DIAMOND WIZARD OF OTHER DAYS COACHING HERE

Herb Niles Gives Tips on Diamond Science to Boys of Old Home Town Which Gave Him His Start.

The Buchanan Merchants, exponents of the national pastime in this vicinity, are fortunate in the services of Herb Niles, former big league speed merchant, as coach.

For Herb Niles, one of the greatest figures in the baseball world of 25 years ago, has come back to the quiet of the old home town to spend—well, perhaps not his declining years, but the years the old eye and the old arm are not cunning enough for the exacting rigor of big league play.

And the coaching? Well, Buchanan gave Niles his start in baseball and perhaps it is only fair that he pass some of his skill and his knowledge of diamond science to the succeeding generations.

Niles began his baseball career with the old Buchanan Blues as a boy of sixteen years over thirty years ago, but so pronounced was his talent that he was speedily graduated to higher ranks until he became known as the fastest player in either of the two main national organizations.

At his cottage at 401 E. Chicago Street he has a wealth of newspaper clippings and trophies to prove his prowess and standing in the baseball world in the early years of the 19th century.

His title to speed was won in a 100 yard sprint against Al Burch, left field of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1906.

Niles, an outfielder with the St. Louis Browns, had previously been selected as the fastest man in the National League, and Burch had qualified as the speediest stepper in the American League.

During his first league experience came in 1901 when he played with Birmingham, N. Y., in the New York State League. Thence he went to Birmingham in the Southern League, where he played one year, leading the Southern League in hitting.

On the strength of his record, he was bought by the St. Louis Browns of the National League, with whom he played during the seasons of 1905-1906 and 1907.

Thence he went to the New York Yankees for the season of 1908. He played during the season of 1909, 1910 and part of 1911 with the Boston Red Sox.

He went to Cleveland during the season of 1911. Thence he went to Toledo of the American Association for three years and after that to St. Paul for four years.

After that he retired from active participation in baseball, taking a position as manager of the Flint Buick team which he held until 1931.

He played in the outfield at the beginning of his league experience but after breaking his arm in the season of 1907 he worked mainly at second base. In his time he swung a bat against the offerings of some of the greatest hurlers of all time, including Christy Mathewson, and Rube Waddell.

Niles stated that the Merchant's squad contains some first class though inexperienced talent. The game differs today from twenty and thirty years ago, he stated, mainly in the greater liveliness of the ball and the constant use of new balls, which greatly affects the hitting end of the sport.

A few decades back a pitcher was allowed to spit on the ball, grind it in the dirt and otherwise deface it until it could hardly be seen in poor light. A ball was used until it was nearly worn out and during the latter period of use would become "wriggled" i. e., rough surfaced, with projecting scuffs that caught the air and affected its course.

A pitcher would take a scuffed ball, smooth one side of it by rubbing it with an emery cloth and give it a deflection far greater than can be given to the smooth, new balls of today, when curves are limited to a few inches.

On this account batting averages were much lower in the old days, when scarce half a dozen players would bat .300 in the big leagues. Players then resorted more often to sacrifice hits of one base, instead of the grand slams that are counted the box office attractions of the present day.

Mr. and Mrs. Niles live alone in their cottage here, surrounded by the trophies and mementoes of the days of his baseball fame. A son, Harry Niles, is athletic director and basketball coach at the Green Bay (Wisconsin) Vocational School.

The Merchant's coach was the son of George F. Niles, a Civil War veteran who enlisted from Buchanan. The six brothers also reared here are now all dead.

Book Worms Cashed The lethal chamber idea has been applied to book worms. A librarian in charge of valuable books at Pasadena, Calif., has devised a gas chamber in which all the volumes are submitted periodically to a de-worming process.

In Days Like These It's Not Confession

Editor Record,

I noticed in particular, your confession to being a Democrat, and have published a bit of my letter, not published, were in any manner to blame for it. There is a book entitled "American Politics," Cooper, by Hon. Thomas V. Cooper and Hector C. Fenton, Esq., which I suggest you read. A complete history of the politics of the country from the beginning up to date of publication, in 1922, non-partisan, telling the acts and plans of every party, from the Whigs and Tories brought from England in 1836, the first part of their existence, up to about 1770, purely a social existence, as England attended to all of the politics of this country during that period, but when the question of cutting loose from England began to be agitated, they took part, the Tories against our independence, and did everything to prevent, while the Whigs were the ones we had to depend upon for our success. When the war was gained, the Tories then fought against the formation of a strong central government and demanded State sovereignty or what would have been separate and independent kingdoms and was later in 1861 the basis for the secession of the southern states by the Democratic party, the successors of the Tories.

