

Now Here's the Proposition

The Old Swimming Hole
News note: The stream control commission has appealed to the state board of health to close the St. Joseph river to bathing because of unsanitary conditions, including an excessive coli count.)

Oh, the old swimming hole in the river
Where the osiers were clustered in ranks
And we kids used to hover and shiver
While we shucked off our duds on the banks!
When we laved in the soft flowing billow
In the days of the dear Long Ago
We hung all our clothes on the willow
And never put anything on.
Any dame that chanced by got an eyeful
And departed in haste from the spot
With a speed like the speed of a rifle—
Or to be more exact, like a shot.
Its waters were laden with coli,
And virulent microbes no end
From the barnyard of Farmer Bill Foley
And the slaughterhouse just round the bend
Swam with us where we kids used to wallow,
(How dear, seen through memory's haze),
But alas for the germs that we swallowed
For we used to be tough in those days.
No sprouts of this soft generation
Ever visit its precincts by stealth
For it's posted with strict proclamations—
"Swimming banned by the state board of health."

Fire Destroys Poorman's Store

Building, Fixtures and Stock Entirely Consumed.

Fire which is believed to have resulted from the explosion of a distillate-burning heater in a rear room totally destroyed the Poorman grocery on River street yesterday morning, with a loss of $5,000 in stock and fixtures, in addition to the building.

The fire was discovered about 1:30 a. m. when employees of the River street plant saw a small blaze in the back room. They entered a call for the fire department and went for the owner. However, the flames progressed so rapidly that by the time the firemen arrived the entire structure was in flames. The Clark employees had broken open a side window and had rescued Poorman's files, saving all of his account records. The city fire plug was frozen by the zero weather, and the department had to connect with the Clark plug at the River street plant.

After the department had left the smoldering fire flamed up again, necessitating the return of the firemen, and the same thing happened again at 7 a. m.

Poorman stated that the stock and fixtures were partly covered by insurance. The building is owned by Hattie Turner of Bridgman. Poorman stated that he planned to erect a building of his own on River street.

City Employs Sewer Expert

D. W. Hostettler, E. St. Louis, Comes to Superintend Work.

D. W. Hostettler, a sewer installation expert of considerable experience on large undertakings, arrived Monday from East St. Louis to take charge of the local WPA installation, representing the firm of Cole, Moore & Geupel and the city.

Hostettler is well known to the engineering firm representing the city, who gave him an excellent recommendation. He was in charge of the $1,250,000 Northwest sewer in South Bend and also directed installation of a $3,000,000 twin drain installation in St. Louis, among other large projects. He has spent his entire life in sewer work. He is employed for the duration of the project.

Work was suspended Tuesday and Wednesday on account of bad weather. Installation of pipe was started on Third street Monday. The cheaper vitrified tile was found at the 11-foot level. In the cost estimates the presence of water was anticipated from Portage entirely through the business section until the higher levels were reached. The findings on Third street indicate that about 600 feet of that distance will be dry. This will permit the use of the vitrified tile, which is $4.00 per foot, as compared with $1.84 per foot for the iron tile. Iron tile is required in water, Gartner stated, as the vitrified tile, weighing about a tenth as much, is too light and is raised out of line and the joints opened by water pressure. It was the use of vitrified tile in water which caused the trouble in installation of the Portage street sewer seven years ago.

A trencher will be secured for excavation when the frost is out. This will greatly hasten the progress of the work. Last week the force was divided, most of the 110 Niles men being employed on Oak street, and the Buchanan men in the lower work on Third, Short and through the city lot and easements.

Breaire Reid Critically Hurt

Word has been received here of the auto accident in which Breaire Reid was critically injured. The accident occurred near Knox, Ind., week before last.

