School Milk Program Promotes Health, Mental Powers of Pupils

Now Here's the Proposition

Uncle Hank of Hills Corners sez:

I know a guy that will hop out of bed at 3 o'clock in the mornin' like a two-year-old to go fishin' when it takes a stick of dynamite to git him up at 7 o'clock to go to work.

Speaking of politics, there was the fellow who thought everybody in the world was divided into two classes—those who agreed with him and damphools.

There'd be a lot more of these amendments adopted if they followed the old rule that a woman's "no" allus means "yes."

Fann—the Front street flapper, says that perhaps it means fare-well on the Isle of Capri but not around here by a durned sight.

And then, of course, there was the business man who did not advertise for fear his competitors might find out what he was doing.

Spring Notes

This is the season for dandelion greens and one of our country friends gave us the following recipe: cut the bacon in cubes, fry and add dash of vinegar, pour result over fresh uncooked greens. Or anyway it was something like that and if you want to verify it call Elmer Hall.

We saw a fine bouquet of hepatics picked in the woods south of town Sunday.

Ira Boyle's flock of sheep on his farm southeast of town are having lambs, no end! Ewe would hardly believe it how those ewes are having lambs! They are from blue blood Oxfordees. Two ewes had four lambs apiece, seven had triplets, forty had twins, seven, with less ambition, had single lambs. Ira gave several lambs away because their mamas could not take care of them and he got tired of playing nurse, getting up in the night to warm milk and feeding them out of bottles. Nevertheless he is quite proud of the fine record of his flock, which reflects excellent care and feeding.

Galien-Buchanan Bank Installing Night Depository

The Galien-Buchanan Bank has installed a night depository of the most modern type in front of their building for the benefit of local business men who wish to make deposits holidays or other times when the bank is closed. The depository consists of a 1 1/4 steel safe set in concrete, absolutely "crack proof."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cox, Kalamazoo, were week-end guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Riley.

PARENT-TEACHERS SPONSORING FREE FEEDING PROGRAM

Adequate nourishment is a condition for good attention and efficient study powers as well as for general well being according to Suchanan teachers, in comment on the value of the Parent-Teacher campaign for sponsoring milk for underweight pupils in local schools.

The increased power of attention and betterment in results from study were marked in the cases of underweight children as a result of the special milk feeding, according to the statement of Mrs. Mabel Walton, grade supervisor. The teachers in general expressed themselves as being greatly interested in the continuance of the milk program, even though it adds greatly to the work of the instructor.

Mrs. Reba Lamb, school nurse, stated that the improvement in health was marked. At the beginning of the program the children ranged as much as 23% underweight. Many had no milk at home. Gains in weight in the three months ranged from 2 pounds to 17 pounds. This gain is very satisfactory in view of the fact that most of the underweights were practically stationary in growth when the program was begun.

A total of 8,703 bottles were consumed in four months of which 4,422 was provided through funds furnished by the Parent-Teachers Association assisted by the Lions Club, the Indians, and Michigan Electric company and the Odd Fellows. The Parent-Teachers Association raised part of the funds through entertainments last fall. The milk is purchased alternately from the local creameries, which have regularly co-operated by a reduced price.

Dayton Biddy Lays 3 Eggs All in One Capsule

We have been hearing of supermen, super-power, super-gas, and now comes a Dayton hen that lays super-eggs.

Just in case your morning appetite is good and you like about three turned over and wrecked this Dayton Biddy can fill your order, all in one capsule. For during a space of five days this hen, who makes her home at the A. C. Saver farm, laid two eggs weighing 6 1/2 and 7 ounces each or better than three times the size of standard first grade market eggs, which must average 2 ounces each.

The Dayton hen is a Rhode Island Red and is a year old. She has never been given previously to producing eggs remarkable for size, the first being laid March 24 and the second March 29.

The two eggs were placed on exhibition by Saver at the Wilson Dairy on Main street. He states that he is anxiously waiting to see whether the hen keeps up her production record.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reap spent the week-end in Paxton, Ill., guests at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. T. Carson.

GEORGE C. JENNINGS, SUSPECTED OF OPERATING "ESTATE RACKET" LEAVES MICHIGAN ON ADVICE OF SHERIFF

Many Cases of Fictitious Estates with "Vast Holdings in Heart of Cities" on Record.

