BUCHANAN IS A YOUNG MAN'S TOWN
If you have made your home in Buchanan for the past ten years, just check the personnel of the business and professional life of Buchanan at the beginning of that period with that of today.

The extent to which the pendulum has swung back toward youth may surprise you. In all of the professions, in nearly all lines of business the set-up is predominantly more youthful.

Said a young Buchananite studying medicine: "When I finish my medical course I want to find a good opening in a small town. I think you lead a more satisfactory life; you get closer to the people you work for."

Ten years ago the town seemed drained of youth. The older men conducted the businesses; the young blood had sought greener pastures. In the ensuing decade things have changed.

That goes for the industrial picture. The automobile and other factory expansion is bringing in factory mechanics, for the most part young men or middle aged men with growing families. All this means more youth.

This change in age is reflected in the composite of the attitudes of population. Older people tend to hold what they have, to conserve, but youth demands satisfaction for recreational and cultural needs.

I. O. O. F. Subordinate Lodge 75 Is Outstanding in Work in Middle West

Teams in Demand Over Wide Area for Degree Work
A few years back, during the late but unlamented depression, an observer noted repeatedly that among the agencies alleviating the situation locally for the average man, none was more efficient than Subordinate Lodge No. 75 of the Odd Fellows.

The work that the Odd Fellows was doing was not done ostentatiously, but it was nevertheless obvious. Taking into consideration the 200 members of the lodge and the 106 members of the Rebekahs, their wives, husbands and the members of their families, well over 1,000 people in the city were included in the circle of their influence.

Of particular interest to the lodge members themselves is the degree work, which is carried to an extent of perfection here not exceeded, perhaps not equaled, by any lodge in Michigan. There are few lodges in the Middle West which maintain seven degree teams all competent to stage in first-rate fashion the exemplification of the degree work of all branches of the order.

City Creates New Official

Frank Merson Re-elected to Fourth Term Mayor

The incumbent for the office of city employees were reappointed intact at the organization meeting held Monday evening by the city commission, with the exception of the division of the former combined offices of marshal and street commissioner, Frank Keen being named for the former and Ed Mitchell for the latter.

Clarence Patton was named as night marshal to succeed Keen. Since the duties of street commissioner have become increasingly heavy the new arrangement will leave Mitchell free to devote his time exclusively to that work.

Frank Merson was re-elected to his fourth term as mayor. The following list of appointments was announced: Mayor pro tem, Dr. H. M. Beistle; clerk, Harry Post; treasurer, Ada Dacy-Sanders; attorney, Frank Sanders; superintendent water works, Clyde Blake; fire chief, Tenny Bunker; health officer, Dr. Fredrickson; chief of police, Frank Keen; night marshal, Clarence Patton; street commissioner, Ed Mitchell.

All Need Knowledge Of First Aid, I. & M. Instructor Tells Lions Club

Morley and Troop 80 Team Are Guests at Dinner

People who look on first aid work as "Boy Scout stuff," overlook its essential importance to all in these days, according to Archie Morley, first aid instructor for the Indiana & Michigan Electric company in Michigan, in a talk before the Lions club Wednesday evening.

Morley and his first aid team which went to the Midwest Finals at Chicago, were the guests of the club for the dinner, but Morley spoke more on the universal significance of first aid work. He stated that he now has three classes, one at the Buchanan I. & M. offices with 24 members, one at the Buchanan hydro-electric plant with 14 members from that plant and from Berrien Springs, and one at the Benton Harbor offices with 22 members.

"If you happen to be involved in an accident where a physician is not immediately available, the presence of someone who knows first aid treatment might mean the difference between life or death to you," said Morley "and if you know it, it might mean the difference between life and death for someone else."

First aid instruction may be given after accident or sudden illness not with any idea of cure in mind, but by prompt action to prevent sudden death, or in less serious cases, which are by far the most common, to prevent serious injury, and so place the victim of the accident in the best possible condition for later and more extensive treatment.

First aid instruction may be given, Morley said, to prevent accident. It may also prevent an accident from becoming worse, such as death from an unchecked hemorrhage or arterial bleeding, or a simple fracture becoming compound.

For the people who take the course here next fall and winter the first aid textbook by the American Red Cross will be used.

Five Injured When Auto Leaves Road

Henry Freeling and four companions suffered slight injuries when the car which the former was driving overturned on M-60 west of Dayton Saturday night. The accident occurred when the wheels on one side went off the pavement and the driver attempted to right the car back on the road.

City to Buy Nat. Safety Service

The city commission voted to appropriate $15 to match $10 offered by the Lions club to purchase the service of the National Safety Council for this city. The service includes a traffic survey of the city to determine in the light of the nation-wide experience and observation of the council the proper steps to be taken by the city to promote safety. These recommendations cover location of traffic lights and all other matters relative to the subject of safety.

Brunelle Heads Kalamazoo Dist.

Rev. W. H. Brunelle was elected moderator of the Kalamazoo Presbytery at the annual spring meeting held at Sturgis Monday and Tuesday. He will preside at all meetings during the coming year, his territory comprising the churches of southwestern Michigan as far north as Allegan and as far east as Coldwater. He will preside at the installation of all new pastors.

At the end of the course the students will be asked to work out practical problems to demonstrate their knowledge. These problems may be similar to those which Boy Scouts work out in contests.

Two which were worked out by the local Scout team of Troop 80 at Chicago were:

1. During an automobile race a front tire blows out, causing the car to leave the highway and turn over in the ditch; pinning the driver under it. When rescued the driver complains, before losing consciousness, of pain in breathing over the right breast. Examination reveals injury to eye from broken glass and a large splinter of glass penetrating through muscle of left fore arm; also blood is spurting from the left side of the neck.

Treat and prepare for transportation. Time seven minutes.

2. Driving through a forest reserve a drunken cab driver starts on a wild drive with two women passengers who try to stop him. He runs into another car and caroms off into a tree. The driver is thrown out of the wrecked car. On trying to arouse him by pinching the right arm he groans and moves the right arm, but pinching the left arm has no effect. His left leg is off the straight between the knee and the ankle and he makes no complaint about the handling of it.

