Baby Election Has Twelve Days To Go; Final Bonus To Speed Vote Gathering

Time is Getting Short Now; Final Curtain Comes Down Monday Night, Nov. 6; Sealed Ballot Box Put Into Effect Today to Insure Secrecy of Balloting.

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN A BABY BOOST NOW, BEFORE CONTEST ENDS

The third and final phase of the Personality Babies Election starts today—and an extremely thrilling period it will be between now and nine o'clock Monday night, Nov. 6, when the election ends, and the judges gather to make the final count.

To all who have followed the course of the Baby Election, it must be apparent that the next 12 days will tell the story. Earlier in the race, some of the baby sponsors might have become extremely active and piled up substantial leads for their babies—but the fact remains that they did not.

Final Bonus Offer

In today's issue, announcement is made of the third and final bonus vote offer. The offer is this: on every "club" of 10 one-year subscriptions, an extra free bonus of 45,000 votes will be allowed.

Sealed Ballot Box

The Sealed Ballot Box, under which the Baby Election will close, goes into effect today. It is the desire of the management of the Election to bring it to a close in the most fair and impartial manner. To do this, no one in or out of the Record office—not even the Election Director—will have the slightest knowledge of how the various nominees are progressing during the final 12 days.

Fred Emerson Rites Held at Elkhart Yesterday

Fred Emerson, 88, died Monday at his home at Elkhart, Ind., the funeral rites were held in that city yesterday. He was at one time well known here, when his brother, Allen Emerson, former Buchanan business man, was living.

John G. Holmes Waged a Single-Handed Warfare Against the Money Fair on Basis of World's Fair Out of Town.

Now that it can be told, it transpires that the World's Columbian exposition, or the Columbian World's exposition, whichever it was, achieved its renowned success against a staggering handicap which history heretofore has not recorded, the opposition of the Berrien County Record, John Holmes, editor.

Attention, Sponsors

The method to follow in using the Sealed Ballot box is simple. First of all, you are requested to call at the Record office not later than eight o'clock Saturday night, Oct. 28, to receive a certified statement of all votes cast for your baby up to and including the time the Sealed Ballot Box went into effect. This statement checked both by the Record and by you, and its correctness attested by both, is then given to you, and you will deposit it in the box.

All subscriptions taken by you during the remaining 12 days are placed in envelopes together with the money to cover, and deposited directly in the ballot box. Nothing is handed in to the Record office. Everything goes directly into the box.

However, the director of the Election will be in the Record office throughout this final 12 day period to give details upon which you may not be quite clear. If you are in doubt, be sure to consult him.

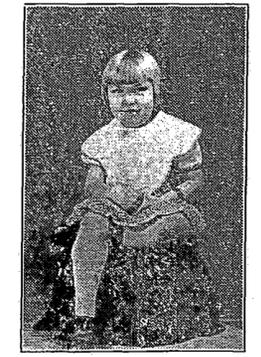

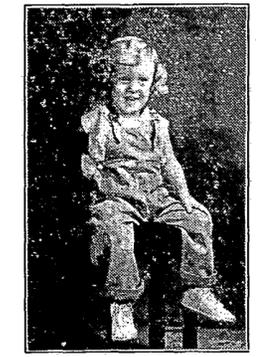

Lots of Votes Available

As has been previously stated, lots of votes are available to the sponsors who will get out after them.

THE PRIZES

First—engraved silver loving cup and $100 in cash. Second—$60 in cash. Third—$40 in cash. Fourth—$25 in cash. Fifth—$15 in cash. Sixth—$10 in cash.

Then, after these prizes have been awarded, a cash commission of 10 per cent on all subscription payments turned in for them will be paid to the remaining babies.

ANNA LINDQUIST HEADS BABY LIST

LEAD CHANGES AGAIN TODAY AS ELECTION ENTERS FINAL CRUCIAL TWELVE DAY PERIOD

Week's Voting Featured by Rapid Rise of Several Tot's Formerly Well Down in List; Election Now Under Sealed Ballot Box as Final Count Draws Near.

Again we present a hastily compiled voting list, drawn up after the close of the Second Bonus period which ended at nine o'clock last night.

