TRUTH ABOUT PRICES WILL BE PUBLISHED

Will Show Who Gets Money if Sellers Use Higher Cost of Farm Products as Excuse for Overcharge.

Consumers of farm products are to be furnished, in the near future, with weekly reports from the government on the reasons for any commodity price increases.

Field workers of the United States Department of Labor and the United States Department of Agriculture are to gather and report price figures, while the Washington agencies tabulate and analyze them.

The field staffs of the two departments will gather retail prices on bread, milk, meat and other foods, in 50 cities and from more than 1,000 stores.

The reports will also cover any price increases resulting from the payment of higher wages and new employment, and will include any changes in prices of manufactured or other commodities that farmers buy.

The petition was filed by Aaron Fellman, representing the Smith stores and A. J. Levin, of Butzel, Levin & Winston, for other chains, with former Judge Robert S. Marx of Cincinnati, as counsel.

Other interested firms The other interested companies, with business turnovers which aggregate millions of dollars yearly, giving employment to thousands of workers, includes Kroger Grocery & Baking Co., Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., Remington Drug Stores, Inc., F. Newberry Co., Sears-Roebuck & Co., Grinnell Bros., United Shirt Distributors, Inc., the Fintex Corp., The Stouffer Corp., and the Awrey Bakeries. Others are expected to intervene.

The sales tax act, counted upon for $25,000,000 of revenue, is thus brought into jeopardy, whereas prospective revenue from chain store license fee is estimated at $800,000 annually.

Attorney Fellman's bill alleges discrimination in the exemption of gasoline dealers, charges confiscatory tendencies which threaten extinction for more than half of the 620 stores of the Smith chain which are large employers and pay heavily in other taxes, and stresses the fact that an unjust burden is imposed upon the consumer.

Triple taxation for the "privilege of doing business, is charged, first the corporation franchise fee paid annually, then the sales tax and finally the chain store license.

The chain store tax is roughly of the gross business, in addition estimated at from 1 to 2 per cent to the 3 per cent on gross proceeds in the sales tax.

The bill stresses that the tax was instituted by competitors for the purpose of injuring rival business and not for regulatory purposes or protection of the buying public.

STATE SALES TAX IS IMPERILED BY CHAIN STORE SUIT

Collection State Chain Store License Fee is Restrained By Temporary Injunction.

The following story was carried by Detroit papers under date of yesterday: The collection of the Michigan chain store license fee was restrained Tuesday by a temporary injunction issued by Circuit Judge Robert M. Toms pending the disposition of a suit attacking the constitutionality of the act brought by the C. F. Smith Co.

Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald, charged with administration of the act, and Attorney General Patrick H. O'Brien, are named in the restraining order.

The petition was filed by Aaron Fellman, representing the Smith stores and A. J. Levin, of Butzel, Levin & Winston, for other chains, with former Judge Robert S. Marx of Cincinnati, as counsel.

STATE OFFICIAL DEFINES POLICY PUBLIC WORKS

Give Preference to Projects Which Link in With Larger Road Units Rather than to Isolated Projects.

Leo J. Nowicki, member of the State Advisory Board of Public Works, states the policy of that body toward the granting of federal aid for projects in Michigan will be as follows:

The local governmental units will petition for funds on special blanks printed by the government. The petitions must be accompanied by general description of the projects and drawings, estimates of the costs in such detail that they may be Washington's hands of the economic and social values of the projects, estimates of the number of men to be employed each month and explanations as to whether the projects are part of a large or long-range program of development.

When we get these petitions, we will refer them to technical men to pass on details. If the State Advisory Board recommends that the Government accept and make grants for a project, copies of the projects and our recommendations will go forward to Washington and the regional advisor for this district.

The regional advisor will work with the national public works planning board. The final decision on the acceptance or rejection of a project will be Washington's hands.

The Public Works Administration is determined to make only safe loans. Statements must be filed showing the applicant's tax assessments for each of the last three fiscal years, the ratio of assessed value to actual value, the tax rate, bonded indebtedness, statement of tax delinquencies, uncollected taxes in short, a complete and detailed financial statement of the applicant.

Preference will be given to projects integrated with and consistent with a state plan rather than to the isolated or inconsistent projects which can be started promptly are to be preferred to those requiring delay; projects near centers of unemployment are to be preferred.

The Federal Government will make outright grants, not to exceed 30 per cent of the cost of labor and materials employed upon the project, for waterworks, sewers and sewage disposal developments, highways, bridges and tunnels, and the like.

Governor Comstock has announced that he expects release of federal funds soon for public works projects in Michigan for which the government has allotted $130,000,000 to this state. The Governor stated that projects costing $30,000,000 are ready to begin and that additional jobs at the rate of $10,000,000 a month can be provided to help take up the unemployment slack in the state.

