CHECK CASHING SERVICE OPENED FOR MERCHANTS

Farmers Credit Union Collaborates with Civic Association in Free Cashing Service for Merchants

Through the efforts of the newly organized Buchanan Civic Association the merchants of this city have developed a plan whereby they will now be able to take care of the cashing of customers' checks without charge. This arrangement was made possible through the collaboration of the Buchanan Farmer's Credit Union, which established itself in the new role of clearing houses for the merchants today. The Credit Union has its office with the St. Joe Valley Shipping Association at 122 Days Avenue, of which it is a subsidiary organization. It was organized a few months ago to help the farmers of this section to develop a credit organization of their own, and also to provide a safe-keeping for surplus money they may care to invest. Getting off to a start in a small way last August, it has enjoyed a very healthy growth. The new service is meeting the general collaboration of the local merchants.

Michigan Weekly News Review

Farm Relief Old Stuff, Samuel S. Metzger, newly appointed state commissioner of agriculture, has no faith in any of the measures yet proposed for the relief of the farmer, according to his utterances in a talk which was the high spot of the annual Farmers Week at East Lansing. Metzger ridiculed the allotment plan, bounties on production, protective tariff for farm products, minimum price guarantees and inflation. The cry for relief for the farmers is weary with age, he stated. Says Schools Must Fit State Pocketbook "The state school system must now be supported on the basis of ability to pay," stated Webster E. Pearce, state superintendent of public instruction, in an address before 7,000 farmers at Farms Week at East Lansing last week. Most of the schools of the state will stay open nine months, he said, but a small minority will be compelled to shorten terms. He said: "I cannot discuss school finances until the legislature has settled certain problems, but I am sure that the people of this state will do as well by their children as they can." Held Over Since Arrest and Trial of Foster and Ruthenberg; Expense is Plea.

The 18 cases which had been pending since the noted "Red" trials held in the Berrien County Circuit Court in 1922 were dismissed Monday by Prosecuting Attorney Harry Holbrook, on the advice of Attorney-General Patrick H. O'Brien, who came from Lansing to review the advisability of resumption of prosecution. The cases were the outgrowth of arrests made in 1922 when William Z. Foster and 18 Communist associates were arrested while holding a convention in the sand dunes near Bridgman. Charles Rutenberg, the first of the Communists to be tried under the anti-syndicalist laws of Michigan, was sentenced to five years in Jackson state prison. He died while free under an appeal bond, and his ashes now rest in the Kremlin at Moscow. William Z. Foster, perennial candidate for President on the Communist ticket, was then brought to trial but the jury disagreed and he was never brought to trial again. The other cases were held up pending the Ruthenberg appeal to the United States Supreme Court. In disposing the cases, it was stated that the trials would be expensive, the estimated cost to the county being $10,000. Difficulty of conviction would be increased from the fact that Edward C. Shanahan, chief witness for the state, is dead.

FARMERS CLUB FIGHTS ADDITION TO 15-MILL TAX

The Farmers Legislative club of Buchanan went on record at the meeting held at the St. Joe Valley Shipping Association as opposing any imposition of taxes to supplement the 15-mill tax permitted under the law, and also, as opposing the proposed sales tax. The objection to the sales tax was on the ground that the farmer is a much larger purchaser than the average citizen and that consequently the law, if passed, would not lift the undue burden of taxation from agriculture. In addition to purchasing the necessities of life, the farmer is normally a heavy purchaser of raw materials for his business. The meeting endorsed a resolution opposing the circulation of petitions through the school districts of the state proposing supplemental taxation for the benefit of schools. The meeting was held over the offices of the St. Joe Valley Shipping Association, where a room has been cut off from the storage adequate for a meeting place for the farmers. Gatherings of farmers were held in this place a few years ago but had been discontinued on account of lack of room.

FARMERS CLUB OPPOSES PROPOSED SALES TAX AS BEARING UNDUPLY ON THE FARMER, WHO IS HEAVY PURCHASER.

Cities of Michigan Watch With Interest Attempt to Circumvent Credit Stringency.