Anna Belle Lindquist heads the list as the election enters the final 12-day stretch. This little tot's lead is a slim one, and crowding right behind her—in fact, separated from top place by just a subscription or two—are at least a half dozen or more others.

The week's most sensational gains were made by Wanda Mae Nadraatowski, Kathleen Yvonne Quinn, and Donnis Jeanette Rolf. All three of these have thus stepped up into the ranks of the real contenders, and their friends may look forward with every reasonable expectation to their success.

Sally May Thaning continued to make splendid progress as also did Bonnie Jean Lolmaugh and Nellie May Hemphill. Here are three more contenders, any one of which may logically be expected to finish in top position.

Robert Martin Pazder climbed rapidly, and is today revealed as one of the candidates well up in the running for the first grand prize. The same may be said of Donna May Gowland whose steady progress the last two weeks has been a source of great satisfaction to her boosters.

As the list shows, other babies also forged ahead in seven league boots, and it must be apparent to all that the real contest for final leadership and the big awards is to take place during the final, crucial 12-day stretch.

In looking over the following list, remember that the positions shown are GUARANTEED to be correct, and will be verified by the judges when the final count is made. Note the final bonus vote offer as shown on another page. Sponsors, if you want your babies to win—you must work hard and fast during the next 12 days.

WILL ROGERS IS "DOCTOR BULL" IN LATEST FILM

Zane Grey Story and Noel Coward Drama Also at the Hollywood.

Will Rogers comes to the Hollywood theatre beginning Sunday for a three day run in his latest picture for Fox Film, "Doctor Bull." It is the seven presentation of the famous novel by James Gould Cozens, "The Last Adam," best-seller and recent Book-of-the-Month selection. It is reported as the most powerful vehicle the popular philosopher-comedian has had on the talking screen.

The story concerns a physician in a small town who, in addition to ministering to the health of the community, acts as its unofficial father confessor. None of the town's secrets escape him. He knows the inner life of every one of its inhabitants. But it is not as a gossip that he finds himself interested in the private lives of the village. He is a mellow gentleman to whom everyone's confessions are an interesting bit of human document.

The film does not present the story of one character. Like "State Fair," the last of Rogers' screen plays, it deals with many characters, each typical of its kind. It is more than the story of one small town. It is the story of thousands of similar towns all over the country.

Vera Allen, stage star, has the leading feminine role opposite Rogers. Others in the cast are Martin Nixon, Louise Dressler, Andy Devine, Rochelle Hudson and Ralph Morgan.

"Life in the Raw," the new Zane Grey story with George O'Brien in the featured role, is a worthy vehicle for the combined efforts of the leading writer and the leading portrayer of western romance. This picture plays Friday and Saturday at the Hollywood theatre, and has Greta Nissen and Claire Trevor in support of O'Brien.

Though not a musical comedy, "Bittersweet," playing next week Wednesday and Thursday at the Hollywood, is richly supplied with beautiful music that will make you want to see the picture more than once. The story is an adaptation of the Noel Coward play by the same name, and which ran so successfully for two years on Broadway under the Florenz Ziegfeld banner. "Bitter Sweet" is recommended as an especial cinema treat, and was given four stars by Liberty in a recent issue. The picture is brand new, having been just released by United Artists.

Help Is Asked in Furnishing Dinners To the Needy Pupils

GREENBLATT'S FUR HOUSE WILL STAGE 33D ANNIV. SALE

Pioneer South Bend Furriers Cater to Individual Tastes in Special Order Department.

Greenblatts have one of the largest and most modernly equipped retail fur establishments in Indiana. Aided by scientific manufacturing equipment, skilled fur mechanics make possible the reputation of the store by furnishing anything mentionable in furs.

The personnel of the establishment includes 25 in the factory, cleaning and storage department office and in the display salon. One of the chief reasons why Greenblatts have achieved the singular prestige as fur manufacturers and dealers in Northern Indiana is mainly due to their special order department. In a well ventilated daylight factory, furs of regal variety are modeled to individual measurements by expert craftsmen and to individually styled, made to measure, fur coats.

The storage vault, which is fire proof, meth proof, and burglar proof has a capacity of several thousand coats and the air in this monstrous compartment is changed by means of suction and exhaust fans many times per hour, the air of which is filtered through a purifying process as a fur means of positive protection.

