

Buchanan Holds Listless Election Monday With Only Thirty Pct. Of Voters Out

Now Here's the Proposition

Folks, there's been so many things happened last week we don't hardly know where to begin, but probably the arrival of spring and the election was what really were the big flashes.

We got called on our weaker reports of last week we said it was four above and somebody jumps up and says, heck or words to that effect, it was four below. We was just trying to keep it away from Pete Fuller.

The outstanding feature of the election was the rousing victory of the state of Brown and Hathaway for the city commission. It was a hot fight but the boys came out ahead. There was a pitcher of Clint in the county seat paper and by the look on his face in the picture he musta been sayin' to the photographer, boys, "You quit pointin' that black box at me or I'll wrap it round your necks."

We hurried right over to interview them after the returns were in. Mr. Brown says, "You can quote me as sayin' that my election was the biggest victory for clean government in the history of the city. I intend to have an ordinance passed forbiddin' the importin' of eggs inside the city limit. My slogan is 'Buchanan Should Lay Her Own Eggs'."

Mr. Hathaway said, "You can quote me as sayin' that my election was the biggest victory for clean government in the history of the city. I intend to clean out the city hall. Harry, grab a rag and start washin' them winders." There was a lot of big stuff last week that we overlooked in the rush. The club cat had 71 kittens over Glenn Smith's store. Wait a minute—that ought to read the 71 "Club cat had kittens. We don't know how many. The club boys are blamin' it on the Orioles."

The Port Food Shop cat had kittens, or John says he can hear them and he has been tryin' to hire a small boy to crawl back and get them. Kittens also arrived at the J. A. White and J. C. Pealer home.

Bob Koenigshof was limpin' around the first of the week and said that he got lame riding horseback. Seems funny it made his ankle sore.

There was a lot of upsets in the elections around this section. Bert Babcock lost by a hair for clerk of Galien township. Perry Morley won by a broad smile in Buchanan township.

It Was a Mistake— Post Wasn't Short $1,800 After All

The attention of the Record has been called to the fact that in the printed statement of city finances for the past year published last week a line was omitted which put the painstaking and accurate Mr. Post in the hole some $1800 on the face of the statement and that as a consequence Mr. Post is in a jitters condition from telephone calls inquiring how come. We hasten to state that in the interest and sinking fund statement the bank balance of $1,852.35 was omitted, throwing the balance out of line. This item was included in the original report on the disbursement side, under the items of "Chase National Bank, coupons on Water Works bonds, $1,160.00." By a process of more or less simple arithmetic it will be seen that this restores the necessary balance of $3,012.85.

West Michigan Steel Foundry Co. Names Merrifield

Officers for the ensuing year were elected by the West Michigan Steel Foundry Co., with a single change, namely the selection of Glenn W. Merrifield, formerly of the American Steel Foundries company, Chicago, as general manager. Mr. Merrifield has been plant manager here about a year. Otto A. Seyferth was re-elected president but relinquished the added title of general manager to Mr. Merrifield, who was named a director at the stockholders meeting last week—Muskogean Chronicle.

STORIES OF OLDTIME DRESSMAKERS WHEN DRESSES WERE DRESSES AND WERE DESIGNED TO OBSTRUCT THE VIEW

Mrs. Honor Wilson and Mrs. Atwood were Local Arbiters of Mode in Buchanan for Many Years.

Back in the days when it was considered a real accomplishment to get a girl to be able to "sew a fine seam" and when a new gown was an event that involved endless thought and conference with dressmakers rather than just a trip to the ladies furnishing store, there were two designers whose names still readily come to mind to those local memories span to Victorian days, Mrs. Honor Wilson and Mrs. Stephen Atwood.

For many years, from the seventies to the nineties, Mrs. Honor Wilson had her dressmaking establishment on the second floor of the State bank building, occupying the entire east side. The present office of Dr. Snowden was her reception room, where ladies gathered to wait arrangements to have

GALIEN POLLS RESULT IN WIN FOR DEMOCRATS

Two Republicans Survive the Landslide; Babcock Loses by 2 Votes; Tie for Overseer Highways.

The second heaviest balloting in the history of Galien township at the polls Monday resulted in victories for nine Democrats, two Republicans and one tie. Galien has been considered Republican territory in past elections.

Carl Renbarger, popular supervisor, headed the ticket with a vote of 301, as compared with 167 for H. D. Roberts. The most surprising upset of the day was the defeat of Bert Babcock for reelection to the post of city clerk, after 24 years in the office. Babcock had stated that he wished only one more year, to round out a record of a quarter of a century in office. He lost to Conway Allen in a 233-231 vote. The tie recorded was between Edward Eneart and John Dickey for the post of overseer of highways.

