

CITY, TOWNSHIPS ELECT MON. APRIL 6

Now Here's the Proposition

It Can't Be True I've heard there's guys—this is no joke— Who're seldom ever bent or broke. Who never got down on their knees In currency exigencies Before their creditors and plead Their dire extremity of need Or tear their hair and sweat and moan And try to float another loan; Who ne'er to closets gallivant To paw through pockets of old pants, Or through old cups and teapots range For some forgotten cache of change, Or clutch with fingers cold and dank As last resort the baby's bank; Who never fret o'er bills and such But merely smile and say, "How much?" If some one says: "Your son-in-law Is stranded flat in Arkansas, Your chimney's cracked, your pipes are froze, The baby needs new shoes and clothes, Your wife has nothing to put on, The gas is due, the coal is gone, Your motor's given up the ghost, And here's the water bill from Post; The situation is, oic nois, It's time again to come across— They merely murmur, "What the heck!" And go and write another check To all us average guys, so flat, How strange it seems to be like that!

Fannie, the front street flapper, says the trouble with a woman going into politics, she is always saying the wrong thing and losing her supporters.

Early Gardening A lot of early garden was made by the forehanded gardeners of Buchanan during the short summer we had last week. The way it usually was, the wife would say at noon: "I see Mrs. So-and-So out with a hoe putting in garden this morning. I'm not going to have her crawling over me about having the earliest peas this year so you grab a hoe and throw in some seed when you come home tonight." And then you say, "Well, if Mrs. So-and-So was out with a hoe this morning, why can't—" but that is as far as you ever get, for you realize how useless it all is.

Urban gardeners have a lot of problems and if a fellow ever sat down and figured how much it costs in money, to say nothing of labor, and compared that with the few items of vegetables he would have to buy, it's not likely there would be many gardens planted. Here's one aspect of the problem: "If you have a garden plot 30x40 feet square, and you subtract three feet around it for a flower border, and three feet more for a path and the neighbor's playful pup plants 17 bones taking up an average of two-thirds of a yard for each planting, and twenty-seven sparrows make a dust wallow, occupying an average of a foot square to the sparrow, and sixteen kids hunt eighteen balls in it during the summer, how much will two dozen bunches of onions cost at your neighborhood grocery?"

More Heads Appointed in Queen's Com. Appointment of local queen committee chairmen in three more southwestern Michigan towns has given definite assurance that they will enter the Blossom Festival this spring, according to an announcement from the festival executive committee. The three towns are Coloma, with Mrs. Elsie Paul as chairman; Watervliet, Mrs. J. F. Reed as chairman; and Bangor, Mrs. John Seabeck, chairman. Miss Muskegon will be selected the night of April 3, the committee was notified. Selection dates for other towns have not yet been announced.

P. T. A. Reports On Milk Fund

Faculty Club, I. O. O. F. and Business Men Contribute.

The following annual report on the social milk fund was given before the annual organization meeting of the Buchanan Parent-Teacher Association March 23: Milk is served at both Buchanan schools this year through the co-operation of Samson's Dairy before the forenoon and afternoon recesses. It was started in November and it is hoped we can continue through April. It sells for 2 cents a half pint bottle with a drinking straw. A total of 9816 bottles were consumed up to March 1 of which 3276 were provided through funds furnished by Parent-Teacher association, Buchanan Faculty club, Odd Fellows and Buchanan business men.

Through arrangements with the Hollywood theatre, Mrs. E. C. Pascoe, who is chairman of finance in the P. T. A., was responsible for bringing the picture, "Last Days of Pompeii," to Buchanan and part of P. T. A. funds was raised in this way. Mrs. Reba Lamb, school nurse, states that it is considered by doctors and dentists that every growing child needs a quart of milk each day to provide Vitamin A and calcium for building bones and teeth.

The teachers feel it is well worth the added effort and expense involved to carry on this project. Underweight children are especially benefitted by this extra nourishment. Those having no appetite for an early breakfast do not go until noon on an empty stomach. Those who will not drink milk at home will often drink it with a group. Lastly, those whose parents cannot provide them with milk at home because of financial lack, get needed nourishment. An effort is made to teach cleanliness in the handling of food so the teacher supervises the serving and only clean hands touch it.

Mrs. C. D. Arnold and Reba Lamb, co-chairmen in charge of the Health committee, report that about 208 children received toxoid treatment this year. Kindergarten children who entered school last fall were also given physical examinations. At present Buchanan schools have about 800 children who have received toxoid treatments. The doctors have been very generous with their time that this precaution against the spread of diphtheria may be taken and while they made no charge for their services small gifts of appreciation were made by P. T. A.

Girl Scouts Lease a Camp

3 Towns Lease Mishawaka Boy Scout Camp at Stone Lake June 13-20.

The Buchanan Girl Scout Council, collaborating with the councils of Mishawaka and Gallen, has arranged to lease the Mishawaka Boy Scout camp at Stone Lake, four miles south of White Pigeon for the week of June 13-20, at which time accommodations will be open for 72 girls from the three towns, or from other towns if the reservations are not entirely taken by the sponsors. A hired director will be in charge. Girl Scouts from other towns will be enrolled for the camp after May 1 if the entire 72 reservations are not taken by Buchanan, Gallen and Mishawaka by that time.

Buchanan is a leading Girl Scout center in the Michiana district at the present time, with three active troops. Gallen has a strong and enthusiastic troop, with Mrs. J. R. Hoinville as chairman of the council.

The Family Night meetings held at the Methodist and Presbyterian churches Monday and Tuesday evening for the purpose of arousing the interests of the parents in the camp. Mrs. Con Kelley talked at both meetings on the life and work of Juliet Low, the founder of the Girl Scout movement, and Mrs. E. C. Pascoe talked on the camping project.

Miss Betty Yaple, Kalamazoo, is a guest this week at the home of her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Beistle.

80 Members Added at Meeting of Berrien County Sportsmen's Club

C. R. Gutermuth of Ind. Conservation Department Chief Speaker.

Eighty new south county members were added to the roster of the Berrien County Sportsmen's club at a meeting held at the American Legion hall here Wednesday, with 200 present, including a large delegation from the Twin Cities and another from South Bend and Mishawaka.

The speaker of the evening was C. R. Gutermuth, head of the educational division of the Indiana State Conservation Department, who spoke on problems relative to the conservation of game life, including interstate action on the prevention of pollution of the St. Joseph river. He said that, largely through the work of the organized sportsmen of Indiana, that state now has an anti-stream pollution law with teeth, which they plan to enforce as fast as appears practicable. The St. Joseph river leaves Michigan to enter Indiana comparatively a pure stream, he stated, but leaves Indiana thoroughly polluted. It is the object of the conservation interests of Indiana to end this situation within the next few years.

