

Now Here's the Proposition

To the B. A. A. Cellar
Champions
It isn't the team in the top flight ranks
That puts the league across;
It's the squads that are bouncing them off the banks
But grin as they take their loss.

The boys that know where the basket is
And are looping them for a score.
Can take off their hats to the guys that miss
And miss—and not get sore.

It's easy to win and be a sport
For you get well paid for your playing
But the team is stamped as the proper sort
That can lose—and keep on playing.

Well, all we know this week is just what we learned between cups of coffee and that is that the Hotel Rex Grill is under new management this week, the missus having taken it off the mister's hands.
Here's wishing Mrs. Quinn the best of luck. After managing Mr. Quinn so long, a restaurant ought to be easy.

There was quite a buzzing going on among the boys about town on Monday night and after we finally managed to get close enough to the center of all the enthusiasm we found it was Miss Edith Schlytern, the genial promoter of the WLS barn dance, who was back in town booked a WLS minstrel show with the Odd Fellows. There was so many lions about Miss Schlytern that we never got a look-in, but we hope to have better luck
when she comes back in April.

MANY ATTEND RESURRECTION PLAY, SO. BEND

Will Be Presented at Scottish Rite Cathedral in South Bend, March 6-12.

A number of people from this vicinity have already made reservations for one of the eight performances of "The Light," the soul-stirring spectacle and drama, spanning the years from Old Testament days to the Crucifixion and Resurrection of Jesus Christ, that will be presented in the Scottish Rite Cathedral at South Bend from March 6 to 12, inclusive.

"The Light," described as "A Pilgrimage in Search of Truth," is the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rites annual contribution to the Easter season. Rehearsals of the large cast of 150 and the chorus of 80 have been under way for some time under the direction of a capable staff of directors.
Those who have witnessed the 1934 performances say that all the pageantry, the beauty, and allegory and simplicity of the world's greatest story are presented to the audience in a magnificent manner.
Drama and music combine to portray the teachings of the Master.
"The Light's" staging is recognized as a distinct departure from anything of its kind ever before produced, in that the application of moving picture technique is made by combining all of the arts.

Especially effective is the music for the production. The incidental music has been written and arranged by Otto J. Goffeney, the well-known South Bend musician, and organist for the Scottish Rite choir. The chorus is composed of the leading voices of Northern Indiana.

Officials in charge report that the sale of tickets for the eight performances indicates a greater interest than ever before, and assures capacity audiences at each performance. All seats are reserved.
Admission prices are 50c, 75c, and $1.00, plus the ten per cent Federal admission tax. Mail orders accompanied by remittances made payable to South Bend Lodge of Perfection, adding 3c postage where tickets are to be returned by mail are now being received at the Masonic temple, South Bend.

MRS. C. B. TREAT DIES FOLLOWING ILLNESS 3 YEARS

Funeral Will Be Held From Home on Charles Court at 2:30 P. M. Friday.

Mrs. Ellen Adell Treat, 73, native of Buchanan, and a member of a pioneer family here, died at her home at 112 Charles Court at 9:45
a. m. yesterday, after an illness of nearly three years, and the funeral will be held from the home at 2:30
p. m. Friday.

Mrs. Treat was born in Buchanan, Aug. 18, 1861, the daughter of Aro C. and Julia Anne Alexander.
She was reared and educated in Buchanan and was married in the old Advent Christian church on Oak street to Charles B. Treat, who died Dec. 4, 1932. She lived all of her life in Buchanan, except for eight years when she and her husband made their home in Alhambra, Calif. They returned here in May, 1931. Mrs. Treat was very active in the affairs of the Advent Christian church, occupying several offices in that organization. For many years her husband was prominent in the business life of the town and the family is very widely known.

Mrs. Treat was the last member of her family. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Theoda Treat McLaughlin, who lives at home, and by a nephew, Jay M. Glover, Buchanan.

The body was brought to the home last night and will remain there to be viewed by her friends until the time of the funeral.

MAY TRANSFER BOTTLE SALE TO DRUGGISTS

Fitzgerald Considers Changes in Liquor Administration;
Would Enforce by State Police.