The vote cast for the individual candidates was as follows:

Supervisor—Carl H. Renbarger (D) 301; H. D. Roberts (R) 167. Clerk—Conway Allen (D) 233; Bert Babcock (R) 231. Treasurer—William Glasner (D) 217; Anthony Warnke (R) 240. Highway Commissioner—Rollan Pether (D) 223; John Welsh (R) 233. Justice Peace (Full Term)—Clayton Smith (D) 244; Harvey Swem (R) 209. Justice Peace (to fill vacancy)—Ward James (D) 240; Morton Hampton (R) 209. Member Board Review—George Noggle (D) 249; John W. Clark (R) 207. Overseer highways—Edward Eneart (D) 227; John Dickey (R) 227. Total vote cast 471; straight Republican votes 127; straight Democratic votes 159; split votes 185.

Two Autos Crash At Intersection of Portage Rd., M-60

Miss Marie Brown, South Bend, suffered painful lacerations as the result of an automobile crash at the intersection of M-60 and the Portage road Sunday afternoon, three others receiving scratches. Miss Brown was en route south on Portage Road in company with Earl Kuehn of South Bend, when the latter failed to stop his car at the intersection with M-60 and drove directly into the path of a car driven by Cecil Owens, accompanied by Tommy Owens, both of Galien. Owens saw Kuehn's car in time to swerve and avoid a head-on collision but the cars side-swiped and each spun around several times without upsetting. Kuehn's car struck a telephone pole, throwing Miss Brown into the ditch. None of the injuries were serious.

Mrs. Phoebe Bovee, 68, of Antigo, Wis., died at 5 a. m. Wednesday, April 4, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Oliver Simpson, 316 Elizabeth street, where she had been visiting the previous week. She came to Michigan from Wisconsin about 18 months ago, but had been visiting most of the time in Cass county. She was born Jan. 27, 1866 in Wheeling, W. Virginia. The body is at the Child's Funeral Home awaiting shipment to Antigo, Wis.

Headquarters of Berrien-Cass Council Moved Friday

Because of the constant expansion of Scouting in this area, it has been found necessary to procure larger space. The new location at the corner of Pleasant street and Lake Boulevard, Benton Harbor, has nine hundred square feet of floor space and faces Lake Michigan. Two private offices are located in the front part of the space and a large room adjoining will be available for activities.

It is planned to have large reading tables in this room with many boys' magazines, books, etc., available at all times. This space will also be used for a conference room for executive board meetings, troop officers meetings, and training sessions. The room will be decorated with displays from the troops of the area, and will be available to all boys of the Council. Many boys from the area constantly visit the headquarters and up to this time the area did not have adequate room to care for them.

The first of the training schools will be held in April, with scribes coming from the following towns: Niles, April 7th; Dowagiac and Cass county, April 14; District No. 4, composed of Three Oaks, New Buffalo, Galien, Sawyer, Buchanan, April 21; Benton Harbor, April 28; Watervliet, Coloma, Riverside, May 5; St. Joseph, Eau Claire, Berrien Springs, May 12, and the balance of the rural troops May 19th.

District Executive Boards and the Area Executive Board can also hold their meetings in the central office if they so desire and there will be adequate room to handle them.

Prospective Pupils For FERA Courses Should Sign at Once

All who are interested in the continuation of the FERA school courses after April 9 are requested to enroll with Supt. Stark, as it will be necessary to maintain enrollments of at least 12 students in each course. Arrangements have been made in sewing classes to carry new students enrolling at that time in the regular class work, and it is likely that similar arrangements may be made with other classes.

Pomona Grange Held Yesterday at Bainbridge

The Berrien County Pomona Grange held the regular quarterly meeting at the Bainbridge grange hall yesterday, with all-day and evening sessions. Clyde Gwynon, county grange master, was in charge of the meeting. County Agent Harry J. Lunkins spoke in the afternoon and former county prosecuting attorney spoke in the evening. There was a co-operative dinner at noon.

I wish to thank the voters of Buchanan for their generous support of my candidacy for justice of the peace at the spring election. LEE MATHIE.

THREE RIVERS DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS WILL GIVE MINSTREL HERE APRIL 10

WILLIAM WRAY, NATIVE BUCHANAN TWP., BURIED WED.

Born 69 Years Ago on Ancestral Homestead Four Miles Northwest, Where He Spent His Life.

William Woodburn Wray, 69, a native and lifelong resident of Buchanan township, died at his home on the ancestral Wray homestead, three miles northwest of this city early Monday morning, after several months of ill health.

