

ASK BAN ON BATHING IN ST. JOSEPH

Farmers Co-operative to Hold Annual Meeting Thursday, Jan. 23

Declare River Health Menace

Now Here's the Proposition

If you can listen to three women chatter... And make required responses to their patter...

If you will just maintain your blond resistance... If you can keep a hotcha date at heel...

If you can drive at rates somewhere near proper... If you look back when backing from the curb...

If you can't last... There's been a sort of uneasy feeling about town the past two weeks as though something heavy might be hanging over our head...

You know (or you're blind if you don't) that Bert Bouws is Holland Dutch and was reared up in Holland and used to wear wooden shoes when he was a kid...

A doctor or a lawyer—in short really doesn't have any more dignity than anybody else, but people expect some appearance of dignity at least...

Blind Aided by Free Reading from Public Libraries, and Lions Clubs

Del Jordan Gets Books by Free Postal Service From Chicago Library.

Activities of the Lions clubs and other agencies have greatly ameliorated the lot of the blind by making reading material in Braille accessible at no cost, according to Del Jordan, who borrows books in blind lithography from the libraries of the Saginaw Employment Institute of the Blind and from the large collection in Braille kept by the Chicago public library.

Jordan also gets a religious magazine in Braille and occasionally gets a Braille magazine issued by the Lions Internationale.

While studying Braille Jordan learned to write it. A Braille typewriter is used, with six keys, which transcribe the dots on a copper plate. A rubber pad is placed over this copper plate, then a sheet of paper and another rubber pad and the combination is run through a press transcribing the Braille from the copper plate to the paper.

Force Improving Bear Cave Park

F. C. Hess, South Bend man, who is associated with H. B. Overmeyer of that city in the development of Bear Cave park as a resort was a visitor in Buchanan Saturday while on his way to the park where he was engaged in building a bridge over the small creek with the aid of two helpers.

Hess said that he was making 200 arrows to post on all highways in the district to direct people to Bear Cave. The arrows are made of wood painted ivory and upped and lettered in black.

Hess stated that they expected to start work this week erecting a scaffold to screen off the falls and cave, for the purpose of illuminating them with colored lights.

H. Merrill Begins Series of Articles on Old-Time Buchanan

Kalamazoo Gazette Humorist to Comment on Bygone Era 1880-1900.

By Harrison Merrill In selection the title "Along McCoy's Crick" for this article and the others which are to follow—with your editor's permission—the writer believes he has stumbled onto a most satisfactory, if not inspired, choice.

The old Crick, it will be recalled, does a lot of twisting and roaming around, meantime covering a lot of ground, in an effort to get some place. That undoubtedly is what will happen to this narrative which has to do with Buchanan prior to 1900.

It certainly is no easy matter to look back on the history of a place after 35 years, or a distance of 60 miles, and not fear that one's perspective may have become more or less warped.

This article and the others to follow—are written STC—or Subject to Correction—and the readers, if there be such, are urged to supply any information which may enable the writer to more correctly set forth one of the most interesting periods in the history of what is now the City of Buchanan.

The word "Crick" is used with apologies! Those who resided along the banks of the little stream up to and including 1900 never heard it called anything but a "crick."

Had any one in the old days attempted to use the new fangled word "creek" said party would have immediately been ostracized and while in that condition abruptly tossed off the front porches of the better homes. So far as this writer is concerned it is still McCoy's "Crick" and will remain so until the end.

In the old days a small boy came in very close and intimate touch with the Crick while swimming in the head-gates back of the school house. At that time there were two school bells, a first and second, probably five minutes apart, which called the children back to the grades at the noon hour.

At the first tap of the first bell the young boys submerged in the waters at the head-gates would flounder out of the water, grab their belongings which, in those days, consisted of a small straw hat in which reposed a little waft and a pair of small pants and wade off in the general direction of the school house.

The trick of course, was to change from the birthday suit to the apparel while on the wing up the hill. This could be done with practice and many youngsters were able to reach their desks with their hair wet and stringy, their eyes red and bloodshot, and their feet muddy and cluttered with bloodsuckers, before the past peel of the final bell.

Some of those whom the writer recalls as being most unusually proficient in this daily race to secure a higher education were Mickey Murphy, Headless Bunker, Slick Carr, Billie Miller, George and Joey Richards, Tobey Helmick, Sam and George Bunker, Leo Barnum, Hub and Looie Koontz, Billie Koons, Art and Walt Stone, Clint Crandall, Ted Rouse and Glenn Smith.

Others who went in bathing were Bert Harding, Jim and Herb Haover, "Muley" Bristol and "Toad" Charlowood.

