

Taxpayers Will Ballot On $37,700,000 Bond Issue at Special Election Monday

Now Here's the Proposition

Well, the dreams are walking every night these nights, in theatres and auditoriums in every town in Northwestern Michigan, and not a nightmare among them if you ask 'em.

They picked Miss Buchanan on Tuesday night and the judges did some first class peach picking. Of course, there's 423 other gals in town that coulda licked her easily—just ask 'em only they didn't have nerve enough to enter.

The Blossom Queen committee at Benton Harbor had a bright idea—they named a stratosphere balloonist as judge. Our idea of a good judge in a beauty contest is a stratosphere balloonist. First pick a good queen and then pick a good balloon.

The general policy in picking judges seems to be to pick two experts and one dumbbell. They want the dumbbell on so they will have a fair representation of the average opinion on queens. Only to make it really representative they need more dumbbells.

At that it must be hard to pick a queen. The average man probably passes on a number of queens during his life but never at such long range. The gal that you would pick at a distance of three feet or less might look entirely different a quarter of a mile away on a platform. It makes a lot of difference. It takes a cool head and a seasoned judgment at that to pick a queen. The average guy, when he looks at a pretty girl, first loses his head. Then he loses his hide.

A Seasonable Chantney
The winter is over and gone is the cold;
The mushroom is back by the weald and the wold;
The rug's on the line and the dog-wood's in bloom
Again the gas burners their amblyngs resume
Of strawberry season now fondly I dream
Of fields of berries and cows full of cream;
I dream of strawberries so luscious and sweet
All gathered by bums who have soles on their seats,
And I tune up my lyre and most gayly I sing
While the onions are green and the chickens are spring.

Uncle Hank sez:
Mr. and Mrs. Clem Shaver are celebratin' their golden weddin' next Sattidy, havin' lived together fifty years since last June 15.

The judges got a lot of instructions but here's some good advice they don't get: be sure to have a car parked in front with the motor running.

Last Thursday night the Earl Hotel was the scene of a gathering that would be hard to duplicate for all around good fellowship. Over thirty-five of the citizens of Buchanan who are enthusiastic admirers of the great American game of baseball and of the work done by our own Blues gathered in the parlor of the hotel at about 8:30 p. m., together with the members of the Buchanan Blues.

After some good music had been rendered by an orchestra and about an hour spent in songs and story telling, mine host A. C. Stephens of the Earl announced that everything was in readiness and extended to the assembled guests an invitation to repair to the dining room. The repast was an admirable one and was an added testimonial to the ability of Landlord Stephens as a caterer.

SECOND OLDEST RESIDENT OF BUCHANAN DIES

Mrs. Flavilla Spaulding Passed Away Monday Evening; Taught School Before Civil War.

Mrs. Flavilla Quint Spaulding, 91, reputed to be the second oldest resident of the city, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dell Kempton, 410 Main St., Monday evening, the immediate cause of death being injuries received in a fall at her home several weeks ago.

Mrs. Spaulding retained admirably her faculties and intellect and to the last could relate most interestingly the early incidents of her long life, in many ways, remarkable life.

Born in Somerset county, Maine, Jan. 10, 1843, she came to Buchanan with her parents at the age of 11 years. Her father, Moses C. Quint, was an early settler in the Mt. Tabor district. She remembered distinctly passing through the little settlement of Buchanan and the establishment of the log home in the then wilderness.

At the age of fifteen she secured a certificate to teach and in 1858 she taught in the Hills school north of Hills Corners. Later she taught at the Colvin school.

She was married Oct. 16, 1856, to Ezekiel Spaulding, the ceremony being performed at a home on S. Portage street, Buchanan. Her husband died in 1912. She is survived by the following children: Clarence Spaulding, Buchanan; Verner Spaulding, Ferndale, Mich.; Belva Spaulding Austin LaPorte, Dell Kempton, Buchanan. She was the last of a family of eight brothers and sisters. She joined the Church of Christ in girlhood.

The funeral services will be held from the home at 410 Main street at 2 p. m. today (Thursday). Rev. Thomas Rice preaching and interment will be made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

SUPT. MITCHELL OUTLINES B. PLAN TO LIONS

Twin City Educator Describes Combination of High School, and Technical Correspondence Courses.

The Benton Harbor plan of combining correspondence school instruction with the regular high school course was described by its originator, Stanley Mitchell, superintendent of schools of Benton Harbor, at the meeting of the Lions club held at the Fort Food Shop last Wednesday evening.

Mitchell stated that 132 boys and girls of the Benton Harbor high school are now pursuing 22 courses with the correspondence schools, under the supervision of their high school teachers. The pupils pay tuition charges but the school buys the courses in blocks at a reduction of almost two-thirds of the list price.

Supt. Mitchell stated that the plan had been in action over ten years, and that it had some marked successes to its credit. The idea was the outgrowth of a questionnaire which Mitchell sent to a number of the graduates of a small high school in northern Michigan which he had previously taught. Without exception the graduates stated that their high school course had been without practical value to them in getting or keeping a job. Mitchell stated that he then made up his mind that there was something wrong and that the average youth should be given something in high school that would enable him to make a living, since only a small percent of the students go to college.

He accordingly selected two boys of Benton Harbor who had been problems of a sort, in that they and the school courses apparently did not fit. He began it as an experiment. One of the ten boys who had been considered hopeless by the teachers began a course in electricity. He made a remarkable record in the course, and later won high honors at Armours Institute of Technology. He is now a consulting engineer for several large road corporations, income of from $15,000 to $18,000 per year.

Much care had to be taken in the selection of correspondence schools, Mitchell said, since there are many fake correspondence schools. In an investigation of correspondence schools undertaken a few years ago it was found that five major order educational institutions in Chicago centered in one desk, which was their only equipment. But there are at present four times as many correspondence school pupils enrolled as there are students in all the colleges, universities and professional schools combined.

Another feature of the banquet was the reading by President Hatch of some lines composed in honor of the 'Blues' by a lady friend, who also sent to the club a handsome boutonniere of the club colors, blue and white.

After the reading of the lines, and an expression of thanks by the (Continued on page 2)

JAKE BAKER, HARNESS MAKER FROM CALYFONY MADE CLOTHES FOR HORSES AND SANG GERMAN SONGS HERE IN 90'S

His Walrus Mustache and His Tall Silk Hat Graced Many a Social Scene of Long Ago and How Jake
Could Swing 'Em.

