Umpire Explains Umpire Hess wishes to make the following explanation of why Bailey was called safe at home. The catcher interfered with the batter, which entitles the runner to score, and should put the batter on first base, however the batter stepped out of the box, so the umpire did not allow him to go to first. There was no partiality shown.

Marvin Gross, Helen Mogford Awarded Scholastic Honors: Glen Jesse, Mary Richter Honor Cup Awards.

Sixty-one members of the graduating class of 1933 gathered up their stamped and embossed rolls or paper commonly known as sheepskins, shook out their long grey robes and left the environs and associations of Buchanan high school last night, leaving behind them a large contribution to the scholastic and athletic achievements of the school.

They were sped on their way by a terse and practical address by the Rev. George Horst, pastor of the Congregational church of St. Joseph, who spoke from the text taken from the marriage ritual, "For Better, For Worse" applying the theme to the attitudes essential to achievement by the young people facing the world today. Rev. Horst illustrated his text by a vivid relation of the life stories of Joseph Pulitzer and A. Steinmetz, emigrants, who entered the American scene as youths handicapped both economically and physically and yet carved out distinguished careers.

Presentation of the scholastic awards of the year was made by Principal Arthur Knoblauch. Marvin Gross was presented as the valedictorian of the class, with a perfect record of 160 honor points out of a possible 160. Gross was characterized as one of the most brilliant students in the history of the school, with a record of extra-curricular achievement in debating, music and other lines. Miss Helen Mogford was introduced as the salutatorian of the class with a record of 152 honor points out of a possible 160. The silver cup for citizenship donated by the Buchanan State Bank was presented to Glen Jesse for his record as an all-around student and athlete. This award was made on the basis of a vote by the student body. The award for distinguished scholarship was made to Miss Mary Richter on the basis of selection by the faculty for work of an unusual character. This award was a silver cup donated by the First National bank.

Superintendent H. C. Stark presented a short talk on the problems confronting the school for the coming year. The presentation of diplomas was made by the president of the board, M. L. Hanlin. Music was furnished by a vocal trio composed of Mesdames H. C. Stark, E. C. Pascoe, Arthur Knoblauch accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Harry Geiss and by the high school octette.

Rev. Rice Delivers Baccalaureate On Theme, Road Ahead Rev. Thomas Rice delivered the Baccalaureate address for the Buchanan high school graduating class of 1933 Sunday evening at the auditorium which was packed by the relatives and friends of the graduates for the occasion. Rev. Rice spoke from the theme, "The Road Ahead," illustrating his text by the advice which he had received from a filling station attendant when asking for the whereabouts of the new $1,000,000 highway from Benton Harbor to South Haven: "You can't miss the road, it's marked and numbered." He divided the various highways of life and marked them for the graduates as follows: High Achievement, Temptation, Blame, God.

Rev. Father John R. Day delivered the invocation, Rev. W. F. Boettcher the scripture reading and Rev. Dewey Rowe the benediction. Three beautiful selections were presented by the high school mixed chorus, directed by R. K. Robinson.

HISTORIC RESIDENCE DEMOLISHED TO MAKE WAY FOR PAVING M-174

May Lister Brick House Built by Fred Howe, Pioneer Bertrand Settler, in 1861.

The right of eminent domain is responsible this week for the passing of one of the oldest homes of Buchanan, the May Lister house at Portage and Hobart streets, which is being demolished to permit the rerouting of M-174. The old brick house was built in 1861 by Frederick Howe, grandfather of Frederick W. Howe, and one of the earliest settlers of the Portage Prairie section. Howe bought the land on which the house stands in 1848, when he purchased the eighty described as the S. W. 1/4 of the S. W. 1/4 of Section 36, Buchanan Township, from Oliver Nickels.

He came to this section first in 1831, 102 years ago, when he rode through the forest and wilderness on horseback from Truxton, Corland county, New York. He returned to Truxton, and in 1835 he came again this time in a buckboard drawn by one horse. This time he was definitely seeking a home, and he acquired the old Howe homestead, south of the present Howe school.

He returned to Truxton and his return to settle was delayed two years by the illness and death of his father, Antipas Howe. In 1838, however, he undertook his move to this country in a covered wagon, accompanied by his wife, Polly Eliza Howe, by his mother, Johanna Howe and by his twelve children. Arriving he established his home on the Howe homestead, where he lived until 1861, a matter of 26 years.

