

Now Here's the Proposition

There's a little cot on Third street where love's real stage is set. There are curtains in the windows but there's no one lives there yet. There's a rosy light hangs o'er it, prophesying pleasant fate; And howe'er the bridegroom's faring all the neighbors scarce can wait.

Even the shingles down the siding wear a prophesying look And the gay petunias whisper in their pleasant garden nook And the question that they're asking all the neighbors ask again: "Will it happen? Has it happened? And if it has, where and when?"

The Great Mosaic Avenue Mystery

Two weeks ago the quiet precincts of Third and Mosaic were thrilled with tales of a mysterious prowler who was reported to be haunting that section. This particular prowler differed from the usual type in that he did his prowling by day as well as by night. Every day for several days he was seen walking first along one side of the street and then on the other. He would walk along one side of a block and then retrace his steps along the same block, several times perhaps, stopping and staring fixedly at the windows of the houses. There was nothing sly about his prowling, and he made no attempt to conceal his scrutiny of the dwellings. Cautious householders calculated that he might be the advance agent of a house breaker, and began to look to the security of their locks. But he ceased his visits and apparently there were no dire consequences of any sort, that is until last week. Then it suddenly transpired that T. E. VanEvery's melon patch had been looted and the entire crop born away. Whether or not there is a connection none can say, but the suspicion lingers. Mr. VanEvery had tenderly cared for his patch during the summer, diligently anticipating its needs with hoe and hose, and valiantly fighting off the special bugs that infest melon patches. But to no purpose. Just as the luscious fruit approached the status of a table viand, the entire patch was rifled, and not even a taste left. It is not believed that this was the work of any of the mischievous youth of the neighborhood or of any hungry urchin, since the fruit was not broken up on the premises as usually occurs in such cases. The entire crop merely vanished into thin air.

Hillsdale Workers Strike when Plant Pays Under NRA Wage

A. J. Barnaud, head of the NRA in Michigan, Monday night had assumed an active part in the strike of more than 400 employees of the Hillsdale Manufacturing Co., makers of garments, which closed two of the company's three plants on Monday.

Workers in the company's plants at Hillsdale and Coldwater walked out early Monday morning when, according to labor leaders, Joseph Baumgarten, president of the company, refused to raise the wages of all employees to the minimum of $13 a week under the NRA textile code.

C. C. Slater, of Chicago, representative of the United Garment Workers of America, said that the company recently has displayed NRA emblems.

Slater and other representatives of the employees were in conference with Baumgarten and other company officials over the weekend, but said that no agreement to establish the minimum wage under the NRA code had been reached.

Although more than a score of pickets were stationed at the entrances of the plant, there was no disorder, authorities said. Mass meetings at a near-by fair grounds were addressed by Slater, Ray Stanley, president of the recently organized Hillsdale union, and others.

A third plant of the company at Hudson had not been affected. Slater said that approximately 350 workers had walked out of the Hillsdale plant, to be joined later by about 90 at Coldwater.

STATE ENGINEER FAVORABLE TO RIVER HIGHWAY

Committee of City and Township Representatives Wait on State Project Engineer Yesterday.

Assurance that the highway construction project known as the River Road and linking Portage street in Buchanan with a completed pavement at the edge of Oronoko Township will receive consideration as a federal aid project was brought back last night from Lansing by a committee of local men who made the trip to lay the project before the state highway board.

The committee consisted of Dean Morley, the state representative, Dean Clark, representing Buchanan township, A. H. Hiller representing the city commission, Atty. Philip Landsman representing the Buchanan Civic Association, and Postmaster A. G. Haslett. They were granted admittance to the office of V. B. Steinbaugh, consulting and project engineer from the state highway department. Steinbaugh inspected the plans for the River Road paving and asked that County Road Engineer John Bateman go over the project and make a detailed report to the state office on expense. He placed his approval on the type of road as suitable to the purposes of the National Recovery Act.