Gutermuth showed a fine reel of pictures illustrating the raising of quail, pheasants and prairie chickens on the state game farm at Jasper-Pulaski, and another illustrating the life of wild game birds in their native haunts. Dick Gardner made a short talk on the conditions of the special blue-gill contests to be held for members of the Berrien County Sportsmen's Club before the expiration of the season May 1.

At this time an analysis of the two bonus laws may be of benefit to many World War veterans. It should be kept in mind at all times that these two laws are separate and distinct.

Analysis of 2 Bonus Laws

The Record has been furnished the following explanation of the relations and application of the two bonus laws by Commander Claude McGowan: At this time an analysis of the two bonus laws may be of benefit to many World War veterans. It should be kept in mind at all times that these two laws are separate and distinct.

The Record received a program of the Reading Parent Institute which is sponsored by Max Smith, principal of the high school there. Socialized education was the theme of the 3-day program, five members taking a period each to explain to the 350 parents in attendance the extra curricular activities of the school from the standpoint of their importance to the complete education of the child. The need for training in activities which can be practiced in the leisure time of the future was emphasized. Each teacher in the school spent 15 minutes with a group of the parents, giving a picture of the work of the school.

He was appointed warden of the prison, Jan. 15, 1935. Previously he had served several terms, both as sheriff and police commissioner at Kalamazoo, deputy warden at Jackson and for 11 years as warden of the Ionia reformatory in 1933. He suffered the stroke while attending a Rotary Club luncheon, and died later at the Foote Memorial hospital. Survivors are his widow and two sons, Charles Shean, Jr., of Portland and George Shean, a clerk in the Jackson prison.

Legion Hosts to B. H. S. Cage Squad

The American Legion will entertain the high school basketball squad at their hall Wednesday evening, April 8, at which time Buck Reid, coach at Western State will be the main speaker. Tickets may be secured from Legion members. A banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m.

This will not apply so much to the great bulk of veterans who have heretofore applied for their certificates and borrowed upon them and who are now applying for payment under the act just passed by Congress. This group, however, in order to avoid a technicality in the law stated below under the second group referred to, should make immediate application now for full payment and receive their Thrift Bonds. If a veteran who has borrowed part of his money fails to make application under the new law before his death, the interest on the loan would be cancelled and his beneficiary or estate would get very little, if anything. Most veterans seem to feel the new law automatically has cancelled all interest on loans. This is not true. An interest will only be cancelled where a valid application is made under the new Act.

Explanation of Relation Between New and Old Bonus Law

There are two groups most likely to have their full benefits jeopardized by their failure to act promptly or intelligently, which are as follows: The first group contains those who have never applied for their certificates under the first act of May 19, 1924. During the past several years the American Legion and other veteran organizations have come in contact with the relatives and dependents of veterans who have failed to apply for their adjusted service certificates prior to their death. In such cases the law provides only for the payment of the adjusted service credit of a dollar a day for home service and $1.25 for over seas service with a maximum allowance of 500 days service and this is payable only to the dependents of the veteran including his widow, children and dependent mother and father and can not be collected for his estate to the benefit of any other class of relatives. Take, for example, a veteran with an adjusted service credit of $500. If he had applied for his certificate the face amount of his certificate would have been approximately three times the amount of his adjusted service credit, or $1500 and his negligence or failure to apply for the certificate in numerous cases has deprived his widow and children from this large sum of money and it has been difficult for those rendering service to make them understand why this is the case.

Fred Riley is Radio Engineer

Cited in U. of Cincinnati Paper for His Work During River Floods.

Fred Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Riley, and now a freshman in the College of Engineering of the University of Cincinnati had the honor of a front page story and picture in the college newspaper, "The Bearcat," for his work as one of the engineers at the University broadcasting station during the recent floods in the Ohio river section. The write-up follows: Ninety hours without sleep was the contribution of four U. C. students to the cause of flood relief during the past few days. Sam Long, Fred Riley, Elmer Faust and E. F. King, engineers, maintained the long vigil in the university radio station, W8YX, on the fourth floor of Swift Hall, from which they sent and received flood messages of various kinds.

Many of the messages concerned the safety of persons marooned in the flooded areas. Anxious inquiries about parents, relatives and friends were relayed, and assuring answers flashed back to the waiting senders. The operators were able to assist in transmitting both local and upstate messages. In one instance they rendered assistance to a local boy whose mother was in the flood-stricken area. Unable to get word of her safety, the boy appealed to the U. C. operators who successfully contacted an amateur operator in the district and promptly learned of the woman's safety.

Other messages received through W8YX concerned conditions in the flooded sections of the East. Information about army hospitalization as well as news of Red Cross progress were received by the University operators. The work of the four students was purely voluntary, an outgrowth of their interest in wireless telegraphy. Long, especially has had experience of this sort before as a member of the T. F. C. storm area patrol of his native state, Florida. He is a freshman in the College of Engineering, Riley, originally from Buchanan, Michigan, is also a freshman engineer.

Spring election in the city and in the nearby townships will be held next Monday, April 6, with the presence of five candidates in the field for one vacancy in the city commission offering most of the interest in what would otherwise be a rather apathetic contest. Oak street, at the house home, and Precinct 2 will vote at 113 N. Oak street, in the city hall.

Root, Fred Schwartz and Atty. G. H. Batchelor. Three candidates are in the field for two vacancies in the office of constable at large in the city in the persons of Fred French, Edward Mitchell and John Montgomery.

C. J. Clafin, 706 North Allen street, South Bend, states that a move has been made to hold a canary and bird show next fall. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. K. E. Proud, 419 South Lafayette Blvd., April 5, and meetings will be held thereafter on the first Sunday in each month. Basel Degeyer, Mishawaka, is president, and Mrs. Chas. Cooper, formerly of Buchanan but now of South Bend, is vice president.

Along McCoy's Crick

(By Harrison Merrill)

Old timers will have little difficulty in remembering the time resident McKinley paid a somewhat fleeting visit to the little lagoon along the Crick. That was in the very late 90's.

Congressman Edward LaRue Hamilton wired from Washington at the Chief Executive aboard a special car would make a brief stop at Buchanan while on his way up Michigan City to Niles.

Receipt of this message naturally caused a lot of excitement especially among members of the G. O. P. The fact that a new straddler was soon to be named the village did not detract in any way from the feeling that prevailed.

The schedule, as announced, would have the McKinley special arrive some time during the forenoon. Arrangements at once were made to have the schools close at the time so that the little children might greet the President.

The Democrats naturally opposed the move but they were greatly outnumbered, of course.

