

Now Here's the Proposition

NEW YEARS EVE
IN BUCHANAN

Bi Haws
Main Street's joints were wild and happy.
Clark street was all wet and sloppy.
And on Cecil Avenue
They were lapping bath tub brew.
Boy! the way they tore round nights
Up there on Liberty Heights!
Maple, Central and Charles Court
They were lapping by the quart.
End to end on Moccasin
They were wild on outlaw gin—
Seems almost, in seasons recent
Only Third street still is decent
Short was wet and as for Dewey—
Well, it certainly was "dewey".
There was no apparent shortage
On Chicago street or Portage.
Oak street sure was well veneered;
Terre Coupe was wild and wild.
But the boys that seemed most happy
Up and coming, fresh and snappy
Wideawake and full of fun.
Were the Front street Twenty-one!

HOSE HOUSE PHILOSOPHY

Mae West believes that if you want anything bad enough you will get it, in which she agrees with Dutch, an occasional guest at the city hose house, erstwhile known as the Hoover Hotel.
Dutch is what they call him and Dutch is all that is necessary for this recital. Some say he hasn't all his marbles, but he is a philosopher nevertheless.
"Whenever I want anything," said Dutch, in a Christmas Day interview, "I always keep mentioning the fact to myself and sooner or later it usually comes. Of course you can't expect to hurry things. But you just wait around and keep saying, 'I want whatever it is,' and by and by you will have it."
"Take pants, for instance. A few weeks ago the back of my pants was in bad shape, all busted out. I needed pants, so I started saying to myself, 'I want pants, I want pants, I want pants.' And before long I was passing a rummage sale in Kalamazoo and I see two pairs of pants hanging in the window. I went in and asked the lady in charge, were them pants for sale, and she says 'yes, you're just in time, too, we was about to shut up, you can take your choice for a nickel.'"
"And twenty cents was all I had. So there you were, I had pants. It works."

ICE FISHING

Carl Remington was the first in line Friday on the arrival of the new fishing licenses for the 1934 season. The boys are living in hopes for ice thick enough for pond fishing. In the cold snap of last week only about two inches of ice was formed, the blanket of snow preventing more freezing.

BIG DISTRIBUTING CENTER

It seems that Buchanan is now coming into the picture as the big distributing center for this and that and as such is drawing some trade from the cities round about. Last week two Niles men came over, got plastered on local brew and then called on a friend here. In the course of the call the stove pipe was knocked down and the furniture in general disarranged.

WE MISSED SOME PARTIES

Sorry about all these New Years parties we missed in this week's edition but we just couldn't get around. But if they keep on having them, we're gonna appoint Night Marshall Frank Kean on the staff of our society editor.

LEARNING BY OBSERVATION

We've often wondered what the results would be if we stuck our hand in an electric fan—whether it would just stop the fan or stop us, but we never got around to try it. And now Morley Myers has saved us the trouble. Friday he stuck his hand in a fan which he was installing at the Hollywood theatre and the results were anything but satisfactory. The tendons in three fingers were cut but the doc on the job says everything will be jake soon and will Morley learn to keep his hands where they belong?

THE RALLYING CHEER OF THE LOCAL MAE WEST CLUB

"Hips! hips! Hoo-ray!"
It has been a sad New Years for the boys who have been spending weeks thinking about the opening of the ice fishing season. A little over a week ago and things looked all set with cold weather on and the ice getting thicker every night. Carl Remington, the first to buy a license, had two freshly forged ice spuds ready and waiting. And then came the thaw of Friday and Saturday and left all the lakes hot and steaming and the fishermen pretty much the same.

COURT OF HONOR ON FEB. 13 IS THE SCOUT GOAL

Louis Upton to Present Gift to Every New Initiate and to All Advancing Scouts of The Area.

With the annual parents night and Christmas parties out of the way, all the Scout troops are going in for a whirlwind advancement program for the next six weeks before the big achievement Court of Honor is held, Feb. 13.
Louis C. Upton, president of the Council, has announced that he is giving as a personal gift, a miniature tenderfoot pin to every boy joining the organization in the Area. He will also give every Scout who becomes a second class or first class, a miniature pin of that rank. Every boy coming into the organization as well as those receiving the second and first class rank will certainly appreciate this gift and many are now making every effort to win this special gift. Mr. Upton has given many gifts to the organization thru the camp, but a personal gift of this type will be doubly appreciated by the boys of the organization. It will be something they will receive personally from one who is intensely interested in each and every one. This emblem will be given at the court of honor awards at the close of the Anniversary week program.

At the present time over 1500 pledges have been made for advancement. If all the pledges are completed and the applications for awards turned in, the council will have less than 10 per cent tenderfoot scouts in the entire organization—a percentage far below the national average. It will also rank at the top for the other ranks. Troops completing their work will be recognized by the council at the high court also.