He stated that the proposed paving from Bakertown to Buchanan via the old M-60 route would not be a suitable project, on account of the railway crossing involved, and because the construction of M-174 just completed, rendered it unnecessary. He further stated that the fact that the River Road project would form a connection between two completed roads constituted factors in its favor.

The adoption of the project is being actively pushed by local interests in order that if it is adopted it will be available as a labor outlet this fall.

GOVT. TO OFFER PREMIUMS FOR SWINE CLASSES

Michigan Farmers Offered Premium in Attempt to Improve Future Market for Pork.

Michigan farmers who have increased the number of hogs in this state 42 per cent while prices were dropping 57 per cent in the period from 1931 to 1933 can get some relief from this trouble by accepting the fixed prices of the government for light pigs and sows due to farrow soon.

The natural inclination of the farmer to increase his production when prices are dropping in order to obtain the amount of money needed to pay taxes, interest, and other expenses finally results in such over-supplies that the market is driven to ruinous levels. This has occurred in the hog market and the government is attempting to remedy the trouble.

This can be done by removing from future supplies pigs not yet ready for market and sows which would produce litters of fall pigs. To get these animals out of future markets, the government will pay 91c per pound for pigs weighing 25 to 30 lbs. and a price of 6c per pound for those weighing 96 to 100 lbs. Each five pound increase in weight from the 30 pound mark cuts the price 25c a hundredweight. Pigs over 100 lbs sell at the market price.

Straight cash premiums of $4.00 per head will be paid in addition to the day's market on sows due to farrow within three weeks and weighing not less than 275. These animals will not be docked the usual 40 lbs per animal so the farmer will actually receive more than the $4 extra.

Hogs for which the fixed prices will be paid can be sold just the same as any other animals going to the terminal markets. They can be sold to buyers, shipped thru co-operative marketing associations, or consigned to commission firms.

Fixed prices on these types of swine will continue until one million sows and four million pigs have been bought or until Oct. 1.

MICHIGAN SUGAR GETS FAIR DEAL IN GOVERNMENT PLAN

Recommendations Waiting for Federal O. K. Assure State Protection for Import-ant Crop.

Michigan sugar producers have no reason to feel down-hearted over the recommendations made at Washington by all sugar interests and now awaiting approval by federal authorities, according to members of the Michigan State College staff who have been with the Michigan delegation at the national hearings.

Under the quota plan now being considered, beet sugar is allowed a production of 1,750,000 tons of sugar, but no increase above the 1933 contract acreage can be made except that an additional 25,000 acres may be allowed for the plants at Saginaw and Toledo, Ohio, that are not now operating. The highest previous production of beet sugar in 1932, was 1,451,000 tons. This was grown on 784,000 acres.

The plan now waiting for approval was agreed upon by all sugar producers, both cane and beet, in the U. S. If the plan is approved by federal authorities, acreage allotments to the various producing districts for beets will undoubtedly be based upon past production.

Higher prices for sugar are expected to be obtained by effecting economies in marketing. Savings can be obtained in various ways in addition to orderly marketing. Michigan growers and operators had a delegation of 20 men attending the Washington hearings. Men from each group will return for further work when the government's decision is given on the recommendations.

NRA Not Beast of Revelations Says M. Pearson

Dear Editor:

The question has arisen if NRA is the mark of the beast, spoken of in Revelations. The mark of the beast is a counterfeit of the seal of God spoken of in Rev. 7:1-3, and is enforced by the image of the beast. An image of the beast would be something like the beast—a religious-political power, in other words a union of church and state. It is a combine to enforce false doctrines and goes so far as passing a decree of death upon all those that will not consent to accept the counterfeit.

The image of the beast deals in religious wars and demands worship, hence NRA is not the mark of the beast.