When the time arrived there was a usual parade to the depot, headed by the silver cornet band in procession consisting of hundreds of school children carrying flags, members of the G. A. R. in air blue garb, and prominent Republicans in Prince Alberts and silk hats, but recently removed from the top shelf and cobwebs and dust carefully removed, moved majestically up Days Avenue.

The Republicans had chipped in and bought a windmill, which was one of the chief products of the village at the time and this was presented to the Chief Executive at the station in a few well chosen remarks by the Hon. I. Roy H. Dodd, leading druggist and orator.

Once the depot was reached the little children were draped along a south bank of the right-of-way. There was a line of little girls in light red dresses, then several rows of little girls in newly laundered white dresses, then more rows of children dressed in blue. The first white and blue effect was not beautiful to behold.

It was arranged that when the special arrived the children, led by a handsome school marm would wave American flags, the band would strike up, and amid much applause the President of these United States would be presented to the windmill and this would give the executive a faint idea of the esteem in which he was held by the G. O. P. section of the population.

It was a bright Spring day! Never in the history of the Crick, perhaps, had there been such a notable gathering at the depot. People for miles around were present at the station. It was what could be safely referred to in later years as a gala occasion.

Down the road toward the west could be heard the whistle of a locomotive. The train apparently was just passing through Baker's. Instantly all sprang into action. The little children were signalled to start their flag waving, the members of the G. A. R. instantly stood at attention, the band started to play, and the reception committee headed by the Hon. I. Roy H. Dodd removed their tall silk hats and advanced to the edge of the platform.

The train came nearer and nearer. Then it passed on chugging over the rails. It consisted of 44 cars of smiling hogs on their way from Chicago to the Buffalo live stock market.

The crowd relaxed! At this time one of those drizzling rains started. All the members of the party ran for the shelter of the depot. There was not enough room to accommodate all.

Then another whistle down the track was heard. The children, dressed badly mussed by the falling drops, hurried back to their places on the bank, the veterans once more stood at attention, the reception committee doffed their shiny tiles and allowed the rain to mingle freely with their parched throats, a condition that usually results when one is seeking an appointment, and all was in readiness again.

This time the train consisted of 53 empty box cars on the way to the eastern seaboard.

The crowd again relaxed and sought shelter. The red and blue dresses worn by the little girls and the handsome schoolmarm by this time had started to run badly, a result, no doubt, of defective dyes that had been used. The human flag was a sorry sight!

Then came another whistle! Instantly all sprang into action. This time there was no mistake. It was the McKinley special! But, like the other trains that had come along it never stopped or even hesitated.

It was a sorry, straggling procession that made its way back from the depot. The children in their varied colored dresses, the G. A. R. in soggy garments, and the members of the hoped-to-be reception committee in rain-soaked hats and Prince Alberts passed in review on the Front street corner before prominent Democrats under umbrellas, who later were to be charged with having caused all that happened including the drizzle.

Whatever happened to the windmill no one knows. Many Republicans swore it was carted away by dem Democrats. The members of that party were not above suspicion even in those days, it seems.

Other members of the G. O. P. blamed Congressman Hamilton for what had happened, which, of course, had been plenty. They vowed that it was the Niles spirit as usual wroking vengeance on the Crick people. Mr. Hamilton's vote in the township and village of Buchanan fell away 48 per cent at the fall election.

The Hon. Hamilton was rather unfortunate in his dealings with the Crick voters but those who knew him always were certain that the fact that he was a resident of Niles and that Buchanan was Buchanan never entered into his political calculations. Never, it was claimed, had he considered the idea of appointing a Niles man to serve as postmaster in Buchanan. The records appear to indicate that this might be true!

There was the time when the Niles Congressman sent hundreds of large wall maps to prominent Republicans in Buchanan. They were large maps, franked through from Washington, and carried in the baggage car.

The maps were printed in a number of bright colors and showed every city, town, village and crossroad in the United States—with the exception of Buchanan. There was not the slightest trace of a dot to show that such a place existed. This, no doubt, was an oversight on the part of the Congressman. But again the dread Niles influence was voted by the home folks with the result that the Hamilton vote at the next fall election showed another decrease, that time some 18 per centum.

While the Republicans as a result of the presence of the G. A. R. held the balance of power in Buchanan back in the previous century the Democrats, although pretty much downtrodden, were never feeble. They were able to put a real resistance in their battle against the so-called protective tariff octopus.

The children in those days entered fully into the spirit of an election. The little boys would show their preference one way or another. They would either have "Blaine and Logan" or "Cleveland and Hendricks" printed in gold type across the bands of their caps. There was no straddling!

Under the rules it was proper and just for the little Republicans to knock the "Cleveland and Hendricks" hats off the heads of the little Democrats. The little Democrats, in turn, were called upon to knock the little Republican boys out from under the "Blaine and Logan" hats.

In one case, it will be seen, the hat was knocked off the child and in the other, the boy was knocked out from under the hat. That in the estimation of this writer has always represented the actual difference between the two political parties.

Only one child, it was recalled, was satisfied to remain neutral through it all and escape trouble. That was Eugene "Mickey" Murphy, who wore a "Blaine and Cleveland" hand on his little hat. By adopting that method he was able to mingle with both sides and avoid trouble although at heart the little fellow was a Democrat and was not afraid to so declare himself when among children of that faith.

The old-fashioned torchlight processions during a political campaign always created a lot of interest. Each side endeavored to outdo the other in this respect. There were bands of music, equestrians from off the prairie, oxen with whiskered drivers from the Coveney school house district, red lights, prominent party members wearing oilcloth capes and carrying flanneaus which blazed up into the sky, fights along the curb and all that.

The torchlight procession should never have been allowed to fade out of the political picture. It was the finest example of playing the other fellow's game that was ever conceived in the mind of a politician. The fellow who could line up the most torchbearers was always the most successful at the polls.

Letter received from Sam Bunker, the younger, at South Bend, states that it was also Henry "Red" Spohr, who gave him his first chew of tobacco. It was a generous slice of Battle Axe. There must be others!

Buchanan throughout the years has never been slow in its response politically to all demands. Does seem that the McKinley special might at least have whistled while going through the town.

Great Lakes to Europe Passenger Service

The British-American Steamship Company, Ltd., recently organized in London, has announced that with the opening of navigation this season, it will maintain a steamship service between Detroit and London, with two steamships of American registry chartered this season and four more to be built in England for next year. The service will have its headquarters in London and will handle traffic to main continental ports by transshipment.

Direct passenger service between Muskegon, Chicago, Detroit and other Great Lake ports will be inaugurated this spring by the Fjell line, a Norwegian steamship company, which has carried on a Great Lakes and trans-oceanic freight traffic for several years. Three new steamers with limited passenger accommodations have been built and a fortnightly service will be maintained, to leading continental ports.

