Three Winners To Go On Air

Hollywood to Pay Expenses to Gary; Broadcast Over WIND

Manager Hoffman of the Hollywood theatre announced today that on Thursday evening, August 20, Amateur night will be held on the Hollywood stage and the three best Acts picked that night will appear before the Radio at station WIND D. Gary, Indiana on the night of August 25th.

The winners who are picked from the Buchanan acts will be given a weeks engagement if they accept. All acts appearing at the Hollywood must be from Buchanan. Mr. Hoffman suggests those wishing to appear on the local stage to either mail or hand their names to the theatre, together with a statement of the nature of their act.

As a courtesy to the Buchanan amateurs Mr. Hoffman will provide free transportation to the Acts that will go to Gary on August 25th.

Melvina Ely, 90, Is Visitor Here

The Record is asked to carry a message to old time Buchanan people from Mrs. Melvina Ely, aged 90, who is here from Homer, Mich., a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary Jane Mitchell. Mrs. Ely and her daughter, Mrs. Winne Arey, motored 300 miles to Beulah to attend the funeral of the former's son, Newton Ely, former Buchananite, who died there. They came on to Buchanan and will motor from here back to Homer, a trip of about 700 miles. Mrs. Ely was 90 years old March 3. She came to Buchanan in 1846 with her parents, a baby a few months old. That was three years before the railway came. She married Orville Ely in 1864, and they lived here for nearly 20 years rearing 10 children, five sons and five daughters, of whom seven are still living. They left Buchanan over 50 years ago.

Mrs. Ely said: "I haven't been able to see all the old friends of fifty years ago, but I want you to give them my best wishes from Melvina Ely."

Softball

The softball pennant race closed Thursday, July 30, with the Wilson Dairy team evening the score with Root's for their beating earlier in the season, by defeating the News team 3-0.

The Roots News team won 20-9 earlier in the season. The Dairy nine clinched the pennant by this victory. Jesse's pitching and great fielding by the Wilson team were the features. No runs were produced until the sixth inning when Wilsons bunched five of their hits and capitalized on a Root error for their three runs. Jesse won his own game by driving in the first run with his single.

Davis made a great play for Root's when he threw a man out from short center on a perfect pickup and throw to first base. Covert with two doubles in three times up and Rothfuchs with a single and double in three times, up led Wilson's attack. W. Hartline with a single in two trips and H. Raber with a double in three trips led Root's.

The two teams crossed bats in the final Thursday evening for the deciding game of the series and the city league championship. The game was close with the lead changing hand several times until the first half of the sixth inning. The Root team came to bat with the score 8-6 in favor of Wilsons.

With two out and two on bases Raber smashed a hard drive into left field which went for a home run. This made the score 9-8 in favor of Roots, but a dispute arose as to whether Raber touched third base. Dissatisfied with the final decision the Root team refused to continue play, forfeiting the game and the series to the Wilson team 1-0. This was indeed a disappointing end for an otherwise fairly good season.

Batteries for Roots, Raber and Sherburn; for Wilsons, Proud and Rolen.

Editor's Note: The Record wishes to thank John Schultz for his prompt and satisfactory reporting of the summer softball series.

Frank Wells of Bertrand Dies

Member Pioneer Family Expires in Room Where He War Born

Frank Wells, pioneer resident of Bertrand Township, died Sunday morning in the same room in Bertrand township, located on the Chicago road a mile and a half half west of Portage road.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. yesterday from the family home, with Rev. Elmer Ward Cole of South Bend in charge. Burial was made in Oak Ridge cemetery, the following serving as pallbearers: Clarence Gillette, Charles Gillette, LaRue Gillette, John Young, Robert Wells, Dale Gillette.

Mr. Wells lived his entire life in Bertrand township, where he was born April 2, 1862, the son of Francis and Rachel Herkimer Wells. He married Miss Matilda Searls in Buchanan Township, in Nov., 1890. He is survived by one son, George F., Albany, N. Y.; by one daughter, Helen Wells, at home; by two grandchildren, Elizabeth Jane and George Francis, Jr., Albany, N. Y.; by one brother, I. M. Wells, Bertrand township; by one sister, Mrs. F. A. Tichenor, R. R. Niles.

Orchard Hills

The Annual Fall Handicap Tournament at Orchard Hills Country Club has moved along one division nearer the final flight, sixteen players still remaining in the fray.

During the last week Zellars defeated H. Schick, Hull defeated Johnson, A. Rose defeated Beebe McCuen defeated G. Boyce, Lowe defeated Webb, Schrader defeated M. Grathwohl, Owen defeated T. Lyon, C. Grathwohl defeated Porter, Hanlin defeated Bigelow, Funk won by forfeiture from Dunn, Masson defeated Landsman, Ellison defeated Mack, Newberry defeated Walton, Hamilton defeated Peterson, Wood defeated Waterson and Power defeated Brodie.

The pairings for the next flight which is to be completed by the close of play Sunday August 16th and the number of strokes to be given are as follows: Zellars (9) vs. Hull, A. Rose (6) vs. McCuen, Lowe vs. Schrader, Owen vs. C. Grathwohl (2), Hanlin (4) vs. Funk, Masson vs. Ellison (13), Newberry vs. Hamilton (4), Wood (8) vs. Power.

Several of the semi-final matches in all three classes of the Championship at Orchard Hills Country Club have been played well ahead of the time limit, which is the close of play Sunday August 23rd.

In Class A, Cap Grathwohl defeated Hanlin. This victory puts Grathwohl in the finals. He will meet the winner of the Ellison-Owen match which will probably be played sometime during this week.

In Class B, Newberry has won his way into the finals by defeating G. Boyce. His opponent will be the winner of the Schultz-Webb match. It is certain from this set up that the championship of this class will go to a Buchanan player.

By defeating Tucker, Hull has won the right to meet the winner of the Vrittenden-Phil Drake match in the finals of Class C. In all classes a period of three weeks has been allowed for the playing of the finals. As usual the trophies will be presented to the winners by the defeated finalists at the Annual Windup Dinner at the Clubhouse the evening of September 18th.

Seth Atkinson playing in a foursome Sunday morning with Cy Funk, Pick Hamilton and Harry Owen performed the feat of making the 377 yard number six hole at Orchard Hills Country Club in 225 yards straight in the center of the fairway leaving about a 150 yard pitch to the green. His iron shot was "on all the way" striking a few feet short of the pin and rolling gently to the bottom of the cup.

Dollar Wheat Used to be Average Says Old Time Wheat Buyer, Galien

Prices remained moderate but very stable during the next three years, in spite of the money panic that paralyzed the country during a comparative short time in 1908. In 1905-6 the wheat price had a narrow range with 80 cents as an average, 73 cents as a low and 83 as a top. The year 1906-7 was another stable year, the prices not missing 70 cents by a nickel until December, when they took a boost to 90 cents and remained about that figure the remainder of the year. In 1907-8 the wheat price remained pegged within a variation around the 90 cents mark, unflustered by the jittery financial world. It closed strong in May, 1909, with another $1.40.

It seems that 1909-10 must have been a good year for farmers. Clark started buying at $1.01 on July 26, 1909 and from there the price shaded gradually up, gaining a few cents a month until it hit the top of $1.21 in January. Then it dropped off a little but the low for the entire season was 95 cents. The average was about $1.12.

