Farmers of Buchanan District Voting on Potato Plan Here Today

Bud Proud Is New President

Now Here's the Proposition

You kin tell a good man by the kind of peepul who cuss him.

Story of the Weet (Dedicated to Johnny Jerue). The old bus averaged three hundred and fifty miles a day. "Wasn't the scenery?" "We only had two punctures." "Wasn't the..." "Did eighteen miles to a gallon." "Wasn't the..." "And two hundred miles to every quart of oil." "Wasn't..." "Didn't stop at one garage." "Was..." "Boy, it sure was a wonderful trip!" "Yes, but the scenery?" "What scenery?" — Winnipeg Tribune.

Are You Whistle-Conscious? Well, friends and neighbors, we are proud to report this week that we are getting a lot of support and that our big campaign to make the mayor and city commission of Buchanan whistle-minded is gathering weight and momentum like a rolling snowball gathers whatever it gathers. Our force of hawk-eyed defectives have been working assiduously and have uncovered important information tending to show that the whole movement to stop blowing the whistle is the outgrowth of a secret agreement between the city government and the local dealers in alarm clocks. It is reported that on frequent occasions prominent members of the city administration had been seen in close conference with local alarm clock dealers, previous to the whistle announcement. Subsequently at least two of these dealers are reported to have entered the city hall and that money is believed to have changed hands. We are not ready to say now whether the notoriously corrupt alarm clock interests have gagged the whistle by a lump payment or whether the administration is merely getting a split on the alarm clock sales, but we expect to have an important announcement to make along this line that will put the Black-Klan exposure on the inside pages.

Another development of the past week has been the circulation of a petition to submit a second proposition to the voters at the special election Sept. 28 to bond the city an additional amount sufficient to finance the blowing of the whistle three times a day. Fresh fuel to the mounting unrest was afforded by the false fire alarm last week when the whistle was blown for no reason at all. What the voters of the city want to know is: Can the city logically say that they have installed a bigger and better whistle and then in the same breath allege that it will not stand up under the strain of being blown three times a day. It may be that further investigation will uncover important information on this line. At least the people of Buchanan may rest assured that their interests are being well looked after by this department of the Record. You'll hear from us next week. Until then, cheerio and toot! toot!

To Ballot at Buchanan Co-Ops

Record Crop Given as Reason For State Wide Referendum

Three-day balloting started on the Michigan potato allotment plan at the Buchanan Co-Ops this morning and will continue there through Friday and Saturday, with Fred Koenigshof in charge. The balloting was decided on at a meeting of potato growers held at Cadillac August 28. It was the opinion of the majority attending these meetings that something should be done in the way of a marketing agreement for the disposition of this 1937 enormous potato crop, that it may return something to the potato grower, thus reducing some of the loss he may be forced to take if the crop is not marketed orderly. In order to give each potato grower an opportunity to express himself, there will be an election held Sept. 16 - 17 - 18 that each commercial potato grower may vote. Two questions will be voted upon. 1st. Are you or are you not in favor of some marketing agreement to help dispose of crop. 2nd. Are you or are you not in favor of an allotment plan for potato growers.

H. Koenigshof Much Improved

Harold Koenigshof is reported much improved at the Niles hospital from the painful injuries he received when he was caught between a tractor and a barn wall at his home near Dayton last week. He had cranked the machine when it was in gear and it had leaped forward, pushing him ahead, and bending the board wall of the barn two feet out, until it struck an upright post which stopped it. Richard Koenigshof had seen the machine lurch ahead and ran to the rescue, throwing it into reverse and backing it away to release his brother. No bones were broken but one rib was pushed out of place.