Illinois Law Hits Michigan Truckers

The Michigan highway trucking industry, as represented by the Michigan Trucking Association, has informed Governor Fitzgerald that the industry, under existing conditions, must withdraw from the state and incorporate in Indiana to avoid prohibitive taxes placed on outstate carriers by Illinois. An association committee revealed that the state will lose $500,000 in revenue if the contemplated withdrawal from Michigan is carried out.

R. Glenn Dunn, legal advisor to the Governor, said an Illinois statute which became effective Jan. 1, requires either a fee of $250 or the payment of two cents per mile traveled by each trucking unit in Illinois which is not registered in the state.

"This tax is absolutely prohibitive for Michigan operators trucking into Illinois," Dunn said.

Indiana has effected a reciprocal agreement with Illinois under which trucks registered in each state may operate in the other state tax-free. That is the reason why Michigan truckers are planning to incorporate in Indiana.

The Michigan law exacts only two mills per mile from outstate trucks. Dunn explained that Michigan statutes do not give the Governor power to enter into a reciprocal agreement with Illinois.

Border warfare, including the arrest of Michigan truckers by Illinois police, is said to have already started.

The association committee revealed that there are eight times as many Michigan trucks going into Illinois as there are Illinois carriers coming into Michigan.

Navigation Opens Great Lakes

The bulk navigation season opened at Muskegon harbor last week with the arrival of the Standard Oil tanker Beaumont Parks from Indiana Harbor, Ind., with 1,500,000 gallons of gasoline. This opening date for navigation is one week later than last year and the same as the opening day of 1934.

The ice was completely gone from the harbor and, while several miles of slush ice remained outside the harbor, the boats were having no trouble going through.

vice planning commission looked to New Jersey for suggestions to embody in the model civil service statute commission members will offer the next legislature. Two members of the commission recently completed a tour of inspection of the New Jersey system and Prof. James K. Pollock of Ann Arbor, commission chairman, issued a statement declaring that commissioners "were impressed with the strong centralized personnel control under the New Jersey civil service commission." "The population of New Jersey and Michigan are not far apart, and whereas New Jersey has 10,000 employes on its payroll, Michigan has 13,500," the statement said.

Start $8,000,000 Oil Resurfacing Program in Michigan

An $8,000,000 oil aggregate surfacing program starting April 1st, was announced by the state highway department. Hundreds of miles of gravel road will be treated to lay dust and provide an improved surface. Highway Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner estimated 1,800 men will be employed. Bids will be taken for the first 13 projects. They include Calhoun county, 5.6 miles on M-9 from Albion south.

Mich. Farmers Get More by New Act

To Receive Average $11 Acre for Planting Soil Conserving Crops.

Michigan farmers will receive an average of $11 per acre for increasing the acreage planted to soil conservation crops as compared with a national average of $10 per acre.

Officials told the committee members who attended an all-day school of instruction in Detroit that the $11 an acre benefits would be for the retirement of acreage now devoted to the growth of grain, potatoes, commercial truck crops, canning crops, and annual grasses and annual legumes that are grown to harvest for feed and seed purposes.

Payments will not be made on more than 15 per cent of the base acreage of any farm that is retired from these soil depleting crops and planted to soil conserving crops. Base acreage is the normal acreage planted to crops that destroy soil fertility.

The old AAA paid state farmers a total of $8,880,000, and it is believed that the new set-up will pay more as virtually every Michigan crop is covered by the new plan, while corn, hogs and wheat growers alone participated in the benefits under AAA. More farmers will be accordingly eligible for benefits under the new plan.

"A Horse! A Horse!"

The quotation, "A horse! a horse! my kingdom for a horse!" was in an old play, "The True Tragedy of Richard the Third," written in 1594, and Shakespeare put them in the mouth of the king in his play, "Richard III."

Berrien Leads In Farm Values

Highest Total Value and Average Acreage Value in Michigan.

Berrien county rated highest in Michigan in farm land values with a valuation of $30,657,959 in farm lands and improvements and an average acre value of $99.60, according to a census made by the U. S. Department of Commerce in 1935.

Other counties had larger farm acreages but less per acre valuation, the highly developed fruit industry in Berrien county accounting for the discrepancy. Next highest in acreage value was Monroe county with a $76.80 valuation.

Marked changes wrought in the social and economic life of Michigan by five years of depression and recovery from 1930 to 1935 were reflected in the census.

Michigan experienced a back-to-the-farm movement in the five years following the 1929 crash of financial values. The census report showed an increase of 27,145 farms during this period, although despite the increase, the census reveals that farm values dropped more than $300,000,000.

The shrinkage in values reflected one of the biggest factors operating against banks with loans outstanding on farm mortgages.

Figures in Recent Years

In 1930 Michigan reported 169,372 farms, aggregating 17,118,951 acres, valued at $1,160,651,607. In numbers, acres and value the 1930 showing was the low point in the span of 25 years from 1910 to 1935. The state had more than 200,000 farms in 1910. During the prosperous years from 1925 to 1930, 23,000 farms dropped out of the census, high industrial wages precipitating an "away-from-the-farm" movement.

The 1935 census showed 190,517 farms with a total of 18,459,922 acres valued at $226,260,594.

Illustrating the five year decline in farm values, the census report pointed out that the 1930 value per farm, land and buildings, was $8,853 compared with a 1935 per farm value of $4,205. Greatest declines in farm property value was reported in the lower peninsula.

Surveying the livestock on Michigan farms, the census disclosed that the value of farm horses had increased as their number declined between 1925 and 1935. There were 377,377 head of horses in the state in 1935 valued at $43,066,460.

In the five year period from 1930 to 1935 the number of cattle increased from 1,287,525 to 51,517,689, but the value declined from $86,953,877 in 1930 to $39,386,380 in 1935.

The report discussed the growth of competition in the sugar beet industry. There were 5,648 sugar beet farms in 1930 and 12,485 in 1935 with a corresponding acreage increase from 43,683 to 105,149. Sugar beet tonnage for the same period pumped 300,000 to 947,162 with the 1935 crop $3,000,000 bigger than it was in 1930.

Need Control Drainage Work

Many Relief Projects in Drainage Ill-Advised Waste of Money. A central agency, having the authority to approve or reject artificial draining projects on the basis of a broad appraisal of possible benefits or possible damage, is one of the outstanding needs in Michigan today.

"We have been informed that approximately $4,000,000 in federal funds have been allocated to Michigan in connection with artificial drainage improvements," Mr. Hoffmaster said.

"The Department of Conservation is vested with no powers, duties, or responsibilities by law in connection with drainage projects, but it has the legal responsibility to conserve and protect all of the natural resources of the state.