Metal laths, concrete and brick combine to make the entire building as fire proof as scientific resourcefulness has made possible. Further protection against fire as well as theft is assured by the A.D.T. alarm system consisting of phone alarms which are identical to radio microphones. Greenblatts are celebrating their 33 years of serving the public by offering an enormous stock of newly fashioned fur coats at irresistibly low prices. ### BABY ELECTION TO BE CLOSED UNDER SEALED BALLOT BOX; FINAL COUNT BY COMMITTEE OF JUDGES

As previously announced, the Personality Babies Election will be brought to a close under a blind, sealed ballot box.

This ballot box, locked and sealed, will be placed in the Record office today. During the final 12 days of the Election, all subscription payments will go directly into the box, thus making the windup absolutely fair and impartial and precluding the possibility of anyone, either inside the Record office or out, from having even the slightest information on the progress of the Election.

A statement of all votes previously cast will be tendered to each baby sponsor, and the sponsor also will deposit this certified statement in the ballot box.

The committee of judges, whose names will be announced next week, will meet immediately at the close of the Election at 9 p. m. Monday, Nov. 6, and proceed to break open the box, canvass its contents, and issue an official statement giving the final vote totals and awarding the prizes.

Owing to the amount of detail in connection with the final count, no attempt will be made to deliver the prizes to the winners Monday night. ALL AWARDS WILL BE DELIVERED TUESDAY, NOV. 7. No exception will be made to this ruling. However, while counting of the votes necessarily will require some time, it is estimated that the count will be completed in time to announce the winners late Monday night.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT—All sponsors of babies in the Election are requested to call at the Record office not later than 8:00 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 28, to receive certified statements of votes up to the time the ballot box went into effect, and also to receive further instructions (if needed) regarding the ballot box.

The Time to Boost is Now

The next 12 days are mighty important in the Baby Election.

The race is a very close one at present. The margins separating all of these little tots is very small—there isn't one baby on the list who couldn't easily be made a winner with a little effort on the part of the sponsor; there isn't a baby who can possibly win without such effort.

The time to get busy for your baby is here. In a few days it will be too late.

Time is short—the prizes are well worth winning—and take our word for it, effort put forth now will bring rich reward.

Here's How Subscriptions Count Votes During Final 12 Days

1 Year . . . . .	5,000 Votes
2 Years . . . . .	12,000 Votes
3 Years . . . . .	22,000 Votes
4 Years . . . . .	35,000 Votes
5 Years . . . . .	50,000 Votes
6 Years . . . . .	70,000 Votes

In addition to the above schedule, an extra bonus of 45,000 votes will be allowed on each "club" of 10 yearly subscriptions, or equivalent, until the close of the Election.

Funeral Rites Saturday For Mrs. VanTilburg

Minerva A. VanTilburg was born in Greenville, O., July 3, 1851, and departed from this life at her home near Galien, Oct. 18, 1933 at the age of 82 years, 3 months and 10 days. She was united in marriage to James A. Rembarger December 24, 1873. To this union was born four children, three having preceded her in death. She leaves to mourn their loss her husband, one son, Ellis, and a brother, Martin VanTilburg, seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. A host of relatives and friends who will greatly miss her. She had been in poor health for the past two years but was up and around until three weeks ago when she suffered a stroke and fell and was since confined to her bed until she entered her last long sleep from which she did not awaken. How sweet to sleep where all is peace. Where sorrow cannot reach the breast. Where all life's idle throbbing ceases. And pain is lulled to rest. ## NEW TROY

