

CUNNINGHAM MEMORIAL SPEAKER

Playbox Will Present "By Candlelight" at Clark Theatre Tonight

BENTON HARBOR ATTORNEY TO TALK ON MEMORIAL DAY

Now Here's the Proposition

Fannie, the front street flapper, says that some people in Buchanan take newspapers, while others join the bridge clubs.

But It Won't Work When good women get together is when husbands lose their feathers, is our experience, which conclusion we draw from the fact that we overheard our wife telling a neighbor woman that she would have her husband wash the wood work too if she thought he would work for the work would certainly do him good, whether it would do the wood work any good or not.

There is a hot comeback by John Baeten, Gallen, who thinks there is two sides to the chain letter proposition:

Chant of the Chain Gang Breathes there a man with soul so dead He never to himself has said, "You bet your life I'll chance a buck.

Chorus "Step right up, sir, and sign these blanks— Come a seven, come a 'leven—two bucks, thanks!

FAMOUS PLAY TRANSLATED FROM AUSTRIAN GIVEN

Cast of Eight to Present Drama Under Direction of Harry Banke.

The Playbox Players, local Little Theatre Group, will present the famous play "By Candlelight," translated by P. G. Wodehouse from the Austrian, at the Clark theatre this evening, the curtain rising at 8 p. m.

"By Candlelight" is genuinely funny. Its clever remarks are really clever and sufficiently frequent to keep an audience in continuous good humor.

It is like drinking exhilarating champagne, to sit and watch these characters go through their antics during this delightful evening of high-comedy fooling.

Since introducing us to his immortal Jeeves, Mr. P. G. Wodehouse has occupied a high place in our esteem as a purveyor of comic-liteties. In "By Candlelight" many concede that he has gone beyond all previous efforts.

The Playbox Players will present this concoction of drollerys this evening at the Clark theatre.

The cast includes: Prince Rudolf, Jack Boone. Josef, his valet, Robert Geyer. Koepfke, Tom Zerbe. Marie, Kathryn Fortz. Liserl, Dorothea Rothfuchs. Baron Von Rischenheim, Fred Smith.

Baroness Von Rischenheim, Ruth Pierce. A waiter from Sacher's, Robert Strayer.

Production committee: Mrs. Geo. Roe, Miss Dorothy Thompson and John Heiermann. Stage manager, Tom Zerbe.

The play is under the direction of Harry Banke.

No one will be seated during the first act, so plan to come early. Tickets are on sale at Portz Food Shop, Root's store and D's Cafe.

Reserved seats may be had at Glenn Smith's store with 5c additional charge.

PLANT TOMATOES ON CAMPBELL SOUP COMPANY TRACTS

Plants Brought from Crown Point, Ind., Planted by Hand and by Machine on 300 Acres.

Tomato plants are being set out this week on the 300 acres contracted by the Campbell Soup Co. on Buchanan farms, an average of 2,700 plants being set to the acre, or a total of over 800,000 plants.

The work is being done by machines on the J. W. Hanley tract of 27 acres on the Webber farm on the South Bend road, the success of which project last year led to the selection of Buchanan for acreage this year.

On other farms the planting is being done by hand, men working in couples, one going ahead and making a hole and the other following and setting the plant. Two men working together in this manner will plant an acre a day.

BUCHANAN BLUES WIN FIRST LEAGUE GAME OF BARODA

Topash Bros. to Form Battery for Blues vs. Sawyer at Liberty Heights Sunday.

The Buchanan Blues opened the current baseball season last Sunday afternoon at Baroda by squeezing out a 3 to 4 victory to chalk up their first community league win.

Glenn Jesse went the full route for the locals and pitched a creditable game of ball allowing eight fairly well scattered hits. "Stub" Henderson pitched for the losers, and allowed only four hits, but as the result of a few walks and misplays he lost a tough battle.

Both teams played rather ragged at times but for so early in the season it was a very fine ball game to witness.

It seemed to be a day for pitchers, as both twirlers led their respective teams in hitting, each getting two singles.

Next Sunday the Buchanan Blues will be hosts to the strong Sawyer Aces. The contest will be staged at the Liberty Heights diamond, and a battle royal is expected. The Topash brothers will form the battery for the Blues.

If you want to see a real ball game, be sure to attend this tilt at the Liberty Heights diamond next Sunday. The admission will be 25c for men, ladies and children free. The game will get underway promptly at 2:30 p. m.

MARBLES HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN MOTOR MISHAP

Chicago Radio Entertainer Killed in Crash Sunday On US-12 Near Arden.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Marble escaped with minor injuries Sunday morning from a motor accident on US-31, which caused the death of Dominic Mangano, Chicago, and injured his brother, Lawrence Mangano, Chicago.

The two cars crashed on US-31 south of Arden. The accident was witnessed by R. R. Rouse, who was driving toward Benton Harbor. Rouse states that he was driving up a hill just south of Arden, his car going at 40 miles an hour, when the Mangano car started to pass him approaching the crest of the hill. Just as they reached the top abreast, the Marble car loomed up in front of the Mangano car, bound south on the right side of the road. Apparently Mangano saw the Marble car and jammed on his breaks, skidding in Marble's path as he swerved off the road in attempt to dodge. The Marble car struck the Mangano car broadside.

