Echoes from the Presidential Visit
A bunch of enthusiastic Buchanan Democrats were seeking the way to the live stock stadium. They saw a street car with "stockyards auditorium" on it. "Let's follow it," said one. "Too slow but I'll get in ahead and follow the tracks," said the driver. He went to the car barn.

A disgruntled young high school student (politics unknown) was discussing the situation: "They gave us first class excuses to go on the stock show excursion and only second class to go to see the president. First class to see a pig second class to see the president."

AROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN
Remembers Wood-burning Engines
Mrs. James Batten was a visitor in the Record office Tuesday, renewing the Record for the 68th successive year in her family. The Record was established some two or three years before the present volume number sequence began.

Mrs. Batten was born in Dayton, 1858, but moved to a farm north of that place in 1880 when her father, John Marquette, bought 80 acres of heavy timber and located on it, cutting cord wood for the Michigan Central engines to burn. He hauled cord wood for several years, delivering it at railway wood yards in Dayton at the price of $1.50 for a cord of 4x4x8 feet. He sometimes hired it out at 20c to 25c per cord. Before 1880 he worked on the railway right of way out of Dayton, getting 90c a day. The old farm from which he cut the wood is located 5 miles west of Buchanan, the property now of Mrs. Millie Wells of Gallen.

W. L. Wolkins, former Buchanan boy but for many years an engineer on the New York Central railway out of Toledo, O., visited the Record office Tuesday to renew his subscription. Wolkins left Buchanan shortly after 1900 to work on the railway, starting first at Elkhart. In two years he had his engine and has been pulling throbbles on the New York Central since. Promotion was more rapid in those days, but now with trains three times as large, the rate or rise is much slower. He runs west out of Toledo on the Air Line and northwest through Michigan on the old "maid line."

Friends Fear

Death of Williams

Local friends of Harry Williams, formerly connected with the re-culping of the Buchanan First National Bank and a resident of Buchanan for nearly two years, were shocked to learn of his supposed suicide, on evidence left by two notes. Niles acquaintances said that in their opinion the notes were bona fide. The waters of Dowagiac Creek were so high yesterday and this morning that difficulties were experienced in searching for the body.

Later: The body of Harry Williams was found in Dowagiac Creek yesterday morning with both hands wired together in front of him and two bricks attached to his neck by wire. The body was found about 20 yards down stream from the No. 3 hole in the Plym Park golf course by Fred Solloway, Niles police man, and Walter Zimmer, Niles fireman.

MAROONS LOSE
TO NILES 30-11Locals Start With Rush But Red Legs Overhaul to Win by Margin.

Buchanan's fighting Bucks were thoroughly beaten by Niles' Red Legs last Friday night on the Buck court, by a score of 30-11.

The Bucks got going with a bang in the first quarter and surprised the Red Legs. Then, in the other three cantos, Niles settled down and took advantage of their size; gradually piling up a score which after the middle of the second canto was not again threatened.

Edwards and Milligan of Niles paced both teams for scoring honors, each getting 8 and 10 points, respectively, while Luke of the Bucks garnered 6 counters.

1st quarter—Milligan of Niles opened the scoring of the game with an under the basket shot. Luke, of Buchanan, then retaliated with a one-hander from the coffin corner. Smith's foul circle field goal put the Bucks in the lead, then Luke swished a long one from out court, ending the scoring for the first period. Score: Bucks 6, Niles, 2.

2nd Quarter—Hable opened the scoring with a field goal and Milligan tied the score with another under the basket shot. Edwards put Niles into the lead with a two pointer, and Volkhardt followed with a left-handed shot. Luke again sang a long field goal. Edwards then retaliated with another field goal and Volkhardt sank one of two charity tosses, ending the scoring in the second canto. Score, Niles 13, Bucks 8.

3rd Quarter—Edwards and Virgil connected with single counters from the foul line for their respective teams. Milligan again succeeded in making an under the basket shot and Edwards added another charity toss. Kraft then sank a long shot and Milligan again contributed a close-in shot. Kraft added another free throw, ending the scoring. Score: Niles, 22; Bucks 9.

4th Quarter—Milligan opened the scoring for Niles in the last period with a two pointer and Smith cashed a free throw for the Bucks. Edwards connected with a field goal for Niles and E. Hable sank a one-hander from near the foul circle. Myrnn and E. Hable each added a charity toss and Paul of Buchanan ended the scoring of the game with a free throw. The final score was Niles 30, Buchanan 11.

Buchanan Seconds Bow to Niles Reserves

Buchanan's second team lost its second game in a row by ten points to Niles by a score of 20 to 10. The game was played as a preliminary to the first team contest.

For three quarters the Bucks were practically helpless, the score at the end of the third quarter being 20 to 4. The last quarter was the Bucks, however, they got six counters, holding Niles scoreless.

