Miss Rivers had an apartment on the second story of the home filled with her own furnishings, valued at $500, all of which were destroyed.

Her mother, Mrs. Mary Rivers, was alone in the house at the time. About 1 p. m. she noticed smoke drifting by the window, as though from a roof fire and ran out to see the flames breaking through the roof and around the eaves at one end of the building. She hurried a quarter of a mile to a neighbor's home to telephone for the Burr Oak fire department and to other neighbors. Friends arrived in time to remove most of the furnishings from the lower floor. The fire department arrived and extinguished flames which had ignited on the roof of the barn a hundred yards to windward. The family consisting of Mrs. Mary Rivers and a son and his wife, have moved into a farm residence nearby. The losses are partially covered by insurance.

Special services honoring the Blessed Virgin will be held at St. Anthony's Roman Catholic church each Wednesday evening, during May, beginning at 7:30 p. m., fast time.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPT. DISPLAYS ITS HANDIWORK

Studies in Colors and Designs of Dresses Entered by Students; Serve Food Made in Department.

The Home Economics Department of the local high school was the scene last week of a very interesting exhibit of the work of the students during the past semester, selected and arranged by the instructor, Miss Janet Thompson.

The students worked on clothing projects during that period, and samples of the various steps in the fashioning of the garments were displayed. Samplers were made by the students from original designs, each displaying fifteen different embroidery stitches. The tenth grade students displayed studies of color in relation to home and dress. Studies were also made of the relation of color to complexion in make-up and in selection of gowns.

The seventh grade girls entered a contest in doll dressing sponsored by McCall's Magazine. Ten girls entered doll outfits, each making a four-piece outfit. Five women from among the guests attending judged the entries, making awards as follows: first, Teresa Huebner; second, Caroline Webb; third, Bessie Crothers. Miss Eleanor Miller acted as hostess, serving tea and cookies made by the students. Three hundred were served in the afternoon and many more came in the evening to see the exhibits.

Staver Talks To Civic Assoc. On Psychology

Taking as the basis of his talk a chapter of a book entitled, "Psychology for Writers," Rev. H. W. Staver delivered a very interesting talk Monday evening before the regular meeting of the Civic Association. He described the four steps to attainment as "Want," "Obstacle," "Struggle," "Solution." He gave an interesting analysis of the direct and indirect methods of attack by which men attempt to reach their goals, and the various compensations for failure of attainment.

A discussion of the development of the Centennial Celebration preceded the address.

City Acts to Stop Dumping Rubbish in Streams of City

Elsewhere in this issue a new city ordinance is published in full to prevent the promiscuous dumping of rubbish in streams within the city limits. This action was occasioned by the condition of the mill race previous to being cleaned by the city in the past month. The accumulation of twenty years was removed from the race by a force of men working under Street Commissioner Ed Mitchell. The ordinance enumerates nuisances that would tend to obstruct the channel or defile the waters of any stream in such a manner as to be injurious to public health. A fine of not less than $5 nor more than $100 is provided for each and every violation of the ordinance, which will be effective as of May 15.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE ORGANIZED FOR TWILIGHT PLAY

Play to Begin May 15; A Tournament to End Season; Prospect for Eight Entries.

One of the most promising programs of athletics for the general public ever formulated for this city was launched at the high school Tuesday evening with the organization of the Buchanan Soft Ball League, with a prospective membership of eight teams.

The following officers were elected and appointed: president, Jack Boone; vice president, Harold Bradford; secretary-treasurer, Lloyd Kolhoff; chairman of committee to secure diamond facilities at Athletic park, Adam Brant; committee of one to select cup for winning team, H. C. Stark; committee on game schedule, Robert Riniker, Ellsworth Bristol, Jack Walsch; chairman of entry committee, Frank Fabiano.

Any team which fails to have 10 men on the field by the latter time will forfeit to its opponent. Ten men will play on each team. The rules adopted prescribe a 60-foot baseline, a 14-inch in seam ball, and official indoor bats.

