

Now Here's the Proposition

Say When?

By Haws

They're drinking tonight in a merry carouse
In the land of the free and the home of the brave
By the banks and the braes of the fair Illinois
The boys are all saying, "Here's mud in your eye!"
On the banks of the Wabash, far down by Peru,
There are fair lips that murmur "Here's looking at you!"
Up there in Wisconsin they don't have to wait,
So the beakers are high and the whiskey is straight.
In many a precinct to eastward and west
They are crowding the bars with their feet on the rest.
In many a shire from the north to the south
They're wetting their whistles and breaking the fourth.
They're calling for highballs, three-two is too tame,
And hailing the barkeeps—"One more of the same."
But Michigan folks, they must drink what they find
Till the boys up in Lansing can make up their minds.

Ta-ra-ra Boom De-Ay Hit of Another Day

Those who like the old-time tunes of the 80's and 90's such as "Ta-ra-ra Boom De-Ay," "Strike Up the Band, Here Comes a Sailor," and "Goodbye, Dolly Gray," will get their fill of them in "The Bower," rip-roaring romantic comedy drama of the bad old days showing next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Ready Theatre.

"The Bower," a colorful pageant of a by-gone era that was exuberantly funny from the modern view point, is the first picture from the great new studios of 20th Century Pictures for United Artists release. For this production M-G-M loaned their stars, Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper. Paramount loaned George Raft and the studios loaned the director, Raoul Walsh. Ray Wray, under contract to 20th Century, and Pert Kelton provide the romantic interest.

Foulkes Defends New Deal Policy in Kalamazoo Speech

The high lights of a speech of Congressman George Foulkes before the Lions Club at Kalamazoo Dec. 1st.

"That the people of America are now passing through a period of drastic transition in their economic life, from a past to a coming age" is everywhere known and admitted. But the changes have come so fast that most of us have been unable to keep up with them and to understand their scope. The New Deal is a term, applied to these new policies—it represents one of the greatest undertakings ever undertaken by mankind to plan in a reasoning manner the most fundamental of all problems confronting the human race—that of economic insecurity.

"We are just recovering from the tragic effects of an older way which is characterized by the attitude of 'every man for himself' and the devil take the hindmost. This has led to recurring disasters known as depressions, and to the cruel situation of want in the midst of plenty. We are trying to recover from all the spiritual and mental suffering, on the home life.

We are proceeding on the assumption that the people of the United States have the intelligence, the energy, and the spirit to conquer the business evils of a man-created economic method and to reach a plane of material well-being to which they are entitled. With one sweep of the pen we have abolished child labor and done away with sweat shop conditions, two institutions that have been a national disgrace for many years."

He made a strong plea for the farmer, advised them to organize and remain true to their kind. Said that these farm taxpayers' associations had brought about the one and one-half mill tax on farm lands, in place of the previous tax of over 50 mills in some instances. He said "The ship had been drifting upon the rocks without a rudder or a pilot. We now have a pilot who is unafraid, he knows the channel, he has the confidence of all the crew and the respect and honor of nearly all the passengers." Let us stand by this great pilot and help him bring the old ship back home again into the harbor of prosperity and contentment for all our people.

Foulkes announced the creation of a new State Board to help the farmers adjust their debts, this board serves without compensation.

H. HILLER IN CHARGE LOCAL CWA OPERATIONS

New Local Head Created as Result of Separation of Civil Works and Relief
Management Thruout
the County.

A. H. Hiller took charge of Civil Works Administration projects here Monday as the result of the new policy of the Berrien County Relief Commission which has separated the CWA work entirely from the welfare management and placed separate officials in charge in the local units.

Mrs. Frank Chubb remains in charge of the welfare work of Buchanan and Buchanan township, assisted by Edward Rinker. Mr. Hiller will direct the men at work, with Mrs. Nellie Boone, as secretarial assistant. The two departments will co-operate only to the extent of seeing that there is no duplication on the CWA and welfare lists.