"More cracked than crooked" was the verdict of representatives of the county sheriff's office after they had advised George C. Jennings, professed heir of an $8,000,000 Chicago fortune, of the superior salubrity of the climate of Indiana or other regions.

Jennings was taken into custody and taken to St. Joseph Thursday morning on suspicion that collections of money which he was attempting to make from supposed heirs of the Jennings millions might not be for the purposes represented. After examination there, which connected the self-styled heir with previous detentions in jails and asylums they advised Mr. Jennings that it would be all right if he would desist and leave. That appeared to be all right with Mr. Jennings, and he returned $14,000 which he had collected from one local "heir" and left for Indiana with cheerful alacrity.

It was revealed at the office of the sheriff that he had been previously held a week in Kalamazoo at the instance of Berrien county authorities while a check was made of his activities as a professed agent and empowered to represent the Canadian government in securing settlers on Pacific coast fruit homesteads. In this case Jennings escaped from the fact that although he had contracted to accept money from prospective homesteaders and had given receipts for the amounts, he had not actually taken any money.

Jennings came to Buchanan last

T. B. TESTS IN PROGRESS IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

A tuberculosis clinic under the auspices of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association collaborating with local physicians is in progress at the high school today, continuing through tomorrow, for all pupils whose parents certify that they are willing to permit tests.

About 80 per cent of the parents have indicated a willingness to have their children undergo the tests, according to superintendent H. C. Stark and School Nurse Reba Lamb.

The tests are made without charge to the parents, and all the children showing a reaction will be given free a thorough X-ray chest examination. Local physicians are giving their services free, and other expenses are financed from the proceeds of the sale of Red Cross seals by the Michigan Tuberculosis association, which makes the following statement:

"It is possible to tell by the appearance of the skin three or five days after the test whether or not the child has at some time been infected with the germs of tuberculosis. Infection means that at some time or other the child came in contact with someone who had tuberculosis. This infection is common in children and if not excessive is of no consequence.

We use the tuberculin test to find the infected child. We then X-ray the lungs of all the infected children to find the occasional one that has tuberculosis.

From one-quarter to one-third of all school children are infected with the germs of tuberculosis, but only two or three in a hundred have enough infection to cause disease. They are the ones whom we wish to find.

Tuberculosis as it first affects children is usually a milder form of the disease than that found in adults. It is however, very important that such cases be discovered when in disease is in an early curable stage so that they may be protected by careful supervision during the years that it takes them to get adjusted to their infection.

Parents need have no fear of the tuberculin test and they should welcome the opportunity for having an X-ray of their children, since it is the only means by which early cases of tuberculosis can be discovered.

MERSON, BEISTLE ARE RE-ELECTED IN RECORD BALLOT

Confidence in City Administration Shown by Victory Over Field of Able Competitors.

A recount of the vote for circuit court judge was anticipated in county official circles yesterday, as the lead of Judge Charles E. White was narrowed to 11, the vote standing: White 11,506; Evans, 11,495.

Attorney Fremont Evans stated that he would ask for a recount if Judge White was declared by the county board of canvassers, starting tomorrow, to be elected by a narrow majority.

Commissioners Merson and Beistle were returned to office on the city governing board at the annual spring election Monday, by the widest margin according to any administration incumbents in years, their victory apparently being an endorsement of their economical and debt reducing record, as they were opposed by a field containing an ample choice of able and public spirited candidates.

The results of the election in detail were as follows:

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

LET'S MAKE THE MOST OF OUR ADVANTAGES The city of Buchanan will never be one of the largest in Michigan, but it has the setting that would make it one of the most beautiful, any time its citizens determine to make it so.

Strangers who come to Buchanan during the summer months invariably exclaim over the appearance of the town, its well-kept homes, its rows of lovely shade trees along the streets. Few towns are so favored in the matter of attractive approaches on its highways.

In fact it might be said that Buchanan is remarkable for the thrift and pride of the private citizen, and the absence of a community pride that will take advantage of the natural advantages with which the community is so richly endowed.

Ernest Calkins, dean of American advertising men, has the following to say in a recent issue of a service club magazine: Every town has at least one good point, something that could, if developed, set it off from others.

The banks of the Thames in London and of the Seine in Paris, are among the great attractions of these cities, but New York with the most magnificent water-side of any large city in the world, entirely surrounded, in fact, is just beginning a belated and desperate struggle to snatch back some of the natural beauty that has been given over to the real estate speculators.

