

ANNUAL MEET OF FARM CO-OPS TODAY

Playbox Players Will Present "Three Live Ghosts" Thurs., Jan. 31

WINNER OF NAT. A. F. B. CONTEST TO GIVE SPEECH

Now Here's the Proposition

A Communication Dear Sir: I just wrote this letter to tell you how I enjoy your column every week...

It was called about this fool business of Gov. Fitzgerald thinking he is going to make it so you got to go home at ten o'clock...

Now us members of the Society are all upright and law-abiding citizens and we would no more think of being caught drinking a bottle of gin than a bottle of typhoid germs...

Furthermore, we realize that, though the righteous are the salt of the earth, the sinful supply a lot of the pep, and to season a dish right you got to have both the salt and the pepper.

But just take for instance, if St. Francis of Assisi or Calvin or John Knox or to bring it down to the present, Mahatma Gandhi, or any other gent with a real high pressure spirituality should hit town, do you realize that most of us upright citizens would look like just so many members of the gas house gang in comparison?

We got to have a few reprobates hanging around so we can shine a little in comparison. After all virtue, like beauty, is mostly a matter of comparison, and if Jean Harlow and Janet Gaynor should show up at a bridge party here, you can guess how long the men would look at the other women, even if some of them do show up pretty good under ordinary circumstances.

Now we wouldn't think of recommending the ways of sinners and the counsels of the ungodly in general as examples to be followed but what we do contend is that they supply a lot of entertainment, that they make the newspapers readable, and that in general they supply a great big human floor show that the rest of us might as well enjoy, since we got to put up with it anyway.

Resolved, that the Society for the Preservation of Wild Life extend a vote of thanks to the Hon. Jacob Schnappsguzzler for the show he put on when he got plastered stiff at the last meeting of the Young Men's Educational Society.

Resolved, that the Society extend its heartfelt appreciation to Lorenzo Hick for getting drunk Saturday night and taking a poke at his wife.

Resolved, that the Society appropriate the sum of $15 for Mrs. Hick to buy herself a gat and blow his useless head of the next time he tries it.

Resolved, that the Society do hereby uphold and maintain as the innermost heart of the palladium of our sacred liberties, the right of any man (or woman) to make a fool of themselves at any time for the entertainment of the neighbors.

And we do hereby maintain with all our hearts and souls the right of the neighbors to look on and enjoy and we do hereby deeply resent any insinuation of wrong-doing on our parts in such innocent and harmless enjoyment.

And the Society does hereby petition the Hon. Frank Fitzgerald to keep his hands off and we do

NET PROCEEDS WILL GO TO A WORTHY CHARITY

Little Theatre Group Furnishes Local Public Chance to See Broadway Hits.

The Playbox, Buchanan's Little Theatre group, will present the play, "Three Live Ghosts," Frederic Isham, author, at the Clark theatre Thursday evening, Jan. 31, the net proceeds of the performance to be given to the United Charities.

It has been the custom of the Playbox to share the proceeds of each production with some worthwhile local charitable enterprise. It is felt that in doing this the group is serving a two-fold purpose, in giving the theatre-goers of Buchanan their own Little Theatre, where they will see productions of best Broadway successes, and, secondly, the promotion of worthwhile charities.

Little does the theatre-going public realize the expenditure and effort which is put into good stage productions. The Little Theatre is not a money-making organization, and the Little it retains for itself out of the proceeds is barely enough to cover the initial expenses of the next production. In its expense account are listed such items as: royalty paid to the author of the play, books, costumes, make-up, scenery. The time spent by the players in rehearsal and production is donated by them; their sole reward being in experience, enjoyment and the pleasure to be derived in working with a group with mutual aims. There are no paid performers.

In presenting "Three Live Ghosts," the Playbox Players believe that they are offering a play that will appeal to all ages. It is not an easy play to produce, since the major characters are supposed to speak with a cockney accent. It must be remembered by the audience that the accent and language used in the play are typical of the lower class English, and not to be considered offensive.

The play itself is filled with clever lines and assures everyone a good evening of entertainment. It concerns three buddies, an English cockney (Bob Ellis); an American chap (Chandos Jackson); a shell-shocked fellow who has developed kleptomania (Robert Geyer). These lads have escaped from a German prison camp and have returned to the home of the cockney's stepmother (Marjorie Campbell) in the poorer quarters of London.