Although Buchanan has been spared the embarrassment of being unable to meet its educational obligations and the board now anticipates full ability to meet all salaries and current obligations consequent to the completion of the present school year in June, the experiment now being carried on at Mt. Clemens is worth watching. The "local money" experiment as a possible means of circumventing the slow circulation of legal currency got off to its first start in Michigan this week with the payment of Mt. Clemens teachers in scrip redeemable without interest on May 1, and exchangeable for goods and professional services in the city. According to the plan of the Mt. Clemens board, the teachers were to receive 50 per cent of their salary due Jan. 27 in cash, 40 per cent in scrip redeemable when and as tax collections warrant, and 10 per cent in dollar certificates issued by the board. The scrip will bear interest at 6 per cent but redemption depends entirely on collection of delinquent taxes. The ten per cent in certificates gives the teachers the equivalent of another ten per cent in cash, as it may be circulated locally the same as cash. This new "money" is to be circulated without the use of discount stamps. Many of the city's leading stores and professional men have agreed to accept the certificates at par. Its success depends obviously on its acceptability by the merchants. Upon the reception it receives during the first month depends further issuance of similar certificates on later pay days. The trade certificates issued by the board are printed on the same size as government paper currency. A special die was made and the signatures of officials printed on each issue. Redemption will be made through the office of the district treasurer in May. The issue was limited to $1,500 to guarantee redemption in May from funds which the board will have accumulated by that time. At a recent meeting of the Mt. Clemens Board of Commerce, 50 business and professional firms agreed to accept the certificates. William T. Keary, president of the board, told the gathering that the new trade dollar certificates were backed by cash to their full value, and that the cash had already been deposited for the redemption of these certificates on May 1. He explained that this issue had been made "iron-clad" to test the efficiency of the entire experiment. No arrangement was made as to the acceptance of the certificates in cases of purchases amounting to less than $1, that being left to the individual firms. Several large stores have announced their intention of giving change in full for dollar certificates, and it is believed that this will stimulate others to do the same. It is reported that the public utilities of the city are also considering accepting the certificates and the chain stores are considering the matter. The S. S. Kresge stores were among the first to endorse the plan. (Continued on page 2)

EX-NATIVES OF BUCHANAN HOLD CHICAGO BANQUET

28th Annual Meet of Chicago-Buchanan Society Called Century of Progress Dinner.

The 28th annual dinner of the Chicago-Buchanan Society was held Friday evening, Feb. 3rd, at the Women's University club with 30 members present, including two of our old friends from Buchanan Mrs. Charles Pears and Mrs. Glenn Smith, also one of the younger generation, Miss Ruth French, who so kindly helped in our program. We were very glad to have them with us and wish that more of you would get the habit of coming to our dinners. A dinner was served after which we retired to the lounge where a very interesting program was held, consisting of a history of Buchanan from the first settlers up to the present time. This was accomplished by the co-operation of many old timers and I wish we had space to send all the papers that were read or tell you the many amusing things that were told by some of those present. Dr. Butts, our president, had prepared a very interesting paper on the early history of the Indians and first settlers and one thing that compared with those days and the present time was the fact that Buchanan had no banks. His paper was followed by letters from John G. Holmes, Nancy Bliss Studebaker and Mrs. Ella French, giving the history from 1850 to 1870. These letters were read by Mary Reynolds and Mrs. Krasa. Henry Grover, Mrs. Belle Daw and Mrs. J. Tuttle then followed with talks covering the period from Morris Mead reminiscing on boyhood days and a never to be forgotten duck hunt he and "Rob" Henderson enjoyed (?), and Buchanan at the present time given by Miss Ruth French followed with two splendid readings. As usual, a little then followed with interesting programs we have ever enjoyed and we want to express our thanks to all who so willingly helped make it a success. A short business meeting and election of officers, a letter from Dr. C. B. Roe, who is confined to his bed, followed. Then a few minutes of visiting and greeting. (Continued on Page 6)

PERCIVAL ROUGH SERIOUSLY HURT IN STORM MISHAP

Detroit Salesman Following in Wake of Snowplow Swerves in Path of Truck.

