

Opening Redbud Trail Delayed by Removal of County Steam Shovel

Now Here's the Proposition

They say Bill Speckine is afraid to open the furnace door these days, due to the fact that a bolt of lightning went in there Monday evening and may be still prowling around in there for all he knows. When the heavenly fireworks were popping that evening, a bolt hit the wiring (which, by the way, is equipped with lightning arresters) and it went through the light switch, jumped eighteen inches (or thereabouts) to the furnace regulating chain and followed it to the furnace check door which it blew to pieces (see Bill for the exact number).

The bolt then went into the furnace and has not been seen since and Bill has been almost afraid to go into his basement for his own home-brewed lightning, remarking: "How do I know the darned stuff ain't in there yet?"

Mac McLeod, local diamond expert, has been elevated to the rank of the baseball arbiters along with Ban Johnson and Lenewas Mountain Landis, having inherited the mantle of Curley Bradford as head of the city softball league. As a baseball expert Mac has a lot of stuff on the ball and we may expect to see the softball league operated in major league style this summer.

Mort Snyder again demonstrated his right to the piscatorial title of the city by yanking 60 perch out of Lake Michigan Monday morning while perched on the wharf at St. Joe. We don't know whether or not that is more than the limit but Mort was broadcasting it and if it isn't okay he can tell the judge about it, too.

The city water was shut off from 8:30 p. m. Saturday until 8 a. m. Sunday which accounts for the fact that a lot of the boys looked a little dusty and grimy this week, along with being cheated out of their Saturday night bath.

Harve Bristol was holdin' a party in honor of his 77th birthday when the water was shut off but we can't imagine a little thing like that crimpin' any of Harve's parties, although he claims they ran all over town after midnight for some water. (Harve described it to us as a "hell of a blowout" but shucks, we can't say anything like that in a family newspaper.)

The Redbud Tree
We are indebted to our constant mentor, John G. Holmes, the Sage of Cedar Rapids, for the following clipping pertinent to the Redbud trail:
The Judas Tree
Pink flowers adorn the Judas tree, And mine is now in bloom. Its flower-laden arms I see Stretched just outside my room.

Its name betrays its charms, I think,
As Judas, Him betrayed.
Surely such boughs of petaled pink Were not for traitors made.

Yet it is said round such a limb
The fatal knot was tied
And Judas went to death with Him A sorry suicide.

A wooden cross the Master bore
Unto His field of doom,
But Judas followed sick and sore,
Beneath a tree in bloom.

BIG DAMAGE—TORNADO WINDS

Severe damage to the business section of Buchanan was reported as the result of tornado-like winds which swept the loop district Tuesday morning, accompanied by a light fall of snow. The heaviest damage was reported at the Gerrett Wisner & Co., pop corn plant which was blown to the ground and the entire equipment demolished at a total loss. Manager Wisner states that the disaster has in no way dampened his spirit but that he is planning to rebuild his plant, equip it with modern machinery and march on to higher and nobler levels in the pop corn business. (Later: It was a mistake about the snow—that was just the pop corn that the wind blew down the street. But Charlie Koons and Bob Reamer both caught the brochure before they found out it was pop corn.)

The Blow Falls—Or Soon Will
Well, friends and also neighbors, the bow has fallen at last that we have been expecting for some time. Phil is going to get married. It seems funny that a guy in the lawyer business that is always wading in matrimonial wreckage up to his eyebrows has got to try (Continued on Page 2)

WITHDRAWAL OF COUNTY SHOVEL DELAYING WORK

Heavy Gravel Surface to be Treated with Calcium Chloride to Make Dustless Drive.

The official observance of the opening of the Redbud Trail section of the LaSalle Memorial Trail, originally scheduled for June 18, has been delayed until some date in July as yet indefinite, on account of unexpected delays which have developed in the construction of the project.

Heath Calvin, engineer in charge, states that the county steam shovel which had been used in loading the gravel trucks, has been taken away from the project to aid in unexpected excavation difficulties at the west end of the eastern segment of the Niles-Buchanan road. The force engaged in excavation there have unearthed a peat bog, with an old corduroy road embedded in it, which must be excavated down to firm footing before the new pavement can be installed. The bog had caused a troublesome dip in the old paving, which was in fact a suspended pavement at that point.

Calvin stated that with the aid of the steam shovel the force of over 100 men at work on the Redbud trail project had gravelled 500 yards per day, whereas by hand-loading about 100 yards per day is the limit.

An old section of corduroy road was unearthed near the Kelsey school house on that road, constructed many decades ago. The corduroy was in part of walnut logs which were found at a depth of about three feet, in an excellent state of preservation.

Since the work of spreading the gravel has been lightened, the men have been engaged in installing guard rails and heavy plank bulwarks to hold the steep banks on Moccasin Bluff from sliding. Calvin states that from six to eight inches of gravel will be laid on the road and the blades will then be used several days to work it down to a smooth surface which will be treated with calcium chloride to make a fine dustless surface. When completed the road will be a fine scenic drive, but at the present time its dusty condition gives sight-seers an unfavorable impression.

CROP OF YOUNG MUSICAL TALENT SPRINGING UP IN CITY SURPASSES PAST GLORIES OF OLD BUCHANAN

Days of Marshall Roe and Frank Martindale Recalled By Promising Array of Young Musicians.

