

Bucaneers Send Redbirds Home Minus Feathers

Now Here's the Proposition

IN JUDGMENT
I always find a welcome charm
In folks that lie from field and furn
The folks whose tongues are salt
dry
The folks whose hats are never
high
Whose souls are rounder, fuller
grown
Like rugged oaks that stand alone.

Whereas I often look with pity
On stunted souls from out the city,
I've never found that hearts are truer
Because they live next to a sewer.
Nor need it be that thoughts are
high
Because the buildings pierce the sky.
I think that hearts are dwarfed
and small
Where crowds are thick and buildings tall.

And wisdom does not seem to be
A product of proximity.
Afar as basements are from steeples
Is common sense from snooty
people.

Fish Story Backfires
The way this newspaper game
goes, you can't please anybody
without making somebody else
mad which is introductory to telling how Bill Miller called up about that fishing trip last week and starts that all spilling going about
"if you have to print stuff why don't you try to get it half right."
"Why," Bill says, "That story of Del Jordan's fishing trip was all messed up. Del never stopped at eating twelve slices of bacon, twelve slices would be nothing but a taste for that old buzzard. But the part about baiting his hook was nearer right. When I and Gus Butler went with Del 39 years ago he started that same gag on me. I baited his hook and he got a bite right away and I had to take the fish off and rebait the hook
and the same thing was repeated several times and finally I says to myself, 'nuts for you, I'm going to fish a little myself, so I just sinks
his hook in the bobber and he leaves it out and it floats around for a long time before he gets on."
"But the worst part was that about my dog. My dog did go but he never staid—he got ashamed of the crowd the first day and went back to town. And he never took any bite of grass to take the taste
out of his mouth when he tried to eat my salt pork. What he really did do,—but you will have to see
Bill for the rest of this story.

Mystery Story Ends
Finis was written Sunday to that absorbing mystery thriller, "The Missing Buchanan Husband" which had etched its way for the previous week in black headlines through the city papers which daily invade to town. After all he had just been down in Indiana visiting his brother-in-law. Next time you go visiting, Mr. Herman, leave your address with the chief of police.

B. H. S. STAGES COMEBACK IN 2D HALF TO WIN 13-3

Deeds Scores Two Markers
With Long Runs; Locals at Least One Touchdown Better than Score Indicated.

(By Richard Schram)

After playing rather poor football the first half, the Buchanan Maroons overcame a 3 to 0 lead in the last half and won from the Niles Cardinals, traditional rivals, 13 to 3, at the local field Saturday.

The Redbirds scored first, when Reum, Niles' back, kicked a beautiful field goal, against the wind,
from the 20 yard line. The Cardinals made their only real threat against the Maroons' goal just before Reum kicked the field goal.
They were held on the 5 yard line and then penalized 15 yards to the 20, where Reum made the kick.

Buchanan had crossed the Redbirds' goal when Lester, who was a consistent ground gainer for the Bucks throughout the game, went over on a pass. The touchdown was not allowed because of a penalty against Buchanan.

The Maroon and White line played a hard-fought game, showing a great deal of improvement since last week's game. The hard playing of the line made possible the spinners and deception plays of the backfield, as well as the two touchdowns.

The Bucks' first score came in the third quarter when Deeds, aided by perfect blocking, crossed the goal line standing up from the 18 yard line, side-stepping two of the Niles secondary. Deeds also kicked the extra point, making the score 7 to 3 in the Maroon's favor.

In the last quarter the Bucks again scored. Deeds, on a fake reverse around right end went 68
yards down the southern side-lines
for the second touchdown.
Part of the Niles left flank and secondary cut over to intercept the runner, but were easily blocked out by the Maroon line. Deeds crossed the goal line standing.

The kick for extra point was blocked and the score stood 13 to
3. Buchanan kicked off to Niles and the Cardinals immediately launched an aerial attack which proved unsuccessful, most of the passes being wild. Buchanan played a defensive game for the remaining few minutes in the game and held the ball as the game ended, 13 to 3.

The Bucks look more promising
than ever and will meet South Haven, the strong eleven from the north, on more than equal terms
this Saturday at the local field.

South Haven played Niles at the first of the season and tied 7 to 7,
both teams fumbling frequently.
Benton Harbor met and tied South
Haven 7 to 7 and then beat Niles 31 to 0, so draw your own conclusions.

The South Haven team averages
about the same in weight as Niles,
who outweighed Buchanan about 10 to 15 pounds to the man. Niles was not able to take advantage of this weight for some reason, and the Bucks' fast deception plays
foiled Niles completely.

The two teams this Saturday will probably be evenly matched there were Niles and Buchanan, and will provide a real
grid battle with plenty of hard,
fast play and thrills from start to finish.

Buchanan has never played
South Haven before and this fact will also be an interesting factor to consider in the grid tilt.

Saturday, of course, is Booster
Day and will feature a parade
through town before the game, led

Local Branch of Red Cross is Organized Tuesday

At a meeting Tuesday evening of Buchanan people interested in the organization of a local branch of the American Red Cross, Mrs.
E. C. Mogford was elected local chairman and Miss Aletha Harner, secretary and treasurer. Carni R.
Smith, Niles, county chairman, attended the meeting.
Preparations are being made for the forthcoming membership drive of the organization. Buchanan's quota is 300. While the local committee has not been notified of the definite plans of the membership drive, it is expected to take place some time in November.
The annual meeting of the Berrien County Chapter of the Red Cross will be held at the Hotel

ORIOLES PLAN ANNIVERSARY FEED OCT. 24

Organization of Young Men
Celebrates First Birthday
at Banquet Followed By Dance.

The Oriole Athletic Club will be hosts at an anniversary banquet
at the club rooms next Tuesday, honoring the first birthday of the organization.

The club was first formed Oct.
19, 1932, with a nucleus of eleven members, all grid men, and with Eddie Smith as manager. When the organization was decided, the following officers were elected:
president, Melvin Burks; vice president, Ward Conrad; treasurer,
Robert Montgomery, and secretary,
Stubs Boyce. The organization
met first at the city hall and later
rented quarters in the second floor
over the Glenn Smith store, 120 P.
Front street, where it still holds forth. Dues were set at 35c monthly and 40 charter members were taken in. The second month 75 were added. At present the club has 140 members. A constitution was adopted following Roberts
Rules of Parliamentary Order.

The club has not mingled in public functions to a great extent,
confining itself to providing a clean social life for the young men of the city. The organization took part in the Centennial and entered a float in the Blossom Week parade last spring. During the summer it participated in and won the championship in the city softball series. The second election of officers was held in early summer as follows: president, Jack Boone; vice president, Jack Berry;
treasurer, Lee Lister; secretary,
Bill Baker. Later Jack Boone resigned as president and Jack Berry
is now acting in that capacity.
The banquet will be held at the club rooms at 7 p. m. followed by a dance at the Legion Hall at 9
p. m.