Percival Rough, Portage Prairie, in the Wallace hospital receiving treatment for severe injuries and Ross Quereaux of Detroit, is in Pawating hospital at Niles suffering from concussion of the brain as a result of a head-on collision on M-60 about 400 yards east of the Hall Apple Farm about 9 a. m. Tuesday. Rough had taken the milk to a local dairy that morning and was returning with a load of coal on his Ford truck. Quereaux was driving west in the wake of a snow plow. Just as Rough passed the plow, traveling on the right side of the highway at about 25 miles an hour, Quereaux attempted to pass the snow plow and was prevented by the shower of snow from seeing Rough's truck. He swerved directly in the path of the truck with his Ford car and the two machines crashed in a head-on collision, reducing both to wrecks. Rough was thrown forward against the windshield, the impact of the wheel breaking a rib over the region of the gall bladder and injuring him very painfully. He also incurred a badly bruised eye and a severe gash on the back of the head which required several stitches. Quereaux, who is a salesman for a Detroit printing house, incurred concussion of the brain, severe cuts on face and head, and a badly bruised knee.

Record Storm of Season Envelopes Buchanan District

The temperature dipped below zero in Buchanan last night for the first time in two years, although readings of less than zero had been reported in December from nearby points. County and state snow plows were running day and night on main trunk lines and most of the stone roads remained open. Traffic over the Portage Prairie road to South Bend was difficult, but cars were negotiating that highway all day.

Mr. Stapp had 130 stranded tourists sleeping on the floor of his resort.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN PRESENT FORM CITY GOVERNMENT HAS PROVED VALUE, SAYS COMMISSIONER 'Any time that anyone wants to take over the reins of government and change the present way of running the town, they're welcome,' said a member of the city commission commenting on the plan announced recently of amending the charter to permit election of the mayor and possibly other town officials by popular vote. 'When we planned the present commission form of government at the time the charter was drafted we thought it would improve the quality of the officials to have them appointed by the head of the government to whom they would be responsible. I think that results have borne this out. We have appointive officers and on the whole I think they are capable, whatever personal objections anyone may have. 'Take the sewer bond case when we recovered $14,000.00 from a bonding company. The only reason in the world that we won that case is that we had everything necessary in black and white to prove our statements. The books of the town were so clearly kept that the evidence on the face of them was undisputable. That might or might not have been the case had we had a clerk elected in the ordinary political campaign. The judge told us that he had rarely encountered books so capably kept. 'In the election of mayor by the commission, the idea was that the body would work together more harmoniously under a head of its own choosing. I think it has. We have not had the pulling and hauling that was common on village boards in the past. We took the government out of politics for the benefit of the public, but if the public now want it back in politics, that is their privilege.'

NAILING THAT ONE In case you heard it, it isn't so. What isn't so? Well, most anything you hear, but we are referring especially to the latest canard on the management of public relief in Buchanan. According to the tale which received considerable circulation here last week, when Chief Mitchell raided a blind pig in the Burkhard addition he found, in addition to a considerable amount of beer, wine, and other liquors, 24 sacks of Red Cross flour, apparently received by the operators of the joint in payment for liquor. Chief Mitchell says that as a matter of fact there was no Red Cross flour in the place. That was just 'something that somebody started to see how far they could get with it,' Mitchell stated. The circulation of unfounded rumors about relief administration is an old game and has been in vogue here since the beginning of welfare relief on a depression basis. One of the first stories circulated was to this effect: The relief officer had allotted a supply of potatoes to a family. Soon after one of the younger members of the family called for more potatoes. 'What did you do with those you just got,' he was asked. 'Papa sold them to get some money to buy gas with,' was the alleged reply. While such occurrences are quite within the limits of possibility, it is rather a coincidence that this same story was told on relief distribution of Buchanan and Niles about the same time. While the present system of handling local relief distribution may not be ideally designed to meet the present situation, it is doubtless being carried on honestly and to the best ability of the officers in charge. And in work of that sort in these times, no relief officer, however capable, would escape criticism.

Thought for the Day If your friend thinks your nature is very fine, don't you try unceasingly to live up to what you feel is only his ideal? And that is how mutual affection builds up character. It is priceless.

Dowagiac Slated To Beat Bucks Friday Night

LOCALS EXPECT HARD FIGHT IN RETURN CONTEST

Stove City, Tied for Leadership of Little Five, is Doped to Take Contest on Local Floor.

