions to pay dividends much larger than would have been possible otherwise.

An effectual answer to the "forgotten man" plea might be found, he stated, in the fact that the greater part of the loans made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to date have gone to the banks of the smaller cities and towns.

"The Democrats are happy politically speaking, in the depression," stated Atty. Gore, "since that is their only argument. The Republicans under the leadership of President Hoover are searching for fundamentals for sound principles on which to base a return of prosperity and that is more than a three year job."

The address of Atty. Gore was followed by a short talk by Atty. Banyon of Benton Harbor, the chairman of the Republican County Committee, who praised the record of President Hoover during the past three years, stating that the president had shown sufficient character to be above compromising with political expediency.

The meeting was presided over by Atty. Phil Landsman, who called the meeting to order at the conclusion of the radio address by President Hoover, introduced the two speakers and finally turned the meeting over to Arthur Johnston, president-elect of the local Republican club, whose organization was the final proceeding of the evening. Other officers elected were vice president, Ted Childs; secretary, Phay Graffort; treasurer, Harry Boyce.

And we poor sad dubs who listen learn such lofty truths as this: That a guy who's Democratic Must be funny in his attic; That a guy who is Republican is feeble minded doubly. From the clatter and the rattle Of the windy vocal battle All the sense we morons gather Is a feeling that—well, rather Than be party to the fight We'll admit they both are right.

Oh yes! Add Mister Arthur Knoblauch, who teaches public speaking and animal husbandry at the high school (figger the connection if you can) who went to Ann Arbor Saturday to see his Alma Mater, Michigan State, take it on the chin and elsewhere.

And So Much More Sanitary Jim Sikenbottom, the well-known river road Democrat, dropped into the office this morning to say that the Republicans are all wet when they razz Texas Jack about his post office proposal. The Democrats are going to get the postoffices this year, he says, and it will be easier to build new postoffices than to clean up after the Republicans.

Now What Could Be More Fearless?

For the benefit of those who say that the Record is afraid to come out in the open politically, we want to say that we have a perfectly definite platform that we come out for wholeheartedly and flat-footedly—and that is "Miller for Sheriff." We are openly and unequivocally (whatever that is) for the election of Mr. Miller, because in our opinion he is the man for the office. We are ready to stake our reputation for political sagacity, which was made when we predicted the exact number of states that Herb Hoover carried in 1928, that Mr. Miller will ride to a triumphant victory at the polls, come November. And what's more, we'll bet!

Guns Confiscated from Law Violators in Lansing Arsenal

In a vault on the third floor of the State Office Building at Lansing is a veritable arsenal that would gladden the heart of any hunter or connoisseur of weapons. The arsenal is made up of hundreds of guns confiscated by the department of conservation from game law violators who used them illegally, and the arsenal itself answers the questions of those who are desirous to know how the department disposes of its seized furs and guns.

Every year between 500 and 1,000 rifles and shotguns are confiscated. The weapons are immediately shipped to the Lansing office where a price is placed on each gun. In some instances, when recommended by the arresting officer, a gun is held for 30 days in which the original owner has a chance to redeem it. If he fails to do so the gun is placed in the racks for public sale. The guns are sold at the Lansing office hours every day.

The guns confiscated within a year include everything from decrepit shotguns held together with hay wire to the finest high powered rifles.

Guns are confiscated by officers from those using them illegally, such as hunting out of season, or without a license. Hundreds of furs taken or possessed illegally are also confiscated every year and are sold at the Lansing office. The price placed on furs corresponds with the prevailing market price.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932 the game protection fund received an income of $67,744.88 from the sale of confiscated property. While most of this came from the sale of furs and guns, there was some revenue from the sale of confiscated fishing nets and other fishing equipment.

First Home Game With Watervliet Saturday

LOCALS POINT TO GAME WITH NILES OCT. 15

Watervliet Reckoned Only Average This Year but Local 11 Guards Against Overconfidence.