Back in the late eighties and during the nineties in a little shop on Main street, there hammered and stitched and sang "Jake Baker, de harnessmaker, from Calyfony," last of the tribe of harnessmakers to follow his trade here.

Jake was a German, who had served in the German conscript army, but he came to Buchanan via California and he seemed much more proud of his residence on the Pacific Coast than of his native home in the Old Country. He was a good harness maker, and for long years many Buchanan farmers went to town drawn by old Jake's harnesses.

He lived in the shop where he worked, with his two apprentices. There was a curtained alcove for his bed and limited living quarters. There he kept spotlessly immaculate his tall silk stove pipe hat and his Sunday clothes and cane for Jake was a sight for sore eyes on fete days and holidays. In the shop proper there were the rolls of oak-tanned cowhide from which he fashioned his harness, the tassels, plumes and white and colored harness rings for the farmers who had "flossy" tastes. In front there were the circular standards that held the buggy whips. On a bench sat Jake day after day and ever and anon dipped his leather in a vat or his walrus mustache in a can of beer, and sang in a bibulous basso the old sentimental ballads of his native Rhineland, "Die Lorelei" or "Du Bist Wie Eine Blume."

During the nineties he always had two assistant harness makers, Alvin Rokely, Harry Hanover (now of Jackson) and Harry Schreiver working for him during those years. It took about three days to make a set of harness, which sold for about $28. The harnesses were well made and would outlast a machine-made harness. He bought his leather in a large roll from the firm of Kappen & Borch, leather dealers of Grand Rapids. It came in the form of eight "sides" the hides from four head of cattle.

BUCHANAN CO-OP NINE REPLACES P. P. GREYHOUNDS

St. Joe Valley Shipping Assoc.
9 to Cross Bats with S. B.
Chevies in Opening Game Sunday.

Well, friends and brother ball fans, the Portage Prairie Greyhounds are dead, long live the Buchanan Co-ops!

Just what happened to the prairie pooches who have been running wild out on the old Indian reservation south of town since the days of Chief Moccasin, who was their first manager, is a mystery second only to why Dillinger got away from Crown Point.

But the facts are that they simply ain't, and instead there will enter the field a bunch of farmers sponsored by the St. Joe Valley, who are going to run the bases in co-op tractors and use pitchforks for bats. It is rumored (take it or leave it) that the farm boys found Alf George's brand of fertilizer was more potent than Ike Wells'. Or maybe they are mixing the two.

Be that as it may, the Buchanan co-ops will take the field at the Letcher diamond next Sunday, April 29, at 2 p. m. slow time, against the Chevrolet of South Bend. Last year the Greyhounds massacred the Chevrolet's in two games, but this year the General motors gang are reported to be much stronger. With them will be Glenn Feathers, who at one time pitched great ball for the Greyhounds.

Any team manager who wants a game with the newly organized Co-ops should communicate at once with Leslie Seabast, R. R. New Carlisle, Ind.

L. D. S. Apostle Holds Meeting Here

Apostle D. T. Williams, Independence, Mo., spoke Tuesday evening at the L. D. S. church on the topic, "Work for the Night is Coming."

Sunday Night We Shove Ahead One Hour In Eternity

The official clock setters of Buchanan will have an extra duty added to their responsibilities next Sunday night, when they will be obliged to climb on the official chairs and turn the hour hands ahead one hour (sixty minutes, 3,600 seconds.) This will be done if done officially, at midnight Sunday, April 29, just before it is Monday, Chicago, South Bend and Niles will change at 2 a. m. Sunday, 22 hours before. Chief of Police Mitchell states that he will, in all probability, turn the town clock ahead at midnight Saturday. However, the town clock has been stopped for so long that everyone has quit looking at it.

Scouts Spend Week-End at Camp

Fifteen members of Scout Troop 41 hiked to Camp Madron Saturday afternoon, for a week-end of camping and fun. The trip was in charge of Scoutmaster Leo Slate, and Senior Patrol Leader Albert Webb.

The evening was spent in playing games outside, and singing songs around the fireplace. Howard McClellan was the winner of a prize awarded for one of the games.

Sunday morning was spent in just loafing, and everyone doing what he liked to do best.

SELECTION WAS RUNNER-UP IN EVENT LAST YEAR

Field of Six Sparkling Beauties Give Judges Plenty of Trouble in Decision.

Miss Edna Nelson, attractive and unassuming brown-haired beauty, will have the honor of representing Buchanan in the final contest May 2, as the result of the local elimination contest held at the Hollywood theatre Tuesday evening.

Miss Nelson was selected from a field of six sparkling beauties whose charms made the task difficult for the judges. She was the runner-up in last year's contest and has improved greatly in stage presence since that time. She is the daughter of Mrs. Beulah Nelson, 209 W. Fourth street, and has been a leader in the young people's activities of the Evangelical church, having been president of the Epworth League of the church last year. She wore a white chiffon dress, floor length, with a beaded bodice.

The judges experienced much difficulty in the elimination and were deadlocked several times. The runner up was Miss Josephine Dunlap, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Dunlap, 117 N. Oak St.

Other entrants were Charlotte Arnold, Ada Walter, Bella Gowland and Teresa White.

Miss Marie Post, the Miss Buchanan of last year, introduced Miss Nelson in a pretty succession ceremony. Robert Strayer acted as Master of Ceremonies. The pages were Dale Lyon, Louis Pascoe, John Fuiks and Bill Strayer.

Judges were Mrs. James Boothby, noted dance instructor and former lyceum performer of Benton Harbor; Harry Ross, vice president of the Ross Carrier Co., Benton Harbor; George Scheurer, state editor of the News Times of South Bend.

Several good song numbers were played by the Harmony Hounds, including Ray and Norman Barbour and Robert Bowers.

Miss Vivianne Wissler presented a fine vocal selection. The Misses Shirley Rolan and Una Kelley presented a dance novelty, "The Old Gray Mare." Some very fine dance numbers by the pupils of the Bryant dancing school of Benton Harbor were presented.

At the conclusion of the program a check for $60 was presented to Miss Nelson.

Following the selection a most delightful reception was given at the home of Mrs. J. F. Vile, by the committee, comprising Mrs. H. M. Graham, Mrs. Jesse Vile, Mrs. J. C. Strayer, Mrs. John Russell, Mrs. Arthur Knoblauch, Mrs. J. C. Fuiks and Miss Marie Post.

HENRY WORTHINGTON, PIONEER METH. CIRCUIT RIDER, PREACHED HERE IN 1842; IN OLD CHURCH ON HILL IN 70IES

Father of Atty. Worthington Preached in Bakertown Log Cabin Near Currier Homestead in 1842.