There is need in every town and city of a body of men, an organization which believes that beauty and utility are compatible, and practices that belief. We want beauty, not merely in vacation resorts, public parks, forest reservations, and other remote places, but right around us where we live, where we can see it every day.

The Black Widow Spider

The black widow spider occurs to some extent throughout most of the United States and South America, but so far as this country is concerned is most commonly found in the southern states and in Utah, Idaho, California and Oregon.

A close relative that makes its home in France, Italy and Russia, is smaller than our black widow, is about as much to be feared.

The Heart of the Community THE yellow moon drops below the horizon. One by one the houses darken as silence settles over the countryside. It is a time of rest, of slumber. But there is one building where rest does not enter, where the windows never darken; for the work of the telephone exchange, like the work of a sleeper's heart, must go on by night no less than by day. Here trained operators, alert and skilful, sit at the junction of many wires. Here are linked all who would speak across the miles of darkness. . . . Somewhere an anxious mother is awakened by a childish, fretful cry. . . . Somewhere furtive footsteps betray the presence of a prowler. . . . Somewhere, in a cellar, smouldering rags send warning smoke drifting through a home. . . . At some lonely crossing two cars crash and overturn. In these emergencies, help is as close as the nearest telephone. Over a waiting wire speeds the call for aid—for the doctor, police, fire department, an ambulance. If that wire were not waiting, there would be heavier penalties of grief and loss; help had ceased to be of use. Faithfully rendering a vital service both night and day, the telephone exchange plays a part which makes it, in a sense that is very real, the heart of the community. MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

$5,700,000 For State Roads This Spring

Work will start early in April on a state highway construction campaign involving the expenditure of $5,686,000 in 59 counties, according to Murray D. VanWagoner, state highway commissioner.

The construction will include 49.3 miles of concrete paving, 27.5 miles of bituminous concrete surfacing; 62.9 miles of gravel surfacing; 21.1 miles of oil aggregate surfacing; 64.5 miles of grading; construction and 22 bridges and grade separations, and four landscaping projects.

The projects will be financed from the 1935 grant of federal funds under the Hayden-Carlwright act. Van Wagoner estimates they will furnish 2,415,000 man hours of direct labor.

Of the total amount of Carlwright money unexpended, $1,300,000 will be put under contract within the next month. The original grant was $8,452,000. In addition the department has $580,000 of the grant for 1934 which is under contract but as yet unexpended.

Work on those contracts also is expected to begin in a week. The department expects the present available cash, ready to be paid on contracts as work progresses, will keep construction in full swing until the next grant of federal money which is due the state July 1. At that time Michigan will be entitled to an additional $3,837,000.

Good Wage Scale All contracts call for a fixed wage scale of $1.20 an hour for skilled labor, 65c an hour for intermediate labor, 50c an hour for unskilled labor. Labor must be hired in the county in which the project is situated.

The highway commissioner receives daily reports from Washington on the progress of the president's proposed $4,800,000,000 public works relief bill, and is confident it will pass with provision for $800,000,000 for public road aid. If so, he declares, Michigan will experience the greatest road building era in the state's history.

He estimates Michigan's share at $30,000,000, and the engineering division of the highway department has plans and specifications completed for a total of $45,000,000 worth of projects which could be started within 90 days.

Measles Epidemic to Reach State Peak in April

While measles epidemic in Buchanan is reported to be on the wane it is not expected to reach its height in the state until in April.

Dr. C. D. Barrett, director of the state bureau of communicable diseases, expects new cases will be reported at the rate of 9,000 cases weekly by the end of the present month.

He belittled reports that municipal health departments were exhausting their supply of convalescent serum with which to immunize patients or reduce their attacks. He declared whole blood, taken from any adult who has suffered from measles and used as a serum, is 85% as effective as the serum and is readily available in almost all cases.

"The situation is not one to be alarmed over, commented Dr. Barrett. "Measles runs in cycles. In this state the cycle reaches the peak generally every two years. The larger cities vary, and the cycle peak in Detroit is reached every two years. This year both peaks are being reached at once."

Dr. Barrett warned parents not to keep their children from school because of the epidemic.

The present state epidemic broke out in Ironwood, Mich., Dr. Barrett said, where 619 cases have been reported, 138 of them last week. It traveled through the upper peninsula to Marquette, where 719 cases have been recorded.

