

SENIORS PRESENT PLAY FRIDAY, MAY 22

Legion Auxiliary Will Sell Poppies For Disabled Veterans Saturday To Give 3-Act Play, "Kempy"

Now Here's the Proposition

Attention Mr. Ford When Henry Ford gets his paper this week he will please note that in the event that a check for $10.50 which he drew to the order of Nell Fuller is cashed by anybody else, the endorsement will be phony and he will be responsible to Mr. Fuller in the sum of $10.50.

It seems that back in 1916 Mr. Ford announced that if he sold more than a certain number of cars that year he would refund a bonus to each buyer, which is how Mr. Fuller got his $10.50, but did not cash the check. Recently he uncovered the check and figured he would put it through and see if Mr. Ford was still in business and if he had any money in the bank or if there was any bank. He deposited it in his hip pocket and buttoned the flap over it. The flap buttons quite hard and Mr. Fuller figured it would be pretty safe. But on the day of the Blossom parade he was standing on the curb looking at Miss Louise Pound, the Blossom Queen, when some slick guy who had his mind on something else than queens, got his hand in the pocket and extracted not only Mr. Ford's check but $500 in postal savings certificates.

Mr. Fuller says he is not afraid of losing the $500 as the certificates are issued by the local post office and Glenn Haslett will not give the money to anybody but him. But somebody might put that $10.50 check through, that is if Mr. Ford is still in business and if he has the money in the bank or there is any bank.

Fannie, the front street flapper, says that American literature has certainly made great progress in the past few years and you no longer have to acquire a French education to get a chance to read something dirty.

Thumm Back from Pirate Island Gottlieb Thumm arrived last week from Captiva Island, the pirate stronghold off the coast of Florida where he completed his twentieth winter this year and had a fine time. The weather was fine and the tourist business on the gain, Thumm reported, although the pirate business is not so good, the bucaners having for the most part deserted the fo'castle to go into the Florida real estate business.

Since Captiva island is ten miles off the coast the climate there is even more equable than in Florida proper and in day times the thermometer ranged between 70 and 80 all winter, but at night it would get real cold—55 to 60. But the flowers bloomed all winter and Mr. Thumm had a fresh bouquet for his table every day.

"Red" Returns

"Red" Woodpecker, ranking outfielder of the Southwestern Michigan League in 1935, arrived last week from Florida, where he had spent the winter at the Detroit Tigers camp and resumed light workouts sparring in mid air pieces of doughnuts thrown to him by Ava Schram at the Michigan Central water tower. "Red" holds a perfect fielding record to date, with no errors, or in other words he has never missed a doughnut. He stated that he wished to emphatically deny that he had joined the outfield of the Buchanan Blues, asserting that such reports grew out of the fact that he alighted on one of the Niles fields at Liberty Heights last Sunday afternoon and started drilling a hole before he realized his mistake. When asked whether he would join the Detroit Tigers later, he made no comment.

Mr. and Mrs. George Exner were visitors at the home of their son, Virgil Exner and family, at Detroit from Friday until Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Doak had as guests Monday and Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Waldron and Mr. and Mrs. H. Stock, Detroit.

Saturday to be Poppy Day Here

Legion Auxiliary Will Sell Poppies to Benefit Disabled Soldiers.

Saturday will be Poppy Day in Buchanan and throughout the U. S. Millions of Americans will observe the day by wearing memorial poppies in honor of the World War dead. Nearly 100,000 women from the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute the flowers and receive contributions for the welfare of the disabled veterans and families of the dead and disabled.

Observance of Poppy Day here will be in charge of the Ralph Rumbaugh Unit of the Auxiliary, with Mrs. Claude McGowan as general chairman. A large corps of volunteer workers from the Unit and co-operating organizations is ready to begin distribution of the flowers on the down town streets early Saturday morning. By evening Auxiliary leaders hope to have practically everyone in the city wearing a poppy and to have raised funds which will assure continuance of the Unit's welfare activities during the coming year.