In the interim that party has been on the wrong side of about every issue. This time they have the strongest hold on the country, and the present outlook appears a point more to an end of our form of government that has been before, and leading to something after the pattern of Mussolini.

The book was published by C. R. Brodick of Chicago. 1058 pages cost me in October 1932, $6.50 and is well worth it and no one who ever read it will vote again for the Democratic party for anything.

Respectfully, J. G. Holmes.

Foulkes Instructs Farmers on How to Refinance Mortgage

Congressman George Foulkes has requested that the Record reproduce the following letter for the enlightenment of farmers, who may be interested in securing a loan under the new Farm Refinancing bill:

You are an applicant for a farm loan under the New Farm Refinancing bill.

If your mortgage has not already been foreclosed, you have little to worry about at this time as we expect to have the new loans ready during the coming summer. It will take better than one year's time to get possession of your farm by foreclosure. Do not sign any deeds or waivers to the farm.

If your mortgage has already been foreclosed, you have time for redemption, expires within the next three months. I suggest that you see the mortgagee and ask him what the least amount in cash, he will accept to give complete release to the government. Make the best deal you can with him, as you will receive the benefits for yourself.

If your mortgage is held by any of the Federal Farm Loan Agencies, you write me at once, giving the serial number of the loan and such other information that will enable me to identify it easily.

If your mortgage is held by some private individual, also get his best offer for cash to release same to the government, any saving made will be to your credit. If you live in VanBuren county give this information to John Starford of Lawrence, Mich., who is familiar with these claims and who it is expected will receive the appointment to appraise lands.

Don't quarrel with the mortgagee. He may need the money you owe him to help save his own property elsewhere. Many farms are mortgaged for more than the proper mortgage valuation. Each case will be decided on its merits. I am trying to help you. You help me by maintaining friendly relations with your debtor.

Respectfully, George Foulkes.

State Sells Over 300,000 6-Mo. License Stickers

At the present time 9 half-rate permits are being sold by Department of State branch offices to one full rate 1933 motor vehicle license plate.

At the time the half-rate permits were placed on sale, the ratio for the first week was approximately three permits to one 1933 license plate; but the demand for permits has been comparatively steady so that department executives estimate that the present ratio is 9 to 1.

It is estimated that slightly more than 300,000 half-rate permits have been sold. The department originally purchased 300,000 blank permits. A second order of 100,000 additional permits was placed so that at the present time 380,000 permits have been sent to the branch offices.

The White Elephant Symbol Among the Burmese, the possession of a white elephant stands as a sign and symbol of universal sovereignty. Every Burmese king longs for the capture of such a treasure during his reign, as a token that his legitimate royalty is recognized by the unseen powers. When the animal might have been secured, but goes instead to those whom he regards as his enemies, the sign is all the other way.

Three Loves Woven in Fox "Cavalcade"

In "Cavalcade" which Fox Film Corporation brings to the screen of the Ready Theatre on Sunday, May 14th, Noel Coward has woven three romances into the pattern of his tapestry record of the march of the generation.

The first romance is one between husband and wife, a rather unique departure in these days when martial infidelities supply the theme for so many dramas.

It is this romance of the Marryots enduring through the trials and vicissitudes of the chaotic past thirty years that is said to add much power and strength to "Cavalcade."

The second romance starts with a boy and girl affair between the older Marryot son and Edith, the daughter of Mrs. Marryot's friend. It culminates in a happy honeymoon, fated for a tragic termination when the Titanic, on which they are passengers, goes down in mid-Atlantic.

The third is a modern-day sort of affair between young Joe Marryot, proud and handsome in his officer's uniform, and Fanny Bridges, a dancer, who is the toast of London, but whose parents formerly were servants of the Marryots. Their affair persists throughout the war years, Fanny steadfastly refusing to marry Joe or discuss the matter until peace is declared. Despite his protests she is skeptical of the attitude of his family toward their marriage.

Bird, farm agent of St. Joseph county, will be the principal speakers at a meeting of the Northern Indiana and Southern Michigan Egg Shipping Association which will be held Tuesday evening, May 16, beginning at 7:30 p. m. At Mentone a carload of eggs is shipped each week, bringing close to $2,000 to the shippers. This is being sponsored by the Niles Farmers Inc.