He was born Oct. 5, 1864, the son of Riley and Martha Wray on the ancestral Wray homestead, three miles northwest of this city early Monday morning, after several months of ill health. He was one of a family of four children, all of whom died a few years before his own death. A brother, Anselm, and a sister, Emma Wray Weaver, died in 1932. He married Callie Smith, who survives. He is also survived by three children, Norine Wray and Frank Wray at home and Mrs. Corral Wells of Portage Prairie.

He was an honored citizen of his township, holding a number of elective offices by its suffrage. The funeral was held at 2 p. m. Wednesday, with Rev. Dewey Rowe of the Church of the Evangelists in charge. Mrs. Flora Jennings and Mrs. Laura Hamblin sang two request songs, "Rock of Ages," and "In the Sweet Bye and Bye." The pall bearers were George Huff, William Rynearson, William Whittaker, Albert Hurley, Mate Sands and Dean Clark. Burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

1849 Was Redletter Year Here—Brought Sam and the Choochoo

There were two important events in the infant village of Buchanan in 1849, the arrival of the first railway train and the coming of Sam Bunker.

They made more fuss over the arrival of the train, possibly because it whistled louder, and of course they did not know all they were in from as a result of the latter event. Anyway, Bunker stopped here in 1849 while en route from his native place, at Granger, O., to California, and decided it was a good place to stay. And here he has been ever since, with the exception of a brief interval spent in soldiering in 1862-65.

After his spell of soldiering he came home and went to work building the chimney for Fort Sumpter, as the old Black Bros. furniture factory on McCoy's creek was known. After a few years work carrying the load for the construction of several of the imposing structures that line the business section of Front street, he turned his hands to railroad work and spent three years running those funny little wheels on the top of freight cars on the run from Jackson to Michigan City. While he was on the run they built the double track because they thought it would be safer while Sam was braking.

But when he was married his wife insisted that he leave the railroad and lead a settled life. He accordingly went to work in the furniture factories and stayed at factory work during the furniture period and after the coming of the automobile factories until 1920, when he retired at the age of 76 to enjoy an operation.

Bunker remembers when they had quite a settlement on the original site of Buchanan across the bridge and could take you right to the spot where you could still see the logs of the old steamboat wharf where the grain warehouses were on the north side of the St. Joe just below the bridge. His father, Abraham Bunker, once owned the land all along that side and moved the log house built by Myron Mansfield from the place now occupied by Mr. Sherman to the site where it stayed until it was torn down last year. Abram also operated two sawmills, one where the Bainton Mill later stood and at the mouth of McCoy's Creek. He lived first where the Mathie residence is now located, on Terre Coupe and lumbered all the woods from Chicago street to Front street in the west part of what is now Buchanan.

Miss Laura Lufkin Former Resident, Dies at Infirmary

Miss Laura Lufkin, 91, a former resident of Buchanan, died on Saturday, March 31, at the Berrien county infirmary from cerebral hemorrhage and the funeral was held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday from the Childs Funeral Home, Rev. H. W. Staver in charge.

Miss Lufkin came to Buchanan in company with a sister, Miss Ida Lufkin, who died in 1926. Miss Ida Lufkin was quite well known, teaching schools in country districts for several years and also serving as a practical nurse. Miss Laura Lufkin was older and kept the home. After the death of her sister she developed mental trouble and was finally committed to the infirmary as the best place to care for her.

She was born Feb. 23, 1843, at Caribou, Maine, the oldest of a family of thirteen children, the parents being E. Emory and Rachel Russell Lufkin. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Adelaide Stiles, Rockford, Maine, and Mrs. Emma Stiles, Burlington, Vyo. The two sisters were highly respected during their residence here. The pallbearers at the funeral were F. C. Hathaway, C. F. Pears, J. C. Rehm, Wilison Leiter, William Fette and D. D. Pangborn.

City School Dist. Wins Possession of Ind. & Mich. Dam

School District No. 1, Buchanan city, was awarded undisputed title to the eight acres of land including the site of the Indiana and Michigan power dam as the result of a verdict by the Michigan Supreme Court ending the long litigation between the local district and School Dist. No. 14, Niles Township.

The suit was most important to both townships, since the annual tax income from it is between $7,000 and $8,000 or about 1-11th of the city schools. The award was made on the ground that Dist. No. 1 had improved the land for 20 years and had established possession.

Dist. 14 brought suit several years ago on the ground that the land in question is in Niles township and consequently could not be in the jurisdiction of a Buchanan township school district.

Atty. Frank Sanders was the local attorney representing the school district in its suit before the supreme court.

Zelda Schuemaker and Vine Cook are United in Marriage

Miss Zelda Schuemaker, niece of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Mills, 504 S. Portage street, became the bride of Mr. V. W. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cook, Terre Coupe, and Sunday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock by Rev. H. L. Nicholson at the Trinity Episcopal church, Niles, Mich.