Auxiliary workers will wear distinctive badges, and all will serve as volunteers without compensation of any kind. No price will be asked for the poppies but each person will be allowed to contribute as much as he feels able. All contributions will go to the support of the Legion and Auxiliary welfare programs, with the bulk of the money remaining in the hands of the Unit for local work.

The poppies to be distributed here tomorrow have been made by disabled veterans at Camp Custer hospital, one of the 60 centers where the flowers have been manufactured this year under direction of the Auxiliary. Employment has been given to hundreds of disabled men receiving little or no government compensation and who could not possibly have done other work. More than ten million poppies have been made for Saturday's observance.

How the Boys made House Boat out of River St. Ferry Back in Nineties

Wm. VanMeter Served as Chief Officer or in Other Words, the Cook.

Back in the hitchin' post era, when a vacation of a week meant less mileage though, perhaps, just as much fun, the home town folks used to appreciate the recreational advantages of the St. Joseph river now instead of tilting a sophisticated snoot whenever you say anything about "river" and steaming off to a bear joint in Gary or East Chicago on the least provocation.

When you start talking about the old days on the river, however, one word leads to another as it did between Harrison Merrill and Rol Black re the old swimming hole. The story of the "Rudder Grange" last week revived a tale of another of the many house boats and excursion boats that navigated the old St. Joe in the pre-dam days.

This was about the old scow which did service as a ferry while they were building the present iron bridge across the St. Joseph at River street, back in the nineties.

When the bridge was done, several of the young bloods of the town acquired the scow and converted it into a houseboat—nothing that would rival a presidential yacht, but sufficient to accommodate a dozen or so young blades in a week's trip from Buchanan to St. Joseph. That was before river pollution had taken toll of the fish, and the bass fishing on the St. Joseph was something you would drive hundreds of miles to duplicate now.

The old scow was about 8x20 feet in dimension. The boys fitted it with a canvas top, mosquito barsides, a table stove and ice box. They took a small boat and where the fishing seemed best they would tie up the scow and paddle around by the hour. The boys were Billy VanMeter, George Thacher, William Palmer, Dr. Bailey, Sr., M. J. Kelling, Ira Boyer, Sr., Charles Boyle, Sig Denenberg, Frank Lamb, E. I. Bird, Bill Parden, Gro. Bailey and a few others whose names escaped the teller.

Billy VanMeter held the proud position of chief cook and the others served in subordinate positions assisting him. The cook was the only officer on the boat, but very important. What the ice box lacked the boys were supposed to rustle from the farmers along the river, always paying for the chickens, milk and other items, or anyway, that is the story they stick to.

They would drift to Berrien Springs the first day and camp there, taking it slower and fishing more from there on. The second night they might camp at Twin Springs 4 or 5 miles below Berrien.

After the second excursion the boys sold the scow to Andy Carothers, who lived in the home described once and for all by that eminent guardian of the historical verities, Francis Parkman Bancroft Merrill. Carothers portaged the scow above the dam and installed an engine in it, steaming up and down the river between his home and Niles until he acquired the Nettie June.

Much interest has been noted recently regarding the Red Bud or Judas tree, particularly since the "Red Bud drive" is becoming so popular. This lovely trail is along St. Joseph river between Berrien Springs and Buchanan, and at the base of Moccasin Bluff.

At various points this beautiful and peculiar tree is seen and presents a lovely sight, its pink blossoms nestled among the other varieties of trees and shrubs—the leafy colors of which are so variegated at this time of the year. A number of young trees are being planted along the trail this year.

The American Red Bud is of the genus Cercis (low trees or shrubs) and resembles the Judas tree of Europe in its heart-shaped leaves and clusters of small pink blossoms. Judas is said to have hanged himself on a tree of the European species.