Buchanan has won exactly 11 out of 13 contests on the hardwood from Dowagiac. Tomorrow night sees the fourteenth meeting of these two quintets. Dowagiac boasts the best team they have had in years. They are now tied with Niles for leadership of the little five conference. The conference is made up of five class B schools, namely: Niles, Dowagiac, St. Joseph, Three Rivers and South Haven. It takes a fine team to lead such an array of tough opposition. Dowagiac has every reason to boast of a good team. As you are perhaps aware, Dowagiac defeated Niles and Niles defeated Buchanan. It statistics mean anything? Why Dowagiac has the game in the bag. Coach Bradford is very pessimistic on the subject and looks for his boys to be beaten. He desires all the aid he can obtain in the way of rooters. He has expressed a wish to see every solitary rooter in Buchanan at this game tomorrow night. He says we will need rooters galore. And even with a mob of rooters, he says, it will take all the scrap in the local camp to even come close to defeating the chiefs. So if everyone will just show up for the game and cheer the boys on to a possible victory, Coach Bradford and the boys of the team will appreciate it no little. Be there and holler, yell, scream, or what-have-you.

Abraham Lincoln's Place In Literature (By Marjorie Weaver)

It is commonly accepted that oratory rarely wins a place in permanent literature, because it usually deals with the matters of passing importance. With Abraham Lincoln, the case was different. There is no need to review the events of Lincoln's life. They are well known to everyone. To most of us, his boyhood was destitute of the things that are considered the advantages of civilization. He had few books, but the few he did have were good ones, marked by simplicity of style and great concreteness of subject matter. One of Lincoln's greatest powers was giving expression to the thoughts of men. Another of his characteristics was the wonderful clearness and beauty, the noblest ideals of America. At the Gettysburg commemoration in 1863, Edward Everett, a great orator, spoke for two hours. Lincoln delivered an address of less than three hundred words. Although the polished oration is forgotten, Lincoln's words are immortal, because they phrased, in clearness and beauty, the noblest ideals of America. Few people reading the prose of Lincoln, can help but realize that he had the soul of a poet. The one poem or verse which he wrote in his early life, is entitled, "The Bear Hunt." Lincoln knew a few great books through the Revolution and loved his fellow men. He always studied the simplicity of expression. His sympathy was with the mass of men and he knew just the right word to say in time of trouble. His writings are not merely state papers; they are also literature.

A LINE OF CHATTER OR TWO

(By Chester G. Chatterton)

DID YOU KNOW that the junior high picnic of four years ago was held at the sand hills under the chaperonage of Mrs. Whitman and Mrs. Weaver? That Emily Wales was unable to walk the distance from the hills and was carried on a litter manned by four stalwart youths? That Glenn Jesse won the citizenship cup given for the first time by the junior high that year. That the present Cardinal basketball suits worn by the junior high were bought when the present senior five (Lauren and Louie Morse, Ed Ellis, Glenn Jesse and Eddie Rolen) were in the junior high? That the present seniors, as freshmen won two (tug of war and football rush) out of three (the sophomores won the flag pole rush) contests in the initiation and the next year, as sophomores, scored three smashing victories over the freshmen. That this was the last initiation ever held here. That they have had the best representation in athletics of any class ever to promenade the halls of old B. H. S. That the senior class colors are green and white?

Seniors! Keep it Up

In the high school inter-class competition, the seniors have won nine games to date without a defeat. This is of course, an enviable record and every senior has his heart set on going the full season without being defeated. It will take a lot of determination on the part of these seniors, but if they make up their mind to it, it can be done. Every other team, of course, is bent on breaking this winning streak, so it behooves the seniors to play heads-up ball from now on in. Come on seniors, let's keep that record intact, unmarred by a defeat. Get in those games and score, score, score. "Stretch" Gladwin goes places. Place every play on the spot and make him work. You, little "Pete" Donley, make that second team get organized. And you, Tom Zerbe, let's get that third team clicking. The senior third team is the one that's causing the seniors anxiety. It seems that certain seniors who gave their word to play on this team, went back on said word and failed to play last week. As a result, only four men represented the seniors and one of those men was removed from the game on fouls. Come on gang, let's see a sign of good sportsmanship. How about it? Come on, let's go.

