VOTE EARLY AND MAKE IT SNAPPY

Friends! Romans! Give us an ear! How fast can you vote? That's a fair question this year. For if you go to the polls without knowing just how you are going to vote and spend five or ten minutes in the booth figuring out the ballot you are going to delay the game until perhaps some one else won't get to vote. Now we've practiced on the form printed below until we can vote the whole ticket in nine and two-fifths seconds, and we figure that if there is a voting booth empty when we go to the polls we're going to vote so fast that when we go out we will meet ourselves coming in. All ready now—you start with the president of the United States and you end up with the county coroner (and you probably will at that)—set—GO!!!!

Will Vote Against Amendments

The Hon. Hiram Harscrable, mayor of Bakertown, pitched his horse to the power pole in front of the office and dropped in yesterday morning. The vote "no" on the amendments," he averred, "I got by pretty well all my life just by saying 'no' when in doubt and I guess I'll follow that rule in this election. I said 'yes' when I signed up for life with the ol' woman, and considerin' the consequences I been awful careful about sayin' 'yes' ever since."

Will Vote for Sanders

"Yes sir, I'm goin' to vote for Frank R. Sanders for judge of probate, and if he was runnin' for congressman or drain commissioner he'd get my vote just the same," remarked Jim Aichenholm, the well-known River Road Democrat, as he dropped into the office last night in the course of a visit to town to get a new hoop for one of his cider kegs. "Why? Well, I'll tell you, I figger he's the only thoroughly honest man in the hull works. The reason that I figger that is because while all the rest are printin' the pictures they had taken for their high school annuals when they were graduatin' with the dear old class of 1888, Frank come right out with a picture taken since he lost his hair. An' for that reason I'm goin' to vote for him even if he did handle my second wife's divorce case."

CONGRATULATIONS, PHIL

Mr. Philip Frank, so we are told, made a preliminary test of the River street bridge over the St. Joe river, now in process of repair (the bridge, of course, you sap), by crossing with a five ton truck on improvised planking yesterday. The superintendent of construction for the Elkhart Steel company expressed great satisfaction in Mr. Frank's safe arrival on the other side, and said that it removed considerable doubt in his mind as to the merit of some new construction features which he tried out in the rebuilding. Had he not arrived, it would have been necessary to revise some of the reconstruction plans and make some alterations. The success of the experiment assures an early completion of the bridge.

5. To enable the voters within the township to have polling places within a city in the township.

IRA NEISWENDER WRITES DEFENSE TAX LIMITATION

retary of Ohio school survey commission, "We do not have schools closed in Ohio because of the fifteen mill limitation written into our constitution." The title of this amendment should read, "Tax Spenders versus Tax Buyers." I find that the members of the Municipal League, who have signed the article are in the tax spending variety. There is also criticism of the proposed limitation coming from a group of state university professors. They state that it is poorly worded. It is my humble opinion that they are coming to regard it as being worded too good and that they have begun to see the handwriting on the wall. At this late hour there is a committee appointed to investigate the tax situation of the state. This committee should have been appointed and functioning fifteen years ago and the university of Michigan cannot dodge the responsibility that falls upon it by reason of this delay. So let us all go to the polls on Nov. 8 and vote "Yes" on the proposed tax limitation amendment which will be beneficial to both country and city taxpayer. This is the only workable plan advanced for bringing about permanent economy in our state, county and local government and I have every confidence in the co-operation of the taxpayer on election day. The opportunity may never come again. Let us make the ballot so decisive that there can be no question about the position of the taxpayer on the question. Yours for amendment No. 2. Signed, Ira Neiswender.

Young People of Church of Brethren Will Give Play

The Young People's class of the Church of the Brethren are presenting a three act play, "Brown Eyed Betty." So if you want to see a wholesome and mighty interesting play come November 9 and 10 at 7:30 o'clock. The story has to do with the mysterious visits of Betty, who gets work as a maid with Rev. Hardy, a friend of everybody. A series of petty thefts in the neighborhood occur. Hiram, the constable, will give you some good laughs. Violet Hutchins lives with her grandfather, Jonas Hutchins, a straight laced, crabby old fellow, who has repressed Violet unmercifully. Harry Leon, with a moving picture company is really in love with Violet but is barred from her home. Rev. Hardy becomes very interested in Betty and finds she reciprocates. Everything turns out splendidly. Cast of characters is as follows: Betty, Emily Wales; Rev. Hardy, Richard Dellinger; Harry Leon, Russell Wales; Letitia Starbird, Eva Swartz; Hiram Whitcomb, Elmer Wolf; Violet Hutchins, Ellen Baldwin; Miranda Hutchins, Martha Dellinger; Jones Hutchins, Edger Baldwin; Mr. and Mrs. Mason, George Burgoyne and Ruth Schmalzried; Hul-dah Griffin, Geneva Williams; Jim Blinn, Thad Brand.

She has also been accepted as a member of the Little Theatre Guild of South Bend, an organization whose membership is very limited, open only to those gifted in some form of dramatic expression. She has appeared for several years in solo dance work on programs in South Bend, Mishawaka, Niles, Buchanan and the Twin Cities, and is a favorite in all.