Water Noble to Close Niles Store

Reports of the closing of the Noble Shoe Store in Niles because of the illness of the owner, Walter Noble, on the eve of the 50th anniversary of the business, recalled to the older residents that Noble started his career in Buchanan, with his father, George W. Noble.

The elder Noble conducted a shoe store on one side of the room now occupied by the Smith & Son store. On the other side Seth and Wilbur Smith conducted a grocery. Later George Noble bought the building and occupied the entire room, with a shoe and men's clothing store.

He started the Niles store as a branch in 1886, placing Walter Noble in charge. The elder Noble remained in business here well through the first decade of the twentieth century.

Walter Noble has been a patient in the University hospital at Ann Arbor for several weeks.

Prepare 11th Madron Camp

Berrien-Cass Scouts Summer Camp to be Open to Boys Over 9 Years This Summer.

Preparations are under way for the rejuvenation of Camp Madron prior to its opening for its 11th season. Announcement has been made by the Camping Committee of the Berrien-Cass Council that the camp will be open to all boys this year that have reached the age of nine years and over.

Construction is under way for new waterfront equipment including a new swimming pier and a new floating raft. Contractors are working on the main building to complete repairs such as scraping and sanding the dining hall floor, cleaning and varnishing the interior of the building, repairing and painting all the boats and canoes, and building new tent floors for the camp tents.

Twenty-seven young men are working on a N. Y. A. federal project at the camp which includes cleaning the grounds, repairing the drainage, cutting out the under brush, graveling the road leading into camp from the main highway and leveling the baseball diamond on the camp grounds. This group will also reconstruct the rifle range for target shooting and construct an archery range for those interested in that sport. Upon completion of this work, Camp Madron should rank as one of the most outstanding camps in this section of the state open to all boys of this community.

Camp periods will start for boys of Cub age including boys 9, 10 and 11 years old on July 5th and continue for a period of two weeks. On July 19th camp will open to all boys of Scout Age or 12 years and over and will continue into August for a period of seven to eight weeks. A rigid physical examination will be required for all boys that enter camp in order to safeguard the camp.

Scout executive Noll is taking special caution in obtaining the best camp staff possible in order that the camp may prove to be a real educational and recreational institution for the summer season. Many of the prospective applicants for camp staff are experienced teachers of the community and men that parents can feel free to place trust in the care of their boys. Special care is being made in the selection of men in charge of the camp waterfront and only men with special Red Cross Life Saving experience will be considered.

The cooking staff is also being selected with care to provide only the best food and the most healthful food to the boys in camp. A high trained dietitian is being selected to prepare the foods in order that they will give the most food value for the health of the boys. New equipment is also being installed at the camp including a new and larger water pump to insure better water, new waterfront equipment including a raft and pier and several new sail boats for the use of the older boys.

Camp Madron is located on the eastern shore of Madron Lake about five and one-half miles north and west of Buchanan. Camp rate has been reduced to the lowest possible price and full particu-

Older Cars Noted in State Record

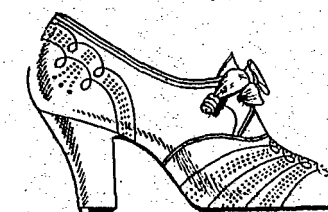

While the outstanding feature of the issuance of titles, licenses and stickers for automobiles by the Department of State is the volume of new cars, clerks note with interest the proof of the endurance of some of the sturdy old ones as shown in applications. Within recent days, 1036 license plates have been issued for two 1915 automobiles. The Olds Motor Company of Lansing, however, has just secured a Michigan title to a 1911 car purchased by that company at Roxbury, Mass. It weighs 5160 pounds and is equipped with 42 inch wheels, relics of earlier days of the industry.

Along McCoy's Crick

By Harrison Merrill

So many letters, blackhand and otherwise, have been received accusing the writer of altruistic motives in the preparation of this series of articles that it is, perhaps well at this time to lay the cards flaly on the table and allow the readers, if there be such, to judge whether there is something besides a desire to accurately add to the records for the benefit of future generations, if there be such, while the midnight oil that has been burned during the trying era of ju8eeetaoin.