Closing of many state stores, rigid enforcement of those remaining in business, the transfer of a main part of the bottle sale traffic to druggists, trimming the huge liquor inspection staff and rigid enforcement through state police are among the recommendations under consideration by Gov. Fitzgerald, according to state dispatches.

He may recommend increased appropriations to enlarge the state police. The governor said in this connection, that he will send a special message to the legislature recommending that the state police be included under civil service.

The revolutionary changes in the state liquor system being considered by the executive would place package sales and enforcement on an entirely new basis. He believes it would also result in more efficient and more fearless enforcement, with politics eliminated.

The governor would close all state stores except in the larger cities—that is, cities of possibly 30,000 or 40,000 population or over.
He may even advocate leaving state stores in only three or four cities. He then would license established druggists to handle liquor. All liquor would be purchased through the state and the price would be fixed. The present statutory limit of $1,200 profit for any designated merchant would be wiped out and the retailers instead would be permitted to make a reasonable profit on a purely percentage basis.

The state commission now has a payroll of around 800 employees, the governor said. It is maintaining stores in almost every section of the state, with rent and accompanying overhead expenses. Liquor commission inspectors draw expenses in addition to their pay. The governor believed $2,000,000 a year might be saved by abolishing much of this organization and placing enforcement in the hands of the city police in the larger cities, and the state police and local agencies outside.

120 PRESENT AT PARENTS' NIGHT FOR CUB PACK 141

32 Cubs Present Demonstrations of Meaning of Work at Annual Event, Presbyterian Church.

One of the outstanding events of the year in local Scouting was Parent's Night for Cub Pack 141, held at the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, with a banquet and ensuing program.

An attendance of 120 was present, including 32 out of the 34
Cubs, their parents and others.
Frank Habicht, vice president of the Berrien-Cass Council, was present and gave the welcome address.
Oscar Noll, Scout Executive of the Berrien-Cass Area, explained the meaning of "Cubbing" and of the parents part in the work. The Pack was presented its charter by Noll, who then presented registration cards to the Cubmaster, Earl Derflinger, and to the members of the committee, R. G. VanDeusen, Rev. W. H. Brunelle, Harold Han-lin and E. C. Pascoe.

Each of the four dens then presented a stunt, under the direction of the leaders, Leslie Brewster, Bill Habicht, Howard McClellan and George Semple. The boys sat around the council fire in the Indian tepee and received their registration cards from Cubmaster Derflinger. Each of the Cubs then gave a demonstration and explanation of the tests which they were required to pass before being admitted to the Bobcat, Wolf, Bear and Lion ranks. The "living circle" was then formed by each den and the Cub sign and promise was given, the usual form for closing a Cub meeting.

The tables were tastefully decorated with hearts in accordance with Valentine's Day and inscribed with the Cub motto, "Do Your Best."

And the Best of It Was, Joshua's Labor Was Not Lost

The recurrence of St. Valentine's day brings to mind a story which was run in the Record four years ago by the late Mrs. Hattie Nye, correspondent for the Record from Olive Branch for many years, concerning a 90-year old valentine which was made by her grandfather, Joshua Waldron, when he was courting her grandmother, then Miss Nancy Huston. Few swains of the present day, however smitten with the gentle passion, would have the patience to fabricate a Valentine missive as intricate as that made by Joshua for his Nancy. Eight hearts surrounded the center, four cut ser-rate-edged alternating with four cut even-edged. In the square in the middle was written "Miss Nancy Huston" in bold hand, and beneath it was written in finer script
"Joshua Waldron".

B. A. A. WILL PRESENT THREE GAME PROGRAM

Former High School Stars
Will Play to Send B. H. S.
Squad to Tournament
in New Suits.

To aid in a move to send the Buchanan high school basketball team to the district tournament fully outfitted in new suits, the teams of the Buchanan Athletic Association will play three benefit games at the high school gymnasium Wednesday evening, Feb. 20, the regular FERA recreation program being suspended for that occasion.

The benefit was planned to aid a group of high school cage fans who have conspired anonymously to purchase new playing outfits to give the reconstructed Maroon team a good send-off for district honors. The players who will appear in the three games are for the most part Buchanan high school stars of former years, who have been afforded an opportunity to continue the sport in the Athletic Association winter cage program. Games played will be as follows: 7:00 p. m. Root's News Agency vs. D's Cafe; 8 p. m. Wilson's Dairy vs. Co-ops; 9 p. m.
American Legion vs. Reamers.