It is further stipulated in the rules that no player can quit a team of his own accord or change to another team unless he has a discharge signed by the captain or manager filed with the executive committee. Violation of the last-mentioned rule will be punished by suspension from play for the season. The season will be played off on or about Labor Day. It is likely that the play of the season will be divided into two round robins, and the winner of the play-off will receive a cup emblematic of the victory. Each team is required to have an official score keeper whose duty it will be to keep the individual averages and the official standing of the team.

Dayton Tigers Are Injured in Clash Sunday

A tiger is the noblest beast of the animal world in combat, according to a fairly large school of thought, but a bunch of Tigers from out in the jungles of the Dayton district emerged from a contest with a bunch of Greyhounds considerably the worse for wear Sunday afternoon. The casualties in detail were a broken leg for Harry Leiter and a crushed cheek bone for Perry Richter of the Tiger aggregation.

The Portage Prairie Greyhounds and the Dayton Tigers, two of the leading baseball teams of southern Berrien county, were enjoying a practice tilt on the latter's diamond, Richter received his damaged cheek when he got behind the bat to catch without the mask which is considered formal wear for such occasions and caught a foul tip with his face. He was reported as having been unconscious for a short time.

He later incurred his fractured ankle when Liskey of the Dayton team was springing to base and stepped on the ankle as Leiter tried to tag him out.

Ihrle Grocery Truck Destroyed By Fire-Monday

The Erskine truck which was used for the Ihrle Food Mart in its rural grocery route was destroyed by fire Monday evening, together with a load of groceries and the garage in which it was housed.

The truck had been placed in the garage about 10:30 p. m. and about a half hour later the front end was found in flames, probably through a short circuit. The fire department was summoned but by the time it had arrived the flames had made such progress that the machine was not entirely burned. The groceries were covered by insurance.

COLORED SINGERS AT M. E. CHURCH SUNDAY EVENING

Choir from A. M. E. Church of Benton Harbor to Present "Devil's Pawn Shop."

A select group of sixteen singers from the "Devil's Pawn Shop" chorus will appear here at the Methodist church, Sunday, May 7th, at 7:30 p. m. in a musical program of Negro Spirituals in choruses, trio, quartette and solo form.

The "Devil's Pawn Shop" drama, written and directed by Rev. E. B. Williams, pastor of the Twin City Union Memorial A. M. E. church, Benton Harbor, is well known throughout the state and county. Rev. Williams has received invitations to bring the cast to Hollywood California for a movie-tone production but on account of the financial depression, he has been forced to change his plans for the present.

A chorus of fifty voices supports the cast of players in interpreting the sins of modern youth. Many of those songs will be used in this program. This group of singers, organized, trained and directed by Mrs. E. B. Williams in Benton Harbor, has sung before large appreciative audiences in the twin cities and cities of other states. Also filling radio engagements with credit.

Miss Florence White, the blind soprano singer will play and sing solo numbers.

Mrs. E. B. Williams, directress, a pupil of Carl Lindgren, will give solo numbers also. She will also give a talk on the origin of the Negro Spiritual.

PRINCESS TO GIVE BENEFIT FOR CENTENNIAL

"Cynara," a Four-Star Favorite of Current Sound Films at Princess Fri. and Sat. Merchants Selling Tickets.

The Buchanan community will be afforded an opportunity to witness one of the great film shows of the current season fresh from the film mills of Hollywood in the showing of "Cynara" at the Princess theater Friday and Saturday evening, the proceeds from both nights going to the Buchanan centennial celebration fund.

Although this show is rated by leading cinema critics third among the first ten of the productions released during the past sixty days, it will be shown here at the regular prices, tickets being purchasable from all merchants.

The play is based in the tragic life story of an English poet, Ernest Dowson and the title is taken from the title of his best known poem, "Cynara." Its theme is the high note of Dowson's life as gleaned both from his poems and from the brief records of his short life—the theme of spiritual faithfulness to an unworthy woman.

