Lions Bill Attractive Entertainment Features For Carnival Feb. 21-22

Frost Passes
4-Foot Mark

Now Here's the Proposition

OLD TIMER
John Henry was a geezer who always could rehearse—However cold the weather some day when it was worse.

He babbled tall weather stories of the brave days of yore. The while he warmed his coat tails in old Dad Miller's store.

When winds from Manitoba bore down their icy freight He'd say: "Boys, this ain't nothin' To back in sixty-eight."

When howling blizzards buried The roads in snowy heaps He would recall some other When it was twice as deep.

Until we lost all patience And ganged him with a vim We swore no mercury ever Was half as low as him.

The month was February And it was ten below; We tied him to a lamp post And banked him up, with snow.

We said: "This may seem ruthless To you, who are so old, We promise to release you When you admit it's cold."

The last words that he uttered When he was just alive Were "Boys, this here ain't nothin' To back in sixty-five."

Fannie, the front street flapper, says that she has had Noah Webster indelibly impressed on her from having to sit on the dictionary so much at the office.

Ladies styles are more becoming every day, if we could only be sure what they are becoming.

Folks are waiting with baited breath (and it's nobody's business what their breath is baited with), hoping that this cold spell will hang on until all records are broken and these old timers are shut up once and for all. George Wright was still going strong yesterday, but he should be a little weaker today. "You ain't seen nothing yet," he remarked yesterday, "I can remember when the mercury went to 20 below and stayed there for a month."

But, according to the World's Greatest Newspaper yesterday, the reason these Old Timers think the snow used to be deeper is merely because their legs were shorter then and the snow came further up.

It is funny, though, how you get used to cold weather. Last fall 25 above just froze us stiff, but now that would seem rather enervating, if you know what that means. Art Allen was out painting last week but the mercury mounted to 10 above zero and he had to quit on account of the gnats getting in the paint.

Harry Ems says he don't like all these weather furbelows. "Twenty below zero is too furbelow," Harry thinks.

But for once nobody can complain about newspaper exaggeration. Tuesday afternoon the S. B. papers said "Mercury will sink to 10 below." It went to 15 and 20 below.

And nobody can complain about the ground hog exaggerating either.

Feeding Quail And Pheasants

Deputy Sheriff Clarence Dunbar and Robert Rinker distributed feed for starving pheasants and quail in the Dayton Lake and Pike Lake districts yesterday, hanging 200 pounds of cracked corn in sacks with a hole in each sack, and also scattering 200 pounds of corn on the cob, with the husks removed. This is a part of the program of game conservation inaugurated by the Berrien County Sportsmen's Club.

Decatur German Band is Engaged

Caroline Harp of Edwardsburg to be Floor Show Soloist.

The weatherman may be cold but there will be at least one hot spot in Buchanan Friday and Saturday night, Feb. 21-22, regardless of the mercury, when the Winter Carnival is staged at the high school with some of the best entertainment features available in southwestern Michigan as part of the free floor show.

Among the outside attractions now assured is the Decatur Kraut Band which won first place in the German Band contest at the Blossom Parade last spring. This band has been brought here thru the intercession of Kermit Washburn, one of the distinguished performers in the band, and will lend a warm touch of color to the Friday evening free floor show.

On Saturday evening a high spot of the free floor show will be Miss Caroline Harp, Edwardsburg, who was dubbed the "Personality Girl" in the WLS minstrels staged here last fall and whose excellent ballad singing was one of the features of that event. Miss Harp at 15, has quite a reputation as a singer and the Lions feel that her presence Saturday evening will be a great aid in the entertainment.

Two teams of Lions are now engaged in a contest selling bridge tickets, the winning side having the prospect of eating beef and the losing side beans at a subsequent feed. The two teams are captained by "Beef" Bouws and "Beans" Beistle.

The two local Scout Troops will start selling Carnival tickets next Monday, under the direction of H. D. Raymond. A substantial percentage of the ticket sale will go to the Scout fund.

Cyrus Bulhand Freezes Hands

Suffers from Exposure Sunday Morn; Max Dreitzler Freezes Ears.

A pair of pigskin dress gloves is hardly sufficient protection for your hands when you are shoveling snow at 15 below zero, according to Cyrus Bulhand, who suffered severely from exposure while helping a stalled motorist on the Niles-Buchanan road early Sunday morning. Mr. Bulhand, who is a sort of modest young man, had nothing to say about the circumstances as he sat at his home yesterday with both hands heavily bandaged and both ears muffled in large rolls of cotton, but it is reported that he worked about 30 minutes shoveling and pushing and did not realize what was happening to himself. However, when he reached home shortly afterwards his hands and face were badly swollen and he was very drowsy. He is reported to be coming out of it quite satisfactorily.

On the same morning Max Dreitzler suffered frozen ears when he got out of his car and worked ten minutes shoveling snow when stuck in a drift near his home on Chippewa St.

