WHO REMEMBERS WHEN BUCHANAN HAS HAD A MAN IN COUNTY ATTORNEY'S OFFICE?

Since the days when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary it has been in the nature of an unwritten law that important positions in the courthouse should be filled by incumbents from north and east of the St. Joseph river.

This year Buchanan will have a similar opportunity to invade the geographical precedent that seems to govern Berrien politics, this time to vote for a man who is their fellow citizen and the only local candidate.

GALIEN-BUCHANAN BANK RECEIVES INSURANCE SIGN

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Insures Deposits Local Bank up to $5,000.

The Galien-Buchanan State Bank today received from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation at Washington the official signs which will hang at all receiving windows as visible evidence that the depositors of this institution are insured.

The Galien-Buchanan State Bank is one of more than fourteen thousand licensed banks in this country which are receiving these signs.

The purpose of the signs is to let depositors know which banks are insured. Heretofore, although 90% of the licensed banks are insured, depositors have had no easy means of identifying them.

Four new instructors will serve in the faculty of the Buchanan schools for the year which opens Tuesday, Sept. 4, according to an announcement by Supt. Stark.

G. O. P. RALLY AT TWIN CITIES SEPTEMBER 5

Senator Dickinson, Keynote of 1932 Republican National Convention, is Speaker.

Republicans of the Fourth congressional district will stage a giant pre-primary rally on Sept. 5, in Benton Harbor, for which the keynote speaker will be Senator Lester J. Dickinson of Iowa.

The scheduled speaker, now serving his fourth year of a first term in the United States Senate, is famous as a man who acted as temporary chairman of the Republican National Convention in Chicago in 1932.

The Naval Reserve Armory on Cass street will be the scene of the evening speaking program. Arrangements are being made for 2,500 people to be seated in the armory building, and loud speakers will carry Senator Dickinson's message to the overflow crowd in Hall park.

A mammoth parade will precede the formal program. Several bands and drum-and-bugle corps will lead the procession of marching units and decorated floats and automobiles.

Attorney Robert Small, chairman of the Young Republicans executive committee is in charge of plans for the affair, to which all Republicans of the six counties in the Fourth Congressional district are invited.

BRIDGMAN FALL FESTIVAL OPENS FRIDAY, AUG. 31

County Horseshoe Tournament, Free Entertainment and Carnival to Feature Event.

Four days and nights of carnival will open in Bridgman Friday afternoon with the second annual Bridgman Fall Festival. General chairman Torsten Ohlsson announced today that many novel features have been planned to make the affair entertaining to young and old.

A huge Ferris wheel and the latest type of Merry-go-round arrived this week and will provide thrills above the ordinary for pleasure seekers. A special kiddie ride has been imported for the amusement of the younger set.

The annual tournament for the championship of Berrien county will be held Labor Day, Sept. 3. The Community Enterprise cup symbolizing the county championship will be held at stake and the contests will all be held on the local regulation courts.

Many Free Acts including boxing, wrestling, vaudeville, band music etc., will be presented from Bridgman's open air stage in the center of town every night. Some of the finest fight cards to be seen in the county may be seen here gratis.

Friday the Democratic political candidates will make public appearances from the stage and on Saturday the Republicans will be introduced, permitting the voters of the community to become closer acquainted with the men, some of whom will be their representatives.

Many interesting concessions will line the street providing fun for all.

The town will be appropriately decorated and lights for the occasion and ample parking facilities provided. The people of Berrien County are invited to join Bridgman in four days of clean entertainment.

Young People Hold Rousing Rally at Church of Christ

There were 150 young people who attended the C. E. rally held Friday evening at the Church of Christ. There was a spirit of enthusiasm and worship throughout. The opening song service was led by Miss Marie Montgomery, who during the past week attended the Lake James Christian Assembly near Angola, Ind.

The church was decorated in red and white—the C. E. colors. A large electric "C. E." was placed just above the pulpit with the words above it: "I'll Put Jesus First."

The church was decorated in red and white with all the decorations leading to a bright red and white sign with these words printed upon it: "I'll Put Jesus First."

Following the worship service all had a wonderful time in the basement during the social hour. Stunts were presented by the all various groups present. The meeting closed with singing choruses and eating ice cream and cake.

Then all stood and sang "Following Jesus" and all prayed together the C. E. benediction.

No Pekingese in China

Although the Pekingese, which is generally acknowledged to possess the longest ancestry of any toy breed of dogs, originated in China the species is said to be practically extinct in that country.

Infected Meat Dangerous

Avoidance of trichinosis is so simple that no one need fear it, if he makes sure to eat no pork except that which has been thoroughly cooked. Most cases of trichinosis seem to result from the eating of uncooked summer sausage and raw or imperfectly cooked smoked meats, though any part of an infected animal is equally dangerous.

Tanning Process Has Changed

The earliest tanning consisted of placing skins in pits between layers of bark. One of the most important developments in American tanning history was the introduction of leaching, in which the tannin content was extracted from the bark, which permitted placing skins in tanning liquors.

ISO-VIS "D" DOOMS SLUDGE. THE OIL-EATER!

Sludge causes high oil consumption. Piston rings clogged with sludge pump oil—cause needless waste. Put Iso-Vis "D" in—keep sludge out!

VET STANDARD'S FAMOUS ANTI-SLUDGE MOTOR OIL IS "PREMIUM QUALITY" IN EVERY RESPECT

If the price of Iso-Vis "D" were 31c, or even 36c a quart, you'd still be getting the finest motor-oil value on the market. At the price you pay for it today it's a downright bargain!

When you buy Iso-Vis "D" you get the very latest development in fine, sturdy lubrication for automobile engines—a motor oil treated by the patented Propane Dewaxing and Chlorex Extraction process. That gives it a unique quality—it will not sludge even under the hardest, hottest driving! Furthermore, it deposits almost no carbon, and its "body" doesn't thin out dangerously under heat or thicken greatly in cold. All these advantages go to make up the most economical fine-lubrication you can buy.