One day in 1842 there rode into the little settlement of McCoy's creek, afterward Buchanan, a fair-haired youth, 27 years in age but looking twenty, to hold religious services in one of the pioneer homes.

He was Rev. Henry Worthington, many years afterward a regular pastor here, and the father of Atty. A. A. Worthington. He was one of that advance guard of enlightenment, the pioneer circuit rider, and he had been assigned to a circuit which included McCoy's Creek. He made his rounds on horseback, with his library in his saddlebags and most of his studying was done in the saddle.

He was born in Springfield, Mass., in 1815 and came to Michigan as a youth. He was ordained as a minister in the Kalamazoo conference at the age of twenty-two, and started on a four weeks circuit through the primeval forests in 1837. He made his rounds on horseback, preaching mostly in log cabins to small groups. It may be said that he saw the making of the commonwealth of Michigan. He was of a sunny and cheerful disposition and became much beloved in the primitive community which he served. One of his congregation left this testimonial. Mr. Worthington came to us at the age of 23, but with his light hair and complexion looked but 17. He listened to his youthful preaching and my admiration rose to adoration. At times he seemed more than human."

Another wrote: "One trait that impressed me more than all others was the cheerfulness and sunshine that was always on his face. He had a smile for everyone and it was his light-heartedness that made him always appear young; he could not grow old. I spoke to him about his cheerfulness and he replied: 'If anybody has a right to be cheerful it is a Methodist minister.'"

While he was first in the Buchanan vicinity in the early forties he also preached in a cabin at Bakertown, just west of the old Currier homestead, home of the late John Currier and now of George Currier. In the room where he spoke there was a loom. Many years afterwards he returned to Buchanan, in 1876, to preach in the "old church on the hill." The parsonage was south of the church, the property now being owned by Cress Watson. Here most of the social events of the church then took place, as church basements were then unknown. At one social event Sojourner Truth, a noted colored woman then in the neighborhood of 100 years old, was entertained. He then had a national and even international reputation.

Many people yet living in Buchanan remember him during his pastorate here. An incident which he was especially fond of while preaching at Hillsdale he formed the acquaintance of the Michigan poet laureate, Will Carleton, and in fact, gave him his first letter of recommendation to introduce him for his first reading assignment at a country school house. There he laid, then in his teens, read poems in return for a collection of $1.39 and his life.

Rev. Worthington served the following churches: Kalamazoo, Paw, Paw, St. Joseph, Hastings, Edwardsburg, Centerville, Hudson, Hillsdale, St. Clair, Mt. Clemens, Utica, Ionia, Decatur, Benton Harbor, Traverse City, Buchanan, and Dowagiac. He was at one time state lecturer for the I.O.O.F. and was considered one of the leading pulpit orators of Michigan in those days. He was also much in demand as a speaker for lay occasions.

Taxpayers Will Ballot on Bond Issue Monday

 which the state will not be required to pay. The faith and credit of the state will be pledged for the payment of the remainder.

The bonds are to be paid for by the proceeds of the state corporation privilege tax from the state highway fund, or from any other source of revenue which the state may hereafter designate. The bonds are to be amortized in a period of not over fifteen years from the date of issuance.

The construction will be let by contract to private individuals, but the state will maintain strict oversight over the work, and will enforce a high percentage of hand work to provide for the utmost amount of employment possible. It has been stated that 70 per cent of funds would go to the employment of labor, and that it is anticipated that from thirty to forty thousand men would be employed.

Jake Baker of Calaforny Made Clothes for Horses

harness repair shop on Oak street in 1904.

Jake lived alone in his harness shop, his sole home companions being a cat which he called "George" and a dog named "Fly." In his life outside the shop he was of jovial and convivial habit, although strictly of the unregenerate. The only Sunday rites he frequented were the "sour mash services" which were regularly held with a dozen or so boon companions. There with his spirits lifted and his tongue oiled with wine Jake would entertain the assembled congregation with songs rendered in striking pose, with both hands over his heart while the heavy basso rumbled out his keg-like torso. Or he would announce: "I bet I could dance mit a galitz peer on mine heet and neffer spill a drop." And forthwith the beer would be forthcoming and Jake, the Harnessmaker from Calafornia would waltz about, the enterprise varying in success in accordance with the number of beers which Jake had taken internally before the trial.

He also appeared in gentler society for he dearly loved to dance and when he appeared at public balls immaculately dressed, silk hat and cane and everything, there were many belles of a generation ago who were not averse to gliding to the strains of the "Blue Danube" waltzes, while Jake Baker swung them deftly about. Perhaps many of them yet sigh softly as they remember. Quicken safe?

Ah Jake! Jake! Many a harness he made but little did he wear them!

Installation of equipment for the assembly of Chevrolet automobiles in the General Motors building at the 1934 "Century of Progress International Exposition," Chicago, has already been started by the Chevrolet Motor Company, M. E. Coyle, president and general manager, announced today.

Complete installation will be effected well in advance of the scheduled re-opening of the 1934 World's Fair on May 26, Mr. Coyle said, assuring early visitors that they will be able to see an automobile built up from the bare frame to the completed car, from the opening till the closing day of the exposition.

Machinery is identical with that used in Chevrolet's nine other assembly plants, with the exception of overhead conveyors. The latter have been replaced by floor type conveyors to bring parts to the proper stations along the line. This slight change in factory procedure provides visibility for the thousands who will watch the assembly each day. Machines will again be finished in silver with black trim, and will be manned by approximately 200 workers in white uniforms.

A balcony seven feet above the assembly line and erected in circular form so that the maximum number of visitors may walk completely around the line and watch every operation in the building of a typically modern automobile, has been provided, Mr. Coyle said.

Production of 25 to 30 cars a day is planned. Two body types, coaches and sedans, will be built on the Master Chevrolet chassis. Regular inspection posts will check every operation along the line, and the cars will be driven out under their own power, tested and put through final inspection right on the spot.

Additional interest will be furnished this year in the Chevrolet assembly plant by the installation of a "house action" assembly, an outstanding feature of the 1934 Chevrolet. Visitors will see just how this remarkable development, which contributes so materially to riding comfort, is constructed.

Chevrolet is again the only company which will operate an automobile assembly line at the Fair, Mr. Coyle stated.