Denies Municipal League Statement that the Ohio Schools are Closed on Account Limitation.

To the Editor of the Berrien County Record: In a recent article in your valuable paper you printed a lengthy article sponsored by the leaders of the Michigan Municipal League which quoted them as being opposed to the one and one-half percent tax limitation amendment. Last Spring I received the appointment as Key man for Buchanan township to conduct a drive, the purpose of which was to obtain subscriptions to a petition for the proposed tax limitation amendment and I would feel that I had shirked my duty if I failed to reply to that article. That article quotes those social leaders as stating that the same sort of limitation in Ohio has worked such hardships on the poorer school districts that it was necessary for them to close. Which is very convincing, until the people hear the facts. I hereby quote Mr. L. L. Rummell, secretary of Ohio school survey commission, "We do not have schools closed in Ohio because of the fifteen mill limitation written into our constitution." The title of this amendment should read, "Tax Spenders versus Tax Buyers." I find that the members of the Municipal League, who have signed the article are in the tax spending variety. There is also criticism of the proposed limitation coming from a group of state university professors. They state that it is poorly worded. It is my humble opinion that they are coming to regard it as being worded too good and that they have begun to see the handwriting on the wall. Says Amendment is a Threat to U. S. Govt.

By Verner W. Main, Atty. for Mich. Board of Strategy. I am a citizen of Michigan and also a citizen of the United States. I know there is a capital at Lansing. I also know that there is a constitution for the State of Michigan. I also am conscious of the fact that there is a constitution for the United States. I owe allegiance to both. Every naturalized citizen of my state has sworn to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States. I am just as loyal to the Constitution of the United States as any adopted citizen. The Constitution of the United States was drafted in 1787. The Constitution of the United States had been the charter of our National existence for nearly fifty years before Michigan was admitted to the Union. The State of Michigan asked to be admitted to the Union. If there had been any conflict between the two constitutions at the time my state sought admission to the Union, then my state would not have been admitted. If some one now proposes to put something into my constitution that conflicts with the constitution of my country, I am driven to the conclusion that such a person is not a friend of my state or that he is disloyal to my country. In either case I am suspicious of his motives. I fail to understand why such a person should call his a "red, white and blue" petition. I have always believed that one who deliberately promotes conflict in my government is only "red" and that he has no right to appropriate the other colors of my flag for his petition. I fail to understand why a person who seeks to bring about a conflict between the constitution of my state and the constitution of my country should call himself a "crusader." I have always believed that a crusader was one who devoted himself to a holy or a righteous cause. I do not believe that advocacy of an amendment to my state constitution that is plain conflict with the constitution of my country is either holy or righteous. My state inserted a prohibition clause into its constitution in 1916. The legislature of my state voted to ratify the 18th amendment to the constitution of the United States in 1919. Forty-five other states ratified the 18th amendment. No other amendment was ever ratified by so large a number of states. "One Amendment by law" proposal and ratification has become a part of the Constitution." United States Supreme Court (no dissenting opinion) U. S. vs. Sprague 75 L. Ed 289. The flag of my country symbolizes the constitution of my country. One of the stars in the flag of my country symbolizes the constitution of my state. I will not consciously do anything to dishonor that star or the flag of which it is a part. Beware of attacks, open or covert, upon the Constitution," Washington, in his Farewell Address. ## Says G. O. P. Partly Responsible for U. S. Entering World War

John C. Ketcham, congressman from the fourth district, addressed a Republican rally at the Princess theatre, Thursday evening, Oct. 20.

I expected to hear a political speech but was disappointed. However, Ketcham did state that in his twelve years of service, he had succeeded in having a tariff put upon milk to protect the farmer. I can imagine nothing of less importance to the farmer because he knows people will always prefer milk as fresh as possible and not have it shipped in from foreign countries.

The other assertion was that the Democrats started the World war and that all the debts ever since have been due to the World war and the Democrats.

Having a faint recollection of what occurred in 1917, I doubted his statements and decided to find out for myself.

After ten hours research at the South Bend library in the old files of the Congressional Record (the only authentic procedure of our government) I verified the following facts:

War broke out in Europe in 1914. With a Democratic Congress, President Wilson made a great effort to preserve neutrality because as he told the senate "We must be impartial in fact as well as in name during these days that are to try men's souls."

Even after the sinking of the Lusitania, for two years, President Wilson endured the slurs, insults of the Congressmen who were angered because he would not bring on a war that would give them the opportunity to acquire great profits by exploiting human lives. It's all in the Congressional Record, you can read it for yourself. Telegrams and letters poured in constantly from all over the United States. Some were really patriotic, others but thinly covered by a veil of patriotism.

The problem that concerned President Wilson most, was whether he was justified in giving many lives as a justification for those taken by Germany in submarine warfare.

President Wilson had addressed the 65th Congress several times upon this subject.

Some of the most interesting, impressive, sad and significant addresses by the senators concerning war were given between the time of the re-opening of Congress on March 4, 1917 and the declaration that a state of war existed on April 2.

LaFollette, the elder, spoke earnestly saying such a cruel thing should not be allowed to come to pass, to bring sorrows and expense to generations yet unborn. Hefflin, Barkley, McCumber and many others voiced their reluctance.