Community days at New Troy accomplished the moving of almost twenty-five hundred yards of ground from the hill which is being leveled back to the low places on the field which is being prepared for athletics. A hearty response to the call for volunteer help was made and of greatest assistance was the use of the caterpillar tractor belonging to Albert Puffall, the tractor donated by Charles Marx and the seven teams brought by Guy Smith and Harold Gardner of Glendora, Edward Brackett, Albert Schafer, Harold Hanover, Paul Brodbeck, and Max Yeske. Those who contributed their time were Alva Brun, R. J. Wood, Walter and Ivan Yeske, Albert Harart, Carl Stelter, S. Weaver, Ray Harris, Ed Christie, Leon Stearns, A. Parel, A. Ritchie, R. Puffall, Lee Moore, Orrin Penland, Carl Guettler, Merritt Harper, A. Anderson, Henry Barkhouse. Those who were unable to work assisted by money donations which were used for the gasoline needed for the tractors. They were E. E. Ritchie, Dr. A. W. Corey, Strong's Garage, Morley Bros., Woods and Son, Ray Zimmerman, F. R. Maxlin, Lee Kline and Fred Preder. The ladies did their share by generously donating food for dinner served Friday and Saturday in the basement of the M. E. church under the direction of Mrs. H. O. Piper and Mrs. Alva Brun, who were assisted by Mesdames Frances Penland, Merritt Harper, Carl Guettler, I. B. Enevold and R. J. Wood. One big drawback to the work was the discovery of two immense pine stumps in this hill which, although having been cut more than fifty years were in perfect state of preservation. They required a large crew of men to dig them out before they could be pulled out by way of the tractors. However, a great deal of work was accomplished and now tentative plans are made for two more such days about the middle of December, which in the opinion of William Hanover, who is directing the work, will accomplish all that has been planned by the grounds committee.

What and where is the oldest house extant in Buchanan? That is not so easy to answer, for even though Buchanan is only a hundred years old, which does not exactly rank it among the ancients of the earth, there is considerable of the prehistoric in the town—matters that were not recorded when they were transacted and are not remembered by the oldest inhabitants.

BUCHANAN PIONEER HISTORY

Front street. This house was built before the Civil war, of bricks brought from old Bertrand by way of Niles. The old Ross mansion was for years the show place of the town and was built on a palatial scale for those days.

anan enjoyed a wide scope of trade. There was no railway in the county north of the Michigan Central then, and the early settlers came as far as twenty miles from the north and north-west to Buchanan, coming by team and wagon, a long day's trip.

among the show places of the town in early days was the Tom Fulton residence at the corner of Front street and Charles Court, occupied in recent years by the late Hattie Fogus. Fulton came to Buchanan a penniless lad, did chores around the home and in the store for John D. Ross. Later he clerked in the store, became successively manager and partner and a star salesman.

corner of Main and Front where the First National building now stands was occupied by two frame store buildings, both facing west on Main street. In the reconstruction after the fire the new building was made to face Front street. The latter thoroughfare has retained its pre-eminence to date as the "main stem."

When the Day house was constructed it was for Front street what the Rockefeller mansion is to the North Shore Drive of Chicago, rearing its two-story frame height like a veritable palace among the first residences which were the first residence structures of the town.

The entire floor of this old brick business block of the town, now owned by Charles Pears and housing the Allen Hardware and the City Market. Built immediately before the war, this was known in old days as the Union block, probably because of the Civil war hysteria which was then starting to sweep the country, calling to mind the "Liberty Heights" and "Liberty Avenue" designations made during World War Days.

The building was spared by the "big fire" of 1862, which swept the south of Front street from the corner of Days avenue to the alley which then existed where the Princess Theatre building now stands.

The era of palatial residential constructions in brick was during and immediately after the Civil war, when a number of Buchanan merchants invested their war profits in houses which were to exemplify their increased prestige in the community. Prices were high during this period and Buchanan enjoyed a wide scope of trade.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

THE NRA COLONEL SPEAKING

"The women of Buchanan have it in their power to give jobs to a lot of men and help make secure the jobs of those already working," said D. S. Larson, chairman of the local NRA organization today.

"It is probably true, as has often been stated," said Mr. Larson, "that women control or influence between 80 and 85 per cent of all buying. Just at present, the most important duty before the people of this country is to step up the retail business. Let me say, parenthetically, that it is being stepped up. With a sustained, intensive buying effort between now and the end of the year, it will do more to put people to work and keep them there than anything else I can think of."

"And since 80 to 85 per cent of the buying comes through women, a major part of the success of the campaign depends on them, and mark my word, every extra dollar spent at this time goes on a direct influence in putting men to work and making more secure the jobs of those now at work."

Mr. Larson explained that there was no desire to appeal to the sympathies of the women of Buchanan in asking them to fall solidly in line with the present campaign.

