JEAN RUSSELL IS RUNNER-UP IN ELIMINATION

Five "No Elimination" Ballots Cast By Judges Indicate Difficult Task Selection.

Miss Thelma Howard, pretty and graceful, medium brunette, was the 1935 selection as Miss Buchanan at the Hollywood Theatre...

The difficulty experienced by the judges was evidenced by the fact that nine ballots were required to select, in four of which they failed to agree on any elimination.

Howard remained a consistent favorite both with the audience and with a majority of the judges, only one ballot being counted against her during the entire voting.

The post of Master of Ceremonies was very capably handled by Bob Swain, promising young actor and entertainer of Niles. The judges were: Miss Annabelle Lickley, South Bend Tribune editorial staff; George Scheuer, South Bend News-Times editorial staff; R. F. Knowles, Niles.

The Buchanan selection is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Howard, 311 Fulton street, and a former student at the Buchanan high school. She is nineteen years old, has a very pleasant and natural manner on the stage, and will be a very capable representative of Buchanan in the final contest at Benton Harbor next Wednesday evening.

Other contestants were Anna Smeek, Frances Brant, Edna Holmes, Estella Smith and Alma Shafer.

LAUNCH PLAN TO MAKE BUCHANAN REDBUD CITY

It's Going Too Far to Change the Time of Changing Time

It was bad enough when they started this semi-annual changing time, but it's going almost too far when they start to change the time of changing the time.

The city commission originally set the time for the spring hour hand moving at 2 a. m. Sunday, April 28. But the ministers apparently dubious of having their sermons ready with an hour less time next Sunday, petitioned the city dads to defer the change until Sunday evening or Monday morning, when they always sleep late anyway.

As a result you can either set clock ahead Sunday evening or Monday morning but you want to remember to punch the clock on the job an hour earlier next week.

Or at least that's how it stands at present, until the commission decides to change the time that they changed the time of changing the time to.

COMMENCEMENT OF FERA GROUND SCHOOL TONIGHT

Col. Floyd Evans, Chief Michigan Board Aeronautics, Speaker at Niles H. S.

All local people who are interested in the development of aviation are invited to attend the commencement for the first graduating class for the FERA ground school for the Niles-Buchanan area, to be held in the auditorium of the Niles high school at 8 p. m. tonight (Thursday).

The instructor in the ground school is Richard Schram of Buchanan. While there are no Buchanan pupils in the first graduating class, a number of local people have enrolled for the second term which will begin next Monday, April 29, and will be held regularly from 6:30 p. m. until 9:30 p. m. on Monday. The class is still open for enrollment. Schram has also been made a member of the National committee to promote aviation in this area, the chairman being Duke Miller of the Niles Airport.

Other aerial notabilities who will be present at the commencement, will be Homer Stockert, South Bend, one of the best known flyers of this section and Lieut. Don Kling, St. Joseph marine flyer. LIONS TO SELL TREES; FINANCE A REDBUD FLOAT

To Sell Trees to Public for Planting to Finance Float in Parade at Blossom Festival.

A movement has been inaugurated this week by members of the Lions Club and other citizens with a view to carrying out the idea of making Buchanan a city known for its redbud trees as Holland is known for its tulips.

Interest manifested by the general public in the Redbud trail has encouraged these Buchananites in the possibilities of the development of the idea here.

As a result citizens will be given an opportunity to buy redbud trees to be delivered at their door for planting the latter part of the present week at prices depending on the size of the trees, from 50c to $1, the proceeds to be used to place a Redbud Trail float in the Blossom Fete parade on May 12 as Buchanan's contribution.

The trees have been held dormant by the late cold weather until the present week, and it is believed that it is a reasonable time to plant small redbud trees. In the event that any do not grow, the Lions club will replace the lost tree next fall or at any other time the buyer may desire.

Anyone who is interested in buying one of the trees in order to aid in carrying out the idea and also to finance a float may call or see Lowell Swem, Frarley Raymond or Glenn Smith.

Mrs. Whitney Addresses Meet County W. C. T. U.

The Berrien County Women's Christian Temperance Union met in convention at Three Oaks all day Tuesday, beginning at 9:30 a. m.

The evening address was presented by Mrs. Dora B. Whitney of Benton Harbor, who said in part: "We must be trail blazers out of the jungle into which repeal has brought us. The old saying, 'History repeats itself,' is still true today. As our early settlers penetrated the swamps and jungles in pioneer times by going a little farther each time, so we, too, must begin to drain the marshes and damp spots by seeing that the laws regarding the liquor regulations are obeyed and not allowed to go unnoticed."

The convention was favored with the attendance of Mrs. C. L. Keene district vice president, Marcellus, also by Mr. and Mrs. David Austin, South Bend. Mrs. Austin is the county president of the St. Joseph County (Ind.) W. C. T. U. Mrs. Keene conducted the afternoon institute.

Election of officers was held as follows: president, Mrs. Irvn Spencer, Benton Harbor; vice president, Mrs. Fred Steere, Niles; corresponding secretary, Mrs. George Kerrick, St. Joseph; recording secretary, Mrs. Frank Raschke, Benton Harbor; treasurer, Miss Mae Mills, Buchanan.

Those from Buchanan who attended were Mrs. M. L. Mills, Miss Mae Mills, Mrs. L. M. Otwell, and Mrs. Harry Hartline.

So She Says, "Oh Yeah?" and the Judge Says, "Oh Yeah!"

The new city zoning ordinance received her first test of legality in Judge Mathie's court Tuesday morning when a Three Oaks woman appeared before that even-handed dispenser of justice to answer to the charge of parking her car illegally in the loading zone area at Main and Front streets.

The police said that she had parked her car there an hour and a half the previous evening, setting the brakes, locking the car and going off and leaving it. He gave her a ticket to appear before Justice Mathie. The lady was inclined to doubt whether she would appear or not, but she did. She was inclined to take issue with the judge, in his explanation of the right of the city to designate loading zones. So to close the argument, he said "one dollar and costs of $5.83." And she said: "Oh yeah?" And he said: "Oh yeah!" And she shelled out.

PARENT-TEACHERS PLAN PROGRAM ON LIFE GUIDANCE

Principals Niles and Dowagiac High Schools to Speak in Discussion.

The P. T. A. program for Monday, April 29, will be in the form of a panel discussion. The topic, "Guidance for Life," is one of vital concern to all parents and teachers. The panel has been carefully selected and includes people well qualified to discuss the question at hand.

Proper educational and vocational guidance is a matter of serious consequence at this time. Many parents either ignore this phase of the child's life or wave it aside carelessly. At no time can we afford to take the matter of guidance indifferently. Sacrificing and giving "all we have" to our children is inadequate—guidance represents a planned effort to aid the child through childhood and adolescence.

The panel for Monday night will consist of: Ralph Tyndall, Principal of the Dowagiac High School; Walter Zabel, principal of the Niles High School; Rev. Thomas Rice, pastor of the Buchanan Methodist church; Miss Ella Champlain, grade supervisor, Niles; and A. L. Knoblauch, chairman, principal of the local High School.

This is the last meeting of the year and everyone is urged to attend. The question under discussion will not be limited to the grades. Parents of senior and junior high school children will find much of value in this meeting.

