

COUNTY AND STATE ELECTION NOV. 6TH

Grade School Music Dept. to Present Patriotic Cantata Fri., Nov. 2

Now Here's the Proposition

Well, folks, the great election, "the most vital election since the Civil War," as our fellow newspaper man, Art Vandenberg remarks, is just six days away.

Well, anyway he is gone from the ballot and in his place there is a picture of Franklin Delano in the middle of the American flag.

Why didn't they leave them off and put the old rooster and elephant back on. After all we go a lot of sympathy for this mar Roosevelt.

Next to the Republicans, on the ballot, there is the Socialist ticket. We don't know any of the boys and girls running on that ticket.

Then next to the Socialist ticket there is the Communist ticket and on it is one candidate that we would like to commend to your respectful attention.

Deed's placement was wide. The Bucks made their second touchdown on a long pass from Topash to Deeds. Deed's kick again failed.

Holmes Reports Meeting Former Buchanan Resident

October 24, 1934 Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Editor Record: We have had a pleasant meeting with an old citizen of Buchanan, in the person of Alice Howard formerly Miss Alice Pennell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Pennell. They used to have the Pennell home in the Northernmost house on Cayuga street, on the West side of the street. Mrs. Howard has been living here several years, has one daughter living and a son who died some time ago. Mr. Pennell was a retired farmer, quite prominently known in Buchanan. The account I have of Mr. Pennell says he was brother-in-law of Daniel Ammerman, who built and lived in the large brick dwelling on West Front street, North side, and between Detroit and Cayuga streets. Mrs. Howard and I are "not so young as we used to be."

WHY BANKS MUST HAVE RESERVES

An individual or a business firm carries a bank account and maintains a balance of cash on hand in order that all ordinary payments may be met promptly. A bank is like any other business, it must have cash on hand, and much more than most other businesses as the cash demands on a bank are larger.

Depositors are constantly drawing checks on the bank or withdrawing cash, and money must be on hand to make proper loans to customers, otherwise the bank cannot perform the services for which it was organized.

The banking law requires a minimum reserve of cash of 12 1/2% of all deposits. A bank must keep more than this, in practice, or the slightest change from average conditions would cut into their legal reserve and subject the bank to criticism from the Banking Department. Twenty per cent of all deposits kept in actual cash or in approved reserve banks, subject to instant call by mail or wire, is a reasonable allowance. Formerly the reserve banks paid interest on the reserve funds deposited with them, but this is now prohibited by law, so the whole 20% earns nothing. It is idle cash to meet the varying needs from day to day.

Nor is this all the reserve a bank should have. This much is designed only to meet ordinary needs. A bank must have in addition a good deal of money invested in such a way that it can be realized on immediately if needed to meet exceptional demands from depositors or good borrowers. So large sums are invested in Government bonds, yielding a very low rate of interest, but which can always be sold promptly for cash.

This explains why the average rate of interest earned by a bank is much less than the going rate for local loans.

The Law of Averages. The law of averages aims to demonstrate that, while the trend of human affairs cannot be forecast with certainty, it can be worked out to a considerable extent arithmetically by arriving at averages on statistics relating to the event.

Airplanes With Machine Guns. Prior to the outbreak of the World war no airplane on the western front was actually armed with a machine gun. Rifles, carbines, pistols, shotguns and hand grenades were carried by pilots and observers. The Fokker monoplane (Autumn, 1915), was the first effective "fighter" airplane. It was fitted with a fixed machine gun firing straight ahead, and a synchronizing gear by which the motions of the engine and the machine gun were so co-ordinated that the gun only fired when the propeller blade was not opposite the muzzle of the gun.

Berrien County Teachers Oppose Amendments

The Michigan Education Association, with a membership of 20,000, is actively opposing the passage of Amendments (2) and (3) on the November 6th ballot. Farm organizations and county boards of supervisors are also opposing the passage of these amendments.

