

CITY WILL HOLD SEWER KICK MEETING

Hard Freezes Hasten the Fruit Harvest of Southwestern Michigan

APPLICATION IS CHANGED

Now Here's the Proposition

The young folks air a purty wuthless lot these days. They got that way takin' after the old folks.

NOTICE An important reward will be offered for information as to the identity of the two local women, one of whom sprained her ankle while hastily en route out of a nearby farm where they had been gathering bitterwee.

The Weekly Parade

A total of 500 hunting licenses were sold to local men by Matt Kelling and Ralph Allen for the season which opened Tuesday morning. ... We had the pleasure of eating some fine sweet potatoes grown by Harry Brown this year.

Grade Program at Dewey School Today

The Kindergarten, First and Second Grade Mothers' club will meet in the kindergarten room at Dewey Avenue school at 3 p. m. Thursday, Oct. 17.

H. S. Enrollment 1st Month is 293

The maximum enrollment in the four upper grades of the Buchanan high school for the first four weeks of the current school year was 296, with three withdrawals, making a total enrollment of 293, according to Principal P. J. Moore.

ALL GROWERS WASHING APPLES

Federal Law on Spray Residue Rigidly Enforced.

The apple harvest in the Buchanan district is being speeded this week as the result of a heavy drop caused by the two hard frosts Oct. 6 and 7.

All varieties including the winter apples are being rushed to the bins. Fair yields are reported, the excellent prospects of last spring having been discounted to some extent by summer conditions.

Earl Longworth has installed a modern washer at the Edgeview farm with a capacity of 400 to 600 bushels daily. The machine washes the fruit first in 1 1/2% muratic acid solution which removes the arsenate of lead, and then sprays them with clean, fresh water which removes the acid.

Safety Talk

Ninety-seven per cent of the motor accidents in the state of Michigan are caused not by defective mechanism of the cars but are caused by defects in the thinking machine sometimes termed "the noodle," stated Sergeant Wright G. Needham, head of the traffic department of the Michigan State Police in his talk before the Lions club of Buchanan last Wednesday evening.

The talk of Sergeant Needham was so informative and forceful that he was requested to appear in Buchanan again on October 16 to address three separate audiences on the subject of safe automobile driving. It was planned that one talk would be given at the Buchanan high school during the forenoon or afternoon of that day, another talk at the Methodist church at 8 o'clock that evening and a third talk about five o'clock at a place to be decided upon by the motor dealers of Buchanan.

It was expected that Sergeant Needham would be accompanied by an artist who is expert in drawing pictures and cartoons rapidly on a large drawing board before audiences. It is stated that he is expert in showing, by means of his cartoons the ridiculous side of dumbbell automobile driving.

These activities are sponsored by the Safety Committee of the Lions club of Buchanan. The High School also plans to cooperate and to develop a certain method of instruction relating to the safe handling of motor vehicles.

Take This Road Take this road, for instance, a certain highway near Buchanan, which is somewhat rough and adaptable to a speed of not more than thirty-five miles per hour. But you can see speeders going over the bumps of this road at 45 miles per hour just to save five or ten minutes at the end of the journey.

Dist. 9 Gets Aid from State

Supt. H. C. Stark received a check of $962.85 from the state department of education during the past week as the current federal-state support for the local Smith-Hughes vocational agricultural department. This is $190 more than was received last year.

The local district will receive $65 in tuition from the state for each student from outside the district attending the high school, as soon as the state supreme court decides who is to be the state superintendent, according to word received by Stark. The local board set the tuition at $65, which is the maximum which the state will pay, thus relieving the rural district of all tuition charges.

H. S. SPONSORS POPULARITY VOTE

Senior Classes to Sell Votes to Defray Wreck Cost.

The senior class of the local high school will sponsor a popularity contest between nominees from their own membership Oct. 21 to Oct. 25, to raise money for a bill of damages incurred by the class when it met with a truck mishap while on a picnic junketing trip last spring.

Damages to the truck in which the class was riding amounted to $65, which sum the class is attempting to raise.

Votes for various nominees may be bought by anyone at 2c each. The contestants are to be nominated by petitions carrying the names of twenty juniors or seniors, no name being duplicated on rival petitions. Such duplication will mean invalidating of all petitions on which such duplication may occur.

Petitions may be secured Thursday and Friday (Oct. 17-18) from Carolyn Hattenbach or Barbara Hamilton and must be signed and turned in by 4 p. m. Friday, Oct. 18. Votes will be sold by all members of the senior class at 2c each. Anyone who will pay the required 2c will be permitted to vote, whether a student or not. A list of the contestants will be posted in the window of the Hamblin Jewelry store.

Anyone desiring further information may call the high school and ask for Howard McClellan or Ben Franklin.

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

93rd Birthday John C. Coveny, one of the three remaining Civil War veterans of the Buchanan district, and the last surviving member of Battery L, First Michigan Light Artillery, will be 93 years old next Sunday, with only seven years to go before he attains the century which he used to jokingly covet. He makes his home with his only daughter, Mrs. Bert Mitchell northwest of Buchanan. Born at the old Coveny farm north of the Coveny school on Oct. 20, 1842, he farmed for years on the place now occupied by his grandson, Milton Mitchell. After his return from the army he taught several "winter" terms at the Womer, Dayton and other schools. He is now in fair health, able to be up and about some.

96th Birthday Not many trees in the Buchanan districts of any age have birthdays that are definitely known, but the row of hard maples along the west side of the Portage Road to South Bend and immediately north of the Emory Rough home were 96 years old Oct. 4. They were planted there Oct. 4, 1839 by Francis Willard Howe. He was the uncle of Frederick Howe of the South Bend road, and had come to Michigan four years before from Cortlandt, N. Y. He later owned, for many years, the farm now owned by Alfred Hall.

Oldest Breed of Dog

The Ivlene dog, a greyhound of the Balearic Islands, has been called the oldest breed of dog living.

LIONS NET $60 IN BARN DANCE

Frequent Repetition of Home Talent Shows Results in Waning Interest.

The presentations of the WLS Community Talent. Barn Dance on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings proved successful both from an entertainment and a financial standpoint, although the fact that this was the fifth show of a similar nature to be staged here within a year diminished to a degree public interest which appeared to be reaching the saturation point in such enterprises.

But, notwithstanding that, the show was far superior to the WLS barn dance of a year ago, and was a bargain in entertainment at the admission price, as all who went admitted. The loss of interest was registered mainly in those who did not attend. The audiences were progressively more enthusiastic each night of the performance. Jack Boone presided very capably as Master of Ceremonies and to expand in detail on the merits of the performers would take too much space.

President Swem of the Lions Club, sponsoring the show, wishes to thank all of the talent and others who contributed to its success. Approximately $60 was cleared by the Lions club for their blind fund and other benevolences after all expenses were paid. A year ago the club netted $150 from a show not nearly as good.

Grape Grower Gets Word of Appreciation

Charles A. Davis, Pullman conductor on a Chicago-Los Angeles run, realizes that an occasional word of appreciation here and there helps a lot, which is doubtless the reason why Charles Dickow received the following letter from him:

Dear Sir: I am sitting in my room enjoying some fine Concord grapes you raised on your fruit farm.

I have a 1-5 basket which I purchased in the Boston store. I paid 17c for same. I am wondering what you realized from them?

I was formerly a resident of Allegan, Mich., but am now a resident of California. Therefore the grapes are a real treat for me.

I know you would get a kick out of getting a letter from someone who bought some of your grapes, hence my letter.

I am here every two weeks. I am a Pullman conductor and my run is between Los Angeles and Chicago.

Yours truly, Charles A. Davis, 215 Flower St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Rolen, Weaver in The Varsity Club

Eddie Rolen and Dee Weaver, former Buchanan high school stars who won letters in major sports at Michigan State College last year, were initiated into the Varsity club there Monday evening. That day they were participated to participate in the "Swingout," wearing the white sweaters which they had won, decorated with a green sash and a large block "S."

