ALFRED E. MEAD BUCHANAN NATIVE BURIED SATURDAY

Was Among Last of Carriage-Makers and Woodworkers of Pioneer Times; Was 83 Only Week.

Alfred E. Mead, 74, a native of Buchanan and a resident of this district for the greater part of his life, died at his home at 103 Lake Street at 1:30 p. m. Thursday, Jan. 4, after an illness of only a week.

Mr. Mead had spent many years in the cabinet-making and wood-working industries here and was one of the rapidly vanishing survivors of the older generation of skilled hand workmen. Growing up and learning his trade in the wagon and carriage making trade in the old Rough Wagon works, where as a lad he drove spokes, he bridged the gap between the carriage and the automobile in the course of his life's work, as he was employed for a number of years in the early part of the century in the factory of the Kimball Carriage company of Chicago.

He is survived by his widow; by three children, Dr. Roy E. Mead of Three Oaks, Lee Mead of Oak Park, Ill., Mrs. Fannie Mead near Chicago; by two stepchildren, Mrs. E. P. Refner, Hillsdale, and E. J. Long, South Bend; by one sister, Mrs. Anna Peacock. The funeral was held at 2 p. m. Saturday from the Carl Hamilton funeral home, with Rev. W. F. Boettcher in charge.

Parents of Elmon Starr Observe 62nd Anniversary

One of the most interesting events of southwestern Michigan this week will be the observance today by Mr. and Mrs. Theron T. Starr of their 62nd wedding anniversary. As many people know, the two worthy old people are the parents of Elmon Starr of Buchanan and have lived for the past 50 years on a farm at Spring Creek, two miles south of Three Oaks. Mr. Starr is 83 and his wife 81. Both are enjoying good health. Mr. Starr works his 20-acre farm, on which he raises vegetables, and his wife attends to her housework. They have four children and many grandchildren and great grandchildren.

We're Busy Now John, But We'll Think Things Over

Editor Record:
In reading a few weeks ago, of the drowning of a young fellow who allowed his boat to carry him over the dam I acquired the idea that the new dam was built so the down stream side was a smooth, perpendicular face so the water falls straight down to the bottom of the river. That being the case there is chance for a lot of sport in getting into that down-pour and walking across the river entirely under water. Believe it or not, but in 1871, when I was attending college at Hillsdale I did exactly that trick in that same river. The river was smaller then but the water was just as wet.

In my account of the cabinet shop which was in the 1862 fire it was made to say the building from which I saw the building was south of it. The store building fronted onto Front street and was north of the cabinet shop.

Thankful to Mrs. Ida Steidl for the explanation of the relationship of the Bests to Mary Ellen Haslett. I knew David Best by having been born and living over thirty years on the second farm west of theirs. I have a history of the Haslett family but it does not tell which part of the Best family was interested.

Oh, yes. Almost forgot to tell you how to walk a mile entirely under water without getting wet both inside and out. When you want to try it just lean your head forward so the water will strike on the back of your head and shoulders, and keep it that way, and you can breathe as well as if you were out in a cornfield. An air chamber forms under your face large enough to give all the breathing needed. J. G. HOLMES.

Pay Head Tax Or Go to Jail Says The State Statute

Mrs. Ada Dacy-Sanders, city treasurer, received supplies Friday for the collection of the state head tax of $2 designed to provide funds for the payment of the old age pension. The law providing for the tax states that "beginning with the year 1933, and each year thereafter, every resident of the state of 21 years of age and upwards, whether an American citizen or otherwise, excepting inmates in state or municipal institutions, who has resided in this state for a period of six months or more shall register with the county clerk. Any person failing to pay the tax provided on or before March 1 of any year, shall be liable to a fine not to exceed $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed 90 days, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court."

BUCKS GIVE STOVE CITY 5 POLISHING

Overcome First Quarter Dowagiac Lead to Administer 21-13 Drubbing to Class B Contenders.

