

DAYTON I.O.O.F. STAGE LABOR DAY FETE

Now Here's the Proposition

The Sneezer When circling blackbirds wheel and call Upon the threshold of the fall And wild west winds of autumn mount To swell the ragweed pollen count The sneezer sounds his shrill bazoo Cha-who! cha-how! cha-witt; cha-choo!!! And screws a dolorous mug awry And wildly swabs a weeping eye. When apples are with scarlet glossed And wild grapes wait the bite of frost And golden rod its infamies Has sprayed on every passing breeze, You hear his grewsome boop-a-boo Ker-who! ker-r-r-ump! ker-how! Ker-whoop!!!! The while he weeps a watry grief Into a dripping handkerchief. When farmers haul their wheat to town A week after the price goes down, Ah, harken in that mellow hour His tribute to the autumn flower! He sings his song—as I do now—Ha-a-roo! ka-rump! ka whee! ka whoo!!!! And mops with care an itching nob, And swabs and swabs and swabs and swabs!

Heat Does Not Bother Koenig

Michigan's Oldest Man, John Koenig of Glendora, Fears Cold More

Hot weather really doesn't bother John Fred Koenig, Glendora, rated as Michigan's oldest man, who will be 109 years old Nov. 25. Anyway it does not bother as much as cold, for Koenig has been about the past summer in very fair health, whereas last winter he spent two months in bed, cold and sluggish circulation being too much for him. Of course he is really not very active, but his health is surprisingly good, and he eats as heartily as a laboring man, without resultant trouble, according to his son-in-law, Albert Schmaltz, with whom he makes his home. A self-appointed press agent for Mr. Koenig rather enlarged by asserting in several widely-circulated articles that he had won the husking championship of the neighborhood at the age of 102. The way that was, Schmaltz told the publicity expert that Koenig was not able to work except that when corn fodder was hauled up he would sit on a box and husk out the ears for the pigs. Koenig still reads, but only the German bible and the German Lutheran prayer book. He cannot read or speak English. He was born Nov. 25, 1827, at Kallush, Poland, but learned to speak German. He was a hand sawyer in the woods of Poland, where tree trunks are sawed into boards by hand. After he was grown he moved to Russia where the timber was more plentiful. He married at the age of 25 in Poland, his wife dying 6 years after, and in 1857 he married Gustine Fahr. They moved to Wallena, Russia in 1873. In 1899 they followed their children to America, going first to Kansas. Koenig was 72 then, but still able to do a man's work. He took part in the rush to Oklahoma in the early part of the century. There in 1906 fire destroyed all his buildings and personal effects. He and his wife then came to Glendora to live with their daughter, Mrs. Albert Schmaltz and family. His wife died Sept. 9, 1927, at the age of 90. Mrs. Hattie Miller had as her guest Sunday her daughter, Mrs. E. H. Dempster, Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. White and daughter, Teresa, are enjoying a motor trip through the east.

He married Frankie Bush in Minneapolis, Minn., in 1903 and returned to Buchanan in 1905. One son, Elmo, was born to them in 1908. He had worked for the Clark Equipment company for 24 years. Fifteen years ago he went to St. Louis to serve the company in a sales office there, remaining five years, when he was transferred to Chicago. M. C. Commences 2,000 Foot Spur

The Michigan Central began work Monday morning laying 2,000 feet of spur to the Dry Zero factory building, with Otto Reinke, local section foreman in charge and the regular section force enlarged to 24 by the addition of reserve section men from along the line east and west of Buchanan. The spur is to be an extension of the siding between the main line and the freight depot, and is being laid across the present depot platform, following the line of the old spur to the Lee & Porter axle works. Reinke stated that they expected to reach highway M-174 by today, and then have to close the highway, routing the traffic around to the west and cross the double tracks immediately in front of the depot, as was done when the crossing was paved. Unless extra time is required to dig through the foot of concrete in the highway pavement, it will not be necessary to close the road much longer than a day. John F. Gohr, steam shovel man from Niles, who has been doing contract dirt work for the county highway board, has the contract for the grading, starting Tuesday morning. He started leveling down the bank on the north side of the westbound track, where the line is to be installed. It will be necessary to make fills in sink holes and depressions along the line of the spur. Reinke estimated that the work would be completed in from ten days to two weeks.

He is a senior this year but has not played previously on account of parental objection. Among the first string prospects are Don Vergil, Capt. Ban The Street Carnival From The Business District

The question has been raised in the past week whether the time has not arrived for Buchanan to follow the lead of Niles, Dowagiac and a number of other cities of this section in banning from the business section, if not from the city limits that hoary iniquity, the street carnival, with its nondescript attendance of petty racketeers and honky-tonk artists, skilled in separating the sucker from his roll.

A canvass of sentiment both of the business section and of the general public would assure anyone, we believe, that such a ban would have a decided majority behind it. Annually the question of the street carnival comes up, usually with the specific problem in front of holding it in the business district. If a farm festival or a public celebration of any kind is held in Buchanan it must be held down town and the entertainment feature must be a street carnival, say those who think that way. Any consideration of holding it out of the business district is emphatically opposed by the carnival boosters. That would be taking the crowd away from the business houses, with a more or less remote probability that a few less dimes might be spent therein.