The program for the Achievement Court will be the most elaborate ever sponsored by the council. Land troops, Sea Scouts, and Cubs will take part. Every rank from the first step to the highest, that of Eagle, will be recognized. The President Roosevelt award will also be given to all troops having completed the requirements the president set up. It is estimated that about 50 per cent of the troops will also win this award. Civic service will be recognized and boys who have given many hours of service to their communities will be given beautiful emblems for their efforts.

Christian Science

Broadcast Jan. 7th
Over Mich. Network

Walton Hubbard, M. D. of Los Angeles, formerly practicing physician, will relate why he adopted Christian Science and became a Christian Science practitioner, in a radio interview which will be broadcast from Detroit over the Michigan radio network next Sunday, Jan. 7, at 2:15 p. m. E. S. T. On the following Sunday at the same hour, Rev. Irving C. Tomlinson of Boston, once a Congregational minister and now a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will tell how he became a Christian Scientist. Both programs are sponsored by the Christian Science Committee on Publication for Michigan.

Entertain at Annual New Year Party

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Sebasty were host and hostess at their fourth annual New Years party at the Dayton Odd Fellows hall New Years day and night. Sixty-six friends enjoyed a co-operative dinner at the hall at noon, and many more came during the afternoon and evening. Dancing was enjoyed in the evening. The past two years the event had been held in the Sebasty home.

E. C. Wonderlich is still confined to his home with slight injuries received in an automobile accident a week ago Saturday.

Dancing at Shadowland. St. Joseph, every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday evening.

Jennie Burbank Died Thursday At Three Oaks

Mrs. Jennie Pardee Burbank, 81, a resident of Buchanan for several years and a resident of this section during the most of her life, died Thursday evening at the home of her sister, Miss Myrtle Pardee, Three Oaks, and the funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Saturday from the Pardee home, with Rev. Lawrence Tenhopen, Congregational pastor of that city, in charge. Burial was made in the Pardee family lot at Berrien Springs.

Mrs. Burbank had moved to Three Oaks two years ago when, because of illness, she was no longer able to live alone at her home here. She was born in Jackson, Mich., the daughter of George S. Pardee, a pioneer school master, and the family moved to this section when she was a small girl. She is survived by the sister with whom she made her home and by two nephews, G. P. Malloy of Three Oaks and Lynn Pardee, Gallien.

LIONS TO HOLD CHARTER NIGHT TUESDAY, JAN. 9

Judge Shafer, Battle Creek, in Charge of Installation of Officers and Presentation Charter

Charter night for the recently organized Buchanan Lions club will be held at the American Legion hall on Tuesday evening, Jan. 9 at 8:30 p. m. Beside members of the local club and their ladies, guests will include members of Lions clubs within a radius of a hundred miles and it is expected the crowd will tax the capacity of the hall.

In charge of the charter presentation and installation of officers will be District Governor of Lions Clubs, Paul W. Shafer, municipal judge of Battle Creek. Judge Shafer will also deliver the address of the evening. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the high school orchestra, both for the dinner and the dance which will follow the banquet.

At a meeting of the club held last Friday noon, standing committees were appointed, as well as committees for planning Charter night activities. Chairman of the standing committees are: Membership, L. O. Swen; Major Activities, Dr. R. H. Snowden; Finance, Albert Rohl; Constitution and By-Laws, Glenn Haslett; Education, Dr. J. C. Strayer; Attendance, John Russell; Program, Arthur Knoblauch; Publicity, A. B. McClure; Extension, Dr. E. T. Waldo.

The Lions will meet each Wednesday evening at 6:05, the first regular meeting to be held Jan. 17.

MEETING FOR FRUIT GROWERS HERE JAN. 10

County Agent Lurkins and Prof. Hootman of State College to Lecture at St. Joe Valley Bldg.

The second of the series of farm meetings being sponsored by the St. Joe Valley Shipping association will be held over the store next Wednesday, Jan. 19, beginning promptly at 1:15 p. m.

The general subject for discussion at this meeting will be "The Fruit Man's Problems." Harry Lurkins will be in charge of the discussion with Prof. Hootman from the college assisting.

Numbers will be given out at the beginning of the meeting and a drawing held at the close. Several items of merchandise from the store will be given away to the holders of lucky numbers. Be sure and bring the numbers that you received at the last meeting with you as one of the drawings will be participated in only by those who hold two numbers.

There will be another auction sale of merchandise from the store. Many new and useful articles will be sold to the highest bidder.

A representative from the Michigan State Farm Bureau will be present to bring us the latest news from that organization.

This is the second of the series of four farm meetings, combining the county agents work, the state farm bureau activities and the local co-operative store in one of the most worthwhile programs presented in this section for some time. The auction sale of merchandise is particularly interesting. At the last meeting six items including, salt, oyster shells, canvas gloves, axle grease, etc., were given away absolutely free of charge.