First woman climbs out of the cab unassisted but is pale and sits down.

Second woman, while being rescued, screams out about pain in her legs: a. Apparently above the right knee. b. The left knee is much bruised and is swelling rapidly.

Treatment time seven minutes.

Morley has been certified by the National American Red Cross to conduct junior, standard and advanced courses in first aid in Berrien county, Mich., and in St. Joseph county, Ind. To maintain this certification in good standing he must be engaged in actual instruction in addition to having passed a qualifying examination.

Petition For Lighted Field

B. A. A. Elects Officers, Plans Summer Activities

Plans to launch petitions for a lighted field at Athletic Park this summer were made at the organization meeting of the Buchanan Athletic Association at D's Cafe Tuesday night.

The association is collaborating with the Lions club in the move for the lighted field. Figures are being compiled on the cost of the field and the possibilities of income from larger audiences "under the lights."

Officers elected were: President, Harold Boyce; vice president, John Miller; secretary-treasurer, Glenn Jesse. Plans were also made for the organization of teams for a softball league. It is expected that in another week a full roster of teams and players may be ready. Several new teams may be included, including a representation of the local Dry-Zero Corporation plant, which had a title team last year representing the Chicago plant.

20,000 Added Floor Space to Keep Pace with New Business

The Dry-Zero Corporation, of Chicago, has notified the city of Buchanan that it will exercise its option to purchase the building and property now occupied by the company in Buchanan, and that it will build an addition, covering approximately 20,000 square feet of floor space, to the present factory building, according to Harvey Lindsay, president of the company.

Work on the new addition will be started in the near future, according to the company's present plans. Purchase of the property now being used and construction of the addition, are being carried out by the company to provide additional facilities to afford prompt delivery of the company's products to customers, according to Mr. Lindsay.

The Dry-Zero Corporation manufactures Dry-Zero Pliable Slab insulation for household refrigerators, Dry-Zero Blanket and Seal-pad insulations for refrigerated truck bodies, Dry-Zero Standard Refrigerator Car Blanket for railroad refrigerator cars, and Dry-Zero Hi-speed Blanket insulation for the new lightweight, streamlined railroad trains.

William Harner Called by Death

Luther William Harner, 108 Charles Court, passed away at 8:30 Wednesday evening following a Cerebral Hemorrhage suffered on Monday.

The Harner family came to Buchanan about two years ago and had bought the George Dressler farm in Bertrand township and were preparing to build a new house there for their future home. Mr. Harner was born September 29, 1878, at Hinchman, Michigan, the son of William and Mary Ann Feather Harner, pioneer residents of that vicinity. His first wife, Mrs. Edith Storrick Harner, passed away fourteen years ago, and on January 27, 1928, he was married to Cornelia S. Perring, who survives him. He is also survived by three daughters, Mrs. Linn Miller of Benton Harbor, Miss Pearl Harner at home and Mrs. Orville Miller of Buchanan. He leaves one brother, Joshua Harner of Hinchman; three sisters, Mrs. G. W. Sattler, Benton Harbor, Mrs. George Moyer, Berrien Springs and Mrs. June Chadwell of Benton Harbor; two brothers-in-law, William Camfield of Jackson, Michigan, and George Stemm, of Benton Harbor. The body was removed to the Childs Funeral Home.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. C. A. Sanders, was held at the Evangelical church in Buchanan at two o'clock Friday afternoon, followed by burial at Rose Hill cemetery, Berrien Springs, Michigan.

WATCH THE ROAD APPROPRIATIONS

According to a recent release by the State Highway department, federal funds totaling $778,706 have been made available for construction of "farm-to-market roads" as soon as the amount is matched by an appropriation by the state legislature.

The farmers along the Redbud trail donated the right-of-way and campaigned strenuously for the construction of the road, primarily as a farm-to-market road. One of the farmers along the route stated that one winter he lost about $500 because of inability to market a potato crop when the price was right. It would seem that this stretch of road might fairly classify under that description.

It is not for this commentator to say whether the legislature will or should appropriate funds to match the federal money, but in the event that the sum is matched and the total of $1,557,412 is made available for road construction we are strictly in favor of taking any and all steps to influence the diversion of enough money to surface at least the 4 1/2 miles from Buchanan to the Oronoko line.

In a recent letter to the Record State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner said that he considered the Redbud Trail a meritorious project, both as a scenic route and as a relief route to lighten traffic on US-31, and that it would receive consideration when funds became available. At present the state has no funds available for construction except in matching federal money on strictly federal roads. At present the only definite construction program listed by the state in Berrien county is the widening of US-12.

Some close watching of the state appropriations and a few reminders from those interested to the state department in case the funds become available won't hurt. They might get us a road. And we doubt whether there are many stretches of road in Michigan that would serve more purposes than the Redbud Trail if surfaced with concrete.

IT'S ALMOST TREE-PLANTING TIME

It has been said before in verse and prose and it is worth saying again, he who plants trees in the right place, at the right time and in the right way has performed an act of good citizenship and distinctly deserves the thanks of his contemporaries and of posterity.

In these times of floods in the Middle West and black blizzards in the Far West, there is a pressing need for more "tree-minded" people. There is of course considerable waste effort among the amateur tree planters. Too many people, especially the city-bred people, think that all you have to do is to go out in the woods and tear a tree out by the roots, let it lie around a day or two and then pack its roots into a hole about half large enough to permit their natural spread. It seems tragic to the tree lover to see an amateur tree planter in action, observing the waste in effort, enthusiasm and trees. He will about half dig the tree out, and then take hold of the trunk and pull and twist, evoking the aid of one or more helpers if they are at hand, to pull the tree out. Every root thus yanked from its native soil is stripped of all of the fine hair roots that are necessary to draw nutriment from the earth.