Kean had lived a retired life for the past thirteen years, but had been active in the local Presbyterian church until recently. He had been in delicate health for several months but was thought to be improving.

State News

Appeal Election Fraud Sentence
While attorneys considered appeal moves half of 18 defendants found guilty of fraud in the recount of Wayne county ballots cast in the 1934 election for secretary of state and attorney-general were free on bond today.

The state charged the men "blue penciled" 13,700 ballots in an attempt to swing the election to Democratic candidates. In a trial that lasted 12 weeks, eighteen of 26 defendants were convicted.

Elmer B. O'Hara, chairman of the state Democratic central committee, and State Senator Anthony J. Wilkowski, secretary of the Wayne county Democratic committee, were among those convicted and freed on bond. They and five others faced the necessity of arranging for continuance of bond until Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman pronounces sentence.

Nine defendants remained in jail. They are Bruno Nowicki, Lester Currier, John Degutis, Charles Lark, T. Emmett McKenzie, Joseph W. Neil, W. I. Wilson, Anthony Gallagher and Joseph Grieshaber.

The others convicted in addition to O'Hara and Wilkowski, were Herbert L. Sullivan, James Garrett, Caester Pons, A. J. Skiffington and V. J. Murphy.

Banking Commissioner
Gov. Fitzgerald appointed Howard C. Lawrence, former state treasurer Monday to succeed R. E. Reichert as state banking commissioner, effective Feb. 15.

Reichert has resigned to accept presidency of the Ann Arbor Savings bank. Gov. Fitzgerald said if Lawrence had not accepted the appointment it would have been offered to Reichert's deputy, M. C. Taylor.

Lawrence has been chairman of the Republican state central committee since 1929. He served as secretary to former Gov. Fred W. Green and as state treasurer in 1931 and 1932. He now is receiver for the American Home Security Bank of Grand Rapids and the Bank of Saginaw at Saginaw. Gov. Fitzgerald said he expected Lawrence would resign his receiverships.

To Build State Police Post

Start Work Monday on Brick Building at Junction M-60, US-12.

The Record was raided by the state police Tuesday afternoon, the representative of law and order being a personable young trooper by the name of Dale Shoemaker.

Mr. Shoemaker took the name and address of the editor and stated that identification cards would be forthcoming soon, for some purpose or other which that individual was too nervous under the circumstances to understand. However, he assured the Record that the state police were anxious to co-operate with the newspaper and would be glad to be helpful at any time and we assured him that he could have been quite a help to us on several occasions if he had been in at the right time.

Shoemaker stated that the State is building a post at New Buffalo, the force of four having been housed to date in a rented bungalow. Excavations were begun Tuesday for a brick building on US-12 about a block south of the junction with M-60. The post will accommodate a force of seven men, and will have a two-car garage adjacent. He stated that a district post building is also being erected at Paw Paw, where a 1000-watt short wave radio station will also be installed to relay the messages from the state station WRDS, at Lansing. This relay station is made advisable from the fact that reception is interfered with in this corner of Michigan by some "barrier," which often deadens the sound. Shoemaker said that usually the messages came in satisfactorily from Lansing, but too frequently for their convenience a "dead spot" caused by some natural cause which interfered with the sound wave would cause it to entirely die out.

Buchanan is in the Fifth District which has posts at New Buffalo and White Pigeon and a district at Paw Paw. The personnel at the New Buffalo post comprises Corporal Donald Hoadley and Troopers James Boden, Oscar Anderson and Dale Shoemaker. They have as their "beat" the highways and byways from New Buffalo to Edwardsburg and Dowagiac on the east and Eau Claire and St. Joseph on the north. They patrol the main roads by day, but do much driving at night on side roads.

Two Teams Tied In B. A. A. League

Leadership in the city league basketball competition was narrowed down to two teams after last Wednesday night's games. The strong D Cafe five pushed the Rexall team out of the select class by handing them a 36 to 15 trimming in the feature game last week.

The Rexalls previously tied for first place, were handicapped by the absence of two regulars, but were also unable to stop the smooth floor game of the Cafemen. Johnny Miller, local high school mentor, was the big gun in the winners' offense, personally accounting for 24 points. Ward Conrad led the Rexall offense with three buckets for a total of six points.

In the only other game played, Wilson Dairy remained in a tie for first position by conquering the Legion five, 32 to 13. Bob Knight's nine points earned him scoring honors for the Dairy five while Blaney led the Legion with five.

Three of the local league teams are entered in outside tournaments this week. D's Cafe will compete in a tourney held at St. Joseph while Wilson's Dairy and the Rexall fives will take part in the annual meet held at New Troy.

Don Burrus Lands 10 1/2 lb. Pickerel

Don Burrus established himself as the best man with a fishing spear in these immediate parts by his feat in landing a 10 lb. 8 1/2 oz. pickerel and a five pound pickerel in the past two weeks in Dayton Lake. The larger pickerel is reported to be one of the largest ever taken out of the lake. It was 36 inches long. In its stomach were found two carp each about seven inches long, a perch 9 inches long and two blue gills each about 4 1/2 inches long.

