Michigan Below U. S. Average in Forest Fires

Michigan's increase in incendiary forest fires, representing a jump of from three to 13 percent in five years, still remains far below the percentage for the entire United States, according to statistics issued by the United States department of agriculture. Last year 24.5 percent of the forest fires that burned over the country were of incendiary origin. During the past five year period, incendiary fires averaged 17.1 percent of all the fires in the United States, while for seven years in Michigan the average percentage has been but 9.33. According to the Field Administration division of the department of conservation the percentage of fires maliciously started this summer in Michigan will show a sharp drop under last year. The average number of acres burned over per fire in Michigan in 1931 was only slightly more than half of the average acreage per fire for the entire country, the show. The average area per fire in all protected areas in the United States in 1931 was 103 while in Michigan the average acreage was 68. Michigan smokers are more careless in the woods than the average in the country. In the entire United States last year 23 percent of the forest fires in protected areas were attributed to smokers. In Michigan the department of conservation attributed 46 percent of the fires to this source. In areas having some form of organized protection these were 61,354 forest fires in 1931, burning over a total of 6,878,340 acres. During that same period Michigan had 4,133 fires burning over 282,978 acres.

KETCHAM TALKED AT RALLY HERE THURSDAY EVE

States He May Be Chairman of House Farm Committee if Re-Elected John C. Ketcham, congressman from the Fourth District, addressed a Republican rally at the Princess Theatre Thursday evening. Congressman Ketcham delivered his usual pleasing and forceful address, his talk being unusually free from recrimination and devoted to a large extent to an endorsement of the national and state Republican ticket and to a review of his own congressional career. He stated that he had always been friendly to sound legislation in the interest of the farmer, and as a result of his long period of service, had risen in the last congress to the post next to the chairmanship of the House Committee on Agriculture. He is in line to promotion to that position in the near future, he stated, in the event of his re-election. One of the high spots of the meeting was a short talk by Samuel Bunker, who received the cheers of the crowd when he stated that he had voted his first Republican ticket in 1868, his first national ticket in 1888 and that he had been voting for Republican presidents ever since and expected to vote for Hoover Nov. 8. John Olson, a former acrobat with the Sells-Floto circus, pleased the crowd with music posing and balancing stunts. Some very pleasing numbers were presented by Jean Boyd Russell and Bobbie Morley. Arthur Johnston, president of the Republican club, acted as the chairman. Atty. Frank Sanders, candidate for probate judge, introduced Congressman Ketcham.

St. Joe Creamery, Ford Garage, Broken Into Tuesday Night

The St. Joe Valley Creamery and the Montague Motor Company garages were entered Thursday night, the safe being unsuccessfully tampered with at the former place and a new black deluxe Ford Sedan stolen from the latter place. An unsuccessful attempt was made to pick the inner lock. The lock was picked on the ice box but nothing was taken. The Montague garage was entered by breaking a glass in the rear door and lifting an inside latch. Nothing was taken but the car. The entrances were made sometime between the hours of 10 p. m. Tuesday and 4 a. m. Wednesday.

Old Writers Got Bonities At the close of the Seventeenth and the beginning of the Eighteenth century, writers, even of the rank of Addison, could scarcely live by a mere sale of their writings. But a vast system of bonities and premiums made up for this—the patronage of the wealthy and the aid of the state made the rewards of literary merit great.

In Kalamazoo county, he stated, the sheriff is paid $500 per year, is furnished a car and its maintenance. "If we don't pay our officials a fair salary, we must expect them to take it from those who are willing to pay," he stated. The twenty-fifth anniversary of a wedding which had its beginning in a romance of the U. S. immigrant station at Ellis Island was celebrated Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Dominic DiGiacomo with a dinner for seventeen friends at the Varesio Restaurant in Niles.

Mr. and Mrs. DiGiacomo met first when the former was an interpreter for the United States government in Ellis Island and the latter was Luigiana Rudoni, an immigrant girl from Italy.

sease and the order for deportation had already been forwarded to the immigration bureau at Washington, D. C.

She returned to her native city of Castano Primo in the province of Milano, Italy, where for six months she was treated by the family physician until cured. Then she returned to America, was passed by the immigration authorities and went on to her original destination, the home of her sister, Mrs. John Savoldi, in Detroit.