Because of previous involvements none of the three dare come back to life without getting some one into trouble. The entertainment begins when Spooey, the shell-shocked veteran, disappears.

The remainder of the cast includes Kathryn Portz, Teresa White, Ruth Pierce, Norman Barbour, George Remington, Bob Eowers and James Ellis.

The play is directed by Harry Banke, Jr. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Playbox Players and may be reserved at the Glenn Smith store without extra charge.

MRS. PARSAL ANNOUNCES NEW RELIEF SET-UP

All Now on Relief Required to Register Again and Prove Their Eligibility.

All relief cases in Berrien county are to be closed at an early date, and everyone now receiving aid will be furnished two weeks supply of food, after the expiration of which they will be required to apply for relief status again, proving their status as a relief case, according to a statement by Mrs. Ann Parsal before the county board of supervisors at the quarterly meeting last week.

"The purpose of this action is to eliminate those not in actual need of relief, and to impress on all who are on relief that the aid is of a temporary nature, to carry them until they can find regular employment.

Under the new set-up the burden of proof as to whether they are actually in need of relief will be thrown upon the applicants. In the past the welfare commission has had the burden of proving that applicants were not entitled to relief.

In applying to the commission for aid, applicants must present proof of residence, and in addition answer questions as to whether they have any income, bank account, insurance policy, title to any automobile and service discharge papers.

Extensive Job Program Planned Mrs. Parsal said an extensive re-employment program is being prepared. Physical examinations of those now on work relief are being held to determine those able to work. They will be classified according to their abilities.

Supervisors have been urged to prepare projects they wanted and to send them in to the commission, with estimates of cost and man hours.

Mrs. Parsal said she wanted a list of projects as soon as possible and in complete form; that as soon as the work projects were launched, they would be ready to send them in and get started without delays.

To Set New Wage Scale The wage setting committee, she said, is to meet soon, to set the wage scale for work relief projects. It is expected that the scale will be somewhat lower than the prevailing wage paid by private industry.

This is expected to induce men to seek jobs in private industry instead of remaining on relief, she explained.

Mrs. Parsal thanked the board of supervisors for the co-operation which the board had given the county welfare commission in the past.

She said Berrien has received a part of every state program except starting a mattress factory, which she refused.

GOVERNOR MOVES TO END REGIME OF SLOT MACHINES

All Slot Machines Withdrawn From Buchanan Tuesday Night as State Police Move Into Action.

All slot machines were removed from Buchanan Tuesday evening by the agent of the owner in anticipation of confiscation by state police ordered by Gov. Frank Fitzgerald.

Characterizing slot machines as a "surefire swindle," Gov. Fitzgerald went over the heads of local authorities of the state in a move to end their operation. Enforcement was placed in the hands of Attorney General Harry S. Toy and Oscar G. Olander, head of the state police. The latter was instructed to use the state police to carry out the order. Neither county nor city enforcement officials were notified of the order.

"It is a matter of common knowledge to thousands of citizens of this state," the governor said, "that slot machines are being operated in many communities in open defiance of the law. Reports to me indicate practically no effort is made to check this evil.

"I would not even venture to suggest that the operation of these devices is gambling. It is, on the other hand, a sure thing swindle which victimizes many persons who could use their money for more useful purposes.

"We cannot have clean government in Michigan as long as it can be truthfully said the state is blind to such conditions. "I am directing the commissioner of public safety to enforce at once the statutes which prohibit the operation of slot machines."

R. Wegner Has Close Shave When Engine Hits Auto

The icy roads of the past week came near adding another major casualty to the week's events when the car driven by Ralph Wegner of the Indiana & Michigan sales force skidded on the path of a speeding Pere Marquette freight train Monday morning. Wegner had applied his brakes in plenty of time under ordinary conditions, and did not realize that the wheels were sliding over the ice toward the track until it was too late to turn into the ditch. The steam cylinder chamber on the side of the engine caught the front of his car, and the vehicle went spinning like a top into the ditch, turning over twice and finally lighting on the wheels again in a badly damaged condition, with Mr. Wegner lying on the back seat thinking it over. He was fortunate enough to incur only severe bodily bruises and a fracture of a small bone in the knee of the right leg. The car, which was the property of the Indiana & Michigan, was badly damaged.

