

BANK TO OPEN HERE JULY 18

First National Bank Pays 20 Pct. Dividend of $87,000 This A. M.

Now Here's the Proposition

Well, friends and neighbors, look 'er over—what do you think of the news this week?

Things are sure popping. There was a big dog fight staged Monday for the title of South Oak street between Bob McKahan's and Clyde Marble's bull dogs. The dogs were out to settle it and when Bob and Clyde got them by the collars they just tossed 'em around like a tin can tied to a Ford.

The cherry season is on and the Record acknowledges the receipt of some fine sweet cherries from Ike Wells. No fatalities among the cherry pickers have been announced yet, but some of the boys are reported to be wearing parachutes.

The fish season has started and Mort Snyder is reported to be well out in the lead to date with a limit of 25 blue gills from Christie Lake, although Carl Remington has not started yet. Wilson Hamilton, Ed Rolen, Bob Fisher and Allen Kuhn went along and got their limit, but we understand Mort caught the fish. Bill Fette and Frank Lamb launched the good ship Ironsides on Pike Lake the first of the week but as yet the boys have only caught three apiece.

Ike Wells puts in a claim for his wife. She and him were out on Weaver Lake and got 30 blue gills and 14-inch bass. Mrs. Wells got most of them. We'll believe Mrs. Wells' story. Ike says the only thing that stopped them—they ran out of bait. We didn't think Ike ever did.

They say Buchanan is getting so wet, one way and another, that the mushrats are taking it. Tuesday night about midnight a mushrat was prowling around on the pavement and about 50 boys took after it. It started to run into Bill Brodick's, which is no place for a mushrat. Finally Guy Burks caught it and has it shut up at his store.

Philip Landsman is back with his bride. Uncle Bert Worthington is bragging that he is the only man in town who has kissed the bride. Not counting Phil, of course.

It is reported that during the absence of Atty. Landsman on his wedding tour, the boys hung out his door the following sign for his law clients: "For Ye know not the day nor the hour when the bridegroom cometh."

Mystery?

There's an air of mystery hangs over the Red News Agency and if you ask us there's something fishy about it. Yesterday we bought our three-cent newspaper and was reading an article in a 35c magazine in the wall rack, when a woman came in with a wild look in her eye and says: "Mr. Root, I'd like to have my liberty." And Mr. Root says, All right madam, and if you want today's it will be here tomorrow."

Spooky, eh, what?

3D DISTRIBUTION BRINGS TOTAL TO 75% DEPOSITS

Dividend Record is Highest Among Closed Banks of County; Among Highest in Michigan.

H. R. Botkin, receiver of the First National Bank of this city, is releasing to depositors today a third dividend of 20 per cent, representing $87,107.36 in checks signed by the comptroller of the currency, and bringing the total of dividends paid to 75 per cent to date.

The first dividend was paid by Receiver H. R. Botkin June 6, 1932 and comprised 45 per cent of the deposits or $196,298.58. The second dividend was paid Dec. 6, 1932, comprising 10 per cent of the deposits, or $43,583.75. The third and present dividend, brings the total distribution to depositors in the amount of $326,983.69. At the time of the second payment, state publications reported that the record of the local reversionary was the best in the state at that date. It is believed that with the payment of the third dividend this record ranks as one of the best, if not the highest percentage repaid by any closed financial institution in the state. It is definitely known to be the largest dividend percentage paid by any bank closed in Berrien county. Receiver Botkin states that at least one and perhaps two dividends may be paid before the trust is finally closed.

BLUES TO PLAY ARROWS FOR CITY TITLE ON JULY 4

Reamers and Hittle's Teams
Both Playing Improved
Brand Ball After Late
Season Start.

Negotiations were completed on Tuesday for a game to be played at Athletic park next Wednesday afternoon, July 4, involving the city baseball championship of Buchanan. Principals in this single city-championship contest will be Bob Reamer's Buchanan Blues, member of the Berrien County Community Enterprise League and Johnny Hittle's Buchanan Arrows, which have been playing this season independently of league affiliation.

It is usual to have a city championship series here at the close of the season, but this year it was decided to play a one-game championship "series" on July 4th, in lieu of a local Fourth of July celebration.

Neither the Arrows nor Blues have enviable season's records on a win-and-lose basis, but both teams have been materially strengthened and are playing a much better specimen of base ball than they did in the early weeks of the present season.

Reamer's team, after winning its opening league game against Baroda, now in second place, was beaten by New Buffalo, Saturday, and Bridgeport, in a one-sided affair from Dayton but rose to the heights last Sunday to hold the league-leading Glendora team to a 5 to 4 score in a twelve-inning encounter, which was by far the best game played here in years, despite the fact that Buchanan lost. Reamer showed the populace that he now has a team that is ready to go places.

Hittle's team lost twice—to the National Standards of Niles and the Buchanan Co-Ops, formerly the Portage Prairie Greyhounds—before winning from the strong News-Times team of South Bend. And last Sunday, the Arrows lost to the Three Oaks Greens, 10 to 9, mainly because August Topash, catcher, had an injured finger which in passed balls and bad throws permitted the Greens to score enough runs in the first inning to win.

Both the Blues and the Arrows are hard hitting aggregations. In the six games they have played the Blues have averaged 15 hits a game, and the Arrows' record is about as good. The Blues have two stellar pitchers in Feathers, a speedball right-hander, who pitched the route in the 12-inning game against Glendora, and Derank, a 17-year-old southpaw. The Arrows have two sturdy right-handers in Danny Topash, a 17-year-old In-

FARMER ORGANIZATION RE-NAMED

Farmers Battle
To Rescue Crops
From Chinch Bugs

The scourge of chinch bugs in the Buchanan and Galien district is getting worse, with the continuation of weather favorable to their propagation, although measures of prevention are being started on a wide scale this week. In the neighborhood of 5,000 gallons of gas tar have been distributed free in Buchanan township by the state this week. This is sufficient to serve 500 acres of the infested area.

Much of the wheat is so far advanced as to escape damage, but corn and oat crops are suffering heavily. The pests do not feed on clover or alfalfa to any extent. The coal gas is applied in the morning in a strip about an inch wide along the top of the barriers, thus making the most effective type of barrier that can be used against the insect pest, because during this period the insect does not have wings and must move from one field to the other in massed formation and will not cross the oil soaked strip. Another aid to the effectiveness of this method is post holes dug at intervals of one to two rods at the foot of the barrier about eighteen inches deep with tapering walls which are too steep for them to climb out, forming a very effective trap.

The bugs start their migration during the early part of the afternoon and it usually continues for from four to six hours.

MILLERS BETTER SHOWS MAKES SECOND PRESENTATION FRIDAY WITH VERY FLATTERING RESULTS

Cast of Seven Nets $28; Votes to Spend Profits in Blow-out at Silver Beach; Afternoon and Evening
Performances.

Indications that Buchanan, after forty-odd years may again come to the front as headquarters of the show industry were afforded by the second annual public presentation of the Millers Better Shows, Inc., last Friday evening, with a very flattering reception from the patronage.

The Millers Better Shows was organized several seasons back by Miss Mildred Miller and was at first conducted for the amusement of the performers only in the Frank Miller back yard at 407 W. Front street. Last year, however, the young producer decided to take a flier and present her show to the public. The performance was privately advertised at the attractive admission prices of 1 cent for adults and 2 cents for children and the show went to town. The success encouraged the producer and her corps of performers to offer it again this year, and it is conservatively estimated that between 400 and 500 people attended the afternoon and evening performances. The management reported net profits of $28 from admittance and stand receipts. This net will be spent by the cast of seven performers at a swell blowout at Silver Beach, St. Joseph.