Old Union Hall Is Selected For Little Theatre

Shades of California Johnson, Soujourner Truth and other notable who made the rafters ring in Old Union Hall back in the days of the Rebellion were probably present when the Little Theatre Guild revived that room as a place of public entertainment last week. The old hall, which was Buchanan's first meeting place in the days before the Collins & Weaver hall, afterwards known as Rought's Opera House was built, has been loaned to the Guild by C. F. Pears. They plan to construct a miniature stage and produce several standard plays in the tradition of the Guild movement, which is a factor in the revival of the production of first class dramas over the United States. South Bend has two Little Theatres, those of the Playmakers and the "Black Box." A membership of 35 was in prospect at the last meeting. A committee consisting of Mrs. H. W. Thompson, Miss Johanna Desenberg and Mrs. Josephine Kelley, has been named to select a director for the Guild's first play. It is planned to present several plays this winter.

The old hall which they are to remodel has a story largely forgotten. In it were held the fiery recruiting meetings of the first years of the Civil war and in it campaigned the pioneers of the Republican party. It was used by the Modern Woodmen as a meeting place for many years, until they moved to their new quarters a few months ago.

Plans for Community Christmas Tree and Program Under Way

Plans are now under way by a committee of the Civic Association for the Community Christmas tree which is to be mounted at the intersection of Main and Front street sometime next week and which will be the center of community Christmas festivities on the night of Dec. 19.

The city commission voted Monday night to donate $10 to a fund which is being raised by business men and organizations to purchase a set of 100 lights, which will be permanently in the possession of the city for holiday use.

LURKINS PLANS WINTER SERIES OF FARMER'S MEETS

First of Four Conferences on Farm Problems will be Held at the St. Joe Valley
Headquarters Dec. 20

Working in conjunction with the Michigan State College extension department through County Agent Harry Lurkins and with the Farm Bureau Services, Inc., of Lansing, the local Farmers Co-operative Association is planning on holding four farmers meetings during the winter. These meetings will be held over the store of The St. Joe Valley Shipping Ass'n., 122 Dyes Ave., and the first meeting will be Wednesday, Dec. 20 at 1 p. m.

The general subject for discussion at this first meeting will be, "Feeding Farm Animals."

The subsequent meetings will be held as follows:

Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 10th. General subject, "The Fruit Man's Problem."

Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 14, "Crops We Should Grow."

Wednesday afternoon, March 14, "Soils and Fertilizers."

Mr. Lurkins plans to secure some men from the college to bring the very latest information on the various subjects to the folks of this community. We know that with Lurkins in charge this alone will make these meetings most worthwhile.

The Farm Bureau is to have on hand for each meeting to discuss matters of legislative importance. Many things most vital to farmers are transpiring in our governmental bodies these days and it behooves everyone to keep in touch through a source of information that can be depended upon.

All in all this series sounds most interesting and warrants the support of everyone in this community.

Federal CWA Makes Special Offer to Schools

The Federal Civic Work Administration is offering to exceed the terms of its general offer to communities in the case of rural school improvement, where the cost of both labor and materials will be assumed.

The federal government has offered on general projects to provide two-thirds of the cost of labor and a third of the cost of materials. In the case of rural school improvements, the government will assume all the cost of labor and all of the cost of the materials, unless the material charge should exceed one-third of the total project cost, in which case the local school district would assume all in excess of that amount.

The CWA suggests the following rural school improvements:

1. Building of additions to the school buildings to provide a library alcove for use by the general public and school.
2. Employment of attendant for library to serve entire community.
3. Projects designed to improve sanitary conditions.
4. Digging of wells to insure a sanitary water supply.
5. Building of outside toilets of latest sanitary design.
6. Grading of the school site to insure proper drainage.
7. Projects for needed repairs and alterations to building.
8. Putting in windows to correct defective lighting and ventilation.
9. Projects designed to improve the use and beauty of the building and grounds.
10. Painting and decorating interior or exterior.
11. Planting of trees.
12. Landscaping.
13. Surfacing of playground areas.

In case any school district in this community wishes to undertake any of the above improvements, the project should be presented immediately for the approval of the county welfare administrator, Mrs. Anne Parsal, of Benton Harbor.

Gov. W. Comstock Proclaims Dec. 10 As Bible Sunday

Governor William A. Comstock commends to the churches of Michigan the observance on next Sunday, December 10, of Universal Bible Sunday.

Thousands of churches in America and many abroad will stress on Universal Bible Sunday the place and importance of the Bible in the life of church-going Christians and in the promotion of missionary work. Universal Bible Sunday originated about fifteen years ago is directed by the American Bible Society, an international organization circulating the Scriptures annually in 200 languages and in more than forty countries.