Dr. Waldo is Speaker Niles B. & P. W. Club

The Buchanan members of the Niles Business and Professional Women's Club attended the monthly meeting at the Four Flags Hotel Monday evening. Dr. E. T. Waldo spoke on the effect of posture on health. The meeting was in charge of the health committee of the organization.

Brer Possum Comes to Town, Gets in Hoosgow

Brer Possum, member of a pioneer family of long residence in this section, got in Dutch and also in jail Tuesday when he broke a long established custom of strictly rural residence and came to town.

When the post office force came down early at 5:30 a. m. to get the morning mail out, they found him parked in the door of the former relief headquarters at the city hall. He possibly had not heard that the headquarters had been moved.

He was reported to Chief Ed Mitchell as a suspicious character. After the city relief rolls were scanned and his name was not found he was committed to the hoosgow on charges of vagrancy, where he refused to talk.

His case comes up before Judge Mathie this afternoon.

COUNTY RECEIVES $149,000 SHARE AUTO WEIGHT TAX

Amount Received is One-Third Larger Than County Share for Year of 1934.

Berrien county received from the state a voucher for the first quarter's automobile weight tax last week, the amount being $149,670.19 or about 30 per cent more than its share the previous year.

Voucher for the first quarter weight tax returns to the counties, totaling $8,587,303.55 was turned over by the State Highway Department to the auditor general's office. This is $2,650,581.98 more than the first quarter voucher a year ago.

Checks for this amount are being mailed to the counties today with a few exceptions. One eighth of the weight tax returns is divided equally among the 83 counties, and seven-eighths on the basis of the amount of weight taxes collected.

On the proposal of State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner, with the full endorsement of Auditor General John J. O'Hara, a general policy has been adopted to pay the counties the full amount of their apportionment of the weight taxes as they become due quarterly.

Last year weight tax refunds were held in a majority of cases as an offset against the taxes due from state from the counties. Payments to the counties were made as the counties cleared their back tax indebtedness to the state. The counties, in most cases have improved their indebtedness during the past year.

General improvements in business conditions is in part responsible for the increase in weight tax collections this year. Sale of license plates during the first quarter of 1934 was greatly retarded by the pending weight tax reduction, which was passed in March, 1934. A large number of automobile owners waited until after the reduction to purchase their plates, making the second quarter payments considerably greater.

Receive Tidings of the Passing of Harry Paul

Word was received yesterday by friends here that Harry Paul, former resident, and an employee of the old Lee and Porter Axle works had died Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at his home at Bloomington, Ill. He is survived by his widow and two sons, Elmer of Bloomington, and Stanley, a radio operator on one of the Ford freight boats. The funeral will be held from the home Friday afternoon, and burial will be made at Bloomington. His widow was Miss Mattie Straw of Buchanan before marriage.

Reserve Seat Supply Limited; Reserve at Once at Glenn Smith's.

Listen, folks, we're going to let you in on a sure fire tip. You want to see this I. O. O. F. minstrel show either Thursday or Friday night or both and no foolin'. No it's not just another radio show or just another punk burnt cork stunt.

This show is going to be one of the classiest that ever struck Buchanan. You are now listening to the guy who predicted exactly the number of states that would go for Hoover—and collected. You are listening to the guy who said that the country would go Democratic in 1934, but that Michigan would sneak back into the Republican fold with the mien of a church deacon who has been out playing poker all night and would hate to be caught. You are listening to the guy who predicted that prosperity would return in 1935. Oh, never mind what we predicted in 1930 and 1931.

But we heard this boy Tooley coaching a part of the cast Tuesday evening—and was he doing a swell job! He knows how and he knows how to tell 'em. He goes at it with the thoroughness of his Scandinavian ancestry.

But this will not be the ordinary type of minstrel. There's going to be a lot of variety, all the way from the slapstick to the classic, but all done with class. You're going to sit up and listen from the time they warm up the stage with the first number. You're going to stay awake.

Of course you won't believe us. But all we ask of you is to go and judge for yourself. We beg of you to go. We implore you to go. WE DARE YOU TO GO!

The curtain will rise tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 p. m. with Alfred George in charge as announcer.

The supply of reserve seats is limited and it will be necessary for those who wish to make such arrangements to act at once.

Fitzgerald Okehs The "Stop Useless Fires" Campaign

Standing timber, game cover, physical improvements and even human lives are yearly endangered or lost in Michigan forest fires, declared Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald in commending the "Stop Useless Fires" Campaign of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan which is now in its fourth week.

The Governor's complete statement follows: "Michigan has a yearly forest fire loss of from 50,000 to 350,000 acres of standing timber, game cover and physical improvements. Game is destroyed and human lives are endangered or lost.

"Since most of this loss is directly the result of human carelessness, it would seem that a campaign of fire prevention could have only the most desirable results.

"In taking the initiative in inaugurating a state wide 'Stop Useless Fires' campaign the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan must be commended and its efforts should receive the whole-hearted support of every citizen of this state."

(Signed) Frank D. Fitzgerald
More than 150,000 signatures to the stop useless fires pledge are on record, according to an estimate of Mrs. J. S. Symons of Saginaw, conservation chairman of the Federated Garden clubs, and new ones are coming in every day as a result of the statewide campaign, she added.

A hurry call was received by Audrey DeWitt at the Department of Conservation yesterday for 7,000 buttons to reward the school children of Bay City and Bay County, who had secured the required number of adult signatures, according to C. A. Paquin, who with Mrs. DeWitt, is representing the Department in co-operating with the clubs.

The entire supply was exhausted and more were ordered immediately from the manufacturer. Mrs. Otto Toepfer of Bay City is in charge of the local campaign.

The Garden Clubs are encouraged by the enthusiasm of those who have been approached to pledge personal care and responsibility with fires," declared Mrs. Symons and in the name of the Garden Clubs, she urged those who use the outdoors to hold up the hands of the state and federal officers whose duty it is to protect the woods and marshes.

Plebscite Long in Use in European Arguments

In 1802, Bonaparte, when the senate refused to make him consul for life, determined to "consult the people" on the subject of his status. It was unprecedented that a simple consultal decree should order a plebscite. The fact that it did was rather a coup d'etat. The results of the plebscite were a singular success for Bonaparte, observes a writer in the New York Times.

The right to name his successor was openly demanded by Napoleon in the Senate-Consulte. Only one step more was needed to make the right hereditary and to enable him to give himself a monarchical or imperial title. This final step was taken in 1804 when the first consul of the republic became emperor of France.

The proposition was submitted to a plebscite which was taken by universal suffrage in the same form as its predecessors, in May, 1804. There were 3,572,329 affirmative and 2,569 negative votes.

Probably the best known example of the use of the plebscite in French history was in 1851, when the coup d'etat of 1851 was confirmed and the title of emperor was bestowed upon Napoleon III. It was his use of the plebscite that made the term familiar and connected it with the idea of despotism posing as liberalism. "He has even been described as a plebscite adventurer."