Runaway Chicago Girls are Caught In Buchanan Hotel

Two Chicago high school girls who were just "tired of things at home," enjoyed a two-day vacation under assumed names at the Hotel Rex the first of the week, until they were picked up by Deputy Sheriff Clarence Dunbar.

The girls registered Monday night under the names Wahneto Doyle and Sally Brian, giving Milwaukee as their address.

They were first suspected by Mrs. McFarlin, who read a story in the Chicago Herald-Examiner stating that police were looking for Helen Hoffman, 15, 6433 St. Anthony Court, and Charlotte Couch, 16, 6447 N. Seeley Ave., Chicago, who left high school on Monday and had not been seen since.

After considerable questioning by Dunbar the girls at last admitted their identity and were taken to St. Joseph.

Hollywood Theatre To Install Cooling, Air Conditioning

A complete summer cooling and year around air-conditioning plant is being installed in the Hollywood theatre, which the management states will be ready for operation before May 1st.

The equipment includes a special, large size multi-blade blower fan, equipped with air washing and capable of perfect air-conditioning for a theatre of 800 seats, although the Hollywood has only a little over 400, giving it more than ample ventilation.

The equipment is powered by a 7 1/2 horse-power motor and hydraulic control for speeds ranging from 10 to 100 revolutions per minute. Two ducts will be installed, one to take care of change of air for the main floor and a smaller one for the balcony. A complete change of air will be made every two to four minutes, with the air pre-heated in the winter for greater heating comfort.

The same amount of air will reach individual seats in auditorium, coming away entirely with drafts, foul odors, excessively heated air, etc. The equipment, complete and installed, is costing over one thousand dollars, and the engineer making the installation states that it will be one of the most modern and complete theatre ventilating plants in this part of the state.

Buchanan, Michigan, under the act of March 3, 1879

A SUGGESTION FOR OUR SECOND CENTENNIAL

There was quite a to-do along last summer when it was learned that the old Bunker log cabin across the river had been torn down, lamenting that the old structure had not been moved into town and erected on a vacant lot as a feature of the Centennial.

Well, when we pull our second Centennial this summer (Chicago will, why can't we?) there's another old structure quite as historic and still intact—the old Colvin school house erected early in the forties and still standing although in a tumble down condition on the Kelsey farm. This is the second log building erected by the district, but presumably the same logs were used. The first school was erected in 1838 and was the first in Buchanan township, which, by the way, was organized that year with the name it has now.

We note in the Otsego Union a story of a log cabin erected in the little town of Burton, O., as a headquarters information. This cabin pays its way through the sale of maple sugar, photographs, post cards, antiques and curios. It is said to be a great drawing card.

The Otsego Union suggests the erection of a replica of a pioneer block house as a tourist headquarters there. Holland is erecting a Dutch windmill as a tourist headquarters in that city.

WHY THE CHANGE?

It is a little hard to go along with the boys who are boosting for substituting hardball for softball for the city twilight league play this summer, as it means the elimination of exercise for the Tired Business man, whose eyesight is no longer quite good enough to see the "pill."

A main idea of the twilight league, we supposed, was the opportunity it afforded for the T. B. M. to get out in the cool of the evening and forget his business and other cares limbering up. He could handle the type of ball which is a cross between a baseball and a medicine ball but the fleet horsehide is another thing. The idea of the soft ball is the amateur game which the expert can play. Hardball, on the other hand, is the expert's game and about all the T. B. M. can do about it is plunk his pants on the bleachers and get his exercise vicariously. And we can't say we favor it. As we said before, it's a violation of the first principle of the twilight league idea.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR MILITARY TRAINING

We don't pretend to know all about the ultimate wisdom of the CWA or any of the other alphabetical projects of the New Deal, but one thing we are ready to report on and that is the effect on the general physique and condition of six months of CCC service, as exemplified in the Buchanan youth who have returned.

Almost without exception they are amazingly healthy with a robust appearance and an added poundage that speaks well for the camp regime. What was there about the life that resulted in such marked physical improvements? Possibly improved fare, but more likely the regular life imposed by the semi-military routine.

The CCC experiment calls to mind that proposal of William James of a "moral substitute for war." James pointed to the well known benefits in habit, training and physique which are to be obtained from military training and raised the question as to what substitute might secure similar results for youth. He suggested a two year compulsory service in industrial camps in which the son of the millionaire and the son of the ditch digger would serve on equal footing. All young men, rich or poor, would be required to spend two years in rough constructive labor in building roads, erecting industrial plants, improving forests and the like. While in this work the young men would have the benefit of regular life under strict discipline, with the formation of regular habits of health. It seems the CCC was pretty much along the lines that James projected a generation ago. And as far as its effect on the young men, it seems to have worked.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 46): "In his final demonstration, called the ascension, which closed the earthly record of Jesus, he rose above the physical knowledge of his disciples, and the material senses saw him no more."

Seventh Day Adventist Sabbath School (Saturday) at 10 a. m. Lesson study: Apostory Foretold: "He Thout An Example."
Lesson Scripture: 1 Timothy 4.

Note: "Just what took place in Pharaoh's heart, will take place in every soul that neglects to cherish the light, and walk promptly in its rays. God destroys no one. The sinner destroys himself by his own impenitence. When a person once neglects to heed the invitation, reproofs, and warnings of the Spirit of God, his conscience becomes seared, and the next time he is admonished, it will be more difficult to yield obedience than before. And thus with every repetition. Conscience is the voice of God heard amid the conflict of human passions, when it is resisted, the Spirit of God is grieved."
The admonitions to Timothy are appropriate to us all. Attention to teaching, to doctrine, to meditation, is as necessary in the spiritual life of the believers in the pew as to the preacher in the pulpit.

Preaching service at 11:15.

Scrip for the Journey

"The Door of My Lips"
By Harry W. Staver
"Guard Thou the door of my lips." That ancient prayer would not be amiss in many a modern petition.

Back of that "door" is a little member called the tongue. In the head of some people it becomes what James calls it: "a world of iniquity, full of deadly poison, set on fire of hell." Many a reputation has been riddled and many a name smeared with mud because of somebody's evil tongue. How much damage can be done is illustrated in the following excerpt.

In Sheridan's "The School for Scandal," two not so lovely characters are in conversation. One, named Lady Sneer, is speaking to her companion, whose name is snake, about a third party labelled as Mrs. Clackitt. Lady Sneer says: "Mrs. Clackitt has a very pretty talent and a great deal of industry." To that Snake replies: "True, Madam, and she has been tolerably successful in her day. To my knowledge, she has been the cause of six matches being broken off and three sons being disinherited, of four forced elopements, nine separate main-tenances, and two divorces. Nay, I have more than once traced her causing a tete-a-tete in the Town and Country Magazine, when the parties, perhaps, had never seen each other's faces before in the course of their lives."