In urging the observance of Universal Bible Sunday Gov. Comstock says: "It is a pleasure to me to heartily endorse the observance of Sunday, Dec. 10, as Universal Bible Sunday."

"Since it has become the custom to set aside specific days of the year for the purpose of focusing attention upon some specific subject, it is not out of place to designate a day upon which the people of the United States shall give their thought and attention to the world's greatest historic and religious document. The Bible, without question, has been civilization's foundation and whatever may be our creed or belief, there is no escaping the fact that within its pages are written rules of conduct and prohibitions which will continue to live as long as civilization exists."

Francis Hiller Enrolls Members of Roosevelt Family

While the news is rather outdated, it will be of interest to the friends of Francis Hiller here to know that at the beginning of the current college year, he assisted in the office of the registrar, and while there he registered two sons of famous men, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Jr., son of the president and Theodore Roosevelt III, the grandson of Teddy the Great. He had an opportunity to talk with the young men, both of whom were entering the freshman class. He stated that they were both fine, modest young men, with nothing in their manners or appearance to indicate that their heads had been turned by their famous progenitors.

Hollywood to Stage Benefit for Oriole Club

Monroe of the Hollywood theatre has turned that place of entertainment over to the Oriole Club on the evening of Dec. 12, when that organization will receive the entire net proceeds from the seat sale for the "Three Corners Moon" picture, featuring Claudette Colbert, Richard Arlen and Mary Boland.

Pay Checks For Workers Are Delayed By Lack of Prop- er Forms; Checks to be Drawn at Washington

Preparation of the road bed for the future completion of the River Road highway was started yesterday morning, with a force of 35 men drawn from the CWA list of Buchanan city and township, under the direction of the County Road Commission.

The force was set to work at the end of the new paving completed two years ago to the Oronoko township line, from which point the men are engaged in cutting trees and grading northward. This project was approved by the Berrien County Road board three years ago but has been delayed indefinitely on account of financial conditions.

The ultimate plan is to complete the paving from the Oronoko line to the north end of Portage Street, when it is expected that the line will form the most direct highway between South Bend and St. Joseph and as such will undoubtedly draw a large traffic.

A force of CWA workers are still engaged on the construction of the new gridiron and also on extending the scope of the left garden of the baseball diamond to reduce the number of home runs which have been scored in that section on account of the marshy ground.

The delay in receiving the pay checks here was due to the fact that the local office was not furnished with the required forms in time, according to the local CWA director, A. H. Hiller. This is merely incident to the difficulty in getting an immense system under way and the pay checks will undoubtedly arrive without trouble later. County Treasurer Forrest Brown is acting as the distributing officer. The checks are to be drawn and signed at Washington, D. C., and the amounts filled in by the county office.

Editorial

With the advent of tomorrow, December 8, we recall that upon that date in the year 1765 Eli Whitney was born.

Ell Whitney immediately turned to the minds of all comes the picture of the cotton gin. Invented in 1792 the cotton gin changed the whole course of history. Cotton became cheaper, the demand larger. Consequently to meet the needs the Southern planter moved north and west. He also needed more labor to produce the added quantities of cotton, and slavery was increased.

Slavery was destined to become a nation-wide problem; to become the coal of the fire of secession. In 1860 when Lincoln was elected, the fire was kindled, and threatened secession became a reality. And because of secession the Civil War was fought.

So we see that one of the indirect causes of the war was, therefore, the invention of the cotton gin. Invented as a device to increase the supply of cotton, Mr. Whitney had no idea that such nation-wide unrest could grow out of such a simple machine. Yet, this device was partially responsible for the spending of billions, and the loss of hundreds of thousands of lives.

History 8

A review of part four, which extends from Washington's administration to the year 1820, is being gone over by the eighth grade history class. They have made maps illustrating territorial expansion, cartoons illustrating the Monroe Doctrine, the Embargo Act, and other important events.

Each student prepared an individual outline of the period which summed up the four points:

1. The beginning of the government.
2. Troubles with foreign countries.
3. Westward expansion.
4. Trouble arising from the extreme youth of the nation.