The state committee has been appointed and others are to be named for the public works program, and just as soon as this is done the work program can be launched, the governor said. The trade recovery committee has $30,000,000 worth of work ready and we feel certain that $10,000,000 a month can be added until Michigan's apportionment of $130,000,000 has been used. Thirty per cent is donated by the federal government.

Ninety-Year Old Ex-Resident Sends Verse from N. Mex.

Mrs. Nancy Studebaker, native and pioneer resident of the Bakerstown section, and a frequent writer for the Record from her present home at Springer, N. Mex., sends the following lyrical tribute to her native town:

You ask what town I love the best, Buchanan, Buchanan. The dearest town of all the rest, Buchanan.

McCoy's creek of early fame, We surely know how it was named From pioneers who earlier came Buchanan, oh Buchanan.

I've traveled East and also West I've loved Buchanan far the best With her pretty hills of leafy green, Which down hill flows, Peacefully, serene. Buchanan, oh Buchanan.

We have read of Buchanan's fame From when she rose, from where she came Buchanan, Buchanan.

But this is sure, she is on the map How she came, I care not a rap, Buchanan is Buchanan, "That." We read the story of the past, The deeds she's done, The fame she's had. Buchanan, Buchanan.

As long as time, her courses run She will honor her patriot sons And not forget her fallen ones, All join with me, In greeting thee In 1933.

NANCY STUDEBAKER WRITES OF LETTERS TO SOLDIER BOYS IN THE YEARS OF THE CIVIL WAR

Of the Booming of the Guns in Buchanan When the News Came of the Fall of Vicksburg.

Editor Record,

I wish to acknowledge the receipt of the Centennial edition of July 26. You certainly sent out a splendid edition with much credit to yourself and city. The very first paper printed in Buchanan, a small paper folded once, was called the Vindicator. I wrote three poems then which were published in full. I was of the poetical age about 12 years old. Soon every poem that came out was accredited to me by the readers. Subjects were "Spring," "Winter," "Love," anything, everything, until I was obliged to lay aside poetry, doing much writing to soldier boys during the Civil war and my letters were thankfully received and appreciated by them.

Will send a few names: Henry Curtis, Michigan Infantry, John Cowles, Henry Chesterman, Geo. Vandeventer, Charles T. Edick of a New York Infantry and Hinman Cornish, who gave up his life at Pea Ridge battle in the Western division and my brother, Milton J. Smith of the 6th Michigan Infantry, who died at Ship Island, May 22, 1862 under Ben Butler, then on his way to take Vicksburg, which was a rebel stronghold. The northern army got possession July 3 or 4, 1863. I never have forgotten the day. I was teaching south of Bakertown on the Chicago road, and heard the booming of guns, all throughout the day but did not know until evening of the great victory. Great excitement and joy followed. Prospects of peace and boys returning home with their flags. Long joy it gave over the land of the free and the home of the brave.

I remain,
Mrs. Nancy Studebaker.

Stage Success Now a Talkie

Young married couples who find themselves smothered by in-laws will have sympathy for the characters played by Helen Hayes and Robert Montgomery in "Another Language," which opens Sunday, Aug. 20 at the Ready Theatre in Niles for three days. In the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature, filmed from the famous Rose Franken stage hit, the "heavy" is the husband's mother, whose devotion to his interests becomes a selfish rivalry against the young wife's love.

The husband's family, middle-classed and clannish, resents the bride's interest in art and "high-brow" ideals. The results are much the same as to be found in the complications of many families. Miss Hayes plays the part of Stella, the young wife. Montgomery is Vickie, her husband. The difficult mother role is played by Louise Closser Hale.

E. H. Griffith, who directed the film, describes the sensational success of the play as being due to its accurate portrayal of characters familiar to average American families. Every family album, he says, contains such portraits.

Included in the cast of the film are John Beal, Henry Travers, Margaret Hamilton, Willard Robertson, Irene Cattell, Minor Watson, Hal Dawson and Maidel Turner. Most of the action takes place in the family flat, while other scenes are placed aboard a ship, in an art school and in the newlyweds' apartment.

Judge Hatfield Reveals Insane Figures for County

Judge Malcolm Hatfield completed a survey of the insane persons from Berrien county that are now confined in the Kalamazoo State hospital. He finds that there are 113 women and 119 men.

The various cities and villages of the county are represented by the following number of inmates each:

Benton Harbor, 60; Niles 34; Eau Claire, 6; Three Oaks, 5; New Buffalo, 5; Coloma, 4; Berrien Springs, 4; St. Joseph, 3; Buchanan, 1; Watervliet, 4; Baroda, 5; Stevensville, 4; Galien, 4; Nov Troy, 1.