"There appears to be an urgent need for a central state agency, vested with the authority to consider and investigate every angle of artificial drainage work with the long-range public interest in mind.

Coach Miller Has Fine Sport Record

Athlete in High School and College J. W. Miller broke all records with 15 letters in major sports in Fremont High School, Fremont, O. He further cultivated this ability on the football, the basketball floor, the baseball diamond and the cinder track at Ohio State University and Western State Teachers College.

He was born in Fremont, Ohio, Sandusky county. He attended the grade schools. While in high school, to keep fit so as to be able to participate in sport activities, he worked in the summer on his parents' farm, 12 miles from Fremont.

When he was a sophomore in high school, he spent his home room periods in the principal's office. "Johnny," playing four years of football, experienced very little action in his freshman year due to his "greenness" of the game, but in time became the menace of the little Big Seven League.

He further stated that he was selected as guard on a mythical All L. B. S. League basketball team for four consecutive years, as well as all-state guard at Columbus in 1928.

His withdrawal from Ohio State came as a great surprise to Fremont friends, all of whom had been watching the college career with interest and banking on him to step out big in the great conference whirls during the next three years.

At Western State he played spectacular football and could always be counted on to gain a few yards when they were most needed.

His longest run for a touchdown was 92 yards, on a kickoff. The most points he ever scored for a basketball game were 26.

He received his B. S. degree in Physical Education from Western State. He likes coaching at Buchanan high school.

His hobbies are few. They are hunting and scrap books of his sports activities.

1500 Pheasant Eggs Allotted This Area

Members of the Berrien County Sportsmen's club have a number of activities starting this week. With the approach of warm weather members of the club are anxious to take part in the various enterprises outlined for 1936.

Dr. J. E. Bacheller, commissioner of pheasant propagation, announced this morning that the club's request for 1500 ringneck pheasant eggs has been approved by the State Department of Conservation.

The club is opening a blue gill contest that will start this week and end May 1. Three prizes will be given to the members catching the largest strings of five bluegills.

The club is also planning an opening of the trout, bass and other seasons. Dick Gardner, 99 W. Main St., Benton Harbor, is the commissioner of this activity.

Sheriff Charles L. Miller is still looking for mallard ducks for propagation and is also requesting that members or non-members bring in their surplus eggs.

More Entries In Blossom Fete Talent Contest

Fifteen Towns to be Represented in Finals Held Here April 8.

Fifteen towns and cities in southwestern Michigan are represented in the Blossom Talent contest, and several more are expected to participate, according to announcements by Bob Simons, Benton Harbor, who is manager of the contest.

The winners will be selected the night of April 8 at the Liberty theatre, Benton Harbor. There are two classes of competition, one for soloists and one for groups. Singers, or entertainers who do not use instruments, are the only musicians eligible to compete.

Finals at Berrien Springs will be April 2, at the Berrien theatre. The finals will come as the climax of three preliminary contests.

Benton Harbor, with two preliminaries, will hold the final elimination on April 3 at the Bijou theatre. St. Joseph's final contest, after two preliminaries, will be on April 2.

Waterliet and Coloma are combining their contests, and the eliminations will be on Monday, March 30, at the Loma theatre in Coloma.

The Cassopolis contest will be held on Tuesday, March 31. Dowagiac will have a contest at the Century theatre on Wednesday, April 1.

Three towns already have announced their representatives, which have been appointed by school authorities or by theatre managers.

Hal Brooks, 13-year-old impersonator, is to represent Three Rivers. Lawrence will be represented by Paul Knudson, baritone, who was in last year's Blossom Talent contest.

Other cities and villages which will appoint the candidates are Niles, Kalamazoo, Hartford, Sawyer and Battle Creek.

Cities which will be visited by the queen and her party include the following state capitals where the queen will greet the governors of the states, and personally invite them, and their citizens of the states to visit the twin cities during the Blossom Festival.

Leon J. Harris, of the promotion committee of the festival, is credited with the conception of this advertising idea. Eldon Rohl, a member of the Air Show committee for Blossom Week is to take the matter up with officials of the American Airlines. He is a pilot for this company.

will be possible to tell at a glance and without delay the number of fatalities and accidents in Michigan from day to day and the why and wherefore for them. Under this system and by use of a master thumb-tacked map, the council believes it will be possible to get at trouble immediately. By knowing promptly where a mounting or steady toll indicates some peculiar hazard, immediate remedy may be possible. If accidents are piling up at a particular point, a investigation may lead to swift relief by the simple device of improving the markings at the intersection or stationing an officer at that point.

Safety Council Speeds Its Drive

The Michigan State Safety Council will intensify this week its drive for highway safety by putting into operation a four-authorities believe may prove a model for the nation.

The first step will be the appointment of four committees of 25 specialists each to straighten out the conflict, ambiguity and duplication in existing motor vehicle acts and develop enforcement, engineering and educational programs for the state.

besides clarifying present laws and erasing duplications, will add clauses where more teeth are needed to bring the code into harmony with the recommendations of the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety.

The committees also will consider the advisability of a periodical inspection of motor vehicles. A uniform accident reporting system will be set up whereby it

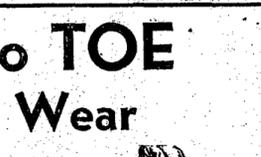

C. C. McGill, of the Automobile Manufacturers' Association; Gordon Graham, regional director of the National Safety Council, and John Hall, spokesman for the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, declared the Michigan four-point program was good enough to serve as a national model.

An Educational Committee will be broken down into numerous angles of the problem as safety work in the elementary schools, the secondary schools, the rural schools, teacher training institutions and traffic training for training for police officers.

Another committee will have full control of the spread of safety propaganda by means of the press, radio, outdoor advertising, posters, films and through a speakers' bureau, and other committees will work in close conjunction with various war veterans' groups and noon-day clubs.

Controlled FIRE. YOU think of a fireman as a man who leads a hectic life, running around to extinguish fires that are out of control. I am a fireman of a very different sort. My job is to keep the fires in the power plant absolutely under control so that you will get good electric service. Single-handed I look after a bank of huge boilers whose combined capacity is equivalent to the power of 95,000 horses. They produce 700,000 pounds of steam every hour. That steam, at high pressure, is hurled against the blades of a turbine which changes the power in the steam into electricity. Its work done in the turbine, the steam is condensed into water and flows back into my boilers. Only a small part of all the electricity in the country comes from water power. Most of it is made from steam. A steam power plant uses an enormous amount of water and must be located on an ample water supply. The average family uses about 50 kilowatt-hours of electricity a month. To make that much current takes about 25 tons of condensing water. Multiply the number of families we serve by 25 tons and you will have some idea of the amount of water that is needed in a steam power plant each month to produce electricity for domestic customers alone. To condense the steam from "Controlled Fire" requires a lot of water. Condensing water used in the generation of electricity to serve our customers would provide a water supply sufficient for five times the population we serve. This is the second of a series of advertisements presenting the people behind your electric switch.