English 9 and 10

Methods of information, including, giving directions and explanations to people, made up the course of study for the freshman English classes this week. This was given because the majority of students cannot give the correct and concise directions to persons who wish to arrive at a definite destination.

Tuesday and Wednesday were spent in the library, under the supervision of Miss Hanlin, where the classes learned how to find various types of reference material.

The sophomore classes began short stories and studied how to make them interesting.

The journalism class has been studying the chapter on "Journalistic Expositions." They have been making lists of overworked words and finding synonyms to take the place of them. Editorials were used for examples of various kinds of words.

English 8
A character sketch of one of the characters of Whittier's "Snow-bound" was drawn by each student of the class this week. They are making an attack on grammar with a review on case and syntax.

English 7
All the seventh grade classes are making oral reports of the early American colonies.

Agriculture
The senior agriculture class, composed from grades 11 and 12, is struggling to master the art of preparation and application of various fertilizers.

Horticulture
The horticulture class, consisting of sophomores, is trying to get on more intimate terms with various varieties of fruits and their adaptation. The members are also planting gardens and some orchards.

BEAT WITH A BANG!
The whistle's shrill notes pierced the air last week and a decided hush followed, during an unusually dull game of volleyball in which the second hour class was participating.

Miss Rothenbach's voice commanded, "Girls, get some pep into the game! I'm going to make the losers go through the spanking machine."

All of a sudden the game became a hubbub of noise and excitement. New ambition aroused the inert players to fiery activity. At the end of the hour, the winning team stood anxious to punish the losers, who gloating over their victory, huddled, hands on knees, down a line of hard-hitting opponents.

SCHOOL NURSE
Because of the Federal Relief the free meals which have been served at school, have been discontinued. The P. T. A., however, will continue to give free milk to underweight children.

Toxoid (diphtheria prevention) was given Tuesday, Nov. 28, to those children whose parents requested it. Fifty seven of these were kindergarten children.

Treatment of the teeth of the children from the rural districts will continue after Thanksgiving vacation. Dr. Leachman, the dentist of the Children's Fund of Michigan, will probably be here until the middle of December.

Mrs. Lamb states that about 25 children are treated for minor ailments each morning. These include cuts, burns, impetigo, ring worm and minor infections.

IDEAL BOOKS
After intently studying for 20 minutes Monday, Lee Frame was utterly exhausted, and gazed with half closed eyes about the study hall. Relief from the strain seemed miles away.

Upon turning around, he discovered two of Webster's (ten-inch thick) dictionaries. His eyes popped wide and flickered with delight, which assured onlookers that a thought was capable of arousing a sophisticated senior.

That old saying, "Opportunity knocks but once," ran through his head. Pushing the books against the back of his seat, he smiled knowingly to himself. Carefully he leaned against the books and with unusual precaution (his hair was beautifully combed) he proceeded to fix his head at the exact angle which furnished the most comfort on top of the books.

"Ah, but life is sweet," he blissfully muttered to himself and dreamily closed his eyes.

HAVE YOU NOTICED?
Have you noticed all of the new ludding romances around school lately? Namely, Strunk vs. Dreitzler; Kelley vs. Bradley; French vs. Everingham.

And several more. Anyway, here is a bit of warning in advance. Don't let the weather man fool you. It really isn't spring.

Have you noticed how nice most of the senior boys' pictures turned out, while several of the taken, believing the camera didn't do them justice?

"Look out! Get over! Give me a chance!" There were a few of the things that were heard Tuesday noon around the different rooms.

After about ten minutes of hard desperate work, you might possibly get in the crowd. Then the greatest surprise of all. It was only a teacher giving out report cards.

The student body has been divided into two groups, the Penny Pinchers and the Gold Diggers. Each group has been given season basketball tickets to sell and the side that loses will be given black eyes by the victors. These black eyes will be administered with the pigment obtained from charring cork.

Why Get Up Nights?
THIS 25c TEST FREE If It Fails
Use this bladder laxative. Drive out the impurities and excess acids which cause the irritation that wakes you up. Get a regular 25c box of BUKETS, made from buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc. After four days test, if not satisfied, go back and get your 25c. They work on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Bladder irregularity is nature's danger signal and may warn you of trouble. You are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. The Wisner Drug Co. says BUKETS is a best seller.