There are fifteen fishing shacks on the lake, owned by Buchanan, Gallen and Three Oaks men. The ice is about 20 inches in diameter.

The Wasp Went Round and Round

And It Came Up Down Below Waa-ho-ho-ho-ho.

Spring arrived the first of the week in John Portz' basement, or anywhere there was a lot of spring in Portz when the wasp stung him in the basement. He was cleaning up, sweeping down the cellar walls, brushing down a 1935 wasp's nest. Wasps are supposed to be dormant at this time of year, so Mr. Portz paid very little attention to it.

However, he noticed later a stinging sensation whenever he bent over.

"It may be a splinter," thought Mr. Portz and mentally added, "It sure is a splinter," as the stinging became more emphatic.

But with Mr. Portz' business comes before pleasure, so he finished the cellar before he stopped to hunt the splinter. Then he went up stairs.

"My dear," he said to Mrs. Portz, "I think I caught a splinter in the basement so I am going up stairs to hunt for it."

So he retired to privacy and looked. There inside his pants was crawling a ruffled and bedraggled wasp, still in a business mood.

Green Not Bothered By Shortage of Coal

There's such a thing as having plenty of coal but still not being able to keep warm, according to Vernon Green, employee in the R. F. Hickok coal yard, who suffered painfully from exposure while he lay an hour and a half buried up to the neck in coal at the Hickok yards on South Portage street Monday morning. Green was caught by a coal slide shortly after 8 a. m. and laid for an hour and a half with only his head and one arm free. The mercury registered below zero at the time. Finally he was able to attract the attention of the Indiana & Michigan line men who were loading poles in the storage yard adjoining. They mined him out with picks, secured the I. & M. stretcher and carried him to a doctor's office. His only injuries were body bruises and shock from exposure.

Bucks Lose Close Game to 3 Oaks

Bucks Hold Acorns to 26-30; Seconds Score Victory in Tight Contest.

A team of inspired Bucks held the so-called class "C" champs of Berrien county, Three Oaks, to a 26-25 tie count in the regulation game time but were hopelessly overcome in the overtime period 30-26 on the Buchanan ball court a week ago Tuesday evening.

Summary of game and scoring: First quarter: Buchanan got started with a bang. Virgil sank a long one and a push up each good for 2 points. Klute put Three Oaks in the running, with a gift shot. Holmes and E. Drier each sank a fielder. Score, Buchanan 6, Three Oaks, 3.

Second quarter: Three Oaks came back strong, field goals by W. Drier and E. Drier and a free throw by Sheldon put the Acorns in the lead 8-6. Virgil got loose again and sank a short one tying the count 8 to 8. Walters put the Acorns ahead again with a long one, Virgil retaliated with a fielder and a counter from the black stripe giving the Bucks a slim one point lead 11-10.

Third quarter: Jesse broke the ice with a neat one-hander from the coffin corner. Sheldon made a free throw good. W. Drier contributed four markers on two short ones. E. Drier and Walters also added a push up apiece. Leiter made a charity toss as the horn blew. Score 19-14 in Three Oaks' favor.

Fourth quarter: The Bucks started a desperate rally. Leiter and Virgil coming through with 2 and 1 fielders respectively, putting Buchanan ahead 20-19. Walters sank a sloppy shot from under the basket. Leiter again dribbled thru both guards and split the mesh with a clean left handed shot. Walters retaliated with a free throw and a two-pointer. W. Drier made good a free throw. With scarcely two minutes to play Holmes made a free throw and Leiter, cool and determined, slipped thru the Acorn defense to tie the count at 25 all. The whistle blew 10 seconds later ending the regulation game time.

Overtime: W. Drier added a gift counter and a fielder. Luke connected from the black stripe. Walters put the game on ice with another clean shot. Final score: Buchanan 26, Three Oaks 30.

Reserves Win Another Thriller
The Buck Reserves won another ding-dong thriller from the Acorn seconds by a score of 21-20. The little Bucks piled up a lead of five points in the last count but the Acorns put on a rally with about two minutes to play and brought the count up to 21-20. Several shots by Three Oaks rolled around the rim and came perilously close to going in but they rolled off. The high scorers were Flick, who gathered eleven markers, and Jerue, who played a surprising floor game and gained nine of his team's total. Virgil and Leiter were high for the varsity with 9 points apiece. Walters and Bill Drier collected 11 and 10 points respectively for their varsity squads score.

At times during the contest the game was momentarily held up due to booing. The sportsmanship by the local fans has always been commendable, but the other night was an exception.

Georgia Wilcox Dies Suddenly

Heart Attack at Winter Home at Biloxi, Miss. Fatal to Church, Social Leader.

Last rites were held at 7 p. m. Monday from the Swem Funeral home for Miss Georgia Wilcox, 65, who died at Biloxi, Miss., Thursday evening from a heart attack.