The Berrien County Education Association, representing the teachers of Berrien county, is also opposed to the gas and weight tax amendments, and at a recent meeting, authorized the following resolution:

Whereas, the passage of Amendments (2) and (3), known as the gas and weight tax amendments, would cut the Sales Tax revenue approximately $5,000,000; and

Whereas, the schools of Michigan are dependent to a large extent on receipts from the Sales Tax, and such receipts are not available unless the Sales Tax exceeds $31,400,000, and the passage of these amendments would eliminate all possibility of school aid from this source, and

Whereas, these amendments provide that concerns manufacturing or selling gas, oil and automobiles, would forever be exempt from paying other forms or taxes based upon the value of these products, and

Whereas, the amendments do not place any limitation upon these concerns as to the prices charged for their products, and

Whereas, the Legislature has already established a 35 cent maximum weight tax on automobiles, and

Whereas, our organization is opposing the use of our state constitution to provide for the interests of special classes rather than the entire electorate of the state, Therefore, the Berrien County Education Association Resolves that as a teachers' organization interested in the proper maintenance of our public school system, and in adequate educational provision for every boy and girl in the state, do hereby go on record as opposed to the passage of proposed amendments No. 2 and 3 to the State Constitution, and that we urge the friends of free public school education to vote "No" on these amendments.

What To Do Until Doctor Gets Back From Half Day Off

October 26, 1934 Buchanan, Mich.

Editor, Record: We live three miles from Buchanan, and last night while my husband was shaving he cut himself quite badly. It took 15 minutes to stop the bleeding and during that time the thought ran through my mind—Thursday, and no doctor in Buchanan. Even though they deserve a day off it is known that this is their day off. They are all fine men and we believe they deserve a rest from the work-a-day routine, but what about us that are left behind in case of an accident or emergency? Respectfully,

Typographic Error Sets John Climbing Adams Family Tree

Editor Record,

The story of the "Typographic Error" is a good one, and I found it in the small item, telling of the visit of "Mattie" Miles and Clara Letchford to their sister, Mary Matthews. It happens the name of Mrs. Miles is Harriet nicknamed "Mattie" Marble Miles. Her mother's name was Louisa Holmes Marble; her mother's name Louisa Adams Holmes; her father's name was Daniel Adams; his father's name was Joseph Adams; his father's name, John Adams; his nephew's name John, officially named president, his father, Dr. Henry Adams of Braintree, Mass.; his father, George Adams of Devonshire, England, then running back eight generations to John App Adam where the name had been changed to the plural; thence back another eight generations to the Right Honorable Sir Knight

App Adam in Wales, and that is as far back as I happen to be acquainted with the family. I do not know whether the Marble girls are aware of the snarl about their progeniture or not, but I became aware of it by the fact that their grandmother, Louisa Adams Holmes having the misfortune of being my mother, and all of this is brought out by that little "typographical error."

A Proven Nation-wide Economic Swindle

In the fall of 1932, the Old Deal Republican Party stood convicted of National economic murder—where from 30 to 40 million men, women and children were reduced to a garbage can standard of living, a situation begging description, and that, too, in the richest nation on earth. This, then, was the last and FINAL ACHIEVEMENT of this party, a party who had been for almost 70 years in undisputed control.

Herbert Hoover (you all remember him—the stationery engineer), the last God-father of the glorious (?) GOP, finished the job, yes, FINISHED OUR COUNTRY—where 10 per cent possessed and controlled 90 per cent of all the wealth, while the remaining 90 per cent of all the people owned and controlled the remaining 10 per cent.

Here we have the climax and consummation of the highest concept of the old deal "Republicanism"—it is the Hamiltonian Republican ideal of aristocrat and pauper, master and slave, swinish wealth and pitiable poverty! This sweet doctrine is "Simon Pure" up-to-the-minute Republican political gospel, and THEY EXPECT US TO VOTE FOR THEM AT THE NEXT NOVEMBER ELECTION. For pure "gail" it is exhibit A in the political history of our nation—it is unmatched! To sanctify and make holy by law the exploiting and robbing of the masses is the sort of "liberty and Constitution" so dear to the hearts of the present day Republican political evangelists—it is their very religion.

The thought of better radiation and diffusion of wealth back to the masses, where it belongs, these liberty and constitution warblers shun like a leper.

Roosevelt's "Forgotten man" is a nightmare to this aggregation of old political buccaners—it is the fundamental offense and crime of the present Democratic Administration. Roosevelt is attempting the task of fairer distribution of wealth among the great mass of humanity. He made mistakes but his endeavors are not all mistakes. Is this not commendable? What sort of human misfits must it be that are damning a man for trying to achieve the greatest good for the greatest number?