Faculty Facts

Mrs. Weaver, Mr. Robinson, Miss Ekstrom and Mrs. Heim have been in Kalamazoo taking up campus work. Mr. Hyink says that he never does anything over the week-end but study. He states that he does not have time to go on sprees. Mr. Moore eats three square meals a day and has to sleep. Never has any work to do. Isn't that lovely? Kalamazoo seemed to have been a favorite destination for the members of our faculty this week. Mr. Bradford attended a meeting of the Physical Education Association, Saturday. 7th Grade Social Studies Students are reviewing Spanish and English explorations. Besides their text books they are studying from their supplementary readers. Each student had to write a four page report on any event he had studied except Columbus' discovery of America. Potato Plant Admired Potatoes were first cultivated for their beautiful foliage in England.

SCHOOL DAYS

Class Activities

Mathematics

Freshmen algebra students have been working methods of simplifying fractions which have literal numbers. This includes reducing fractions to their lowest terms, multiplication of fractions, and division of fractions. In order to successfully simplify fractions of this type, one must have a thorough knowledge of fractions.

Plain geometry students are studying the relationship between angles and their intercepted arcs, also problems of construction. The problems show, first, to bisect a given arc; second, to circumscribe a circle about a triangle; third, to inscribe a circle in a triangle.

The European history class is studying the Revolutions and explorers of the European countries.

Organization of business and business management is being studied now by the citizenship class.

Mrs. Whitman's home room has been having some entertaining programs. Last week's program consisted of harmonica solos by Daniel Topash. This week's program is in charge of Edwin Donley and Albert Webb. These boys did not make known what their I would be. We will tell you more about it next week.

English Department

The senior English class is continuing the study of the English epic. Some of the epics on which they are working are: Drake by Alfred Noyes, Paradise Lost and Paradise Regained by Milton and Beowulf.

Samuel Johnson and His Contemporaries is the study unit that the juniors are trying to accomplish. Such great authors as Goldsmith, Fielding and Burke are emphasized. If those people were only living now the juniors would do away with them in short order because they cause so much work for their weary minds, especially those who like to study so well.

The sophomores are studying the work of Hawthorne and Irving. Maybe if they study long enough they will all turn out to be great writers too.

Knoblauch's Classes

The horticulture students are working on Unit One which is called "How are Horticulture Plants Produced?" This deals with the propagation of horticulture plants.

Agriculture 12 students are now studying Unit Four on maintaining the health of animals.

The debating class is preparing for their debate with Coldwater which will take place at Coldwater Feb. 16. This will be the first debate of the elimination series.

G. A. A.

Miss Rokenbach's classes are preparing for the gym show to be presented the week before spring vacation. All students who take part in these exercises will receive points for the Girls' Athletic Association.

Work is being accomplished in pyramid building, stunts, clog dancing and several features.

Last Thursday when the girls met for interclass basketball led by Rosemary Thompson, Alene Dodge, Shirley Howard and Dorothy Wheeler, captains, the seniors defeated the freshmen 20 to 6, and the juniors were on top by a score of 18 to 15 over the sophomores.

Music

R. R. Robinson is hard at work on a chorus for the opera that is to be given on some future date. The band and orchestra have been working on as usual. The band played some popular pieces along with marches last Wednesday for the basketball club. The high school glee club meets every day reviewing songs that they have learned.

Girls' Interclass Games

Growing near the end of the basketball season, the girls of our high school are enjoying some very fine games. Thursday night after school the juniors won from the sophomores, and the seniors were victorious over the freshmen.

Peggy Merfield was an outstanding player for the sophomores while Jean Russell assisted her team to a score of 19 to 15.

Anita Andrews and Doris Campbell, who was substituted for Anita at the half, made high point in the 21 to 6 victory over the freshmen who were led by Shirley Rolen.

Commercial Dept.

Advanced typing classes have just started business notebooks on filling out business forms. These forms will include promissory notes, bank drafts, checks, cashier's checks and various other business forms.

Bookkeeping classes are now taking up cash books and cash receipts taken from their bookkeeping sets. They have recently finished their payment journals.

The seventh grade girls have recently started sewing. They are learning the fundamentals of sewing—how to sew on buttons, snaps and hooks and eyes. The class has begun to make lingerie and beach pajamas out of cotton materials, whereas the eighth grade classes are doing the same thing only they are making their garments out of silk. Also they are reviewing stitches, plaquets, various uses of bias tape. This class has begun to make dresses, jumpers, skirts or blouses, out of various materials.