After suffering three consecutive defeats, the Buchanan Bucks came back to defeat the strong Dowagiac cage five, 21 to 13, on the local floor Friday night. The Bucks really went to work and proved that they can, if necessary, play this cage game. Although the Bucks trailed 4 to 3 at the end of the first period, they did not seem to be worried and had the situation well in hand as the first half ended with the score 10 to 7, in their favor.

In the third quarter, the Bucks netted three field goals for a total of six points, while the visitors collected only one field goal, making the score 16 to 9 in favor of the locals as the final quarter started. Buchanan scored five points against four for Dowagiac in the final period, and the game ended, 21 to 13, giving the Bucks their second victory this season.

Coach Bradford started Dan and Aug. Topash as forwards, Batchelor at center, and Leeder and Dretzler, guards. The leads two were replaced by Letter and Frase later in the game. Aug Topash scored four field goals for a total of eight points; high point honors, while Leszynski, Dowagiac guard scored six points to lead for the visitors.

This Friday the Bucks meet the Three Oaks basketballers on the local floor and it'll be "woodman spare those Three," as the Bucks seem to have acquired a winning spirit. Last year the Bucks severely trimmed the Three Oaks quintette, but the Bucks will face a much different cage outfit this Friday, as the Oakers seem to have developed some of the power and sturdiness raved about by the poets. However, all things considered, the Bucks will hold the advantage when the two clash on the local floor Friday night.

Admission to the game which starts at 7:30 is 25c. Next Tuesday, Jan. 16, the Bucks journey to Coloma to engage the Coloma cagers in the first clash of the season between the two schools. Although this encounter promises to be a little more difficult than the Three Oaks game because of the unfamiliar floor, the Bucks nevertheless hold the edge in Tuesday's clash with the Coloma quintette.

HUNDRED LIONS ESCAPE KEEPERS TUESDAY NIGHT

Lionism in Buchanan got away to "roaring" start on Tuesday evening when the newly organized local club held its charter night session in the American Legion hall. Including the local club there were one hundred Lions and their ladies in attendance.

Opening with a banquet served by the Ladies Auxiliary, the fore part of the evening was a period of hilarity and fun led by Bill Kuschel, a member of the St. Joseph Lions club, who made a stage of the banquet hall and an actor or actress of each of the banquets. With Howard Lentz at the piano everybody sang, either in solos, trios, quartets, or as a group.

Following the dinner, President A. J. George introduced A. L. Knoblauch as toastmaster, who in turn introduced the speaker of the evening, Dist. Gov. of Lions Clubs, Paul W. Shafer, Municipal Judge of Battle Creek. Mr. Shafer delivered a splendid address on "Lionism," its ideals, as well as its program after which he presented the charter to the local club.

Mr. George accepted the charter with an address in which he pledged the local club's loyalty and energy toward the furtherance of the ideals and program laid down by Mr. Shafer. Entertainment features included vocal duets by Mrs. A. L. Knoblauch and Mrs. H. C. Stark with Mrs. Harry Geiss at the piano, and dance numbers by Miss Teresa White and six of her dancing pupils, with Mrs. Josephine Kelley at the piano. All of these numbers were greatly enjoyed.

Dancing followed the program, the high school dance orchestra, under the direction of R. R. Robinson, furnishing the music.

CARROLL WILSON HAS MIRACULOUS WRECK ESCAPE

Thrown Through Top of Car 50 Feet When Forced from Road Near New Carlisle; Only Minor Hurts.

Carroll Wilson had a miraculous escape from serious injury Saturday evening, when he was thrown through the top of his car, alighting 50 feet away, when he was forced off the road by a speeding motorist near New Carlisle.