Senator George Norris' lengthy tracing of the history of war, of the cruelty and humanity in the name of patriotism, should be read by every school boy and girl and every soldier. His words were beautiful, sad and true. He ended by favoring neutrality.

On April 5, this resolution was read in Congress:

Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the said state of war between the United States and certain citizens on the one hand and the Imperial German government (brought about by the Imperial German Government) is hereby formally declared.

The voting power of the 63rd Congress from 1917 to 1919 is given:

House of Representatives: Republicans, 216; Democrats, 210; Progressive, 4; Socialist, 1; Independent, 1; Vacancy, 1; contests, 2; total, 435.

The Republicans remained in control of the House for the duration of the World war, in fact ever since, until the recent months of 1932.

The responsibility of Michigan was decidedly Republican, as both our Senators were Republican and of our thirteen Representatives, twelve were Republicans.

The result of the vote was: Yeas, Republicans, 187; Democrats, 186; sub total, 373. Nays, Republicans, 31; Democrats, 17; Socialists, 1; Progressive, 1; sub total, 60; no voting, 12; grand total, 435.

The President signed the resolution and the war was on.

Mr. Frank Chubb.

Should Be Defeated On This Record

Out of eighty-three bills that came before Congress that would have been beneficial to the Farmer, he voted against eighty of them and for three. He is known as the "Yes Man" among his colleagues in Congress and spends much of his time on the chautauqua circuit, making speeches to ladies' clubs and school children, instead of protecting the interests of the Farmer.

His twelve years service in Congress has been expensive and of little value to his constituents. He should be defeated on his record.

December 18, 1931—Voted for Moratorium providing for one year postponement of the payment of 250 million dollars owing this country by foreigners.

December 19, 1931—Voted against a one year Moratorium on farm mortgages held by Federal Land Banks. This bill would have saved farm foreclosures.

January 15, 1932—Voted "Yes" for the Reconstruction Finance bill giving four and one-half billion dollars to this Corporation—the biggest steal of modern times—taxing people to finance big business.

January 18, 1932—He voted against a reduction from $450,000 to $200,000 for expenditures allowed American officials abroad.

February 27, 1932—Voted against an emergency Road Construction bill to give employment to the poor and needy.

Same date—Voted against taxing incomes in excess of five million dollars at the rate of 65 per cent.

April 1, 1932—He voted "Yes" to the levying of an import tax of 4 cents per gallon on lubricating oil, and 10 cents per cwt. or $2.00 per ton on coal.

May 19, 1932—Voted for increase in army appropriations bill—to increase traveling expenses of Reserve Officers from $4,000,000 to $6,000,000 and increase expenditures for training camps for officers, at a time when the farmers were bankrupt.

May 21, 1932—Voted for bill providing living quarters for employees in the U. S. Foreign Service.

June 30, 1932—Voted to enlarge the Border Patrol service. This created hundreds of new jobs for administration purposes and at a time when the farmers were all broke.

July 2, 1932—Voted for another of the President's Commissions—voted an increase of $200,000 for the so-called President's Law Enforcement Commission—raised it from $50,000 to $250,000.

December 18, 1930—Voted for reducing the amount asked for seed and other farm relief. His vote was a slap at the farmer.

January 13, 1931—This man voted against an appropriation for food for the suffering farmers in the western states in the drought and storm areas.

January 23, 1931—He voted for allowances of $125,000 for an entertainment fund for government employees.

January 29, 1931—Voted against an effort to fix prices of items of farm products in an effort to increase these prices. Again he knocked the farmers.

January 30, 1932—Voted against an appropriation for the Red Cross for the purpose of feeding hungry citizens in Agricultural territory, on account of storms and droughts.

February 11, 1931—He voted "Yes" for an increase of salary for the Governor of Alaska, thereby again increasing the cost of government.

An Open Letter to the Voters of Berrien County From

Benjamin H. Bittner

Candidate For County Clerk

My attention has been called to a statement recently mailed to the voters of Berrien County by Mr. Guy Tyler, candidate for County Clerk on the Democratic ticket. In this statement Mr. Tyler criticizes my candidacy for another term for the office of County Clerk.

In former years, it was quite the custom to regard all county offices as political offices only, but on account of the volume of business now being done in the Court House, men are being chosen for county offices on account of their efficiency and not as a matter of politics.

Within the past fifteen years the County Drain Commissioner has held office for 4 terms.

The Register of Deeds held office for 3 terms;

The County Surveyor held office for 7 terms;

A Democratic Sheriff held office for 3 terms and Legislative offices for indefinite periods.

I stand on my record as County Clerk.

I voluntarily accepted a substantial cut on my salary.

In the past year the office of County Clerk has been conducted at a saving of 14 per cent less than this amount apportioned by the Board of Supervisors.

In recognition of the services rendered, no other candidate opposed me in the Primary.

I might urge several personal reasons why I am asking for re-election but I assume that the voters of Berrien County are not interested in the "intimate" and "personal" affairs of the candidates but care more for the manner in which the duties of the office are performed.