With him was his wife, Mrs. Marie Reid, and his nephew, Donald Ochse. The boys were repairing the motor, when a heavy truck crashed head-on into the rear of their stalled car. The front of the dash struck Reid with such force that it broke four ribs over the heart and punctured the lung. Mrs. Reid, who was sitting in the rear seat, escaped any serious injury but was badly bruised and shocked. Donald Ochse received bad cuts about the face and body bruises when he was thrown clear of the wreck and onto the ice and frozen ground.

Breaire Reid formerly lived in Buchanan and was the companion of Merton Mitchell when their boat went over the I. & M. power dam a few years ago. Mitchell was drowned, Reid escaped by swimming.

Miriam Howard Dies of Pneumonia

Miriam May Howard, 60, died at her home at 918 East Miner street, South Bend, Jan. 18, after an illness of a week, of pneumonia.

She was born June 4, 1875, at Lyddick, Ind., the daughter of Christopher and Elizabeth Johnson Price. She had lived in or near Buchanan most of her life. She married John Hagley August 20, 1893. He preceded her in death Feb. 14, 1914. She married L. C. Howard June 9, 1915. In addition to her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Lula Cogwell, Watervliet; one son, Fred Hagley, Buchanan; three sisters, Mrs. Mabel Stroup, Mrs. Myrtle Hess and Mrs. Retta Weaver, all of South Bend; by four brothers, Milford, Alfred and John Price of South Bend and David Price of LaPorte; also by five grandchildren. She was a member of the Church of the Brethren of this city, which she joined as a child. Services were held at 2 p. m. Monday from the Church of the Brethren, Rev. Edward Stump of North Liberty officiated. Burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Squire Russell Dies in Nebraska

A telegram has been received by Mrs. Ida Emerson from Claud Russell of Grand Island, Nebraska, telling of the sudden death of his father, Squire Russell, who was living at his home. He was a cousin of Mrs. Ida Emerson. The remains will be taken January 19 to Turin, Kas., for the services and burial will be at Hutchinson, Kas., in the Memorial Park cemetery by the side of his wife. Many will remember him, as he was a former resident and lived here about fifty years ago and was a frequent visitor here.

Long Distance Call Rates Down

Extension to all day Sunday of the same reduced rates which have been in effect on long distance station-to-station telephone calls after 7 o'clock each night, and the establishment of reduced rates every night and Sunday on person-to-person calls, become effective Jan. 15. These changes will mean a large annual saving to Michigan telephone users, according to H. G. Shannon, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

This additional discount in rates, which affects most calls between points on which the present station to station day rate is more than 35c, is the sixth major long distance telephone rate reduction offered by the Bell System since October 1926.

This also is the first time that discounted rates have been offered on station to station day long distance calls on Sunday and the first that discounts ever have been established for person-to-person calls for any period. A person-to-person long distance call is one on which the operator is requested to locate a particular person at the distant telephone, while a station to station call is one made to a telephone by number rather than to some person in particular. A station-to-station call requires less time for making the connection, therefore the rate is less. As an instance of the savings under the new schedule Mgr. Shannon says that the day person-to-person rate from Buchanan to Detroit heretofore has been $1.40 at all times. Now the same call can be made night and Sundays for 90c.

City Approves Lower Rate For Michigan Gas Patrons

Local Gas Ranks Highest in State in Heat Unit Contents.

A new gas rate for Buchanan which was made retroactive for readings back to Dec. 15, and which affords a substantial reduction for the majority of users was submitted by Manager Bouws of the Michigan Gas & Electric company at the special meeting of the city commission Monday night and was approved by that body.

The new rate provides for a reduction of 23% for gas in amounts exceeding 2,000 cubic feet. The company held up January billings for gas consumed Dec. 15 to Jan. 15, to give their customers the benefit of the reduction for that period. Since the company was not able to get new bills printed in time to send out for this billing, the old rate will show on the bills.

Rough Opera House Building to Be Sold at Auction Monday Morn

Was Center Buchanan Social Life for Forty Years.

The Rough Opera house building, rallying place of the social and educational life of Buchanan for forty long years from the Civil war to the early nineteen hundreds, will go under the auctioneer's hammer at 10 a. m. Monday, Jan. 27, to satisfy a mortgage claim.