She was accompanied, however, by DiGiacomo, who secured a leave of absence. They were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Savoldi 25 years ago and then returned to New York city where Mr. DiGiacomo continued at his work as interpreter several years more.

They came to Buchanan in 1916 and DiGiacomo established the Buchanan Candy Kitchen, now owned by Frank Fabiano. They continued here until 1922, when they sold out and Mr. DiGiacomo opened a store in Union Pier making his home here in the winter.

Bucaneers Bump Off Niles - On To Plainwell

OUTPLAY RIVALS IN OVERHEAD AND UNDERFOOT GAME

Locals Made Both Touchdowns in First Half; Hold off Desperate Niles Thrusts in Second Half.

You've heard of 'asses and sulphur for a spring tonic. Well, Buchanan's fighting Maroons served a fall tonic to down-hearted Buchanan residents last Saturday by their spectacular victory over their ancient rivals—Niles. The score, 13-6, indicates just what it was, a battle from start to finish.

Buchanan held the fleet backs of Niles, Zellers and Hess, very nicely, and because they did, they were able to win. The Buck's first touchdown came when Buchanan came into possession of the ball on their own 45 yard line. Niles was offside on the first play and was penalized five yards. Louie Morse made five on the next play, and Hess passed 20 yards to "Skeet" Rolan, who ran the remainder of the distance for a touchdown.

In the latter part of the third quarter, Mattix of Niles, returned a Buchanan punt to Buchanan's 45 yard line. Hess' pass was incomplete. Mattix made four yards. Pass from Hess to Walker netted 20 yards. End run failed. Ball was then on Buchanan's 25-yard line. Zellers made three, passed incomplete. Then came Niles' chance. A pass by Hess was intercepted with by a Buchanan player on the Bucks' own two-foot line. Mattix took the ball over for Niles' only score. The kick failed to go over the bar.

Buchanan has hurred their hardest opponent, supposedly, with the defeat of Niles, but they have yet to play teams that defeated them last year and one of them is Plainwell, who will play next Saturday in Buchanan. This team, representing the 1932 squad of Buchanan deserves much credit, and every loyal citizen of Buchanan should be down to Athletic park Saturday cheering them on to victory.

In the Niles game Buchanan won the toss and was elected to defend the west goal. Jesse kicked off to Kraft who was downed on his own 40 yard line. Niles made five on the first play, lost two on the second and then Hess punted to 23 yard line of Niles. Jesse made two and on the next play Niles was offside and penalized five yards. Ellis made five for a first down. Lauren Morse made two and then five. Louie Morse took the ball to Niles' 23 yard line. Niles was offside on the next play and penalized five yards. Ball rested on Niles' 20 yard line. Lauren Morse lost one yard and Louie Morse made two and then no gain by Louie. Jesse then attempted a field goal that went wide. Niles' ball on their own 20 yard line. Hess made five. Sarafore made five for a first down and then Hess punted. Buchanan's ball on their own 33 yard line. Lauren Morse lost seven and Jesse punted to Niles' 33 yard line. Hess made 12 and then ran ball outside. Made no gain on next play. Hess' punt was poor and Buchanan took possession of the ball on their own 45 yard line. Niles was offside on next play and accordingly penalized five yards. Ball taken by Louie Morse for five yards. Pass, Jesse to Rolan, good for a touchdown. Jesse's kick was good. Buchanan, 7; Niles, 0. Jesse kicked off to Mattix who returned ball to own 37 yard line. When funds for traveling are low, grid relations will end between the schools with the playing of the game Saturday. Plainwell has a splendid team this year and Buchanan, with high hopes of going undefeated, will have to play fully as hard as they did against Niles if they expect to even come close to a victory. They can do it as was demonstrated in the Niles game. But will they do it against this strong Plainwell team that invades our stronghold? Everyone in Buchanan, from baby to grandmother, should be there and watch a truly stirring game between these two schools.

This year ends a two year contract with the Plainwell school. Last year the Plainwell team defeated the Maroons by a score of 3-0, and every loyal booster for local athletics should see the Bucks get revenge. It will be a hard fought battle from the start to the final play, so be there in a body. See Buchanan add another scalp to its collection.

