It was a battered Underwood That in a window sat;
It was a chilly editor That feebly pecked theat.
The single finger that he used Was a frozen one at that.

"What is this word," a printer said,
"Oh say? what may it be?
And could this letter be an x
Or might it be a p?"
"The word is cold," the editor said,
"It's spelled c-o-l-d."

Louder and louder blew the winds That all so fiercely roared.
The cold and bitter Boreal winds That 'neath the window poured.
Until his feet, his hands, his back Were frozen like a board.

"Oh what is this?" the printer said,
"Oh say, what could it be?
And could this letter be an m
Or might it be a c?"
But the editor answered never a word
For a frozen corpse was he?

A frozen smile was on his face As though death might be sweet.
His soul is gathered to a place For editors quite meet,
But it will be a pleasant change To suffer from the heat.

WHO'S CRAZY?

The swellest story of the year in my opinion concerns the hoax perpetrated upon south Berrien county clubs, schools, etc., by one Kenneth Snapp, alias "Mr. Southern," an escaped inmate of the Indiana insane asylum at Logansport. Arriving in Berrien Springs about four months ago, "Southern" announced to the world at large that he was a poet, lecturer and esthetic of the first water. He had letterheads printed and solicited speaking engagements by mail, writing to all of the clubs and schools in the county. Many accepted and "Mr. Southern" became the matinee idol of the county's clubwomen.

After an engagement at the Bridgman high school Principal Bailey announced "Our curriculum includes everything from soup to nuts."

When he was discovered and the keepers came to take him back to his padded cell "Southern" protested not illogically, "... but if the ladies are crazy about me why should I be shut up and they be allowed to remain at large? The thing is insane!"

A number of Buchanan people have made plans to attend the Presidents' Ball at the gymnasium of the new St. Joseph high school Saturday evening, Jan. 30. Special interest attaches to the ball from the fact that the receipts of the ball go to benefit victims of infantile paralysis or other incapacitating diseases, and 70% will be available for children of Berrien County.

Public Welcome At Good Program

Sportsman To Show Scenes of Hunting and Fishing

The Berrien County Sportsmen's Club will hold a special meeting in the American Legion hall, convening at 8 p. m. this (Thursday) evening, at which time Walter Strickley, Mishawaka sportsman, will give a talk illustrated by pictures on his hunting and fishing resort in northern Minnesota.

There will be other items on the program of interest to sportsmen, possibly including a casting demonstration by a representative of a bait company. The club has a number of items of business of local interest, including a program for seining the carp from ponds in this section. The seining rights are to be sold to commercial fishermen who have a market for the carp in the cities and the proceeds will be used for conservation purposes, possibly including the establishment of a fish hatchery to stock this section.

The club was instrumental in securing a petition signed by property owners along the St. Joseph river from the Indiana line to Lake Michigan which had much to do with the initiation of action by the state stream control commission.

The organization has a membership of over 1,000, including a large number about Buchanan. R. R. Rouse is commissioner for this district and Bob Franklin is a vice president of the organization. The membership fee is fifty cents a year.

Mishawaka Pastor

Talks to Men's Club

Dr. Turbeville of Mishawaka spoke on "The Unique Value of the Church" at the men's meeting Tuesday evening in the church parlors. A program committee consisting of Oscar Erickson, W. S. Hacking and Thomas Rice was elected to plan the next meeting which will be Feb. 16, with supper served by ladies of the church. In a game Glenn Haslett won first prize and Arthur Johnston second. The meeting began with community singing led by Arthur Johnston with Howard Lentz at the piano, after which Mr. Rice explained reasons for a men's club, stating that several men had asked that such a club be formed. There were 26 men present. Coffee and doughnuts were served at the end of the meeting.