Milkmaaker 34 %, Mermash, 16 % poultry feeders and fountains, forks, axes, etc., were sold to the highest bidder. You should not fail to attend this second meeting to be held next Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 10th, at the room over the St. Joe Valley Shipping Ass'n. store.

I. & M. Electric Company Reduces Basic Rural Rates

All rural customers of the Indiana & Michigan Electric company received notification of a reduction from eight cents per kilowatt to seven and a half cents per kilowatt for the first thirty kilowatt hours, effective Jan. 1.

Dr. Wallace On Visit to Los Angeles

Dr. Paul Wallace left Tuesday, stating that he planned to visit in Los Angeles, Calif., at the home of his mother, whom he has not seen in ten years. Miss Crosby, registered nurse recently employed, will be in charge of the hospital during his absence.

CWA Work Waits For U. S. Okeh of More Work Hours

Work on CWA projects at Athletic park and Oak Ridge cemetery is deferred until further work hours on these projects have been authorized by the federal government, with the exception of the continuation of a few men in the completion of the water main installation at the cemetery. Work at the park was discontinued two weeks ago and at the cemetery yesterday. The only project of any size in progress yesterday was that of the construction of right-of-way for the River Road.

D's Cafe Five Get 2nd Crack At Conquerors

D's Cafe basketball team will be matched against the team which eliminated them from the Fruit Belt tournament, the Benton Harbor Freight Forwarders, as a preliminary to the game between the Hotel Whitecomb and the Grand Rapids Caroladers at the Benton Harbor armory Saturday night. The Cafe team feels that, due to unforeseen circumstances, the organization was not playing in top form Sunday evening, and that with a better break they may be able to turn the tables.

Largest Man-Made Mound
A few miles outside of East St. Louis, Ill., what is called the largest man-made earthen mound in the country is located in a public park. The mound is 1,080 feet long, 710 feet across and 88 feet high.

Hollywood Installs Forced-Air Suction Fan!

A new and high powered forced air suction fan has just been installed in the basement of the Hollywood theatre for better air conditioning, the elimination of uneven heat temperatures and cold floor drafts. The fan, capable of removing 5,000 cubic inches of air per minute, sucks air at a rapid rate from every section of the auditorium, taking out with it all foul air, excessively heated air, and in general forms a moderate temperature that is made even in all parts of the theatre auditorium.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS RULING VS. MRS. TWOMBLY

Claim of First National Bank to Property of Inventor Upheld as Ruling of Judge White is Sustained.

The Michigan Supreme Court has handed down a decision on the appeal of Mrs. Ethel Helen Twombly from the ruling of District Judge Chas. E. White in her suit to possess the 80 acre farm northwest of Buchanan once owned by her husband, William Irving Osgood Twombly, and which, she charges, he occupied as a love nest. Title to the property now resides in the receivership of the Buchanan First National Bank, which obtained the property thru a judgment on a note which Twombly gave to the bank, signed by himself and by a woman purporting to be his wife. The decision by Judge White ruled that, inasmuch as Mrs. Twombly had never lived with him on the farm, she could claim no dower right in the property.

D's Cafe Team In Semi-Finals In Cage Tourney

After fighting its way to the semi-finals in the Fruit Belt cage tournament at the Benton Harbor armory the D's Cafe five blew up disastrously in its game with the Benton Harbor Freight Forwarders, losing the game and its tournament chances 23-6. Some comfort came from the feat of Glenn Jesse in tying for first place as lead point winner.

The local eliminated the Clark Drug Company of Benton Harbor and the Berrien Springs Independents on their way to the semi-finals and were rated a good bet, but were sadly off their stride in their last game. Manager Dietrich stated that their plight was due to the fact that they had considerable car trouble en route and arrived at the armory just in time to go on the floor without rest. Bob Rinker was one of the officials of the tournament.

Miss Orrell Negus Is New Instructor In Home Economics

Miss Orrell Lucille Negus, Plainfield, Ind., newly appointed instructor in home economics at the local high school to succeed Mrs. Janet Thompson Poulson, who resigned to be married during the holidays. Miss Negus was graduated from Western State Teachers College, Kalamazoo, with a degree in home dietetics from the Methodist hospital in Indianapolis, Ind.

Leland Boyce Wedded Wednesday to Evelyn Miller

Leland Boyce and Miss Evelyn Miller of Niles, were married Wednesday afternoon at South Bend.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller of Niles, and is an operator at the Niles Bell exchange. Mr. Boyce is very well known here, the son of Mrs. Ada Boyce, 109 S. Portage.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rinker had as their guests New Years Eve, the latter's two sisters and husbands, Mr. and Mrs. James McGaghie, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Nelson, all of Chicago.