Often there was a delay in the boys getting under way as the bell tolled its summons and it was found that a hard knot had been tied by some soul-less scoundrel in the sleeves of the little waists and the cry of "pick dried codfish, chaw a raw beef" ascended from the shore to high heaven.

In such a dilemma there was but three things to do; untie the knot, if such a thing was possible; cut out the sleeve and tuck it in one's pocket, or else toss the garment away altogether. None of these, of course, made for speed and the latter two were apt to cause trouble at home.

The reason the school house was built at the rim of the village was not to be near the crick, however,

Lorenzo P. Alexander, then president of the school board had insisted on it, it seems. He figured that people going through on the Michigan Central train would gaze out of the car windows and then turn to each other and say, "this must be quite a town, I see they have a school house here."

Whether any of the passengers ever made this remark, the writer, of course, has no way of knowing. He does know what the little boys used to say as they waded through the snow up to their crotch on their way to school with the wind sweeping across the vacant lots in all its stinging fury.

Buchanan Trims Cassopolis 34-18

Buchanan Seconds Score Win of 20-17 over Reserves.

Buchanan's revamped, determined to win Bucks, turned in a victory last Tuesday evening over the Cass Rangers by a score of 34-18 on the Bucks home floor.

The Buchanan varsity minus the services of five seniors, who broke training rules, and plus two freshmen, Leiter and Simpson, finally broke into the victory column. Coach Miller used only five men, Leiter, Jesse, Smith, Luke and Virgil, until in the last minute of play he substituted Simpson for Leiter. Coach Knight, formerly of Buchanan, used only five players throughout the whole contest for Cassopolis.

The Bucks started off at the beginning of the gun and piled up a lead that the Rangers were unable to overtake. The Bucks were led in scoring by Luke and Virgil with 10 and 14 points respectively, the point getter for Cass was Harmon, who collected ten points for the losers.

The Bucks revamped and pepped up displayed some fight characteristic of the teams of years gone by. The Bucks have now gained full confidence in themselves and will give a good account of themselves the rest of the season.

The Bucks seconds turned in their third victory in 6 starts over the Rangers reserves in a curtain-raiser by a score of 20-17. In the last quarter the Bucks were leading 17-11, then four seniors were substituted, the Cass boys then turned on the pressure and moved up to within 3 points of the Bucks, the final horn ended another rally.

Donley led the winners in closing with four field goals and Closson garnered 3 fielders and 2 charity tosses.

Postoffice Receipts Up 10 Pct in 1935

An increase of better than 10% in the business of the local postoffice during the past year is reported by Postmaster A. G. Haslett.

The postal business compares with the sale of food products in stability, reflecting less change than other lines, and the 10% increase is an indication of the strong improvement in general conditions.

Table with 2 columns: Year (1935, 1934) and 4 quarters (1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th) showing postal receipts.

Rol Black Writes of the Swimming Hole on Old St. Joseph 70 Years Ago

When the Outdoor Nautatorium was Opposite Mouth McCoy's Creek.

Tonight, sitting alone in the mellow light of a Florida winter moon, while the fronds of the palms rustle in the soft breeze from the South Atlantic, and time has paused in its flight to make me a boy again, just for tonight, and I wonder—wonder how many are left in Buchanan who shared with me the delights of the old swimming hole, the swimming hole of my boyhood days. I do not mean the swimming hole at the head-gates back of the school, nor the one in the Bainton mill pond, when its waters turned the old overshot water wheel that caused the machinery to hum in old Fort Sumpster that was operated by C. S. and H. S. Black, but the swimming hole on the bank of the Old St. Joe.

Of the old gang, I can think of but one now a resident of Buchanan, and that one remembers, I think, the meaning of the mystic sign, of the uplifted hand, with two fingers spread in the form of a V. How quickly the crowd formed and with a glad shout a race was started for the river.

In those days a white pine plank sidewalk ran as far as the Bainton property on River street. The street was not paved but it had a beautiful layer of nice soft dust to kick into a cloud as we raced along. There was a worn foot path on one side of the road with the June grass growing knee high on either side.

An occasional bull thistle reached out and scratched our bare legs admonishing us to step lively, and we did. Arriving at the bridge we had sense enough to know it was not good to go into the water while we were so warm, so we halted on the bridge to cool off in the breeze that was there.

The bridge in those days was a wooden structure on wooden pil-

Knight Noted in Believe It or Not

The Ripley "Believe It Or Not" feature carried in dailies Friday publicized the feat of Jack Knight, noted flier and son of Mrs. Emma Knight of this city, in flying 1,500,000 miles without an accident. Knight now flies between Chicago and Omaha carrying the mail. His feat in covering a double shift from Salt Lake City to Chicago in the first air mail trip has received wide publicity.