Hoffman Visits Old Stomping Ground

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hoffman have returned from a two weeks trip to Northern Michigan. Mr. Hoffman was known as the first Michigan born boy to start in the theatre business for himself in the copper country of Michigan at the age of eighteen. Mr. Hoffman, at the time of selling his northern Michigan interests, controlled a chain of six theatres as follows: Lyric Laurium, Palace Lake Linden, Majestic and Grand Theatres at Hubbell, Grand Mohawk, and in 1913 opened the first modern theatre in Ahmeek, which at that time was a thriving mining center. While in the copper country Mrs. Hoffman called on over 175 old friends and spent some time with each talking over old times.

The Hoffmans planned on making this a surprise visit to their friends but some how or other the Radio station got wind of their arrival and made the following broadcast at three different occasions. "Do you remember Ernie Hoffman who gave us our first moving picture theatre many years ago, well together with Mrs. Hoffman they are back here on a vacation visiting old friends."

Twin Boy Dies Soon After Birth

Herbert Louis Shreve, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Shreve, died Sunday at Pawating hospital a few minutes after birth. Committal services were held at 11 a. m. Monday at Oak Ridge cemetery, with Rev. Thomas Rice in charge. He is survived by his parents, and by a twin brother, Carman Hearst.

Reports Conditions In Drouth District

Miss Selma Stromme, Grand Forks, N. Dak., visited Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Pangborn, coming from South Bend, where she has been a guest of her sister, Mrs. Ann Pangborn. She stated that in sections of North Dakota the grasshoppers invaded even the business houses in towns, and the use of water was limited entirely to matters of the utmost necessity. Housekeepers limited cleaning their floors to sweeping, mopping being banned.

Co-Ops to Close Store Saturday

The Buchanan Co-Ops, Inc., store will be closed at 11 a. m. for the remainder of the day Saturday, in order that the force may attend the Farm Bureau picnic at Indian Fields.

Two Home Town Boys Make Good

While scores of eminent sportsmen of this community have been ranging far afield in quest of piscatorial (fishing to you) sport, whipping the waters of the northern lakes with highpriced tackle in futile quest for fish worth writing home about—or any fish at all, for that matter—it is indeed a pleasure to report the success of two young men of our city who have made good in a large way within three miles of home. We refer to Otis Flenar and Alex Loos.

On Friday night these two young men collaborated in the catch of a small-mouth bass, weight 7 pounds exact, length 23 inches, in the waters of Weaver Lake. This catch is a record for this community for many years, and ranks well up in the big fish of all time. The boys state that there was nothing remarkable about their equipment. They attribute their success to careful planning, skillful angling and judgment, just plain brains, and the fact that the fish happened to get hold of their hook. Properly speaking Mr. Flenar caught the fish, since it was on his hook, but Mr. Loos gets part credit at least, since he acted as skipper of the boat during a wild ride during which they were towed around and around the lake, until that inland body of water was whipped to a foam until it looked like a stein of Budweiser.

Clark has a day book of his wheat purchases for the firm of G. A. Blakeslee & Co. from 1897 to 1912.

Its entries indicate the amounts bought and the price per bushel for each sale. Behind its numerical entries are many stories of the ups and downs of national agriculture, as well as of individual fortune. It seems that July 20 was about an average time to buy wheat yearly. In the summer of 1911 Clark opened his books for the season on July 3, an extraordinary early opening.

The first year entered in the book was the historic 1897-8, which witnessed the sinking of the Maine in Havana Harbor and the opening of the Spanish-American War. That year Clark made his first buy July 23 for 70 cents a bushel. It was not long after the panic of 1893 and prices had not come back. But the boom of the McKinley administration got underway soon afterward, and in August prices edged up to a top of 90 cents. In September they touched a high of 93, and then hung slightly below in the early and middle winter, from 88 to 93. In February came the war scare when the Maine was sunk. Wheat went to 97, then when war was declared in April to $1.05.

Early in May, within a week after the news of the victory of Dewey at Manila Bay had set the nation hysteric, wheat went to $1.40 per bushel, the high price listed in the 12 years of records which the books contains.

But there was a reaction during the summer of 1898, perhaps because of a large wheat crop. Closing the season in June at $1.10, Clark opened the books for the new crop July 15 at 70 cents. In September the price had dropped to a low of 53 cents. During the fall the prevailing prices were from 60 to 65 cents. On every page nearly, there is an occasional entry far below the average which indicates a load of smutty or otherwise inferior wheat.

The top for the year 1898-9 was 75 cents a bushel in December. In 1899-1900 wheat opened again on July 15 at 65 cents and remained low the entire year with an average of about 65 cents. Top was 80 cents for a few sales closing the year in June.

For several years the price remained well below $1 but started to strengthen in 1903-4, rising to $1.05 in February, 1905 and remaining there about for the rest of the season.

Clark started to buy July 21, 1904, for 96 cents, and soon after in August, the price began to boom, going above $1 and remaining a few cents over that mark the rest of the season. Top price was $1.12 in January and February.

Find 2 Dusters On Liberty Hts.

Strike 4-Foot Muck Bed at 96 Feet; Abandon Search on Heights

Plans were completed at a special meeting of the city commission Tuesday evening to shift exploration for water from Liberty Heights to the old city gravel pit on the south side of Rynearson street part way up the hill, as the result of failure to find sufficient flow in two holes at Smith and Liberty streets and at the south end of Sylvan avenue.

Howard Cowell, in charge of drilling for the A. D. Cook Company, Lawrence, Ind., said that in the last hole two veins of water had been struck at 65 and 85 feet but the flow was not sufficient for the needs of the city. In the first well they drilled 125 feet passing through small veins and ending up on a hard shale bedrock, with no water. Another hole had been drilled down 60 feet when a "niggerhead" boulder in the way forced them to abandon the hole. In the third hole drilled on Sylvan avenue they drilled 113 feet, striking the hard shale bedrock at 113 feet.

The city commission decided that an experimental hole in the old gravel pit would save long delay in securing title to other lots lower down the hill. It is known that a plentiful supply of water is available at the junction of Rynearson and Portage streets, and it is possible that the same flow may be encountered in a hole half way up the hill.

Rotten Wood at 96 Feet. An incident in the drilling of the last well on the Heights was the location of a four foot muck bed at 96 feet. In the muck were found pieces of rotten wood 3-4 of an inch long.

The log of the last hole read: gravel down to 73 feet; clay to 85 feet; thin layer gravel; clay to 96 feet; muck to 100 feet; clay to shale bedrock at 113 feet.

Experts Differ On Identity of Fish

Daily autopsies are being held in Bick Smith's ice box over the gigantic 7 1/2 lb. bass caught by Otis Flenar in Weaver Lake Friday evening, the question being whether the fish is a large small-mouthed bass, or only a small large-mouthed bass. Fishing experts say that as a large-mouthed bass it is small but as a small-mouthed bass it is large. The weight of opinion veered to identifying it as a large small-mouthed bass when Chief Ed Mitchell announced a verdict to that effect. The fish weighed only 6 1/4 lbs. mouthed bass in Clear Lake in the spring of 1935. Mr. Flenar says that at the time Mitchell caught the fish it weighed only 6 1/4 lbs. but of course it would grow in 15 months.

Last Oak on Oak Street Is Dying

The giant Oak, lone survivor of three formerly standing at the corner of Oak and Third street, after which Oak street was named, is dying at the top and on the west side. It is the only oak on Oak street. It is believed to be one of the three largest trees in town, the others being the oak in the yard of the Fred Andrews residence and the elm tree in the rear of the home of Mrs. W. F. Runner, which also died this year.

Dog Awaits Owner At 120 W. Front

In the classified columns is an advertisement regarding a lost black and tan terrier, which has been taken in at 120 West Front street, until its owner can be found. The dog has evidently been a pet and perhaps valued by some one. The telephone at that number is 516.