The news of the death of Miss Wilcox came as a shock to her many friends here, only a few having known that she was in poor health when she left last fall for Biloxi. She had been a leader in the activities of the Presbyterian church here for many years, and was socially active. She served as village clerk of Buchanan immediately following the passage of the national Woman's suffrage amendment. She was also associated with her uncle, John Arthur, in the restaurant business here for several years.

She was born Nov. 22, 1870, at Linden, Mich., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilcox. Her parents moved to Charlotte when she was three months old, and she grew to maturity there, graduating from the Charlotte high school in 1890 and moving that same year to Buchanan. She lived four years on Oak street and then moved to 114 South Portage, where she lived the remainder of her life, with the exception of five winters spent in Biloxi, Miss.

While she had been in ill health some time, her death was unexpected. She had attended a social event that evening, driving her own car, and died soon after her return.

Eastern Time Here March 1

The city commission voted at a special session yesterday to adopt eastern Standard time locally in the event that that time is adopted in Chicago and at general on March 1.

Householders Warned to Let Water Run in Faucets to Prevent Freezing.

Harrassed by threats of coal shortage, motoring difficulties and frozen water pipes, Buchanan remained this week in the grip of one of the longest cold spells in its history, with weather prophets disagreeing as to the prospect of relief.

Possibly the most extreme inconvenience locally has been frozen water pipes, the frost having penetrated in many places four feet or more, freezing up service pipes leading from the mains to homes.

The city water department warns residents to look out for frozen water service pipes, as the frost is penetrating deeper and will continue to go down for a while even after the cold abates. It is suggested that at least one faucet in each house be left running, a small stream, which will aid in preventing the service pipes from freezing.

Chief Mitchell spent all day Tuesday and yesterday with a crew of men from the Indiana & Michigan Electric company, using their electric device for thawing out pipes with current. Twelve were thawed out Tuesday, taking from 2 minutes to an hour to thaw.

While excellent work has been done by highway trucks in cleaning out the main highways, deep snows have blocked many of the side roads, drifts of six and eight feet or more being reported. Snow has continued almost daily. Saturday night was one of the two coldest nights in the winter with temperatures of 15 to 20 below reported. On Monday morning the mercury read eight below and again two below on Wednesday morning. Yesterday morning the lowest reading was two above.

Will Increase Tomato Acreage

Campbell Soup Co. Officials Indicate Increase in Buchanan District.

Tomato acreage contracts between local farmers and the Campbell Soup company will be increased this season from the 300 acres of the initial year to 600 acres or more, according to representatives of the company who met with interested farmers at the office of Buchanan Co-ops, Inc., last week. The projected increase is the result of the satisfaction felt by the company with its local acreages last year. Farmers of the Buchanan district are also reported to be in a receptive mood toward increased acreages, although a freeze in late September of last year destroyed from a third to a half of the crop. Enough tomatoes had been harvested previous to that date by practically all farmers to more than cover expenses. The minimum acreage which will be accepted from an individual farmer this year will be two acres.

The body of Willard Colvin who was killed in an automobile accident in Florida on Feb. 2nd when his car crashed into the rear of a truck trailer near DeLand, Fla., was brought to Buchanan from Chicago Monday evening and was placed in the family mausoleum in Oak Ridge cemetery at 11 a. m. Tuesday. The body was accompanied to Chicago from Florida by his widow. Funeral rites were held from a Chicago Funeral Home Friday. The remains were accompanied here by the widow and an aunt, Miss Betty Hally of Chicago.

Bucks Drop Contest To Bisons 38-26

Buchanan high school cage unit absorbed a defeat at the hands of New Buffalo's mighty Bisons by a count of 38-26 on the New Buffalo floor last Friday evening.

The game was a battle in spite of the score, both teams working the ball around and in general playing a very interesting game. The height of the Bucks opponents was a great advantage to them. Cerney, 6 foot 4 center, controlled the tip off throughout the contest. He was valuable under the basket. He secured the leather off his own backboard and passed it out to his teammate who had excellent shots at the hoop. He also grabbed the ball off his opponents backboard many times.

In the first quarter New Buffalo piled up a 5-2 lead. In the second canto they started an attack and Hass scored 4 lucky one-handed shots while the Bucks gathered a lone free throw. Virgil sank a free throw and Luke connected with a long one. Haas added another short one and Luke finding range split the mesh three times bringing the count to 15-12. New Buffalo seeing their lead threatened settled down and added a fielder and 2 gift shots before the intermission.

In the third period the Bucks tightened down on the Bucks and held them to two free shots by Stevens while they added 12 more points to the already large total. The last period the Bucks put the pressure on and Virgil and Luke sank three fielders apiece holding their rivals to 6 points.

Reserves Score Another Win
The second team game was even more interesting than the varsity tilt. The score at the half was 16-10 in the Bucks favor, in the third period neither team was able to score not even a free throw. In the last period Sayles sank a free throw and away went the Bucks. That brought the count to 17-16 with about two minutes to play. Pandemonium broke loose when Tripp, Rauch, Donley and Jerue scored valuable points. New Buffalo couldn't stop the Bucks and in less than two minutes the reserves had scored seven points. New Buffalo was held to three shots from the black stripe.

