Lions Club To Award Prizes for Best Lawn and Porch Decorations

Present Handel's Messiah Sun. Eve

Now Here's the Proposition

Uncle Hank of Hills Corners Sez:

It's still summer weather in Michigan—summer able to stand up and summer not.

The Christmussy Spirit It is perfectly clear that it's that time of year

When a man's disposition gets nifty

For the junk that is piled makes him perfectly wild

At the holiday doings of wife. On such things as neckties and kerchiefs and hose

She'll spend till she riddles a twenty

When any fool knows that for blowing one's nose

A piece of old shirttail is plenty. She's got enough nose for an army, gosh knows.

And silk hose enough for a harem They are piled on the chairs and the settees and stairs.

But who does she think wants to wear 'em?

This holiday junk is what I call the bunk

It may be I'm just an old sinner, But it ain't no darn fun when it's quarter to one

And where in the hell is my dinner!

Hitch-Hiking Chicken We've never heard of a hitch-hiking chicken before but that was what Mr. and Mrs. Tom Snyder of this city saw recently while driving along a highway.

First they argued about what it was that they could see on top of a car in front of them.

Mrs. Snyder thought it must be a loose piece of top. But Mr. Snyder was sure it was a chicken.

Presently his view of the matter was substantiated when the chicken, a rooster, flopped off the car top and lighted beside the road, sitting still there.

Snyder stopped and got out and walked toward it, when it flopped away.

"Why didn't you grab it?" asked Mrs. Snyder.

"Yeah and get pinched for stealing chickens by the farmer in that house," snorted Mr. Snyder, "I'd have a fine time making the judge believe the chicken was riding on top that car."

Maroons Play Three Oaks Here Wed.

The Buchanan high school basketball team will play the Three Oaks high school next Wednesday night on the local court, the game starting at 7:30 p. m.

The Three Oaks aggregation is reported to be strong this year, having three first-string men back. They have defeated St. Joseph and Berrien Springs. Buchanan's line-up will probably include Leiter who is expected to be back in form by that time.

Red Cross Drive Over Quota Here

Mrs. Charles King, chairman of the 1936 Red Cross fund drive for Buchanan, reports that the campaign closed Dec. 11 with a total collection of $217.09, or more than the Buchanan quota of $200. She was assisted by Mrs. Ronald Bolster. Mrs. King extends her thanks to the local public for their co-operation.

Robert Fairman incurred an arm fracture when he ran against the wall during a class basketball game at the high school Friday evening.

Committee to Judge Homes

Survey to Be Made Between Christmas and New Years

The Buchanan Lions club will present three prizes of $5, $3 and $2 for the best lawn and porch Christmas decorations in the city, according to plans perfected at the meeting last week.

Members of the Lions club will not be eligible for these prizes but are pledged to place such decorations in front of their own homes, for which an honorary award will be made. All other porch and lawn decorations will be eligible. It is expected that the decorations will be placed in front of the homes during the days of the Christmas week and until New Years day. They will be judged some time between Christmas and New Years.

Supt. H. C. Stark has already arranged the installation of decorated and lighted trees in the halls and on the grounds of the two school buildings.

Dr. Waldo Has Narrow Escape

Car Skids on Ice, Rolls to Bottom of Vanderslice Ravine

Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Waldo escaped in a near-miraculous manner with only slight injuries when their car skidded off the pavement of the Niles-Buchanan road late Tuesday night.

Dr. and Mrs. Waldo were en route home from a meeting of osteopaths from southern Michigan and northern Indiana in Niles about 11:30 p. m. and were coming down the hill into the ravine on the Vanderslice farm. The car struck a patch of ice and started to skid toward the north side. Dr. Waldo attempted to right it, but it skidded the opposite way, going over the bank on the south side of the pavement and rolling over several times, until it landed wheels up in the bottom of the ravine.

When the car came to a stop Dr. and Mrs. Waldo were lying in back of the rear seat of the Ford Tudor coach. They called to each other and found that neither was injured, when Dr. Waldo began attempting to shut off the ignition. Just at that moment Eddie Smiles of the Russell Chevrolet garage arrived and went to their rescue, getting the door open and extracting them from their predicament.

The car was badly damaged. Dr. and Mrs. Waldo incurred only minor cuts and bruises.

Ask Job Seekers to Await Call

Party Chicago Officials Inspect Plant; Dine at Bend River Grange

It is not possible to give an exact date on the opening of the Dry Zero plant here but the company asks that applicants for jobs file at the office and then await the notice which will be received by those whom the company selects, according to J. E. Ulrich, local superintendent.

A party of sixty, comprising the members of the Foremen's club of the Dry-Zero plant in Chicago, and their guests, met at the local plant Saturday evening to inspect the factory and test the two production lines already installed there, afterward adjourning to the Bend of the River grange hall for a chicken dinner.

They found the equipment installed in good condition. At the plant they were greeted with a large bouquet of cut flowers under a "Welcome" sign, the gift of the city. At the dinner talks were made by Plant Manager Norman Kaster and Superintendent Walter Hodina of the Chicago factory, Atty. Bill Desenberg, Walter Olson, president of the Dry Zero Foremen's club of Chicago, and by J. E. Ulrich, superintendent of the local plant.

A message was received from H. B. Lindsay, now representing the company on business in South America, extending best wishes that "the baby would grow to be as big as its daddy."

Jesswein Brothers Fail in Try to Get William Jesswein Out of Russia

Money Sent During Famine Is Held Up by Technicalities

America is still a lot better country than Russia, according to G. Jesswein, who lives on the Range Line Road about five miles north of Buchanan.

For a term of nearly twenty years Jesswein and his five brothers in this country have been trying to get another brother, William, Jesswein, out of Russia without success. Also in the meantime they have been trying to get money to him to tide him over the famines that have devastated the farm country, and only with partial success. The last money they sent was held up by red tape in Russia. Since that time they have heard nothing from him and for all they know he and his family may have succumbed to starvation or some other fate.