Seventy-five years ago when Buchanan was a struggling frontier village set in primeval forest where the whining drone of the sawmills formed an orchestral accompaniment to the rattling bones of the ague shakers of that day, the community was known as a center of musical talent. In 1853, only five years after a postoffice was located here, the town had a band that was in demand at the frenzied political celebrations of the day in Niles, Portage Prairie and elsewhere. In the sixties and seventies the Buchanan Cornet band was famed in southwestern Michigan and no occasion was complete without its inspiring strains. Then there was the Buchanan Serenaders, the Buchanan Choral Union and a succession of singing groups of the vocal melodists of early days. Noted among the early singers was Rev. Eli Roe and his son, Marshall Roe, the latter afterwards a member of the nationally known Apollo Quartet of Chicago, which sang before presidents and on great occasions throughout the land thirty and forty years ago. There was Frank Martindale, a rare singer, who commercialized his talent on a somewhat lower level, singing with medicine shows. But Martindale was once nationally known as the composer of the song hit "Only a

New Tax Law May Disqualify Members of School Boards

A number of school board officers will be forced out of office by a new act passed by the legislature exempting from taxation personal property of farmers up to the amount of $1,000.

This exemption will lower the assessment and consequently the amount of taxes levied in many of the rural districts.

One of the qualifications for a school officer is that his name must appear on the assessment roll and this law will take many names from it. It will also reduce the number eligible to vote on financial matters.

All officers who are disqualified by this act will be replaced at the annual meeting which is held on July 9.

Change Evening Hours for Show Millers Circus

John Fuks, advance agent for Millers' Better Circus, announces that the evening hour for the local showing here June 22 has been changed from 7 p. m. to 8:15 p. m. in order that the elaborate lighting system which is being arranged in the Frank Miller back yard will show up more effectively. After considerable haggling over the price of this announcement the editor was finally bribed by an honorary ticket to the show. The afternoon showing will be held at 2 p. m. Mr. Fuks states that a number of new acts have been included this year and the circus this year will be bigger and better than ever. He reports that the advance sale of the tickets has been excellent.

IMPROVED BLUES PITCHING STAFF GOES TO TOWN

Dayton Tigers in a Batting Slump Fail to Connect; Locals Pound Moffitt Heavily.

Baseball fans who have watched the fortunes of Manager Bob Reamer's Buchanan Blues in the first three games this season trekked to Athletic Park Sunday afternoon expecting to again see the local entry in the Berrien County Community League clubbed into submission and otherwise humiliated as was the case in the last two games in which the club was beaten by Sawyer, 21 to 4, and by New Buffalo, 10 to 6, were given a pleasant surprise.

But the worm finally turned to smite its persecutors and the lowly Blues rose to the heights to overwhelm the Dayton Tigers, 14 to 1 and achieve its second victory in four league starts.

It was a much improved Blues team that took the field here Sunday against the Dayton team, a team improved by the addition of three capable players, all of whom presented noteworthy performances in their initial appearance in Blue regalia. The three new players were Elchorn, an infielder, Schmidt, an outfielder, both local products, and Chuducki, an 18-year-old pitching sensation from South Bend.

Twenty healthy hits collected off the pitching of Danny Moffitt, a youthful pitcher for the Dayton club, who displayed marked bravery in holding the pitching mound for the entire route, and nine errors by his team-mates were responsible for the Blues victory in the one-sided listless game. Chuducki, who held the foe hitless for the first two innings and Tuck Tucker, who relieved him in the third, held the Tigers to a single hit during the game, and this lone clout by the visiting team did no damage as it came late in the game and the perpetrator promptly died on base.

It started out as a ball game. Dayton drew first blood and scored on Buchanan's only error of the game in the first inning. Buchanan retaliated in its half and drove six runs over the plate before the third inning ended and the rout of the Dayton team was only slightly less evident in the remaining innings. The outcome was never in doubt. Several times the Dayton club threatened, but these threats were quickly checkmated by stellar pitching or sensational fielding or a combination of both.

Catcher Richter and Second Baseman Poplar led the Blues assault, each with four hits, two doubles and two singles. Heiermann, Blue outfielder, was also a stalwart fallsmen with a single and two doubles out of six times at bat.

The Blues will journey to Bridgeport next Sunday to meet the league-leading Bridgeport Enterprise team.

Ford Dealers in Chicago Caravan Monday Afternoon

Ford dealers of Michigan made up a caravan of about 300 cars which traveled to the Century of Progress in Chicago on Monday afternoon. Starting from the Dearborn branch of the Ford Motor Co., the number was augmented by dealers along the line until they reached Benton Harbor and from there, under Michigan Police escort they traveled to Chicago, where they were met by a police escort of that city and taken thru downtown Chicago and to a parking space near the world's fair grounds.

On Tuesday the dealers were the guests of the Ford Motor Co., at a dinner given in the dealers' room of the company's exposition building on Lake fair grounds and a general inspection of the exhibit was made.

F. R. Montague, of the local Montague Motor Sales, and A. B. McClure of the Berrien County Record, along with various other dealers and newspaper men from this section, met the caravan in Benton Harbor and accompanied them on the balance of the trip.

DONLEY AND BOHL ENTERED, ROBBED YESTERDAY MORN

Unknown Burglar Takes the Screens from Windows of Both Homes; Gets $12.50.

The homes of W. O. Donley, 404 West Front street, and of William Bohl, 123 South Detroit street, were entered at some time Wednesday morning, whether by the same persons is not known, and $1 was taken from the former and $11.50 from the latter place.