Wilson was en route to Michigan City in company with John Hamilton, student at Notre Dame. On a curve about a mile and a half east of New Carlisle a car approaching at high speed crowded over on the left side, forcing Wilson from the pavement. As his car went out on the soft dirt the front wheels crumpled and one broke off, the machine ricocheting into the ditch. Wilson was thrown 50 feet down the road, but was not injured nearly as much as Hamilton, who was taken to St. Joseph hospital in South Bend for treatment for minor injuries. Wilson was able to resume his work at Notre Dame Monday morning.

The car was brought into the Chevrolet garage here Sunday morning.

Michigan Health Department Okehs City Water Supply

Buchanan residents need have no fear of their water supply for the present at least, according to a report received last week by City Clerk Harry Post, chief compiler in the vital statistics department. There were 64 births in the city in that year as compared with 8 deaths. This is approximately 16 births and 8 deaths per thousand. Births in 1932 numbered 62, two less than in 1933. Deaths in 1932 were 43, or nine more than in 1933. The above figures do not take into account the deaths of local residents in hospitals or elsewhere outside of the city.

Project For Construction of Quartermile Cinder Track About Gridiron Up For Approval

Notice was received here Monday of final approval by CWA authorities of the project for the construction of a cinder running track for high school meets at the Athletic park. Allowance was made for 1,000 hours of work and the cement materials and form lumber for the construction of a concrete curbing around both sides of the quarter mile track. The project will be carried out by the force now at work on the gridiron and parking ground, the dirt taken from the excavation for the curbing being used in the fills on the parking place. The quarter mile track will be built of cinders hauled from the Michigan Central terminal at Niles. It is reported that the cost of transportation by rail car would be the only charge made by the Michigan Central.

Coach Bradford states that the plans provide for a 100-yard straightaway twenty feet wide, providing lanes for runners, the remainder of the track being about 15 feet wide. In the event that it was found impossible to build a full 440-yard track about the field, it might be necessary to allow 4 1/2 or 5 laps to the quarter mile, Bradford stated. A concrete curb would be built on each side of the track and cinders laid to a depth of not less than six inches. Work began again Saturday on the completion of the CWA improvements at the Athletic park, after an interval of two weeks, final authorization having been secured for an extension of 3,000 hours beyond the original allotment of 3,500 hours.

Street Superintendent Ed Mitchell stated that the parking ground for automobiles on the south side of the gridiron has yet to be completed. This is being constructed about 18 inches lower than the gridiron, with a sodded bank along that side of the playing field. The millrace banks are also to be raised to prevent flooding the field in the future. Trees are to be planted along the raised banks and another diamond for softball may be leveled off on the south side of the track, where the dirt was taken for raising the gridiron.

Junior High Basketball Team to Play Jan. 19

Mr. Miller's Junior High basketball team is whipping into shape for their first game of the season, which will be held here Jan. 19 with Dowagiac.

The team is quite small, but they make up for it in speed, and they have real ability in hitting the basket.

There will be two games, the first and second teams. The first team consists of eighth and ninth graders while the second team is composed of seventh and eighth graders.

If you want to see some of the future Buchanan high stars, don't miss this game.

Knoblauch Makes Ruling

Mr. Knoblauch became righteously indignant the day after New Years. Imagine 20 students being late the first morning of school after a ten day vacation!

Mr. Knoblauch couldn't get there that many tardy students in his office asking for admits to classes. As a result of the appalling number, Mr. Knoblauch decided that persons who were tardy thereafter should stay one hour after school as a punishment for their negligence in punctuality. This sentence is imposed only on persons getting third class excuses.

Inquiring Reporter Gets Statistics On Holiday Vacations

When the "Inquiring Reporter" questioned some of the high school students, she was able to secure some information as to how they spent their Christmas vacation.

Max Dreitzler was kept quite busy as he practiced basket ball, went to shows, and often traveled down Terre Coupe road. However, he wouldn't explain why he should prefer Terre Coupe's bumps to those of any other road. Perhaps some one else could answer that.