Mother of C. D. Arnold Dies Tues. in So. Bend

Mrs. Edith E. Arnold, 67, mother of C. D. Arnold of this city, died Tuesday at the family residence, 829 E. Duball Ave., South Bend, Ind., following an illness of eight weeks.

Lights in Grape Basket; Escapes Hurt

Mrs. Mildred Baker escaped without injury from an auto accident Wednesday when her car went into the ditch and turned over at the curve on the Redbud trail at the foot of Moccasin Bluff. Mrs. Baker stated that she was going at considerable speed and had gone to the inside of the curve, when another car loomed up ahead and she saw that a collision was imminent. Her car rolled over as she took to the ditch and nosed into a bank. Mrs. Baker was thrown from the front seat into the back and alighted seated in a bushel basket of grapes which broke her fall.

ARREST TWO FOR PETTY LARCENY

Charles Karker, Jr., and Peter Stanz Held for Trial.

Charles Karker and Peter Stanz were arrested Wednesday evening on charges of petty larceny, the specific charge being that they cut nine feet off the air hose at the Beck Tire shop, took the section and siphoned gas from a car parked on Days avenue and poured in their own car. It is alleged that a witness observed the entire transaction. The two men were brought before Justice of the Peace Mathie and, failing to give bond, were placed in the county jail to await their hearing here on Oct. 17.

Orchard Hills Closes Season With Dinner Dance Fri.

The Orchard Hills Country club closed its social and sports season Friday night with a dinner dance and presentation of trophies won during the summer golf season. Over a hundred members and guests attended and enjoyed a splendid dinner served by Quinn Waters. This closing event was in charge of the officers and directors of the club with C. E. Drake as general chairman. M. L. Hanlin capably presided as toastmaster and following his witty remarks the presentation of golf trophies was in order in charge of Harry Owens.

Portage Prairie Celebration 25th Wedding Anniv.

Who did not enjoy the delightful breezes and the bright warm sunshine of last Sunday? The weatherman did his best to make it a happy day. And a happy day it was especially at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Smith, the occasion being the celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. A company of some 80 friends filled with the spirit of the day, assisted them in the celebration, making it a day long to be remembered. A number of friends from Chicago suburbs arrived in time to attend services at the Portage Prairie church after which they returned to the home.

The announcement of dinner was welcomed especially by those who had made long drives. The hungry, however, did not long remain so, even languid appetites were conspicuously absent; for a royal feast it was. The afternoon was spent in a social way by friends new and old, and passed away too soon, and reluctantly the company headed their cars for home, wishing the happy couple many more anniversaries.

Lieut. Peck Is Promoted

Lieut. Edwin Peck, who is here with his family, visiting relatives, will report at Norfolk on Nov. 1, to assume his new duties as executive officer for a new squadron of air planes to be organized there. This is a promotion over his former position in the fleet. He will be stationed at Norfolk this winter.

LAST WISHES IN PART FULFILLED

Margaret Quillin Dies on Train En Route to Mich.

The last wishes of Mrs. Margaret D. Quillin, former resident of the Buchanan, Dayton and Niles districts, were, half fulfilled when her remains were laid at rest in Silverbrook cemetery, Niles, Tuesday morning, after a funeral service at St. Mary's church there.

Born in Niles April 9, 1862, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Donnelly, she lived many years in the Dayton district. About 35 years ago she left to make her home in California. Her health failed rapidly in the past few months and she repeatedly expressed a wish that she might die and be buried amid old home scenes in Michigan. Recently plans were made and her niece, Mrs. C. A. Boyle, went to her home at Santa Maria, Calif., to bring her back. En route here she became so ill that they were obliged to leave the train and she died in the Santa Fe hospital at Winslow, Ariz., Thursday, Oct. 10.

Her husband, Edward Quillin, was called from Santa Maria and he accompanied Mrs. Boyle here with the remains. Ralph Allen is a nephew of the deceased.

Church Heads to Hold L. D. S. Meet

They will hold services at the church nightly while here, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Members desiring to receive the patriarchal blessing are asked to see Elder V. L. Coonfare to arrange for appointment.

BUCKS DEFEATED BY NILES 33-6

Niles Takes Bit in Teeth After Opening Buchanan Score.

Buchanan's fighting Bucks were trounced by Niles' Golden Tornado last Saturday on their home gridiron.

The Bucks scored their only marker just after the opening kick off. Niles kicked to Buchanan, a few running plays were tried, the Bucks getting one first down, then Spasek punted to Niles. Niles fumbled and Buchanan recovered. Smith lost 8 yards, a 35 yard pass from Spasek to Bachman put the ball on the 4 yard stripe. Antisdal failed to gain at center. Spasek on an end run, took the oval over, the place kick for the extra point was blocked.

A short time after Niles took advantage of a Buck fumble on the 10 yard stripe. Robertson scored on end run from the 2 yard line and he also made the extra point on a line plunge. Zoller scored for Niles on the last play of the first half from the 5 yard line, the try for extra point failed. In the third quarter Williams scored and made the extra point on line plunges. In the last canto Williams again scored on a line plunge and Chubb converted from placement. With a few minutes to play Molica, substitute half, scored on an end run, the try for the point was not good.

Antisdal and Newsom, fullback and tackle respectively, were hurt in the second quarter. Antisdal getting cracked on the head and Newsom injured his right knee. In the last quarter Trapp was knocked out and had to leave the game. None of Niles' men had to leave the game because of injuries.

Niles outgained the Bucks 12 first downs to 5. After Niles' first score it seemed as if Niles couldn't be stopped. Chubb of Niles and Spasek of Buchanan did some fine punting although they were rushed on some kicks.

Some of the all around best players were Williams, Kline and Robertson for Niles, and Spasek, Antisdal, Bachman, Collings and Richards for Buchanan.

The Buchanan band again lent tuneful notes to the air. Mr. Robinson has surely worked wonders with the members of the band. During the half they paraded up and down the field performing different maneuvers.

The game will be a good contest. Last year Cass held the Bucks to a 7-6 victory. This year the teams are coached by two young men who were classmates at college. They are Johnnie Miller, Buchanan and Harold Knight, now of Cass, but a former resident and graduate of Buchanan High.

Coach Miller is shifting and making drastic changes in both the line and back field after the drubbing the Bucks received last Saturday. He has placed some of the linemen in the backfield, is looking for a pair of tough bust-em-up tackles, and has moved some of the linemen to different positions. Cass has had some hard luck, losing valuable players and losing ball games, but there will be some bal game Friday. Don't forget what they did last year—they came close to licking the Bucks and they'd sure like to beat this year. Say, Buchanan, are we going to let Cass beat us? I should say not, we're going to block, fight and tackle and when you hit 'em boys, hit 'em hard. Let's see if we can't go out and win ourselves a ball game. By the way, Mr. Knoblauch is superintendent up there—let's show him Buchanan can win a ball game.

City to Contract Trucks and Other Equipment.

All Buchanan property owners affected in any way by the proposed WPA sewer installation program who have any lingering doubts about the project are reminded that their chance to protest will be afforded at the special sessions of the city commission to be held at the city hall on Saturday, Oct. 19, a morning session beginning at 10 a. m. and an afternoon session at 2 p. m.

The commission held a special meeting Friday evening in conference with the engineers to alter the application to permit the city to contract for equipment, including trucks, pumps, sheeting, shovels and the like. It was believed that this would hasten the work, as the city could deal more directly and quickly than the federal government which will make up for that transfer of expense by purchasing its equivalent in material. The original contract called for the furnishing of material by the city and of labor and equipment by the government.

The state board of health has approved the local project, thereby dismissing the fear that the installation of the sewers would be held up pending the provision of a disposal system.

State men present at the meeting stated that the application is otherwise ready to be signed and that they expected early decision.