W. O. Donley states that he came home at 3 a. m. and that everything at his home was all right at that time. Some time after he had gone to bed, the house was entered through a bedroom window, the entrant unhooking the screen on the inside by a wire, and then lifting the screen from the window. He went through a hall into the room of the son, taking a dollar bill from a billfold in his pocket and then departing without molesting the rest of the house.

Some time around 3 a. m. or before the home of William Bohl was entered by an unknown person or persons, who removed the screen from the bathroom window in the same manner as at the Donley home, entered the bedroom of Mr. Bohl and went through two pairs of trousers which were hanging there. The trousers were left on the floor, with the emptied billfold lying on them and a coin purse was dropped in the bathroom on departure.

Shortly afterward Miss Emma Bohl was awakened by the sound of some one trying to enter the front door which was bolted. She ran to the room of her parents and aroused them. Mrs. Bohl went to the room of her son, and there saw a man looking into the window. He apparently heard her and started running, disappearing across the lawn to the Dairymen's home on Chicago street. Two milk bottles were also taken from the porch.

Representatives of the county sheriff's office were called in on the case by Chief Mitchell.

ARROWS LOSE TO CO-OPS IN PITCHERS DUEL

Co-Ops Have to do Some Stiff Co-Operating Sunday to Nose out Little's Rebuilt Arrows.

It took some pretty nifty co-operation on the part of the Co-Ops to edge out the rebuilt and renovated Little's Buchanan Arrows in the game played between the two nines at Letcher's diamond Sunday and if it had not been for Miller's home run the winning streak of the erstwhile Portage Prairie Pups would have gone to the ascan.

The Arrows were a different outfit from the one which was massacred two weeks ago by the National Standard nine. Jesse pitched a fine game and the locals lost by the close score of 4-3 in a contest that was a pitcher's duel throughout.

TOWNSHIP BASED ITS COMPLAINT ON OLD HIGHWAY LINE

Board Re-Assesses Valuations Utility and Corporation Properties on City Tax Rolls.

Buchanan township became the beneficiary of the review session of the state tax commission held at the city hall yesterday to the extent of a $35,000 slice of the $450,000 valuation of the local Indiana & Michigan Electric Company plant, that amount being subtracted from the city tax roll on the basis of the complaint entered by township officials last year.

The Buchanan township officials based their complaint on the fact that on old tax descriptions the northern boundary of the city was defined as along tax line of an old roadway which meandered through the present location of the power plant. No map of this old road is extant and there is no definite trace of its exact location. The six representatives of the state tax commission, however, voted to transfer a part of the transformer house and part of the dam and millrace to the township tax rolls. City officials, complained that they had no historical data on which to base this division, but the transfer was nevertheless made, leaving $415,000 in valuation still on the city tax rolls.

The Indiana & Michigan Electric Company personal property valuation was raised from $30,000 to $47,000. Real property valuations of the Clark Equipment company in the city were raised from $288,000 to $308,000 and personal property valuations from $450,000 to $610,000.

Hollywood Leads Softball League as Cafe Drops Game

Hollywood theatre, defending champion, continued a championship pace in the Buchanan Softball league to achieve its victory of the season and maintain the for league leadership with D's Cafe, also with three victories, by defeating the Riverside Ramblers, 5 to 3, Friday night at Athletic Park.

In defeating the Ramblers, "Big Bud" Proud, Hollywood's big right handed speed-baller, achieved the honor of being the only pitcher in the league to win three games, he having pitched the Hollywoods to every one of their three victories. Proud also aided in his team's offensive by cracking out the long-stay home run of the season, a hit to the most remote part of deep center field, with none on base to open the sixth inning. This was one of eleven hits amassed by the Theatre in its victory over the pitching of Rudloff and L. Sherburn, who relieved him when he got in trouble in the third when the Hollywoods scored four runs, a run total which proved sufficient for the winners to coast easily to victory behind the invincible pitching of Proud, who allowed but six scattered hits.

Manager Hubert Peck was the main cog in Hollywood's assault in the third. Conrad opened the inning with a walk and scored on successive singles by Savoldi and Mitchell. Then Peck sent a long three-base drive to deep right, scoring both Savoldi and Mitchell. Peck subsequently scored his team's fourth marker, and what ultimately proved to be the winning run, on Fabiano's single thru short. Peck's three-base hit ended Rudloff's pitching activities and Manager Sherburn took up the mound duties for the Ramblers.

Proud looked bad in one inning, the fourth, when he walked three men to fill the bases, but excellent support by his team mates saved him. Conrad made a quick return of Raber's grounder to force out Manager Sherburn at the plate and Sexton, Stover and Raber died on base as Decker and Rudloff fled out respectively to Mitchell in left and Conrad at short.

A ninth-inning rally netted the Ramblers a run when Raber scored after hitting safely a drive which caromed off Pitcher Proud's shins. But Philippi died on third for want of help as Rudloff struck out and Wallace and Painter went out to the Pitcher.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

A CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE

The charm of a Michigan summer is that it is just like a street carnival—"one continuous performance of breath-taking acts."

First there comes that rush of spring beauty when the woodlands flash with anemones, hepaticas and blood root, but if by reason of the pressure of affairs you miss that, then there's no use to waste time in idle regret for you know there's a bigger show coming with peach and apple blossom time, and after that there will be the redbud and the dogwood, and so on the attractions too numerous to mention, follow. Just now it's tulip-time out in the woods, with the whitewood or tulip trees in full blossom and the blossoming basswoods busy with bees. The tulip blossoms are dropping rapidly, but we know that when they're gone there will be the wild roses and then the wild tiger lilies flaming by the roadsides. And when they're gone, old Mother Nature, the world's greatest ringmaster, will have other and more stupendous performances for those who have eyes to see and ears to hear.