14 Candidates Report for Debating

During home room period, Monday, Oct. 10, fourteen candidates reported to Mr. Knoblauch, the debating coach for debating. The subject of debate this year is: Resolved That the state shall adopt a State Income Law. A new system is being used this year concerning the state debates. First, there will be district contests and the winner of the district tournament will debate in the state tournament. The first state debate is scheduled for the eighteenth of November.

Of the fourteen candidates who reported, Marvin Gross is the only one who has ever participated in a state debate. Other candidates who have had some experience on the stage are: Donald Burrus, Otis Flenar, Tomas Quirk, Helen Mogford, Mary Donley and Mary Jane Zerbe.

School Slants

Marjorie Weaver, hope of the white race, has the most engaging smile—did you ever notice it? Her eyes crinkle up, and then begin to sparkle. That smile of hers is much in evidence these days; she's Buchanan's Ideal girl. No wonder.

Pauline VanEvery, aside from being the fastest typist in the school is the fastest and snappiest dresser too. I'd like to get a peep at her wardrobe sometime, wouldn't you?

Why is it that whenever you speak to "Pete" Donley he always wants to talk about Josephine Dunlap?

Why! You don't know what's the matter? Rosemary Thompson, Helen Mogford and Doris Campbell were walking through the hall and they knocked ten fellows cold, just by looks.

Can Eddie Rolan sing? Oh sure. But every time we're near him we ask as a special favor to sing "Far Away" for us.

Rita Hall is one of the nicest girls one could meet. In classrooms she is very quiet and does exactly as she is told. But when there's excitement, Rita is in the midst of it. She knows her onions. (Maybe she's trying to get on the good side of the teachers.)

Dee Weaver, our math wizard (you know the boy with the nice black hair) is taking out a nice little brunette. Guess who? Nope, you're wrong. (Want to know? Go and ask him!)

Faculty Facts

Miss Rothenbach and Miss Hanlin spent the week-end going to the Teachers' Institute at Benton Harbor Thursday and Friday. Saturday they played bridge, went to South Bend and enjoyed a good show.

Miss Thompson was present at the Teachers' Institute Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Dunbar says she did not do anything but go to the Teachers' Institute as it is just about midway between pay days.

Mr. Knoblauch went to the annual Michigan State Alumni banquet Thursday evening at the Premiere Hotel in Benton Harbor. He spent Saturday working in his office.

"Doc" Miller was present at the Niles game and was an enthusiastic fan. He states that he recuperated Sunday from Teachers' Institute and the Niles game.

Seniors, Juniors are Victorious in Soccer Tourney

With the completion of the first round in the soccer tournament, the seniors and juniors were victorious; the juniors having defeated the sophomores 4 to 0, and the seniors winning from the freshmen 2 to 0. Captains for the soccer teams this year are: seniors, Josephine Dunlap; juniors, Mary Donley; sophomores, Beatrice Neal; freshmen, Dorothy Jerue.

SCHOOL NURSE

All grade students have been weighed and measured and cards made out to send home. Nearly all children have been given the general inspection by the nurse. One case of head lice, two cases of itch, and quite a number of cases of impetigo have been found during the six weeks of school. It requires careful watching to prevent the spread of infectious diseases where such a large number of children are confined together.

Many children have been kept in school who would otherwise not have been able to attend because of lack of clothing. Mrs. Lamb maintains a "Loan Cupboard," where clothing is received and distributed.

ATTENTION, KODAK FANS

We have all heard of photographers clamoring to get pictures of the world's notables, but here is one opportunity that they have overlooked. The senior class is desirous of communicating with anyone who wishes to have the honor of taking their pictures. Can you imagine anyone refusing to take President Gladwin's or Mary Richter's picture? Or any of the class for that matter? Please keep this little notice in mind, and as a "side-tip," it is rumored that negotiations for a year book are being planned.

ETIQUETTE

One of the commonest errors we hear, day after day, is the use of "Excuse me" for "Pardon me." It is seldom vice-versa. Sometimes that everyone should know this but the undeniable fact still remains that not everyone does know it!

When does one say "Excuse me" and when does one say "Pardon me"? Say "Excuse me" upon leaving the table, room, etc.

