

PORTAGE ROAD LISTED FOR SURFACE

Rifle Club to Present Conservation Show at Legion Hall April 16

Now Here's the Proposition

Spring Notes
Look out gosh! We can feel it coming on again! Just stand aside and see that we get plenty of air and we'll come out of it all right. Watch out! It's coming. We were afraid this was going to happen. We're off.

Hand me down my eukalele, hand me down my slide trombone, hand me down an old bass drum or anything.
For I feel the spell upon me, I should tuncfully intone
How it's grand to be in Michigan in Spring!

There are daisies on the greensward blooming for my gal and me
As we ankle round the landscape hand in hand
And we hear the jaybird singing in the rutabaga tree
And we walk until our shoes are full of sand.

It is that Love that makes me this way, filling me with sacred fire,
It is love that makes this old heart go kaplunk!
It is love that makes me warble as I twang my tuncful lyre
Plink-plink-plink-plink-plink-plink-plunk.

Hand me down a grand piano, hand me down my old bassoon, hand me down an old felt hat or anything.
For I feel the spell upon me, I should lift my voice and croon
How it's grand to be in Michigan in Spring.

Ah-h-h-h-h! Now we feel better!

Our old friend, Harve Bristol, was in the office Monday morning and told us we could broadcast to all the local dial twisters that he had a fine trip Sunday up to Cass along with his lady friend, visiting several friends at Corey Lake and Volinia township and another old gal in Vandalia township. Harve says spring is coming right along over in Cass, and he saw one farmer that had planted seven acres of early potatoes. Good Friday is the regulation day to plant early potatoes. Drop in again, Harve.

Joe Fuller, the veteran mushroom hound, says that it is still too cold for that kind of fruit and you can expect them about apple blossom time. And if you can find them under an old apple tree, so much the better.

The occasion is sponsored by the Rifle Club in the interest of sport and conservation and the public are invited to attend without charge. The program will open at 7:30 p. m.

Please Spell It "Please" or Else Spell It "Pleze"

An indication that the local educational mills may have adopted modified spelling, is contained in a sign on the grounds of the Dewey Avenue school bearing the inscription "pleas." The inference is that the public will "pleas" desist from cutting across the grounds as they have been in the habit of doing until they have worn a distinct path. It would seem that a more accurate phonetic rendition would be "pleze."

CITY TO DESIGNATE THE LOADING ZONE

FIERCE ATTACK BY MADDENED CAT AROUSES GALIEN

Community Arms with Shotguns for Maddened Animal Which Attacked Woman.

The Galien Community was engaged in a "wildcat" hunt with shotguns and other weapons yesterday as the result of a fierce attack made on Mrs. Harry Ogden by a big yellow cat well known about the town.

Mrs. Ogden was out working in her yard, and had stooped over to pick up a dish when the cat suddenly pounced on her from around the corner of a building. He scratched her fiercely and sunk his teeth in her legs, severely lacerating them. Then he sprang back and crouched for another attack, when she ran for the home of a neighbor, the cat being between her and her own house. He started after her but she checked him by throwing her dish at him, getting in the neighbor's home. There he followed, waiting outside the door for her until he was driven away by hot water.

Mrs. Ogden was taken to Three Oaks where her wounds were dressed and cauterized.

FRANK LAWSON AND WIFE HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Struck at Junction M-60 and Dayton Stone Road by Mishawaka Car; Others Seriously Hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawson of Buchanan escaped almost miraculously from serious injury or worse when their car was struck Saturday at the junction of M-60 and the stone road south of Dayton by a car driven by Merle Smith, Mishawaka.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson had approached M-60 from the south. Mr. Lawson stopped and then, thinking the highway was clear, he started to cross, when the other loomed up from the east driving at a high rate of speed and striking them broadside. It is believed that the Mishawaka car struck toward the front of the Lawson car, as both vehicles swerved. The Lawson car was shoved over 100 feet into the ditch on the north side of M-60 and the west side of the Dayton road. The Mishawaka car swerved and came to a stop on the opposite side of the road heading east.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson were uninjured except for bruises and shock. Merle Smith received cuts and bruises. He was accompanied by three men who sustained the following injuries: William Brock, Elkhart, believed to have a skull fracture; Fletcher Thompson of Niles, fractured right leg; Thomas Buckles, Niles, cuts about the head.