Both afternoon and evening performances were very well received the latter being attended by guests from South Bend, Niles and other neighboring communities. The stage, which was the civic portable bandstand, was lighted with footlights with reflectors made of Bokor Coffee cans, an advertising idea which the management has not as yet cashed in on.

The wiring and lighting was done by William Blaney, V. L. Schietz, M. L. Ihrie and Frank Miller. A spotlight effect was arranged and a beautiful misty background for the more romantic acts was afforded by a garden spray.

All the acts went off with wonderful success, the nimble feet of the Misses Mildred Miller, Gwendolyn Ihrie, Nancy Jean Schietz, Barbara Swartz and Elaine Blaney delighting the audience with clever toe work in several dance numbers which were created by Miss Miller. Solo and group vocal numbers by the four girls were well received, and the comedy acts of John Fuiks and George Riley simply wowed 'em. Professor Tobey, the world's cleverest dog, furnished several star roles in collaboration with his master, John Fuiks. A new magician in the person of (Now-You-See-'em-Now-You-Don't) Professor Thursto had the audience alternately thrilled and gasping with his mystifying demonstration of the prestidigitator's art. Professor Thursto performed his feats of legdrama clad in his father's wedding suit, which was slightly large and well adapted to the concealment of rabbits and the other paraphernalia of the magic art.

The orchestra was led by Master Jimmie King. George Riley was assistant manager and John Fuiks was master of ceremonies.

The program in full was as follows:

Gwen Ihrie The Limber Spider
Nancy Jean Schietz Lively Taps
John Fuiks and George Riley Texaco Program
Barbara Swartz Gypsy Dance
Mildred Miller Snappy Tricks
Nancy Jean Schietz and Elaine Blaney Humoreske

Robert Bachman, playing with a damaged hand, copped off the hair cut and shave offered by the Bradley Barber Shop to the Buchanan Co-Op players making the most hits in the game against the News-Times nine Sunday—and, oh yes, the Co-Ops licked the journalists 8-0 if that matters.

Coming back to the halcyons, Bachman is getting well stocked up with credits in that line, having won the haircut and shave the previous week.

New Organization Named Buchanan Farmers Incorporated;
Form Changed to Comply with New Co-Op Requirements.

The St. Joe Shipping Association is no more—long live the Buchanan Farmer's Incorporated!

Which is to say that the two-story brick building at Days Avenue is still a hive of farm business, with the same affable personnel in charge, but it has been inhabited by a new institution in name and in method of organization since the meeting held at the Methodist church Saturday afternoon.

At that time the stockholders of the St. Joseph Valley Shipping Association assembled for the annual reorganization meeting and there resolved themselves into the Buchanan Farmer's Incorporated in order to keep pace with the changing character of the business and the changing requirements governing the organizing of farm co-operatives.

The trouble with the St. Joseph Valley Shipping Association as a name is that it doesn't ship to speak of any more—it is rather an organization for the purchase and distribution of farm equipment and supplies. It was organized fifteen years ago primarily for the co-operative shipment of live stock. It continued at that business for several years but gradually changed its activities until it was a shipping association in name only. During those fifteen years it has grown and expanded continually, while never missing its regular dividend of seven per cent annually, even in the depth of the national depression. It now has an authorized capitalization of $50,000.

The new organization aims at a more equitable distribution of the stock to conform with the present ruling which requires that a co-operative transact at least half its business among its stockholders. Several new stockholders will be added to the present 67 as a result of the re-organization.

The regular annual election was held, the following officers to assume charge of the reorganized institution:

Directors: Jesse G. Boyle (president), Albert Houswerth, Fred Koenigshof (treasurer), A. G. Haslett (secretary), Dean Clark (vice president), Fred Tichenor.

Executive Board, Albert Houswerth and Dean Clark.

The stockholders were assisted in reorganization by Arthur Howland of the department of economics of Michigan State College.

During the past the institution has added a line of farm machinery, entering into a profit-sharing co-operative contract with other Michigan co-operatives, in addition to which the State Farm Bureau has entered into a Master Contract with twenty other states with the Avery Farm Machine Co. As a result in part of this added line, the association increased its gross business 67 per cent in the past year.

In the eleven months since the sales tax law became effective the association has paid $1,640.25, all of which it has protested. The organization is now party to a suit attempting to force the state tax board to administer the law as the legislature intended it and to cease to demand payment on such items as feed, seed, fertilizer, spray material, farm machinery and other items which are later taxed when consumed.

The books were audited by a competent accountant at the close of the year and the net profit was declared to be $675.88, after deducting all operating expenses, writing off a liberal depreciation and adding materially to the reserves.

The association also devoted much time in the past year to the development of the Buchanan Farmers Credit Union. The membership in the Credit Union is now 102, who have invested $1,415.66 in shares, and have $5,664.91 on deposit for safe-keeping.

Hayden Beatty Prints Article in Evan Magazine

The following article, written by Hayden Beatty, president of the Young People's Missionary Circle of the Evangelical church, was printed in a recent issue of a missionary journal published by the Evangelical church at Harrisburg, Pa.

Over the Back Fence
"No, Mom, I don't want to go to that old school up there on the hill! Nobody goes up there but folks who are too ugly to look at common people. I want to go down on the corner to the public school with the rest of the kids!"

"Now, listen to your talk! I give you a chance to go to an exclusive school with American children, and you object. Rather you would go and mix with all those foreigners' children. Have you no pride?"

"Why Mother! Foreigners! You know Dad said his grandparents came from Sweden on an immigrant ship. They went West and settled. And great granddad was a minister in the Methodist church there. And you talk of foreigners!"

"Oh yes, but they were different. There are so many Italians and Hungarians, and—well, all kinds of such children in that public school. And I don't want you associating with such children."

And young Jackie retired to the back yard in tears.

That evening at supper Jackie was once again himself. Bubbling over with life, he could hardly wait to tell Mother. "Oh mother, Tommy Delano has six new little kittens! And he says they can't see. Oh, they are so cute, he says! May I go see? And, Mom, Mrs. O'Brien's daughter has a new beau and her brother said he gave him a nickel. And mother—"

"Here, here. Now where have you been? Where did you talk with all those children?"

"Over the back fence! Mommy, you don't like me to look over the back fence, do you? But I'll tell you, Mommy."

"Over here we do this thing right, and that thing right. And meet people that do things right. And, Mommy, over the back fence I can see people don't do things like we do! You don't know, Mom, how much I see over the back fence. I see folks going to work and coming home. And folks that stay home and work. I see folks cry. I see folks laugh. I see folks love, I see some hate. I see folks try, and fail and try again. I see folks make mistakes, and try to make them different. I see a yearning in their eyes as they pass by. Mommy, I see folks live, over the back fence."

"Hush, child! What has come over you? Are you ill?"

"No, my Mommy, I have just seen over the back fence. When I grow up I'm going over there and see what I can do. If I can laugh with the happy, cry with the sad, love with the lovers, restrain those that hate, help those that struggle, fight those that are wrong, encourage those that yearn, I will feel I have worked for the Jesus you tell me about. Mommy, you can't see what I can over the back fence."

"Oh, Mommy, if everybody could see over the back fence, don't you think that would be the greatest thing that could happen? Don't you think that was what Jesus meant when He said, 'Go ye into all the world.'"

"Mommy, look over the back fence."

John Tells of Time Couldn't Find Place To Shut Off the Gas

Editor Record.

Marvin Cathcart in "ye olden time" was the leading, if not the only photographer in Buchanan, and as a side line played the fiddle and gave lessons to me as well as others. I have a very distinct recollection that on one cool day I rode our old black horse "Jack" to town and while busy with the lesson left Jack shivering at the hitch rail. When I was finished with the lesson Mr. Cathcart helped me in to the saddle, handed me the fiddle and in a very short time Jack was on the run for home as hard as he could go out west on Front street.