Cashew Nut Produces an Oil Used in Many Ways

The cashew nut grows in a leathery, skinned shell at the end of a swelling of the stem, which looks like a juicy fruit. The apple, as the swollen stem is called, is delicious, if sometimes a little astringent. It is used by the Brazilians to make the soft drink cajuda, and also a strongly flavored wine. The nut in the cooked condition is tasty.

The pericarp or shell of the nut, which is the true fruit, contains a dark reddish oil of great chemical interest, which burns the skin of sensitive people. This non-drying oil is used for making wood immune from white ant attacks, and by the natives of the Antanan islands to protect their fishing nets from decomposition.

A scientist has spent years in taming this unusual liquid, adapting it for use as a coating, and for purposes where few other materials appear to be as suitable.

Among its uses is the painting of all types of cement surfaces, especially when these are subject to continual wetting. It is also useful for coating metal, wood, and concrete in industrial plants when ordinary paints may not withstand the corrosive influences. It appears to be well adapted for use as a slip-bottom paint and has been selected as the ideal paint for coating wooden laboratory table tops.—The Bits Magazine.

Atwood Would Ease Responsibility Act For Auto Drivers

Enforcement of the operators and chauffeurs' registration act throughout the state has brought nearly a thousand drivers of automobiles under severe financial responsibility act for the mere offense of being unlicensed, records of the Department of State show.

While the offense of driving an automobile while unlicensed is a mere misdemeanor, it so happens that one of the many provisions of the financial responsibility act is that anyone convicted of driving an automobile without a license, shall be deprived of his right to drive until he qualifies under the act by filing evidence of ability to meet damage claims up to $11,000.

Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State, believes this act is too severe in this respect. House bill No. 340, now in the house judiciary committee, would remove this offense from the list of those coming under this act. Louis F. Morony, director of the motor vehicle division, points out that public opinion against an otherwise meritorious law, is being aroused because of the heavy and mandatory penalty which is imposed by those convicted of the relatively minor offense of driving a car without a license. Further, because of the requirement that licenses must be renewed every three years, the possibility that drivers may be unintentionally without a license, increases as time passes.

Move to Adjust Debts One Fourth of Michigan Farms

With the appointment of a new Michigan farm debt adjustment committee, the state administration is prepared to ease the debt burden on thousands of Michigan farms. James F. Thompson, commissioner of agriculture, estimated that one-fourth of the state's 109,000 farms must have their debts adjusted in order to continue operation. Local committees will be appointed in each county to cooperate with the new state committee.

Rhinoceros Hide

The rhinoceros hide is generally regarded as tougher than the elephant hide. It is not true, however, as generally supposed, that a bullet will not penetrate this skin except between the deep folds. It is naturally soft and easily penetrated by a bullet or hunting knife. When dried it becomes exceedingly hard and was formerly used by Indian princes in making shields for their soldiers. Big game hunters use large caliber rifles when hunting the rhinoceros, though sometimes guns of small caliber are employed. The favorite shots are the heart and the neck shot. It does not appear that the one animal is much harder for a big game hunter to kill than the other.

Grim Tong War in New York

One of the grimmest long wars fought in New York's Chinatown had its climax in the Chinese theater in Doyers street in 1900. Things had been quiet for weeks and, as it was a holiday, the audience was in a gay mood. Near the end of the show, someone threw a bunch of loud firecrackers into the aisle. The disturbance was soon quelled and the play resumed. Shortly it was over and every one arose to leave except five "On Leongs" who, unnoticed during the firecracker explosion, had been shot dead.—Columbia's Weekly.

Educated Horses Are Not Used in the Trick Acts

Some people imagine that the horses which are used in the liberty and high school acts are also used by the trick riders. This is not so; the trick rider requires a far different type of animal. Their horses are huge and massive, for one sometimes has to support an entire family on its back! The trick riders' horses are usually of Flemish breed. A thoroughly-trained one is of inestimable value; it has been taught, no matter what happens, never to change its feet. Should it do so when an artist is somersaulting from one horse to another, the result might be serious.

James J. Flynn Knight of Road Visits Buchanan

Mr. James Flynn, a prototype of Kipling's "Tramp Royale," whose motto was: "For to see and for to know For to behold this world so wide- It never done me any good But I can't stop it if I tried," was a caller in Buchanan Tuesday visiting old friends here. For many years Mr. Flynn has been "making" Buchanan regularly as a knight of the road, and at the age of 75 is still going strong. However, he hitch-hikes instead of walks nowadays, and gets around the country much more rapidly. He started from Detroit at 2 p. m. Tuesday and was in Buchanan by 5:30 p. m. (not counting the hour's difference in time.) He rode from Detroit to Niles in one hitch.

Fake Antique Volumes

An ingenious trick of the makers of antique volumes is to print Bibles and other books on old paper. To make such spurious volumes convincingly aged in appearance, the plates from which they are printed usually are made from photostatic copies of the original pages of the literary work being imitated. Expert bibliophiles have ways, however, of easily detecting such counterfeits.—Montreal Herald.

In London, the empire's foggiest spot, statistics show that each of the inhabitants pays, on an average, a fog bill of about 30 shillings. This sum is expended between October and February in heavier lighting expenses and extra transport fares. It does not include chemists' and doctors' bills incurred through coughs, colds and sore throats caused by fog.—Answers Magazine.

Dating of Coins

Coins as we know them are not older than the eighth century, B. C., and the period of their issue can be fixed by various inscriptions and names of rulers, but the first appearance of the annual dating on European coinage can be ascribed to the Roman emperor, Justinian I, who in 538 A. D. added the regnal year, his twelfth, to an issue.

James J. Flynn Knight of Road Visits Buchanan

Mr. James Flynn, a prototype of Kipling's "Tramp Royale," whose motto was: "For to see and for to know For to behold this world so wide- It never done me any good But I can't stop it if I tried," was a caller in Buchanan Tuesday visiting old friends here. For many years Mr. Flynn has been "making" Buchanan regularly as a knight of the road, and at the age of 75 is still going strong. However, he hitch-hikes instead of walks nowadays, and gets around the country much more rapidly. He started from Detroit at 2 p. m. Tuesday and was in Buchanan by 5:30 p. m. (not counting the hour's difference in time.) He rode from Detroit to Niles in one hitch.

Michigan Should Get $180,000,000 Work Relief Fund

Michigan should receive at least $180,000,000 of the $4,000,000,000 work relief fund made available by Congress, based on tentative rules expected to govern the allocation of funds under the direction of President Roosevelt. The state has compiled 12,000 work projects, requiring an expenditure of $1,500,000,000 under the direction of A. R. Glancy, chairman of the Michigan Planning Commission. Glancy recently was named one of three members of the national advisory and allocation board which will recommend projects held to be out-standable for undertaking under the government work relief program.

The Michigan proportion of $180,000,000 is based on the fact that the state has 188,630 families on relief rolls, ranking seventh in this respect. The number is 4.5 per cent of the national total of relief cases. This allowing Michigan that percentage of the $4,000,000,000 fund. The $180,000,000 would be spent in a spread of 18 months beginning July 1. It is believed that this amount would be sufficient to permit the providing of work for one person in each relief family.