Government to Guarantee 1935 Sugar Beet Price

Beet growers of the Galien district are offered an attractive sugar beet contract for the current season, according to Field Superintendent Warren Hagley.

The government is offering to pay a bonus, if necessary, to bring the price to a figure equivalent to the average paid in 1910-14, which was $5.52. Since it now takes $12.78 to buy what $1 would buy in 1910-14, it will be necessary to scale the price of $5.52 up accordingly.

JENNIE SLATER WOOD, CHICAGO SOCIAL AND CIVIC WORKER AND ASSOCIATE OF JANE ADAMS, PASSES

Born in Buchanan, Was Leader Here in Youth; Helped to Organize O. E. S. and Thirty Club.

Although compelled by many years of ill health to a life of inactivity, the death of Jennie Slater Wood, which occurred Thursday at the home of her son at New Troy, brought to the memories of the older residents of Buchanan one of the most vivid personalities that ever graced the social scene here, and which for years made its impress on the greater life of Chicago.

Few of the current generation realized, as they saw her in the past year, a slight, pathetic figure on the porch at the home of her sister, Mrs. Nella Slater, that she had been for many years president of one of the largest civic organizations of Chicago, a leader in the civic and political life of the great north side of the metropolis, the friend and co-worker among the downcast and needy of Jane Adams, of Mary McDowell and of other noted figures.

Some idea of the extent of her activities in the days before ill-health and ill-fortune compelled her retirement may be gleaned from the fact that she was one of the organizers and charter members of the Sylvia Chapter No. 74 O. E. S., of the Thirty Club, and of the Chicago Buchanan Society. She was for years the president and active leader of the latter organization.

As president of a civic organization with a membership of 400 she had an honored place there, a zealous worker for better social and political conditions in that

2 PLACES TO BE MARKED OUT ON FRONT ST.

Merson is Re-elected Mayor for Third Term; Only One Change in City Appointments.

Unloading zones for trucks will be established in front of the Glenn Smith store and in front of Herman Kujawa's at the intersection of Days avenue and Front street as soon as signs can be secured and the lines painted, as the result of action taken at the special meeting of the city commission Monday evening.

These zones will be long enough to permit trucks to park parallel to the curb for unloading, and will accommodate the sections where it is difficult to reach the rear of the stores. In the meantime Chief Mitchell has been instructed to stop all double parking on Front street.

Beer licenses were renewed for M. P. Snyder, Donley Bros., and Frank Fabiano.

Frank C. Merson was re-elected mayor for the third term at a special meeting held at the city hall Monday and made his appointments immediately afterwards.

Appointments made by Mayor Merson and ratified by the city commission were: clerk, Harry Post; treasurer, Ada Dacy-Sanders; assessor, Harleigh Squier; attorney, Frank R. Sanders; chief of police, Edward Mitchell; night watchman, Frank Keen; superintendent of the waterworks, Clyde Blake; health officer, Kenneth Gamble.

The following committees were appointed: Water works, F. C. Hathaway and Dr. H. M. Beistle; streets, H. A. Brown and P. A. Graffort; parks and lights, P. A. Graffort and H. A. Brown; finance, Dr. Beistle and F. C. Hathaway; cemetery board, Theron Childs, H. M. Brown and F. C. Hathaway.

city. Always slight and frail, she was known as a woman of indomitable courage. As a social worker associated with the Hull House she went on many occasions on errands of welfare and mercy into places where men were afraid, compelling respect by her fearlessness.

She was born in Buchanan Oct. 13, 1868, the daughter of N. J. Slater and Phidolia Slater and grew to womanhood here. She was married Nov. 21, 1888, to Stephen Wood, then proprietor of a hardware store where the Kroger store is now located. She and her husband first lived in an apartment over the store and later in the house at 702 Days Avenue, now occupied by B. E. Steele, but known for years as the Stephen Wood home. To this union were born three sons: George A. Wood, Niles; Fred S. Wood, of Central America and R. Jennings Wood of New Troy.