Attends Annual

INDEPENDENT BASKETBALL

The Root News agency basketball team verged on the attainment of astronomical figures in points totalling in their game with the Portage Prairie 5 Tuesday evening the final score being 72-6 in their favor. At the morning meeting a business session will be held to elect two directors to fill the expired terms of J. G. Boyle and Charles Tichenor. After dinner an open program will be held. Rev. Rice will talk and two skits will be given by stockholders, entitled "Selling American Youth" and "The Great LeRoy."

Refugee From Flood Arrives

Oliver Brenner Tells Terrifying Tale of Flood; John Godfrey Arrives

Buchanan has received at least two refugees from the flood district, in Miss Olive Brenner, Jeffersonville, Ind., and John Godfrey, Cincinnati, O.

Miss Brenner arrived Tuesday to be with her aunt, Mrs. Glenn Smith, after a terrifying experience escaping. She was ordered from her home in Jeffersonville, across the river from Louisville, Saturday and went to stay with friends three blocks away. The next day she and her friends were removed from the home by soldiers who took them to a government warehouse where they staid that night and the next day she was placed with 1,100 on a freight train and taken from the city. In the box car where Miss Brenner rode were 108 people, who were furnished blankets and cots to sit on. There were five deaths and one birth on the train before it reached its destination and she took a bus for Indianapolis. She left her home, car and all furnishings. Her clothes were left on the second floor of her friends home. She does not know whether her home will be left when she returns.

John Godfrey arrived Tuesday evening from Cincinnati, reporting that the University had been closed since Friday, being without light, water or heat. He worked several days in the University broadcasting station sending out boat traffic calls.

Mary Batterson

She was born April 12, 1884, at Centerville, Iowa. She married William Batterson Sept. 26, 1906. They had made their home on the George Currier farm the past year and a half. She is survived by her husband; by two sons, Donald, of Aurora, Ill., and Stewart of Chicago; by two daughters, Velma of Chicago, and Wilma at home; by two brothers, Pervis Cribblebough of Udell, Iowa, and Alva Cribblebough of Udell, Iowa; by two sisters, Mrs. Aura Walker of Centerville, Iowa, and Mrs. Elsie Ketchum of Dallas Center, Iowa.

Big Campaign to Sell Most Citrus Fruits on Record is Coming in Feb.

Always in Season

"When I started in grocery work less than ten years ago fresh vegetables were sharply seasonal," said a local grocerman. "An item like head lettuce would come on and stay perhaps three weeks. Then it would be gone for several months or a year. Now the produce men over the United States interlock their seasons so that for most vegetables you have a year-round spread. Lettuce for instance. The truck farmers of Arizona and California raise two crops a year. The Arizona growers know when the California crop goes off the market. They know that they can make more if they time their crop to come on at that time. They work their fool heads off to put their product on the market just as California goes off. They get better prices and the consumer gets year-round lettuce. If it is not coming from there, the Colorado plateau and mountain valley farmers or the housewife men are chinking up the gaps."

Vegetables Cheaper

But there is a bright side to the picture and that is in the fresh vegetable market. Fresh vegetables are markedly lower than at this time last year. When you can buy Indiana hothouse or Texas chilled radishes now as cheap as you used to be able to buy them when they were in season locally, that's something. Chalk up another for Modern Grocery Service.

Friends and neighbors, this program comes to you through the facilities of Station MGS (Modern Grocery Service).

The biggest thing that we have heard in the grocery picture of the immediate future is the announcement that national retail associations have started a great campaign to sell more grapefruit during the week of Feb. 25 than was ever sold in a previous week. They are buying grape fruit by

Big Dozen of Eggs

A Buchanan man, M. L. Jenks, bought an extra large dozen of eggs. Mr. Jenks, or whoever is the official egg-opener at the Jenks household, found that nine out of the twelve eggs had double yolks.

MR. JENKS FINDS BIG EGG

This happened some time since, but it is still news.

Two other Buchananites were recently much astonished by finding eggs with triple yolks. Seems that the hens are copying the industrial leaders and declaring dividends to keep down the surplus.