Both aggregations played good, fast ball. Huff, Lynd, and Jones led Niles in scoring, each getting 6, 6, and 5 points respectively. Buchanan's high point man was Beadle, who gathered one field goal and one charity toss.

Dowagiac Chieftains and Bucks to Clash Dec. 13

HOWE FAMILY OF BUCHANAN RELATED TO KEEPERS OF FAMOUS WAYSIDE INNHostelry Celebrated by Longfellow Bought By Ford and Moved to Dearborn.

(Ed. Note: The events of the story below as well as of the centennial of the Howe family related last week, were printed without solicitation from the family, the events having been secured in conversation with Frederick Howe through several years.)

In investigating the events of the coming of the Frederick Howe family to Buchanan 100 years ago, another story of interest was uncovered, relative to the connection between the Buchanan pioneer and the Squire Howe who was the landlord of "Tales of a Wayside Inn," Longfellow's famous poem.

It was an uncle by one or two removed from the direct line of descent of Frederick Howe, who kept the famous Red Horse Tavern of Sudbury, known in Longfellow's poem as the "Wayside Inn," which was bought a few years ago and transferred intact to Ford's village at Dearborn.

The place was opened by Col. Ezekiah Howe in 1744, was converted by his son, Adana, after the colonel's death in 1796, and then by Lyman Howe until 1880. The Howe family sold the place in 1886 after maintaining it 120 years.

Longfellow stayed at the inn in 1850, and later made it the scene of one of the most noted poems of American Literature.

In the "Tales," various fictitious patrons of the inn tell a succession of stories, including the student, the Spanish Jew, the Scitilian, the musician, the poet and theologian.

The landlord tells the opening tale, which is the famous "Paul Revere's Ride," beginning: "Listen, my children, and you shall hear Of the midnight ride of Paul Revere."

Whether or not Squire Lyman Howe ever told this tale is quite problematical, but it was fitting that Longfellow put the story in his mouth for he was the grandson of Col. Ezekial Howe, in command of the Fourth Regiment of the Middlesex County Militia in the Revolution. Ezekial Howe had buckled on his sword and went with over 300 men and boys of Sudbury, representing a fifth of the town's population, to meet the oncoming British at Concord and Lexington. He is described as follows:

"But first the landlord will I trace Grave in his aspect and attire; A man of ancient pedigree, A justice of the peace was he, Known in all Sudbury as 'The Squire'."

Proud of his name and race was he Of old Sir William and Sir Hugh, And in the parlor, full in view, His coat of arms well framed and glazed

Upon the walls in colors blazed; He beareth gules upon his shield, A chevron argent in the field, The scroll reads "By the name of Howe."

And over this, no longer bright, Though glimmering with a latent light, Was hung the sword his grand-sire bore

In the rebellious days of yore Down there at Concord in the fight."

The old inn may now be seen almost intact as it was installed at Dearborn by Henry Ford.

SPAFFORD'S PLAN SAFETY RESE ARCH
IS ENDORSED BY PURDUE UNIVERSITYPlan Involves Study of Drivers
Leading to Reasons for Accidents.

L. B. Spafford, for years an editor in Chicago, continues his writings in Buchanan. Some of his articles have related to automobile driving in which he proposed a certain procedure of partial solution. Automobile insurance companies and others recognized this as a new approach to the subject. Later they advocated Mr. Spafford's theory and gave it publicity.

A few weeks ago the demand for safer driving in South Bend, Mishawaka and vicinity rose to fever heat. At that time Mr. Spafford presented his plan to certain business men of South Bend. This plan involved a program of research at a university. He conferred with Dr. G. Stanley Meikle, director of the Research Foundation at Purdue University, who, after studying the matter stated that Purdue was ready and willing to co-operate.

Within the last few days Purdue has definitely started on a plan to reduce automobile accidents. This will involve the gathering and coordinating of all available information from automobile insurance companies, safety councils, automobile manufacturers and others. It will include continued research at the university. It will provide for the publication and dissemination of the information gathered and devise methods for getting it into the minds of drivers of automobiles.

Mr. Spafford's method or plan of procedure, which has been touched upon in various articles in The Record is based upon the belief that 70 per cent of the major accidents which occur on the highways may be best attacked by finding out where the trouble lies. It is stated that the worst accidents are usually outside of the corporations of towns and cities; that 70 per cent of the accidents are not due to bad roads, defective cars or inexperienced drivers. Seventy per cent of the accidents occur outside of towns and cities, on the main highways, on days of good visibility, good roads with experienced drivers. It is evident that there is a lot about safe driving that we do not know.

We do not know how many people there are who think too slowly for the speed they maintain. We do not know how many drivers have blind spots. We do not know how many drivers have physical ailments that slow up their thinking and their muscular coordination. We know only a small proportion of the dangers inherent in the roads themselves. Because of lack of knowledge we build fine roads that are nothing but death traps. We do not know how many drivers are color blind. We do not know speeds in relation to braking power. We do not know how good our brakes are.