The fighting Bucks of Buchanan high school, who fought St. Joe to a standstill week before last, will open the home games Saturday with Watervliet. Buchanan has an excellent team this year and Watervliet has only a mediocre one. However, it is these so-called practice tilts with an under-rated foe that prove disastrous. On your toes, Buchanan. No slumps are slated or desired this year.

This game with the foes from the north will be comparatively easy to the one the week following with Niles. Niles has a strong team this year and so have the Bucks. Buchanan will need to try every trick they have against Watervliet in order to be prepared to win over Niles. If they expect to come back from Niles with a victory, they will have to be a scrappy, blocking, tackling, speedy outfit. Niles handed the Bucks a stinging defeat last year, the worst defeat ever suffered by Buchanan at the hands of the "Redbirds." Buchanan and Niles have nearly the same teams this year as last.

Everyone turn out for the Watervliet game Saturday and witness a real ball game. As you know, Buchanan did not play last Saturday and should put on an exhibition well worth any effort made to attend the game.

BOOK REVIEW

Una Kelly, Helen Collett "I want to go to sea again," sang out Barbara to her mother on a warm autumn day.

"It would be glorious," agreed her mother, "but we can't this year. We just haven't the money."

"Oh, it won't take much," argued Barbara. "Let's go in search of islands and schooners! I just must go to sea again, that's all!"

"Well, we'll see," answered her mother.

But they did! Away they sailed to the islands of the West Indies. Sun-kissed days and moon-drenched nights at Barbados, Martinique and their favorite island, Santa Lucia; seeing the frightful ruins wrought by a tropic hurricane on the tiny island of Montserrat; going wherever their fancy took them, wherever the lure of discovery beckoned. Then along came a cargo boat that whisked them away from the Caribbean sea, through the Panama Canal and into the broad Pacific to glorious, exotic Tahiti.

Looking for islands and schooners and finding them! What a grand story it makes! If the "hunts of winter" in this autumn air make you long for sunny isles and climates, don't fail to go there via "Book Route" with Barbara and her mother.

No need to ask the cause.

Who's Who

One of the prominent students of the year's freshman class is Vivian Mogford. Vivian is quite a tennis player and she is working hard to get into the G. A. A. She likes to eat, dance and skate. Vivian is a fine swimmer and diver.

We must add a sophomore to our column, namely Bob Strayer. Bob is a member of the band and orchestra and he is very fond of sports. Bob is an Eagle Scout and he likes root-beer and girls.

A new member and old pal of the junior class is Don (Mickey) McLeod. He went to school in Miami, Florida, last winter. Don has no heavy correspondence, as he doesn't have to write to a certain young lady in his class.

Last but not least is a senior, "Pode" Thompson, a member of G. A. A. She likes bull dogs, blonde boys and curly hair on boys. "Pode" is an accomplished diver and good swimmer.

Musical Festival to be Held at Dowagiac Dec. 8

The Berrien County Music Festival will be held this year at Dowagiac on Dec. 8.

Numbers to be sung are: mixed chorus: "O Watchers of the Stars" from Program Chorus; Boys' Glee club, "Shadow March"; "Water Boy"; Laurel Octavo No. 372, and Finlandia; Girls' Glee club, "Elegie" and "By Bonaventura Stream" from Program Chorus, and "Moon Marketing."

Reporting Inquirer

Do you think we should have a few good parties or have parties more frequently and omit some of the refreshments?

I believe we should have fewer parties and have refreshments, because there are many of the members of the junior class who can neither dance nor play cards and they would not enjoy themselves. Everyone pays his share of expense, therefore he also should be included.—Jack Truman.

I think if all the members of the classes had a few parties each time, we could have money enough to purchase simple refreshments and have parties often, too. Then those who don't dance or play cards can eat.—Mary March.

I think we should have fewer parties and serve good refreshments, for there are many students who do not dance or play cards and the refreshments would give them some enjoyment.—Raymond Marsh.