For thirty years the Rough opera house building has been just another store building, the coming of the silent films marking the start of its decline. Strictly speaking, the "opry" house was the third floor of the building erected in the sixties by the firm of Collins & Weaver. The "opry house" soon succeeded Old Union Hall, in the third story over the present Allen Hardware, as the center of town. There through the seventies, the eighties and nineties came the sweet girl graduates wearing their curls and roses.

Once it was vastly admired with its lofty vaulted ceilings, its four fluted iron pillars through the center with their ornate Corinthian capitals, its oval pews, its red plush seats which sloped from the west to the stage in the center of the east side, its stage that now looks rather small but was large enough to contain on one occasion what was advertised as a 40,000 gallon iron tank, simulating the Ohio river, across which Eliza Harris leapt from ice cake to ice cake in her escape from the pursuing blood hounds.

There Elizabeth Cady Stanton lifted up her voice in defense of the rights of women, Schuyler Colfax, who was vice president under Grant, gave a lecture on Lincoln, the celebrated Tom Thumb paraded his minute form, Sojourner Truth, the aged Negress, contemporary of Washington, spoke, Bob Burdette, the famous editor of the Burlington, Ia., Hawkeye, uttered his witticisms and lesser celebrities of their day appeared.

There the churches gave their fairs to pay the pastor's salary, there in the seventies the Greenbackers staged their campaigns, there Eli Perkins, a celebrated humorist of his times, spoke, offering a six dollar chromo as a prize to any one who could sit his lecture out; there came in long succession the Irish comedies, the Negro or burnt cork minstrels, the Dutch dialect burlesques, the rube shows, the Uncle Tom Cabins, the solemn and sonorous lecturers so dear to our fathers. Through the eighties and nineties there was an average of one Uncle Tom per winter, as a rule filing the house and turning 'em away. Grandiloquent and overrated, the advance notices seem now, although they were modest beside the blubs of the film press agents of our own time.

Hot Stove Leagues Wrangle Old Theme—How Hard is a Hard Winter?

Old Blizzards Rave in Fireside Talk of Days When Binns Slept with Ink to Keep from Freezing.

Just how hard is a hard winter and are they as hard as they used to be or are we just getting softer?

Those are some of the topics that come up annually at meetings of various and sundry Hot Stove leagues, where the music is always going round and round. At present day meetings there will be some more or less older who can tell you about that winter of 1834-5—there was a winter for you! And several not so old will be able to hark back on their own account to the hard February of 1899, when for about a week it was hitting from zero to 20 below and things were really popping.

Then away back of that was the hard winter of 1864-5—hardly a man is now alive who remembers that famous day and year—but the soldiers of the Civil War had good reason to. The only person that we ever had tell in detail about it from memory was the late Mrs. Mary Barmore.

But when you simmer things down, most of the so-called hard winters turn out to be merely winters of one terrific cold snap that perhaps only lasted for a week or two but which had a memorable quality while it lasted. But in an interesting old book, "Memorials of a Half Century," by Bela Hubbard, pioneer Michigan geologist and general scientist and

The new rate ranks with the lowest in the state excepting those available in a few large industrial and natural gas producing communities. The gas furnished by the Michigan Gas & Electric company is cheaper in proportion to that of other communities in the state than the comparative readings indicate, as the gas which this company furnishes its patrons in Niles, Dowagiac and Buchanan registers 572 heat units per cubic foot as compared with the requirement of 530 units per cubic foot by the state utilities commission.

This does not represent a district reduction, but has been worked out by the local management in collaboration with the city commission. Manager Bouws states that with the new rate the ordinary working man can now afford to use the appliances formerly considered in the luxury class.

B. H. S. Wins From Bridgman Again

Bucks Conquer Bridgman 2nd Time 24-15; Reserves Win Opener 21-17.

