TEACHER AND PUPIL MEET AS RIVAL COACHES

Niles Gridsters Show Class in Holding Benton Harbor's Strong Team 6-0 Saturday.

The football season as far as Buchanan high school is concerned will culminate with the game against the Niles Class B team to be played at Niles Saturday afternoon, in which the product of the former Buchanan athletic mentor, Harold "Curley" Bradford, will come in conflict with the proteges of his erstwhile protegee, George Wynn.

On the face of the dope, the Niles team should enter the game a favorite, having held South Haven to a 2-0 score, whereas Buchanan lost to the same team 12-0. The Niles team established some claim to caliber by holding the strong Benton Harbor eleven 6-0, last Saturday after that eleven had defeated the Muskegon high school eleven, always one of the strongest in the state, 1-0.

Although handicapped in certain departments, the Buchanan team of this year has displayed a fighting spirit and its supporters are counting on it to give a good account of itself Saturday. The starting line-up will be: C. Denno; I. Rossow; I. G. Geo. Richards; I. Joe Bachman; re, J. Hattenbach; rt, L. Myers; rg, Newsom; qb, G. Collings; lh, E. Deeds; rh, D. Topash; fb, Mangold.

Replacements will be made from the following: ends, Juhl, Strayer, Ellis; tackles, Holmes, Crittendon, Semple; centers, Kuntz, Stephens; halfbacks, Trapp, Spasek; qb, Dreitzler; fb, Smith.

A number of the discourses will be made unusually interesting by the use of a stereopticon.

Special music under the direction of Richard A. Mitchell will be a prominent and an enjoyable feature of each meeting. The interior of the church has been recently redecorated and is most cozy and attractive. A flooding attendance is expected at the opening service, and you are urged to come early and obtain a good seat.

Consider Plans For Opening of Bowling Alleys

In connection with the organization of the Buchanan Athletic association much interest has been aroused over the possibility of opening the bowling alleys to the public under some form of corporate organization by the players.

At a meeting of the directors of the Athletic Association Monday evening it was held that action towards the organization of such a corporation would necessarily be apart from the Athletic Association with only a loose and nominal alliance. Several propositions for the opening of the alleys are under consideration and it is possible that there may be developments in the near future.

Two teams of Buchanan bowlers are going out of town for their pin amusement this year, one to Niles and another to South Bend.

Niles Reserves Take Buchanan 2ds Into Camp 19 to 0

Tony Mollica, leading the Golden Tornadoes' second team, gave the Buchanan reserves a trouncing on the latter's home field on Friday afternoon by a score of 19 to 0. The Niles gridders outplayed the Bucks, making eight first downs to Buchanan's three. Niles had a number of penalties. The size of the Buchanan team did not nearly compare with the size of the Niles team.

The Tornadoes made their first touchdown by a series of gains through the line till they reached the 4 yard line, Mollica then went off tackle for the remaining distance and the touchdown. Enderlie's placement was blocked by Bob Stevens.

Niles scored again in the second quarter when Irvin of Buchanan, hrew the ball over the goal line on an attempted lateral pass, and Flynn of Niles recovered it for the touchdown. Webber's placement was no good.

In the fourth quarter Mollica ran 35 yards on an end run before he was run out of bounds on the 10 yard line. He then went off tackle for the goal. Mollica ran the ball off tackle for the extra point.

And just watch us rattle the old car from now on.

Tell J. Holmes Civil War is Over, Says Virginian

John Holmes can-cuss about the Democrats all he wants to but he can't say that the South of today is not loyal and get away with it, according to Mrs. Sue Anderson, who was a visitor in the Record office Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Anderson came to Buchanan first about five years ago, right from the heart of the John Fox country in the Blue Ridge mountains of Ol' Virginia, and she knows something about the south. She has one of those soft southern accents that it is no trouble at all to pardon. It isn't fair to say that Virginia does not reverence the traditions of independence, Mrs. Anderson says. After all, it was Thomas Jefferson, a son of Virginia, who wrote the Declaration of Independence. And while she was reared back in the hill country, she can remember the talk about the July Fourth celebrations in the bigger towns, how they had fireworks and even a reproduction of the battle of Yorktown.

And about the state of North Carolina passing a law forbidding the playing of Yankee Doodle well, that was a war measure back in 1861 and people do all kinds of funny things when they have the war fever. Remember Liberty cabbage?