The teams of the Athletic Association have been playing an excellent brand of basketball this winter, defeating a number of outside independent teams and standing well in two tournaments. The opportunity of seeing three games in one evening should be more than worth the price of admission.

Tickets for the benefit game may be purchased from the Misses Una Kelley or Vivian Mogford, or at the door. Play begins at 7 p. m.

Officials of the Buchanan Athletic Association wish to emphasize that they are playing entirely in-this occasion. Admission prices will be 15 cents for students and 25 cents for the general public.

Niles Furniture Store Remodeled

The Troost Bros. Furniture store in Niles has made extensive improvements in their store within the past two weeks. A new floor covering of neutral tone has been laid which gives an artistic background to the new spring house furnishings. Painting and remodeling of the office space has added much to the appearance of this fine store, which has been in business for 31 years.

Complete room groupings make it possible to better picture the effect furniture will have in ones own home. Joseph P. Troost, owner and manager, has spent practically his entire life in the furniture business and is ably assisted by R. Malcolm Hull, Joseph Camp,
Mr. Ernest Maas, Charles Sayer,
Roy and Ray McBride.

GALLEN NEWS

Olive Branch Gleaners Hold Program and Play

The Gleaners of Berrien and Cass county Arbors were to hold a public meeting in the town hall last Friday evening, but on account of the icy roads the Olive Branch Arbor were the only ones present to "carry out the program and a fine program it proved to be.

"America" was sung by the audience with Mrs. Carl Renbarger at the piano. Miss Ruth Renbarger in her charming manner, sang two vocal solos. A comedy entitled "Who's on the Line" was presented by nine members as follows: Silas Saunders, Mrs. Chris Andrews; John Rogers, Leon DeBois; Mary Saunders, Mrs. R. Olmstead; Leona Andrews, Mrs. Lucille Clark; Tessa Hillboro, Mrs. A. Kuhl; Victoria Huntington, Mrs. M. DeBois; Mrs. Susan Frask, Mrs. Dorothy Clark; Mrs. Alice Willard, Mrs. C. McLaren; Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. C. Renbarger.

Every member taking part deserves much credit and it was one of the best plays presented. Frank Clark, who manipulated the telephone back of the screen surely was an artist and was given much credit for the success of the play.

A lunch was served. The expressions of appreciation of the hospitality of the Olive Branch Arbor were decidedly flattering.

"Soul" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world Sunday, Feb. 17.
Among the Bible citations is this passage (Job 23: 10, 13): "But he knoweth the way that I take: when he hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold. But he is in one mind, and who can turn him? and what his soul desireth, even that he doeth."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 335): "Because Soul is immortal, it does not exist in mortality. Soul must be incorporeal to be Spirit, for Spirit is not finite. Only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal unfolding of Life as immortality brought to light."

To Stage Drive For Girl Scouts Here Coming Week

(Ed. Note.—Due to the fact that the local Girl Scout drive will be initiated next week The Record is printing the following article in the interest of Girl Scouting.)

Your Girl and Mine
By the Mother of a Girl Scout
Josephine Daskam Bacon
What do you think a fourteen-year-old girl ought to be able to do?

She goes to school, of course, but that doesn't take up all of her time—certainly not all of her thoughts! And though the schools work hard at the problem, we all realize that they alone can't equip a young woman for life.

And we feel, more and more, that between the ages of ten and sixteen a girl ought to be getting hold, somehow, of the ideals and the practical hints that, more than anything she learns in any school, make a woman's life lean toward success or failure.

The Girl Scouts think they have found out the simplest, most practical, most entertaining way of handling the problem of the growing girl.

Just think, for a moment, what you think a girl ought to be—for everybody has ideas on this subject! And when you have made your mental picture of the best sort of girl, the Girl Scouts think they can show her to you.