Miss Ruby Camfield of South Bend was a guest over the weekend at the home of her sister, Mrs.
Dan Carlisle.

by the high school band.
Friday night before the game,
the band and students will hold a pep meeting in the form of a bonfire and snake dance at the football field. All students are urged to attend the pep meeting and the parade before the game, as prizes are offered to the class having the largest attendance at both functions.

Prices for the game, which starts at 2 p. m. Saturday, remain the same, 35c to all at the gate.

May Lose P. O. But Still Fighting Protests Daytonite

The patrons of the Dayton post office are all upset over the post
office's definite action in planning
to discontinue the post office there.
A committee called on Congressman Foulkes last week and presented him with a petition from the patrons of the Dayton post office and it has been forwarded to the Postmaster General. What action will be taken is unknown. But we are indeed thankful (?) to the party that was so anxious to report through the Record of the privilege that may be eventually taken away from us and also the great loss the Dayton post office has been to Uncle Sam "the past year. It may mean another feather in the hat if not the first one.

Post Office.

COUNTY REDUCES WINTER TAX ROLL TOTAL $400,000

State Tax on County is Reduced to $45,364; A Shrinkage of $250,000.

The Berrien County winter tax, exclusive of rejected tax, will be $1,455,652.20, which is $939,790.90
lower than he spread of last year.
Including the rejected taxes of $249,452.74 the taxroll approved by the county board of supervisors at the Friday session $1,705,105.04 as compared with $2,012,535.84 last year. The rejected tax total jumped by $96,361.50 this year, owing to improper description of taxes.

The biggest reduction in the winter tax roll comes from the elimination of all the state property tax except a levy of 60c per $1,000
of assessed valuation.

The reduction of the state tax amounts to $254,102.08. Last year it was $299,466.51; this year it is only $45,364.59.

The state sales tax will make up the loss of the property tax revenue to the state.
The effect of the 15 mill tax limit on real estate in force this year for the first time, however, is felt,
especially in the school taxes levied.

The total school tax levied in the county this year, including both the school and one mill levy, under the 15 mill limitation, and the amount levied for debt service,
which comes outside the limitation, has been reduced by $99,819-86.

The school and one mill levy this year is $507,658.09, and the debt service is $221,935.20, compared with a total levy last year of $529,- 410.16.

County Tax Down
The county tax, too, got a cut this year amounting to $18,147.85.

Last year it was $285,125.60.
This year it is $266,977.75. An additional item is assessed in the general tax this year of $13,058.71 for indebtedness of townships and cities to the county, making the total amount appearing on the role this year as county tax $280,036.46.
The $1,000,000 reduction in the total budget last year was made possible by a refunding plan on Covert road bonds.

In the past two years the total tax roll has been reduced by nearly $1,500,000.

The county hopes to reduce the rejected tax re-spread, which has been growing every year, to a minimum in the next two years, when the effects of the complete county
survey, and the use of a metal plate system for recording tax descriptions is felt.

The 15 mill limit necessitated a new form of setting up the tax levy this year.

VOTES GO DOWN AGAIN AS BONUS EXPIRES WEDNESDAY NIGHT; SEVEN DAYS LEFT

CHILCOAT GETS 1-15 YEARS FOR MURDER GRIFFIN

Aged Bend of River Farmer
Pleads Guilty to Charge of Manslaughter; Shot
Griffin May 23.

Fred Chilcoat was sentenced to
from one to fifteen years in Jackson for the murder of Crosby ("Red") Griffin according to sentence pronounced by Judge Charles E. White in the Berrien county circuit court Monday afternoon.

Chilcoat had pleaded guilty to shooting Griffin on the night of May 23, 1933, in the course of an altercation which occurred at a drinking party at the former's home. He pleaded self-defense as a motive, alleging that Griffin was drunk and in a quarrelsome mood
and had threatened him previously during the evening. He stated that the party had broken up and his several visitors started home,
when Griffin returned and demanded more liquor, starting to break in the locked door. When he came up behind Griffin and attempted to stop him, he alleged that Griffin whirled and reached inside his coat as though for a shoulder holster, when he (Chilcoat) shot. Griffin was taken to the edge of town and abandoned
at River and Commercial streets,
where he was found the following morning. He was taken to Fa-voriting hospital where he died May 24.

Chilcoat was first charged with murder but changed his plea to that of guilty of manslaughter.

Other sentences imposed were:
Haywood Lewis, Coloma negro,
assault with intent to do great bodily harm (struck wife over head with shotgun, breaking stock of gun off with blow), 5 to 10 years in Jackson.

Victor Wenzl, Niles, 6 months to year for second offense drunken driving.

Arthur Carlisle and brother-in-law, Lowell Taylor, Benton township, 1 to 15 years at Ionia for breaking and entering several summer cottages.

Arthur Herman, Henry Wool-
ridge and Paul DuPre, minor thefts, two years probation, payment $25 costs each.

Joseph Lile, negro, Hammond, Ind., stabbed Ralph Douglas in drunken brawl at Sodus township farm in July, given liberty on the promise to leave state (had already served four months in jail).

Donald McDermott, 19-year-old Wisconsin youth, illegal possession of firearms (day in jail).

Clarence Merrifield, 18, Noblesville, Wis., on probation for two years for stealing car.

Rapid Gain in Vote Totals Possible if Baby Sponsors Will Utilize Remaining Week of 25,000 Extra Vote Offer
Which Ends Oct. 25 at 9:00 p. m.

PROUD PARENTS, ADMIRING FRIENDS BOOST FOR THEIR FAVORITE TOTS

Final Day of Election Only 18 Days Distant; Winners to be Determined by Effort Put Forth During that Time;
Sealed Ballot Box to Start Oct. 26.

The lines of the Personality Babies Election are beginning to converge definitely toward the day when the ballots will be counted, the prizes awarded, and the silver loving cup and title of the Buchanan area's "personality baby" conferred on some attractive little boy or girl.

The second bonus offer of 25,000 extra free votes on each club of five yearly subscriptions or equivalent expires next Wednesday evening, Oct. 25, at nine o'clock. The sealed ballot box, under which the Election will be brought to a close, goes into effect Oct. 26. And the election ENDS definitely and finally, 10 days later on Nov. 6, at 9 p. m.

Make Most of Bonus
The bonus offer of 25,000 additional votes on every club of five yearly subscriptions, which is now in effect and will expire next Wednesday night, Oct. 25, at nine,
is the best remaining bonus offer in the election. The sponsors of every baby should realize fully this fact, and make the most of it.

Since the 25,000 bonus is entirely in addition to the regular schedule,
it will be seen that a club of five yearly subscriptions, including both regular and bonus votes,
would count a grand total of 50, 000 votes for the baby to whom they are credited. That is a lot of votes, and even one club would give a tremendous boost for any tot.

There isn't any baby in the list
that doesn't deserve sufficient effort on the part of its sponsors to accumulate such a club. And there aren't any sponsors who couldn't,
with just a little extra activity,
pile up at least one club, perhaps several, for the tots depending upon them for support.

So, all you sponsors of personality babies—let's see you get busy and do some really enthusiastic boosting for your favorites before next Wednesday night. Let's see you come in with at least one club,
or more than one, for your baby,
and thus assure him of a respectable standing when the ballot box goes into effect.