THERE ARE TIMES WHEN TELEPHONE SERVICE IS PRICELESS

SO MANY things can happen when there are children in the house. Accidents may occur... sickness may develop any time of the day or night.

In such emergencies, the quickest way to summon doctor or other aid is by telephone. Just one such call may be worth more than the cost of the service for a lifetime.

The protection and convenience of a telephone can be had for only a few cents a day. To place an order, call, write or visit the Telephone Business Office. Installation will be made promptly.

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

More than two thousand years ago that wise old philosopher, Aristotle, said, "Taxation is the art of plucking feathers from the goose with the least amount of squawk." The main idea of tax gatherers has remained the same throughout the centuries - to make the taxes invisible, so that the man who pays the bill will not be aware of being taxed.

Out of every dollar you pay this company you contribute 13 cents in taxes to support the Government, Federal, state and local.

We stand involuntarily in the position of a "tax collector," for under the law regulating utilities, taxes become a part of the cost of service which must be borne by our customers.

Our policy for years has been to extend to our customers the benefits of economies and increased use of electricity in the form of rate savings. To-day, the tax gatherers are piling taxes upon us at a greater rate than any possible savings.

Crittenden Sure

Fascinates 'Em

There was no getting around it, someone was in the room that should not be. Mrs. Whitman counted noses again and again, but that extra one was always there. She had always branded roll-taking an undesirable task, but this situation had never occurred before.

Then from the back of the room came a vaguely familiar sound. Once more it sounded, and everyone stretched his neck in an effort to find the owner. Heaven forbid. It was a dog!

He blinked, yawned and gracefully rolled over. Wilson Crittenden, with a superior air, volunteered to escort the pooch out, but the dog was particular. He absolutely refused to move. Finally he stood up, shook himself, and strolled toward the door. Relieved looks passed between teacher and pupils, but at that spot the dog stopped and would not budge another inch.

"Crit" grabbed the mutt's collar and began tugging. He pushed, pulled and coaxed, but the dog remained intact. By this time, the students were dishing out the general razzberries to the perplexed student.

Then one of those clever ideas, peculiar to "Crit," popped in his head. He started jumping and whistling, much to the dog's delight. On he danced through the door and down the hall, fascinated, the dog followed.

Presently the witty one re-entered the room minus his charge.

CO. SUPERINTENDENTS MEET

The county superintendents will meet Monday night at 7:30 p. m. at the Hotel Vincent. Mrs. Parnell will be the speaker, and night school will be discussed.

SKIPPING SCHOOL

Gray Best's clever idea in which he could hear the Series and skip fifth hour journalism class did not work out so well. He came to school, but went out by the shop, chose a good sitting place and listened to the game from the radio in the Pleaner car. However, the windows in the journalism room were open and the distinct voice of the radio announcer floated into the room.

After all his plans and bold acting all were in vain. The Tigers lost that game.

LIBRARY

The non-fiction books are now put on the shelves according to the grades. One magazine is loaned to a person at a time. The library is in need of a waste basket and chairs for the table. Order in the library has been kept very well. English classes are learning how to use the library.

The monthly reports for September is as follows: fines, 74c; non-fiction books, 227; fiction books, 357; books used for one period, 163; and books used over night, two; making a total of 749 books used in September.

This report only covers three weeks in September as the library was closed the first week of school.

CLASS MEETINGS

Last but not least, last Wednesday the seventh grade class elected its class advisor and class officers. Clarence Moore was elected class advisor; Johanna Burks, president; Robert Fairman, vice president and Kathryn Wynn, secretary and treasurer.

THE USHER CLUB

The Usher Club met Tuesday night after school to elect new members. There were twenty-eight girls who signed up to join, but out of this, eleven girls were chosen. Scholarship and adaptability were the points considered for election.

Those who were elected were: Seniors, Geneva Troutfetter, Margaret Ann George, Pauline Topash; Anna Yurkovic, Frances DiGiacomo, and Beatrice Neal; Juniors, Dorothy Jerne, Bernadine Reinke, Virginia Walters, Louise Howe and Rose Lynn Ernst.

Editorial

Co-Operation

Co-operation—with that word all things are possible, without it, many are practically impossible. That is a strong statement, but you will find it is remarkably true. Especially in any such unit made up of people like a school, co-operation is a vital necessity. There is needed the co-operation between student and teacher. A student must be willing to get his lesson, to work hard to master it if necessary, and the teacher, in turn, must be willing to help him, to try to understand him.