The proposed research will make scientific tests of these and many other factors. When we learn the facts from scientific tests, these facts will be so alarming and the necessity of instruction will be so obvious that training in automobile driving will be made mandatory on those who have accidents and later for every driver.

It is believed that this procedure is particularly applicable to the 70 per cent of the major accidents which occur on the main highways. It is less applicable to the fewer major accidents that occur in towns and cities.

Checks for the fifth dividend of the First National Bank for 7 per cent of the deposits or approximately $33,000, are to be given out at the old bank headquarters at Main and Front Tuesday, Dec. 17, beginning at 10 a. m., according to H. R. Botkin, in charge of the liquidation of the trust.

The distribution of the checks had been delayed for several weeks following the first announcement but Botkin stated that he had received a telegram from the office of the Federal Comptroller of the Currency at Washington, D. C., yesterday morning informing him that the checks had been sent. He stated that the limited force now at the disposal of the trust will be able to prepare the dividend for distribution by Tuesday. The trust will be able to distribute at the former Buchanan headquarters for the convenience of the local depositors for a short time, but it is urgent that the depositors report as soon as possible to facilitate the distribution.

The recent payment of $44,000 by the Buchanan State Bank and of $113,000 to be distributed by the Niles City National Bank & Trust company receivership, combined with the First National dividend, brings the total distribution in this community to $190,000 during the pre-Christmas season.

The payment of the seven per cent dividend by the First National brings the total paid by the trust to that institution up to 92 per cent, which is believed to be the highest return to depositors made by any refund national bank in Michigan.

Mrs. Emma Hayes Dies in California

Only a few weeks ago Mrs. Emma Hayes, of 304 West Fourth Street, Buchanan, accompanied her daughter, Bernice, to her pleasant home in South Pasadena, California, where she planned to spend the winter. After a short illness from cerebral hemorrhage her journey was prolonged from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cunningham at 1725 Camden Avenue, South Pasadena, in sunny California, and Dec. 3rd, 1935, she passed peacefully into immortal repose.

The hearts of Buchanan neighbors, acquaintances and old time friends, among whom she spent most of her life, were bowed low at this announcement and all feel profound sympathy for her immediate family. She was a member of the Monday club for many years and will be missed from their circle.

Probably her frail body will rest in a vault until spring when burial will be made beside her husband in their lot in Oak Ridge cemetery, Buchanan, Michigan.

Temple of Athens
One of the world's most beautiful buildings is the temple of Nike Apteros, Athens, erected in 438 B. C. to commemorate the famous victories of Marathon, Plataea, and Salamis. More than 2,000 years later, in the seventeenth century, the temple was destroyed by the Turks and the materials built into a battery. In the year 1836 the battery of the temple was destroyed, the materials of the temple recovered and the temple reconstructed, today picturesquely situated on the Acropolis hillside.

90,000 WORK ON WPA PROJECTS IN MICHIGAN

$1,500,000 Weekly Payroll Being Spread Over State for Wages and Material.

The Works Progress Administration is now one of the largest, if not the largest single employer of labor in Michigan.

Ninety thousand men and women, converted from welfare dependents into family providers, are on its payroll.

The WPA is spreading $1,500,000 a week over the State in wages and for materials.

Of this sum, approximately $1,000,000 a week is going in pay checks to relief workers.

The 90,000 are all employed at public works, most of them permanent improvements, all of them sponsored by State or local governmental units which are contributing from 2 to 50 per cent of the cost.

Twelve hundred separate projects are in operation in the 83 counties.

These are high points of a report by State Administrator Harry L. Pierson on the present status of the president's work-relief program in Michigan.

"Having assumed its full load and provided work for every employable family head formerly receiving direct relief, the WPA program now enters its second phase," Pierson said.

"Our problem from now on will be to insure steady employment for these workers until they regain jobs in private business and industry, and to reassign workers to jobs for which they are best fitted."

"In the rush to get all employables to work before direct relief was cut off, December 5, many skilled and 'white collar' workers were put at common labor. The work of reassigning these men and women and, especially in rural areas, of shortening the distance between the worker's home and his job, is now under way."

Besides the 90,000 on WPA projects, 7,000 more workers from relief rolls are employed on other Federal and State projects financed with WPA funds.

Over Breakfast Coffee

By A. C. Clapp

A brand new plan for check-up with penalties of reckless driving has, the past week by a South Bend manufacturer, been contrived in the shape of an operator's license booklet containing points or numerals to be punched out at the court hearing according to seriousness of driver's offense and these demerits will, after reaching a certain sum, automatically cancel said driver's license.

Mr. Karl Herman, president of the Bantam Ball Bearing Co., South Bend, author of this preliminary draft of self-penalizing driver's license, is receiving support and publicity from the South Bend Rotary club and other societies.