Outside Subs Important
In accumulating votes for their favorites, baby sponsors should not overlook the value of new and renewal subscriptions obtained from persons living outside Buchanan and environs. The Record has a long list of subscribers in almost every state in the Union. Many of these subscriptions are due, and could be secured for some baby whose sponsor would write to such subscribers, asking a payment now in order to secure the votes. A list of outside subscribers is available at the Record office, and we are sure that if letters were written to them, the response would be very satisfactory. Also, there are numerous former residents of Buchanan now living elsewhere who are not at present Record subscribers, but who would greatly enjoy receiving their home paper each week, and who would, at the suggestion of a booster for one of the babies, be glad to send in a subscription.

Action Called For
Again we want to emphasize the fact that, if you have a baby entered in the Election and you want your tot to win, you must work actively and enthusiastically for votes.
Parents of all the babies naturally would like to have them
returned winners of both honors
and cash awards, but merely to want this is not enough. You must get out and do at least a reasonable amount of work for your little
one. And, if we know anything about the pride dotting parents have in their babies, that is just what you will do.

The best and surest way to assure yourself of victory is to do some real hustling while the present bonus offer still is in effect.
See to it that you are present
with plenty of those club votes
when the offer expires next Wednesday night.

State Specialist Lectures to Home Ec Leaders Tues.

Leaders of Home Economic clubs from South Berrien County attended an all-day school of instruction at the home economics
room at the high school Tuesday.
Gertrude Reis, specialist in the employ of the extension department of the Michigan State college presented the first of a series of five lectures on the club topic for the year "Home Furnishing."

Barbara Amelia Zelmer is the only "Z girl" in the Personality
Baby Election.
An exceedingly cute youngster is Barbara, only five months old,
brimming over with good nature,
and a desire to get acquainted with this big, new, fascinating world.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zelmer, 218 Arctic street, are the fortunate parents of this fine baby. Good luck to you in the Baby Election, Barbara!

This handsome little fellow has big, brown eyes, a clear olive skin, and a mop of curly hair. He is just full of pep and childish curiosity, and he is just as good natured as he is active.
Paul Fay Wise is the name of this personality baby. He is two years and one month old, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wise, 103 1/2 E. Front street.
There are a lot of boosters who are pulling for Paul in the Baby Election.

It would be hard to look at this baby without wanting to hug her.
She is Gayle Marie Ottwell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J.
Ottwell of R. F. D. 1, Buchanan.
Gayle Marie is just two and one-half years old. She is typically blonde, with blue eyes, blonde hair,
and pink cheeks.
She is just as sweet as she is pretty, and after a glance at the picture you'll admit that's saying a lot.

Here is Devon Delbert Ochenryd-er, a real 100 per cent boy.
The sturdy figure and broad shoulders of this little fellow indicate that one of these days the Ochenryders are going to have an athlete in their family.
Delbert is possessed not only of a fine physique, but also of a very pleasing personality. He is vigorous, handsome, and a likeable boy.
Mr. and Mrs. John Ochenryd, 810 Short street, are the proud parents of this young man.

A dandy little girl is Donniss
Jeanette Rolif, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rolif, of R. F. D. 2, Buchanan.
Donniss has brown eyes, light
brown hair and fine, regular features. She is quick, active, mentally alert every minute.
Note the firm poise and steady gaze of this little tot. Her face reveals not only childish beauty, but lines of real character, as well.

Some four years and six months ago, Ramona Shirley Mitch arrived upon this mortal scene, and ever since that time she has been a popular favorite.
Ramona Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Mitch of 106 Arctic street.
This pretty little girl is now getting a good start in the Baby Election, and seems certain to stand well up in the list when the final day arrives.

Here we see Kathleen Elaine Voorhees, dressed right in the latest fashion, and suppressing a smile with difficulty.
Kathleen is the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loran Voorhees, 701 Main street.
This little girl is a decided brunette, and a most attractive personality. Who knows—you might be seeing her on the screen of your favorite movie theatre at some future date.

A light hearted little blonde is Donna May Gowland, of 107 North Cayuga street.
Donna May is three years old,
and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
John Gowland.
You can see health, high spirits,
and good nature radiating from the attractive face of this little girl.
She's quite a favorite in her neighborhood, and many are boosting for her success in the Baby Election.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

Editorial

This fall numerous complaints have been received from property owners along the routes most frequently traversed by the student body. The students, in a hurry to get home, act as though they are direct descendants of very frisky apes. Cutting across corners or pushing and shoving each other, they become a great problem to the property owner.

The majority of students do not seem to realize that the moment they step off the sidewalk they are trespassing. In their hurry they ruin the lawns along the sidewalk. To them this damage does not appear to amount to a deal, but it really does. As soon as grass seed is sown and new grass comes up, its growth is completely retarded by passing feet.

If the owner of the property tells students to stay off the grass, or if he puts up signs to that effect, he is a crab. The violating individuals do not stop to realize that by walking a few steps farther or by retarding their impulses to push and shove they would save numerous individuals a considerable sum of money. I'm sure if each one realized those facts they would rather act as gentlemen or ladies rather than cause so much needless damage.

Perhaps the property owners do not realize that a similar problem confronts the officials of the school since it is much the same group of students who persist in destroying school property. This may be done intentionally or otherwise, but the most important fact is that it is done. Every year several hundred dollars are spent for improvements which would not be necessary if the students would be more careful.

Unquestionably the school lawn is the greatest site of misuse. The student body, in general, is not responsible for the greatest part of destruction which takes place there although a few persist in walking across the lawn. The grade youngsters insist upon passing or kicking the football around. This tends to give the lawn a dilapidated appearance. The greatest damage, however, is caused by the students who participate in football. Whenever the ground is the least bit soft the numerous cleats in their shoes tear the sod which gives the lawn a look similar to "the last rose of summer."

There also exists that group of students who persist in placing their autograph on every bit of furniture or on the various walls. The lavatories are the greatest sufferers in this case. The students leave the class room, and, seeing no one around, think it is an ideal time to autograph a few things. Another sees the signatures of friends and does not hesitate to add his name. Each year it is necessary to paint over these names. This also costs money.

These destructions are not the only noticeable ones in the school building. Seats are broken, occasionally window panes and even blackboards are sometimes destroyed. The parents of all the students are interested in the welfare of the school. Because of this they should be willing to take a few moments of their time and talk to their sons and daughters, the while trying to impart to them that it is better to preserve than destroy.

Revising an old tradition in B. H. S., the freshman class is planning to give a party for the sophomores.

Plans are incomplete, as the party is not expected to be given until sometime during the Christmas season. Another freshman class meeting will be held to select the necessary committees and to in other ways further plans.

This is expected to be one of the outstanding social events of the year. For the past three years the school parties have been very limited because of financial difficulties. Only all-high school functions (except the junior prom) instead of individual class parties have been permitted, this being the first.

WHISPERING PINES

By Una Kelley
Everybody is all a'fither about the Eagle dance to be given by the Boy Scouts of Eagle rank at Camp Madron, Oct. 21. Who's goin' with whom is all the girls can talk about.