Next time you drive into a Standard Oil Station ask them to show you Iso-Vis "D." It's always ready, in accurately measured glass bottles, so you can see the clear, glistening good oil that you are getting. You'll like its looks. You'll like the way it behaves in your engine. Try it!

BLUES; ARROWS CLASH IN SECOND OF TITLE SERIES

Reamer's Team Strengthened Since Losing to Arrows Here on July 4th.

What is expected to be the base ball classic of the year here will be played at Athletic Park next Monday afternoon, Labor Day, when the Buchanan Blues, which finished in fourth place in the Community League which just completed its season, and the Buchanan Arrows, victorious in its last ten starts and winner in eleven of its fifteen games this season, will meet for the second time this year in a game which will have an important bearing in the city championship.

The Arrows won the first game in the city title series, 3 to 4, on July 4, last, and, should the Hittle team again win, the city championship would go, without further contest, to the Arrows. In case of a victory Monday by Reamer's team, a third game will be necessary to decide the title.

The Blues, since they met the Arrows, on the previous occasion, have been greatly strengthened. Although Dick Montague, pitching for the Harrisburg team in the New York-Pennsylvania League, and Bob Decker, playing outfield for the Worcester team of the New England league, have been signed by Reamer and will appear in Blue livery after their league seasons close, it is not expected they will be available for the game with the Arrows Monday. However, the Blues will have a good, strong front and will give the Arrows a good battle. The same batteries will start in Monday's game that were used in the previous game. Feathers will pitch for the Blues and Richter will catch. Deranek, youthful southpaw, will be held in Reserve for relief work. Hittle plans to start Jesse, who defeated the Blues before, with August Topash catching his offerings. Danny Topash may get into the game as relief pitcher if the going gets too rough for Jesse. The game will start at 2:30. On Sunday the Blues will engage the Dayton Tigers, the team that finished in seventh place in the Community League. This game will be played in Dayton. The Arrows will journey to Niles Sunday where they will meet the National Standards, a team that defeated the Arrows, 23 to 5, here, June 3, last.

Each Sunday games are scheduled to start at 2:30. Reamer's team will play a series with the Buchanan Co-ops later, and the Arrows have a single game with the Co-ops in September.

Hittle will lose three of his star players after Labor Day, when Decds, shortstop; Mangold, second baseman; and Danny Topash, pitcher, will leave the team to take up their studies as senior students at Buchanan high school, where they are expected to star in three sports during the coming school year.

Handsome Old World Pheasant

The Imperial pheasant, of the Asiatic countries, will never be a game bird in America. It is too difficult to rear in captivity and is highly susceptible to common barn yard fowl diseases. It is among the handsomest of the old world pheasants.

COMMUNITY FAIR TO OPEN IN THREE OAKS WEDNESDAY

Good Racing Card, Free Acts, Field Exhibits, Softball Game on Program.

Officials of the eighteenth annual Three Oaks Community Fair which opens next Wednesday have spared no expense in making the 1934 Fair the most gorgeous spectacle since the first Three Oaks fair back in 1916. It is confidently expected that more paid customers will pass through the "artistics in this fair than any of the 17 previous exhibitions."

The fair will continue for three days, with stirring martial music in the Three Oaks band and something doing every minute, morning, afternoon and evening, with the fair coming to a close on Friday night, marked by special closing day ceremonies and attractions.

The nationally-known Rosard-Vivyan troupe of acrobats, tumblers and dancers has been engaged at considerable expense to entertain the throngs of fair visitors in programs to be presented between the race heats Thursday and Friday afternoons and in the evenings of both days. These programs will be presented from a platform in front of the grandstand.

For those who seek the Mardi-gras type of entertainment, there will be provided a dazzling midway replete with amusements, concessions and riding devices. Joe Savoldi, Three Oaks product who gained fame first as a football star and later as a wrestler, and other former Three Oaks notables, will return for the Fair's home coming Thursday.

Guy McDonald, veteran speed superintendent who will again serve the Fair in that capacity, announces that this year will see the best racing program presented in the southwestern Michigan area in recent years. The fleetest horses in northern Indiana and southern Michigan will vie for the $500 or more to be given in cash awards. A novel attraction will feature the program on opening night, Wednesday, when a softball game, starting at 6:30 o'clock, between McLeod's Buchanan All Stars and Rudy Reinbach's Three Oaks Gazette, winners of the first half of the local league schedule, will be played on the ball field within the racing oval.

Owing to the lack of exhibition live stock in this section due to the drought and its attendant dearth of pasturage, there will be a poor showing of cattle, swine and sheep. But, it is anticipated, there will be an abundant showing of field and orchard products to amply make up for the anticipated disappointing showing in live stock. As in other years, the Three Oaks Fair will present what will probably be the finest showing in poultry for the southwestern Michigan section. The poultry exhibits will be in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nilsen, the farm and garden exhibit under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Donnet, and the horticultural exhibits in charge of Clarence Martin. Arthur Martell will be general superintendent of the live stock division, with Charles Long in charge of the horse exhibits. The public schools exhibit will again be in charge of Miss Myrtle Pardee who has served as first grade teacher in the Three Oaks schools for the past 51 years. Carl Nilsen will supervise the horticultural display. Frank R. Holdred, mayor of Three Oaks and vice president of the fair board, will act as grounds superintendent.

John Kramer, who was one of the organizers of the first Fair, and who has been a member of the board since the Fair's inception, is serving his 15th year as secretary. Other officers are William Schrader, president; F. R. Holdred, vice president; F. H. Ludtke, treasurer, and other directors: D. H. Benson, E. T. Drier, Jacob Donner, Kenneth Klute, Fred Edinger and Arthur Martell.

Co-ops to Play Rubber Game with Lyddick Sunday

The Buchanan Co-ops settled the question of comparativ* next its with one Hoosier team Sunday when they won the rubber game with the 999 Clothiers of South Bend after having broken even in two previous games. The contest was evenly fought with an advantage in stickwork aiding the Co-ops.