When along near the Detroit crossing my hat flew off, but no stop, until we had reached the turn on the Terre Coupe road I managed to keep him going west. When he saw something was wrong he stopped and after gattering the hat went home in no further rush. Some of the time I rode on the saddle and some time not, but stuck on top. That was about sixty-seven years ago, so far as I can figure.

It is a new deal for me to read of a man swinging a horse up in a sling in order to shoe him. There was a man named Hiram Baker, who had a hoisting frame for shoeing oxen, and so far as I knew, was the only one in the vicinity who did that sort of work. He was a Bakertown resident, and did general smithing.

Laws Now Stressing Tire Safety

The laws of an increasing number of states and cities are recognizing the fact that cheap and unsafe tires are the leading cause of accidents, other than those caused by careless acts of drivers. This bears out the experience of racing drivers, who in the early days called a racing "a race of tires."

For the past 15 years, Firestone has been vitally interested in providing the utmost safety in tires, for their tires have been on the winning cars at Indianapolis each year during that period. Firestone engineers recognized the fact that the higher speeds of modern cars would not only bring public opinion but legal action, to bear on the importance of safe tires for all motorists.

Minneapolis and St. Paul put on extensive campaigns in which police tagged worn and unsafe tires leaving a notice for the owner to replace the tires under penalty of a fine, if further check-ups found the matter unattended to. Some New England cities have recently taken legal steps to force drivers to obtain safe equipment. Other states have included tire equipment with such factors as brake inspection and headlight inspection in their safety campaigns.

England has laws covering use of unsafe tires.

A defective tire in Stockton, California, recently cost the owner $13,500! A judgment for that amount was returned against this owner after a blow-out caused her car to collide with another. The judge ruled that the cause, an unsafe tire, constituted negligence.

The chief cause of blowouts was found by Firestone engineers to be internal friction of the cords, causing heat. To counteract this, Firestone developed the patented Gum-Dipping process which soaks each cord in liquid rubber. This process also helps to weld the tire into one strong unit. Firestone is the only company using the process which adds eight pounds of pure rubber for every 100 pounds of cord. The proof of the effectiveness of this construction is the fact that all of the 33 racing drivers in the Indianapolis race this year chose Firestone tires and there was not a single tire failure.

COMPLETE PLANS NILES AVIATION CIRCUS JULY 1

Major Doolittle and Other Famous Stunt Flyers, Speed Demons to Provide Thrills.

By Dick Schram

Plans for the Niles Air Circus, under the direction of Duke Muller, airport manager, were completed early this week with the acceptance of Major James Doolittle, internationally known flyer, to attend the meet Sunday, July 1.

Major Doolittle, holder of many speed records, including the landplane speed record of 295 m. p. h., wired Mr. Muller early this week that he would attend the meet, and would fly the Lockheed Orion "Shallighting" in which he set many of the records. This ship, powered with a 750 horsepower engine, is the world's fastest commercial plane, having a high speed of 245 m. p. h.

Unlike the usual air show there will be no passenger carrying during the program, with no pauses between events. Because of the fact that the planes are out of sight of the spectators most of the time, there will be no races, the program offering three solid hours of stunts.

Among the noted pilots taking part are Lt. Rudy VanDeVer, reserve army air corps pilot, and Carl Hartley, national parachute jumping champion. Mr. Hartley will give an exhibition of aerial acrobatics that have destroyed two of his stunts planes in the last year, and including inverted stunt flying. Another feature of the 3 hour program is a demonstration of radioflying by Count Pierre Engeue Rehngall, well-known radio wizard. The Count will fly a plane directed by radio from the ground station at the field.

Immediately following the radio demonstration, Prof. Rellum of the Pennsylvania Aeronautical Institute, an associate of the Count, will demonstrate his theory that any normal person can fly a modern commercial plane from instructions offered in his book. Using his own book, Prof. Rellum will show the value of his theory in a new and startling manner.

As the climax to the three hours of thrills, Pilot Carl Hartley will attempt a plane change in mid-air, followed by a delayed parachute jump from the second plane. The change from one plane to the other will be accomplished without the aid of a parachute, as the parachute would be too cumbersome to manage. For this reason, the parachute jump will be made following the plane change, Mr. Hartley donning the chutes in the second plane.

The air show, including many more events than those mentioned, starts at 2 p. m. (C.D.T.) and costs 25c for adults, children admitted for 10c. Those attending are urged to come early, as State Police will be on hand to aid in parking.

Weeks Results In Softball Leagues

Car Makers Win from Biscuit Shooters
In the spectacular eleven-hour match, Ray Babcock's scrappy Clark Equipment team came from behind to stage a thrilling seventh-inning rally and defeat D's Cafe, with whom they were tied for second place, by a score of 6 to 4 Friday night at Athletic park.

It was one of the most thrilling contests seen this year in the Buchanan softball league. It was a pitcher's battle between Lawrence Heckathorne, Western State college star, who is a newcomer to the Cafe team, and pitched the round allowing but five hits, and Andy Freeling, the starting Clark pitcher, who allowed but three hits during the first four innings, and Stern Jesse, who pitched the last three innings for Clarks and held the foe scoreless and hitless during his incumbency.

The Cafes scored all four of their runs in the third and fourth innings, on two hits and as many errors. Letter and D. Topash scored in the third and Heckathorne and Freeling crossed the plate in the fourth. Clarks scored one in the fourth and another in the sixth, in the seventh, however, with one down the fireworks started. Heckathorne's support, faultless up to that time, wavered and B. Rotzien, P. Rotzien, Covert and Inhoff scored, due to a single hit, a double by Covert which scored the Rotzien brothers to tie the score, three errors and a passed ball. In the Cafe's half of the seventh, with one down, Mangold got to third and Eichel to second by virtue of a pair of Clark errors, but Jesse tightened up and retired Letter and Danny Topash to end the game.

By virtue of Friday's game, the Clarks retain undivided possession of second place in the league standings with four victories and one defeat for a percentage of .800 and the Cafes dropped from its second place tie to a tie for third place with the Farm Bureau Cowboys. Hollywood Theatre still leads the league with five victories and no defeats.

The score by innings:

	D's Cafe	002	200	0-4	R H E
Clarks	000	101	4-6	5 4

Batteries: Freeling, Jesse and B. Rotzien; Heckathorne and Penwell. Umpires, Dokey and Hawks.

Cowboys Lasso Riverside Ramblers

In a free hitting game in which the two teams accumulated 23 hits which accounted for 24 scores, the Farm Bureau Cowboys proved the tundra assaultants, at least they made twelve hits count for a greater number of runs and defeated the Riverside Ramblers, 15 to 9, in the nineteenth game on the 1934 schedule of the Buchanan softball league last Thursday night at Athletic park.

The Ramblers got to Jim Ellis, Cowboy linger, in the first inning, amassing four hits for as many runs, Painter, L. Sherburn and B. Sexton singling and M. Sexton following with a double. Babcock, Cowboy third baseman, doubled and scored a run in the first and in the second Corkhouse, Ellis and the Ramblers of the Cowboy crew, ambled home with three more markers to tie the count at 4-4, aided by a couple of hits, an error and a brace of walks. In the third, the Ramblers came back with three more runs, L. Sherburn and the Sexton brothers each crossed the plate to put the Ramblers in the lead, 7 to 4. However, this lead was only temporary, for the Cowboys went on another scoring rampage in their half of the third, and won four more scores went ahead, 8 to 7, and were never again headed.