Buchanan's revamped varsity again tasted the sweets of victory for the second time in a week, this time the victim being Bridgman, who was subdued by a score of 24-15.

Summary of scoring:

Virgil sank a long one and Luke sneaked under the basket for a dog shot making the score 8-4 in Buchanan's favor as the first period closed.

2nd quarter: Standard slipped thru the Bucks defense for a short one, Luke and Virgil sank a free throw apiece marked up against Standard. Standard dropped another short one through the mesh, Groth added a gift toss and Zick sank a short one from under the basket. Score, Buchanan, 14; Bridgman, 11.

The scoring in the third canto was limited to a free throw by Mutz for Bridgman and a field goal by Virgil. Score 16-12 in favor of Bucks.

4th quarter: Zick and Pfleger contributed a field goal and free throw respectively that constituted Bridgman's scoring in the last period. Virgil tipped one in from under the basket. Luke seeing red after being shoved a bit by one of his opponents grabbed the ball and dribbled through the whole Bridgman team for a counter. Jesse sank a fielder from way in the out court and Virgil again did fine ball bouncing and bounced one in from under the basket to end the scoring of the game.

Score 24-15 in Buchanan's favor. Leiter, a freshman, playing varsity forward in his second game, did some fine defensive work.

Sheriff Miller Talks on Crime

Explains State Prison System in Talk to Lions Club.

The population of Berrien's jails is increasing from year to year, according to Sheriff Charles Miller in a talk before the Lion's Club Wednesday evening, the silver lining being that the average age of first offenders has increased from 20 to 24 in the past six years, marking a decrease in juvenile crime.

There were 110 various crimes listed on the Berrien County court calendar in the past year, although a dozen of the more common offenses covered not less than 90% of all cases. The most frequent offense was that listed as "drunk and disorderly." The total jail population for the past three years was listed by the sheriff as follows: 1933, 1319; 1934, 1440; 1935, 1740. This increase reflects to an extent the effect of repeal. Second to the "D. & D." charge is that of "driving while drunk." It is in offenses of this nature that the increase of crime is found.

Women and minor males of Michigan convicted of crime are sent to the Detroit House of Correction. This institution is owned and administered by the city of Detroit, the state paying $1 per day for males and $1.25 for females incarcerated there. It is not a walled prison, the honor system being in force for the greater part of the inmates. Only a few "lifers" are under lock there. The House of Correction has a varied program of industries, including the raising and canning of the fruits and vegetables used, with production of an excess sold in the city.

Young men from 20 to 25 are for the most part sent to Ionia. Ionia has large-shirt and furniture factories whose operation has been materially limited by the recent law prohibiting prison labor in competition with free labor. However the Ionia prison produces shirts for the inmates.

The Jackson prison is Michigan's largest, with a capacity of 6,000 inmates. The lifers and more desperate long termers are sent to Marquette state prison, which also receives the short-term prisoners sentenced to six months or less from the Upper Peninsula. This prison has one of the largest overall factories in the world.

The Jackson prison also manufactures all the Michigan automobile and truck license plates, and all of the metal license tags used for dogs or other license purposes in Michigan.

At the conclusion Sheriff Miller displayed a collection of guns belonging to his department, including a machine gun which was taken from Burke, who in turn had taken it from the sheriff of Henry County, Illinois. Other weapons were long and short range tear gas guns, tear gas grenades, and various high-powered automatics and sawed-off rifles and shotguns.

State News

Petitions were started in circulation last week to nominate Frank Picard as Democratic candidate for governor. Picard is already known to be a candidate for a federal judgeship. He reserved his decision as to acceptance of the place at the head of the Democratic state ticket.

John S. McDonald, chairman of the state liquor control commission, announced appointment of ten investigators to supplement the enforcement work of the state police in special cases. Formerly the commission had 67 inspectors, which were disbanded at the insistence of Gov. Fitzgerald and their duties turned over to the state police.