Renews Record for 63rd Year

Over 62 years ago, on April 29, 1873, Eli Mitchell and Miss Mary Jane Conrad were wed and started up housekeeping on the old farm six miles north of Buchanan. A part of the equipment with which they began housekeeping was the Berrien County Record. On Saturday morning Mrs. Mitchell came in and renewed the paper for the 63rd continuous subscription. Taking advantage of the reduced price offer she renewed two months before the date of expiration of her paper, paying up until nearly the end of 1936. "It's a good old paper," she said, "I've never been without it."

We congratulated Mrs. Mitchell and wished her 62 more years of continuous subscription.

Capt. Guy Bunker, who was born on the banks of the St. Joseph river back when the coming of the "steamboat round the bend" was the main event in life, visited the Record office from South Bend Friday, signing up for another year. He served over 36 years on the South Bend police force, being chief from 1910 to 1914.

Buchanan To Play Cassopolis Oct. 8

Buchanan's fighting Bucks will journey to Cassopolis Friday, Oct. 18, where they will tangle with the Rangers.

The game will be a good contest. Last year Cass held the Bucks to a 7-6 victory. This year the teams are coached by two young men who were classmates at college. They are Johnnie Miller, Buchanan and Harold Knight, now of Cass, but a former resident and graduate of Buchanan High.

Coach Miller is shifting and making drastic changes in both the line and back field after the drubbing the Bucks received last Saturday. He has placed some of the linemen in the backfield, is looking for a pair of tough bust-em-up tackles, and has moved some of the linemen to different positions.

By the way, Mr. Knoblauch is superintendent up there—let's show him Buchanan can win a ball game.

Score by quarters: Buchanan 6 0 0 0-6, Niles 7 6 7 13-33. Substitutions: Buchanan, Trapp, E. Stevens, R. Stevens, Boyce, Lynn, Neal, Yurkovic; Niles, Thomas, Hable, Culp, Marlin, Davis, Crawford, Mollica, Dibble Finch, Fritz. Officials: Referee, Strome, Kal. C.; Hackney, Kal. C.

New Directions of Civic Development

It has been for some time, the contention of this writer that more attention to civic landscaping on highways and waste places in cities is fast becoming a major development and is worthwhile not only from the scenic point of view but from a practical viewpoint as well. Always he has advocated it with a sort of inferiority complex, with the idea that "practical" people were silently passing judgment on the utility of the idea. But now comes heavy reinforcements. At a recent round table of secretaries of chambers of commerce of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, manager of the commercial department of the United States Chamber of Commerce, said: "We are in a period of change from an expanding to a static society. It means a change in business philosophy. Chambers of Commerce no longer will be concerned so much to bring more and more industries to enlarge their cities. They will pay more attention to improving their cities, with parks, modern housing, schools and libraries and cultural development." Round table reports indicating a greater decentralization of smaller industries in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania were made by secretaries of chambers of commerce in cities in those states. The secretaries also said there was an increasing tendency on the part of the industries to seek bonuses or free factory sites before moving into a community. They agreed informally to abstain from "buying" new industries. The secretaries told of many cases where industries with 200 to 250 employees left congested high-rental areas in the metropolitan districts for the smaller towns and cities near by. Edwin B. Lord and Samuel E. Magee, secretaries of the chambers in Jersey City and Elizabeth, respectively, cited instances where a large number of concerns had moved to those communities from New York City during the past year.

A FRIEND OF THE "Small Business Man"

The man with the small business often feels that he is not as welcome at the bank as the head of some larger enterprise.

That is not the attitude of this bank. Bigness may often be partly a matter of chance, of opportunity, or of established age.

The small or young business, on the other hand, may grow, especially with the right kind of banking co-operation. We are always ready to extend that cooperation in every possible way.

Do not hesitate to consult with us through any thought that your small affairs will not interest us.

AT THE THEATRE

The management of the Hollywood theatre has gone to considerable expense to bring to its patrons Grace Moore in her new and entrancing feature picture, "Love Me Forever," on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 23-24. This outstanding production will be shown on our regular double feature nights as our dates had been set several months in advance and another feature had to be taken out to make room for the Grace Moore picture, which involved considerable expense. Manager Hoffman some time ago reduced the Sunday matinee adults admission to 15c and a lot of our regular patrons have been attending the Sunday matinees and now for the Fall and Winter months only, starting this coming Sunday, an extra cartoon will be shown on Sunday matinees only. This should be a great inducement for the children. The management requests mothers to send their children, especially the smaller ones, to the Saturday or Sunday matinees as it is the policy of this theatre to have an adult attendant in charge at all times.

Music takes flight on the wings of song to inspire a great love in Columbia's "Love Me Forever," starring Grace Moore. The magic voice of a lovely top-hat-taught daughter of luxury starts the tale of romance burning in the heart of a man who can never leave her. He faces disaster with a smile—for he cherishes an ideal—an ideal that will never die.

Thrilling drama, coupled with the glorious singing of Grace Moore, makes of "Love Me Forever" the record-breaking entertainment it is.

Featured with Grace Moore are Leo Carrillo, Michael Bartlett and Robert Allen.

Sunday-Monday-Tuesday
"Reckless," a lavish musical drama with Jean Harlow co-starring with William Powell, Ted Healey, a team-mate of Nat Pendleton, has the role of Smiley, a humorous thug who is always trailing Powell's footsteps.

The new picture presents Miss Harlow as a singer and dancer and Powell as a spectacular promoter. The supporting cast includes Franchot Tone, May Robson, Ted Healey, Nat Pendleton, Robert Light, Rosalind Russell and Henry Stephenson.

Double Feature Friday-Saturday
Cesar Romero, the handsome Latin actor who plays opposite Marlene Dietrich in "The Devil Is a Woman," is currently featured with Patricia Ellis and Larry Crabbe in the cast of Paramount's "Hold 'Em Yale," adapted from the short story by Daman Runyon. "Hold 'Em Yale" is a story of "hard citizens" from Broadway who got mixed up with actresses and football players with comic results.

"Bonnie Scotland," a Hal Roach-M-G-M production, directed by James Hone, features a notable cast which includes, besides Laurel and Hardy, such well-known players as June Lang, William Janney, and many others. It is Laurel and Hardy's first picture since they temporarily separated last spring.

Fruit Growers Find Indiana Law Vague in Meaning

Benton Harbor fruit market officials were confident today that cooperation with the state of Indiana concerning the new Indiana fruit and vegetable law will be worked out satisfactorily within a few days.

The matter was brought into prominence again this week with the arrest of several Benton Harbor truckers for alleged violation of the act, the provisions of which are not generally understood here.

A reading of the act indicates that its intent is similar to certain federal regulations and to laws of other states, which are designed to protect consumers from short packs, misrepresented packs and other unfair practices.

"There seems to be a general misunderstanding between Indiana and Michigan fruit dealers on this question," declared Market Master R. D. Krieger. "We have been informed that there is a general impression in Indianapolis that Indiana truckers are not permitted on the Benton Harbor market, and there is some feeling that enforcement of the law is a retaliation."

"Indiana growers and truckers are encouraged to use this market as much as Michigan producers," the market master declared, and pointed out that throughout this summer thousands of dollars worth of Indiana produce was sold here. No effort has been made to stop Indiana dealers, even when their produce provided competition for Michigan products.

The impression that the Benton Harbor market barred Indiana dealers probably arose from the fact that a load of fruit from a Vincennes county orchardist was refused admission. This was not because of discrimination, Krieger said, but because the fruit failed to conform to federal spray residue regulations. This is the only incident of actual refusal this year, according to Krieger.

One part of the law that is likely to prove most difficult for local interests is that requiring certificates for inter-state shipments.

The second part of Section Eight of the law reads "fruits and vegetables originating outside of the state of Indiana which are transported by motor vehicles or by railroad cars, whether shipped in bulk or in containers, shall be accompanied by a certificate showing that such fruit or vegetables comply in all respects with the requirements of state and federal laws and the several rules and regulations issued thereunder by the properly constituted state and federal agencies."

The law is vague in that it does not specify who shall issue the certificates. Benton Harbor market officials understood that inspection certificates from the Michigan state inspection service would be acceptable, but pointed out the difficulties of securing them.