Since the farm festival of last year a growing opposition has been heard from the merchants themselves, including practically all of the groceries, meat markets, and other retail food sales establishments. Concurring in the opinion are a majority of the professional men, the clothing stores, and even an ice cream parlor or two who assert that the concession booths more than absorb all of the extra business created.

In part as a result of the drought and the street conditions, and in part on account of dissatisfaction with holding a street carnival in the downtown section, the Buchanan Fall Festival Association has virtually washed its hands of any event this year. They are in favor of a fall festival in which farm and women's handiwork displays have their proper role, but they are not in favor of a fall festival run for the benefit of the carnival rackets. They would skip the event entirely this year and at the same time start now on a real farm event for next year, with the idea of the downtown carnival once for all eliminated. It may be that a farm fair is not a fair without merry-go-rounds and similar rides for the children, but these may be stationed elsewhere than in the business district.

They would go out actively to enlist the co-operation of nearby farm organizations and leaders, whose enrollment would mean that the event would be a real farm event. This might or might not be held out of the business district but at any rate the streets would not be roped off and blocked with a carnival. Such carnival features as might be selected would be stationed in a vacant lot, and the farm displays proper might be placed in empty store rooms, or even in display windows of business houses. The business men would undoubtedly appreciate a throng on the sidewalks if the streets were not closed and traffic routed so far away that trading became inconvenient.

Here, we believe, is a chance for the city dads to make a move that will meet with a real public appreciation.

Fertilize Lawn To Curb Weeds

Fertilization of lawns during the first part of September not only will increase the vigor of the grass but may help solve the crab grass problem for next year says James Tyson, of the Michigan State College soils department. An application now of fertilizer helps the grass to make growth ahead of weeds and provides needed nourishment for the grass during the fall growing period, says Tyson. Because the lawn grass continues some growth after the first frosts, fertilization of the lawn may be helpful in controlling crab grass which is killed at the first frost. The lawn grass continues to make growth and is thus better able to crowd out the crab grass next spring.

Townsend Defends His Pension Plan

Tells Court That Receivership Would End Program; Hearing Postponed (From the Grand Rapids Press of August 26, 1936) The enemies of Dr. Francis E. Townsend's control of Old Age Revolving Pensions, Ltd., Tuesday night rested in their efforts to depose him by law after hearing from him his philosophy of $200 a month pensions and his prediction that the receivership they seek would be the end of O. A. R. P. Closing two days of testimony in Cuyahoga county common pleas court that disclosed an automatic financial rule, Dr. Townsend escaped for a moment the rattle of questioning and defended O. A. R. P. as "an organization founded to spend money and bring about the return of prosperity."

First Licensed Car Drivers Well Known

With more than a million licensed motor vehicle operators on the books of the state today, it is a matter of interest to recall the names of those first few veteran drivers to whom Michigan's first operators' licenses were issued. While today Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, issues licenses by the hundreds of thousands annually, in 1919, licensed drivers were almost scarce. While automobiles chugged through streets of this state in the early days of this century, the first operator's permit in Michigan was issued June 30, 1919, to Governor Albert E. Sleeper. In those days the fee was 50 cents and the license was "good" for the life of the operator. Today licenses cost $1 and expire three years from date of issuance.

Cars Collide at Portage and Fulton

Bonham was driving south on Portage street when Mrs. Wade drove off Fulton street from the West, turning on Portage. Bonham swung his car out to avoid her, but the right rear corner of his car struck the left rear corner of the Wade car.

AT THE THEATRE

"Fury" Dynamic Picture—Cast Is Excellent Sylvia Sidney and Spencer Tracy are the brilliant co-stars of "Fury," showing at the Hollywood Theatre Friday and Saturday. And in this powerful screen play, directed by Fritz Lang, they give performances that will linger in your memory! The narrative has to do with the tragic circumstances that separate two young lovers on the eve of their marriage. Tracy, as the man, is arrested as a kidnaper and apparently burned to death by a furious mob that storms and fires the prison in which he is held. His life wrecked and his mind twisted by the horror he has been through, he goes into hiding and contrives to have twenty-two of the mobsters convicted of his murder! W. C. Fields is back in the guise and color of the carnival, hawking patent medicines and running a small shell game on the side, in "Poppy," which is the second feature for Friday and Saturday.

Find Equipment Old Wilson Mill

Antiquarian find of some interest is reported by James Ward at his beautiful home at Straybrook Farm at the junction of the Redbud Trail and the Berrien Springs road, in the form of a six foot augur, which was undoubtedly used at the Wilson sawmill to bore holes through large timbers for insertion of the wooden pins which were formerly used to hold the frames of buildings together. The augur was found in six feet of muck, while Ward was excavating for the pond that he is developing as a part of his grounds. The Ward home is built on the site of the old Wilson mill, one of the best known of pioneer times. He is developing a pond, building up the old mill spillway on the small creek running through the grounds. He has found several white oak timbers in perfect condition buried in the mud, one of which he used as a pillar on his porch. Old time lumber men have estimated from the appearance of these timbers that they were not less than 75 years old.