The state liquor control commission took under consideration last week a request from the Ingham county branch of the Retail Beer and Liquor Dealers Association that an additional half hour after the 1 a. m. closing time be allowed to clear their place of patrons.

A delegation of state officials, headed by Governor Fitzgerald, left for Washington Saturday to urge federal public works administration loans for a state building program.

Auditor General John J. O'Hara arranged for the delegation to meet Congressman Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace, who will aid state officials in their efforts to raise $12,000,000 for the institutional and state office building construction project.

Accompanying O'Hara were state treasurer Theodore I. Fry, Deputy Attorney General James F. Shepherd, and George R. Thompson, state budget director.

Governor Fitzgerald will speak before the University of Michigan club in New York Thursday night and before the Women's national Republican club Friday night, traveling to Washington after his engagements.

The governor said he is especially anxious to obtain federal grants of $250,000 to supplement state money in construction of a tuberculosis sanatorium at Gaylord and $500,000 to enlarge the Ypsilanti state hospital.

Along McCoy's Crick

(By Harrison Merrill)

The writer in a previous article failed to point out one of the salient features in connection with McCoy's Crick. For years people along its shores labored under the belief that once the waters of the stream had been tasted that the desire for more of the bubbling fluid became unquenchable.

It was reasoned that no matter how far one of the natives might wander away from the little stream that sooner or later he would be unable to resist the desire to return and again partake of the sparkling water.

A majority of the citizens realizing the futility of trying to resist such a desire to return never therefore, did much, if any, wandering. Those who did get out of bounds, upon returning, were always met with the inquiry, "So you had to come back for some crick water, did you?"

Out of this superstition grew a strange custom! Little bottles of the crick water were mailed to certain people who had wandered away from the shores. The idea behind this, of course, was to provide the water so that the person who received the gift might be informed in a rather delicate way that his presence in the village was neither sought or required.

Another thing the writer neglected to say about the crick in the former article was that it is as old as the hills. Also that without said stream there would be no Buchanan today, at least, at the present site.

Had no bridges, culverts and sidewalks been built over the stream Buchanan today would be the present building for years contained the post office. We remember that the family box number was 263 and that it cost 15c every three months to obtain service. It was the custom to stand around in the office while the mail was being distributed, and once this was completed, the front window was opened, and the seed catalogs, or a letter or two, as seen through the glass as reposing in the box, was called for and delivered pronto.

The writer is not so sure but what the old time method of mail delivery, after all, was the best. It brought everybody down town several times a day and folks became much better acquainted. The system also made it much easier for the politicians.

In the corner of the block, the present one, John Portz at one time had his bake shop. Before that there was a high-class billiard hall conducted by some brothers from Benton Harbor. This did not do so well as the tables were considered too smooth and the cues were too straight for use by those who for years had spent their times in the pool room owned by Harry "Skeet" Rough in the opera house block nearby.

The writer is inclined to believe that The Record also at one time was located in the corner room. Will Waterman, the barber, the village's leading checker player, had his shop in the basement.

MOVIES

King's Love Spurs Drama of "Crusades"

One of the world's most romantic love stories, told against the background of one of the most spectacular periods in world history—that is "The Crusades." Cecil B. DeMille's motion picture epic of the conquest of the Holy Land, opens Sunday for a three day run. The cast of more than ten thousand is headed by Loretta Young and Henry Wilcoxon. With battle scenes on a scale hitherto undreamed of, with a story that combines both spectacular action and touching romance, "The Crusades" is one of the most ambitious productions ever to have come out of Hollywood.

"Two Fisted," Paramount romantic comedy featuring Roscoe Karns, Lee Tracy and Gail Patrick, which comes Friday-Saturday to the Hollywood theatre, traces the amusing adventures of two fighters who crash Park Avenue society.

The latest of Erle Stanley Gardner's best selling novels to be screened by First National, "The Case of the Lucky Legs," is the second feature on the Fri-Sat. program with Warren William again cast in the role of the famous and astute lawyer-detective Perry Mason.

