Clark Reports Better Earnings

Return on Common Stock 86c For First Half Current Year

Improved earnings of $242,868.65 or 86c per share of common stock after payment of preferred dividends was reported for the first half of 1936 in a letter received by the stockholders from Eugene B. Clark under date of July 20. This compares with a deficit of $5 per share for the corresponding half of last year.

The letter explains that the improved earnings for 1936 have been driven from the company's established business rather than from more recently developed branches. Clark states that prospects for the last half of the year are neither safe or avivable but that the prospects of the company seem satisfactory except as they may be affected by general conditions, political or otherwise, that might affect business.

Harvest Wheat On 130 A. Field

William Matthews Does Large Scale Farming From Michigan to Mississippi

Ordinarily you think of 130 acre wheat fields as phenomena encountered only on the great farms of the Dakotas or California, but the writer actually witnessed the harvest of wheat with a combine on a field of that size on the William Matthews farm five miles northeast of Buchanan Tuesday morning.

The Matthews farm, comprising some 1285 acres lies in a block between Rangé Line Road and US-31, and includes eight farms which were purchased to make up the acreage. Matthews stated that a 130 acre field is nothing unusual on his farm as his smallest field is about 40 acres. He has specialized in grain farming and clover seed. Formerly he planted large acreages of potatoes. He has 200 acres of fine woodland on his Bend of the River farm. He does not go in very heavily for dairying or live stock feeding but he runs a flock of 300 sheep, which pasture in the 200 acre woodland and on about 100 acres of grass.

The Bend of the River farm comprises only about half of his landholdings, which range as far away as a 338 acre cotton plantation in Mississippi, with his brother, Ed Matthews in charge. The Matthews land holdings include the following: 1285 acres in Bend of River; 240 acres on Harris Prairie four miles northeast of South Bend; 90-acre farm on Pucker street north of Niles; 338 acre plantation in Mississippi; 260 acre farm near Niles terminal; 300 acre farm near Long Lake Club House north of US-31; total of 2,513 acres.

Van Deusen, drum solo by Oscar Swartz, Joe Louis and Max Schmeling bout by Cleon Hathaway and Howard Barbour. All the performers got the gong, although Swartz played so loud he failed to hear it. Miss Maxine Shaffer appeared in one of her popular acrobatic dances.

Recreation

Two croquet tournaments have been completed at Kathryn Park, on the following age classification: 5-9: first Blanche Luke, second J. B. Anderson, third Earl Swalm. 10 to 12: first Jack Frank, second Bob Votaw, third Madeline Huebner. The 13 to 15 year tournament has not been completed, with Dick Neal and Tom Fitch in lead at last reports.

Prizes were donated by Ed Mitchell, Ralph Allen, and Mayme Proseus. An attendance of about 200 boys and girls are present daily.

A horse shoe tournament will be held next week. The city has bought two sets of shoes and there is much interest. Merchants have donated prizes and it is expected that the following events will be scheduled: hobo parade, grand-mother parade, doll parade, pet parade, vehicle parade. They will also be a general field day later.

Buchanan Leads In Tomato Crop

Condition Local Planting Best Campbell Soup Acreage

The Buchanan area has the best prospects for tomatoes of any of the districts in the Middle West growing tomatoes for the Campbell Soup company, according to the statement of the production superintendent, E. W. Montell, of Chicago, after he had completed a survey of the entire planting.

Mr. Montell advised his local representative, Mr. Zickman, that the company will increase its planting of about 900 acres here to 2,500 next year, if the acreage is available. The local crop has not suffered from the heat to any appreciable extent, and is holding up well to date.

Co-Ops Have Good Record And May Reverse Dope

A major event of the local sporting calendar will be held Sunday afternoon in the form of the second game of the city baseball title series between the Buchanan Blues and the Buchanan Co-Ops, to be held at Letcher's Field six miles south of the city.

The Blues won the first game early in the season by a score of 18-4, and have the edge to close the series this Sunday, on dope. They have won 8 out of 13 games this season, and what is more important, have won the last four from stiff competition.

However, the Buchanan Co-Ops have had good ball teams in the field for several years, winning the city series several times, and may show a return to form next Sunday, in which case the contest may run to three games. Jesse and Richter will open as battery for the Blues and Sebasty and Rolf will start for the Co-Ops.