All the injured parties were taken to Berrien Springs for first aid and thence to the Mercy Hospital at Benton Harbor, where Dominic Mangano died several hours later. He was a well-known Chicago musician and radio entertainer, appearing regularly as "Tony" in the "School of the Air." Lawrence Mangano, who was slightly injured, is reported to be a Chicago gambler and "vice overlord." The Mangano brothers had maintained a summer home at Berrien Springs for several years.

Mr. Marble was only slightly injured, and was soon able to return to his home. Mrs. Marble incurred severe cuts on her forehead and bruises over her body. She was released from the hospital and returned to her home here yesterday afternoon.

Memories of the Galien Grist Mill

(Ed. Note: In an oversight last week the following verses were omitted from an article headed as above and written by Mrs. Waivae Wassinee Annis, Gauen.)

I sat alone at twilight
When the harvest moon hung low.
And the stars pinned back the night shades
Imparting a silvery glow.

Then I opened memory's album
And turned the leaves at will
As the picture came before me
I saw the old grist mill.

Standing just as it used to
On the bank of the old mill stream
Flanked by waving willows
At nestled among the green.

The mill wheel turned, I fancied
I could hear the spawling sound
When the little stream raged onward
To the river it was bound.

Back to the creaking mill gate
And the massive mill stone's moan
Back to the rambing grist mill
My thoughts tonight have flown.

I saw the miller standing
His suit all powdered white
It was a floury picture
It was his miller's right.

I saw the farmers coming
From many miles around
Bringing their golden harvest
To mill to have it ground.

This picture slowly faded
Another took its place
It was the balmy springtime
Familiar scenes I traced.

The kiddies played at hokey
And stole away from school
The boys, to go a fishing
Or swimming in the pool.

The girls would often wander
Along the old mill stream,
To gather the pretty blossoms
Or sit on its bank to dream.

I looked again in this album
And on this page I found
Strolling down to the grist mill
After the sun went down.

Tired, Worn Out, NO AMBITION

HOW many women are just dragging themselves around, all tired out with periodic weakness and pain? They should know—the Lydia E. Pinkham's Tablets relieve periodic pains and discomfort. Small size only 25 cents.

Mrs. Doris Williams of Danville, Illinois, says: "I had no ambition and was terribly nervous. Your Tablets helped my periods and built me up." Try them next month.

TABLETS

To sit on the steps in twilight
Lovers whose hearts were true
To tell love's old, old story
So old, yet ever new.

The gristmill was a land mark
To travelers on their way
Turn at the gristmill corner
The old folks used to say.

My album closed in silence
As these pictures faded away
The mill has gone forever
Its memories with us stay.
Waivae Wassinee Annis.

Ostrich is Largest
Of our birds, the ostrich, standing about eight feet high and weighing about 300 pounds, is the largest. The ruby-throated humming bird, weighing but a few ounces, is the smallest known bird. Its wing spread of three inches contrasts that of the 12-foot spread of the albatross.

Home Ties Strong With Ducks
According to F. C. Lincoln, naturalist of the United States biological survey, years of banding of wild ducks shows that while they will spend their summers and breeding season together, they will separate on their flights southward, each mother duck taking her brood to her chosen winter quarters. California ducks, for example, may nest with Mississippi ducks during the summer in the same Canadian marsh. Naturalist Lincoln says, but on migrating southward for the winter, the California birds return to California and the Mississippians to the Mississippi swamps.

River Boundary Lines
The boundary line between Kentucky and Missouri is the middle of the Mississippi river, as fixed by treaty in 1783. The Mississippi river differs from the Ohio river in this respect as regards state boundaries.

"Madame Suzanne," an operetta, was given under the direction of Miss Orrie Negus, home ec teacher, in the high school auditorium, Wednesday, May 22.

All the dresses, smocks and pajamas made this semester by the girls from the eighth through the tenth grade home economic classes were modeled.

School Year to Close Soon

The way students are hustling around getting their semester notebooks ready and going through the pages of their books trying to get as many facts as possible, surely shows that the school year is coming to a close. Oh, what a relief for some! While there are others who could go to school the year around and not mind it in the least, but these persons are few.

Seniors Select Class Colors

During their bus trip to Chicago for Skip Day, the seniors voted on their class colors. The colors chosen were black and silver. These colors will be used to tie the diplomas and several other things to be given to seniors on Commencement night.

FRENCH PARTY

The twelfth grade French class sponsored a werner roast at Clear lake, Saturday, May 18, and invited the French class eleven as their guests.

Those who attended enjoyed a treasure hunt and a ball game.

VELMARIAN LIT PROGRAM

The last Velmarian Literary Program was held Friday, May 17. The program was on the order of a mock graduation.

The distribution of diplomas by the President of the School Board was the roll call.

The program was as follows: Mock Principal—Roy Powell; Salutatorian—Geneva Troutfetter.