Always a Bohemian He had always been a wild Bohemian. In his college days at Oxford he had taken drugs and in London and Paris his carousing made him famous. He spent as much of his time as he could in low Limehouse waterfront dives near the docks yard where he worked as a clerk, preferring the company of thugs and sneak-thieves to the literary circles in which he was known as a promising young poet.

But it was not until he met the young daughter of a restaurant-keeper in London's Bohemia and fell in love with her that he began the course of dissipation that finally killed him at 33.

For two years she kept him dangling and finally rejected him to marry one of the waiters in the restaurant. At about the same time he lost most of his financial means. From then on he wandered back and forth from London to Paris, making a little money by translations, but devoting himself to forgetting this girl who was the cynara of his poem and of his life. The nearer he came to death, the more carefully he hid himself from his friends, and it was only by accident that he was found dying in a low suburb of London and taken care of for the few more days he had to live.

Now Here's the Proposition

ON TASTES IN BEAUTY

Bl Haws

Tonight five lucky referees will sweep their eyes across 'em To pick the pearl of current girls to be the Belle of Blossom.

From beauteous maids in bright parade they'll pick a dame of splendor.

And blonde, brunette, it's one safe bet she will be slim and slender For girls that hit the taste today are long and lithe and willowy Not like the girls of long ago who all were plump and pillowy.

I deem that old-time tastes were best and slender fads are harmful.

And anyway, am here to say, one girl should add one armful. For what avails a youth today if he feels kind of petty?

He might as well go try and hug a sliver or spaghetti. The current tastes in waspish waists mayhap might be good-looking.

Yet scarcely be a recommend for their success in cooking. And though they all look fair to-night, yet take an old man's warning.

The sheen upon the dolled up bean don't took the same at morning.

Hurry in Your Information The "Now Here's the Proposition" column, in a big drive for livelier and more informative material, is compiling a novel directory that is destined to strike a new note in publications of the sort, to be published as soon as the already extensive data of the publisher, Bl Haws, can be completed.

The directory will differ from the usual publication in that it will list only the addresses of places where leading business men and others may be found when they are not at their office or at their place of business. Inasmuch as such places account for a large percentage of the time of many of our citizens, it is felt that the directory will be an inestimable (50 cents please) boon to people who are anxious to find somebody some time. If you have any information as to the hangouts of any local citizens when they are not at their homes or where they should be, write or telephone it to Bl Haws, care of "The Proposition."

Mrs. DePugh Kicking Again Mrs. Estella DePugh, Detroit street, calls up to say that she is strictly off the Record, she can't turn around but her name is in the paper and ain't it a fright how nose some people are. If we remember right she is the Missive Oats that was kicking at the while ago because there wasn't a darn thing in the paper.

Feline Chorus Meowling Away The judges didn't select the 1933 blossom queen until last night but the annual feline chorus (mostly feminine, and including the great majority who were not selected for the queen's court) have been heard at the party for the past moon.

"And didja see the picture of Miss Kokomo in the Evening Gazette? If she looks like her picture, deliver us! And Miss Jonesville! Don't she look like she has stiff neck? And Miss Edwardsburg. If her nose is as crooked in real life as it is in her picture, she must be a sight! And Missive Oats that was kicking at the while ago because there wasn't a darn thing in the paper."

Here's Some History for the Centennial Committee Relative to the new ordinance prohibiting dumping of rubbish in the mill race, Charley Pears reminiscences to the effect that the city used to place big pike in the race to swim about and clean up the moss and scum. "They used to put a bridge on the big fish and let the kids ride them up and down the race to plow the rubbish out," states Mr. Pears.

James Filling Station Robbed Monday Evening

Deputy Sheriff Clarence Dunbar was called to Galien Monday evening to investigate the third hold-up at the Ward James filling station there at 8:30 p. m.

Charles Vinton Reverses Doctor's Orders; Improves

We have lots of good citizens busy about this time at garden planting. Among them is Charles Vinton. Unfortunately he has had a touch of rheumatism. The other day he sobbed out to plant some onion sets, holding them in one hand and a lot of rheumatism pills in the other. How he became muddled we don't know, but he planted the pills and ate the onion sets and now he reports both himself and mother earth in first class condition.