I think we should have a few good parties where we can have an abundance of fun each time. Continue the dancing classes and let the students learn to enjoy this exercise. Parties mean hard work and time and no student or teacher has time to give away during the scholastic year.—Mary Irving.

The planning of a school party usually falls to a few students and with school work to prepare, it takes too much of their time. Why not have fewer parties and have those that do have such successes that every student will wish to help in the planning.—Marjorie Weaver.

BOOK REVIEW

Marjorie Weaver
On The Reindeer Trail—Thames Williamson

Adventure? Pages of it. Where? "On The Reindeer Trail," a book by Thames Williamson, another of the latest books in the high school library.

The setting is Alaska. The main characters are two thoroughly alive boys with only one aim in their young lives; to attend college in the United States. However, their father objects and sends them as herders with a large herd of reindeer into the far north.

What would you do if you found your Eskimo companion afraid of a frozen mammoth? Do the boys finally go to college? Read the answers to these questions in the book "On The Reindeer Trail," an unusual story with plenty of adventure.

Bakertown School

Our enrollment is 23. The following were neither absent nor tardy in September: Patricia Delinger, Betty Geors, Margaret Haas, Charles Liska, Harold Liska, Velma Martell, Mildred Proud, Rexford Proud, Charles Trapp, Marne Trapp, Martha Trapp, Richard Trapp, Shirley Trapp.

Mrs. Meckham visited us last Thursday morning and Mrs. Knoblauch called Thursday afternoon.

We had a Robert Louis Stevenson Week and a Fairy Week last month in which we memorized appropriate poems and drew pictures to illustrate them.

The sixth grade have drawn pictures entitled "The Creole Girl" and "The Spanish Maiden on the Banks of the Xenil" to illustrate Whittier's, "The Pumpkin."

Oddly Named
Yoho National park in the Canadian Rockies has the Kicking Horse for its principal river.

Prof. Stark Receives Letter from Mr. A. Icyda

"I will remember you and your wonderful school a long time to come," were the contents of a letter recently received by Mr. Stark from Mr. A. Icyda of Japan. This Japanese was the speaker at the assembly of Sept. 5, and went on to say that he had received kind treatment and wonderful attention from the principal, superintendent and pupils.

School Stunts

Una Kelley speaking to Barbara, "Let's go get a sucker. I feel like one right now!"

The senior English class has been writing essays, and the subjects ranged everywhere from "Athlete's Foot" to "Whiskers."

A new boy has been causing a lot of commotion among three of our senior girls. There's an explanation for this. He's a blonde!

Freddie Portz was seen running around the halls with only one stocking on. It seems that in her rush from gym she forgot it, or someone was playing a joke on her.

The following people: Marie Post, Lloyd Kollhoff, Cy Bulhand and Dorothy Holmes—asked me to write about them. Just for spite, I won't. (Please notice: they're all post-graduates.)

Did you notice the way Anita Andrews winks her eyes? Maybe it's a habit, but I'm not sure!

Won't someone please help Spot Dempsey grow up? I can never find him.

Bob Ellis, the human walking dictionary of B. H. S., keeps his pupils busy looking up the words he uses.

Shh!—Don't say a word. Here's a big secret! Alene Riley intends to enter the movies and act as a second Joan Crawford.

Everyone that looks in Vivianne Wissler's eyes surely gets hypnotized. What is this strange power?

FOUND—Two pretty girls with broken hearts. Police are combing the city for Bob Gladwish, alleged heart-breaker.

Don't get mad, Glen, of course you know it's Glen Jesse is the flaming youth of B. H. S., and it won't be long before we'll see him in pictures. He's the lady's man type.

There's real feeling in it when Mayida Myers types the word, "fury."

Mr. Hyink asked his advanced algebra class if they had seen his book walking around any place. "If you have," he said, "bring in the person it's walking with."