Maryellen Pierce Hurt in Coasting

Maryellen Pierce, 4 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pierce, incurred a double skull fracture Friday, when unknown to her family, she secured her sled and slid down the steep grade on Chicago street between Berrien and Portage streets, striking a tree on the east side of Portage.

The little girl had secured permission from her mother to go to the McGowan store for a penny's worth of candy, but the mother did not know she had taken the sled. The older children had been using this dangerous grade for a coasting place. The little girl was found lying unconscious by the sled by Mrs. Thomas Evans. An x-ray the following day revealed the skull fracture. She is in a critical condition yet but is progressing satisfactorily.

ing, with long ice breakers pointing up-stream. There was no dam in the river then. The water was clear and we could see the fish and sturgeon as they worked their way upstream.

Having cooled off we crossed over and half way down the bank was a spring of pure cold water, the sweetest water in the world to our thirsty throats.

Then following a narrow pathway up the river to a point opposite the mouth of McCoy's Creek to the swimming hole. As we drew near the woods rang with the shout of "The last one in is a nigger." But seldom was there a nigger for clothes were shed on the run and with a mighty splash we all were in. No bathing suits or pieces of one were in vogue those days.

The swimming was below a bank that rose about five feet above the water, originally covered with vegetation, but worn to the soft sand by the tramp of bare feet. About fifty feet of this bank was free of trees but at the upper end a sycamore leaned out over the water, followed by soft maples and elms that trailed their branches in the stream. At the lower end more maples and elms and back of all the wood spread to, and up and over the bluff. An old hollow tree afforded shelter for our clothes when it rained. Up the river at the bend was a gravel bar that lifted out of the water in mid-stream in summer time. On the opposite bank was another bar formed by a wash. At the upper end of this bar was another spring. Here we skipped stones until time to go home. Then taking another drink we swam down and across, back to the bathing beach. Then the dressing took place, while some unfortunate was splattered with mud only to be splattered again and again, while the little savages and devils grinned and laughed. Finally the unfortunate was finally (Continued on page 4)

Stream Control Commission Appeals to State Board Health.

The Michigan Stream Control Commission has authorized the state attorney general to institute proceedings against Indiana cities which it holds responsible for the beginning of industrial pollution of the St. Joseph river; when sewage disposal projects are secured there expects to extend its pressure against points of pollution on the Michigan side, according to a letter received from the commission yesterday.

The letter was a copy of one written to R. G. Davis, who has maintained a boys camp on Pottawatomie Island for several years. The letter stated that counts for bacteria and for "coli index" or infection tending to intestinal disturbances had been made during the past summer near Camp Waters. During the day the coli index count per 1 cc sample of water ran regularly at about 10,000, reflecting larger amounts of sewage during the day, and shrinkage to a count of 1,000 at night and early morning. The bacterial count ran as high as 258,000. The letter states:

A greatly reduced bacterial count and an average B. Coli index of not to exceed 1,000 accompanied by the knowledge that upper river sources of pollution are under control, will be necessary to certify this water to the State Commissioner of Health as satisfactory for bathing purposes.

Needless to say, the results of the above tests show the presence of extremely detrimental pollution, inasmuch as Black Hawk Camp some two miles below is already closed as the result of an epidemic condition experienced by bathers during 1934, and inasmuch as the degree of pollution as indicated by similar tests running both below and above you for several miles, indicate the existence of similar or even more seriously polluted conditions, we will submit our findings to the State Commissioner of Health with the recommendation that the use of this entire frontage be condemned for public bathing until such time as the water is cleaned of upstream sources of pollution.

We take no satisfaction, I can assure you, in announcing the results of these findings, but in view of the state's duty to its annual visitors, such conditions cannot go unnoticed, whereby in doing so, the likelihood of future serious outbreaks, or water-borne disease might result.

The Commission has authorized the Attorney General of this State to institute suit against the Indiana cities which start this detrimental pollution. As their sewage disposal projects get underway we expect them to be followed by similar works by the Michigan municipalities between your camp and the Indiana state line.

One doctor at St. Joseph has told us that swimmers using the river anywhere between St. Joseph and the Indiana state line have been subject to and often have contracted various types of dermatitis.

Regretting again the necessity of giving you this rather discouraging report, but hoping that it may lead within a few years to greatly improved conditions, I am about asking his advice? Or would you smack the old girl one yourself? It's really a question.

R. G. VanDeusen, well known Lions club baritone, got a part of a roll of paper at the Record last week, stating that he had to get something to cover the tables for three parties he had lined up. His new home ought to be pretty well renovated by this time.