Who's Who

Bob Ellis, known to his classmates as "Skeety," seems to be one of the outstanding members in his class. He was chosen vice-president in his junior year and secretary in his senior year. When he was asked what he liked, he said, "Brunettes and ballads." Although he plays fallback on the varsity football team, plays center in basket ball and pole vaults in track, he likes tennis the best.

Two of the outstanding athletes are the Morse twins. They moved here from Michigan City six years ago. Anyone could tell they are twins not only to look at them, but because they like brunettes, parties and the song, "We Just Couldn't Say Goodbye."

Lauren has a nickname of "Snark" which he didn't want known, but you know how brothers are. He likes the hobby of sleeping. But, girls, don't ask him for dinner, because he says he likes everything and eats all he can get.

Three inches and a half seems like quite a difference in size for twins, but Lauren is five foot seven and a half, and Louie is five foot four. The latter says his hobby is kidding girls, so when he says he'll be up don't look for him 'til he gets there. Louie likes sports of all kinds.

Another senior is Bill Bromley, and for some unknown reason they call him "Kissy."

Most everyone would agree that his hobby is going to Niles—he says to show. Just to be different he likes blondes and he has no favorite song. Bill is on the first squad in football. He is five foot, eleven inches tall.

Mike Reporter Interviews Captain B. H. S. First Grid Team

By George Spatta Buchanan high school's football team was organized in 1889. The captain of the team was Dr. Robert Henderson, now a resident of Niles.

Dr. Henderson was interviewed last Saturday and was asked what football was like when he played. "Football was based mainly on the massed attack," stated Dr. Henderson. "A player would receive the ball, and the others would get behind him and push. They had only three downs instead of the four which we have, and they only had five yards to go for a first down."

Dr. Henderson also said that the suits were not heavily padded as they are today. The players wore no helmets or shoulder pads. They had instead, canvas jackets and pants with a little cotton padding on the thighs.

"I think football is safer now since the new rules that were put into effect this year," Dr. Henderson stated. "The flying tackle and piling are the main causes for injuries in high school football, and these have been omitted in the new rules. The game as it is now played is a lot more spectacular with the forward pass and running with interference."

When asked which team he favored in the annual Niles-Buchanan clash, Dr. Henderson replied, "I have no favorite teams. I have lived in Niles for 15 years and taken care of all the players in the team. Although I do not know much about the present Buchanan team, I am glad when I hear of their winning a victory."

Class Activities

Assembly Program

The assembly program Friday opened by a few announcements made by Mr. Stark. He reminded the students about the duty to attend all school property; also that all the back tuition and this semester's tuition must be paid no later than October 15. At the beginning of the year, forty-five hundred dollars was yet to be collected for back tuition. Mr. Stark stated that if the rural students do not have this tuition paid by the fifteenth of this month, they will have to be taken from school.

Mr. Knoblauch cautioned the students, boys driving to and from school, to be more careful about their driving.

The rest of the program was in the nature of a pep meeting.

English Short story writing has been the chief work in the senior English class. Recently, autobiographic narratives were written entitled, "Why I am What I am."

The juniors have devoted most of their time to the "Period of Shakespeare." They studied plays leading up to the time of Shakespeare, the tragedy of Macbeth, another play of their own choice, and memorized lines from Macbeth.

Round table discussion has been the sophomore's source of learning in the English class. Topics entitled "What our community needs in business, better health, (Continued on page 4)

Drouth Threatens Local Shade Trees

Many of our fine trees are dying in spots. The dry season has been hard on them. Grubs have destroyed others and the oaks have had a hard time struggling through the summer. It is well now to take cognizance of this epidemic of tree disease. Every tree needs water and there should be a regular effort to wet the roots. Even with the last rain there is far from enough moisture. Gallen and in fact most of the communities in southern Michigan have beautiful trees. They are a distinct asset and should be saved by all means possible.

