

BEGIN HOUSING CANVASS OF CITY

130 Pupils Enrolled in Vacation School for Religious Instruction

FORCE WORKERS TO COVER CITY IN TWO WEEKS

Now Here's the Proposition

White-Collar Cabbage Heads
We understand that in view of the impending cutworm menace, most of the cabbage, tomato, cauliflower and eggplants of the city have joined the white-collar class, and are wearing stiff paper collars. One gardener says it did not good, the cutworms just shinned right over the collar 'n' chewed the same as ever. So he put some more collars of window screen about them, thinking maybe if they could get a good look at the plants they wouldn't care so much about eating. But it didn't work.

One of the more or less prominent Third street gardeners has been looking in vain for his limas to come up, until he heard that unless he planted them eyes down they would grow the other direction.

Swen Addresses Golf Balls
They say that Lowell Swen is getting to be quite some farmer, too, these days. His specialty is plowing up golf greens. And "ad-dressing" the ball. They say one day last week he leaned back and delivered an address to a golf ball that would make Daniel Webster's orations sound like a first grader who forgot his piece.

Mr. Swen is reported to have a powerful swing, at that, which belies the proportions of his modest frame. If he ever hits the ball, there's going to be some shattered long distance records.

Fishermen on a lake near Buchanan report that last week they had the pleasure of witnessing a marathon race between George Himmelberger, Walter Thanning, Fred Sharpe and a bull. When last seen George was reported to have a good lead and to be going strong. Thanning and Sharpe were engaged in a breathless battle for second place, when the bull was hanging close behind. It must have seemed strange to see those boys running from a bull. Usually they just stand right up and throw it.

Ted Will Carry It To The Grass Roots
Well, friends, it's a kind of quiet week, all in all—nobody lost their false teeth, nobody caught a big fish, nobody turned out to let a bridge go by, no ladies been pulled for having runs in their hose or whatever it was all about.

Of course there was Ted Rouse. We interviewed Ted Rouse while he was scraping our chin on our weekly Saturday night. "You can say for me," remarked Ted as he lopped a large handful off and waved it in the air, "that it was plainly and self-evidently and patently unconstitutional."

"So what?" so-whatted us. "I'm gonna carry it right to the grass roots," said Ted.

Joe Savoldi is Slightly Hurt in Auto Collision

Joe Savoldi, famous wrestler, incurred slight injuries when the car in which he, his brother, Clem and his manager, Ray Williamson, were riding was struck by a car driven by Albert Knuth at the intersection of the Red Bud Trail and the Berrien Springs road Sunday morning. The Savoldi car had the right-of-way on the trail, which is the through road. The Knuth car struck the rear right bumper of the Savoldi car, which turned over twice. Savoldi was rushed to St. Joseph, where he was treated by Dr. John Schram for a slight head cut and bruises. He was able to go on to New York City that evening.

Mr. Savoldi will be back at his home here and will be joined for the week-end by his wife, who is now visiting relatives in Harrison, Ky.

COMMITTEE.

LOCAL YOUTHS APPOINTED TO U. S. SCHOOLS

Edwin Donley Goes to Annapolis and Vincent DeNardo to West Point.

Two Buchanan youths, Edwin Donley and Vincent DeNardo, have been signally honored by appointments, the first as midshipman to the United States Naval academy at Annapolis and the latter as cadet in the United States military academy at West Point, the appointments being still conditional on examinations, although it is believed that they will be finally confirmed soon.

DeNardo was given unconditional appointment with the reservation that he would be required to take a second physical examination at Fort Sheridan, where he now is. He passed one physical examination and was exempted from mental examination on the basis of the one-year college credits which he was able to offer.

Donley passed the first civil service examination given in St. Joseph in January with the highest marks received by any candidate from the Fourth Congressional District. Because of the fact that he was graduated from the local high school this spring and had no college credits he will be required to take a substantial examination in mathematics and English at St. Joseph June 17, before his appointment is finally ratified.

Both appointments were made through Congressman Clare Hoffman and were made possible by a recent act of congress enlarging the enrollment at the two academies by authorizing an additional appointment by each member of the national Senate and House of Representatives.

He was also elected to membership in the Druids Literary Society.

The College Club will sponsor a benefit bridge party Wednesday evening, June 19, at the Orchard Hills Country club for the benefit of the scholarship fund. Several students have been thus aided, and have paid the money back into the fund as soon as they went on a salary. Three students who have used the fund will begin to pay to the club this year.

The committee in charge is Mrs. J. A. White (chairman), Mrs. A. B. Muir, Mrs. May Whitman, Mrs. Velma Dunbar, Mrs. Arthur Knoblauch, Miss Belle Miller, Miss Johanna Desenberg, Miss Margaret Whitman, Miss Lillie Brown and Miss Dorothy Charles.

Waterman, while en route to their home in Detroit from Cushing, Okla., where they had gone to attend the funeral of the former's aunt. They carried on their car some "concrete" evidence of the floods that had recently inundated the west. They traveled through after the floods had subsided, but found the dirt roads on the river bottoms in bad condition. In one instance they were towed out by a bus.

BLUES DEFEAT 3 OAKS NINE ON LOCAL DIAMOND

Local Entries Remain at Top of Community League With 3 Straight Wins.

Taking advantage of all breaks, the up and coming Buchanan Blues won a thrilling baseball game over the Three Oaks Aconns last Sunday afternoon at Liberty Heights diamond by a count of 6-4.

This makes the third straight Community League win for the locals, and tightens their grip on first place. The Blues have won over Baroda, Sawyer and Three Oaks in league play and have lost none. The remaining seven teams in the loop have all dropped at least one contest.

Timely hits by the Blues and ragged play by the Oaks spelled victory for the Blues.

The biggest thrill of the fray came in the third inning when Louis Leiter, local first sacker, hit a home run with one aboard. Glenn Jesse worked on the mound for the Blues and gave up a total of 14 hits, but he kept them so evenly scattered that the visitors could only muster 4 runs.