Doc Beiste was telling us he saw several flocks of wild geese flying north out by Lake Michigan Sunday—and does that mean early spring?

Fred Heeter moved his doughnut fryndry to his new location on Front St., Saturday and Sunday. Heeter is a real good name for a baker.

Charley Pears used to run an elevator in Atchison, Kas., just up the Missouri river above St. Joe, Mizou, where Ford shot Jesse James and Eugene Field wrote "Lover's Lane, St. Joe," and while he was in the elevator, one of his regular visitors was Ed Howe, later known as the Sage of Potato Hill and long recognized as one of the outstanding editors of the country.

Lots of cross cut saws are standing idle in woodsheds these days that were singing away in the woods back in the blue days of 1932. About everybody was out cutting wood in those days. If you went to call on your lawyer, like as not there would be a sign on the door: "Cutting wood three miles north of town today." Or your doctor would have a sign: Office Hours 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays" and you would know that the rest of the time he would be out in the woods riding a cross-cut.

We've been hearing some libelous stories about the Lions club delegation that went to Constantinople a short time back taking Harley Raymond's suspenders off and auctioning them off for the benefit of the new club. A real guy like Raymond wouldn't be wearing suspenders. And if he was, how did he get along the rest of the evening?

Thieves Steal Wearing Apparel

Miss Margaret Koons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koons, who is a member of the O. K. Toots stage show had the misfortune, along with other members of the troupe, to have her Gladstone bag with her wearing apparel stolen from the luggage trunk of a car Saturday night while they were showing at the Liberty theatre in Benton Harbor.

Sheriff Chairman Duck Propagation

Sheriff Charles L. Miller of Berrien county, is hunting for mallard ducks and the legal season closed many weeks ago. Faye Warner, County Conservation Officer, heard about the Sheriff's activities and all he said was "Fine!" It all came about because the Sheriff was made chairman of the Duck Propagation Committee of the Berrien County Sportsmen's club and now he is hunting for mallard ducks—but not to shoot.

Officers of the Sportsmen's club conceived the idea of securing a number of mallards as breeding stock and raising several hundred young ducks to be placed on Berrien County lakes in the spring. This plan, they believe, will give delightful diversion to summer visitors at nearby lakes and will also provide early season shooting for local hunters. "We'll be helping to contribute some of the ducks that we shoot off each season," the Sheriff pointed out. He also added that many of these ducks would grow to maturity, migrate in the Fall and return here for the next nesting season.

This plan of propagating mallards came about after the new Federal waterfowl regulations went into effect, which prohibited the use of live decoys in hunting ducks. Hundreds of mallards were being raised in Berrien county each year for this purpose and their owners have since disposed of them or are planning to do so. Sheriff Miller is asking that anyone with mallards, who wishes to dispose of them at market prices, get in touch with him at his office in St. Joseph. He already has between 40 and 50 birds available but is

WPA Project

To Cut Slash In N. Michigan

A $275,000 slash-disposal project which will put hundreds of men to work in northern Michigan under direction of the Department of the Conservation Department, has been approved by WPA officials at Washington. Crews will go to work this month.

Slash left in heaps or scattered haphazardly in the wake of timber operations will be systematically burned on thousands of acres of land to lessen the fire hazards to timber stands and heighten the effectiveness of fire suppression.

The project covers all of the counties of the upper peninsula and the counties of Antrim, Otsego, Montmorency, Alpena, Presque Isle, Cheboygan, Emmet, Charlevoix and the northern part of Grand Traverse county in the lower peninsula.

Operations will not be confined strictly to state forests or to state-owned lands not blocked in state-administered units, but will include private lands where slash constitutes a serious hazard and menace.

LeCave Bros. Make Vegetable Doughnut

A recent issue of a Tucson (Ariz.) magazine gives an account of a vegetable doughnut made by two former local boys, Basil and Dennis LeCave, in a doughnut foundry which they have operated at Tucson for the past year. The product contains vegetable ingredients rendering it more digestible than the old-fashioned doughnut, which was made of a mixture of flour and rubber. The product is reported to be very popular among the gedunkers of Tucson, when dissolved in their morning coffee.

Potatoes and carrots are mixed with the flour to make the doughnuts. These vegetables grow so fast as the result of the endless sunshine and irrigation that they usually develop hollow centers and these holes have been of great assistance to the enterprising young Buchananites in the manufacture of the doughnuts.

MERRILL WRITES OF OLD BUCHANAN

(Continued from page 1) The days when Michigan was able to boast of a real zero-like winter each year and also in the days when children were properly clothed to withstand the attacks of Old Boreas without fear or trembling. However, there were those kindly souls who took unto themselves to see that the little girls in their leggins, fasciators and heavy clothing were not forced to battle the elements needlessly. One of these souls was Newt. Batchelor, who for years conducted a livery barn on Days Avenue.