Softball

Scoring ten runs in the first inning, Poorman's coasted to an easy victory over D's Cafe 23-3. Poorman's had their hitting clothes on and collected 22 hits, including two home runs. O. O. F.'s. Batchelor with three singles in three times up, Jim Liska with a double and a single in three times up, and Rothfuchs with a triple and single in two times up, led the Wilson attack. Hawks led for the losers with three singles in two times up.

Wilson's vs. Sinclair, Niles Sinclair of Niles invaded Buchanan Monday only to be sent home with a 6-3 licking, giving the guests a sample of the way softball is played in Buchanan (a-hm'm'm). Wilson's grabbed an early lead, getting four runs in the first and keeping ahead all the way. Proud scattered the three hits made by Sinclair's, and the Dairymen got four times as many hits. Rothfuchs led the way by getting two singles in three trips to the plate. A long fly batted by Manke dropped between Batchelor and Liska for a home run. Batteries: Froud and Rolen for Wilson's; Grohl and Strang for Sinclair.

Fire Damages Barn Buchanan Lumber Co.

The Buchanan fire department was called to the Buchanan Lumber and Coal yards, just as we were going to press, to extinguish a fire which started in the interior of a two-story frame building, which formerly had been used for a barn, but at this time was unused. The interior was partially damaged; a shed adjoined, and which was used for door and sash storage, was saved with little damage resulting. The fire department answered the call in short order and had the fire well under control, even with a handicap of low water pressure. The extent of the loss is unknown as we go to press.

Harry Frew, Bridgman Pro., Wins With Hagen

Finishes Within One Stroke of his Famous Partner in Match Sat.

Teamed with the great Walter Hagen, local pro Harry Frew shot a 73 which with Hagens 72 won the match played Saturday at The Berrien Hills Country club against Matt Jans and Bob Dustin.

It was a best ball exhibition sponsored by Jans, who is pro at Berrien Hills. Frew played great golf, making two birdies on the second pine and matching his famous partner almost stroke for stroke. Hagen's 72 is par for the course. The "Hag" played his usual steady game, with the inevitable clowning and kidding of the gallery.

Jans and Dustin were somewhat off their usual game, Jans especially for he posted a 78. Pro Harry Frew announced to the Community Enterprise that he was negotiating with Hagen for a match at the Bridgman Golf Course in the near future.—Bridgman Enterprise.

Maynard Post writes that he has gone to Saginaw with the Tony Rutz orchestra, which has a two-week's engagement at the Green Mill there. From there they expect to go to Ellinore Village on Paw Paw lake.

Mrs. Rough has spent her entire life in Berrien county and mostly in and around Buchanan, she was born in Weesaw township when the country was nearly all woods and deer and wolves roamed at will. Also the Indians were many and came to their home frequently as they were very friendly and would often bring cranberries to swap for salt and other things. Many times she went to their tents and played with their children. The wild turkeys were very plenty also. She well remembers when her father and uncle were taken into the Civil War. Her mother was sick and there were small children to be cared for and no wood cut but the neighbors were very kind and came and cut wood and finished the house they were building. Her father sent $5.00 a month home which was surely a very small sum to support a family on. Her grandfather, David Hill, gave the land to erect a school house on and the school house has always bore his name, "The Hills school," located 9 miles north west of Buchanan. Mrs. Rough had but very little schooling as in those days children were not compelled to go to school as they are now, and as soon as they were large enough to work, had to help clear the land to raise crops. She spent many days splitting rails and ties in the woods when snow was deep and very cold. Mrs. Rough enjoys reasonable health and is able to perform her own household duties and has stood the hot weather very well. We are all hoping she may see many more birthdays.

The answer is known to millions of people. Ford methods save many dollars in manufacturing. We don't put that money in our pocket. We put it back into the car and pass it on to you.

Every purchaser of a Ford gets five Ford dividends . . . the V-8 Engine, Center-Poise Riding, Genuine Steel Body Structure, Super-Safety Brakes, and Safety Glass all around at no extra charge. (This one feature costs you many dollars extra in other low-price cars.) There are many other savings when you buy the Ford V-8.

WE SAID "YES" TO BORROWERS

That is our loan record during the past year. It is our best answer to anyone who says bankers do not want to lend.

If you have an income, and a good reputation for meeting your obligations, do not hesitate to apply for a loan.

We prefer to say "yes" to borrowers. We need good borrowers who can use the idle money of this bank safely, pay us interest for its use, and pay back the principal at the promised time. Our earnings depend upon borrowers of this type.

We say "no" only when consideration of safe banking makes it absolutely necessary.