A bicycle belonging to Adelbert Root was taken from the rear door of the News agency Tuesday morning and recovered that afternoon behind the old Wagon works building.

Now Here's the Proposition

Speech According to Doc Fries

(Anxiety over the kind of English used arose in the 18th century as a striving for "elegance" on the part of the commercial middle classes just rising into prominence, declares Professor Charles C. Fries of the University of Michigan English Department. The flood of rules which followed this attitude, solidifying largely into a set of "don'ts for writing and speaking, had a negative effect on the normal and vigorous development of language."—U. of Michigan News Service.)

Doc Fries, who teaches speech and such. Up at the learned U. of Mich. He says that talk has got more pep. If we don't have to watch our step. He says bad grammar ain't no sin. To open up and wag our chins, And not to stop for all these counsels.

But go ahead and air our tonsils. Doc Fries says not to put on airs. For if its "can" or "may" who cares? And since Doc is a learned man. He says, "may" I guess we can. He says it's rot to mince about. But go ahead and blab it out. Not try to talk as we were taught to. Because some one said we had ought to.

For Doc Fries says, the knell has rang. On ideas of the high brow gang—To go ahead and wag your jaws. And not to fuss about fox paws. He says the tongue as it is spoke. By truck drivers is okaydoke; He says it's bunk to be precise, And which is purty good advice.

Needed—More Drinking Fountains

Speaking in all seriousness, it seems to us that a proper movement on the part of people interested in local temperance would be to see that more drinking fountains were installed in convenient places over the city, to run at least in the heat of the summer. These reflections were inspired by the resumption of activity at the fountain in front of Johnny's station on east Front street.

Now the town only has one drinking fountain in the business district. The way it works out is like this. Suppose you are walking along Daze avenue, in the heat of a sultry day, with the mercury crawling up 98, 99, 100 and on. The pavement bakes under the brassy sky as the sun beats down mercilessly on your head. You stagger into the shade of a building at Bob Reamers corner to rest a minute and glance at the thermometer. 103 in the shade. You gaze desperately on the open space to the opposite corner, Jerry's popcorn stand dances in the shimmering heat. Deperately you stagger on. If you can only make the drinking fountain at the bank corner. You moan feebly through lips parched and blackened with thirst. Your swollen tongue chokes you. Your head reels dizzily. Through the dervish dance of the heat waves afar off the fountain under the clock dances like the wheat market when it sprinkles in Manitoba. You see long queues of people standing in line in each direction from the drinking fountain. Will you be able to wait your turn if you ever get there? You reel into the shade at Jerry's corner and glance at the thermometer. The mercury reads 108 in the shade. You see a man swoon away in the waiting line at the drinking fountain.

Your mind is made up. Gatherig all your remaining strength and determination for one last final effort you lunge desperately the few remaining steps to the nearest beer parlor. Now if there had only been a drinking fountain on Jerry's corner you might have been saved from a drunkard's grave. The same holds good for the corner of Main and Dewey and of Front and Oak. They all ought to have drinking fountains. Under come victims of the Demon Beer, who is to blame.

THE COLEMAN CASE

Readers of the Record are now familiar with the outcome of the preliminary hearing in the case of Clarence Coleman, held before Justice of the Peace Lee Mathie Friday afternoon, since it has been a main theme of interest since. A point which may not have been generally understood is that the county prosecuting attorney had virtually no discretion in fixing the charge and that the charge itself is at present not first degree murder, as has been generally reported, but a charge of murder with degree unspecified. The defense counsel had accepted this situation and it was understood that at this particular time the charge could not be changed and there was no consideration of a possibility that Coleman might be released on bail. The defense counsel did not examine the witnesses and did not attempt to secure a diminution of the charge. Motion by Atty. Stuart B. White that the charge be dismissed for want of evidence was obviously only a formality to complete the hearing, as it was understood by all that it was not within the power of the justice to make such ruling. The hearing, consequently, had no bearing whatever on the outcome of the case. The purpose of the defense counsel in demanding it was merely a strategy to force the

Tax-payers:

If your back taxes are on 10-year plan you must make 2nd payment by Sept. 1

ONLY A FEW DAYS remain in which you can make the second payment on your taxes on the 10-year plan without penalty.

Keep your tax record clear. All over the state of Michigan alert tax-payers are meeting this important obligation. Having placed their taxes for 1932 and prior years on this convenient plan they will take no chance on losing the fullest benefits accruing to them under it.

Don't fall behind. Make your second payment promptly. Or, better still, pay up the entire unpaid portion of these taxes and save interest on future installments ranging from 8% to 36%. See your county treasurer immediately. Avoid last minute crowds. Pay now and save.

Note: There is Still Time to put Taxes for 1932 and Prior Years on 10-Year Plan!

ANY tax-payer can come under the provisions of the 10-year plan by making the first two payments together with interest of 4%, and a small extra charge on the first installment. Your county treasurer will be glad to explain how you can keep your tax record clear. See him immediately.

AT THE THEATRE

'Earthworm Tractor' With Joe E. Brown

With the vocal efforts of child screen stars having heretofore been confined to simple songs of the popular variety, the "Let's Sing Again" screen debut of Bobby Green, boy tenor marvel heard on Eddie Cantor's radio broadcasts, promises a distinct and pleasant surprise to film fans. The remarkable voice of this eight-year-old tenor is heard in an Italian folk song and the aria, "La donna mobile," from "Rigoletto," which he sings in Italian in his initial screen appearance here Friday and Saturday.

"The Country Beyond," the Fox picture which features Buck, the cant St. Bernard, with an all-star Hollywood cast and comes Friday and Saturday to the Hollywood theatre, is perhaps the most famous of James Oliver Curwood's tales of courage and hardship in the Northern wastes. Rochelle Hudson, Paul Kelly and Robert Montgomery are the leading players in this Sol M. Wurtzel production. Practical jokes on movie sets we always been of the hardy variety, but Guy Kibbee thinks chasing people around with tractors is a bit too far.

Unless you're acquainted with all, lively tractors which can run on a dime, and also with the actors Joe E. Brown and Director Raymond Enright assembled for the filming of the first National picture, "Earthworm Tractors," which comes to the Hollywood Theatre on Sunday, for 3 days, you can't fully appreciate Guy's qualms.

Frances Dee is the innocent victim of a sinister plot to involve her in two poison murders in "Half Angel," the Darryl F. Zanuck twentieth Century production at the Hollywood Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. Brian Donlevy and comical Charles Butterworth are featured with Miss Dee.

Bette Davis, with George Brent playing opposite her in the mass-line lead, comes here Wednesday and Thursday in the fast moving first National comedy drama, "The Golden Arrow."

Miss Davis appears in a role quite different from those which on her the award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences as the best film actress of 1935. In "The Golden Arrow" she gives a light comedy portrayal with a romantic twist, which involves also some dramatic moments.

The amateur contest will be presented on the stage Thursday night between the first and second show.

State Safety Drive Success

Michigan Rural Safety Campaign Is Pronounced Best in U. S.

Michigan's rural safety campaign has been so successful that nearly a score of states are copying it, Lieut. Caesar J. Scavarda of the Michigan State Police, said Saturday.

Described recently by the Chicago conference of State Motor Vehicle Administrators as the only one to accomplish its purpose, the WPA-State Police survey employs more than 1,300 National Youth Administration workers who are assembling traffic and accident statistical data in 300 Michigan communities with populations under 18,000.