For years the writer has had in mind the formation of an organization to be known as "The Ancient and Honorable Society of Crickets" to which people who were born on or had lived along the Crick prior to 1901, would be eligible to membership.

"The official motto of the Society would be "As Chipper As" in Latin if possible, and which would have reference to the Crickets proper. Of course to send out certificates of membership on heavy cardboard suitable for framing, would cost money.

It is doubtful whether the DuPonts or any other political organization care to finance such a proposition at this time even though there's a presidential tussel coming on. Therefore, the writer has figured that the members of the Society, perhaps, would not object to remitting a dollar or so to cover packing and mailing. Any money that might be left over could be used to finance the first annual picnic of "The Ancient and Honorable Society of Crickets" which could be held in the school house yard some time in August.

If that be altruistic let some one who so contends, name the place, hour and select the weapons!

To set at rest the minds of a couple of old timers who have written in for information it is hereby stated that it is true that the first folding bed ever used in the United States was made in Buchanan. That was back in 1881 and caused quite a stir at the time. In fact, at one time the village was known officially throughout the country as "Buchanan, the Folding Bed Town."

The bed which folded up somewhat on the order of an accordion, was designed by William Osborn, former jeweler and president of the village, who was then head of the Big Shop at the top of the hill in South Oak street.

The folding bed caused a real sensation among women who were anxious to get their house work done up in a hurry so that they might assist their husbands in the fields or at the forge. The new style bed did not have to be made at all but could be just folded up against the wall and allowed to remain there until night again happened along.

Often such beds would fold up during the night leaving the occupants thereof standing on their respective heads. This was not considered at all dangerous, however, as there was a cord within easy reaching distance which rang a gong on the foot of the bed which was then at the top thus allowing the neighbors to know that something unusual had happened and help could then be summoned.

It was such an incident which later brought to light in a hotel in an eastern city that politicians make strange bed fellows. That was in 1889 and within a short time thereafter laws were enacted by the alert politicians of the various states doing away with the folding bed for all time to come. However, Buchanan was very much in the limelight during the time the craze was under way.

It might be well at this spot in the narrative to mention the roller skating craze which hit the village hard back in the early 80's. The first roller skating rink was under canvas and located on a lot on Days avenue opposite the Batchelor livery barn. The following year the wooden rink near the same location, the building now being used for a grain emporium, was erected.

Just who built the latter rink the writer is not so sure about, although it seems that it was Charlie Bishop, perhaps, with a partner, who came to Buchanan from some town out-state, possibly Centerville.

It is recalled with much certainty, however, that John "Jack" Bishop, son of Charlie Bishop, was in absolute control of traffic inside the building. By ringing a large bell at the west end of the rink the skaters were given to understand they were to turn around and skate in the opposite direction.

Among the finest and most graceful skaters on the rink in the early days was Adelbert (Del) Jordan, who afterwards was stricken blind but who, by his patience and kindness during the years of his affliction was a genuine source of inspiration to the youngsters who used to gather daily in the small grocery store he conducted on Front street at the site of the present movie house. No one who has ever resided in the village will live quite as long in the memory of previous century folk as will this same kind, considerate and much admired and loved member of the Crick colony.

Polo played on roller skates used to attract large crowds to the rink. The game was founded on "shiny" often played by the boys on the empty corners and which consisted of whacking each other across the shins while presuming intent on battering up an old tin can. Polo was much the same, the object being to knock the skates and feet out from under a player with a polo stick or club in order to determine from the rattling of the ratters just how hard an opponent could tumble without giving up the ghost entirely. There were some very close decisions.

One of the members of the polo team and one of the fastest skaters in the place was Harry (Skete) Rough. In fact he earned his "Skete" title in the first place from the speedy manner in which he worked his legs, a great deal like a mosquito, as he flew around the rink.