Two of this number from Berrien county entered the Kalamazoo state hospital between 1875 and 1885, four entered between 1885 and 1890, three entered between 1890 and 1895, three entered between 1895 and 1900. The probate judges who committed these people were Daniel Chapman, A. E. Leeds, David E. Hinman and J. J. VanRiper. Thirteen were committed by judges who held office in the old court house at Berrien Springs. When many of these people were adjudged insane, most of our present county officers had not yet seen the light of day.

Thirteen persons, now inmates of the Kalamazoo state hospital entered between 1900-1905, five between 1905-10, sixteen entered between 1910-15, thirty between 1915-20, thirty-two between 1920-25, fifty-three entered between 1925-30, while fifty-one entered between 1930-32. Seventeen have been committed this year. The court has not as yet compiled the figures showing those who have died or been discharged from the hospital since 1875.

Berrien county pays the costs for the first year of all persons admitted. After the first year the state assumes full financial responsibility. It is estimated that the state has spent approximately thirty-six thousand dollars on the two Berrien county residents that were committed to Kalamazoo fifty-six years ago.

"PLAYS" COLOR AND LIGHT WITH MUSIC

A new kind of show, synchronizing color, light and music as a prelude and setting for motion pictures is Standard Oil's contribution to A-Century of Progress Exposition.

Through operation of special projection machines in a giant red crown in the center of the dome of the Travel and Transport Building, the interior walls of the dome become a cyclorama of whirling light patterns and colors. At the same time the building is filled with special modern music in which sounds of industry at work are a dominating theme.

The motion pictures, which are also shown from the red crown on four large screens at once tell the story of oil, described by a picture in one of the inscriptions as "the power that moves the wheels of tractors, turbines, automobiles."

The complicated electrical equipment by which the show is developed is operated almost without human action, by the playing of a single record in a contraption system. The record gives the current to each piece of equipment as the turn is reached and cuts it out when it has played its part.

Final accounts were filed in the estates of Fannie Brooks and Gordon C. Murphy, deceased.

Judge Malcolm Hatfield closed the following estates: Hannibal Walker, Orville C. Minium, and Peter Sutphin, deceased and Loren R. Babcock, minor.

Three County Road Jobs Approved by Federal Government

Three Berrien County highway projects have been approved as a part of the public works program of Michigan under the federal recovery act, the jobs and their estimated cost being:

Grading and surfacing 1.9 miles of M-60, Three Oaks east, $57,000.

Surfacing extension of M-139 (Somerset road) eight-tenths of a mile from Napier avenue to Pipestone street, Benton Harbor, $20,000.

Grading and surfacing of a quarter mile cut-off on US-12 at Coloma, to bypass the business district of the village, $8,000.

The state highway department, meanwhile, backed with federal authorization, was preparing to swing into action on 69 projects in 39 counties, to cost an estimated $3,215,000, and provide work for several thousand men.

2,000 Chevrolets Assembled on the World Fair Grounds

Assembly of new automobiles in the plant operated on A Century of Progress grounds in Chicago by the Chevrolet Motor company will pass the 2,000 mark late this month, officials announced today.

Since the line was set into motion by the light of a cosmic ray just prior to the opening of the Fair, output has held at a steady pace of 24 cars a day, six days a week.

In July 600 new Chevrolet Master six coaches and coupes came off the line; in June 589 were built and in May 165, bringing the total produced from the time the line started through July 31, to 1,354 units.

If present schedules are maintained, car number 2,000 will be completed during the last hour of the last day of this month, officials said.

They estimated that by the closing of the Fair upwards of 3,500 new Chevrolets will have been assembled there. This figure exceeds the total 1932 production of eleven different automobile companies then in business.

So insistent has been the demand for cars carrying the distinction of having been built at the World's Fair that every unit so far produced has been purchased at the end of the line and driven away by its new owner. Color options may be specified in advance and the purchaser is given the privilege of going into the assembly pit and helping to build his own car.

People have come from more than a thousand miles distant with the primary object of purchasing a car built at the Fair and driving it home.

The huge assembly room, housed in the special General Motors exposition building, with a wide balcony a fifth of a mile long completely circling the assembly operations, is attracting nearly half of all the people who visit the Fair.

City Official Asks if Signers Petition Realize the Results

"I wonder where some of these people who are signing these petitions against the state sales tax think we are going to get relief money from next winter?" stated a member of the city commission as he looked over the names signed to such a petition in a local store. "Some of these signers may have a chance to dig up a relief fund from their pockets as they did two years ago if this petition is successful. And it may be that some of the signers are cutting their own relief from under their feet. This sales tax is our hope of poor relief for the next winter."

Come in and see what makes the New Goodrich Silvertowns 3 times safer from blow-outs

Every year thousands are killed or injured when blow-outs throw cars out of control. The Goodrich campaign, to save lives thus needlessly sacrificed, is awakening the public to the dangers of blow-out accidents.