The Cowboys scored one in the fourth, two in the fifth and four more in the sixth to turn the last half of what started as a "nip and tuck" affair into a walk-away for the Cowboy clan. The Ramblers scored two markers in the sixth after going scoreless in the fourth and fifth and left two men dying on the sacks as L. Sherburn made the final out of the inning by popping out to Babcock at third. Ellis, Cowboy linger, in the seventh, enabled the Ramblers to extend in the seventh, enabling the Cowboys to chalk up their third victory in five starts. It was the Ramblers' third defeat this season in five games.

L. Sherburn pitched a good specimen of ball excepting in the second, third and sixth when the Cowboy bats were unusually alert. Ellis, Cowboy moundsman, pitched good ball excepting when the enemy nicked his delivery for seven of their nine runs in the first and third.

Score by innings:

Cowboys	124 124 x-15 12 3
Ramblers	403 002 0-9 11 4

Gas Pumpers Trim Clowns.
Behind the sterling pitching of Pete Sinner, who struck out thirteen men and allowed but five scattered hits, Cities Service defeated Curly's Clowns, 9 to 2, in a regulation Buchanan softball league game Monday night at Athletic park.

However, in going down to defeat the Clowns, defeated now in six games, this season played a much more improved game than that exhibited in its last five starts when a total of 107 runs was scored against the club.

Walter Pfingst, on the mound for the Clowns, pitched good ball, but erratic support, coupled with Sinner's phenomenal pitching demonstration, lost him the game. Pfingst's team-mates made ten errors, while the pitcher was allowing but six hits, all of which were kept well scattered. The Service team scored three runs on two hits; in the first and three more on no hits in the third and two more in the fifth. The Clowns were held scoreless until the fifth, when Max Smith, who walked, and Boyce, given life by error of the catcher, scored on George's long single, threw second base. Sinner retired the side in order in the sixth and seventh. The game marked the Service team's second victory in six starts.

Score by innings:

	Service	301	320	0-9	6 2
Clowns	000	020	0-2	5 10

Batteries: P. Sinner and J. Sinner; W. Pfingst and Rossow. Umpires, Hawks and Simpson.

Cowboys Move Fast Up
Jim Ellis had his fast ball working perfectly at Athletic park on Tuesday night, allowing but five hits, while his team mates accumulated 12 solid singles off the combined pitching of Jess Brewer and Bill Schultz, and the Farm Bureau Cowboys went into third place in the Buchanan softball league to defeat the Bradley Hair Trimmers 8 to 4.

In just one inning did the Hair Trimmers do any damage. In the sixth they collected four hits to score all their four runs. In the fourth and fifth innings they were held scoreless and hitless save in the first when Batten singled only to be subsequently forced out at second. The Cowboys had their big inning in the fourth when Norman Barbour, Koenigshof and Ray Barbour scored on Koenigshof's triple and singles by Norman Barbour and F. Letter. They scored two more in the fifth, when R. Letter, who singled, and Koenigshof, who walked, scored on Letter's double to deep right center. Single runs in the second, third and sixth completed the day's scoring activities for the winners.

Tom Marrs, injected into the game at second for McIntosh, started the rally that brought in the Bradley team's four scores in the sixth. He opened the inning with a single through short. His brother, Sam Marrs, singled to left, Tommy drawing up at third. Brewer got life on Norman Barbour's error and the bases were full, with Tom Marrs holding third on the play. Eichel then cleared the sacks with a double to deep center scoring on two subsequent outfield outs, when Batten and Layman in turn, fled to Ray Barbour in center. Wolford singled, but a few moments later was forced at second, ending the inning and the Hair Trimmers' scoring activities for the day.

With one down J. Liska got to second on an error and wild pitch, both by Jim Ellis in the seventh, but Tommy Marrs and Sam Marrs went out in order, the first on strikes and the latter on a pop-up to Babcock at third.

Babcock Barbour, Koenigshof and Letter led the Cowboys' attack, each with two hits.

Score by innings:

	Cowboys	011	321	x-8	12 2
Bradleys	000	004	0-4	5 2

Batteries: Ellis and Koenigshof; Brewer, W. Schultz and Layman. Umpires, Simpson and Dokey.

"Safety First"

The bureau of mines says that the phrase "Safety First" became a national slogan in the year 1911, when the bureau of mines gave a national safety-test demonstration at Pittsburgh, Pa. Previous to this, the phrase "Safety Is the First Consideration" was used on the stationery and among the employees of the H. C. Frick Coke and Steel company of Pittsburgh and the Illinois Steel company of Chicago. But since the national demonstration these firms and a great many others dealing with safety appliances have adopted this phrase.

Pillar of Delhi

The wrought iron pillar of Delhi (the ancient capital of India), set up about 415 A. D. by Kumaragupta I, in honor of his father, is over 23 feet in height and weighs more than 6 tons. Its resistance to corrosion is a fact that has not so far been explained. An eminent metallurgist made a chemical analysis and a metallurgical examination of a specimen from the pillar and did not find anything which would explain its resistance to corrosion.—Washington Star.

Cause of Northern Lights.

Aurora Borealis or North Lights is a vast electrical discharge, but the exact nature is unknown. According to one theory, it is caused by the ascent of positive electricity from the surfaces of tropical waters, which flow toward the polar regions on high aerial currents, and there descend toward the earth and come in contact with the earth's negative electricity and produce luminous discharges.

Owls Forestall Rain.

When the loot owls hoot from their holes in the ground it is time to take tepees away from the lowlands and rivers. Owls have holes in the ground in the prairies where they emerge and hoot that is a sign to the Cheyenne Indians that there are rains and floods coming.

Moral Turpitude.

Moral turpitude is an act of baseness, villainy or depravity in the private and social duties which a man owes to his fellow man, or to society in general, contrary to the accepted and customary rule of right and duty between man and man.

Frank D. Hammond Out for Senate

Frank L. Hammond, practicing attorney of Benton Harbor for more than forty years and former probate judge of the county, today formally announced his candidacy for the State Senate on the Republican ticket.

His is the first candidacy to be announced for this Berrien-Cass post, one now held by Senator Leon Case, Democrat, of Watervliet, and two years ago held by the late Dr. J. G. Bonine of Cassopolis.

Veteran Among Attorneys

In point of years of practice Attorney Hammond is one of the deans of the Berrien legal profession. He was admitted to the practice of law forty-four years ago in 1890.

At that time he was a fledgling lawyer associated with the late Attorney Coy Hendryx of Dowagiac. He studied law under the Dowagiac attorney who was long prominent in that city, and was finally admitted to the bar, and for five years remained in Dowagiac. Then he came to Benton Harbor.

Long in Public Eye
Atty. Hammond has been in the public eye for many years. After coming to Benton Harbor, he opened an office with his brother, Attorney Al Hammond, now located in Arizona, under the firm name of Hammond & Hammond.

He served as justice of the peace in Benton Harbor for some two decades. Always active in Republican politics, he became a candidate for the office of probate judge and was elected, following former Probate Judge R. E. Barr in that office. He was re-elected for a second term, making eight years in all.

Retiring from that office, he resumed the practice of law in Benton Harbor. Later he was made city attorney by Mayor Stouck and held that post for two years. Judge Hammond is widely and favorably known in Berrien County, while he also has a large acquaintance in Cass County.

His friends believe he is exceptionally well qualified to fill the office because of his wide legal experience but because of his long contact with public affairs generally.

Questioned today about his platform, he said he had no pet hobby relating to government, but believed that when the state spends a dollar, it should get value received for it; that political positions should not be created merely for the purpose of giving some one a job; that the state should be operated on business principles the same as a successful private business is operated.

Live Without Food
Some cold-blooded animals can live without food for unbelievably long periods. Snails sometimes do not eat anything for five years at a time.

