WHAT—NO MORE PIE?

By Hays
(Ed. Note: "I can't appoint everybody."—Governor Comstock) The pie is gone, the gunner says, and there won't be any more. For he's hung a sign to that effect right on the state house door. He's wiped the public counter clean and he's hung his towel away.

And he says it ain't no use to squawk for there's no more pie today.

But if Comstock is out of pie, if Comstock is out of pie, six hundred thousand Democrats must know the reason why!

No more pie for the Democrats ain't that a crummy note? Why does he think we're Democrats and why did we ever vote? Does he think he can shut us off with pie and fill us up with beer? He's got another call to think, for we're tellin' him now and here—If Comstock is out of pie, six hundred thousand Democrats must know the reason why!

Uncle Hank of Hills Corners sez:

The Democrats are raisin' the deuce becuz Comstock appointed a few Republicans to office. Well, why not, the Republicans elected him didn't they.

...last we found out why prohibition is havin' such hard sleddin' this year. It's the 13th anniversary. Eff it lives out this year it's safe.

Generally speakin', this new Congressman Foulkes is generally speakin'.

It is gonna take the Roosevelt inaugural parade two hours to pass a given point. That'll be all right with the taxpayers of the administration kin just pass a good economy bill in the same time.

But layin' all jokes aside Huey Long was right. We got too many glass hills already, most of them busted.

What is the sense of talkin' lower taxes and state economy and then raisin' the price of a fishin' license?

C. A. Hallock Funeral Held Here Tuesday

The funeral of Corydon Hallock, a former well known Bend of the River farmer, who died at Jacksonville, Fla., at the home of his daughter, was held from the Children's Funeral Chapel Tuesday afternoon. The following complete obituary was furnished by the bereaved family.

Corydon and Hallock was born at Arcadia, N. Y., on July 8, 1854, and died Dec. 29, 1932, at Jacksonville, Fla., following several months of illness, at the age of 78 years, 4 months and 25 days.

He was united in marriage to Ellen G. Harding on March 6th, 1873, and to them were born two children, Mabel H. Hutchins, of Jacksonville, Fla., at whose home he died, and Eugene D. Hallock of Buffalo, N. Y. His wife preceded him in death on Dec. 22, 1930.

Mr. Hallock was a well-known former resident of the vicinity of Buchanan where he was engaged in farming until a few years ago, when he and his companion returned to Jacksonville, Fla., and was also a famous swimmer and greatly enjoyed the water. He was a great reader and kept in touch with current events and history as long as he was able.

He is survived by his daughter, son and son-in-law already mentioned, also four grandchildren, John C. Eugene D., Jr., and Dorothy Ellen Hallock of Buffalo, N. Y., and Arno H. Johnson of Bronxville, N. Y. There are also two grandchildren, Elliott H. and Dean S. Johnson, of Bronxville.

Mrs. Richard Kean and Arthur Mead of Buchanan and Rev. Clyde DeVigney of Big Rapids are cousins of the deceased. There are also a number of other relatives in and around Buchanan.

Funeral services were conducted by Elder A. E. Bloom of Chicago, formerly pastor of the Advent Christian church of Buchanan, at the Children's Funeral Home in Buchanan on Tuesday, Jan. 24, at 2 p. m. and he was laid to rest beside his companion, in the family lot in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Mrs. Laura Hamblin and Elder Bloom sang two selections of the pastor's composition at the services. Beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which he was held by relatives and friends. The pall bearers were Frank Bachman, Charles Tichenor, Andrew Lyddick, Howard Smith, Riley Zerbe, Ebbert Geyer.

Foulkes Attacks State Police
Asserting he would present a petition to Governor Comstock calling for 15,000 signatures calling for the abolition of the state police, post at Paw Paw, Congressman George Foulkes started his campaign Saturday against the state police body which he promised in his campaign. He is meeting opposition from VanBuren county officials and from the united banks of the county, who declare that the post is necessary for safety.

Trooper Peters and Seasing were assigned to go to the aid of Deputy Ronald Leach at 9:30 o'clock on the evening of June 28, 1932. He had been attacked and badly beaten by five men at a filling station east of Hartford while attempting to arrest Frank Rosiewicz for driving while drunk. Andrew Rosiewicz, father of Frank,

Evanston, Ill., Joins List of Cities in Which Merchants Issue Scrip to Co-operate With City Relief.

A commercial device which has never entirely gone out of fashion in remote rural communities and among small boys—that of exchange by barter—is fast returning to use in the United States as a means of bridging over the depression by unemployed men and women, who have no money but who have abilities or products which they are willing to "swap" for the necessities of life.

The total number of people in the United States who are living by means of barter, with the issuance of scrip in some cases, is growing weekly, and now probably totals somewhere between 500,000 and 1,000,000.

The number in Southern California using this means of existence is rated at 350,000. In Colorado there are 40,000 and in Utah 10,000 more.

There are reported to be 150 organizations of the unemployed for the purpose of self-help in the United States, with new ones forming every week. These associations are most common in the west.

The method of formation may be illustrated by the organization of the Inwood Mutual Exchange of Inwood, a suburb of New York City. It began two months ago with a house-to-house canvass of all who were out of work, conducted by men who were themselves out of work. Unemployed men and women were then invited to hold a meeting at which the plans were set forth. As a result 250 members joined the exchange. All agreed to give his labor in exchange for goods and services which he received, under arrangements made by the management of the association, and to give a half day's work each week as dues. There is no money in the association for anybody.

Included in the membership of the Inwood Mutual Exchange are a number of laborers, skilled workers, and a few professional men. Since the exchange would not be easy in so large a membership, the association has arranged the issuance of credit tokens or scrip in return for labor or services performed. This scrip is printed in various denominations up to $5. The members of the association perform services for local tradesmen, doctors, dentists and other such and thus establish credits for the exchange.

Since the exchange can issue scrip, twenty-two merchants of the suburb have agreed to accept the scrip within limits as payment for goods, and trade is thus increased. The merchants who accept this scrip can use it in many of their local dealings.