We lock murderers of the body in prisons for life, and in some instances hang them by the neck until they are dead. But the murderer of a good name whose tongue is a slaying dagger, we leave free to his or her bloody business. We punish a thief who carries off a few baubles, though he "who steals my purse steals trash." But the thief who filches a reputation with a filthy tongue roams unmolested even in the best society.

Life is difficult enough even at the best. There is always too much pain. Why should anyone want to make it harder? Scandal is cruel and contemptible, despicable and devastating. It leaves only wreckage in its wake—trouble and tears. Let every man, every woman, inclined to bear ugly tales, go down on his knee and pray: "O God guard Thou my lips!"

Holmes Adds Information on Bicycle Artists

Editor Record,
In your story of the bicycle riders you omitted the real artist in the sport when you did not mention John Bishop, for both speed and distance. When I saw him he had been to the postoffice for mail and as he rode back to the office, with no handle bars on his machine, was busy opening and reading his letters, paying no attention to the guiding.

One more story about valuable earth. I was into a pit where they were excavating a grey-brown material, about the consistency of clay, easily dug with pick, and the bulk of the dirt was sold for one hundred and twenty dollars a ton. Running diagonally through the main body of the pit was a vein about two feet in thickness, which brought them twenty two thousand dollars a ton. This vein was a sort of shale. One of the workmen gave me a chunk of that about the size of a duck's egg, and I brought it home and had it lay-

Don't Fear Motherhood

Mrs. Sally Larson of 44 Franklin St., Grand Rapids, Mich., said: "During expectancy my system became very weak. I had pains in my back and side, had no appetite, my nerves were unstrung and I was sleepless. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription strengthened my whole system so I had the strength and health a prospective mother should have."

PLENTY OF ROOM FOR SIX IN THE NEW FORD V-8

THE Ford V-8 gives you more room inside than any other automobile of equal wheelbase—even more than some cars of longer wheelbase.

This is because the compact V-8 engine takes up less space than a six, and is approximately only half as long as a straight eight. Get out your tape measure and check up on interior room before you buy any car. Prove to yourself that the Ford V-8 is the roomiest low priced car.

There are many other reasons for added comfort in this smart, modern car—the exclusive Ford transverse springs which give an easy ride on all four wheels, the thermostatically controlled double acting shock absorbers—the softer seat springs and deeper, more luxurious seat cushions.

Look at these actual photographs. Roominess and comfort are apparent at a glance. Then sit in the car yourself. Drive it. Know what real comfort and Ford V-8 performance, mean.

The new Ford V-8 Fordor Sedan measures 50 1/2 inches across the top of the back seat. Here are three full sized adults, uncrowded, comfortable, relaxed for a V-8 ride.

The front seats of the new Ford V-8 are instantly adjustable, with a 4" range.

JOURNALISM CLASS VISITS S. B. PLANTS

Journalism Class Guests of South Bend Newspapers Last Tuesday; Have Pictures Taken.

The Buchanan Journalism class, comprising 18 members and the instructor, Miss Helen Hanlin, visited South Bend newspaper plants Tuesday afternoon, April 17, in order to gain a more varied knowledge of the field of journalism.

Foremost in the minds of all who spent the afternoon journeying about through the pair of buildings, remains the vision of the huge clattering presses, one capable of running off between 70 and 80 thousand copies of the daily news.

Everything on the press is automatic, automatic ink feed, automatic paper feeder, automatic counting of papers in groups of fifty, and the most important of all, automatic printing.

The next most amazing objects are the teletype machines. These machines, of recent perfection, are examples of the rapid stride in civilization made in the last few years, resulting in added economy.

The teletype machines automatically receive over the wire from the main office of the press association, the news and print it in capital letters on a long roll of paper. This machine does away with a telegraph operator which was formerly employed to take the message coming over the line.

Many students enjoyed the trip to the roof of the Tribune building and also the explanation of the radio operation.

Other places of interest visited by the class, each having its own particular bit of fascination, were the composing room, the morgue, the type casting room, the engraving room, and newsroom.

Journalism Class Goes Places

"Boy, howdy! I didn't know I was so good looking." "Who is that?" "Oh, it's only Bob Willard." "Well for heavens sake look at Tucky." Such were the exclamations and remarks of the journalism class when they beheld their shining faces in the South Bend News Times last Tuesday. The class spent Tuesday afternoon as guests of the South Bend Tribune and the South Bend News Times.

Senior Annual Causes Rush

With shouts of glee the doors of the school opened and up the stairway rushed a host of students. They wanted to get their annual. The line went way down the hall and if you were one of the lucky ones, that noon, to get an annual, you were among the first in line. Those who did not get one came around after school was out and bought theirs.

H. S. Track Men Dislike Practice in Cold Weather

The high school track men disapprove greatly of the cold weather as they need to practice regularly "rain or shine."

It is not known as yet if there will be an inter-class track meet this spring because the new track is not yet completed.

Several of the old veterans are out this year, August Topash, Carl Brewer, Lewis Letter, Lowell Batchelor, John Godfrey, Claude Denno, Dan Topash and Bill Frame.

Spring in the air! Spring in the air! echoed the halls of old B. H. S. this last week. Although some of the students become dreamy-eyed and uneasy, most of them seemed to brighten up and blend in with the newly decorated home of books and study.

Girls, striving for their G. A. A. awards, were seen wandering off in the wide open spaces for their necessary hiking points.

It seems strange to the fairer sex for there were no so called groans, sighs, and limping after the first night of the boys' track practice, but after the trivial girls' practice of base ball such things were heard. It must be Curly has same real men on his track team, this year.

Supt. Stark to Attend Schoolmaster's Club Sat., Apr. 28

H. C. Stark, superintendent of schools will attend the meeting of the Schoolmaster's club of Michigan to be held Saturday, April 28, at Ann Arbor. The meeting will be held at the University of Michigan.

Well, Make Up Your Mind

Heart failure almost took our beloved Geneva from us Tuesday in the News-Times building when she swooped down upon a piece of metal, which was linted, and exclaimed, "Oh, see what I found, a souvenir, girls."

She picked her way through the machines, all the while looking at her treasure.

"Oh! Look at my hands!" Sure enough her hands and red finger nails were a pale lavender.