Table with 5 columns: Team, Won, Lost, Pct., Points. Rows include Rexall, D's Cafe, Roots, Reamers, Wilsons, Legion, Co-ops.

Icy Highways Limit Crowd at Legion Show

The show, "The World's All Right," was presented by a local cast under the auspices of the American Legion Thursday evening to a very appreciative audience which was limited in size by the severity of the weather and the iciness of the roads and sidewalks, which made all forms of traffic almost impossible that night.

The parts were carried with a high average of stage competency in spite of the limited crowd in front of the footlights. Commander McGowan stated that the Legion cleared expenses with a small margin and were well satisfied with results.

MAROONS LOSE TO BRIDGMAN 5 HERE 21 TO 6

Visitors Run Away with Game After First Quarter; Reserves Win 16-11.

The Buchanan high school cagers were thoroughly trounced by a fast Bridgman quintet by a score of 21 to 6 on the former's court Friday. The Bucks failed time and again to connect with the hoop and played a dull, listless game while the Bridgman hoopsters connected from all angles of court and seemed inspired to a victory.

Bad passes and failure to hang on to the ball made the first quarter result in a small 2-2 tie. Groh, who won high point laurels, scored for Bridgman, while Hattenbach, who vied for honors with Topash, tallied for the Bucks.

Bridgman took the lead early in the second quarter to hold it thru-out the game. The Bucks were able to add one point when Hattenbach counted with a charity toss. Bridgman, however, added eight points, making the score 10 to 3, and in reality sewing up the game.

Again in the third quarter, wild passes were frequent. The Bucks were held scoreless, while Bridgman added only four points to make the score 14 to 3.

The fourth quarter was again edged by Bridgman adding six points. The Bucks added three points when Topash connected from out-court and added with a free throw.

In the preliminary game the Bucks reserves defeated the Bridgman reserves 16-11 in a well-played contest.

Scoreboard table with columns for Buchanan, Strayer, Virgil, Hattenbach, Deeds, Dreitzler, Rossow, Luke, Denno, Topash, Total. Rows for FG, FT, PF.

GALIEN NEWS

Galien School Moves to Check Measles Epidemic

Many of the high school students who have been absent since the holidays because of measles, have returned to school. According to a ruling made by the State Board of Health, pupils who have contracted measles must remain at home for at least seven days. All children in the family who have not had the measles must remain at home for fourteen days. This precaution is taken to prevent pupils exposed to measles from becoming ill in school as the disease is especially contagious at the onset of the illness even before the rash appears.

Only by co-operation of parents and teachers can an epidemic be averted. In a village the size of Galien, where no official records are kept of the contagious diseases contracted by pupils, authorities must rely on the parents to properly report the presence of contagious diseases and follow the rules of quarantine which have been made by the state.

Revival of Railroad Purchases is Necessary to National Recovery

The railroads are not only sellers of transportation; they are billion-dollar buyers of equipment and supplies. In 1929, their purchases meant jobs for 2,000,000 workers.

Today the railroads are not buying. Their revenues have been so curtailed by unfair, unregulated competition that their buying power is sharply restricted.

The railroads want to buy. They will buy when and if their purchasing power is restored.

To increase railway purchases railway earnings must be increased.

Legislative fair play for the railways will mean railway recovery.

Railway recovery will mean increased railway buying and jobs, again, for millions.

Our State Legislature and National Congress, now convened, should eliminate the unfairness in the competition between the railways and other agencies of transportation.

The Republic of Syria

The World war made many changes in the political map of Europe and Asia, and among the nations to arise was the Republic of Syria. This land was formerly a part of Turkey. During the war it was occupied by French troops, and the treaty of Versailles gave a mandate to France for governing Syria, but since a few years ago the territory was divided into two republics, known as Syria and Latakia, formerly Lebanon.

When Worlds Collide

By Edwin Balmer and Philip Wylie

CHAPTER I.—New York newspaper publisher... CHAPTER II.—New York newspaper publisher... CHAPTER III.—"It's going to be doomsday, isn't it?"

now do and always shall hold for you... He had finished his words with his face turned toward her...