It is best from the standpoint of economy and of long-range results, to get good nursery stock. Trees from good nurseries have been prepared to stand the shock of transplanting by having the roots cut off gradually on all sides until they form a compact block that can be taken up entire, and transferred to an adequate hole with a minimum of disturbance. If the tree planter elects to avoid the small expense of nursery stock and decides to get his trees out of the forest, he should at least remember that transplanting a tree under any circumstances is distinctly a major operation as far as the tree is concerned. He should at least equip himself with sharp tools and dig the tree out entirely instead of pulling and twisting it out. After all it costs money in time and usually in gas to get forest trees.

The tree should furthermore be planted before the sap has gone into the branches and that means as early in April as possible. So if you are planning on any tree planting, you had better "get going."

Spirit of Service
A SERVICE that is vital to public welfare puts a special responsibility on those who supply it. Many workers recognize such an obligation. And they include the 8500 men and women behind your telephone in Michigan.
Time and again telephone employees have shown self-sacrifice in the public interest, have faced danger with courage and perseverance. The operator choosing to stay at her switchboard during fire or flood; the Plant man maintaining circuits in a heavy storm—their devotion to duty has become a tradition.
Emergencies bring them to your attention, but their spirit of service is in effect day and night, week in and week out. They know the public importance of their work. And they do it well—with skill, promptness and courtesy.
Without that spirit, Michigan would not have the kind of service it is getting today—as fine telephone service as there is available anywhere in the world.

Drain Projects Started Sat. in Berrien Co.

Forty-One Drain Projects Scheduled Under WPA for This District.

Work was underway Saturday on two of 41 Berrien county drain projects that have been started with the aid of the Works Progress Administration, according to County Drain Commissioner Ed Freeman.

The WPA has allotted $16,860 for the county drain work, to be supplemented by $3,204 from the county. The projects are set up to provide work for eight months to 300 men, but as not all of them are to begin immediately,

NYA Projects Underway in County

Sportsmen Club Cooperates on Fish Rearing Pond Near B. H. Airport.

Twenty National Youth Administration projects, scattered throughout Berrien county, are giving employment to 120 young men and women and are enabling them to complete their high school work. Practically every high school in the county is being benefited by the projects, according to John Partschy, NYA director for the county.

The Berrien County Sportsmen club is sponsoring a project, recently begun, under the direction of Conservation Officer Faye Warner. One of these is construction of a fish rearing pond on property owned by the city of Benton Harbor near the airport. The pond, which is fed by two springs, is to consist of two pools covering some nine acres of land and from nine to 12 feet deep. Fish from the Millburg fish hatchery, which is reported to be in danger of overcrowding, are to be used for stocking the pond.

Projects already started are the Deer Creek drain in Three Oaks township, in which 2,224 feet of tile drain is to be installed, and the Sober-Becker drain in Lake township, with 3,500 feet of tile drain.

Work will begin Monday on the Hall-Potter drain, which calls for 3,610 feet of the construction in Weesaw and Galien townships.

The largest of the 41 projects will be the street drain in Chikaming township. This will be one and three-quarters miles long, and will serve 300 parcels of property in Lakeside and Union Pier. The drain will end at Union Pier, in the Galien river.

Installed as a storm sewer, it is of such type that it can be converted readily into a sanitary sewer if the occasion should arise. Work on this drain is not to start until after July 1, Mr. Freeman said.

Former Clark Foreman Has Copy Shop Paper Published in 1920

Features Pictures Charles Simpson As Fisherman, Fred Gawthrop, Clark Players

The Record was permitted this week to inspect an interesting copy of the "Coco News," published as a shop paper by the Clark Equipment company in 1920.

The issue, furnished by Fred Gawthrop, bears the date Oct. 20, 1920, and is listed as Vol. 1, No. 8. Centered on the front page is a picture of Mr. Gawthrop with a brief biography of the then foreman of the dry grinding room of the drift department. On the back page is a cut of pen drawing by George Treat, showing Charles Simpson as a fisherman. The same page reveals the fact that there was then a co-operative store for the employees of the Clark Equipment company. Membership dues were $15.

Departmental news of the plant is carried under the headings: Wheel Whirls, Foundry Flashes, Axle Shafts, Truc Tracks, Drill Points.

There is a sporting page, (the one featured by Charles Simpson's fishing exploits). A social column is labeled "Powder Puffs." The Clark Players have a theatrical page to themselves, with a cut of the cost which had just presented George M. Cohan's "Seven Keys to Baldpate," and a write-up of the presentation. Parts were taken by M. L. Hanlin, Evelyn Sweeney, Frank Habicht, Arnold Webb, E. A. Irwin, Cecil Clark, Esos Schram, J. C. Bowen, Iva McGowan, Lou Max, A. H. Kiehn, Cress Weldon, Mrs. Sinnott, Mr. Kritznor.

Bees Are Valuable in Fruit Industry

Mention must be made of the beneficial results which arise from the visits of honey bees to the flowers of fruits. Nectar is secreted by the flowers in order to attract insect visitors, which act as agents in cross-pollination. Some varieties of fruit-trees are self-sterile (not able to pollinate themselves); in others, cross-pollination makes possible a larger set of fruit. In no case is cross-pollination harmful. It is therefore evident that the good fruit-grower depends on insect visitation. Of all the insects that visit flowers, the honeybee is the most dependable and the most efficient.

Unfortunately it sometimes happens that ignorant or incorrectly informed fruit-growers do considerable injury to colonies of bees in their neighborhood by spraying or dusting their trees with poisonous chemicals while in full bloom. The grower always loses when bees are killed. Notice a tree in full bloom. Of all the insects that you find, more than half will be honeybees. There is very little honey gathered from fruit blossoms and is never stored, but in getting it, the bees benefit the fruit-grower to an extent which can hardly be overestimated.

Bees have one habit which makes them more important than any other insect, namely, that they visit only one kind of flower at a time. For example, a bee will not be seen going from an apple blossom to a dandelion and then back to the apple. Therefore, pollen is not lost and more blossoms are fertilized.

Because of the above facts, it can be seen that at least half of the fruit which sets on fruit trees is the result of bees. Yet, many fruit-growers hesitate to rent bees for their orchards since they think a four or five dollar investment is too costly for a return of fifty or seventy-five dollars per acre. During the average spring, one colony per acre will be sufficient.