Lay 900 Ft. Main Sewer Last Week

With a slightly larger force of men and working with the aid of a trench digger and an air compressor for driving piling, the WPA force laid 910 feet of main line sewer last week or more than was laid during the entire months of January and February when cold and storm hampered the progress.

Engineer Gartland stated that they expected to install from 1200 to 1400 feet weekly as soon as the force is entirely organized. The last of the Niles strikers returned to work here Monday, chastened by the loss of a week and a half of pay.

Ring as Love Token. The ring as a love token commenced its recorded history when the ancient Greeks sent rings of iron to their betrothed as evidence of an agreement. The ring being placed on the third finger of the left hand during the marriage service, for it was believed that a nerve led from this finger directly to the heart. But most of the men wore their rings upon the right hand as a mark of power and independence.

TEXAS RANGER IS MOST FEARED OF OUTLAW HUNTERS

Capt. Frank Hamer Rivals Deeds of Wyatt Earp, Famed Marshal.

Austin, Texas.—The fame of Wyatt Earp, known as the deadliest frontier marshal in the days of the old Southwest, is now threatened by a modern rival. He is Capt. Frank Hamer of the Texas rangers.

Although he is known over the country chiefly because he "wiped out" Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, notorious outlaws, Captain Hamer is recognized in his home state as the greatest man hunter the rangers have ever had. He's been "in at the death" of 53 outlaws, and on his own pistol are 17 notches, not counting Mexicans.

In many ways, though not physically, Captain Hamer resembles the old frontier marshal, Wyatt Earp. Captain Hamer is a big man, standing 6 feet 4 inches in his boots and weighing over 200 pounds. Wyatt Earp was 8 inches shorter and 60 pounds lighter. But both have the same disposition. Avoids Publicity.

Earp never fought unless he had to; neither does Captain Hamer. Both are renowned for their avoidance of publicity. Earp wore dark clothes and never adorned his person with the colored bandanas and fancy vests of the old West. Captain Hamer dresses like a Texas business man.

But both are noted for having their guns always ready for action. Typical of the cool, quiet, thorough-going methods employed by Captain Hamer was his hunt of Clyde Barrow and his cigar smoking girl friend, Bonnie Parker. The search started when Barrow killed his tenth and eleventh victims, two highway troopers, near Grapevine, Texas. The orders were: "Don't come back until you have the pair, dead or alive."

With three other rangers, he started to run down every tip received about Barrow. They led him through Texas and Oklahoma, north as far as Canada, and then back to the Gulf of Mexico. All the time he was becoming more and more familiar with the pair's methods of operation. Finally he got word that they intended to rob the First National Bank of Arcadia, La.

He set his trap on the main highway a few miles outside the town. End of Clyde Barrow. The officers waited for six hours in the underbrush alongside the road. Finally a tan sedan was seen approaching from the north. It was Clyde and Bonnie. Captain Hamer gave them a chance to stop. He stood up, alone of his men, and signaled to the car. It put on speed and Bonnie was seen to reach toward the floor. Captain Hamer fired and his shots were echoed by a hail of bullets from his men.

Hundreds of bullets were sent into the sides of the car. It swerved from the road and crashed against an embankment a hundred feet away. The officers peeped into the car. Bonnie and Clyde were dead, their bodies riddled with bullets. Clyde was slumped over the wheel. Bonnie's head was between her knees.

But Captain Hamer wasn't proud over the shooting which ended the activities of two of the most desperate criminals ever seen in the Southwest. He drove to town and quietly returned to Texas.

"I hated to have to shoot a woman," he said. "It's all right when it's a fellow who's going to get you if you don't get him first. But a woman—"

But even more characteristic of the man, and similar to the custom of Wyatt Earp, who always returned to his marshal's duties immediately after he had tracked down and killed a badman, was his remark when his superiors asked what he was going to do upon his return from his Louisiana success.

"I've been up for 90 hours," he said apologetically, "and I'd like to take the rest of the afternoon off. But I'll be ready for work in the morning."

Objects to Financing Her Hubby's "Parties"

Media, Pa.—"I didn't mind," Mrs. Elizabeth Hume, 27, wife of Marcus Hook, said in divorce court. "When my husband lost his job, I didn't mind supporting him. I didn't mind buying him gas and oil for his car. What I did object to was his driving girls around town on my money." The judge agreed that was expecting a lot and gave her a decree.

Danes Ancient

GERMAN BARON IS GIVEN 20 YEARS AS MASTER SPY

Night Life Figure Found Guilty of Stealing Army Secrets.

Prague, Czechoslovakia.—Baron George von Sosnowski, familiar figure in German aristocracy and one of the gayest figures in the mad whirl of postwar Berlin night life, is in a German jail under sentence of 20 years' penal servitude as a spy, according to reports here.

With him, according to these same reports, is the beautiful blond Baroness Benita von Berg, divorced wife of Richard von Falkenhayn, son of the late Gen. Erich von Falkenhayn of World war fame, and now the wife of Baron Joseph von Berg, prominent aviation engineer.

Although, as usual, a strict secrecy surrounds the entire affair, there is every reason to believe, according to one member of the Berlin diplomatic corps, that the beautiful baroness is under the same heavy sentence for her alleged part in the spy plot.

The Master Spy. Sosnowski, who is known to his friends as Yurek, is the perfect cinema conception of a master spy. Suave, of Austrian aristocracy, he has always been the perfect gentleman. His friends say he has never been known to make a rude remark, he knows every one, and is handsome.

Suspicious government agents decided that such a man bears watching. The "Geheime Staats Polizei," and German Cheka, kept an eye on him for five years. They tapped his telephone wires and kept records of his conversations.

Shocked by wild revels and scandalized by pictures they found in his apartment after wild parties, the secret agents, nevertheless, hung on grimly.

Finally the break for which the agents were waiting came. Baroness von Berg introduced Sosnowski to two women who were employed in the war ministry, Renate von Natzmer and Fraulein von Iena. They recalled that Baron von Berg was director of the air motor department of the huge Siemens plant.

The agents decided that the baroness and Sosnowski's many friends in official positions were passing on army secrets to him. Then, early last March, wholesale arrests were made.

Sosnowski and the baroness were jailed on charges of espionage and high treason. Her husband and ex-husband, Berg, and Falkenhayn, were seized. Renate von Natzmer and Fraulein von Iena were imprisoned, charged with stealing army documents and surrendering them to Sosnowski.