There was that time when a Mr. Lake, a professional pedestrian—that, of course, was before the days of automobiles and drivers—spent an entire week walking around the rink with only five minutes out now and then, to regain his strength. Lake weighed 211 pounds and carried a shot gun weighing 13 pounds with him on his week's trip. The judges claimed that by walking night and day Lake covered some 111 miles during the time.

It is recalled on Thursday night during the walking exhibition that young Sam Bunker now of South Bend, went to sleep in the gallery of the building and in doing so managed to drop a large stone which he held in his hand and said rock in falling hit Mr. Lake squarely on the head. After being thus struck the pedestrian no longer indulged in any rest periods but continued to go round and around, faster and faster, and without stopping. It was not until after the exhibition was over on Saturday night that it was discovered that Lake had been in an unconscious condition as a result of the blow on the skull for the preceding 48 hours.

In justice to young Mr. Bunker it is here pointed out that he had no desire to injure Mr. Lake. The youngster always carried a large rock around with him to use in case he met up with some of the big boys along the streets. Without the dornick he was always very shy and retiring.

Later the rink building when not filled with wheat and oats was used as the ballroom de luxe for the elite. It was there that the town's best folks went to trip the light fantastic, the music being provided by Beckwith's orchestra, Dowagiac, Fischer's orchestra, of Kalamazoo, Elbel's orchestra, of South Bend or Murphy's Stringed Band of Berrien Center.

It might be well to point out that when swell parties at the old rink were being held there was but the one hack in the village and the young men who wished to put on a little style, or "dog" as it was called in those days, were considerably handicapped.

In order to take care of all the society business it was necessary to have the hack with its first couple leave for the ballroom at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. By this method and no other could the last pair be delivered by eight when the grand march was scheduled to get under way.

In order to keep up the demand it also was necessary for the hack to return the first couple to the home right after the grand march and, therefore, it didn't matter so much to the first young man and his young woman what orchestra was being used.

Certain young men of the about town type always used to walk back and forth, using the money which might otherwise have gone for hack hire to buy the girl a little something to eat at Johnnie Arthur's or George Stanton's after the dance was over.

It may interest Buchanan folks to know that the Charles K. Harris song, "After the Ball Was Over" was first sung and introduced in the village in 1893 by David (Lobby) Helmick, who at this time resided in Chicago and was paying the old home town a brief visit.

Back in the days when Buchanan socially was confined to one hack and all the girls wore hack hats, the village was pretty lively as the span of bays, or was it bay of spans, raced through the streets drawing its loads of human freight, to use a newspaper expression, to and from the old rink.

There is the story of a young Glenn E. Smith who had but recently come into possession of a brand new cape overcoat and a deluxe derby, who insisted on riding with the driver on the front seat of the hack while his companion, a young Berrien Center belle, occupied the seat inside the conveyance.

Have just had a letter from Alfred Tennyson Bunker, the name is familiar, of Buchanan, which states that the Fire Chief received his first pinch of dark Hiawatha from Henry "Red" Spohr. There must be others!

It has been considered wise to allow the effects of National Music Week to wear off slightly before telling about the Buchanan boys' band with its heavy array of talent, scales and umphas!

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner announced Friday new speed limits through certain residential sections of the city of Niles effective May 15.

The commissioner has set a speed limit of 40 miles per hour on US-31 between the city limits and Silverbrook Ave., and a limit of 30 miles per hour between Silverbrook Ave., and Oak St.

On M-60 he has established a limit of 40 miles per hour between the city limits and Topinabee Road and 30 miles per hour from Topinabee Road to Lincoln Ave.

These determinations are set by the State Highway Department in cooperation with the local authorities for the purpose of better regulation and control of driving speeds of motorists. In other municipalities throughout the State, the establishment of speed regulation warnings by the State Highway Department has resulted in marked improvement in safety conditions both for drivers and pedestrians.