The license booklet is marked with blocks of numerals like a meal ticket, figures running from 5 to 50, according to seriousness of offense. At each court hearing, if found guilty, the ticket holder gives up his duly punched leaf which is then filed in the Indianapolis auto records. When his book has enough punches, lo, the poor autoist is all fed up with driving. He does not drive anymore.

To eliminate the habitually dangerous driver the plan has merits.

Likely enough sooner or later the safety control of private auto driving will be handled by the U. S. government through federal courts. Then uniform auto laws will hold good all over the states equally and non-politically.

Heard radio announcer say 2 words I took at the moment to be "telephone describer." Wow, thought this writer, I've had moments trying to get messages through busy signals, etc., when for 2 cents I'd have made a gorgeous "telephone describer."

I watch the strategy of Sheba, the black Angora. Goes up to her favorite chair, ready to jump up and calculates to a nicety desirability of said chair, decides against; turns briskly and pounces gracefully on imaginary mouse under rug—a leaping half circle in air—a perchance thought-filled moment gazing toward neutral corner—then a perfectly executed pounce on rug at foot of stairs. Momentum of pounce carries her leaping on up the stairs to a more favorite napping place on a white coverlet which spot she knows to be forbidden territory.

U. S. DEPRESSION TAKES BIG TOLL

Estimate Covers Income and Goods Production Shrinkage Alone.

Losses of $180,274,000,000 in income and goods production during five years of trade depression in the United States are indicated in figures announced by the Department of Commerce, as part—but not all—of the price paid for a faulty economic mechanism.

One item alone is $26,600,000,000, definitely reached by Robert R. Nathan, chief of the economic research division, for the difference between the "national income produced" from 1929 to 1934, and the "national income paid out." This figure is given out in advance of a comprehensive volume, soon to be issued, on the total cost of the slump. The income drop is described as "only a small fraction" of the total.

Adding to this the larger Commerce Department estimate of $153,674,000,000 for losses in goods produced, the figure of $180,274,000,000 is reached.

How Loss is Computed
The Nathan figure shows on one hand the "aggregate value of all commodities produced, and services rendered" in the 1929-1934 years; and on the other hand the "compensation, paid out to, or received by individuals for their productive services, whether labor, management, or the furnishing of capital."

Normally the first figure is higher than the second. It represents business and agricultural "earnings." But in the years under discussion, the national economy was run at a loss. By 1934 the loss was, approximately, $1,000,000,000 in 1929; $8,120,000,000 in 1931; $8,817,000,000 in 1932; $8,041,000,000 in 1933; and $1,628,000,000 in 1934.

Mr. Nathan reaches the hopeful finding that business losses declined by nearly 50 per cent from 1933 to 1934. Recent newspaper reports indicate that in 1935 many parts of the national economy are back in the profit class.

But the new Nathan statistics make no effort to add in the major loss of the depression, as economists see it: the loss in potential wealth-making production for five years, while factories were on part time or idle.

$180,274,000,000 Slump

According to the new Commerce Department figures, therefore, the aggregate value of goods produced in the United States fell off $180,274,000,000 in their last five years after the depression, taking 1929 as the base of potential production.

Put in another way, if the 1929 production could have been maintained, under some better form of national distribution, the nation would have been richer at the end of 1934 by value of manufactured goods, farm goods and services, represented in the above almost unimaginable figure. The loss of those potential goods is quite apart from the "business" losses of $26,600,000,000.

It is an astronomical figure like the foregoing which conservative economists, like Dr. Harold G. Moulton, head of the Brookings Institution, point to as the penalty America pays for not finding a means for a better distribution among the masses of the goods which American factories could easily produce.

Russia Bounded Ahead

While American output was dropping to what Dr. Moulton estimates at 50 per cent of capacity for the five years, Russian output, according to Stuart Chase's "Government in Business," was bounding ahead. Russian production increased 250 per cent between 1929 and 1934, Chase estimates; and he adds, "Russian industry since 1926 has been compounding at the incredible rate of 20 per cent per annum." Russia today is the third largest industrial nation, he estimates.

Dr. Moulton and other economists believe capitalism in America can do what Communism is doing in Russia, if economics of abundance could only be substituted for economics of scarcity; and particularly, if the advantages of technical progress were immediately passed on to consumers in lowered prices.

Finds Pegged Prices

Instead of that, Dr. Moulton finds, prices are artificially maintained, and profits which should go to consumers to maintain buying power, clog up in the hands of the few.

"Out of $15,000,000,000 of individual savings in 1929," he says, "as much as $13,000,000,000 were made by 10 per cent of the population."

"The 23 per cent of the families having incomes in excess of $10,000 contributed two-thirds of the entire savings of American families at the top of the income scale with incomes in excess of $50,000 saved almost as much as 25,000 families having incomes less than $5,000."—Christian Science Monitor.