When Mr. Tyler was offering criticism on my asking for another term as County Clerk, he doubtless overlooked the fact that he held the office as City Manager, City Assessor and Manager-Assessor for nine consecutive years in the City of Benton Harbor and has been for two years and is at the present time a salaried Deputy Sheriff on the County payroll.

Surely Mr. Tyler after all these years of office seeking and office holding is in no position to criticize another candidate who seeks re-election.

I firmly believe that the voters of Berrien County desire to reward efficient service and my record as County Clerk justly entitles me to another term.

Bucaneers Teach Grid Game to St. Hedwige H. S.

S. B. 11 FAILS TO SCORE UNTIL RESERVES ENTER

Locals on Short End of Dope Odds in Game with Dowagiac here Next Saturday.

Buchanan's Maroons proved to be experienced for the St. Hedwige's lions last Saturday and annihilated them by the score of 34-7. The Bucks' ability to think and play faster than their opponents caused the lion downfall. The St. Hedwige outfit was very willing, however, and never gave up until the game was over. Buchanan will have to practice themselves much better, however, next Saturday when they play Dowagiac here in Buchanan. Dowagiac is expected to beat the Bucks, and it will take all the team has to beat the chiefs.

Buchanan scored in every quarter except the fourth which they reserved for St. Hedwige to score in. Early in the first quarter after Buchanan had the lions on their own nine yard line, they tried three plays which failed to bring them out of their difficulties. Then they tried to punt and Augie Topash rushed through the line and blocked the punt. He followed the ball back in the end zone and fell on it for a touchdown. Jesse's kick was good.

At the beginning of the second quarter, St. Hedwige punted to the Bucks and they downed the ball on their own 34 yard line. Three plays failed to gain them anything and so Jesse punted. Rolan raced down the field and fell on the ball after a lion man had touched it. Buchanan's ball on the St. Hedwige 43 yard line. Lauren Morse made three yards. Louie Morse made six, Ellis two, and then Louie lost two. Louie then turned around and made 11 yards. Ellis plowed ahead two. Ellis failed to gain on next play. Louie Morse, on the next play, raced for a touchdown. That ended the scoring in the first half.

To start the third quarter, the Bucks kicked off deep in lion territory, from which position St. Hedwige punted to their own 35 yard line. Louie Morse lost three. Lauren Morse made five. A pass, Jesse to Louie Morse, was taken for a touchdown. Jesse's kick was good.

Again in the third quarter, Buchanan forced St. Hedwige to the extremes of their goal. The lions punted. The ball went out on their own 16 yard line. Ellis made no gain on the first play. Louie scampered away again for another touchdown on the next play. The down, Jesse's kick was good.

Still again in the third quarter the Bucks were destined to score. Louie Morse intercepted a lion pass on his own 42 yard line and nearly made a touchdown, but was brought down on St. Hedwige's 6 yard line. Ellis ran the ball outside and then on the next play plunged the line for a touchdown. Jesse's kick was good.

Coach Bradford sent in his reserves to play most of the fourth quarter and it was then that the lions were able to score. St. Hedwige started from their own 49 yard line and advanced the ball to Buchanan's five yard line. Three plays failed to put the ball over and then, with the ball resting on the goal line, Torezewski plunged the ball just barely over. They passed successfully for the extra point.

Following is the starting line-ups:

Buchanan Position	St. Hedwige
Yurkovic	Manuszak
Aranson	L. E. Stockberger
Cripe	L. T. Rozinski
A. Topash	L. G. Nowicki
L. Donley	C. Dworecki
Frame	R. G. Lindorf
Rolan	R. T. Piasecki
Jesse	R. E. Torezewski
Louie Morse	Q. B. Lorenc
Lauren Morse	L. H. Wesolowski
Ellis	R. H. E. Delinski

Substitutes for Buchanan: H. Donley, Gladish, Bromley, Deno, Bachman, Penwell, Marrs, D. Topash, Deeds, Barbour, Leiter, Watson and Morris.

Officials: Reinker, referee; Savoldi, umpire; Proud, headlines-man.

Story of First Football Team at Buchanan H. S.

(By Lloyd Kolhoff)

Quite a contrast to football as played today, was the sport practiced in the nineties, when the flying wedge, mass formation, and other treacherous bone breaking plays were used by the players who used bright unspaded suits and no helmets. "There's sure a lot of difference" is the opinion of Frank Merson and Charles Dumbolton, who were members of Buchanan high school's first football team in 1896.

Mr. Merson gave the school the picture, now in the picture gallery, placed just outside the coach's office.

In 1896, school and civil authorities fumed at the idea of having a team play the "suicidal" game of football. Very little support was given to the game, so the players had to procure a field and other equipment. These suits cost 75c and were paid for out of the pockets of the players. The boys nailed leather cleats on their shoes and contributed 20c each to buy a football. Then they were ready to play the game.

The first season the "Bucks" opened with a game with Niles, in which the eastern school won 40 to 0; a western return game later gave Niles another victory. The "Bucks" field was located where the present foundry now stands.