About 1903 they moved to Chicago, making their home there until a few years ago. For the past year she had lived at the home of her sister, Mrs. Nella Slater.

She went to the home of her son, R. Jennings Wood at New Troy on March 31, and there was taken acutely ill on the following day, dying Thursday. She was buried Saturday in the Berrien Springs cemetery beside her late husband, who died Jan. 7. She is survived by the three sons and the sister mentioned above.

A friend and helper of thousands in the days of her activity, it was her fate in the last years of illness and misfortune to be nearly forgotten by a world whose memory is short and whose changes are swift.

Narrow Escape From Accident on Dead Man's Curve

What will likely happen sooner or later came near happening Saturday when John Kay, R. R. 1, Three Oaks, in company with two companions left the road while turning Dead Man's Curve just south of the Michigan Central crossing in Buchanan and struck the rails, his car rolling over several times and alighting again on its wheels on the north side of the double tracks.

The three men suffered only slight injuries. Estimates on the rate of speed range from the rate of 35 miles an hour claimed by the driver to an estimate of 75 miles an hour by a witness.

SAYS STATE DID NOT VOTE AGAINST AID FOR SCHOOLS

Officer State School Board Assoc. Says Keyworth Also Favored $25,000,000 Appropriation.

Statements being made to the effect that M. R. Keyworth was elected by the people in opposition to the $25,000,000 appropriation for schools is absolutely contrary to the fact. At no time in his speeches did Dr. Keyworth favor less than a $25,000,000 appropriation. His election as state superintendent of public instruction was assured on the basis of a support for at least $25,000,000 state aid and on the basis of the confidence people had in him as a citizen and educational leader. The people of Michigan demand that adequate aid be given the schools and have supported the various studies which have shown that the absolute minimum required is $25,000,000. The schools can and must receive this aid.

In the beginning of the election campaign, Dr. Keyworth and Dr. Voelker both signed statements favoring at least a $25,000,000 appropriation, and the statements were repeated before the election and subsequent to the election. Superintendent Keyworth was supported and elected on the basis that he supported this $25,000,000 appropriation and because many believed he had a better chance to accomplish this end because of his political affiliation. It is absolutely unfair to all concerned to imply that his election was brought about because of any unfavorable attitude toward the $25,000,000 appropriation.

Unquestionably the many voters and groups who favored state aid for schools in the amount of $25,000,000 also supported Keyworth and his party in this election feeling that the $25,000,000 was not at stake so far as his election was concerned. The electorate of Michigan did not at any time feel that the question as to who would be elected superintendent of public instruction was in any way involving the amount of money which should be appropriated for schools.

You need only to note the situation which will exist in a number of cities in Michigan in order to realize that the $25,000,000 is not in excess of the amount needed. In many instances, it will not be adequate for a full school term, and if adequate, in most instances it will be insufficient to provide a proper school program. We hope the legislature will accept the figures of those who have made such a study, and will provide for the schools the $25,000,000 that has been shown to be the minimum amount for a minimum educational program for this year.

Signed: Henry Cook, M. D. Chairman Legislative Com. of the Michigan Association of School Board Members.

SURVEY MADE FROM M-60 TO INDIANA LINE

County Commission Designates Highway as One of Three on List for Early Action.

Resurfacing of the Portage Prairie Road from M-60 to the Indiana line has been designated as one of the three road projects in Berrien county which will be given preference in the event that there is an allotment of funds for highway building from the $4,800,000,000 public works fund, according to John Bateman, engineer-manager of the Berrien County Road commission.

The other two roads included in the preferred designation are a section of the Territorial road in Pipestone township and the Three Oaks-Sawyer road.

A preliminary survey has already been made of the Portage Prairie road, in order that work may be expedited as much as possible if there is an appropriation for the resurfacing. This road has been checked several times on the amount of traffic.

A $500,000,000 appropriation for highways, roads and streets, and a $300,000,000 appropriation for grade crossing elimination appear to be slated for the road program's $800,000,000 share of the federal work relief bill awaiting the President's signature.

Chairman Cartwright of the House roads committee explained that provisions of the bill require that the road funds be spent in the usual manner of federal aid road funds but sets up a different basis for allocating the grade crossing elimination allotments. The chairman said "these funds are to be expended by the state highway departments."