On stormy days Newt would hitch the sorrels to the big bobsled and pick up the little girls on their way to school, leaving the boys to grumble and moan as they fought their way through the storm. This treatment, naturally did add to any affection that may have existed between the boys and girls of the esteemed 80's, a feeling which exists unto the present day, it is feared.

Among the passengers in the Batchelor bobsled this writer recalls among others, Winnie Noble, Zula Redden, Daisy Richmond, Celia Koontz, Mattie Sanders, Zella Peterquin, Lou Wynn, Minnie Church, Bertie Peck, Florence Redden, Gracie Palmer and Lulu Morris, Fess Kingery, Ada Rouch, Tricie Mansfield, Daisy Emery, Nina Hutton and Nettie Carouthers.

Mr. Alexander besides being the president of the school board for 25 years, also was postmaster for two terms from 1862 to 1866 and from 1877 to 1886. "L. P." as he was known, was a New Yorker who had located in the village along the creek in 1841. When not serving as postmaster he had filled in the time as village collector, town treasurer, town clerk, justice of the peace, supervisor and had served as State Senator (1871 to 1872) besides. One need not mention the fact that he was G. O. F., through and through, and that Buchanan was his political oyster.

Mr. Alexander for years was one of the big men of the town. He resided in the brick house, the first one on the north side when going west up the Front street hill the home was later occupied by Lon Howe.

Mr. Alexander, like most Buchananites of the time wore whiskers. He also was the father of John Alexander, who if the writer is not mistaken (STC) became a patent attorney and located in Toledo, O.

ROL S. BLACK SPINS MEMORIES

(Continued from Page 1) To go to his pile of clothes only to find some good fairy had tied them into knots, and as he worked with tooth and nail to untie them, a chorus of voices rang out in the glad refrain of "chaw dried beef and pick dried codfish."

Now all is changed. The river has become a mill pond, McCoy's creek is a sewer, the springs, sand bars and the old swimming hole are buried beneath the water. The swift white waters of the Moccasin Riffle are no more.

And I wonder how many can recall those days, and in fancy can hear again the shout of "chaw dried beef and pick dried codfish?" More than seventy years have come and gone since I first knew the Old St. Joe and upon each return fewer of the old friends are there to greet me. Soon, if I live, I will be a stranger in the old town, but as long as I retain my faculties it will be a pleasure to think of the Buchanan of my boyhood days—Viva Buchanan.

ROL S. BLACK, Coconut Grove, Fla.

Another unique feature of the program will be the "signal of welcome" which will be staged by Troop 41 of Buchanan. This demonstration will take place in an outdoor scene and will embrace all the types of signaling—they will be run simultaneously.

Eutiorial

Now is a very opportune time to discuss this matter, for exams are confronting us and not for that alone, but it will pertain to our lives later on.

Dishonesty isn't a pleasing subject to discuss, but it walks the streets every day and everywhere. It tempts those who have weak will power, it causes disgrace, humiliation and brings heart aches to parents.

During examination periods it is everyone's ambition to attain high standing, but sometimes these grades aren't obtained through admirable actions. An individual who cheats is just cheating himself and depriving himself of knowledge he may be able to use later. It is more honorable to receive a low grade by doing your best honestly, than to be given a high rating by dishonesty.

If you will consider your character, inside and out, you will see yourself as owners see you. Crime doesn't pay, and neither does dishonesty, so why try it?

VELMARIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

English 12 class will present three plays, Monday, Jan. 20th, which were written by members of the class.

Each student wrote a play. They were read in class and a vote was taken to decide which plays should be staged.

"Lullabye," written by Una Kelley, portrays the tragedy of a selfish mother who retards her children in everything they really wish to do or have.

Una Kelley takes the part of Sherry Tallan. Lewis Paul the part of Peter Tallan. Evelyn Dolph the part of Sarah Tallan, the mother, and Eleanor Miller the part of Hannah, the maid.

"The Lucky Charm," produced by Bill Habicht, has the following cast of characters: Barbara Hamilton, Mrs. Marven Dick Habicht, Mr. Marven Dick Ellis and Edward Spasek, two thieves.

Jack Sult, Police Captain. A clever trick by a woman results in the capture of the two thieves.

Hubert McClellan's play, "The Professor Speaks," is a portrayal of the absent minded professor, who has his mind on his discovery of the fourth dimension. The following is the cast of characters: Bill Gregory, Jasper Adleferdiddle, Hubert McClellan, Prof. Adleferdiddle.