G. Jesswein came to America in 1892, when emigration and international conditions were freer and easier. About the same time four other brothers came, Fred who also lives on the Range Line road, Dan who lives in Berrien Springs, Julius who lives in Benton Harbor, Jack who lives in Ohio.

As a matter of fact the brother in Russia had a chance to come here also before the war, but refused to come, as conditions were then not bad in his section of Russia. But the war came and his district was swept by conflict, so that he and his family were obliged to fly from their home. When they returned the farm was devastated and the stock gone. But they settled on it again, and were gradually building up their stock, when the government started to make exactions and levies on the farmers. Their stock was again taken and their farm produce heavily taxed, until they were in danger of famine. It was now a difficult matter to get to the United States, but the brothers here did what they could. The matter of admission under the quota restrictions to the United States was finally arranged, but William could not get out of Russia.

The brothers managed to get some money through the hedge of restrictions, sending it through a Baptist mission with headquarters in Chicago, Ill. The last money they sent never got to him, to their knowledge. The last they knew it was held intact on some technicality by a Russian bank, where it probably remains. The five brothers left in the early nineties to escape army service. Their home was in eastern central Russia near Kiev. The brother who remained happened to be in army service at that time.

As the committee had set $100 as the essential minimum amount they are more than pleased and wish to extend their thanks to the public.

Teacher's Club Sponsors Tree

Business Men Decorate Streets; Ernest Grimes Gives Beautiful Tree

After all organized plans of municipal holiday decoration and celebration had lapsed, activities sprang into being this week which will assure a decorated municipal tree, and public observance for the children Christmas eve, and light decorations on the streets.

The beautiful spruce tree which was installed Tuesday at Main and Front is the gift of Ernest Grimes, and was taken from the old Hueener home on Cayuga, which he now owns. The I. & M. cut the tree and set it up down town. Morley Myers decorated the tree with colored lights which were purchased several years ago by the Civic Association.

Faculty Club to Sponsor Children's Fete

Mr. and Mrs. Beckwith for some time owned and occupied a farm adjoining the William Conrad farm in the Wagner district. He died at the age of 40, on April 5, 1875, over 61 years ago, and was buried in Oak Ridge. Mrs. Beckwith was a daughter of Moses Monroe and was a great grandchild of President Monroe. She was born in New York state April 5, 1842, and died Dec. 11, 1936, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ella Mitchell, No. 357 Tappan avenue, Ann Arbor.

Of the five children born to her, only two daughters, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Ora Winchell of Benton Harbor, survive here. She is also survived by five grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

It is reported that for several years after the death of her husband Mrs. Beckwith taught in Buchanan schools. She moved to St. Joseph 49 years ago and from there to Ann Arbor to afford the advantages of education for her children.

Miss Zelda Frank spent Sunday visiting friends in Chicago.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS I will be in the city hall from Dec. 10, 1936, until further notice for the collection of the 1936 property tax, special sewer assessment taxes and the dog-tax. Ada Dacy-Sanders, City Treasurer.

Vespers Singers To Appear in Candle Light Service Sunday Night

The Vespers Singers of the First Presbyterian church will appear for the fourth presentation of "The Messiah" by George Frederick Handel at a candle light service at 5 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 20, under the direction of Mrs. H. B. Thompson, with Mrs. V. N. Taggett of Niles accompanying the chorus and soloists on the new Kimball pipe organ, and Mrs. J. H. Gettig serving as pianist.

This finest of all oratorios was written, according to Handel's own version, during a 23-day stretch from August 22, 1741, and Sept. 14. Such an accomplishment seems beyond comprehension in view of the length and construction of the work, only the greatest of genius making it possible.

The first presentation was made in Dublin, Ireland, on April 13, 1812, by a chorus composed solely of boys and men from the Cathedral choir. It was heard for the first time in England in 1743. King George II, who was present at the first performance, is said to have risen to his feet during the singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus," and the custom has been followed since, not because of the example but as a tribute rising from the innate feeling of the listeners that such homage is fitting to the majesty of Handel's work and the spiritual and emotional appeal of the text.

The final rehearsal will be held at the church at 7:30 p. m. Saturday.

30,000 Boy Scouts To Go To Capitol

Every Boy Scout in the Berrien-Cass Area should commence now to plan his ways and means to attend the national Scout jamboree at Washington, D. C., June 30 to July 9, for attendance at this will certainly be the outstanding event of boyhood for every Scout who makes the trip. We believe that not only Boy Scouts, but the grown-ups as well, will be interested in a brief story of camp preparations.

The Scout camp will include 350 acres of land on both sides of the historic Potomac river, the use of which land is donated by the government, and nearly all of the camp site being within sight of the national capitol, the Washington monument and the Lincoln memorial—a most inspiring setting for a boy's camp. The massed gatherings and the Scout demonstrations will take place in the grounds surrounding the Washington monument, where an arena seating 25,000 people will be erected, with complete flood lights and amplification system.

The camp will be completed when the Scouts arrive, except that each troop will bring its own tent equipment.

This will not be so much a large city of 30,000 Scouts and Scouters as it will be an aggregation of villages with a capacity of 1260 each. Each village will house 34 troops of 33 Scouts, together with accompanying Scoutmasters and Scouters. Each section will have its own commissary, like a country store, its own postoffice and trading post, its own hospital and medical staff, for the health of the boys is going to be thoroughly provided for. In order to further safe-guard their health, eight miles of water mains will bring in an ample supply of pure water and miles of sewage lines will be installed.