The survey is financed by a Work Progress Administration allotment exceeding $54,000 and is sponsored jointly by the State Police and the Michigan State League. A grant of $15,000 from the American Automobile Association has paid for the purchase of necessary materials and equipment.

Commendation of Michigan's program was unanimous at the conference, Scavarda told Harry L. Pierson, state WPA administrator. Efficiency of the survey, organization of the efforts of all safety agencies in the State were singled out as models of perfection for the United States.

One branch of the Michigan survey includes a stop-sign observation program which, to date, has checked the activities of 342,268 motorists.

Of that number, records disclose, 142,626 or only 41% per cent obeyed the letter of the law by coming to a full stop before crossing an intersection. Drivers who completely ignored the sign totalled 40,434. Others merely slowed their speed.

Flasher lights at dangerous intersections not serviced with stop signals compelled more caution, the survey showed, with 62 1/2 per cent of the 63,149 cars counted coming to a full or partial halt. More than 23,700 motorists totally disregarded the warning.

A check of school bus transportation indicated that 58 of 283 drivers had never submitted to a physical examination and that 104 of the 283 buses inspected were not equipped with fire extinguishers. Publicly-owned buses numbered 144. Thirteen of the buses had never been inspected for condition while the remainder received periodic examination, 34 of them daily.

A uniform state traffic ordinance for communities in rural areas is a pressing need, figures show. Parking near intersections varies from a distance of 10 feet in some towns to 40 feet in others with many ignoring haphazard parking that chokes main highways.

Of 682 enforcement officials asked whether parking restrictions were observed, 345 replied in the affirmative while 164 were of the opinion laws were ignored by most motorists. The remainder were undecided.

One of the most important phases of the survey is centralized at State Police headquarters in East Lansing where NYA youths are assembling abstracts of traffic court records from every section of Michigan. To date, 23,833 abstracts have been filed for use in checking applicants for drivers' licenses.

In addition to State Police supervision, the survey here has coordinated the safety factors of highway engineering, enforcement and education by receiving the assistance of the State Highway Department, the Secretary of State and the State Department of Public Education.

In other states, Scavarda told Pierson, safety officials have localized the sponsorship of their programs and ignored rural communities, thus failing to attain the objective of a statewide survey.

During the conference, Scavarda said, safety officials from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana and the city of Chicago requested copies of Michigan's survey setup as did an official of the National Safety Council and a representative of the RCA Corporation of Camden, N. J., which is planning a similar project in co-operation with a group of Atlantic Seaboard states.

Coloma Will Officially Note 102nd Anniversary Settlement Aug. 20-23

Fine Program of Pageants and Special Observances Mark Event

The Centennial and Home-coming celebration marking the 102nd anniversary of Michigan's admission to statehood and the 102nd anniversary of the first permanent settlement to be made in Coloma, will be officially observed in Coloma from August 20th to 23rd. A fine program of events has been scheduled, and each of the four days will provide different, worthwhile and entertaining activities.

Invitations have been mailed to former Coloma residents to return home and share in this double celebration. Adjoining communities and cities are also urged to participate in as many of the events as they can. The I. O. O. F. Hall is to be the official headquarters, where all visitors are urged to register, and where any information regarding the events or exhibits may be obtained. A. W. Baker has offered the use of the Hotel Coloma building for lounging and rest rooms. Exhibits will be held at the hotel building, at the school house and at the I. O. O. F. hall.

The extent and variety of the exhibits will be well worth a visit to Coloma. These will include entries by the Coloma Garden Club, with a flower show and garden exhibit, with prizes in the several divisions of displays; an exhibit of quilts and fine needlework put on by the Coloma Needlework Guild, a prize for the oldest and best preserved quilt in the village or township; a collection of antiques which are being gathered from many sources; an interesting display of hobbies and educational exhibits arranged from the Coloma and rural schools in the township, Boy Scout, Camp Fire Girls and 4-H Club exhibits.

The activities of the Centennial and Home-coming will include parades, pageants, sports, an old-fashioned dance on the school tennis courts, a horse-pulling contest, an ox roast, and many other features. Entertainment will also be provided with music, speeches, a style revue, fireworks and miscellaneous features, closing with a union church service on Sunday.

The program of events, briefly stated, is as follows: Thursday, August 20—Children's and pet parade through town, starting at 3:30 p. m., followed by a baby show at the Community church. An ox-roast will be served from 5:00 to 7:00 p. m. on the old school grounds, with a program which will include the formal opening of the Centennial with music, greetings, a social hour and general home-coming and reception.

On Friday, August 21st, the program opens with the big pageant and parade which will include historical, industrial, commercial, clowns, bands and other things which will make the event very interesting. Following the downtown parade, there will be a program of sports at the new athletic field at the school house. There will be an hour's band concert downtown between the afternoon and evening events both on Friday and Saturday afternoons. The "Styles of a Century" revue and tennis court dance will complete Friday's program.

The main event on Saturday, August 22nd, will be the horse-pulling contest at the school grounds, starting at 1:00 p. m. Previous to the contest there will be a parade of the contesting horses and other features through the Coloma streets.

A big musical festival will be held on Saturday evening, followed by a gorgeous display of fireworks. Minor events will fill in any free time on all programs.

A union church service is planned for Sunday morning, August 23rd, at the Coloma high school with a former pastor or speaker in charge.

The Coloma Civic Association is sponsoring this event. The Centennial committee and all of the citizens of Coloma extend a cordial invitation to all and assure all who do attend a very hearty welcome. Available parking space is being arranged and plans made for the comfort and convenience of guests on the four days. Come to Coloma August 20th to 23rd.

In the first game of the play-off Roots nosed out the Wilson Dairy team 4-3. It was a pitchers duel between Jesse of Wilsons and Harvey Raber, a southpaw, for Roots. Four of Roots' seven hits went for extra bases, including triples by Sherburn and Brick. Brick's triple and Rex Paul's long fly scored the winning run in the seventh inning.

Wilson's evened the series for the city championship by shutting out Root's 3-0. Wilson's played airtight ball, with Proud scattering five Root hits and the team showing errorless fielding. Two hits and two walks netted two runs for Wilson's in the first inning, after which they coasted to victory.

Health Dept. Gives Advice on Rabies

Although Michigan is not faced with any such epidemic of rabies as that which is facing the severe quarantine in the Chicago area, Dr. C. C. Slemmons, state health commissioner, declared that no person, or dog for that matter, has ever survived an authentic attack of this disease in medical history. The ounce of prevention which the commissioner prescribed for any person bitten by a dog suspected of being rabid is to be inoculated with rabies vaccine which is an effective preventive measure.

Although no persons died of this disease last year in Michigan, five deaths were attributed to this cause in the preceding four years. From 30 to 40 to ten times that many rabid dogs are discovered in the state each year, the commissioner estimated, and each of these becomes a serious danger until he is killed. At present the prevalence of rabid dogs in Oakland county has forced the inauguration of a quarantine there. Last year Detroit and several of the south-eastern counties imposed a dog quarantine.

Rabies is not a seasonal disease common only to the so-called "dog-days," but may occur at any time of the year, the commissioner declared. Dog heads, in the city of Detroit, may be sent for examination to the City Health Department laboratory; elsewhere in the state they may be sent either to the laboratory of the Michigan Department of Health at Lansing or to the Pasteur Institute at Ann Arbor.

If a person has been bitten by a dog which has escaped capture, there is only one conclusion, the commissioner stated, "Play safe and give the vaccine." If the dog is captured, vaccine need not be given even to those individuals who have been bitten unless such dogs die or show signs of illness within seven to ten days. The biologic plant of the State Health Department supplies vaccine free to local health departments and physicians. Treatments for 1,388 persons were distributed last year and enough for 783 cases already this year.