CHAPTER X

"DO YOU know that the list of who goes in which ship has just been posted?" Jack Taylor asked Tony.

"That's grand," Tony said; "but will he have sufficient technical knowledge to run the thing?"

"Oh, Jessup and Kane will do that all right, Ransdell's only going to be a figurehead until they get to Bronson Beta."

Tony kicked the lock on his suitcase shut, and said, "We've got to get packed up. You know we're going places tomorrow."

Jack sat down on the bed. "That reminds me; I'm going on the second ship, too."

Tony's face fell. They were serious again. Jack said: "When you are all set, they want you down at the Ark. Everybody's going through it, and getting assigned to their quarters."

Tony walked up a long flight of steps to the airlock. As he went he cast an upward glance at the elaborate structure of beams which supported the Ark, and which workmen were now removing.

The interior of the Ark was brilliantly lighted by electricity. Through its center ran a spiral staircase, and a long taut cable inside the stairs. At eight-foot intervals steel floors cut the cylinder into sections.

The two forward sections were crammed with machinery and instruments, and across them ran the great thrust-beams against which the atomic tubes would exert their force.

At least five smaller tubes pointing outward around the upper and lower sections like spokes were provided to give free dimensional control of the ship, and to make the adjustments necessary for ground-riding. It had been planned to travel head-on for the greater part of the distance.

When the reaction forces were started the whole ship would be upside down for some time, and eventually the landing would be made after turning it end for end; and although the probabilities of depositing the ship precisely upon that position, were small, it was felt that after she had landed she might tip over—a motion that would be broken by the use of the horizontal jets—or that she might even roll, which could also be stopped by the jets, as had been done on the short and simple hop from the ground on the night of the attack.

Tony walked up the spiral staircase from the stern's engine-room. Above it were stock rooms with their arrangement for lashing fast the live stock. Above the stock rooms were store rooms reaching to the center of the ship, and tightly packed. In the center of the ship were the human quarters, their walls carefully padded, and furnishings, similar to but more comfortable than those provided for the animals, arranged along the floor.

On the side walls were water taps, and in steel closets food for a considerably longer time than four days had been stored; but in their journey through space the travelers would enjoy no comfortable beds, eat no hot meals and divert themselves with no entertainments. The exact conditions of flight through space were unknown; and underneath the springs and paddings which lined the passengers' quarters was apparatus both for refrigeration and for heating.

AT THE THEATRE

Keeler and Powell Screen's Popular Lovers, in New Hit

The most popular co-starring team on the screen today, Ruby Keeler and Dick Powell, make their fifth appearance together in "Flirtation Walk," which comes to the Hollywood Theatre beginning Sunday matinee for a three day run.

The Keeler-Powell combine has appeared in "42nd Street," "Gold Diggers of 1933," "Footlight Parade" and "Dames."

Where their other successes have presented them against a theatrical background, "Flirtation Walk" shows them in an entirely new setting. Their romance begins in Hawaii, where Ruby, a General's daughter, meets Dick, a young private in the army.

Then the action switches to West Point where Dick is trying to make himself an "officer and gentleman."

There are several magnificent dance sequences, directed by Bobby Connelly and featuring hundreds of Hollywood's beautiful girls. The Hawaiian dance numbers introduce Sol Hoopii and his Orchestra, known to all lovers of the theatre.

"Flirtation Walk," altogether, with Dick singing three new songs hits, the title number with Ruby in the West Point school show, is the last word in screen entertainment and should not be missed.

The Fox Film production "Peck's Bad Boy" comes to the Hollywood as feature number one this week Friday and Saturday, with Jackie Cooper and Thomas Meighan in the of flight they can turn the ship and revolve it end for end, in fact, like a thrown fire-cracker, if we should turn on jets on opposite sides and opposite ends. The breach of each of these little tubes,—at that point Hendron turned a wheel with a handle on it, and the rear of one of the tubes slowly opened,—is provided with the tubes which generate the rays that split atoms of beryllium into their protons and neutrons.