Main objectives of the program, according to Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, is to put men to work. Projects which require a maximum of labor will be encouraged to the end that 7,000,000 men may be given jobs throughout the nation. Repair of streets will receive large grants. It is indicated that probably $100,000,000 will be spent on railroad grade separations, without cost to the railroads. States and municipalities will be required to furnish the land.

Scholarships Are Announced for Michigan Tech.

A competitive examination for the purpose of selecting a candidate for the $1400 Norrie scholarship will be held at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, Mich., on May 11, 1935. The scholarship remits to winning candidate $500 for his freshman year and $300 a year for his sophomore, junior and senior years.

By stipulation of the donor of the award, only a student whose father has been associated with mining operations in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan is eligible. The Michigan College of Mining and Technology also offers annually to one member of the 1935 graduating class in each high school of the state, a scholarship remitting matriculation and general term fees for a four-year engineering course.

For further requirements as to entrance credits, scholarship, extra curricular activities, etc., L. F. Duggan, Registrar, may be consulted.

Public Utility Tax Bill 1935 Is $9,422,000

Tentative taxes levied on public utilities of Michigan will provide $9,422,015 in revenue for the primary school fund, it is indicated by Melvin B. McPherson, state tax commissioner. The taxes are $85-133 under the current levy. The school fund will be further increased by approximately $5,000,000 from insurance and inheritance taxes. The tentative assessments on which these taxes are based are subject to protest, hearings on which start April 22.

Tentative assessments for 1934, on which taxes are payable July 1, amount to $338,964,150. This is a decrease of $6,877,850 from 1933. Michigan Bell Telephone Company is given a $1,000,000 increase to a valuation of $98,500,000. American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is increased $100,000 to $5,100,000 for its trunk lines. Railroads show a decrease, falling $7,545,000 from a valuation of $227,668,000. The Michigan Central is reduced $3,589,000 to $70,000,000 and the New York Central's valuation is decreased $500,000 to $10,000,000. The Erie Railroad is reduced $1,150,000 to $86,000,000 and the Grand Trunk Western $200,000 to $21,000,000. Western Union Telegraph Co. is increased $50,000 to $3,000,000.

The Availability of Good

Many individuals, voyaging on the troubled sea of mortal existence, may be likened to boatmen rowing against the tide. With strenuous and ceaseless effort they work as though against a power which they believe will, if not opposed, sweep them in a direction the very opposite to that in which they have set their course.

To each individual the desired haven is his highest concept of good, that state of human experience which he believes will bring him satisfaction and freedom from further struggles. Some strive to gain possession of something which they believe has been denied them, and others to recover something which they appear to have lost, such as health, harmony, opportunity, success, home, companionship, and the like. The tide against which men row is belief in evil in all its forms, including lack, limitation, poverty, and discord, and the boat in which they embark is the craft of human thought, which, when not staided and borne along by the spiritual understanding of God, may be turned completely out of its course.

The teachings of Christ Jesus never indicate that men must struggle against evil as something real in order to gain good, since he said, "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom." We may take the kingdom as denoting all that is good, satisfying, and useful, and the daily life of the Master was a testimony to the truth of his statement, for never at any time did he experience lack or limitation. Who that has studied the Gospel narratives can picture the gentle Nazarene struggling against evil as if it were real or powerful? He knew, without a shadow of doubt, the power, presence, and availability of good, and refused to acknowledge evil in any form as having power, presence, or reality. He accepted good and used it. Health, opportunity, supply, and dominion he proved to be available to all men, for he did not limit the availability of good to his own experience. On the contrary, he said that his followers should repeat his works. The great necessity of mankind is to awaken to these facts and to realize that Christ Jesus spoke no idle word. He meant what he said, and would not have said it if he had not known that what he demanded of his followers was possible of fulfillment by them.

When a right-thinking individual finds himself confronted with the choice between two things, one good and the other bad, he chooses the one he believes to be good.

On page 4 of her book "Pulpit and Press," showing the individual ability to utilize good, Mary Baker Eddy writes, "You have sibly to preserve a scientific, positive sense of unity with your divine source, and daily demonstrate this." In Christian Science we learn that the source from which man springs is perfect and infinite mind. Therefore, in order to feel this "sense of unity" we must entertain thoughts which are pure, good, true, wise, and intelligent. Such thoughts are natural to us, for they are the substance of our true selfhood. This perfect selfhood is not in matter, but in divine Mind, for Mind expresses itself only in spiritual ideas, and man is that very expression. When we cease our vain struggling against evil as real and turn humbly to God, praying with confident expectation, for that which will meet our need, and leaving the issue in God's hands, we shall find that positive thoughts come freely to our consciousness. Holding to these with firmness and assurance and mentally declaring the supremacy of good, we shall find ourselves lifted above the tide of error, and steadily carried in the right direction by the current of good.

From the foregoing facts it will be seen that we do not reach our desired haven by ignoring evil and drifting with the tide. There is much work to be done, but it is primarily mental and has behind it the omnipotence of God. Our mental state determines our human conditions. With positive and fearless thoughts within, we shall find our human affairs taking on a new aspect. And if at first it seems difficult to listen for God's thoughts, let us begin by expressing the blessed qualities of cheerfulness and gratitude. These are buoyant qualities, uplifting, joyous, and free.

The cheerful and grateful heart will be receptive of the most lovely and gracious ideas of infinite Mind. Faith and goodness, hope and assurance, intelligence and wisdom, are all ours if we will but avail ourselves of them. And when the frail bark of human effort is steadied and borne onward by the spiritual understanding which comes to all who earnestly seek God, it will bring us safely to the haven of our most cherished desires.—The Christian Science Monitor.

What you ask of a Bank

Depends Upon What You Know About a Bank

A great many people do ask impossible things of a bank—just because they do not thoroughly understand what are the right and the wrong principles of conducting a bank.

There is a reason back of every safe rule in banking. The banker does not act from whim, or favor this person or that; he follows the charts of experience. He tries to steer a safe course, as the captain does with a great liner. Nobody asks the captain to head for an iceberg. Nobody should ask the banker to depart from any of the sound principles which give protection to the bank's depositors.

REDBUD TRAIL IS CITY ASSET, SAYS LOCAL BUSINESS MAN.

"Evidence that this section of Michigan is rapidly becoming a 'hot spot' on the Redbud trail is contained in the statement of several local filling stations to the effect that a constantly increasing number of queries for directions to the trail are being received.

"I've had two already this morning and I am sure I have had them by the dozens on week-ends," said one station operator the first of the week. "I really think the town has an asset that it should wake up to.

"Some firm or agency should take on itself the responsibility for making some tables and seats and putting them in a favored place along the trail, affording a good view of the river, so that the public might stop and picnic with enjoying the view. There is a fine place right off the curb at the end of Portage street. The motoring public are out for fine scenery such as we have here on the Redbud Trail. If we get behind it and boost it, we will be well repaid for our efforts."

AT THE THEATRE

Wallace Beery at His Best as "World's Greatest Showman"

"The Greatest Show on Earth!" You will walk out of the Hollywood theatre with that line ringing in your ears and a conviction in your cinema-going brain that it is a perfect one-line description of the picture you have just watched unroll on the screen. For "The Mighty Barnum," which the Hollywood brings to the screen starting next Sunday matinee for a three-day run, has everything that any picture-goer could want and more of it.