A NEW DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

Fight for Your Liberty, Your Freedom from Official Tyranny

Hysteria? By no means. Read again the Declaration of Independence and compare the wrongs there complained of, the conditions then existing, with the situation of today.

Of King George, it said: "He has obstructed the administration of justice."

"He has erected a multitude of new offices and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our Constitution—

"For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world;

"For imposing taxes on us without our consent;

"For depriving us in many cases of trial by jury."

"He has excited domestic insurrections among us."

Such was the tyranny under King George in 1776. Read how of the tyranny attempted by the New Dealers.

The administration, by NRA, "obstructed the administration of justice." It sent citizens to jail for the violation of rules and regulations promulgated, not by the authority of Congress, the lawmaking power, but by executive officers doing the will of the President.

The baker who sold bread, the tailor who pressed pants, the battery man who performed work for his neighbors, at prices less than those fixed by an executive officer, were convicted, all without authority of law.

You were taxed without representation. Money was taken from the consumer; it was taken from the producer, to pay "a multitude of new offices"—Federal appointees—"swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance." Hundreds of thousands of political officeholders were scattered over the country to do political work, using money given the President to feed the hungry, to aid the unfortunate, but used by the administration's henchmen to build up a political machine.

Literally millions of dollars in taxes, decreed by the Supreme Court to be unlawful, were collected from us, not by our tax-imposing body, Congress, but the members of the President's brain trust acting through his administrative officers.

Men were deprived "of trial by jury," forced to appear before an executive officer, sentenced and punishment imposed, all in violation of law.

By executive order more than thirty millions acres of land were taken out of cultivation. The Government's own report states that because of it, in one industry, more than a million men were deprived of employment.

By illegal executive order more than six million pigs, 443,627,348 pounds, were killed. Only 97,064,159 pounds were saved for food. The rest went into grease or fertilizer. The doctrine of scarcity of food was inaugurated. American farmers were prevented from producing food. Their market was invaded by foreign products. The American consumer was forced to buy millions of dollars worth of food from farmers of foreign lands.

The Supreme Court has saved us temporarily from a continuation of this tyranny, from the operation of these unjust laws. Nine of the President's laws enacted, so it was said, because "an emergency existed," to create a "more abundant life," but in reality used to foster monopoly, inaugurate oppression, and increase the wealth of the President's "economic royalists," were declared unconstitutional.

But you know, and the purpose although concealed is evident, that if the New Deal can win the coming election, the membership of that Court, because of death and the power of appointment, will be changed to further and declare valid New Deal policies. The last safe-guard of liberty, the Supreme Court, will be gone, and once again a rubber-stamp Congress will be called upon to pass "must" legislation which, in its operation, will destroy the freedom of the press, the freedom of speech, the liberty of the citizen, the right to transact business, to own and hold property free from excessive taxation, and the much talked of "common man" will find that he has placed himself, his children, and his grandchildren in the hands of the tax collector.

As the President said, "Remember well that attitude and method—the way we do things, not just the way we say things, is nearly always the measure of our sincerity."

Every act, notwithstanding the fair words, indicates a studied purpose here in America to place in the hands of the President and his advisers unlimited, arbitrary power.

As you love your country, as you hope for opportunity for your children, study the issues and give us in the White House, not "a superman," "a master mind," but one of "the common people," Alf M. Langdon.

Conditions indicate that our President and some of his advisers believe in a dictatorship. The dictators of Europe today are filling the world with rumors of war. Arbitrary power in the hands of a President may bring us war. Never by my vote will war be declared, except in defense of our own land when it is invaded. We had one Democratic President who promised "to keep us out of war." In this time of unrest we need a man of the common people and, to support him in the presidency, Congressmen upon whom you can rely.

The Primary is September 15. Election is November 3.

Respectfully,
CLARE E. HOFFMAN,
Republican Candidate for Congress, Fourth District of Michigan.

Townsend's Lawyer Beaten

(Also from Grand Rapids Press of August 26, 1936.)

Dr. F. E. Townsend's legal counsel, Sheridan Downey, conceded defeat Wednesday in one of the closely watched primary congressional races testing Townsend strength in the native state of the pension plan.

Doney was defeated for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the third district by Representative Frank H. Buck.

John S. McGroarty, who sponsored the first Townsend legislation in congress last year but later broke with the organization, led for the Democratic nomination in another district but trailed two Republicans, one a Townsdenite, on the other side of the ticket.

LIVING COSTS ARE SOARING
Pork Chops are out of your reach... don't blame the butcher
ACCORDING to the U. S. Department of Commerce, the average retail price of pork chops in the United States has increased about 15 cents a pound in the past two years. This has come about not through any fault of the meat packers or your butcher but largely because of an artificially created scarcity.
That 15-cent increase in the price of pork chops is almost twice the daily cost of electricity in the average household served by this company. While other items in the family budget have soared, electricity has steadily declined in price. Today the cost in the average household served by this company is 42% below 1927.