Infant Son of Clyde Shafer Expired Sunday

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shafer, born Saturday, at their home in the Burkhardt addition, died Sunday and a committal service was held the following day at the Oak Ridge cemetery.

Employment Clark Equipment Runs 50 to 100% Up In Past Year; Prospects 1934 Good

WILL PAINT "S." AUDITORIUM AS CWA PROJECT

Crew of Local Painters Begin 2,000 Hour Job; May Increase Project to Include Landscaping.

Approval of the painting of the auditorium and other rooms in the high school building as a CWA project was received Friday by Supt. H. C. Stark and work began the first of the week under the direction of Fred Schwartz.

It is estimated that the project will comprise about 2,000 working hours and will furnish employment to several local painters at a wage rate of $1.20 per hour. The auditorium is to be decorated according to a plan furnished by an interior decorator. Several grade rooms will also be decorated. It is possible that some tree trimming and landscaping will be performed on the grounds.

Gets News From Former Resident on 90th Birthday

Interesting news of a woman who was a resident of Buchanan many years ago and who came of a pioneer family here was contained in a letter received during the past week by Mr. and Mrs. George B. Richards from Ral Black, now living in Coconut Grove, Fla. (a suburb of Miami). Mr. Black stated that he had just received a letter from Mrs. Anna Welch, written on the occasion of her 90th birthday at her home in Chattanooga, Tenn. Mrs. Welch was the daughter of old Dr. Foster, who practiced medicine here many years. Her mother was a sister of James and John Reynolds, once wealthy farmers of Terre Coupe Prairie. Mrs. Welch was born and grew up in Buchanan, marrying William Welch, a druggist. They moved to Chattanooga, Tenn., many years ago.

B. H. S. Cage 5 Meet Dowagiac Here Friday Night

The Buchanan high school cage five will meet the Dowagiac quintet in the local gymnasium Friday evening, the game opening at 7:30 p. m. The Buccaneers should be extended to take this contest as the dope to date is all for the Chiefs, who took the Benton Harbor high school team 24-16, while the locals lost to the same aggregation 24-22. But you never can tell until it's over.

City Commission Defers Action On Liquor Licenses

Action on the granting of hard liquor license for package or glass sale was deferred by the local city commission at the January meeting Monday night, the members taking advantage of the ruling of the state control commission postponing sale until Feb. 1 to take time to think it over. Only one application had been presented, that of M. P. Snyder.

Clark Dividend In Anticipation Better Business

The Clark Equipment Company distributed a dividend of 25c per share on 240,000 shares, totaling approximately $60,000. It was stated in the notice of payment that the dividend is paid from accumulated earnings as an earnest expression of the confidence which the company officials have in the prospects for the business in 1934.

Falcons Have Good Aim

The falcons are the bird airplanes of the sky, for no other bird can match their speed. As a rule, they kill their prey on wing, either by direct chase or by dropping on their victim. Their plummet-like drops are made with unerring aim, and they seldom miss the bird they are after.

COMPANY EXPECTS TO SHARE IN ANTICIPATED INCREASE OF BUSINESS FOR MANUFACTURERS OF AUTOMOBILES AND ACCESSORIES IN 1934; NO MATERIALIZATION OF BUSINESS FROM SOVIET RECOGNITION YET.

"Knee Action" Cars To Be Shown in 100 Chevrolet Exhibits

Something brand new in the introduction of a new model automobile was revealed recently at Detroit in the announcement that the new 1934 Chevrolet with "knee action" wheels would be introduced to the American public by a series of 100 special auto shows in that many major cities in the country.

This marks the first time that such a gigantic move has ever been made by a motor car manufacturer.

These showings, which will be held in convention halls, armories and other large buildings in the various cities, will coincide with the introduction of the new Chevrolet at the first of the national automobile shows in New York, on Jan. 6th, according to W. E. Heller, general sales manager of Chevrolet.

This wholly revolutionary plan of announcement was determined upon by Chevrolet officials following the receipt of an unprecedented number of inquiries from Chevrolet owners and motorists generally in all parts of the country.

Immediately upon the determination of this plan, selected Chevrolet representatives from the central office and from various regions and zones were assigned the task of visiting each city on the list, leasing and decorating a suitable show place and securing adequate entertainment for the thousands of visitors expected to attend the initial showing.

The speed and celerity with which this auspicious plan was put into operation is considered outstanding in the sales history of American business.

"Bowery" Is Robust Romance of Gay '90's

The Gay Nineties are coming back in "The Bowery!" Filibuster fun, robust romance and naughty nights of Frankie and Johnny times are promised with the arrival of Wallace Beery, George Raft, Jackie Cooper, Fay Wray, Pert Kelton and a host of other celebrities in "The Bowery" playing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Hollywood.