Levey did the twirling for the losers and allowed only 8 safe singles. But they were more timely than the Aconns and accounted for 6 tallies.

In the first inning Three Oaks got their first run when Stange singled, and reached second as a result of an error. Grannis then singled to drive Stange around for the first score of the game.

When the Blues came up for their first time at bat they started off with a bang. Dellinger got a free ticket to first, then Richter beat out a punt to put men on first and second. Sparr came up and slammed a double in deep left to score Dellinger and Richter, and Leiter singled to score Sparr to put the locals in the lead 3 to 1.

The Blues then increased their lead in the third, when the Three Oaks catcher dropped the ball on the third strike to allow Sparr to reach the first sack. It was then that Leiter sent the horsehide sailing over into the sticks for a home run to increase the Blues' lead to 5 to 1.

Buchanan garnered their final tally in the fifth frame when Richter singled to left. Leiter singled, driving Richter around to third, and he scored on an error.

Three Oaks threw a big scare in the eighth when they tallied three runs to bring the score much closer. Kraft singled, Germinder got on by an error and Levey tripled in deep center to score two more runs. Stange singled to drive in Levey to make the final score 6 to 4 in favor of the Buchanan Blues.

Leiter was the outstanding batter for the Blues with a home run and two singles. Levey was the leading stickman for the Aconns with a triple and two singles.

Next Sunday the Buchanan Blues journey to Bridgman in the hopes of winning their fourth Community League game. Bridgman is the defending champion having won the pennant last season. A tough battle is expected.

Beginning Sunday, June 23, two masses will be celebrated each Sunday at St. Anthony's church, the first beginning at 7:30 a. m. and the second at 10 a. m.

RIVER RAMBLERS LEAD BUCHANAN'S SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Clark, Chevrolet, Wilsons in Second Place Tie After Tuesday's Game.

League Standings
Ramblers	2	0	1.000
Clarks	2	1	.667
Chevrolet	2	1	.667
Wilsons	2	1	.667
I. O. O. F.	1	1	.500
D's Cafe	1	2	.333
Days Av. Merch.	0	2	.000

Week's Schedule
June 13, Ramblers vs. I. O. O. F.
June 14, Chevrolet vs. Days Ave. Merchants

June 17, Wilsons vs. D's Cafe
June 18, Chevrolet vs. I. O. O. F.
The Riversiders Ramblers, with two easy victories and no defeats in which 29 runs were scored against two for their opponents, are sitting atop the Buchanan softball league today as the only undefeated team in the local loop.

But tonight, in meeting the Odd Fellow team at Liberty Heights park, the Ramblers meet their first strong foe as "Lefty" Jim Ellis, pitching ace of the lodgement, aided by the Odd Fellow's heavy artillery, will endeavor to knock the Redbud Trail team, the Ramblers, out of the much-coveted first place.

The Odd Fellows have won one and lost one, and should they win tonight there will be five teams in a tie for second place, namely the Ramblers, Odd Fellows, Clarks, Chevrolet and Wilson Dairy, the latter three now being in a three-way deadlock for second place.

Opposing Ellis on the mound for the Ramblers will be Rudolph, the boy with the quick, deceiving delivery.

The Clark Equipment team had an easy time defeating D's Cafe, 13 to 2, Tuesday night at Liberty Heights park.

Freeling and Jesse, dividing the pitching honors for Clarks, held the restaurant team to two hits, a single and a double, both made by Ray Barbour, D left fielder, off the offerings of Freeling, who pitched the first four innings. The bats of the other D batters were noticeably silent as the Clark pair of mound aces fast-balled their team to a one-sided victory. Jesse, who relieved Freeling in the fifth, held the cafemen hitless in the last three frames, although both D runs came in off his mound service in the fifth by virtue of two walks, a brace of wild pitches, a sacrifice fly and infield error. But four D batters got on base in the other innings. They were Barbour, who singled in the first and doubled in the fourth, Max Penwell, who died on third in the sixth after getting life on an error and Rossow, who walked in the same inning.

Claude Imhoff, Clark left fielder, led his team's attack with three singles in five trips to the plate. Covert, Clark first baseman, was responsible for five of his team's 13 runs. He scored three times and drove in Stelter in the first on his triple and singled in the third, scoring Stelter again. This single in the third marked Covert's sixth consecutive time he hit safely to establish a 1935 league record.

Leading 13 to 1 at the end of the sixth, the Clark Equipment Company softball team staved off a strong finish to emerge winners 13 to 9 in their game at the Liberty Heights diamond Thursday evening.

Big Andy Freeling on the mound for the Clarks, had the Chevrolet batters helpless for the first six innings, and in all these frames save the fifth, when the losers scored one run, but two automen got on base. Babcock relieved Freeling on the mound in the seventh, and then the fireworks started. Twelve Chevrolet players batted before the round finished, and although Freeling came to Babcock's rescue after five runs had scored the Chevrolet's amassed a triple, two doubles, a brace of singles and two walks to score eight runs.

The Clarks, nicking Schultz' delivery for twelve safe blows, had two big innings, the first when six (Continued on page 5)

Car Collides With Hayrack on Redbud Trail

Slight injuries were sustained by Neil Fuller and by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fuller and children when a car driven by the latter family ran into the rear of the wagon and hayrack driven by the former on the Redbud Trail near the Charles Voorhees farm. Howard Fuller and his family were enroute to their home on the Charles Pears farm about 9:30 p. m. Saturday when they ran into the rear end of the wagon and hayrack, which carried no lights. The rear running gears were jammed forward and the wagon reach broken. The car windshield was broken and the Howard Fuller family suffered painful but not serious cuts from the broken glass. Neil Fuller was bruised but was not thrown off his rack. All were able to proceed to their own homes without medical attendance.

Similar Canvass Completed in Niles, Benton Harbor and St. Joseph.

Work was begun Tuesday morning by a force of canvassers to unearth prospects for home modernization repair and new construction under the finance offer made by the Federal Housing Administration.