Wednesday-Thursday
A human pyramid, an impersonator of Popeye, a singer with a girl tap dancer for accompanist, and an embryo Greek Houdini are among the contestants seeking glory and gold in the story about a radio amateur-hour broadcast which Paramount has made into one of the season's most entertaining screen attractions—"Millions in the Air."

Kay Francis, supported by a talented cast, in the First National production, "I Found Stella Parish." The film is based on a powerful drama by John Monk Saunders. Miss Francis has the splendid emotional role of a woman who topples from the heights of success to the depths of despair. Fighting to hide a terrible pain in her life in order to protect her six year old daughter from scandal, she is betrayed by the man she has come to love and started her on the downward path in her profession.

Local Bank Buys Sewer Bond Issue

The entire issue of $32,000 special assessment and $5,000 general obligation bonds was awarded by the city commission Monday evening to the Galien-Buchanan State bank, which was low bidder, offering to purchase the municipal obligation with an interest charge of 2½%. In all five bids were made, ranging from 2¼% to 3¼%. The city pays 5¼% for the $17,000 remaining of the old waterworks bonds, issued in 1893, and refunded in 1909, the only bonded debt of the city at the time of the sale of the present issue. The 1928 sewer bonds, now all paid, carried a rate of 5¼%. The low price offered by the local bank reflects both the state of the present money market and the excellent credit of the city.

Dependence of Senses
There may be some relation between the various senses, and in childhood such senses as touch and sight are usually developed together. They can be developed separately, as in the case of a blind person. The popular idea that blind persons acquire an increased acuteness in their other senses in compensation for the loss of their sight, is refuted in Ackermann's "Popular Fallacies." For a person who is both blind and deaf to develop the other senses is a most difficult task, as there is no natural compensation of this kind.

getting money then: a farmer got a loan of $120 on 80-acres of land. It cost him outright $200, for there was a $30 fee for placing the loan and a $50 attorney fee. The mortgage ran 2 years at 10% annually. At the end of that time the farmer could not pay it, and it was renewed for five years at 12% annually.

The only source of ready money for many farmers was the sale of ashes from burning their timber. Thousands of acres of forest were cut down and burned, the ashes being taken to the "asheries" which were common in all towns in the thirties. Here the ashes were turned into "black salts" which served as the saleratus or soda of that day. The Michigan Central railway, then owned by the state, was built only part way across Michigan. Trains were marooned in the snow for several days at a time and passengers subsisted on oysters found in express cars and tore up the seats for fires.

The winter of 1863-4 was noted for one cold wave which followed an extraordinarily mild early winter. Mrs. Barnore used to relate how she was then a girl, living with her mother and younger children in a log cabin in a small clearing in the woods south of Glendora. They were digging their potatoes during the week following Christmas, when her father, Francis Conrey, arrived home from the army, having been taken prisoner by the Confederates and exchanged. But on the last day of the year wind and rain set in from the east and northeast. In the next 24 hours the mercury dropped 60 degrees. It was -5 New Years morning and -20 that night. The storm extended as far south as Kentucky and to the Potomac, with severe suffering to soldiers in those sections.

There was another memorable cold snap in the winter of 1874-5, when the mercury hit 20 below at Detroit and continued below zero for 14 days.
But to get within the range of memory of any considerable number you must skip on up to the winter of 1884-5. That, to be exact, was the winter of one famous cold snap. It is less famous as the winter when Harry Binns slept with the ink to keep it from freezing.

Binns then had a news depot in the post office, with an ink display in the window. The display consisted of blue, black, red, purple and green ink, arranged attractively on a sort of staircase made of paste board. On Saturday, Jan. 18, the mercury hit 22 below, according to readings reported in the Record of the following week. That morning Binns came down to his stand and observed every one of his bottles leaking, the ink flowing down the pasteboard stairs in a weird color mixture. The bottles were all of the old funnel shape, and when you picked them up the bottom of the bottle and the frozen cone of ink remained stationary. A fire had been built in the postoffice melting just enough of the ink to make a brilliant color display. Binns kept his ink in his bedroom the remainder of that "snap."