P. T. A. Notes

The last meeting of this school year was held by the P. T. A. on Monday evening in the Junior high assembly room. The boys' glee club under the direction of R. R. Robinson, opened the program with a group of three numbers, which were enjoyed by all.

The Kindergarten and First Grade Mothers club presented a playlet, "Mothers in Revue" showing the change of parental attitude in dealing with child problems now as compared with several years ago. Mrs. John Russell and Mrs. Lester Lyon gave a very interesting and informative report of their attendance at the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers held in Jackson last week. There were about 600 in attendance. One of the statements brought home to us a challenge to all thinking people was:

"You can interrupt the improvement of a road and ten years later go on with it about where you left off, but if you interrupt decent care for children and ten years later begin again to feel responsible for them, you can by no means begin where you left off. You find them irreparably grown up, and grown up wrong, enemies and liabilities of their community rather than friends and assets." Dorothy Canfield Fisher.

B. H. S. Track Men Take 4 Firsts in "B" Meet

BATTLE BETWEEN WEAVER, CAIN IS FEATURE OF MEET

Locals Favored to Win Class C County Meet to be Held at Niles Next Monday.

Last Saturday Buchanan high school track squad went to Niles and put up a great bid for honors at Plym Field against the very strong Niles team. There were many bright spots in the meet including Bob Ellis' first place in the pole vault and second place in the high hurdles and high jump. Pete Donley lost the century (100 yd. dash) but came back to win a first in the 220 yd. sprint. De Weaver, Buchanan's notable runner, ran a great race in the quarter-mile to defeat Cain of Niles. This makes the second time Cain has been defeated by Weaver this year. Niles scored a grand slam (all three first places) in the shot put, half-mile, and mile. Below is the record of the events.

150 yard high hurdles, Kraft, N. 1st; Ellis, B. 2nd; Rolen, E. 3rd. Time: 17.3.

100 yd. dash, Kehrer, N. 1st; Donley, B. 2nd; Deeds, E. 3rd. Time: 16.8.

1 mile run, Fathburn, N. 1st; Jarman, N. 2nd; Grimes, N. 3rd. Time: 4:40.8.

440 yd. dash, Weaver, E. 1st; Cain, N. 2nd; Forjurger, N. 3rd. Time: 5:38.9.

Broad jump, Reum, N. 1st; Rolen, E. 2nd; Kraft, N. 3rd. Distance, 30 feet, 5 inches.

Shot put, Burger, N. 1st; Hradel, N. 2nd.

220 yd. low hurdles, Kehrer, N. 1st; Hradel, N. 2nd; Donley, B. 3rd. Time: 28.1.

One-half mile run, Kaiser, N. 1st; Weaver, N. 2nd; Finley, N. 3rd. Time: 10:01.8.

Pole vault, Ellis, B. 1st; Sartore, N. 2nd; Topash, B. 3rd. Height, 10 feet, 9 inches.

High jump, Kraft, N. 1st; Ellis, B. 2nd; Wright, N. 3rd. Height, 5 ft. 10 1/2 inches.

Relay, Won by Niles (Kehrer, Anderson, Forjurger and Cain). Time, 1:3.

220 yd. dash, Donley, E. 1st; Anderson, N. 2nd; Deeds, B. 3rd. Time, 25.

Next Monday the Buchanan track squad will participate in the county class C and D meet in Niles at Plym Field. Coach Bradford is of the opinion that the Bucks will win the meet, after the stiff competition class B schools have been giving the locals. It should prove to be a very exciting meet to say the least. It is not known how many teams will participate but in the years past, six or seven were not uncommon. This will be the Maroons' first track meet with a school in their own class. Be there and see them win it.

Passports in Mexico and Canada. A passport is not required for an American citizen for direct travel to Mexico and Canada. A certificate of identity will serve instead.