Racers From Young Sires
The Thoroughbred Record says that the horses bred for flat racing come usually from young sires and dams. The steeplechasers, in which great strength, courage and stamina are required, come, for the most part, from older parents.

GLENDORA KEEPS SPOTLESS RECORD IN SIXTH GAME

Buchanan Blues Nosed Out in 12 Innings of Thrilling Basketball.

In the kind of game that brings thrills to the heart of baseball fans, Glendora Wolverines maintained their lead in the Berrien County Community Enterprise league at Athletic Park Sunday afternoon, achieving their sixth straight victory of the year by taking a 12-inning encounter from Bob Reamer's Buchanan Blues, 5 to 4.

E. Hartline, Glendora's hard-hitting right fielder, collected two home runs and the second one of this brace of four-ply swats came in the eleventh inning after two were down to break a 4-4 tie that obtained since the eighth inning and decided the game.

It looked as though Buchanan might stage a typical Buchanan finish in the last of the twelfth. With two down and Wolford and Heckathorne on the sacks awaiting succor, "Lefty" Prinkert, Glendora hurler, who relieved Wykoff of the mound duties after the latter got into trouble in the tenth, walked Pfingst to get at Newman, a southpaw batter. However, Manprekter's strategy by sending in Derank, a right-hander to bat for Newman. But Reamer's counter strategy failed to work and Derank struck out with the bases loaded, ending the most thrilling game seen on the local grounds in several years.

Three times during the game Buchanan came from behind to tie the count. In the third, with the Blues trailing 1 to 0, Richter's double drove Heiermann home with lying markers and in both the sixth and eighth Eichenorn sent the tying run across the rubber on singles. Eichenorn, with four out of six, was the battling hero of the fray.

Feathers, right-handed speed-baller with a fast breaking hook, pitched excellently in his maiden start as a Blue Moundsman. He allowed but nine scattered hits, walked one man and struck out 11. Early in the game, five errors by his supporting cast kept getting him into trouble but in each instance he pulled himself out of those holes.

Hartline's home runs would nominally be two baggers on a regulation field, but in each case the ball was knocked into the tall weeds in deep left center field and was lost, the runner rounding the bases. After Hartline's second home run which won the game in the twelfth, Feathers set the next three batters down in order to end the inning and cast further disaster. However, the one overtime run was sufficient as later developments disclosed.

The game contained a fast double play, when Baldwin grabbed Wolford's line drive in the tenth and doubled Poplar off first.

Although it was the Blues' fourth defeat in six starts, the local team looked good in defeat and went down fighting hard and playing "heads up" baseball.

Buchanan plays at Lakeside next Sunday while Glendora will entertain Edgemoor on the Glendora diamond.

THE EAGLE FLAPPED HIS WINGS AND SCREAMED AT JULY 4 CELEBRATION ON WOODED HILL EAST OF TOWN IN '60

Description of An Old Time Patriotic Celebration in Buchanan with Oratorical Trimmings.

The Celebration
The day-dawn of the Fourth of July, 1860, was of rare beauty and surpassing loveliness; as if in answer to the prayers of millions of freemen "at home," and the thousands who have gone forth into all the world. On the previous evening when busy throngs had completed their arrangements for glorious demonstrations, the hydraulics and artillery of the upper world were put in requisition, to purify the heavens, and brighten the adornments of a rejoicing earth, and when the smiling face of "The land of the free and the home of the brave," was turned to receive her morning kiss from the god of day, all nature joined the refrain, "God bless our Stars forever!" Thus the angels sung sublime, When round God's forges flutters fast, The sparks of starry Time! When they fanned them with their pinions, Till they kindled into day, And revealed Creation's bosom, Where the infant Eden lay. 'Twas the echoes of the morning salute had ceased to vibrate, it was evident that the hearts of our people beat a quick response in honor of their father's deeds, and the streets of our village soon presented a lively scene.

At an early hour the Carlisle Hill Brass Band arrived in their band cartage, escorted by Marshall Knight, and the Rolling Prairie Brass Band, in like conveyance, followed by a lengthy train, under the escort of assistant marshalls, Molsberry and Hamilton.

In the meantime we had been put to our wits end to imagine the construction of a thermometer that would measure the heat of enthusiasm that had been excited by the street drilling of our impromptu Military company, under the command of Capt. Geo. H. Richards, to the music of our military band. And such music. Whose soul is so dead as to fail to solve the almost incomprehensible problem of the enthusiasm and endurance of "The old continentals."

In their ragged regimentals—"in an atmosphere, quivering with such an inspiration, and beneath the glorious stars and stripes. At 10 o'clock the procession was formed as announced. The highest degree of order and precision was attained in all of its movements during the day by the efficiency of the Marshall and his assistants. A most favorable location had been selected for the exercises, in a dense grove on the hill, a little east of the village, and in the judgment of the committee seats were provided for the accommodation of as many as would be present, but the crowd swelled to such an extent that much the greater portion of the congregation were obliged to remain standing.

Exercises in the Grove
The "Star Spangled Banner" by the Juvenile Misses was sung in a manner that told of the efficiency of our Union School, in that department, and excited hope for Buchanan in the future.

The prayer by Rev. Mr. Sherwood was well expressed and suited to the occasion. The Ship of State by the Roe Glee club, elicited universal admiration.

The Declaration was announced by Dan Terriere, Esq., in a manner which carried the mind back to the days that tried men's souls, and we hope kindled new love for the glorious old instrument. "E Pluribus Unum" by the Excelsior Glee Club, was heightened in its beauty by superiority of performance, and after the oration—dinner being a little tardy was res—

AT THE THEATRE

"Spitfire," Dynamic New Role for Katharine Hepburn

Dressed in gingham, her hair flying in the wind, hurling epithets loving like a minx, and hating like a devil, Katharine Hepburn, as Trigger Hicks, in the RKO-Radio picture, "Spitfire," comes to the Hollywood Theatre next Sunday for three days in what is said to be the most difficult role of her brilliant career. In this picturization of the Broadway stage hit, "Trigger," Miss Hepburn, battles men, mobs, the devil, and love itself, and makes you believe in her. The story of this beautiful mountain "witch," whose naive, temperamental, and personality combine wickedness and purity, thrades and beneficent prayers, lies and truths, thefts and philanthropies, hate and all-consuming love, will hold you spellbound for its sheer story value and over-abundance of human interest qualities.

Playing opposite Miss Hepburn in important supporting roles are Ralph Bellamy and Robert Young. As an added treat for Hollywood patrons, the management reports that Rev. Father Coughlin in "The Fighting Priest," will be shown in addition to a variety of other short subjects, news reel and the feature production of "Spitfire." The above subjects is the one and only ever made by Father Coughlin and includes many interesting highlights of his radio and pulp career, both on and off the air.

Hilarious comedy situations with snappy, rollicking dialogue punctuate James Cagney's latest starring vehicle for Warner Bros., "Jimmy, The Gent," which comes to the Hollywood tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday as the first feature of another outstanding double feature bill. A unique and unusual theme is developed in "Jimmy, The Gent." The story deals in a highly humorous vein with the racket of digging up lost heirs to cash in on vast inheritances for which there are no claimants. Ken Maynard's newest Western thrill and action film, "Gun Justice," comes as feature number two, with Cecilia Parker in support of Ken and Harlan, the Horse.

Telling the intimate story of the life of a world famous dancer, George Raft's latest starring picture for Paramount, "Bolero," comes on Bargain Nights next week Wednesday and Thursday as the Hollywood's 4th of July Special offering. The picture features Carole Lombard, Sally Rand, the fan dancer, and Frances Drake in addition to Raft.