Spraying during fruit-bloom is not necessary to control codling-moth (the insect usually sprayed for around this time) and in some states spraying during fruit-bloom is punishable by law. This has not been necessary in Michigan since the best growers realize the harm which can come to their friend the bee and to themselves indirectly. An experiment carried out by the New York Experiment Station as far back as 1900 proved that spraying was harmful to the blossoms while in bloom and prevented a high set of fruit.

Strange Tradition
Belief that men and women born on the same day of the week should never marry is one of the strange traditions of the Paramaribo negroes in British Guiana, according to a report of a field study issued by the Columbia University Press. "Having been born on the same weekday - Thursday, let us say - they both have 'Thursday souls,' and this, it is believed, makes for conflict, since both derive their springs of action from the same source," says the report, prepared by anthropologists. The two may have tried to guard against this difficulty, yet the souls refuse to live together.

I. O. O. F. LODGE IS OUTSTANDING IN MICH.

Lodge visited the local lodge a few years back, noted the degree work and stated that he had seen it done before the Grand Lodges of many states, including an exemplification at Boston where President Harding was taken into the order, and while some were more elaborate, none were better done. The listeners charged part of his statement off to courtesy or the enthusiasm of the moment, but a few weeks afterward an article by the same man appeared in the official I. O. O. F. publication for Illinois to the same effect.

For such reasons the local degree teams are in constant demand over a wide area. They have recently conferred degrees at Coloma, Elkhart, South Haven and Kewanee, Ind., and in the coming month will exemplify work at Holland, Mich., and at Valparaiso, Ind. At the latter place the work will be done before a tricounty meeting.

In accordance with the instructions of the Grand Lodge, the local lodge continues its social and recreational work. At the meeting of the Grand Lodge in October a resolution was passed petitioning the state legislature to segregate the sale of beer from public dancing places. This movement was at once backed by other fraternal orders and is now being pushed.

The local Encampment is one of three in the county, the others being at Niles and at Benton Harbor. On the evening of April 30 the local Encampment will be host to the members of the other two lodges at the annual fish fry. The Encampment is an advanced lodge of the order, preliminary membership being required in the Subordinate Lodge.

The local lodge has always been a leader in promoting civic efforts of all kinds, both by work and money. In the recent campaign for flood relief the Odd Fellow branches here donated a total of $105.

Over 15,000 Children Enroll in Safety Drive

Sheriff Charles L. Miller's Juvenile Safety Campaign to Close April 20.

More than 15,000 children will be enrolled in the safety clubs now being organized in Berrien county schools, it was predicted Saturday by Sheriff Charles L. Miller, who is in charge of the largest juvenile safety program the county ever has had.

The contest opened March 1. Originally it was scheduled to end chairman of the judges' committee. Assisting her are five city superintendents or seniors, E. B. Holden, St. Joseph; S. C. Mitchell, Benton Harbor; R. R. Shelters, Watervliet; F. W. Crawford, Niles; and H. C. Stark, Buchanan.

For judging, essays are divided into two classes. The first class is for first, second, third and fourth grades, and the second class for fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. First prize of $3, second prize of $2 and third prize of $1, will be given in each class.

The club in which the children are enrolled is known as the Spunky McFarland Safety Club, which is headed by a famous child movie star. In joining, the child promises:

I will not play on busy streets.
I will not hitch on autos, cars or trucks.

I will stop, look and listen before crossing a street.

I will not take foolish chances.
I will always play safe and try to help other boys and girls to do the same.

The Nuthatch
The nuthatch is a slate-colored bird whose unusual shaped head gives him a "snopy" appearance. His travels are from the top of the trunk, head down, to the base of a tree, firing his food in the upper crevices of the bark. He also gives his attention to the heavier branches, scanning topside and underside, creeping around in most surprising fashion.

The "Steering Committee"
A "steering committee" is an informal committee in each house of congress, dominated by the leading members of the majority party in the body, which determines the order in which business shall be taken up by the house. In the house of representatives the steering committee is practically synonymous with the committee on rules, which is vested with the power of reporting a special rule placing any important measure ahead of ordinary business.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

Twenty Years Ago

Officers were called to the home of Dr. Strayer Wednesday in response to a telephone call that some person was trying to force entrance to the house. Dr. and Mrs. Strayer were away and Miss Bertha Clark was alone with Baby Strayer. When they arrived they found the miscreant and fled.

In one of the most spirited gatherings of citizens Buchanan has ever had the school board's proposition of bonding the district for $80,000 for the erection of a new school was rejected Wednesday morning. The meeting was first called for the council rooms but so large was the gathering that adjournment was made to the Princess Theatre. After an hour's discussion, 270 ballots were cast, 143 for, 107 against, and 20 blank. After noon the meeting reconvened and balloted on a motion by Sig Desenberg to raise $15,000, which was adopted 177 for to 129 against.

Last Monday night six young men from Buchanan's school left home for Grand Rapids to go into training for active service. They were Arthur Morley, Lester Chilson, George Murphy, Arthur Mann, John Paulson and John Fowler.

Answers To Banking Questions

Do Bank Examiners examine Your Bank?

Yes, bank examiners visit our bank periodically and go over our records.

These government officials are representatives of the State or Federal banking authorities. Every incorporated bank in the United States chartered to conduct a banking business is thus examined.

They are visited without advance warning and the examiners have immediate access to all of the bank's cash, securities, books and records. They report at considerable length on the bank's assets, liabilities, methods, policies, loans, investments and other factors which determine its soundness.

On the basis of the reports of these examiners banking authorities are able to make any suggestions or recommendations they feel are necessary or desirable.

Bank examiners are an added safeguard for depositors' money—in addition to competent and sound banking practices.

Ancestors Helped Build Stockade at Door Prairie in Blackhawk War

Mrs. Nora Sparks Has Clipping Telling of Historic Event

Mrs. Nora Sparks has permitted the Record to see a clipping of an article published a number of years ago in a Chesterton, (Ind.) paper, telling of the construction of the stockade at Door Prairie, near LaPorte, at the time of the Black Hawk war scare in 1832.