D. WEAVER ON THE S. T. C. RECORD MEDLEY RELAY 4

Team Breaks World's Record in Armour Tech Relays; Holds Other Honors on Track in Classes.

Dee Weaver, son of Mrs. Leah Weaver and formerly Buchanan high school track star with a state quarter mile record still to his credit, has stepped into the limelight in his sophomore year at Michigan State College as a holder of the world's record in distance medley relay established by the Spartan team of four runners in the Armour Tech relays at Chicago March 22.

The time for the medley distance of two and a half miles was 10 minutes, 22 seconds. Weaver ran the 400 leg, establishing a lead, against the starters of Indiana, Purdue, Pittsburgh, Wisconsin and Notre Dame. On the previous evening they won the 3,200 yard relay of the Central A. A. U. in the record time of 7:54.

On Saturday evening, March 31 the Michigan State relay team broke all previous track records in the relays held at the Butler University field house, Indianapolis, Ind.

Young Weaver has also garnered other laurels. He represents the sophomore class of the ag department on the student council; is first assistant to Prof. Herbert, head of the Forestry department; is vice noble ruler of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, an honor usually reserved for seniors. He has won three gold medals on track in the last month.

Weaver's 440 record made in the state interscholastic track and field meet at East Lansing while a member of the Buchanan high school team in 1933, still stands. An East Lansing paper comments as follows:

"Dee Weaver, an unknown sophomore from Buchanan, has given the Michigan State college distance medley relay team the help it needed to become a formidable quartet. The Spartans hold the world's college indoor record for the event established at the Armour Tech relays.

Weaver is a fast man up to the quarter-mile distance. He won the 300-yard sprint in the Michigan relays last winter and otherwise demonstrated his ability.

"He is a fine competitor," Coach Young said of the sophomore. "In all races he has taken the lead from the field and we have never trailed at any stage of the race run this year.

Nelson Gardner, Don Hovey, Tom Ottey and Capt. Wesley Hurd are other members of the team.

FOREIGN SECRETARY SIMON returned to England from his historic talk with Chancellor Hitler, and reported to the cabinet that Germany is seeking return of the colonies she lost in the war and a greatly increased navy.

He said that Hitler admits Germany's air force equals that of Britain. Prime Minister MacDonald then called on King George to whom he gave a preliminary report of Simon's talks, which have been described as "disappointing." Hitler made a bold play for Anglo-German understanding, declaring both nations should unite to defend western civilization against Communism and the colored races. Briefly, his demands were:

First—Germany must have an army with a minimum of 36 divisions—500,000 men—as decreed.

Second—Germany wants parity in the air with Britain. Hitler admitted that Germany now possesses equality with Britain.

Hitler stressed the danger to which Germany is exposed in the air. He declared that Russia is using Czechoslovakia as a European air base.

Third—Hitler wants a navy equal to one-third of the British fleet, which is tantamount to 100,000 tons. The British admiral is opposed to such a ratio and Germany has been invited to bilateral navy discussions in London.

Fourth—Germany wants return of her former colonies. Little encouragement was given Hitler on this score.

Fifth—Hitler refused to have anything to do with an eastern pact, though he is willing to enter non-aggression pacts with Germany's neighbors, as he did with Poland.

Sixth—Hitler is prepared to sign a pact of noninterference in the affairs of Austria, but only if it means noninterference by all powers.

their resentment at death sentences imposed by Lithuania on four Nazis, and only stout police resistance kept the mob from the Lithuanian delegation itself. The four were convicted when a Lithuanian military court trying 126 Nazis for an asserted plot to start an armed uprising in Memel, former German territory, found them guilty. Eighty-seven others were sent to prison.

As Capt. Anthony Eden, British arms expert, begins his conferences with Soviet officials, observers believe the Russians will marshal every resource to convince Eden that the only safe course for the rest of the world is to bring sufficient pressure on Germany to induce her to accept the eastern securities pact. The official press continues to stress that the rearmament of Germany threatens Russia, and that the conflict growing out of any German attack would spread all over Europe and Asia. This is but a confirmation of Litvinoff's contention that "peace is indivisible." League of Nations circles predict that France, Russia and Czechoslovakia will conclude an eastern pact as an answer to Hitler's new conscript army. Whether any effort will be made to bring Great Britain into this, is not known.