In that year he built the brick house which has since that time been the property of one of his descendants. He made his home there until his death in 1864. The structure was purchased by E. C. Wonderlich, who is having the structure wrecked and is removing the materials. The wreckers state that the interior is constructed of fine hardwood timber, most of which is very well preserved. The joists are of white poplar or tulip wood. The doors are of solid walnut.

It is believed that this is the second oldest house within the city limits on the south side of the tracks, the residence now occupied by E. S. Arney being possibly older.

The impression appears to be prevalent that the Civic Association, which meets every Monday evening in the Gross building, is closed to persons not in business in Buchanan. This is not the case. Anyone interested in Buchanan and vicinity is invited to become a member of the organization and attend its meetings, whether in business or not.

RECORD THROG ATTEND MEMORIAL SERVICE TUESDAY

Five Hundred School Children March in Parade with the Veterans to Cemetery. Defying the threat of rain, the 1933 Memorial observances were marked by one of the largest processions to Oak Ridge cemetery in the 57 years during which the day has been observed here. A special feature this year was the presence in the parade of 500 school children accompanied by nearly all of the members of the local faculty, who marched with the senior class in cap and gown at their head from the Legion hall to the cemetery and return.

At the cemetery an eloquent address was delivered by Rev. Thomas Rice, according to the tradition of the heroes of war and peace. Rev. Rice paid a special tribute to an unknown hero of peace, Benjamin Rush, who as a member of President Monroe's administrative family, was mainly responsible for the removal of all fortifications and defense from the Canadian border by both Canada and the United States.

A special position of honor was accorded to George Hanley and Samuel Bunker, the only survivors of the former 187 members of the Buchanan G. A. R. unit. The graves of soldiers were profusely decorated with flowers given by the public to the Legion. Legion and Auxiliary officials extend thanks to the public for their co-operation in the donation of flowers and the program of the day.

Much regret was expressed for the absence of John Dick who had been in charge as chairman of all Memorial services for many years, but was unable to be present Tuesday on account of ill health.

Clark Production In May Exceeds Same Period of Last Year

Activity at the local plant of the Clark Equipment company has made a very encouraging increase since the low spot in March, according to plant officials, with a corresponding increase in pay rolls. The most encouraging feature of the situation is the fact that May production and employment exceeds materially that of the same period a year ago. This is the first time since the depression started that the May production of any year was in excess of that of the previous year.

WOULD-BE BANDIT LOSES NERVE IN ROBBERY ATTEMPT

Chief of Police Fires Several Shots at Fugitive, Who Escapes in a Stolen Chrysler Sedan. "The nerve that failed" might have been the caption of the story of an attempted robbery which ended in a spectacular race between a car speeding backwards in reverse and a chief of police handicapped by overweight pursuing on foot.

Shortly before 9:00 a. m. Thursday a young man dressed in a blue suit walked into the office of the Farmer's Mutual Fire Insurance company and stated that he wanted some insurance. "What kind of insurance," asked A. F. Howe, who was in charge of the office at the time. "Car insurance," replied the visitor.

"We sell fire insurance here," said Howe. "Mr. Swartz has a line of car insurance but he is at his home. You can telephone him from here if you want to." "No, I'll wait until I catch him in," replied the young man, and then suddenly changing his tactics, he whipped out a small revolver and shoved it in the general direction of Mr. Howe's mid-dle vest buttons, barking, "This is a stick-up."

Charles Pears was seated at a south window with his back turned. "This means you, too," said the customer, now turned bandit. "Get up here and get in line." As Pears delayed obedience, the bandit walked over to him, still keeping his gun trained on Howe, and, reaching over, grasped him by the front of his coat to haul him to his feet. Pears got to his feet and walked over and sat down on a table.

"That won't do," objected the invader, "Get over here in line. As Pears finally lined up in front of him with Howe, the visitor inquired: "How much is there in that drawer there?" "Nothing," replied Howe. "I've got to see it."

He indicated a drawer in the desk used as a till, indicating that in some way he "had the lay" of the office. "Nothing," replied Howe. "I'll have to see for myself," ordered the bandit. "Open it up." Howe, who had not put up his hands, pulled the drawer open and showed that it was empty. "How much is there in the safe?" the robber inquired. "Oh, just a few dollars to make change with," replied Howe. "But they suddenly he shouted at the intruder. "Get out."