The list of men who helped build the stockade includes the name of Mrs. Sparks' grandfather, Jesse Morgan, and of her uncles, John Morgan, William Thomas and Samuel Thomas. Door Prairie was a point of great interest to the travelers on the old Sauk trail, later known as the Chicago-Detroit trail, in the earliest days. It derived its name from the fact that it was a small opening through which the travelers westward entered the Grand Prairie which extended over a large area in western Indiana and Illinois, toward the Mississippi river.

A few years ago the Record published the account of the Michigan expedition which marched as far as Door Prairie, where they being undisciplined military men balked and refused to go further, not through fear of Blackhawk, but refusing to leave Michigan on account of fear of an Indian uprising threatening their families at home. During the campaign the recruits marched back and forth across Portage Prairie several times between the Indiana line and Niles, where they had been mustered and where they were encamped several weeks.

Ask Central What The Time O' Day Is

If, on Saturday, April 10, or at any time thereafter, you want to ascertain the time-of-day, just lift your telephone receiver and ask "central"—she will tell you. For on April 10, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company will inaugurate 24-hour a day time-of-day service in all its exchanges, statewide.

Establishment of statewide time-of-day service is in line with the policy of the Michigan Bell Company of broadening and improving telephone service in the continuing development and introduction of improved equipment and methods of operation, the speeding of the service, and the reduction of various local and long distance rates and connection and other charges. Mr. Shannon states. Officials of the company believe that inasmuch as in most communities there has been no point from which the time-of-day could be obtained by telephone, the time announcements will prove an appreciated addition to the service the Company supplies.

Engineers of the Michigan Bell Company anticipate there will be a daily average of upwards of 130,000 calls for the time-of-day after the statewide inauguration Grand Rapids, where the service has been supplied in the past, it has been found that the busiest of the service. In Detroit and hour for time calls is between seven and eight o'clock in the morning, and that that hour Monday morning usually is the very heaviest of the week. It is assumed that seven to eight is the hour when a great many people, arising to go to work, or anxious to get to work on time, or to get the children off to school, wish to check their time-pieces, and that the number is greater on Mondays because many persons neglect to check their clocks and watches over the week-end. Fewer calls are made for time service on Saturdays than on the normal business day, and fewer still on Sundays and holidays.

Eleven o'clock until noon appears to be the second busiest hour of the day, perhaps because of many folks making lunch and other noon appointments.

Another busy period is that from around four until 5:30, when many people begin thinking about getting home or not getting home to dinner, or about getting dinner ready for the homecomers. Time service is light through the dinner hour but between seven and eight it picks up once more, with a great many people making evening engagements or arranging to keep them. There continues some volume of calls until nine or ten, but not so great as during the earlier evening ours, of course, and there is a lessening number thereafter.

As five in the morning approaches, the calls begin increasing in number, with the rising of farm folks, the milkman and others whose work takes them out in the early hours.

And so, beginning with April 10, whoever in any Michigan Bell Telephone exchange has access to a telephone, whether on farm or in city, in mansion or hotel—rich man or poor, child or adult, or whatnot—will be able to obtain the time-of-day merely by calling "Central." For the paid "clock-watchers" of the Michigan Bell Company will be ready and willing, every second of the day and every day of the year, to announce the time, upon request, supplying a dependable time service that most of Michigan's cities long have been without.

Work and Growth
Work is the only means of growth. Instead of being a curse, as some would have us believe, work is a means of measureless good. Not to work is to keep always an undeveloped hand, or heart, or brain. The things which work may achieve are not half so important as that which work does in us.

NATURE COLUMN

BIRDS

By Mrs. L. B. Spafford) Some people state that cats do not climb trees to catch birds. We have scared cats out of our trees at least half a dozen times this winter. They were evidently trying to get the birds that were feeding in the feeding troughs back of the house.

The winter birds are a great joy. Of course, in order to be surrounded by birds one must feed them and they have a great variety of tastes and requirements. One must feed them what they like and what they can eat. Even the lowly sparrow is very interesting and earns his keep by notifying the other birds that here is food.

When the sparrows gather for breakfast one may hear a blue jay in the woods a hundred yards away give out his strident call, a shrill whee-e-e which in blue jay talk means "Come on fellows, the sparrows are eating so breakfast is ready." And in a minute or two several blue jays will be seen on the feeders.

It is most amusing to see a blue jay whack away at an ear of corn like a sturdy woodchopper struggling with a tough pine knot. They strike with such force and vigor that one would think they would get a headache. But they do not give up until the kernel is dislodged.

There are few people who do not know the blue jay. His azure crest rises and falls according to his mental processes; when he is on the alert it is stiffly erect. He has a black collar roughly about a quarter of an inch wide, has a long graceful tail; the predominating color is blue with wings and tail barred with a darker shade of blue. This with his white throat and light colored breast make him one of the most attractive birds. When the winters are mild they do not migrate from lower Michigan but blue jays living farther north usually make a southern trip during the winter.

Many bad things are said about the blue jay but many bird lovers say that his wickedness is much exaggerated. Most birds are like bandits. The weak have to give way to the strong and the sparrows give the blue jays a wide berth. Even the sparrows have feuds and conflicts that are as bloody as any invented by man. Last summer one gang of sparrows cleaned out the nesting places of another gang, tore up their nests, threw the eggs on the ground and killed a number of them. The ground was littered with eggs, feathers, dead sparrows and nesting material. With typical gangster methods, the attacking gang did not start their attack until the defending gang had gone to bed.