The Best Sort of Girl
First, she must be healthy. And you needn't add, happy, because a healthy woman is a happy one. Scouting takes girls out into the open, "hikes" with them, teaches them every sort of woodcraft, camping and swimming, and also teaches them how to do these things skillfully and independently. The elevators and gas ranges and electric lights of civilization are causing to be lost out of the race those wonderful hardy talents of our pioneer mothers—and Girl Scouts are putting them back.

The next thing you wish for the American girl is that she might have some sane, practical (and interesting—don't forget that!) preparation for the home and the child we hope she will have some day.

"She ought to get it in her own home." Well, does she? Does she in your home, for instance? If you ever tried to give it to her, you understand why she doesn't.

You see, you can't supply her with several jolly chums of her own age, as a working unit, to begin with. You can't supply the group competition, the normal "gang spirit" that all healthy youngsters have at her age. You can't give her "merit badges" for cooking, sewing, home nursing and child care, to sew on the sleeve of her uniform.

And so, naturally, you can't have the reward of seeing her work like a horse to get those badges! But the Girl Scout captain sees her. Thousands of girls in this country are working, at their own desire, to lay the foundations of that knowledge which every father in this country would rather give his daughter than anything else in the world, and every husband in the country wishes his wife had learned earlier and easier.

The next thing you want is a fair-and-square, play-the-game sort of girl. This cannot be done by talking about it and handing down

AT THE THEATRE

'Anne of Green Gables' Equals 'Little Women' for Story Appeal

Pursuing a policy of bringing fiction classics of early youth to the screen, L. M. Montgomery's famous novel, "Anne of Green Gables" has been filmed as a follow-up to the tremendously successful "Little Women," and starts on the screen of the Hollywood next Sunday matinee for a three day run.

A story of a whimsical orphan whom Mark Twain once referred to as the most delightful girl character of fiction, "Anne of Green Gables" has been a favorite with youthful and adult readers for 26 years. Winning immediate success after it was first published in 1908, it has since gone through more than two-score editions.

The story reveals the transformation wrought by the orphan heroine in the lives of the spinster and her bachelor brother, who adopt her. It also traces a delightful boy and girl romance, which has its inception in country school acquaintanceship.

Anne Shirley, chosen to create the leading character of the fiction classic, is only sixteen years old, but made her debut in films at the age of three and has played important roles in more than fifty feature pictures. The featured cast also includes Tom Brown, Helen Westley, P. Heggie and Gertrude Messinger.

One of the most delightful screen features turned out by Hollywood studios last season was "It Happened One Night," and this film co-starring Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert, is being brought back for a repeat engagement as feature one of a double feature bill.

preachments from above. The Girl Scouts teach it to each other. There is the difference between them and many a worthy society of grown-ups.

Team play, democratic give-and-take in friendly competition, under the direction of trained leaders, are giving an unconscious schooling for life in a great democracy that was never so much needed as now, when a generation of girls is growing up who will have a greater direct effect on their country's laws and law-making than any girls ever had before.

How do they feel toward their country? Watch the troop of Girl Scouts in your town pledging their simple allegiance to their flag, once, and you won't need to be told.

Now they can't do these things all alone, with no help of encouragement or appreciation from the rest of us. They need three things. Each little group of eight or sixteen or thirty-two girls, needs an interested, more-or-less trained young woman to captain it.

Each captain needs a little council of interested women in the town to help her out with advice and experience and co-operation.

Each council needs the financial backing of the leading citizens of the town, interested enough to see that their little citizens get their change to grow into big ones.

The Girl Scouts will take care of the rest. They have the organization, they have the training—and camps; they have centers in every state in the Union. They are growing faster and bigger and bigger. They want to grow better and better.

If every town where they exist will look into the organization and ask the mothers and fathers of the girls and their teachers what they think of it, the Girl Scouts and world that the City Fathers of their friends haven't a doubt in the that town will back them to the limit.

tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday of this week. It has been picked as one of the ten best films of the year, and it is certainly one of the finest ever seen on the Hollywood screen, emphasized by the demands for its second showing by people who saw it the first time, and by many who missed the first run of this picture last year.

And for those who like their thrills, who expand to youthful love and who squirm with delight at drama woven around football, the best picture of its kind is the comedy-drama "Gridiron Flash," feature number two sharing honors on the Hollywood screen with "It Happened One Night." Eddie Quillan and Betty Furness are the hero and heroine respectively in this college football yarn. Chapter 12 of "The Red Rider" and an animal novelty completes this all-family bill.