We congratulate Mr. Poorman and extend him our best wishes for a long and successful business career in our city.

Loretta Young Robert Taylor Here Sunday The Friday-Saturday program at the Hollywood Theatre promises much to the fans. Here a world-famous tenor sings—and seals his own doom! But who killed him—so that no one could name the killer? Exciting every minute and peppered with laughs! "Moonlight Murder" features Chester Morris and Madge Evans. "Three on the Trail" starring William Boyd, Jimmy Harrison, Onslow Stevens and Muriel Evans, deals with the West's greatest racket-buster. Hopalong Cassidy pucks crime on the spot and justice in the saddle. Ride with him and his pals of the Bar-20 as they rescue a whole town from the terror of the West's most daring cutthroats. Sunday starts a three day showing of that big hit "Private Number." What chance has love between a millionaire's son and a personal maid? That's the romantic question propounded in the Fox hit, "Private Number," opening at the Hollywood Theatre with Robert Taylor and Loretta Young star-

New Buffalo Celebrates 100 Years Since Town Was Incorporated in 1836

Week-end Fetes During the Summer Mark Centennial

A nice place to go on week-ends this summer on the cool delightful shores of Lake Michigan is New Buffalo, where they are celebrating centennial in a series of week-end fetes.

Next week-end will be a program of field and water events, and following that will be one of the high spots of the centennial, the Czech carnival, in which the Czech citizenry of New Buffalo and the surrounding country will entertain at a four-day fete, July 30-Aug. 2.

During this program the Czech women and girls will appear on the streets in their colorful national costumes, and fine artistic handwork by the Czechs will be sold in booths.

During the week-end of Aug. 15 and 16 will be held the Home Coming of New Buffalolites, and the series will end with an American Legion carnival on the week-end of Sept. 5-6.

A number of Buchanan people came from New Buffalo, including George Black, whose father came there in 1856 from Ashburnham, Mass., and established a small furniture factory. A few years afterward the Black & Willard factory was moved to Buchanan.

New Buffalo was one of the paper cities of the great land boom of 1836, which grew up in a day and withered over night. In the old county atlases of the seventies, you will see the old town plat, some 400 blocks laid out by the founders to take care of the first rush of population. As a matter of fact a fraction of it has taken care of the growth of a hundred years.

But Capt. Wessel Wittaker, founder of the town, thought that it might be the great port at the western end of lake navigation, as Buffalo, N. Y., was the main port at the eastern end. When the town was incorporated in 1836 there were from 20 to 30 frame buildings, which was fully as many as there were in Chicago when that place incorporated only three years before. It did not seem too late to catch up with the shack town at the mouth of the Chicago river.

Wittaker discovered the mouth of the Galien river and the landlocked lake behind the sandhills in the autumn of 1834 when he was walking along the beach on his way to Michigan City from the mouth of State creek, where his schooner, Post-Boy, had been beached by a gale. His experience made him think in terms of harbors and when he glimpsed the widening of the river into Pottawatomie Lake it seemed to him a harbor. In fact he thought that he might have discovered the harbor which should serve as the western terminal of navigation, for Chicago had no such natural lake.

For on the old maps Pottawatomie Lake is shown some three miles long, extending along the course of the Galien river north-east and southwest about parallel with the present US-12. In the century intervening the drifting of the sands and the erosion of the soil of the hinterlands after the forests were removed have filled the lake, and where Capt. Wittaker envisioned a forest of masts is now the village park and ball diamond.

Capt. Wittaker made haste to file on the land about the river mouth and then struck back for headquarters at Buffalo, N. Y., expanding his idea as he went. He designated a choice block "Seaman's Square," and sent deeds to lots to mine of his cronies among the old freshwater lake captains. He bethought himself of retiring from the lakes to his town, and he planned to have a congenial group with him. Back in Buffalo he seems to have had no trouble in mollifying his employers, Messrs Barker and Willard, over the loss of their vessel. In fact he sold them part of his town plat for $13,000. He gathered a group interested in western speculation and returned to New Buffalo in the spring of 1835. Next year more came.

In the spring and summer of 1836 the promoters advertised in the Chicago American, just as a bit of a challenge to the young upstart across the lake to be on its guard against a real proposition. The advertisements said that a harbor admitting ships drawing up to 18 feet of water and accommodating all of the shipping of the Great Lakes could be built for a mere $50,000 to $100,000—less than the cost of a harbor anywhere else on the lakes. It said further that there was iron ore there at shallow depths. It offered free lots to "useful mechanics" who would build on them.