Such canvass has been completed in Niles, Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, where it is asserted that construction and renovation work and the sale of materials has received substantial encouragement.

The canvassers now at work have been carefully selected from the FERA rolls in Buchanan and elsewhere in order as far as possible to secure a force of workers with an understanding of building problems. In order that the local public may have a better understanding of the opportunity offered and the work of the canvassers may be correspondingly lightened, the following information is published for possible candidates for loans:

Here's How You Go About It
1. You may have certain property improvements already in mind—the small investments that pay large dividends in better living. Perhaps its light switches, paint, plumbing, plaster, or a complete remodeling job. In addition to the items you may have planned already, check your property against the list of repairs, alterations and improvements suggested in this booklet.

2. Decide what improvements you can afford to make now or at least the improvements you cannot afford to neglect any longer.

3. Call a contractor, or—if its an architect. Or get in touch with your local Better Housing Committee if there is one in your community. Any of these individuals or agencies co-operating with the Federal Housing Administration will gladly estimate the cost.

4. Then comes the question How shall I pay for these improvements? If you have the cash—cash is the ideal way to pay.

But if you should find it more convenient to pay out of your regular income—the investment is a sound one, and now is the prudent time to go ahead. The Better Housing Program has oiled the machinery of credit so that you may pay easily and conveniently for property improvements made at once.

Your contractor or supply dealer is in a position to co-operate.

Or you may arrange directly for a low-cost, long payment loan with your own local bank, building and loan association or other financial institution co-operating with the Government.

The way has been smoothed—the future of your property is up to you.

Here's What You May Be Asking

1. Who may apply? Any property owner, individual, partnership or corporation, with a regular income from salary, commissions, business or other source. It is not necessary to be a depositor in the financial institution consulted.

2. To whom do I apply? To any National Bank, State Bank or Trust Company, Savings Bank, Industrial Bank, Building and Loan Association or Finance Co. approved by the Federal Housing Administration; or to a contractor or building supply dealer.

3. Do I borrow money from the Government? No.

4. How much may I apply for? From $100 to $2,000, depending on your income, for improvements on any one property. A like amount in connection with not more than five properties ($2,000 maximum on each.) Approval by the Federal Housing Administration, Washington, D. C., must be secured by the lender in advance for loans on more than five properties.

5. How long may notes run? For any number of months from one to five years—at the discretion of the financial institution.

6. May I take the maximum time allowed to pay back any size loan? The object is to arrange the time so that the loan is repaid at the earliest date consistent with the income of the borrower. No wise (Continued on Page 5)

Commencement Pathways

By Waivae Wassinee Annis
Out of the garden of learning
Steps our nation's youth today
They look at the paths before them
To determine the better way.
One path is bright and sunny
With roses growing there
But just around the corner
Bramblers are everywhere
The other is rough and rugged
There is not a flower in sight
It is very straight and narrow
But leads to brighter heights
These heights are worth the climbing
To those who gain the top
Their dreams like flowers will blossom
As rare forget-me-nots
So here in the dewy morning
Our youth must choose their way
The glory of life's sunset
May depend on their choice today.

A Bit of Romance Ending in a Wedding
A romance which began 35 years ago in the Galien high school culminated in a wedding on June 3.
The marriage of Miss Myra Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm.
Gardner, of Glendora to Edward
A. Desonia, of Detroit, Mich.

You met in the old red school house
He thought you were lovely then
But he was too shy to tell you
Ah, what a difference it might have been

But the threads of romance were tangled
Many years went fleeting past
But time, the patient weaver,
Untangled the threads at last.

May life's golden shuttle run smoothly,
As time weaves the threads anew
Into a pattern so lovely
With its touch of romantic hue.

dinner.

There's a fearless strength in the artist's work, His strokes are sure and true— With swift, short stabs he paints away In red and green and blue.

Nor does he care what the world may think Of the picture he would paint; He seeks to express himself alone And he works without complaint.

He laughs at the critics who dare to talk And yawns a bit as they chant; His ears are deaf to the sordid mobs— Again he laughs as they rant.

Aye, the artist's effort is his alone— Critics must come to his door; He hears them rave and rant and tear Yet knows they'll ask for more.

And he is the proof that courage alone Is above the critic's ban— He is the proof that courage alone Is the balance of power of man.

Little Known Facts About Banking

An Interesting Fact to be Remembered

It is not generally known that the banks outside the larger cities of the country have granted, all through the depression, far more loans, proportionately, than the banks from which "loan statistics" are usually gathered.

In fact, had it not been for the splendid cooperation of the independent, home-owned, home-managed banks in the smaller cities and communities, local enterprise would have suffered more than it did.

The so-called "country banker" by his knowledge of local conditions, his intimate acquaintance with his customers and his willingness to "go along" with worthy borrowers, helped far more than is generally known to cushion the heaviest blow ever felt by the American people.

FHA EMPHASIZES PROPER CLAIMS OF THE HOME

It is expected that a force of canvassers working under County Chairman Morris will cover Buchanan soon to uncover prospects for home modernization and repair under the terms of the Federal Housing Administration.

Excellent results have been reported from other towns in Michigan and in Berrien county as well, where it is stated that the work of the building trades has been materially increased as the result of the campaigns. At Holland a preliminary canvass was held last fall in which 23 per cent of the home owners signified their interest in home improvement. A second canvass was recently completed in which the per cent interested in improvement had increased to 51.

Niles reports a very substantial increase in business for carpenters, painters and other building trade workers.

Whatever attitude may be taken toward the merits of the FHA proposition, it has this to its credit: It has served to emphasize the claims of the home to its fair share of the expenditure budget. It has served to emphasize the fact that adequate repairs to the home are necessary and in the line of good business. At a time when scores of business interests are pressing their claim for a share of the family budget, it is serving to restore proper emphasis on the claims of the family roof tree. Delay in necessary repair is not only poor business; it may easily be disastrous. Beyond that, the home has a right to a fair share of modernization, enabling the housewife and the family to benefit from the advantages of modern science and invention.