Between 500 and 700 trucks a day leave the Benton Harbor market, the market master said. To inspect each of them satisfactorily would take 55 inspectors he estimated, the cost of which would be too great for growers, buyers or consumers to bear.

The inspection system as it operates on the Benton Harbor market, does not require inspection of each load. There are four inspectors, however, who go about the market, inspecting loads at random. They have full power to inspect loads for grading and packing regulations, and to force growers to re-pack unsatisfactory loads, to send them from the market, or to make arrests.

The Michigan inspection service has been supplemented over the past two years by a vigorous educational program directed towards the growers, with the result that most of the fruit sold on the Benton Harbor market meets the state standards.

Inspection is avoided, however, by truckers who pick up fruit at the farms. It was reported here this week that a trucker had obtained store space in South Bend, where he advertised Michigan apples for sale. The apples were trucked in in bulk, according to this report, and put in baskets with attractive apples on top and inferior fruit in the bottom of the baskets. Such practice is contrary to Michigan law, but could not be prosecuted under Michigan regulations.

To cover re-packing operations the first part of Section Eight provides that "fruits and vegetables originating outside of the state of Indiana which are re-packed with the state shall have the name of the repacker or distributor and the name of the state where the product originated clearly marked on the package in letters not less than one-half inch in height."

Section Seven of the Indiana statute says that "fruits and vegetables packed in the original containers and graded according to the legal grades of the state wherein they originated shall be exempt from the provisions of this act, provided such packages are marked with grades, grower or distributor and address, and

Fine Gift Awaits the President

Intended as a gift to President Roosevelt on the occasion of his projected visit to the San Diego exposition, this pigeon-blood ruby cloisonné vase, valued at $1,000, has been received and placed in the custody of the House of Japan in the exposition's House of Pacific Relations. The vase, a gift from the Japanese of southern California, is 28 inches high and required a year's manufacture. Miss Misso Kawamura is shown with it.

The groom's brother didn't show up, since he hasn't been married several years, wasn't so thrilled and plumb forgot the affair. The bride's sister wasn't there, either, as she ran onto a traveling man acquaintance, and they went to a picture show. "I don't have another sister," was the bride's only comment, at the hamburger stand reception immediately following the ceremony.

The Newspaper Game

Short Story
Short-story story, from Carl E. Hayden of the Idaho State Journal, Pocatello:

Editor Mertley sat with his head in the palms of his hands, his fingers nervously tapping the dome of his bald head.

Because her daughter's name had been omitted from a list of bathing beauty contests, Mrs. Driscoll was threatening to discontinue her subscription again.

Suddenly Mertley's fingers lit with a decisive flop. He flung the letter into the waste basket and reached for his hat.

Mrs. Driscoll, he bet, would be sorry when she learned he had widowed three children.

Barnum Was Right
Barnum's most emphatic point—one which no one could accuse him of not allowing—was to advertise. Persistence was important. He said that when an advertisement first appears "a man does not see it, the second time he notices it, the third time he reads it, the fourth he thinks about it, the fifth he speaks to his wife about it, and the sixth or seventh he is ready to purchase."

Advertising men today would probably agree with him. At any rate, he made money by taking his own advice.

Absent-Minded Editor
An editor was dining out, "Would you like some more pudding?" his hostess asked.

"No, thank you," replied the editor, absent-mindedly. "Owing to the tremendous pressure on space, I am reluctantly compelled to decline."

One look at the young man who appeared in the newspaper office and asked for the editor was enough to convince anyone trouble was afoot. "What in blazes do you mean by saying we are going to live with my folks?" the intruder said. He was a new bridegroom the editor learned, who had told the paper's youthful and not overly intellectual reporter they were going to live at the old manse. What the paper said was, "that the happy couple would make their home at the old man's."

Marriage a la Press
The following was published by Charles Crawford, editor of the Lawrenceburg (Tenn.) Democrat-Union, announcing his own wedding:

Lib and Charlie finally got off Sunday night, May 28, 1933, without much noise or to-do. They bothered Gentry and Mrs. Gray for the use of their front room, which hadn't been used much since Christmas. Gentry told Brother Thornberry, who said the ceremony, that there was more going on that night than since they had the family reunion.

The bride was fixed up in a fair looking suit, which will probably have to be paid for in advertising space. The groom wore his last year's suit, which was bought the same way. His right shoe squeaked when he entered the room. Only a few immediate friends were present, as no engraved invitations were sent out. Printed announcements will be mailed this week.

The groom's brother didn't show up, since he hasn't been married several years, wasn't so thrilled and plumb forgot the affair. The bride's sister wasn't there, either, as she ran onto a traveling man acquaintance, and they went to a picture show. "I don't have another sister," was the bride's only comment, at the hamburger stand reception immediately following the ceremony.

The bride has resided practically all her life in Lawrenceburg, where she met Crawford, who had just come back home to go to work and pay off his school debts. She is also well known in Murfreesboro, where she did business with ladies' ready-to-wear stores during her school days. While at school she was a joiner of societies and after a few months had a nice string after her name. If she had stayed another year the college annual would have gone two pages larger. Crawford's well, if not notoriously known school career, was cut short several times on account of low grades and other things. He went organization crazy and paid out good money that ought to have gone into some good building and loan stock, rather than now having to move his bride in on his mother. He is now co-editor of one of the fastest going weekly newspapers in this section of the state. Some people think it is fast going into the hands of the receivers. The bride writes poetry. The groom was once representative from this county in the legislature but he finally lived it down.

The couple are taking a short honeymoon trip this week that may be shorter than is now contemplated. By being married now before the depression has lifted, Crawford thinks he has hit the most optimistic chord in the Roosevelt administration. It is just another reason why Lawrence Co. merchants should use judiciously of Democrat-Union advertising, was the groom's comment as he started his four year old Ford on its way. The last payment on the car was made March 12.

CHARLIE CRAWFORD.

Champion Country Correspondent
Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Mahnkey, Forsyth, Mo., was selected from a field of 1,581 candidates as the best country correspondent in the United States in a contest sponsored by the Country Home magazine.

For the past 44 years she has written for the Forsyth Republican, a weekly newspaper with a circulation of 725, published in Forsyth, the county seat of Taney county. Thirteen years ago she and her husband moved to Oasis, Mo., a cross-road store community with a population of 27. The Mahnkeys left Oasis last spring because a new dam project may soon inundate that area.

Her prize was $50 and a trip to New York city where she was interviewed as to her ideas of news.

"If any stranger came in," she said, "or anybody moved or a baby was born or somebody got married or died, that was news. And when kinfolks came from a long way off I'd mention all their names and things like that. If something I could write would brighten up the columns or make someone laugh or please some little child or some old, old person, I'd try to do that."

"If I were writing how I'd tell about Willie Knowlton's three little girls. They picked sixty gallons of huckleberries. Think of that! And then their uncle Springfield in his little old truck and sold them for 50 cents a gallon. That's what I call news. Huckleberries are awfully little."

Mrs. Mahnkey's well-worn scrap-book testified that she had been faithful to her creed of news gathering. She had not devoted much space to the biggest news story that ever happened to this country, its approaching annihilation to make way for the dam. "I just mentioned the proposed abolition of the town once in a while," she explained.

The business of reporting was never lucrative, Mrs. Mahnkey said. In return for her weekly column she received a copy of the Republican free. She also was given paper and stamps to send in her contributions. That was the only compensation. "I don't want to seem boastful," said Mrs. Mahnkey, cautiously, "but I believe I just write for the love of writing."

The scrapbook was full of characteristic examples of Mrs. Mahnkey's reporting. One item: "Tommy Davis and Reggy Mahnkey, after five years of happy growing up together on the banks of Long creek, finally embarked upon a real adventure and joined the United States army. They entered the motor transport and are stationed at Leavenworth, Kan. Good luck, dear boys."

