

COMMUNITY LEAGUE, SOUTH BERRIEN COUNTY TO OPEN SCHEDULE SUNDAY; BUCHANAN, DAYTON, GLENDORA BELONG

Now Here's the Proposition

Friends and neighbors, we take this occasion to relay to you a message from our old friend, Verne Quinn, mine host of the Hotel Rex, who is enjoying a cool vacation at Boulder, Colo. Quinn post cards us: "I'm having a wonderful time on my old stomping ground here in Boulder, watching up Lovers Lane canyon and Sweethearts Walk, and sliding down the Flatiron Rocks. I will be here at my mother's for another week and then will start for home, dropping off to visit my old girl at Cheyenne Wells, Colo. Please keep an eye on them ornery nickel pointers for the while I am gone. Wish you were here, Vern."

Buchanan to Open at Baroda; Bridgman at Dayton; Glendora at Sawyer; League Devises Rules.

Present indications are that base ball will assume a higher rating as a summer diversion locally than in some years past, as a result of the entrance of a team bearing the name of the Buchanan Blues in the newly-organized Community Baseball League, in which the famed Dayton "Tigers" and a Glendora nine with most of last year's crack organization intact as contenders.

The league play will start Sunday, with Buchanan playing at Baroda, Bridgman playing at Dayton and Glendora starting at Sawyer. In the meantime the old Portage Prairie Greyhounds have shed their doggy title and have blossomed out as the Buchanan Co-Ops, with new suits 'n everything. The Co-Ops are devoting most of their attention to Indiana teams along the state line with which they contended last year.

DR. WALLACE IS PRINCIPAL IN STIRRING CHASE

New Carlisle Sheriff Makes Flying Leap as Former Buchanan Physician Flees From Arrest.

Hollywood producers, who are looking for a daredevil should get in touch with Andrew Osgood, New Carlisle deputy sheriff, who qualified for that role in a thrilling chase on Indiana State Highway No. 20 Saturday.

Here he set out in a car. Atty. Stewart White of Niles had gone to New Carlisle to recover certain properties which it is alleged Dr. Wallace had transferred there in contempt of a court injunction forbidding it and also in contempt of a court ruling giving said property into the custody of his former wife. He learned on arrival that Dr. Wallace had anticipated his move and taken the property away from New Carlisle. But while making inquiries at the former place of storage, he saw Dr. Wallace pass in a car. White rushed to the office of the Justice of the Peace Jakway and secured a warrant for Wallace's arrest. Accompanied by Deputy Wallace down the highway.

As he neared Wallace's car, in which the doctor and his bride of two weeks were speeding on their way to their temporary home at Michigan City, Ind., the doctor sensed their intention and stepped on the accelerator.

White speeded his car up beside him, when the doctor suddenly veered over and attempted to run him into the ditch. Then is when Osgood went into action. He climbed out on the running board of White's car and with both vehicles speeding at the rate of 75 miles an hour, he jumped the Wallace's running board and engaged in a battle with the doctor through the window. After they had broken the windshield in the course of the argument, Osgood managed to throttle down Wallace's car and bring it to a stop.

In the meantime, farmers along the route had seen the chase and, recognizing Osgood and thinking perhaps that Dillinger was being pursued, had set out after them armed with shotguns. Wallace was transferred to a farmer's car under armed custody and taken back to New Carlisle. On being taken from the car, he saw fit to vent his opinion of Osgood, calling the husky sheriff a coward.

Vengeful from the recent running battle on the highway, Deputy Osgood resented the epithets and pasted the doctor one on the nose. Dr. Wallace was calmer after that and accompanied White and Osgood to the office of the justice of the peace, where he was placed under bond to answer to charges of grand larceny and resisting an officer, which charges he will answer to in the district court of Indiana. Additional charges of contempt of court and larceny face the doctor in Michigan.

M. Smith Motored to Reading Accompanied by Mrs. K. on Piano

Among the strange events that just couldn't have happened back in the good old days was the following:

Sunday evening Max Smith started back to his school at Reading, Mich., after spending the week end at his home here. He was just motoring along, alone it seems and for company he snapped on the radio on the dash board, and drifted along with the strains of DeBussy's "Reverie" played on the piano. The "Reverie" ended and the announcer stated, "You have just been listening to a piano solo by Mrs. Josephine Kelley of Buchanan."

Mrs. Kelley gave a program over the air from the Elkhart station from 7:15 to 7:30 p. m. Sunday evening. During the 15-minute period she presented the following: "Widmung" by Schumann-Liszt, "Reverie" by DeBussy, "Valse" by Schutt.