Americans Forget Saloon Conditions Say Adventists

To the Editor:

That Americans have forgotten the conditions that existed in pre-prohibition days when drunkenness was rampant seems evident from the demands that are constantly being made for the overthrow of the laws that have helped to keep our nation sober.

In speaking of just one liquor joint where hundreds of boys and girls were frequenters, the Chicago Record-Herald on July 10, 1911 said: "The place is a boozing garden, a dance hall and a saloon combined and is the rendezvous of hundreds of habits of the red light district who go there nightly, besides hundreds of boys and young girls from every section of the city." In this same paper, the evils of saloons and speakeasies were described under the heading: "Hundreds of Boys and Girls Crowd Saloons, Speakeasies," and the report declared that "Craps, shooting, pool playing for money, dancing and singing were indulged in by hundreds in nearly a score of saloons, concert halls, chop suey parlors, beer gardens built back of the saloons with the heavens as roofs."

Why not contrast the conditions existing in those days with the conditions that exist today, for surely prohibition has done wonders in the city of Chicago as proven by the following, which was printed in the Congressional Record of May 18, 1932, as a letter received by Senator Sheppard from Col. George H. Davis, head of the Salvation Army, in that city: "Among more than a million poor and unemployed with whom we have come in contact in the past 16 months, in the Chicago district alone, we find that under prohibition the evidence of drink as a factor has been reduced almost to the vanishing point." Col. Davis further stated that the women who came to his institution for help "who had been ruined through strong drink" are now less than one per cent. In fact, it is practically nil.

Why should we not keep the laws that will give such wonderful protection to our youth, the future leaders of our nation?

Bucks Sweep Field at County Meet at Niles

LOCALS CAPTURE FIRST PLACE IN EVERY CONTEST

Ellis Takes Three Firsts and Breaks Two Records; Topash, Donley and Weaver Star.

Buchanan's fighting "Bucks" after battling Class B opponents in the best part of the track season, went over to Niles last Monday and swept the other teams at their feet. Buchanan placed first in all twelve events and won many seconds and thirds. In other words the meet was all Buchanan from start to finish.

Ellis covered himself with glory for the locals by taking first in all three events that he entered. He now holds the county Class C and D records in these events which are: pole vault, high jump, and high hurdles. "Ang" Topash and "Pete" Donley were next in line for honors when they won two firsts. Topash won the shot put and mile run while Donley won the 100 yard dash and 220 yard dash. Lee Weaver, of the locals, broke his own record of last year in the half mile by four-tenths of a second. Ellis also broke the high jump record by 1/4 of an inch and the pole vault record by nine inches. The relay teams of the locals also knocked off one-tenth of a second off their own record made in 1931.

The teams entered in the meet were: Buchanan, Berrien Springs, Three Oaks and St. Joseph of Berrien Harbor. The score of the meet was: Buchanan, 39; St. Joseph, 18; Berrien Springs, 13; Three Oaks, 0.

"The enemies of the Bible have searched heaven and earth for every argument that might be used to refute its statements, destroy its teaching, and deny its miracles. Infidel scientists have marshaled against the Bible the chemist's tube, the astronomer's telescope, the explorer's fathoming rod, even the geologist's hammer. But against the assaults of cynics, of critics, of skeptics, the Bible stands unaltered, immovable, and unshaken—what Gladstone called the Impregnable Rock of Holy Scripture."—Evangeline Booth.

Christian Science Churches. "Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 14.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 476): "God is the Principle of Life, and the idea of God. Hence man is not mortal nor material. Mortals will disappear, and immortals, or the children of God, will appear as the only and eternal verities of man. Mortals are not fallen children of God. They never had a perfect state of being, which may subsequently be regained."

Michigan Weekly News Review
Bill to Reduce Weight Tax
A bill containing the recommendations of Secretary of State F. D. Fitzgerald that automobile weight tax fees be reduced to three, six and nine dollars, is being drawn up for presentation to the legislature in the near future. Since the recommendation was made public 10 days ago, state approval of the idea has been shown by the large volume of letters reaching the Department of State, expressing the writers' endorsements of the plan. That there already exists in the legislature a strong sentiment for reduction of weight tax fees is known as several other measures calling for reductions in license fees have been introduced.