Fifty Arrests Made. Many other friends of the unlucky Yurek were seized. Altogether about fifty arrests were made, but 30 persons were released after a severe grilling. The seizures included members of society as well as others of lesser rank. Among those released were Falkenhayn and Berg. Friends of the former said his hair turned gray during his week in prison.

Meanwhile Sosnowski was reported near the breaking point in his confinement. Friends of the imprisoned man have been told that a new medicine had been discovered which, if administered with food, completely breaks down the resistance of the prisoner. Whether this is true or not, political hostages shudder when the prison doors clang behind them.

Although a strict military censorship has been clamped on the entire affair, it is whispered that the alleged secrets involved in the affair deal with a steam powered airplane capable of making a nonstop flight from Berlin to San Francisco; a device that enables airplanes to fight in fog; and a new and more deadly poison gas.

Bantam Adopts Kittens of "Modernist" Mother

Troy, Ohio.—The maternal instinct is strong today in the little bantam hen belonging to Courtney Frahn of New Carlisle, east of here.

Having neither chick nor child of her own, she adopted four kittens of a wayfaring mother cat at the Frahn home.

The mother cat returns now and then to feed her kittens. But she's a "modernist" and can't be bothered with stay-at-home duties or anything, in fact, that interferes with her career.

MISSING FOR 20 YEARS, FINDS KIN

Son, Lost in Mexican Revolt, Joins Mother.

Hollywood.—A story stranger than fiction, of a boy who was lured from the home of his aristocratic parents in Mexico City in the bloody days of the Madera revolution, and who "came back from the dead" to be reunited with his widowed mother and a sister here, has come to light.

The boy is now a man—James Brophy, thirty-four, soldier and adventurer.

The mother, who has been invalid for years, is Mrs. Esmeralda B. de Brophy, who lives with her daughters and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Leahy.

An incredible twist of fortune brought about the reunion. Recently Mrs. de Brophy went to the Home Owners' Loan corporation to refinance her home. There she met Rudolph W. Blanchard, and told him her story.

"Have you a son, James Brophy?" Blanchard asked suddenly. Turning pale, the aged mother said: "No. I had a son of that name but he has been dead for 20 years."

Further questioning convinced Blanchard a young man he had known as a worker in a Latin American organization was indeed Mrs. de Brophy's son.

Blanchard and some friends took James Brophy to the mother's home.

There, amid tears and exclamations, the remnants of a family that had suffered the terrors of the revolution, were united.

At first Brophy did not know his mother and sister. He had changed greatly, too, since he had left his home that day in 1914. But soon his identity was established.

Shock, such as might be caused by a ghost materializing, prostrated Mrs. de Brophy. But she said happiness would restore her.

so Harriet Hilliard can make the final payment on the craft in which she and Randy Scott plan to sail to distant honeymoon ports. The performance is laid in Monte Carlo and 100 glamorous and handsome dress extras provide the atmosphere. There are also eight beautiful and alluring girls in nautical whiteette costumes and ten gorgeous show girls in Bernard Newman designed gowns. "Follow the Fleet" will be shown at the Hollywood theatre Sunday-Monday Tuesday.

Friday-Saturday Double Bill program. Spiritualist fakers will find trade less profitable after the Warner Oland picture, "Charlie Chan's Secret", is seen. It exposes many of the tricks of their trade while unraveling a fascinating murder mystery.

As the danger defying young railroad worker who whispered by preference, but who could shout when he wanted to, George O'Brien returns to the screen in an action-filled story, "Whispering Smith Speaks", at the Hollywood Fri-Sat. The plot of the story revolves about the love that arises between George O'Brien, working as a railroad man, and Irene Ware, who manages a dilapidated old railway.

Wednes-Thurs. Double Bill. Romance and terror seldom go hand in hand on the screen, but they have been ingeniously combined in "Muss'em Up", Preston Foster's and Margaret Callahan's latest headlining vehicle for RKO Radio. Playing the role of a hard-boiled private investigator, Foster encounters his "one and only" when he sets about untangling the mystery surrounding the affairs of a Western banker. Charles Vidor directed this fast-moving drama.

The cast of "Woman Trap" the Paramount drama which plays on Wed-Thurs., is headed by Gertrude Michael, George Murphy, Roscoe Karns, Akim Tamiroff, Samuel S. Hinds, Sidney Blackmer and Dean Jagger. The story deals with a gang of desperadoes who hide behind the romance of a front-page reporter and a thrill-seeking girl.

B. H. S. Delegates Attend Model G. O. P. Convention at Western State

Vandenberg Choice of Meeting for Pres. Nominee.

Buchanan high school delegates represented the state of Tennessee in the model Republican convention which was held Saturday, March 21, in Kalamazoo, at Kalamazoo college.

The delegates who represented the school were Leslie Brewster, Ben Franklin, Spencer Kohlman, Bill Habicht, Milburn Shafer, Hubert and Howard McClellan, and Eleanor Miller.

"The morning session was held in the Treadway gym at 10:30 a. m.," stated Leslie Brewster.

He further explained the different things that were discussed in the morning session:

1. The convention was called to order by the presiding officer, Prof. Willis Dunbar.

2. Invocation by Dr. H. Lewis Batts.

3. Speech and the presentation of the keys of Kalamazoo by Mayor Paul Todd.

4. Welcoming address to the college by Acting President Chas. T. Goodsell.

5. Roll call of states by Mary Palmer, national secretary.

6. Election of temporary chairman, Glenn Allen, and election of temporary officers.

7. A motion was made to send a telegram to the founder of these conventions.

8. Election of Dr. Frank Bachelor as permanent chairman. A talk was given by Dr. Bachelor.

9. Motion made and passed to postpone debates on the tariff question until the afternoon session.

The delegates were told where to go to eat and were dismissed by states.

The afternoon session met also in the Treadway gym at 1:30 p. m. It was called to order by the permanent chairman, Dr. Bachelor and the invocation by the Rev. T. Thomas Wylie.

"After this was done a motion was made and passed that certain states pick out a delegate to debate the pro and con of the tariff problem. The question was whether there should be a high or low tariff," stated Brewster, while glancing at his notes he had taken during the convention.

The delegates were picked from the certain states and the debates were made. A vote was taken on the tariff question. Those in favor of high tariff received 265 votes and those against, 441 votes. The high tariff was removed from the platform. The platform was accepted with the removal of the high tariff.

A short talk was given by the Assistant Attorney General, Mr. Fox of Michigan.

"Presentation of candidates for president was done by the roll call of states," remarked Leslie.