In addition to the equipment of the 25 villages, there will be a general headquarters with a main postoffice, main hospital, ambulance and postoffice; and in order that parents may reach their boys readily by phone, the jamboree city will be connected with the outside world through a main telephone office with 80 lines connecting every section of the camp. The Scouts themselves will issue a daily newspaper which will have a circulation of 50,000. It is not probable that so large and complete a camp, wholly non-military in America, and it is doubtful if ever so many American boys were brought together under such splendid auspices. Here the boys will live together for ten days, enjoying a program of camping, pageantry, sight seeing and national functions in which the President, as well as foreign ambassadors and other notables, will participate. It will be an experience that will not only be educational but will be an inspiration to every Scout who is privileged to go, and that is our reason for urging Boy Scouts and parents of the Berrien-Cass Area to begin to plan and to budget in order that as many Scouts as possible may go. The expense is not heavy compared to the privileges and benefits, not the least of which will be the contacts with other Scouts from every state in the union.

Emanuel College Teacher to Speak

Prof. F. B. Jensen, teacher of theology at Emanuel Missionary College, Berrien Springs, will speak on "The Foreshadowing of Armageddon" at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 19, at the local Seventh Day Adventist church at the corner of Moccasin and Third streets.

Boys Enter Car in South Bend

Three H. S. Boys Captured Rifling Raymond Mitchell's Car

Buchanan people may draw a moral from the experience of Raymond Mitchell Saturday evening, the moral being: don't park your cars on the streets of South Bend at night.

Returning to his car after a show about 9 p. m. Saturday, Mitchell found a 16-year-old boy in his car, the youthful intruder having sprung the lock and forced entrance, apparently with the idea of pilfering anything loose inside. Two other lads about the same age, had dodged down an alley before, but about the time Mitchell arrived, patrolmen who had stopped them escorted them back to the scene. Some one had seen them breaking in and had telephoned the police headquarters, which in turn had sent a short wave message out which was caught by patrolmen near the car, and they displayed what teamwork plus modern crime-fighting devices can accomplish.

The boys were taken to the police station. They proved to be South Bend high school boys. It was believed that they were connected with extensive car-robbing operations in South Bend. A number of cars have been broken into and purchases taken. In other cases the cars have been taken and stripped. "After this when I'm in South Bend at night I go to a parking lot," stated Mr. Mitchell.

Bucks to Meet Class D Champs

Maroon Line-Up May Lack Letter in Go With Stevensville Friday

(By Chuck Wesner)
 Buchanan's veteran starting line-up will probably be broken up for the contest Friday evening at Buchanan with Stevensville's state class "D" champions, since Dale Letter is suffering from tonsillitis.

Stevensville has won the class "D" crown for the past two years and are in line to cop that coveted honor again this year. The Steves have a veteran team of boys who are all ball hawks. They display some of the best fighting spirit shown in this section of the state. They have knocked off all other class "D" fives in the neighborhood and even teams in class "C".

Buchanan should have no trouble in taking the Steves by virtue of their record so far this season which is two victories and one defeat. The Bucks are being practiced strenuously each night by Coach Johnny Miller. Coach Miller states that when a player becomes over-confident or cocky

List WPA Workers For Employment

Catalogue Job Experience of 195 Local Men

Joseph A. Tuell and Ernest Steinke, representatives of the State Re-employment service, Benton Harbor office, began work last week on a three-weeks job of re-registering the local WPA workers for the purpose of increasing their opportunity for reemployment in private industry.

The work is in line with the late national policy of co-operating to the fullest extent with private industry in cutting down to the fullest extent possible the relief and WPA lists. The work histories of the local men to the number of 196 are being taken fully. Many have had several years of experience in different lines of work. In such cases a separate card is made out for each line of work.

There has been a special call for carpenters and building construction workers of all kinds, and any man who can give assurance that he is sufficiently competent in those lines can find employment at once. Messrs. Tuell and Steinke state that the Benton Harbor office receives frequent orders from other sections for types of tradesmen which they lack locally. For instance an order has just been received from Muskegon for eight lead calkers, not available there. It is customary to get the men if possible in the district where the call originates, but if they are not available then clearing orders may be sent to other districts, not only in the state but anywhere in the country. A feature of the service not generally appreciated is the fact that the re-employment service is open to anyone. Tuell and Steinke are registering only the relief roll men here, but anyone may register himself at the Benton Harbor office. A clerk or factory worker in Buchanan, for instance, who may feel that he is more competent and therefore equipped for a better job in some other line may register his name, experience and qualifications at Benton Harbor and avail himself of a nation-wide job-finding service.

In the Detroit and adjacent district many factories use the re-employment offices exclusively for securing needed help, finding that it is much more satisfactory to avail themselves of the extensive job history researches of the state rather than to select men at random in the open field, where the ratio of unfitted to fitted applicants may be 10 to 1.

Messrs Tuell and Steinke question the men closely, spending about an hour listing each case. When they are through they believe they have information that classes the competency of the worker fairly definitely, and that they are able as a rule to sort those who are listing their experience accurately or otherwise. Major Howard Starret, State Director of the National Reemployment Service, reports a big increase in the number of persons employed in private industry in Michigan.

During the month of Oct. Major Starret reports, the Michigan division of the National Reemployment Service placed 11,765 persons in private employment. They also placed 1907 on Federal relief projects. Major Starret reports that Michigan led all states in the number of persons referred to, and employed by, private employers during Oct. The report also shows that the National Reemployment Service in Michigan placed 9,742 persons in private employment during the month of Nov.

In view of the large increase in number of available jobs in private industry, the National Reemployment Service is re-registering all relief persons employed on W. P. A. projects, with a view of placing them in private employment as quickly as possible.

The National Reemployment Service is not a relief agency, but rather an employment bureau where anyone who is unemployed may register, and where any employer may call to secure qualified employees. This service is free to both the employer and to the employees.

The National Reemployment Service serving this district is located at 173 Michigan St., in Benton Harbor, under the management of Mr. George W. Cross, and this office serves both Berrien and Cass Counties.