Did the Old Deal Republican machine ever in its long career of absolute domination attempt anything like it? No never! Instead of fair re-distribution of wealth, we have this scandalous situation where 10 per cent of the people have legally "hogged" 90 per cent of all of the wealth—this is "Old Deal" Republican statesmanship, it is the last and highest conception of running a nation—it is a Colossal Nation-wide Economic Swindle!

And this coalition of National wholesale looters and pirates have the "brass" to ask the People whom they have robbed to again vote for them at the next November election to continue the 10 to 90 ratio! Recall—and it is repeated here, that the 10 to 90 ratio is a REPUBLICAN RATIO, it is the damning testimony which should send this decadent party forever to a political grave.

Just to mention one achievement—literally tens of thousands of small depositors are today absolutely secure, there is no worry about their money in the bank. Did you ever hear of such a situation prevailing under the Republican Political rule? Did you? This one Roosevelt Democratic achievement alone should make our nation appreciative and thankful—it is the steel backbone of our present banking setup, it spells security to millions of small depositors—It is good, sound Government!

Do the patron saints of racketeer Republicanism wish to reverse the wheels of progress and again release hordes of gamblers and swindlers to raid with impunity the life savings of the small depositor? Is that it? Is the small man not worthy of protection? Is it possible to run a nation without the small man?

In final summation: the old Republican, political machine from its own long criminal record stands adjudged GUILTY!

IT IS A PROVEN NATION-WIDE ECONOMIC SWINDLE—and we are asked to vote for this identical "Swindle" at the next November election.

W. A. Stolley.

AT THE THEATRE

SHE LOVES ME NOT

"She Loves Me Not" Uproarious Comedy of Life at Princeton

Paramount's grand new starring combination, Bing Crosby and Miriam Hopkins, got off to an auspicious start in the hysterically funny and audacious film version of the season's smash stage hit, "She Loves Me Not," which opens Sunday for a three day run at the Hollywood theatre.

Without losing one whit of the delightful speed or humor which characterized the original stage production, the film details the ludicrous adventures that overtake a group of Princeton students when they attempt to shield a little night club dancer from the

Tale of Oldtime Parties and Oxcart Days Recounted

Round and round they marched until they came to a ring and choose a couple in.

When they took hold of hands and fell back, forming a circle around the entire room. Some one was then deputized to go into the ring and choose a partner from among those in the circle, at which all chimed in with:

"Green grow the rushes, O!
Kiss her quick and let her go!
But don't you muss her ruffles, O!
When the marching was over and false glitter that too frequently delude ambitious fighters, the tragedy of disillusionment and shattered hopes, the tense action of battle, the trickery and machinations of the "game"—all are shown in the new Warner Bros. picture, "The Personality Kid," which is feature number one at the Hollywood Friday and Saturday of this week with Pat O'Brien, Glenda Farrell and Claire Dodd in the leading parts. Ken Maynard, grandest of all cowboys and his wonder horse, Tarzan, return again to the Hollywood in another thrilling picture of the great open spaces, "Smoking Guns," which is feature number two of the above program. Ken rides, fights and guns his way through many terrific battles to establish in the minds of the law his innocence, after being framed on a murder charge. Lovely Gloria Shea is his leading lady in this fact-action western romance.

"The Girl from Missouri," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture that plays for two days next week Wednesday and Thursday (Bargain Nights) at the Hollywood, brings Jean Harlow back to the screen after an absence of eight months.

In her new starring vehicle, the popular Miss Harlow essays one of her most amusing characterizations, that of Eddie Chapman, a girl who embarks upon a social-climbing career because she is determined to get financial security and position along with her marriage ring.

The picture flits with lightning rapidity from swanky penthouses of New York's ragged skyline to the pleasure palaces of Florida and back again. Lionel Barrymore, dean of stage and screen, shares honors with Miss Harlow in the role of the exceedingly wealthy T. R. Page, a national political power. Franchot Tone, too, makes his second appearance with Miss Harlow, his first being in "Blonde Bombshell." Additional players are Lady-Comedian Patsy Kelly and Lewis Stone.

Let her answer, yes or no.
He would then select a young lady from the circle and they would chat again:

"Green grow the rushes, O!" etc.
He would choose another partner and thus the game would go on until all the girls were kissed out of the ring.

Then they might change the game and the frolickers marched about the room, a young man in the center of the floor while they sang.

"The miller lived close by the mill,
The wheel went round without his will;
With a hand in the hopper and another in the bag,
As the wheel goes round he cries out 'grab!'"