Merchant Turns Cnef

"People don't seem to go as heavy for new potatoes this time of year as they might if they realized what they could do with them," said a local merchant who can sling a mean frying pan in his spare, not to say idle, moments. "Now you take the old potluck standby—the potato salad. Did you ever think what a potluck supper would be without potato salad? It would be as lonesome as a whiskey toddy without any whiskey."

"Now I can take some new potatoes and boil them with the skins on, then peel them and make them the base of a potato salad that will be the life of the party. It sure gives a taste to a potato salad."

Potato Explodes

A hot potato is generally credited to be nothing to hug very tight, witness the old proverb—to drop like a hot potato. But probably few people ever knew that a potato could or would explode.

But that was the experience of one Buchanan housewife. She works in a store down town, and when she left she put some of those Idaho baking potatoes in her automatic oven and timed it for dinner. When she came home, lo and behold, one of the potatoes had blown up and was smeared all over the inside of the oven. She had neglected to pierce one of the potatoes and the pressure inside the skin had been so strong that it blew one end out of the potato. We can prove it if we have to.)

Potato Prices Rise

The guy that has his potatoes hooked where they will keep is a lucky guy right now, for they are shifting upward. If you are old enough to be one of these I-remember-wheners, you may remember the time of the big potato shortage about 17 or 18 years ago, when you had to pay extra to get a helping of potatoes at a restaurant. That was in 1919-20, according to government records, and the peak price was $4.074 cents per bushel in May, 1919. They had more than doubled in four months time. The next year, May 1920, they were 67c a bushel. They are talking about a potato price rise on account of shortage now. Watch 'em.

Vegetables Cheaper

But there is a bright side to the picture and that is in the fresh vegetable market. Fresh vegetables are markedly lower than at this time last year. Babbitts Buy Local Lumber Yd.

Niles Firm Buys From R. B. McKahan; Will Build New Sheds and Enlarge Stock

Announcement is made in an advertisement in another page of the current issue of the sale of the Buchanan Lumber & Coal company by R. B. McKahan to the W. L. Babbitt Lumber company of Niles.

The new owners purchased the business on Jan. 11, but R. B. McKahan remained in charge until last Thursday. The yard is now in charge of L. W. Babbitt, assistant manager of the company, who will remain here until arrangements can be made for the employment of a resident manager. The business is to be handled as a local concern, with Buchanan employees in charge. L. W. Babbitt stated that the old name would be retained for the local yard. It is planned to enlarge the stock very materially to include a complete supply of lumber and building material for all local uses. New sheds are to be added, the foundations of the buildings burned being used, and the shop will be enlarged. Coal will also be carried and a complete line of paints and builders' hardware will be installed.

Mr. Babbitt stated that his firm expected considerable amount of building to be done in Buchanan during the coming year and were coming to Buchanan, they believed, in a period of expansion for the lumber business. The two brothers represented a third generation in the lumber business. The yard in Niles was founded by their father, W. L. Babbitt, who died ten years ago.

The work of gathering funds was begun Monday by E. N. Schram who collected $32 from the local business men and sent it out that evening.

On the following day Mrs. Strayer was notified to continue with a communitywide drive. Members of the Thirty club as a result are donating two hours each day until Saturday at the post office receiving funds. Boxes for the collection of funds were left at the Galien-Buchanan State Bank and the Wilson Dairy.

Mrs. Strayer was notified that the Red Cross workers in the flooded areas did not want clothing or food sent until they were better organized, but that clothing might be collected and held subject to later call. Anyone who has clothing they can spare is requested to leave it at the city hall.

Warren Straub Expires Friday After Illness of Week

In the long ago it was said that death loves a shining mark, we of today must bow to the verity of that old saying, for there was no fairer, brighter life in our community than he in whose memory this is recorded. Surely death placed his seal upon a much loved and much needed life, and his sun went down while it was yet day.