And here's one boy who forgot the date of the dance—and now he has two dates for the 21st! Pray for him—he'll need it!

Ted Lyon has been playing to packed study halls. Everyone likes to hear his loud "heel pat" as he walks to his seat. Especially when the teacher calls him back to do it over again—quietly.

And are suede jackets having a "heerl!" The locker rooms at noon are just a solid mass of cow or whatever suede jackets are made of.

The Latin Club had a party at Vivian Mogford's house last Wednesday night. Outside of Billy Habicht's renowned efforts to corner the sandwich market, the sweat, young things only broke one lamp, one whoopee game, threw beans on the floor, and generally tried to obstruct the peaceful interior of the Mogford residence.

The president of the senior class, James Everingham, was born at St. Thomas, Ontario, and will be nineteen years old Nov. 10th. James' parents moved to Detroit when he was in the ninth grade and there he attended a Detroit school. Since then he has attended schools in Kalamazoo and Battle Creek.

Last year the Everingham family came to Buchanan and James enrolled in the local high school as a member of the junior class. Since that time James has become very popular among his school mates and has progressed well in his school work. As a result of this he has received the presidency of his class by a large majority. James has both the brains and ability required for such an office.

Mary Donley, who is one of the most popular girls in school, was born in Buchanan, Dec. 13, 1916.

However, Mary has not always lived in this city, for when she was about "the school age" her parents moved on to a farm near Dayton and later made their residence in that village.

As Mary is an industrious girl, she has a very good scholastic record. This year she was elected vice president of the senior class. She is also business manager of the G. A. A. and secretary of the Usher Club.

Mary has always participated in sports and has several times been captain of her team. This fall she is out for soccer and shows much skill as halfback.

The pretty brown hair and the sparkling Irish eyes which Mary possesses make her a very attractive girl.

Last week's football game with Niles caused several enthusiastic boys to decorate the building and boost the game. This past week found the boys working in the halls till the dark hours crept over Buchanan High School.

The signs, slogans and pictures originated by these youths caused many to say, "I wouldn't miss that game for anything!"

Anyone entering the building would have gazed perhaps in horror or merriment at the long, lanky dummy hanging on the wall. This dummy was made from the oldest of equipment that could be found amidst "Curly" Bradford's prized possessions. Not less than twenty signs adorned the walls and teachers heaved great sighs as they tried to find space on their blackboards.

Although the decorations caused some confusion, they also caused a great deal of enthusiasm, and it is enthusiasm that makes students go out and boost their team.

Class Activities

The chemistry class has been studying the highly theoretical part dealing with various theories, especially the electron theory. This electron theory was performed by H. J. G. Mosley, who was killed in the World War. His theory explains how chemical changes take place better than any other known theory. With this the students are taking up the study of valence and the writing of formulas and chemical compounds.

Mechanics of gases has just been finished by the physics class. They will now continue into mechanics itself. This includes various machines and laws applying to machines.

The students in biology are finding out how the various parts of the body feed their food. This includes the osmosis experiment. The biology class was also given a present, a puffball as large as a person's head. A puffball is an example of a plant which cannot manufacture its own food as a green plant.

P. T. A. Fair to be Held Nov. 2, 3. The Parent Teachers Association is sponsoring a school fair to be held Nov. 2 and 3.

Two one-act plays will be staged, one directed by Miss Helen Hamlin and one directed by Mrs. Velma Dunbar.

The school exhibit is also to be held at this time. Mr. Miller's general science class is grasping the importance of matter and the importance of energy and work.

The seventh grade manual training class is working on chambering butt joints and beveling, while the eighth grade is completing drawings and starting shop products.

The mechanical drawing class is working on machine drawings. Carson Donley and Chester Westendorf are working on perspective drawings.

Physical Education. The gym classes are playing soccer. Two teams in each class compete for the day's game. They are also working on facing and some marching.

Mathematics. Loren Jewell had the highest mark in a commercial arithmetic test. Tuesday, involving the short method of multiplication and division. The Austrian method of subtraction, the short method of squaring like numbers, and the short method of multiplying are topics of study in the commercial arithmetic class.

Reading of electric meters has been interesting the seventh grade for the last week. Some of the students have already thought of applying for the job of meter reading for the I. & M. Electric Co.

Mrs. Weaver's eighth grade arithmetic classes have been figuring profit, overhead expense and cost.

Language. The first meeting of the Latin club was held Friday, Oct. 6, with Miss Shriver acting as chairman.

Election of officers was held. Cherry Heim is the new president; Bill Habicht, vice president; Spencer Kohlman, secretary; Ted Lyon, treasurer.

The club constitution was revised. In order to become a club member, it is necessary to receive at least a B for one six weeks period, and to remain a member of good standing, one should have a C average.

Plans for the initiation of the new members were discussed. The initiation will be held as soon as the report cards come out to see who is eligible.

An all school Halloween party seems to be the goal of the club at the present time, although no date has been announced.

A social meeting was held at the home of Vivian Mogford Wednesday, Oct. 11. All the ex-Latin club members that are still in school were guests.

The French newspaper, "Le Petit Journal," is going to be used again this year in the French 12 class. The newspaper is written entirely in French and contains the news from France and other French speaking countries.

Commercial Department. Miss Lucille Quade's first year typing classes have had all the letters of the keyboard and are now working for accuracy and speed, while the second year typists are working on designs that can be made on the typewriter.

Sherhand students have finished the downward characters and will have a test over the rules and words.

The bookkeeping class is studying capital and drawing accounts and reviewing transactions of a business over a period of one month.

Music. The glee clubs are doing practically nothing this week but practicing the same songs and music of last week. The band is having marching drills.

English 11 and 12. The juniors and seniors have decided to go very prehistoric with their plan of making a collection of folk ballads of this and the surrounding vicinity, as every section has its own ballads and songs.

Remember the old songs your mother used to sing? The English department would appreciate material anyone might have in this line.

The juniors have begun the work of the study unit, including the reading and staging of "Everyman."

The seventh graders are working on the different types of letters including business and friendly letters. They are working also on composition form.

Home Economics. Miss Janet Thompson's seventh grade class has been experimenting with different kinds of breakfast breads and toasts during the past week. So far they have shown their skill in preparing French toast, butter toast and cinnamon rolls.

Meat, vegetable and fruit luncheon salads have been the interesting study of the eighth grade girls. The ambitious freshman class has been heeding the hints on dinner meats in their text book. After finishing meats, they will be taught all of the terms in cooking, such as cereal, brazen, sauteing and marinating.

The sophomores have begun sewing on woolen dresses. They have a gorgeous display of colors, big sleeves and attractive necklines.

Journalism. The amateur reporters of the journalism class are learning the details of newspaper paragraphs. They are also branching out in the study of newspapers other than the South Bend papers. More material on early colonial papers will be brought in class and discussed.

English 9-10. The sophomores are drilling on phrases and clauses and are practicing the writing of simple, complex and compound sentences in preparation for a future mastery test.