One may by close observation identify certain individuals in blue jays, cardinals and other birds that come year after year. For instance a certain one-legged sparrow has been frequenting the feeders for three winters. He also builds his nest here summers. Last summer he built his nest where it was not wanted. The nest was destroyed but he hobbled around on his one leg and built another. This also was destroyed. I think his nest was destroyed at least half a dozen times but he would not give up. At last he was allowed to have his nest where he wanted it. Then two sparrows that had their full quota of legs set upon him and destroyed his nest again. Not only that but they took away his wife. He sat for several days and nights on the edge of what was left of his nest. At least he could be seen there the first thing in the morning and the last thing at night as well as many times during the day. He remained in that position for five or six days apparently without food or drink. He seemed to be grieving over his loss. I do not think he had any family last summer. But now he comes to the feeders every morning for his breakfast in company with a lame starling.

Most people do not like sparrows and certainly there are more desirable birds to have around. The chief charge against them is that they are not useful in eating bugs and worms. This, however, has been disproved. Some years ago an alleged government expert caught several hundred sparrows. Upon examining their stomachs he found no bugs or worms. Then a Dept. of Agriculture bulletin was issued stating that sparrows are undesirable and that they do not eat bugs or worms. Many students of ornithology believe, however, that the sparrows are just as necessary as any of our other birds and apparently prove it. But that is a long story. There are over fifty kinds of sparrows and to say that they are all alike in their eating habits would seem to be going too far. Sparrows here eat suet regularly and have been observed eating bugs and worms.

The call of the bob white is heard frequently about the feeders. He is a wary fellow but when hungry and when he thinks the family is not up yet he will sneak into the feeders for his breakfast. Last summer a family of bob whites was hatched in a dense flower garden near the house. Some of the little fellows lived there until quite large.

The downy woodpecker is a frequent visitor. He does not pay any attention to the seed foods but he likes meat and suet. But the suet must be served in a particular way to please his lordship. He eats more comfortably upside down than right side up. So the suet is placed on half-inch mesh screen wire and in feeding he hangs to the under side of the wire and pecks away to his heart's content. But if the suet is put in a dish where he has to eat from the top, he may take a peck or two then fly off to a nearby tree in search of apple tree borers or codling moths. He generally comes with the chickadees, nuthatches and brown creepers. But now that the warm March weather has brought millions of insects out of their winter sleep, these birds are not so frequent. The titmouse, who was a frequent visitor in the winter has also gone with the coming of the robins and martins. This funny little grey and brown fellow with a crest like a blue jay and some of the actions of the woodpecker and creeper is not much afraid of humans and comes closer to the house than most other birds. Flickers also come frequently during the winter. The red headed woodpecker, while a native of this part of the country is seldom seen at the feeders, although great numbers of them have been seen in the vicinity of South Bend. Among the most attractive of the winter birds are the cardinals on account of their vivid coloring they can be seen a long distance away and are often seen in the woods 100 yards from the house. They are shy, however and like to eat their breakfasts before anyone is around. It appears that the favorite feeding times for birds is about daylight in the winter and about 9:30 a. m. in summer.

With the approach of spring come the robins, morning doves, red wing black birds, martins and others. The robins are here and the home searching party of the martins called and inspected their future home on March 19. I hope they approved of it. During the summer of 1935 there was a big colony of martins in the 80-compartment martin house. But in 1936 they came around about April 1, but failed to return. They tried to drive the sparrows out but they probably decided there were too many sparrows. A bluebird came to the feeders on March 20. Many other birds are seen during the winter, notably the scarlet tanager and waxwing and frequently a flock of starlings. The tanager was out of his element in the winter, being a summer bird so I think he must have lagged behind when the flock went south. Some of the wrens are back, going in and out of the three-quarter inch doorways to their houses. The sparrows immediately try to drive them away by trying to get through the opening but their heads are too big.

These are a few of the winter birds. Of the summer birds there are varieties and species too numerous to mention here. But soon the bittern and blue heron will be seen winging their way down the valley of McCoy's creek and into the gorge of the St. Joseph river and then we will know that spring is really here.

MOVIES

ONE-MAN CLEAN-UP

A one-man battle to bring law and order to a roaring, lawless Western mining town is the theme of the latest Clarence E. Mulford Hopalong Cassidy story to come to the screen, "Hopalong Cassidy Returns." The picture, with William Boyd as Hopalong, will be shown on the Friday, Saturday double feature program with "General Spanky" with "Spanky" McFarland, P. H. Philip Holmes, Ralph Morgan and Rosina Lawrence.

What a setting for this love story—beautiful, romantic Old South; the charm of plantation life, dainties singing, picturesque stern-wheelers plying up and down the Mississippi! It was truly a producer's inspiration to select "Spanky", a personality who has given you many amusing moments on the screen, to fill his first important feature picture role. Here's to the romance, the laughter and the whole-hearted entertainment that this picture brings to you!

MAN MAY BITE DOG, BUT LOVE IS NEWS When the proverbial man bites the ditto dog, "news" is born, but when Tyrone Power, Loretta

Young and Don Ameche step out as a thrilling threesome in a streamline, springtime romance, it is love that crashes all headlines and sells extra editions—the hilarious theme of the Twentieth Century-Fox hit, "Love is News," opening Sunday for three days at the Hollywood theatre. Slim Summerville, Dudley Digges, Walter Catlett, George Sangers, Jane Darwell, Stepin Fetchit and Pauline Moore are featured in the supporting cast.

Monday night is Guest Night so in addition to the regular feature, "Mississippi" is brought back for the 9 o'clock show.

MUSICAL COMEDY A delightful comedy song, "Moonface," is sung by Jack Oakie, seen with Lily Pons, Gene Raymond, Herman Bing and Mischa Auer, in "That Girl from

News of Buchanan Schools

Collected and Edited By Members of the Journalism Class

EDITORIAL

By Keith Dalrymple

Students who have formed the habit of taking short cuts and cutting corners across private property on the way to and from school are becoming public nuisances for a certain few of Buchanan's citizens who value the appearance and condition of their lawns. Not only are we "lawn walkers" hurrying the private property, but we are at the same time lessening the beauty of the entire city.

Perhaps here is a more profitable way of looking at the same situation: the law states that a person who walks on property that has "no trespassing" signs, is subject to punishment by law. However, such drastic measures are seldom executed. Regardless of that, it is only right that we students should respect the wishes of the citizens of this town.