A BEAUTIFUL DUMBELL

A beautiful young lady in (we'll not in Buchanan) maintains that she is an expert automobile driver. She can turn a corner on two wheels and get away with it. She can weave through traffic at sixty miles per hour. She thinks she is awfully smart. As a matter of fact, she is awfully dumb and none so dumb as those who are dumb and don't know it.

It is largely from this class of drivers that our automobile accidents are recruited. This young lady never has had an accident but she is due for one as sure as death and taxes. Drivers of this class, of course, are entirely unaware of the fact that they have much to learn. They would be insulted if told that they didn't know how to drive.

They start out on a sunny day. It is a four-lane highway. The world seems like a garden of roses. It is wonderful to fly through the air with merely the touch of the toe; they begin to feel their oats and press down a little harder; they are lulled into a false sense of security when something happens that never happened before (it always does) and crash, then broken necks, broken backs, hospitals, agony, sorrow and death.

It was the dumbness of the dumb such as shown by this young lady who caused 36,000 automobile deaths in 1935 for, strange to say, it is on sunny days and on wide, beautiful highways where most of the terrible accidents occur.

Holmes is Moved To Reminiscence

Editor Record,
In your story of the Miller school you mentioned Thomas Morley as teacher. Thomas married Cella Glover, bought an 80 acre farm in Buchanan township, directly north of Dayton, raised a family consisting of Cass, William and Jane, twins, Mary Ann, Cella and Thomas. When the civil war came on he enlisted. These children were all my schoolmates in the Holmes school during my entire attendance in that district.

Another of the teachers mentioned, Tamerson Carlisle, married George Merrill, mother of the author of the writings about "Along McCoy's Crick" in the Record.

Along McCoy's Crick

The first telephone was constructed in Buchanan in the very early 80's. It connected the post office with the home of the postmaster, L. P. Alexander, two doors west.

The phone was a very crude contrivance consisting of two instruments built of pine boards with a hole cut in the center, the hole being covered with some sort of a hide, a wire fastening a button to the set, the wire then connecting the two receivers just a good niblick shot removed.

By rapping vigorously on the receiver long enough and furiously enough it was possible to attract the attention of the party at the other end of the line.

Having connected up the home with the office by this method Mrs. Alexander was then able to inform her husband at the top of her voice that dinner was ready and the postmaster, also shouting, could inform his wife that he would be right up. It came close to being television, although no such claim is hereby made.

It is recalled that the service over these phones was much more satisfactory in the summer, doubtless, due to the fact that the winds were wide open at such a time. Sound, it is understood, travels much faster and easier when unobstructed.

There were a number of amateur sets of the same type constructed along the Crick starting from that early date. There was one connecting the home of Walter C. Hall on Days avenue and the home of Art and Will McCord, sons of the Rev. John D. McCord, then pastor of the Methodist church; also one connecting the Solomon Rough mansion, part way up Front street hill, with the office of Rough Bros. Wagon Works on Main St.

The latter phone when pounded on vigorously enough by the hired girl in the Rough home would cause Harvey "Duffy" Rough at the office of the Wagon Works to gaze up at the clock and see that noon hour had arrived whereupon he would shed his alpaca coat, don his street garment, and leave for dinner, after giving the instrument on the office wall a few resounding taps to show he was on his way.

As stated in a previous article all statements that may appear in this series are STC—Subject to Correction—and therein, no doubt, lies the value of these contributions, which, for the most part, are based solely on memory.

The writer has every reason to believe that he is wrong in thinking there were three postmasters of Democratic faith in Buchanan before 1900. They were John B. Mansfield, dentist, Joseph Richards, president of the Zinc Collar Pad Co., and John C. Dick, Civil war veteran, insurance underwriter and for many years justice of the peace.

The main reason for this belief, and it should be sufficient, is that there were only two Democratic administrations during the time, the Hon. Grover Cleveland having been in office, then out again, and then in again. One of the gentlemen mentioned must have been a Republican.

However, there can be no question about the Democracy of Mr. Mansfield, who took over the post office during the Cleveland administration of 1888. Nor can any doubt be raised as to the political faith of his son, Ira Franklin Mansfield, better known as "Man-sy" who assisted him at times at the office.

Mr. Mansfield was a bombastic fellow, a master of ridicule and satire who could more than hold his own in political arguments when disciples of two political faiths met in open combat and neither gave or asked quarter.

Such arguments were wide open events, no one barred, held on the street corner throughout the entire day while a campaign was under way. Aply assisted by Thornton Hall, the attorney, White Redden Cress, Roe, also a lawyer, and other good Democrats, Mr. Mansfield was able to fight off the G. O. P. hosts lead by Charley Snyder, Newt. Bachelor, Scott Whitman, John Wynn, George Noble and Bert Worthington.