Cherry Helm, Mrs. Adleferdiddle, Olive Pennell, Dora, Lne Maid, Leslie Brewster and Spencer Kohlman are the stage managers.

The plays are under the direction of Mrs. Dunbar and are open to the public at a small fee of 5c, Jan. 20, at 7 p. m.

WHY NOT?

Ever since New Years everything has gone around, and around and around, and came out here.—Where?—Where the subject Leap Year is concerned.

The subject "Leap Year" has caused many brainstorms amongst the students, especially the boys. Since no one has really gone to the bother of publishing a set of rules for Leap Year, I have bothered myself to help the cause.

The original unwritten rules are: The girls are to propose everything—any boy refusing a proposition should buy the girl a present.

Since the girls are to propose everything and will be so full of propositions why not add a few more rules? At dances let the girls ask for dances.

Let the girls figure out methods of finance and transportation for their proposed dates; and to add a little chivalry to Leap Year why not let the girls tip their hats and say, "Men and children first?"

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL. A meeting was held, Monday, Jan. 6, after school in the senior high study hall to discuss the inter-class basketball games.

Certain rules governing games are as follows:

1. Eligibility will be checked by the faculty sponsor. All players must be passing in four subjects, but an average citizenship mark of 1 may be substituted for one subject failure.

2. Each class will elect a captain who will select the first and second teams, subject to the approval of the team manager.

3. Each class will elect a team manager from the basketball squad and a faculty sponsor.

4. Three games will be played each Friday afternoon, starting at 4 o'clock sharp.

5. Each game will consist of 5 minute quarters, with one minute intervals between quarters.

6. The first two teams to play the first half of their game and then rest until the first half of the other two games are played before continuing play.

7. Each first team will meet every other team once in league play; likewise with the second teams.

8. After one round of league play, there will be drawings for placements into brackets, and an elimination tourney will be conducted to determine the first and second team champs.

9. A player may change teams once; upward not downward, that is, a man may go from the second team to the first, but not from the first to the second.

The 8th grade team is as follows: E. Hamilton, Fitch, Neal, Hanover, Topash, Burgoyne. Second team: Kill, Fairman, D. Walls, V. Walls, B. Donley, Tucker, and Gregory.

English
As a review in English Literature the students of the 11th grade English class are to make a chart that will show the connection between events from the year 449 to the 17th century.

The connection may be shown by a train, using each car to represent a period or a chain using each link to represent a period, also any other plan that they might want to use.

MOVING PICTURES
Pictures shown Wednesday, Jan. 8, included a film of Geography and Social Science, which was about the Faroe Islands, also known as the Isle of Perils and a musical film of the Street Singer who sang old songs of memories.

Memorial Service for Stephen Foster
Foster is one of America's best known composers. Nearly all of his music was inspired by his deep sympathy for the mistreated negroes.

Mr. Robinson is planning to use his best known melodies together with suitable costuming in order to create a true atmosphere of the time in which this music was written.

Dr. Waldo is preparing to give a lecture on the life of Foster in conjunction with this program. It is very fitting that this concert be given at this time since it is the 1864th anniversary of Foster's death.

VELMARIAN LIT. SOCIETY ORGANIZE JAN. PROGRAM
A program on books was organized by the Velmarian Literary Society which is to be held in the month of January.

The program read as follows: Report on books in the library, Jack Sult.

History of Printing, Leslie Brewster.

Wit and Humor in Short Stories, Bernice Buchheit.

Roll call will be answered by telling favorite books and why.

OPINIONS OF LEAP YEAR
Louise Howe, "Leap year might mean getting a good boy friend."

Lewis Paul, "I haven't noticed any difference yet."

Margaret Furner, "I don't think anything about it."

Bill Habicht, "I have nothing for the press."

John Hattenbach, "I don't think it's a good idea, because the girls will take advantage of us."

Barbara Hamilton, "The boys have nothing to worry about!"

Ruth Babcock, "It's just another year to me."

Una Kelley, "I don't like it; I like to be coaxed."

Dorothy Jerue, "Here's my chance!"

Carolyn Hattenbach, "It's a good chance to get even!"

Harold Jackson, "It'll be a lot of fun if the boys get together on it."

FROM SENIORS TO FRESHMEN
It seems that several of the senior boys have suddenly been lowered to mere freshmen. They now sit in the front rows rather than in the back ones in the auditorium.

Boys will be boys.

Organize Future Farmers America

The Agriculture club met Tuesday evening, Jan. 7, to change the Agriculture Club into a F. F. A. Club, Future Farmers of America and elect officers. The Constitution was signed and the officers elected are as follows: Gilbert Collings, president; Jack Sult, vice president; Laurence Bachman, secretary; Carl Ferris, treasurer and Ivan Price, reporter.