THE BEAUTIES OF THIRD STREET

For those who like the charm of the cultivated there are a number of places about Buchanan worth looking at—too many to mention, in fact. But we will not go far beyond the restrained and ultra-respectable confines of Third Street for instances.

There, you may enter at a side gate into the wonders of Ed Pascoe's rose garden—150 choice varieties including the latest improvements in the rose breeders art. Pascoe is a real public benefactor for there is no lock on his garden gate and anyone who likes a rose display is welcome to enter and admire. The breaks are all in favor of the public for the only advantage Ed has is that he has to take care of them.

Then another of the Seven Wonders of Third Street (and please don't ask us what the other five are) is George Exner's terraced garden in the rear of his home. You can tell George's place by the two tulip trees that flank his front walk on either side and keep people gasping when they see them at this time of year—and which also keep George busy sweeping the walk. His garden is another wonder to which the discriminating public is welcome without price, and it is nothing unusual to see perfect strangers (or anyway strangers, however perfect they may be) sauntering into his yard and seating themselves under his vine and fig tree enjoying the profusion of flowers amid the velvety lawn.

And all this is within a block of where we live. Some day, when we have some energy to spare we're going to explore the next block.

Back in the yonder stretches of Buchanan's 100-year history there must have been some tree planters, whose names deserve to be emblazoned as the chief benefactors of the city. When strangers enter our town their first comment is an exclamation of pleasure at the sight of the hard maples overshadowing the main streets.

There was, for instance, Aro Alexander, the father of Mrs. Charles Treat, who planted many of the trees on Moccasin avenue and Third street, both on the street fronts and on the residence lots. There is the great soft maple in the rear of Frank Chubb's lot which he planted a half century ago and which has grown until it is nearly 12 feet in circumference and its roots underlie two lots. About twenty feet above the ground is a broken log chain attesting the silent power which a tree exerts in its growth. Many years ago this chain was fastened about the two main forks to keep them from splitting down, but as time went on and the tree grew it burst the chain as Samson broke his manacles asunder in the temple of his enemies.

Speaking of "planned economy" it seems to this observer that the time has arrived for individuals as well as communities to formulate long-range tree-planting campaigns. There has been a steady invasion of the timber supply of the Buchanan community, especially in the past four years, without any apparent plans for replacement. Many fine old woodlots which were spared by the axes of the pioneers have gone the way of the kitchen range and the furnace. Some time we will awake to the truth that our woodlands are a real asset. The forefathers took thought for us many years ago. Let's think of those who come after us.

W. C. T. U. Notes

What Court Records Tell About Repeal

Automobile accidents throughout the country have rapidly increased during the five months since repeal, according to the court records of 86 leading cities compiled by the W. C. T. U. The number of children injured in traffic accidents has grown to startling figures.

Automobile deaths for the first nineteen weeks since repeal in 86 cities showed an increase of 514 deaths as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year.

The following figures in just a few of the cities listed are representative of the country as a whole:

Increase in automobile deaths:

Chicago	36.24%
Cleveland	55 1/2%
Baltimore	61 1/2%
Washington, D. C.	100%
Minneapolis	28%
Kansas City, Mo.	48%

Arrests for drunkenness are believed to be understated, as there has been a relaxation of police enforcement in many cities, yet even so the increase noted is startling, as shown by the following examples:

Los Angeles	104%
Minneapolis	25%
Worcester, Mass.	54%
Boston	21.4%
New York City	55.5%
St. Louis	23.5%
Denver	116.6%
Grand Rapids, Mich.	32.91%
Newton, Ia.	104%
New Castle, Ind.	535%

The record of women arrested for drunken driving is a significant item in at least one center of 800,000 population.

As these things become known it is probable that the people of the United States will tend to reconsider their newly acquired approval of beverage alcohol (in so far as the result of the vote for repeal of the 18th amendment was an indication of that attitude.)

What Shall a Dry Do Now? Everybody is asking that question.

Governor Pinchot answers it:

"I am not only a dry," he said, addressing the Pennsylvania State Christian Association, "but I AM dry. I have seen the open saloon in full flower. The present generation does not know the saloon and cannot realize what it was and what it meant. For generations the saloon was the hypodermic by which vice and crime were injected into the body politic. And in politics liquor was the degrading, home and heart and focus of the lowest political gangs we had. I remember as a boy a time when there used to be four saloons at nearly every crossroad, when drunken men were so common as not to excite remark, and when the little town of Milford, where I live, resounded every night with the yells of men half crazy with drink. I am convinced that strong drink has ruined more individuals, broken up more families, and generally made more trouble than almost any other single cause of human disaster unless it be war."

"In my view it is utterly ridiculous to suppose that we can drink ourselves out of the depression back into prosperity. To spend a billion or two dollars a year for that which decreases human efficiency and lessens human working power can never be anything but a gigantic loss. Strong drink is an economic mistake. In spite of the successful efforts which have been made to wreck it, prohibition has not been a failure, as its enemies claim. The vast propaganda against prohibition and in favor of liquor which has covered this country like a blanket, has persuaded our people, falsely, I believe, that prohibition has failed. I am convinced that prohibition at its worst has been infinitely better than booze at its best."