The association got in touch with a farmer in New Hope, Pa., who needed new buildings on his farm but had no money. He had apples, however, and the Association sent out carpenters who did the work and received in exchange 200 bushels of apples. The best of the apples were sold by the merchants for $135. The less saleable apples were converted into jelly and apple butter by the unemployed women of the exchange, and "Barter Brand" jelly became popular in the town.

The apple incident was the beginning of a series of barter exchanges of a similar kind. A carpenter had his piano tuned. The piano tuner employed a typist to do the work.

CLARK PLAYERS PLAN TO STAGE "THE MIKADO"

Most Popular of Gilbert and Sullivan Operas to be Given Here as Charity Benefit in February.

Winter entertainment prospects for Buchanan were materially brightened recently by the tidings that the Clark Players, noted at one time over a considerable area for the excellence of their productions, were again to be revived, for the purpose, however, of producing light opera rather than the farce comedies which were their stock in trade of old.

A nucleus of the Clark Players group with some new added talent has been meeting lately with a view to organizing a cast for the presentation of "The Mikado," most popular of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas. Although this opera had its premiere in London in 1885, it has still a strong hold on the popular taste. It is perhaps the best example of that rare combination of music and libretto skill that was Gilbert and Sullivan. W. S. Gilbert, writer of the libretto, achieved his happiest lines in "The Mikado," and there is more catchy music in its strains than in any other of the collaborations of Sir Arthur Sullivan.

It is planned that the opera will be presented on some date in the latter part of February. More definite announcements will be in order later. The receipts of the production will go to the relief fund.

Acts as Involuntary Police Assistant

Leon Campbell served as an involuntary assistant to the Indiana police recently when he unwittingly aided in the capture of highway bandits on U.S. 12 near Michigan City. He was driving out from Chicago, when he met with battery trouble a short distance west of Michigan City and was obliged to have his car towed in for repairs. While he was waiting for the wrecker (it was shortly after dark) he had difficulty signaling cars around his stalled vehicle. The driver of a speeding coupe failed to see the Michigan City, and was forced to take to the ditch, from which they were unable to get out. The occupants were highly excited and very abusive, attempting to commandeer the wrecker which came to get Campbell's car, to assist them out. The driver of the wrecker refused to help and they sent to another garage. Shortly after the second wrecker arrived, a squad car arrived and took the driver of the coupe into custody for the commission of a highway robbery a short time before.

The down town office in Detroit will also be discontinued. Three state oil inspectors will be dismissed and their work taken over by troopers. Troopers stationed at the posts to be abandoned will be transferred to the East Lansing headquarters. Olander stated that an estimated saving of $36,000 would be effected.

Ill. Skate King Visits Buchanan

There are many interesting characters to be observed among the numerous transients that visit our city during the fall and winter months.

Among those to whom the city played host over the last week end was Asa Hall, known in his home town of Danville, Ill., as the skate king. Mr. Hall, who is a world war veteran, often takes trips from one part of the country to another wherever there is a good paved highway, on roller skates, and sells Soldiers Joke Books to pay his way; he is looking for prosperity he says.

During the past ten years Mr. Hall has skated nineteen thousand seven hundred and sixty miles and has worn out a great many pairs of skates.

He visits rinks in the larger cities and puts on exhibitions of plain and fancy skating.

He stated that he had left Danville on Tuesday last week and is enroute to Benton Harbor where he plans to visit the House of David and perhaps there find the long lost object of his search—Prosperity.

Called to Sturgis By Death of Father

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith were called to Sturgis Friday evening by the tidings that the latter's father, J. J. Stanton, had taken a turn for the worse after a long illness. Stanton died Saturday night. Funeral services were delayed until Wednesday to permit the arrival of a son, Atty. Earl Stanton, of Los Angeles. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and daughter, Nedra, Mrs. Nellie Smith and Howard Smith of the Bend of the River attended the funeral.

Harry Banks, Jr. of W. S. T. C. spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Banks.

Democrats and Republicans Declare Truce in Order to to Effect Measures for Public Relief.

Measures which would extend the three year time limit on sales of delinquent tax titles to five years and other proposals of relief for the overburdened taxpayers are now being drafted for introduction in the legislature, according to Attorney-General Patrick O'Brien, as a means of bringing about the "new deal" promised by the Democratic party in behalf of the "poor man."

It is reported that a political truce has been declared between the 15 Republicans and the 17 Democratic members of the Senate who met behind closed doors on Thursday and celebrated a "love feast" in the interests of effecting governmental economy and tax reduction. The meeting was called by Lieut. Gov. Allen E. Stebbins after bitter partisan battles appeared in the office over Senate procedure, recess discussion and the program of Governor Comstock. Had the quarrel continued, it was felt that it would be impossible to secure the necessary majorities for passing delinquent tax legislation before the time for tax sales.

Refuse Comstock More Time
The legislature held its first Friday meeting last week, after having voted down a proposal that a ten-day recess be held to permit Gov. Comstock to complete his legislative program.

Oriole Club Fills Need of Local Youth

The attention of Buchanan people is hereby called to the fact that they have in their community an organization which is filling a very real need among the young men and filling it to date in a very creditable manner.

The Oriole Athletic club was organized last fall, with the independent foot ball team of that name as a nucleus. The suite of rooms over the Glenn Smith store was secured at a nominal rental. A canvass of the homes of the members and their friends secured at least the essentials of furniture. Through the use of the mop and broom and through decorations of pictures and pennants on the walls, the quarters were improved to an almost unbelievable state of attractiveness and respectability, considering that the allegedly miracle-working feminine hand was entirely lacking in the work. A billiard table was secured, also a ping pong table. Chairs, couches, tables and an old piano were secured for the lounge room.

Nominal fees of 75c for initiation and 30c per month for membership were charged. The following rules of conduct were adopted and have been so far enforced:

1. No gambling allowed in any form.
  2. No profanity or roughhouse.
  3. No drinking or liquor allowed in the club rooms.
  4. Anyone who enters the club rooms while under the influence of liquor will be ejected.
  5. No high school boys allowed.
- The organization has a membership of 125. More furniture is needed.