"Oh, I just know this metal has poisoned my hands."

Quickly she turned around and literally threw the piece of metal at "Crit."

"Here you can have this," she exclaimed.

"Crit" looked at it and said, "Well, ah—," and tried to read the letters on it.

"Why, Geneva," one of the girls laughed, "that wasn't the metal, it was the purple light you were under."

Geneva slowly glanced at her hands. They were their natural color.

With a sheepish, astounded grin, she turned to Wilson. "Gimme that," she cried, and left Wilson in a state of bewilderment.

Who's Who

One of the well known brunettes of the junior class is Virginia Briney.

Virginia was born on the sixth of March, eighteen years ago at Hathaway, Mich.

When six years of age, she started to the Eaton District school, which is near Gallen.

Since that time she has gone to the Wagner District school, Dowagiac, and Baroda, before entering the Buchanan school in the 6th grade.

Virginia is a very happy and friendly girl and is well liked by all who know her.

Robert Uptam was born at Berrien Springs, Dec. 30, 1916. However, he began his education in Buchanan, as his parents moved to this city before he was of school age.

Later his parents begin living in the country so Robert went to the Kansas District school until he enrolled at Buchanan high school as a freshman. This year he is a member of the senior class.

Commercial arithmetic has been his favorite subject.

A well known member of the senior class is Clarence Rice. He was born at Detroit, Mich., in July, 1917. Since then, he has lived in several different cities including: Albion, Pokagon, Three Oaks and Decatur.

After coming to Buchanan at the age of 12, Clarence has become very well liked by all who know him. Since entering high school he has belonged to the Latin club, Velmorian Literary Society and interclass basketball teams. He has also been a member of the Boy Scouts.

Clarence plans to become an electrical engineer after graduation.

Geraldine McGowan was born at Battle Creek, May 12, 1918. When only a year old she moved to the city of Buchanan with her parents and has lived here since.

At the age of seven Geraldine started to school. This year she is one of the well known and popular members of the freshmen class.

During the first period in the morning she acts as school librarian.

English is her favorite subject.

Seniors will Present Drama on Friday, May 4th

The senior play will be given this year on Friday, May 4. The play is a comedy, "Regatta," by Ruth McKenna.

The action of the play is centered around the Regatta to take place at the home of Stephen Worthington on Long Island.

The heavy parts of the play are carried by Jean Russell and James Everingham. Other members being Audrey McClen, Marjorie Hamilton, Ethel Sibley, Jane Briney, Mary Donley, Chandos Jackson, John Godfrey, Lee Frame, George Spatta and Richard Boone.

Journalists "Reporting Dramas and Photographs" has been the chapter which has been exceedingly interesting to the journalism class.

Found—New Star for 1936 Olympics!

In the person of Audrey McClen a new one hundred yard dash runner has been discovered. She exhibits a new way to fling the arms, which enables the feet to move faster.

Wednesday noon after sitting under the shade of the trees by the soccer field, Audrey began walking towards the road. A small white dog began running to her, but she didn't seem to mind. At length the dog started barking, and at the same time Audrey threw up her arms and began yelling. Then started the famous run. Her terrifying screams drowned the dogs bark. Pricking up its ears in dismay, the dog ran the other way.

Editorial

The day of April 14, 1865, dawned clear and bright. That day was one to be remembered in the history of this Union. President Lincoln, nothing relaxation after the tremendous ordeal of the Civil war sought refuge in the Ford theatre, in the midst of an enjoyable evening, a man full of jealous hatred for the president fired the fatal shot.

President Lincoln was not the only great personage to meet his death at the hands of an assassin. President McKinley, President Garfield and Mayor Cermack of Chicago and many others, both foreign and native, have fallen victims of jealous men. The number of victims of lesser crimes could hardly be estimated.

A certain class of people, persons without enough ambition to try to succeed but who sit idly by thinking the world owes them a living, are always jealous of a person who through untiring labor, has provided himself a successful position out of the day of life. Consequently, they set about to even the conditions and at the same time get in revenge for the pinch-poor conditions they formerly underwent.

Yet what can be done to combat this treacherous scourge which strikes at the ambitious men of the nation? Very little. Laws are made to protect the just, but these do little good. Such men do not stop with the law. Even when one is captured, another, almost inevitably, fills in line. If, then, a hopeless condition that confronts us, or will someone in this discover a method successful enough to wipe this dreadful pestilence from the face of the earth?

REPORT CARDS!

"Oh, oh, what's this?" "Yeah, but rest your eyes on this!"

"Hey—what ja get in gym?" Sighs, sob, sob, sob and satisfaction reigned all in a bundle as the report cards were distributed Wednesday noon.

Eager eyes scanned the contents of the cards; some faces were wreathed with smiles, while others were actually grim. In other words the expressions portrayed either a depression in marks or an "N. R. A."

What Would We Do Without

The little friendly bees that occasionally flit in and out the windows of Mr. Moore's study hour?

The peace when the journalism class make their annual trip to South Bend?

Our report cards every six weeks?

The citizenship class that so willingly rakes the school yards?

A few people that don't get spring fever? Like "Batchie," "Spatty" and "Remy?"

Mrs. Weaver's bright and cheery smile for the sixth hour law class?

Bob Strayer's ambition?

"Johnnie" Hattenbach's ability to find fault?

The popularity of "Bill" Frame? Bob Willard's giggle?

The blushing of Helen Spatta?

Just a Matter of Habit

"Here—catch!" said Danny Topash with a mischievous grin as he threw a pack of exercise books to his sister "Pat", who was sitting nearby.

But Pauline thought her big brother was only joking, and with a resounding crash, the pile of books clattered to the floor. As the students turned to find the cause of all the excitement, Danny nonchalantly stooped, picked the books up, and placed them in the shelves. "Pat" is now a firm believer that football and English don't mix!

Girls Physical Ed. Since spring has finally arrived the base ball enthusiasts have begun their early practice.

Practices are called after school, and class periods are spent in learning the necessary rules.

The First Aid classes are being instructed as to the care of compound fractures.

Have You Noticed—

The wave in Donald Roti Roti's hair?
The flashy white shoes around school?
Ruth Strunk's new car?
Harold Jackson's disgust with women in general?
The girl's oh's and ah's at Johnnie and Max's new sweaters?
Opal Rough's dreamy look during the 35 minute study period?

Burns and More Burns

Miss Rockenbach was slowly turning the pages of her First Aid book trying to locate the last lesson that the 2nd hour class had studied. Finally she said, "Well, let's see—this class has covered cuts and snake bites. Have you studied burns yet?"