5 Million Men on Payroll by Labor Day is Objective of NRA

With the Blue Eagle drive daily gaining momentum in every part of the country, there is mounting evidence the work nation will be enlisted 100 per cent behind this new American bird. Reports reaching Buchanan from Washington gave a stirring picture of a campaign for re-employment that is unique in the annals of this or any other country. According to reports approximately 6,000 communities are now organized with a militant crew of volunteer workers who are going the limit of their ability to make possible the objectives of President Roosevelt and National Recovery Administrator Johnson, which is 5,000,000 more men and women on the payrolls of the nation by Labor Day. And to this volunteer army, thousands of recruits are being added daily as new communities by the hundreds take up the drive.

One of the marvels of the campaign, it is pointed out, is the sheer speed with which these mighty strides have been attained. Less than 30 days ago, Gen. Johnson sent out a message to the heads of commercial organizations in all parts of the country asking them to take the initiative in forming militant Blue Eagle organizations. In less than 24 hours wires, phone calls, and letters began a bombardment that has never ceased. Thru all the messages that have been pouring into Washington, this has been the theme of all: "We're ready to go. Tell us what to do."

Editor Record,

A colored couple lived in the sunny south, and they were devoted followers of the lowly "Margarine" and attended religious services regularly. One Sabbath Cynthia Any was not able to go, but Sambo went. "Now Sambo, preacher's text is and tell me when you get home, Praise the Lord."

After Sambo, Sr. and Sambo, Jr., left Cynthia's brother, George, came to see Cynthia. Sambo returned and Cynthia said, "Now Sambo, did you praise the Lord?" Sambo said, "Yes, yes, it was a powerful uplifting sermon, sharp and piercing. I was so renewed in the preacher's text and force."

"Do tell us the text and if old Simpson prayed and if Carolina Bishop shook your hand."

"Well," said Sambo, "I remember where the text was, 'twas about King Solomon. He said King Solomon had 600 wives and 800 porcupines."

"What in 'ell did Solomon do with 800 porcupines," said George. "I dunno," said Sambo. "The preacher said Solomon had good use for them all. He said Solomon was not troubled with depression, nor lack of food nor energy. He was very wise and looked well after his porcupines and had many beautiful ones."

Cynthia said, "Sambo, go and cut some wood and get busy" which changed the current of thought."

Detroit Divine to Talk Christianity, Social Revolution

D. T. Williams of Detroit will speak at the local Latter Day Saints church next Sunday at 7:45 p. m., Sept. 3, on the subject of "Christianity and the Social Revolution." The church is located on North Oak street.

Mr. Williams is the minister in charge for his denomination in Michigan and Ontario. He will speak with a knowledge of the attitude of his church on the problems his subject implies.

In the past the local pastor, Mary Gross, informs us the speaker has discussed such subjects as "The New Earth," "Technocracy and the Brotherhood of Man" and "Christ, the Great Revolutionist." His interest in such matters as these qualifies him for the discussion of the subject here announced.

The public is cordially invited by the local pastor to take advantage of this rare opportunity to hear an up-to-date discussion of a subject that is of present tense interest and vital to our progress as a nation.

A. L. KNOBLAUCH CO-AUTHOR OF H. S. TEXTBOOK

Collaborates with Rosecrans of 3 Oaks H. S. and Stanley of Benton Harbor High School.

J. B. Lippincott Publishing Co., leading publishers of educational texts in the United States has announced the recent issuance of a text book in field horticulture work by three Berrien county men, A. L. Knoblauch, instructor in agriculture in Buchanan high school, and Lee Rosecrans and L. R. Stanley, occupying similar positions in the Three Oaks and Benton Harbor high schools.

The new text is designed for use in the schools of Michigan, and it is anticipated that it will find a wide use in the agricultural departments of the schools of a state. The book is a text of a new type, being not so much a collection of elementary facts as a compilation of field exercises, supplemented by references to special texts which will enable the students to arrive at the facts of themselves through experimental work. This type of text was first developed by Dr. Morrison, a leading American educator in the faculty of the University of Chicago.

The three authors have been working on the text since 1931. Rosecrans and Stanley developed the scheme of field exercises, and Knoblauch rewriting their plans and casting them into suitable form for high school use. The latter has specialized in text book form at the University of Michigan in recent summer sessions.