Wallace Beery offers a superb characterization as the world's greatest showman in this colorful, comedy-filled story. Adolph Menjou gives the best performance of his career as Mr. B. Walsh, his tippling manager and Virginia Bruce is enchanting as Jenny Lind, the lovely Swedish Nightingale, whom Barnum, in a moment of sublime respite from his midge-fattening, sword-swallowing and the rest of his freaks, introduced to a breathless America.

The film story begins just a century ago, in 1825, when Barnum left his failing Bowery grocery, ran a livery stable and became a showman exhibiting such acquisitions as a two-headed calf, a couple of fertile monstrosities and an aged negro named Joice Heth, hailed as 160 years old and the nurse of the infant George Washington.

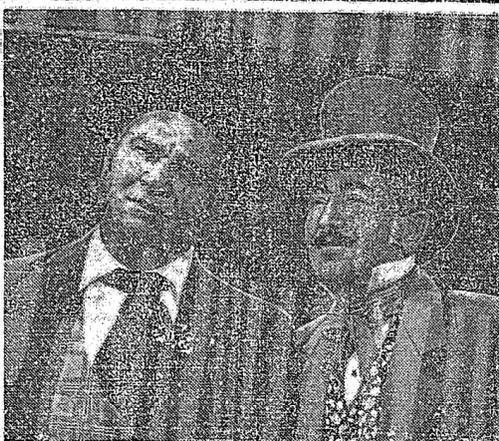

"The Mighty Barnum" is mighty entertainment. You'll want to see it.

A thrilling and colorful film, "Under Pressure," with Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen, begins an engagement of two days starting tomorrow (Friday) as feature number one of a double feature program.

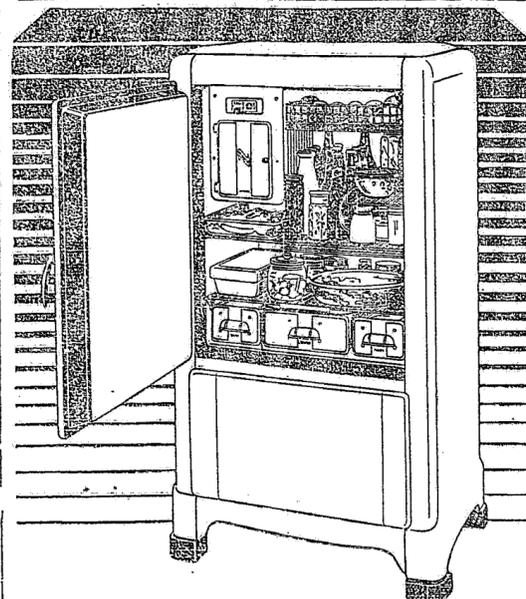

This time the tough and trusty team of Lowe and McLaglen are "tunnel men" leading a crew of husky workers through silt and bedrock many feet below the river. A subject matter magnificently suited to this comedy team, with a story of intense interest woven around the construction of under-river tunnels. Buck Jones in his newest starring picture, "When a Man Sees Red," is the second feature, with Peggy Campbell and Dorothy Revier in supporting roles.

Chapter six of "Tailspin Tommy" and a Willie Whooper cartoon is on the same bill.

Once again Paul Muni comes to the screen with a blazing picture of real life-life that touches the rough, raw edges, but is so picturesque and colorful that it grips the attention of every spectator. The picture is "Bordertown," suggested by the stirring novel by

Carroll Graham, with Bette Davis, Eugene Pallette, Robert Barrat and others in the cast with Muni. You'll see it as feature number one on next midweek Wednesday and Thursday's double bill program. And thrilling entertainment for the entire family is Universal's new mystery drama by Charles Dickson, "The Mystery of Edwin Drood" which opens as feature two on next mid-week's bill. Claude Rains, Douglass Montgomery, David Manners and Heather Angel are seen in the principal roles of this story centering around John Jasper, a victim of the opium habit in private life and a strange dual personality inveigled into a strange triangle of love and hatred. It is one of the peer mystery stories to come out of Hollywood this season.

Christian Science Churches
"Probation After Death" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 28.

Among the Bible citations in this passage (II Samuel 12:13): "And David said unto Nathan, I have sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said unto David, The Lord also hath put away thy sin; thou shalt not die." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 74): "In Christian Science there is never a retrograde step, never a return to positions outgrown. The so-called dead and living cannot commune together for they are in separate states of existence, or consciousness. This simple truth lays bare the mistaken assumption that man dies as matter but comes to life as spirit."

Seniors Ponder on What to Wear on Chicago Skip Day

The senior class of this year year voted, some time ago, to go to Chicago on Skip Day. Now, all the girls and boys are buzzing about what they will wear. The girls believe they will have to wait and see if the weather permits wearing white, or will they wear "that new spring suit." By the way, girls, blue is good every four years and this is it, so the blue spring suit would look grand in Chicago. Now for the boys. Some of the athletic stars say that the Chicago "zeks" would like a fellow in "ducky" sports clothes. "Just like the millionaire playboy." Others maintain that they are tired of that type and would appreciate a fellow that was really dignified looking. So when the big bus pulls out for Chicago, the students that stay in school will know that the seniors will show Chicago what the well-dressed boy and girl are wearing.

Seniors to Present "3 Corned Moon" As Annual Play

A grand family, the Rimplegares. They laugh, cry and sing all in one breath. Even a little quarreling is tossed in for good measure. To get acquainted with this groggy family, reserve a seat in the high school auditorium May 10, for "Three Corned Moon." The seniors will show you a dizzy and spiffy household by chalking up a straight hit that will completely demolish the bull's eye. Its as batty as it sounds! Tickets are now on sale. In case you want a couple, don't let it be known out right, or you won't live to tell it. To say that you will be swamped under senior salesmen would be putting it mildly. Here's the way out. Pick your senior and gently take him to one side. Then with caution whisper in his ear telling him that you want one ticket (pardon me, but everybody always buys two) and thus avoid being damaged in a stampede.

Along the Corridors

By Izzat So The seventh graders are the most curious things when it comes to reading other people's notes. Seventh graders, take care! There were quite a few Niles students visiting school Thursday: Estella Lork, Fern Hess, Audrey Barnes, Norman Frizzo, Laura Decker and Alice Hass. There are quite a few girls with new permanent. Frances Di-Giacomo just "frizzed out." Dorothy Dunlap has a new permanent and "Yours Truly" hopes to have one soon. Elouise Squier is going to get one, too. Theda Strunk doesn't have to just sit and wait for her sister, who is at play practices nights after school, but has many "entertainers" to pass the time away with. Ben Franklin made another one of his wise remarks in English when he said, "You know, I read a letter over I had written and I was surprised to see how much I really knew." Oh Ben.

THINGS NOTICED IN AND ABOUT SCHOOL

Eleanor Miller, who has been absent for a long time is back. Spring outfits are quite frequently seen. Seniors are glad to know that there are but four more weeks of school. So it seems. The students all welcome Miss Hanlin back. Mrs. Weaver, who is ill, is still out, and Donald White is taking her place. While Miss Hanlin was gone, Harry Banke could be seen quite frequently in the halls. All students were requested to bring some sort of a small shrub or tree for Arbor Day. These trees were planted in the Athletic Park. There was no school Friday afternoon. The students wish Good Friday would come more often.