Another: "Last Saturday, as Mr. and Mrs. Willie Youngblood were coming from Hollister, just as they drove into Cleveenger, Mrs. Youngblood spied two large white eggs in the water. They got them out and she intends to set them, and we are wondering if ducks or pelicans will result."

One more: "Cal Morris has been having another painful siege of stomach trouble, which has very serious indications of appendicitis and may ultimately lead up to an operation."

These and hundreds of similar items that made life important to the 27 residents of Oasis. Mrs. Mahnkey picked up and jotted down on sugar sacks, she said, while her husband ran the general store. When news was dull Mrs. Mahnkey filled out her column with poetry, which she loves to write. She brought her slim book of verses, "Ozark Lyrics," along with her. One of them reads:

RIDGE RUNNER
If I could live on White Oak Ridge
It seems to me I'd rather
These river beds so rich and green
They cling, an' clutch, an' smooth-er.
I love to feel a clean high wind
That whips the leaves together,
An' watch the lights in far off homes
Dance through the rainy weather.
What little breeze comes in this way
Is hot from heavy tillage.
How cool the shady door yards
In any little old home village.
This stiffin' corn shets off my breath,
I'm tired of rakin' mowin',
I'd rather ramble down the ridge,
See huckleberries growin'.

"My husband wasn't interested in my writing very much," she smiled, "but I noticed he always read it. It was the first part of the paper he read. Yes, I always read it, too, to see if they made any mistakes. Editors do, sometimes you know, and people don't like to have their names spelled wrong. Some times they'd print Moore for Marsh, or something like that, and then I'd have to correct it next week."

Mrs. Mahnkey stopped to emphasize that she had only the highest respect for her editor. "He makes mistakes," she explained, earnestly, "only because he hasn't got the time to do everything he's got to do. He's such a forceful editorial writer. You know, I think there are many men with great minds who settle in out-of-the-way places."

BUCKS LOSE TO NILES

Buck Reserves Tie St. Joe Reserves 0-0

Buchanan's second stringers were held to a 0-0 tie on Oct. 9 at Buchanan by St. Joe high's second team.

Through the lack of a time-keeper, Buchanan was practically robbed of a touchdown in the opening minutes of play. They had advanced the ball to the 15 yard stripe, when it was found out that there was no one keeping time, timekeepers were then secured and the game was started over.

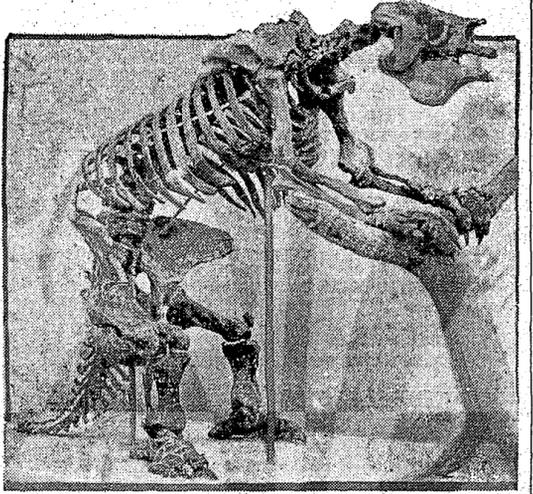

It was a very close and exciting game all the way through. It was so well played that Buchanan was able to get only two first downs and St. Joe one first down.

The lineup was:

He Was the Largest of His Kind

This skeleton of the largest species of South American prehistoric ground sloth, and one of the largest of all prehistoric creatures, has just been assembled and placed on exhibition at the Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago. It is believed to be the only complete Nogattherium skeleton in any North American museum. The animal is 18 feet long from nose to tail. The specimen was collected by an expedition to Argentina sponsored by Marshall Field.

efficiency, light weight and embracing several innovations. The reports give no details as to how dry ice is used in turning the motor, but since it gives off large quantities of carbon dioxide when melting it is assumed the pressure thus created is utilized.

While dry ice is used principally in the United States as a refrigerant, individual motorists have used it for cooling the interior of their automobiles, particularly on trips into hot, arid sections. India has experimented with it for cooling passenger airplanes.

Whites Trim Indians with Bow and Arrow
A team of five Seneca braves had a bow and arrow contest with five white men of Buffalo, N. Y., last week. The white men won. Individual honors went to Ray Holloway, whose score—429 points, including 81 bullseyes—was almost twice as good as the best Seneca mark.

Beer Given us Premium with Gas Sales
In Montreal these prices prevail: Beer, 15c per quart; Motor oil, 25c per quart.

Montreal garages were having a price war last week. First they offered free gasoline with purchases of a gallon or more of oil. When that became commonplace, Gollert's garage offered a new attraction; with every purchase of five gallons of oil ($4.98) went seven quarts of beer—a premium, at list prices of $1.05.

Rockefeller's Health Good at 98
John D. Rockefeller Sr., Lake-wood's most prominent resident, is nearing the end of his summer visit there, but as yet no preparations have been made for his departure to his winter home at Ormond Beach, Fla.

The 98-year-old philanthropist has kept to his home—Gold House—the better part of the past summer. His seclusion, however, is not because of threatening health, it was stressed by members of the household, but due to an increased desire for privacy and quiet.

Mr. Rockefeller's health was said to be "good." Although he has been driven in one of his automobiles through his 500-acre estate several times this summer, only once has he been outside of the gates. Early in July, about three weeks after his arrival at Lake-wood, he was driven to his dentist.

Rigidly adhering to the orders of his physician, the aged millionaire has taken no golf this summer, has taken no long walks and has seen a minimum of visitors. It is expected that Mr. Rockefeller's departure for Florida will be about Oct. 12.

Island Airport at Chicago
Plans for the airport were officially adopted a short time ago by the Chicago Plan Commission, which has favored this project and been more or less in touch with it ever since 1912, according to information gathered at the commission headquarters.

Application is being drawn up for immediate presentation to the Works Progress Administration for aid in actual construction, according to John Wentworth, chairman of the subcommittee whose proposal was adopted by the Chicago Plan Commission.

The drawings to be presented to Harry L. Hopkins, administrator of works progress, call for the building of a triangular island off the shore of the former Century of Progress. One end of the base of the triangle would be connected with the mainland by a bridge reaching to the Adler Planetarium and the other spanning the water at 23rd Street, Mr. Wentworth said.

The hangars will be constructed so low and surrounded by so much green trees and other landscaping that the whole will look to a person standing on the outer drive just like a green island with scarcely any obstruction to the view, Mr. Wentworth said.

"No abandonment of the airport south of the city is contemplated," he said. "Only passengers and mail would be unloaded on the downtown airport. Express in the package form would be classed with mail. Anything heavier than package express would be considered freight and would be handled thru the other airport."

PEOPLE WILL DECIDE ON POTATO CONTROL

Farmers and Consumers to Present Views in Washington October 3rd.

No program for the control of potato production in Michigan nor in the United States will be inaugurated until the farmers who grow potatoes and the consumers who eat them have had a fair opportunity to express their views at a public hearing to be held in Washington, Oct. 3, according to R. J. Baldwin, administrator for AAA in this State.

Michigan representatives who will go to Washington will be C. L. Nash, Michigan State College, and Harry Riley, Bellaire, Mich. It is probable that E. P. Hibst, Cadillac, manager of the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange will also attend the hearing.

In the event that it is determined at the public hearing to have a potato adjustment control plan, the plan may take one of two different forms. There may be a voluntary acreage control or there may be a form of control through marketing. There is also the possibility that no adjustment plan will be adopted for potatoes.

Funds for the administering of the Act as passed by Congress were included in the third deficiency bill which failed to come up for carrying the Act into effect.

The Act itself has two titles, one of which provides for the acreage adjustment and the other for adjustment through marketing adjustment. Neither is in effect now nor will be until after the public hearing has provided evidence of the wishes of the people of the United States.