Mr. Mansfield was one of Buchanan's pioneer residents. He was a New Yorker by birth, the son of Ira and Mahala Mansfield, who made the trip to Buchanan in 1843 by covered wagon where the father purchased land and built a home which still stands on East Fourth street at the foot of Main street, at present occupied by Frank Rinker.

The home has never been outside the Mansfield family and in that respect is the only building in Buchanan that has been able to stand the advance of the always anxious house and lot salesman.

Mr. Rinker, the present owner of the property, is the son of Nancy Mansfield Rinker, and the grandson of Ira Mansfield, the builder.

Mr. Mansfield was wed to Maryette Wilcox of New York state, who, the writer recalls, also assisted her husband at the post office at times. There were three children, Cora C., who married Dr. Perry Anderson who moved to New York City and became one of the nation's leading physicians. Dr. Anderson was the son of Dr. John Anderson and Dr. Elsie Anderson, who practiced medicine in Buchanan for many years starting in 1872.

Then there was Ira Franklin Mansfield, better known as "Man-sy" to whom considerable space will be devoted later, who in the opinion of the writer had one of the most brilliant minds ever developed along the Crick; and also there was the younger daughter, Beatrice "Frixie" Mansfield, wife of Jess F. Viele, who now resides in the home at the foot of Front street, in the building which once housed the stylish Dunning millinery parlors.

Mr. Mansfield died March 14, 1898, and his wife, Maryette C., died May 11, 1921, the son, Ira Franklin Mansfield, Feb. 12, 1927, and the daughter, Mrs. Perry Anderson, Dec. 6, of the same year.

The writer recalls that when Mr. Mansfield took over the job of postmaster he promptly moved the post office several blocks east to the building then owned by White Redden, a brother Democrat, much to the consternation of the Republicans, who savagely beat their tom toms and shouted bloody murder.

Democrats in those days endeavored to assist one another in the distribution of plums. In that respect of course, not being entirely different from the present generation of Democracy. If Mr. Redden, a Democrat, for instance, owned an unoccupied building on Front street, it was right and fitting that Mr. Mansfield, a brother Democrat, should of his own free will and accord, decide to move the post office to a new location.

In the front part of the Mansfield post office, the counter running along the east side of the wall was the Harry Binns newsstand. Working there at the time was a young fellow, Frank Anderson, who the writer recalls had at that time made no less than eight trips across the Atlantic, his father had been an Englishman, a reputed member of the aristocracy of that country. Young Anderson devoted his spare time to making pencil sketches of people who called for their mail. The drawings were real works of art.

Mr. Anderson later moved to New York city where he became the country's greatest designer of theatrical costumes. His first work of the kind being done when "Ben Hur" was produced by Klaw and Erlanger many years ago. Mr. Anderson died during the past year.

His mother, Laura Richards Anderson, daughter of Alfred Richards, Sr., was born in Buchanan in 1852, and recently died in the east.

Other clerks the writer remembers having been employed in the Buchanan post office prior to 1900 are Harry Howe and John Needham.

There was a great scramble to secure the post office when Mr. Cleveland was elected. All the members of the party, and the woods were not so full of 'em in those days, were out for the honor. All except Joseph Richards apparently, who did not pass around any petitions and who appeared to be making no effort to land the office.

But William F. Vilas of Wisconsin, was the new postmaster general and Mr. Richards knew some one who knew some one who knew a personal friend of the new official. And Mr. Richards, a dark horse in the race and very much under cover, won hands down.

Present day politicians, if there be such, will do well to ponder carefully over this instance as it proves that sometimes it is good judgment to take the other way round. All, of course, being STC.

A Paradox
Politics often find square pegs in round holes, although the pegs aren't "square."

EDITORIAL

You have them and you cherish them, too. They are a part of your life. Friends are wonderful things to have; you always have the assurance of some one near in whom you can confide, always ready to lend a helping hand. Friends may quarrel among themselves but they say, "True love never runs smooth" and soon the quarrels are back together again, continuing where they left off.

During the course of a lifetime many individuals come in contact with one another's lives. An introduction, a simple conversation—a friendship may result.

The task of choosing an individual for a friend is choosing one that will fit into your life, like the completing of a puzzle—so that all parts fit.

So it is on this sea of life; we are all mates on the same ship, working together each seeking a goal.

The simpler things in life are the hardest to get, but once that flame of friendship is kindled, it never dies.

TOO HEAVY!

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall. Humpty Dumpty had a great fall. All the king's horses and all the king's men Couldn't put Humpty Dumpty together again.

Donald Haroff "Buster" broke a chair in civics class Monday and fell to the floor. He was able to be put back together again.

The class had begun to discuss the lesson. All at once a striking sound was heard. It was this robust boy sitting on the floor. Hilarious shouts came from the other students and even "Buster" smiled.

Afterwards, "Buster" explained that the chair was broken before he sat on it. He tried to put it together again, but it was useless.

The rest of the week "Buster" sat in a much stronger chair.