A number of Buchanan people tried to dial in on Mrs. Kelley's program but Smith was the only one who located it.

He heard his wife's screams and found her badly hurt, with three vertebrae misplaced and other painful injuries. She was rushed to a Kalamazoo hospital, where she was under treatment for several days, and was then returned to her home.

LOCAL RELIEF WORKERS TO BE PAID IN CASH

County Relief Administrator Secures State Approval for Change of Buchanan Classification.

Efforts which have been under way for some time by County Relief administrator Ann Parsal to transfer Buchanan from the classification of "rural community" to that of an "industrial community" as a relief unit have been approved by the state, with the result that henceforth Buchanan relief workers will be paid in cash instead of orders, according to word from county headquarters yesterday.

Buchanan had been listed as an agricultural community in accordance with an arbitrary ruling that all communities with less than 5,000 population should be so classified. Relief workers in rural communities were to be paid in grocery orders, while workers in industrial communities were to be paid in cash. The distinction was more nominal than real, however, as in both cases the workers were paid only to the extent of an estimate of their actual living needs.

Buchanan has a force of men engaged on the Redbud trail and on the Galien and Hess drain projects, who will be transferred from the grocery order to the cash payment classification list as soon as the transfer becomes effective.

More LIVE POWER per gallon

More Live Power per dollar, too,

for there's no extra charge for Standard Red Crown Superfuel

More Live Power per gallon means that your car will get off to a faster start, take tough hills more easily and hold high speed hour after hour without hard labor for your engine.

How more Live Power is made available and usable in Standard Red Crown Superfuel is a more involved story. It is accomplished in the refining. Heavier, slower parts of an already excellent gasoline are converted into faster, keener fractions. . . But you are most interested in the result. And the result, as evidenced in your car, will be better performance—markedly better.

May we suggest that you drive in where you see the familiar Red Crown? Make your usual outlay for a supply of gasoline—for Superfuel—sell at the price of "regular". We believe this small investment will lead to a big return in your motor enjoyment this summer.

Cold Weather, Drouth Retards Michigan Crops

Prospects for the Michigan winter wheat crop on May 1 this year were the poorest for that date since 1925 according to the report just released by the Michigan Co-operative Crops Reporting Service. Information supplied by the department's crop correspondents placed the May 1 condition at only 69 per cent of normal or 13 points below average. Plant growth during April was retarded by cold weather adding further to the handicaps caused by late planting in many sections last fall, reduced use of fertilizer, and damage from low winter temperatures. On account of the late spring, the abandonment of acreage was somewhat problematical on May 1, but report past that time indicated an average loss of 5 per cent in Michigan. This compares with 3.0 per cent abandonment last year and a ten-year average figure of 3.5 per cent. The area remaining for harvest in 1934 is now estimated at 768,000 acres or 5 per cent less than the acreage harvested a year ago. On the basis of May 1 conditions, the indicated 1934 production is set at 12,672,000 bushels as against 13,322,000 bushels harvested in 1933.

Approximately two-thirds of the Michigan rye acreage sown for all purposes last fall will be harvested for grain this year. If growers plans as of May 1 are fully carried out. This places the state's rye

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

THE UNUSUAL BECOMES USUAL

Whether it is that women have at last achieved their age-old ambition and sunk to the level of men, or because cigarettes are beginning to tell, or whether the masculine mentality has momentarily turned its attention to study and demonstrated its superiority we are not able to say at this writing but it is a fact that the boys of the high school graduating classes of this section seem to be sort of showing the girls up in the way of knowing their logarithms.

We learn that both at Buchanan high school and at Berrien Springs high school, first and second scholastic honors were won this year by boys. An occasional scholastic honor won by a boy was not unusual in the past and went without much comment, but such a clear sweep of all honors by two schools must very clearly point to some great social change whatever it is. Maybe it indicates the effect of too much exposure on the mentality. Maybe it's the spots on the sun. But it looks more to us like a spot on the scholastic record of the daughters.

REDBUD OR JUDAS TREE

Our constant critic, Mr. John G. Holmes of Cedar Rapids, Ia., writes relative to the Redbud trail article in the Record last week:

"I wonder just what is the significance in adopting the 'Redbud' tree for the title of the new LaSalle Trail. The redbud is the Judas tree, so named because it was the tree on which Judas hung himself after he had betrayed the Saviour. Who is the Judas of that community, now?"

"No! I did not learn that in Sunday School."