The July total was the largest thus far in 1933. Annual sales peak of the motor car industry falls earlier in the year, generally in April, but this year monthly sales totals thus far have shown a steady increase since March.

Twenty-one per cent more applicants for admission as freshmen to the University of Michigan have been accepted than have been approved at a corresponding time a year ago, it was announced by Registrar I. M. Smith. The total number accepted is 1,229, compared to 1,015 last year.

LEAGUE LEADER ANSWERS SQUARE DEAL FAN LETTER

Jack Boone Describes Method of Selection Umpires; Expresses Hope that Teams Reach Agreement.

To the Editor of the Record:
Dear Sir:

Through the medium of your columns it is hoped that the writer may clarify to some extent the misunderstanding and misinformation which has been circulated concerning the Buchanan Softball League and also to be able to offer some defense for my honesty and integrity as well as that of the other officials, who would, of necessity, have to sanction any appointments that I made, had such been the case.

In an article recently published in your paper a new deal was asked for the team from the Bend of the River Grange. It is not conceded by the officials of the league that a new deal is needed. This is not to be construed as meaning that we have any enmity toward anyone nor that we wish to show any favoritism. It has been the policy all through the season to try in every way possible to do the things that were satisfactory to all those directly concerned and in order to still act upon the same policy, it is our sincere hope that the two teams may come to some amicable arrangement whereby the series may be played in the interests of good sportsmanship if for no other reason.

It is not within the power of the league officials to tell either team that they must finish the series but any arrangement that these teams will make will be sanctioned by the league and we are more than willing to co-operate with them in any way possible. They may choose their own umpires and set their own time for play and any other things that are deemed necessary and advisable. The only stipulation that the league will make is that all games be played on our diamond.

It was also stated that the Grange team was made to feel that they were out-siders. If there was such a feeling in their club it was never manifested by their attitude towards myself and there certainly was never any intention of creating any such feeling. This can be substantiated by the fact that the Riverside Ramblers did not feel in the least that they were out-siders.

Although there was nothing in the aforementioned article concerning the series play-off, it has been brought to my attention a number of times that there has been considerable debate and misunderstanding concerning it. It was decided at the meetings held last spring that the two teams with the highest standings at the time the schedule was finished should play a championship series. This was done because of the fact that there was only one league here and it seemed the only feasible plan whereby a series might be held.

And now, concerning the "appointment" of the umpires, I wish to state for the edification of the interested townspeople who have been led to believe otherwise, that the umpires were not appointed as claimed, but were duly elected by a secret ballot from a list of names which was submitted by members of the various teams and the legal representative of each team was allowed one vote for each umpire.

One further statement that should be made is that the undersigned is the president of the Softball League only and not the president of both the Oriole Club and the Softball League as stated. The Softball League was formed

Receives Diploma 4 Year Piano Course In Chicago School

Miss Marion VanEvery has received her diploma for the completion of a four year course in Sherwood school of Music. She is maintaining a studio at her home and at the Conservatory of Music at South Bend.

ed here this year to afford recreation for quite a number of men and also to give the people some amusement that anyone might enjoy without it costing them any money. In this way it was thought that some good might be done for the community. The games provided themselves to be quite a drawing card and the people enjoyed them very much; so much so that we regret exceedingly that the series ended as it did. Therefore we hope that all who can will give Softball here a boost instead of a knock and by so doing help the game and also the men who will run the league next year.

Very truly yours,
J. G. BOONE.

Two of Year's
Big Box Office
Hits at Hollywood

In one single week the Hollywood brings to Buchanan theatregoers two of the year's outstanding box office pictures, namely, Mae West in "She Done Him Wrong," Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, followed by Maurice Chevalier in "A Bedtime Story" on bargain nights Wednesday and Thursday.