Of all the decades in American history, that from 1890 to 1900 seems to be the most popular in these times with photoplay audiences. So, in tune with that expressed preference, "The Bowery" brings back the music and dances of the '90's, buxom chorus girls, bustling young ladies, Mamie O'Grady with puffed sleeves, Bowery boys with puffed eyes, prize fights that were on the square, beer with a punch and the liveliest mile on the face of the globe. New York's world-famous Bowery. "The Bowery" reunites the two stars of "The Champ"—Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper. Feminine interest will be intense because of the emphasis placed on the part the Bowery girls played in the life of the romantic old thoroughfare.

Beautifully photographed, and dramatically screened, "Smoky," Fox Film's latest release, opens tomorrow (Friday) for a two day run at the Hollywood. It is Will James' most popular horse story, and flashes the panoramic beauty of the West across the screen with such realism that one actually grasps the feeling of the wide plains and their invigorating freshness. Added to this program is a Fatty Arbuckle comedy and Chapter seven of "Gordon of Ghost City."

Barbara Stanwyck in "Ever in My Heart," supported by Otto Kruger and Ralph Bellamy, is a romance of rare New England beauty. The picture deals with the tender love life of a young New England girl and a German professor of chemistry whom she married just prior to the outbreak of the World War, and the tragic outcome of their romance through indignities heaped upon them by former friends and relatives when patriotic feeling ran high. The picture comes to the Hollywood on Bargain Nights next week Wednesday and Thursday.

Producing the "Evidence" "I knows a gemmen," said Uncle Eben, "dat 'magines he's writin' real poetry in a love letter when he's only pullin' up evidence."

The return of better times has been in a measure at least, a reality for Buchanan in the past year, employment at the Clark Equipment Co. having averaged consistently from 50 to 100 per cent greater in the last eight months of the year than in the similar period of the previous year.

Employment was of course at rock bottom during the first four months of 1933, starting up in April and getting well under way with the business revival in May. Since the employment at the Clark Equipment plant is the economic basis of existence for the town, the gross payroll has been proportionately greater and the general welfare better than in the past two years. The employment of a total of 160 men on CWA projects during the past several weeks has entirely taken up the slack of unemployment, so that for the first time in four years it may be said that the entire community is self-sustaining.

An unusual feature of employment in the past year was the fact that the usual "summer slump" in July and August did not materialize this year, in the local plant, where production was maintained until well into the fall on the June level.

Plant officials state that generally prospects for automotive construction are considered promising, as reflected especially in attitudes on stock exchanges toward shares.

Manufacturing in general and auto-making in particular have not benefited from Russian recognition, orders from that source being as yet held up until credits are arranged. At present there is a dead lock between the manufacturing interests and the R. F. C. as to the part that the latter organization shall play in the financing of Russian orders. Manufacturers want the federal corporation to discount a portion of the cost of the order covering factory costs. Further question arises as to whether such discount shall be an outright acceptance of the Russian paper without ultimate recourse on the manufacturer, or whether the R. F. C. is to fall back on the manufacturer if the Soviet government ultimately fails to pay.

McHugh Walks Miles As He Rides Train In "Convention City"

Frank McHugh has done a lot of train riding in the course of his trouping career. But he's never traveled over the same track as often as he did one day while working in "Convention City," a First National picture showing at the Ready Theatre, Sun., Mon., Jan. 7 and 8th.

A seven-car train was constructed for this picture, one side of which was left off, but in all other respects an accurate duplicate of Pullman cars. Instead of a locomotive, two cable trucks, stationed at each end of the stretch of track, supplied the motive power, and pulled the cars back and forth.

One of the scenes in "Convention City" shows these seven cars jammed to the doors with salesmen on a spree, bound for their annual sales conclave in Atlantic City. The camera photographs these men as the cars pass before it.

Frank, as one of the more alcoholic of the conventioners, also moves before the camera. He moves from one end of the train to the other, advancing down the aisles and corridors by fits and starts. He isn't sure how many miles he totalled the day this sequence was shot. But he knows it was plenty as Director Archie Mayo took the scene over and over again.

The story by Peter Milne is a hilarious comedy revealing the part played by women in a supposedly staid business convention. There is an all star cast which includes besides McHugh, Joan Blondell, Adolphe Menjou, Dick Powell, Mary Astor, Guy Kibbee, Patricia Ellis and Ruth Donnelly. The screen play is by Robert Lord.

Officers Meet At St. Joe to Study Wet Laws

A meeting of city, township and county officers and justices of the peace was held at the court house, St. Joseph last night at the call of County Prosecuting Attorney H. H. Holbrook for the purpose of explaining the new liquor laws.

GALIEN NEWS

Helen McLaren and John Clark Married Sunday

Many relatives and friends attended the wedding Sunday of Miss Helen McLaren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLaren of South Bend, formerly of Galien, and John Clark of Kokomo, Ind., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark of Galien.