It seems that Alene Dodge went skiing, worked up a good appetite and ate lots and lots of food.

Enthusiastically, Ethel Sibley told how she spent the entire vacation visiting her brother in Chicago and seeing the sights of the city. While there she saw the shows, "Little Women" and "Alice in Wonderland."

Verl Brewer spent his time going to South Bend, to the theater, playing basketball, and sleeping.

The vacation of Jane Briney was gayly made up by roller skating in the Gallen Hall, entertaining guests, seeing the motion picture, "Sitting Pretty," and dancing.

Ester Kempton enjoyed herself by going to St. Joe, reading a book, and seeing two shows.

All James Everingham would admit doing was sleeping and eating.

When Shirley Rolan was questioned, she would only say that, besides going to Berrien Springs, she just "messed around."

Curley Bradfield Doesn't Believe In Exposing Himself

Sir Bradfield, the mighty little giant, received a loud volume of laughter from the basket ball fellows as he strutted down the floor for basketball practice one day last week. Little Napoleon could hardly breathe or move his shoulders or arms, due to the fact that he had on so many clothes.

He had been suffering from a severe cold for the past week, and said that in order to not contract any more cold one must wear plenty of duds.

These are some of the garments that he had on: one suit of clothes, two leather jackets, one scarf, one heavy overcoat, and a football warmup hood on the outside. It is not known what was worn under these clothes. One fellow remarked, "I wonder what he wears out of doors?" Another asked, "I wonder if he plans to join the Byrd expedition?"

"Hi and Bi Words"

When you feel "low-down" or something goes wrong, there's always a little line that helps calm your fury, eh-what?

Well, here are some little by-words that have become habits with certain folks:

"Quit your kiddin'" demands Winifred Shaffer, and Donna Bird questions, "What do you think?"

"Hm-m," says Cherry Heim with a wise, cynical grin. Lillias Peacock must be terribly intelligent, for she's constantly yelling "Don't be dumb!" "I don't know," is Don Roti Roti's weakness. "Ain't that sumphin'?" quotes Lila Hartline. "Smarty," sneers Pauline Toynash; while Dan's is the well-worn-out "Nertz."

First Semester Exams, Thurs., Fri.

The examinations, covering the entire first semester's work, will be given today and Friday morning. All students, whether exams are completed or not, will be held the entire period of one hour and a half. This is necessary to stop certain individuals from rushing through their exams.

Any student failing a subject the first semester must report to the high school office and enroll in some other half credit subject, Friday afternoon, Jan. 12. The half-credit subjects and the classes they are for are: Farm Crops, 10; Trigonometry, 11-12; Agricultural Economics, 11-12; Commercial Law, 11-12. There is no half-credit subject available to the freshmen.

He Was Popular While Typewriter Paper Held Out

For you unfortunate souls who have spent hours dreaming, planning, and even praying for popularity, don't give up. A solution to this great problem has been found—buy a package of typing paper!

Miss Quade affirms that she has witnessed eager typists reach the highest point of popularity in as short a time as one minute.

For instance, take a certain sweet junior who in the last few days has been at the very peak of the desired virtue.

He was noticed sneaking into the bookkeeping room after school Tuesday. Looking about him slowly to see if anyone was watching, he jerked a silver coin out of his pocket and hoarsely whispered, "I want a nickel's worth of typing paper!" Carefully he tucked it under his sweater and with a wide grin that accompanies only victory, he made for the typing room. Before he had reached his desk, a second year typist confronted him and demanded a sheet of paper.

The smile of victory vanished, and he glanced at his sweater where the paper bulged, and discovered a corner of the package had managed to slip down.

Popularity crashed on him in a fleeting second. Soon mobs surrounded him asking for typing paper.

Only people who have acquired the greatest of fame have ever reached the stage of popularity he is now enjoying.

For 45 minutes, Thursday morning, the junior high study hall was converted into a surgical department.