The next Monday it was 22 below and Tuesday, Jan. 21, it was 30 below in Buchanan. The following Thursday (according to the Record) "the thermometer hanging on the cherry tree south of the subscription woodpile registered 12 below." The next Saturday the mercury still hung around the zero mark, but gradually rose after that.

There was a remembered cold snap in February 1899, when the following readings were noted in Buchanan: Feb. 8, -8; Feb. 9, -18; Feb. 10, -24; Feb. 11, -5; Feb. 12, -16; Feb. 13, -7; Feb. 14, -8. These readings were taken from a diary kept by the father of Jay Glover.

EDITORIAL

Stealing a glance into Father Time's date book our eyes rest on the date January 26, 1937. After the date in big bold print is written: Michigan's Centennial. Why, what does that mean? "Listen, my children, and you shall hear," Turning back the pages of history, Michigan was just over-ridden territory and covered for miles by wilderness—mystery prevailed. It was land yet unconquered by man. Ohio and Indiana, both claimed it, but this dispute was settled in 1805 by its first governor, William Hull. Towns sprung up with rapidity and the state grew fast. States previously entered into the Union, eyed this new-comer with particularly critical carelessness, and finally consented to allow it to enter the Union. Another blue star was sewed on the "flag of freedom" on January 26, 1837; the Wolverine state was no longer an orphan for it had been adopted by a large family.

We are on the brink of the 100th anniversary; for ninety-nine years ago Jan. 26, our own home state, Michigan, was made a part of the United States of America.

Juniors Display

English Posters

Drawing to an end the first semester's study of English Literature (419-1475), Mrs. Dunbar's junior English classes displayed posters last week representing the nine periods of literature between those years. Pictures were used in connective ideas, each picture signifying a certain age of literature.

Original and creative ideas were evident plus much color, which added to the attractiveness of each poster. Among the most outstanding was the work of Eva Kovich, who had an outdoor scene consisting of a clothes line full of clothing, each garment representing a period of literature. The colored mammy in the picture, added the finishing touches. Other praise was distributed among the following: Joe Bachman's lighthouse poster, Florence French's literature train display, Marion Miller's poster, Rose Bachman and Jeannette Levin.

The new types will be termed as satisfactory and unsatisfactory admits. A satisfactory admit will entitle a student to make up work missed during his absence provided arrangements are made with the teacher within three days after his return. If the student does not make arrangements in these three days the teacher will look him up and see that he makes an attempt to make the work up.

One having an unsatisfactory admit will receive zero for the time missed. A satisfactory admit will be given for the following, personal illness, serious illness of the immediate family or death in the family.

The third grade is working on a project of the North. They are reading Eskimo Land in class and learning poems and drawing pictures. Eleanor Rough, Marilyn Mann, Donnayve Burrus, Norma Vergon are making large drawings of Eskimo houses.

In the Opportunity Room Raymond Ferris, Florence Mannors, Robert Stevenson, and Earl Swain have not been tardy nor absent during this semester.

Mary Ellen Jenkins, Betty Walls and Ruth Korp have had their names added to the fourth grade Dental Roll.

A MIRACLE

Did you ever see a dream walking (or rather sitting)? Well, then, you certainly weren't present at the Buchanan-Cassopolis game on Tuesday night. For, amidst the stares of the older crowd, and many boo's from the balcony, four hale and hearty seniors were to be seen coming up with the second team. They really made a fine looking bunch of bench warmers, but the real excitement occurred when they were allowed to play. For further information, see those details. I'm sure.

CLASS Activities

History

The whole history department spent last week in reviewing their work for the semester examinations, and are having their semester examinations this week.

Commercial

The Commercial department is completing the review and having semester examinations this week.