In the meantime Pears rushed to the window on Main street and attempted to raise it, being delayed by trouble in working the catch. The bandit ran out in the coming back. "Go on, keep going," shouted Howe, as Pears finally got the window open and shouted to Chief Mitchell to get the man who had run down the stairs. The would-be bandit, a well-set-up man of 25, had by that time gotten under speed and was running like a deer. Mitchell sighted him as he dodged between the cars into the street opposite the Snyder Cafe and fired one shot. The bullet lent wings to the bandit's heels and he sprinted across the street at a rate that would have made Coach Bradfield's speed merchants look like slow-motion film figures.

Mitchell drew to shoot as he emerged on the sidewalk in front of Child's Funeral Home, but at that moment a woman came down from Dr. Strayer's office in the line of fire. Mitchell shouted at her to get out of the way but by the time the way was clear, the bandit had almost reached the Break Up Counterfeit Ring Operating at Twin Cities. Federal secret service men believe that they have broken up one of the largest counterfeiting rings in the country with the arrest of two women and six men charged with having passed counterfeit bills of a $10 denomination recently in the Twin City section. Federal agents arrested Miss Neva Pettiette, 26, and Miss Dorothy Walker, 20, William DuPont and Frank O'Brien, all of Chicago, in Detroit Thursday. Afterwards two other men were arrested in Chicago and it is rumored that the two furnished the bills for their confederates.

Kettlehaat Named Bridgman Postmaster. William Kettlehaat has been named acting postmaster at Bridgman to succeed Bert W. Klackles, according to announcement by Representative George Rouleau. Kettlehaat is a World War veteran, who received the endorsement of Legion members. He will hold office as acting postmaster until the time for the regular examination, after which, if he passes, he will be confirmed for the four year post. The office is of the second class, and previous to the fifteen per cent cut paid $2,900 per year.

Twin City liquor dealers are attempting to force reconsideration of the appointment of the Leon C. Grove Company of Cassopolis as exclusive warehouse agents for the Fourth Congressional District. Dealers of those cities state that if all beer must be secured from Cassopolis warehouse, the price will go up at least 30c per case. A formal request for a Twin City store house was sent to Lansing. Dr. James Gordon Bonine of Cassopolis stated that he intended later to grant other licenses. At present all beer sold in the Fourth Congressional district must be stamped at the Cassopolis warehouse.

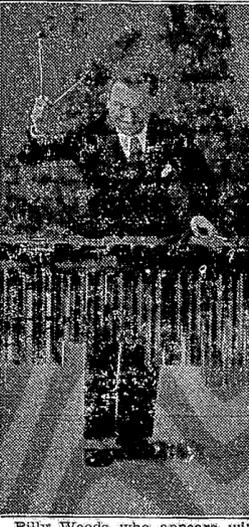

Bridgman Protests Removal of Postmaster. Removal of Bert W. Klackles, postmaster at Bridgman for the past 23 years, before the end of his term has been protested by business men of that city, who term the removal of the veteran public servant as a political move, and the beginning of a new era of other political offices held by Republican officials with some time to serve. Although a Republican, Klackles has served under both Republican and Democratic administration. He was appointed during the administration of Taft and has since been reappointed in the administrations of Wilson, Harding, Coolidge and Hoover.

Before his appointment as postmaster he served ten years as a postal clerk and general all-around man under the late F. H. Whipple.

Judge White Sentences Two Gunned. Rea Lambright, 27, Elkhardt, who was captured by Niles police after a gun battle while he was attempting to escape after kidnaping and robbing the attendant at a Bridgman filling station, was sentenced to from five to ten years in the state reformatory at Ionia, sentence being imposed by Judge Charles White in the Berrien county Circuit Court Friday.

Harold Newman, alias Richard Clinton, 22, Belleville, Wis., was captured by South Bend police last November after holding up a filling station at Niles. His partner, Malcolm Slicer, who had escaped from the Alabama State penitentiary, demanded an examination, which was set for June 1. G. O. P. Ex-Service Men Organize.

He was the eldest son of George and Catherine Dearoff Hall, born April 4, 1852, in Buchanan township, Mich. Their home was the southwest eighty of the township which they left in 1865, to move to Foweshiek county, Ia., where they have since had their home, and the most popular citizen, the mark of popularity being in his being kept continuously in the office of city mayor over 25 years.

J. G. HOLMES.

The Cordial Good Will continually shown us is convincing evidence of the appreciation of our endeavors to furnish a service of unexcelled quality and price.