The room was occupied with bandaged heads, hands, feet and eyes, galore, although not a bruise was to be found.

Miss Rockenbach glanced down at a girl's embalmed hand and laughed, "Your hand looks like a foot."

There was only a first-aid class, and the girls were tying up their victims like swathed mummies, until they really did need some first aid to come to their rescue.

Phan Phare

By Dick Schram

Speaking of the coming Three Oaks-Buck cage clash, wonder if the Three Oaks coach is a tree surgeon? What a place for a Blue-Jay salesman, cause you know, mighty bunions from little a-corns grow!

Marv Mangold sees action for the first time in a Buck uniform Friday night, trying against his old classmates from the metropolis of sturdy oaks. Wonder how it feels to be playing against your old pals? Must be touching. Now I'm getting sentimental, in a minute I'll be singing the school song in a full, rich barytone voice (that's Peronah, my friends) with tears streaming down my face and a lump in my larynx.

Spot Dempsey is hoping for an overwhelming Buck victory because he is still suffering from the bumps on the head he received when he jumped center in the Three Oaks gym, or gymette, as you prefer. If you ever visit Three Oaks, not that you might, but if you do, don't fail to stop in and see the dents in the ceiling of the gym, mute evidence of the contact with Spot's head.

After watching Spot batter away at the ceiling for the better part of an hour, one Three Oaksite remarked, "Oii! An yv couldn't he raise my taxes, too?" And right at this moment in history comes the remark which created the word "indigent." The man from Three Oaks went on, "Indigent is a nice looking lad, ain't he, Issac?" (Writer's note: I've heard of a dents on a dents floor, but never on de ceiling.) See my six faithful readers next week.

Editorial

Although separated by an intellectual degree, the entire student body of Buchanan high school has united for the sole purpose of boosting the seniors' annual sales. Being led by the seniors, whose undertaking it is, the student body is striving to co-operate and "put the annual sales across."

The seniors desire an annual a great deal. Being a progressive class, and progress being improvement, they wish a year book that is not just as good as last year's, but one decidedly better. In the face of present conditions, this is a very difficult task.

Co-operation of all interested in such an undertaking is necessary if the plan is to succeed. Co-operation of students for sales and co-operation of townspeople for a market. Sufficient sales to assure an "even break" must be obtained before the forward stride may be taken.

If you are continually aggravated by some student seeking to sell you a copy of "The Pines," the best way to stop the annoyance is to buy one. The price is very meager, only 50c, the remainder payable upon delivery of the annual, assures you a lasting remembrance of the class of 1934, even after their cheerful faces have vanished from the portals of Buchanan high school.

KINDERGARTEN

We have two new pupils in our kindergarten. Wilma Backus entered from the Mt. Labor district and Sue Carol Hill from Louisville, Ky.

Gossip

Haven't you heard? Haven't you seen? Well, it's "the talk of the town!" A storm of commotion and gossip was aroused as Miss Beatrice Neal sauntered down the hall Tuesday wearing a "brand new boob."

Heads turned as she passed, and some helped themselves to a second glance at that very curly blonde head which has cured such a "hullabaloo." "Diamond Lil" can't put anything over on "Bebe's" new shingle!

Oakie and Haley, Comedy Jacks, In New Musical

Directed by Harry Joe Brown, Paramount's "Sitting Pretty" with Jack Oakie, Jack Haley, Ginger Rogers, Thea Todd, Gregory Ratoff and Lew Cody playing the leading roles, is coming on Sunday and Monday to the Ready theatre.

Included in the imposing cast are two famous radio acts. The Pickens Sisters and the Beverly Hill Billie both have important sequences in the musical parts of the story.

The story is centered around two aspiring song writers, working in a small New York music company. Through a streak of unforeseen luck they sell a song for $300, decide to go to Hollywood after losing this money in a crap game, they still have $15 left and they hitch-hike to the Coast.