Berrien County News Review

New Assistant Treasurer
Henry Mason of Niles, defeated candidate for the nomination for county treasurer last fall, has been appointed assistant in that office by Treasurer Forrest Brown, taking over his duties there Monday. He has been an instructor in the Niles high school. The appointment was offered to the former assistant, L. R. Mangold of Benton Harbor, who declined the offer to enter business in Lansing.

Democrats Disagree in Senate
Prospects of difficulty in passing the Comstock legislative program through the upper house of the 57th legislature appeared in the offering last week with the announcement by Sen. William Palmer of Flint that he would be independent of party dictation. Since the Democrats have 17 members as opposed to 15 Republicans, a switch of one vote would precipitate a tie. Since the Democratic Lieutenant Governor cannot vote, this might effectively block any legislative program. The Democratic majority in the Senate has agreed to act on the unit rule, but Palmer has announced that he will not be bound by that decision. Some disaffection has arisen among the Democratic members over the appointments made by Comstock.

Mr. W. A. Fritz is improved after a serious illness.

Guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Paugborn were Mrs. Pauline Shigley and daughter, Betty, Miss Emma Ish, Frank Forman and Mrs. C. P. Forman of Elkhart.

Gov. Comstock Protests Rush of Job Hunters

"I can't appoint everyone" stated Governor William A. Comstock last week in making complaint that his time was being taken by visits of job hunters and would-be advisors to the extent that he has been unable to complete his draft of legislative program.

Members of his party have criticized the governor because he did not thoroughly "clean house" and make new appointments to deserving Democrats. He has left W. S. Carpenter in charge as welfare director and Oscar G. Olander as commissioner of public safety.

"The good of the state must come ahead of the Democratic party," he stated, referring to his appointments. "There will be criticism, but I am ready to meet it."

DEATH COMES IN HOSPITAL 75 MIN. LATER

Mishap Marks the Passing of Strange Character; Born and Lived Entire Life Here.

"I wish that I didn't have to live out the winter," said David Decker, Buchanan hermit and eccentric character in a Main street restaurant about 7 p. m. Saturday, and as he left he narrowly escaped being hit by a car at the junction of Main and Front streets and a minute later was struck by a truck and fatally injured as he was crossing Front on Oak street.

John Batten had been waiting for the light at Front and Oak, and as the green flashed he started up and had just thrown his gears into second at the western side of the crossing when Decker suddenly stepped in front of him and was struck by full force and knocked to the paving.

The injured man was carried by witnesses to the hospital, where his injuries were examined and it was thought at first that he might survive. However, the shock was too great and an hour later he started sinking and died in a short time. He had incurred a fracture of the lower left leg, a fracture of the right fore arm at the wrist, several broken ribs, severe cuts and possible internal injuries.

He was born Oct. 25, 1858, in Buchanan township, the son of Charles and Eliza Jane Decker. He grew to manhood here and in his early life received a good elementary education. He never married, however. For many years he drove the town sprinkling wagon with his own team. He was greatly attached to his team and later to a small dog that was his constant companion. After the sprinkling job had been discontinued, he began the business of assembling and selling waste paper from all the business houses in town, in which practice he is said to have prospered until the drop in paper price about three years ago. He made his home for many years in the old structure on Oak street formerly known as the Batchelor Livery barn. He bought this building and used it for the assembly and packing of his paper.

In the past two years he had not worked and had been in failing health. After the death of the small dog which was apparently his sole companion and confidant, his spirits dropped visibly and he frequently expressed a wish to die.

He is survived by a niece, Mrs. James Clark and by a nephew, L. A. Decker, of Buchanan.

Funeral services were held in the Hamilton Funeral Home at 3 p. m. Tuesday, with Rev. W. F. Boettcher officiating. Burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

No charges were made against Batten, as there were a number of witnesses who were unanimous in the statement that Decker was walking against the light and that he stepped directly in the path of the truck, which was proceeding at a slow rate of speed.

Weekly News Letter

By Rep. Earl L. Burhans

I think it can be honestly said that the Michigan Legislature back as far as the 1929 session began its efforts at tax reduction. The 1929 session performed one accomplishment worthy of note by creating a Commission of Inquiry into the taxation of the State.

The Commission was organized and waited for the convening of a new session in 1931 and the 1931 session would have anew tackled the problem, but the session in 1929 wisely created a Commission during the interim between sessions to study the taxation question and to report in 1931. The Commission began its first term in the 1931 session and can testify to the valuable work of this nine-man Commission and to the fact that its report started legislation that endeavored to benefit the small home owner and the farmer. The fact that an economic crisis came late and could not be anticipated. Economists the world over recognized the fact that the farmer in his plight could only benefit from two sources, namely, reduced taxes on his land holdings and better prices for the commodities that the land produced. The first problem, namely, tax reduction, was undertaken by the Michigan Legislature. The second problem must be classified as a Congressional problem.

There are five taxing units in Michigan that impose taxes and help to make up the total of your tax receipt. I refer, of course, to the Legislature imposing a state tax and your county, township, city, village, and school district. In turn, accounting for the balance. The Legislature imposes a small fraction of the items you find in your tax receipt. The responsibility is largely local, but the Legislature of 1929 started the program of interim investigation and fact gathering. The ill effects of painful taxation come on slowly. They are not cured overnight. In 1931 at the regular and special session laws were passed to decrease the load of taxes. We insisted that even if the Legislature imposed the smallest part of the taxes against your land, that nevertheless, the example of the reduction should start with us and we hoped to find co-operation among supervisors, city, village, township and school district officials. We asked local units to join us in an effort to practice greater economy. We tried through the state to instill in the minds of the people generally that if they would make as strong an effort in the reduction of their local government as the Legislature was making in state government, the burden of high taxation could be lowered. If you will make a comparative study of your tax receipts for the last two years, you will note that success is attending our joint and mutual efforts.