Seven Hunters Die During Deer Hunting Season

Seven hunters dead and six injured was the casualty toll during the deer hunting season which attracted an estimated 85,000 sportsmen into Michigan's northwoods.

The number of deaths and the number of injuries exceeded those of the 1934 deer hunting season during which four hunters lost their lives and two were injured.

However, in 1934, all fatalities were the direct result of gun accidents, while during 1935, only three deer-hunters died as the result of gun wounds; two expiring in the woods from heart attacks and one from drowning.

Of the six hunters injured this year, two were hurt so seriously by rifle bullets as to face the possibility of losing a leg.

WORK CAMP TO FURNISH LABOR FOR TRANSIENTS

State WPA Administrator Approves $75,000 for Building and Operation at Camp Custer.

State WPA Administrator Harry L. Pierson has approved an allotment of $75,000 for building and operation of a 250-man work camp at Camp Custer, Battle Creek. Requisitions for material are already in the hands of the procurement division and construction will be under way within two weeks. This is one of the camp projects designed to provide work for un-tached men from state transient shelters, and it part of the government's plan to liquidate the Federal transient program. The various state shelters already have been canvassed and selection of men for the camp on a basis of their qualifications is under way.

The wooden camp buildings will be of semi-permanent construction. There will be five dormitories, 20 by 120 feet, each housing 51 men. Convenient to the dormitories will be a laundry and sanitation building, where the men will do their own washing and look after their clothing.

An administration building, recreation building, kitchen and mess hall, supply shed, garage and shop and an infirmary will complete the group, constituting a small village in itself. Until the camp is ready the men will live at the Kalamazoo shelter and will be transported to and from work in trucks.

When the camp is completed 87 men will be assigned to the permanent camp maintenance crew. The remaining 213 will be engaged in reforestation work and on other projects involving permanent improvements to the reservation. The project is formally sponsored by the Battle Creek public works commission.

Where the Bard Played

Although all the Shakespearean theaters are gone, visitors in London are still shown the Hall of the Middle Temple, which was built in 1572 and has the finest Elizabethan roof in the city. In this hall "Twelfth Night" was given February 22, 1602, and it is commonly stated that Shakespeare was one of the actors in that play.

PRECISION DRIVING

Perhaps the easiest way to convey some idea of what "precision driving" is, would be to quote some examination questions for those who are taking "precision driving" instruction. These questions also are very much condensed.

Question—"A 90-degree corner, road gravelly, what would you consider safe speed in turning the corner?"

How many people know? It is obvious that many do not know because many accidents occur from lack of this information. Drivers don't crash in turning a gravelly corner just for fun. They don't do it because they want to do it. They do it because they don't know any better.

Question—"This morning you became angry at your business partner. How much did this slow up your mental reactions. How many feet of roadway should you allow for your slower thinking to avoid a crash at a road intersection?"

How many know the answer to this question? Yet this is a common cause of accidents on the highways.

Question—"You have seen at intervals on the roads of Michigan, a painted yellow line paralleling the middle black line. How much reduction in the death rate in Michigan is this responsible for during the first ten months of 1935? What is the purpose of the yellow line?"

How many know the answer to this question? Accidents occur day after day to drivers because they do not know this answer.

Question—"What are the various ways of causing a car to skid?"

The average driver thinks of wet pavement, ice, wet leaves on the pavement, etc., but there are many other ways to skid which the average experienced driver does not know until one day his car turns over into the ditch and he wonders how it happened. It happened because there were some things about skidding which he did not know.

Question—"What proportion of automobile drivers have blind spots?"

What is the recommendation for drivers who have blind spots? For other forms of defective vision, color blindness, etc.?"

One driver drove for years without knowing that under certain light conditions he could not tell the green from the red at a stop light. He had to pay fines for passing red lights and discovered his partial color blindness only after he had killed a boy and his lawyer insisted upon having his eyes tested.

These few questions should make it clear that there is a great field of knowledge about safe driving that never has been probed. The careful driver who does not know what to do in emergencies is often more dangerous than the careless driver.

What place is more suitable for giving safe driving instruction than the public and high schools? What study is more important than safe driving of automobiles? Many persons now believe that the study of "precision driving" in the schools and a course in "precision driving" as a part of the penalty for breaking traffic laws would do much in two or three years toward lessening traffic accidents.

The obvious facts are:
(1) It is obvious that no one wants to have accidents. Even the driver who passes a load of hay on a curve says "Oh, piffle, there is no danger. If you are so nervous get out and walk." He doesn't desire an accident, he is merely ignorant. He needs instruction.

(2) In spite of all that has been done, accidents increase in number so it is apparent that something else should be tried. Some of the things that have been tried (four-lane roads for instance) have increased accidents instead of decreasing them according to traffic experts.

(3) If you subtract unsafe driving from safe driving, the difference is knowledge, skill,—"precision driving."