HITTLE ARROWS DEFEAT DAYTON 12-5; BLUES IDLE

Get 13 Hits Off Pitching of Leiter and Faulhaber for Easy Win.

Johnny Leiter's Dayton Tigers, which finished in seventh place in the Community League which has just closed its season, proved no match for Johnny Hittle's hard hitting Buchanan Arrows and the Hittle entry was able to chalk up its tenth straight victory Sunday afternoon at Athletic park, beating the Tigers, 12 to 5.

Displaying courage, if nothing else, the 14 players injected in the Dayton line-up fought valiantly to stem the tide of the hard-hitting Arrows, but 13 healthy hits off the combined pitching efforts of Lew Leiter and Faulhaber, visiting moundmen, was too much for the Daytonites to overcome.

Buchanan scored four runs in the first inning off three hits and before Leiter took himself from the pitching hillock at the end of the fourth, however, Dayton had scored off ten hits and Buchanan had Dayton down 7 to 0. Faulhaber pitched the last four innings, but three hits, permitted five runs, most of which came in on errors, the Dayton team making eight misplays during the game.

The pitching honor for the Arrows was divided between Gleason Jesse, who pitched the first five innings, allowing but two runs and three hits and Danny Topash, who succeeded him and who was practically as effective, allowing but three runs off three hits in the last four innings.

Augie Topash, in a batting slump in early season, and who has been hitting the ball at a lively clip lately, had his batting eye sharpened up Sunday and got three hits out of five times at bat. Sleepy Ellis scored four runs on Buchanan's runs. Hittle's team has now won eleven out of fifteen games, one of which was a 1-1 tie with the South Bend Orioles.

Dayton scored two runs in the fifth on two errors by Deeds, Buchanan shortstop, after two were out. In the sixth, Dayton scored two more, Moffitt singling J. Leiter home and Moffitt himself scoring from second on Bob Rotzien's long two-base hit to left. In the seventh, Norris got on thru Augie Topash missing the third strike and later scored on Lew Leiter's single to right. That ended Dayton's scoring activities for the day.

Hittle's team will play the National Standard team in Niles on Sunday afternoon and will attempt to avenge a bitter 20-to-5 defeat suffered at the hands of this same team in the opening of the season.

Bob Reamer's Buchanan Blues were idle Sunday, the team they were scheduled to play at Liberty Heights—the Downy Flakes of Mishawaka, having failed to put in an appearance.

COUNTY RELIEF ADMINISTRATION GIVES DETAILS OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE MOCCASIN BLUFF HIGHWAY

Seventy-Five Men and Families Were Supported 8 Months in Building Permanent Scenic Highway

The following report on the construction of the Redbud trail from the Buchanan city limits to the Cronoka township line was prepared for the record in the office at Anne C. Parsal, administratrix of the Emergency Relief Administration in Berrien county. The road was constructed by relief labor from Buchanan and Niles. The report follows:

Moccasin Bluff Road, a new highway development in Berrien county, is open for traffic according to county officials. The new road, a scenic drive along the west bank of the St. Joseph river between Buchanan and Berrien Springs, is an outstanding road building achievement and is a welcome addition to Berrien county's highways.

The new thirty foot highway begins on the outskirts of Buchanan and follows north along the winding bank of the river for the distance of a mile or so, close to the water that fishing from a parked car would not be impossible. For the remaining three and a half miles, the road does not follow the river so closely, but always keeps the river bank in sight. The road finishes four and one half miles north of Buchanan, crossing a big ravine on an artificially built embankment thirty feet high which represents approximately 20,000 cubic yards of filling necessary to complete this important span. The road joins a paved road at this point and continues into Berrien Springs and north to join U. S. 31.

A light top dressing of gravel has been spread on the road surface and it is expected that the state will soon take over the highway and its maintenance and later improve it with a hard surface. Relief Labor Used. Construction of Moccasin Bluff road was started December 1, 1933 under CWA and since April 1, 1934, has been operating under man power supplied by the Berrien County Emergency Relief Administration. Figures from the office of Mrs. Anne Parsal advise that 74,729 man hours have been expended on this project, which amounts to $37,482.11. All of this fund was paid to men with families who at the time of their employment on the project had no other means of livelihood and who would have been forced to live on public charities if work had not been allotted to them. An average of 75 men a day have been employed on the road.

In addition to money spent for their wages, $1800 was spent by CWA for materials and the county road commission has likewise cooperated with men and materials, approximately $5,724.84 having been used in this construction job to date. National Recovery Program. All work done on Moccasin Bluff road has been done as part of the national recovery program sponsored by President Roosevelt upon his induction to office. All agencies enlisted at that time such as the NRA, CWA, etc., which function to place the country back on a sound economic footing, have been successfully battling the unemployment problem. In Berrien county, Moccasin Bluff road represents a large achievement in giving work to men who need it and at the same time giving the county a permanent improvement.

Built on Mud Flats. Venice, built on mud flats, was the world's largest city during the Middle Ages, with a population of 200,000. At that time it enjoyed a profitable monopoly of salt.

Returns Here to Visit Employer After 20 Years

It reads a little like a story book but it's true all the same. Twenty years ago a ragged, 14-year-old urchin from the sidewalks of Chicago, the son of a poor widow of that city, was sent out to Buchanan to get a job in the hopes that farm work and country life would tame him down. He went to work for Clarence Spaulding on the farm north of Buchanan. He soon steadied and showed signs of being a good farm hand. After a while he got restless and ambitious to better himself and moved on. He never was heard of again by the Spauldings until Tuesday when he rolled up in a car and stopped at the Spaulding home in town. He had the appearance of a prosperous business man and the Spauldings could hardly believe it was the same person as the street waif who had come to their home 20 years ago. He explained that he is the Clarence Stone who runs a plant for the manufacture of metal novelties at Fort Wayne, Ind.