It reveals the long struggle for success by an ambitious youth who finally achieves fame only by denying his emotions, by trampling on the hearts of the beautiful women who help him on his way to the top. "Bolero" is an outstanding film attraction, ordinarily suitable for a longer run, and is given to Buchanan theater goers for the 4th as a celebration film event. It is something to see by virtue of its novel and intriguing story, dance numbers, etc.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

A COMMENT ON EDUCATION

Elsewhere in this issue is printed an article on the Benton Harbor plan of linking courses with reliable correspondence schools with the high school curriculum. The following very pertinent comment on current education is taken from a recent book, "More Power to You," by Walter B. Pitkin, professor in the departments of philosophy and journalism at Columbia University:

"The supreme tragedy of American education springs from the lamentable failure of our schools to drill pupils in genuine, well-planned adaptability to life. Perhaps no more lavish waste of human energy can be found in the chronicles of mankind than that of the past 40 years of consistent, enthusiastic, expensive and grandiose mistreatment of a hundred million young people. At a cost of sixty billion dollars in that period we have succeeded in raising a generation of incompetent, confused, disillusioned and rebellious adults. The two worst possible mistakes were made. In the first place, none of the basic habits has been thoroughly established, so that successful, easy functioning follows, and in the second place, the habits for the supposed versatile spread have been in the main petty, pretty and with few important linkages to life.

"In the high school the commonest policy is to offer the young a taste of this and a taste of that, with the idea that he is to broaden his horizons and ascertain, by much sampling, what he likes and dislikes. In order to sample everything in sight, the youth must be offered a very tiny draught from the largest possible number of fountains. His days are a cluster of five, six, seven and eight courses. He flits from French at nine to European history at ten; then on to algebra at eleven, to civics at one, and after that to a couple of hours either in the manual training shop or the gymnasium. ... 'Most youths come out of high school totally unprepared for a life of pleasure, profit, fame or fortune. They have dabbled about and become masters of dabbling—a useful habit in its place but hardly one of use in making a living or developing a wholesome attitude toward society.'

HIGH POINTS OF NATIONAL HOUSING ACT

Appointment of Harry L. Hopkins as Administrator.
A $200,000,000 fund under his jurisdiction to insure losses by private lending institutions in advancing funds for "installment buying" of home repairs and improvements.

A mutual mortgage insurance fund, also under the administrator, to insure first mortgages on homes and second mortgages on low cost housing projects. It will apply to mortgages up to $16,000, amortized over a twenty year period and representing not more than 80 per cent of the valuation of new homes.

Authority for the creation under the administrator of $5,000,000 national mortgage associations by private individuals to buy first mortgages in a manner similar to the way the Federal Reserve Bank discounts commercial paper.

A savings and loan insurance corporation with a capital stock of $100,000,000 to insure accounts up to $5,000 in savings and loan associations comparable to the insurance of bank deposits.

Additional borrowing power for the HOLC making $3,000,000,000 in all, with the fund for repair loans on refinanced loans increased from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000.

State Cement Plant at Chelsea to be Sold July 1

Following a legislative decree that "It must either be sold, operated or dismantled by July 1, 1934," the State Administrative Board opened bids on the old Chelsea Cement plant, referred them to the finance committee with power to act.

The Board's action is just about the last chapter in the story of the old cement plant which was put in operation some 10 years ago, experienced ups and downs and gained the reputation of being the state's biggest White Elephant. The finance committee can either accept or reject the three highest bids for the property which includes some 20 buildings, an 800 acre land tract and a good sized inland lake. If the bids are unsatisfactory, then the committee has the alternative to have the plant dismantled by prison labor and salvaged for what the state can secure out of it.

The three high bids were from Norman Levy, Chicago, $41,250; Michigan Portland Cement Co., $40,100 and Joseph E. Zilk, Ann Arbor, $40,000.

There was no intimation from Levy whether he intends to operate the plant or dismantle it. The Michigan Portland Cement Co. is a new organization and they intimidated through their attorney that the plant would be operated for the manufacture of cement. The Zilk bid is for the operation of the plant as a fertilizer manufactory.

He Reads Best Who Reads for Good Entertainment

Part of the entertainment value of many of the great books of literature, particularly the great novels, lies in their intimacy, declares a writer in the Washington Star.

It would be a terrible thing, would it not, for the average honest person to go through life without once having seen discussed in print the many interesting phases of life and living which he sees and knows about, but which he is reticent about?

The greatest fiction of all lands attained that high rank in part because its writers were unafraid of a possible voice of hypocrisy which would pretend to be shocked.

No better course for honesty of thought, for integrity of intelligence, is to be recommended to anyone than the genuinely great works of fiction.

Written in every tongue, gathered in all lands where men love great books, these stand high in moral as well as in entertainment value.

The intellectually honest reader finds himself at home when he reads such a book. Its very outspokenness is entertaining.

He reads best who reads to be entertained, knowing that the proper enjoyment of the good things of life, among which number are books, is to be commended.

The art of good reading of good books comes in securing the greatest entertainment from them, at the same time one gives the best that is in him, in mind and heart, and spirit, if you please, to the reading.

Some Fish Give Electric Shock That Kills Others

Among the most curious branches of the fish family are those able to give electric shocks powerful enough to kill small fish and which are very painful to larger mammals. There are three known branches of these electrical denizens of the deep, says Pathfinder Magazine. The electric ray fish lives apart from the other members of the ray family and usually inhabits the deep waters of the warmer seas. There are about 20 known species of this ray and some of these snub nosed fish reach a weight of 200 pounds.

The electric eels inhabit the rivers, swamps and lagoons of Brazil. Many of them grow to be six inches thick and six feet in length. There is but one member of the catfish family equipped with electrical organs and these are found in the Nile, Niger and Congo basins of Africa. They are similar in appearance to the other members of the catfish family and have several antennae extending from the snout. They are the smallest of the electric fish, seldom growing over 30 inches in length.

Mystery Dwarfs of Santo Tiniest People in World

There is in the dense inland forests of Santo, the largest island in the New Hebrides, a race of dwarfs who are the smallest people on earth. The pygmies of the Congo forests discovered by Stanley in 1877 average around four feet in height, notes a writer in the Montreal Herald, but the average stature of the Santo dwarfs is only three feet six inches, judging by the few specimens seen and measured by white men.

Hardly anything is known of their mode of living, as they haunt forest fastnesses. To follow them would be to court death, for they impregnate the tips of their tiny arrows, projected through blowpipes, with some unknown vegetable poison. It is so deadly that the slightest scratch from one speedily proves fatal. Moreover, these little people are intensely hostile to strangers and shoot them on sight. The more civilized natives, dwelling along the seashore, assert that they are cannibals.

Ethnologists are trying to discover how the Santo dwarfs managed to reach their present home. For they are an inland-dwelling race; true forest pygmies. They own no canoes and have no knowledge of navigation. Yet obviously they have come from some other part of the tropics, for in features they are similar to the African pygmies and quite unlike the Melanesian peoples by whom they are surrounded.

Southern Arabia Yields Incense, Myrrh and Aloe

Few of the present day know even the name of this land. Yet once it was rich, with a highly developed culture. One of the high roads of the Old World, the trade route from India and Persia to Egypt and Syria, and to the other countries around the Mediterranean, ran through Hadramaut (southern coast of the Arabian peninsula); and it supplied its own fragrant contribution to that ancient world commerce—a contribution not great in extent, but vast in significance, says a writer in the National Geographic Magazine. Incense trees grew along the barren, rocky plateaus and in the scorching heat of the wadies (dry river beds). And woe to him who, uninitiated, tried to collect the valuable product, for, sooner or later, he perished from thirst and exhaustion.