At the word "grab" each young man seized hold of the arm of the young lady in the preceding couple, and he grabbed the one preceding or another, each stealing the other's girl and the confusion went on for several minutes, until it was settled, when an odd male partner would still be left, and the play would be repeated as often as they desired.

If the party wished something livelier, the game of "burly-burly" never failed to furnish the desired excitement. One couple would go round the room, whispering to each young man and girl present something they must do. For instance, one girl was to pull some young man's hair, another was to pull an ear or tweak a nose; one young man would be required to measure off so many yards of tape, or to make "double-and-twisted lord-massy" with some young lady and so on. When all had been instructed what to do, the master of ceremonies would shout: "burly-burly," at which everyone would spring to the floor and do as he or she had been instructed. The ensuing scene was called "burly-burly."

Three parties were of an called "bussing bees," "buss" being the old word for a frolicsome kiss or smack in a party. As a rule all present participated in these amusements, the old folks, the maiden aunts and all being often "snapped up" or judged to kiss or be kissed by some young man or lady as the case might be. "Snapping up" meant the snapping of the fingers by some frolicker, at some one in the company, which was a challenge for the person to catch him or her. This was followed by a dodging chase about the room among the company, the chase always ending in the captured one being kissed. Some times an old settler "snapped up" his wife or was snapped up by her in which case the chase furnished more than the usual amusement.

It was an odd attitude of that day that the stricter did not object to the play promenades, unless they were accompanied by a violin. If the accompanying music was vocal only they were much more likely to be tolerated. Quite often the younger people would smuggle in a fiddler, and when the parents retired for the night his fiddle would be forthcoming and the play would become wilder and livelier, to the strains of "Old Zip Coon," or "Money Musk," or another favorite dance tune of the pioneers.

VOTE "YES" ON AMENDMENT NO. 1

Everyone who wants good government believes that judges should not be influenced by politics. So far as possible judges should be removed from the necessity of mixing in politics to keep their places in the public service.

At the election on Nov. 6, the people will have the opportunity to vote on a proposed amendment to the Constitution entitled, "An Amendment to Provide for Non-Partisan Election of Judges." Its essential provisions are:

Justices of the Supreme Court shall be nominated in convention, as the law shall provide.

All other judicial officers shall be nominated in primary elections.

Nominating petitions must have signatures and addresses of qualified voters in number not fewer than 2 per cent nor more than 4 per cent of the total number of votes cast for Secretary of State at the last preceding November election in district or county.

At the election, one separate judicial ballot containing no party designation shall be used.

There can be no doubt that this amendment was proposed in good faith with the intent to make the election of judges non-partisan. Thoughtful critics have pointed out defects in the measure. It can not be expected to accomplish all that might be desired in getting the judiciary out of politics.

The Detroit News believes, however, that the adoption of this amendment (No. 1 on the ballot) makes for improvement and desirable reforms.

Vieux Carre of New Orleans
The Vieux Carre of New Orleans is that section of the town whose limits correspond with those of the original city as laid out by La Tour and Panger in 1720. It was destroyed by fires in 1788 and 1794, and rebuilt mainly in the Spanish style.

Chinese Jews
The only known Chinese Jews have lived in Kaifung, China, since 1163 A.D. For several hundred years they kept their colony apart from the Chinese. Today, however, after numerous generations of intermarriage, the few who are left have almost entirely lost their original racial characteristics.—Collier's Weekly.

Races Have Odor
It is quite possible that other races can detect the odor of the white race. Deuker, in his "The Races of Man," refers to the fact that certain travelers have asserted they could recognize a population by its odor. The author admits that some ethnic groups have their specific odor, which gets fainter with scrupulous cleanliness, but never disappears.

"Streamline" has been in use for a number of years in connection with hydrodynamics. It was defined by Horace Lamb in 1906 as "a line drawn from point to point so that its direction is everywhere that of the motion of the fluid."

Meaning of "Junket"
The word junket as often applied to congress was originally applied to a banquet, or a picnic or excursion with feasting but it has come to mean a trip at public expense by government officials to some distant post, territory or public works for the purpose, they claim, of investigating conduct or for inspection. Congressmen, especially, have been noted in the past for their junkets to distant regions (lying the American flag.—Patriarch Magazine.