The Childs Funeral Home

Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich. May 22, 1933 I suppose that I may claim to be the first Ford Dealer. I not only made cars, but sold them and frequently delivered them myself. The "drive away" is not new; often I have driven cars from Detroit to towns in Ohio or Indiana or Michigan to make delivery. There were no good roads in those days, and the people where I drove had never seen a motor car before. My first really enthusiastic customers were Country Doctors. They were the first to realize the value of dependable transportation to a widely scattered practice. Even today I occasionally hear from some of those first Ford users. We had to teach local mechanics how to care for the cars. That is how Ford Service began, which is now found everywhere in the world. We believed from the beginning that a sale does not complete our transaction with our customer — it creates upon us an obligation to see that our customer's car gives him service. Ford Dealers know their duty to the public in this respect. I can say of Ford Dealers generally that they have been and are men of character and standing in their communities. Most of them have been with us many years, which indicates that we agree on basic business principles. The Company provides that the methods used to sell the Ford car are consistent with the self-respect of the Dealers who handle it. The present Ford V-8 is the peak of our 30 years experience. We have never made a better car. Its eight-cylinder engine is powerful and smooth running. The car is admittedly very good looking and has comfortable riding qualities. It is economical in operation because of advanced engine design and low car weight. It is the fastest, roomiest and most powerful car we have ever built. Henry Ford

ANNOUNCE STAFF FOR MADRON LAKE BOY SCOUT CAMP

Leo Slate to Again be in Charge of Handicraft; Camping Rates Lower This Year.

The following men will supervise the operation of Camp Madron, the popular Boy Scout Camp during its eighth season: Oscar Noll, Scout Executive, who has directed camps for the past 11 years, will again be the director and business manager of the camp. Josef Cauffman, commissioner of Scouting in Dowagiac, will be in charge of the advancement program, first aid rooms and camp fire programs. Mr. Cauffman has had several years experience in camp work both in Dowagiac and Battle Creek. Curtis Osborn, who has been connected with the Scouting program for years, and who has been waterfront director at Madron for two years, will again hold that position. Ora Morningstar, who is assistant coach in the Dowagiac high school, and who also has had much success in Scout Troop work, will be the activity director of the camp.

Leo Slate, successful Scout leader in Buchanan for several years, and also a staff member at Madron for two years, will again be in charge of all handicraft work. Hart Morris of Cassopolis, will again be his assistant. Hart has assisted at Madron for four years. Robert Van Brunt of St. Joseph, will be assistant waterfront director and teach beginning swimming. Mr. Van Brunt has also been a staff member at Madron for four years. Robert Fletcher of Benton Harbor will handle the boat schedules and teach canoeing and sailing.

Ralph Marks of Benton Harbor, scoutmaster of Troop No. 7 will be clerk of the camp. Mr. Marks has been a commissioner in Benton Harbor for several years and has given a great deal of time to the work.

Mrs. E. Noll, who has cooked for several years at Madron, will again be in charge of the kitchen, and Howard Edwards of Niles will be in charge of the dining room. Joseph Alt of Benton Harbor will again be quartermaster and general caretaker for the building.

Tent leaders for the village type of camping have not yet been chosen, but there will be four outstanding Scouts with several years of experience in charge of the inspections and will act under the direction of Mr. Morningstar. The executive committee feels that with this personnel, the camp will have one of its most successful seasons. Madron has reduced its rates in proportion to general reductions in all lines. In fact the rate is much cheaper than a large percentage of the camps in the country. It is felt that by making these reductions, parents can well afford to send their boys to the camp for one or more periods so that they may receive the training under expert leadership. Many have expressed themselves to the effect that it will be cheaper to send the boys to camp than to try to supervise them in the city during the vacation period.

Many new features will be put in at Madron this year in the way of activities and awards in the program in general promises to be the finest yet attempted by the Scout Council.

Scout Executive Oscar Noll announced that registrations were coming in rapidly now and he advised that campers get their tent assignments in early to avoid disappointment. Last year 60 reservations were cancelled because of lack of room in the last period of the camp.

N. I. INTERURBAN PETITIONS FOR FARE REDUCTION

Receivership Asks State Utilities Commission for Reduction Rates Niles-St. Joseph.

The Northern Indiana Railway Inc., through its Receiver, R. R. Smith, has made application to the Public Service Commission of Indiana, the Michigan Public Utilities Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission and authority to reduce interurban fares to two cents per mile, and to sell agency round trip tickets at one and a half times the one way fare. Also to continue in effect the $2.50 penny coupon books which are sold for $1.75. This makes a reduction on the new fares of 80 per cent, or the cost of transportation by using coupon books is 1.4c per mile. Also new reduced rates on the bus fare.