"I have been under the opinion that the LaSalle portage was between the Kankakee and St. Joseph rivers."

"J. G. Holmes."

There may be several Judas's in Buchanan, but we are not naming trails after them. To our mind "redbud" is a much nicer sounding name, and why should we brand the most beautiful flowering tree of Michigan, not even barring the orchard trees, with the name of the "Judas" tree? The legend, as most people know, is that the tree blushed with shame ever after Judas hung himself on it, therefore the rosy blossoms.

To many visitors in Buchanan over the past week-end, the display of redbuds along the river was a revelation. Second only to the beauty of the redbuds was that of the dogwood flowers like snowdrifts among the young green leaves. It gave a faint hint of what the trail can become when the idea is fully carried out.

As to the LaSalle portage, Mr. Holmes is correct and we do not remember that we ever stated it differently. The significance of the LaSalle Memorial Trail is that it will skirt the St. Joseph river from Lake Michigan to the point where LaSalle and his party left it to portage their eight canoes across to the headwaters of the Kankakee.

Dr. Perrin Wilson Speaks to Osteopathic Societies

People should be educated to fear the breakdown of the natural immunity in their own bodies, rather than to be terrorized by fear of germs, in the opinion of Dr. Perrin T. Wilson, Cambridge, Mass., president of the American Osteopathic association, who addressed the St. Joseph Valley and the Southwestern Michigan osteopathic societies at a dinner at the Four Flags Hotel in Niles Wednesday night.

"The public is constantly being warned to guard against streptococcal infections, to use antiseptics freely in even the most trivial injuries. This is good so far as it goes, but the application of an ordinary antiseptic cannot be expected to kill all the germs in a wound. The natural defenses of the body do most of this work," he said.

"Osteopathic physicians," Dr. Wilson went on, "have long taught that if the coverings of the body—skins and mucous membrane—were kept normal, there would be little fear from infections. This is not as simple as it may sound, however, for the conditions of these coverings depends upon diet, upon habits, and even upon body mechanics in general. But it is all primarily a problem of body resistance rather than of germs."

"The virulence of bacteria depends very much upon the nature of the medium in which they grow. A streptococcus may enter one body and be killed promptly. If the same germ entered another body, it might find conditions tolerable enough to permit it to survive and begin to multiply. Unless the body's fighting

"Dr. A. T. Gill, the founder of osteopathy, years ago talked about blood fermenting when it did not circulate freely. I believe that in this will be found the fundamental cause of infantile paralysis. The victim is usually already suffering from the results of osteopathic lesions which affect the nerves controlling the circulation."

"Superimposed on that, I believe we will always find a further 'physiological accident' by over-using certain muscles and then getting chilled which still more disturbs the circulation, and permits the blood to stagnate resulting in the formation of autotoxins and very likely preparing the soil for the entrance of the suspected infantile paralysis germ—an organism which has not yet been positively identified."

"I believe it is highly significant that infantile paralysis is most prevalent in regions having extreme variations of temperature and that it occurs mostly in hot weather. I believe that the final explanation of the disease and its vagaries will be found to be based on these facts."

"Until the cause is certainly known, no one can be sure either of a cure or a preventive, but the following suggestions are simple and they will help:

"Eat a well balanced diet including plenty of fruit and vegetables with candy or ice cream only in reasonable proportions."

"Take plenty of rest, not only at night, but also between fatiguing activities during the day so as to rest the muscles that are apt to be paralyzed."

"Last, but most important, when hot, tired, and sweaty, and you have overused any group of muscles, do not do anything to cool off suddenly."

Dr. and Mrs. Waldo were among the one hundred guests at the dinner.

THE VANISHING WOODLANDS

One regrettable result of the depression is the inroads which have been made in the past three years on the remaining forests of the Buchanan districts.

Many unemployed men have cut down on coal bills and even made money by cutting wood on shares. More wood was cut in the winter of 1932-3 than had been cut in ten years before. While this was commendable on the part of those who were making their living, it has served to deplete the vanishing forests which are a main scenic asset of this district, and the worst of it is that there are no plans made for reforestation.

After all the presence of forests adds much to the country and there should be some encouragement of attempts to maintain the local timber supply. Years ago McCoy's creek was a valuable power stream which furnished power for as many as a dozen enterprises. It carried a much larger water flow then and the prevalent forests were the reason. The shade of the woods held the snow and the rain which seeped away much slower into the streams and maintained a more constant flow.

And the main charm of this section, placing it far ahead of the more closely cultivated sections in Illinois, Iowa and Indiana in that respect, are the "little tracts of sportive woods run wild," here and there on stony ridges and near marsh lands.