HIGH SPEEDS
It is common to condemn high speeds, but many traffic experts agree that there is no practical of lessening speeds. They predict that speeds will increase rather than decrease, so there are apparently three courses of action open for the automobilist of the future, stay off the roads, drive and run the risks of automobile travel or learn to drive an automobile just as a locomotive engineer learns to run his engine or the electrical engineer his lighting equipment. It is predicted that "precision driving" soon will be taught in many of our schools.

No Cutting of Christmas Trees On State Land

The cutting of Christmas trees on state forest areas and other state-owned lands is not permitted by the Department of Conservation although numerous requests are received each year for permission to remove trees for use or sale.

The policy of the Department of Conservation for many years has been against the cutting of trees on state lands for Christmas tree purposes.

Individuals who cut young spruce, balsam, pine or cedar trees on lands held by the state may be charged with trespass and subjected to prosecution.

Rabbit Hunting

Banned After

January First

Cottontail and snowshoe rabbit hunters in the southern half of Michigan's lower peninsula have little more than two weeks left in which to do their hunting.

The open season is shorter in the lower half of the southern peninsula this year, due to a change in hunting regulations by the State Conservation commission.

Under present regulations all counties south of Townline 16, including all of Huron county, are closed to rabbit hunting after Jan. 1. Townline 16 crosses the lower peninsula at a point north of Pentwater from Lake Michigan to Saginaw bay. It is the south line of Mason, Lake, Osceola, Clare and Gladwin counties.

In all the rest of Michigan north of Townline 16, the rabbit-hunting season remains open to and including January 31.

To summarize, the regulations provide the following: A longer open season on rabbits in that portion of the state which has both snowshoe and cottontails and where the supply is relatively limited.

Device Finds Fish Schools

Large schools of commercial fish can be located through an echosounding device, first used on ships to make continuous records of the bottom depth of the ocean. The apparatus, located on the research vessel Johan Hjort, disclosed large schools of codfish, spawning in mid-water, paying no attention to bottom but maintaining a position of a uniform depth from the surface.

Michigan Trunkline Mileage 9,458 Miles

Michigan's trunkline highway system has multiplied more than 9,000 times in the last thirty years.

The latest compilation of trunkline mileage announced by state Highway Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner, reveals there were 9,458,212 miles of highway in the state as of November 1st. The first trunkline of road ever built in Michigan was one mile of 9-foot gravel at Cass City in 1905.

Four years after the construction of the first trunkline road came the first concrete pavement in Michigan. In 1909 the state highway department built one mile of 18-foot pavement on Woodward avenue in the city of Detroit between the Six and Seven Mile roads.

Wreckers Demolishing
Several Plants
At Studebakers

We have curiously watched the gang of workmen tear down some of the Studebaker plant buildings. These men certainly "go" to their jobs like they know what its all about. It is really surprising how quick and efficiently these men work, yet withal salvage the lumber, brick, etc., leaving it almost as good as new. The Woodmere Wrecking Co. is tearing down 44 of the buildings and selling the timber, sash, brick and other materials at extremely low prices.

There are many former Buchanan people now members of the "foreign legion" living away from the old home town but still having many ties of affection and interest for whom a subscription to the Record would be an ideal Christmas present. It will be a present which will have a constant value and use throughout the year. Perhaps you don't know their size in gloves or their taste in cigars or perfume or neckties—in that event, why not play safe and give them the Record? Advt.

Immense Sum Invested in Mich. Highway System

More than $274,000,000 has been invested in Michigan's trunkline highway system during the last 16 years.

This figure was determined from a study of highway receipts and disbursements since January 1, 1920, announced today by Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner. This money has been derived from Federal appropriations and the state gasoline and weight taxes. Total revenues from all these sources have been $426,928,855.71. The difference of approximately $152,000,000 between this figure and the amount spent on state trunkline highways represents the amount returned to the counties from weight and gas tax receipts by the state highway department. The Federal government has provided funds for highway construction in Michigan to the extent of more than $56,000,000. State participation over this period totals $218,000,000. Federal grants have been in the form of Federal Aid and Work Relief grants. Of the total amount granted to this state by the Federal government, more than $16,000,000 has been received during the last two fiscal years. While Federal appropriations in the last two years have been larger, state funds for new construction have been notably lacking. According to the study, only a few years ago, state funds to the extent of $25,000,000 were not unusual. In each of the last two years state funds have been limited to approximately $3,000,000.

In this connection Commissioner Van Wagoner pointed out that more than one-third of the total amount returned to the counties from the gasoline and weight taxes since 1920 had been turned over in the last three years.

AT THE THEATRE

Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler are again co-starred in the new Cosmopolitan drama "with music," "Shipmates Forever," which opens at the Hollywood theatre Sunday for three days.