Came the panic of 1837 and the green hopes of New Buffalo withered like grass in a drouth. Prices of lots went to near nothing. In fact there was only one thing that kept the town from passing completely out of existence as Bertrand and scores of other paper cities of the time, and that was the fact that the state had designated it as a terminal of the Michigan Southern railway, one of the three roads to be built across the peninsula with state money. That possibility, coupled with the fact that the harbor project might be revived with the coming of the railroad, kept a flicker of life in the deflated town.

In the winter of 1842-3 there were only two families in the town, those of Jacob Gerrish and of Russell Goodrich, the tavern keeper and the father of Albert Goodrich founder of the Goodrich steamship lines. But people began to trickle back as the farms in the back country began to fill up. Jacob Gerrish maintained his store there during the lean years when most of his trade was the barter of groceries for pelts with the Pottawatomie Indians who had hid out in the dense Galien woods, avoiding transfer to the western reservation. Old Jacob Gerrish would load a scow with hides, a few cords of wood and other products and hitch a horse to it by a 100-foot line. A boy would ride the horse along the beach and Gerrish would stand at the prow and push the boat out in the water with a long pole. That way he would make regular trading trips to Michigan City, and kept the town on the map until interest flared up again in the late forties when private interests bought the state railways and swung the Michigan Central south from Kalamazoo to New Buffalo as a lake terminal.

The first cars rolled into New Buffalo April 21, 1849, and for two years the town had another lease or life while it remained the terminal, and steamboats of the Ward lines daily met the trains at the piers and transferred the passengers for Chicago. Some times in high winds the steamboats could not get to the piers running out into the open lake, for the harbor was never built. Then the hotels and houses would reap a harvest taking care of hundreds of passengers.

That business remained until 1851, when the Boston capitalists were practically forced to extend the line around the lake by the activities of a New York group who bought the Michigan Southern and consolidated it with the Northern Indiana charter, aiming for Chicago. That effectually collapsed the second boom, but the town remained with a farming population and considerable sawmill and woodworking industry as its basis although as late as 1870, according to old residents, there were still stumps in the main business streets.

Reduced Telephone Rates

By order of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission, dated July 1, reductions are made in certain telephone rates and charges in the Buchanan exchange.

On rural lines the charge for the upright or desk type telephone is reduced from 25 cents a month to 10 cents, and will be eliminated entirely after the customer has had that type of telephone in service continuously for 18 months.

The charge for the hand telephone is reduced from 25 cents a month to 15 cents, except on rural lines where it remains at 25 cents, and will be eliminated entirely, as at present, after the customer has had that type of telephone in service continuously for 18 months.

The above reductions will be effective in the case of present customers on August 11.

Reductions also are made in the charges for installing and moving telephones, and for changing the type of telephone instrument. For instance, the charge for installing a business telephone where there is no instrument already in place, is $2.50; for a residence telephone where there is no instrument already in place, it is $1.50. Those reductions become effective Saturday, July 11.

Effective August 11 charges for rural multiparty service beyond six miles from the base rate area are reduced. Monthly rates for other residential and business service are unchanged except that the four party business service is discontinued, and two party business service will be furnished at the former four party business rate.

Telephone service now represents greater value than ever before. To place an order, or to obtain further information, call, visit or write the Telephone Business Office. Installation will be made promptly.

Hot Wave Damages Trunk Line Highways

Damage to Michigan's trunkline highway system the last two weeks from the blistering heat wave was estimated today by State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner at $15,000.

An inventory of the damage ordered by the commissioner revealed a total of 446 pavement "blow-ups" on trunkline pavements throughout the state. In addition, draw bridges on US-16 at Grand Haven and on US-31 at Charlevoix were so affected by the excessive heat that they would not "fit" when swung together. The actual damage to the bridges, however, was negligible.

Trunklines in Calhoun County registered the greatest number of pavement explosions. There were 50 "blow-ups" in that county, 30 in Lenawee, 20 each in Monroe and Muskegon, 22 in Shiawassee, and 19 in Kalamazoo among the ones hardest hit by the heat.

The explosions were caused by the expansion of the pavement beyond the capacity of the expansion joints. The state highway department erected bump signs where the "blow-ups" occurred pending repairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Anna Sherwood had as their guests over the weekend William Haugsted, Chicago.

Miss Alene Riley was a weekend visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. Fred Cox and family, Bloomington, Ill.