Miss Mayme Proseus and Edward L. Mills attended the couple. The bride chose a powder blue ensemble with light tan accessories and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas and gardenias. Miss Proseus wore a light blue ensemble with gray accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of cream roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served the immediate families by Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Mills.

ABDUCTION CHARGES AGAINST TWO LOCAL YOUTHS ARE DROPPED

Abduction charges against Vincent DeNardo and Anthony L. Gancer were dismissed yesterday morning following a conference of plaintiff and defense and their attorneys in the office of Justice of the Peace, John W. Rody of Niles, after Frank Strunk withdrew his complaint. The two defendants were released, August Roti had been released from charge earlier.

I wish to thank the voters of Precinct Two, Buchanan, for their support of my candidacy for supervisor at the spring election. WILLIAM FETTE.

FRANCIS HILLER AWARDED YEAR OF EUROPEAN STUDY

Brilliant Graduate of Buchanan High School is Honored by Graduate Dept. of Harvard University.

The many local friends of Francis Hiller will be glad to learn that he has been awarded a scholarship for a year of foreign study at the expense of Harvard University, the award being made on the basis of his excellent scholastic record there.

During four years of work in a university graduate department where a B grade is considered remarkable, Hiller has almost a straight A record. He achieved his Master of Arts degree in his first year at Harvard and has since been doing research work and writing a thesis on a subject approved by the Department of Romance languages. For the past two years he has also been acting as instructor and as a proctor in the library. The award of the traveling scholarship represents the achievement of an ambition toward which young Hiller has been working and should carry him far in the pursuit of his chosen work. He was an honor student at the Buchanan high school and at Lafayette College.

Commission Adopts Sliding Scale for City Water Charge

A sliding scale of water rates which will mean a considerable economy for industrial enterprises of the city and for the schools was adopted at the April session of the city commission Tuesday night. The flat rate of 15c per thousand and gallon for the first 33,000 gallons remains the same, and, with the 50c meter charge, accounts for the six months charge of $5.50. Beyond that minimum the following rates apply: second 33,000 gallons, 12c per 1,000 gallons; third 33,000 gallons, 10 cents per 1,000 gallons; additional amount, 8c per 1,000 gallons.

It is estimated that the annual water bill of the schools, hitherto about $300, will be reduced at least $100.

Funeral Rites Held Saturday for John N. Naugle

Funeral rites for John N. Naugle, 57, were held at 2 p. m. Saturday from the Methodist church, with Rev. Thomas Rice in charge and burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Naugle died at his home on the east side of the river north of Buchanan Wednesday night, after a long illness. He was born at Aline, Snyder county, Pa., Jan. 29, 1877, and moved to South Bend 19 years ago. Later he moved to a farm near Dayton and eight years ago to the farm where he died.

Surviving are his widow, one daughter, Eleanor, at home and a brother and sister. He was an active member of the Buchanan I. O. O. F.

Last Rites for Odell DeWitt at Maywood, Ill. Today

Paul DeWitt received tidings on Tuesday of the death of his brother, Odell DeWitt, 56, at Maywood, Ill. He was born at Rolling Prairie Jan. 23, 1877. He had visited frequently here. He is survived by a widow and three children. The funeral will be held from the home in Maywood this afternoon and burial will be made at Rolling Prairie.

It's been many moons since Buchanan has had the pleasure of witnessing that old entertainment standby, a minstrel show, but Rastus and Rufus and Sambo will come to their own here again next Tuesday evening April 10, with the presentation of "Shells and Shocks" by the Three Rivers Drum and Bugle Corps, under the auspices of the Ralph Rumbaugh post of the American Legion.

The minstrel show entitled "Shells and Shocks" has been presented by the Three Rivers organization in several of the cities of southwestern Michigan, and always with success. It was in Niles two weeks ago and there was witnessed by a number of local Legionnaires, who negotiated to bring it here. The show will be given at the high school at 7:45 p. m., the doors of the auditorium opening at 7:15 p. m. A cast of 100 Three Rivers Legionnaires will appear in the burnt cork show-off. An added feature of interest will be a parade of the downtown district at 7 p. m. by the famous drum and bugle corps which is to put on the show.

The local Legion will use the receipts of the entertainment to improve the lot which was given to the post by the city in Oak Ridge cemetery. The lot is circular in form, 120 feet in diameter. The city has constructed a graveled drive around the lot and the Legion plans to raise a mound in the center on which a monument is to be erected. It is planned that eventually a number of soldier dead will be moved to the lot, where separate plots will be marked off for the veterans of the various wars.