"Just as I demanded that every wet should accept the decision of the American people when they went dry, so now I must, myself, accept the decision of the American people when they go wet. This decision against my own view does not lead me to believe that the great majority of the people of the United States are for repeal because they want to guzzle whiskey and wallow in the gutter."

As these things become known it is probable that the people of the United States will tend to reconsider their newly acquired approval of beverage alcohol (in so far as the result of the vote for repeal of the 18th amendment was an indication of that attitude.)

AT THE THEATRE

"David Harum," is Made to Order for Every Type Fan

Not since the days of "Connecticut Yankee" has there been such a Will Rogers as in "David Harum," playing at the Hollywood for three days starting on Sunday. Clean, wholesome, natural, it maintains a continual family type intimacy. All the color that made "David Harum" an American literary classic is preserved in the picture. Honest realism, which attunes the dramatic, romantic, comic and human interest essentials to finely balanced action and dialogue endows the show with an interest that should be equally effective upon every type of audience. Opening in the nineties, at a time when business conditions were similar to the present, Harum's alibi philosophical analogies create an up to date impression. Then as the rural New England story unfolds, the audience has a close understanding of what is happening. Harum's slick "hoss" trades with the deacon, his hard-scrabble small town banking practices, his home life with sister Polly, are all lively. The romance he builds for Ann and John is sincere and full of heart appeal. As laughs predominate, there is a sentimental sequence as he cancels the widow's mortgage, after outwitting the land-grabbing deacon. The thrill of action is in a fist fight which he and John wage all over the inside of the bank and on the sidewalk with Edwards and Elwin, familiar homeliness in the Christmas scenes that inspire both gaiety and pathos, and exciting punch to the trotting horse race won by Harum's nag as the entire county fair attendance sings Down Went McGinty and Ta-ra-boom-de-ay. A Horatio Alger touch is there as Harum takes John into partnership and assures his marriage to Ann. Then a surprise climax that is a gale of laughter.

Louise Dresser, Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor, Joplin Fletcher and Noah Beery have the leading parts with Rogers. "David Harum" is the kind of show everyone should see. The romantic, comic and human elements that lie behind the operation of the gigantic telephone system of the country are featured in the new Warner Bros. picture, "I've Got Your Number," with Joan Blondell, Pat O'Brien, Glenda Farrell and Allen Jenkins, which is scheduled to be shown tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday as feature number one. With the unrelenting ferocity of animals untamed,

There are three opinions on this question. The sincere dries are convinced that prohibition is morally and economically right. The sincere wets believe that prohibition is morally and economically wrong. And then there are those who have a selfish personal interest in the return of liquor. What I want to point out is this: "The well-meaning of sincere wets, plus the evil group of selfishly interested, have joined to overwhelm the sincere dries in the battle of the ballot. The sincere wets and the selfish wets are together now, but they are going to be as far apart as the poles soon after repeal becomes effective. A great majority of the American people are decent, temperate, clear thinking, clean living folks. In the end their will must prevail."

it for himself but that is the way the world goes and perhaps it is all for the best. The worst part about it is that with all the noble girls around Buchanan that would be grateful if some guy would pick them up and rescue them from the shades of approaching spinsterhood, he has to go to Cassopolis. The shock will be severe in some quarters when this gets out. Atty. Landsman spent part of his boyhood in Buchanan, his brothers having been engaged in the clothing business here. He was graduated from Notre Dame and since 1929 has practiced law here as the local member of the firm of Burns, Haddell & Landsman. He is survived by Charlie Lands, Bill Desenberg and Clarence Jones.

Peas: From Old World

The cultivated peas so popular in this country are imports from the Old world. The best of these have been developed from species that originally grew wild in Europe. A species imported from China, while less fine in flavor, has an advantage so far as southern orchardists are concerned, for it will grow farther south than will the European species.

and the uncompromising cruelty of the jungle itself, "Devil Tiger," Fox Film's saga of the wilderness, crashes across the screen of the Hollywood as feature number two Friday and Saturday. It is an engagement of a picture that has been hailed as the most terrific of all animal productions and is directed by Clyde E. Elliott, the director of "Bring 'Em Back Alive," and has Kane Richmond and Marion Burns in the leading human roles.

A photograph which must be included on anyone's list of the ten best pictures of 1934 opens next Wednesday (Bargain Nights) for two days at the Hollywood theater. It is Paramount's production of "Death Takes a Holiday," starring Evelyn Venable, Sir Guy Standing and Ken Taylor. Its grandiose settings, its superb dialogue and splendid acting makes this provocative, dramatic romance one of the great pictures of all time.

The story is based on the intriguing idea of death, the eternal shadow, taking a three day holiday that he may come to this world to taste life's pleasures to the full. Frederic March delivers a splendid performance, one which is bound to bring him to the fore as one of the outstanding contenders for the 1934 Best Acting Award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

IT SEEMS IN OLDEN DAYS EDITORS WERE NOT ROUGH, TOUGH GUYS, OFTEN PAID TRIBUTE OF SENTIMENTAL TEAR

Back in 1865 Cornet Band Serenaded Ye Ed on a Moonlit Night and You Just Ought to Read What He Wrote in the Paper!

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Carl Remington, the Record has been permitted to inspect a copy of one of Buchanan's first newspapers, the Weekly Union, of the date of Aug. 3, 1865.

The paper was published by Lloyd and Turner and the office was located in the second story of the Union block over Alexander & Armond's store.