The force engendered in the process, which is like a molecular explosion, but vastly greater, together with the disrupted matter, is then discharged through the gun, the barrel of which is lined with Ransdell's metal. The consumption of fuel, so to speak, both in quantity and rate, is regulated by a mechanism on the breech itself. The rate and volume of the discharge will be, of course, immense; very greater for leaving the earth than it was on the mere hop from the ground on the night of the assault. The ship propped itself then to be a gun, or rather a number of guns, which will fire steadily on the trip through space.

By Newton's law, which Einstein has modified only in microscopic effects, for every action there is an equal and opposite reaction, so that through space the speed and energy of the discharge from the tubes—which we also call the engines and motors, rather inaccurately—are what will determine the speed and motion of the ship.

Tony looked at the breach of the tube and nodded. "Journeying through space we will be a rocket that can be fired from both ends and from all around the sides of both ends?"

"Exactly, although the side firing is of lesser intensity. It is very beautiful, our ship; and according to the laws of physics, by the release of more power, it will navigate space as surely as it hopped from the ground, when we required it to. We'll leave this world, Tony; and, I believe, we'll land upon Bronson Beta."

John G. Holmes Adds Footnotes to History of Record

Editor Record,

Your bit of Record history releases a lot of tenacles, some of them far reaching, all interesting. In March 1861 early in the month, I went with my father, and brother to buy the south half of the northwest quarter of Section 32, Buchanan township, and brother bought it for $2800, most of it down to wheat.

The wheat he gathered from that crop paid for the place and another 30 acres in the same quarter. With this start he was able to keep buying and paying for land until he had over 700 acres.

Two years after he made his first buy, in August, 1864, definitely, it took $2.85 of greenbacks to buy a dollar in gold, wheat was $3.20 a bushel, flour, $16 a barrel.

On the other side of the hill I came. In 1875 when I bought in with Will Kingery, a dollar of gold cost $1.13, and everything else down in proportion. Not long after came a new element in the printing business, in the form of "Ready Print," called by the craft "patent in ards," put out by the Chicago Newspaper Union.

They sent out sheets all printed but the local page, at about the cost of plain paper. They reserving a couple of columns of advertising for their profit.

The result was little print shops springing up all over the country. 23 of them in Berrien county, taking the juice about all out of legitimate business. Every little crossroads town had a paper, one man shop, one of whom was John R. Hills, in Three Oaks, who later moved to Buchanan.

It was not until Mr. Kingery was taken sick that I learned that we were paying rent, when George G. Rough came to collect. The rent was $200 a year. Immediately I began looking for other quarters, and found the frame building back of the opera house, belonging to John Farren of Bakertown, and bought it for 1200 and moved in. Just the frame part. The brick was an afterthought.

After I had been in these several years I began getting growing pains one day in South Bend I met Dr. McGill, a dealer in a sort of woman's nostrum he called "orange blossom." He was doing a lot of circularizing, putting out over a hundred thousand eight page booklets about $48, each month, costing him $1.25. I figured I could do well on them at $1, after doing a bit of outfitting, so engaged to do his work, if I might have time to outfit. 150,000 booklets per month tasted good as a foundation, so I bought a Kiddy perfecting double quarto, with two platens 12x24. Also went to Erie, Pa., and bought a brown double folder and paster, that would fold and paste four, eight, sixteen or thirty-two pages. Also bought of Schneidewand & Lee, in Chicago, a power cutter with 36 inch blade, and was ready for Dr. McGill's work and was informed he had changed his mind. There I was with all that machinery with nothing to feed it, a situation which called for action. In order to have a job for exhibition of the press, for the Kidders when they set it up, I went to Chicago and got a two-color 6x9 circular, a red 1 1/2 strip across the top and down one side, balance black.

I was not long in finding F. J. Cheney Medicine Co. of Toledo, and was sending 150M per month, 588, affidavits, purple letter press and red seal, besides 100M eight page booklets. Another regular run of 100M of eight pages to Sterling, Ill., took an order for chewing gum wrappers of Jones & Pringley, Elkhardt, one lot of 23 million and so on!