As soon as all of the garments are done, the girls are going to give a tea for their mothers. This will be a style show and all of the things made will be exhibited.

English 9

The freshmen have just completed "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner." They are now working on "The Lady of the Lake." The first few chapters of "Ivanhoe" have been discussed in preparation for the study of this novel.

A meeting was held Monday to select new editors for the freshman papers. The next edition will be a Valentine issue.

8th Grade English

Students of the ninth grade are beginning the search for Evangelina, as they are now reading the second part of this story. They will write descriptions of all the characters that appear in this story for their notebooks.

Another enjoyable thing which they are doing is learning to identify and appreciate the new words which they are studying in the process of building up their vocabularies.

Journalism

Miss Hanlin's journalism class has completed its work on pyramid news stories and is now working on feature stories.

The chapter assigned for the past week is entitled, "Playing Up the Feature." The chapter contains instructions for writing feature stories, their structure and material included in them.

Three oral reports were assigned to members of the class. These reports are given every Friday during class period.

BUCCANEER 5 RESUMES ITS WINNING WAYS

Takes Measure of Hedwige, Three Oaks in Double Headers During the Past Week.

Buchanan's fighting Buck quintet, after losing a hard fought battle to Niles the week previous, came back and scored two wins last week over the St. Hedwige Lions of South Bend and two more over both squads of the Three Oaks Acorns. The St. Hedwige game was a rough affair, but the Lions showed up mighty well and for some time the spectators were not sure that the Bucks were going to clinch the game. However, Buchanan's superior 14-13 lead at the half to a 29-21 victory by the time the final gun sounded. Games in the future with this school will be mighty interesting, to say the least.

Table with columns: The lineups, B. F. P., and player names like Buchanan, D. Topash, A. Topash, etc.

Officials, varsity, Wegner; S. Savoldi and Runkler. While the varsity had a comparatively hard time overcoming the Poles, the second squad coasted to 35-5 victory. This makes the tenth consecutive game won by the "B" team and incidentally all the games they have played this year. Here's hoping they keep up the good work.

The Three Oaks affair, as we shall call it, was just another work-out for the locals, and a very good one at that. The score was 58-5. At the half it was 17-5, but during the second half, Buchanan scored 41 points while the Oaks failed to tally. This shows the splendid guarding that the Bucks can do. If the guard as well in more important games, why who knows they may go places and do things. Lauren Morse, high point man for the Bucks, failed to garner a point in the first half, but came back plenty strong in the second, scoring 15 points. Ellis garnered 13 points for a close second, while Glen Jesse, erstwhile captain, was very close for third honors with 12 points. Aug. Topash ran his points up to ten, so you can see that the whole team was clicking as far as ability to score was concerned.

Three Oaks sprang into the lead at the beginning of the game, but the only field goal of the game, which was made by Vollman, the Acorn center. However, Walters, Acorn guard, was high point man for his team with three foul shots that he sank. It is not every day that a player is high point on fouls.

Table with columns: The lineups, B. F. P., and player names like Buchanan, A. Topash, Louie Morse, etc.

Meanwhile the "B" team rambled to a 39-17 victory over the Oaks. "B" team, Batchelor went on a scoring spree that ended at exactly 19 points. While Kramer was high for the visitors with 10 points. These two victories sort of cheer up Buchanan fans after the defeat at the hands of Niles and make them feel that they still have a winning squad. Buchanan, playing a 14 game schedule, has played ten of the games. They have won nine of this ten, dropping the other to Niles. They have four more to win. These are Waterliet, Dowagiac, Berrien Springs and Bridgman in the order named. Waterliet was played last night by the locals at Waterliet. Tomorrow night they tangle with Dowagiac, who the Bucks defeated by the slim margin of 25 to 23 at the last game in Dowagiac. Next Friday the Bucks are host to the Berrien Springs aggregation, who the Bucks defeated 22-20 on the Springers floor, early in the season. The last game of the schedule, with Bridgman, will be sure close and that's no mistake.