If the President does not exercise his privilege of shifting up to 20 per cent from the road allotment, the allocation by states would include $16,160,000 for highways, roads, etc., and $10,140,000 for grade crossing work.

Scouts of Troop 41 To Have Troop Mothers Club

With the organization of a Mothers Club of the mothers of the scouts of troop 41, the sending of the troop's representative to Washington in August to the Scouts National Anniversary Jamboree, is made certain.

The next few weeks will see Buchanan in a veritable whirlpool of scouting activity; the under currents of which are already seething with plans and special arrangements. Woe to the folks who are not Boy Scout Boosters, for they will have to take a back seat in this performance — and frankly speaking, there is not much chance for a get-away as the ladies are covering all avenues of escape as efficiently as the State Police could do it.

The mothers have divided into two groups of two patrols each, and are sponsoring different activities—the Scout benefit card party at the Legion hall April 23rd and the benefit rummage sale April 26 and 27.

Buchanan to Set The Clock Ahead Sunday, April 28

Over Breakfast Coffee

By A. C. Clapp

Consider for a moment Charles Evans Hughes the man who gave two lives in the service of his country. The two Charles E. Hughes were not father and son, but the same man.

The first was dignified, aloof, even brusque. He had to be. He was fighting against: First, the big New York insurance companies, then as Governor against the race tracks and for the direct primary law. Even as candidate for the presidency he did not unbend much and fiddle for the votes.

Then President Harding appointed him Secretary of State. And it was another Charles E. Hughes in the office. The genial, hale fellow well met, Mr. Hughes, held the office. He just had to act thusly. It was either bust or blossom. He was laboring with now, instead of against. Persuading and conciliating foreign nations, and not reforming them.

At present Charles E. Hughes the two of them, are chief justices of the U. S. Supreme Court. And this Friday, April 11th, they share birthday cake number 73.

Odds and ends—Asked a merchant what he thought the old town most needed. "Enthusiasm," he replied enthusiastically. He could get no further than this one concept which repeated, however, many times means nothing; by itself. For all I know he might mean enthusiasm for loafing in place of for a new bridge.

The writer got quite a kick out of the April election autoing voters to the polls. Circuit Judgeship race was very close, seemingly now an eleven vote lead for Judge White with a recount assured.

In this case each party worker of the winning side may well feel individually responsible for the outcome. Sometimes one vote turns the election one way or another. And the last voter raises to office whoever he pleases.

Printers' Rollers

There is no standard or fixed formula for the material from which printers' rollers are made. In general it consists of a mixture of water, glue, glycerin, and sugar (or molasses). Certain kinds contain small amounts of other substances, such as gelatin, rubber, or special synthetic resins.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ephesians 4:17, 18): "This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind, Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 297): "Sickness, sin and death are the vagaries of human conclusions. ON EVERY TRIP

YOU may examine the 1935 Ford V-8 point by point and almost every detail will be found to contribute in some manner to the car's safety.

But, in these days of fast driving and crowded roads, these eight outstanding Ford V-8 safety features deserve your most serious consideration.

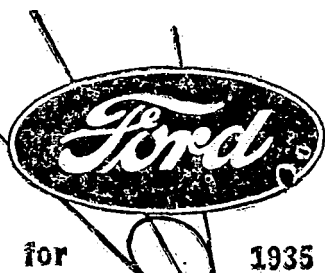

- 1 Safety Glass all around in all body types, at no extra charge.
- 2 Positive mechanical brakes have been made more powerful, and operate with less pedal pressure. No finer brakes today in any car.
- 3 A welded-into-one-piece solid steel body. Hub, spokes and rim welded into a solid steel wheel.
- 4 Ford transverse springs, always without a peer for safety, are longer this year. This added length increases the Ford's natural stability.
- 5 Increased tire area in contact with road gives more positive braking and resists tire roll on fast curves.
- 6 Last year's extremely strong X-type Ford frame has been further strengthened by a wide margin.
- 7 Redistribution of weight, almost evenly between front and rear wheels, gives better balance and more thorough control.
- 8 Ford lightning-like acceleration gives instant car command in tight places.