The famous screen lovers who made their first hit in "42nd Street," following it with "Gold Diggers of 1933," "Flirtation Walk" and other screen successes, appear in their most pretentious picture in "Shipmates Forever," a thrilling drama of midshipman life at the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Dick sings a number of catchy songs which fall naturally into the plot, he being a crooner at a New York park casino before becoming a naval cadet. Miss Keeler, who plays the part of an orphaned daughter of a naval officer, compelled to earn her living dancing in a night club, gives an exhibition of fancy tap dancing with the famous Meglin Kiddies.

There is a talented supporting cast in the picture, which is a Warner Bros. release, including Lewis Stone, Ross Alexander, Richard (Dick) Foran, Eddie Acuff, John Arledge, Joseph Crehan, Robert Light, Martha Merrill and Mary Green.

Special songs were written for the production by the famous team of Warren and Dubin. Frank Borzage directed it from the screen play by Delmer Daves.

In "Accent on Youth," which comes Wednesday, and Thursday to the Hollywood theatre, Paramount brings the comedy hit of the current Broadway season to the screen.

A witty and sophisticated comedy of New York life, "Accent on Youth" deals with the situation of a middle-aged playwright who finds himself madly in love with a girl yet suspects that she loves a younger man.

Sylvia Sydney and Herbert Marshall are co-starred in the leading roles of the picture. Marshall has conscientious qualms about his love for Miss Sydney.

Because Marshall fails to respond to her love, Miss Sydney encourages the suit of young Phillip Reed. Before either realizes what has happened, Miss Sydney and Reed are married.

From this point on, the comedy complications develop, until in an uproarious final sequence Miss Sydney leaves Reed and returns to the man she loves.

Wesley Ruggles directed "Accent on Youth." In the supporting cast are Astrid Allwyn, Ernest Cossart, who created the butler role on Broadway, and Holmes Herbert.

Bing Crosby, who has entertained millions with his singing, has at last realized a secret ambition to be a tap dancer.

In his latest Paramount picture, "Two for Tonight," featuring Joan Bennett, Mary Boland and Lynne Overman, coming Friday and Saturday to the Hollywood Theatre, Bing is given a chance to do a short tap routine. Although it is strictly a comedy routine, supposedly Bing's idea of what a troupe of chorus girls should look like in action, the singer has danced and is content.

"Two for Tonight" is a gay, romantic comedy, with music, in

Pet Bulldog Turns on Gas; Asphyxiated

Murphysboro, Ill.—Cupple, a pet bulldog of E. L. Chapman, committed suicide by taking gas here recently.

The dog, left alone in the Chapman home, apparently turned on the gas jet. When Chapman returned home he found his dog unconscious and the house filled with fumes. He called the fire department and the fire crew.

Firemen worked over the animal for an hour in an unsuccessful effort to revive it.

LIGHTHOUSE FAMILY HAS UNIQUE RECORD

Members Boast of Saving More Than 50 Lives.

Dover, Del.—Capt. and Mrs. Irvin Lynch head a family of lighthouse keepers in this vicinity.

They have been in the United States lighthouse service for thirty years. Two of their sons have lighthouses and one of their daughters married a lighthouse keeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynch have saved more than fifty lives since they assumed responsibility for the Fourteen-Foot Light, seven miles east of here. They have raised nine children and fourteen grandchildren.

"The work is hard, but it is the finest in the world," Mrs. Lynch, the captain's first assistant, told interviewers.

"We have had troubles, and lots of them. But we mostly remember the pleasant things. For example, we have splendid crabbing, swimming and fishing. Any day we want to either the captain or I can go to the end of the pier and get enough fish for dinner.

"It is a clean, healthful life, always in the open. Neither my husband nor I have ever been really sick. We're both strong and happy. We live by one motto, 'Trust the Lord and help others.'"

Mrs. Lynch described their worst experience with the ocean.

"It was on a blustery day in December, 1925. Snow and hail were beating down on us as my husband and I tried to get back to the lighthouse in a small boat.

"We started to drift out to sea. The captain decided to throw the anchor overboard. He flung it over the bow, and then fell in himself.

"I pulled hard, and managed to get him back into the boat. We had a desperate time reaching home, but finally made it.

"We evened the score, however, because I fell in on another occasion and he pulled me out. But that time we were forced to walk through three miles of swamp, and when we got home they chipped the ice off me."

SPRINTS GIVE REPTILE NEW INTEREST IN LIFE

Pasadena, Calif.—A snake that can get itself run over by an automobile, have its vertebrae set and 12 stitches taken in its hide, and then contentedly eat away at a stack of hamburger, is the kind of a snake Pasadenaans are talking about.

The reptile, a 4-foot gopher snake, was brought to Dr. D. F. Wyatt, a veterinarian, by a motorist who had run over it in the street. Wyatt went to work, setting the vertebrae. He took 12 stitches to close a bad gash. Splints were next applied.