The fact that the commodity price of wheat the farmer raised shrank to unheard of levels so the farmer could not, in fact, pay his reduced taxes was not an ill created or one to be handled by the Michigan State Legislature. If stabilization of farm prices or a price-fixing program is a problem for anyone, it belongs to the national Congress at Washington.

The Michigan Legislature broadened the doctrine and reflected it into the smallest tax unit that economy would help and that people or governments could not "spend themselves out of the red."

The 1931 session of the Legislature the Horton bill returned to the counties the remaining half of the weight tax and earmarked the money so they must be absolutely used for tax reduction and your tax receipts for 1932 will bear out the statement that farm taxes came down. The revenues formerly spent in highway expansion were diverted and the benefit was given back to the taxpayer. In other words, a road holiday was declared for the purpose of helping the taxpaying public.

The 1931 Legislature not only gave us the Horton Bill, but it passed a law creating a Commission of Inquiry into county, township and school district government. It is often called the Armington Commission. It is the fact that Gov. Brucker appointed Clarence Ayres, president of the American Life Insurance Company of Detroit, as its chairman. Its preliminary report of December 16, 1932, will be of inestimable value to the present session of the Legislature now at work in Lansing and we will have the benefit of its proposed program of saving.

A bill was passed to investigate another phase of government and the Commission of Inquiry into State Governmental Expenses was created. It is often referred to as the Armstrong Committee because Gov. Brucker appointed J. C. Armstrong on this nine-man committee and he, in turn, became its chairman. The report of this committee and its recommendations under date of Dec. 9, 1932, gave constructive guidance for savings to the 1933 legislature now in session. Thus, we see the 1929 and 1931 legislatures which were overwhelmingly Republican, block out and prepare a program which by a strange turn of events, we believe, will come into full fruition with a Democratic Governor and Legislature in power. When the program is completed, credit will not rest in full with either party. They will both have done their work in the interests of the taxpaying public. It is indeed a joint undertaking. The problem, when solved, will react to the credit of both the Republican and Democratic parties in the State of Michigan.

Now a word about the farmer and small home owner not having the necessary money to pay the taxes that have been reduced. The writer advocates—at the United States Government should attack the problem of a fair price for the farmers' products. If Congress can do as well to help the Michigan farmer as the Michigan Legislature has done in its program of economy and tax reduction, some relief should be in sight. It is within the realm of the state to cut down costs and it should be the duty of the United States Congress to build up the possibility of the farmer revenue so he will have something to pay these reduced costs we have given him and which we propose to give him and his family.

"Reducing taxes" is not a slogan worthy of any Congressman, even of the most demagogic type; Congress may levy a great amount of indirect taxes, but it assesses no taxes against your land. The problem of reducing taxes on your land is a problem for the Michigan Legislature. The problem of inflating or stabilizing the price of the farmer's product rests with Congress. Let Congress operate within its field and exercise its powers and let the Michigan Legislature perform its good work in the interests of the farmer and home owner by again bringing the tax receipt down to where it ought to be.

EARL L. BURHANS.

Comstock Refruses to File
Election Expenses
Gov. Comstock has declined to file a statement of his campaign expenses in conformance with the act of 1925 stating that the law is "insufficient and ridiculous." He announced that he will have it changed so that it means something. A report made by the Comstock-for-Governor club lists the expenditure of $9,354, all of which is said to have been contributed by Isaiah Lebovitz, a New York lawyer interested in Michigan oil lands, who was also a heavy contributor to the Comstock candidacy in 1930.

Dillman Condemns Mackinac Causeway
The construction of a causeway bridge across the Straits of Mackinac between Mackinac City and St. Ignace, as a relief project would be too expensive to be practicable, in the opinion of State Highway Commissioner Grover C. Dillman, who estimated that the cost would likely approximate $40,000,000 to $50,000,000. Carrying charges alone would approximate those of the largest boats now operating as ferries on the Straits, he said. Ice in winter would add to the engineering difficulties and piling would have to be driven to great depths. Rep. Miles of Reed City stated that he intended to present a resolution in the house proposing the construction of the bridge as a warfare measure. The project has been raised a number of times but always dismissed as impracticable. (Continued on Page 3)

"I am a Fugitive" Has Gala Opening at Ready Theatre

One of the most heralded motion pictures to be presented in Niles in many a moon, opens Sunday, Jan. 29th at the Ready theatre. It is "I am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang," starring Paul Muni, with Helen Vinson, Glenda Farrell, Preston Foster, David Landau, Sally Blane, Noel Francis, 37 other important roles, 53 "bit" players and more than 2,000 extras.

Not only is "I am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang," said to carry more thrilling and sensational episodes than any other picture made this year, but it presents a triple romance of strange and glamorous loves, against a background of incredible prison chain gang brutalities.

The story, which was authored by Robert E. Burns, who is still in hiding from chain gang police, shows men driven to desperation by the tortures of the whipping post, poor food, excessive labors in broiling heat and other cruelties.

Paul Muni, as the fugitive, makes a sensational escape and crosses into another state. After years of struggle, he makes good under an assumed name, but a woman discovers his past, betrays him and he is returned to the chain gang only to escape again in one of the most breath-taking episodes of the current season.

There is no more touching figure than this fugitive, a man yearning for love and home, an ex-convict man skulking from place to place, not daring to show his face, unable to marry the girl he loves devotedly. Truly a man without a country. He is vividly and dramatically portrayed by Paul Muni, who left the New York stage success "Counsellor at Law," to make "I am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang" for Warner Bros.

Appoints Liquor Study Commission

Gov. Comstock announced the appointment Tuesday of a bi-partisan advisory committee of seven-teen which will study the various methods of liquor control and proposed legislation for Michigan.

Members of dry organizations were included in the make-up. The committee will hold its first meeting in Detroit this week to organize, elect a chairman, and begin the study of the Canadian and other systems of control.

Farm Wage Low in Michigan

The average wage paid Michigan farm hands is $13.50 a month with board or $23.75 without, according to a recent publication of the Federal department of agriculture. This is the lowest in the East North Central states, where the average is $16.05 with board and $25.48 without.