The couple were married in the First Evangelical church at one o'clock by the Rev. Edmund Kerlin, in the presence of 100 guests. Mrs. Victor Carder was matron of honor and Miss Esther Rosbeck was maid of honor. The groom's man was Kelley Worthington.

This popular young couple needs no introduction to our midst, both having been born and raised in our community. The groom is a graduate of the Galien high school. The bride finished her education in South Bend, having moved there with her parents several years ago. A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the parents of the bride.

The happy young couple will be at home to their friends Jan. 6, at Kokomo, Ind., where the groom holds a position with the Standard-Oil Co.

The marriage of Miss Helen McLaren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLaren of South Bend, formerly of this vicinity and John A. Clark of Kokomo, Ind., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Clark of Olive Branch, took place at one o'clock, Sunday afternoon at the First Evangelical church, South Bend. Rev. Kerlin officiated. The bride was attired in sapphire blue velvet with blue velvet turban to match. She also wore an antique brooch, which was an heirloom, and gold silk mitts. The bridal bouquet was Pernet roses and violets tied with gold ribbon. The bridesmaid, Miss Esther Rosbeck, wore a black chiffon velvet with Johanna Hill roses. The matron of honor, Mrs. Victor Carder, wore wine colored velvet with matching turban. Her flowers were the same as the matron of honors. Kelly Worthington attended the groom and Victor Carder and Frank Kinyon acted as ushers. The church was decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. Mrs. Alma Meyers played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin's procession, "I Love You Truly," "Oh Promise Me" and Mendelssohn's Wedding March recessional. Howard Ullery sang.

There were 100 guests attending the ceremony. Afterwards a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for immediate relatives. Those from here present were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. SCRIP FOR THE JOURNEY

A Beginning Word
By Harry W. Staver
Each week, under the caption, "Scrip for the Journey," will appear a brief message. Each will aim to be inspirational rather than instructive in a pedagogical sense. Each will seek to keep in mind the view-point that, in a very real way, life is a journey and certain equipment is essential in making that journey.

The ways we travel are of all sorts. Some of the road is rough and some of it smooth. There are hills to climb and valleys to descend. There are times of trouble and there are times of triumph. There are days of discouragement and there are days divine. There are hours of hopelessness and there are hours of happiness.

The people we encounter, as we go, are not all alike. Some are friends and some are foes. Some are frown and some smile; some love and some hate; some help and some hinder. There are the stingy and the generous; the fortunate and the unfortunate; the rich and the poor; the selfish and the sacrificial—hundreds of such contrasts everywhere we go.

The experiences we undergo are ever altering. Life is not all level. There are ups and downs in it. We know sunshine and shadow, sorrow and joy, strength and weakness, victories and defeats, and almost every such experience as comes in the course of the journey, conditions of our human lot. To learn how to handle life is important for any man.

At the bottom every human life is pretty much the same. Whether one be rich or poor, eminent or obscure, that which happens to one may happen to all, not with the same intensity but with the same intent. This is our philosophy and in keeping with it these little messages will be written. If they shall speak any word of comfort, courage or cheer to any fellow-traveller along the way, we will consider ourselves compensated for the effort required and the pains demanded to prepare them. See you next week.

Glendora

OUR MAYOR
J. W. Wolford

I sang the praise of many men
Their valiant deed and good but when I feign would soar to heights sublime
I search in vain for words that rhyme
To sing the praise of Merson.

The People's choice for may he Assumed the task while heartedly,
I've taken oath to serve you well,
To pave your streets, or riots quell,
I'll do my best says Merson.

He views life from majestic height
His aims, ambitions, for the right
His rugged frame, perhaps not trim,
But few men can look down on him.
We're proud of Mayor Merson.

And if some midget should perhaps Resort to ridicule and yap
He's to be pitied and should feel Like terriers at Mastiff's heel
Ignored complete by Merson.

And should you crack some sour pun,
Take my advice, prepare to run,

Keep up the work, O valiant soul,
If you'd have steam, don't spare the coal,
Your rugged strength we sorely need,
Our fondest wish to you, Godspeed
And a Happy New Year Merson.

Famed poets of mighty smithy' chant
And oft times puny critics rant,
Proud mothers on fond offspring dote,
But here's one guy that gives his vote,
To everyday Frank Merson.

Regular meeting will be held at Wagner Grange Friday evening. Each lady who has not brought a cake recipe is asked to bring one. These will be used in the grange cook book which is under way.

School opened Tuesday morning at the Wagner school.

Although he's never known to harm,
You'll dream of days down on the farm,
If you get gay with Merson.

To be of service, do some good,
While others talk, he's sawing wood,
And if you feel you're on the fence
And sadly need some good horse sense
Just have a chat with Merson.

Now when the city fathers meet
They all come clean, don't try to cheat
For if some plan he should reject,
The time will come to tax collect
And you'll thank Mayor Merson.