All these things the FHA campaign has served to emphasize, to advertise, as they have never before. It is in line with healthy public policy.

President Suggests Amendment of Constitution but Asks Stop-Gap Legislation to Permit Continu- ance of the New Deal Program.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union.

Bainbridge
Colby

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has created a major issue for the campaign of 1936 and stirred up widespread debate and controversy over a question that the nation had thought was settled in its early days. Furthermore, it is likely he has started the movement for a complete realignment of political forces into what will be virtually two new parties. Briefly, he proposes that the Constitution be changed to take from the states and give to the federal government power over the chief social and economic questions so that the New Deal may be saved from the doom pronounced upon it by the Supreme court.

In the course of a two-hour talk with the Washington correspondents the President sent up a trial balloon on the plan he had conceived for remodeling the government to fit his program, declaring that he favored curtailing the sovereignty of the states and giving the central government full control over agriculture, industry, commerce and all other occupations and enterprises. He said this question of amending or re-writing the Constitution must be settled by a vote of the people. In some ways, he said, the Supreme court decision was the best thing that could have happened to the country because it clarified the issue as he presented it. The issue must be met by moving one way or the other, he said, back to the 13 states or forward to the modern interpretation.

We are the only country in the world which has not solved this problem, Mr. Roosevelt said. We thought we were solving it, but now it is thrown right back in our faces. We are relegated to the "horse and buggy" interpretation of the interstate commerce clause.

That many prominent Democrats will be alienated from their support of Mr. Roosevelt by this pronouncement is certain. Already there has been launched a movement for those of the party who seek "a return to constitutional government" to unite with the Republicans who are of like mind. Its leaders are Bainbridge Colby, who was secretary of state in President Wilson's cabinet, and Chief Justice William R. Taft, both of the Massachusetts Supreme court.

Mr. Colby has written to a number of Democratic leaders of national repute proposing they meet in a southern city, preferably Richmond, "to consider some form of political action that is for our country and above party."

In a letter to a friend in Washington it was revealed that Chief Justice Taft had decided to resign in order to join with other Jeffersonian Democrats to bring about a coalition with Republicans and the restoration of "constitutional government" to replace the New Deal.

Neither of these gentlemen hopes to prevent the renomination of Mr. Roosevelt, but they believe he might be defeated at the polls by a coalition movement.

Of Democratic senators a number, like Smith of South Carolina, Connolly of Texas, Clark of Missouri and King of Utah, frankly expressed their opposition to the President's views. Others expressed rather mild approval. All were surprised. The conservative Republicans of course were outspoken in their disapproval of the abrogation of states' rights, and the more radical men of that party were divided.

Senator Borah of Idaho voiced the opinion of many others when he said: "There is plenty of power, absolute power, to deal with all national problems. We don't need a constitutional amendment nearly so much as we need some one to draw bills in accordance with the Constitution. You can't draw a bill on great subjects of this nature as you would draw a resolution for a town meeting. Let it be understood that the construction which the Supreme court has placed on the interstate commerce clause gives ample and complete and plenary power to deal with all matters of national concern."

HAVING startled the country by his proposition for changing the basic law, Mr. Roosevelt turned his attention to speedy legislation that might salvage part of the NRA, considering, it was authoritatively said, that amendment of the Constitution was not a matter of the immediate future. He asked congress to pass the Clark resolution in modified form extending the NRA until April 1, 1936, with the understanding that it would be a skeleton organization to collect and classify data but without power to enforce wages, hours or fair trade practices upon industry, except in the case of work done for the government. This was agreeable to both the senate and the house majorities. The President said there would be no attempt to circumvent the Supreme court decision or to persuade business men to enter into voluntary code agreements.

Attorney General Cummings, Solicitor General Reed, Felix Frankfurter and others were studying numerous proposals for substitutes for the NRA, but Secretary Early of the White House staff said none of the suggestions had met the requirements. Secretary of Labor Perkins had a plan for using the government's taxing powers as a means toward interstate regulation. Senators Nye and King introduced in the senate a bill to expand the powers of the federal trade commission. And there were many other propositions, but none of them seemed adequate.

CONGRESS, it now appears, will be in session until September, for the President handed to the leaders a "must" program of legislation that will keep the law makers busy for a long time. Here is the list:

1. Social security bill.
2. Omnibus banking bill.
3. Holding company bill.
4. Wagner labor relations bill, and Guffey coal regulations bill.
5. Tennessee valley bill.
6. Bankhead cotton act extension.
7. AAA amendments.
8. Tax extension bill.
9. Temporary NRA extension.
10. NRA government contract requirements.
11. Federal alcohol control legislation.
12. Federal oil control legislation.
13. Central statistical board set up.
14. Electrical farm and home authority set up.

The holding company measure has been resisted firmly in committee by two Democrats, Pettigill of Indiana and Middleton of Alabama. In a senate debate it was vigorously attacked by Dieterich of Illinois, Democrat, and Hastings of Delaware, Republican, as an unconstitutional scheme to destroy the government's competitors in the power business. Mr. Dieterich said it was his honest conviction that the measure would destroy all private ownership of public utilities in the country, together with the millions upon millions of dollars invested in them by private citizens.

This measure was naturally the chief topic of discussion at the annual convention of the Edison Electric Institute at Atlantic City. President Thomas N. McCarter told the assemblage that the privately owned power industry must fight for its life against the administration's "most devastating and destructive attack." He told of presenting "in person" to the President "a dignified memorial" setting forth "facts that seemed to the trustees to threaten the existence of this industry and appealed to the government for a get-together policy for the elimination of whatever abuses and wrongs might be found to exist," but said he got nowhere.