If we must cut our woodlands, why not attempt to replace them?

World Sale Ford Units 278,553 in 4 Months of 1934

World sales of Ford passenger cars, commercial cars and trucks, totaled 278,553 units in the first four months of 1934, according to announcement today at the Home Office of the Ford Motor Co.

Reflecting the general improvement in business activity and buying power throughout the world, the total was 158.6 per cent greater than the total for the same period of 1933, which was 107,698 units. By every means of comparison, Ford sales totals in the first four months' period were more than one and one-half times greater than in the same period last year.

The greatest increase was in domestic sales in the United States. The total for the first four months of 1934 was 214,733, which was 176 per cent greater than the 77,758 units sold in the same period last year. The balance making up the world total included sales of Canadian and European production.

The greatest relative improvement in Ford sales took place in South America and the Far East where the totals for the four month period of 1934 were four times those of 1933; in the British dominions where the totals were nine times greater than last year, and in Canada where the totals were five times that of last year. The sales gain in Europe which was greatest outside the United States in unit volume was 36 per cent over last year's figures.

Domestic Ford production in May is expected to reach a total of 110,000 units, which is at the rate of 5,000 cars a day. This compares with production of 46,448 in May 1933.

During April, 49.3% of all new car buyers in Detroit chose Ford V-8's. Ford outsold the second car three to one! This is the fourth consecutive month in which Ford sales have topped all others by a generous margin. And no wonder! Ford owners and drivers of cars in every price class are saying some mighty complimentary things about the performance, safety, comfort and economy of the V-8. Today is a good day to drive a Ford V-8 and learn why Ford is America's fastest selling car. Remember—Ford prices have not been increased.

150 Guests at The Junior Prom Friday Evening

(By Geneva Troutfetter)

The lawn party "to-be" given by the Junior class turned out successfully Friday evening, although held indoors due to the low temperature without. The "Elkhart Harlequins" from Elkhart, Indiana, played the program dances. Approximately 150 people attended the prom.

Among the very distinguished looking gentlemen at the event were Bill Frame, looking very handsome in a suit of delicate grey; the gay, dashing "Tucky" appearing in tan; and Chandos Jackson sporting a tailored brown flannel suit (and also a toe-dancer). Bob Strayer, president of the Junior class was outstanding in an immaculate white-linen outfit. Miss Mary Jane Siefert of South Bend was the guest of John Hattenbach, prominent member of the Junior class. Mr. Hattenbach was attired in a dark blue coat and light flannels. George Spatta was stunning in black and white apparel, and likewise his guest, Miss Helen Shoop of South Bend, who was attired in white crepe trimmed in rhinestone.

Miss Donna Bird was very "chaw-ming" in white satin and a white fur jacket. Miss Rosemarie Shice was dainty in a costume of pink. As the orchestra struck up the new "Carioca," all eyes turned to Mr. George Remington, who was dancing the tango with his attractive guest, Miss Laura Deever, from Niles, who was dressed in pink and blue taffeta. After watching them step, it is certainly agreed that "Remmy" knows his own feet.

Senior colors of blue and yellow were carried out in the decorations and amusements consisted of cards, ping-pong, and dancing. Entertainment was provided by a group of tiny girls in Japanese costume, who did an acrobatic dance number. Little "Gwen" Irlie won the crowd's approval with her acrobatic dance feature, also Miss Peggy Merrefield, former student at Buchanan High School gave a tap dance and crooned "I Just Couldn't Take It, Baby" to the audience.

A gala time was had by all, and balloons and confetti surely paid their price.

Those who saw weeks of carefully laid plans, made in the dark, brought to light by the beacon, were heartbroken. Various plans were suggested. Blindfolding the teachers was out, because the poor dears have had the wool pulled over their eyes so much that they have caloused eyes. So the only thing left is to put out the searchlight—I mean beacon (I hope it isn't a searchlight!) Another plan, proposed by a chemistry shark, was to lay a smoke screen, but such a procedure might easily result in a further complication of matters, as one might imagine.

But the latest outlook Friday afternoon was that, unless something turned up, or down, no one would be in the dark about things.

Light is truly a wonderful thing, but darkness—ah! As Mr. Moore says, "Darkness is the absence of light!"—and chaperones.