There was a slight pause as she glanced at the class. Then a small wistful voice belonging to Lillian Peacock cracked the silence with, "Yeah, we studied Burns in English!"

THERE WAS A CATCH IN IT

"We will continue business letters by taking up the letter of application and..."

Mrs. Dunbar was rudely interrupted Thursday during the fourth hour by the loud sound of music and a man's voice.

In a flash the windows were filled with questioning faces.

"What is it?"

"Well, this is mystic. We can hear it but we can't see it."

"Oh! Look there it is. It's that car coming down Detroit Street."

"Um huh and look at those amplifiers!"

The strains of the Notre Dame victory song floated up to the entranced spectators.

Just as everyone began humming the tune, the music stopped.

"There is going to be a fresh showing of the Chrysler car on Sycamore street, Niles, and we hope all the boys and girls will come," announced a man's voice.

"Oh, we might have known there was a catch to it," sighed disillusioned "Pat" Topash.

"Regatta" to be Given May 4th

Tickets for the senior play, "Regatta," which is to be staged May 4, are now on sale for 25c.

This play, under the direction of Mrs. Dunbar, is expected to be one of the best ever given.

Buy your tickets now! Any member of the senior class will gladly serve you.

SCHOOL NURSE

Two hundred and forty-two students were given the Shick test last Friday. These had previously taken toxoid. Of this number 235 are immune. Nine showed a reaction. Drs. Strayer, Snowden and Gamble came to the school to give it.

It is planned that the three dentists, Drs. Beistle, Godfrey and Klehn will complete the government survey of children's teeth on the 26th of April in the school rooms. The doctors will not examine all the students, but only a sufficient number so that a fair estimate can be obtained of the condition.

LIBRARY NEWS

Title cards have been placed on the shelves indicating the kind of book in the section for the convenience of both the students and librarians.

The library has received four new books which have been assigned to the following grades:

"Pop Warner's Book for Boys" containing stories of football, basketball, track and baseball for the 11th and 12th grade lists.

"Naked Mountains" by Knowlton to the 9th grade.

The other two books were given to the grade teachers. The names of which are "Poor Cecco" and "Winter Holiday."

The number of books circulated is 642.

The librarians were successful in accommodating the needs of the students while the library was under repair.

Class Activities

Sciences The physics group went on an excursion last week to the Methodist church to look over the pipe organ. This was in connection with the study of sound which was just finished.

The construction and method of working the pipe organ was the main object of the field trip.

The class is now working on light. Although it was believed that light was instantaneous by everybody in the eighteenth century and far into the nineteenth, recent experiments have proved that this is not so.

The speed of light is 186,000 miles per second as measured in the experiments. Work this week has consisted of discussing the method used in measuring the speed of light.

Work in chemistry has consisted of the study of silicon and boron which will include the action of ordinary borax, a compound of boron, sodium and oxygen; and glass of which silicon is a valuable constituent. Silicon is the third most abundant element on the face of the earth being exceeded only by nitrogen and oxygen.

Quartz is a form of silicon dioxide which when pure, is as easy to see through as glass.

Calcium and its salts are also being covered this week. The compounds which make water hard and the methods of softening hard water are being taken up in connection with this.

The biology division has taken up reproduction in the higher plants and animals.

History The tenth grade history classes have been studying the industrial revolution in the United States.

Territories and dependencies of the United States and how they are governed has been interesting work for the twelfth grade history classes.

Discussion of the qualifications, duties and powers of the President has been the work of the ninth and tenth grade citizenship students.

The north and east side of the school yard has been much improved by these students' efforts during the last week.

Languages Latin 9 students have been studying numerals and reviewing nouns in their class work this week, which their superiors, the second-year group, has been reading Part II of Caesar.

After finishing the material in their readers, the French 11 pupils are ready to discard their trusty texts.

Those important and yet brain-racking irregular verbs have kept the French 12 class busy this week.

History 7 Kenneth Phiscator received an "A" in a test over Russia. The 7th grade history class has completed the study of Europe and will study Africa next week.

History 8 The eighth grade history class has completed the study of "Our Possessions in the Pacific and Caribbean." They spent a few days in the 7th grade geographies to familiarize themselves with the location.

English 8 Section 2 has set a record of 29 100's on the English papers during the past six weeks. Section 1 rated 19 100's.

Athletics The American League baseball season may have opened for the big league players, but preparation

Garbo's New Role Matches Star's Own Personality

The role that Greta Garbo portrays in her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring picture, "Queen Christina," which comes next Sunday for three days to the Hollywood theatre, is similar in many respects to her own glamorous personality.

The picture was produced after ambitious preparations were outlined for its filming with Walter Wanger at the helm as the producer. Critics are unanimous in the opinion that the picture affords Garbo the greatest characterization she has yet essayed.

Doubly of interest, the production also marks the return of John Gilbert to the screen and his reunion with Garbo after a picture separation of five years.

"Queen Christina" has been described as a 17th Century woman, who lived a 20th century life. On the throne she was a spectacular figure. She disdained the finery of feminism for the more mannish garb of her military rank and harassed her palace advisers through her unconventional interludes.

The picture, directed by Rouben Mamoulian, has a cast that includes besides Gilbert, Ina Keith, Lewis Stone, Elizabeth Young, David Torrence and C. Aubrey Smith.

When a husband tries to deceive his wife, he is almost certain to become involved in a series of difficulties. This is especially true if he is assisted in his fabrications by one as dumb as Stan Laurel, who, with his side-splitting, eyebrow raising partner, Oliver Hardy is seen in their latest Hal Roach M-G-M feature length comedy, "Sons of the Desert," coming as a feature number one of a double feature bill tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday of this week at the Hollywood. "Miss Fane's Baby is Stolen," the first picture dealing with the crime of kidnapping, revealing the inside story of the racket when her baby is kidnapped, is feature number two at the Hollywood Friday and Saturday.

Dorothy Wiek, Alice Brady, Baby LeRoy and Jack LaRue have the lead roles in this thrilling drama taken from the Rupert Hughes original story of the same name.

Charlie Ruggles, Mary Boland, W. C. Fields, Alison Skipworth and Burns & Allen, Paramount's leading comedians, are responsible for the funniest picture of the season, "Six of a Kind," the comedy playing on Bargain Nights next week Wednesday and Thursday at the Hollywood. "Miss Fane's Baby is giving them a variety of blue, violet, red and green hues.