Give yourself the experience of driving this brilliant car. Every day you delay owning the 1935 Ford V-8 is a day of complete motor satisfaction gone forever.

New Doughnut More Like Life Preserver Than Old Time Sinker

They used to call 'em sinkers but now they're making them as light as life preservers, and if you want any proof of the statement you will find it in the new doughnut recently placed on the market here by the Pauls Kreamo Bakers, on sale at local stores.

The new "donut" contains the equivalent of one and one half cakes of yeast-apiece.

Heralded by food experts as the greatest advancement since the discovery that yeast itself contained the highly necessary vitamins for health, the new doughnut is claimed by its makers to be a scientific triumph in pure food, embodying the healthful qualities of yeast with goodness of taste.

Trade name for the new product is "Golden Fluff," chosen, according to the bakers, because it contains no grease. The doughnuts are baked by an entirely new process and will be sold in moisture-proof cellophane bags.

George Wynn and P. J. Moore will attend a Class C Conference at Berrien Springs Wednesday.

Michigan coal miners from six communities converged on three mass meetings Sunday to develop plans for their march on the state capital, Tuesday.

The miners attended meetings at Saginaw, Bay City and St. Charles, where speakers outlined the position of the miners on the bill now pending in the House which would make mandatory the use of Michigan-mined coal in state institutions. The bill passed the Senate and is before the state affairs committee of the House.

William Stevenson, president of district No. 24, United Mine Workers of America, presented the miners' plea in support of the bill. He based his plea on the argument that continued operation of the coal mines in Saginaw, Bay City, Midland, Unionville, Auburn and St. Charles depends on a substantial increase in consumption of the Michigan product by the state itself.

What is CHEERFUL?

Spending some, saving some, and wasting none—that is thrift.

The store invites spending. The bank commends saving. And both are right.

For saving and spending must be mixed in the right proportions in every successful life. How much there should be of the one or the other in your case, will depend upon your circumstances and your ambitions.

Thus there is no conflict between spending and saving. Both are a necessary part of life. Your local merchant caters to your needs of today. Your local bank helps you to provide for the larger needs and plans of tomorrow.

Remember, therefore, the real definition of thrift: "Spend some, save some, and waste none of what you earn."

H. S. Assembly Hears Manual Arts Program

The most important feature of the auditorium program held on Friday, April 5, at 2 o'clock, was Mr. C. Boone, who spoke on "The Importance of Manual Arts and Especially Mechanical Drawing to the Average Individual."

"While visiting in Washington, D. C.," asserted Mr. Boone, "I found there to be approximately 52 girls working as draftsmen."

Mr. Boone showed many different ways in which Manual Arts could be used in everyday life.

Another statement made by the speaker was, "If you have any talent for drafting, you will find many uses for it as you pass thru and in later life."

The Glee club sang a song to begin the program, and the band ended the program by playing a march.

Mr. Miller sponsored the program.

H. S. Interclass Track Meet to Be Held Friday Apr. 12

The Annual Inter-class track meet will be held, Friday, April 12. The Seniors, who are the defending champions, are holding a heavy edge over the underclassmen to win the meet.

Coach Wynn has appointed the following men as captains:

Tuberculosis Test Given Last Week

The tuberculosis test was given Thursday and Friday, April 4 and 5, and 80 per cent of the upper six grades took the test.

The schedule was as follows:

Dr. Frederickson, Thursday at 10:30.

Dr. Strayer, Thursday at 1:00.

Dr. Gamble, Friday, 10:30.

Dr. Snowden, Friday at 1:30.

Reporting Inquirer

The question this week is: What do you think about students who chew gum during school hours?

Don Jerue—"Let them chew."

Blanche Deyl—"I think it is all right to chew gum during school hours, just so the ones chewing the gum don't disturb others. Some teachers like to chew gum as well as the students, so why not let us chew gum?"

Dick Ellis—"It is very annoying when one is trying to study and reminds me of a first grader."

Elouise Squier—"Chewing gum in school is rather crude, but it's all right."

Along the Corridors

Did you all know that Ruth and Theda Strunk are moving to Niles? Of course, it would be Niles.