The scanty news columns of that time contained little local news and were mainly filled with the aftermath of the Civil War. Two news stories were carried on the events in the Twelfth Michigan Infantry, which contained many local men. An advertisement proclaimed a book just off the press relating the trial and execution of the assassins of President Lincoln. An advertisement was headed:

"Richmond has fallen—and grocer stores are coming down at the cheap grocery store of Duncan & Welch." Among the staple groceries carried at this store were canned peaches, oysters, tomato catsup, sardines, baby cabs and gigs.

In another column the following books were advertised: "Old Abe's Jokes," "Life of Abraham Lincoln," "Life of Major-General U. S. Grant," "Life of General William T. Sherman," "Ballads of the War," "Incidents American Camp Life," "Dare Devil Dick, or the Curse of Gold," "The Freecooters Prize," "Speaking Rifle, the Indian Slayer," "Spirit Eye, the Indian Captive."

Another column carries an announcement of the new grocery firm of Treat & Baker at the corner of Main and Front streets.

J. F. Hahn announced that at his shop, in addition to such paraphernalia for the living as bureaus, tables, stands, bedsteads, chairs, etc., he could also furnish to order ready-made coffins; also that he had received an appointment as sexton of the cemetery and consequently was in a position to give attention to the grave digging.

A reader advertisement announced that "the Firemen's Festival next Wednesday evening at Union Hall will be the festival of the season." The event was to be in the nature of a "promenade concert—an entertainment where you may follow the beat of your inclination; where you may whisper soft tales of love in the ear of the gentle maid, listen to music sweet, or regale yourself with cooling beverages. Ice cream and cake, music and tableaux, bright eyes and happy faces, all at the Firemen's Festival—be sure to go."

It seems that the Buchanan band, whether the same cornet band which was locally famous later is not said, had serenaded beneath the editor's window a few nights before and ye ed rose handsomely to the occasion as follows:

"What is more delightful, more soul-stirring, more refined, more heavenly than the sweet notes of choice, select, heavenly-executed music! We know of nothing. It is our soul's delight, the crowning head of our spirit's social fountain. Without it the world would be one social wilderness and mankind the rough saplings thereof. At any time music is the most delightful of entertainment but when it comes wafted to one's ears on the fragrant breeze of a moonlit night it is more delightful still. At least we thought so on last Tuesday night when the first notes of an instrumental serenade awakened us from our quiet slumbers."

"We find the English language inadequate to express our humble thanks."

Well, within the limitations of the English language we sure did his best.

In a large advertisement carried by the druggist firm of Osborn & Howe the public are advised that they are in a position to furnish "drugs and medicines, groceries and paints, varnishes and dye stuffs, pure wines and liquors, Yankee notions, etc." Who says that drug stores used to deal exclusively in drugs? And, other than wines and liquors, just what is a Yankee notion?

Mrs. Philander B. Dunning advertised the Florence sewing machine, also a full line of hoop skirts, in her rooms over the Cotton, Estes & Co. store at the corner of Main and Front.

Standing advertisements were carried by I. O. O. F. No. 75, by John C. Morley, justice of the peace, Troy Village.

John Strayer Named to Junior Honorary Society

John Strayer, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Strayer of this city, and a student at the University of Michigan, has been honored with election to the Sphinx, the junior honorary literary society, the members of which must have been outstanding in some line of journalistic or literary work during their first two years. Young Strayer is publication and circulation manager of "The Gargoyle," the university humor magazine, which rendered him eligible for the honor. He was inducted into the society at the annual "Sphinx Mummification," which was held with fearful and wonderful mysteries May 22.

JOHN A. HOWARD

John A. Howard of Benton Harbor announces he will seek the nomination for the office of County Surveyor on the Republican ticket this fall. He was the Republican candidate for this office two years ago but was defeated in the general Democratic victory. Owing to his wide experience in surveying property throughout the county Mr. Howard was employed by the Board of Supervisors to correct up the descriptions of property on the county tax rolls. This work has been carried on in the Real Estate Tax Office at the Court House under the supervision of the County Board.

Knoblauch Talks at Grange Picnic

Arthur Knoblauch, principal of the Buchanan high school, delivered the address of the day at the meeting of the Berrien County Pomona Grange held at Indian Fields Berrien Springs, Sunday afternoon. The oldest member present in point of membership in the organization was Mrs. Alice Clark of Mt. Tabor, who was awarded a prize.

MARY BLACK'S HAIR SHOP TOOK PLACE OF MODERN BEAUTY SHOP IN BUCHANAN FIFTY YEARS AGO

Ladies Used to Have Permanent Waves in Those Days But They Were Detachable from Their Heads.

Despite the idea that the beauty shop is a strictly modern institution, there was a business house in Buchanan devoted to feminine adornment a full half century ago in the form of Mrs. Mary Black's hair shop, which was housed at various times in the Cathcart building, the present L. W. Johnson building, and lastly in the quarters now occupied by Atty. Philip Landsman.

The quarters, by the way, have quite a varied history. Once upon a time they were the headquarters of Buchanan's leading modiste and fashion designer. That was after the days of the hair shop.

But to get back to the hair shop, Mrs. Black, with the aid of Miss Allie Hamilton, made waves and switchs, and other hirsute camouflages, and sold fancy combs and hairpins in her shop. You will be interested in the "waves." They were much like the present permanent waves, only they were detachable. Miss Nellie Cathcart has a beautiful one, made for her mother, with delicate ringlets of brown of a Titian tint. It wasn't considered deceptive to wear an artificial wave—they were the style and every lady had one that could buy one.