The story of Mae West in "She Done Him Wrong," is adapted from her famous long-run stage play, "Diamond Lil," and features Cary Grant, Noah Beery and Owen Moore in the cast. It is a gay drama of the gay nineties, the locale and story finely woven around the subtle and vibrantly pleasing personality of the one and only Mae West. Songs of yesterday form a part of the interesting interludes, among them the now thoroughly popularized, "He Done Her Wrong" from which the title is adapted. Included on the same program is a technicolor musical, "Northern Exposure," and latest news events.

Friday and Saturday of this week the Hollywood presents a double feature program, feature number one being Jack Holt, Fay Wray and Noah Beery in "The Woman I Stole," and feature number two, hard-hitting, hard-riding Back Jones in "Sundown Rider." This two-day program provides abundance of entertainment for both those who like their entertainment slightly sophisticated and those who enjoy plenty of excitement, thrills and outdoor action. A Krazy Kat cartoon completes the bill.

Wednesday and Thursday are bargain nights, with "A Bedtime Story," featuring Maurice Chevalier, Helen Twelvetees and Baby LeRoy, making up the feature part of the program. In the picture Chevalier introduces four new song numbers, including "In the Park in Paris," "Home-Made Heaven," "Look What I've Got," and "M'sieu Baby." The story is built around the discovery of an orphan baby in Chevalier's automobile, followed by one situation after another that gives this star his best photoplay vehicle in many a moon. Baby LeRoy is a new infant star find, and in parts almost steals the picture from the famous Chevalier.

FOOD TOPICS
By Judson Strong
(A & P News Reporter)

Although tastes and eating customs have undergone amazing changes through the ages, grapes hold as high a place in popular esteem today as they did in Noah's time. Down through the Egyptian, Greek and Roman civilizations right up to 1933 the grape has been cultivated and prized as a food. Although grapes are naturally associated with wine making, nevertheless, they have always been prized as a fruit to eat out of the hand. In this country we have both the European and American types of grapes. Early settlers found grape vines growing in profusion and repeatedly called the new continent vineland.

It is from these wild grapes that our popular table varieties have developed. Varieties such as the Concord, Thompson Seedless, Catawba and Niagara. These distinctly American grapes enjoy great popularity as a dessert fruit.

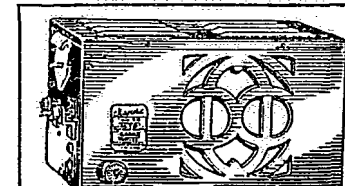

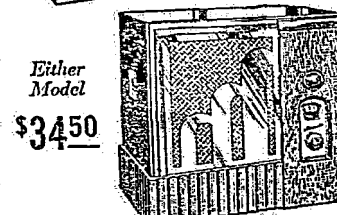

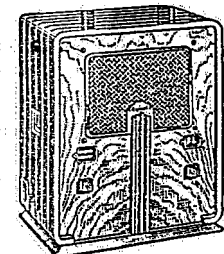

Right now the Thompson seedless variety is ripe. It is a small green colored grape, seedless and delicious to eat out of the hand. These adaptable little grapes will fit in any part of a meal. They are fine in fruit cups, in salads, and in sparkling gelatin desserts.

When the Floral Hall on the fair grounds at St. Johns, Michigan, was completely destroyed by a cyclone Sunday afternoon, July 23rd, this big company sent adjusters there the next day and settlement was made at once, a check being mailed to the insured Tuesday morning from the home office of the company. Above is a picture of the wrecked building.

This company has an enviable reputation for equitable adjustment and prompt settlement of all just claims, over a period of nearly a half century.

This has been a year of severe windstorms and many heavy losses have already occurred.

The cost of windstorm insurance is so low in this company because of its great size, and its experienced business management, that no property owner can afford to be without adequate windstorm protection.