If anyone hears any mumbled or grumbled, it's not anyone going insane but just the seniors learning their parts for the senior play.

The tuberculosis tests and the Scholastic tests have kept the students quite busy.

It seems that Niles reads frequent visitors here during their spring vacation.

Did you know that a certain senior girl goes with a star athlete of Dowagiac?

The dancing students are increasing in the senior class. If you'll notice, Claude Denno, Ray Tuhl, Everett Deeds, Don Blaney, John Hattenbach are all doing well.

JUST AMUSING HIMSELF

Evidently Everett Deeds did not have anything to do Wednesday—it didn't seem that way, at least.

Just for amusement, he was combing his hair with a hard rubber comb and trying to pick up a small piece of paper, with the electricity left in his comb, until he could put his hand down to the paper.

COULDN'T KEEP A STRAIGHT FACE!

When Alice Ruth came into Mr. Hyatt's home room to sell Matinee dance tickets, she could not keep a straight face.

As Alice is not used to such ballyhooing, she felt rather foolish and just had to laugh.

Her efforts were not all in vain—she sold one ticket, anyway.

General clean-up of the school house was done by the 7th and 8th grade students.

Special Notice!

The inter-class track meet will be held at the athletic field Friday, April 12, at 3:45 o'clock. All students (boys) going out for track will participate.

NEW FADS AGAIN

Lately some lovely lady showed the girls how to tie a small bow of ribbon and pin it to a hair pin to look as if it had just been stuck there in their waves.

The girls wear the ribbon to harmonize with the color of their dresses.

TAKING TESTS

All the students of the four upper grades were given a psychological test last week.

The seniors took the test Tuesday, the juniors Wednesday, sophomores Thursday and the freshmen Monday.

The work on manuscripts is being continued by the typing eleven classes. The arrangement of title pages and programs is the work for this week.

Things Noticed in and About School

Many students from other schools are paying a visit to our school.

This yard is being raked and the leaves are burned.

Track enthusiasts must be able to take "it" this cold weather.

White shoes are being seen quite frequently in the halls.

Book reports are due for juniors and seniors.

The aquarium which is in the biology room, is being filled with water life. So far the aquarium has salamanders, water plants, frogs, snails, and gold fish in it.

The physics class is studying the alternating current machines. The class will learn more of these things by a trip to the power house.

Other things to be taken up are transformers, transmission lines, small alternating current motors, and generators. The synchronous motors used in the electric clocks and a bigger type used for large power purposes are to be taken up. Also the study of the telephone will be worked upon.

The general science class is taking up the study of light. Such questions as:

"Why you can see," "How you can see," "The cause of red sunsets and sunrises," and "Reasons for the color of different objects," are to be explained and answered in class.

There will be an explanation of the mirage and of the fact that black man is not a colored man, but the white man is a colored man.

Another thing to be studied in this field is the colloidal gold solutions. It is cherry red in color and is used in hospitals for the treatment and diagnosis of important diseases.

The process by which an ore is separated from rock is the flotation process.

This process was worked out at Michigan school of Mines and was first used in copper. Mr. Hoover, in some research work, used it on zinc.

The school dentist is here and will stay until the first of May.

Local Woman Writes of Visit to Mammoth Cave

Mammoth Cave, said to be one of the "Seven Wonders of the World," is the scenic center of Kentucky. Mae and I had planned to take a day off for its "once over," had it not been for our accident, near Elizabethtown, Ky., which delayed us a day. As our friends at St. Petersburg would be anxiously awaiting our arrival, we decided instead, to spend a few hours at a nearby cave. One of the series of the Mammoth Caves, which was out from Elizabethtown, on our way to Nashville.

Consequently, we visited the cave known as the Floyd Collins Onyx Crystal Cave, that was discovered by him Dec. 18, 1917. It was in this cave that the now noted, but ill-fated Floyd Collins made many of his discoveries, as also at another cave about eight miles distant. This one was now owned by his brother, who took us thru and showed us some of the excavating work done by Floyd. All of these cave formations are so very interesting, that we are sorry now that we did not give more of our vacation to visiting others of the 200 caverns which are said to be in the series of the Mammoth group, and which includes also the whole Cumberland range, so I understand; and it certainly extends as far as New Market, Virginia, as I read, one hundred thousand visitors annually travel to New Market to see the wonderful and spectacular Endless Caverns there.