School Slants

Seniors on the way to and from Chicago:

On passing a pond with ducks on it, Tucky Brewer exclaimed, "Hey, Lewis, where's your rifle?" Lewis Leiter, confidentially, "Rifle, heck, I could pick off a couple of those with a slingshot. Veri, "Oh, you believe in killing two birds with one stone." On driving by the Lux soap factory Ethel was trying to inform the seniors of the different landscape marks. "That's the Lux soap factory. I've been through it." Hope glanced and shyly said, "Gosh, Ethel, you'd never know it."

Seniors Enjoy Skip-Day In Chicago Thursday

Many sleepy-eyed seniors appeared—and some didn't appear—at school Thursday morning.

However, they could be forgiven by their fellow students and the faculty as it was merely the result of a well-earned skip day.

On skip day the class went to Chicago in a Greyhound bus and visited many interesting places. These were: The Board of Trade building, National Broadcasting Co., Field Museum, Planetarium, theatre, art museum and others.

Junior-Senior Prom Causes Great Preparations

"It's long"—"My hat looks like a cart wheel"—"A flower here"—"a ruffle there"—these are just a few of the unfinished descriptions provided by some of the excited junior girls, when they made ready for the gala event of the year, in which they have full command, the Prom.

Floodlight at Prom Puts Everyone On the Spot

Apprehension and doubt entered the minds of many as they viewed the large airport floodlight, secured for lighting effects at the prom.

As the mournful students gazed at the beacon, sinister mutterings against "the guy who thought that up" were heard.

Those who saw weeks of carefully laid plans, made in the dark, brought to light by the beacon, were heartbroken.

Various plans were suggested. Blindfolding the teachers was out, because the poor dears have had the wool pulled over their eyes so much that they have caloused eyes. So the only thing left is to put out the searchlight—I mean beacon (I hope it isn't a searchlight!) Another plan, proposed by a chemistry shark, was to lay a smoke screen, but such a procedure might easily result in a further complication of matters, as one might imagine.

But the latest outlook Friday afternoon was that, unless something turned up, or down, no one would be in the dark about things.

Light is truly a wonderful thing, but darkness—ah! As Mr. Moore says, "Darkness is the absence of light!"—and chaperones.

Did You Know

Although the school house was exceptionally quiet Wednesday of last week, the lower classmen did not mind being left behind. You see, they will be seniors some day and have a chance to skip without getting the so-called third degree.

Since the annual performance of the senior play is a thing of the past, the activities haven't lulled any for the class. Plans for the closing days are about completed.

AT THE THEATRE

MALA, the Mighty Hunter and his wife ABA in the Arctic drama "ESKIMO"

"Eskimo," Drama Filmed in Arctic at Hollywood Theatre

The most adventurous of all film expeditions to the Arctic was undertaken by a company from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios headed by Col. W. S. VanDyke, to record in photography and sound that great epic of the north, "Eskimo."

The picture, which will have its local showing starting Sunday for three days at the Hollywood, presents not only a stirring and engrossing panorama of the life with its dangers and hardships of the natives living in the icy regions, but also is the first photoplay to treat of the Eskimo's strange code of morals which permits loaning of one's wife to one's friend and the exchanging of wives freely.

It is this extraordinary "matrimonial code" which provides the story's powerful theme. Mala, the principal character of "Eskimo," has two wives, and while he does not mind lending his wife to his brother Eskimos, he deeply represents the desires of a white captain of a whaling ship, an antagonist which ultimately culminates in a murder. A few statistics on the preparations and accomplishments of the trip made to film this remarkable picture are enough to stagger the imagination. The journey covered more than 13,000 miles from Hollywood to Point Barrow and return. They carried more than thirty five members in the company, not including guides and Eskimos picked up at Point Barrow. Dog sleds were used for land work and living quarters were in the ship or ashore in igloo camps.

The fantastic spectacle of a man, a girl and a gigantic ape united in a treasure hunt in a land of prehistoric monsters, warlike natives and colossal sea serpents, is the unique dramatic theme of "Son of Kong," feature number one of tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday's double feature program at the Hollywood. Robert Armstrong and Helen Mack have the lead roles in this sequel to the visit "King Kong." The ever popular Jack Holt returns to the screen in his latest release, "Whirlpool," a dramatic story of a man who sought oblivion that his wife and child might find a new life. Lilj. Lee and John Miljan have prominent roles opposite this film, which is feature number two in the above program. "A newspaper story that's different." That is the report preceding the Warner Bros. production, "Hi, Nellie!" starring Paul Muni, which is number one feature of Bargain Nights double bill next week Wednesday and Thursday at the Hollywood. One of the "different" features of "Hi Nellie!" is its star. No previous film with a city room background has a featured player of the theatrical importance, both on stage and screen, of Muni. Glenda Farrell, Ned Sparks and Burton Churchill support Muni in lead parts. Elissa Landi's latest picture, "Sisters Under the Skin," is number two feature next week Wednesday and Thursday. Joseph Schildkraut and Frank Morgan complete the romantic triumvirate of this delightful comedy and dramatic entertainment of youth versus old age.