An Editorial That Speaks Volumes

for George S. Barnard Republican Candidate for Congress (4th District) (Excerpts from an editorial that appeared in the Benton Harbor News-Palladium on Wednesday, August 15th)

His friends wanted to pay him a compliment as well as advance his congressional candidacy; they spent their money to go to his party because they believe in him and feel that if he is nominated and elected the district will have in Washington something more than a mere congressional rubber stamp. As a legislator at Lansing, both in the House and in the Senate, Mr. Barnard was clear in his thinking and sane in his voting. He was always dependable and could be counted upon to support that type of legislation that had constructive and progressive objectives. There is always abundant opportunity in every legislative assembly, state or national, to play to the gallery, to support weird schemes of government or follow will-o'-the-wisp ideas for attaining the rainbow's end. Mr. Barnard didn't pursue these often attractive tangents. He can't. He was raised on a farm, took life's hard knocks as they came along, came to town and made a business success and throughout his life has thought out and fought out life's problems along plain, sensible and practical lines. As city manager of Benton Harbor during more than three of the hardest years local municipal government has had, he performed exactly as he always had. The big problem of the city was to balance its budget—spend no more than it took in. Mr. Barnard ran the city's business as he did his own—carefully, economically, sensibly. And as a result Benton Harbor rode the storm, met its financial obligations, discharged its responsibilities of municipal performance, maintained its credit, even reduced its fiscal obligations a bit. All this is known to Mr. Barnard's friends and by the city at large. And that is why they have their eyes on him and in his current candidacy. They know if he ever gets to Washington he won't let them down! He won't disappoint them in chasing fancies and pursuing strange political gods. He won't let it be said that the House galleries with thunderous applause and nifty idioms of speech. He can't. He'll only shine behind the scenes, where the real work of shaping real legislation for real good is undertaken. And Congress greatly needs that type of man these hectic days.

LOCAL MAN ISSUES CLARION FOR OLD-FASHIONED AMERICANISM AND LESS GOVERNMENT AND TAXES

Buchananite Makes Suggestion for Eliminating Public Expenditure by Return to Individualism of Pioneers
Record Editor: I see in the paper a couple of weeks ago where you or some other goof had a piece about why can't we improve the park more and make places for the kids to play as well as improve the cemetery out of the taxes.
Now when I was a boy they never built parks out of the taxes for me to play in, in fact I never played much, I had my work cut out. And when I did have a vacation or played hooky, I had to provide my own playhouse and didn't have a park and a recreation director furnished out of the public treasury to show me a good time. And I will go further than that and say that I can remember how my old dad used to tell about how they didn't have road taxes to speak of but Buchanan township was divided into 21 road districts and everybody was supposed to get out and work when they were called and they used to hold regular bees when everybody from eight to eighty that could swing an axe got out and helped clear roads through the woods and lay corduroy roads over the swamps.
Now I figger we got more time than we had then and if we were not all so lazy and stuck up us taxpayers could get out and build our own improvements and cut down taxes where as it is if a dead cat was laying out in front of the house we would have to call the government to bury it for fear we would be lowering our social standing if the neighbors saw us do it.
We got mechanics and carpenters and die and tool makers and all that sort that have been working one, two and three days a week and doctors and lawyers and merchants and editors that never work at all as far as I see, but they haven't got any time to do a little public maintenance.
Now just to break up this jam and get back to real old-fashioned Americanism I will volunteer to work, say two half days a week on public maintenance work, provided, of course, that a sufficient number of others will volunteer to work with me and provides that I ain't asked to work with anybody that is not up to my social standing. I think to make it more pleasant-like, the members of each crew should be picked from the same bridge club. I do not want to work with anybody that comes from a unrespectable part of town either, like Clark street or Cecil Avenue or West Chicago street or Moccasin Ave. Let them work with their own class and let me work with a crew of respectable citizens from Third street.
Of course, it might be unconstitutional some way, but I figger we might get around that by calling ourselves FERA dollar-a-year men. And we could use the dollars to lay in a keg when we got a sewer laid.
Now just to get this before the public I wrote up a little poetry that might help to make the idea popular:
When the enterprising doctor is not doctoring,
When the lawyer is not representing crime,
When the go-on-get-em salesman isn't selling—
They might as well be putting in their time.
When the preacher isn't in the pulpit preaching,
When the butcher is not merchandising meat,
When the conscientious teacher isn't teaching—
They might as well be working on the street.

When the merchant doesn't happen to be merchising,
Nor the haberdasher haberdashing shirts,
When the churchman isn't in the pulpit churching,
Why couldn't they be shoveling dirt?
When the carpenter is out of things to hammer,
When the mason isn't busy laying brick,
When the banker isn't working at his banking—
Why can't they all be cleaning out the creek?
Well, I could go on like this all day, but it this ought to cinch the deal. You're for good old-fashioned American ways, when they had less taxes because they did not ask the government to do everything for them.

James Alkenbottom,

Modern Childhood
By A. L. Batchelor
When we talk of modern life
We speak of children and daily strife.
The children grow up in the modern way—
They will not work, but are great at play.
They grab everything that they can get
Call them down and they have a fit.
In clothing they are a saving lot.
From oldest maid to smallest tot.
When you see them on the street
You know not whether for town or sleep.
And those pajamas are surely fine
Thin? You see all, if the sun should shine.
Modesty, you know, is just a name
Our modern girls never heard of shame.
They say it is the modern way
To wear less clothing every day.
You must not question the modern rule
When dressed they are ready for shop or school.
They say, "that old foggy is getting gray,
If he can't keep up let him pass away."
(Ed. note: The writer of the above is now a resident of Niles but was born in the Bend of the River. The verses were handed to the Record by his sister, Mrs. Fiske.)