As we have before intimated, Kentucky and Tennessee are memorable, because they were among the contested States along the northern border; hence we have the battles of Memphis, Shiloh, Ft. Donaldson, Island No. 10, Vicksburg, Nashville, Murfreesboro, Chattanooga, Lookout Mountain, Signal Mountain and Knoxville, the latter of which was especially interesting, because of the fact that my brother, who was with the Army of the Cumberland, wrote from here, that he was so nearly starved that he faint would have eaten the kernels of corn the mules dropped during the siege of Knoxville.

Although then torn with the ravages of war, these states are now so beautiful because of their Mountain streams, valleys, beautiful homes, and the wonderful facilities for communication and travel. The Dixie highway is much in evidence, thus making it possible for the North and South to share each other's hospitality in the way of diversified climate, which after all belongs to each and all of us, for "we be brethren."

Those who have spent their summers in the northern part of Southern Michigan, will have noticed the many homes which indicate the names of the States from our Sunny Southland, whose occupants spend their summers "North," as we do our winters, "South."

We certainly were interested to note on the map that the two greatest leaders of our Civil war were born near each other—Jefferson Davis at Hopkinsville, and Lincoln near Hodgenville, Ky., with Mammoth Cave between.

I read that in 1855, (my natal year) Bayard Taylor wrote: "No description can do justice to the wonders of Mammoth Cave," and we have also learned, "that this subterranean shrine of the ages, and magnificent stretch of scenic beauty," is soon to become a National Park." Mammoth Cave is on five levels and contains about 200 miles of chartered avenues, some of them two hundred feet wide and their domes quite as high. "The Star Chamber," which inspired Emerson's essay, "Illusion," John Burrows thought the loveliest spot. Here the Grand Duke Alexis dined, and here Jenny Lind sang as she sat in a niche of a tree in the cave. I also read that every geological formation to be seen in any of the five hundred known caverns is also found in the Mammoth Cave series of caverns, and of these, the Floyd Collins cave, we visited, is one. Mae secured a beautiful specimen of this onyx formation.

We also found Zachary Taylor's monument at Louisville, Ky., and that "My Old Kentucky Home" was written at Bardonia, Ky., while we crossed the "Sewanee River," memorable for its Negro spirituelle by that name, in Florida.

In a little booklet, I find this bit of romantic history, voicing the appreciation of the writer, when he said, "Only the famous wolf that kept the life in Romulus and Remus, holds a higher place in animal history than the canny bear that in 1795 fled from Hunter Houchins into a great cavern, and thereby caused the discovery of what is now Mammoth Cave." That story may, or may not be true. Certainly the discovery dates from that time, but it was the war of 1812 that first brought the cave into national prominence. One writer claims that war with Great Britain would have ended with failure on our side but for the saltpeter for the manufacture of gun powder furnished by American caverns, at a time when a general embargo cut off foreign supplies. Following this period the cave changed ownership. Dr. John Croghan, and his heirs bought 2000 acres surrounding it, and owned it continuously from 1893 to 1930, when it became the property of the State of Kentucky. The next chapter in the history of the cave will, no doubt, record the completion of the Mammoth Cave National Park project, which involves the acquisition of a total of 47,500 acres of land.

"The altitude of the Mammoth cave Park Area—nine hundred feet above sea level—emphasizes the resort value of the region, for this is the altitude of some of the country's most famous year-round resorts," while in Florida the highest point of land is said to be 400 feet, and surely, Florida may be counted among the great as a winter resort.

ARCHEOLOGIST LOCATES SITE OF INDIAN VILLAGE

Local District Most Thickly Populated in S. W. Michigan in Prehistoric Days.

Sites of numerous Indian dwellings indicating the presence in pre-white days of a considerable village of aborigines was located by J. B. Dalby, Berrien Springs Delaware Indian, on the flats immediately east of the Frank Inhof place on the east bank of the St. Joseph River about 2 1/2 miles north of Buchanan.