A drama of pent-up desires suddenly let loose to plunge into a whirlpool of emotions will hold you intensely interested when Ann Harding in "The Fountain," her newest picture, comes to the Hollywood as feature one of another Bargain Nights double bill next week Wednesday and Thursday. "The Fountain" is the screen version of the popular novel by Charles Morgan and has Brian Aherne, Paul Lukas and Jean Harlow in the cast with Miss Harding.

Stirring romance in the golden palaces of the ultra-rich, some delightfully sugar-coated philosophy and a dash of sparkling comedy are skillfully mixed in "The Richest Girl in the World," feature two starring Miriam Hopkins on Wednesday and Thursday's double bill. Joel McCrea and Ray Wray have important parts with Miss Hopkins. You'll laugh and laugh and laugh at this really delightful film feature.

Over Breakfast Coffee

By A. C. Clapp
Looking back at experiences of the day before—a fair enough winter sport and it doesn't take you out in the slush and wind. Trifling events mullied over exude fresh amusement; no wonder the aged do not complain of time hanging heavy on their hands. They just keep on recollecting way back when.

Sat down to write my cousin her monthly letter, reached for the pad and found a letter the kid had written to his cousin. Its unconscious humor amused me: "Thank you very much for the nice present (handkerchiefs)," he wrote.

I described the letter and its quaint teasing cartoons, for my cousin and made a letter out of it.

My wife went to the door to answer a knock. "Who was it?" "A man peddling horse, radish and hominy," she said with a slight grimace. Come to think of it, I would prefer honey with my hominy and roast beef with horse radish. Next I'll be wanting full meals served at the door with silverware thrown in.

Went over to public speaking class at the night school, but found they'd turned the evening into a drama rehearsal.

Took a drive around to a friend's house and on the way, seeing people reading by their table lamps, sitting in mixed circles of conversation, one ambling cozily across the room; all of them by the family hearth where people draw together in relaxed intimacy against the morrow's outer world duties.

Now isn't it just too bad that Teachers' Institute doesn't come every week?

It seems that everyone's vacation was spent in a different way. Georgia Upson—Writing letters to her pen pals.
Elouise Squire—Embroidering.
Ruth Strunk—A Niles visitor for the day.
Winifred Shaffer—Sleeping.
Margaret Furner—Spent the day at home.
Alice Ruth—Aided big sister in many ways.

You're Wrong If You Believe—
That Don Jerue isn't crazy over a certain senior girl who drives a green "Chevy."
That we didn't enjoy our short vacation.
That the Babcock sisters aren't "professional note passers."
The senior girls didn't beat the junior girls in basketball Tuesday night.

That some students in the English 12 class can't write poetry.
Shauline Topash's sounds just like Shakespeare.
Please don't all rush her at once for an autograph.

Did you hear Una Kelley sing, "I Believe in Miracles" when she came in the journalism room nine minutes after one on Tuesday?
Did you see "Don" Blaney looking over his glasses at Miss Han-jin?

Did you see Don Jerue waiting at the top of the stairs after fifth period with a piece of paper all folded up for Donna DeWitt?

FRENCH CLUB MEETING
The French Club met Friday the sixth hour. Janet Kelly gave a report on the first five books of Les Miserables. Junior Reinke also gave a report on the Industry of France.

The rest of the hour was spent in playing games.

Question: What do you think of girls who talk too loud and boisterously?

The boys, in answering this question did not wish to have their names mentioned but gave a good impression of what was thought.

The impression gained was: They were very much in favor of girls, who subdued their voices and did not talk so loud that they had everyone staring at them.

"To be seen and not heard, was a good thing for most people, especially some girls," the boys agreed.

PASSING FADS
Where have all our old fads gone to?

No longer do we see those enormous hair bows the girls were wearing. The vests and the bow ties which the boys were seen wearing have dropped completely out of sight.

What will be our next fad, or will we ever have anymore?

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN—
Bob Strayer used to wear knee pants?

Harold Jackson couldn't behave and had to be put in the front row?

Francis DiGiacomo wore long curls?

We used to have ninth hour?