According to a Rome paper that usually speaks with authority, there will soon be held an Anglo-Franco-Italian conference to discuss the rearmament of Austria, Bulgaria and Hungary. This has heretofore been opposed by the countries of the little entente, but it is supposed their views have been altered by recent developments.

Mrs. M. L. Mills
Writes Story of Southern Journey

Dear Editor,
In harmony with previous arrangements, this is to say to our friends that Mae and myself have returned from the Southland, leaving St. Petersburg, Fla., March 18th, where we had been for two months with an old college friend and her sister.
Coming home via Largo, Fla., we picked up a bushel each of grapefruit and oranges, fresh from the orchard they were picked while we waited—costing respectively 75c and $1.25. Our next stop, a few miles farther on was Tarpon Springs, said to be the greatest sponge fishery in the world, and was evidenced by the many bales of sponges being made ready for shipment. The twenty or more boats coming and going, were handled by Greeks, long noted for their monopoly of the Mediterranean sponge trade.
Our next stop was Lake City, Fla., putting up for the first time at a tourist camp. This experience was so novel and interesting, it was no longer to be dreaded. There were signs of frost in the morning, we were very comfortable, hence we camped the next night at Griffin, Ga., and were told that ice formed on water the night before. I might say here that residents in Florida say this has been an unusually cold season, considerable damage being done to citrus crop about Christmas time.

Our route home took us through the historic ground of Civil War fame. The third night found us at Murfreesboro, Tenn., where there is a large Civil war burying ground, and several battle grounds were designated along our way. The battle field of Lookout Mountain, also signal Mount, were pointed out, and these were especially interesting to the writer not only for its scenic beauty, but because it was made memorable by the fact that her brother, Charles was under Grant and Burnside in the Army of the Cumberland extending from the Mississippi river to Petersburg, Va., where he fell while on one knee in the act of firing. A minnie-ball pierced his arm and side and for three days he lay in the burning sun, until removed to Washington hospital. One can but feel they are on sacred ground while pursuing this route, where such great sacrifices were made by our forefathers on both sides.
Indianapolis was our destination for our fourth and last night on the way. Here our plans for the night went "aglee." Preferring to stop at small towns we drove hard to reach Greenwood, a small suburb, about ten miles south of Indianapolis, when, and to our dismay, as it was coming dark, we found we had to detour about 20 miles and that brought us into the heart of the city of Indianapolis, from another angle, but we were fortunate in finding a lovely home for tourists, where we were comfortably established for the night.

The next morning we got to the home of our Buchanan friends, Emory Roughs, where we enjoyed a sumptuous dinner, and our mutual experiences on our two month's tour. Getting home soon after dinner, we found our family of cat, cow and chickens had been well cared for by the kindest of neighbors. We wonder if some of these have sensed our relief when we found our beloved Milkens, (the cat) named for Governor Milkens of Maine) and put it in the paper as all seem solicitous as to the outcome.
And thereby hangs a tale to all lovers of the feline race: When we decided to join the army of southerners, I remonstrated, we may find a home for the cow and the chickens, but who would take our cat? It providentially happened, as many things do, that Brother DeWitt heard our inquiry as to who would care for a pussy, and said, inasmuch as a mouse woke him up the night before, by playing a tune in or on the piano they would be delighted to keep Milkens. And so they took him, but Milkens thought otherwise, and after a few days in a strange home he decided he would make them let him out of doors. They, thinking he would soon return, opened the door and let him out. Soon they went to let him in again, but he failed to respond to their call. Later they came to the home here to see if he had returned, but he was no where to be seen.
As soon as we heard of the "run away," Mae wrote to our next door neighbors, inquiring if they had seen him anywhere around the premises. They came to see, and after several investigations, found him on the hay in the barn, almost starved. They took him to their home and fed and cared for him, so that he is much improved, and he is very much delighted that we have ceased our wanderings and have settled down to home again. So this extends our obligations to our 16 year old pet, who though aged, succeeded in crossing the river and finding his home, two and one half miles distant. All's well that ends well, but we think he deserves credit, for as cats go, he is as old as his mistress and she was 80 years of age Feb. 1st.
Before we went to Florida we sent in for a road map of the new scenic route, via Birmingham, Ala. While to the uninitiated it was interesting, however, to one wishing to go to Florida only, it was farther and less interesting than the way we returned, namely the way of Chattanooga and Atlanta. While we were disappointed in not meeting a friend in Atlanta—not Al Capone—but Mary Harris ARMOUR, our National W. C. T. U. Evangelist, we were glad to have seen the city, the backbone of the South, that Sherman broke and for which later, historians give him great credit for ending the war.
Our sojourn of 2546 miles was very much enjoyed, as also our sight seeing in Florida itself, which we did in addition to the above mentioned mileage.
Another incident of providence, which might be interesting was when we thought to go thru Nashville, after dark and on to Franklin, about ten miles further, for the night. The city was evidently in mourning and the streets were crowded for the funeral. Mae lost her number and a parking her car, she said, "I saw a cop back there, I won't be gone long." Imagine our relief when she returned with this "angel of light," though in midnight darkness.