The bill now being prepared sets the tax for light automobiles at $3; for medium-weight cars at $6; and for heavy cars at $9. It is estimated that the reduction in weight tax revenues would lower weight tax revenues about 66 per cent under present levels, but no accurate estimate is possible. By lowering the fees, a large number of automobiles, now not being used, would be returned to the roads.

At the time of making the recommendation, Mr. Fitzgerald was just as emphatic in announcing his disapproval of any increase in the gasoline tax. Real tax reduction does not mean the shifting of the burden from the right to the left hand, he said.

Larger Income From State Oil Land
An 80 acre lease of state-owned land in Midland county may bring the state of Michigan an income of more than $100,000 within the next year through royalties received from an oil lease according to the Department of Conservation.

One of the largest producing wells ever reported in Michigan has been brought in on state-owned property.

The well, about a mile north of the new Otway well in the Porter Township field has a production capacity indicated at more than 4,000 barrels a day. Under the lease agreement drawn by the Company with the Department of Conservation, the state receives royalty from the oil produced which under the present rates will bring in income to the state of about $350 a day.

CONSTRUCTION OF M-174 SCHEDULED TO START AT ONCE

Engineers Arrive This Week; Contract in Hands of McKenzie Construction Co. of Dearborn.

Construction of M-174, the spur from Buchanan to M-80, at an early date was assured this week by the arrival of W. S. Moore, the maintenance engineer, from the state highway office at Kalamazoo to assume charge of the repaving here.

The contract was let March 22 to the McKenzie Construction Co. of Dearborn, Mich., submitters of the low bid of $20,041.82. The specifications call for a twenty foot concrete pavement 1.086 miles in length. The right of way angles across the eastern shoulder of the Chamberlain hills opposite the Fred Howe residence, cutting across the lots owned by Ed Toll, Ava Schram, Jack Knight and May Lister, intersecting Portage street where Hobart Street enters.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore have moved into the lower flat in the Treat property at 103 Charles Court. H. W. Edgar, instrument man for the work, also arrived with his family, renting a flat in the Alfred Mead property at 103½ Lake st. Benjamin Taffy, right of way agent for the state highway department, is spending several days here settling with property owners for the right of way.

County Cuts Budget $40,000
A 1934 county budget of $291,608 exclusive of debt service, which does not come under the tax limitation amendment, was adopted unanimously Friday by the county board of commissioners on Friday, this figure representing a reduction of $40,407 from the $332,015 for the present year.

This does not mean a reduction of $40,000 in the tax levy, as the estimated income from outside sources next year will be $26,000, as compared with $50,000 this year. This will leave a net of $265,608 to be levied in taxes next year, as compared with $252,015 this year, a reduction of $13,593. This levy will require a 1934 tax rate of 3.55 out of the 15 mill maximum. More than a third of the county budget will be required to carry on the health and poor relief work of the county, a total of $103,225.

Close Vincent Hotel
The Vincent Hotel was closed last week when D. J. O'Connor, county political leader, and manager of the concern for the past eight years, moved $40,000 in furnishings out and stored them in the Stock building, formerly the quarters of the Gimore Department store, for eventual sale to the public. The closing climaxed several weeks of financial negotiations on the part of O'Connor, ending in failure. Several months ago the mortgage holders took over the property because the bonds and interest were in default. O'Connor was the head of the company owning the furnishings and failed to effect an agreement with the trustee of the bondholders. He announced that unless he could effect a deal for the sale of the furnishings he would close and store them. The climax came Thursday when Sheriff Miller, in behalf of the trustee, took charge of the building.

appeared before the Circuit Court Saturday and accounted for $18,000 in Liberty bonds which were supposed to be part of the estate of her mother, the late Mrs. Martha Brant of Benton Harbor, and which had been missing. She explained that the bonds had belonged to her uncle, the late Henry Carpenter, a brother of her mother, who had lived in Montana. The bonds had been sent by the Carpenter estate to the Farmers & Merchants National Bank & Trust Co. of Benton Harbor in 1921. He left the bonds in the care of Mrs. Becht, who had cashed the coupons and deposited the interest to the account of her mother, who from time to time forwarded it to her brother. Later Carpenter sold several thousand dollars worth of the bonds. The fact that the interest had been deposited to the account of Mrs. Brant gave rise to the belief that the bonds were a part of her estate.