"This loose talk about RED CROWN is started by pixilated people"

Mrs. Precious Popyew

"STANDARD Red Crown gives 150 miles a gallon and not a fraction more!" continued Mrs. Popyew, affectionately called "Pixie" by her host of friends in Tall Story circles.

She added: "To stop this loose talk I put my foot down. Unfortunately, it was on the accelerator and the car leaped clear into the next precinct. Red Crown is responsive."

We have more than a faint suspicion that "Pixie" is indulging in slightly "loose talk" herself. Standard Red Crown does give as long mileage as any gasoline—possibly more—but definitely not 150 miles per gallon!

As a matter of fact, hundreds of thousands of motorists are now learning, first hand, the bedrock truth about gasoline mileage in the World's Greatest Road Test, and even though you may not be driving one of the Research Test Cars, it will pay you to...

Greenblatt Owners Buy Building

Brazy brothers, owners and operators of the Greenblatt fur shop on South Michigan street, South Bend, Ind., Saturday announced the purchase of the entire building. An expansion program will be inaugurated as soon as the rush season in the fur business is over, David M. Brazy, president, said.

Brazy Brothers Plan Expansion As Result Of Building Purchase

Greenblatt Firm Takes Over Building On South Michigan

Announcement of expansion in the Greenblatt store was made Saturday by Brazy Brothers who have operated the exclusive women's fur shop for several years. David M. Brazy, president, said he and his brothers had purchased the entire three story building from the Prudential Life Insurance company through Richard Muessel. According to present plans the second and third stories will be used for the fur manufacturing and fur storage. Mr. Brazy said they had purchased the entire building at 228-230 South Michigan street, South Bend, to increase selling space and room for fur manufacture. The Brazy brothers operate three stores, one each in South Bend, Fort Wayne and in Flint, Mich. All stores are operated under the establishment firm name of Greenblatts, which was founded by Harry Greenblatt in 1900, who started the first fur shop in South Bend. His outstanding policy was to handle only furs which he could guarantee and Mr. Brazy said that he and his brothers had continued this policy, giving a year's guarantee on each coat. Since taking over the business from Mr. Greenblatt the Brazy brothers have enlarged and improved the facilities of the store, moving into its present site in 1928. They opened the Flint store in 1929 and the Fort Wayne store in 1935. The expansion program in the local store will be as soon as possible, Mr. Brazy said, following the rush season in the fur business. An out of town list of customers kept on file in the store shows that women from 140 cities throughout the United States have purchased their fur coats from Greenblatts.

Michigan Leads in Fishing Licenses

Michigan led all states of the Union in total sales of resident and non-resident fishing licenses during 1935, but ranked fifth in total revenue. These facts are brought out in a compilation of fishing license sales by states, prepared and released by the United States Bureau of Fisheries, Washington, D. C. The several leading states in sales of fishing licenses follow. Three states, New York, Indiana and Washington issue combination fishing and hunting licenses. State License sales Revenue

The ten-year plan, embodied in

Drive Under Way For $16,000,000 In Back Taxes

Second Payments Under Ten-Year Plan Now Due; Total to Set New Record

With the campaign on in every county in Michigan to collect the second installment of taxes due under the ten-year plan, State Treasurer Theodore I. Fry predicted today that the payments will aggregate $16,000,000. "On the basis of our experience a year ago, when the ten-year plan was inaugurated, I have no hesitancy about saying that this year's drive will be a big success," Treasurer Fry said. "I look for collections to top last year's total of $15,000,000 and to reach possibly $16,000,000. "Business conditions are better generally, some individuals have kept their bonus money to pay the tax installment, and an investment in real estate is well worth protecting at this time. I am sure that practically everybody who paid his first installment on back taxes will realize the necessity for keeping up the payments. "One of the purposes of the campaign is to acquaint those who failed to pay the first installment with the fact that they may still do so, with only a slight extra charge. A third group, who are now financially able to do so, will pay the whole thing up, in this way saving large amounts of interest and clearing the title to their property." The rush of the public to pay in advance of the September 1 deadline recalls last year's jams at the treasurers' offices. All indications are that again these eleventh-hour visitors will have to wait in line and take their turn. Officials point out that those who pay now, not only gain the comfort of knowing that their property is protected, but save themselves the trouble of waiting. The onslaught of the taxpayers gives visible proof of a thriving public realization that the State of Michigan is offering a bargain. Under the plan, taxes for 1932 and prior years—for state, counties, villages, townships, and all cities except Detroit, which has its own seven-year plan—are lumped and then divided into ten annual payments. All the heavy interest on these old taxes has been cancelled. The next interest amounts to only four per cent per year on each installment, figured from September 1, 1935, when the plan went into effect. Those who are just starting in and making the two payments, put themselves on an equal footing with the rest, getting another eight years to meet the balance owing. The ten-year plan, embodied in the Moore-Holbeck Act, was the happy solution of an extremely serious tax problem. Many, many millions of dollars in taxes lay uncollected, and apparently uncollectible, on tax rolls. Accumulated for years, the taxes in their net amount were so huge that the property owners, despairing of ever paying the total, refused to pay any one year's delinquent tax. Interest and penalty on the older unpaid taxes ran as high as 50 and 60 per cent of the original amount, a fact which further discouraged payment. Governmental units needed the money which these taxes represented. A tax title sale would have raised funds, but thousands of families would have lost their homes and life savings. Pledging the delinquencies for a good-sized loan was also considered and rejected, because paying back the interest and principal on the loan would just have added that much more of a burden on the already-overburdened property owner. Then the part-payment idea was evolved. The state went right to its own property owners for assistance, and made the paying of taxes popular. Of the $15,000,000 collected last year, about ten per cent went to the state treasury, while the other ninety per cent went into local treasuries. The $15,000,000 was actual cash. Through payment of it, $55,000,000 in taxes was "revived" and shifted from dead to active rolls, with collection of the whole amount merely a matter of time. So successful has been Michigan's new method of collecting delinquent taxes that it has commanded nationwide interest. All county treasurers have the machinery of their offices geared to provide a maximum of service, knowing that the tide of taxpayers will be a rising one right up to the last minute.

L. W. Kerlikowske, Co. Coroner, Is A Candidate For Renomination

L. W. Kerlikowske, Coroner of Berrien County, will be renominated by a large vote if merit counts and the voters of this county are wise enough to keep in their employ those who have proven their worth both as a service and economy. Mr. Kerlikowske, a member of the firm of Dormer & Kerley, well known funeral directors of St. Joseph, has served most satisfactorily as County Coroner and any number of people over the county are anxious to have him serve for another term. He has resided in the county all of his life with the exception of the period he was in the U. S. Service during the World War. He is married, a member of the Masonic order, Elks and Eagles.

Local sufferers from rising food prices will be most grateful to hear of the Plymouth Rock hen at the Lovege Harroff farm in the Wagner District. This hen was hatched in April, 1936, and, technically speaking, is a 3/4 months old pullet. But hearing of the distressed food situation, she climbed on a nest this last week and started laying eggs. It is to be hoped that her sisters will heed her example.

Pullet Lays Eggs At 3 Months

The Berrien County Sportsman's Club will hold its second annual family picnic Sunday, Aug. 16, at Cable Lake, which is in Van Buren county, southeast of Sister Lakes and directly west of Dewey Lake. The road will be marked by arrows. All members are urged to attend and to bring a friend or friends. Sports will include fishing contests, casting contests, races, softball and other entertainment.