This makes the Michigan farm hand's average per day with board 35 cents and without board, $1.25, compared with 89c and $1.19 for the average of the East North Central group of states.

Ford-Leland Fued Revived

Prospects of a rehearing of the old Ford-Leland controversy, involving the purchase by Ford of the Lincoln Motor Company at receiver's sale several years ago, appeared imminent with the setting of a subpoena on Ford while he was attending an old-fashioned dancing party Friday evening.

The papers were served by Wilfred C. Leland, Jr., the grandson of the former close friend of Henry Ford, Henry M. Leland, founder of the Lincoln Motor Company, and calls on Ford to give testimony in a suit involving the Sweeten Automobile Company of Philadelphia and Ford as the purchaser of the Lincoln company.

Ford purchased the Lincoln assets for $6,000,000 in 1922 when the concern was in receivership. Later Henry Leland charged that Ford had violated a verbal promise to reimburse stockholders who were not cared for in the receiver's sale.

The case dragged through the courts for several years and the last decision of the state supreme court favored Ford. H. M. Leland died last year in his 90th year.

Attorneys for Ford won the first clash Monday when they forestalled his appearance in court until Saturday at least. The delay arises from conflicting petitions by opposing counsel.

The counsel for Ford filed a petition to quash the subpoena. Counsel for the Sweeten Automobile company asked for a denial of the petition and asked for a bench warrant when Ford failed to appear Monday. Circuit Judge Harry A. Dingman refused to act on the petition for a bench warrant until action could be set.

Cured on the motion to quash the subpoena, Judge Guy A. Miller set the hearing for Saturday morning.

Counsel for the Sweeten Auto Co. asserted that if the subpoena were quashed it would be impossible to serve him again, since he is constantly surrounded by armed guards and it is impossible to reach him as an ordinary citizen.

Counsel for Ford asserted that he would appear any time a valid subpoena was served. The papers served are invalid, he stated, since an error was made in the name of the notary, which is written "Erethia D." instead of "Bertrand." The Sweeten company is suing for $227,000.

Commemorates Triumph

Secretary of State Frank D. Capture Bank Suspect

Possibility of the apprehension of bandits who attempted to rob the First National bank of Cassopolis Dec. 2 seemed imminent with the arrest Saturday in Chicago of Alce Shunck, who has been identified by Under Sheriff Robert Kennedy of Cass County as one of the three who held him up in the home of the bank president, C. A. Ritter. Shunck was taken in a hoodlum roundup in Chicago. The authorities of that city refuse to release him to Cass county until he stands trial for robbing a Western Union messenger in Chicago, before coming to Cassopolis.

The first clue was secured through tracing the car license which was in the name of one of the trio in Chicago. It was learned that they were known to police of that city as petty gangsters.

They had planned to capture C. A. Ritter, president of the bank, and his son, Joseph, cashier, and invaded their home to await their arrival in the evening. They held the wives of the two men and a colored maid prisoner for two hours. Under Sheriff Kennedy was made captive when he rang the door bell to inquire if anyone there knew about the Chrysler sedan parked across the street.

TRIM COLOMA, BRIDGMAN BY LARGE SCORES

Will Meet Niles on Their Own Floor Friday Night; St. Hedwige Here Next Week.

Last week Wednesday, the "Bucks" were host to the Coloma high school quintet and were so ungracious as to defeat this team by the one-sided score of 51-14. And though on Friday evening they held their own and this time it was Bridgman who suffered. The score of the Bridgman game was 35-14. And so it seems that if the local boys will keep on working they are due for a fairly successful season. They have played and defeated every team with whom they have a return game. Despite the fact that the scores indicate an easy victory for Buchanan in each case, the games were very exciting and the return games with Bridgman and Berrien Springs should prove real thrillers, especially with Berrien Springs.

Official: Neff, Elkhart. Tomorrow night the "Bucks" go to Niles for their return game with the Cardinals. The first game, as you remember, was won by Buchanan by the exceedingly slim margin of 29 to 23. This second game should be even bit as tough as the first one. Then next week Wednesday we are host to a new and formidable quintet, St. Hedwige Polish school of South Bend. Buchanan has played this school in foot ball the past two years and if their foot ball team is any indication of their basketball ability, they should present an excellent team here at the local high school gym next Wednesday, Feb. 1st.

Mr. Knoblach's Announce-

Seniors expecting to graduate this year should report to the high school office and get the final statement as to the total credits and honor points which they have. This should be done before the second week of the second semester.

G. A. A. Activities

New captains for the basketball season have been elected. Rosemary Thompson received the honor of being the senior captain, while Alene Dodge has this responsibility of the juniors. The sophomores chose Shirley Howard as their leader, and Dorothy Willard is the freshmen's guide. The freshmen second team appointed Cherry Heim as their captain, and Eloise Squires takes this honor for the sophomore second team.

Who's Who

Bernice Newsom is a little senior girl who was born four miles north of Buchanan, August 11, 1915.

Bernice's favorite sport is volleyball. She is exactly five feet tall and has grey eyes that open with delight when chile con carne is placed before her.

Bernice has a habit of chewing nails (finger nails). This makes her appear in want of food—that is hungry. (She does have a big appetite.)

Russell Proud, our prominent junior boy, who won fame in the junior play by taking the part of Janitor, still holds his job, especially when Miss Rockenbach says, "Everybody pick up the papers." Russell is 15 years old, his birthday being Feb. 27. Dwayne is his middle name, and he is five feet, nine inches tall. Yes, Russell likes blondes—good looking ones. His favorite recreation is hiking and hunting, and he has high ambitions of being an aeroplane pilot. I'm sure he won't forget to give his friends a ride. Generous, that's the word.

"My Wild Irish Rose." Not that I mean Rose is wild or Irish. Oh no. Just a sweet faced, little girl with auburn, curly hair, and smiling blue eyes.

Rose Buchanan was born June 9, 1917, five miles south of Buchanan. She is a very nice girl who had for dinner for she is not present at the meal. But Rose does like fruits. This sophomore girl is inclined to like the name of "Bob."

In fact, she states that it is an excellent name for a boy.