It is expected that the different commissions will grant permission for the inauguration of those new low fares so that they can be put in effect somewhere about June 1. R. R. Smith states the reason for this new low fare on interurban cars is done with the thought of stimulating business by more riders in the hope that the revenue of the company may be increased to a more stable basis. The operation of interurbans during the past two years has been in a precarious condition, but with the firm hope and belief in the communities served by the interurban lines of the Northern Indiana Railway Inc., a strenuous effort has been put forth to continue their operation, pending the return in business, and with this new reduced fare in effect, it is hoped that the interurbans may continue to carry on and serve the transportation needs of the people living in the communities served by the Northern Indiana Railway, Inc.

John Holmes Adds Footnote to Democratic Record

Editor Record, True, there is but little reason for variation of the arguments of the C. O. P., simply to keep the record of the democratic before the people, and especially during the time between the dates, 1822 and 1882, in which came the most interesting part of that party's actions, when they made war against the U. S. starting in 1861 and running through the following four years, during which a lot of things were supposed to have been settled but which are not; for instance, Lincoln was said to have emancipated the slaves, which has been fully nullified, so the negroes are as much slaves as ever, the only real difference being that before the emancipation they were sold once in a lifetime or on settlement of master's estate, while now they are sold every time some deserving Democrat wants some of them to work without pay. They are sold for the time he wants to use them. Within the past three months I have read a newspaper report of exactly that sort of transaction in Mississippi, where the contractor wanted to use 50 men 30 days. So he made known his wants to the sheriff, who gets 50 pints of whiskey and sends his deputy out to distribute them, and return to him the list of men who has them. He then arrests the lot for violation of the liquor law. They are put into jail, tried and found guilty and sentenced to jail for 90 days and sold to that deservng Democrat, and there you have the 13th amendment shoved neatly aside in good democratic fashion.

When Hayes was elected the Democrats were so sure of getting Tilden, they filed with the government claims for all damages they had suffered while fighting the government, even to the time lost by their members while serving in the Democrat army and there they waited for just the condition that now prevails and looking for all of those claims to be paid within the coming two years. I have in my desk a letter from a congressman telling that several millions of dollars of those claims were paid during the Wilson administration, through what is called the "orange bill" the sweepings up of the last of the session.

B. H. S. Graduate Stars in Varied Lines Achievement

Unusual distinction was accorded twice during the present week to Marvin Gross, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Gross, in the form of the applause for his brilliant rendition of Liszt's Concerto at the Rice recital Monday evening and the special honorary mention given to him as valedictorian of the class of 1933 at the commencement exercises last night.

It can safely be said that his scholastic record has never been excelled, perhaps never equaled, by any student graduated by the Buchanan high school, inasmuch as he rated 160 honor points out of a possible 160, indicating that he received the highest possible marks in every study pursued during his four years of high school. This was achieved in spite of the fact that he gave much time to debating and other activities, and that he carried a heavy course during the entire time at the American Conservatory of Music at Chicago, constantly devoting from four to six hours per day to hard drill at the piano keyboard.

Although his high school scholastic record is perhaps more understandable to the general public, his achievements in music are undoubtedly much greater. A year ago he won the gold medal for excellence in music in the intermediate department of the American Conservatory. The previous year he was awarded a summer scholarship for special study under the world-famous pianist, Joseph Luevigne. Until the past two years, he composed music constantly and has fourteen compositions of various types to his credit. His rendition of the Liszt concerto in collaboration with the artist teacher, Mabel Webster Osmer of the American Conservatory, was proof of the fruits of his hard drill for those initiate in the intricacies of good music.

He was a member of the high school debating team three years, each year winning distinction for his keen and ready analysis of public subjects on the platform. As a freshman high school student he was awarded the state prize for the best essay on temperance submitted by a Michigan high school freshman.

Young Gross states that his future plans are not at present ready for announcement but that he is preparing himself for a career as concert pianist.

Christian Science Churches

"God, the only Cause and Creator" will be the subject of the lesson-Sermon in all the Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 4. Among the Bible citations is this passage, Ezekiel 18:2: "What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, 'The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?' As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 211): "It should no longer be said in Israel that 'the fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge.' Sympathy with error should disappear. The transfer of the thoughts of one erring mind to another, Science renders impossible."

Malcolm Hatfield, Judge of Probate. Wednesday evening meeting at 7:45.