Sportsman's Picnic Cable Lake Sunday

The office of Sheriff in any county the size of Berrien is of such importance as to necessitate the nomination and election of a man of highest integrity and dependability, one who is fearless to enforce the laws as he finds them without fear or favor. Such a man will be found in Dr. James M.

J. M. Benson Making Strong Campaign For Sheriff's Office

A man who is making an aggressive campaign for the realization of his desire to gain the Democratic nomination for Sheriff, is John M. Benson, prominent and successful business man of Benton Harbor. Mr. Benson has made a success of his own undertakings and would, unquestionably, make a success in the Sheriff's office if the voters see fit to nominate and elect him to this high position of trust and responsibility. Mr. Benson is well and favorably known in the twin cities as well as the rural sections of the county. He is a fruit grower himself and owns and operates large trucks, buying fruit on the local market and shipping it to distant points. He has been identified with this business since 1909 and has done much to establish the market place in Benton Harbor and further the fruit growing business in this section of the State. As a candidate for Sheriff Mr. Benson is physically fit and mentally qualified for the office and if nominated and elected could be depended upon to carry out his oath of office in a conscientious, efficient, economical manner. Nothing more could be asked.

Dr. R. J. Brown, a prominent physician of Benton Harbor, is seeking re-nomination as County Coroner on the Republican ticket and from all reports received should receive a flattering vote at the approaching primary election on September 15th. Dr. Brown is a graduate of the University of Michigan and soon after completing his course took up the practice of medicine in Benton Harbor where he maintains offices in the Traction Building. Two years ago he was chosen by a substantial majority to serve in the capacity of Coroner which position of trust and responsibility he has filled to the entire satisfaction of the people of the county as a whole. He has been on the job at all times, has answered all calls made upon him promptly and with dispatch and at the same time has conducted the office with a minimum of expense to the taxpayers.

He has been on the job at all times, has answered all calls made upon him promptly and with dispatch and at the same time has conducted the office with a minimum of expense to the taxpayers.

Ed. LaViolette, Demo., For Co. Treasurer

Ed. LaViolette, of Benton Harbor, is a candidate for County Treasurer on the Democratic ticket and from all reports received should receive a large vote at both the primaries and general election. He is well known, particularly in the upper end of the county. He has been a life-long resident of the county and was educated in the public schools and attended high school. For the past fourteen years he has been a valued employe of the B. M. Nowlen Lumber Co., Benton Harbor. While he has never before aspired to county office he has served most creditably for three terms as City Commissioner and has always been found in front ranks with progressive members of that political body. When he was elected in 1935 he led the ticket which is evidence of the satisfactory manner he has served in this official capacity. He has served as Chairman of the Safety Committee, and also the Legislative Committee and as a member of the Finance Committee for three years.

Wm. H. Bartz, Rep., Aspirant for Register of Deeds

More than the usual interest is being manifested by people in all parts of the county in the candidacy of William H. Bartz who is outstanding for the Republican nomination for Register of Deeds. Mr. Bartz is the type of man that good Republicans like to get on the ticket for they are confident that if nominated he will put up a good fight at the general election and lead whole-hearted support to the party at that time as ever before. Mr. Bartz was born and reared in Berrien county and resides in the same house on a farm in Royallton township in which he was born forty-two years ago. He is married and the father of two children. He operates an orchard and farm and is a member and director of the St. Joseph, Michigan Fruit Growers' Ass'n. He is identified with other organizations and interested in Sunday School work. He has served on the School Board for seven years, is secretary, Berrien County Horticultural Society, a member of the Farm Bureau and on the executive committee of the local Co-operative Ass'n. Never before has he aspired to or held any county office, although he is particularly well equipped by education and business experience to fill the one he seeks. During the World War he served in the army for about two years; was over-seas for sixteen months and saw action in eight major battles. He is a member of the V. F. W.

Chas. C. Russell, Rep. For Co. Treasurer

Wide experience in tax matters, nine years service as deputy collector of internal revenue engaged in income tax audits, and a thorough business training are Charles C. Russell's qualifications for County Treasurer. Mr. Russell, a resident of St. Joseph, seeks nomination on the Republican ticket. He has served two years as City Treasurer of St. Joseph, has had wide business experience and training and is in every way qualified for the position of trust and responsibility to which he aspires. He is married and makes his home at 1181 Niles Ave. He is a member of the Masonic order, Elks and Eagles. In politics he is and always has been a staunch, loyal Republican and an ardent supporter of his party. There could be no mistake made in nominating and electing a man of this high type for public office.

Al J. Hastings Republican Aspirant For. Co. Clerk

There is not a man on either ticket aspiring to public office at this time that is more widely and favorably known over the county than Al J. Hastings, the popular candidate for the Republican nomination for County Clerk. A resident of Niles township, Mr. Hastings has resided all of his life in Berrien County. Ed. Freeman, Demo., For Drain Comm.

A man who is making a most aggressive campaign for the realization to gain the Democratic nomination for Drain Commissioner is Ed. Freeman, of Benton Harbor, whose past experience in this work well qualifies him to the position to which he aspires. He was born and reared on a farm in Pipestone township and educated in the public schools of that rural section of the county. For eight years he was engaged in contracting and building during which time he gained a wealth of experience that would be invaluable to him if chosen to serve as the next Drain Commissioner of Berrien County. Mr. Freeman is married and he and his wife reside at 145 Apple Avenue, Benton Harbor. He is a member of the Pomona Grange, Modern Woodmen and other organizations.

Leslie G. Phairas, Demo. Aspirant For Sheriff

At the coming primary election on September 15th, the voters of Berrien County will have an opportunity to cast their ballots for a conscientious, efficient, trustworthy man for the office of Sheriff—Leslie G. Phairas, of Benton Harbor, who is being prominently spoken of for the Democratic nomination for this high position of trust and responsibility. This popular candidate was born and reared in the county and educated in the public schools. At an early age he started out to make his way in the world and has been a hard worker all of his life. He is married and has five fine children all at home. In aspiring to the office of Sheriff Mr. Phairas comes before the voters with an excellent reputation for honesty, integrity, trustworthiness. He believes in strict law enforcement and would work to this end at all times if nominated and elected to serve as the next Sheriff of Berrien County. He is not controlled and is unhampered, will work at all times for the common good of the people of the county as a whole. He would appoint capable and efficient men under him and see to it personally that the laws were strictly enforced. Such a man is needed in the Sheriff's office during the next two years.

Chas. E. Ledyard, Rep. Aspirant For Sheriff

A man who is being widely spoken of for the Republican nomination for Sheriff is Charles E. Ledyard, of St. Joseph, Michigan. This outstanding candidate has been a resident of this county for the past thirty years and is well and favorably known in most every section. He is married, the father of six children, and he and his family reside at 838 Wolcott Street. While Mr. Ledyard has never held an elective county office he is exceptionally well equipped for the one to which he aspires, having made a deep study of law enforcement in its various ramifications, and is an advocate of equipping sheriff's cars with radios to cope with the modern criminal and to reduce highway accidents. This method has proven most effective in other sections of this and neighboring states and would, unquestionably, prove of great worth in this county. This candidate is an experienced business man having been engaged in construction and development work in St. Joseph for fifteen years or more. He is a member of a number of social and fraternal organizations including the Eagles and I. O. O. F.