The members of the first Buchanan high school football team were: ends, Paul Plimpton and Boile; backs, Clyde Voorhees and Harry Niles; guards, Frank Carlisle and Frank Merson; center, William Imhoff; halfbacks, Charles Dumbolton and Bert Lister; fullback, Clayton Beistle; quarterback, Captain Robert Henderson; substitutes, Clinton Montague and Ed Conner.

As far as is known to date all of these players are living save Carlisle, who died several years ago as the result of an automobile accident in California.

Two members of this first football team achieved fame on the baseball field. Niles, who now resides in Flint, was in the major leagues for twelve seasons, and Beistle, now residing in South Bend, was later a star pitcher for the University of Michigan.

Plimpton, Montague and Lister are now residents of Chicago. Henderson is a well known Niles physician; and Conner is also a doctor practicing medicine in California. Voorhees is a resident of Dowagiac.

Frank Merson and Charles Dumbolton are foreman in the Clark Equipment company. Merson is also a member of the City Commission of Buchanan.

Faculty Facts

Mr. Moore was in South Bend Saturday morning getting more moss for the aquarium which he has in the agricultural room. He then did a bit of experimental work with food for the fish. Fly the fishes having to eat what Mr. Moore cooks up for them. In the afternoon he watched the Buchanan high football team defeat the Plainwell Bluejackets. Sunday he spent most of his time sleeping.

Miss Shriver motored to Chicago Saturday to watch the Northwest-Purdue football game. Her mother came back with her and spent Saturday evening and Sunday with her.

Mrs. French, when asked what she did over the week-end said wistfully, "Oh, I corrected a few English papers and I really had an enjoyable time."

Scout Training School Opens

The Boy Scout Training School for Berrien and Cass counties met Thursday, Oct. 27th in Berrien Springs.

The following program was given: Improvement program, conducted by Mr. Oscar Noll; standard course by R. C. Smith of Water-vliet; first aid by Dr. McDermalt; cubbing by Mr. J. Cauffman of Dowagiac; Life Saving, Mr. Williamson; Play Methods of Teaching Scouting, Mr. Williamson; Top Committee, Mr. Noll.

course in scouting and boy nature will be given in eight lectures. The first was given by Principal Painter on "A Boy in Scout Program."

Velmarian Lit Society Meets

The second meeting of the Velmarian Literary Society was held Friday, Oct. 29. Each member of the society answered roll call by giving a favorite saying of a teacher or student in high school. A short business meeting was held in which the literary contest that sides in Flint, was in the major leagues for twelve seasons, and Beistle, now residing in South Bend, was later a star pitcher for the University of Michigan.

Plimpton, Montague and Lister are now residents of Chicago. Henderson is a well known Niles physician; and Conner is also a doctor practicing medicine in California. Voorhees is a resident of Dowagiac.

Frank Merson and Charles Dumbolton are foreman in the Clark Equipment company. Merson is also a member of the City Commission of Buchanan.

Apparation Visits High School Wed.

Home room doors were thrown open, and the funniest looking creature you ever saw entered the room. Everyone was certain that it was a circus freak or somebody escaped from a lunatic asylum. The creature's hair was of a fiery hue, and it was wearing a straw hat, which appeared to have seen more prosperous days. He grinned the most hideous grin, revealing two rows of false teeth. His tie was scarlet and tied in the most impressive style. He wore a long coat with a tail light attached to the back. When he spoke (it had been decided that "it" belonged to the class known as "he") to inquire how many had money for tickets for the Halloween party Saturday night, everyone knew that the meek bashful voice could belong to only one person, George Spatta. (Is the red tie the latest, George?)

Dog Demonstrates His Preferences

There is a saying that dogs can always tell what people care for them, and I guess this statement was proved by Miss Chandler last Monday morning.

It seems that a little Scottie came up to visit her, and she thinks the world of dogs; but, of course, it was against the rules so she had to take it out doors. She no more than got back to her room when who do you think appeared? None other than little Scottie himself. She took him down the second time, but much to her amazement, the little dog followed her up the stairs again. By this time, she had enough exercise walking up and down the stairs, so she called one of the students to take the poor little dog out.

Too bad, Miss Chandler, but maybe he'll come around again sometime. Let's hope so.

Usher Club
The Usher club has admitted these new members: Mary Louise Beardsley, Marjorie Campbell, Ruth Cripe, Mary Donley, Marjorie Shreve, Marie Ellis, Madeline Hamilton, Marjorie Hamilton, Jean Russell, Helen Spatta, Marjorie Weaver.

Miss Chandler says they are going to have a meeting soon and elect new officers of the club.

BIGGEST GAME OF THE YEAR! ATTENTION, GRID FANS

Buchanan's football team to get its supreme test with Dowagiac here Saturday. Every possible flaw in the local team to be ironed out in preparation. Both teams are undefeated. Both have power. Who will win? Be there and see the battle of the year. If you thought the Niles game exciting, come see a real thriller.

There will be a hot time in the old town the night before. On Friday there will be a snake dance from down town to the Athletic field where a big bonfire and pep meeting are to be held. Let the team know we are behind them! Let's go, EVERYBODY!