Donald Blaney and Clarence Bradley tried to learn how to dance at a high school party?

Wilson Crittenden first came to school and everyone wondered who the new boy was?

Howard Walker tried running a mile in the inter-class track meet?

John Hattenbach's delight was ducking girls' heads down in the water fountain?

A certain girl sent Fred Riley notes which had to be read backwards?

Ruth Strunk and Winifred Shaffer tried making pie crust?

WATCHES—SLOW AND FAST
Have you noticed Mr. Miller and Howard Walker setting their watches every morning? Well, if you are in mechanical drawing class, you see them. Promptly each morning as the 8:10 bell rings, you can see them quickly extract their watches from their pockets.

Howard always must set his back, he's such a speedy fellow, you know, and "Doc" is getting up in "years," he always sets his ahead.

PEP MEETING
A pep meeting was held in the high school gym at 3:45 Tuesday afternoon to give a good send-off for the team who played Three Oaks.

Yells were led by the cheer leaders, and short talks were given by Mr. Knoblauch and Mr. Miller. After several good yells, school was dismissed.

EDITORIAL

Love should be the dominating force in the world; and, therefore, Valentine's Day, a day commemorating it, should have a more important place in the scheme of our holidays than it does.

There is need of more love in the world today, because there is too much hate being expressed; hate between countries, hate between the employer of men and the men employed, hate among men who in reality are striving for the same thing.

There is need that the real underlying message of Valentine's Day should not be shunned or disregarded.

"Love one another" is a precept which needs Utopia to be realized. A little conscientious striving toward that end would produce a unity and harmony in life that would be of incalculable benefit to it.

How about having all those quarrelsome, grumpy nations send Valentines to each other? Sounds silly, doesn't it? And yet it is the underlying principle exhibited in the sweet thoughtfulness of a Valentine that the world needs most today.

School Slants

The basketball fellows are tripping lightly down the halls and speaking to everyone with an added, "How'd you like the game?"

The streak of winning has just begun for there are no ladders, black cats, hat pins, or anything of that nature around the school-house now.

It was a very tense moment last Tuesday when Mr. Miller, who was in charge of 6th hour study hall asked Alice Ruth for an admit. Alice rubbed her eyes, scratched her head and nearly pinched herself to find out what had happened to her. It was all fixed up when she suddenly remembered that she had been in a play.

The Prevention of Crime

There is at the present time quite a furrow in regard to crime prevention. There are a great number of panaceas of one nature or another, but they all seem to be for punishment after the act is committed; now the idea is to try to prevent the act.

There are many that will not live within the law and are winked at by our officers until the crime has become a major affair and then they want to take their life to get rid of them—that is not crime prevention but plain murder. Now the time to prevent crime is to teach it to our young and there is no better way than to let the children see their father or mother taken out to a public whipping post and given a number of lashes. Would or could there ever be given a better object lesson?

You would then hear them say "No, I will not do so and so as I saw daddy get a licking and I do not want one."

The punishment given at this time is no lesson to them as it is kept from them and they know nothing of it.

The taxpayers do not want their jails filled up for them to feed for minor offences, and if they are to be punished they are sent to jail. They have a better home and board than many on the outside. They have tobacco and reading matter, and where does the punishment come in?

One case in particular in our city, the man grew up as a booze hound, married and was a wife beater, was so-called punished a number of times, has children that he should be supporting, but has now been convicted as a habitual criminal, and so will not have to support his family—but the public does.

If years back he had made one trip to the whipping post, would have been the means of changing his whole life.

Yours for better crime prevention,

C. H. DETWILER,

Lincoln's Birthday
Great soul of joy and sadness
Who mingled mirth with tears,
Who saved the Union from the foe
'Midst gibes of jeers and fears.
We would this day be humble
And breathe a silent prayer
For you who live in hearts of men
And all their sorrows share.
We'd think of thee, oh noble soul,
We'd see thee in each thought
And dream of thee throughout the day—
Great soul that God hath wrought.
And we would praise God for thy life,
Thy purpose and thy will,
And we'll remember thee, great man—Though long thy voice is still.
—Franklin Lee Stevenson.
In our service we try to emulate the quiet dignity of this great and good man.