Dalby located a number of fire stone groups indicating wigwam sites, also charcoal and Indian tools. Among other indications of prehistoric residences were the following: charcoal mingled profusely in the soil, burned animal bones including deer and numerous fragments of Indian pottery.

Hammers and anvils for arrow making were found, surrounded by numerous chips of flint and damaged pieces of arrowheads and war points. "Granite ironers for finishing deer skin for wear were found and also granite roughers to give the hide a soft surface. Scrapers for removing the flesh from the hide were also found.

It is known that the immediate vicinity of Buchanan was the most populous in Indian villages in southwestern Michigan, and that several villages were located in the Bend of the River. Dalby said that the arrowheads were those of the Sioux tribe.

PROBABLY—BUT WHEN?

A fine example in the utilization of natural scenic advantages is being set this spring by D. S. Larson, who is straightening and improving McCoy's creek past his plant on Smith street and is also filling the depression between the building and the street preparatory to landscaping it.

It is to be hoped that others in the city will see fit to follow Larson's cue and improve both the creek and the mill race through the town. In spite of spasmodic and partial efforts toward improvement of the two streams, they are yet mainly eye sores in the city limits. The possibilities of a natural running stream through the city are boundless, and Buchanan has an asset here which is being neglected.

At some future time the citizens of this town will join in the present-day march for civic improvement and will turn the stream into an improvement instead of a scene of ugliness and a source of infection.

PROMOTE SUMMER ATHLETICS

The winter schedule of the Buchanan Athletic Association was completed last week and plans are now under way for a summer schedule which will include softball, and may include tennis and horse shoe tournaments.

An effort is being made to promote a summer program under a director such as has been carried on in other cities of this vicinity and such as has already been approved for Niles this summer.

Medals will be here soon for the D's Cafe players, winners of the winter series, and for the members of the Brodriek team, runner's-up. A medal will also be presented to Dick Bachman as a recognition of good sportsmanship in the final series.

The success of the winter series is to be credited to the wise management of the officers and to the public spirit of the following citizens and organizations which sponsored teams: The American Legion, Wilson's Dairy, Roots News Agency, Reamer's Market, D's Cafe, Buchanan Co-ops, Brodriek's Drug store.

A committee of the Buchanan Athletic Association waited on the City Commission Monday evening and received assurances of co-operation in the erection of back-stops for the fine new double tennis court constructed by FERA labor here last fall. Mayor Merson named a committee to investigate into the possibility of economical construction by the use of used pipe and other materials.

More Rope Needed
"They, who talk much," said H. Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "need not be contradicted. Eventually they will contradict themselves."

Original Arabian Stallions
The Arabian stallions which became the founders of the race of thoroughbreds in England were Darley Arabian, Ryerby Turk and Godolphin Barb.

"After the Storm—Calm"
The most usual form of the proverb "The calm after the storm" is "After a storm comes a calm"; this is found in several languages. Shakespeare uses it in Othello: "If after every tempest come such calms." Dryden, Moore, Thomson and other poets refer to the calm following a storm. Thomson, among others, also refers to the "boding silence" prevailing just before a tempest. Dryden says: "An horrid stillness first invades the ear, And in that silence we the tempest fear."

Eagle Feathers in Demand
Because many of the Plains Indians and the Pueblos and Hopis of southwestern United States still affect the feather headgear of their ancestors and are particularly partial to eagle feathers for the adornment of their millinery, these are much in demand.

Help at Last

Mrs. Worly, 229 Grove St., Highland Park, says: I suffered for years with constipation and indigestion. Two hours after eating, I suffered gas pains and sour stomach and seemed to get weaker, until I found it hard to work. My appetite was good, but I was afraid to eat. I read about MUL-SO-LAX and got a bottle. It brought quick relief. After taking 4 bottles, I am free from all my trouble. Demand genuine MUL-SO-LAX at any drug store.

What We Have Learned from FARMERS

For years we have discussed the practical and financial sides of farming with our farmer friends.

It would be strange indeed, therefore, if in this exchange of views we had not gained valuable first-hand information. This has helped us to provide better banking service, more closely adapted to the needs of this section.

We are still learning, and constantly trying to make our cooperation more helpful to our patrons generally.