Wind from Spain" opens. Doesn't it sound exciting? The girl is told she has a brother, Jimmy, who is in Yucatan. The family of Hardy and Honeywell, friends of Jimmy, take Nick with them to their cottage, "The Sea Shack," at Nantucket. At the seashore, Nick is the center of many exciting adventures. First, an important letter, which Jimmy had left for Nick is stolen. Then she receives word that Jimmy has been killed. Nick is in the depths of despair when her half-completed statue is destroyed in a studio fire. Treachery seems to always be "just around the corner" waiting for Nick, until she regains her memory. Is she really Nicholl Drayton? Read "The Wind from Spain" for the answer to this question, a book that will keep you guessing to the very last word.

PROGRESS OF CLASS ROOMS DURING WEEK

Journalism
Last week in Miss Hanlin's journalism class, students were toiling with the problem of building human interest stories and the making of newspaper paragraphs. Every Friday each person is required to write an essay on the biggest news of the week, the material being taken from daily newspapers which are to be read in the class room. The best essay each week will be published in the school paper, The Microphone.

Three newspaper reports are made each Friday by members of the Journalism class. Last week's reports were as follows: "Parliament Issues" by Charles Blake; "East and West" by Mary Richter and a book review on "The Flight of the Swan" by Emily Wales.

Manual Training
Mr. Miller's mechanical drawing classes have been continuing their drawings and tracings. The shop classes have been working on their shop duties. Eighth grade science classes have been studying heat.

Civics
An art collection containing pictures of Ancient Rome and Greece was mounted by the tenth grade history class. This proved very interesting and educational. The topic of discussion in the ninth grade was "Health" while the administration of Thomas Jefferson, the beginning of the Republican party and its control of the government was taken up by the seniors.

School Nurse
Thirty children have had dental work completed in the last two months. Several cases of impetigo have been found and the best care has been given to get rid of it. The grade children have been weighed and measured during the last six weeks, and the cards showing their standings have been sent home.

Agriculture Department
Mr. Knoblauch's agricultural classes, including tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades, are now studying the classification of the various kinds of seeds. The classes will be studying these seeds for subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Nov. 6.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Gen. 1:27): "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."
Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 557): "Popular theology takes up the history of man as if he began materially right, but immediately fell into mental sin; whereas revealed religion proclaims the Science of Mind and its formations as being in accordance with the first chapter of the Old Testament when God, Mind, spake and it was done."

Lesson study, "Forgive Us Our Debts, as We Forgive Our Debtors."
Introductory thought: "We are now entering upon the second phase of the Lord's Prayer. In the first five lessons we have seen God as Father, Creator, King, Master, and Benefactor. From now on we see Him under the more sacrificial roles of Saviour, Guide and Deliverer."

Because Christ took our sin, He can well show us how to pray. His prayer for us never more manifested such a forgiving spirit as He. In their work the disciples would have to meet persecution through the jealousy and hatred of the Jews; but this had been endured by their Master, and they were not to flee from it. The first offering of mercy must be made to the murderer of the Saviour.

While Christ, through His infinite love, provided the way, yet His pardon cannot be realized unless we manifest the spirit of forgiveness toward those who have wronged us.

according to Loggren. Three days of the time the expedition was on the Ross ice barrier the temperature was 70 degrees or more below zero.
During the winter night the men played poker, backgammon, whist, bridge, etc., cigars and chocolate candy being staked in the games. In spare time, at their working hours, were away listening to radio programs, attending the movies and reading with both pleasure and profit, the 3000 volumes of fiction and the classics Byrd had provided for his men.
On August 21st activity was begun on trail work. The scientific parties began their explorations. New mountain ranges were discovered. The lowest form of vegetation, the only one by the way found, was Lichens, a low form of moss, discovered on the rocks of several of the high peaks in the mountains. The discovery of small formations of coal led the party to the conclusion that the entire continent had once been a fertile land. Sandstone found also proved that the mountains were not of volcanic origin. Penguins, gulls, seals and whales were the only signs of life in the land.
In Byrd's flight to the south pole by airplane from the second expedition, the time within less than three minutes, passed from today into tomorrow and from tomorrow back into yesterday, by crossing the international date meridians, Loggren said.
The expedition contributed immeasurable to the advancement of science, in the fields of geography, meteorology, physics, etc. Astronomical observations, the science of the glaciers, radio research, biology and other sciences, the explorer declared.
Loggren is retired from the U. S. navy in which he spent 20 years as an enlisted man and a commissioned officer.
The observance of Education Week, the parents and friends interested in school work, are cordially invited to visit the various grade rooms on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 9. Regular classes will be conducted as usual during the afternoon but a special demonstration will be given in each room which will show some fundamental principles of education.
In the Dewey Avenue building, Miss Miller at 2 p. m., will show one way the schools are helping the child in social activity. At 2:15 Miss Ebbert and at 3 p. m. Mrs. Wilcox will show how the school prepares for use of leisure time. At 2:30 Mrs. Fischer and at 2:45 Miss Ahola will show the industrial side of the work. At 3:15 Miss Vanderbank will give a health demonstration.
In the main building at 1:50 Miss Carman and Miss Rivers at 2 p. m., will show the health demonstration. At 2:15 Miss Ekstrom will show one way the schools are helping in the home. At 2:30 Miss Simmons will have work for leisure time. At 2:45 Mrs. Heim and at 3:00 Mrs. Fuller will have demonstrations of making good citizens.
In the school preparatory building, at 3:10 Miss Abell will have work along the industrial lines and at 3:20 Miss Reams work in social activity.