Wonder why Anita Andrews was sitting in the other room all by herself typing like mad. A little bird told me that Anita and Odis Flenar were a little too talkative, so Miss Chandler separated them.

Did you know there is some relative of the absent-minded professor here in old B. H. S.? Well, there is. It's Mrs. Dunbar. She told the juniors to exchange their papers and correct them before she had even given the poor dears the assignment.

One of these days Bud Wessendorf will be running away from school and joining the circus as tight rope walker now that he has so much practice walking around the River street bridge on a narrow foot walk.

You should see Charles Blake blush when he hears the girls mention his name. Really, he is bashful!

He is "Sonny Boy" now, but when Harleigh Riley grows up (if he ever does) he'll be Al Jolson himself. How about it, Sonny?

They say gentlemen prefer the blue. But the story changes when Ruth Cripe is present.

Do you know why the girls are always hanging around Maurice Aronson? He is the treasurer of the senior class and always has the "dough."

Somebody must be keeping little Freddie Portz out in the rain. She looks like she is shrinking. Why doesn't that somebody give her a break and let her grow up?

Why must our freshmen grow up so soon? They have it all over on us poor seniors as far as pep goes. They sort of overpower everybody in the locker room.

Class Activities

Mechanical Drawing
Mr. Miller's mechanical drawing classes are all through with their lettering plates and are now working on geometrical construction, sheet valves and a few other things.

During the world series games "Doc" had to interrupt some very hot arguments on prospective winners and remind the boys that they were in a mechanical drawing class and not in a debating class.

Music Department
Thursday night, Oct. 6, the high school string ensemble is playing as entertainment for "Family Night" at the Presbyterian church.

Soon Mr. Robinson will name the soloists for selections. Due to much practice the glee club members are progressing rapidly. A reorganization is being made of the entire grade schedule.

Mr. Robinson, as he states, is a very busy man. This the students realize, because of the wonderful work he has shown in the past years with his glee club, orchestra and band.

English Department
Mrs. Dunbar's English 12 class has been writing informal essays of various types. Prior to this year, the class has started on its creative writing work with poetry, but this year the work has been changed slightly and the first attempts of the class members will be to write essays.

Members of the English 11 class have begun work on their fourth study unit, The Period of Change, in which they will study and dramatize the morality play, "Everyman."

The English 10 classes are now studying oral and written exposition, which will include giving directions, making explanations, reporting on investigations, and writing articles for the school paper.

Miss Hanlin's freshman English classes have begun work in their Composition and Rhetoric books. They are doing exceptionally well in their exercise books in which they keep a daily score. At present they are studying capitals, punctuation and nouns. Students are allowed to make a project over any story they like this year, and Leslie Brewster brought in a scene from "Tom Sawyer," showing him at work whitewashing the fence. The scene is complete even to a real cement sidewalk.

Mrs. French's eighth grade English class wrote themes on "How a Bill Becomes a Law," correlating this with their civics. Out of the six weeks grading period, the first four are devoted to grammar and the last two are given over to reading and literature.

Social Science
During the past week the 7th and 8th graders have been studying debating. Monday a debate was held in Mrs. French's room. On the affirmative side were Melvin Campbell, Viola Boettcher and Herschel Gross. The negative side was composed of Charles Wesner, Marion Miller, and Bob Irvin. The negative team won the debate due to the fact that they had their material well planned and very well organized. Otis Flenar was the judge.

All students of the social science class are now studying the Constitution and this work co-ordinates very well with their history. They plan to study the constitution for another week yet.

Seventh Grade Arithmetic
Mrs. Weaver's seventh grade arithmetic classes are reviewing fractions and buying cloth for curtains, couch covers, table scarfs and towels.

Eighth grade arithmetic classes are making graphs showing the increase and decrease in profits and prices. They also are working on commission problems.

Commercial arithmetic members are studying rapid interest figured by the 6 per cent method, also rapid oral addition.