4 Films Shown on Assembly Program

Four films shown in the general assembly program Friday, Feb. 7, were:

"An African Mystery," which was narrated by Arthur Hale. The film depicted the great Victoria Falls which were named after the late Queen Victoria of England. The Falls are about four hundred feet in height and more than a mile in width, which makes them twice as high and four times as broad as Niagara Falls. One of the many animals shown was the white rhino, which is almost extinct. Its scent is keen, but its sight is decidedly poor. The Tick bird, which flies about the animal's head often warns the rhino of approaching danger. Other animals flashed on the screen included the zebra, antelope, cheetah, quickest of all animals, and the leopard, which is more dangerous than the tiger.

"Here, There and Everywhere" was the next film. It included a Florida side show, which told about the capture of alligators, and a Fox farm from which furs for women's coats are obtained.

With Tom Ferriss, the Vagabond director, the assembly was quickly transported to the orient in the film, "The Lair of Chang How." Mr. Ferriss told of the unique, if somewhat bumpy experience of a ride in a rickshaw. Many things which heretofore have just been read about, were clearly presented by this film.

Art Dickson, singer, and Lew White, organist, furnished music for the program in the film, "Songs of the Range," "The Little Old Sod Shanty on My Claim," "Get Along Little Doggies," and "Home on the Range," were among the songs they sang that are well known to the public.

TIME IS GETTING SHORT

There aren't so very many days more, and the birds will be hopping on the trees and Lady Spring will be here all around us once more.

Even now you can hear people planning what they are going to do this summer, and, after all, there are but eighty school days left for this year.

In four more months you will see the dignified seniors promenading down the aisle after the one big hope of their high school days, a diploma. So everyone ought to get busy and make every day count.

MUSICAL REVUE

The music department of the Buchanan high school is planning a musical review for February 23, to be held in the auditorium at 2:30 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend. And, boys, as Valentine's Day comes once a year, why let it slip by unheeded?

Mich. Auto Club To Hold Safety Poster Contest

Valuable Prizes Offered to the School Children of State.

The opening safety drive of 1936 to further reduce traffic accidents among school children in Michigan will begin within two weeks with a state-wide poster contest for elementary school pupils, it was announced recently by H. O. Rounds, director of the safety and traffic division of the Automobile Club of Michigan. "Street Safety" will be the poster theme for children up to and in the sixth grade.

This contest, to be under the sponsorship of the Automobile Club, is keeping with a national movement which recommends poster and essay contests as a means to reduce fatal accidents 35 per cent.

Cash prizes and medals will be awarded winners of the contest, the first held in four years. Originality of theme, neatness and excellence of art work will count in the awarding of prizes. Complete details will be sent to school principals in the near future, Rounds said.

A school principal with two other persons will form a judging committee to choose the best two posters in the school. In cities where there is a club branch, these posters will be sent to the office of the local manager, who will select an impartial committee of citizens of which one will be a newspaperman. In towns where the club does not have branches, newspaper editors will be asked to act as committee chairmen.

This committee will judge the two best in the town or city and forward winning posters to Rounds in Detroit. A third committee in Detroit will decide the state winner who will receive a $25 cash award. Second prize will be $10. A number of lesser amounts will be given to pupils receiving honorable mention.

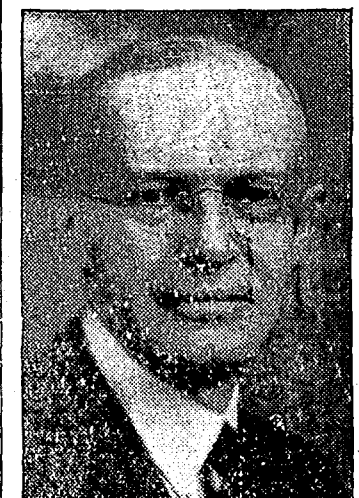

"The poster contest is a continuation of the club's effort to make children conscious of the many highway dangers," Rounds said in discussing the competition. "It is interesting to note that from the time the automobile was invented up to and including 1930, there was an increase of fatal accidents. But in 1930, and to date, due to the club's work with children, there has been a downward trend for the first time in the history of the state. This was the second year after the school program was presented by the club. This contest in having children draw and sketch street dangers should aid materially in making a child safety conscious."

Thomas N. Lacy

Thomas N. Lacy rose through the ranks to his present position of vice president and general manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Beginning telephone work as a night operator in 1902, he became a telephone installer for the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania in 1905.

In 1908 he was hired by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. as an equipment man in Philadelphia, was promoted to division plant engineer at Atlanta, Ga., in 1912, and to division plant superintendent there in 1919. Coming to the Michigan Bell Co. in June 1925, as Detroit plant superintendent, he was made chief engineer five months later. He became vice president and general manager in October, 1934. Mr. Lacy was born in Lititz, Pa., Sept. 23, 1885.

The directors were reelected. These 15 directors are located about the state so that nearly every section of Michigan is represented on the directorate.