J. W. Cullinine Being Strongly Supported For Sheriff's Office

From all over the county comes word of the strong support being accorded J. W. Cullinine, of Benton Harbor, candidate for the Republican nomination for Sheriff. No better man could be chosen for the position. Mr. Cullinine is most highly esteemed in his home city where people know him best. This point is borne out by the fact that he was elected Justice of the Peace in Benton Harbor by a sticker vote which is unique in local political history. So ably and satisfactorily did he serve in this capacity that when he became a candidate to succeed himself this past April he was renominated and elected by an overwhelming majority. This outstanding candidate has been a resident of Berrien County for the past fifty years during which time he has gained a wealth of experience in various line of business and in public office which particularly qualified him for the position to which he aspires. Mr. Cullinine is a good clean living man himself and believes in strict law enforcement and this policy he could be depended upon to carry out if chosen to serve at the next Sheriff of Berrien County. He believes in efficiency and economy in public office and would work to this end if successful in obtaining his goal. There can be no mistake made in nominating and electing men of this type to public office, especially one so important as that of Sheriff.

The principal figures in each colony are the king and queen, who owe their dignity to the fact that they are the parents of all of their subjects. The queen usually produces millions of off-spring, and as a result of such excessive fecundity increases in size until she is several inches long, becoming quite immovable in her nest and having to be fed by the workers.

Termites Are Not New Importation

Once Served Useful Purpose as Forest Scavengers Returning Rotten Wood Back to Soil

The termite menace in the United States, until recently only vaguely appreciated except in some sections, is as serious and as widespread as it is inevitable, with fifty species of the insect native to the country, they are found in destructive and ever-increasing numbers in practically every state. From their original useful function as forest scavengers, breaking down and restoring dead-wood tissue to the soil and air, termites have become a significant economic problem as a result of the artificial accumulation and widespread distribution of their natural food supply in the form of timber in man-made structures. The result has been to facilitate the spread and rapidly increase the number of these insects. To date there have been no corresponding control measures because the habits and activities of termites have been so little understood by the construction industry and the general public.

The first impression to be corrected is the common idea that the observation of termite work for the first time in a community indicates an invasion. For example the New York press, in commenting on termite activity in that city, recently said, "Termites multiply rapidly, work slowly but thoroughly. New York's invasion came three years ago; whence, no one knows. Now every section of the metropolitan area is infested." The committee has received letters from points well distributed throughout the United States appealing for help to meet "the invasion of these pests." On the subject of termite invasion, Prof. S. F. Light, University of California, says:

"It cannot be too strongly emphasized that all of the termites doing extensive damage in the United States and, indeed, all except one, or possibly two, of the 54 species known to occur in the United States, are native species. We are not facing, therefore, any sudden invasion of new forms, as many have imagined, but simply an adjustment with species present for millions of years before man entered upon the scene. The two supposedly introduced species have every restricted ranges within the United States. The European subterranean termite, is found only in the vicinity of Forest Hills, Mass., and the common powder-post termite, of wide distribution in the West Indies, Mexico, and Central and South America, has been found in four localities in southern Florida and in one locality in extreme southern Louisiana."

The termite problem arises out of man's attempts to change the ordinary process of nature by preserving for his own use, over considerable periods of time, wood and its products, which it has been the immemorial function of the termites and associated organisms to break down and return to the soil and the atmosphere.

Characteristics and Types
Termites are primitive insects related to cockroaches. Unlike these scavengers, the termites live a secreted life, feed primarily on cellulose, and are organized in colonies, diversified into castes differing in structure and function. This social organization prolongs their period of larval immaturity, increases their destructive potentialities, and has accelerated the evolution of highly specialized instincts. These factors combine to raise the termites to a high level of efficiency among insects in general. They naturally extend and accelerate their work as destroyers of wood and cellulose in tropical and temperate regions.

Termites are commonly, but erroneously, called "white ants." Not all species and castes of termites are white, and no termite is a true ant. While it is true that the vast majority of the individuals of the colonies of the termites are white, these are not usually visible unless dug out of their burrows in wood or earth. Other individuals of the same species, the winged forms called "alates," have dark, even black bodies and usually dark wings. These are to be seen flying or emerging from wooden structures or the earth for a few hours only at the swarming season. The term "white ant" should therefore be abandoned, since it leads to serious misconceptions as to the identity of the insects properly named termites, and confuses them with others having very different habits and requiring entirely different methods of control.

Termites fall into two major habit types: wood-dwelling termites and earth-dwelling termites. Wood-dwelling termite colonies are found in the wood itself. The majority of this type attacks only dry wood; they are known as dry-wood termites and are confined to the coastal and southern states. Others, known as damp-wood termites, are found in damp and decaying wood; they are largely confined to the Pacific Coast. Earth-dwelling termites, and of several different types, and the group that is the most economically important is known as subterranean termites. They live in the earth and feed upon wood placed in or on the ground. Occasionally, they attack wood placed away from ground contact by building tubes or covered runways to it from their galleries in the ground. They are widespread and responsible for by far the greater part of the damage done.

Explain Change In Soil Program
Modifications in the regulations governing the 1936 federal soil conservation program in Michigan and other corn belt states have been set up so that the effects of heat and lack of rainfall on fields will not work too great a hardship with farmers participating in the program.

According to Maurice Doan, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Conservation Committee, encouragement is being given farmers to enable them to produce extra feed and forage for fall and winter feeding, to preserve all available forage for livestock feed and to provide as large an acreage as possible in soil conserving crops for 1937.

In describing the modifications, Claude R. Wickard, acting director for the north central division states which include Michigan, is informing state committees that an additional revision provides for farmers who fail to obtain stands in fields seeded to soil conserving crops. Acceptance of proof will be granted so that farmers can obtain cash grants if the failure to obtain a good stand was caused by conditions beyond the control of the farmer.

The wording of the modifications is as follows:
Good stand of soil-conserving crop on land from which a grain hay or annual legume hay is harvested is classed as soil-conserving—Land from which a crop of grain hay or annual legume hay, such as soybeans and fieldpeas, has been harvested in 1936 will be classified as soil-conserving provided a good stand of a soil-conserving crop is growing on this land when performance is checked later in the year. The kind, rate, and time of seeding the soil-conserving crop will be subject to recommendations made by the State Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Proof of performance other than a good stand—Farmers who have seeded soil-conserving crops in accordance with good farming practice but who have lost such crops because of drought, insect infestations, or other conditions beyond their control, may qualify for soil-conserving and soil-building payments on this land. It will be necessary, however, that these farmers provide sufficient evidence that soil-conserving crops were seeded in accordance with good farming practice. Prior to this modification, a good stand of soil conserving crops constituted the only acceptable proof of performance in the North Central Region.

Emergency forage crop plantings—Land which has been devoted to a soil-conserving use may be used after this date for the planting of an emergency forage crop for harvest in 1936 without changing the classification of such land. Land upon which emergency forage crops are to be planted, however, will not be classified as soil-conserving if there is a good stand of a soil-conserving crop on such land. Emergency forage crops include the sorghums, sudan grass, soybeans, millets, and other similar forage crops.

Bandmasters Meet At Interlochen Camp

Musicians attending the National Music Camp at Interlochen are preparing for one of the most outstanding two-week series of concerts ever attempted in the camp's eight-year history.

The American Bandmasters' Association will convene at Traverse City Aug. 6-9, and will include a number of leading American and Canadian band directors. Already the following have announced they will take part in the convention program: Frank Simon, director of the famous Arco Band; Glenn Cliffe Baimun, director of the Northwestern University Band; Herbert L. Clarke, director of the Long Beach, Cal., Municipal Band; Lieut. J. J. Gagnier, director of the Ft. Dodge, Ia., Municipal Band; Capt. Charles O'Neill, director of the Royal 22nd Regiment Band of Quebec, Canada; and Walter M. Smith of Boston, Mass.