JOHN HOLMES CONTRIBUTES

REMINISCENCES OF DAYTON

Originally the attractive part of Dayton was a hole in the ground, comprising a hundred or more acres, round and filled with water, fed by numerous springs on the north, east and south sides with an outlet on the west forming what is now known to be the head of Gallen river. The first white man to come along and take notice of the merits of the condition was Benjamin M. Redding, who in 1830 bought the farm surrounding the pond, built a dam across the outlet about eighty rods down stream and erected a mill, said to have been a sawmill but the first I knew of it the mill was grinding the grists for the surrounding settlers; on my first acquaintance with it it was being operated by Emory Smeed. From the first the place was known as Redding's Mills and was on the post office list with that name. I do not know when the name was changed to Dayton but presume it to have been when the railroad was built in 1848. The first recollection I have of having been into the town was some time about 1859 or 60, when Billie Reynolds and I ran away from school and went to Dayton to get our mail, where my folks never had mail to Dayton, but always to "The Creek" as Buchanan was called at that time, after the post office was discontinued at Cottage Hill.

The first mercantile business of which I have recollection was that of a grocery store owned by John and Mary Weaver, who got possession of a lot in the track of the ruins and built the widest store on Front, the second building east of the present Princess theater, and moved to Buchanan and erected the brick residence now occupied by Pete Fuller and were of short duration. Following them in Dayton were Zeph Redding, Young & son, Aaron and Noah Weaver, sons of David Weaver, who used to operate the steam saw mill on the west bank of Clear lake.

One of the industries was the lasted through many years, the wood working part on the east and iron shop opposite side of the street running north on the north side of the railroad. He turned another industry was the brickyard, operated by Wilson, to the northwest from the passenger house. I do not know how early do remember going there for a business was established but load of brick when my father was preparing to move into new quarters from the log house in 1860. Long after the Redding saw mill disappeared there was a steam saw mill erected in western part of town by Needham and Wilson who worked it as long as there was supply of logs, when they disposed of the mill, and Needham moved to Buchanan and engaged in the farm implement business, and Wilson went to California.

The railroad company made Dayton the fuel and water station. There was a building a few rods from the depot in which there was a large tank in the upper story and spent the week-end at Jackson, visiting their aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Helmer.

Editor of the Berrien Co. Record, Buchanan, Mich.

Dear Sir:

I have noticed on all occasions the write-up in your paper about the baseball games have favored your home town teams and whatever we have asked you have gotten it in every way but correct.

On one occasion I called at your office and explained the game personally and when the paper came out it sure was an awful mix-up. Of course it is natural to favor the home town folks but I wonder if you can't just give our team one fair write-up. I know there are a number of our players who take the Record and made the remark about what horrid write-ups we have gotten.

The Greyhounds finished their season with the last three games supposed to be played with the Reamer Athletics of Buchanan and to have been played with their season line-up. But if you noticed the Reamer Athletics have used the name as Merchants and had to call on the Cubs for help. Then the help they secured from the Cubs of Chicago had to borrow a catcher from Elkhart in order to hold the Greyhounds down for the first game played in Buchanan and for the second game played October 8 the Athletics had to borrow half of the Niles Blues to win. All three games were to have been played on the Letcher diamond but Mr. Reamer backed out after the first game and he saw the Greyhounds had a fair chance of winning, so of course, he got cold feet and brought in what a much better crowd he'd have if he put in Mr. Montague for three innings. But in the final Mr. Montague played the whole game in order to hold the Greyhounds down. Both teams of Buchanan had a very good excuse not to play the Greyhounds all through the season. The Reamer Athletics could not schedule a game on account of collections, etc. And after the Greys had scheduled a game and agreed to split the collection Mr. Little took on an extra player and at a late date called the game off and took on the Athletics in order to hold the Greyhounds out as they were afraid to match the Greyhounds. And at a late date when other games were closed and Mr. Reamer could borrow professional players the Greyhounds were game enough to match and felt as though they had a very interesting game for the Buchanan spectators.

Thanking you in advance and if this write-up is a fair one for our team I will be in and subscribe for the Record.

Master Fishers Record Catch Weighs 10 1/4 Lbs.

The Master Fishers' club, organized at Ludington last spring and including on its rolls only those who have caught fish with measurements up to a specified length, now has more than 500 members whose membership cards may be shown as proof of their tales of catching "whoppers."

C. L. Lind, secretary of the club has issued a statement covering records for the first 500 members to prove that the lakes and streams of Mason county and vicinity are productive of big fish.