SOLELY on account of ill health, Ramsay MacDonald has retired as prime minister of Great Britain and gone to Lissiemouth, his home in Scotland, for a good rest. His successor as head of the national cabinet is Stanley Baldwin, the veteran leader of Conservatives who has been serving as lord president of the council and in reality has been the deputy prime minister since the national government was formed seven years ago. Mr. MacDonald exchanges places with him, thus remaining in the cabinet, but without departmental duties. The date of his last cabinet meeting as prime minister was the sixth anniversary of his assumption of the office for the second time. With the exception of H. Asquith he has held the office continuously for the longest period in modern times.

Of the other changes in the cabinet the most important was the transfer of Sir John Simon from the foreign office to the home office. He is succeeded in the former by Sir Samuel Hoare, who has been chief secretary for India. Mr. MacDonald's son, Malcolm, only thirty-four years old, was made colonial secretary.

TEMPORARILY the work-relief program was halted when the officials found that the projects were too costly, and they set about making up projects that would provide maximum work at minimum cost so that the promise to employ 1,000,000 persons can be carried out. Meanwhile approval of all applications was held up.

They have an average of $1,100 per man to spend. Yet the $1,000,000,000 in projects already planned will cost approximately $2,000 for every person taken off relief rolls and kept on government pay rolls until July 1, 1936.

To reduce the average, Mr. Roosevelt instructed Progress Director Harry L. Hopkins to search the country for local, quick work where material costs will be low with almost all the money going for labor and wages.

The plan for enlarging the Civilian Conservation corps from 300,000 to 600,000 was in process of revision because it was believed the additional men could not be enrolled if the present eighteen to twenty-five-year-old age limit were retained. The probability was the age limit would be raised to thirty years.

A new compilation of government statistics shows that between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000 persons out of a population of 127,000,000 draw money for food, clothing and shelter from the treasury.

BOUSSON'S French cabinet having fallen almost immediately, President Lebrun had great difficulty finding another premier. Pierre Laval, former foreign minister, finally undertook to form a new government and to "save the franc." He kept the foreign ministry post himself, and put Marcel Regnier in as minister of finance.

JAPAN'S army, which appears to rule Japan's foreign policy, has decided that Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, dictator of China, must retire. This was announced at Tientsin by Col. Takashi Sakai, chief of staff of the Japanese army in North China. He said:

"Chiang Kai-shek using his financial and military power under the pretense of uniting China, is actually corrupting and disintegrating North China, which is a colony. Hence the Japanese army now feels that it is the wisest policy to uproot Chiang Kai-shek's influence, especially in North China."

"It is not the Communists but Chiang Kai-shek who will put an end to the existence of China. The Japanese army intends to take the necessary measures to compel the Chinese government to abolish the Tientsin garrison corps, the Kuomintang political branches, the Blue Shirt secret police and patriotic societies encouraging the consumption of native goods. These societies have been responsible for anti-Japanese sentiment as well as disturbance of peace and order within Manchukuo."

There are reports in Shanghai that China intends to withdraw entirely from the territory north of the Yellow river, so probably Japan will soon have in its grip that region, as well as Inner Mongolia which is likely to be transferred to the puppet state of Manchukuo.

ONE of the most prominent figures in the World War passed from the scene with the death in Essex, England, of Viscount Byng of Viny. As a young officer of cavalry Byng distinguished himself in campaigns in the Sudan, in South Africa and in India. In the great war he won undying fame by his desperate defense of Ypres when it was attacked by overwhelmingly superior German forces which for the first time used poison gas and flame throwers. He was given a baronetcy for this and other gallant work, and after serving as governor-general of Canada from 1921 to 1926 he was made a viscount and later a field marshal. He was called from retirement in 1929 to become commissioner of London's police force, but ill health forced him to resign this post in 1931.

Another war commander who died was Gen. Alexander von Linsingen, who was at the head of the German southern army after having fought through the earlier campaigns in northern France.

LITTLE George Weyerhaeuser, eleven-year-old lumber fortune heir who was kidnapped from Tacoma, is safe at home, but the "snatchers" who held him captive for a week got away with $200,000 ransom money paid by the lad's family. They fled in a fast automobile, and at this writing are still at large.

FLOODS and tornadoes wrought havoc in Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Texas and Kansas—a region that only recently was afflicted by drought and dust storms. It was thought as many as 250 lives were lost, and great numbers of families were rendered homeless. The worst flood area was in southern Nebraska, where the Republican river was swollen into a raging torrent. Several entire villages were swept away, and utility plants and transportation lines were all washed out.

Newspaper City Room, Scene of Intense Drama

For intense drama few things can surpass the city room of a great metropolitan newspaper at press time. When recognized by dramatists, this fact has more recently been put to use by the screen. "After Office Hours," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture co-starring Clark Gable and Constance Bennett, opening Sunday at the Hollywood theatre.

Described in the script as an "enormous rectangular room of the familiar newspaper room pattern, at the raised end of which are the city editor and his two assistants busy at phones," all the controlled excitement of reporters at work was evident when "shooting began."

On either side of a long aisle was a jumble of desks. Men with hats on hunched over telephones or rapidly punching typewriter keys with their index fingers. From the "society desk" a blonde called shrilly for a copy boy.

Ageing copyreaders, collars askew, blue pencils in hand. The soft insistent humming of presses from another floor could be heard above the staccato din.

A reporter from a local newspaper, engaged as technical adviser, had seen to it that every detail was beyond criticism of even the most veteran news hawk. Enormous signs, "Is It Interesting?" and "Be Brief" hung overhead, supplying the last note of authenticity.

Into this scene Director Robert Z. Leonard brought his camera and his co-stars—Gable to play the managing editor and Miss Bennett a reporter. Newspapers, however, are only incidental to the story which deals primarily with a society murder on Park Ave.

borrower will want to be over-extended. No careful banker will allow the maximum time if it is not necessary—nor will he approve a time arrangement which bears too heavily on the property owner's income.

7. What security is required? Only that you have an adequate regular income and a good credit record in your community.

8. What assurance need I give? That you own the property. (Lessees under repairing leases may qualify under special circumstances which the local lending institutions can explain.)