They finally get there after cashing a bogus check a crazy man has given them. Breaking into a studio, they eventually sell themselves and really get started on a successful career, until the gorgeous screen blonde begins paying them attention. Then work and old friends are completely buried in their terrific ego.

Their own estimation of their importance raises them to terrific heights only to hurl them to earth with a crash that resounds through the film city.

But it brings them to their senses with a climax that ends in a whirly-girly, musical finish.

Facts We Are Facing The Saloon Must Never Come Back!

When President Roosevelt proclaimed the end of the prohibition era he pled especially that the states authorize no return of the saloon in any form.

Those entrusted with the task of fixing measures of control for the newly liberated liquor traffic say "very day, "There must be no saloon."

But everybody knows that the saloon is here. It often wears the old-time smello. It usually bears another name.

Yet those high in public office still assure a confused public that the saloon will not return.

What Was The Saloon? It was the place that turned strong men into weaklings and bad men into beasts. The place that children feared and good women shunned.

The Washington Evening Star speaks of its "ramifications into the upper world of politics and the underworld of crime and the middle world of broken and impoverished homes."

The American people have not wholly forgotten the filth, the crime and the sorrow that the saloon meant.

No wonder everybody is saying "The saloon must never come back."

But the president desires the sale of liquor for revenue. William Green wants "public service rooms" where the drinking can be done in an open, commonplace way, so that the attitude of people about drinking might be changed.

Mr. Mulrooney of New York says "when ten rooms get

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 241): "We should strive to reach the Holy height where God is revealed; and the cornerstone of all spiritual building is purity. The baptism of Spirit, washing of the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration."

It was Satan's purpose to bring about an eternal separation between God and man; but in Christ we become more closely united to God than if we had never fallen. In taking our nature, the Saviour has bound Himself to Humanity by a tie that is never to be broken. To assure us of His immutable counsel of peace, God gave His only begotten Son to become one of the human family, forever to retain His human nature. "Man's Castle"

Poignantly Beautiful! Superbly Acted! "Man's Castle," red hot from Hollywood's fast-stepping producer, Columbia Pictures, will be seen in Southern Michigan for the first time next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Hollywood theatre. It is without a doubt the most moving love story that has ever been made into a motion picture. Entrusted to the genius of Director Frank Borzage the new photoplay emerges on the Hollywood screen as a powerfully emotional and compelling classic—truly one of the great pictures of the year. For sheer poignancy, for sentiment glossed over by reality, for a homey tale of a love that braves all obstacles—Borzage proves a master of them all. Sharing honors with the director for excellence in the picture are the two stars, Spencer Tracy and Loretta Young, cast, respectively as Bill, a shiftless, homeless wanderer, and Trina, a starving waif whom he picks up on the street and takes to his ramshackle home on the dumps. Borzage's deft touches and the artistry with which these two perfect players interpret their roles put into the production a pathos and moving force that sweeps the spectator along with it in its flood of emotional appeal. Tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday of this week the Hollywood again presents a double feature program, consisting of Rex, the "Wonder" Horse in "King of the Wild Horses," with William Janey and Dorothy Appleby in support, plus feature number two of our action favorite, Tim McCoy in a drama of newspaper activity, "Hold the Press." Both are crammed with action and human interest that will keep you actively interested from start to finish. On the same program comes chapter 3 of Buck Jones in "Gordon of Ghost City." James Dunn, Lillian Roth, Cliff Edwards, June Knight, Charles "Buddy" Rogers, Lillian Bond, Dorothy Lee and Lona Andre constitute the extraordinary cast of "Take a Chance," the Paramount musical extravaganza produced by Lawrence Schwab, and which comes to the Hollywood on Bargain nights next week Wednesday and Thursday. Due to the NRA code compelling leading producers to serve only theatres in the United States having a 15c minimum adult admission, the Hollywood is compelled to raise its Wednesday and Thursday mid-week bargain prices to 15c for adults, children's admissions remaining the same, 10c. This new price goes into effect next Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 17-18, with the musical described above, "Take a Chance." Read the Hollywood announcement to this effect on the last page of this issue.