Commercial Law Enos Schram, local insurance dealer, gave a talk to the commercial law class on fire, life and automobile insurance.

The class will start studying real estate, including landlords and tenants.

7th Grade Arithmetic The 7th grade arithmetic class is studying areas and circumference of circles.

8th Grade Arithmetic Formulas, finding volumes of bins and diameters of trees by taking the circumference is the interesting work of the 8th grade arithmetic class.

English The senior English students are working on placing modifiers in correct positions and dangling verbals.

The juniors are working on the nineteenth century novel. They are examining the differences in material, characters and method of writing of the romantic and realistic novel. Dickens, Meredith, Hardy, Stevenson and Thackeray are observed in this discussion.

Chemistry A very interesting experiment was worked out during the past week by the students taking chemistry, the making of small glass beads.

In this work, a platinum wire attached to a glass rod is bent into the shape of a small hook. The wire is heated until red hot, and then it is dipped in powdered borax. In contact with heat, the borax swells and loses its water of crystallization, forming a glassy bead in the curve of the hook. A borax bead is white and transparent.

While hot, this bead may be dipped in cobalt compounds to attain a blue color, or in a manganese compound for violet.

The students enjoyed experimenting with many compounds

After twenty years of happily married life, Ruggles and Mary Boland start on their second honeymoon. To defray expenses, she advertises, unknown to Ruggles, for another couple to drive with them, and Burns and Allen with a large flea-bait answer the ad. An employee of a bank, Ruggles innocently gets mixed up in a bank swindle, and as if that was not enough trouble, he has the valueless stock of a gold mine thrown in his lap. With W. C. Fields and Alison Skipworth waiting for them at the end of the journey, their second honeymoon turns into a complicated mixture of laughs and troubles.

A new unit on home decoration is being planned by the tenth grade group. The girls are planning and furnishing a model home. This will be their work for the rest of the year.

General Science Mr. Miller's general science class is dealing with the chapter entitled, "The Earth as a Storehouse." This covers the subject of raw materials, such as coal, oil and mineral products.

Carson Donley who takes advanced mechanical drawing, is experimenting with a design for an electric refrigerator, which will have no moving parts.

Music The band has received the selection to be used in the annual Berrien County band festival. Among those to be used are: High Tower, March. Captain, March. Persian Market, Overture. Over There, Selection. Wedding of the Winds, Waltz. The Whistler and His Dog, Nov.

Commercial The eleventh grade typing class is taking up the work of billing and statements.

Typical office work in reviewing telegrams and different forms of letters has been the principal work of the twelfth grade typing class. The shorthand class has finished the work in the text and will take up the extensive work in dictation.

The bookkeeping class has finished practice sets.

Mathematics The algebra classes are studying methods of finding square roots of algebraic expressions and arithmetic numbers.

The geometry classes are studying construction work which shows proportional lines and similar polygons.

The county convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Berrien County was held at Niles, Friday, April 20. Those attending from Buchanan were Mrs. M. L. Mills, Miss Mae Mills, Mrs. Henry Blodgett, and Mrs. Emma Berry. The morning session was devoted to business. Reports were given by the county officers. The local union presidents and the departments of work. There are six unions in the county with a membership of over 250. Among the departments of work stressed this year is the organization of junior temperance societies, of which there are now eight in the county, known as L. T. L. groups in active work. Essay contest work in the schools has also been stressed and during the past year 1500 essays have been written in the schools. This work is elective on the part of the school children, but the material is furnished by the W. C. T. U. Another department that has been stressed is the medal contest work, of which four were held in Buchanan. The election of officers was also held in the forenoon, all of the former heads being re-elected, as follows: president, Mrs. Irving Spencer, Benton Harbor; vice president, Mrs. R. J. Laas, Benton Harbor; recording secretary, Mrs. Frank Raschke, St. Joseph; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Kerrick, St. Joseph; treasurer, Miss Mae Mills, Buchanan. After dinner memorial services were led by Mrs. Fred Steere of Niles. A chalk talk by Rodney M. Ruth, Benton Harbor, which was very clever and interesting. The next was a playette by members of the Twin City Union, "Daughters to the Rescue." The idea conveyed in the play was that these who stay at home really decide elections.

Next followed an address by the state president, Mrs. Dora E. Whitney, Benton Harbor, who spoke on various topics, and also advised against voting for the bonding issue at the polls, her reason being excess debt and the extravagant expenditures outlined in the measure. She described the work of the Benton Harbor rescue mission home, where aged women have been taken care of during the depression and where many of the child wards of the county probate court are cared for.

The evening session was devoted to a gold medal contest and a second address by Mrs. Whitney.

Foster Krake, Coloma Baritone, Presents Concert at the Guest Night Program Local Book Club

One Hundred and Fifty Attend Annual Event at Presbyterian Church
Monday Evening.

Guests numbering one hundred and fifty met Monday evening at eight o'clock in the Presbyterian church where the ladies of the Book club held their annual guest day program. The auditorium was beautifully decorated in shades of rose and green by the use of primroses and ferns, while the color scheme in the parlors was carried out in yellow and green.

Mrs. M. H. McKinnon and Mrs. J. D. Walsch presided over the coffee table. Silver service was used at either end of the long table which was covered with a cream lace cloth over yellow. A mound of daffodils and yellow tapers completed the appointments.

For entertainment the club presented Mr. Foster Krake in concert. Mr. Krake has a fine melodious voice and gave his songs in a most appealing manner. A few well chosen remarks before each number was especially acceptable. One felt that in his choice of songs as well as in his rendition of them that he wished to recognize his masculine audience. However this pronounced effort was readily accepted by the entire audience throughout the program, and was shown by their repeated requests for encores.

His accompanist was Miss Starlight Smith from Emmanuel Missionary college at Berrien Springs. Miss Smith's support of the singer's work was outstanding in its sympathy and color. She was presented with a bouquet of Hollywood roses.

Egypt Does Not Change
Egypt, the cradle of civilization, was great before either Greece or Rome was born. The valley of the Nile furnished the stage for the greatest drama of the past. Here were reared Egypt's stupendous pyramids, temples and monuments in the highest form of architecture to honor her great, while the rest of mankind was living in rude huts. Time has made but slight changes in the land of the pharaohs. Egypt does not change.

Mrs. Frank Habicht, Mrs. J. D. Walsch, Mrs. H. B. Thompson. All who are interested in singing were invited to join the chorus conducted by Mr. Krake Tuesday evening of each week in Niles.