Of course, women throughout the country want to do what they can to bring happiness into homes that have been sad and desolate for so long a time now as a result of the depression," Mr. Larson continued, "but we want to emphasize only the more practical features. Here they are: Prices are far below what they were three years ago. Everything is cheaper now than it was then. But, remember, we are now on the up grade. Business everywhere is improving. So prices, which have been so greatly deflated, are now rapidly returning to normal. You won't be able much longer to buy things at these prices. So its simply good business, good sound home economics, to buy now just as much as possible.

"Let me say just this one more word to the women of Buchanan. Buy freely now. In so doing you will be practicing real economy, and, in addition, you will be helping put people to work who have been out of jobs through absolutely no fault of their own."

Mr. Larson said that he was receiving almost daily reports from NRA headquarters in Washington indicating that people everywhere throughout the country were very materially intensifying their buying efforts.

SHALL WE OR SHALL WE NOT?

"The proposition before the people of Buchanan is just this," stated Charles Cole, South Bend sanitary engineer, in a talk before the meeting Monday evening held at the American Legion hall under the auspices of the Civic Association.

"If you must install sewers and a disposal plant in the next fifteen or twenty years, would it be best to do it now when unit costs are down, when you can borrow money on thirty years time at four per cent from the United States government, with thirty per cent of the cost of labor and materials donated, or would it be better to wait until more prosperous times and borrow the money from private agencies on twenty years time, six per cent interest, and a full hundred per cent of the principal to be paid?"

"The test of the economic system under which we live," said James T. Davis of the American Waterworks Association in an address preceding that of Cole, "is the extent to which it promotes an opportunity for those who are desirous to work to earn a living. It is the intention of the Public Works section of the National Recovery Act to put men back to work, to create purchasing power, to stimulate the capital goods industries. The first or 'Blue Eagle' section of the NRA was never designed in fact to put men to work. It was to smooth out the maladjustments which have arisen in labor and industry, to provide a skeleton system under which the men may return to work when employment is provided by other agencies such as the Public Works Program. The Public Works program, known as Title Two of the National Recovery Act, is the boiler which is to generate power for national recovery; the 'Blue Eagle' section, or Title One, is the steam gauge, the governor, the fitting of the steam valves, which assures that the power generated works satisfactorily."

"It comes down to this," said a former city commission member, "is Buchanan worth a sewer? Does our faith in the future of the city justify the expenditure? If it does, this is a good time to build sewers."

walk, there would be a beauty spot in place of an eye-sore. Which brings to mind, did you ever hear how that green picket fence happened to be erected between Boosters and the Treat Grocery. Well, along last July when the Centennial Committee was soliciting a little support for the Centennial they went to the Clark Equipment company. And the official they met spoke to the following effect: 'We'll dicker with you anyway. There isn't a lot of sense that we can see in bringing a lot of guests here with some of these eye-sores looming up so that they blot out the rest of the town. You put up a fence that will form a blind for that vacant lot on Front street where Dacy Avenue heads into it and we'll kick in so much.' And that's the way it happened.

Hunting Display A good display for the hunting season was the exhibit of animals stuffed and mounted by Darcy Salisbury and placed in the window of the Allen Hardware. The group included a red fox, a deer, a hawk and a black squirrel, a hawk and an owl, a jacksnipe, a Chinese ring-necked pheasant and a deer head. The taxidermy work is very nice.

BREAKS SEVERAL CHIMNEYS Lieut. Edwin Peck, aviator in the service of the U. S. Navy, is attached to the airplane carrier, Sargata, provided a thrilling hiatus in a rather somolent Sabbath on Sunday last when he dipped his plane low over Buchanan and made a circle of the city, knocking brick from several chimneys in the west part of town, just by way of letting the home folks know that he was on his way back from Washington, D. C. to San Diego, Calif.

FIRST FROST OCT. 23 The long discussion as to whether Buchanan has had a frost or not was definitely terminated on Monday morning when the lawns and roofs of the town bore a white icing that could in no way be mistaken for anything but a frost. Several times previous a number of gentlemen of the city who are in the habit of waking up at six o'clock, raising up and sleepily looking out the window and ducking back under the covers and snoring until it warms up, have sworn that they saw frost on the neighboring roofs far back in September. However, the tender foliage of the garden tomatoes contradicted their testimony until Monday morning. On the previous afternoon the flower and vegetable gardens on Moccasin bluff north of Buchanan were still flourishing unscathed. But the next morning the deal was off.