History
Members of the history 12 class have been studying the causes and high lights of the Great American Revolution. They have also been studying some of the outstanding characters of the great revolt.

Greece and the Persian invasions have been the chief worries of the sophomore history class.

The followers of Mrs. Whitman's citizenship class have been learning all about the influence of the church upon civilization and family life.

Science
For the past week, Mr. Moore's chemistry classes have been assigned material regarding water, its uses, characteristics and its purification.

Physics classes have been busy with the principles of physics and Archimedes' theory of "Why Objects Float."

The classes, however, do not intend to follow Archimedes' footsteps.

Introductory work has been finished in the biology classes and students have now started regular work on biology. Collections of insects for class room purposes have been made, and the aquarium has been repaired and is now ready for use.

Public Speaking
The public speaking class is now preparing speeches. The members have been given these four topics to base their speeches on: education, religion, politics and economics.

With four weeks gone by they are now getting into the most difficult parts of speech making. They prepared a twelve minute speech on the platform of the political parties for Monday's assignment.

In the animal husbandry class the students are working on unit one, "How Farmers Select Livestock."

Farm crop class is discussing the value of legume farming instead of soil.

Language
First year language classes have been studying nothing but grammar.

Latin 10 students have been involved in the study of Romans, how their day was spent, and how they ate and drank. They are also studying deponent verbs.

Short stories have been read by second year French students and French writers have been reported on.

Home Economics

The seventh grade home economics class has begun the study of the breakfast unit.

Home economics girls of the 8th grade have been very busy of late. They have turned their attention to the kitchen and dining room. They have, also, launched into the always important subject of table manners and courtesy. The girls canned another bushel of pears last week.

Members of the ninth grade division made charts concerning foods for children last week. They have started on the dinner unit.

The girls of the tenth grade class are still reconstructing garments. In class, they have taken up the study of cleaning, pressing and ironing. The advisability of a Home Economics club is being seriously considered.

Mrs. Walton's Department
The lower six grades are interested in making their rooms neat and attractive this year, as a banner will be presented each week to the most attractive and cleanest room.

Mrs. Walton meets weekly with remedial classes in reading, spelling, arithmetic and language.

Miss Garret, of the Palmer Penmanship company, visited various rooms last week and was very well pleased with the work done in Buchanan schools in penmanship.

Mr. Knoblauch has announced that the general assembly program will not be on Friday as they were last year, but will be held any day the program is ready. No definite day is to be set for these general assembly programs.

All classes had a class meeting last Friday. This was the first class meeting of the year to be in charge of the new officers.

The first home football game of the season will be held Saturday when Watervliet will play Buchanan.

Floors rocked, windows shook, adventurous souls rushed hither and yon. All was in a state of confusion. Women fainted, almost, and strong hearts quaked and knees rattled. Then all was quiet and no one dared breathe. The stillness was nerve-racking.

Suddenly Mr. Hyink's voice broke the strange silence, "It's only a section of the blackboard in my room falling to the floor."

Girls gave hysterical giggles of relief and two inspired reporters returned disgustedly to their seats. "Aw, there ain't no justice."

Superstition

The greatest burden in the world is superstition.—Milton.

Kindergarten

Our kindergarten family now has 79 members, 42 boys and 37 girls. We are having a very active time getting acquainted with one another and with our room.

One day we let our three turtles out on the floor for a walk. At first they just looked at us, but soon they had lots of fun walking around our room. We named the largest turtle, "Bobby," and the middle sized one, "Billy," and the small one, "Kenneth." Our turtles have surnames just like we do. Their surnames are painted turtles.

Mrs. Six visited our room on Tuesday morning.

Eleanor Ingelright brought a very pretty bouquet of roses to school Thursday afternoon.

We are studying about occupations in our geography. We are collecting pictures about the different occupations.

In our nature work we are learning a few things about some of our common weeds.

Floyd Haffner brought some acorns which we used in making an arithmetic chart.

Mrs. Fischnar