That the annual income of the signers of the note is at least five times the annual payments on the note.

That your mortgage, if any, is in such standing that the lender is justified in making the loan.

That you will use the proceeds solely for property improvement.

9. What signatures are required? Signature of the property owner; and (except in special cases) if the owner is an individual and is married, also signature of wife or husband. No other co-signers or endorsers are required.

10. Do I make any down payment? No.

11. What is the cost of this credit? The financial institution may not collect as interest and/or discount and/or fee of any kind, a total charge in excess of an amount equivalent to $5 discount per $100 of a one-year note, payable in monthly installments.

For example: If you need $255 for housing improvements, you might sign a note for $300 payable in 12 equal monthly installments. In this case the note would not bear interest, because the maximum charge permitted, $15, would be included in the face of the note. If you borrow a larger amount, or if you repay in equal monthly installments extending beyond one year—from 13 months to 5 years—the total charge permitted would be at a proportionate rate.

12. Do I pay any other charge? No.

13. How does this cost compare? Compared with ordinary 60 or 90 day bank loans, it is higher. Compared with the same type of loans payable in monthly installments, it is much lower than heretofore available. The reduced cost is made possible because of the Government credit insurance to the financial institution.

This type of loan makes it possible for you to spread the payments over a long period. You do not have to keep money on deposit with the institution making the loan. You do not have to give a mortgage. You need not have friends or others sign your note, and you reap the benefits of the improvements now.

How do you pay the note? By making regular, equal, monthly payments (seasonal payments for the farmers and others with seasonal income) until the note is paid in full.

15. May the owner of any kind of property apply? Applications will be considered for credit to improve one-family, two-family, or other residences; apartment buildings, stores, office buildings, factories, warehouses, farm buildings.

16. Must I use specified building material? No, you are investing your own money, even though borrowed, in Better Housing. There will be no restrictions on your rights as an owner to use such materials and employ such methods of construction as you may desire—provided they meet the approval of the lending agency.

17. May I borrow to buy housing equipment? Yes, if the equipment is an integral part of the improved building. Removable furniture is not permitted under terms of your loan. Refrigerators, stoves, etc., are permitted, if built-in.

18. Where do I make payments? The regular installment payments will be made in person at the place of business of the financial institution; or by mail; or as otherwise arranged. No payment shall be made to any governmental office or organization.

19. Should I wait until I can spend $100? No. The object of the Better Housing Program is better living. The present time is favorable. If you can pay cash for repairs, alterations and improvements that will cost less than $100—pay cash and act now!

20. What if I am late in making my payments? The maker must not permit his payments to fall in arrears. Should a payment be more than 15 days late, the financial institution's expense, caused thereby, may be reimbursed in part at the rate of not more than 5c per dollar for each payment in arrears. Persistent delinquency will make it necessary for the financial institution to take proper steps to effect collection in full.

The Church of Christ organized a softball team at Athletic park last night with George Wynn, former Buchanan high school coach, in charge. They will meet each Wednesday evening at 6:15 p. m. at the park.

ARROWS DEFEAT
ELKHART, 7 TO 3

French Pitches Superb Ball to Ease Out Hard-Earned
Victory Sunday.

Johnny Hittle's Buchanan Arrows, idle since its first start of the season three weeks ago when the team was given a bad 21-5 beating by the Niles Merchants, proved Sunday afternoon at the Athletic Park that this year's team has finally found itself and may, before the season ends, outshine its 1934 record, when it won all but two of its games and defeated Reamer's Buchanan Blues for the city title.

The Arrows got back in the good graces of local fans by defeating the strong Elkhart Studebaker team 7 to 3 in a thrilling pitcher's battle between Art French, 19 year old pecker late of the Racine, Wis., semi-pro lots, pitching for Buchanan, and "Tiny" Davis, 300-pound speed-ball artist of the Studebakers. Each allowed but seven hits, but French was more effective in the pinches. French, with first baseman Covert, also led the attack for Buchanan, each with a triple and double out of four trips to the plate.

The Arrows came from behind to achieve victory Sunday, as the automaten were leading 3 to 1 to enter the sixth. But in that inning Buchanan banged out four of their 7 hits to score as many runs and come back in the seventh with two more unnecessary counters.

Marv Mangold, Arrow second baseman, turned in several thrilling fielding plays. The Arrows will play the Glenwood Merchants next Sunday afternoon at Athletic Park.

The score:
Buchanan... 100 004 20x-7 7 3
Elkhart... 110 010 000-3 7 4
Batteries—French and Stelter; Davis and Clement. Umpires—Raybuck and Smith.

4 From Buchanan
Go to National Scout Jamboree

Seventeen outstanding Scouts of the Council have been selected by their troops to represent the troops in their National Jamboree at Washington in August. Those thus far selected are: Dale Lyon and Melvin Campbell of Buchanan; Robert Rahn of St. Joseph; Francis Sopher, David Oughton, Clare Lee and Brooks Thomas of Do-wagiac; George Barnes of Niles; James Hoyer of Benton Harbor; Charles Kramer and Edward Drier Jr., Three Oaks; Ralph Cook, of Lakeside; John Buggy, St. Joseph; Edward Pascoe, Buchanan. Troop No. 3, Benton Harbor and No. 23, St. Joseph, will each have a second delegate and have raised sufficient funds to take care of their selections but have not yet announced their representatives.

The troops in making these selections did so on the merits of each Scout, and within the next two weeks the balance of the troop will be chosen.

Leo Slate of Buchanan, Scoutmaster of Troop 41, has been chosen by the Jamboree Committee as one of the leaders of the troop that will make up the Council contingent.