A distinct shortage of domestic help as well as certain types of skilled labor prevails throughout the state, and persons who are desirous of domestic work or who are skilled mechanics, are urged to register for employment at the nearest office.

Founding of Oxford
Traditionally, the founding of Oxford university was by Alfred the Great, about 871, but the authentic origin was the result of a quarrel between Henry II, and Thomas a Becket, about 1164, when the king forbade English clerks to study at Paris, and they returning, boomed the school at Oxford. The earliest document giving the school of Oxford the title of university was in 1201.

Bucks Win Double Header From Chiefs

Staving off a desperate rally in the final three minutes of play Buchanan's cage five turned in a well earned 21 to 20 win over Dowagiac's powerful Chiefs in the Dowagiac high school gym last Friday evening.

The Bucks trailed at half time 3 to 8 after they had cut a three point lead to one. In the third stanza the Maroons tied up evening long 16 all by gaining one more precious point.

The first period was all Buchanan. In it and Squires fouled Jesse and Leiter respectively. Jesse converted both his chances and Leiter slipped one through the cords. Buchanan held a five point lead with three minutes remaining. Geister, huge Chief center, drove hard into the basket and made a perfect lay-up shot, the crowd sensed the great strain on the players and everyone, young and old, began yelling. Munson repeated Geister's feat and the score became 21 to 20 in the Bucks' favor. A minute remained but Buchanan played smart defensive ball until the final gun sounded assuring them of victory.

Buchanan's reserve squad set the stage for their varsity brothers by winning handily from Dowagiac's scrubs 22 to 11. The two teams played on even terms

EDITORIAL

By Marion Miller
 Is proper emphasis placed on good English in high school? At the time you graduate from school you have had at least eleven years of English. While some of this has been a detailed study of literature the greater part of daily study has been concerned with grammatical English.

And yet, too great a percentage of students graduating from high school do not speak even fair English. Certainly, if in their family environment they have been accustomed to hearing good English spoken, they will have acquired the habit of correct grammar. But it is those unfortunate students who are not able to learn at home the rudiments of English that the school system should help. It is a difficult thing to hear constantly in your home incorrect usage of English and then for one hour a day try to overcome that through work in an English classroom.

One hour or one definite class is not enough to overcome these common errors heard at home all the time. Every classroom should be basically an English classroom. Any mistake in grammar should be corrected immediately by the instructor. It may mean wounded pride now, but it's a lot easier to have a teacher correct you for saying, "Aaron Burr wasn't no good," that it will be to feel the horrible silence of your business associates when you are trying to impress them with the greeting, "Hello, I'm so glad you come to see me."

VELMARIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Velmarian Literary Society held a meeting Dec. 11. A short business meeting was held and then the meeting was turned over to the committee in charge. The meeting was in the form of a mock trial.

The personal of the trial was: Plaintiff—Bob Sguter.
 Plaintiff's Attorney—Victor Viganaky.
 Defendant—Max Beadle.
 Defendant's Attorney—Melvin Campbell.

Baliff—Charles Wesner.
 Judge—James Hausman.
 Jury—Marion Miller, foreman; Bob Stevens, Eugene Kelley, Dean Critfield, Jeanette Levin, Virginia Wright.

The jury returned a verdict that the case be thrown out of court for lack of evidence.

THE BIG QUESTION

Will the checkroom make as much money at the Stevensville game as it did at the Niles game? Why does Ivan Price like the Athletic Park so well?

Who has figured out a new way to drive and sit under the heater at the same time?

Will Imogene Russell do her "dance" at the Christmas party?

How many alumni will be at the party Saturday night?

Is it true that all teachers have a weakness for turkey?

Where did Johnny Fuiks acquire his mania for arguing?

How many students will get together during Christmas vacation?

Will the teachers give big assignments over vacation?

Who likes "eggs" extremely well?

Who gave reporters information that John Dale takes dancing lessons?

Does Don Jerue like riding in baby carriages?

How did that Future Husband's Club make such good cookies for their sale?

Aren't some of the juniors excellent poets?

BOY WINS LOCAL PRIZE

Oliver Coultas, a seventh grade pupil, entered the safety contest sponsored by the local insurance company. He submitted the slogan: "Drive your car safely; don't let your car drive you." Oliver's slogan received first prize, a dollar bill.

TO WED "TEDDY'S" KIN

Miss Mary Lowe Gaddis of Milton, Mass., whose engagement to Kermit Roosevelt, Jr., grandson of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, was announced by her mother, Mrs. Avery Gaddis. Miss Gaddis, who made her debut last winter, is a sophomore at Radcliffe. Mr. Roosevelt will be graduated from Harvard in June.

SCHOOL SLANTS

The popularity contest is now running at top speed. The latest tabulations indicate that the contest will be very close. The winner will be announced at the high school dance, Saturday evening. Be sure to be there and help applaud the lucky and deserving person who has won the coveted honor.

The basketball team seems to be working together much better than they did last year. The boys have the foundation for a great team, and if they'll only stick together, forget their petty quarrels, and strive to work for the good of the whole team, they should win the majority of their regular schedule, and perhaps a regional or state title.

Get Keith Dalrymple to show you the inside of his locker sometime. The picture of a certain blonde attracts many boys during basketball practice.

Bill Kuntz and Bob Neal both like a senior girl, but cannot succeed in getting a definite date with her.

My, the appeal these freshman girls have! Clyde Shaeffer is the latest recruit to their ranks. Another, slightly older, but slightly mentioned, is one Don Jerue.

The French Club program has been definitely worked out, I hear. It was very difficult for the committee to decide between a solo by Bob Stevens or a poem read in French by Daye Boyce, but the decision was finally reached that a game would sufficiently fill in the time—and need I say, be a little easier on the guests?