To become a regular member one must carry a farm project. Those not carrying projects may be associate members, who cannot hold offices, but may take part in the club. The club also has a basketball team which will challenge games with other schools, who have agriculture or F. F. A. clubs.

HAMMER AWAY

He's just around the corner but it's not prosperity. The semi-annual kill-joy is here, and who is he? He's the one responsible for keeping study hall sleepers awake.

Good Old Examination, how high in each one's esteem he is held. "The music goes round and round," yes, but soon somebody's head is going to be in a swirl going round and round, changing delightful music to depressing moans.

But if the students wish to have the teachers overcome by sudden intelligence, just take the hammer of learning and tacks of knowledge and see how many tacks can be embedded in your head. It might be worth trying.

Who can doubt, now, the influence of environment on people? Did you know that some mice have become so mathematically minded that in order to digest a treatise on extra curricular activities in mathematics they eat it? If you doubt it, ask Mr. Rizor or Mr. Hyink.

ARCHERY QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Question: Can I make my own bows and arrows?
Answer: Yes. Nearly all makers of bows and arrows encourage beginners to make their own. Bow staves may be had from $1.00 up and arrow dowels 5c up from makers of archery tackle.

Question: What does archery do for a person?
Answer: This is rather a broad question. Of course it provides exercise and develops the muscles. Archery may be indulged in by young and old, by weak and strong for bows may be had with 10 pound to 100 pound pull. Probably one of the chief benefits it psychological, for archery, more than any other sport develops poise and self control.

Question: How can I learn to use a bow and arrow?
Answer: You can learn by yourself by studying books that may be purchased costing from 50c to $2.00. Most expert archers are self-taught. Or you can take lessons from a teacher. Archery recently has been taken up by many colleges and universities where teachers are provided.

Question: Is archery a popular sport?
Answer: Archery is not as popular as many other sports but it is increasing in popularity very rapidly.

Question: How do you know how much to elevate a bow in shooting long distances?
Answer: By practice and experience. No two bows or two archers are alike. The amount of elevation depends upon the archer and the bow.

Berrien County News Review

The quality of construction of the federal postoffice building to be erected at St. Joseph at a total outlay of $130,000 may be affected by the unexpected cost of the site, according to information from Washington, D. C.

The site which has been selected will cost $35,000, as compared with an original estimate of $25,000 for the site and $105,000 for the building. Since the appropriation cannot be increased, the alternative is to reduce the construction cost to $95,000. The building is to be one story brick and cement, with quarters in the basement for the Department of Agriculture, Civil Service and Internal Revenue.

Contract for the construction of the gymnasium addition to the Three Oaks school building was let last week to H. B. Culbertson of Detroit, low bidder at $32,389.

The district office of National Re-Employment Service of the Department of Labor was transferred last week from St. Joseph to Kalamazoo.

3 Oaks Defeats Maroons 30-20

Reserves Turn Tables On Acorns by Narrow Margin.

Buchanan's basketball squad absorbed a 30-20 defeat at the hands of Three Oaks, County Class "C" champs, on the Acorns home hardwood last Friday evening.

The Acorns piled up a lead of 19 points in the first three quarters and as the final canto started it seemed as if they were going to build up a still greater lead. The Bucks then opened a rally that netted them 12 points, meanwhile limiting the Acorns to 3 tallies.

The Bucks' regular five could not find the bucket during the first three cantos. They also had trouble controlling the ball. Finally Coach Miller removed all the regulars except Virgil and the substitute combination perked up and started to play ball. They thoroughly outscored and out-classed their opponents in the quarter in which they played.

W. Drier and E. Drier, Three Oaks, gathered 12 points apiece, W. Drier getting 6 field goals and Eddie 5 fielders and two charity tosses. Virgil and Smith of the Bucks got the lion's share of the points, Virgil getting 4 fielders and two free throws, Smith getting 3 fielders and 1 gift toss.

Three Oaks 30 17 27-30
Buchanan 20 14 8-20
Buck Reserves Turn in Win Over Acorn Seconds 17-16

In the curtain-raiser to the varsity the Bucks Reserves nosed out a scrappy cage unit representing the Three Oaks Reserves.

The game was a ding dong affair after the first quarter, at half-time the score was deadlocked 8-8, and at the beginning of the last canto was 12-11 in the Oaks favor. Both units played real basketball with the floor work of both teams showing up with great prominence.

Leiter, Buck forward and Flick, Acorn forward, led their respective teams in both floor play and scoring. Leiter collected three fielders and two charity tosses, while Flick sank 5 from the field and one from the black stripe.