Scouts attending the Jamboree will have the great privilege of meeting the delegations of Scouts from many foreign countries. President Roosevelt will also review the entire camp and will enter into some of the festivities during the ten days the Scouts are in camp. He will attend the camp fire where 30,000 Scouts will watch the various Regionals put on their exhibits, in pageants that will surpass anything of its kind ever planned for boys. It has been announced that it will take 5,000 quarts of ice cream for just one Sunday dinner, 70,000 eggs for one breakfast, and 100,000 pancakes to satisfy the camp for one meal! The camp will also present a picture that no Indian or pioneer in all American history ever saw; dozens of Indian camps, log houses and lodges, block houses and fortresses. Hopi villages, lean-toos and covered wagons, a panorama of the whole camping heritage of America as it has come down to us through the years. These Scouts will be lucky to have had the privilege of passing through this most memorable, most stupendous, encampment ever conceived for the youth of America.

Hollis Brown 9

Handicapped further by the absence of Faso, who was kept from his usual position at second base by family illness, the Portage Prairie Co-ops dropped a game to the Hollis Browns of South Bend, 5-1 at the Letcher diamond Sunday afternoon. Rollie, 17-year-old pitcher from the South Bend Central high school, was on the mound for the Co-ops and delivered very satisfactorily.

Leading Softball Team Will Play on

The Buchanan Athletic Association has received an invitation to send its leading team to Niles on the evening of June 21, to play an all-star team from that city on the flood-lighted diamond there.

Loses Battle to Kawneers of Niles

The Kawneers, softball league leaders of Niles, came from behind in the late innings Sunday morning at Athletic park to take a fast, nine-inning game from the Buchanan Odd Fellows, 8 to 5.

It was a pitcher's battle. And while Buchanan outthit the Niles team 10 to 9, errors by the locals were largely responsible for the defeat of the lodgemen. Dittmar and Ream divided the pitching assignment for the Kawneers, with Jim "Lefty" Ellis on the mound for Buchanan.

Four Towns Form
Softball League
for 8-Wk. Series

Arrangements were completed Tuesday for a summer softball loop composed of Buchanan, Gallen, Three Oaks, and Glendora, for a series of games to be played for eight weeks each Friday evening at the Gallen flood-lighted diamond.

The opening set of games will be held Friday evening, June 14, with the Wilson Dairy team of Buchanan pitted against the Three Oaks Red Crown team, and a Gallen All-Star team playing against a Glendora team.

The American Legion of Gallen is installing a new grandstand and an electric pump to sprinkle the diamond.

McQuay-Norris
"Tear Drop" Car
Here on Test Run

Citizens of Buchanan Tuesday had their first glimpse of a "Tear Drop" automobile as it whizzed through local streets in a test of improved piston rings and other parts.

The car was driven here at the request of the local jobbers of products manufactured by the McQuay-Norris Mfg. Company of St. Louis.

Six of the "Tear Drop" cars, that because they resemble tear drops, are in various parts of the plate.

The Riverside Ramblers, second place finishers in the 1934 league race and one of the league's best 1935 teams, defeated the Days Avenue Merchants 9 to 5 Friday night at Athletic park, Rudaloff and L. Sherburne dividing the pitching honors for the Ramblers, holding the Merchants to a total of two safe hits, one a two-bagger by Lewis.

Each team made six errors, and the misplays of both teams figured largely in the scoring.

Juhl, pitching for the Merchants, held the opposition to nine hits, and for the first three innings the Ramblers got but one hit and a single run. However, in the final three innings the Ramblers amassed eight hits for as many runs. In the seventh, with two men out, Lewis hit a double for the Merchants second hit of the day, but he died on second as Heiermann popped out to Davis at short to end the game.

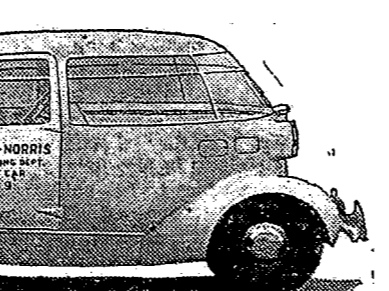

Decker and Sexton, each with a double and single out of three times at bat, led the attack for the Ramblers.

On Monday night the Chevrolet won their second forfeit game of the season when Wilson Dairy, failing to have the required number of men on the field at the time of the deadline, 6:20, was declared the loser, 9 to 0, by Umpire Baker.

country testing Super "C" and Hi-Unit Superoyl piston rings relative to oil and gasoline consumption.

The cars were specially designed as to body, but are built on chassis of popular priced automobiles. Design of the car permits a speed increase of from 10 to 15 miles per hour.

There are 15 instruments on the panel which provide the Test Engineer in charge of the car with a complete check on the car's performance at all times.

The car, a photo of which appears above, was seen in front of a local garage Tuesday. The local jobber arranged a meeting for all automobile mechanics at 3 p. m. last night in South Bend. The car, its mechanism and operation were explained in detail.

The game was played out and the Wilsons gave the Chevrolet a bad lacing by a 19 to 5 score. The creamery team scored seven runs in the first and fourth innings and four in the fifth to make the event a Roman holiday. Chevrolet got three of their five runs in the first inning, and after that was helpless excepting in each of the third and sixth frames when a run was scored.

Proud and Poorman divided the pitching assignment for Wilsons and held the automaten to 9 hits.

Harkrider, Wilson third baseman, and Dreitzler, Chevrolet center fielder, led the attack for their respective teams, each getting 3 hits out of four times at bat. Harkrider's hits included two doubles and a triple and Dreitzler's a single, double and triple.

In the past, America has not felt that way about it. In the past the nation has established that to those who not only sacrifice monetary gains but risk their lives in the most hazardous occupation known to man, in order to save the nation, there is some extra consideration coming, whether or not sought by those to whom due. We believe that the nation feels that way about it yet, despite what the President had to say about it.

One is tempted to quote from the address of Senator Schall, in the Senate, in which he asked (concerning the bill to provide for immediate payment):

"What can we say of the sincerity of an executive who demands five billion dollars for his campaign 'emergency' of 1936 under the pretext of work relief and then vetoes an act of Congress to afford relief to 3,500,000 veterans for work done 17 years ago and still half unpaid?"

"Why must veterans only among those who serve the government have to wait until 1945, when most of them will lie in 'Flanders Fields'?"