The gathering of incense, myrrh and aloe remained a work for those trained in the hard and difficult art of traveling over the endless plains of stone, and through the wadies, with their perpendicular walls and deadly heat that drives man to despair. These products of wondrous odor, destined for the service of God and the dead, carry with them something of the mystery of their land of origin.

Very Old City in Bolivia

When the Spaniards entered the region now known as Bolivia they found a very old city, Tihaunaco, near Lake Titicaca. The huge stone blocks of the buildings were held in place with great silver and copper staples. Plunder being the object of the Spaniards, they prized these metal staples loose and carried them off, leaving the massive walls to topple. It is difficult to judge the age of the city. The ancient Tihaunacotians used a sun dial, and a German scientist and astronomer has made calculations to determine how far the axis of the earth has shifted since their sun dial stood in its proper relation to the poles. At first he used a formula adopted by the French Society of Astronomers, and he obtained 12,000 years as the city's age.

Marine Hospitals

The division of marine hospitals and relief is a branch of the United States public health service. This organization had its origin in the Marine hospital service, which was established by an act of congress approved July 16, 1793. In 1902 the name of the organization was changed to the public health and marine hospital service, and in 1912 changed again to the United States public health service. At first marine hospitals were financed through a tax of 20 cents per month, which was later increased to 40 cents, deducted from the wages of each seaman and collected by the collector of customs. Subsequently this was replaced by a tonnage tax, and finally, about 60 years ago, by direct appropriations out of the United States treasury.

"Griggle" Apples

The "griggle" tart still survives in the villages of the west of England, but elsewhere it is almost unknown. It had its origin in the old harvest custom of farmers opening their apple orchards to the villagers after the crop had been gathered. It was the practice of farmers to leave on the trees all the small and misshapen fruit. On the appointed day for the "griggle," as it was called, the villagers arrived with baskets, hooks, sticks, and short ladders to gather the "griggle" apples. In good seasons, when the farmer was not particular in picking the undersized fruit, the villagers went home with well-filled baskets, and "griggle tarts" were made.

First Factory Made Cheese

Production of cheese as a factory product first made its appearance in America between 1850 and 1860, says Pathfinder Magazine. No mention is made of factory made cheese in the census bureau statistics of 1849 in its first report of this industry; only the amount produced on the farms is mentioned. Factory production of cheese was first included in the census bureau surveys in 1890. During the early history of this country every big farm had its own cheese press, and the farmer's family added cheesemaking to the long list of its other accomplishments, such as spinning, weaving, carpet making, soap making, bee keeping, candle making, cider making, etc.

Relics Aid Church Restoration

Finding of relics during a war on the death watch beetle resulted in the restoration of the south chapel of St. Mary's church, in Callington, England, to exactly what it was in 1438, when the church was consecrated. During the restoration of the old wagon roof, which had been practically destroyed by the beetle, an ancient plectra and a massive altar stone were found. The altar slab was discovered some time ago at the back of the belfry, where it was being used as a stepping stone. All these and other finds have been placed in their original position so that the chapel is as it was nearly 500 years ago.

Oxygen Taken Into Body

Amounts of oxygen taken into the body is one of the differences between the weak and strong. The quantity of carbohydrates and sugars in the food limits the capacity for work.

Definition of Calorie

A calorie is the unit by which the heat or energy-producing value of food is measured. Only carbohydrates, fats and proteins are considered in analyzing foods from this point of view, since water, minerals and vitamins provide neither heat nor energy.

Christian Science Churches
"Christian Science" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 1.

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Ps. 40:10) "I have not hid thy righteousness within my heart; I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation; I have not concealed thy loving kindness and thy truth from the great congregation."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 110): "In following these leadings of scientific revelation, the Bible was my only text book. The Scriptures were illumined; reason and revelation were reconciled, and afterwards the truth of Christian Science was demonstrated."

Seventh Day Adventist Sabbath School Saturday at 10 a. m. Lesson study, "The Sin and Error of the Last Days." Scripture 2 Tim. 3.

Note: "All these evils are to be metest themselves among church members, professors, Christians. 'They have a form of godliness,' but deny 'the power thereof; they keep up a make-believe of piety, and yet live in defiance of its power; they keep up a form of religion; yet they will have nothing to do with it as a force; they have an appearance of religion, while denying its power; they keep up the forms of religion while resisting its influence.' Verses 1-5 is God's own photograph of religious conditions which were to prevail in 'the last days.' That it is a good likeness can be readily seen by a comparison of religious conditions with its clear statements."

Preaching service at 11:15. Subject, "The longest time-prophecy in the Bible."

Methodist Episcopal Church
Thomas Rice, Minister
Sunday School and morning worship will be combined, the service beginning at 10 o'clock and closing not later than 11:30. The special music will be a solo number by Miss Lena Leiter. Mr. Rice will speak briefly on "Light." Try and attend this service. It will do you good.

Epworth League at 6:30. Young people will find this meeting quite attractive, even on hot days the basement of the church is cool and pleasant.
Evening service at 7:30. Members of our choir are furnishing very interesting and helpful numbers for the Sunday evening service. This Sunday, Arthur Mann is in charge and he has asked Arthur Johnston to give a vocal number. Bring the family for this hour of worship. Subject of address, "The Movies and Morals."

The Golden Rule S. S. class, Mrs. Rose Rice, teacher, will meet at the church at 6:30 p. m. Friday for a hike and breakfast at Clear Lake. Service at Oronoko at 9 a. m.

The duet given by the Misses Betty and Irah Clarkson was greatly enjoyed by everyone present. These splendid Chicago friends add much to the pleasure and worship of members and friends of this little church.

LEO SLATE IS ADVANCED ON CAMP MADRON STAFF

Bill Habicht, Ted Lyon, Albert Webb, Edward Donley Named on Staff; Camp Opens Sunday.

With Madron's opening date set for next Sunday the Executive Council is announcing the staff for the summer camp. The Scout Executive Oscar Noll will again direct the camp the coming season. This is Mr. Noll's fourteenth year as a director of Scout Camps.

Leo Slate of Buchanan will have charge of the Advancement, First Aid and Indian Lore. Mr. Slate has been on Mr. Noll's staff for several seasons and is well trained for the work he handles. Harold Marsten of Niles will handle the supervision of the grounds and be in charge of the activities. Mr.

Marsten is Scoutmaster of Troop No. 76 of Niles, one of the most successful troops of the Area. Louis Sponer of Benton Harbor will have charge of the waterfront and with him will be associated the following: William Habicht, Ted Lyon of Buchanan, Marion Rector and David Oughton of Dowagiac. The waterfront program will be expanded a great deal this year and this necessitates more supervision. The camp has won the American Red Cross banner each year for its efficiency and will be in line for the prize again this year. Albert Webb of Buchanan, a young man who has attained the Eagle rank and who has always worked in scouting, will have charge of the boats, canoes and sail boat. He will supervise instruction in their uses. The handicraft department will be handled by Edward Donley of Buchanan, and will be assisted by Clare Lee of Dowagiac and Donald Shafer, Buchanan. Dick Hill, St. Joseph, will be the Bugler, and Thornton Edwards, Niles, will be the clerk and manager of handicraft sales. He has been at Madron for several years. Leon Burgoyne, an Eagle Scout from Berrien Springs, will be the quartermaster, and Bernard Schulke of Niles will be in charge of the Nature work. Mrs. E. Noll of Dowagiac, who has cooked at Madron for the past six years, will again be in charge of the cooking. Howard Edwards of Niles will be the assistant. He also has had several years of experience. Madron has been successfully operated during the past six years and since the new camp was built had been one of the most popular camps in the country. During the past three years it has won the National Rating of "A," the highest conferred on any camp. The state health department rates it one of the best also. Last year over 3,000 visitors registered at the camp during the season, and the programs put on each Tuesday and Friday proved very popular. The camp always puts on a special program on the waterfront Tuesday and Friday. The program concludes with a Court of Honor.