PROVED-

by millions of miles of testing by engineers

PROVED-

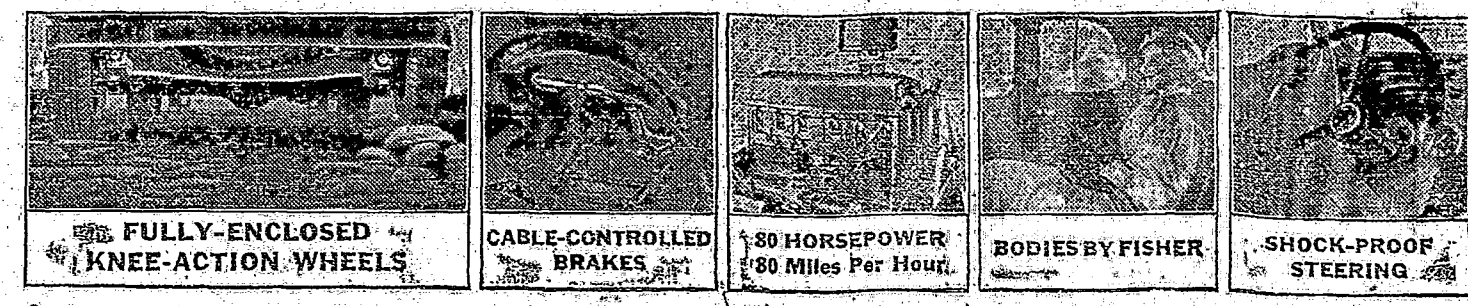

in the hands of hundreds of thousands of owners

Now we ask you to

WHY do you suppose Chevrolet keeps repeating, in all of its advertising, "Drive it only 5 miles"? Very frankly, here's the reason: Chevrolet engineers have tried out all the various makes of cars in today's low-price field. They have compared performance — on rough roads, in traffic, over hills, through sand and mud and water! And they have proved, to their complete satisfaction, the same things that hundreds of thousands of Chevrolet owners are proving in their daily driving. The Chevrolet ride simply can't be matched by any other in the low-price field. That's why we urge you to "Drive it only 5 miles" — and that's why we promise, "you'll never be satisfied with any other low-priced car."

Land of Middle Ages—In many respects, Inner Mongolia is a "Land of the Middle Ages." Mongol horsemen still lasso wild ponies with slip nooses on long poles, and a reception for the Dalai Lama attracts rainbow-hued, silk-robed princes across hundreds of miles of rolling plains. The Mongol chiefs still prefer to live in felt yurts, or tents, as did their ancestors, and visitors of note are received not in permanent buildings but in yurts which are entered through a wooden vestibule.

News of Buchanan Schools
Collected and Edited By Members of the Student Body

Editorial

Having completed the course of studies prescribed by the Board of Education, 51 seniors of Buchanan high school will receive their diplomas Thursday, May 24. To them a real significance accompanies the presentation of diplomas; to them it means one of the few big moments of their lives.

As the members of the class of 1934 look back over their achievements during the past four years, but few are contented. The majority wish that they had put more effort to their development of the base of life; wish this because of the huge sea they must bridge before starting their wayward journey simply because they were not responsible to themselves during this period.

To the ones who tried to make the four years of their study successful; to the responsible ones who made the most of their parents' efforts to educate them; to the ones who have taken the responsibilities of America; on them rest the responsibilities of tomorrow. Persons confident in themselves are they; they realize that as they have done, so will they do.

But the others...? Their chance is not so forlorn. The sea to success may still be bridged through various means. The better method to do this is, unquestionably, the college. College teaches one to rely upon one's self better than the majority of other mediums. Employment will also serve as a means for the irresponsible to travel the road of success. Last, but not least, the association with society will increase one's responsibility.

Thus when Thursday night arrives, members of the senior class will graduate conscious of the trials they are facing; and when they pass into the world for the first time, they will strive to make the most of the opportunities presented them either through past involvements or through the various mediums.

LAST CALL FOR LUNCH

"When do we eat?" voiced Miss Helen Hanlin, giving "Crit" an amused glare. "It's time for the bell to ring and I haven't seen a morsel of anything looking like refreshments."