The following are names of candidates and by whom presented:

1. Col. Knox by Robert Koestner.

2. Herbert Hoover by Robert Gostrey.

3. Patrick J. Hurley, one of the states.

4. Vandenberg by Richard Modeman.

5. T. Roosevelt, Jr. by Robert Hotelling.

6. Dickenson by one of the states.

A program was given for the rest of the period and the afternoon session ended.

The evening session convened in Treadway gym at 7:30. The reply to the telegram that was sent to the founder of the conventions was read. A talk was given by State Senator Dunkel, and the presentation of the candidates continued.

7. A. Landon by John Osborn.

8. Gerald P. Nye by one of the states.

9. Borah by Logan Cox.

10. Glenn Franks by one of the states.

11. Joe E. Brown by one of the states.

"There were five ballots taken to decide on the vote for presidency. They used the unit rule on the last ballot for President," stated Leslie.

Below are the votes for each candidate according to ballots:

SAFETY TOWN

The third grade recently had a very interesting project on a large table in the corner of the room. The houses were built of cardboard. It was a modern part of a city. Streets and parks were included in this project.

At the intersections were traffic lights. The pupils brought cars, trucks and motorcycles. The people were represented by dolls.

The cars were moved by the pupils when they could cross the intersections. A demonstration was given to the second group of the second graders and also to the first graders.

The object of the project was to teach all pupils in the third grade how to cross the streets.

THROUGHED CORRIDORS

In the Buchanan high school are several hundred students who are able to reduce the confusion in the corridors.

Rules have been made tending to prevent such crowded halls. Something is wrong somewhere. Can it be on the part of the students? There needs to be a rectification in

ANOTHER CHANCE

It seems as though the graduating class of '36 is making quite a few changes this year. Not only will the Annual be bigger and better than before, but they are changing the customary color for caps and gowns.

The trouble is that all students do not strive to improve the imperfection.

"Keep to the right" is the slogan in the South Bend high schools. The Central senior high school has a form that has shown great results. The students walk in single file down the halls, keeping close to the wall. This form does not require teachers to be on hall duty outside their respective rooms. In this plan there seems to be no confusion in regards to loud talking or yelling. This plan could be worked in a smaller school more satisfactorily than in a larger school because of the number of students.

This plan could be used in B. H. S. corridors and also coming up the stairs. Those coming up the stairs in the plan we have now, have to wait patiently for those coming down if they do not want to be pushed or knocked down. Single file and keeping to the right on both sides with plenty of room in the center is a plan that has been proposed.

Such a plan would probably solve the problem. There would be noon of teachers in the halls. Pushing and rushing of students would gradually decline. Everybody would be safe.

Retention plays an important part in the reading for the mind must be trained to remember, understand, and to be able to express concisely what has been read.

For example, the juniors and seniors are subjected to a ten point test each week. The questions are taken from the Scholastic, a high school paper. They must remember names, dates, books, minute facts. They have to understand what they read before they can put it in concise writing.

That is just one example of the way the mind is developed and the manner in which it is done. Don't you realize, too, that "Reading maketh a full man"?

In closing, we as students of Buchanan high school, wish to present to you our ideas as to the management of this school. All articles of this treaty have been unanimously agreed upon: 1, shorter hours; 2, better marks, pertaining both to the subject and the citizenship grade; 3, one skip day in every three weeks; 4, that the style of the admits be changed, so as to obtain only first class excuses; 5, last, but not least, that a radio and two telephones be installed in each room.

Reinforcements from Michigan

Flood waters rage... dams break... water stands ten feet deep in the business section of a great city.

Local telephone circuits are flooded and temporarily damaged. The Bell System mobilizes. From neighboring companies—including Michigan—come squads of trained and tested telephone men. The Bell expeditionary forces land—and in a short time they are able to echo that famed message of the Marines: "The situation is well in hand."

Only one thing made this possible. That is the fact that Bell System practices and equipment are standard the country over. Consequently, when the Bell System mobilizes in an emergency, it is not necessary for reinforcements from other companies to ask: "What kind of equipment is it?" They merely say: "Where is it?" and go quietly and efficiently to work on familiar ground. This is true in Pittsburgh today where the Michigan Bell Telephone Company is contributing part of the emergency force. It was true in Michigan—in 1922 and 1929—when reinforcements from other Bell System companies came here to aid in the work of restoring communications temporarily destroyed by the sleet storms of those years. Without a nation-wide force of systematically trained men, without standard equipment in every associated company, some of the things which Bell men have accomplished swiftly as part of their routine duties would have caused confusion and endless delay.

Whenever you lift a Bell Telephone receiver, tremendous resources in men, organization and equipment are at your command. And there are times when it is impossible to measure the value of telephone service except in terms of life and death.

The Kurds
The Kurds are a people of Iranian race who occupy Kurdistan, partly in Asiatic Turkey and partly in Persia. They are a brave, freedom-loving people, not inclined to industry. The nomad Kurds live in tents of black skins, while the settled communities use low houses with flat wooden roofs. The Kurdish women have more freedom than most Oriental women. The girls are married, upon payment of a dowry, at ten or twelve years of age. The men shave their heads and faces, leaving only a mustache, though old men wear full beards. In religion they are mostly Mohammedans.

Franklin Patented a Stove
Benjamin Franklin did obtain a patent on his stove. In 1742, after his stove came into use, the governor of Pennsylvania was so pleased that he offered Franklin a patent. Franklin, however, declined because, he said, "as we enjoy great advantages from the inventions of others, we should be glad of an opportunity to serve others by any invention of ours."

Long Island's Whaling Industry

The Blue Coat Hospital
The Blue Coat hospital of Liverpool was established in 1703 for orphans and fatherless children, born within the borough.

Wove and Laid Paper
The difference between wove and laid paper is due to a screen in the paper making machine which leaves its impression in the finished product. The texture of wove paper is even and when held to the light the effect is uniform except, perhaps, for tiny dots which transmit the light a little more readily. Nearly all of the paper in use, including this newspaper, is wove paper. When laid paper is held before a light the effect is quite different, for there are found a series of light and dark lines, spaced as close, perhaps, as 16 to the inch. This variety is sometimes used for books or pamphlets and often for writing paper.

Financing a New Car? Appreciation
In appreciation (?) for your borrowing your money from them many finance and loaning agencies try and dig further into your pocket by representing that you MUST carry your insurance with them. This means, in many cases, carrying your insurance in companies in which you would not choose to carry your insurance. Also, paying, in many cases, more for the coverage than you could purchase it for from your own agent.
All this in the face of your having done them a favor by borrowing from them. (Remember they must loan money, that's their only excuse for existing.)
When buying insurance buy it from your insurance agent, not a financing agency.