This went on until we got interested in building a dam, the building finished and working all right but my partner was not satisfied without more spread. F. J. Miller got a couple of animals called "millionaires" there, who were going to invest some money in extending the work, and before they would be satisfied they must have the property go through the court to be sure all debts were wiped out. So it was taken to Grand Rapids to Judge Withy's court and a receiver appointed. Shortly after that was all tied up firmly, the "millionaires" suddenly disappeared, and it was not for some time that I learned the reason why they had asked to have 51 per cent of the stock assigned to them and English had refused. The dam went to sale and was bid in by the Beckwiths for $4,000. Not very long afterward sold by them for $100,000. The deal was managed by Miller. I was busy with a case of pneumonia at the time of the sale and could not attend. We could have sold the dam to the Strongs, and received the same amount the Beckwiths, but didn't.

That sale made the sale of the Record necessary, to protect some claims. A five line adv. in Printers Ink magazine brought D. H. Bowser from Newberg, N. Y. We made a sale and in a few

News of Buchanan Schools Collected and Edited By Members of the Student Body

Editorial

A "Better Citizenship" drive has been launched in school which, if both students and parents co-operate, will do much toward making our school a finer example of good citizenship and culture.

The wheat he gathered from that crop paid for the place and another 30 acres in the same quarter. With this start he was able to keep buying and paying for land until he had over 700 acres.

There seems to be a certain laxness in school of observing the regular little niceties of life. A boy walks through the halls with his hat on, though he would never dream of leaving it on in his home; two girls go down the hall talking loudly and laughing boisterously, though they would not do so on the streets.

It is forgetfulness to a certain degree, but it is also carelessness and a "don't care" attitude, two qualities which are not to be desired in any person.

There is also the subject of school-spirit. Too many students think it begins and ends at an athletic contest. It does neither. An athletic contest in which one's school is represented is simply one more place to exhibit school-spirit.

But there are many more, and they are just as important. It is school spirit of an equally desirable quality that impels a person to pick papers off the floor instead of throwing it on.

A person should be just as proud of being courteous, well-mannered and school spirited as he is of possessing a football sweater or participating in any other phase of school activity that perhaps puts him more before the public. Also, in later life culture is more respected than athletic symbols. Why not attempt to cultivate both?

Lastly a plea is put to you, the students, for co-operation. With your help it can be accomplished, without it the attempt might as well not be made. Here is a major issue wherein your school spirit can really be tested. Can you dish it out? And more important still—can you take it?

MR. SUN Society to Give 3 One-Act Plays

When the sun came out one day last week, the students went to their classes blinking and full of pep. Today it is the same old group of students and all looking dismal.

Some of the students even say they receive all A's when the sun shines. So "Mr. Sun, you are welcome" is the cry of many students.

Velmarian Lit. Society to Give 3 One-Act Plays

Thursday, February 1, next Wednesday, at three o'clock the Velmarian Literary Society will present three original one-act plays in the high school auditorium. They were written by members of the society.

A prize fighter's problems are shown in "Three in a Boat" by Lillias Peacock. Bob Strayer's play, "A Mistake" tells of family life. "He Wuz Her Man" by Geneva Troutfetter is a hill-billy production. The plays exhibit a snappy dialogue and delightful comedy.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Velmarian Literary Society for 5c.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Alice Ruth and Evelyn Dolph can dance? Donald Blaney is good at writing letters? Miss Boyer likes peanuts?

Ben Harvel is a midget picture collector? Shirley Howard likes to go to Dowagiac for business reasons? Little Raymond DeWitt gives his picture to senior girls?

Grey Bast likes the girls? Frances DiGiacomo doesn't like the new 35 Plymouths? George Riley likes to look in the fifth hour journalism class?

Everett Deeds, evidently, made futile attempts to ice skate out of Feisner's store the other afternoon. With suitcase in hand Everett, nonchalantly started down the slide in front of the store, but to his amazement, he stumbled.

The jolt that it gave him made the grip on his suitcase weaken. He dropped the suitcase and all its contents were sprawled about the street. After getting untwisted, Everett, with a grudge, picked up his things and put them on his arm holding his open suitcase in the other and marched into the school building.

The contest ended December 10, 1934, and the following persons received prizes of $1.00 and each of their mothers received a duplicate prize: Richard Rose, Catherine Wynn, Elaine Blaney, Margaret Miller, Edward Pascoe and Priscilla Yazel.