Christian Science Churches
"Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, Sept. 2.
Among the Bible citations is passage (Matt. 6:6): "But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly."
Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 16): "Only as we rise above all material sensuousness and sin, can we reach the heaven-born aspiration and spiritual consciousness, which is indicated in the Lord's Prayer and which instantaneously heals the sick."
at Sunset Home, Eugene Oregon, aged 80. He left Buchanan in 1879 and established himself on a mountain ranch near Eugene, Ore. in 1891, where he lived until a few months ago when failing health necessitated the care to be had in a private home for elderly people very fittingly named Sunset Home. He had never married. His unflinching kindness to those in need made it impossible for him to have more than barely enough for his own living.
Mary Vincent and Jesse Platts were born on what is now the Arthur Young place just south across the road from the golf course between Niles and Buchanan. They were the children of John Martindale and Elizabeth McManamy Platts, who established their home on the above referred to place in 1840 or '41.
The writer is the last survivor of this family.

Dear Sir—
The Platts family (pioneers in Berrien County) left Buchanan so long ago, 1894, that it is a question whether the following will be of sufficient value for publishing although a few old timers will, I know, be interested.
June 18th, 1934, Elizabeth Mary Platts Vincent passed away at Sunset Home, Eugene, Oregon, at the age of 84. She, with her husband, William Vincent, a highly skilled carpenter, left Buchanan in 1833, and established their home in Eugene, Ore., living there or in the vicinity until death parted them in 1927. Mr. Vincent passing away suddenly at the age of 83. Seven children and step-children with their respective families survive them.
August 12, 1934, Jesse Keen Platts, brother of Mrs. Vincent, died suddenly from paralytic shock

AT THE THEATRE

Wallace Beery

Wallace Beery Cast in "Viva Villa" Magnificent Spectacle!

"Viva Villa!" which opens Sunday for a three day run at the Hollywood Theatre, is destined to take its place among screen productions of all time. Epic in its scope, it is reminiscent of that still-remembered classic, "The Birth of a Nation," for it is a fictional account of Villa and of the re-birth of Mexico as a great republic. It is a picture that should not be missed. Wallace Beery portrays Pancho Villa, the Mexican revolutionary leader whose name was a household word in the decade preceding the world war. In the part he gives the finest performance of his career. Tempestuous, merciless, brutal at times, yet strangely soft and shy in love, Beery's characterization has the fine shadings of genius. He re-establishes him as a great artist.

In the strong and capable cast opposite Beery are Leo Carrillo in the cold-eyed assassin, General Sierra; Donald Cook as a rich hacendado; Fay Wray and Katharine DeMille as targets for Villa's amorous; Joseph Schildkraut and Henry B. Walthall, who incidentally may be remembered by those of us who saw "The Birth of a Nation," in which Mr. Walthall played a leading part as the "Little Colonel."

Tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday the Hollywood presents another week-end double-bill, with Shirley Temple, Warner Baxter; Madge Evans, John Boles, "Aunt" Jimmie and Stephen Follet in the new Fox musical, "Stand Up and Cheer." The second feature is our old reliable cowboy-hero, Ken Maynard in a story of the great wagon trains, "Wheels of Destiny."

On Bargain Nights next week Wednesday and Thursday the Hollywood again plays host to the atregeers with another double-feature Bargain bill, with the first feature a combination mystery and comedy photo-film, "Zasu Pitts, Niles Sparks and Phillips Holmes in "Private Scandal," with the second feature slated as Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi in a film of eerie things you've never heard or dreamed of before, "The Black Cat." Edgar Allen Poe's mystery-drama.

nated by lime is found at a level of about three feet. This soil is rated excellent for farming, its special characteristics being mellowness and ease of cultivation. The soil is so strong for farming that little attention is paid to fruit growing. A small Nappaneco area comprises about four sections including most of the Lock Best farm west of Buchanan and extending north to a line east of Madron lake. This area is interspersed with muck beds.

The topography of Berrien Co. owes its varied interest to the fact that it comprises not less than thirty different soil types. Areas of Plainfield sandy loam extend along Lake Michigan, comprising some of the main peach-growing districts. Of the entire thirty soils listed on the county soil map, only the Bridgman fine sand, comprising usually 1 or 2 inches of leaf mould and sand, underlain by sand to indeterminate depths.

A type of soil which characterizes two areas in the Buchanan district famous for wheat production for many years is the Warsaw silt loam, which is the prevailing type on the east part of Portage Prairie and on the entire area of Terre Coupe. This soil is described as a dark-brown to black silt loam 10 to 15 inches in depth underlain by a brown to yellowish-brown silty clay loam to a depth of 30 to 40 inches or more. This is underlain by a gravel and clay subsoil. Since silt is found on old lake bottoms, the fertility of this area is apparent.

The silt lies to an unusual depth, rendering this soil remarkably capable of retaining moisture. It is typical of the best prairie soils and contains a larger content of organic matter than any of the other well-drained soils of the county. These areas were the first to be farmed in Berrien county, because of the absence of forest and ease of cultivation.

Buchanan All Stars Have Hard Program in Next 3 Games

McLeod's Buchanan All Stars, comprising the best talent out of the local softball league which this week closes its 1934 season, has three tough games this week and next.

On Friday night, the All Stars will meet the strong Lee Overall team, which finished in a tie for third place in South Bend's I-B league last week. The game will be played at Athletic park, starting at 6:30 o'clock. Paul Zimmerman will be on the mound for the All Stars, with his brother, Leo Zimmerman, catching.

On next Wednesday night, the All Stars will travel to Three Oaks, where a game between the All Stars and the Gazettees, Three Oaks league winners, will be staged as the opening attraction in the Three Oaks three-day community fair. In a previous game this year, with Zimmerman pitching three-hit baseball and striking out 13 men, the All Stars shut out the Gazettees, 7 to 0. In this game in which the Gazettees seek to avenge this prior defeat, Seals will pitch for the All Stars and Stevens will be on the mound for Three Oaks.

Back on the home lot—Athletic Park—the next night, Thursday, the All Stars will play the Elks, cream of Niles softball teams, as a feature of Buchanan's fall festival, which opens here Wednesday night and continues through to Saturday evening. The game will be played at Athletic park and will start at 6:30. Zimmerman and Pfingst with Proud in relief pitching role, will constitute the Buchanan battery. Ren Wood will pitch for the Elks.