Then leaving us to get to another corner of his beat, he told us to go one block north and one west, then south. This we did, all but the south. The south was in Egyptian darkness and the only gleam was from a filling station at our right. We stopped and they came hurriedly evidently a father and son of the ebony hue) and I told the father I'd give him a quarter to get us back to our No. 31 again. He was glad of the chance and in a trice we were soon in a city of light where No. 31 was again in evidence!

Two Local Women Awarded National Honors for Recipes

Two Buchanan women have been honored recently by the award of Certificates of Recipe Endorsement from the magazine, Better Homes and Gardens, for food recipes.
Mrs. L. H. Great, South Portage Road, R. R. 3, was awarded the certificate for a recipe for "Virginia Prune Bread." Miss Grace Enk received the award for a recipe for "Bread Pudding Hawaii."

The magazine announces that the aim of the award is the provision of proper recognition for creative work done by women in their kitchens, and also to raise the standard of accuracy and dependability of recipes as a whole.
The awards bring a national recognition to the two local women, achieved only by a selected number of the recipes offered, which pass rigid tests of dependability, excellence of taste and family usefulness.

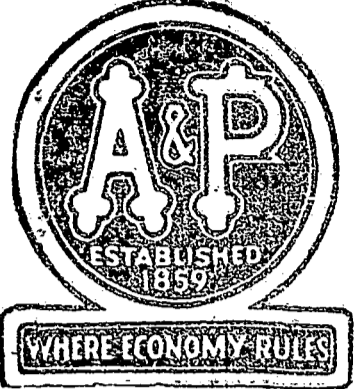

The recipes follow:
Bread Pudding Hawaii
2 cupfuls of dry bread crumbs
3 1/2 cupfuls scalding milk
2 beaten eggs
1/2 cupful sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoonful melted butter
1 teaspoonful vanilla
1/2 cupful crushed pineapple (not drained)

Soak the bread crumbs in the scalding milk for 30 minutes. Add eggs, slightly beaten, then the sugar, which has been mixed with the baking powder and salt. Stir in the melted butter and vanilla, then the crushed pineapple. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a slow oven for 1 hour. Serve warm or cold, plain or with sweetened whipped cream. Serves 6 to 8.

Virginia's Prune Bread
Cover 1/2 pound of Monarch prunes with cold water and cook gently until very tender. Cool and drain, then seed and cut into small pieces.

1 egg
1/2 cup cane sugar
1 cup diced prunes
1 cup thick sour milk
1 teaspoon soda
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon melted butter
Beat egg until light, then add sugar and mix thoroughly. Add the prunes, then the sour milk in which the soda has been dissolved. Stir in the flour, which has been sifted with baking powder and salt. Add the melted butter and mix until well combined. Place in a greased loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven for about 45 minutes. Cool the bread then cut in slices and serve plain with butter. The bread also makes delicious sandwiches spread with soft white cheese.

Wisdom and Experience Wisdom and experience should make one more responsible and strict as regards one's own actions, and more lenient and tolerant of other people's.

Costliest Political Confab The costliest political confab in history took place on "The Field of the Cloth of Gold" near Andres, France, in 1520 between Francis I and Henry VIII. Francis erected a magnificent palace, chapel and other buildings, all gold decorated, for the entertainment of Henry and the nobility of England and France. Nothing, however, was accomplished in the 17 days. No one wanted to get very far away from a large fountain which, from morning until midnight, poured forth two kinds of wine.—Collier's Weekly.