WHEN BROWN BEARS ARE RUBBED, HERMAN CAN RUB THEM Speaking of weather, that reminds us that Herm Hattenbach took exception to our mild winter dope some three weeks back, which was only to be expected considering his business. He gave us some contrary dope, that the supply of nuts for the squirrels is really good, the corn shucks thick, and if you must have more proof, Herm says, go find a brown bear and rub his fur the wrong way and if it is thick and velvety we are in for a cold winter, and it will sure be a cold winter before we follow his advice.

BILL WALL FILLS SCRAP SCRAP BOOK Last week the woods around Buchanan were suddenly lit by autumn fires, the forest crown of Bainton's hill turning over night. These are the harvest days for Bill Wall, who is spending all his time just picking up the pretty leaves that fall in the streets and carrying them off, we suppose to press, and what a mammoth scrap book he must have.

Sorry, Gottlieb, But Only Dumb Guys Get Elected to Office. Mr. Gottlieb Kelley, the well-known Republican leader of North Arctic street, was in the office yesterday and gave us his six-point program for restoring pre-depression prosperity to this, our city. Incidentally, Mr. Kelley is considering running for the city commission next spring. His program is:

- 1. Find some street in town where nobody that lives on it has a job (this should be easy this far) and persuade the guys that live on it to sign up to build a sewer with government money on condition that they get all the jobs connected with building it.
2. Persuade the government to put up the money, promising to pay with future taxes, service charges, promisory notes, tin milk checks or what have you, just any old time.
3. Get the money.
4. Get all the boys on the payroll, if necessary, to share the proceeds.
5. Shove the cash down in our pants.
6. If the government gets funny about their pay, tell them to come dig up their sever.

BUGANNERS ADD ANOTHER CLASS B SCALP

SOUTH HAVEN TRIMMED 12-0 IN SEA OF MUD

Leiter, Batchelor Play Fine Blocking Game, Topash Boots Admirably; Deeds Furnishes Thrills.

Buchanan's Maroon and White gridders opened athletic relations with South Haven Saturday by defeating the VanBuren county eleven, 12 to 0, at the local field.

The game was played under conditions probably the worst in local football history, the entire field being covered with water at times.

Despite this fact, there were comparatively few fumbles, the maroon "super-fumblers" handling the ball very well.

The Buchanan line functioned almost perfectly, holding the heavier South Haven team to few gains from scrimmage.

Buchanan's backfield played a fair brand of football Saturday, Leiter again being the most consistent back in the line-up.

It was Leiter, aided by Batchelor, who time and again blocked out the South Haven ends and backs, making it possible for Topash to run for the first touchdown.

A line buck for the extra point failed and the score at the end of the first quarter was 6 to 0, in favor of the locals.

The second quarter consisted mainly of a punting duel between Corey of South Haven and Topash, Buck half, and the half ended with the score still 6 to 0.

In the third quarter there was very little action, both teams playing a punting game.

South Haven threatened only in the first quarter, when they held the ball on the Maroon 10 yard line as a result of a 30 yard drive by Corey, South Haven fullback.

The Maroons held and punted out of danger.

Buchanan again scored in the last quarter when Crittenden, intercepted a loose South Haven pass on the South Haven 12 yard line and, side-stepping the secondary, crossed the goal for the final touchdown, making the score 12 to 0.

A line buck failed to gain the extra point and the final score was 12 to 0.

The South Haven team and their coach to be congratulated on their fine display of sportsmanship and clean playing in Saturday's encounter. Very few teams would show this type of sportsmanship in the face of defeat, as did the South Haven team. It is easy to display good sportsmanship in victory, but being at the wrong end of the score is a different matter.

This Saturday Buchanan journeys to St. Hedwig in South Bend this game being played at Central high school field. This is the third grid tilt between the two schools. The first game, played in South Bend, resulted in the 47 to 0 defeat of the St. Hedwig Lions, Buchanan scoring almost at will throughout the game.

Last year's game, played here, resulted in another defeat for the Lions, 34 to 7.

This year the Lions and Bucks will be the most evenly matched of any of the former games. St. Hedwig outweighing Buchanan by about 13 pounds to the man. The Maroons will depend on speed and deception plays, plus a well-functioning aerial attack to score.