Lieut. Peck to Canal Zone

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Childs received a wire Tuesday from their daughter, Mrs. Edwin R. Peck, stating that Lieut. Peck and family had embarked by boat that day from New York City, bound for Coca Solo, Panama, the U. S. air base at the north end of the canal, where they will be stationed indefinitely.

The Autobiography is little more than a novel with the author's name in character as the hero.

Age of Fish
Among fish, carp often live half a century, eels may reach the forty mark, trout seldom exceed thirty, while salmon are old at fourteen.

The Hollywood theatre will run a Manager's treat matinee Sunday, May 24th. All children attending the Saturday matinee will be given a ticket and this ticket and five cents will admit the child to the Sunday matinee to see Harold Lloyd in his funniest picture, "The Milky Way."

Against a background of ice-bound Labrador, Robert Montgomery and Myrna Loy are enacting one of the funniest comedies ever screened in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "Petticoat Fever," at the Hollywood theatre Friday and Saturday.

Adapted from the stage hit of the same name, the story concerns a wireless operator who is so lonely that he holds prisoner two fliers, a beautiful young girl and her male companion, whom he rescues from the Arctic night.

A wild scramble, two people tugging at a newspaper, which is between them—one wants the sport section, the other the comics. Then all is quiet for each has what he wants.

Scenes like this are familiar in every home. All the students want to know is how the Cubs came out with St. Louis; or if Detective 89 escaped from the clutches of the villains.

If the comics and sports sections are taken out, what is left? Political news, the talk of the town; science news, inventions, book reviews, news of the latest novels and plays, foreign news, history in the making! These subjects are food for thought—the reading material suitable for students.

Newspapers have an important effect upon the developing of minds of young people. Some young readers can't be convinced that everything that is printed is not true; some reading material is misinterpreted because it is colored.

Students and parents can help bring up the standards of reading material by taking precautionary measures in selecting newspapers that will fit into the minds of themselves and others, acquainting everyone with better every day reading.

NO MINOR

In touring the Federal Reserve bank in Chicago, Wednesday, May 13, a senior boy was insulted.

The guide asked the boy if he was smoking, as no smoking was allowed in this building. It happened the boy was not smoking at that moment. The guide further stated, "I thought there was a law against minors smoking."

With a cigar in hand, the boy replied, "I happen not to be a minor. I was 21 in April."

Can you guess who this boy was?

SENIOR SKIP DAY

Last Wednesday, May 13th, seniors held their annual skip day. The whole class, accompanied by Mrs. Dunbar and Mr. Elbers boarded a bus at 6:30 in the morning and left for Chicago. Everyone arrived safely at his destination around 10 a. m.

At first, the class visited the Board of Trade (and even sat in the directors' chairs!) They were very much impressed by the sights they saw. After leaving the Board of Trade, they were taken by guides through the Federal Reserve Bank. Here they saw the large vaults, how money was packed in bunches to send to the member banks and how money was destroyed. They were very careful, however, that nothing came up missing!

After the class left the Federal Reserve Bank, they were taken through the NBC studios. Here, also, a guide accompanied the class and explained the different attractions.

From this spot, the class scattered in different directions. They were on their own to do and see what they pleased. Many went to shows, and others went sight-seeing through the stores.

At 9 p. m. the bus pulled out of Chicago returning to Buchanan with a bunch of tired and worn out students. The day, although a little cold, turned out to be grand and everyone had a perfect time!

A DREAM?

A soft, sleepy, spring breeze blew in through the study hall windows.

(A student.) "I feel sleepy, think I'll sorta nap, I should study, but I'm tired. 'What's that?'"

"Good grief! Am I dreaming? There goes a rake down the nail, why—there's another and that's a spade, isn't it?"

"Say! What's coming off? I don't like this dream, guess I'll pinch myself."