Warren Straub was born on April 12, 1919 in the same house where he passed away Friday afternoon after two weeks illness with influenza. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doane Straub. He was a senior of the Galien high school, a favorite in his class. A member of the Olive Branch church since he was nine years old also of the South Berrien County 4H calf club. Realizing the end was near Warren said, "God will take care of me."

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, with services at the Olive Branch church conducted by the Rev. J. W. McKnight, and because of the rich qualities of merit embodied in his subject the pastor's remarks, though brief, caused heads to drop with sorrow and tears to flow. Rev. O. R. Moon pastor of the church assisted.

Warren leaves his devoted parents, one sister, Mrs. Leona Om-land, a brother, Anthony Dean, and a niece, Cathryn Jean Om-land, besides a host of relatives and friends.

Attendance at the funeral was exceptionally large. Six of his school chums were casket bearers. Many were the floral tributes bearing silent evidence to the high regard in which the deceased was held. Burial in the Galien cemetery.

Announcement
EFFECTIVE JANUARY 11, 1937 THE
W. L. BABBITT LUMBER CO.

OF NILES, MICH.

Became the sole owners and operators of the Buchanan Lumber & Coal Co.

The same high standard of business ethics which for 22 years have guided the W. L. Babbitt Lumber Company to its present leadership in its trade area will dominate the activities of the Buchanan company under its new ownership.

A large and ever increasing business streaming into the Niles yard from Buchanan in the last few years prompted the acquisition of the Buchanan company as a means of quicker and more convenient service in this territory and to give the customer the advantage of lower prices for the quality merchandise because of a lower overhead.

For anything in the building line—lumber, roofing, insulation, builders supplies, builders hardware, paint and coal, the BUCHANAN LUMBER & COAL COMPANY will be a "one-stop" source of supply.

PLEASANT, COURTEOUS AND HONEST ATTENTION to your needs—from the repairing of porch steps to the building of a barn, home, store building or factory—will be the service we offer you.

All employees will be Buchanan residents. All purchases will be made from Buchanan merchants. All business transactions will be handled thru Buchanan sources.

Let us explain how we can assist you in financing your home, garage or any improvements or remodeling you contemplate

Answers to Banking

Questions

What happens to my money when I deposit it in the bank?
Under normal conditions your money goes into active business use. When you deposit bills or coins your account is credited on our books. A reasonable amount of cash for "till money" is kept on hand to meet the daily requirements of our customers. In the case of checks, when collected, they are credited to your account and deducted from some other account in this bank, or some other bank, thus completing a business transaction.

Reserves, as required by law, and additional funds as desired are kept in other banks payable to us on demand. A part of our deposits is invested in government bonds and sound, readily-marketable securities. A part is loaned to individual customers and well-managed business enterprises, which helps the general business life of this community.

Shirley Dances,

Sings, Dimples

Singing, dancing, dimples flashing even when tears are clinging to her lashes, Shirley Temple is at the Hollywood Theatre, for three days, starting Sunday in her new Twentieth Century-Fox triumph, "Dimples," the grandest story Shirley has ever had and the outstanding hit in her parade of successes.
As a little minstrel, harmoniz-ing with street singers, playing every role in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" single-handed, starting in a minstrel show and mothering and caring for her irrepressible and incorrigible guardian, Frank Morgan, Shirley shares with you her love and laughter, tears and thrills, trials and triumphs.

In addition to Frank Morgan, Shirley's supporting cast includes Helen Westley, Robert Kent, Astird Allwyn, Delma Byron, the Hall Johnson Choir and the inimitable Stepin Fetchit.

Three major football games and an inter-collegiate rivalry for the affections of sprightly Eleanor Whitney provide the background for Paramount's thrill-packed gridiron drama, "Rose Bowl," which opens here Friday. The film has William Frawley, Tom Brown, Larry Crabbe, Benny Baker, Terry Ray and Priscilla Lawson in top roles.