From this confusing mess of names the voters were supposed to ballot for the 77 best qualified men to represent this district. This situation is vastly different from that which prevails in the average rural district where the candidates for representative are usually known personally to most of the voters. Under such circumstances the question arises as to the wisdom of giving still further representation to the big cities, with their high percentage of transient and alien population, and in consequence being forced to group the rural and more sparsely settled counties into districts so large as to make it difficult for a man to represent his district in an intimate and intelligent way.

A representative of a congested city area can find out on short notice what his constituents think about any issue, while if a man is supposed to represent the same number of constituents scattered over several counties and having a variety of industries and viewpoints, it is much more difficult to find out accurately how his people back home feel about it.
We who are sent to Lansing as representatives from rural districts are often censured because we are not able to secure all the legislation which is so eagerly desired by the voters who elected us. I fear that it is not generally understood that we rural lawmakers have been asleep on the job or have forgotten our campaign platform or the wishes of our home people, but that we have been outvoted by the urban legislators.
Michigan is now more industrial than agricultural and it is constantly growing more difficult to secure legislation desired by the rural counties. This problem can not be solved by changing the party label on our lawmakers, or by sending new and inexperienced men to represent our rural counties at Lansing. It will be seriously intensified by adopting a reapportionment amendment which will once and for all turn over the control of the legislature to a few big cities. The metropolitan influence already dominates the senate. If it also gains supremacy in the House the residents of counties like Ionia can whistle for consideration from the state lawmakers.

In my files I have a great mass of material about this matter of legislative apportionment as it has been handled in other states and as it applies to Michigan, but I do not believe that it is necessary to continue this discussion further in this article. I think that it is evident that any amendment which proposed constitutional amendment is misnamed. Instead of being called the "Michigan Plan" it should be named the "Detroit Plan."
We trust that this proposal will have the earnest and intelligent consideration of every voter for it is a matter of the most far-reaching importance and should not be passed over lightly.—Ionia County News.

The district convention of the W. C. T. U. will be held Thursday and Friday, Nov. 3 and 4, at Benton Harbor. State President Mrs. Dora Whitney and Miss Helen Byrnes, national director of the young people's branch of the W. C. T. U. will preside. An oratorical contest will be held Thursday evening. Mrs. W. F. Boettcher will have charge of the memorial service and the Buchanan Union will help in a publicity exhibit using published W. C. T. U. notes. Approximately ten members from Buchanan expect to attend the convention.
The local union of the W. C. T. U. met Friday at the home of Mrs. Emory Rough on the South Bend road. Following a short business meeting, a report was given of the state W. C. T. U. convention held at Flint, Oct. 11-14, by the local delegates, Mrs. M. L. Mills and Miss Agnes Mills. A general outline for work for the next year was considered. The project for the month is the getting of honorary members. Approximately 400 delegates were present at the state convention. Fifty-seven new unions were organized during the past year including one at Niles and one at Three Oaks.
Speakers at the convention were Mrs. Ida D. Smith, national vice president; Mrs. Grace Meis Fletcher, noted prohibition worker; Grant Hudson, candidate for Congress from the 6th district and Gov. Brucker. On the afternoon of the 14th a pageant, Uncle Sam Leads On, was presented. Mrs. Dora Whitney of Benton Harbor was re-elected state president; all other officers were re-elected.

I am somewhat at a loss to understand in what particular there should be any doubt in your mind as to my position on any of the questions you ask in view of the public utterances I have made and the votes I have cast on practically every one of them.
If there is any opposition to the views I have expressed, and you will indicate what it is, I will be very happy to answer. In view of the record made on these matters I have said to all who have written me that I am not answering questionnaires for publication, but on the other hand am glad to confer with anyone as to any particular proposition in which they are uncertain as to my attitude.

THE MICHIGAN PLAN

counties would absorb 78 of the 100 representatives. Wayne county would have 89 House seats; Kent 5; Genesee and Oakland each 4; Saginaw and Lapeer each 3; Jackson, Kalamazoo, Calhoun, Muskegon, Berrien, Macomb and Bay each 2; and St. Clair, Washtenaw, Ottawa, Houghton, Monroe and Lenawee each 1.
The remaining 64 counties in the state, in which list Ionia county would be found, would then have to be grouped into representative districts. Each representative district would have a full ratio of population of 48,423 and there are only 22 House seats to divide up among this vast territory. It appears probably that Ionia and Clinton counties, each of which now has its own independent representative, would be grouped together in a single representative district. Certainly Ionia county would be joined with some neighboring county.
We can make some interesting comparisons of the present and the proposed plan of apportionment. For instance, all Michigan north of a line from Muskegon to Bay City, which now has 31 House seats, would lose 16 of its representatives and have but 15 left. Wayne, Oakland, Genesee and Kent counties now have 31 representatives. Under the new plan they would have 52, one more than the necessary 51 votes required for passing a bill in the House. Thus, the representatives from these four counties could pass bills through the House to suit themselves, regardless of the desires of the representatives from the remaining 79 counties.
In our national government we recognize that areas and political units should be taken into consideration as well as population totals in apportioning our legislative representatives. For instance, each state has two Senators in the Congress, regardless of its census enumeration. A large number of the states have enacted the same principle into their fundamental constitutional law. Practically every state that has one or more great cities has taken on start to limit the representation from these metropolitan areas in either one or both of the legislative chambers. By these safeguards the state, as a whole, protects itself against being dominated by any congested centers of population.
In the recent Primary Election in the first Wayne county district there were 69 Republican and 10 Democratic aspirants, a total of 156 candidates for the House.