ON PRINTING ALL THE NEWS
Every now and then some publisher breaks into print with a fine show of bravado, asserting that it is the duty of the newspaper in the interest of its public to "print all the news."

And in spite of the fact that Al Smith didn't apparently get a very big hand when he used the word "baloney" in another connection, we feel constrained to use it when we see such statements.

In the first place, will somebody tell us what news is? Throughout the development of the newspaper, the conception of what news is has been constantly widening. Today we treat of many things in newspapers that were in existence but never touched 50 years ago, or even 25 years ago. It wasn't because the old-time publisher was afraid to print such news; it was merely that he never thought of them as a news matter.

And we feel fairly safe in saying that there is not a newspaper publisher in America that completely covers the news of his jurisdiction. Not the community smut, merely, but the constructive news, too. Not so completely, at least, but a journalistic genius might come in and cover rich new leaks that were never uncovered before.

Anyway, we have always felt that this "printing all the news" is quite often as much a matter of cowardice as of bravery. You print a thing that in decency you would pass over because you are afraid some critic will say that you were afraid to print it. There are certain unwritten rules that the gentleman conforms to in his conversation concerning his fellowman, and it hardly seems that the newspaper is entirely exempt from that code. Printers ink will stand mixing with decent and humane attitudes.

Of course, there is such a thing as being so "gentlemanly" as to be milkopish. But isn't there such a thing as educating your public to an interest in constructive news? And anyway, the saints preserve us from smart alec attitude of some newspapers that boast that they "print all the news."

Greenblatt's Clever and Unusual Window Attracts Crowds

Above is the picture of Greenblatt's north window that has attracted so much attention and favorable comment in the last two days. It is a most unusual treatment of a schoolroom scene with the blackboard as the background. With something of a realistic touch — Greenblatt's show by comparison the vast difference between fur prices in 1923 and the prices that now prevail during their greatest of all January Clearance Sales. You will notice in the picture the teacher points out to her class that if a Fur Coat were purchased in 1923 for $265, that the same coat purchased now would cost only $88 and asks the question — "How much do you save?" Attractively placed around the school are explanatory plates to complete the setting.

(Too Late for Last Week)
The school had a Christmas tree for the scholars and exchanged presents. They had a program which they enjoyed and are having vacation this week. Mrs. McClary has been substituting for Miss Dorothea Hess for the past four weeks. Miss Hess is still under treatment following an operation for appendicitis. She is improving slowly at her home. Guy Ingelright and family and Mrs. Hall spent Christmas with Mrs. Hall's sister, Mrs. Case, in Three Oaks.

William Weavers gave a family Christmas dinner Monday. Those present were Mrs. Leah Weaver and sons, Lazell and Dee, Ronald and wife and daughter. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Slater, the parents of Mrs. Ronald Weaver, and Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn of New Carlisle were callers. Ronald Weaver returned to his work near Rochdale, Ind., Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stineback and family spent Christmas in Battle Creek with the former's sister.

Where Horses Originated
The earliest known progenitor of the horse was the eolophus, a four-toed creature about the size of a house cat. Fossil specimens of the eolophus have been found in the Lower Eocene formations of the West.

Loss Power of Flight
More often than not wild swans and Canadian geese lose all power of flight for several days after they have reared their young to the flight stage and begin moulting. At such times they become easy prey for the natives of the colder climates where breeding takes place.

The Irish Free State
The Irish Free State (Saorstad Eireann) was brought into existence on January 7, 1922, when the dail or parliament ratified a treaty with Great Britain. This government includes 27,440 square miles of territory, while the remainder of the island of Ireland, 5,237 square miles, is from its location known as Northern Ireland and has an entirely distinct and separate government.

Social, Organization Activities

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Vile Entertain On Silver Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Vile were master and mistress at a most unique and charming social function in the form of a reception on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding, at their home at 110 West Front street from five to nine o'clock Sunday evening. Most unusual invitations were sent out for the reception, consisting of the invitations printed from the original wedding, a number of which were not used and had been kept by Mrs. Vile. They read: "Mrs. Maryette Mansfield requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of her daughter, Beatrice, to Jesse Fitch Vile, on the afternoon of Thursday, the thirty-first of December, nineteen hundred and eight, at three o'clock."

A corner of each invitation was turned down and a silver bow inserted, with the numerals "1933" inscribed. Inside were the names of the two principals and the date of the current anniversary were inscribed in ink.