Buchanan's Alumni

By Bob Gladwish

We should be very proud of our alumni. We have a very great percentage of our graduates attending college at present and most of them are really doing big things! We have alumni attending the following colleges and universities: Northwestern University, University of Illinois, Western State Teachers' College, Wabash College, University of Michigan, the Michigan State college, Kalamazoo college, Hillsdale college and other schools of learning.

Most of our alumni have been prominent in athletics, social affairs, activities, fraternities, societies, clubs, etc. One of our former students was selected to participate in the Penn Relays along with other great track stars from this section. Others have had a great part in athletic competition, glee clubs, the school paper, bands, etc.

Much credit for their college success is due our faculty here, and all the persons who helped them build the solid foundation upon which they are now working unflinchingly toward success in life.

Your success in college is not based on who you are or what you are, but rather upon what you can actually accomplish. The better acquainted a person is with hard work, the more chance he has of succeeding in college.

Care of Emergencies and the Medicine Cabinet

Geneva Williams

Some accidents occur in school every day. Many are small and require little attention. It is hard to say how many cases of severe injury are prevented each year by the care given small ones. Some injuries are more severe and really demand immediate attention. Sometimes a physician must be called for the severe accidents that occur. In the first group are cuts, scratches and burns. The wound is cleaned, a disinfectant applied and a dressing used when necessary. Burns occur daily on the playground and in the school room. In the second class are more severe cuts, sprains, and burns, objects which get in the eye, children who become suddenly ill in school, then occasionally someone gets a broken bone. There is never a moment when we do not care of these accidents or what some days Mrs. Lamb's entire morning is given to care for these cases and in the prevention of the spread of infectious diseases.

The medicine cabinet costs $25 a year. For the care of these cases the medicine cabinet contains iodine, mercurchrome, unguentine and alcohol, bandage, gauze, cotton, wooden tongue blades and applicators.

The thing to do when you get an injury of this type is to go to your school nurse for immediate attention. If you should have a sore throat or perhaps a severe nose-bleed, go to your nurse at once and she will be glad to assist you. We can consider ourselves very fortunate to have a school nurse to take care of emergencies.

Who's Who

Alene Dodge is a fair maiden of seventeen years, five months and six days. Apricot a la mode causes her to roll her brown eyes in appreciation and just the thought of spinach makes her feel like doing a tap dance on the clothes line. It is altogether a different story, though, when oysters appear on the menu. Her pet word is "fermez la bouche," is rather rude as in English it means, "Shut your mouth." Neither red heads, brunettes or blondes make her heart miss a beat, but it is known that she tolerates the presence of a certain almost blond gentleman. Cooking, sports, reading and chemistry are a few of her favorite occupations. Oh yes, Miss Dodge gave her special permission to let this secret be known. She's pleasantly plump.

Just to give you something to do in your spare time, you can guess who this person is. Here are a few hints, though. This person's a girl of fifteen years, with blue eyes, blonde curly hair, and of course, those things which are most dear to a girl's heart, freckles. If anyone has ever been to the house for dinner, this may help them guess who she is. She is crazy about chocolate pie and oyster stew. English and typing are her favorite studies and swimming, tennis and reading are what she does in her spare time. "I like brunette boys but blonde girls and you needn't think I'm conceited either," she said. Her nickname is "Sib," oh well, the cat's out of the bag now, I might just as well tell who she is. Ethel Sibley is the name.

"Any sorta pie or cake, except coconut, would make an excellent meal," stated brown-eyed, curly headed Thomas Quirk. If anyone should ask him what he does with his spare time he'd say, "I go to Chicago for reasons best known to myself," which of course, is just a polite way to tell you not to be so inquisitive. Used to have a preference for red heads, but he's changing now to blondes and brunettes. "No platinum blondes for me!" declared Tom. By the way, folks, his name isn't Thomas anymore. It is June. It's a dark secret why he's called June, but just ask any French girl student, and they'll be glad to tell you. Green is Tom's favorite color, as usual with all the descendants of Brin. Thomas' pass word is rather original as you don't hear people saying, "scram yoke!" very often.