Ag Club

The members in the agriculture club have organized a basketball team to play games against other agriculture clubs in the different schools.

Games have been scheduled with the following schools: Three Oaks, Benton Harbor, Cassopolis, and Berrien Springs.

It looks as if there will be a great deal of competition as the ag club has some strong, husky, hard-playing boys.

Biology

Students in the biology class have completed their projects.

Farm Crops and Horticulture The students in the farm crops and horticulture classes are indulged in the depths of review.

Language

In French 11 a spell down was held Friday and first place was taken by Thelma Heckathorn, second by Virginia Blake and third by Shirley Jennings.

The committee in charge of the meeting of the Latin club was Keith Dalrymple and John Fulk.

Chemistry

The chemistry classes have spent two weeks and a day in reviewing Chemistry, which should be sufficient.

Movie pictures, sponsored by the Mine Bureau at Pittsburgh, will be presented in Chemistry next semester. The first movie will be on sulphur from the Texas Sulphur Co.

Physics

The physics classes have shown a good achievement this semester by being able to cover the first two units, mechanics and heat. This is the first time in several years that this has happened. They have spent one week reviewing. Next semester they will take up the study of magnetism and electricity.

Biology Projects

Last Wednesday was the day all Biology projects were handed in. Many interesting projects included notebooks on nature, different kinds of wood neatly mounted, a variety of different seeds mounted and other instructive projects.

Many of the pupils who didn't hand in projects wished afterwards that they had made one after seeing some of the neat, interesting projects that were handed in.

School Slants

What we wouldn't give to see—Harold Jackson without "The Music Goes Round and Round." Lorraine Morley without gum. Louise Howe without that giggle. George Richards give an oration in French.

John Miller without the Western State News Bulletin. The seniors playing on the second team.

Phyllis DeNardo keep out of Niles.

Herschel Gross without a theory. Some school spirit and cooperation with the cheer leaders.

GIRLS' GYM

Interclass basketball games, for the girls, have started. The gym classes are doing apparatus work.

VOICE OF THE TOWN CRIER

Hear ye! Hear ye! All ye lads and lassies! Where was your school spirit at the Cassopolis game? There were about twelve rooters for the Cassopolis team, and they could do more cheering than our whole student section, not that we aren't capable, but we just didn't do it. Now is this fair to the boys who are working hard, out on the floor? No, the student body should be enthused, and cheer for their team whether they're winning or vice versa. Now, let's not let this thing happen again, but give full cooperation with our cheer leaders who try hard to do their part.

"I'D RATHER HAVE A BUICK BUT"

What do you mean, BUT!

WHAT keeps you from driving a Buick—not next year—but now—today?

Is it the money?

Time payments on a Buick are but two or three dollars a week more than on the lowest-priced cars—less than that, when you figure the "extras" a smaller car usually calls for.

Is it the upkeep?

Buick is a big comfortable car that gives small-car gas mileage, small-car mileage on oil. You'll keep a Buick at least a year longer than you'll keep a lesser car—and probably spend less on it for service and repair in the meantime!

Could it be habit?

Maybe you get used to buying in the low-priced field—you get the idea a big car costs too much to run—you resign yourself to small-car comfort, ability, performance—and plain human nature keeps you from inquiring further!

Maybe a Buick is a bit beyond your reach. But let's not admit it until we've got the actual figures!

We'll gamble our time against yours to show you just what a Buick will cost—to buy—to run—to keep in good condition. We've surprised many a small-car owner with our thrifty figures, thrilled them with a demonstration.

Let us show you our arithmetic—and what a Buick can do out on the road.

It won't cost a penny—and it may make you a lot happier—with a Buick!

IT COSTS LESS NOW TO BUY ON TIME!

The new GMAC 6% TIME PAYMENT PLAN not only makes it easier to figure the cost of buying on time, but saves money that you can use to get a better car. For example, a Buick Special business coupe listing at the factory (safety glass included, standard and special accessory groups extra) at only... $765*