"How can the administration claim with any degree of financial responsibility that the payment of $2,200,000,000 to meet the veteran debt is unsound finance in the face of its treasury daily statement of May 14 that the total 'emergency' funds for 'new deal' experiments aggregated $17,761,000,000?"

Christian Science Churches
"God, the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 16.
Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matt. 8: 23, 24, 26): "And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him. And, behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, inasmuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep. And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm."
Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 31): "The mission of Jesus confirmed prophecy, and explained the so-called miracles of olden time as natural demonstrations of the divine power, demonstrations which were not understood."

Lichens Grow on Bare Rock
Lichens can grow on bare rock because they are composed of two entities, an alga and a fungus. The latter absorbs and holds water which it supplies to the alga, and the alga manufactures food for both.

John Miller, B. H. S. Athletic Coach Has Fine Record as All-Round Star

CAPTAIN J. MILLER GUARD

John Miller, Fremont, Ohio, who is graduating from Western this year and has accepted a position as coach at Buchanan, is regarded as one of the outstanding athletes in the history of the Hilltop, having been a highly consistent though not spectacular player.

In football Miller was one of the mainstays of the team. He was a great backfield man, strong ball carrier, and fine defensively in his play. Time and again he featured tough games with long runs that turned the tide for his team. He has won three letters in football.

In basketball he was one of the outstanding guards of all times, and yet a good scorer. He played on three of the really great basketball teams at Western State which defeated such teams as Michigan, DePaul, Marquette University, Mississippi, Ohio Wesleyan, etc. Miller was also interested in track and won his letter one year in this sport; the only season in which he really devoted any time to the sport.

Miller has been captain of the team in basketball and has been an honorary captain in football. He is a quiet chap, of the type that wears well, and yet is a fellow with plenty of determination and fight. He is highly rated as having a high prospective coaching ability at Western State and his many friends at the Hilltop look for him to make good in no uncertain way when he takes over the reins at Buchanan high next fall.

Tips to Tourists On Safe Driving On Strange Roads

Alertness is the chief requirement for the driver on a vacation tour. He doesn't know the road and its hazards. He is unfamiliar with local traffic customs, and at any moment he may be called upon to cope with a situation that he is not accustomed to meeting in his ordinary driving. Therefore, if he does not concentrate on his job, he is much more likely to have a mishap than when he is traveling the old familiar roads around his home.

Most driving over accustomed routes is done sub-consciously; the driver slows down for curves and busy intersections, halts at stop lights, without giving thought to them. This is the safest condition of driving, because it permits the man at the wheel to be on the alert for any unusual development. Since he does so many of the necessary things from force of habit, he is better able to act when the unexpected happens.

On the summer tour over strange highways, the driver must consciously direct his mind to warning signs, crossings, curves, steep grades, etc. And it is on this kind of drive, when he needs all his attention on the road, that he is most subject to distraction. He has to observe the scenery, keep an eye on the youngsters, converse with his wife, see that the baggage remains in place, and look after a dozen things that in ordinary driving cause him no concern.

The first rule of safe touring for the driver, therefore, is to keep constantly on the alert. The rule for the passenger is to avoid distracting the driver from his main job. Passengers could be a positive help if they tried. They can call out "green" or "red" as the car approaches a traffic signal, just as the locomotive fireman calls out the signals to the engineer; they can do the watching and reading of the road signs, and follow the printed log of the journey and call attention to warnings and stop signs, and in many ways relieve the driver of some of his burden.

Inexperience is a frequent source of trouble, but ignorance is no excuse. The good driver will take special precautions that may not be needed, rather than go ahead and trust that none will be necessary. For instance, if he is starting down a grade in a mountainous country, he will shift to a lower gear in advance. If he is entering a curve, he will slow down and be prepared if the road suddenly takes a sharp bend. If he parks his car on a stiff grade, he will leave it in low rather than trust to his hand brake.

"Take nothing for granted" is an excellent rule for the tourist driver. He should not assume that all is clear around the bend of the road or just over the crest of a hill—he should not even count on

TOOK OFF 17 LBS. OF UGLY FAT
HEEDED DOCTOR'S ADVICE
Mrs. Robert Hickey, Roseville, Calif., writes: "My doctor prescribed Kruschen Salts for me—he said they wouldn't hurt me in the least. I've lost 17 lbs. in 6 weeks. Kruschen is worth its weight in gold."
Mrs. Hickey paid no attention to gossipers who said there was no safe way to reduce. She wisely followed her doctor's advice. Why don't YOU?
Get a jar of Kruschen to-day (lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle). Simply take half teaspoonful in cup of hot water every morning. All druggists.

what other drivers will do. The one safe assumption about drivers, in fact, is that they will do the wrong thing. If you anticipate that they will, you'll save a lot of trouble.

Pontiac Motor Co. Announces Stork Special

Pontiac Motor Co., has announced "The Doctor's Special" which consists of a coupe with medical equipment to take care of the needs of professional men. A patented, portable medical case with space for carrying all of the instruments and supplies needed for residential calls is provided. This case fits into a special compartment, right back of the driver's seat. The case is so constructed and the compartment so arranged that all glass containers, bottles, etc., are held upright and secured by metal spring clips. Fragile ampules are carefully protected.

In making public this coupe for medical men, A. W. Gilpin, vice president and general sales manager of Pontiac Motor Co., said that the company's decision to provide this specially equipped model was based largely upon an occupational survey of 1935 Pontiac owners. "A recent analysis of 1935 Pontiac owners by occupations shows that professional men comprise the second largest group of purchasers," said Mr. Gilpin. "In view of the comparatively small percentage of professional men among motor car owners prompted us to follow up this preferential advantage and provide the doctor a car fitted up for his professional use."

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pletcher of Glendora spent several days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Vance Smith last week. Mrs. Pletcher has been appearing on radio broadcasts at station WHS, Louisville, Ky., where she was one of the Three Mountain Maids.