Officers' and auditors' reports show the company to be in splendid financial position with a fine increase in volume of insurance in force and an increase of over six thousand in membership.

The excellent reputation this company has enjoyed for the past fifty years and more for fair and equitable adjustment of claims and their prompt payment of losses, have made this year's fine record possible.

A large corps of representatives and capable adjusters enables this old company to render a real service to the property owners of Michigan. During these years of severe, windstorms throughout the state it is sound business policy to carry ample cyclone insurance in a company that has rendered such a desirable service to its members as this company has done.

Neutron Ray Strong
There are other rays besides the X-rays that can penetrate a solid substance. A notable example is the neutron ray, which consists of a stream of neutrons, and can penetrate several inches of lead.

Women of Nigeria
The work of missionaries among the women and girls of Nigeria is more difficult than among the men and boys. This is probably due to the fact that the boys are more amiable. The women seem satisfied to follow their husbands, which is not to be wondered at when for generations they have been the property of the men.

Best Forecasters
History's best forecasters or predictors of the future are not necessarily the economists or statesmen or historians, but those observers who have in addition some prophetic insight into the workings of the moral law in history.

Elephants Carry Lumber
Elephants are regularly employed in the great lumber yards of Burma. One of the most thrilling sights there is to see a jungle patriarch kneel down to a heavy log, twist his trunk around it, place it on top of a pile, and then calculate its position, and push and pull until it is square in its place.

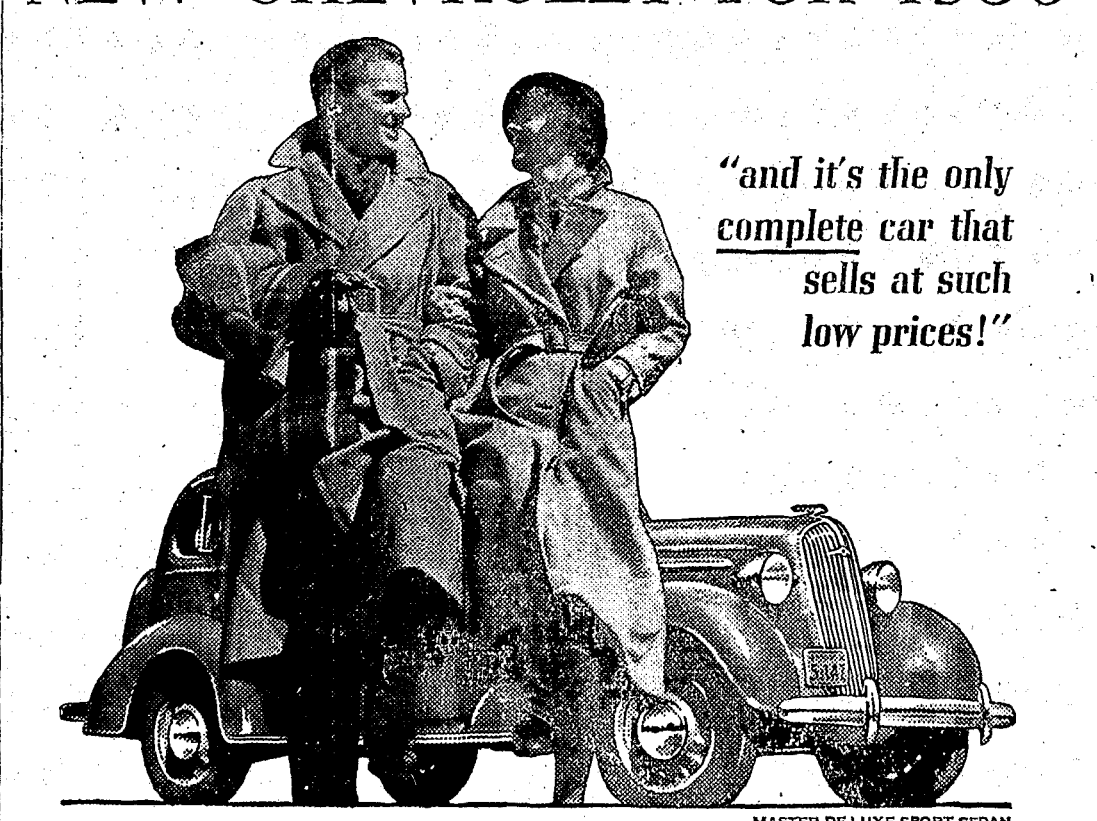

PERFECT RESULTS ASSURED WHEN YOU COOK ELECTRICALLY.

IN Martha Washington's day, cooking was done with crude equipment... romantic as heirlooms, but impractical compared with our modern electric range. It operates upon entirely different principles and contains features that cannot be duplicated. The Electric Range is the truly modern cooking method that applies pure electric heat directly to the cooking operation. In this respect it is as different from all devices that use flaming fuel as the present day airplane from the first balloon in America, whose ascension was witnessed by George Washington in Philadelphia.