Russell Letcher, a freshman, was born in Illinois, Oct. 30. He is 17 years old. Russell lives 4 1/2 miles out on Portage Prairie.

Russell started to school last year but was forced to quit but has returned this year again.

He likes music and plays the piano very well. Due to his interest in football he becomes a member of the second squad. Indeed, he is a country lad that attracts much attention.

This week we bring you facts about two of the most talented members of the journalism class and featured writers on the Microphone, Bob Ellis and "Stretch" Gladwish.

Editorial

Are You Growing or Standing Still?

By Marjorie Weaver Have you ever thought of the pathway of life as an ocean of progress? Have you ever considered your thoughts as a river, fed from many sources? More than likely you have not; so for just a few minutes, let us take stock in ourselves, and discover whether we are letting our "river of thought" branch out as much as possible as it is daily fed by the "river of progress."

Let us look about us at the great personalities whom we admire. Are they persons who think they have obtained all there is to know and have settled down to live with their own pet theories, plans and ideals? They are not! The people we admire are those who have a mind receptive to new thoughts and are interested in new ideas.

We may find our places in a clique of friends who harbor the same ideas as we do, or we may choose to shut our lives off from all who disagree with us. If we do either of these two things, we may be sure that the growth in our personality will be woefully limited.

We in America have as our great task, the creation of a unity out of variety. Uniformity comes out of likeness, but unity comes from difference.

When you engage in a conversation, try to realize that your thoughts may be broadened by the conversation. Try to understand other people and share your ideas with them. Don't shut yourself off from others who believe differently than you. Try to become interested in new ideas and keep your mind growing.

This and That

The senior basketball team, under the tutelage of the great Glen Jesse, the Buccaneers' great running guard, seem to be going great guns. The intelligent boys appear to be dribbling the opposition rather than the ball. The offensive work of Dunlap looks exceedingly good, and the scoring of all does the great senior class all good. The other teams are not so ostentatious, but the work of "Senior Rita" Donley is very impressive.

"Coach" Bradford is thinking about using them in more games, so he says, and when the "Little Corporal" says that, something must be pretty good.

The boys say they all owe their great success to Enoch Jesse, who is never at the game, but is down at Mr. Stark's office or is walking home with his "ball and chain."

Gladwish, the senior's gigantic center, has little trouble controlling the tip. The "high one" collected twelve points against the freshmen the other day and by the time the smart man hit his stride and give Stevens a bad floor day. Incidentally, Gladwish is the captain of this great segregation and his work keeping his team in a fighting spirit is very commendable. Gladwish says he plays without an inspiration, somewhat of a novelty these days.

The whole school was shocked to see "Scotty" Riley the other night tear around the floor like mad. Riley played a swell game against the "yearlings." "Scotty" played a fine defensive game, held the crowd on edge by his aggressiveness, and collected several field goals. The Scotch lover has difficulty in hitting the bucket, but as soon as he gets a few games under his belt he may be hitting his stride. Riley, unlike Gladwish, has a definite reason for his fine work, because unlike the Senior big executive, he plays with an inspiration. The little lady is well known, and from all reports, the whole town is buzzing.

Sophs Defeat Juniors 19-8

The sixth week series of the inter-class tournament saw two games and one forfeit. These games were played Wednesday of last week because school was closed to the students so the teachers could correct their examination papers.

The sophomore first team won over the junior first team by a score 19 to 8. The mighty senior second team conquered the freshmen second team by a score of 18 to 9. The seniors are left undefeated but their time may come. The sophomore third team forfeited to the junior third team.

Class Activities

Agriculture The sophomore agricultural class, under the supervision of Mr. Knoblach, will start the study of horticulture, while the senior agricultural class is studying the unit on housing of farm animals.

The debating class is preparing for the fifth debate of this year, which is to be the first in the elimination series.

English The seventh grade English classes have been taking the English Essentials Test and made a fine average score. These tests cover, as the name implies, spelling, punctuation, capitalization, sentence construction, errors of speech, and parts of speech. Especially high scores were made by Robert McClure, Agnes Kovich, Betty Semple, Iris Dalrymple, Dorothea Paul, Mildred Miller, Ruth Wilsey, Phyllis Lamb and Sidney Deming.

Similar tests are given in all the English classes three times a year and it is the task of each pupil to see how many points he can raise his score each time. Some excellent gains were recorded this time.

Next week the class will begin the work of outlining and story writing.

Mathematics A new course is being opened this semester, namely solid geometry. It will take the place of advanced algebra, a sixth hour subject.

This subject is alternated each year with trigonometry. Mr. Hyink expects a total of 20 students to take this course.

A semester of advanced algebra is necessary to take solid geometry.

Languages Miss Shriver is back in her class room this week after being ill for some time. Dorothy Babcock, a post graduate, has been taking charge of the classes during Miss Shriver's absence.

The sophomores have been reading stories concerning the Roman family.

French eleven and Latin nine have been studying grammar.

Boy Scout Class A Boy Scout Leadership class will be organized for the second semester and will be taught by Mr. Stark. This class will meet twice a week.

All those that have survived the commercial arithmetic examination last week are beginning commercial law which they will have this semester instead of commercial arithmetic. Mrs. Weaver expects to turn out some real lawyers by the end of the semester.

English The English 12 students have begun the study of the epic. This project will cover about three weeks and will be concerned with great epics of the following countries: England, Persia, Germany, France, Italy, Greece and Finland.

The juniors are working with their exercise books on the subject of budgeting time and money. They are also learning to keep special and club treasury accounts and filling in specimen blanks.

The sophomores have begun to work on the colonial period of American literature.

Commercial Dept. Filing and all the rules for filing were the objects of study in the advanced typing class this week.

Robert Pracing Set has been worked on in the bookkeeping class after the completion of another set.

In the shorthand class the text book will be resumed after a week spent on dictation review.

Journalism Miss Hamilton's journalism class has been reviewing the past semester's work in preparation for final examinations.