Cassius had a lean, hungry look, and was not a trustworthy said Shakespeare. But among the best people we find both lean and plump, and others neither plump or lean. Diameter has little to do with a person's nature. But hunger that affects disposition. In our neck of the world's woods we do not let people go hungry for any length of time. That fact is pronounced in jobless years—a fact in which we can take pride—the way our state and federal and local governments help. The very small part of taxes that buys food for the hungry gives us the utmost for our money. And our job in this business is to give our customers the utmost for their money.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Luke 7:14, 15): "And he came and touched the bier; and they that bare him stood still. And he said, 'Young man, arise.' And he that was dead sat up and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 259): "In divine Science, man is the true image of God. The divine nature was best expressed in Christ Jesus, who threw upon mortals the true reflection of God and lifted their lives higher than their poor thought-models would allow, thoughts which presented man as fallen, sick, sinning and dying."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLaren and daughter, Helen, Robert Grant of South Bend, John Clark of Kokomo, Russell McLaren and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Currie McLaren.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Artz and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Artz from near Jackson called at the parsonage to see Rev. and Mrs. Moger Friday. Rev. Moger was their former pastor. They were on their way to attend the Century of Progress.

Re-thinging of part of the parsonage and church two miles south and a half mile west of Galien on Aug. 22, 23, 24. Roof had been in need of repair for some time. The church yard was in need of being cleaned also church inside so Aug. 22 fifteen men came to shingle, cut and burned sumac in church yard; fifteen women and six children came to clean church inside. A fine basket dinner was enjoyed at noon after which muskies were treated to the crowd until it was with some discomfort that the work proceeded in the afternoon. Also it was decided to shingle the west side of the church while the scaffold and equipment were there. From carpenter to just common farmers and truck drivers, men nailed their names on the roofs of both the parsonage and church. Now that the scaffolds are down and the dirt cleaned up, we appreciate our church more and we accept the challenge of the community in general to render a bigger, better service. We appreciate the work given especially when wages are so needed. We want to be helpful to the community and now we invite you to come and enjoy with us these benefits.

Your brother and pastor, Chas. F. Moger

Wheat Allotment Plan

Explained by Questions, Answers

Why is this attempt to stabilize the wheat industry called the domestic allotment plan?

The federal government levies a processing tax of 30 cents per bushel upon milled wheat and uses this money to make an adjustment payment to farmers upon that portion of their wheat crop used for human food in the U. S.

Why pay farmers for growing less wheat?

Wheat is a necessary food and its continued stable production is needed as a measure of national safety. Ruinous overproduction will put the wheat grower out of business. High prices will then again cause overproduction. Such fluctuations from high to low demoralize a basic industry.

Did farmers organizations approve this plan before it was adopted?

Yes, nearly every farm organization had representatives in Washington who were consulted, who made suggestions adopted in the plan, and who gave final approval to the plan before it was announced by Secretary H. A. Wallace.

How long will the Domestic Allotment Plan be in force?

Three years, but only two future wheat crops will come under the terms of the plan, those harvested in 1934 and 1935.

Will the present adjustment payment rate of 30c minus local expenses be continued for the next two years?

The rate of payment may change according to the fluctuations of the wheat market. If wheat prices drop, the rate of adjustment payment may be raised to a higher amount so that the total income from a bushel of wheat will be a sum that will purchase as many goods as the bushel of wheat would buy in 1914.

What is meant by parity price?

The purchasing power of a bushel of wheat in 1914 is accepted as par. The farmer who co-operates in the Domestic Allotment Plan receives an adjustment payment which when added to the market price of his wheat will give it a purchasing power equal to that of 1914. The sale price of the wheat plus the adjustment payment will buy as many shoes, overalls, furniture, or other goods as a bushel of wheat did in 1914.

Will this adjustment payment to wheat growers add to the cost of living of people in the city?

The increase in the price of wheat will have very little effect upon the price of bread. Bread prices should not increase more than one-half cent per pound loaf due to the increase in wheat prices. Increased cost of other ingredients and higher labor costs might make a loaf of bread cost one and one-half cents per loaf more than it did when wheat sold for 42c per bushel. Federal officials will check closely to determine if any attempts are made to gouge the public.