"Ouch! darn—that hurt. Well there goes another rake, but I see it all now. The boys in the agriculture class are carrying them. Why didn't I notice that before?"

Well that proves I'm tired, but I think I'll study after that experience. Ho, hum." (A yawn).

Comments on Senior Skip Day

Rose Lynn Ernst—I had a marvelous time.

Dorothy Dunlap—It was the grandest day I have ever spent.

Gilbert Collings—I think we should skip once a week.

Dorothy Jerue—I had a keen time.

Harold Jackson—I'm going to wait until I'm twenty-one.

Roy Powell—Words will not express the grand time I had.

"252 miles to the gallon is how I figure it with Red Crown"

... CROWNS Lester Longbow

Mr. Lester Longbow, a prominent resident of Dozen Forks, R. R. 6, is known throughout the state for his untiring efforts in behalf of the Tall Stories Club.

"Ya see, I was to be speaker o' the evening at the annual Grange dinner over to Dozen Forks. I got all dicked up, sorta late, and then found the datted car was out o' gas—and Dozen Forks all o' four miles away.

"Well, my wife had an idea. 'Wait'll I get that little bottle o' gas I got from the Standard Oil Station to kill the ants with,' says she.

"I loved as how it was foolish, but we'd try it. So she brought out a little 2-ounce bottle and we dumped the Standard Red Crown it held into the gas tank. I started off, figuring mebbe I'd make a hundred rod.

"But I got past the next farm—and the next—in 'fore I knew it there I was in front o' the Grange with the motor still runnin'. Figure it out for yourself... four miles worth o' distance on two ounces o' Red Crown. That's 252 miles to the gallon. That's mileage, mister!... Eh?... Sure, the whole Grange is using Red Crown now."

We think Standard Red Crown is good, too, but we refuse to be taken in by Lester's vivid report. It's not THAT good.

With "more live power per gallon," Standard Red Crown operates with less waste power per gallon. With it you can be sure of as long mileage per gallon as with any regular-priced gasoline you can buy—if not longer.

But rather than make claims, Standard prefers to make it easy for motorists to find out the real facts about gasoline mileage for themselves.

Around About Buchanan

Itinerant Lecturer
G. W. Ferguson, an itinerant lecturer on the wonders of nature for more than fifty years, tapped his way into the city hall Monday afternoon and inquired of City Clerk Post for a geological study of the effects of glaciation in Michigan.

"I just got out of the hospital a while ago, after being mashed up when a milk truck hit my car down in Mississippi," he said, "I lost the use of my legs entirely until just a short while ago. Now I'm just getting started lecturing again. How long have I been lecturing? Well, I am 76 and I was at it before I was grown."

"Way I got started, my uncle who raised me in the Catskill mountain country of New York was a sort of amateur naturalist himself and a great crony of John Burroughs, who was the great American naturalist."

"Yes, I married, and my wife traveled with me until she died 15 years ago. We had one daughter—she is married and lives in Pequotky. I may go up there and sort of nurse myself longer or I may locate somewhere here in the fruit belt. I give free lectures in the schools quite often to introduce myself. I am well known in Wisconsin, through the small towns, also in Minnesota and out into the Dakotas. That's my country."

"Yes, I have always been able to make a living at it, although since I was in the hospital so long I kind of got like Congress, my budget is unbalanced. I taught myself—no school education. I know all the birds of this country by their notes—and I can still tell them by sight if I can get a good look."

"As long as a man can keep the independence and integrity of his mind, I figure there is no use of his losing his mental balance. And a love of nature and a curiosity about natural things stands you in better stead when you get old than anything else."

"I haven't got a car of my own, but I'll have to get one again. How will I get to Niles? Oh, I'll make out. Thanks for your interest, anyway. I'll keep going."

For Bird Lovers
It may be a little late now, but Mrs. E. H. Murphy passes on a suggestion to bird lovers that is worth keeping in mind. During the nesting season birds need time for egg shells and will ravenously devour powdered egg shells placed out where they can reach them.