As far as next season are concerned, Buchanan, of course, holds the advantage. However, the Lions have had a very successful season this year and have their best chance to even scores for the two overwhelming defeats administered to them by Buchanan. Consequently, Saturday's game at South Bend will probably be a real contest, with plenty of bad moments for both teams.

Social Hour is Revived Again By Sophomore Class

The social hour was revived again this year by the sophomore class. The first one was held on Thursday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:00. An admission fee of 5c was charged to the participants.

The purpose of this hour is to encourage dancing among the students. It was a great success judging from the attendance. Over a hundred junior and senior high students turned out for the occasion.

The proceeds of this social hour are divided between the sophomore class and the high school music department.

The music was furnished by "Riley's Ramblers."

Second Grade We had 2c papers with perfect attendance for the month.

We have the following on our Dental Honor Roll: Victor Bacaus, Jesse Brewer, Nina Dilley, Martha Fagnas, Ethel Fuller, Helen Hanover, Vera Holmes, Evelyn Johnson, Max McKahan, Jack McGowan, Frances Russell, Bobby Yoeman, Bonnie June Mills, Phyllis Sherwood.

Children's Fund Dentist Starts Oral Hygiene Work Here

Dr. E. E. Leachman, of the Children's Fund of Michigan, is caring for the teeth of students in the rural districts. There are nine districts, and of these, Dr. Leachman has covered the Bakerstown, Broesus and Wagner districts.

The first eight grades have been weighed and measured. Their proper weight is determined by their height from a standard chart. Cards, recording weight, height, and proper weight have been sent to the parents of the children.

Children in the first six grades have been studying the teeth. Diagrams showing the construction of the teeth are being made by the pupils. They are also engaged in tooth brush drills.

Applications for diphtheria inoculations have been sent to parents of children entering the school for the first time, and children under sixteen entering Buchanan schools for the first time. This is in no way compulsory and is entirely up to the parents. The work will be done by Dr. Gamble, Dr. Snowden, and Dr. Strayer as before.

There are many small injuries being treated each morning. The number ran as high as 35 in one day. While some of these injuries may be just scratches and may seem trivial, the children are told to have them treated, as many serious infections result from small injuries.

October 25th marked the sixty-second anniversary of the great Chicago fire. For Chicagoans the anniversary brought back memories of one of the greatest disasters of history.

Because of this great catastrophe, Chicago has set aside the week of October 5 as fire prevention week. During this week all citizens are urged to clean up the city and destroy all rubbish which would allow the spreading of a blaze. Although fire prevention is stressed during the remaining fifty-one weeks of the height of the campaign comes during the week of Oct. 8.

Great emphasis should be placed upon the need for fire prevention since, during the year of 1932, the total destruction because of fires amounted to the enormous sum of $442,143,311.

The children should be taught the advantages of fire prevention, both in the home and in the school, but apparently the students do not care for such instruction. Students do not seem to realize that every time they throw paper on the floor, they are inviting a fire. Recently a large pile of paper was picked up off the floor in the assembly by the janitor.

It is true that the school is practically fireproof, nevertheless, a great deal of damage could be done to the equipment if a fire were started. It is not hard to keep the litter picked up. It takes only a short time and a small amount of energy if each one does this. However, if it is put off, the resulting damage may be very great.

H. S. Classes Elect Officers: Plan Booster Day

The seventh grade was organized for the first time under a president at their recent class meeting. They chose Lawrence Dellinger as their chief executive, Bob Habicht, vice president; Mildred Ferris, secretary. They also discussed plans for Booster Day parade.

During the eighth grade meeting, plans were made for a costume Halloween party to be held Oct. 28. A committee was chosen to take care of the preparations. It consists of Earl Stevens, Chester Borst, Marian Glassel, George Riley, Dale Lyon and Mildred Miller. They also elected officers for their class, namely: Leland George, president; Betty Semple, vice president; Bob McClure, secretary and treasurer.

Plans for Booster Day were likewise under the discussion of the freshmen.

The sophomores decided to boost B. H. S. in a big way Saturday by having a float in the parade. Committees were appointed to take care of the decorations.

Class rings was the topic of the juniors' discussion during their class meeting. Miss Shriver read the list of prices to the elated group.