Remarkable Football Picture Coming

The two greatest football teams in the country will be seen in action in Niles on the screen of the Ready Theatre according to an announcement issued yesterday.
The statement was given out by Manager Eberhard, with the further information that these gridiron machinings will appear in the Universal football drama, "The All American," on Sunday, Monday, Nov. 6th and 7th. One of them is the 1931 All American team, marking the first time that such a squad has ever been assembled on the playing field, and the other is an All-Star team which includes in its lineup some of the greatest players of previous seasons.
"The All American" is said to be a highly dramatic story which follows the career of a football star after his graduation from college, and details the effect which the adulation of the multitude has on an impressionable young man. It is only when he sees his younger brother following in his footsteps that he regains his pride and takes steps to drive his brother to his senses before it is too late. This brings the picture to an unexpected conclusion in a rousing climax.
Richard Arlen, Andy Devine, Gloria Stuart, Jas. Gleason, Preston Foster and June Clyde play leading roles and the roster of 30 football stars includes Carideo, "Red" Cagle, Ernie Nevers, Albie Booth, "Marchy" Schwartz, Jerry Dalrymple, Erny Pinckert and "Moon" Mullins.

The statement was given out by Manager Eberhard, with the further information that these gridiron machinings will appear in the Universal football drama, "The All American," on Sunday, Monday, Nov. 6th and 7th. One of them is the 1931 All American team, marking the first time that such a squad has ever been assembled on the playing field, and the other is an All-Star team which includes in its lineup some of the greatest players of previous seasons.
"The All American" is said to be a highly dramatic story which follows the career of a football star after his graduation from college, and details the effect which the adulation of the multitude has on an impressionable young man. It is only when he sees his younger brother following in his footsteps that he regains his pride and takes steps to drive his brother to his senses before it is too late. This brings the picture to an unexpected conclusion in a rousing climax.
Richard Arlen, Andy Devine, Gloria Stuart, Jas. Gleason, Preston Foster and June Clyde play leading roles and the roster of 30 football stars includes Carideo, "Red" Cagle, Ernie Nevers, Albie Booth, "Marchy" Schwartz, Jerry Dalrymple, Erny Pinckert and "Moon" Mullins.

Since we need pep, Friday night

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

PEERING AT PEARS
Sectionalism is perhaps not the best issue to raise in the selection of candidates at an election, but if the issue has already been injected into the campaign it is perhaps just as well to recognize it.

In other words, if the Buchanan district has good men in the field running for county office, where else should their merits receive recognition when the ballots are cast if not in their home precincts? In the recent primary, the Record refrained from any endorsement of candidates in the race for representative from the Second District, largely because there were two good candidates running for the Republican nomination, both with strong local affiliations, and both, in our opinion, competent to fill the office. Now that that situation has been eliminated through the selection of Don Pears as the Republican candidate, the reason for silence is removed.

Don Pears is undoubtedly the best qualified man running for the office of state representative from this district, regardless of party. His reputation as a citizen is of the best and he has demonstrated that he has political ability of a high order. And, as the editor of the Saturday Evening Post remarked in the issue before last: "Statesmen who are not politicians get nothing done." We believe that ability in the field of politics is strictly essential in securing results as a legislator. Mr. Pears has demonstrated his political ability. He served in the office of register of deeds with sufficient ability to be able to overrule a tradition seldom violated in Berrien county to the effect that no man is entitled to an office more than two terms in succession. He was elected president of the Michigan Association of Register of Deeds. Buchanan people of all party affiliations will do well to consider his merits.

FRANKLY SPEAKING
The election of Atty. Frank R. Sanders to the office of Judge of Probate for Berrien County has doubtless been conceded or at least it should be conceded. Sanders led the field in the September primary in the case of offices for which there was competition. He should receive an even greater plurality in the general election next week. He is eminently qualified for the office which he seeks. He is a graduate of the law department of the University of Michigan; he has practiced law many years; he has served as assistant attorney general of the State of Michigan. He is faced in the finals by a man who has no legal experience whatever, and no proved qualification for the office. He is the only Buchanan man, strictly speaking, in the field for office. That will be a handicap to him in some other sections. Buchanan people should remember that when they vote.

has been selected for a big snake dance that is to begin down town at 7 o'clock and which will wind up at the athletic park where there will be a big bonfire. The band is going to lead the procession and will be present along with the cheer leaders. And maybe Charlie Blake! All the present students will be there and all the former students should be there.