Also Remembers Turner
Among the local people who remembered William H. Turner, former Chicago Journal manager of the late nineties, when he lived on the present Vanderslice farm east of Buchanan in 1900-1902 is Atty. A. A. Worthington, who was an invited guest at his home, and represented him in legal matters. Turner had a number of prominent Chicago newspaper men at his home when Worthington was there—Dunne might have been among them but Mr. Doolley was not the noted character that he later became, and Worthington does not remember.

Turner had in mind the improvement of the beautiful natural park fronting the St. Joseph river on the north end of his place, and actually began construction there, when his money dwindled. He was a man of extremely social habits with a strong convivial turn of mind that did not work for the conservation of his fortune. He was very curious about Worthington's teetotal habits, but nevertheless respected his attitude and visited constantly at his office. Sherwood Torch Delegate Harvey Sherwood, Bakertown boy, who teaches English in Kalamazoo Central high school, represented the Torch club of Kalamazoo as delegate to the national convention of Torch clubs at Rochester, N. Y. recently.

Redbud Trees in Perfect Bloom
Redbud trees along the river east of the Redbud Trail were out perfection Saturday, sudden heat and dry weather having forced the blooms into one of the best showings in years. Heavy traffic went over the Redbud Trail in spite of heavy dust clouds which formed a traffic hazard at times.

Gravel Third Street
Street Commissioner Ed Mitchell is installing a surface of gravel on Third street this week in order that the surface of that street will not break down under the heavy traffic which will be routed over that street and Chicago street during the next few weeks while west Front street is torn up for sewer installation.

Frost Wed. Night Nips Tomato Plants

Frost which visited sections of the Buchanan district Wednesday night damaged tomato plants and other tender garden vegetables but did little damage to field crops or fruit. In parts of Buchanan tomato plants were not affected. The past week has been marked by cool dry weather and by need of rain.

H. Gross Defeats Ind. Net Champ

The Buchanan tennis squad lost two series of games to the Niles squad on Friday and Tuesday evenings of the past week, the bright spot for the locals being the single victory of Herschel Gross over Charles Noble, former junior champion of Indiana in the first series, the match resulting 7-5, 4-6, and 6-4 in favor of Gross. The Buchanan squad consists of Melvin Campbell, Keith Dalrymple, Robert Hollenbaugh, Max Beadle, Herschel Gross and Jerry White. The local players have been handicapped by lack of experience on the courts, but are making good progress. They are coached by Rev. W. H. Brunelle.

The Word Assineboine
The word Assineboine comes from two words "asin" stone and up-wawa (to cook by roasting). An Assineboine was one who cooked by the use of stones.

Ague Tree
The sassafras, a North American tree of the laurel family, with aromatic bark and foliage, also is called the ague tree.

France's West Point
The two great military training schools of France are St. Cyr and the Polytechnic. There are other institutions such as the Superior School of War, for training staff officers; Fontainebleau, for artillery officers; Saumur, for cavalry officers, etc. St. Cyr was founded in 1765, Polytechnic in 1791.

Just a light touch on the steering wheel turns the new Row Crop "70" completely around. It's the easiest tractor to operate you ever saw. Every control's right at your finger tips—and you have steering and gear shifting like an automobile.

This is Oliver's new 6-cylinder Tractor that has caused so much talk. There are two "70's"—one designed solely for regular gasoline—and the other to get the utmost fuel economy out of kerosene or distillate.

With either one you'll get unusually great power with light weight—and great speed. Under ordinary soil conditions, you can plow with two 14-inch bases at over 4 miles an hour! That gets the work done quicker and gives more spare time for other things.

The Row Crop "70" comes from the tractor factory of the founders of the tractor industry. You'll want to see this latest, modern tractor at once—with its complete line of mounted listing, busting, planting and cultivating equipment.