The picture makes a moving exposition of the emotions of one who sees his hour of death approach with small likelihood of reprieve. This is the second feature on the Friday and Saturday bill.

Hollywood's beloved king of humor, Will Rogers, and its queen of romance, Janet Gaynor, are costarred in the Fox picture, "State Fair," playing a return engagement at the Hollywood Theatre Wednesday and Thursday in response to public requests.

Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers, Norman Foster, Louise Dresser, Frank Craven and Victor Jory are also featured in the production, which was directed by Henry King, from Phil Stong's famous novel. This picture is being sponsored by the St. Anthony's church.

In recent years. Not only is it used as a breakfast fruit but in various recipes, and in citrus cocktails, fruit cups, baked grape fruit in the half shell.

There are other recipes. The Record will be pleased if any Buchanan housewife who uses grape fruits or citrus fruits in a special recipe will permit us to print the formula.

How America's Diet Has Changed
Government figures reveal how considerably the American dietary has changed in the last twenty-five years. Consumption of meats has held about constant, but more milk, eggs, vegetables and citrus fruits are being eaten, and slightly fewer potatoes, apples and bread grains. The production of vegetables since the World War has more than doubled.

Most marked has been the large increase in the consumption of grapefruit and oranges. Market economists say that these products will soon outrank apples as our leading fruit.

A marked increase in the consumption of canned fruits and fruit juices is noted. The pack of grapefruit hearts and juice this season is estimated at more than 8,000,000 cases (four times the quantity of a few years ago); tomato juice, 8,000,000 cases; the pineapple pack, 10,000,000 cases.

EDITORIAL

Do students realize and appreciate the benefits which they derive from the musical organizations of Buchanan High School? If they are aware of these benefits, they most certainly have a peculiar manner of expressing themselves, for they are either too blasé to even comment upon the music or are in an over-critical mood and tend to tear down the entire program. This department is certainly no exception to the rule that one never appreciates what he has. Just stop and think of the resulting conditions if there were no music department in this school; there would be no band to parade at football games; no orchestra to enjoy during intermissions of school plays; no glee club to sing for assemblies and on various occasions for other entertainments; no jazz orchestra to play for social hours; no band to lead pep meetings and to enthuse spectators at basketball games. Certainly the band is as deserving of support as the athletic teams, but while students will wildly applaud the basketball or football teams in assembly, did you ever hear them loudly cheer the band for its untiring efforts?

Buchanan students should be very proud of their music department. For the past number of years the band, orchestra, and glee club have been outstanding in comparison with other organizations in the county. All of the credit for this is due Mr. Robinson, the talented director, who is an excellent player as well as a fine instructor.

No organization can exist without the cooperation and encouragement of the entire school and certainly the music department is as highly deserving of praise and help as any other department in the Buchanan schools. Just remember, the next time you hear the band or orchestra play, that a little applause at the finish will help the musicians and also create a better spirit between members of the student body and the music department.

GRADE NEWS

Miss Bohl's third grade has completed the study of seven of the twelve months of the Indian calendar. Everyone drew the picture of each month on manilla paper, and the person who had the best picture was chosen to draw a large picture with colored chalk. The following people have finished the large pictures: Delbert Lauer, Jo Ann Dalrymple, Bud Swartz, Georgia Topash, Billy York, Maynard Martin, and Albert Bonner.

Miss Spear's fifth grade has started the project of "Life in the American Colonies."

In the study of the American Colonies, the pupils are given an opportunity to relive some of the experiences of the early colonists and develop in them a favorable attitude toward colonial materials and a deep appreciation of the sacrifices, hardships, courage, and heroism of our forefathers.

The pupils will learn to know these colonial people as real men, women, and children and not merely as characters in our story and history books.

This project will be very beneficial to the students by developing many abilities; ability to investigate, to collect and organize materials and subject matter, and to do independent work.