Boy Scouts

Chester Wessendorf, well-known First Mate of the once proud Sea Scout Ship 'Flying Cloud', has found a snug harbor in the officers' cabin of land scout troop No. 41. He will occupy the berth of assistant scoutmaster and will work with scoutmaster Slate and Jr. Asst. scoutmaster Don Shafer, in the operation of the troop.

True to the law of the sea, first officer Wessendorf, (then in actual command) was the last to leave the battered hulk, as the members of the crew shouldered their duffle bags and scurried away to find other quarters in various schools and colleges.

SAFETY TALK

(Continued from page 1) sesh. Then when they get there they often do not know what to do with the few minutes they have saved.

Speed Cause of Disaster Many traffic authorities claim that speed was the leading cause of our toll of 35,500 traffic deaths and more than a million injuries in 1934. But it is no speed alone, it was poor thinking in relation to speed. Many a city taxi driver becomes experts at speeds of 20 to 35 miles an hour in the city but becomes a menace to the traveling public when he goes out on the main highways where he has had little experience and maintains a speed of 60 miles per hour or upward.

Similarly the driver who is used to driving long distances on the rural highways may be unsafe driver when he gets into the traffic of a crowded city. These are the things that every automobile driver should understand—safe speeds for roads of different types and his experience and skill in driving under various conditions.

What a Waste! Highway haste stumbles over its own heels and causes inexcusable waste of life and property. Speed may be highly desirable at times but speed is absolutely necessary always. Just remember that Death rides on the running board when you drive too fast for the type of road or under conditions of traffic in which you are not expert.

Leaf tobacco being sold to highest bidder. United States Treasury Building. From 1900, up to 1934 the leaf tobacco used for cigarettes increased from 13,084,037 lbs. to 326,093,357 lbs.; an increase of 2392% It takes mild ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette. During the year ending June 30, 1900, the Government collected from cigarette taxes $3,969,191 For the year ending June 30, 1934, the same taxes were $350,299,442 an increase of 8725% —a lot of money. Cigarettes give a lot of pleasure to a lot of people. More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised. But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos. Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobaccos. Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette. We believe you will enjoy them

Traffic in Wichita

Arthur Johnston arrived home Thursday from an excursion to Wichita, Kas., away out in the Wild West, with news that however wild they be out there, they have traffic laws and enforce them. "Don't let anybody kid you," remarked Mr. Johnston, "City speed regulation can be absolutely enforced because I've seen it done. I breezed into the limits of Wichita about 50 miles an hour, but I was rather surprised that I passed so many cars, all going slow. Finally it dawned on me: "Maybe they have a speed law in this town that they enforce." So I slowed down and I found out that the law there was 25 miles an hour any place in town and that they all drove not to exceed that.

"As I was driving along I heard a loud speaker blaring: "Don't forget to drive 12 miles an hour past the school. Later I was at a filling station and the operator said: "Oh, oh! the cops have got somebody." I looked and saw a motorcycle cop taking four young ladies to the curb. "They're some prominent folks," said the operator. "You don't mean they will do anything with them?" I asked. "You watch the papers tomorrow," he said.

"So I did and it was $5 and costs for them. There was a list of sentences, none of them ever suspended. "And there are few serious traffic accidents. It seems that if you are driving not to exceed 25 miles an hour you can avoid accidents, or if one happens it is not so bad. Also you have time to see lights. If you run them it is just too bad. And if you are on foot you cross with the lights, too. There is no jay-walking because people have found that if they get hurt jay-walking they don't get any consideration whatever.

"If a lot of our folks visited Wichita, they would learn a lot about traffic. Or anyway, they would learn that this talk about being unable to enforce speed laws is so much hokey."

Farmers to Decide on Corn-Hog Program

A referendum on the question of whether there will be a corn and hog adjustment program in 1936 will be conducted among all corn and hog producers Saturday, Oct. 26, the Secretary of Agriculture announced. The Secretary said that the investigation being made by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, which included a hearing held in Washington on Washington on Sept. 26 and 27, has shown economic justification for another program, but that the practicability and effectiveness of a program will depend upon the indicated degree of support by producers. In the referendum, corn and hog producers will vote on the question: "Do you favor a corn-hog adjustment program to follow the 1935 program which expires Nov. 30, 1935?" The referendum will be by secret ballot and will be conducted by county and community corn-hog committees and by the Extension Service. Community polling places will be open from 8 a. m. until 10 p. m. All operators and owners of farms which produced corn or hogs in 1935, whether or not they signed 1934 or 1935 corn-hog contracts, are eligible to vote in the referendum. Ballots of former contract signers and of those producers who have not signed a former corn-hog adjustment contract will be tabulated separately. If a substantial majority of those voting indicate that they favor a program, a new plan for 1936 will be worked out and offered producers in contract form. Regardless of the way they vote in the referendum, producers may sign contracts or not as they choose, after they have studied the proposed program. The decision as to whether or not another program will be developed rests with the farmers themselves. The referendum is intended to provide opportunity for full and free expression, both for and against a voluntary adjustment program, on the part of all corn and hog producers. Evidence brought out in the hearing and by other phases of the investigation disclosed that in the absence of any program under the Agricultural Adjustment Act, a drastic decline in corn prices would be likely in 1936, with sharp reductions in hog prices commencing in '37. If a program is developed, it should provide for expansion of hog production in 1936 in the interests of both consumers and producers, but it should contain safeguards which will prevent an excessive supply thereafter. Before the referendum on Oct. 26, county and community meetings of corn and hog producers will be held throughout the country, to permit discussion of the facts of the corn hog situation so growers may be prepared to express an informed opinion in the referendum.

Preserve the Constitution

The Constitution can be and should be changed by the people whenever desirable. But it should not be violated by enacting and executing unconstitutional laws. There are, however, changes that might be made in the Constitution that could not properly be called amendments. They would destroy its basic principles and thereby undermine its very foundation and that of the government. These principles are founded on the conviction that each individual is endowed with certain inalienable personal rights and liberties by his Maker, and that they are derived directly from Him and not from or through any government or executive officer of government. The people delegate such powers as they desire to the States and to the Federal Government. The people are the sovereigns. The government and its temporary officials are their servants. The States have in turn delegated to the Federal Government certain of the rights that were derived by them from the people. This is the only country in the history of the world in which God-given rights and liberties of its citizens are recognized and vouchsafed them. These are the basic principles of the Constitution. It is the bulwark and defense, that secures to the people those rights and liberties. Under the safeguard of the Constitution, this country has become a refuge for the oppressed. A land of political and religious liberty and freedom of speech and thought. Its working classes have the best living conditions of any country in the world. Of all nations it is the richest and greatest. It is publicly stated that the president of the United States has forced the congress to enact numerous "Must" laws. That he has arrogated the law-making power of that body. Many of these laws clearly are unconstitutional. Some of them the president has executed. These laws, unless invalidated by the courts, would centralize in the president the power and control of the Federal Government, the States, the people and their affairs. They would rob the States of the rights which the Constitution provided would be retained by them as a part of the consideration for their agreeing to sign it. They would deprive citizens of their personal rights and liberties guaranteed to them by the Constitution. They would destroy the basic principles of the Constitution and of the Republic itself. Citizens then would not be sovereigns but servants of the government. The spirit of our Republic would be lost to us and to the world. The Supreme Court of the United States has stood as the last line of defense of our Constitution and our government. A determined effort is being made to break down that protection. Without it the Constitution would be a dead letter. A president could then make effective any laws that he caused to be enacted, regardless of their constitutionality. These policies would centralize in the president, good or bad, the power to make, decide their constitutionality and execute the laws. The president is commander-in-chief of the army and navy. A dictator could have no greater power. We can judge from President Roosevelt's policies what changes he would make in the Constitution if his desires were uncontrolled. President Roosevelt in his parable in a recent speech at Hyde Park, New York, unintentionally gave a most striking illustration of the real truth regarding the matter. He said that the repairs being made in the White House would "leave it the same old White House." Likewise, he would have us believe that the changes he would make in the Constitution would leave it the same old Constitution. To complete the analogy it should be added that if the foundations of the White House were destroyed the historic building would fall in ruins. That is what the changes the President apparently desires in the Constitution would do to this historic document. President Roosevelt upon assuming the duties of his office swore the most solemn and sacred of all oaths--"to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Editorial

Soon will be placed upon our shoulders the task of entering into this large world, and we shall follow in the footsteps of our life's work. All through school we have carefully prepared ourselves to pick the courses best fitted for our vocation.