W. C. T. U. Speak out in acts; the time for words has passed, and deeds alone suffice.

"The dominant political parties although there are many drys enrolled in both, have betrayed their constituency," stated Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the National W. C. T. U. in her keynote address in the organization's 60th convention at Milwaukee on June 30.

"We need a new party," she continued, "a party of moral ideals, a party that refuses to yield to the liquor interests, a party that stands for the policy of prohibition and its administration by its friends. We need a party founded on such sure foundations that it can be trusted to work for clean government. We need a party that will respect the constitution and a congress that will accept its responsibilities."

"Thus did the leader of the white ribbons of the United States and of the world make the pronouncement which may, in truth, mark the decay of the old and the birth of the new in progressive ideals in politics and government."

"The W. C. T. U.," she continued, "must do its first work all over again whether the 18th amendment stands or falls. Home-makers must know the dangers in the use of alcoholic liquors, whether in the form of beer, wine or alcoholic cocktails or flavorings. Women need to know that alcoholic habits can be acquired by them as well as by men and that whereas in pre-prohibition days drink took their sons it will now demand their daughters if given the chance."

Speaking of the "rebellious attitude toward the 18th amendment Mrs. Boole declared, "The 18th amendment is largely financed by the brewers and distillers and later by millionaires, carried on an aggressive campaign in which they were assisted by the International Wine Office, whose headquarters are in London, and who are counting on repeal and the distillers of Scotland are looking toward an outlet for their accumulated stocks of whiskey."

"The repeal movement in this country," she said, "is given the zeal with which the wine growers of France are counting on repeal and the distillers of Scotland are looking toward an outlet for their accumulated stocks of whiskey."

Story Revived of Cyclone Which Hit Buchanan in 1845

In an issue of the Record published in 1890, Homer Hathaway, former local farmer, business man and town official, is quoted on a cyclone which he stated had passed through Buchanan on April 24, 1845. This cyclone started near Michigan City and continued until it reached the neighborhood of White Pigeon, Mich. It had a rat tail that had a narrow ground focus. It passed through the southeast edge of town, leveling the frame of the old B. T. Morley home which was then in construction and which still stands in the rear of the Lauer service station, the property of Mrs. Morley. A maple grove of ten acres near Hazen lake was leveled, only one tree being left standing. A curious incident occurred at the home of Watson Roe near Buchanan. The door of the house was standing open when the cyclone struck. The draught of wind whisked the table cloth from the table and up to the chimney. It caught fire as it went. The daughter of the house was outside and saw the blazing cloth whirling through the sky. The Millerism "last day" craze had been in full swing in 1843 two years before and its impress was still strong on many minds, and the girl thought that the last days prophesied in Holy Writ when "Aaron called an earthquake up and fire from the sky" had come to pass.

Worth Remembering: A reader has asked us to pass on to readers this excellent verse which hails from overseas: "Smile and the world smiles with you; kick and you kick alone. But the cheerful grin will let you in; the knocker is never known."—London Tit-Bits.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in pimples. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain no harmful, harsh, or irritating chemicals, ammonia, when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the wrapper. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

a tree and ringing it when the starlings settle.
One of the residents in the affected section received the following letter from the Conservation department:

Dear Sir:
I have for acknowledgment your letter in which you make a vigorous complaint against starlings.

This department is not hesitant in granting authority to any village, town or city to conduct warfare against these birds provided such warfare is handled systematically by the police department.

The town of Mason, in Ingham Co. and several other towns and cities have in the past waged such warfare and have been very successful in killing hundreds of birds.

Your town of Buchanan would undoubtedly permit this if properly presented, and may also be willing to furnish the ammunition to the hunters.

Very truly yours,
H. R. Sayre,
Chief, Field Administration.

Comstock to Present 10-Pt.
Program in 1934
Governor William A. Comstock, in an address at the Ionia County Fair yesterday outlined the following program which he stated he would submit to the state legislature at its special session early in 1934.

The program contains ten planks, as follows:
1. Amendment of the beer bill to include the handling of the liquor problem when the 18th amendment is repealed.

2. Repeal of the present state prohibition laws.
3. Submission of a call for a constitutional convention for the revision of the state constitution.

4. Amendment of the state constitution to repeal the uniform rate of taxation clause so that personal property can be brought to bear its fair share of taxation.
5. A study of the small loan business with these objects in view: a. to ascertain if there is a necessity for this line of business, b. if so, to establish a proper rate.

6. Further consideration of the mortgage problem with a view to re-establishing mortgage values.
7. A thorough study of taxation system not only of the state government but of the local governments.

8. Provision for consolidation of local governments when desired by local communities.
9. A study of the administrative branch of the state government with a view to centralizing responsibility and cutting down the number of boards and commissions.

10. Consideration of a fair trade practice act.