Mr. and Mrs. Klahn, who live on what is known as the late Gus Harner farm, had an old-fashioned husking bee Saturday followed by a dance in the evening. All report a jolly good time. There were 16 corn huskers and they report husking more than 100 bushels of corn.

HENRY FORD IS STILL RIGHT!
General Hugh S. Johnson, National Recovery Administrator, has unwittingly held his own feet to the fire as a result of making his recent attitude toward Henry Ford a personal matter.

The sole purpose of the NRA is to give every man a job, with decent wages and under decent working conditions. And this is all it is designed to do.

Smacking strongly of the pork barrel, however, the government's supermajorities, hangers on and underlings are consistently trying to bring outside issues into the NRA picture, as a means of making

Henry Ford is not opposed to the NRA. He is fifteen years ahead of it, in principle and in actual operation.

Henry Ford has done more than his share to give every man a job. Henry Ford pays more decent wages than any other industrialist in the nation. Henry Ford has provided decent working conditions years ago for his employees, exceeding by far, of his own volition, any improvements that other automobile manufacturers were forced to make.

This great industrial leader and benefactor to the man who toils for a livelihood is a rugged individualist. It has been proven, time and time again, that he accomplishes more by not being allied or entangled with others engaged in business similar to his.

The Labor Digest is opposed to the working out of the NRA if it is to be turned into a measure of unfair business competition, where by favorites are to be played to the detriment of the best interests of the majority. The boycott is un-American in principle, but even if it is to be used in order to drive unwilling co-operators into line—most certainly it should come as a result of a general clamor from the people and not instigated by one man in a governmental position.

There has been no public clamor and therefore the boycott threat against Henry Ford is unjustified. Henry Ford has given the government more actual co-operation in the Administration Recovery Program than any other automobile manufacturer.

General Johnson has overstepped the bounds of plain good judgment in trying to cast an unfavorable light upon a man who is far greater in principle and the positive working out of those principles than the NRA ever remotely dreamed of making.

It is our understanding that no one can be forced to sign the President's Re-employment Agreement nor can be forced to sign any Code that is submitted for approval by others just because they are in the same line of business. Likewise, no one—who has not signed either or both of these articles—can be forced to comply with the requirement stipulated in them.

Henry Ford acceded to the President's aim for the addition of more men to the payrolls. During September alone, Henry Ford employed more than 5,000 new employees—and all of them were ex-service men, which was most certainly in line with current public endeavor.

Signing the Code for the Automobile Industry would hamper and hinder Henry Ford's individual accomplishments for putting men back to work at decent wages under decent working conditions. Henry Ford has had to "live down" to this Code and disrupt the smooth working of his enormous operation.

Henry Ford should not do this. He is absolutely right in his stand which is in justice to his employees and can be taken as an example of fairness by the nation at large.

Labor at large has not objected to Henry Ford's stand. Labor at large has no fight with Henry Ford. He has always anticipated labor's wants, and exceeded them in rapid arbitrary settlement of his own accord.

He needs no driving—and never has.

The only objections to Henry Ford's attitude toward the NRA, as it affects his own private business interests have come from General Johnson and his staff of cohorts and adherents.

Thus has the mistaken Administrator held his own feet to the fire of eventual public opinion; which will again demonstrate that Henry Ford is still right!

Just Another of Schram's Risks

Did you notice the fine large turkey cock parading around on a sawdust foundation in Schram's window? No, he does not answer to the name of Enos, although he has a line that sounds much like one of E. N.'s sales talks. Nor would he qualify as a gas company manager although he is of the White Holland species. As a matter of fact the holder of the lucky number at the Legion pancake supper tonight will take him home or he will take them home as the case may be.

Rival Huntsman

Although elsewhere in this issue the prize for the empty game bag was awarded to Herb Beck, we have since learned of a new contender, Walter Thanning.

Mr. Thanning, it seems, went hunting rabbits the first of the week and burned up a whole box of shells laying down a barrage on one poor lone bunny. After which that Solitary Huntsman, Buffalo Bill Himmelberger, picked him off with one shot. It depends on how bad you need the rabbit, George says.