Bucks and Bridgman Contest Here Jan. 17

Buchanan and Bridgman will play another game of a series dating way back when this Friday night at 7:30 C. S. T. on the Bucks home court.

Last year the boys from near the lake came to Buchanan and trounced a team of Bucks that should have won by a fair margin. This year the two schools have teams of about equal caliber. Both coaches have had to build new units from reserve material and a lack of inexperience has been shown by both units. The Bucks have been "off" and "on" at different times throughout the season. The Bucks beat Bridgman in the tournament 33-19 but the game Friday night shows promise of being much closer. A tight ball game is thought to be in the offering. It will also be the second game in the same week for the Bucks meanwhile having played Cassopolis.

The Folks in History

Holmes Tells of Trip to Michigan

Here is a bit of old-time history that may be of interest in Buchanan. My parents used to live in Clarendon, N. Y. Mother had a sister living in Oneida Mills, Carroll County, Ohio. I had the fortune to get possession of some of the letters that she wrote to her sister. They were written in 1841 and 1842, when the mail matters were handled in a different way than now. No stamps for postage were thought of until 1848 so the postmaster calculated the cost by the weight and distance. In one of these it amounted to 18 and in the other 25 pence. I cannot account for the difference unless it was in weight.

The thing we call an envelope had not yet been thought of so the letter was folded in such a way as to be held together with what was called a "blood wafer." I do not know why, excepting it was red.

In 1846 they moved to what is now Buchanan, but the post office business was done at Cottage Hill, Ind., with the same postal conditions excepting rates. One of the letters with the Cottage Hill heading and to the same place in Ohio, cost but two cents.

When they made the trip to Michigan they went over Erie canal to Buffalo, from there to Chicago by lake sailing boat, thence to St. Joseph in a different sailing boat then from St. Joseph to Buchanan by keel boat. Perhaps you may find some one there who can tell what that is. I had the good fortune to be in Chicago when one was coming down the river and learned it was a hull with a plank walk around the edge and down

168 Men Work On WPA Sewer

May Be Enlarged Later by Township Workers and 10% Non-Relief.

A force of 168 relief workers comprising 58 from Buchanan and 110 from Niles were employed on the city WPA sewer project yesterday, the force being engaged in shovel work to a depth of about five feet from the junction of Third and Portage streets, up Third, along Short to Dewey, through the alley in the rear of the Rough and Russell Sales buildings and across the city lot to the Bremer lot where the sewer will approach Front street.

Engineer W. H. Gartner representing the city stated that the force would dig on down to the projected 11-foot level on Third street as soon as sufficient steel casings were available to render the work safe. Shovel boards will be installed and the dirt relayed to the top by two forces of shovelers. The engineer stated that it had been difficult to organize the large force at the beginning but that eventually they would be spread over a wider area and divided in gangs, when better progress should be made.

E. D. Morse of Niles, engineer of Works Progress Administration for the counties of Berrien and Cass stated that eventually more might be brought in from adjacent townships. Thus far the work has been confined to employables on relief, but the contract permits the employment of 10% not on relief and this clause may be taken advantage of if it seems necessary to the proper prosecution of the work. The preliminary breaking of ground is being done by the city grader equipped with steel points. From a foot to 18 inches of frost was encountered in places.

Dewey Avenue will be left open until the pipe is installed on both sides, when connections will be made in the shortest time possible.

Engineer Gartner said that moisture conditions would determine whether it would be necessary to exhume the sanitary sewer already laid on Third street at a depth of fourteen feet. If there is too much water it will not be advisable to use the cheaper vitrified tile which the contract calls for where possible.

M. C. Passenger Traffic Grows

By reason of improved through service and bargain rates the Michigan Central has been carrying more passengers this winter than for many years past, according to local railway men.

During the recent holiday season practically all through passenger trains carried two and three sections daily for the holiday travelers and especially for the students going home and returning to school. This traffic was materially increased by snow and ice on the highways rendering automobile travel difficult and also by the fact that this year the Michigan Central offered a round trip rate of 1-1-9 fare, as compared with 1-1-3 fare last year.

However, the traffic has been larger before and after the holiday season, Trains No. 8, 15 and 17 each running extra sections this past week.

The passenger trains governed by the Central Traffic Association, governing the roads of the east and the midwest east of Chicago, have lowered their passenger tariffs to 2c and in some cases to 1 1/4c per mile, greatly increasing travel by rail. Buchanan people going by train to the west and southwest this winter, report extra coaches crowded to the limit to be the rule. In these sections the railways are winning back the through travel from the buses. In addition to reduced fares, the roads are catering to travel by cheap tourist meal service. Meals are furnished the passengers in their seats in the coaches for as low as 35c and pillows are furnished free.