The women then saved their combings in a combining sack that hung always on their dresser. When they had accumulated enough they would take them to Mary Black. She would comb out the snarls carefully on a "hecker," which old timers will remember as a block of wood set with sharpened spikes about three inches long for carding flax, hair or wool. When the hair was combed straight, Miss Hamilton would place a base of fine needlework over a wooden block shaped like a head and then, with the infinite patience of our ancestors, would carefully weave the hair in and out through the lace work, parting it in the middle. Then the hair would be moistened with a solution of gum arabic and, using the finger, waves almost exactly like the "finger waves" made in the beauty shops of today would be worked into each side. The women would take them home and wear them on trips away from home or on company occasions. They would pull the hair straight back, do it in a knot behind and wear the "wave" over it. It was not supposed to deceive anyone.

Switches were also made in the shop. Sometimes women brought their own hair, and other times the hair was furnished. There was a loom for making switches, consisting of two parallel iron rods clamped firmly at each end of a table. Between these rods was stretched heavy black thread at regular intervals, like the warp of a fabric, with other threads crossing them like e the wool. Miss Hamilton would take the hair and weave it along one of the warp threads, over and under the wool threads. When she had a strand complete about one warp thread she would weave another strand about the next warp thread and when a number of strands were woven she would push them together on the wool threads until they formed a solid plaque of hair. The hairs would extend beyond one warp thread sufficient to form a loop. When all the hair had been used, the inwoven threads would be severed from the loom and the long ends of the warp thread would be formed into a loop. The wearer would comb her hair back and form a knob behind, and on this knob the loops would be tied and the switch would then be formed into a coil around the head.

There were many hirsute devices designed to heighten the charm of the ladies of that day. One was a black velvet ribbon hung with small artificial ringlets which the girls wore tied about their head with the ringlets falling at the side and front. Then there were two curls of artificial hair which were pinned on the rear and thrown forward over each shoulder, one a little longer than the other.

The "waterfall," the "spit curl," the "beau-catchers," and the "rats" all came later. Mrs. Black sold no facial preparations, powder or rouge. The girl who used rouge then was looked on askance. Some facial powder was used but only sparingly and it did not pass unchallenged. More likely a face wash containing bismuth would be used.

F. A. RACETTE

Announcement has been made that F. A. Racette, orthodontist, of Kalamazoo, will be a candidate on the republican ticket at the primaries in the 4th congressional district, for congress.

Dr. Racette, a progressive republican, has been three times elected mayor in the village of Paw Paw, and is a staunch supporter of the farmers union program, he himself owning two farms. Dr. Racette also states that he is out to do for the large mass of people rather than the small class.

Over a Cup of Coffee

(By A. C. Clapp)

I see in the papers where Italy is erecting in its Italian village at the World's Fair an exact reproduction of the ancient ruins of the temple of Apollo in Rome.

Here's something different for you, in exposition exhibiting, this duplicating of a 2,000 year old pagan temple, which was in integral part of the city on the seven hills, mother of our western civilization.

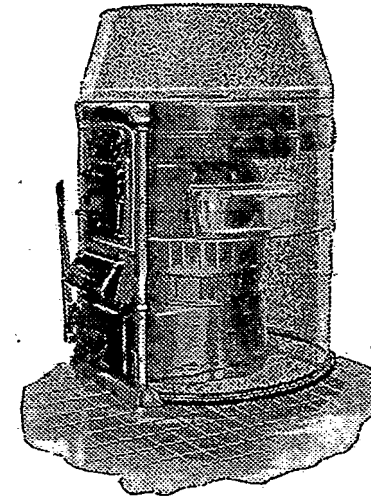

Year after year, on festival days came great crowds, togged out in their best togas, to offer sacrifice and vows to Apollo in his old temple. In the shadows of those old temple columns, no doubt, Caesar on his way to Gaul, and Cicero with brief case under his arm, on his way to the forum, would stop and chat with friends about the Parthian uprising or the senate debates.

Well, Rome as age-long mistress of the ancient world was considerable of a World's fair itself; and its Apollo temple should prove an interesting feature of the new fair.

Give some folks bread, and they'd call it a stone.

The flowers along the field are pretty. "Yes," the plowboy said, "But now I gotta watch them furrows. Straight ahead."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a more movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your downcast feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes them good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. Buy don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Rem's a substitute. 25c each. 50c for 3. ©1931 C. M. Co.

leader, L. P. Alexander. Penmanship played a far greater part in business and social life than it does now and the professional penmen were very fastidious. Harry Binns, local stationer, started in business back in the times when the typewriter was nothing but a crude experiment. John Dick and other accountants used to place their orders regularly with him for pen and ink, specifying their favorite brands. He sold ink by the case in pint bottles to the furniture factories for office purposes.

Although Binns' experience started over the years of the goosequill pen, he has seen most of the modern revolution in the epistolary art. When he started in the stationers business in the early eighties there was no such thing as a tablet, and writing paper of all grades was sold by the fold of six sheets or by the quire of 24 sheets. In his store he sold the first tablet he ever saw, the first fountain pen he ever saw, the first typewriter he ever saw. The first fountain pen to go on the market here was the Wirt, a pen in which the ink fed down from a pliable rubber finger over the top of the pen. Later this was supplanted by the fountain pen underfed pen. He saw foolscap go out of use as a popular size of paper in common use. Foolscap paper was 18x17 inches in size, and was named from the fact that it was watermarked by the pioneer papermakers with a fool's cap and bells. Paper was much dearer in the days of our fathers, the price of ordinary grade paper being five cents per fold of six sheets or twenty cents a quire whereas now ink tablets with 200 sheets may be bought for 5c.