SCHOOL DAYS

"Once again the old familiar song of 'School Days' appears on the scene. Even our senior pards go down the hall rehearsing the song. It seems that girls had to try out for an opera and the only way that Mr. Robinson could find out what they know about singing was to make each person sing a song. Strange as it may seem, each person chose "School Days."

EDITORIAL

There has been much talk lately among the students on establishing a definitely planned social program. The students say that aside from the spur it would give to school spirit, it would present to the classes and different organizations in school, a definite plan for the making of funds to foster their individual aims. But how could this be accomplished? First, by forming a student board, which, after having duly considered the needs and wishes of each class and organization, should arrange a student calendar of school functions and should assign these certain social functions to certain groups. These groups should then feel it their compulsory duty to perform. "How could this plan be financed? Some dissenter will wish to know. Primarily by selling a season ticket put out by the student board, which would admit a student to all social functions. The price of this ticket would be regulated so as to guarantee any reasonable expense incurred by an organization or class in the sponsoring of these functions. The sale would guarantee a regular attendance. Students, would you cooperate with the plan?"

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW

Until the student body is familiar with the names of the characters in the senior play, they'll just have to guess at who's who. For instance, take a group of seniors walking down the hall. "My," murmurs one, "Liz sure does slay 'em." "There goes Mrs. Rimp, let's hurry up! adds another. "Where's good ole Jenny?" says a third. Looks and sounds very mysterious, and what's more it is. But above all, it's interesting. The play will be staged May 10, so if you want to brush up a little on your teasing ability before approaching Pop for two bits—there's plenty of time. P. S. Your best pal will give you a loan.

SENIORS HOLD MEETING

A senior class meeting was held last Tuesday afternoon during the home room hour to decide on where the seniors would go on skip day. Several places were mentioned, but it is impossible to attend all of them, nevertheless, the seniors plan to go to the board of trade, ghetto, NBC broadcasting studio, the zoo, airport, and the Chicago traffic speed court.

GOOD COOKS

Maybe you don't know it, but of the male sex of our high school, we have two boy students who can make biscuits; and they are plenty good too! Ray Juhl and Max Dreitzler ventured in the Home Economics room one night after school and made baking powder biscuits from a recipe obtained from Miss Negus. They used their own baking powder which they had prepared in the chemistry laboratory. When the biscuits came out of the oven, they were a complete success, so they took them to class the next day for Mr. Moore to inspect. Mr. Moore said he would take a chance, so he ate one. When Crittenden saw them, his mouth began to water and he ate one. They both are still alive and have not suffered from any stomach trouble so far.

Reporting Inquirer

Do you think the lockers should be moved into the halls? Gilbert Collings—I think that we should have new lockers for the hallway and leave the old ones where they are for our gym clothes. Louise Howe—The idea of having lockers moved in the halls is a good one. It would save a person from carrying all his books to each class. Clarence Bradley—I think moving the lockers in the hall is a good idea. It might help in solving the traffic jams that occur in the locker rooms. Arthur Trapp—It is a very good idea because the locker rooms are too crowded now.

SENIOR CALENDAR

With only four remaining weeks facing the senior class, the students are watching the calendar. Senior Play, May 10. Junior-Senior Prom, May 24. Senior Exams, May 26 and 27. Baccalaureate, May 29. Commencement, May 29. The date for the senior skip day has not been decided. The class voted on a trip to Chicago.

APRIL SHOWERS

April showers bring May flowers is still an old saying which has stayed new. It seems that we have a sample of lovely weather every other day. Sunshine, rain, bits of snow flurries, dust; all make up the month. Yes, it might be "April in Paris" and lovely weather; but it's April in Buchanan and rainy weather.

TRACK MEET POSTPONED

The annual interclass track meet which usually inaugurates the Buchanan track season has been postponed until next week because of the cold weather. For the first time in the school's track history Buchanan will meet Berrien Springs. The meet will take place in two weeks on the local track.

Scout Council Announces 1935 Summer Program!

Camp Madron, the popular summer camp located at Buchanan will operate this year for six weeks. Opening with the cub outing of June 30th it will be in session until August 11th. Cub outings will operate on a three and a half day basis this year instead of seven, thus allowing the younger boys shorter periods if they so desire. They may, however, stay longer if they wish.

The regular Scout Camp will open July 14th, and operate until Aug. 11th, carrying a full staff of experts in every branch of Scouting so that Scouts can not only enjoy camping but have every opportunity to make advancement in all branches of the work. Madron, rated as one of the best camps in the country, will introduce more new features in camping this year not only in the Scout camp but in the Cub outing also.

The camp will be closed the last of May so that everything can be put in readiness for the summer session, June 13th, it will be opened for public inspection and a picnic for the Scouts, Cubs and their parents and friends will be held.

Northern Woods Camp Will Operate Aug 8th to 15th

Arrangements are now being made to have an older boys camp in the north woods. The camp will be located near Munising in the northern peninsula and will be open to boys who are first class or higher in rank and who have had two years camping experience. The program will include pioneer work, cabin building, fishing, swimming, and a real northwoods camping experience. The council has long felt the need of a camp of this type. The camping committee headed by Frank Arndt of Dowagiac, who is in charge of this phase of the work, will make a trip to the site the middle of May. The camp will operate for ten days the first year.

Eagle Trip

Another big feature of the year's annual Eagle trip. This year the Eagles will hold a meeting on May 18th to decide which of three trips they will take this year. The three offered are, the trip to the Blue Ridge mountains and caverns of Luray, a camping trip to Watkins Glenn in the Catskill mountains of New York. Any one of the trips will be most educational and will cover approximately 1500 to 2000 miles, the trip will last 12 days.

Troop Camping to be Introduced This Year at Madron!

Madron will be opened this year to troops wishing to camp under their own leadership. Special tents will be erected for them, they will furnish their own equipment and food and will have their own program, except the waterfront activities, here they will be under the supervision of trained waterfront men. The cost of this project is, of course, much less than the regular council camp. Arrangements can be made by troops for this type of camping any time during the time that Madron is in session.

News Review of Current Events the World Over

Germany Enraged by Her Condemnation by League Council—Work Relief Program Going Forward—Compromise Bonus Measure.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD
© Western Newspaper Union

GERMANY was thoroughly enraged by the action of the League of Nations council in adopting the tri-power resolution condemning the Reich for violating the treaty of Versailles by rearming, and it was expected Reichsfuehrer Hitler would make a defiant retort, as a first step he sent from his Bavarian retreat instructions to Secretary of State Von Buelow to protest "England's detection at Stresa and Geneva." This Von Buelow did, delivering the message to Ambassador Sir Eric Phipps for transmission to London. The German press was loud in denunciation of the league action and Litvinov, the Soviet delegate, came in for most of the abuse because he delivered the chief speech in support of the resolution at the council session. Just recently Germany granted to Russia credits amounting to $80,000,000. Poland also was assailed for "abandoning" Germany, but in Warsaw it was said by officials that Poland was still the friend of the Reich. One newspaper there said quite truly that the complaint against Germany was "a formal matter because the discussion could not result in any actual solution of the problem, but only bring something like emotional relief."