This problem does not have mischievous intent as its source, but rather, it is the result of not thinking; and so the only way to correct it is to always be conscious of the fact that "haste usually makes waste."

VIRGINIA ARNOLD TELLS OF MANY INTERESTING SIGHTS IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

Apparently Miss Virginia Arnold was very impressed with the city of Washington for she says, "I think that I would like to live in Washington. The city is very well planned and its cleanliness, (the effect is probably gained by white stone buildings) is a welcome change from the grimy buildings which I am used to seeing."

Miss Arnold was a member of a party of thirty-one which left Niles on March 23 and returned on March 28. Mr. Zabel, principal of Niles High School, and Miss Talburt, who has taken the trip several times, accompanied the group.

Historic Harper's Ferry was the first stop on the trip. It was here that John Brown built his fort and also near here is the famous Jefferson Rock.

Among the outstanding buildings included in the tour was Lincoln's Memorial. This is a large white building and thirteen columns face the front, representing the original thirteen states. A large life-like statue of Lincoln is inside and on the wall beside it is carved his immortal "Gettysburg address."

Another famous president's memorial was visited. The Washington Memorial is a great tall shaft standing against the blue sky. There is an elevator in this building, but also steps, made from stones collected all over the world, for those enterprising souls who desire to climb.

"Probably one of the most impressive sights in the Arlington Cemetery was the soldier who marches back and forth on guard in front of the Unknown Soldier's Tomb. He faces one direction for two minutes and then walks to the other side, standing for the same amount of time."

"Near the outskirts of Washington on a large hill, is the Washington Cathedral. When you are flying over the city in a plane, the cathedral appears to form a huge cross. The architecture is Gothic. There are many different chapels in the building, including a children's chapel and different saints' chapels. This cathedral was begun in 1907 and will probably not be completed for another thirty years."

In the White House, Miss Arnold thought one of the most interesting exhibits was the china used by all the different presidents. Nearly all of the exhibits which they were allowed to visit were displayed on the ground floor, but upstairs they were shown the East Room, the Gold

Room, the Blue Room, and the Red Room.

"The Supreme Court building was very large," Miss Arnold continued, "but the court room was comparatively small—not much of a seating capacity. The offices of the Chief Justices are located here, but we were not allowed to see them."

Virginia had always wanted to see Mount Vernon, Washington's home, and she was certainly not disappointed in it. The house is very beautiful, dead white against the green background, and the river in the foreground forms a most picturesque setting. Below the hill is the present tomb of Washington and many members of his family are buried in this beautiful old family cemetery. The house was just as she'd imagined it, Virginia said. All the rooms are open to the public and it is interesting to note that the furniture is marked either "replica" or "real."

In the Library of Congress are the original copies of the "Gettysburg Address" and the "Declaration of Independence." Here also are found letters of different presidents and their wives.

The Smithsonian Institute holds many interesting subjects, most of them of the twentieth century. There is found Charles A. Lindbergh's "We," Spirit of St. Louis, and Wiley Post's famous "Winnie Mae."

"The trip was certainly wonderful and I believe that the Capitol building was the most beautiful in the city," Virginia concluded.

SCHOOL SLANTS

What a welcome relief it will be to have the blackboards clear again! For the past week every room in the school has been completely hidden by the new schedule. After gazing at one of these every hour it is practically possible to tell what class any teacher has at any hour. There were very few changes made in it in proportion to other years.

Are girls the only ones who blush? This would seem to be the exception instead of the rule at B. H. S. Some of the tougher members who can be seen with red faces when embarrassed are: Max Beadle, Dale Boyce (neck and all), John Diment, "Swede" Aronson, Keith Dalrymple, and Billy Gregory.

Senior play practices will start in approximately one week. For the few souls who haven't yet heard, "Money to Burn" is the name of the play and members of the cast are: Phyllis DeNardo, Jeanette Levin, Virginia Wright, Marion Miller, Melvin Campbell, Bob Neal, Max Beadle, and Edward Smith. Mr. Elbers is directing the play and Catherine Roth will act as his assistant. Eva Kovich has been selected as business manager. Joe Bachman and Bob Stevens are stage managers.

PHYSICS CLASS VISIT THE I. AND M. POWER HOUSE

Mr. Moore's physics class drove to the Indiana and Michigan power house which is located on the St. Joseph River. On the way the students stopped at the old Bainton Mill to examine the turbine which is still there.

At the power plant they were very kindly conducted through the building by one of the attendants who explained how the various devices function. This trip concluded the physics classes' study of electricity.

BASKETBALL SQUAD CHOOSE CO-CAPTAINS FOR 1937-38 CAGE SEASON

At a meeting of the first string hoop squad for next year, Don Beck and Earl Stevens were elected to co-captain the Bucks.

Don Beck is a junior and played a forward spot on the first squad at intervals throughout the past season. Earl Stevens, a junior guard, also played on the reserve list but with the graduation of Virgil Stevens will be promoted to a probable starting post.

SIX HUNDRED STUDENTS TO PARTICIPATE IN GYM SHOW

Approximately 300 grade children and over 300 high school students will participate in the annual gym show to be given April 29 and 30.

Among the acts scheduled are: boys' and girls' apparatus work; military and figure marching; organized games; tumbling; calisthenics; folk dancing; tap dancing; and pyramids.

An admission price of ten cents will be charged.

"It's Buick again!"

EVERY flock has to have its leader — and you'll find plenty of proof on the road this summer that Buick's the pace-maker of this year's crop of cars.

So if you'd rather feed dust than eat it, you'll take the wise step now, and make sure that when summer comes you're up front in the driver's seat of a Buick.

There's no getting around the power a Buick can pour into the job of getting you there quick and quiet and easy—its valve-in-head straight-eight engine gives you the soaring flight of an eagle when you want to cover ground.

It's got a steady, fretless, road-leveling gait that makes travel effortless as light chasing shadow, whether you're just loafing along or shooting for a record distance for the day.