The following letter was received by each winner: "That very fine letter you wrote on 'Why Bread is Good to Eat Four Times a Day,' is paying you a real dollar prize, in addition to the many benefits you will receive from the study of nutrition. You will find the dollar enclosed with this letter."

That smaller envelope contains another dollar for mother and a letter for her, too. We wish we could be there to see how happy she will be when you present it to her.

Right now, while it's on your mind, will you please sign the enclosed card, and have your mother and father sign, too, or your legal guardian. Then right away, put it in the mail. You see, when it comes back to us, we can be sure you have received your prize.

The glands about which most is known are the pituitary, which are at the base of the brain; the thyroid, at the base of the neck; the parathyroids, associated with the thyroids; the adrenal, on top of the kidneys; and the thymus, on the chest. These glands can function in normal fashion and the person then enjoys normal health, growth and intelligence; or they can fail to function properly in one or two ways. They can exhibit either more than normal or less than normal activity.

Over Breakfast Coffee

Alexander Hamilton's 178th birthday falls on this Friday, Jan. 11th. He strode victoriously over many areas of this Republic's early struggles. For the patriot cause he published two remarkable pamphlets anonymously. Served as brave and able aid on Washington's staff during the Revolution; was appointed secretary of the treasury under President Washington. In this role he brilliantly laid the foundation of national property.

His greatest renown rests secure in his powerful promulgation of the adoption of the Federal Constitution, and out of the 85 constitution promoting essays in the "Federalist", he himself, wrote 50 of them. Nor was the constitution labored for by the Federalists easy to enact. Much compromise was found necessary.

Ever champion of the great "First American" Hamilton even wrote for him the "Farewell Address."

Some day Alexander Hamilton's birthday may find place in the column of national holidays and be called Constitution Day. And it would furnish another 7th inning for the tired business man and maybe his wife.

"Facing the Music"
It isn't definitely known, though the expression "facing the music" appears to have come from military sources. Three attempts at explanation—the first of them the most likely—attribute its origin to (1) the drumming out of men dismissed from the army, (2) the mustering of militiamen, who are drawn up in rank facing the band, (3) the difficulty in training army horses to remain quiet when placed near a regimental band. Another suggestion which has been made is that the phrase is derived from the situation of the actor, who, when before the orchestra, is facing his critics also.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mrs. James J. Miller
Josephine A. Miller, daughter of Gray and Abigail Thurbur Rose was born in the state of Indiana, Sept. 18, 1848, and came to Michigan with her parents when a young child. The family settled in Berkertown where she grew to young womanhood. She taught in the country schools of this community for 15 years. On April 4, 1876 she was united in marriage to James J. Miller at Buchanan. They lived 4 1/2 miles north of Buchanan near the Colvin school for about 45 years. Then they moved to Buchanan where they lived but a short time when Mr. Miller passed away, Nov. 26, 1924. Since that time she has resided with her daughter and son. Mrs. Miller was a member of the Buchanan Church of Christ for 42 years. Previous to that time she had been a member of the Hills Corners Christian church. Death is but the climax of a perfect day to one whose soul was so rich in harmony with God. We can but say she has passed from 'the finite to the infinite in a most beautiful transition and the golden sunshine of her life is not closed but radiating on more effulgent splendor just beyond the vale. She passed away at the home of her son, Frank L. Miller at W. Hollywood, Calif., Jan. 15, 1935 at the age of 85 years, 3 months and 27 days. Death came after an illness of 6 weeks duration. She is survived by one son Frank Miller of California, one daughter, Mrs. W. S. Best of Kokomo, Ind., three grandsons, one great grandson and one sister, Mrs. Guy Bunker of South Bend, Ind. Twins passed away in infancy. Funeral services were held at the Church of Christ Monday, Jan. 21, at 3:30. Rev. Paul Carpenter pastor of the church officiated. Burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery. Miss Lois Boyce and Mrs. Sam Johnston accompanied by Mrs. Stuart Holmes sang two songs, "In The Garden" and "Face to Face". Pall bearers were, James Best of Kokomo, Ind., Riley Cauffman of South Bend, Frank Miller, Ray Miller, Abner Glover and Wilson Letter.