George Loses Deer

It was too bad about George's deer, wasn't it. What's that, you never heard? Well, you know that deer George b... pardon me, that George shot in the northern peninsula? Well, he brought it home and hung it up in the garage and somebody stole it. But being an integral part, as he is, of that vast buying and selling organization whose stores may be found from the rockbound coast of Maine to the sunny beaches of California, George ought to be able to place his venison.

THANKS DICK

The Record is very deeply indebted this week to Dick McLaughlin for a pictorial section of the Los Angeles Herald-Express showing some close-ups of the nudist colonies there. What we can't understand is why Dick ever left California.

NO FIRE

The fire department had another opportunity to unlimber the equipment Monday morning, and the Ancient and Honorable Order of Fire Truck Chasers suffered another cruel disappointment when they galloped hopefully to the Widmoyer building in time to see Fire Chief Bunker gazing down the chimney. It seems Doc built a good fire and the tenants were not used to it.

WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT PROSPERITY, LEVI?

Levi Topash is busy this week denying reports that he has been appointed chief by the U. S. Bureau of Meteorology as a result of the remarkable accuracy of his weather predictions to date. Mr. Topash, as you may know, is the man who stood on the Wisner Pharmacy Corner four weeks ago when the wind was blowing bloody murder and all you had to do to make a snowball was to hold out your hand—let's see where we were at—anyway. Topash said then we were still due to have Indian summer. And that's what we had all last week. Warm sun and soft blue skies the first of December, after a November that was a coal dealer's dream.

AUGGIE WILL NO LONGER SNAP TO DANNY

Among the combinations which were broken up at the end of the recent grid season was that of the Pottawatomie big train consisting of August Topash, all-state center of 1932 and his brother, Danny Topash, one of the smartest quarterbacks in the history of the local high school. August is a center who snaps the ball where it is supposed to be snapped without even looking while he keeps his head and eyes on the opposition ready to take his man. The Topash boys are of athletic descent, their father, Levi Topash, having played several years with the semi-pro Carlisle Indians, representing the school made famous in football by Jim Thorpe. August graduates this year; his brother has another year to play.

LOST, IKE KOLHOFF

And then, there is Ike Kolhoff. Ike is one of these born skeptics. He just natchellay ain't got no confidence in nothin'. Why when he was up north on that hunting trip, along with Herb Beck and Carl Remington, they said he had a peculiar way of banking on his own judgment against the testimony of a compass and getting lost. Ike didn't prove to be a bear of a hunter but he was a whizz on getting lost.

Once they decided to go out in three different directions from camp and Carl, knowing Ike's uncanal genius for getting lost, told him to just drift in a northerly direction and he couldn't miss coming out on a road that would bring him right back to camp. To tell which way was north he had a compass and he also had the coast of a bay of the Great Lakes right at his side, running north and south. But Ike hadn't more than got out of sight of camp when he decided that Lake Huron was a liar and the compass was another and that southwest was north and that way he went. Late that night a game warden brought him in.

MR. BECK SPOILS PERFECT RECORD

Introducing the marvel of the hunting season, Mr. Herbert Beck. The great talent which Mr. Beck has displayed during the hunting season is going out and not getting anything. There are several other hunters around Buchanan who are wizards at bringing in empty game bags, but Mr. Beck is the hunter than which there is none more than whom. If his game bag is any more empty than his rivals, anyway he can shoot more ammunition and get nothing than they can. True he claims to have gotten a bag of geese, but then we have nothing but his word for it. He didn't bring home any. He went through the pheasant season and got nothing, thru the squirrel season and got nothing and thru the deer season and got the same.

But last Saturday he spotted this perfect record. He went hunting and got a rabbit.

GALIEN NEWS

Mrs. Belle Maxson Expired Tuesday Was Ill 8 Months

Word was received in Galien Tuesday of the death of Mrs. Belle Maxson, age 87 years, who died at her home Tuesday morning after an illness of eight months.

Belle Worthington was born in Galien Nov. 8, 1846. She was married to John Maxson in 1911.

Notice of Farm Allotments and of Maximum Acreages of Wheat for 1934 Under Contracts for Members of the Wheat Production Control Association of Berrien County, State of Michigan

Listed below are statements of the allotments which have been determined for members of the Berrien County Wheat Production Control Association. These allotments are to hold for the duration of the present wheat contracts, and they are the basis upon which adjustment payments are to be made. They have been determined by the County Allotment Committee after careful consideration of the application statements. Every effort has been made to have these allotments as accurate as possible. The maximum acreage which may be sown to wheat for the 1934 crop on each farm, under the reduction requirements of the contracts, is also listed.