Redbud Trail Prospects Affected By New State, County Road Funds

State Highway Department Announces More Construction Funds in Sight

After a lapse of several years Berrien county has a prospect of a limited amount of money for the construction of secondary roads in the coming year, according to a recent release from the state highway department, reporting minimum allocation of such construction funds for the 83 Michigan counties. Under the secondary road program $1,136,910 will be available to the counties during the next two years for the construction of county roads, with the provision that the counties match the funds. The allocation to Berrien County is $16,054 which, if matched, will make available $32,108. This will not build many miles of concrete road at $20,000 per mile. However it would suffice for 19 miles or more of blacktop construction, which, when properly installed, is reported satisfactory in many places. In addition there is a prospect of $420,502 available from the Federal government for the construction of secondary trunk lines, if matched. This, evidently, might be expended anywhere the state sees fit. Consequently the Buchanan community has two possible sources of funds for Redbud trail surfacing. The traffic on this road has grown tremendously in the past few years, and this year more than ever. The road links two important highways, M-60 and US-31. There is no road in southwest Michigan more entitled to the designation of secondary trunk line, in point of amount of traf-

They were accompanied back by Mrs. Mary Murphy, a sister of Mr. Leggett and a former resident of Buchanan, who returned here for the first time after an absence of 26 years. B. H. S. Grid 11 Light, Scrappy

To Wear New Uniforms at First Game Against Watervliet Friday, Sept. 24

Buchanan football team will not be heavy this year but it will be fast, scrappy—and picturesque, according to Coach Miller, who is whipping together a team of 64 a team for the first game to be played with the Watervliet team at that place, Friday, Sept. 24. The picturesque angle will be provided by the new uniforms in which the team will appear for the first time at Watervliet. These outfits consist of maroon pants and a jersey which is maroon to the armpits and white in upper chest, neck and arms. Headgear will also be white. The discriminating who have seen these uniforms report that they are the most slightly ever worn by Buchanan high school eleven. Coach Miller is building a team around a nucleus of nine returning lettermen, as follows: Earl Stephens, qb; Olin Smith hb; Dale Leiter, hb; R. Donley, qb; M. Trapp, hb; Charles Bainton, c; Burrell Weaver, g; Dale Simpson, e; Donald Beck, e.

It is evident from the above that there is a good supply of backfield men back, the main holes being in the forward line and in the important role of a kicker to replace Bud Jesse. Among the promising men available for the various positions are: Sam McCormick t, (senior but first year out); Robert Hamilton (last year's 440 star) g; Glenn Sult t; Jack Banke e; Jack Morris hb; Ivan Price c; K. Dalrymple hb; Melvin Stoner g; Mike Rottzeng g; Russell Heckathorne t; Ed Ingerigau c; Lee Topash hb; Don Jerue e; Lawrence Bachman g; Dale Lyoh qb; G. Weaver g. Indications are that the team picked will weight about 145 pounds.

In the passing department Lee Topash is showing up as a possible successor for his brothers, August and Dan, who were top notchers among the stars of other years.

Prospects for 1938 are brightened by the appearance of a number of sizeable freshmen, including Vergil, Jerue, Borders, Hempel, Martin, Hess, Fitch, Habicht.

Tight-Wadding It Through Europe

By HAWES CHAPTER III The ensuing chapters will tell of what I saw in the Scandinavian countries, especially in Sweden, and they will paint things rather rosy for the Norlanders. In defense I will say that every one who visits those countries is enthusiastic over many things. And he is treated in general with such royal courtesy that he can hardly be blamed if he becomes perhaps a wee bit prejudiced in favor of the Scandinavians. There's not much need to defend the attitude, for the people of England, France and Germany seemed equally enthusiastic. Especially is Norway popular for short summer vacations. Everywhere I went in Europe I saw "Norge" advertised in tourists centers, and I heard that Norway was "the" place for a trip, rapidly surpassing that classic vacation ground, Switzerland. Both Norway and Sweden stam-

Enrollment At School Drops

To Administer Toxoid to Kindergarten Pupils Next Week

Total enrollment of the Buchanan schools at the end of last week was 1050 for all grades, as compared with 1056 at the same time last year, according to figures secured from the office of Supt. H. C. Stark. The relative identity of the figures is further illustrated by the fact that the enrollment of the three upper grades is 225 this year and was exactly the same last year. The enrollment of the ninth grade this year is 92 as compared with 93 last year. Total figures this year are: 12th 69; 11th 79; 10th 77; 9th 92; 8th 79; 7th 81; 6th 88; 5th 78; 4th 89; 3rd 60; 2nd 77; 1st 95; opportunity class 16; kindergarten 69. Parents will be asked to report their choice of physicians for the treatment.

'ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

A Strange Happenstance It doesn't happen every day as it did with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pealer, while on their recent trip to Troy, N. Y. They had halted their car on the top of the Muncie ridge near Muncie, Pa., and were enjoying the views from a lookout. A car stopped with two couples in it and an elderly lady approached them and said: "I see you're from Michigan and it always makes me feel homesick to see a Michigan car. I was born and reared until I was 11 years old in a little town in Michigan. I don't suppose you have ever heard its name—Buchanan?" Mr. and Mrs. Pealer were able to admit that, after searching their memories industriously, they had heard of the place. The lady was Mrs. Vincent of Pittsburgh, and she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nickles, who once lived where Richard White now lives at 207 Days Avenue. She said that she could remember very vividly an Advent baptism in McCoy's creek. Her chum here was a Jessie Atwood. Mrs. Vincent said that her people left Buchanan for Minnesota for her mother's health, and she had never been back here since, although often "homesick" for her girlhood home and chums. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Merrill, Kalamazoo, were in Buchanan Sunday afternoon, calling wilds here on Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Roof.

THE CAT COMES BACK

Berrien county taxpayers are soon to receive forcible reminder that the Covert Road debt payment which they have so mercifully relieved from for a few years, have not been completed but that the freedom has only been a sort of a respite which is now at end.

Specifically, Buchanan city still has $35,074.31 to pay for dead horses in the form of stone and concrete roads. Neighboring township unpaid remainders are: Buchanan $48,867.85; Bertrand, $63,806.21; Galien, $54,963.06; Niles township, $115,269.44; Weesaw, $55,436.86.

This year the county units begin to pay again on a 13-year plan. In other words they will pay in 1949 the last installment for roads built in the twenties. During the road debt holiday the interest only has been paid, but the winter tax notices which the property owners will receive Dec. 10 will contain notice of the first of the thirteen installments. Payments to be made by local units are: Buchanan City, $10,349.16; Buchanan township, $5,287.64; Bertrand, $7,363.83; Galien, $7,247.23; Niles twp., $11,854.59; Weesaw, $6,589.86.

How Much of Its Deposits Does a Bank Loan?

The demand for loans by business concerns and individuals governs, to a considerable extent, the amount of money which a bank loans. A bank cannot, however, loan all of its deposited funds.

A portion must be kept in cash to meet the daily needs of customers. A portion must be set aside as reserves which are required by law. A portion is kept in other banks to facilitate the "clearing" of checks from one city to another.

A part is invested in government bonds and other readily-marketable securities that can be turned into cash as the bank may need it. The balance of the bank's funds is available for sound loans.

The message must go through.

Loyal, alert, your operator meets her responsibility in emergencies and on the every-day job.

even when it has to go AROUND!

At three o'clock in the morning, near Flint, a gasoline truck and trailer caught fire by the roadside. The blast of flames, shooting upward, melted 75 feet of telephone cable—severing 250 important wires that linked Detroit to northern and central Michigan.

Immediately, quick-witted operators began cutting Long Distance calls over substitute routes made available by the foresight of telephone engineers. And here it was possible to go near the white-hot mass of twisted wreckage, telephone plant men were on the scene, laying temporary circuits around the break.

This incident shows the spirit of the men and women who service your telephone... intelligent, responsible workers whose attitude toward the job can be summed up in these words:

At all times, at any cost, your message must go through!

In a crisis, and in discharge of ordinary duty, Michigan's telephone men live up to the highest traditions of the service.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 62): "The divine Mind, which forms the bud and blossom, will care for the human body, even as it clothes the lily; but let no mortal interfere with God's government by trusting in the laws of eating, human concepts."