Mother of Mrs. Alleck Lindquist Meets Tragic Death

Mrs. Alleck Lindquist received tidings Monday evening of the tragic death of her mother, Mrs. Emma Dietrich, R. R. 1, Michigan City, who was instantly killed when struck by a truck while standing off the bus on US-12 waiting for the bus.

She was standing several feet off the pavement in company with her husband, Gus Dietrich, at 6:30 p. m. Monday awaiting the Benton Harbor-Michigan City bus. Mr. Dietrich said that he was standing directly at her side and was looking the other direction when he saw the truck flash by, swerve sharply and tip over. He turned to exclaim to his wife when he found that she was gone. She had been carried by him by the truck, the wheels of which had apparently ran directly over her. How she was struck while he escaped injury is a mystery.

The driver, Lester Bocks, 30, Flint, was held for investigation. He stated that he saw her just before he reached her and swerved and that his trailer apparently caught her.

She is survived by her husband, and by five children: Mrs. Elizabeth Pettet of New Buffalo, Mrs. Rose Budzian of Michigan City, Mrs. Emilie Lindquist of Buchanan, Fred Dietrich of Joliet and Bruno Dietrich who lives at the family home near Michigan City. Five granddaughters also survive.

The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. from the Carlisle funeral home at Michigan City.

AT THE THEATRE

"Fashions of 1934"

Coming with Styles, Songs and Romance

One of the most colorful pictures to come from Hollywood is promised by the management with the showing of "Fashions of 1934" with William Powell and Bette Davis in stellar roles at the Hollywood Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The picture combines hilarious comedy with glamorous romance and a mammoth spectacle. The latter staged by Busby Berkeley, the musical comedy director whose flair for the unique and bizarre is exemplified in the beautiful specialty numbers of "Footlight Parade," "Gold Diggers of 1933," "42nd Street," and other pictures.

The prize number in "Fashions of 1934" is a most unusual spectacle in which 200 beautiful girls, do a fan dance in rhythm to music furnished by a harp orchestra.

With two such comedians as Frank McHugh and Hugh Herbert teamed up, the fun promises to be irresistible.

Vernice Teasdale has the role of a noted radio singer. Her song, "Spin a Little Web of Dreams," is the highlight of the review. Yes, "Fashions of 1934" is something to see—for all the family to see!

America's most virile he-man of the screen, George Bancroft, returns to popularity in "Blood Money," a highly dramatic romance of society and the underworld, exposing the bail-bond racket and providing a lot of thrills at the Hollywood this week Friday and Saturday as feature number one of a double-bill program. Frances Dee, Chick Chandler and Blossom Seeley are featured with Bancroft. Buck Jones in "The Fighting Ranger," makes up feature number two of the program, with Dorothy Revier in support of Buck.

All the world loves a lover, and all the world adores a fighter. These are two reasons why all the world will love Katharine Hepburn in "Morning Glory," the film playing in the Hollywood on Bargain Nights next week Wednesday and Thursday. There are also other reasons: The star studded cast headed by dynamic Hepburn, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Adolphe Menjou. The sparkling direction of that master director, Lowell Sherman. And the play by brilliant Zoe Akins.

"Morning Glory" is the story of a fighter, and a dramatic romance with New York's colorful Broadway as its background. Seventh Day Adventist Sabbath School (Saturday) at 10 a. m.
Our lesson study for the second quarter will be the letters by Paul to Timothy. The title of our first lesson, "False Teachers, Christ's Abundant Grace."
Lesson scripture, 1 Timothy 1. Memory verse, "This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief."
Note: Evidently it is the thought of the gospel committed to his trust that stirs the author of this epistle to grateful memories. His own life is an illustration of the power of the gospel to accomplish what the law could not. It changed a blasphemer and persecutor into a humble apostle.
Preaching Service at 11:15.

Christian Science Churches
"Unreality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 8.
Among the Bible citations is this passage (Gen. 32:28): "And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel; for as a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed."
Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 298): "To material sense, the unreal is the real until this sense is corrected by Christian Science. Spiritual sense, contradicting the material sense, involves intuition, hope, faith, understanding, fruition, reality."

Scrip for the Journey

By Harry W. Staver

BURDEN OF THE DAY
"My burden is light." If any man had burdens to bear that by every reckoning could be called heavy, that man was He who spoke these beginning words. He experienced about everything that can be called burdensome in the lot of man. He carried a load that is staggering when we contemplate it. Yet He says: "My burden is light." And He meant what He said. How could He shoulder such heavy burdens so that they were "light"? There is an illustration in this incident.