If they were fastidious about their writing, our fathers and mothers called for Spencerian pens and Worthington's glossy black ink.

season, furnished the Hollywood team its only real competition in the four games played by that team.
After the Bradleys had scored W. Schultz and Liska with runs that tied the count at 5-all in the fifth of the seventh, Stu Boyce, Hollywood centerfielder, with two down, drove in Chain, who had hit safely through the box, with the winning run on the former's long three-base drive to deep left.
It was a pretty pitchers' battle between Jesse and Brewer of the Hair Trimmers and Bud Proud of the Hollywoods, with the latter slightly more effective in the pinches, although the Bradley team outlived the victors, nine hits to seven.
Proud was responsible for half of his team's run total, accounting for three runs on his two home-run drives. In the first, Proud drove the ball to deep center for his first home run, scoring Harkrider ahead of him. In the sixth, with none on base, Proud made his second four-plate hit, ambling in with Hollywood's fifth run of the game. Bristol, Bradley right shortstop, also hit a home run with none on base in the sixth.
Bradley's team made two fast double plays to cut down Hollywood's further scoring chances. In the third, Wolford grabbed Howard's line smash and double Mitchell off first and in the fifth Harkrider hit into a double killing, Brewer to Bristol to M. Schultz, Boyce being forced out at second.
Reckless base running hurt the Bradley team's scoring chances. In the second Hawks was caught off third and run down between third and home, and in the seventh Wolford was caught off third after he had hit safely to open the inning.
There were many sensational fielding plays during the game, but the most scintillating play of the game occurred in the third inning when Harkrider, Hollywood third baseman, caught Brewer's left field foul over his shoulder after a long run.

Score by innings:
Hollywood 220 01 1-6 7 2
Bradley 010 002 2-5 9 2
Batteries, Proud and Chain; W. Schultz, Brewer and Hawks. Umpires, Hawks and Hanlin.

Wilson McLeod Elected President of Softball League

Harold "Curly" Bradfield, who will begin his new duties as football coach at Niles high school in September after having served as coach at Buchanan high school for the past eight years, and who has served as president of the Buchanan Softball League since its reorganization early this spring, formally tendered his resignation as head of the softball loop at a special meeting of that body at Athletic park Monday night.
Bradfield stated that inasmuch as he was moving his family to Niles in a few days and that he was planning on entering summer school at Western State Teachers' College, Kalamazoo, June 25, he could not continue to serve. His resignation was reluctantly accepted by the assembled team managers and captains and other league officials.

Wilson S. McLeod, who has been serving as league stationer, was elected Bradfield's successor, and Frederick Smith, who has been assisting McLeod in the league's statistical duties, was named vice president, a newly-created office. Jack Boone, who served last year as the league's first president, continues as secretary and treasurer of the loop.

The resignation of Bill Baker, one of the league's three umpires, was also accepted, and Don Hanlin was named to his post. Other league arbiters are Hawks and Dreyer. McLeod and Smith will continue to serve as scorekeepers.

Members of the executive committee are: Wilson McLeod, chairman; Frederick Smith, Jack Boone and Ray Babcock.

The league Monday entered its fourth week of play on a 14-week schedule embracing 56 games. Games are played at Athletic park on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights, beginning at 8:00 o'clock. There are eight teams in the league, including: Hollywood Theater, 1933 champion and now leading the league with three victories and no defeats; D's Cafe, Bradley's Hair Trimmers, Farm Bureau Cowboys, Curley's Clowns, Riverside Ramblers, Cities Service and Clark River street plant.

With the departure of Curley Bradfield, Frederick Smith will take over the management of the former's team. Curley's Clowns, and will change the name to Smith's Clowns. He will be assisted in the management of the team by Jack Boone.

The April cow tester reports received by the dairy department of Michigan State College, show an increase in total numbers of cows tested and in numbers of herds under test. This increased interest in testing is believed to be due to the high cost of milk production in terms of feeds, necessitating dairymen to keep records in order to wisely cull out inferior producing animals; secondly, dairymen now realize that the national dairy reduction program has been indefinitely postponed and are willing to take steps to improve their level of herd production themselves.

Culling honors belonged to the South-Berrien Association which reported five inferior cows sent to market.

Hastings Announces His Candidacy for Register of Deeds

At Hastings, the Berrien County Register of Deeds, who was one of the three Republican candidates to survive the Democratic landslide in 1932, today announced that he would seek the Republican nomination as Register of Deeds in the coming primaries.

Mr. Hastings, who will complete his first term in a county office this year has established a splendid record during the time he has served Berrien County and feels that his friends and supporters will back him in the coming year.

During his term in office the work in the Register of Deeds office has doubled with the issuance of hundreds of new federal farm loans and an equal number of new federal home loans. Also the act of the state legislature during the special session of 1933 requires that all township chattel mortgages and chattel records were turned over to this office adding much additional work. Despite this great increase in the volume of the office handled by the Register of Deeds, Mr. Hastings supervised the recording of these thousands of papers in an efficient manner.

The candidate for re-election is a life-long resident of Berrien County and has been an active worker in the Republican party for many years.