This week we are working on the activity "Why the Early Colonists Came to America."

Miss Abell's sixth grade is planning to finish the Egyptian project, working on the scroll, scenes, and play. It will continue the World letters project and try to catch up with the work as several letters overdue have arrived recently.

VEL. LIT. FLASHES

The Velmarian Literary Society one act play rehearsals are affording quite a bit of amusement. The other day when Edward Smith had to kiss Marion Miller, as the script called for, he became so excited that he forgot his lines. In Melvin Campbell's play, Campbell composed a poem and now everyone in the society knows it but Melvin.

SCHOOL SLANTS

How many of last year's students and alumni will come to the Velmarian Lit plays to be given tomorrow? This is one production during the year that never fails to attract former students. Perhaps it's because the plays are given during school hours and it gives them a chance to peek around and see how well the school is getting along without them.

Why does one well-known girl at school dislike the subject of banks? Can it be competition is rearing its ugly head?

At last exams are over and the new semester started. It doesn't seem possible that school is half over.

Is Phyllis DeNardo interested in a football captain or a hundred-yard touchdown runner?

When will Buchanan students realize that it is necessary to yell for the regular cheerleaders instead of yelling among themselves?

The junior play cast has five girls in it this year. Ivan Price and Charles Bainton are the two boys lucky enough to obtain parts in the cast.

CLUBS

A meeting of the Library Club was held Monday, Jan. 19, during home room period. They discussed librarians for the next semester and decided to purchase club pins.

The French Club pins arrived last week. The next meeting of the club will be held on February 4.

The Journalism and Library Clubs held a candy sale Friday, Jan. 15.

The Velmarian Literary plays will be presented tomorrow morning in the high school auditorium at 10 o'clock. The admission is five cents.

The Art Club has started making wooden and metal scottie dogs and monogrammed pins. These will be sold for fifteen cents each. Orders are being taken for the monogrammed pins.

GOSSIP CORNER

Since Bill Kuntz has thrown senior girls over for freshmen, what will the seniors do to find contentment?

Lately Max Beadle has been entertaining a junior girl. I wonder what a certain post grad would do if he heard about it.

It was said that two basketball players recently tangled over a fair damsel. One of them was sporting a beautiful eye the next day.

The junior play cast seems to have settled right down to strict practicing. Perhaps the seniors should go down and see how it's done in preparation for their rehearsals.

Who was the young gentleman who decided to scratch Mable Bennett's nose? It is rumored that football captains scratch, but is it true?

"Toad" Smith has some certain senior girl worried since she saw him escorting freshman girls down town after school.

Keith Dalrymple has thrown over the hunting sport to go in for trapping in a big way. Kenneth Jesse has been going sweaterless lately. You guess who has it.

JUNIOR PLAY

Try-outs for the junior play, "Chintz Cottage," were held Friday, Jan. 15 during home room period.

The play is progressing very rapidly. Act one was rehearsed during the week of Jan. 18, and act two is being developed this week.

The cast seems to be one that can interpret the mood of the play. The feminine lead is played by

Berrien Co. Farm Bureau Meets January 30

Members of the Berrien County Farm Bureau will hold their annual meeting on Saturday, Jan. 30, at Berrien Springs, it was announced Thursday by James A. Richards, secretary of the organization.

A business session will be called at 10:30 a. m. at the United Brethren church. A complimentary dinner will be served to members and their wives at 12 o'clock noon by women of the church. A program is being arranged for the afternoon.

"Taller Made" Gowns The elegant eighties saw the introduction of the "taller made" gown. Before that ladies had known the modistes only as professional constructors of apparel. The introduction of the taller made gown marked the passing of the "bustle," the street train, and certain other embellishments. It was the first step toward women's sport clothes. It displaced, however, some rather agreeable earlier fashions. The "Dolly Varden" type of girl, in her dainty laundered dimities and cambrics, passed into the background in favor of the "mannish woman."