Studious freshmen will also receive a mastery test over capitals nouns apostrophes, and the recognition of verbs, which they are now studying.

English 8. The eighth grade English classes have been finding out all about Rip Van Winkle. Every member of the classes is making some project, either a picture, poem or a story to illustrate the story. These projects will be in the school exhibit which will be held Nov. 2 and 3.

They have also learned Blaise Cendrars' poem entitled, "October." The highest mark on the English essentials test was 93. This mark was made by Betty Sample. Phyllis Lamb was next getting 92. Dorothea Paul was third from the highest getting 90.

The eighth graders have increased their average of spelling from 60, which was the first week's average, and now their average is 92.

Eighth Grade History. The eighth grade has been memorizing the preamble of the Constitution.

Gerald White was the only one unable to write it without a mistake, but many could say it perfectly.

Seventh Grade History. The seventh grade history class has just finished the period of exploration and discovery.

NEW TROY

The Trojan Women's Club met with Mrs. Joe Smith at Glendora last Friday when two very interesting roll calls were heard. Wagon sign places I should like to visit and impressions of the Century of Progress. The members then played a geographical game planned by Mrs. Walter Zeigler after which they were entertained by Miss Eleanor Smith, who played two piano solos. Hostesses were Mrs. Claude Blackmun and Mrs. Kenneth Bihlmaier. The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. Zeigler when members will observe Junior day by bringing a junior as a guest. Mrs. H. O. Piper is in charge of the program.

A large group of New Troy friends were entertained by Wm. Strong Monday evening at the Wolverine Gardens at Glendora, when he gave a bridge party and dance in honor of his wife's birthday. Dr. Corey, Mrs. L. A. Boyd and Mr. and Mrs. William Hanover were prize winners at the card game after which a delicious supper was served at large tables charmingly arranged. Afterward the guests danced to music furnished by the Post Tavern orchestra.

Ten girls and their leader of the New Troy Girl Scouts enjoyed a week-end outing at Berrien Springs, leaving here Friday evening and returning Sunday morning. The girls are spending their time now planning a booth for the P. T. A. Fall Festival.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. M. Burlingham Yesterday Afternoon

Mrs. Matilda Burlingham died Monday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Clark, on West Terre' Crepe, and the funeral rites were held at 2:30 p. m. yesterday from the Childs Funeral Home with Rev. Rice in charge.

The remains are being taken today to Wellsboro, Ind., where they will be entombed for Shelby, O., where they will be buried beside those of her husband, who died 31 years ago.

She was born in Fairfield, O., on July 13, 1848, her name before marriage being Matilda J. Hein. She was married to William D. Burlingham Dec. 27, 1868. Six children were born to them, of whom two are still living, Mrs. A. E. Clark of Buchanan and Mrs. John Sellers of Wellsboro, Ind. Twenty-two grandchildren and thirty-five great grandchildren also survive.

A sister, Mrs. Della Clark of LaPorte, and a brother, Fred Hein of Whiting, Ind., also survive.

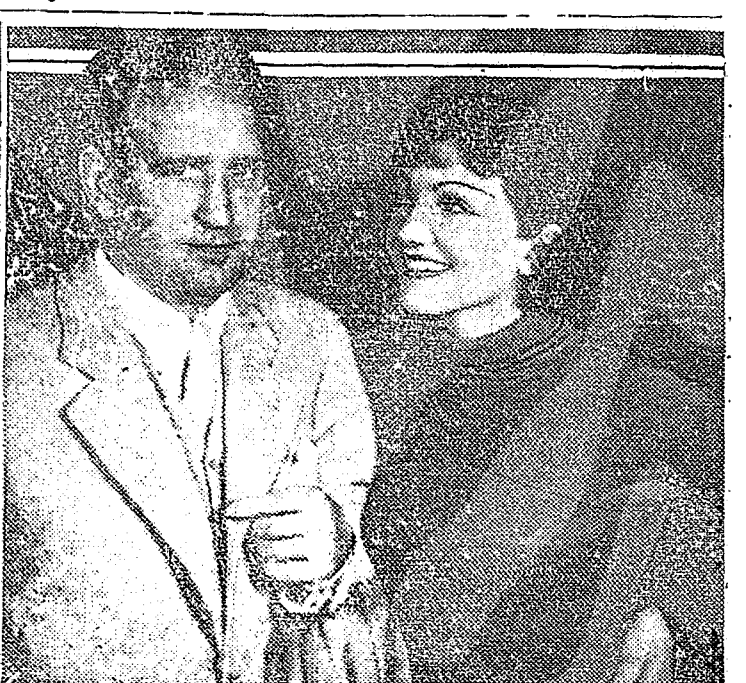

Clark Chrome Plate Wheel Finds Favor with Motoring World

A force of eight additional men including several chromium experts, has been engaged at the D. S. Larson & Co., plant on South Oak street, to care for increased orders for chrome-plated passenger car wheels received recently by the Clark Equipment Co.

These wheels are of the replacement type which were designed and introduced to the public by the Clark company over a year ago, to enable owners of cars, who were not ready to buy new cars but who wished to avail themselves of the improved rideability of the chrome-plated wheels.

These wheels have been found to be superior to the standard wheels for judging by the increase in orders.

Plow Reveals Old Pavement. Tiny squares of colored chalk unearthed by a farmer's plow near Rudston, England, led to the discovery of 810 square feet of a Roman pavement estimated to have been laid 1,900 years ago.

Facts for Mr. Rockefeller on Law, On Temperance, On Public Opinion.

In Mr. Rockefeller's statement of views in connection with the report of Raymond B. Fosdick and Albert L. Scott on methods of liquor control he makes two points that challenge our thought.

He would place first in importance the cure of lawlessness, even at the expense of temporary increase of intemperance.

Second, he stresses the focusing of all the forces of society upon the development of self control and "temperance" as regards the use of alcoholic beverages.

To accomplish this he advocates "taking up again the slow march of education."

In connection with both these objectives Mr. Rockefeller emphasizes the importance of the adoption of a system which will have the support of public opinion.

Regarding law, he says that "intelligent law-making rests on the knowledge or estimate of what will be obeyed." He thinks that the Eighteenth Amendment was not successful because of failure to foresee that it might not always have the support of public opinion.

We would call attention to certain great reforms that might not have succeeded had that attitude been observed. Child labor laws have fought for acceptance for years without getting a majority vote until recently. Our well-filled prisons testify to the resistance to law offered by a multitude. There is resistance to the laws against narcotics, yet no move to repeal them.

Dr. Richard Cabot of the Harvard Medical School says: "Morally and socially the case against alcohol is just as clear as the case against opium."

Mr. Mulhoney, police commissioner of New York, warning against racketeering, comments, "Stamp it Out!" He does not consider that racketeers should be relieved of the laws which make them into criminals.

We would remind Mr. Rockefeller that the eighteenth amendment came about as the culmination of a steady growth in public opinion demanding the destruction of the liquor traffic. The righteousness of the law gives it a claim to our continued loyalty and enforcement.