We have solved problems, conjugated verbs, memorized, read, drilled and studied hard; but our work has not been in vain for we have something, something that can never be taken from us—knowledge. Knowledge plus a determined individual will in the end be successful.

We should make the best of the opportunities offered us, for our chance comes only once. Once only, for we are young only once. "Make hay while the sun shines," for sometimes the sun will cease to shine, leaving us in the dark. Knowledge at this stage is beyond our reach, and many golden hours have been wasted.

Value your education, for it is for your benefit, education is spurred on.

MAY I COLLECT?

Buzz! went the bell. Everyone jumped into action, the doors swung open and students rushed out.

In a swirling mass the students rushed down the stairway to the auditorium and seated themselves.

Tigers were to sit on the left and Cubs on the right. Unfortunately this certain Tiger fan got in the wrong section. After managing to hold my seat for a couple of minutes, Herman knocked a home run over left field. Cubs were Tigers and Tigers were Cubs until Mr. Stark succeeded in putting Mr. Robinson in his seat.

All the Cub fans wanted to bet and jeered at me so I placed a couple bets. Well, to make a long story short: How about collecting by two bits, Cub fans?

Office News

A finger printing demonstration was held Monday at the Benton Harbor high school. The local grade teachers attended.

Applications were submitted to the county welfare for student aid Monday.

Mr. Stark was in St. Joseph on Monday planning for the training school for Boy Scouts.

School was closed Thursday and Friday to allow the teachers to attend the Teacher's Institute at Battle Creek.

Wednesday afternoon St. Joseph came here to play the Buchanan second team in football. Buchanan beat them in their first game.

The entire high school had the pleasure of listening to the final game of the world series Monday afternoon from the fourth inning to the finish of the game. Herbert Batchelor donated a RCA radio. The students were divided into two groups. The Cub fans sat on the west side of the auditorium and the Tiger fans on the east side.

WE WONDER WHY

Many interesting spectators were gathered by the side of the school building Friday watching two large high school boys taking advantage of a little sophomore.

As he was being swung back and forth by his hands and feet, it couldn't be determined as to what he was saying. It looked as if he were asking for mercy.

It is still undecided what they were attacking the poor defenseless boy for. Maybe just to show their strength, and they might have been trying to stretch the cheer leader out a little. How about it, Johnnie?

Also Mr. Rizor is going to take pictures of every school activity during the year in an attempt to get a picture of every child in school.

In the spring Mr. Rizor will give a grand showing of all the pictures taken. The admission to this showing is expected to pay for the camera.

VELMARIAN LIT

The Velmarian Literary Society held its first meeting of the year Friday, Sept. 27. The new officers for the year are: President, Cherry Heim; vice president, Barbara Hamilton; secretary, Olive Pennell; treasurer, Edward Spasok. Bill Habicht was selected as literary critic.

Spencer Kohlman, Leslie Brewster, and Una Kelley have been named on the program committee. Those on the committee for creative writing are Eleanor Miller, chairman; Ted Lyon and Hubert McClellan.

It was moved and seconded that the society should sponsor a creative writing contest as has been the custom of previous years.

Usher Club Girls of last year's Usher club had a meeting last Monday after school to vote for new members.

The girls they chose to come into the club are these 11th and 12th grade girls: Virginia Wright, Virginia Blake, Margaret Huse, Mary Jane Heilmann, Eva Kovich, Geraldine McGowan, Thelma Heckathorne, Evelyn Proulx, Georgia Upson, Vivian Sanford, Josephine Yurkovic and Marjorie Mitch.

The members of last year who are still in the club are: Dorothy Jerue, Bernadine Reinke, Louise Howe and Rose Lynn Ernst.

FRESHMAN MEETING

The freshman class held a short business meeting after school on Monday, Oct. 7.

President Bill Strayer was in charge. It was decided to accept the offer of the Lions club to sell tickets for the WLS Barn Dance show.

Those in charge were Bill Strayer, Louis Pascoe and Bob Habicht. Mrs. Weaver and assistant, Mr. Washburn, were present.

Who's Who

A very interesting and charming junior girl who recently moved here from Maywood, Ill., is Miss Virginia Wright. Miss Wright is editor of the Microphone this year and is very interested in writing. She likes sports of all kinds, especially tennis.

Her ambition is to become a journalist and English teacher after graduating.

Miss Wright likes Buchanan high school better than any other school she has ever attended.

TEAM SPIRIT!

"Yeah team!" echoed from the chattering teeth of many half frozen spectators at the football game Oct. 5. Colorful blankets, wrapped Indian-like, were the costumes of many, whose red noses and cheeks matched the brilliant colors beautifully.

The knocking of knees and chattering of teeth kept perfect time with the music, which was ushered forth from the band members, whose costumes made everyone a few degrees colder.

Whether the spectators were cold from the fact that South Haven had scored, no one knew; but the minute Buchanan scored, the cold bodies began to thaw and every face broke into a smile. The smile meant a lot to the football boys.

We didn't win or lose, but anyway we still have the spirit. Go to it, Buchanan, we're with you.

Mrs. Lamb's News

A number of defects were found recently when the kindergarten children were given physical examinations by local doctors. These consisted of examinations of heart, lungs, eyes, ears, feet, nose, throat and general appearance. Height and weight also were taken. The teeth were examined by the school dentist. Thirty-one students were found with perfect teeth, two with rachitis, two with heart murmurs, several with infected tonsils and adenoids.

All of the children were given toxoid, except three who had it previously. The children were brought to school by their mothers, who were informed of defects found and of the required treatment.

GRADE NEWS

High School Building

Patricia Covert from Lakeside entered Miss Carnagan's 1st grade Monday. This makes an enrollment of 38—12 girls and 26 boys.

Mrs. Heim's second grade music class is learning a number of nature songs about autumn tokens. The class will sing these songs at the next Mothers' Club meeting.

June Johnston and George Zupke were elected by the 4th grade pupils to represent them in the Junior Citizenship Council for October.

In Mrs. French's fifth grade the boys spelled the girls down last Friday on the words they have studied this year.

The spelling record has improved in this fifth grade. There were 13 100's and 9 papers with only 1 mistake.

We are continuing the study of fall flowers in nature study. We drew the zinnia in crayon but commenced using water colors. We painted the snapdragon. We found it very interesting to use water colors.

We have studied enough of South America that some very complete alphabets of South America were made. Walter Heesp, Dick Snodgrass and David VanEvery made the longest lists in the ten minutes.

In Miss Ream's sixth grade, Philip Sands and Russell Leazenby are making a spelling chart. Stars are used for various grades: gold for 100, silver for 90, blue for 80, and red for 70.

Lvelyn Covert from Lakeside entered this grade Monday, making a total enrollment of 60.

Dolly Swaim and John Jerue were chosen to represent Miss Ekstrom's fifth grade in the Junior Citizenship club this following month.

We are studying teeth and the care of the mouth this week for health work.

In nature study we are discussing galls and some of the gall-dwellers.

Charles Dickow has been transferred to a country school. This makes our present enrollment 20 boys and 20 girls.

Dewey Avenue

First grade dental honor roll: Kathleen Birong, Georgine Chain, Merlin Noggle, Robert Pazder, Anna Rossetti, Joanne Rough, Robert Surch and Charles Vergon.

The kindergarten has been observing good habits week. The dental honor roll includes: June Marie Borks, John Lee Hamilton, Helen Davidson, Franklin Green, Kathryn Grime, Jack Hamilton, Dwight Heim, Bot Miller, Herbert Ochenryder, Stewart Phillips, Mildra Smith, Juanita Swain, Gay Vanderberg, Lynn Watson, Ted Thurston, June Blschoff, Keith Borst, Verna Heckathorne, Christine Hines, George Johnson, Billy Maggert and Paul Montgomery.