Strange as it may seem, the Jews in Germany are warmly supporting Hitler in this controversy. The following message was sent to him: "The League of Nations German Jews stands unshaken in its loyalty to the Fatherland, and hopes the government's defense policy will not be changed on account of the Geneva proceedings."

German resentment against Great Britain is especially warm because she feels she was deceived in the recent negotiations. Consequently she thinks Britain's prestige as a mediator in continental affairs is destroyed.

During the council's discussion Tavrik Aras, the Turkish member, arose and stated flatly that if any changes in the existing treaties were made or tolerated, his country would claim the right to fortify the Dardanelles in violation of the treaty of Lausanne. He even hinted that the Turks might follow Hitler's example and not wait for permission. Sir John Simon's immediate and sharp reply was:

"I feel sure my honorable colleague will not expect me to say any more at this stage than that I must naturally make all reservations regarding it."

Laval of France and Baron Aloisi of Italy supported Simon in his rebuke of the Turkish revisionism.

Laval hurried back to Paris a draft of the mutual assistance pact with Russia for submission to the French cabinet. Litvinov was still insistent that the two countries should enter into a real military alliance, and it may be that he will carry his point. In the opinion of many observers such a treaty would be declared invalid by the League of Nations.

SEVEN agencies of the government are organizing to combat the damage done by the constantly recurring dust storms. They are the AAA, farm credit administration, emergency relief administration, soil erosion service, bureau of plant industry and bureau of agricultural engineering.

The efforts, officials said, will include shipping feed, food and water into the stricken areas of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas and Colorado, starting work relief projects on roads, private lands and the public domain, planting of fast-growing and hardy crops as ground cover in areas where moisture conditions permit, and "listing" operations. This latter work is an attempt to prevent soil blowing away, by making alternate ridges and furrows.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT called Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi to the White House for a conference concerning the veterans' bonus bill, which already has passed the house. Harrison is chairman of the senate finance committee and the administration looked to him to devise a way to spillover the measure which is so objectionable to the President in its present "greenback" form. Other majority leaders in congress also were busy with the problem, and the result was the introduction in congress of a compromise bill which it was believed the President would accept if it were passed.

This measure would make bonus certificates mature in 1935, instead of 1945. They could be converted immediately into 3 per cent bonds. Veterans who wanted cash right away could sell the bonds, losing only the interest they otherwise could obtain until 1938. Harrison said this would cost $600,000,000 more than the present bonus law, but far less than the Patman bill, passed by the house, to pay the bonus with $2,500,000,000 in new money.

Milo Warner, vice commander of the American Legion, said this bill was "absolutely not acceptable" to that organization. Heads of veterans' organizations and various others were invited to testify at committee hearings on the bill.

WHEN the administration's great work relief program gets under way one of the most important parts of it, the purchase of material supplies, will have to be started at once, and it is expected that this will absorb about $1,700,000,000 of the total sum. According to authoritative sources in Washington, this part of the program will be supervised by Rear Admiral C. J. Peoples, procurement officer in the treasury. Peoples entered the navy supply corps in 1900 as assistant paymaster and later developed the navy's present purchasing system. When Franklin D. Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy he and Peoples became close friends.

The admiral presumably will have full charge of drafting the regulations for material purchases but it is understood the actual buying of supplies for work relief projects will in most instances be handled by the states and other co-operating agencies. However, certain commodities, like cement, that will be needed in immense quantities, probably will be purchased centrally.

Rocks Burst Into Music

Rocks on one end of La Palma Island, San Miguel Bay, Isthmus of Panama, burst into loud organ-like music on one of the four days following a new moon.

KING BORIS of Bulgaria has fled another attempt to force him from his throne. Upon discovery of an alleged Fascist plot, he ordered that three prominent Bulgarian leaders be arrested and held in Sofia. His friends' efforts to free him by storming the jail but were repulsed. Those leaders are Alexander Zankov, leader of the Fascist movement; Kosta G. Grotchev, head of the Macedonian party, and M. Natchev, former police president of Sofia.

JOHN R. McCART, the able, efficient and independent comptroller general of the United States, has annoyed the New Dealers on several occasions. Now he threatens to block the plans of the AAA for lifting the restrictions on spring wheat planting and at the same time continuing to pay the farmers for crop reductions that would not be called for. Declaring they wished to avoid shortages due to the dust storms, the officials of the AAA said the farmers would be paid for the abandoned reductions in acreage if they would promise to curtail their plantings next year. Mr. McCart asked for further information on this matter and indicated he could not approve of the plan, though AAA men declared he had not ruled definitely against it. Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator, might not be content to abide by such a ruling if it were made, and the administration might refuse to accept it.

Mr. McCart, a Republican, holds his office under a law which specifies that the comptroller general shall be appointed to a 15-year term and can be removed only by death or impeachment. Nevertheless Attorney General Cummings, it is understood, gave it as his opinion that, like any other presidential appointee, he could be removed at the pleasure of the President. He based this opinion on a ruling of the Supreme court in the case of a postmaster who was ousted by President Coolidge, the court holding that the President was within his rights under Article 2 of the Constitution. So it may be the New Dealers will seek to have Mr. McCart ousted before his term expires in 1936, for it is feared by them that he will hamper the expenditure of the $4,880,000,000 work relief appropriation to an extent that would greatly irritate the Democratic party leaders.

It is interesting to read that the Nebraska Progressive League, made up of "liberal" Republicans, is planning the organization of "McCart for President" clubs in that state and afterward in all others. George W. Kline, its chairman, says he was asked to support McCart for President in 1936 by friends of Senator George W. Norris. The comptroller general is a graduate of the University of Nebraska law school and for years was Mr. Norris' secretary.

ALLEGED teaching of Communism in some of our universities and the adoption of that cult by a large number of half-baked young men and women in those institutions has long been debated and denounced by patriotic citizens. Student strikes and small riots have been frequent, and there have been many demands for the suppression of these reds and pinkies. The latest big institution of learning to be brought into the limelight in this matter is the University of Chicago, whose faculty contains several decidedly radical instructors and its student body many youthful followers of Marx and Lenin. Because of charges made by a prominent drug store magnate the Illinois senate has just adopted a resolution calling for a "thorough and complete investigation" by a senatorial committee of five to determine whether any foundation exists for charges that "subversive Communist teachings" are going on in "wholly or partly tax-exempt colleges and universities of this state."

The action of the senate followed within a few hours action by the house in passing almost unanimously, a bill to require an oath of allegiance and obedience to the state and federal constitutions from all teachers and professors. The legislatures of other states are passing similar laws.

OVER in Turkey the women: unveiled recently, were forced to lead lives of seclusion in the harem and to go veiled when in public. But all that is changed. The other day the twelfth congress of the International Alliance of Women for Suffrage and Equal Citizenship opened in Istanbul with about thirty nations represented and Mrs. Corbett Ashby of England in the chair, and the women of Turkey, unveiled and in modern European garb, were the proud hostesses of the hundreds of delegates. Among the questions discussed were: the position and rights of women; the situation of women in the liberal professions; the political and civil rights of women; the means women can use to prevent war.