The annual Christmas dance is going to be a big success from all indications. The sponsors have worked very hard on its preparation, and it should be a lot of fun for everyone. It is hoped that many alumni will be present, so come on up to hear all the former students talking over—"When I was here—"

SENIORS WIN PUZZLE CONTEST

Among the many contestants entered in our weekly puzzle contest, two tied for first prize, James Hausman and LeRoy Williams.

Contributor's Column

COME TO THE PARTY

All indications point toward successful Christmas party Saturday night. A good orchestra will provide music, and there will be ample entertainment for those not wishing to dance. Tasty refreshments are to be sold.

Heretofore, refreshments have been served free of charge. Possibly you think that the idea of selling refreshments instead of serving them free is not according to custom. It is not, but the sponsors feel that by charging a very low price they can provide more elaborate refreshments than are otherwise possible.

The sponsors of the party, needless to say, would very much appreciate your presence. They are taking a step forward toward having better school parties and need your support.

TEACHER'S GIFTS

When asked what they wanted for Christmas the following teachers replied:

Miss Bulla—"A new sport coupe."

Mr. Washburn—"A trip to Florida."

Mrs. Dunbar—"A trip to Cuba."

Miss Quade—"A new automobile, any kind, as long as it's new."

Miss McNeil—"A trip to California."

Mr. Rizer—"Fewer faculty plays."

Mrs. Whitman—"A $100,000 will do."

Mr. Moore—"Ten times more than the amount that Mrs. Whitman wants."

Mr. John Miller—"A winning basketball team."

Mr. Elbers—"An airplane."

Mrs. Weaver—"A console mirror."

Mr. Ray Miller—"A raise in salary."

Miss Henry—"A Scotty dog."

Mr. Hyink—"A nice Christmas dinner with all the trimmings."

Mr. Carter—"A new car and a trip to Alaska, next summer."

Mr. Robinson—"A trip to the Riviera."

Miss Krebs—"A pair of satin pajamas, a satin lounging robe, and a wrist watch."

Miss Miller—"A baby elephant."

WHAT IS YOUR IDEA OF CHRISTMAS

Marie Briney—"Christmas is the one time of the year that I look for the things I've wanted."

Geraldine Ketchum—"I don't believe in Santa Claus because he doesn't believe in me, but I do like Christmas anyway."

Shirley Trapp—"I like an old fashioned Christmas, misletoe and everything that goes with it, and lots of food and presents."

Clyde Shaeffer—"I like Christmas, but I like New Years better because it brings back to our memory bells, battles, and other Happy New Year."

Ivan Price—"It's just another vacation to me."

Betty Lou Batchelor—"To stay up and wait for Santa to bring me some presents."

Jerry White—"It's a good time to hum around and take it easy."

Evelyn Cantfield—"To sit around and be lazy."

Orville Aronson—"I get to see Santa Claus."

Richard Walkden—"It's one time in the year that I have to be good."

SENIOR

Jeanette Levin. She was born in Chicago, Feb. 17, 1919. Before moving to Buchanan two years ago she attended school at Tuley High School in Chicago. She was a member of the French and Scribner's Club there. She is a charter member of the Theta Sigma Tau sorority of that school. Jeanette likes Buchanan High school very much, and is interested in music and art. She loves to read, and her favorite books are poetry and modern writings. She belongs to the Velmarian Literary Society, and is singing in the Glee Club this year. Jeanette had one of the real roles last year in the junior play, "Green Stockings." She says, "I love bacon and eggs whipped cream cakes, and basketball games."

JUNIOR

Robert Wesner. Bob has light brown hair and eyes. He was born in Buchanan, September 28, and is 15 years old. He's always lived in this vicinity and has always attended school in Buchanan. Bob has been playing as a regular on the second team basketball squad for two years. He was Assistant Student Manager in football this year. Last spring he went out for baseball and made the team. He dislikes girls, but certainly enjoys hot fudge sundaes. Bob's very stubborn at times, and has a mind of his own. He is a former member of the Latin Club.

SOPHOMORE

Juanita Patterson. Someone has nicknamed her "Pat" and she's known by that name to all her friends. She has blonde hair, blue eyes. "Pat's" birthday is March 11. She lives just south of town with her aunt. One of her favorite subjects is algebra, and she's very good in it, for she's a studious individual. She likes to roller skate at the South Bend skating rink, and see all the latest shows. She's been going with the senior who is Student Manager of the football and basketball teams.

FRESHMAN

William Ednie. He much prefers being called Bill, in fact, he dislikes the name of William. Bill has been playing cornet in the band for several years, and is one of Mr. Robinson's best students. Bill has brown hair and eyes. He's a rather quiet boy, and he likes to drive his father's car. He's extremely happy when he can see a good "Wild-West" show, and he always stops for a soda afterward, unless he's really hungry and then his choice is hamburgers. One of Bill's favorite hobbies is hunting.

GIRLS HAVE RECREATION PROGRAM

The girls are to have the gym twice a week for the purpose of playing games. Last week about thirty girls participated in the playing of Field Ball. G. A. A. points are being given for these practices. This is an excellent chance for girls who are not taking gym to participate in an active sport.

County Judging Contest Closes

Here are the results of the 1936 Berrien County Judging contest. There were many cases where students failed to place their number on the score card and consequently the papers were thrown out.

Many low marks are due to the fact that students completed only part of a contest.

All correctly filled out papers were graded and were in competition with each other for the placings.

To place the schools in each contest the three highest members were called a team and their combined scores placed the schools as follows:

We are making a large poster illustrating life on Baffin Island. Each child has a part to do, thus correlating geography and art.

Lucy looked at Cork and laughingly said, "We probably wouldn't be lonesome if we had you two for companions."

Tex exclaimed, "That gives me an idea. We have a holiday tomorrow. Why couldn't we four go for a ride over the country and take our lunch."