Printing From Movable Types Printing from movable types, it is believed, was probably practical in China as early as the Twelfth or Thirteenth century and there are Korean books printed from movable type or wooden types in 1317. To Gutenberg (1400 ?-to 1468) is attributed the credit of being the inventor or at least having responsibility for the great improvement in the production of movable metal types and for the splendid craftsmanship displayed in printing his celebrated Bible. It was the first big volume to be printed with movable types. The Gutenberg Bible was printed about 1455 or 1456.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Hon. Clare Hoffman Announces Stand on the Veteran's Bonus

To the Veterans:

When the bonus legislation was about to come before Congress, the members of Legion Posts and Veterans of Foreign Wars began to write and wire, some asking, some demanding, that I vote for the Vinson plan, others that the Patman plan be supported.

Each group was equally insistent. I was forced to make a choice. Having stated that I believed in payment in sound money, I did my utmost in behalf of the Vinson plan. Not only because I believed this proposition sound, but the Patman plan, in substance, having been twice vetoed, it appearing that some supporting it were more interested in inflation than they were in the veterans and the payment of the bonus. I was convinced then, as I am now, that the Vinson plan, was more likely to result in the payment of the bonus.

The vote as you know, was extremely close, as first announced being a tie which was broken by the vote of Democratic Speaker Byrnes in favor of the Vinson plan. Three Democrats from the South then changed their vote and the Patman plan was adopted, 207 to 204. Then, on the roll call, this being the only opportunity to vote for the bonus, the vote stood 315 to 90.

It is my candid judgment that either of the other two plans would have come nearer to accomplishing the purpose desired than will the Patman bill. If the President means what he said, he will veto the bonus legislation, if the Senate leaves the Patman plan in it.

In the primary campaign and subsequently, in campaign literature and when speaking, I stated that I would vote for the payment of the bonus in sound money, for the reason that I believed that the sums which were being wasted in the employment of political officeholders might better go to the payment of a just debt.

Moreover, in my judgment, this being a debt, it was preferable to pay and cancel it, rather than to waste the money on visionary experiments, as the administration had done and seemed determined to do.

I have more than kept my promise to the Veterans and, if the legislation fails, through presidential veto or action of the Senate, a share of that failure must be charged to the factional strife among the veterans themselves and to the inflationists who forced their plan of the printing of "green back money" into a measure of which it was no legitimate part.

The legislation is now before the Senate, where the Patman idea of printing money to pay the bonus will probably meet with stiffer opposition than it did in the House.

You are interested in the payment of the bonus. May I respectfully suggest that, instead of half of you requesting the Michigan senators to vote for the Vinson plan, the other half asking that they vote for the Patman plan, you merely request them to pass bonus legislation and leave it to their judgment to do the best they can for you.

Respectfully yours,
CLARE E. HOFFMAN.

Silk Armor Long Used

Because of its remarkable ability to deaden blows and even stop certain bullets, silk armor has been used in many countries from earliest times almost to the present day. In fact, writes H. L. Berg, Blue Ash, Ohio, in Collier's Weekly, thousands of English soldiers wore padded silk neckties during the World war. Incidentally, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, whose assassination started the war, wore a vest of silk armor on the day he was shot in the head in Sarajevo, Serbia.

Suttee Is Taboo

Suttee, the Indian custom of a widow burning herself on her husband's funeral pile, was legally abolished by the British in 1829.

Grand Canyon Explored in 1869

The Grand Canyon first was explored by Maj. John Wesley Powell, a one-armed school teacher, in 1869. He dared what Indians and frontiersmen were afraid to try.

Various Buoys

Buoys with red and black horizontal stripes mark obstructions or shoals in a channel. Can buoys are flat topped and cylindrical, while nun buoys are conical with pointed top. When a ship enters a channel or harbor, red buoys (usually nun buoys) with even numbers are to be left on the ship's starboard or right hand; black buoys (usually can buoys) with odd numbers are to be left on the ship's port or left hand.

Darwin's Tidal Theory

The theory of tidal evolution, first elaborated by Sir George Darwin late in the Nineteenth century, postulated that the earth and moon evolved from a single liquid body which rotated on its axis in a little less than five hours. Owing to its rapid rotation, this body was very oblate and the motion of its particles was continually disturbed by tides raised upon it by the sun. Darwin showed that, granted certain reasonable assumptions, the free period of vibration of this body must have been the same as that of the tides, and this vibration caused a portion of the body to be separated from the remainder.