Satisfied with the operation, Wyatt placed a tray of hamburger in front of the snake which, without a moment's hesitation, started gulping it down. Within a month, the snake will be as good as ever, the veterinarian said.

TEXAS JACKRABBIT RUNS GREYHOUNDS TO DEATH

Arlington, Texas.—A lone Texas jackrabbit escaped death in the jaws of five sleek thoroughbred greyhounds by a few seconds during a recent chase held here.

The greyhounds, owned by Rex Smith, George Scogins and Tom Moore, all of Abilene, were released to pursue the rabbit in a chase that ended just when it looked as though the rabbit was a loser.

Two hours after the race started the pursuers dropped dead in their tracks, their noses only a few feet from the zigzagging rabbit.

Officials said the dogs died from effects of the extreme heat and high relative humidity which prevailed during the race.

THREE-BODIED LAMB WITH ONLY ONE HEAD IS BORN

Norwalk, Ohio.—A three-bodied eight-legged lamb, born on the farm of Loren Griffin near here, is making townspeople who have seen it believe they're carrying a hoax.

Despite its multiple bodies, the animal has only one head. The juncture of the bodies is in the center, with the other parts radiating out in the form of a cart wheel.

Good health is an essential element of human welfare, but over and above a certain low point good health does not necessarily, or even normally, increase with increases of private income or wealth.

Plans have been made to give pupils who had diphtheria shots their Schick tests. On this list are those treated this year in September and also those who were given toxoid last spring, also some who were cared for in previous years but were absent when the Schick test was given. The purpose of the Schick test is to find out if the child has been made immune to diphtheria. In about five cases out of one hundred it is necessary to repeat the treatment. In all there will be 839 in the last year who have taken the test.

Editorial

Now that the first snow has fallen and covers old mother earth and drapes her in a sparkling white robe, the ice skates, skis, and sleds are taken out of hibernation.

Huge flakes that don't fall from the heavens whiz swiftly through the air and fall with thuds against the intended victims.

Now fun is fun, but when it comes to some one else's expense, it is going too far. When little tots begin to show tear-stained faces from being innocent victims of this "snowball war" and some one else gets hit in the eye or otherwise injured, the good sport stops.

Many disastrous happenings have been known to result from these actions. Take precaution when snowballing and "do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

GLEE CLUB ENTERTAINS

Last Wednesday night the high school glee club sang at the Lions' club.

They sang a group of three songs which were as follows: "Venetian Love Song" by Ethelbert Meyin, "Glennina Mia" from "The Firefly" by Rudolf Friml, and "Indian Moon Song" by J. J. Gardner.

G. A. A. HOLD MEETING

Members of the G. A. A. held a meeting on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday night after school. A Christmas party was planned, but no date has been given.

Gym classes are playing volleyball and marching drills are also being given.

The gym has been reserved every Wednesday night after school for the girls to practice and organize basketball teams.

Fads of the Past

Maybe you can recall the fad of marathon dancing in 1929, this was the beginning of over exaggerated fads.

In 1930, we all remember the Tom Thum golf courses which sneaked upon the public and stole top notch honors as a prize fad.

Everyone was up a tree over the fad of tree sitting, in 1931.

1933 found everyone excited to pieces over jig saw puzzles. Some grey whiskered individuals are still trying to put in the last piece.

The hogs suffered noises in their heads in 1934 due to the fad of hog calling.

This year ends one of the largest fads ever carried on "Scratch out your name and send a dime," thus ending the episode of fads. What will be the next brain-storm idea?

Class Activities

Shop
In the manual arts division, a new band saw has been installed for their use. This machine has a three horse power motor, a thirty inch wheel and develops 900 revolutions a minute.

The general shop class is working to get their project done before the Christmas holidays as some wish to give these projects as gifts.

It is the carbon in fuel that makes heat.

SEMET-SOLVAY COKE is 90% pure carbon, therefore when you buy it you get a clean, smokeless, sootless fuel that gives you the utmost in heat value. It holds fire overnight, burns evenly for long periods and is easy to control.

IS YOUR CAR A "Sleeping Beauty?"

Phillips 66 POLYmerized Wakes up cold, drowsy motors

IF YOU wonder whether POLYmerization makes any difference in gasoline, your doubts will vanish the instant your toe touches the starter.

With Phillips 66 POLY Gas in the tank, your cold motor gets going with split-second speed. And does so every single time, regardless of the weather!

The reason? POLYmerization crams an extra supply of heat units and ultra-volatile elements into every drop of this vastly improved gasoline.

Result: Marvelously quick starting... exceptionally rapid warm-up... quiet, silent action... added pep and power... and the specific saving of more miles per gallon.

For convincing, conclusive proof that this latest scientific development in gasoline means something to your motor and your pocketbook, try just one tankful of the new, high-test Phillips 66 plus POLYmerization. It costs nothing extra.