Mr. Rockefeller says he still believes in total abstinence, but that many people believe in temperance instead, so he has ceased to uphold the eighteenth amendment. He is here directly opposed to Dr. Cabot and to the accepted scientific teaching of the day, as appears in the medical textbooks. These books teach that alcohol is a narcotic, habit-forming drug, of which even a small amount diminishes the self-control and judgment that are the prime requisites for "temperance."

By what agencies does Mr. Rockefeller hope to instruct people in "temperance." Where would he procure scientific textbooks for the presentation of moderate drinking as an art?

Does he anticipate that the press will teach temperance beyond the point where it interferes with advertising? How will "lawlessness," which Mr. Rockefeller ranks above temperance, come out in that battle?

Mr. Rockefeller says that he agrees with Mr. Fosdick in his belief that only laws that have the support of public opinion should be upheld. In a stimulating little volume called "The Old Savage in the New Civilization," published in 1928, this Mr. Fosdick says some convincing, if somewhat startling things. He tells us how public opinion frequently built, "These instruments, (the newspaper, the radio, the telephone) can re-create the psychology of crowds, they shake down to a common level of intelligence, they encourage group passion."

Many Varieties of Wheat. A Russian botanist says that Abyssinia contains more varieties of wheat than all the rest of the world put together.

William Desenberg, with full warrant to practice as a barrister in the states of Michigan and Indiana where he has passed the required bar examinations.

Ford Motor Co. Plans Exposition of Car Progress

The Ford Motor company is presenting a National Ford Exposition of Progress, which will open next Saturday, Oct. 31, at Convention Hall, Detroit, and continue until the following Saturday, Oct. 28, Sunday excepted.

This exposition will vividly portray how farms, mines and factories in all parts of the United States and in many foreign countries, contribute to the manufacture of the Ford car.

One hundred and seventy-five suppliers of the Ford Motor Co. have joined in the event. Their exhibits will contain practically everything that goes to make up the Ford automobile.

In the center of the great exhibit will be a replica of the historic one-story brick workshop on Bagley Ave., where Henry Ford built his first motor car back in 1893.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

"Farm prices are not so bad at present," said County Agricultural Agent H. J. Lurkins in the course of a short visit in Buchanan Tuesday. "I got $1.25 per bushel for some choice Golden Delicious apples from my farm this fall. The run of good apples sold at from seventy-five cents to a dollar. But I remember back in the panic of 1893 when we sold apples at a dollar a barrel, and a barrel held three bushel.

"What is the real difference now? Why, we had practically no bills to pay in those days. We had no cars to buy gas for, no light bills, no radios—practically none or few of the scores of items of outgo that now demand a steady cash income. These times if you square up every debt today, you will owe for something tomorrow, something that must be paid in cash."

NEW REGIME IN RELIEF

The dispensation of relief in Berrien county is going on a new basis, both in method of distribution and in attitude toward the recipient, according to Will T. Richards, member of the Berrien County Emergency Relief Commission, and former poor commissioner of Buchanan.

Investigation of the actual condition of applicants will be in the hands of experienced welfare workers and will be more thoroughly undertaken than in the past. The recipients will no longer be considered in the light of public wards, but rather as clients of the commission who are in temporary straits as a result of extraordinary conditions. The entire efforts of the commission will be devoted to maintaining the self-respect of those in their care and in rebuilding their morale against the time when chances of employment will return.

The county commission is gradually taking over all relief work of the county which is to be overseen from the central office at St. Joseph. At the present time the city of Benton, Harbor, Benton township, Niles township and the city of Buchanan have been taken over. The investigation of local cases is now under the direction of the county commission, and all checks are drawn against it.

The commission has to a great extent reproduced the Grand Rapids set-up in organization and in method of handling relief.

The city of Buchanan was taken over direct from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in August.

During the past few weeks that harbinger of prosperity, the new car, has been seen in increasing numbers on the streets of Buchanan, so much as to give rise to the query as to whether the phenomena betokened the returning spring-tide of good times, or whether a mere flash in the pan.

Inquiry among car dealers of Buchanan revealed that active interest in the purchase of new cars has been more active in the past two months than in the preceding two years.

"I have made more cash deals for cars in the past few weeks than in any corresponding period since 1929," stated one dealer. "I sold nine cars in one locality recently, all cash but one."

"I am getting a bigger percentage of cash deals than I ever did before," said another dealer. "And in quite a percentage of the cases, the purchaser is counting the spot cash over the counter. It probably means that they have had the money in their private possession for a long time and have finally decided that improvement of conditions is at last such as to warrant their spending some of it on things that they want."

In any event, it would appear that the release of past accumulated funds in the purchase of new cars means a returning confidence in the future that in itself is the warrant of better times.

BUCHANAN PIONEER HISTORY

BERTRAND PIONEERS, FRANCIS, ISSAC
WELLS HAD VIVID EXPERIENCE AS GOLD SEEKERS, INTERPRETERS FOR INDIANS

How Founders of Wells Family Came to This Section, Was Related by Late Joel Gillespie.

Isaac Wells moved with his parents from Ohio to Michigan when he was an infant, the family settling first at Edwardsburg, where they lived four years. They then moved to Berrien township. When he and his family located there, there were only five white families in the vicinity and nearly 500 Indians living in that portion of the Indian reserve. Isaac soon became familiar with the Indian tongue, speaking it fluently, so that at the age of eight he acted as interpreter for the Indian chief in a dispute with the white men. The war chief's son also gave him a pipe, which may now be seen in the museum maintained by the historical society of Cass County at Cassopolis.

His family, however, were not afraid but were confident that he would be well-treated by the Indians. On his return he was given a fawn skin, beautifully finished and tanned and filled with honey. The war chief's son also gave him a pipe, which may now be seen in the museum maintained by the historical society of Cass County at Cassopolis.

After he was grown he married Sarah J. Herkimer and two years later he moved back to Cass county, engaging in blacksmithing and farming in Lagrange township, where he remained nearly twenty years. Later he was in the dairy business at Dowagiac two years and then inspector for the Round Oak Stove Works at Dowagiac for about twenty years.

The following biographies of well-known pioneers of Berrien township is taken from a historical and genealogical record of the Wells and Herkimer families compiled by the late Joel H. Gillespie.

Francis Wells was born at Xenia, O., 1823. When eight years old, in the year 1831, his parents moved to Michigan and settled at Edwardsburg, in Cass county, where they made their home four years. In 1835 they moved to Berrien township, Berrien county, where they obtained a pre-emption claim from the government on 160 acres of land. Francis, however, remained with a sister, Eliza Wells, in Cass county and secured the government contract to carry the mail between Cassopolis and Niles. He conveyed the mail on horseback and continued in that service two years. He saved his earnings as a mail carrier and invested them in a yoke of oxen, finally joining his parents in Berrien township in 1837.

A year after his arrival his father died and he was obliged to share with his older brother, Joseph Wells, the management of the farm. In the early forties he helped cut and score timber near the village of Bertrand and the timber was floated down the St. Joseph river to Berrien Springs and used in the construction of one of the early taverns of that place.