CLARKS COP TITLE AS HOLLYWOODS LOSE TO D'S CAFE

Theatre Team Loses Chance to Tie Clarks for Pennant by Losing to D's.

The Clark River Street team won the pennant in the Buchanan Softball League last Wednesday night by winning, 11 to 2, over the Cities Service in the team's last league game, aided by what followed on Thursday night when the Hollywood Theatre, which had to win all three of its remaining games to tie the Clarks for first place, dropped a hard-fought 5 to 3 game to the third place D's Cafe team.

Cities Service was no match for Clarks, which had two big innings when ten of the team's 11 runs were scored off eight clean hits. The Clark entry scoring five in each of these two innings. In the Clark hitting barrage, Jesse, who pitched the last three innings for Clarks, hit a home run and Ellis, Bob Rotzien, Couvert and Rothfuchs hit triples.

Aside from these two heavy innings, the Clarks were helpless against the pitching of Jess Brewer, scoring but one run, Jesse's score in the first when he came home on Ellis' triple to deep center. Clarks collected eleven hits off Brewer during the game. Cities Service made but six hits, getting four off Freeling, who pitched the first four for Clarks, and but two off Jesse in the last three. Cities Service made five errors during the game.

But Clarks didn't clinch the league victory in Wednesday's game. This was done on Thursday while the team remained idle as D's Cafe eliminated Hollywood as a possible pennant contender by the former emerging victorious over Hollywood, 5 to 3, after seven hard innings of play.

Although D's drew first blood in the first when Schneider tripled and scored on Frame's triple to deep left, Hollywood tied the count at 1-1 in the second, Wynn singing and scoring on Conrad's triple. D's took a one-run lead in the third when the bunching of two singles scored Hattenbach. Hollywood tied the count at 2 and 2 in the fourth, Wynn scoring on Bachman's double, and went into another one-run lead in the fifth, Chubb scoring on Stub Boyce's double. However, in the sixth, although Proud allowed but one hit, a triple by Deeds, which scored Augie Topash and Schneider, two errors by Conrad at short, aided in Deeds ultimately scoring from third for a total of three runs in the inning to give the D team a 5 to 3 lead, which proved sufficient. In the seventh and last inning, with two out and runner on second and third, Chan, Hollywood manager and left fielder, grounded out to Batchelor to end the game and Hollywood's chance of a pennant.

It was a game of extra-base hits. On the D team, Schneider, Deeds, Frame and Batchelor hit triples and among the Hollywood batters, Conrad hit a triple and Stub Boyce collected two doubles and Batchelor one.

The game was a pretty pitching duel between Proud of the Hollywoods and Heckathorne of the D's. The former allowed but seven hits and the latter eight. Hollywoods went down fighting and it might have been a different story were it not for Deeds' crashing three-base hit with two runners on base and the two Hollywood infield errors in the sixth.

It was the cafemen's last game of the season, and they reposed in the third place after Thursday's game, just behind Hollywood.

On last Friday night at Liberty would have been the last official game on the local softball league's 1934 schedule, were there not three play-off games scheduled for this week, and that was a hot session which Cities Service won from the Farm Bureau Cowboys, 7 to 6.

With the game tied at 5-all to enter the last inning, the seventh, Cities Service scored two runs in the last frame and the Cowboys came back with a single marker in their half of the inning, an achievement a trifle short of victory. Bachman reposed on second with but one out, but D block flied to French and Kocigzko grounded out to Nehring to end the game.

Nehring, Cities Service third baseman, led the attack for his team with three out of four. Harvey LeChor, second baseman, and Jim Ellis, pitcher, got all of the Cities' service hits, each getting three out of three. Cities Service thumped the delivery of LeChor Ellis for eleven safe blows.

Jess Brewer, Cities Service 40-year-old pitcher, allowed but two hits, one of which was exceedingly scratchy—a ball from Dellinger's bat which caromed off the pitcher's shin in the first inning, yet the Farm Bureau Cowboys, aided by six Cities Service errors, defeated the latter team, 4 to 3, on Monday night at Athletic park.

Besides Dellinger, the only Cowboy batter to hit Brewer safely was Bob Leiter, whose single to right in the first inning scored Dellinger with the Cowboy's first run. After the first Brewer held the Cowboys hitless for the remainder of the game. Errors by the losers brought in one Cowboy run in the fourth and two more in the sixth.

Jim Ellis, Cowboy southpaw, was invincible in all save the second when three hits brought in all three of the Cities Service runs. Cities Service collected eight hits of Ellis' delivery but in no inning save the second could the service batters bunch their hits to advantage.

Trailing 3 to 2 to enter the sixth, the Cowboys, aided by two errors and a walk, scored Dellinger with the tying run and Bob Leiter with the winning marker in that inning.

It was the last game of the season for both teams. The Cowboys will finish the season in fifth place, having won 6 and lost 8 for a percentage of .429. The Cities Service have won 4 and lost 10 for a final standing of .286 finishing in seventh place just ahead of the last place Clowns.

Something to Think About

Twice, once in 1912 and again in 1932, the Republican party met with disastrous defeat and each time the people suffered and they will not go back to political machine government by either party.

They are equally tired of wild, costly experiments, of the wasting of government money by brain-trusters, who know nothing of the practical operation of factory, business or farm nor of the necessity of the laboring man for a job.

Until the government's normal expenditures are within its income, until the strangling restrictions are removed from farmer, merchant and factory owner, the factories will remain idle, business will not recover, the farmer will suffer hardships and the laboring man will be unemployed.

A Congressman must be honest, intelligent, courageous, have the determination and the will to go out into the open—no in secret nor behind closed doors or in a swivel chair—and make an aggressive, unending fight for the principles of the Constitution which guarantee us liberty of person, freedom of speech and of the press, security of property and relief from the wasting of public money.