The incident is related of a workman carrying a tremendous load up a long flight of stairs. A passerby, amazed at the feat of strength, engaged the workman in conversation. "Half that load would crush the ordinary man," said the questioner, "How do you do it?" The workman smiled and made answer: "It's easy. You see there's a knack to it. It isn't strength so much that enables me to carry such a load as it is adjustment to the load. You've got to know how to get under the load and there's only one right way to do it."

There's the secret of carrying heavy burdens so that they are not heavy, of bearing terrific sorrow and not being overwhelmed. It's knowing the right way to get under the load. And that's what most of us have not learned how to do.

There are men and women in our world with lives so full of misfortune that one wonders how they can possibly bear it. Yet they endure cheerful, courageous and undismayed. There are people with handicaps so severe one marvels at their achievements. They put us to utter shame who have all our faculties. How do they do it? It isn't a matter of strength with them. It is an affair of "adjustment." They have learned the "knack" of it. They have discovered how "to get under the load."

There are a number of ways of handling experience, but there is only "one right way." Happy the man who comes to know.

WHAT IS THE P. T. A.?
The National Congress of Parents and Teachers is an educational and social movement which unites parents, teachers, and all good citizens in each community in one great DEMOCRATIC organization for the sole purpose of conserving and advancing the interests of America's greatest asset—children.

Money, position, prestige and power are minor matters in the search for workers in the field of the education and welfare of children.

The objects of the National Congress of parents and teachers:
First—To promote child welfare in home, school, church, and community; to raise the standards of home life; to secure more adequate laws for the care and protection of children.
Second—To bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child; and to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, moral, and spiritual education.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 Monday evening, April 9 in the Junior Assembly room of the H. S. building.
Election of officers for the coming year will be held at this time. Entertainment will be furnished

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

CHICAGO WORKS FOR BETTER GOVERNMENT

For a number of years past Chicago has exemplified to the country at large the peculiar and difficult problems confronting democratic governments in large cities and in a smaller way in the lesser communities as well.

The apparent breakdown in native American institutions in such cities has, more than any other item, lent aid and comfort to those who proclaim the failure of the ideals of government as Lincoln phrased it, "of the people, by the people and for the people", as inadequate and doomed to be superseded by other forms dominated by strong men rather than by popular rule.

It is therefore encouraging news that is contained in a Chicago dispatch in the New York Times reporting the rise of citizen groups in the Windy City, dedicated to the making of a municipality in which democracy will function honestly and intelligently for the realization of better political, social and economic ideals.

In these groups are joined in a common effort men and women from the colleges, the churches, the social agencies, the bench and bar, and from all walks of business, studying the causes of the apparent failure of government to function honestly and for the welfare of the people. One common understanding seems to have been reached—that this failure arises mainly from the over-complexity of governmental mechanism. This complexity has served the purpose of the political spoilsman and their henchmen, the only group organized on a citywide basis. The private citizen, devoting his main attention to his own business, is bewildered by the complexity of the problem.

It has been further agreed that the tax problem, at the root of much of Chicago's difficulty, is aggravated by the fact that the burden is still born mainly by property and yet property now receives only about 25 percent of the total income of the citizens. The steadily diminishing of the proportion of citizens who own their own business is disintegrating the basis for the property tax. This condition places such heavy burden on property that it is destroying the ambition of the citizen to own even a home.

Other aspects of metropolitan life are being studied. One group of citizens is examining the method by which Cincinnati redeemed itself from misrule. Other groups are studying that strange five-point alliance between lawyers, crime, labor, politicians and business which is the basis of the racketeering problem.

In other cities, notably in a number in Michigan, movements are starting whose aim is to make the individual citizen conscious of the problems of his government, not so much with reforming intent as to promote honesty and efficiency among the men already in office. The nationwide Citizen's Council Movement of which Professor Thomas Harrison Reed of the University of Michigan is a leader, is now represented in cities in every state in the union.

It is the rule that the intent of these movements is not mere puritanical reform but the application of community intelligence to matters of local government, and the development of a public intelligence which will enable the citizen to function between elections.

Why isn't it a fairish idea?

CITY COMMISSION DID NOT BAR PACKAGE SALE

It is evident that the significance of the action, or rather lack of action of the city commission on the question of glass sale of liquor is not generally understood.

The commission waited until the end of the sixty-day period allowed for decision and then declined to vote whether or not the sale of hard liquor by the glass would be permitted. This had the identical effect of an opposing vote. It barred glass sale from Buchanan, with the exception that a petition signed by 20 per cent of the vote cast for secretary of state at the last general election may at any time within a year initiate a special election which will put the question up to the city.

But it had absolutely nothing to do with the establishment of specially designated merchants or specially designated distributors to sell hard liquor other than beer, in the package, to be consumed off the premises. Such establishment in Buchanan is left entirely to the discretion of the state commission. If any citizen or group of citizens think that such designations might be of aid in the liquor problem here, their freedom to apply for such has not been interfered with in any way by the city commission.