Exodus Statistics The number of people who left Egypt at the Exodus has been estimated at a total of 2,000,000, since only men fit for bear arms were enumerated at 600,000.

Who's Who

To begin the histories of a few of our up and coming citizens of Buchanan, we will present Miss Dorothy "Dot" Brown, a freshman, who was born in the fair city of Buchanan, Sept. 7, 1917. Her favorite dishes are a few of her favorite cream-are-a few of her favorite dishes. She has no choice as to blondes or brunettes. She reads anything she can lay eyes on. (Wonder if she has roving eyes?) Latin is her favorite subject.

Dorothy just hates to go to bed at night. Now if you recall, Thomas Edison hated to go to bed at night also. You can never tell what may happen. Thomas became great, but alas, Dorothy hates to get up in the morning too. Many envy the A's Dorothy gets on her report card. Many times you can hear someone say about Dorothy, "Isn't she a tiny mite?" In our next history we have a junior girl who is none other than our Anna Grace Ramahan who was born in South Bend, Ind. Aug. 16, 1917. As you notice she refused to give the year she was born. It proves to be embarrassing to have any one know her age.

Italian spaghetti and chocolate bon bons she consumes with relish. History is Anna Grace's favorite subject. She cares not for blondes or brunettes but red heads agree with her. She loves to listen to symphony orchestras and Fu Manchu mystery stories. Her favorite hobby is reading epitaphs on tomb stones.

Last Wednesday night when Buchanan swapped buckets with the lions of St. Hedwige, many people stated that it was the biggest basketball team they had ever seen on the local floor. The Plundering Poles displayed a much better basketball team than did they a football team. The second team had very little difficulty in trouncing the baby lions, and the seconds should go through the season undefeated if enlargement of the skulls doesn't insert itself within the ranks.

Bill Bromley and one of his brothers have been going over to Niles very often on Friday nights to see some specimens of the feminine gender. (We think) It is regretted that these gentlemen have to shuffle all the way home in the large hours of the morning. Their best time is one and a half hours. It's too bad "Cash and Carry" Pyle isn't promoting one of his Bunton Derbies this year because Bill and his brother would be in good condition for one of these famous "dog slayers."

The senior basketball teams still seem to be the best class of the interclass basketball league. Just last Wednesday these artists took the freshmen into camp. This time it was the third team that pulled the trick and if you don't think those boys can do some funny things with a basketball on the court, you had better come and see 'em, cause they surely can do it. "Butter Ball" Bachman executed a beautiful book slide under the bleachers in pursuit of the elusive sphere and Eddie Arthurholtz covered ten yards on one dribble. Did you notice "Stretch" Gladwin's new rags? Pete Donley's shave? Eddie Spasek's ability to sell tickets? Doris Campbell's messenger girl and chief note taker? And "Goofy" Nelson's new finger wave?

Anniversary Week

For Boy Scouting

Commencing Feb. 8 is Boy Scout Anniversary Week, which in the case of the Berrien-Cass Area, will be extended to cover a period of ten days. Anniversary week is an appropriate time for consideration of Scouting, not only by those directly interested in the work, nor by those whose boys are Scouts, but by the public which benefits indirectly, yet in so large a measure, from Scouting. Scouting works so tirelessly and so continuously to develop in youth the ideals which make for good citizens that no one can escape being benefitted by the work that is being done. Volunteer workers who are interested in youth, all over America, are giving of their time, their talents and their money, making special training courses and attending conferences, all in the interest of boys, and if these men are willing to do this for the sake of our boys, we ought all of us to take a real interest in what they are doing.

During Boy Scout Anniversary week there will be various functions such as courts of honor and special public events which will be announced in the newspaper and it is much to be desired that all citizens attend these functions and become better acquainted with Scouting. Be a good Boy Scout, in spirit at least, during Anniversary Week and do your good turn by boosting Scouting.

Seniors Keep Record Clean in Cage Tournament

Last week six inter-class basketball games were played, three on Wednesday and three on Friday. The games played on Wednesday were between the junior high first team and the junior first team, the juniors winning by a score of 12 to 11 and the freshmen second team and the sophomore second team, in which the freshmen beat the sophomores by a score of 36 to 14. The last game was played between the freshman third team and the senior third team, the seniors winning by a score of 12 to 9.