If you wish to elect such a man in November, you must nominate not a writer of campaign literature, of political platform, of weekly letters, you must nominate a man who not only can do all those things but who can appear in public, meet his opponents face to face and there before you, as well as by letter and in the newspapers, fight out the battle which will be waged.

Those who know me say that I have the above qualifications. During this campaign the other candidates have been content, in the main, to solicit votes for themselves. I have been going about the District, at considerable expense and inconvenience to myself, making campaign talks and, on each occasion, nine-tenths of my talk has been for the party, for our Country and for our Constitution. While seeking votes for myself, I have been campaigning for the Republican party, for you. Has any other candidate done the same? If nominated, I will make the same kind of a campaign, which will assist materially in electing those who have your interests at heart.

My platform is stated on a card—"Straight from the Shoulder." It appeals to you. Then nominate me, and you will have a candidate who, instead of riding on the party band wagon, will be pulling, publicly and vigorously, to bring victory in November and who, when elected, will render real service to you and to the District.
CLARE E. HOFFMAN,
Republican Candidate for Congress, 4th District.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT KIND OF SOIL IS IN YOUR GARDEN—THERE ARE THIRTY SOIL TYPES IN COUNTY

Buchanan Built on St. Joseph River Terrace with Surface of Fox Sandy Loam; Many Types Found Near City.

Residents of Buchanan who are engaged in the pleasant and more or less lucrative task of thinning their fall turnips and stirring around the late flowers do not ordinarily take into consideration that the soil in which they are working is classified by geologists as a "Fox sandy loam," and is described by the same gentry as a brown to grayish brown sandy loam, and it may be that not a few would merely grunt "what if it" if informed of the matter, but such is the case.

Most of the city area is built on a "St. Joseph river terrace," on which Fox sandy loam is the predominant soil type. Along the banks of McCoy's creek there are strips of muck. On the north bank of the creek below the Clark plant is a small patch of Genessee silt loam, such as is common along the first bottom of the St. Joseph river, and which is described by the geologists as a "brown silt loam grading at about six to ten inches into a lighter brown silt clay loam."

The city resident may need a definition of the terms above. A loam is a mixture of clay and sand with enough of the latter to counteract the sticky heaviness of the former. If sand predominates it is known as a sandy loam; if clay predominates, as a clay loam. A silt is fine soil which has formerly been held in suspension in water at the bottom of some former lake or stream bed. In the common language of farmers a loam soil is a vegetable mold.

The Fox sandy loam which predominates in the city area passes beneath the surface into a yellowish sandy loam and then into a reddish brown sandy loam or loam which, when dry, is very compact. Loose gravel and sand mingled with lime rock is encountered at from 20 to 40 inches below the natural surface. There is little run-off of rain water in the more sandy parts of this loam surface soil, the water sinking in the ground and reappearing in the springs along the river bluff which possibly explains reports of contamination in some of the springs north of town.

The soil in the immediate area of the town is suitable for orchard, vineyard and general fruit growing and yields good hay crops but is considered light for general farming.

The above is not true of the soil immediately outside town. Beginning in the neighborhood of the Oak Ridge cemetery and extending over an irregular area of about a mile square to the north west and south there is an area of "Fox loam," a fertile type of soil which characterizes the prairie lands and "oak openings" and which characterizes the western portion of Portage Prairie, in a strip which is centered by the South Bend Road to the York farm and extends thence to the state line. This soil is characterized as a "brown to yellowish loam about eight inches in depth, underlain by a brown to yellowish brown fairly heavy soil, passing at 20 to 35 inches to sandy or gravelly soil. Fox loam is rated as a strong farming soil, very good for general crops and suitable for orchards.

The largest uniform soil area in Berrien county, characterized by a surface of Miami silt loam. In common terms, all this territory is old lake bottom mud. It is described as a "grayish-brown to brown silt loam . . . 8 to 12 inches in depth, underlain by brownish-yellow silty clay loams, passing at a depth of about three feet into heavy, yellowish or bluish gray unweathered till." "Till" is a geological term applied to glacial drift, and is a mixture of clay, gravel and boulders. It is rated as excellent for general farming, a favorable characteristic being its fine moisture holding qualities. Silt soil is especially adapted to holding moisture, which means that this area is one of the best drought-resisting farming sections in the county. It includes practically all of the Galien and Dayton farming areas, with the exception of a number of muck bottom, and some small areas of drouth-resisting farming sections in the county. It includes practically all of the Galien and Dayton farming areas, with the exception of a number of muck bottom, and some small areas of drouth-resisting farming sections in the county.

The hilly area immediately south of Buchanan and extending northeast past the Niles Road and along that road to Niles lies an irregular strip of Bellefontaine loam, which is generally rolling in character and only partly cultivated on the slopes. This soil is considered good farm land where level enough. It is excellent for fruit. Due to the hilly character about a quarter of the area is covered by second-growth forest. It is described as consisting of "a layer of leaf mould and brown loam from one to two inches in depth, underlain by a brown to yellowish-brown loam 10 to 15 inches in depth, with heavier loam or clay underneath. The soil has small stones on the surface, but few large stones or boulders. It retains moisture well, due to the heavy soil underneath.

Beginning immediately southwest of the Chamberlain hills and extending south and southwest over an area of about five square miles to the Indiana line is an area of Bellefontaine sandy loam which includes the highest hills in Buchanan. This soil is described as consisting of a brown sandy loam mixed with leaf mould to a depth of from one to two inches with a slight but noticeable layer of light-gray sand at its base. Beneath is a brown to slightly yellowish-brown sandy loam, passing at from 8 to 16 inches to reddish-brown sandy loam or clay. At about 36 to 48 inches this passes to an unweathered or slightly weathered, mass-sorted, stony, gravelly glacial drift. There are occasionally boulders on the surface.

West of Galien there is a varied soil section, M-60, passing thru no less than eight soil-type areas before reaching Three Oaks. The most important are the low plains of Maumee silty clay loam with some much intermingled which is especially suitable for mint, and which predominates in the Elm Valley district. Still west is a strip of Brookfield silt clay loam, on low flats with a high water level. This is very productive soil but requires artificial drainage.