In 1850 he joined the rush to the goldfields of California, accompanying a small group which included his younger brother, Lewis. With covered wagons drawn by ox teams they undertook the trip across the thousands of miles of desert. They took a cow with them to furnish milk. They rested each Sunday from travel.

They crossed the expanse without trouble from Indians, although the trail was lined with the skeletons of oxen and with the graves of pioneers who had fallen by one fate or another. It took five months to make the trip.

They remained in California for two years, acquiring a rich fund of experience and some financial reward. Then the health of the younger brother failed and they went back to Michigan, making the return trip by ocean vessel around Cape Horn. The year following his return to Buchanan he married Rachel Herkimer and bought the farm on which they lived nearly a half century, until his death.

During his life he was a community leader, serving in township offices, on the board of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company and also on the board of trustees of the Presbyterian church of Buchanan.

Sunday was Buchanan Day at the Century of Progress not officially of course, but in point of actual attendance. There were 345,000 people at the fair and over half of them were from around Buchanan, having made that census report, maybe I should have that one. Well, anyway Bert Steele says he sold more railway tickets than he has in the ten years he's been in Buchanan, 91. Of course, 65 of them were bought by one man in charge of a party of teachers and students from Emmanuel Missionary college, Berrien Springs. The biggest bunch of tickets sold out of the local depot for any previous world fair excursion this year was some thirty odd.

Hello, there's Curly Bradford across the street. All right Curly, high hat us if you feel like it. You will come to earth some Saturday after your team gets licked.

Open Season for Mills and Flora

By a coincidence, the opening of the small game season this year came on a Sunday and a consequence some 500 odd hunters took the field from Buchanan alone according to license statistics furnished by the local dispensaries. Muir & Sands having sold 200 and Ralph Allen over 200. Sunday was a grand day from a weather viewpoint, although not so good for hunting and all the boys were out. One hunter said there were only twelve shooting in one field at the same time.

Timid citizens kept under cover or only ventured out on the concrete in armored cars while the incessant barrage continued in the adjacent fields. But for a wonder there were only two casualties: Charles Mills and Buck Florey, one of whom got a small shot in the leg and the other a sprinkle in the chest. Mills told us that he was within twenty feet of the guy that shot him and neither one of them knew of the other, so intent were they on beating up the game. The other man kicked up a rabbit and banged away, bagging Mills and Florey. Apparently the hunter got so excited over getting Mills and Florey that he forgot about the rabbit.

When asked who the hunter was, Mills said he wasn't sure and anyway he didn't know whether the fellow had a license or not and he would rather not tell. But we read clear through the game law and there's nothing in it about needing a license to shoot Mills or Florey.

Harry is No Pipe-Retriever Harry Binnis installed a rabbit wire netting over the basement window light and ventilation opening in the pavement in front of his store last week. Said people kept dropping things through and then he would have to go down in the basement and fish them out. Last week a fellow dropped his pipe through.

You should see the easy chairs in Enos Schram's office. Never until we sunk ourselves in their luxurious depths one day last week did we fully grasp the psychology of the thing. As you sink back a dreamy languor comes over you and you only have to shut your

I notice mention of the fifty-fourth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. William Haslett. I was not so well acquainted with him as I was with his father, William Haslett. He was for a string of years kept in the office of supervisor of Berrien township. The family came from Pennsylvania to Indiana in 1827, and there in 1837 married Mary Ellen Best, and later in the same year located on the farm where the present William was born and now lives.

In Charge Conclave
of Knight Templars

F. R. Montague, local Ford retailer, is a busy man this week, what with being commander of the South Bend Commandry No. 13, Knights Templar, which is the best organization for the Tri-State Conclave of Indiana, Michigan and Illinois posts at the Masonic temple and at the Scottish Rites Cathedral in that city on Oct. 31. The program will include a parade and exhibition drills by crack teams of famous commanderies including teams from Detroit, Indianapolis and a dozen other cities. Of four delegations will include knights from Kalamazoo, Three Rivers, Sturgis, St. Joseph and Grand Rapids. It is anticipated that this will be the best attended and most important convocation in the history of Templarism of South Bend.

eyes to imagine you are in the lobby of the LaSalle hotel or some big bankrupt hostelry. And when you come to Enos is saying, "Now that will be all for the present. Thanks for the policy."

Thursday: The days grist of the J. P. court one chicken stealing, one desertion, one rape. Ho hum! Let the correspondents have it. That's the stuff they make dailies out of.

What are the weekly papers made of? Farm auction sales and ladies aid tales—That's what weekly papers are made of. What are the daily papers made of, made of? Hot stuff full of spice and wild tales of the daily papers are made of, made of.

Friday: Mitch dug part of his potato patch. He ain't saying nothin' yet.

It's been on our conscience all these weeks and now that the fishing season is over, perhaps we ought to confess. Well, you remember all those tall fish stories we quoted Carl Remington on? Well, Carl carries the following license:

1. Lies may be told at any place or time, without notice. (Not admissible to game wardens.)

2. Cameras may be used, scales doctored, and elastic rulers employed.

3. Borrowed or rented fish may be used at all times.

4. Guides or others may be bribed or otherwise induced to corroborate all good lies.

5. An extra quarter of a pound or half inch will improve all lies.

6. This license is null and void if used for any other purpose, including: (a) Weight of babies, (b) Tire and gasoline mileage, (c) Golf scores, (d) All private and business purposes.

So now use your own judgment about Carl's fish stories in the future.

No Killing Frost

This is Tuesday we are writing and there has been no killing frost yet, so as a result the salivars, late asters and other fall flowers are still blazing brilliantly in Buchanan and most of the leaves are still hanging, although the September heat and drought loosened quite a few.

Out in the country the late potatoes are still flourishing and the tubers are making tonnage faster than any time this year, so the growers say. As a result none are being dug to date.

WANTED! THOUSAND PROPERTY OWNERS AT AMERICAN LEGION HALL NEXT MONDAY EVENING!

Sanitary Engineers to Explain Plan of Federal Public Works Administration to Finance Construction of Sewers as Employment Relief Measure.

All property owners of Buchanan are urged to be present at the American Legion Hall next Monday evening at 8 p. m. at which time two sanitary engineers, one representing the Federal Public Works Administration, will explain the offer of that department to finance welfare relief work through 20 per cent donation and loan of the remainder necessary to finance public construction.

The particular project which is to be considered at the meeting next Monday night will be the completion of the sewerage of the city. The installation of sewers in the residential section of the city now served by cesspools is the required first step toward putting Buchanan in the ranks of cities served with the fundamentals of modern sanitary and healthful living.

Especially does this apply to the southeast section of the city which is served by cesspools and from which the natural drainage verges toward the location of the city wells. Although Buchanan city water has to date always passed muster with the state board of health, the proximity of a district served by cesspools remains a threat to the health of the town.

The installation of sewers is also a necessary preliminary to paving the remainder of the streets. Whether or not the resident sections of the city yet unserved by sewers are in a position to accept the offer of the government is the matter to be decided in the near future.