Now what do you know — we have a real Clark Gable and a Shakespeare the second, right in our high school. If you don't believe it just ask some of the pretty little senior girls that have the honorable pleasure of sitting beside Mr. Marvin Gross every morning the first period in Mrs. Dunbar's English class.

The other day as Mrs. Dunbar was going over the English review questions, she asked a question that had everyone dumfounded — all but Marvin. Well, Marvin being a nice congenial young man, volunteered to step to the blackboard and explain by illustrations — especially for his recent admirer, and did the women folks take interest and give attention to the review questions after that. If you don't think so, just ask his girl friend admirers who sits beside him.

The latest talk up among the girls now is that Mrs. Dunbar is to get sick so Marvin can substitute — be easy on the boy, girls — you must not rush him too hard for he may not be so good to you on examination morning.

A LINE OF CHATTER OR TWO

By Chester G. Chatterton THESE turtle neck sweaters are taking the school by storm. Last year a few were seen about the school, but they have increased steadily this year. Ruth Strunk sports a blue turtle neck sweater, too. Dorothy Holmes and Rose Lynn Ernst both have snow white sweaters and "Tucky" Brewer and Earl Stevens have attractive ones. Two Maroon sweaters are seen around the school, and they are exhibited by none other than Bob Stevens and Sam McCormick in person.

THE FOOTBALL and basketball sweaters are an interesting study. There are approximately eight (not counting the P. G.'s) sweaters in this school at present. The stripes (on the left arm) range from one to three. Many more gridiron stalwarts would have the sweaters than do at present if their financial status were not so depleted. Then too, if more could buy sweaters, we would have several four stripe men among the seniors. These men are four stripe men: Louis and Lauren Morse, Bob Ellis, Lee Donley and Glenn Jesse. Of those who have sweaters the following stripes are noted: Maury Aranson, one; Bob Ellis, 2; Max Penwell, 1; Lee Donley, 2; Charlie Cripe, 2; Glenn Jesse, 2; Bill Frame, 1; Eddie Rolen, 2; and Tom Marrs, 2. A few of the fellows who would have sweaters if their finances would permit are Bill Bromley, Louis and Lauren Morse, Bob Watson, Louis Leiter, Dan and Aug. Topash, Claude Denno, George Yurkovic, Bob Gladwish, Lyle Bachman, Norman Barbour, Howard Donley and Dick Morris. Maybe some of the fellows can get enough cash together later in the year to get sweaters.

Have you heard of the senior "twins"? By that is not meant the Morse twins either. Vivian Wissler (Whistler) and "Singer" Campbell are the victims. They have been quite chummy of late and both display certain characteristics that are similar. Both are very bewitching, picturesque, exquisite, comely, beautiful and lovely (in other words — pretty), but each possesses that certain other something that stands out — and AWAY!!!

PERIODICALLY in the class room this week is that relieved look that always follows a week of hard exam. The "Well, I did the best I could" look is seen innumerable times. Occasionally is seen also that "satisfied" look that is usually seen on students' faces proclaiming that "good job well done" idea. The teachers also have the jaunty air about them that has not been seen here in B. H. S. for quite some time. They appear very satisfied (too satisfied) Wonder how many they flunked? Maybe some of the fellows and girls will be glad their tuition isn't paid, if it isn't!

ANOTHER Daytonite makes the grade! A romance is reported between a prominent Dayton youth and a very prominent Chicago street dancer. Incidentally, they are both from Dayton, so there is plenty of time left for the romance to develop.

Adios!!!

Communities

Organize Self Help

(Continued from Page 1) get out some advertising for him. The typist bought clothing. The dry goods merchant, if it is said, will patronize one of the exchange dentists. The dentist has a job of plumbing which he has wanted done, and he will send to the exchange for a plumber; after which the plumber can afford to buy a pair of shoes for his small daughter. All without a cent of real money. While this method is but a clumsy substitute for money, it will help the members of the exchange and the business community bridge over the present crisis. The idea is spreading to other communities in New York and New Jersey.

July. Now the organization has spread over the state and into Wyoming and has a total membership of 40,000. In Denver it includes 20,000 people of whom 4,700 are heads of families. It has managed for six months less than $300 in cash. Any man who is willing to work for bread, clothes and lodging can get help. There is no cash return and since scrip is illegal in the state, the workers are paid through a system of bookkeeping. Every type of worker is included. Two community kitchens are maintained. Unemployed bakers supply bread baked in a plant, the use of which has been donated.

The national government has turned over to the league a large tract of timber. Truck owners transport workers to that tract and haul back the wood they need. Last summer the league exchanged labor for tons of foodstuffs from farmers. The women folks canned much of the food. For work done by carpenters, plasterers and plumbers the league has the use for a year of an apartment house which shelters 28 families evicted from their homes. Many of the women of the organization are busy at dressmaking.

Unemployed Start Bank In Minneapolis the Organized Unemployment, Inc., has headquarters in a vacant school house and a school warehouse. The organization has a bank of its own which deals in the scrip money with the same care with which actual money is handled in a regular bank. A total of $20,000 in scrip has been issued. Several of the Minneapolis stores accepted the scrip in payment for goods manufactured by the association, which operates a barter and exchange department, a retail store, a shoe repair shop, a restaurant, a clothing factory, a sawkrut plant, and a canning factory. Fruit and vegetables are obtained from farmers in exchange for labor performed by members of the exchange. Fire wood is obtained in return for the work of crews who clear land for farmers. The organization maintains 200 fire wood camps. More than 4,000 families have been able to carry on in this manner, receiving part time work, the scrip they earn enabling them to live without recourse to public relief.

Organized Unemployed, Inc., has a committee of five in each ward of the city of Minneapolis. The chairman of the wards and the heads of the precinct committees form the governing body. Each precinct in each ward has a captain and a worker for each block. The organizations are planning to open stores in outlying districts. California Outlaws $380,000 Scrip Self-help labor exchanges of California received a set back by an order from the State Labor Commission to discontinue the issuance of any kind of scrip, on the ground that it involves an infraction of the state pay check law. The various organizations are said to have out a total of $380,000 in scrip which they will be unable to redeem. A law is proposed to legalize scrip for scrip purposes.