"Well-er-ah-I sorta forgot about it," murmured the embarrassed and forgetful "Woodrow."

Well, "Crit" just ruined the day for the small class of six (due to a little senior desertion) had expected a party - and Wilson had vowed to furnish the "cats."

"Gee, but I'm hungry," sighed Margery Shreve, showering "Crit" with pitiful glances.

"Well, you should have eaten more dinner," grumbled the "miserable man."

Joyce was born in Buchanan on August 19, 1916, and has always made her home in this city.

At the age of six Joyce entered the first grade in school.

Since entering high school, she has belonged to the Glee club, the G. A. A., orchestra and Latin club. She also carried one of the roles in this year's junior play, "Seventeen."

Junior Reinke was born Nov. 12, 1916, at Grand Rapids. However when only two years of age, he moved to Buchanan and has remained a resident of this city since that time.

When six years old he began his scholastic career in the city school.

Since the time of his freshman career, Junior has become a popular member of his class.

He has been a member of the student council, Latin club, and was this year a member of the Junior play cast.

Other members of the class graduating with honor are Mary Donley, Donald Burrus, Hope Kelley, Maxine Myers, Jean Russell, Thomas Quirk, Helen Spatta and William Zachman.

Caledonia

Caledonia is the ancient and poetical name for Scotland. In Roman times all northern England was called Caledonia, and now it is sometimes applied with particular reference to the Scotch Highlanders.

The juniors will play the 8th graders Monday and Tuesday, the freshmen.

A tournament will also start in the gymnasium.

All hygiene classes reviewed during the past week for the final examination Friday.

All the shop classes enjoyed the identification of lumber samples in the shop and also the examining of trees near the school.

The study of plants has been completed by the general science group.

Review of this semester's work will commence today.

English 7-11-12

Literature review for the final examination started in the senior English class last week.

A study of recent essays and an analysis of essays from the better magazines comprise the work of the week for the junior English classes. They will also start review for the final examinations.

The seventh graders reviewed parts of speech.

7th and 8th Grades

The seventh and eighth grade geography classes have been studying Michigan. Charts were made to show the various manufactured products. Mathew Rauch had the best chart in this work. Stories were written on the effect of the glacier in Michigan. Mathew also had the best maps when they were made to show the mineral products in Michigan. Bob Hollenbaugh also drew a good map.

A review in the form of a spell down on history questions has been amusing to the seventh grade history classes. George Burgoine is the leader in section one, and Ellen Newsome in section two. The ones at the end of the line have a chance to advance if they can answer a question none of the others are able to.

Studying participles and infinitives and diagramming sentences has kept the 8th grade English classes busy.

Geometry students are studying the measurements of circles, while the trigonometry class is taking up the relation between the radian and a degree. Their examinations are Wednesday and Thursday.

In behalf of the Microphone staff and Miss Helen Hanlin, instructor, I wish to take this opportunity to thank the Berrien County Record for its kindness in relinquishing space in the paper for the presentation of news of Buchanan schools during the past year. Through this display of kindness the entire county was kept in touch with proceedings in the high school and medium for the presentation of material of the journalism class was established. The appreciation is almost unlimited.

Chev. Assembly Line at Chicago Fair Started May 15

The actual building of automobiles on the Chevrolet assembly line in the General Motors building at A. C. Entery of Progress will begin this week according to an announcement made by Dudley Frax, production manager of the line, recently in Chicago.

Thus with more than ten days before the official opening day of the 1934 exposition Chevrolet workmen will have ample opportunity to familiarize themselves with the newly-installed assembly line machinery and the special precision tools with which they will demonstrate to the exposition visitors in the smooth and painstaking manner in which all Chevrolet cars are built.

The assembly line will operate daily, except Sunday, from 1:30 to 5 and from 6:30 to 9 each day. Mr. Fraxer stated working hours, however, are predicated on the 1934-35 week set by the automotive code of the NRA.

Coaches and four-door sedans of the "knee-action" Master Six line will be assembled this year. Present plans call for approximately 20 cars to be turned out each day. Although the world's fair assembly line is a duplicate of that in operation in each of the nine assembly plants throughout the U. S., the cars will be assembled in more or less "slow-motion" in order that watchers may keep track of the many intricate operations.

Each Chevrolet built this year at the General Motors building will bear a specially-designed "medal" on the instrument panel.

More than 200 employees will be engaged in building these cars, it was stated. Material for the bodies and chassis will be brought in to the plant each night after ten o'clock when the exposition closes.