Amid the undisturbed quiet of the seniors' class meeting, Thomas Quirk gave a lecture on science. Mr. Bradfield also gave a speech on boosting the football team, which consists of mostly seniors. A committee to take charge of the senior Booster Day program was appointed. This consists of Dick Schram, Hope Kelley, Ethel Sibley, Maxine Howe and George Spatta.

Who's Who

A young boy with blonde hair and blue eyes was seen, the other day sitting on a dictionary, that had been placed on a stool in one of the halls and actually fishing out of a drinking fountain! This embarrassed young man was Melvin Campbell, who at that time was enduring his part of the Latin club initiation.

Melvin is an outstanding and very well liked member of the ninth grade. He was born in Chicago on March 3, 1919. However, Melvin has always attended the local schools and his parents moved to this city before he was of school age.

Any type of science is very interesting to Melvin. He also seems to have a great liking for football and even though he is still quite small he always reports for practice and shows promise of being a clever quarterback for Buchanan's future teams.

Phyllis DeNardo is one of the girls who was seen at the Buchanan-Niles football game, practicing as a new cheer leader. Phyllis is a freshman and was born in Buchanan, December 29, 1918. She has always lived in this city and attended Buchanan schools.

Latin and Glee Club are Phyllis' favorite subjects although she is interested in art and looks forward to taking an art course in college.

Being interested in athletics, she is being out for soccer and intends to become a member of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Gas meters and the figuring up of gas meters is the study of the seventh grade for this week.

The eighth grade is still on the study of percentages.

Division by factoring is being gone over by Mrs. Weaver's commercial arithmetic class.

The study of the gas, chlorine, and its reactions is being studied by the chemistry classes. It is interesting to know that this gas is used as a bleaching material, in the purification of lard, and as a destroyer of bacteria. It was used by the Germans during the World War to kill people. Mr. P. J. Moore stated, "We will not follow German methods, however."

Biography Interesting tests in plant growing and feeding tests with young rabbits are the attractions of the biology students in their study of growth and nutrition this week.

Physics Machinery is the object of interest in the physics department. The six simple machines which make up the basis of all complicated machinery are the lever, pulley, wheel and axle, inclined plane, wedge and screw.

The laws of gravity are also being taken up. The reason why a parachute jumper counts to five before pulling the ring to open his parachute is that he can fall just how far he falls in five seconds, so that he clears the plane in his jump. This is connected with the law of falling bodies.

English 9 The ninth grade English students are busy with their exercise books. They are learning to punctuate appositives and words in a series, and they are also reviewing the different parts of speech.

The sophomores are studying types of sentences, and means of acquiring unity, coherence, emphasis and euphony.

Journalism The journalism class is covering the chapter entitled "Human Interest Stories."

History Events of the war of 1812 have puzzled the senior history classes the last week.

All tenth grade classes are in the midst of studying the making of the Roman Empire. The spotlight of study during the past week was turned on the work of Julius Caesar.

Citizenship students have worked in all phases of security during the week. These include security in the home, school, church and community.

Several students are preparing projects for class annual school exhibit to be given this fall.

Mrs. Fruch's 8th grade English classes have finished their literature and have begun work on grammar, that is the cases of nouns and pronouns.

Washington and his administration have also been thoroughly studied.

The seventh grade history class is studying the discovery and exploration of Columbus booklets.

Commercial Department The advanced typing class is writing legal papers, consisting of contracts and bill of sales.

The very timely subjects of profit and loss statements, working sheets, and balance sheets have been started by the bookkeeping class. The class was greeted with a test this week, covering accounts receivable, accounts payable, notes receivable and notes payable.

Drills for the increasing of speed and accuracy are being pounded out by the beginning typists.

The shorthand class met another new friend, the O-hook, which means new vocabulary.

Science The general science division is working on simple machines, and among them are, the lever, screw, pulley and others. These are being taught with the work on mechanical devices.

Sports Coach Ray Miller has called out the Junior high basketball squad for practice.

Mathematics Mr. Hyink's 9th grade algebra class is working on the multiplication of monomials and polynomials.

The geometry class will go on a field trip this week. In addition to this, their time will be taken up by measuring the smoke stack, methods of measuring the distance between two inaccessible points, and the work of collaterals.

Quadratic equations will be the work and study of the advanced algebra class.