The largest rainbow recorded by a club member was caught in the Little Manistee river and weighed 10 1/4 pounds. The Pentwater and Sauble rivers each yielded 2 1/2 lb brook trout and an eight pound brown trout was taken from the Little Manistee.

The club's 1932 prize muskellunge was taken from Pere Marquette lake and weighed 31 1/2 lbs. Other record fish submitted by members included a 14 lb and one ounce northern pike taken from Pere Marquette lake; a 6 1/2 lb walleye pike taken from Crystal lake; a 4 1/2 lb large mouth black bass taken from Pere Marquette lake and a 6 lb small mouth bass taken from Lost lake.

Game Dept. Designs Model Fish Truck

Believed to be one of the most efficient and modern fish transportation units in use anywhere is an improved "tank truck" designed by the fish division of the department of conservation now in use.

The new transportation unit is larger and contains several improvements over two tank-trucks put in operation during 1931. It carries four tanks each with a capacity of 125 gallons of water. This water is constantly circulated by means of a motor pump and the water is aerated as it passes into the tanks. Through use of the tank large numbers of fish of any size may be carried long distances with a minimum of loss.

The new truck will be used extensively for planting of bass, bluegills and trout fingerlings during the fall months and of perch fingerlings during November and early December.

From the Greek The word "telescope" is compounded of three Greek words, meaning "beautiful form" and "a watcher which is to say, an instrument for viewing beautiful forms. The suffix scope is familiar in such words as telescope, microscope, stereoscope, etc.

"Under Twenty"
Edited by May Lambertson Becker
By Una Kelley

"Under Twenty" is a group of short stories about girls of the age the title suggests, but don't let that frighten you. It is without a doubt the most delightful group of stories you will ever read. The author chose with care the best short stories and chapters from the books of many of your favorite authors. Some of these stories are laid in America; some in foreign countries. A few are about girls growing up some time ago, but in every case the problems presented are much the same that girls run up against today. It is impossible to give a synopsis. I cannot even tell you which one you would probably like the best, but one thing is certain, you will never regret reading them. They will forever hold a place in your memory for in one of these girls you will meet your own faults and virtues and in doing so you will have a better start on your own personality. Also please read the short biographies and the preface for you'll really like them.

the solicitation of youth away from the open door. We cannot legislate the thief and murderer out of the dark area ways; but we can frighten the rats into their holes and set traps to catch them. It is still an uphill fight. There is no honorable discharge from this war. It is no time for the weakling to fling away his weapons and quit the field. It is a time for the courageous to seize even the broken blade of the craven and save a great cause.

Twenty Years Ago in the Fight Against Liquor
What beat the Chicago Cubs? The better playing of the New York team or too much liquor? That would be a very impertinent question to ask today; twenty years ago it was not. In the closing days of September, 1912, President Charles Webb Murphy of the Chicago Cubs admitted publicly that liquor drinking had lowered the strength of the Cubs, who were beaten in their race for the club championship by the New York team. "Next year," he said, "the Chicago Cub players will be on the water wagon or off the team." A statement from Murphy one column long will be found in the Chicago newspapers about Sept. 27, 1912.
There was complete national prohibition against a certain intoxicating drink imposed 20 years ago and completely forgotten today. On Oct. 1, 1912, Uncle Sam clamped down a complete prohibition against the importation and interstate traffic in absinthe. This dangerous French product was barred from American shores by the Federal Board of Food and Drug Inspectors, on the ground that it was dangerous to health. The prohibition order was signed by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson on July 12, 1912, and effective Oct. 1. The United States had but followed the lead of several other nations, some of whom had found absinthe a national menace. (Chicago Tribune, Sept. 29, 1912)

Mention of Chicago's "Secret Six" formed to war on the underworld brings to mind the thoroughly reprehensible "Big Six" leaders of Chicago's underworld, gang leaders, vice mongers, illicit liquor dealers, who were sufficiently powerful in Chicago twenty years ago to dissolve the force of an attempted grand jury in inquiry into vice connections with politics and the police. Saloons running the city government, provided vice, gambling and insured safety for crime. Various civic organizations put detectives on the job who brought in a mass of evidence. A monster parade of church members and vice leaders protested against the rule of the gangster and the saloon. Little was accomplished. The Chicago underworld flourished long before prohibition. Its gangs lived easily because of corrupt local politics—and do yet.