THIS AND THAT

By Bob Ellis

The nicest piece of comedy supplied last week around the school was demonstrated by Max Penwell, the bonecrushing wrestler from across the river and "Tucky" Brewer, a local track man and social climber.

It seems during the fifth hour gym class last week, an indoor game was in progress. It was the last half of that last inning and two were out, one more out would finish the game.

"Spider" Snaeffler drove a fly ball that was marked for a hit. Both Penwell and Brewer dashed madly after the fleeing missile. Both were about to gather it in, and tuck it to sleep, when the two youths quite roughly collided. Both boys tumbled to the turf and were quite dazed. The little ball fell harmlessly to the sod.

SENIOR SOLILOQUY

Did you ever have that helpless feeling of wanting to go away to college and found you were unable to because of financial difficulties? It is the most all alone and crushing feeling that a young person is likely to experience. All fellow classmates planning eagerly, reading over college pamphlets, regulating their studies and courses, while the unfortunate one feels left out and behind, wondering how he is ever going to get through that awful black wall of doubt. He goes around feeling like a spider hanging on a silken thread, he is soon to be snatched loose and flung into oblivion.

How will he ever obtain a position or a foothold in this world, a world of busy people? People too busy and too much in a hurry to stop and wait for those unable to obtain a higher education and keep it in the race.

Who is to blame? Surely not we unfortunates. Oh, no. Right here in the most all alone and crushing feeling that a young person is likely to experience. agitation on Wednesday of last week, do not judge them harshly, they had a very good cause for this agitation. On this day they received their report cards and if you had seen some of them you probably would have concluded that the demonstrations were mild in comparison. We'll wager that the demonstrations in some of the homes would have eclipsed any Fourth of July display as far as smoke and fire are concerned. Some of the report cards should have caused fire works but some deserved favorable comment.

MUSACRES SEEM to be all the rage here in school now. Ed. W. Arthurhulz always has a hairy upper lip, but have you noticed the newcomers in the art of mustache growing? They are none other than De Weaver and Sam-born Demmo (providing they have not shaved). Sam's has a slight edge over De Weaver's, being a bit darker in color!

It should be a great contest—the hair over the eye and the painted mustache cup. Let's go, boys! ADIOS.

Cracks and Wise Cracks

By Mary March

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse. No folks, this isn't Christmas, but this is just what happened last week in the fourth period Chemistry class.

Marjorie Campbell having finished her work in the laboratory, came into the study room and evidently, was weary from studying chemistry, so she picked up her neighbor's French book and began translating a Christmas story. As her back was turned toward the front of the room, she did not see Mr. Moore enter the room and sit down (to a Christmas Carol). Marjorie read on and on putting forth a vast amount of energy and expression (as only Marjorie can.)

Well, Mr. Moore let her ramble on, not wishing to break up such a sweet, tranquil scene and to every once in a while Marjorie would stop and remark, "What's the joke?" The rest of the class knew what it was all about and were laughing—and how.

"I guess I can read French," she boomed and proceeded again. Poor Marjorie! Her reading story she happened to gaze towards the front of the room. There sat Mr. Moore listening ev'ry one contentedly and pleased. "If only there were a hole in this floor," was the faint murmur heard from Marjorie.

History

The twelfth grade American government class has been working on the history and government of his own state, while the tenth grade has been discussing the general history and partition of Africa. Our relationships with

In a recent issue of the public prints that Boswell of New York, Odd McIntyre, related how when he came to that metropolis he pounded the pavement for eighteen months in a vain effort to connect with a payroll.

At the end of that time he inventoried his remaining assets, consisting of forty-one dollars, blew the works for a handsome sartorial outfit and so impressed the first city editor that he called on afterward that he was given a job at once.

Which is merely an illustration for the old truism that, in private business it pays to maintain a decent appearance.