Will the cost of caring for the welfare lists be increased by the processing tax on wheat?

Flour to be used for welfare purposes is exempted from tax.

Does the farmer have to pay the 30c tax upon wheat milled in local mills to be used in his household?

No, farmers may exchange wheat for the equivalent in flour and no tax is paid.

What farmers can accept this plan and receive adjustment payments in 1933, 1934 and 1935?

Any farmer who planted wheat in 1928, 1930 or 1931 is eligible.

Will a farmer receive payments in 1933 if he had no wheat to harvest this year?

No, he does not get this year's adjustment payment but may receive payments in 1934 and 1935 if he signs a crop reduction contract.

How much wheat can a farmer sow under this plan?

He can sow the amount determined by the Secretary of Agriculture. This will be at least 80 per cent of the average amount he has been producing during the past three years and may be a greater share of his normal acreage.

When will the announcement be made of the exact percentage that the Secretary of Agriculture will ask farmers to cut their wheat plantings?

The last of August is now set as the date for the announcement.

Why wasn't the percentage of cut determined earlier?

The delay has been caused by waiting for the London Wheat Conference to make definite recommendations for reductions in wheat acreages in all wheat producing areas of the world. The Secretary of Agriculture will adopt the U. S. plan as far as feasible, to meet the recommendations of the London conference.

Why does the U. S. farmer need to shape his plans upon world conditions in the wheat market?

The present chaotic state of the wheat market is caused by a ruinous oversupply of wheat in the world's markets. Any attempt by the nations to improve this condition should have the co-operation of the U. S. because the citizens of this country will receive their share of any future improvements in stabilizing wheat production.

Why doesn't the U. S. ship its surplus wheat to foreign markets as it has done in previous years?

The world's wheat buying countries are either barring U. S. wheat by prohibitory tariffs or are unable to pay for it due to financial conditions. Examples are Germany, France and Italy which are endeavoring to induce their farmers to grow wheat by placing a high tariff on foreign wheat and thus provide an artificially high market inside their tariff walls; while China would buy U. S. wheat if U. S. funds were loaned to pay for the wheat.

Wouldn't this condition of an oversupply of wheat correct itself without governmental interference?

Maybe, but the case would be somewhat similar to refusing medical aid to a person who was ill, under the theory that nature would cure the disease if the patient did not die before natural forces could relieve the distressed condition. The U. S. cannot afford to permit its farm industry to travel any further down the road of economic ills while waiting for the forces of Nature. Wheat is a factor of national safety. Its production on a stable basis must be insured.

Is there any danger that a reduction in the acreage of wheat planted in 1933 will cause a shortage of wheat next year?

The U. S. on June 1 had 360,000,000 bushels of unsold wheat from previous crops. This year's crop is estimated to be 500,000,000 bushels, the smallest in years. The total amount of wheat needed in the U. S. for flour, seed and for feeding livestock is 620,000,000. The first two amounts added together provide the available supply of wheat and when the liberal amounts allowed for all purposes are deducted there is still a carry-over of 240,000,000 bushels which will be available next year to add to any crop produced.

What is going to be done with the land which is withdrawn from wheat production?

It will be planted to soil building crops or those which will prevent erosion. This land will not be permitted to add to other crop surpluses by growing crops used for human food or those used to feed livestock going directly upon the market.

Is the U. S. the only country where wheat farmers are unable to sell all the wheat produced?

No, Canada, Australia, Argentina and other exporting nations are facing similar conditions.

Have U. S. farmers increased their wheat acreage faster than producers in other nations?

No, there has been a gradual increase in U. S. production; but Argentina, Canada, Australia and Russia have made abnormal acreage increases and have piled up the unparalleled oversupply of wheat.

Equality of Guaranties to Industry and Labor

"The words 'open shop' and 'closed shop' are not used in the law and cannot be written into the law. These words have no agreed meaning and will be erased from the dictionary of the NRA."

This was the text of an official statement issued by Assistant Administrator Hugh S. Johnson and also signed by Donald R. Richberg, general counsel of NRA.