"That would be perfect," the girls answered together.

By this time they had reached the house where their Aunt Florence was waiting for them. "Hello, girls, I'm so glad you came, and I'm sure you can find entertainment. Lew said this morning it would be nice to have some company."

Gloria smiled slightly and said, "You and Uncle Lew are very kind."

Lucy ran up the steps, planted a kiss on her Aunt's cheek, and sighed, "I think you're swell."

Gloria said, "You'll have to forgive Lucy for her emotions. She simply won't control them."

As Tex and Cork walked away, Cork said under his breath, "Do I like girls with emotions!"

Tex looked at him and said, "And do I like Hudsons?"

The girls walked into the house with their aunt. Mrs. Larson spoke, "Your rooms are upstairs on the corral side. You can watch the boys from your windows."

Lucy said, "But gee—I'd rather help 'em. I'm going to be a cow-boy myself, just like Cork."

Mrs. Larson laughed, "Cork is one of our best hands. He is the kick of the ranch. I'm sure you won't be lonesome with him here."

Gloria had been looking around her. They were in a neat kitchen. At one end was a long table. She turned to her aunt and asked, "Why does a nice fellow like that one they call Tex stay out here when he could be in the East?"

"I used to wonder too, but Tex is our foreman. He likes this life and now he is working hard so that he may buy the next door ranch next spring. He is a very ambitious young man. I hope he succeeds," replied Mrs. Larson.

Gloria stammered, "Oh—is he going to be married?"

Mrs. Larson, putting wood in the stove, said "No, he doesn't even have a girl friend. He says he hasn't time. But I think he just hasn't found the right one."

Lucy, rolling her eyes, looked at her sister, "Maybe he will find the right one."

Electric REFRIGERATION PRESERVES FOOD SAFELY

THE old idea of no need for controlled refrigeration in winter has been generally abandoned. Enlightened modern home makers know that all the year round refrigeration shows substantial savings. Even in winter, we have many ups and downs in temperature which are conducive to germ development in food.

Milk, meats and perishable fruits and vegetables are all preserved safely the year around with Electric Refrigeration. Leftovers can be converted into palatable meals instead of being thrown into the garbage can. The government has estimated that $4.50 a month is saved in this way by the average sized family.

Install your Electrical Refrigerator today and begin saving now on food.

FORD

advances into 1937 with the LOWEST PRICE IN YEARS and new operating economy

THE ADDITION of a new 60-horsepower engine to the Ford line for 1937 brings you a new, low price and gives you a choice of two V-type 8-cylinder engines. 85 horsepower for maximum performance. 60 horsepower for maximum economy.

The 60-horsepower V-8 engine was originally developed for use in England and France, where fuel costs are high. It has been proven there for two years with brilliant success. Now, brought to America, it creates an entirely new standard of modern motoring economy!

The "60" engine, available in five body types, is built in exactly the same body size and wheelbase — to the same advanced design — with the same comfort and convenience as the "85." And it delivers V-8 smoothness at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

Two engine sizes—but only one car and one purpose—to give you more miles and more satisfaction for your money in 1937.

AGRICULTURAL AMERICA TO HONOR CENTENNIAL OF JOHN DEERE'S SELF-SCOURING STEEL PLOW

June Ohrstrom examines what is left of one of the first three plows made by John Deere who in 1837 gave to the world the self-scouring steel plow. The 100th Anniversary of this historic event will be celebrated in 1937. The inset photograph is of John Deere.

MOLINE, ILL.—National honors will be accorded by agricultural America throughout 1937 to John Deere in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of his steel plow which ushered in a new era of progress for the prairie states and agriculture in general.

It was in a little blacksmith shop in Grand Detour, Illinois, in 1837 that Deere fashioned and gave to the world the self-scouring steel plow. This achievement, hailed as one of the most important contributions to modern agriculture, will be honored in thousands of small and large communities with "John Deere Centennial Celebration" days, with community leaders and farmers participating.

Deere was born in Vermont in 1804 and came to Grand Detour in 1837, where he established a blacksmith shop. He heard the farmers complain that the sticky soil, while rich in fertility, gummed their primitive plows and made plowing virtually impossible.

Deere applied himself to the problem, and one day, while in a sawmill, he noticed a broken steel saw blade. As he contemplated its smooth, gleaming surface, an idea took shape in his mind.

Obtaining the blade, the 33-year old blacksmith labored carefully and long and finally produced the history-making plow. In the presence almost of the entire community and settlers from far and near Deere hitched a horse to his gleaming plow and began a triumphal march up and down the test field.

This was the only plow produced that year; eight were hammered out the next year, and business grew until in 1842, when the demand became too great for his slender resources and he took into partnership Major Leonard Andrus. In 1847 Deere decided he wanted better transportation and sources of supply, so he relinquished his partnership, moved to Moline and established the John Deere plow works.

Today the John Deere organization still maintains headquarters at Moline but from the original small plant has grown an internationally famous farm implement house whose products, covering the entire gamut of farm machinery, are in use all over America and in every part of the world.

Request Made For Books For State Hosp. Dr. R. A. Morter Asks for Books to Augment Hospital Library.

A request for donations of books to the state hospital at Kalamazoo has been received by Probate Judge Malcolm Hatfield from Dr. R. A. Morter, medical superintendent of the institution. Persons who wish to donate books may send them directly to the hospital, or may leave them at the probate court in St. Joseph for delivery, Judge Hatfield said.

"We have observed that the reading of good literature is very effective in treatment of mental disorders," Dr. Morter said. "The type of literature should be selected to fit the individual needs of each patient, therefore we need a large assortment."

The library now has 3,000 books which serves 2,600 patients, according to Dr. Morter. He suggested that old books which have lies are acceptable. Requests also have been sent to relatives and friends of patients discarded from home libraries at the hospital that they be remembered at Christmas time. Clothing is the most useful of gifts, and eatables, books, magazines, Christmas cards and letters from home are welcome. Jewelry and other small articles that are easily mislaid or lost are not desirable.