Band concerts by the National High School Band, which includes 200 crack musicians from all parts of the country, will play each evening at 8 o'clock during the convention.

Two nights, Aug. 11 and 12, camp members will stage the opera "Faust" under the direction of Robert Korst, voice teacher and opera producer for the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. The entire libretto will be sung in English.

Sunday, Aug. 16, Dr. Walter Damrosch of New York will conduct the National High School Orchestra and the Michigan High School Chorus during the regular weekly broadcast over the NBC network. Although Dr. Damrosch has previously directed the National High School Orchestra, this will be his first visit to Interlochen.

Special preparations are being made to accommodate the large number of tourists and resorters expected to fill the network of highways leading to Interlochen. Each year music lovers from all parts of the United States gather in the famous Interlochen Bowl to hear the young high school musicians play their summer concerts.

Health Dept. Lists 10 Causes Death

Ten principal causes of death, the control of which would materially increase man's expectation for a longer, happier life, are listed by the Michigan Department of Health as causing 68 percent of all the deaths in Michigan in 1935.

Heart disease again heads the list, causing 9,578 deaths last year which was a three per cent increase over the 9,275 deaths of the previous year. Cancer is second with 5,187 deaths, a slight increase also. Apoplexy is the third principal cause of death with a total of 3,907; pneumonia fourth with 3,805 deaths; and nephritis fifth with 2,974. These five diseases occupy the same relative position year after year, taking a tremendous toll of human lives despite the best efforts of science to devise protective measures.

Coronary disease and angina pectoris replace accidents, exclusive of automobile, as the sixth major cause of death with 2,352 deaths reported in 1935. There were 2,161 deaths from accidents in the home, in occupations and other places where automobiles did not figure. Tuberculosis dropped a notch last year to eighth place when 2,045 deaths were recorded

MAXIM GORKY DIES

Regarded as the literary demigod of Soviet Russia, Maxim Gorky, world-famous novelist, died in Moscow. Born in 1868 in Nijni Novgorod, since rechristened Gorky in his honor, the novelist was banished during the era of the czars. He was repatriated by the Soviet republic and raised to the pinnacle of national fame.

In comparison with 2,199 the previous year.

Automobile accidents claimed 1,665 lives as the ninth major cause of death while diabetes remained in tenth place with a toll of 1,230 lives. Automobile accidents combined with other accidents to take the lives of 3,826 persons. Public health authorities hold that these accidental deaths in most cases are preventable.

The total death rate for 1935 was 10.05 per 1,000 population, a continuation of the increase over the depression low marked in 1933 by the lowest rate in history, 9.62 deaths per 1,000 population. There were 51,051 deaths recorded in 1935 from all causes.

Extension of public health activities into the rural districts of Michigan will be aided by the allotment of $280,293 for the fiscal year beginning July 1 under the health provisions of the Social Security Act. Dr. C. C. Slemmons, State Commissioner of Health, announced today upon receipt of a communication from Dr. Thomas Parran, U. S. surgeon general.

An additional sum of $89,352.85 has been assigned to the Bureau of Child Hygiene and Public Health Nursing by the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor for the extension and strengthening of public health services for mothers and children in rural areas, in areas suffering from economic distress, and among groups in special need.

These funds have already aided the State Department of Health to bring the list of counties having an organized public health service to a total of 50. Menominee county is the latest addition to this group, having voted to establish a full-time service by October. Existing local and state health services will also be expanded.

The outstanding addition to the services of the state department will be the establishment of a bureau of industrial hygiene under a trained director. This bureau will deal with the problems of industrial poisons and dust, plant sanitation and ventilation. A special allocation of $10,000 has been provided for the investigations of this bureau. A similar service is being established in Detroit under the direction of the municipal department of health with the aid of federal funds.

Training of capable personnel is an important phase of the expansion of public health activities.

More than $44,000 is set aside in the current appropriation for intensive training in public health at the University of Michigan, Johns Hopkins and Harvard. Trainees will include physicians, sanitary inspectors and public health nurses.

Pilot Whale Not Dangerous
The pilot whale is not dangerous like its close relation, the killer whale. A full-grown specimen is usually not more than 20 feet in length; it is nearly black all over, and is sometimes known as the black fish. On the throat there is a whitish heart-shaped patch, which sometimes extends to a very narrow strip down the center of the under parts.

Attend Funeral Of Hugh Dunnahoo

A number of relatives from Buchanan attended the funeral of Atty. Hugh Dunnahoo held from his home at 1067 Woodward ave., South Bend, at 4 p. m. Tuesday. Dunnahoo married Helen Pierce, a sister of Mrs. Warren Willard, Roy Pierce and Allen Pierce. He had been for years a leading attorney and insurance broker of South Bend. He is survived by his widow; by a sister, Mrs. Ed Morse of Chicago; by a brother, Walter Dunnahoo of Dallas, Texas; by a cousin, Mrs. Sherman Bradley of Buchanan.

Officers Farm Festival Meet

A meeting of the officers of the Buchanan Farm Festival Association was held at D's Cafe Monday evening and a committee comprising Phay Graffort, D. L. Boardman and A. J. George was named to wait on the city commission to get permission to use the streets of the business section. It was stated that after this permission had been secured, the arrangements would be pushed.

Bob Geyer Makes Debut Playwright

The Record has had the privilege of seeing an extended story in a public print of Gary, Ind., hailing Bob Geyer as the youngest playwright and director of that city, by virtue of the presentation of his play, "A Lady Takes the Helm," by the Robert Geyer Troop No. 10 of the Children's Federal Theatre there. Mr. Geyer er was reported to have further added to his laurels by carrying with steller success a leading part. Francis Dalton, also known here, was in charge of setting. The play was reported to be a riotous hit and is to be taken on a tour of northern Indiana.

Vacation Trip
Among the interesting vacation trips which we have heard of this summer was that completed Monday by Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sprague, Mrs. Nellie Fuller and Mrs. Reba Lamb, who made a week's tour of the west as far as Sheridan, Wyo. There they visited Paul Reinke, who has a real western ranch on Goose Creek. They returned by the way of Antioch, Ill., where they were joined by Miss Dorothy Lamont, who will again make her home with the Spragues and attend school here. Preston told us that they scouted all through the old stomp-in ground of Wild Bill Hickok in the Black Hills, visiting the Stratobowl, where the stratosphere ascents were made, the Needles, the "summer white house" where Cal Coolidge was photographed in beaver and shaps, Rushmore Mt., where a national memorial is being carved from solid rock. The sculptors had finished Washington, and were working on Tom Jefferson's chin. Then they went down through Colorado, visited at Estes Park. They went to Echo Lake on the Continental Divide, over Juniper Pass 14,090 feet in the air, where the mercury stood at 40 degrees while we were gasping in the heat back here. They drove through the famous Greeley spud district and saw the most beautiful potatoes selling at 60 cents the hundred-weight. Preston was telling us quite a bit more but we were crying so after that we didn't hear any more.

Last Rites Held For Walter Noble

A number of Buchanan people attended the funeral of Walter A. Noble, pioneer Niles merchant and a member of the Buchanan business community over a half century ago, last rites being held from the Price & Kiger Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Noble died Sunday at the age of 72 at the University hospital, Ann Arbor, after an extended illness. He was the son of G. W. Noble, who had a clothing store in the quarters now occupied by Glenn Smith. He grew to maturity in Buchanan and left at the age of twenty. The family has always maintained many connections here, and the family burial place is in Oak Ridge.