But in view of the general agreement on that point in private business, it is hard to understand community attitudes on the same subject. In other words, why is not an attractive appearance a business asset to a town, and a matter worthy of prayerful consideration by all interests that have the prosperity of the community at heart? By those who are interested in business there, and by those who have properties whose values they wish to maintain or increase?

Yet many opportunities to better appearances in Buchanan with outlay principally of labor are passed up every year. Those who call attention to them are eyed suspiciously as smacking of the sentimental or impracticable. That is not true of the big and hustling towns, the builders and promoters of which are not ashamed to own up to dreams of a "city beautiful," and to divert years of effort and millions of dollars to that end. That is, in part, the reason why they are big towns.

In a recent conversation with a man interested in city improvement because he owns property here, the following items of possible improvement were checked:

1. Making beauty spots out of eye sores of the mill race and McCoy's creek at the two places where they enter the business district on Oak street and Front street. At each place and especially at the latter point the stream is a hideous assembly of debris.

2. Improvement of the lot owned by the Bremer Estate on Front street opposite the junction with Days avenue, which now looms desolately staring in the face all who enter the business section from the south, as prominent as a frontal dental gap.

Standard Has New Motor Oil At Lower Price

Standard Oil is introducing a new motor oil claimed to have remarkable performance characteristics made possible by recently developed refining processes. The processes are known as propylene dewaxing and thorex extraction. In the first, complete dewaxing of the oils is accomplished by dissolving them in liquefied petroleum gases held under high pressure. In the second, the undesirable fractions of the motor oil base stock are dissolved out with chemicals, leaving only the choice fractions.

Additional of these processes to previously known methods has resulted in an oil which the company states exhibits on test an amazing durability. This is attributed to its exceptional resistance to heat and cold as well as to oxidation. In the "aging" and "standing" tests, it "stands up" even under the most adverse driving conditions. Because of its durability the new motor oil is heralded as virtually free from any tendency to deposit sludge. On this account it will be sold as the first anti-sludge motor oil ever made generally available to meet the severe driving conditions prevalent today.

The new oil will be known as "Iso-Vis D", the latter distinguishing it from the Iso-Vis previously sold.

Meeting the demand of the times for low prices the company has already announced that, in spite of the improvements, the new oil will sell at five cents a quart less than the old, or 25c.

An extensive advertising and educational program has been undertaken in connection with introduction of the product. Motorists will be shown the nature of sludge deposits in engines and the unique manner in which the new oil prevents sludging troubles.

The mixture of road grit, water and worn-out oil which accumulates in crankcases has long been known as the enemy of motors and the cause of engines wearing out before their time. The company will use in its advertising the sculptured figure of "Old Joe Sludge" to personify the stealthy enemy at work in the dark of the engine crankcase. "Old Joe" will be seen in a series of advertisements that will appear in leading newspapers in the thirteen states in which the company does its principal marketing.

B. H. S. English Department is Praised on Work

Mrs. Velma Dunbar, head of the local English department was the recipient of congratulations last week on the occasion of the announcement of the fourth honor won by a member of her department in the annual contest held under the auspices of the Scholastic, national high school magazine.

The honor won this year was an honorary mention by Miss Allene Riley for her one-act play, "An Episode." The Dramatic Publishing Co. donor of the prizes for drama entries, sent the following letter to Mrs. Dunbar:

"I wish to congratulate you on the excellence of your teaching as evidenced in the quality of the work submitted by members of your class, one of whom received an award in The Dramatic Publishing Company One-Act Play Awards Contest recently conducted by Scholastic.

"It so happened that in this contest the standard of the work submitted was unusually high. Indeed, one of our distinguished judges wrote: 'As a whole the plays are an interesting lot—decidedly better than the last lot I judged—and these came from college students.' Where the standard is so high it is a signal honor for a play to be rated among the best thirteen of all the plays submitted. Please accept our congratulations on the quality of the instruction that is the foundation of such work.

"With best wishes for your continued success, I am, Sincerely yours, The Dramatic Publishing Co., R. L. Seigel, President."