The specially designated merchant is one who is granted a license to sell by the package under bonding restrictions similar to those applying to beer parlors. The specially designated distributor is merely a citizen employed by the state at a fixed compensation not to exceed $1,200 to sell liquor other than beer to be consumed off the premises. He does not pay a license fee nor is he bonded. He makes no profit on sale and he sells in accordance with strict regulations laid down by the commission.

The program committee has spent considerable time and effort to make this an especially interesting meeting which will take the form of a panel discussion. This method of presenting factual information to an audience was devised by members of the Department of Education at Leland Stanford University in 1922. The plan represents a cross between the usual speaker-audience method and the debate method. The members of the panel are Mr. L. R. Stanley, president of the Berrien County Education Association and head of the Smith-Hughes Agricultural Dept. of Benton Harbor, Mr. Philip M. Keen of Galien and a retired Supt. of School, Rev. J. R. Day, Mr. Ray Miller and Mr. J. R. Semple. Near the close the audience will be invited to participate in the discussion.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting. We hope to see as many fathers as possible. Come and invite your friends, and help make this new type of meeting a success.

Nancy Studebaker Tells of School Days Back in Ghost Hollow

Editor of Record: A good friend of Buchanan sent me the Record containing A. Morley's reminiscences. I enjoyed the writings very much. My eyesight has been failing me and for that reason you have not heard from me lately. But I am still loyal to Buchanan and her interests, and always glad to hear from people there.

In the year 1863 I taught school on the Chicago road, at a school which bore the name of Ghost Hollow, why I never knew. I received $1.50 per week and boarded at Archie Dunbar's. They paid him $1.25 per week for my room and board. I taught every other Saturday or twenty-two days per month. Phela Hurley and two brothers came to school. Later she married John Best, another pupil of mine, out on Dayton road. John G. Holmes, spent his early days in that vicinity and like Lonnie Howe, wore aprons. I held Eva Chamberlain practice Miss baby. I also knew her family and her grandfather, Mr. Cooper, very well.

Adios, my friends.

Buchanan's Wealth in Bank, Clay Bank, Says John G. Holmes

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Mar. 29-'34
Editor Record.

The talk I have been giving on the clay bank does not seem to get reaction, but what of it? Here is another tip: During the winter of 1904-5 I spent in southern Missouri and as is my practice I kept noting around for the unusual, was always that way, so much so, Mother used to keep an extra girl about to keep my nose clean, so when I was there I discovered a clay bank that is some thing different: the clay is white, the same kind we use for making porcelain; disintegrated feldspar, or kaolin. The bed comes to the surface and I was told had been drilled to the depth of 90 feet; dark brown on the surface, and white when down a few feet. The sample I have here is cream color. I wrote to our U. S. Sam asking him what he knew about kaolin and he sent me a list of mines in North Carolina; got a sample of their clay and price, which was $12.50 a ton at the pit head, $6.50 the ton freight to Cedar Rapids, car lots. Their clay was creamy. At the time I saw an item in the Record telling about the Kalamazoo paper company getting a ship load of the stuff from England, landed in the harbor at South Haven, and I learned that they paid $22, the ton f.o.b. South Haven. They use it for the finish on their book papers.

Taking this as guide, the poorest of the Missouri clay is worth $12 the ton, getting back to the Clay Works' method of calculation we have 3,000 tons per acre for each foot in depth, $36.00 per foot deep; ninety feet deep $3,240.00 per acre. This is with the proviso that the "pukes" did not lie to me about the depth of the drilling. There is the saying "I am from Missouri, you will have to show me." There they have it, "I am in Missouri, I'll have to be cited."

The joke of it is, the land there may be bought for $10 to $15 per acre. Why has it not been improved? The same reason that in Buchanan it has not.

Anna Morley Story Quickens the Memory of Her Former Pupil

Editor Record

In reading in the paper about Annie Morley carried me back to school days as I was a pupil where she taught her first school at Galien Center.

I was nine or ten and she was fourteen then. In the 70's she taught on the Prairie at the Kansas school not the Women's school and my son was one of her pupils when she taught the Galien school. We thought she was a wonderful teacher as she taught us new plays as well as the three R's. I remember she taught us new plays as well as Rosy. She would go out with us and play at noon and recess. I am 86 and she is near 90. Her name was Annie Kidwell. I have my son, Merritt's card she gave him.

Now I would like to ask John Holmes a question—did he ever hear the story about Collins and Luther where they kept a General Store in Dayton rolling an empty molasses barrel out of the way, and felt something inside. Knocking in the head they found an infant negro baby. That was in 1864. Now was this true or did someone tell it for a joke on the merchants?