Such gifts should be addressed to the patient, in care of the Kalamazoo state hospital, and marked "For Christmas."

Mich. Has Large Sale Oil Lands

The Krench case at West Branch, which led to a state supreme court decision upholding the right of the state to reserve the mineral rights on state lands sold, was responsible this month for the largest public sale of oil and gas lease rights ever conducted by the department of conservation.

Approximately 90,000 acres of state lease rights were offered at the sale, of which about 40,000 acres had been withheld from previous sales since early in 1935 because of the pending litigation. In October the state supreme court reversed the decision at West Branch, which had declared that the state had no right to reserve mineral rights when it sold land, and made it possible to offer at auction about 40,000 acres of lease rights, for which the requests of operators had been accumulating.

The sale, conducted in Lansing Dec. 3 and 4, was attended by a large number of oil operators with several large firms represented and resulted in the sale of 32,500 acres of land lease rights. Competition among operators was keen and as much as $5.02 per acre was offered.

Operators are becoming more interested in the oil possibilities of land farther north in the lower peninsula, where the state has a heavy ownership of land, said Fred P. Struhsaker, chief of the lands division. This is one reason why the acreage offered was so large, he says.

Buy Game Refuges From Hunt Licenses

At least $150,000 will be added to the fund set aside for the purchase, maintenance and development of game refuge lands and public hunting grounds from the sale of 1936 deer-hunting licenses, conservation authorities here believe.

The game law requires that $1.50 from the sale of each deer license be made available that the sale of 1936 deer licenses exceeded the 100,000 mark.

ized his hand for the entertainment. It will be known as the "Old Heidelberg Band." Carl Hafer, Joseph Rambeau, Gary Ueck, Michael Filus and Arthur Mischke, who played with the band at Epple's Orchard Inn at Bainbridge Center for the past two years, comprise the reorganized band. Popular pieces will be played by request only. The well known German waltzes, Schottisches and Polkas will be featured.

The German villa will have a seating capacity for 300 persons and the new management plans to serve typical German meals by waitresses and waiters attired in German costumes. Hot plate lunches will be served with beer, wines and liquors.

During the winter months the new German Villa will be opened only Saturday and Sunday nights.

Plans For 1937 Midwest First Aid Contest Made

Local Scouts to Enter National Contest Which Has Finals in Chicago.

The Midwest First Aid Contest an annual affair sponsored by the Chicago Chapter of the American Red Cross and Region 7 of the Boy Scouts of America, will start soon. Dr. H. W. Gentles has headed up the work since its inception. The contests have grown to such an extent over the past years that last year close to 6,000 boys participated.

Mr. Oscar Noll, who is executive of the local Council is chairman of the section covering southern Michigan.

Every troop has the opportunity of participating in the Community contest. The winner participates in the local Council contest. The winner of this contest participates in the sectional meet, and from there the winning team goes to the semi-finals and finals in Chicago.

Interest in First Aid has been greatly developed through these events. Thousands of Boy Scouts are prepared to render intelligent aid in accidents. Many cases are on record where Scouts have saved lives through their timely rendering of first aid to the injured.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company and the Michigan Gas and Electric company have furnished trained first aid experts to instruct the Scouts of the various troops. The excellent quality of the work done in the meets gives great credit to the instructors furnished by these companies.

Black Bass Fishing Banned After Jan. 1

Beginning Jan. 1 and thereafter until June 25, it will be illegal to take black bass from any of the waters of the state, the department of conservation announced today.

The last day of bass-fishing season in Michigan, Dec. 31, also marks the expiration of the 1936 Michigan fishing licenses. On Jan. 1 sport fishermen will be required to buy new licenses to fish in Michigan waters.

Dec. 31 is also the last day of the cisco spearing season in certain of the inland lakes and streams designated for that purpose.

Bond Issue Re-Affirmed by Mon.'s Election

Plans to Go Forward for New School on Site of Present Washington School.

Approval by a vote of 101 to 12 was given by St. Joseph taxpayers in a special election Monday on a $78,000 bond issue, which will be used to finance construction of a new elementary school building.

The bond issue was approved several months ago, but a ruling of the state securities commission on a technicality dealing with the maturity dates of the bonds, made it necessary to hold another election.

Washington school, which was constructed in 1871, is to be wrecked and replaced with a modern 14-room building which will be used for elementary grades. It will cost approximately $145,000, and will be aided by the Public Works Administration.

With completion of the present addition to the high school within the next few weeks, junior high school pupils now in the Garfield building will be moved to high school, according to Superintendent E. B. Holden. Wrecking of the Washington building is scheduled to start by January 11.

When the new building is completed, Mr. Holden said, it is planned to abandon the Garfield and Lincoln buildings, confining all public school activities to the high school, the Jefferson building completed in 1931, and the new Washington building.

To Refund Co. Road Bonds To Save Interest

Special Meeting Called for Next Thursday to Consider Refunding Bonds.

Refunding of more than a million dollars in county road bonds will be considered at a special meeting of the Berrien county board of supervisors, called for 10 a. m. Thursday, December 17, at the request of the county road commission.

The bonds will be refunded to save interest charges. At a recent meeting of the road commission, a resolution was passed, declaring that on November 1, 1932, the county issued $1,153,900 of road bonds, which are drawing interest at rates not less than 4 1/2 per cent. The bonds contained clauses permitting redemption before the maturity dates.

It is proposed to call in these bonds and replace them with an issue, to be dated February 1, 1937, which will draw not more than 3 per cent interest.

Approval of the board of supervisors and of the Michigan public debt commission must be secured before the new bonds can be issued.