It is certain that never again will the city be afforded a like opportunity to complete improvements which must at some time be made. Although the program will require expenditure, the public works setup provides that practically all the work will be done by hand labor. This to a great extent would wipe out the relief problem of Buchanan for the coming year. From no other source could funds be secured on loan of the same liberality—1 per cent interest, thirty years.

The meeting next Monday evening will be under the auspices of the Civic Association.

Young Democrats
Meet at St. Joseph to Elect Officers

Glenn Haslett of Buchanan presided over a meeting of 125 young democrats from Berrien county at the city hall in St. Joseph Tuesday evening in his capacity of county Democratic chairman. Attorney William Desenberg also attended and was elected as one of the delegation of seventeen to represent the county at the state convention of Young Democrat Clubs of America to be held at Saginaw Oct. 26. Election of county officers was held with John Rowe of Benton Harbor winning the post of chairman over Fred Lardner of Niles. Among the speakers were Representative Dean Morley and Harvey Jarvis and Senator Leon D. Case.

Lieut. Ed Peck
Flies Over City in Coast-Coast Flight

Lieut. Edwin Peck, son of Mrs. Maude Peck, circled over Buchanan several times yesterday while en route on a government mission from San Diego, Calif., to Washington, D. C. Peck left San Diego Monday on a mission not definitely announced, and proceeded by easy stages across the continent, stopping at Salt Lake, Utah; Rock Springs and Cheyenne, Wyo.; Grand Island, Neb.; Omaha and Chicago. He stayed all night at the home of his sister, Mrs. Robert Wells, in Chicago and flew from there to Cleveland before landing yesterday.

Berrien County News Review

Justices May Collect Coroner Fees

Justices of the peace may still collect bills for acting as coroners in the absence of the official elected in that capacity, according to a decision by the board of county supervisors Friday, and the decision was upheld by a ruling by County Attorney Harvey W. Holbrook.

The fight came to a head when County Coroner Talbot submitted eight bills totaling $40 for cases in which justices of the peace had done the work.

The claims of the justices were represented by Supervisor Walter Henson of Berrien Springs, who stated that the law allowed the justice of the peace to act as coroner when there is no coroner resident in the city or township where the case arises.

County Red Cross Gets Extra $500

The board of county supervisors voted an extra $500 to the Berrien County Red Cross in addition to the $1,000 appropriated last spring. It was pointed out that the Red Cross organization had supplied $80,000 worth of flour, clothing and yarn goods.

Theisen Named on State Oil Committee

J. J. Theisen, president of the Theisen-Clemens Oil company and one of the leading independent distributors in the middle west has been named a member of the Michigan committee on petroleum marketing, under the provisions of the federal planning and co-ordination act.

Holds Up Bridgman Oil Station

A lone bandit held up a filling station at the intersection of the Weko-Bridgman road with US-12, at Bridgman Friday evening, and robbed the operator, Jay Decker, who was unable to tell how much he had lost.

Increase Pay Vet Commission

The board of county supervisors voted large salaries and less mileage expense for the members of the Berrien county soldiers' relief commission at the Friday session, fixing the remuneration of the chairman and secretary at $50 each instead of $25, and of the third member at $40 per month instead of $25. Mileage was reduced from 10c a mile to 5c. Work done by the commission outside the six months will be gratis.

The board accepted a suggestion from the commission that the latter submit to the supervisors each month a list of war veterans receiving aid from the commission, to prevent duplication of relief.

Morgan, managing director of the State Board of Tax Administration, announces that he has received a letter from the Farm Journal Magazine, Philadelphia, Pa., stating that they have always sponsored a sales tax or an income tax in preference to other property taxes. Also, he has received a communication from the Lincoln Grange of Shepherd, Mich., to the effect that they have endorsed the sales tax as being the most fair distribution of taxation that this state has ever promoted. Mr. Morgan announces that he also has letters in his files from other organizations who have made similar statements.

An absolute duplication of the radio equipment used by the largest United States and South American air lines is the latest gesture in the direction of complete realism to be made by motion picture makers.

The outfit was installed in the offices of the South American air line around which flows the plot of "Night Flight," thrilling multi-star M-G-M picture, which opens Sunday, Oct. 22nd, at the Ready Theatre for three days.

The story, written by a pilot Antoine de Saint-Exupery and directed by another pilot, Clarence Brown, has been interpreted by an extraordinary cast of stars, including John Barrymore, Helen Hayes, Clark Gable, Lionel Barrymore, Robert Montgomery and Myrna Loy.

Power of 200 Watts

The radio set was in four banks; its power two hundred watts. It could reach 300 miles by phone and 1,000 miles by code. It had a wave length range from seventeen to fifty-four meters. Four pilots could be talked to at one time, affording complete control of a far-flung flying system.

Inasmuch as this radio is one of the biggest "actors" in this drama of a pilot caught in a storm miles from his home port, it had to be absolutely authentic. It was installed by Charles Breeding, radio expert of the Western Air Express. Close-ups are seen of John Barrymore, the stern air port manager, tensely listening for aid from Clark Gable, the storm-battling pilot. Helen Hayes, too, listens with highly keyed emotions for word of her man. False work in the set would have been detected immediately by the thousands of film fans who are also keen students of the radio. It had to be absolutely correct, and it was.

Other players featured in the production include William Garvan, C. Henry Gordon, Leslie Fenton, Harry Beresford, Frank Conroy and Ralf Harolde. Oliver H. P. Garrett wrote the script and the picture is the second of David O. Selznick, vice-president, for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Early War Weapons

The flintlock gun and the bayonet were both introduced to warfare in the Seventeenth century.

The commission has been apportioned $7,500 for relief work for the coming year.

Howard Olson of St. Joseph, the chairman of the commission, submitted the salary proposition which the board accepted.

Frank J. Wood of Buchanan, secretary, submitted a list of proposed uniform rates to be paid indigent war veterans, but the board took no action on this. He suggested paying single soldiers $1.50 a week, a family of two $2.50 a week and 50c additional for each child, with a maximum of $5 a week to any one family. Coal is to be provided at the rate of one-half ton every two weeks. He estimated there were 320 indigent soldier families in Berrien county. Merchants and other business men of southern Berrien county have been warned to be on the look out for a ring of four check swindlers who are reported to be operating on a nation-wide basis and who have lately taken the unwilling for a harvest of $2,000 around Kalamazoo and South Bend.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

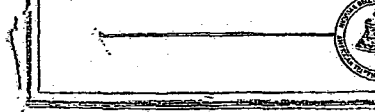

IT COSTS ALMOST AS MUCH NOT TO HAVE A TELEPHONE

Add up the monthly cost to you of messages that must be sent... of calls you make at public telephones... of time, carfare, driving and parking that a telephone at home would save.

Then consider the advantage of being able to receive messages from friends, relatives and business associates, and invitations to social affairs you would regret missing.

Remember, too, that in case of fire, sickness, accident or other emergency, just one telephone call for aid may be worth the cost of the service for a lifetime.

You can order a telephone from any Telephone Business Office. Installation will be made promptly.