Co-operation is needed among the teachers themselves. They must realize that the student not only takes their subject but three others besides. Above all, and by far the most important, is co-operation among the students themselves. If students would only consistently cooperate, there is nothing within reason they could not accomplish for their school—and in their school, too. There would be better pep meetings, better assembly programs, better parties and, in general, a wholly better atmosphere around school.

After all co-operation is only another name for harmony—and harmony goes hand in hand with progress.

ALUMNI NEWS

The Western State Teachers college has the largest number of students attending from Buchanan. Those attending are Marjorie Pennell and Marjorie Weaver, who room together there. Maurice Frank seems to be the only recent male student from Buchanan attending. By the way, did you know that Maurice is starting up an orchestra there? Carol Currier and Enid Roesen complete the list. John Godfrey and Carson Donley are attending the University of Cincinnati. They are both taking up engineering. John is taking electrical and Carson mechanical and, of course, the boys are rooming together.

Michigan State rates next with the students, Eddie Rolen, Rosamary Thompson, Helen Spatta and George Spatta and Dee Weaver all are attending. Roger Thompson is at the University of Michigan and Helen Mogford is at Stevens college, at Columbus, Mo.

G. A. A. HIKE

What an unlucky day Saturday turned out to be. Why? Well just ask any one of the girls that attended the G. A. A. hike. The girls with their lunches met at 6 o'clock at the corner of Portage and Front streets, liked to the Country Club, ate their breakfast on the grounds about 6:30 and then returned through the Clarie estate out to the Niles-Buchanan road, took the Chicago road and came out on M-60, went to the Hall Apple Farm, then south of M-174 to Buchanan.

The misfortune came when Emaline Delibac, probably attempting to cook her breakfast with her hand, burned it, and maybe this isn't a misfortune, but it might be to some people, Virginia Walters ate four eggs and to end the day, it rained.

ALONG THE CORRIDORS

By Izzat So
Audrey Wilcox broke the arm off a chair in Mr. Hylink's room. Does she always act that vicious? Did you know Duno Blaney has turned French?

Everett Deeds goes to sleep almost every day the sixth period. We wonder...? Have you noticed "Long John's" suspenders?

The reason that Ray Juhl is so happy is because he doesn't have to pay the postman. Have you seen Marie Montgomery meeting people face to face in the halls? Well, sometimes it is right on the nose.

The students in the upper hall have decided to send to Sears and Roebuck for size 12 shoes to wear for solid footing when passing by Clarence Moore's door. Why, three children even tried to escape thru the door at the same time. What will the neighbors think?

I wonder why Albert Webb is interested in the stars? Maybe he is star-struck. Did you ever smell the scent of burning rubber in study hall? What do the students write that they erase so quickly? We can't figure it out.

The suggestion was made that the students all "chip in" and get a car like Mr. Knoblauch's. Have you seen those shiny wheels? "Ain't dat somp'n'?" How do you like Eva Kovich's hair this new way? One, two, three, altogether now, "Swell!"

Blessed Be Birthdays

If everyone else does not know about them beforehand! Feeling that that could happen to a fellow, Max Dretzler plodded his way to the shop building last Wednesday morning, but when he glanced up he caught sight of a group of too eager looking seniors awaiting him. There was only one thing to do, and he did it. Turning on his heel, Max took the dirt from his shoes and started to cover territory towards the main building.

Not to be out-witted, Claude Denco, captain of the football team, took a high dive out of the window and tackled him. Max Fenwell with an airplane spin and a half-nelson, juggled him back to the shop.

Max then received the royal bumps as only the seniors can administer them.

AT THE THEATRE

Leslie Howard Stars in Poignant Drama "Of Human Bondage"

The combination of one of the greatest stars of the stage and screen, Leslie Howard, and one of the greatest stories in modern literature, make RKO-Radio's "Of Human Bondage," opening Sunday for a three day run at the Hollywood, one of the most entertaining dramatic pictures to emerge from Hollywood this year.

Leslie Howard desired to star in "Of Human Bondage," and W. Somerset Maugham wanted a player of Howard's fine histrionic calibre to play in this story, which has been breaking box office records in many of the country's most important theatres. These favorable production aspects combined with John Cromwell's direction and a flawless cast result in a colorful enjoyable production destined for boundless success with lovers of the Maugham classic, Howard fans and the new host of movie goers which the picture will attract.