Would-Be Bandit Loses Nerve In Robbery Attempt

(Continued from page 1) corner of Main and Dewey and Mitchell only got the shot before the fleeing bandit made the turn west. He sprang into a Chrysler sedan, later identified as one stolen that morning in South Bend, which he had left with the motor running on the north side of the Evangelical church, headed east. Without attempting to turn around, he threw the gears in reverse and backed up the hill all the way to Moccasin avenue, with Mitchell firing three shots at him as he went. Onlookers stated that the windshield of the car was shattered by a bullet, but the progress of the fugitive was not checked and he turned south on Moccasin, and west on Front street, driving out the Gallien road to Milton's corner, where he took a right turn east again to Hall's corner and thence south on the South Bend road.

Ralph Allen and Loren Voorhees leaped in the former's car and set out in pursuit but were unable to keep pace with the flying Chrysler. They kept in sight until the fugitive turned south on the Portage road to South Bend, when he sped out of sight.

"King Kong" at Ready Theatre Sun.

The possibility of an ape yearning for companionship of a woman whose fragile, golden beauty has stirred it to a never-before experienced emotion of protective tenderness is given a modern interpretation in RKO-Radio Pictures' "King Kong" coming Sunday, June 4th, to the Ready theatre, Niles.

Fay Wray plays the girl whose champion, greatly to her dismay and terror, is a gigantic anthropoid fifty feet tall and perhaps several million years old.

"King Kong" captures Miss Wray in the jungle and, instead of destroying her as he does almost the entire group of explorers with her, he preserves her life and treats her with a clumsy sort of tenderness, despite the fact that he could crush her between his thumb and forefinger. Finally, in the climax of the picture, he attempts to devastate New York City in a misguided, blundering effort to assist her.

Billy Wood with WLS Barn Dance

Although he is billed in the new WLS barn dance traveling unit as an xylophonist, Billy Wood in fact devotes most of his talent to performance on the marimbanophone, an instrument upon which he has devised many improvements. "The one he plays is made by a leading manufacturer of this type of instruments from a design conceived entirely by Wood. Incidentally, Billy Wood might be better known as the man with the $10,000 hands. He is one of the few percussion instrumentalists in the country upon whose skilled hands a nationally known risk company carries a policy in that amount. Wood is a product of the theatre having for the past few years been widely featured on the leading vaudeville circuits from coast to coast. Although extremely youthful he is outstanding as the greatest artist ever to play the marimbanophone and his skill with multiple hammers is almost uncanny. He is a Chicago youth and is now making his first appearance as part of a radio station production.

Wisner's Column

It's good to hustle—if we don't feel rushed. If we "make haste slowly," we avoid mistakes that are made when we are flustered by the need for getting something done in a hurry.

We get things done both better and faster when we both hurry and take our time. Nearly everybody has faced a hard problem, not knowing which way to turn—and the harder we tried for the answer, the less was our success.

Then we forgot all about that problem for a time—and sooner or later we found the answer without much thought.

In a way unknown to us, our mind went on working out that problem for us without our being aware of the process.

In this business we try to hurry without fluster in our efforts to please you.

Do Housework SHADOWS

Haunt YOU? If you do your housekeeping in out-of-date ways that squander time, youth, and health, thoughts of housework lurk in your mind even during hours of leisure. Thoughts of what you meant to do in the morning, but just didn't get done. Thoughts of tasks ahead which you know will be long and tiresome. Such thoughts are black intruders in otherwise pleasant moments. Dispel them by letting Electricity take care of the hard part of your housework.

There is hardly a household task—from doing the weekly laundry to making the breakfast toast—which Electricity cannot miraculously shorten and lighten. And for the services it performs so dexterously Electricity asks its wages in pennies only.

In the showrooms of your Electrical Dealer you will find the Electrical appliances you want on display. Now is the time to buy when prices are lower than ever.

Do Housework SHADOWS

Haunt YOU?

If you do your housekeeping in out-of-date ways that squander time, youth, and health, thoughts of housework lurk in your mind even during hours of leisure. Thoughts of what you meant to do in the morning, but just didn't get done. Thoughts of tasks ahead which you know will be long and tiresome. Such thoughts are black intruders in otherwise pleasant moments. Dispel them by letting Electricity take care of the hard part of your housework.

There is hardly a household task—from doing the weekly laundry to making the breakfast toast—which Electricity cannot miraculously shorten and lighten. And for the services it performs so dexterously Electricity asks its wages in pennies only.

In the showrooms of your Electrical Dealer you will find the Electrical appliances you want on display. Now is the time to buy when prices are lower than ever.