The Vile home was beautifully lighted with white candles in silver candelabra and candlesticks, and a profusion of flowers, the gifts of friends, lent to the beauty of the scene. In the library, Miss Dorothy Portz, Miss Johanna Desenberg and Mrs. Josephine Kelley presided at the punch bowl. The table in the dining room was laid with the service and decorations of the original wedding of 1908, the bride's slippers being used as flowerholders. An interesting feature here was the presence of the three girls who served at the original wedding, Mrs. Ethel Parkinson, Siraganian pouring the coffee, Mrs. Reba Binns Lamb and Miss Minta Wagner waiting on the guests as they had twenty-five years before. Added dining room features were two beautiful cakes, the gifts of friends. One was a three-tier cake carrying 25 candles and topped by a silver bell, the gift of Mrs. W. M. Brodick. The other was a lovely cake, trimmed with silver, holly and dates, and bearing the numerals "1908-1933," the gift of Mrs. A. S. Webb.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Vile had requested that no gifts be brought, twenty-five friends presented them with a beautiful silver bag containing a substantial gift of silver, and other friends brought similar presents.

The principals and attendants of the original wedding and their guests enjoyed the novelty of having moving pictures of themselves taken by Harry Hall of Gary, one of the guests who is an expert moving picture camera operator.

In the neighborhood of 100 guests were present, including the following from out of the city: Major and Mrs. D. B. Falk, Evanston, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kelly, South Bend; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hall, Gary; Mrs. Effie Crane, Mrs. Halie Dougan, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Upham, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner McCracken, all of St. Joseph; Miss Margaret Marchbank, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Ward, Berrien Springs; Mr. and Mrs. James McGaghie and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Nelson, Chicago.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

A number of versions of a miniature race riot which occurred Christmas Eve near the junction of Main and Arctic street have been circulated by print and by word of mouth, the extreme discrepancy of the accounts giving rise to a suspicion that one if not both sides played fast and loose with the truth.

It would appear, however, that before the riot was over an axe and a shotgun figured and that possible murder was averted only by intervention.

Another fact fairly well authenticated is that a prime cause of the trouble was the indulgence by several parties in illegal brew, wherever and however secured.

It is a well known fact that such illicit vintages may be secured within a comparative short distance of the scene of the riot. This source is no recent development of post-prohibition laxity, but has figured in the comforting of the thirsty in this vicinity for several years. If murder had been in fact committed there is no doubt that the availability of this liquor would have been a main contributing cause, whether admitted or not.

The question arises, just how responsible, in such a case, in equity if not in law, would be the local authorities who have permitted this condition to continue so long? If proper publicity were to be given to the entire incident, would it be appropriate to include only the names of the principals and the victims of the crime, or would it be of the essence of the situation to print the names of the state, county or city authorities whose laxity played a part in the situation?

Several of the young men involved in the incident had not figured in the courts before, their connection with the entire affair being mainly accident, plus a possible poor judgment in the selection of company. It seemed hardly fair to bring their names into the matter.

If the matter were to be attacked through publicity it would seem necessary to go further back than the mere recital of the names of the parties connected with the brawl.

HOW TO END ALL TAXES

Santa Claus and the tax collector always seem to get here about the same time and why the jolly old Saint of Yuletide never gets the idea of offsetting his competitor by just dropping a tax receipt in the socks of one and all we can't figure out, for if he doesn't think that would make Christmas merry just let him try it. Merry nothing—hilarious would be the word.

But since he hasn't got the idea, we have thought up another. The sales tax, as you may have heard, was advertised in the prospectus as the tax to end all taxes. Only it didn't end them from the looks of our tax notice, but it easily can if somebody will just listen to us.

It's this way.
You go into a restaurant, a store and you make a purchase. The price is, we will say, 75 cents, and you lay the money on the counter. The merchant still holds his hand out.

"You forgot, there's two cents sales tax," he says. (This sales tax is an awful tax on the memory.)

Well, it's always a pain to have to dig around for two pennies so the easiest way is to hand him a nickel and let him do the digging. He gives you back three cents. You take the three cents and you turn around to leave and what do you see? Two guesses. You win. One of them darn penny slot machines. It can't be fate—it must be designed.

The jackpot is full. Theoretically it is ready to pay. How does it come the jackpot is never empty—always bursting?
Anyway you have the three cents and there is that jackpot.
You know the odds, but still three cents is not much and you can never tell. It is reported that a machine actually disgorged a jackpot last August or it might have been April.

Well, there's always the temptation to try your luck.
You step up and put in a penny—whang. Nothing doing. Another penny. And another. Blast the thing. You will get something out of it before you quit anyway. Change for a dime please, all in pennies. Whang! Whang! Whang! etc.
Confound yourself for a sucker anyway.

So you leave minus thirteen cents and who gets the money? We'll bite—who does?

But it's no mere coincidence that all these machines are geared to pennies these days when there are so many pennies in circulation, along of that sales tax.

So the remedy. Let the state take over the slot machines. Then, instead of getting just one cent or two cents tax on a small purchase, the state will always get at least a nickel and perhaps several of them. They're going to get $36,000,000 from sales taxes. Under our plan the state would get not less than $100,000,000. And that will run the state.

Of course nobody will pay any attention to this plan.
But it's a good one, for all that.