Surrounding Three Oaks in irregular areas from two to three miles from Lake Michigan and extending northeast and southwest from the St. Joseph river to the Indiana line is the soil which leads in area in Berrien county, the Nappanee silt loam. This area is described as consisting of a gray to brownish-gray silt loam or silty clay loam underlain at from 8 to 10 inches by a heavy clay mottled gray and yellow. A glacial drift strongly impreg-

Morley Talks On Safety First Before Lions Club

Buchanan housewives who save money on cleaning bills by washing their garments in cleaning solutions with a naphtha base in danger are flirting with the under-taker, according to Archie Morley, instructor in safety for the Indiana & Michigan, who gave a talk and a demonstration on first aid before the Lions Club last night.

Naphtha fumes have been exploded by a spark released by the ring of a doorbell, Morley stated, and the release of static electricity by rubbing fabrics is a common cause of explosion.

Morley talked on safe driving, and on the resuscitation of persons nearly drowned or stunned by lightning, demonstrating a method of revival with the aid of a Boy Scout.

Arrangements for a donkey ball game to be played Thursday afternoon of next week, were discussed. It was voted to send an invitation to the Lions club of Niles, St. Joseph, South Bend and Mishawaka to attend the dedication of the Redbud trail Saturday, Sept. 8.

Truth is Essential

Tuesday Candidate Burhans told the Benton Harbor News-Palladium the Allegan Veterans Voters League had endorsed him as their candidate for Congress. To wit after the chairman of that meeting said his statement was untrue, he retracted his claim (as did the newspaper) but said he was told of the endorsement. He was present at the meeting. He should have known what happened.

The speech and writings of a candidate who will himself give out untrue claims of support should be carefully investigated. Accurate information is as essential as the truth, especially in a Congressional campaign. Watch your candidate BEFORE, not after, nomination and election.
Clare E. Hoffman, Republican Candidate for Nomination for Congress.—Pol. Adv.

CLARE HOFFMAN, ALLEGAN, OPENS CAMPAIGN HERE

Congressional Candidate Plays Roosevelt for Waste in Friday's Talk.

Square-jawed Clare E. Hoffman, Allegan attorney who will essay to disrobe Congressman Foulkes of his congressional toga in the November elections providing he can defeat three other Republican opponents in the primary next month, shot his first gun here last Friday night in his first invasion of Berrien county, the district's strong voting center.

He flayed President Roosevelt and the extravagance of the present administration. He declared that the shakedown of postmasters in his own county, Allegan, was nothing short of criminal, citing the recent cases where Postmasters at Bravo and Pullman were ordered to contribute ten per cent of their salaries into a slush fund for campaign expenses of the present congressional incumbent on penalty of dismissal. But, not once did he mention the name of George Foulkes.

Hoffman may get nowhere in the present campaign, but it is a certainty that the Allegan man is one of the most picturesque campaigners in recent years. His ballyhoo smacks of the old torchlight parades and campaigns of the Cleveland and Blaine eras. He carries an open air motion picture theater with him, showing a reproduction of the last Ohio State-Michigan football game, followed by a comedy film. This is all augmented by a mechanically reproduced musical program. He does everything but serve hot dogs and coffee, and probably will add these culinary adjuncts to his program ere the campaign gets much older and much warmer. He is a capable orator, probably the best speaker to show his wares here thus far. He flings mean adjectives, and doesn't seem to care who he hits on deriding the powers that be.

Hoffman's opening bolt to the large assemblage that congregated at Main and Front streets to hear his speech was levelled directly at the occupant of the white house.

"If the democratic doctrines are right," asked Hoffman, "why are we not emerging from the dilemma that has engulfed us the last five years?"

"Never was a man elected president given so much power. He has had the thorough co-operation of both houses and all other arms of government. Congress turned everything over to him.

"But look what he did. Instead of seeking advice from old seasoned democrats such as Glass, Richie and Smith, men schooled in the ways of political procedure through long years of experience he called in a group of inexperienced college professors, young men with merely college-learned theories, and he listened to these, and followed their advice.

"The administration has spent his people's money as though it was an endless river of gold. It purchased hogs from the farmers and killed them because the price of pork might be raised. It restricted production of crops by restricting planting for the same reason. Then the weather took hand in the game. There was drought and a shortage, and White refused to put the prices up.

"Is Comstock greater than the law? The law says that all candidates for office must file a statement of campaign expenses. The chief executive of this great state of Michigan has defied the law. He has absolutely refused to file such a statement although he has been in office almost two years.

"Four years ago, I feared the country might go broke if we paid the soldiers a bonus. Today the country is broke and I favor a bonus for every soldier from the buck private up. And the buck private should receive the same consideration as the commissioned or non-commissioned officer. How would we pay this bonus, you ask? That would be easy. We would just fire the thousands upon thousands of political loafers who pose as investigators, inspectors and tax collectors, and with this vast amount now going into the public trough a fund for soldier aid would be easily available. "When I was married, I lived in a cabin and maintained a family on six dollars a week and I saved money for the very simple reason that I spent less than I earned. And this country will never get out of debt by constantly getting deeper into debt. The moguls at Washington must learn that we, as a people, must spend less than is taken in. And when we learn this precept and put it into practical effect the depression will leave us and not until."

Saturday Last Date Primary Registration

Last date for registration for the primaries Sept. 11, will be on Saturday, Sept. 1, according to City Clerk Harry Post, who states that to date 20 new registrations have been added. The number of qualified voters in Buchanan for the general election of 1932 was 1335.

Infants to 16 years

Going to school is a lark in dresses like these? Bright prints with a crisp, fall air about them—with cunning collars, pert pleated skirts, matching or contrasting belts. Incidentally, they're pre-shrunk, tub-fast, and sturdy enough to stand a lot of hard wear. An exceptional value!