Massachusetts' War Memorial Massachusetts' memorial to her war dead—a 93-foot granite tower surmounted by an ever-burning beacon—can be seen in five states within a radius of 70 miles. It is situated atop Mount Greylock, the state's highest peak. Picturing Defects in Steel Radium is used to photograph defects in steel posts and beams up to ten inches in thickness. Exposure requiring from 20 to 30 hours, this length of time being necessary for the rays to pass through the steel and register all imperfections on the film.—Collier's Weekly. Poplar Tree Yields Nectar The remarkable straightness and height of the tree and the lightness and workability of its wood, as well as its rapid growth commend yellow poplar to the forester and landowner. Its distinctive beauty of form and foliage have always attracted attention. Another feature is honey production; a well-developed tree of 20 years will yield enough nectar to bees to make four pounds of honey.

Bloodhound Is Gentle In disposition the bloodhound is the gentlest of all hounds and seldom displays an irritable mien. It is not overly affectionate, but thoroughly understands its master and what is expected of it. It is not a handsome dog by any means, for the long ears and heavy wrinkled face give it an appearance of a worried, harried old man, an expression to arouse sympathy rather than admiration.

The Court of Arches The Court of Arches is an English ecclesiastical court of appeal of the archbishop of Canterbury as metropolitan of the Province of Canterbury. It is presided over by an official called Dean of the Arches. While the court takes its name from an ancient building in which it sat centuries ago, it now sits at Lambeth palace. It is the court which unfrocks ordained clerics. Appeal is only to the king.

The Telescope To most people the word "telescope" connotes a long tube with an eyepiece at the lower end and a lens at the other end, the observer looking through the lower end. This is the refractor type of telescope. The reflector type, however, is built upon an entirely different principle. It operates by the use of a reflecting mirror, or a series of reflecting mirrors.

Discontinuing 10c Adult Admissions The Motion Picture Industry, similar to all other lines, now has an NRA CODE, signed by the President and enforceable by law! One of the important phases of this code is that no pictures produced by the leading producers shall be exhibited in any theatre in the United States at 10c admission for adults, consequently, we are forced to raise our Wednesday and Thursday Bargain Night admissions to 15c for adults—Children admissions remaining the same—10c.

We have bought the products of these leaders. You will see at the Hollywood Theatre practically every worthwhile show made in 1934. BUT, these producers and the NRA CODE insist that we cannot show their pictures for 10c. You want to see the big shows and we will not buy the cheaper ones—so beginning next Wednesday and Thursday, January 17-18th, our admission on these nights will be 10c and 15c.

We promise you bigger and better shows than ever on these Bargain Nights, more than comparable to the slight raise in admission. Such outstanding shows as "Sitting Pretty," Ruth Chatterton in "Femite," Maurice Chevalier in "The Way to Love" and Joe E. Brown in "Son of a Sailor" are scheduled for early showing on Bargain Nights. A copy of the NRA ADMISSION CODE and letters of verification from producers will be on display in our lobby next week Wednesday and Thursday, January 17-18th.

Your eyes were made for LIGHT LIKE THIS You use them most in LIGHT LIKE THIS WHEN you read on a shaded porch on a sunny day you are reading by the light that is ideal for your eyes. You feel no sense of stress or strain. Why? Because you are reading with nature's equivalent of a 1,000-watt lamp—many, many times as bright as the lamp used in the average home. WHEN you read indoors, the light is about 1/100 as bright as the light on the porch. Your eyes must adjust themselves to the difference. You can help them make this adjustment by having adequate light throughout your home. This, science tells us, will assist in preventing nervous muscular tension, defective vision, and a tendency toward headache, dizziness, vertigo.