Sincerely,
Sylvia N. Scott

Stories of Old-Time Dressmakers

Grover and Nellie Papson. Dell Treat's first work there was to help make a dinner gown for Mrs. Sue Matthews Hall, granddaughter of Andrew C. Day, and that time the wife of a western congressman. Mrs. Hall had stopped here to visit relatives while on her way from Denver, Colo., to attend a Washington, D. C. ball, and gave Mrs. Wilson a commission to make a dinner gown. It was of cream satin, with fine knife pleating which latter part was Dell Treat's work. It had a long train and a polonaise of brocaded grenadine draped over the skirt.

Mrs. Wilson always designed the gowns and did the fitting and Mrs. Michael did the cutting. She was the mother of Miss Maude Michael, who now lives in Niles in the same house with Mr. and Mrs. Carson Geyer.

Another garment which Dell Treat helped to make was the wedding gown worn by Mrs. Lou Van Riper Worthington. A tragic story was connected with another garment which she helped to make. Ella Blakeslee, daughter of the Blakeslees of Galien, had a beautiful dress made in anticipation of her wedding and died an accidental death before she came to wear it.

Miss Helen Weaver was a member of the force at the establishment of Mrs. Stephen Atwood which for many years was maintained at her home in the house immediately south of the present McCollum garage on Days avenue. Mrs. Atwood was famed far and wide for the designing of gowns and had a clientele that included women from Niles to Three Oaks. The beautiful wedding gown of Mrs. Alice Tourje which was shown in the window of the Boardman store during the Centennial was made by Mrs. Atwood.

For a number of years Mrs. Anna Glover Howe conducted a dressmaking establishment over the quarters occupied by the present Buchanan Candy Kitchen. On her staff at one time were Lou Fydel, Clara Roe Richards, Nella Slater, Myrtle Pierce, Maggie Donley and Helen Weaver.

Mrs. Emma Bishop conducted an establishment for some years on the second floor of the Kent store building. Another firm of dressmakers whose names will occur to the older people was that of Carrie and Minnie Shafer.

Dresses and the art of dressmaking were much more complicated then. All seams of dresses were bound with heavy tape. The skirts were lined and around the bottom were wide bands of duck to make them stand out stiffly. In those days the female form divine consisted of a ringletted head surmounting a great cloud of draperies and fluffery. The women had not yet gone West in the way of alluring revelations at least and their forms were swathed from chin to ankles in bales of dry-goods reinforced by stern and forbidding fortifications of whalebone and steel and a young man who took a matrimonial chance was getting pretty much of a pig in a poke.

A girl who entered the dressmaking profession in those days was required to serve an apprenticeship of three months, in some cases six months, without pay. Usually these free months were served in the fall or spring. But the machine or sweatshop-made product of ready-to-wear establishment spelled the end of all that.

SOCIETY

County Federated Clubs

At Berrien Springs Mar. 29

Joe Bachman, of Buchanan, Awarded First Prize in Poster Contest in Berrien County Schools.

The Berrien Co. Federation of Women's Clubs met in Berrien Springs Thursday, March 29. Delegates from the 30 club were Mrs. Glenn Smith, Mrs. A. B. Muir and Mrs. A. G. Haslett. Mrs. G. Stevenson represented the Monday club.

A poster contest was sponsored this past year by the different clubs of the county, and prizes were awarded at this meeting. Over 200 posters were on display. The first prize a cash award of $2.00 was won by Joe Bachman a pupil in the sixth grade, taught by Miss Lily Abele.

Mrs. John Wallace of Benton Harbor was re-elected President. Mrs. Muir of Buchanan was re-elected Director.

Mary Sue Wigley of Chicago was the Guest Speaker of the afternoon. Her subject was "Home Made Character" in which she gave some interesting facts, characteristics and illustrations from her own life in the Alabama mountains near Chattanooga, Tenn.

"Character isn't built from making our choices and decisions from feeling."

Contrary to most writers of fiction there are few family feuds and less "moonshine among her mountain people. There are no social distinctions, people are either "high minded" or "low minded", that is, honest, law-abiding-selfsupporting, or lazy, indifferent—few of the latter class.

It is true they are quick tempered and demand straight forward dealings.

When one comes home from the outside world he is accused of putting on "airs" rather than looked upon as a model.

Their wants are few—very neighborly—demand no luxuries—will go without meat rather than break game laws, though the game warden is miles away.

The bankruptcy law is very unpopular among the mountain people. They will pay contracted debts even though it takes every possession they hold and years of time.

"Worthwhile things are achieved only by labor."

"Warped bodies are better than crooked characters."

"Our greatest assets are Intellect and Character."