Says Students Do Not Drink

To the Editor: The charge, so often heard, that high school boys carry flasks in their hip pockets and wild drinking parties are held in which the girls of these institutions also take part is not substantiated by the educators or the federal prohibition officials. J. W. Crabtree, secretary of the National Education Association in a recent report of high school conditions said: "Conditions in the high school are much better than in 1920 with respect both to drinking and to general behavior. This is doubly significant in view of the fact that high school enrollment has grown since 1920 from two million to more than five million students—an achievement unparalleled in any country in all history. Unquestionably the 18th amendment has benefitted the schools beyond measure." Dr. Charles E. Barker, a noted educator and lecturer, says the testimony among all heads of schools "is universally the same, viz., that drinking among the pupils is practically nil, and that the Eighteenth Amendment has proved of immense benefit to the youth of the country." The Congressional Record of May 19, 1932, states that a resolution to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment was submitted to 2,800 school superintendents and high school principals assembled last year in Detroit, and only two out of the 2,800 voted for it. At the National Education Convention held at Atlantic City, for 1932, 3,500 school superintendents and high school principals voted unanimously in favor of the retention of the Eighteenth amendment. Dr. T. A. Clark, Dean of Men in the University of Illinois for 20 years, says: "Drinking before prohibition was much more general than now. There was much more general drinking and much more drunkenness, and it was much less talked about."

Monday Club Studies Michigan. The Monday Literary club met this week at the home of Mrs. W. F. Runner, where all the members participated in a very interesting study and discussion of "Michigan 'the Unique,'" which was led by the hostess. A special discussion was held on Michigan writers, including Arnold Mulder of Holland, David Grayson (Ray Stannard Baker), James Oliver Curwood, Mabel Elliott of Benton Harbor, Rev. M. S. Rice of Detroit, and the late Edward Gust Douglas Wallock, Ben King, Rose Hartwick Thorpe and Will Carleton. Mrs. L. R. Bradley gave a dramatic reading of "Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight." Among the unique features of Michigan geography which were pointed out in the discussion was the fact that the state has two rivers of water, more islands and more coastline than any other state. In answer to roll call each member responded by describing the most beautiful place they had seen in Michigan.

Would Colonize Vacant Farm Lands With Unemployed

Letters were received by Mayor F. C. Hathaway and by local business men this week asking co-operation on a state-wide project for colonization of vacant farm lands with the unemployed. The letter recommends the appointment of a committee composed of the mayor and the "leading industrialists of your city" to actively take up the project here.

The secretary, Maynard Smith, proposes the following course of action for this committee: First, to ascertain the number of parcels of tillable land, three to fifteen acres, that will be provided by donors in sympathy with the charitable purpose of this plan. Second, to assemble information regarding the availability of other farm property and its approximate price.

Third, to find out who are willing to finance one or more farms outright. Fourth, to determine who are agreeable to equipping one or more farms, providing the property is supplied.

Fifth, to promote the interests of the plan with the local legislators so that they will enlist the support of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, if necessary. This plan of farm colonization can be engineered into a self-amortizing project. It is conceived and advocated in the spirit of social charity. It is entirely practical, and will not menace the future markets of Michigan agriculture.

The smaller farms, three to five acres, can be completely equipped for less than $300. Most important of all its desirable aspects, it offers a depression smitten citizenry pride of ownership, independence, renewed morale and family security.

City dwellers as well as farmers in Michigan are due for more trouble, according to the entomology department at Michigan State college, which predicts the invasion of this state by the Japanese beetle within a short time.

All Will Lose Through Invasion of Japanese Beetle

Small numbers of this insect have already been found in Detroit and control measures have been undertaken to eradicate any of the younger generations which might be the result of this appearance. However, this will only postpone the time when the beetle appears in such numbers that its control will become a continuous problem in Michigan.

The pest is somewhat larger than the common potato beetle and its body is metallic green or greenish brown except the wing covers which are brown. The wing covers do not completely cover the body and the tip of the abdomen shows five white spots on each side.

The adult Japanese beetle is not at all particular about its food and has been found munching off 200 different kinds of plants. Its feeding destroys leaves and flowers. The larvae, which live in the ground, feed on the finer roots of plants and seem to prefer those belonging to some species of grass.