Under Kemal's rule the women of the republic of Turkey have been granted purchasing and city voting rights and have organized chapters in all branches of life—civil, professional, industrial and sporting.

Detroit Thinks of Piping Natural Gas from Ohio Fields

This is the year that the mayor and councilmen of Detroit must run for office again.

Detroit city governmental matters of a controversial character are pretty well settled down. The debt of the city, upon which it had defaulted on one schedule of interest, has been reorganized on another and more favorable one. The welfare load is lightening. The extensive expenditures on master highways have ceased so there is really nothing to make issues about and to cause the preference of one candidate over another at the popular election which takes place next November.

Out of this dearth of issues comes the necessity for some new one about which the people may be more excited, and attracted to their putative saviors. The mayor must seek replacement in their offices. The need of a new issue has had to be met, and so far as we can see, has been met.

I takes the form of a proposal for the municipal ownership of the gas utility of the city. That is a pretty big bite into municipal ownership. The reproduction value of the plants and distributing system of the local gas company, is a matter of 40 or 50 million dollars, even at the most drastic depreciation. There is no franchise, therefore, there is no franchise value to be reckoned with. Because the gas company finds that it is necessary, owing to advancing material and labor costs, to increase the price of its commodity by about 30 per cent, an issue, the justice of which could be settled in a month by statute consideration, the political class has decided to make a campaign for municipal ownership of the gas company. It looks a good deal as if the issue were intended to be only "a good enough Morgan until after election."

The city has two municipally owned utilities in its possession now. One of them, the Public Lighting plant, serving the city's own needs, is well and economically operated; the other, the Street Railway utility, is well enough operated; but it is not so hot after all, because the street railway act seems to be in a decadent period, facing substitution either in whole or in part by automotive vehicles. It does not look as if the whole people of Detroit would be apt to vote for more municipal ownership, taking on not only the ordinary risks of operation, but those of obsolescence as well.

The attempt to introduce natural gas into Detroit, is a well advised one. The biggest portion of the cost of its service will grow out of its distribution. The plan to have the state of Texas build a 60-mile, ten-dollar pipe line to supply Detroit and points south, with money furnished by Secretary Ickes, looks like a commercial proposition. The other plan to supply natural gas to Detroit from Michigan sources is declared by the experts to be premature. It may justify the building of a pipe line, once adequate reserves for a 10 or 15 year supply are surveyed and assured. Without it nobody will put money into the pipe line.

On the whole, a municipally-owned gas production and distribution system in Detroit looks like something that is far, far away.

Words and folks—you can tell much about people from the words they use repeatedly. Of course a girl who says "John" often must be fond of "John." And a man who says "Congress" often must be politically minded. This is obvious.

I do not refer to nouns which like these point directly to the speaker's interest. I refer to adverbs, conjunctions and pronouns which, used constantly, suggest the talker's disposition and mentality.

Noticeably stand the "yes" people and the "no" people. The former say, "Yes, I'll call this afternoon," and then do not because they never intended to call. They just offered polite assent. The latter represented by a brush business man say "no" and "no" right off the reel, so as not to bind himself. He can always change to a yes afterwards.

Then observe the "this" and "that" people. Some of them commonly use the "this" of nearness and regard. Others are "that" people. "That dog is kicking up the lawn again," "that neighbor is conceited."

"Perhaps" and "maybe" people, the word horoscope reveals, are uncertain and vacillating. And they say "perhaps I will," and "maybe I won't," incessantly, because they lack gumption to decide on the spot. Then, too, their "perhaps" often weakly and softly conceals a hidden "no," as in "maybe we'll have your mother-in-law up for the weekend."

The "I can't," "you can't," etc people lack backbone and do not get very far, anymore than the jelly-fish they resemble. Then, too, can't is very frequently used to conceal won't as in "Mother I can't get to school on time."

Talkers employing too many "ands," "ifs" and "buts" suffer from confused thinking and bring in a struggle of disordered afterthoughts.

Further your verbal horoscope relates, the "I" people are self-centered. Guess I'd better watch my own step here.

And now I point out the "we" people. They are gregarious, fond of company, like to join clubs, lodges, movements and so forth.

Yet they presume too much also. They assume their own failings belong to their neighbors, too. And their friend's qualities, virtues generally, they are apt to erroneously ascribe to themselves. "We" people are often met with the merry "where do you get that we" stuff.

Pontiac Motor Co. Breaks Production Records Since 1929

Pontiac Motor Co., built and sold more cars in March and during the first quarter of the year than in any similar periods since 1929. It was announced today by A. W. L. Gilpin, vice president and general sales manager of the company.

Retail sales of Pontiac cars were 17,180 for the month against 7,940 for March 1934, an increase of well over 100 per cent. March retail sales in 1933 were only 5,440. The last ten day period produced 6759 sales compared with 3,169 in 1934 and 2886 in 1933.

First quarter sales were 38,573 cars compared with 15,164 during the first three months of 1934, an increase of 154 per cent. Pontiac sales in the month of March alone this year exceeded those of the entire first quarter of 1934.

The first quarter sales figures are the best that Pontiac has had since 1929. The same record holds true for the entire month of March and the final ten day period of the month.

Export shipments at the end of March had almost doubled those of the entire year of 1934.

Commenting on the excellent business that Pontiac is enjoying, all over the United States Mr. Gilpin pointed out that sales to date easily justify the earlier predictions of total sales for the year—approaching the 150,000 mark. His conclusions are based on the fact that over a period of years 23.1 per cent of General Motors' car sales have been in the first three months of the year. Using that percentage figure Pontiac's total sales for 1935 should be over 163,000.

"Sales of Pontiac cars are excellent all over the country," said Mr. Gilpin. "Our problem is one of production."

"We have as many unfilled orders right now as we had when the cars were announced the first of the year" or at any other time since then.

"I believe that this record breaking will continue well on into the summer, with total sales for the industry of at least 3,000,000 cars. Last year the industry sold 1,800,000.

"One of the big factors that will keep motor car sales at a high point is the fact that there are more than 12,000,000 cars in use over six years of age, and any degree of prosperity such as a large percentage of the motoring public is experiencing now is certain to mean the replacement literally of millions of these old cars."

"The widespread good that a continuation of business like this in the automotive industry is bound to bring about can well be imagined when it is realized that next building construction motor car manufacturing draws upon most diversified trades and sources of material than any other industry in the world."

"The General Motors spring shows this month are coming at the right time, I believe. It is just at the beginning of the real buying months April, May and June. Although March, at times, is a good buying month, invariably the second three months of the year produce the greatest volume of sales."

Samoyede, an Arctic Dog

The Samoyede is an Arctic dog of a breed originating in western Siberia where it is used as a sledging dog and for herding reindeer. It has a pure white coat and dark eyes. For protection from the snow it is about 21 inches high at shoulder and weighs about 35 to 55 pounds. The Spitz or Pomeranian is a small long-haired dog believed to derive from the Samoyede. There are various colors in this breed, including black, brown, red, orange, cream, and sable. The tail is characteristic of the breed, being profusely covered with long spreading hair.