In his statement of June 16 the President clearly defined the labor provisions of the Recovery Act, setting forth regulations for submitting basic codes. Repeatedly General Johnson has explained in radio broadcasts and press conferences that the act recognizes labor unions and also company unions and describes them as such but makes no distinctions between them and it is not the function of NRA to promote or prevent the organization of either.

It being the primary and emergency purpose of the Recovery Act to restore employment, the labor provisions are of course of paramount importance, yet leaders of antiumion industries have sought to include in codes guarantees of their right to continue "open shop" policies, despite the law's guaranty of collective bargaining to labor as well as to employers on an equal basis.

The Johnson-Richberg statement which General Johnson read in a radio broadcast after distributing it to all parties occupied with code drafting, added:

"The plain meaning of section 7 (a) cannot be changed by any interpretation by anyone. It is the function of the Administrator and the courts to apply and to interpret the law in its administration, and no one else can assume this function."

"NRA will not undertake in any instance to decide that a particular contract should be made or should not be made between lawful representatives of employees and employers, or to decide that a lawfully made contract should not be enforced. Co-operation in all industrial relations depends largely upon the making and maintenance of agreements. NRA will promote and aid such co-operation."

Work in the automobile and coal codes, practically suspended under an apparent impression of industrialists that the collective-bargaining guaranty might be "softened," started immediately after the clarifying statement was issued and broadcast from coast to coast.

"Tugboat Annie" at Ready Theatre, in Niles, Sunday

Puget Sound tugboats, built to withstand the terrific storms of winter in the Northern port, cameras being from cables, or from their jibs, to film them in the churning seas, a great liner, chartered for a picture and placed in the center of a raging storm at sea, these are among the amazing technical feats accomplished in the filming of "Tugboat Annie." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's vivid drama, co-starring Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery for the first time since "Min and Bill," which comes Sunday, Sept. 3rd to the Ready Theatre, Niles.

The story, based on Norman Reilly Raine's Saturday Evening Post tales of the redoubtable feminine tugboat captain, was filmed at Seattle Harbor, original locale of the drama, and in other waterfront locations. Seagulls tugboats for wrecks, there is an amazing engine room climax in which Beery invades a blazing firebox to plug boiler tubes and save a great liner and hilarious comedy abounds between dramatic incidents.

The play called for more than usual technical and engineering skill. An entire ship machinery was reproduced for one scene.

Have You Tried Dixie Golden Hi-Powr ?

It's now the same price as any regular gasoline.

You can now enjoy all the advantages of its High Test, High Octane and Overhead Lubrication features for the same money you have been spending for regular gasoline.

It is the only motor fuel that combines these three features in one gasoline. The combination works wonders. It makes old motors run like new, and retains the newness of new motors. It increases mileage and eliminates the necessity of frequent carbon removal.

It's the newest development in gasoline today—and is now available at no increase in price over ordinary gasoline.

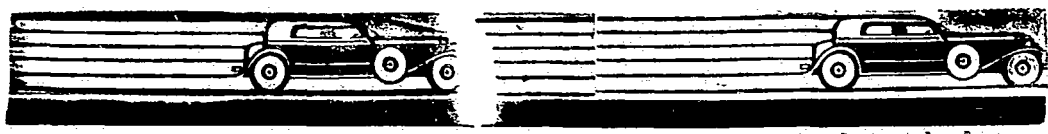

Try it and note the improvement in your motor's operation.

PUBLIC APOLOGY FOR "I LOVED YOU WEDNESDAY"

So many of our patrons have asked, "What was wrong with the sound and dialogue in this picture," that we desire to clarify any misunderstanding as to the exact basis of the blame. We received a very poor dialogue print from the Film Studio, making our sound equipment in no way responsible for the poor reproduction. We guarantee our equipment to reproduce perfectly in every respect, and therefore apologize for the Film Studio, assuring our patrons that it is only very rarely that a film comes through in this condition.