The Berrien County allotment, which has been calculated from records of the United States Department of Agriculture, is 170,551 bushels. This is the total number of bushels allotted to the county under the wheat plan. The total of the individual allotments, including those allotments which have been assigned to farms which are not participating under the wheat program, must be in line with the county allotment figure.

Chairman County Allotment Committee.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 99): "The calm, strong currents of true spirituality, the manifestations of which are health, purity, and self-immolation, must deepen human experience, until the beliefs of material existence are seen to be a bald imposition, and sin, disease, and death give everlasting place to the scientific demonstration of divine Spirit and to God's spiritual perfect man."

Seventh Day Adventist Sabbath School (Saturday) at 10 a. m.
Lesson Study: "Temperance in All Things."
Memory verse, "Every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things." 1. Cor. 9:25.

Note: Nothing that concerns the health of the human agent is to be regarded with indifference. Our eternal welfare depends upon the use we make during this life of our time, strength and influence.

"But few realize the power that the mind has over the body. A great deal of the sickness which afflicts humanity has its origin in the mind, and can only be cured by restoring the mind to health. There are very many more than we imagine who are sick mentally. Heart sickness makes many dyspeptics, for mental trouble has a paralyzing influence upon the digestive organs. Sickness of the mind prevails everywhere. Nine-tenths of the diseases from which men suffer have their foundation here. Courage, hope, faith, sympathy and love promote health and prolong life. A contented mind, a cheerful spirit, is health to the body and strength to the soul."

Zane Grey's Best Seller on the Hollywood Screen

The bitter drama of an old family feud is matched by the romance between two members of the warring clans in Paramount's "To the Last Man," a Zane Grey out-door romance which plays tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday of this week at the Hollywood.

Based upon an actual feud carried from the Kentucky mountains to the Tonto Basin in Arizona, the Zane Grey story is chuck full of the bitterness of the clan war that ravaged the Arizona plains for generations.

The picture is splendidly cast with Randolph Scott, Esther Ralston, Buster Crabbe and Jack LaRue in leading roles. Also featured are Noah Beery and Muriel Kirkland. Buck Jones in his third chapter of "Gordon of Ghost City," is an added feature in addition to a hilarious two-reel comedy, Andy Clyde in "His Weak Moment."

Laughter in every degree, from the snicker to the chuckle to the full-lunged guffaw that shakes the diaphragm, will greet you in First National's comedy drama screen version of the big Broadway stage success, "Goodbye Again" playing two days only, next Sunday and Monday at the Hollywood theatre. Joan Blondell, Warren William and Genevieve Tobin have the principal parts, with Wallace Ford and Ruth Donnelly in splendid support. "Goodbye Again" is a welcome change from the drab realism of many modern pictures, its plot is refreshingly different as it sails along saucily under a strong breeze of smart dialogue, making it a laugh tonic for young and old alike.

Claudette Colbert, Richard Arlen and Mary Boland are starred in Paramount's story of America's loveliest family, "Three Corners Moon," playing one day only. "Three Corners Moon" is the story of the Rimplegar family of Brooklyn, headed by the adored Mary Boland, mother of the flock, who managed to lose the family fortune in the stock market. Her self-centered brood have paid no attention to her sorties into Wall street and when the crash comes, it finds them running around in circles. Wallace Ford, Lydia Roberti, Tom Brown, Joan Marsh and Hardie Albright are also in the cast. It's a Broadway stage success made into one of the new season's biggest laugh hits.

And on Bargain Nights next week Wednesday and Thursday Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts promise fun-loving theatre-goers the time of their lives in "Love, Honor and Oh, Baby." A breach of promise suit story based on the stage hit, "Oh Promise Me!" this newest Summerville-Pitts vehicle is a guaranteed series of laughs from start to finish.

Bimetallism in About 1790
Alexander Hamilton established American bimetalism in about 1790, at a ratio of 15 to 1. This overvalued silver, however, and our gold was drained away to mints in other countries which bid higher. In 1834 the ratio was changed to 16 to 1, which overvalued gold and most of our silver disappeared.