The most successful self-help exchange in California was established in Compton, and spread throughout the county. The basic trouble with these exchanges has been to obtain the staple commodities and the operating equipment. A plan is being considered whereby county and city will contribute to public use of the exchange to secure those fundamentals. Produce $27,000 Goods with $900 In the city of Dayton, O., 700 families have combined to form the Dayton Association of Co-operative Production Units, combining nine different groups. Each group has its own management and sends representatives to the central council which determines the collective policy of the units. Each unit analyzes the needs through direct family and group production. Products are made to barter for commodities which units are unable to produce. In six months $27,000 worth of goods has been produced at a cash outlay of $900. The following commodities are being produced: flour, meal, baked and canned goods, poultry and dairy products, cloth, shirts, dresses, underwear, overcoats, bedding, suits, shoes, furniture, soap, cord and wood. Raw materials and equipment are requisitioned through a city commissary and paid for in finished products.

Dayton is building up a revolving fund from which loans for approved projects of the unemployed can be obtained. Plans are under way for establishing home-steads in the country which production for self maintenance can become more nearly complete and variety of occupation assured.

The Dayton organization is not content with mere provision for temporary bread and butter needs, but is looking forward to a new way of living for themselves and others.

Pays $175,000 in Wages with $3 in Cash from Outside The Utah Natural Development Association is about a year old. It is organized under the laws of the state of Utah, with headquarters in Salt Lake City. It has seven branches in Utah, five in Idaho and others in California and Arizona. In seven months last year it paid $175,000 in wages with only $3 in legal cash currency from outside sources. The payments were mostly made in scrip which turned over several times before it was redeemed.

The association was formed when twenty families took over a car of Idaho potatoes for which the owner could find no market. Now the association has an idle coal mine which it has the privilege of working. It has a restaurant which operates in daylight

A LETTER TO FLORIDA

Dear Pete: I take my Model T Underwood in hand this beautiful morning to ask you what is your best price on your Columbian Beach Resort out to Clear Lake—I want to get it, buy or lease, at your best figgers, and start up a winter resort.

Every morning when I go into Nellie's to get my three cents worth of dirt, she says, "Ain't this grand weather—a guy would sure be a sucker to go to Florida or California when we can have weather like this right here in Michigan."

That set me to thinkin' and I come to the conclusion that all we lacked here for the makin' of one of the greatest winter resorts in the country is a bunch of first class suckers and we got some, but most of them that can have left for the winter but we might coax some from Florida if we called this a winter resort.

No kiddin', Pete, we are sure havin' great weather, the best winter in the memory of the old timers, if you call Harvey Bristol and Mike Lundgren old timers. Jim Reed was in town this morning and said he stuck a plowshare in the ground Monday and it turned over mellow as spring.

What is the makin' of a real winter resort, Pete, is good lookin' girls that can wear a bathin' suit and we sure got them here too—but hell! why should I be tellin' you that? You ain't hung around a beach for thirty years for nothin'. Thinkin' over how they looked when you first opened your resort, there sure has been a great improvement in them in late years and when you think how fast they been economizin' on materials for the past few years, it makes old guys like you and me wish we could stick around a while longer just to watch the developments. But, thinkin' over last year's suits, I don't know whether we got a hell of a lot yet to live for or not.

But comin' back to this brand of sun-kissed weather we been havin' this winter, you know I showed you a caterpillar last fall and told you just what kind of winter we would have and you gave me the horse snicker, but durned if the winter ain't sortin' out just like the caterpillars say. A big black stripe in the front for a cold spell we had just before you left for Florida and then a broad orange stripe for a long warm spell that started the middle of December and is still goin' strong, and then a little fuzzy black spot on the tail somethin' like young Rinker's new mustache, that stands for a short cold spell. I mean the spot on the caterpillar stands for a cold spell, somewhere along in March. Next time I show you a caterpillar you look and you might learn something.

But you send me your figgers for a buy or lease on your resort by the next mail.

Your old pal, Charlie.

The system has proven successful as far as it has gone, but it is extending its activities very conservatively with the idea that the chief danger lies in developing too fast. ## Horned Owl Feared

Among Indians the horned owl was considered a personification of the evil one. They feared its influence and regarded its visits to dwellings as portentous of disaster or death.

Today the great horned owl is considered the least desirable of all the owls, because it competes with man in its search for food. The United States Biological survey classifies the great horned owl as a "restraining influence in the wilderness, both on game and the enemies of game, for it destroys both, and thus does not destroy the balance of nature." On a farm or game preserve it becomes a menace, and there it cannot be tolerated.

Venerated Ikon in London

One of the most venerated treasures of the Russian church, the ikon, or sacred picture of "Our Lady of the Sign" figured in a special service at the Russian church of St. Philip, London, lately. It is a painting of the Virgin and Child on wood, surrounded by pearls, gold and precious stones, and is said to have been found beside a brook where the Virgin Mary herself made an appearance. The late czarina built a church to shelter it. Prince Vladimir of Kalifolia stated that since the Russian revolution the ikon had been kept in Jugo-Slavia, but every year is taken by a bishop to exiled Russians in all the capitals of Europe.

Buddhist Shrines in Japan
Thousands of Buddhist temples—and Shinto shrines are found throughout Japan. In Kyoto and its environs alone there still remain 1,100 of 3,000 that once existed there, and Nikko, Kamakura and Nara and their neighborhoods are especially rich in historic temples and shrines.

Flower-Loving Japanese
The Japanese, who are traditionally a flower-loving people, claim that their islands produce 3,200 species of flowers. The white plum blossom tells of the coming of spring, then follow the cherry, lotus, azalea, iris, peony, lotus, chrysanthemum and the camellia. The cherry is the monarch of all and it is celebrated by fetes and processions. The chrysanthemum is queen, and is on the crest of the emperor. It has been cultivated for 2,500 years. The Japanese often cherish the roots of wisteria with rice wine. Their peonies are sometimes nine inches across, and the 50 varieties, when cared for after cutting, will last three weeks.