Re-Registration of Workers On Relief Projects

All persons working on government relief projects are being re-registered, according to George

W. Cross, director of the Berrien-Cass county branch office of the national re-employment service. The re-registration is being made with a view towards taking workers off of relief and putting them into private employment.

The re-registration will indicate the type of work for which the worker is best fitted. Mr. Cross stressed that the services of his office, which is operated by the federal government, are free to workers and to employers.

Major Howard Starret, state director of the national re-employment service, reported that the Michigan offices placed 11,765 persons in private employment in October, besides 1,907 on projects sponsored by federal relief agencies, for a total of 13,672 placements. Michigan placements in November were the largest in the country. November placements in private industry were 9,742.

Countryside Jottings of Record Correspondent

Here we are again, folks, giving you an account of interesting calls you scribe made during the past week.

Up goes the population again. A brand new bouncing baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas in Buchanan at one o'clock Sunday morning. Our next report was that the stork landed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fritch Tuesday at 5 a. m., leaving a nine pound baby girl. Both mothers are doing fine. Mrs. Fritch is being attended by Mrs. Chas. Wolkins.

Miss Sylvia Enyeart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Enyeart, and C. Ormal Smith of Mishawaka, have chosen Dec. 31st as the day of their marriage. They will be married at the Milburn Blvd. Christian church in South Bend.

Mr. McGowan gave a free chance on a turkey to everyone who entered his store whether they made a purchase or not, and little Lawrence Green, about 8 years old, won the turkey.

Calling at the home of Mrs. Mack Widmoyer at 103 Charles Court. Mrs. Widmoyer informed us that she ran a classified advertisement in the Record a few weeks ago advertising a car radio for sale. A few hours after the Record was off the press she sold the car radio. But that's not all. The following week she advertised for a girl to assist her. She found a girl and the girl found a job immediately. And that's not all. Upon returning home one day Mrs. Widmoyer discovered she had lost her wrist watch. Did she cry and fret? Oh, no. She merely inserted a small ad in the Record and presto, pronto, her wrist watch was returned. (Those Record ads surely bring results.)

First Electric Street Car

Cumulative Voting

By cumulative voting is meant that in voting for directors a stockholder is entitled to as many votes as he has shares, multiplied by the number of directors to be elected. For example, if he had 100 shares and five directors are to be elected, he may cast 500 votes for any one director, or distribute them in any way he sees fit.

Illinois, Michigan and Indiana are the best customers of the Benton Harbor fruit market, according to a chart prepared by Market Master R. D. Krieger and his assistant, Russel D. Cutter, which shows the distribution of Benton Harbor market products in 26 states.

The chart was compiled from records given the market master by 2,042 day buyers who operated on the market this year, and from 143 season buyers.

ages of fruit from the Benton Harbor market. Michigan took 1,175,143, and Indiana bought 1,088,113. Other leading buyers were Wisconsin, 231,657 packages; Ohio, 141,618; Tennessee, 120,850; Iowa, 209,200; Kentucky, 223,022; Missouri, 257,168; and West Virginia, 193,812.

Shipments into southern states included 109,944 packages to Alabama, 112,143 to Arkansas, 6,725 to Florida, 33,658 to Georgia, 3,719 to Louisiana, 3,359 to Mississippi, and 1,392 to Virginia.

Towards the west, the Benton Harbor market sent 5,041 packages to Arizona, 55,032 to Kansas, 28,712 to Minnesota, 6,146 to Nebraska, 31,448 to Oklahoma and 14,689 to Texas.

While the figures show Michigan as the second best customer of the Benton Harbor exchange, a closer study of the chart indicates that actually Indiana probably stands next to Illinois in the purchase of fruits grown in southwestern Michigan. The reason is that the products of resale truckers are nearly all accredited to Michigan, and the resale truckers brought in thousands of packages of southern fruits which were sold here before truckers loaded up with Michigan fruits and took them back to their home cities.

The chart shows that 553 day buyers came from Indiana, compared with 525 from Illinois and 449 from Michigan. Ohio sent 121 day buyers, and Kentucky and Missouri each sent 64.

Indiana's 553 buyers came from 168 different cities. Illinois buyers represented 148 cities, and Michigan buyers came from 123 cities. Fifty-one Ohio cities were represented.

The table showing distribution of individual commodities by states gives information that is of value to farmers and buyers alike.

It shows that berries were limited this year to 10 states, with Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio as the largest buyers, and with smaller shipments going to Iowa, Kentucky, Nebraska, Missouri, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Benton Harbor's apples went to 25 of the 26 states, grapes went to 27 states, cantaloupes to 16 states, celery to 21 states, and cherries to 10 states. Onions were sent to 20 states, and peaches to 24 states. Nineteen states took tomatoes from the Benton Harbor market.

The chart also gives a table, summarizing the movement over the market for the years 1931 to 1936 inclusive. It indicates that the 1936 season was on the average the best the market has had during the six years.

During the six years the market has handled 37,335,450 packages of fruits and vegetables, equal to 47,892 railroad cars. Growers are estimated to have received $20,156,189 for this quantity of fruit.

Fees paid to the market by growers and buyers during the six years have totalled $186,679. In the six years there have been 724,390 grower loads, and 59,671 day buyer loads.

In the number of individual day buyers, and the number of cities represented, the market showed increases this year. There were 2,042 individual buyers this year, compared with 1,998 last year. A total of 644 cities was represented this year, as against 538 last year.

The market master also has estimated the average value per package for all fruits on the market. It averages 64.9 cents for the six years. The 1936 average was 81.2 cents, in 1935 it was 48.9 cents, and in 1934 it was 54.9 cents. Averages for other years were: 1933, 43.3 cents; 1932, 41.2 cents; and 1931, 58.2 cents.

The chart will be hung next season in front of the market master's office. Photostatic copies have been made by the market master for distribution to persons interested in market statistics.