The following pupils in the second grade are on the Spelling honor roll: Gene Spatta, Donald Holmes, Sam Rossetti, Dale Fuller, Gene Wesner, Jacqueline Hanson, Richard Slocum, Doris Keller, Betty Runyan, Richard Head, Mary Alice Ravish, Beverly Wallace and Virginia Oringip.

The third grade is studying about Buchanan and its industries. The girls visited Wilson's dairy and saw bottles washed, milk bottled and butter cut and wrapped. The boys visited the dam at Mill.

The students in the opportunity room are making Indian beads and water jugs out of salt and flour. The work is a delight to them. They are enjoying Indian stories and music.

The following pupils have their names on the fourth grade Dental Honor roll: Naline Chain, Betty Donley, Keith Ednie, Lorraine Gray, Janet Haslett, Georgia Hines, Thomas Huff, Lynn Lear, Wila Miller, Bonnie Mills, Maurice Nelson, Virginia Ochenryder, Raymond Pazder, Milla Stroud, Elizabeth Rohen, Beth Walls, Minta Wissler, Frances Russell, Janice Pierce, Maebelle Luik.

Class Activities

The band is drilling to perfect their marching. Concert practice will not begin until after the football season is over.

The members of the Glee Club will begin the study of Bach's Chorals next week. This will mark the beginning of study in high-grade song material.

English 10

This week the 10th grade English students are studying letter writing of all types. They are now studying capitalization and punctuation. At the end of each week they have a theme due. Next Monday they will have a six week's spelling test.

Science

The chemistry class is still dealing with the theory of the atom but more with the electrical nature of the atom.

A few years ago the atom was thought the smallest possible unit of matter. We have discovered electrical charges. The negative charge is called the electron and the positive, proton. Lately a neutral body has been discovered called the neutron.

The discovery of these parts led to the making of the artificial radium. This was the secret that the alchemist of the middle ages sought in order to turn baser metals into gold. This is the secret of the transmutation of one element to another.

The students of the physics class are studying the appliances which work by air pressure, particularly the lift pump and the force pump.

Ordinarily it is not thought these work by air pressure. The famous experiment of Torricelli has been duplicated in physics class, in other words a barometer was constructed in class.

Biology and Horticulture

The biology class has started on Unit 12 in their work books on the study of "How Living Things Use Food." Every Monday morning the biology class has "Bio-day."

The idea is for each pupil to bring some current topic dealing with biology, then they have it discussed orally in class. There have been some very interesting topics.

Boys in horticulture have finished the making of different kinds of gratts. They are now studying how horticulture plants differ in fruit-bearing habits. In farm crops they have completed the study of how crops are selected by the farmer.

Manual Training

Boys having 7th grade manual training who have advanced with bench work are now permitted to do lathe work. They are turning out mallets and candle sticks, etc. Studying different types of wood and finishes best suited for them has been the study of the 9th grade manual training class.

Speech, Social Studies and American Government

In the speech class consideration is being given to the field of debate. They are debating on the state question of nationalization of munitions of war.

Discussion of the low countries, Belgium, Denmark and the Netherlands, has been the study of the 7th grade geography class.

The war of 1812 was discussed in the 8th grade history class. Much emphasis was put upon the rise of the West and the causes and results of the war.

Powers of Congress, both direct and implied, have been studied by the eleventh grade government class.

Commercial

A test was given to the short-hand class over words and rules studied in chapter two. Work was begun in chapter three on the O-book.

Continuation of work on business letters is the main study of the typing 12 students.

First year typing students are having capital letter drills, rhythm drills, and figure drills.

The bookkeeping students are continuing work on credit purchases, and are studying about the proprietor's capital and drawing accounts.

Languages

The students of Latin 9 are taking an imaginary visit to Valerius and are also having vocabulary drills.

Latin 10 students are studying Ceres and Proserpina and also participates and perfect passive tenses.

Students of the French 11 class are taking the study of relative and demonstrative pronouns and cardinal numbers.

In the French 12 class the students are taking an imaginary visit to France.

Home Economics

Members of the 7th grade home economics class are making plans for headbands and aprons.

Eighth grade classes have been studying the planning and marketing for luncheons.

Dinner unit has been the work of the ninth grade classes.

The study of china and silverware has been the work of the 10th grade class.

English

Seventh grade English students are reviewing work on parts of speech and also having a six weeks' test.

English nine students studied the use of the comma and subjects of sentence structure. To finish the week a mastery test was given.

The juniors have been scouting the age of Shakespeare, studying the setting of the play Macbeth and then beginning the play.

Thirty-five junior and senior English students have elected to take advantage of the foreign correspondence provided by the International Students' society.

They are corresponding with the students from the following foreign countries: China, Japan, Philippines, Hawaii, Panama, England, South Africa, Sweden and Denmark.

Seniors have studied long formal essays, choosing a field for research, gathering material, and taking notes on the material they select.

Studying human interest stories and practicing writing them occupied the week for the journalism students.

Mathematics

The seventh grade has spent two weeks on percentage. This week the class will be discussing and applying percentage to automobile manufacture and manufacture, in general. The eighth grade will be starting on compound interest this week.

The algebra class will be studying the method of solving problems by the use of the simple equations.

The plane geometry class will be proving problems which have to do with the number of degrees in the angles of a triangle. The advanced algebra class will be studying the methods used in solving systems of simple equations.

Physical Education

All the girls in the gym classes have had their posture examinations. With the examinations over, the gym classes have again started soccer practice, which is also held at night after school for those who wish to practice.

The G. A. A. girls sold candy at the South Haven game and will continue to do so the rest of the football season.

Owned by Those it Serves THE ownership of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, as a part of the Bell System, is shared among 850,000 people in all sections of the country. More than half the stockholders are women. Of these, 210,000 are housewives. There are 115,000 employees of the Bell System who own shares. The other owners include thousands of clerks, salesmen, mechanics, doctors, teachers, farmers, laborers—people in all walks of life. The average holding per person is only 28 shares. And nobody owns as much as one per cent of the stock. Thus, the tremendously valuable equipment behind your telephone was built by the savings of many thousands of small investors. That money was invested because people believed in the telephone as a necessity vital to modern business and social life. Such public confidence is a tribute to the policies of the management; it made possible the development and expansion of the service through a half-century of unhalting progress. Without that money, without that confidence, telephone service could not exist as we know it today in this State and Nation. It could not have attained the degree of perfection which makes it indisputably the finest, most efficient telephone service in the world. Such wide-spread ownership is a measure of public confidence in the telephone in this State and Nation. It is a gauge of the people's estimate of the solid, enduring worth of the service. Clover Seed Crop Short This Year
Recent crop reports indicate that the supply of seed from the various kinds of clover and other legumes, while larger than last year will still be below the average production for the years 1928 to 1933, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

The supply of sweet clover seed for the United States is expected to be 11,000,000 pounds short of the average production. The crop this year is 7,000,000 pounds greater than it was last year. Sweet clover was damaged by dry weather in some places and by too much rain in others this year.

Supplies of red clover seed are still affected by last year's drought as many stands were killed which would have produced seed in 1935. The carry over of red clover seed from last year is small but is larger than expected because the sales were 20 per cent below expectations.

White clover seed production will be only about one-third of the 1934 crop. Most of the white clover seed is produced in Louisiana, Idaho, Oregon and Wisconsin. Scarcity of this seed will affect the prices of lawn grass mixtures in which it is included.

It appears now that the supply of alsike clover will be a little larger than it was in 1934. More winter vetch seed will be available, the reports showing increased acreages in Oregon and Michigan. No report is given on alfalfa seed. Michigan agricultural agents state that the crop in Michigan is very uncertain. Less seed was harvested from the first cuttings, and second cuttings left for seed were good in some sections and poor in others.