"Red Water"

"Red water," which is sometimes observed in coastal regions, is caused by microscopic organisms.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 476): "Mortals will disappear, and immortals, or the children of God, will appear as the only and eternal verities of man. Mortals are not fallen children of God. They never had a perfect state of being which may subsequently be regained."

Chevrolet Sells 100,046 Units in the Month of April

For the first time in three years, sales of an automobile manufacturer for a single month topped the one hundred thousand mark. This was brought out today in a statement issued by William E. Holle, general sales manager of Chevrolet Motor Co., announcing retail sales of Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks during April of 100,046 units. This figure includes Canadian, export and domestic deliveries.

This compares with 59,193 units in April, 1933, and 96,893 units in March of this year, according to the statement.

Retail sales the first four months of this year totaled 281,038 as compared to 184,138 in the same period a year ago, an increase of 52 per cent.

Chevrolet's April retail sales record is considered significant in view of the fact that this company has suffered an acute car shortage practically since the new 1934 models were introduced and only now is catching up in a small measure with the thousands of unfilled orders on its books. Retail sales were higher than for any similar period in 35 months, since April, 1931, to be exact, and this tremendous retail volume, according to Mr. Holle, is the direct result of the modern features and many unusual improvements incorporated in the new 1934 knee-action model.

Aramaic Language

Aramaic is a Semitic language. It was widely spoken in biblical times, but its spread was checked by Arab conquests in the Seventh century. In the village of Malula, Bakha, and Jubb Adin, northeast of Damascus, a dialect closely resembling Palestinian Aramaic is still spoken.

Precisionist of the Air

Ducks and geese are the feathered precisionists of the air, following a course as unerringly as if guided by compass or a radio beacon, while the crow is an erratic flyer, holding neither the same altitude nor direction for more than a minute or two at a time.

Low Temperature for Seeds.

Scientific experiments with the germination of seeds have brought to light a number of interesting facts. It has been found, says Nature Magazine, that many seeds have to undergo a period of low temperature, or even of freezing, before they will germinate satisfactorily. Many shrub and tree seeds have definite periods of ageing—corresponding to the gestation period in animals—before they will sprout. Others can be made to germinate at definite temperatures.

Danger From Lightning

The number of persons killed by lightning is very small in comparison with the total number of fatalities due to accidents. In the United States, the census reports show an annual average of about 500 lightning fatalities, while in a recent year there were more than 60,000 fatal accidents of all kinds. The actual danger from lightning is, in general, very slight, except under certain circumstances of exposure out of doors, which, as a rule, can be avoided. Within buildings of considerable size and dwelling houses of modern construction cases of death or injury by lightning are relatively rare.

Ford V-8's Win Six Places In Oakland Race

Battling for a cash prize of $1,500, Lou Meyer, a leading contender for the 500-mile sweepstakes at Indianapolis Decoration Day, took first place in a Ford V-8 in the 250 mile stock car race at the Oakland Speedway from a field of 20 entries.

Meyer's time for the race, which was supervised by the Contest Board of the American Automobile association, was 3 hours, 13 minutes, 4.6 seconds, and his average speed for the course 77.68 miles per hour.

This breaks the world record for stripped stock cars in competition for 250 miles, according to A. A. A. officials.

Sam Palmer, also driving a Ford V-8, took the second prize of $750, and also hung up the fastest time for a single mile lap of 81 miles per hour. Denny dePaola, Ted Horn, Mel Kenealy, and Al Gordon all in Ford V-8's took the next four places in the event. Four other drivers finished in the money. Eight of the 20 entries were Fords, the other 12 being of four other makes.

"I won the race," said Meyer at the finish, "because my Ford V-8 had tremendous pick-up, power and speed and was able to keep going at high speed for the entire 250 miles. It's a great car to drive and I ought to know because I now have won two tough races in Ford V-8's this year."

Twelve thousand persons turned out for the race which was run on the Oakland banked-curved oval under a brilliant California sun. No accidents of any nature marred the event.

Throughout the grind, Meyer drove a steady cautious race. In the early laps the race appeared to be between Palmer and Gordon, but just after he had caught up with Palmer in the 108th lap Gordon lost time in the pits and Palmer streaked ahead.

Soon afterward Meyer, who had been trailing up to this point, took the lead and never was headed. From the halfway mark the race settled down into a three-cornered battle between Meyer, Palmer and de Paolo, with only a few seconds separating the three during most of the latter half of the race. Kenealy, fifth-place winner, set a refueling record, when he appeared at the p.s. for the first refueling after 161 miles.