Much is to be done along the Indian line this year. The Scouts will put on several pageants as well as ritual programs at the camp fires. Costumes will be made in the craft department this year. This will be entirely new. Many other new features will be worked out in the crafts also.

The program for the older boys will be very unique this year in that they will have much more free time and will be allowed special privileges. The camp is divided into four Indian villages, the Cherokee, the Sioux, the Iroquois and the Potawatomi. The first Cub period and several of the scout periods are filled to capacity at the present time, and with registrations coming in in large numbers it is expected that the camp will be filled to capacity by the end of the week. Those who are contemplating on attending should get in line with the Area Scout Executive at once.

SENTIMENT GROWS FOR TRIAL OF HARBOR PLAN CORRESPONDENCE COURSES THROUGH LOCAL SCHOOLS

System Initiated by Supt. Mitchell in Berrien City Gains Headway Through Nation.

Since the talk made by Superintendent Stanley Mitchell of Benton Harbor before the local Lions Club there has been a growing sentiment among the members of the organization in favor of a trial of the "Benton Harbor plan" in the local schools.

A recent development in high school instruction methods which had its birth in Michigan is giving promise of becoming a major factor in secondary education throughout the United States. Known as the Benton Harbor Plan of Supervised Correspondence Instruction, it has received its latest impetus thru inclusion by Teachers College, Columbia University, of a course in supervised correspondence instruction procedure in the 1934 Summer School curriculum. With school boards bogged in the problem of maintaining schools through next winter on reduced budgets, supervised correspondence instruction appears to offer a practical solution for many communities.

The Benton Harbor Plan was initiated by S. C. Mitchell, Superintendent of Schools, Benton Harbor, Michigan, eleven years ago, since that time it has spread gradually throughout the country until today it is used in about 100 high schools. Basically it consists of an arrangement between the local high school and a recognized correspondence school or university extension division, whereby the high school is able to include in the curriculum, courses which it otherwise would not be able to afford. One student or a group of students are able to take specialized courses to fit them for a vocation or to meet their particular interests.

In general it has been found that costs per pupil for supervised correspondence study run from a fourth to a third the cost of regularly taught high school subjects. A Michigan State Committee of Educators appointed to study the plan, has reported among its advantages the fact that it broadens the scope of the high school curriculum, that students are able to take the courses they are interested in at the time they are needed, that each can progress as rapidly as time, energy and ability permit, and that the cost to the school system is lower than for ordinary high school subjects.

Within the last few years the University of Nebraska through its extension division has adopted the principles of the Benton Harbor Plan. In a number of small high schools within the state to provide courses their funds would not otherwise permit. As a rule supervised correspondence courses have been in technical or vocational subjects, although the University of Nebraska has offered high school courses in English literature, Algebra, French, Trigonometry and General Science.

The plan is fundamentally simple in operation. A prominent part in developing it has been taken by the International Correspondence Schools, of Scranton, Pennsylvania, and the system in use between the International Correspondence Schools and the local high schools is generally followed. The lessons are prepared at Scranton and are sent at the proper intervals to the instructor appointed by the local school administration to supervise the correspondence courses. The instructor forwards the completed students papers to Scranton, where they are graded, and from where they are returned to the students through the instructor. The International Correspondence Schools alone offer courses in some 400 subjects, the student's field of choice is tremendously expanded.

It is not necessary that the instructor should have any special knowledge of the subjects. His duties, beyond those mentioned, are few, though important. They are, in general, to see that the student has easy access to the necessary study materials under conditions that encourage study, and that he is helped over any temporary difficulties. Since the instructor is relieved of the routine of correcting papers and formulating each day's lessons, he is able to devote himself fully to the creative aspects of his work.

During the eleven years the plan has been in effect at the Benton Harbor High School where it originated, well over 600 students have enrolled in supervised correspondence courses. These have ranged from architectural drafting and radio to business management and commercial art. As many as 130 students have been enrolled at one time, each working independently of the others, moving through the course at his best rate of speed, without the slowing down of the more brilliant students because of the slower progress of the others. Superintendent Mitchell reports that the average cost per pupil per year is about $7.01 compared with $25 for the regularly taught academic high school subjects.

The United States Office of Education has published a bulletin entitled, "High School Instruction by Mail—A Potential Economy." In the bulletin Walter H. Gaumnitz, Senior Specialist in Rural Education Problems, says, "Perhaps the best answer to the query of whether or not high school instruction by correspondence is feasible is that this procedure is already in wide use and that the movement is constantly growing. More pupils are enrolling in such courses, larger numbers of high schools are experimenting with these courses and the educational literature is giving more and more attention to the movement."

AS thirty-three speed demons raced and slid around the steep banked curves of the hot brick track, tires shrieked and smoked... break-neck speeds, 150 miles and more down the straightaway—tremendous centrifugal force tugging to rip the tread from the body of the tire. In fact, every conceivable force worked to tear the tire to pieces, but not one cord loosened—not one tread separated—and not a single blowout. What amazing proof of Tire Strength—Safety—Quality and Dependability.

Every one of the thirty-three drivers at the Indianapolis 500-mile sweepstakes chose and bought Firestone High Speed Tires. The fact that not one of the 132 tires failed is your greatest guarantee of the Extra Safety—Strength—and Dependability built into Firestone Tires.

The New Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 is Safety-Protected on the outside by a wider tread of flatter contour, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage—Safety-Protected on the inside by eight additional pounds of pure rubber absorbed by every 100 pounds of cords. PLAN TO KILL CODDLING MOTH BY ELECTROCUTION

New Method May Eliminate Half of Labor of Fruit Farmer in Spraying His Orchards.

Those who object to worms in their apples (others will not be interested) might like to know that an experiment is being tried out at the fruit farm of William Weiser, two miles south of Scottsdale relative to the control of coddling moth by electrocution instead of by the spraying which has been the standard method of control for many years.

The Indiana & Michigan Electric Company is installing 50 150-watt electric light bulbs in the orchard, each light being hung in the wire cage with the wires charged with a heavy voltage of electricity. The principle is that the moths in pursuing their customary practice of flying about the lights will be electrocuted by the charged wires. The system of 100 lamps will care for 300 apple trees, it is believed.

If this method proves efficacious it will eliminate over half the work of the fruit farmer in orchard spraying. The coddling moth is the greatest single enemy of the apple raiser, as it is responsible for the worms that infest apples. It is quite usual for the fruit farmer to spend $1.50 per apple tree in the spray material alone, not counting the labor.

The new method is already in use on a limited scale in the Mosher and Warsco orchards near Berrien Center. It has been tried more extensively in New York state, where some success has been achieved, but as yet it is in the initial stage. This is the first use of the method in Michigan.

THE IDEAL VACATION LAND

Out-of-state relatives and friends will thank you for suggesting a "Vacation in Michigan."

Only a few hours away from any part of the midwest, this lake-bordered state offers a reasonably priced vacation among ideal surroundings. Its lakes, streams and beaches, primeval forests and modern resorts, hospitable towns and cities and great manufacturing plants add to its charm and interest. Splendid highways and boat and rail lines make it easily accessible.

Michigan's tourist and resort business brings large sums of money to the state each year. It provides employment for thousands, and greater prosperity for all of us. We can increase that business further by telling out-of-state friends about Michigan's vacation advantages, and by spending our own vacations here.

And, no matter which part of Michigan you visit this summer, banish worry by telephoning home and office frequently. Call ahead for reservations, or to tell friends you are coming. Long Distance calls will add but little to the cost and much to the enjoyment of your vacation.