Meaning of "California"
If the name of the Golden State were reduced to its Spanish interpretation it is very probable that the aggressive advertising of its climate would be largely nullified, for literally "California" is a combination of two Spanish words meaning "hot furnace," writes G. R. Turner in the Kansas City Times. The Spaniards, who were the first white men to explore the state, gave to it this name because their interest was not in the cool, verdant lands of the seacoast, but in the hot, arid sections of the interior, where it was believed gold was to be found.

Foulkes for Congress

Across the Indiana-Michigan line Congressman George Foulkes of the Fourth District of Michigan is fighting an apparently winning contest for re-election to his seat in congress.

To the nation, Mr. Foulkes is best known for his defense of the "Brain Truststers" against the attack of Dr. Wirt, the Gary schoolmaster. Mr. Foulkes openly challenged the doctor to public debate on the subject of his charges but nothing came of it except Dr. Wirt's return to his duties.

In other ways Mr. Foulkes has been a useful member of the last congress. He served on the important committee on agriculture, one of the storm centers, and served efficiently. He was one of the originators of the Farm Loan bill and the Home Loan bill, and was an effective supporter of the bill to guarantee bank deposits. On all important controversial subjects he stood firmly back of the Administration. However, he could not let his conscience waive opposition to the Vinson Navy bill or walk out on the veterans. He has been an ardent fighter for the ex-soldiers.

Mr. Foulkes enjoys the endorsement of important farm organizations, the Federation of Labor, the railroad unions and the veterans. It seems likely that he will continue to give excellent service to his district for which his constituents should be grateful. —South Bend News-Times.

A Promise

During the campaign I have refrained from making promises, believing that you desired a Washington, not a representative who would agree to every proposition presented to him, for the purpose of obtaining a few votes, but rather someone you thought was honest and possessed the requisite ability.

To prove to you that I possess these qualifications, I can only, with proper humility, refer to the record at Allegan, my home for thirty-five years, where my law business, chiefly for farmers, has steadily increased, and to the written endorsement and the voice given me by the people of my home town and county.

Through thick and thin, Collier's Weekly has stood by the President. It is by many considered his "mouthpiece." Nov. 3, on the last page, it published an editorial which is headed, "Too Many Democrats," and then makes these significant statements:

"No better service could be rendered the country or the Administration than the election of more Senators and Representatives able to say 'No,' as well as 'Yes' and to act in the national interest, regardless of all lesser considerations."

"A few such leaders, regardless of party labels, can hold proposed legislation up to public scrutiny. Congress under our form of government, must be capable of thought as well as action. A rubber-stamp congress (and that is all the present Congressman is, when he is there), writing obediently every suggestion, . . . is a poor Congress."

Following this advice from the President's staunchest supporter, the only course for Democrats, as well as Republicans, in this, the Fourth Congressional District, is to give me your support.

My promise: If elected, I will make an honest persistent and intelligent effort, upon a sound, progressive basis, to secure, for the Fourth district, and its people, everything to which they are entitled and which is consistent with the principles of their government and its Constitution.

CLARE E. HOFFMAN,
Republican Candidate for Congress.

Vote NOVEMBER 5 TO RETAIN HIS SERVICES IN WASHINGTON

Michigan's SENATOR ARTHUR H. Vandenberg

What Senator Borah Thinks of Arthur Vandenberg
"His great ability, linked with his tireless industry and, above all, his broad humanitarian grasp of public questions, makes him a senator worthy of Michigan. I feel it is in the public interest that he be returned." — Borah.

as Senator Vandenberg took office, he took up the battle for re-appointment. Michigan gained four additional Congressmen due to the energy and the outraged indignation of one man, a new senator — Vandenberg of Michigan.

His Leadership Unquestioned
Senator Vandenberg in 1933 was the unanimous choice of every Republican United States Senator for the post of President (pro-tempore) of the Senate. It is a remarkable tribute to the senator as this vote was one of the two, during recent years, on which Republican senators have been unanimous. It is the more remarkable as a tribute to his energy and his ability as a statesman when we realize that Senator Vandenberg was serving his first term.

He Is Fighting the Profits from War
Senator Vandenberg is co-author of the greatest and most practical peace movement in history through the resolution which resulted in the present senate inquiry into the profits from war. He is endorsed by Veterans' Organizations throughout the nation in this effort to show that wholesale war-time death pays a tremendous profit which should be eliminated from our civilization.

Rights Wrong to Michigan
For 20 years Michigan had been denied its proper representation in Congress. But almost as soon