In this marvel car you ride in seats like easy chairs. You finger controls that seem to sense your next wish in advance. You've got brakes to halt its thunderbolt action and bring it gently down to rest with the smooth lightness of misting rain.

You've got a car that's a young man's fancy, light-footed, eager, adventurous — a car that's any man's pride so honest is it in the solid worth of every nut, strut, bolt and thread.

Why handicap yourself this summer when so plainly it's Buick again for value? You'll find this great straight eight easy to buy as the average run of sixes—and if you get your order in now you'll be leading the parade in a bellwether Buick when summer gets here.

Victory Kobe Is Fashion Show Model

Miss Victory Kobe, of 203 North Oak street, Buchanan, participated as a model in the annual fashion show sponsored by the Home Economics club of Michigan State College Thursday evening (April 8).

The purpose of the show was to demonstrate the work done by students in the clothing construction classes during winter terms. The students modeled hats, dresses, coats and suits of their own workmanship.

Miss Kobe modeled a dress of a new shade of yellowish pink with interesting button trim done the center front, and a narrow patent leather belt of each-red color.

Only the best of the garments are chosen to be modeled in the show, as less than 50 per cent of the students model their work. More than 70 girls participated.

Air Show To Thrill Visitors May 9th

Nation's Outstanding Aviators to Take Part in Second Blossom Fete Air Show.

When the opening bomb of the Second Annual Blossomtime Air Festival starts the peaceful quietude of the Benton Harbor Municipal Airport Sunday, May 9th, Captain Art Davis and his Flying Aces will do their formation spiral smoke dive from 12,000 feet while fifteen fast planes parade majestically over the city and in the cockpit of one of these taper-winged daredevil planes will be a diminutive blonde woman stunt pilot who will compete with the best of the air's showmen.

Bursting bombs and thrilling flares will inaugurate this monstrous show in dedication to Vincent Bendix, head of the Bendix Products Corporation of South Bend and eminent leader in the aviation world. Every act of precision flying ever accomplished in the air will follow in quick succession. With the snappiest air show program ever staged in the middle west, Captain Davis, Ace pilot of the United States Air Reserve Corps, states, "there won't be a dull moment from start to finish."

More than 15,000 spectators will be standing on their tip toes with mouths open and necks craned skyward to see these practiced performers accomplish their most difficult formation stunting, looping, barrel-rolling, and inverted diving and when these sleek taper-winged planes come slithering in for a landing on a field bedecked with flags they will be cheered and applauded for their trained acrobatic perfection. This year's show is rehearsed and timed so accurately that the greatest possible amount of aerial performance can be crammed into the brief two-hour period of aerial gymnastics.

On the ground will be the greatest display of new aircraft ever to grace any Michigan airport. Planes from aircraft factories from Glendale, Calif., to Farmingdale, Long Island, N. Y., have indicated their desire to demonstrate their new models at this first prime air show of the year. It will truly be a premier performance of the latest in aircraft design and stream-lined style straight from the Pacific Aircraft and Boat Show held at Los Angeles this month. Every aviation industry will be here to pay their respects to Vincent Bendix to whom they owe much in their rapid development, and progress.

Straight from the National Air Races in Los Angeles these daredevil skywriters will hang up aerial signs 4000 feet in the blue sky that will out-do any featured air show performances ever seen in this section of the United States, and a member of that chew of death-defying pilots who accomplish loops, spins, and inverted dives, will be a petite blonde "flying hostess" who has thrilled many a movie audience—the ace woman stunt pilot of America, "Betty" Lund known to pilots all over the country as the most daring woman pilot who has just completed an extensive tour of personal appearances throughout Europe and the South American states. Among her aerial maneuvers that have brought her fame and a world wide reputation for daring and courage is the ability to loop her plane in the shape of a Brazilian pretzel and with this act never performed before in any aerial exhibition in the United States Mrs. Lund is expected to thrill Benton Harbor spectators within an inch of their lives. How a young woman whose stunt-pilot husband was killed in a daring aerial dog fight could master the technique of so difficult an aerial performance has caused many an experienced show pilot to marvel at and admire her daring and courage.

No blossom festival visitor or resident of this entire community will miss seeing this air spectacle. Bands will play and featured entertainment is being arranged for the air show intermission. Large amplifying loud-

Piqua, Ohio
Piqua, Ohio, was first called Washington when it was platted in 1809, but the town was later named after the Shawnee town of Piqua, in that vicinity, which was wiped out by George Rogers Clark in 1782.

Huge Desert
The central desert of Australia is 1,000 miles long and 500 miles wide, approximately as large as the state of Texas.

Two North Poles
There are two north poles, geographic and magnetic. When the compass is over the geographic north pole it will point toward the magnetic north pole, which is 71 degrees latitude north and 98 degrees longitude west.

CHANGE MOTOR OIL... MAKE IT ISO-VIS "D"

YOUR STANDARD OIL DEALER IS THE "DOCTOR"

Just as you start drawing pretty heavily on your own physical reserves this time of year, after months of sunlessness and cold, so does your car begin to use itself up more rapidly—unless you give it this timely tonic: Drain and change motor oil!

No matter how good the oil was when you put it in—or how many quarts you have added since—if you've been driving all winter without draining and flushing the crankcase, chances are you're wearing out your motor with dirty oil.

Your car knows—it can feel it in its bearings—and now's the time, before you get into the heavy summer driving season, to prevent costly motor troubles which are bound to come if you're forgetful about your motor oil. Change grades, for the warmer temperatures. Make it long-lasting Iso-Vis "D."

STOP 8 MINUTES AT ANY STANDARD OIL DEALER'S

IT'S TIME for a COMPLETE CHASSIS HI - PRESSURE LUBRICATION

And change Grease in Transmission and Differentials. Many cars burn out wheel bearings, universals, clutch bearings, water pumps, and clogged radiators because only ONE kind of Grease is used to lubricate ALL these parts. Your car needs many SPECIAL GREASES. We have ALL of them. With a complete lubrication job, we give battery service, clean your air and oil filter, wash your windows and clean your floors, all for the price of a chassis lubrication.