Valedictorian—Margaret A. George.

Class Poet—Fred Riley; Class History—Bob Strayer; Class Prophecy—Lillias Peacock; President of the School Board—Albert Webb.

There were two selections from the senior orchestra: Albert Webb, Bob Strayer, Fred Riley, Donald Roti Roti, Janet Kelley, Marguerite Babcock and Opal Rough.

SKIP DAY SLANTS

Donna Belle DeWitt slid right into a revolving door and Arden Richardson was the hero of the day by catching the falling lady.

John Heiermann likes the staircases in the 5 and 10c stores.

Ed Donley got a thrill going on the elevators in the Chicago Board of Trade.

Claude Denno and Goldie Leifer flipped coins on the bus floor.

On the trip Ed Donley and Albert Webb had to have an interpreter because they weren't on speaking terms. (All on account of the windows being open.)

B. H. S. Seniors Tour Chicago As Skip Day Outing

Wednesday morning at 6:30, the Grayhound bus pulled out of Buchanan for Chicago with the senior class and two chaperones, Mrs. Dunbar and Mr. Knoblauch. The reason for this event was the annual senior skip day.

The first place of interest to be seen was the University of Chicago campus.

On that day the communists were having a parade and a great number of police were gathered about the street corner.

One of the places of particular interest was the Board of Trade. There was a guide that took the students to the visitor's gallery to watch the buying and selling in the pits. Then from the gallery, another part of the building was visited. The students were allowed to sit in the Board of Director's chairs. There the guide explained different things and talked to them.

From the Board of Trade the bus driver, Mr. Kennard, took the students to the NBC broadcasting company's building where two programs were seen in progress. There was also a guide in that building.

In the afternoon the students were allowed to separate. Some went to snows and some went to "see the town." Then there were a number who went to the Field Museum, where all the students were supposed to meet at 6:30.

On the way home Wrigley baseball park was one of the sights, also the Jewish district of Chicago.

Thursday morning there were a great many heavy eye-lids and blisters on heels but "it was worth it" said all of the students.

Grade 5, Mrs. Heim Barbara Arrick, Bonifae Antles, Hadley Borders and John Wegner are making a picture called "The Redbud Trail" for the All School Exhibit May 23.

ALONG THE CORRIDORS

There has been much chatter this week about what kind of formal dress for the prom one has or is getting.

Have you seen Shirley Rolan's new bangs? Aren't they just too cute for words?

If you have heard lots of chatter, etc., issuing from the gym, you'll know it's the decoration committee for the prom.

JUNIOR CANDY SALE

The juniors held a candy sale last Tuesday afternoon from 1 to 1:10 and from 3:45 to 4. On the candy alone they cleared $6.68.

Each student was supposed to bring either candy or contribute a quarter towards the junior treasury. However, the sale brought over $10.00.

Senior Line of March

AT LAST!

"At last the senior invitations have arrived," stated a senior, who has been anxiously waiting for them.

"I thought they never would come," said another. "How long did it take to make them?"

Such were the words uttered by seniors who ordered invitations to Commencement.

Tuesday afternoon they came and were then issued. They are probably all addressed and mailed by now.

The men at the post offices must be busy now sending and sorting all those invitations!

COMMITTEES

The committees for Commencement and Baccalaureate are as follows:

Commencement—Eleanor Miller, Donald Flener, George Richards, Dorothy Hawks, Frances Hamilton, Elaine Donley, Bernadine Reinke, Jack Sult and Milburn Shaffer.

Baccalaureate—Cherry Heim, George Semple, Hubert McClellan, Georgia Upson, Dorothy Dunlap, Rose Lynn Ernst, Lewis Paul, Gilbert Collings and Dorothy Jerue.

Builders of Our Country

The quotation below is taken from a recent speech before the House by John G. Cooper, Member of Congress from Ohio, on the Wheeler-Rayburn bill:

"No doubt every Member of the House has received many letters opposing the passage of this legislation. I will not deny that some of it has been inspired, but I believe I can truthfully say on my honor as a Member of this Congress that not 10 percent of the letters I have received, which run into several thousand, against this legislation, is in form letters. Most of them have been written by individuals, insurance companies, business houses, banks, and various kinds of industries. I have received letters from old people who have written them in long-hand, and you could see that they were well up in years, for their hand tottered when they wrote the letter.

"If these men and women who have invested their life savings in a utility as a protection for old age believe that the passage of this bill may destroy the securities which they have honestly bought, they have a perfect right to come to the Congress and protest against the passage of such a measure."

THEIR savings, entrusted to this Company from the pioneer days of the industry, have made possible our contribution to the progress and development of the communities we serve.

We hold fast to our standards of loyalty to the public, to our workers and to our shareholders.

Think it over, Uncle Sam!

Formulating the Good
Almost all people who try to formulate the good find it in one or more of three things: Pleasure, virtue, or self-realization.

Step on It!
'I like a man dat hopes for de best,' said Uncle Eben. 'But I don't like to see him sit down hopin' and call it a day's work.'