W. C. T. U. Notes

Profit in Liquor
Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler is quoted as advocating the adoption in this country of something resembling the Quebec system of liquor control. He is also quoted as saying that this system takes the profit out of the liquor business.
The Quebec system does not take the profit out of the liquor business. Brewing, distilling and importing are still in private hands and are carried on for profit. Brewers, distillers and importers are therefore financially interested in increasing the consumption of liquor. If that system were adopted in this country, our brewers, distillers and importers would be in a position to make money by spreading the drink habit. Does anyone really think that they would not act on that impulse?
Next to the licensing of saloons, the Quebec system of liquor regulation. It differs less from the saloon than any system now being tried.
Alcohol Deaths Decline
The death rate from alcoholism in the United States for 1930 was 3.5 per 100,000 population, as compared with 8.7 for the preceding year, according to Census Bureau reports. Not only is this rate lower than that of the last few years but it is a tremendous decrease from the pre-prohibition average of 5.2 per 100,000 population (average taken for years, 1910-16). In no year since national prohibition, has the alcoholism death rate been as high as any single year in the pre-prohibition period, 1910-16.
The 1930 rate of 3.5 is the lowest since 1924 when it was 3.2. In 1925 it was 3.6; 1926, 3.9; 1927, 4.0; 1928, 4.0; and 1929, 3.7.
Brewers Get the Money
The British "Economist" points out that, in 1929, nine brewery companies had 7,655,495 pounds in net profits, while nine coal, iron, and steel companies had only 92,916 pounds net profits. What! Rob the poor man of his beer and the brewer of his profits?

COW AND CALF ARE SHOWN AT DETROIT SCHOOLS

Majority of Pupils had Never Seen These Animals Before Truck from College Brought Exhibit.

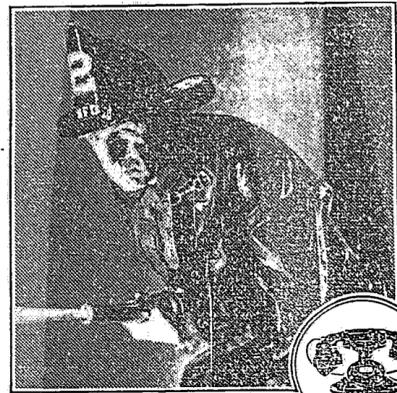

Six out of 10 of the 115,000 Detroit school children who saw the cow and calf exhibited by Michigan State College and a Detroit Dairy Association were having their first experience in viewing the animal which furnishes their daily lunches with milk.
The cow and calf were taken on a specially equipped truck to 80 elementary Detroit schools in the downtown districts. The exhibit was given in place of the mature study period in their course of study. Many of the youngsters had never seen a cow alone and the majority had never seen a cow and her calf together.
The children were allowed to pet the cattle and seemed to be greatly pleased to make the acquaintance of the source of their milk supply. The animals themselves showed equal interest in the proceedings, the calf found the environment so satisfactory that it gained 70 pounds in the four weeks covered by the school visits.
Some of the pupils were only convinced that milk does not grow in bottles when the cow was milked as they were watching. The simple facts about the cow's ability to turn food stuffs into milk was explained to the pupils and an explanation was given of how the milk reaches them in bottles.

The Detroit Dairy and Food Council and the Detroit Board of Education worked with Michigan State College in arranging to have the exhibit visit the schools.

Boy Scout News

By Ted Lyon
The scout meeting was held Tuesday at the Legion hall. Almost everybody was there. Games were played and scouts had more of the First Aid contest. Those who acted were: Bob Strayer, Albert Webb, Eddie Donley, Bill Habicht, Donald Roth, Fred Riley, Ray Junk, George Semple, George Remington and Ted Lyon. Next week's work will be on band-aids.
This week is "Cub Week." The Den Chiefs and Cub Master have been trying to get a family night started, and all the "Cubs" went to the Presbyterian church Sunday. The "Cubs" also have a football team coached by "Frank" Richards, and it looks plenty good. Why shouldn't it? Look at the coach.
English Language
The modern English language has probably a large vocabulary than any of the other spoken languages, and therefore is more fitted to express the many and various shades of meaning of one's thoughts.