TICIT-WADDING IT THROUGH SUOPE (Continued from page 1.) trohmien. Swedish police are apparently picked for height and physique. They are resplendent in blue uniforms trimmed with gold braid, the triple gold crown on their caps and swords at their sides. When addressed by the humblest citizen their heels click together and their hand comes up in military salute. In Stockholm they practically all speak English; most of those I came in contact with in Gothenberg and Oslo could do the same. Even in comparison with the famous "Bobbies," as the London police are called, the Scandinavian police are outstanding in courtesy and service.

The same is true of the officials of the street cars, the railways, the telephone companies, which are owned by the government. We boarded the street car selected for a trip through the parks and more scenic sections of Gothenberg. The street car itself reflected the Swedish love of color. It was a bright robin's egg blue trimmed with gold, including the familiar three gold crowns denoting ownership by the kingdom. Instead of small windows, the sides are enclosed in long glass panels. The car was shorter than an American car, with projecting roof, making it appear like a resplendent garden pagoda on wheels.

Parks and gardens of Gothenberg were bowers of foliage and bloom. I was astonished at the variety of showy flowering shrubs and trees. One which was particularly beautiful and to be seen everywhere. I became curious about. My wife asked the street car conductor but he did not know its name. Shortly afterward, however, he came to a short stop at a station along the park and he dismounted from his post and hurried some distance to a park attendant, finding out its name and returning to tell us. Like so much of Sweden Gothenberg was built on half soil and half granite and here and there, where the native rock protruded, there were steep stairways built up between buildings that nestled back against the side of the rock. But everywhere where there was soil to support it was an abundant vegetation.

Granite was everywhere in evidence. The streets are paved with granite blocks, about 4x6 inches in dimension, arranged in neat patterns and whorls. Sometimes there will be strips of wide flat rock down through this pattern of small rocks. The streets are uniformly narrow in the older parts of the city, and the sidewalks narrower still. Sidewalks in the main shopping section consist of granite strips and are only two or three yards wide. In the narrower streets a truck body will almost take up the width of the street.

The orderliness of the city extends to more than appearances. Although Gothenberg is an international seaport, and ships from 50 nations are said to dock in its harbor, its waterfront teeming with sailors, its narrow crooked streets are nevertheless safe any hour of the day or night. The Swedes themselves are an orderly people and the omnipresent police see to the rest. In front of every tavern is a patrolman. The government system of selling drinks tends to keep down drunkenness. To buy a small bottle of beer you must buy something to eat with it. You can buy only one drink in one place at a time if you are not satisfied you can go to another tavern and repeat it, but again you must buy something to eat, usually one of the numerous kinds of Swedish breads or pastries. All this was explained to me by a Swede who had lived several years in Cleveland. He told me that no drinking was allowed in the morning, that a small amount of liquor would be sold afternoon and a larger amount at night. A small bottle of beer about the size of a pop bottle and eats to accompany cost about 25 cents. Since the Swedish working man gets less in money than the American his wages will not buy much liquor. Beer and gasoline, in fact, are two very expensive luxuries. The way I ran across this Swede from Cleveland was another story. I had left the hotel and was wandering through a street along the waterfront where sailors of many nationalities "swearing strange oaths" were congregated. I approached one of the tall, scenic policemen in front of a tavern if he could speak English. He could not. I had asked him in Swedish—"talar du Engelska." after I should have said "ni" instead of "du" as the equivalent for "you." The two words are equivalent to "you" and "thou" in English, with "du" reserved for relatives and close friends. It is considered impolite to address a stranger as "du." All this I thought of with misgiving when suddenly the patrolman caught up with me a block from where I had addressed him and motioned me to follow him. I followed along wondering if a mistake in address was a criminal offense. But on arrival at the tavern I found that he had searched among the patrons for some one who could talk English and then had gone after me.

I had a half hour's talk with the former Clevelandite who "TICIT WADDING THRU" CONT sured me that I needed be afraid no where in Gothenberg, an international seaport city of about 250,000 population. A most competent witness as to this prevailing order was James C. Lee of Texas, who we met in the little Cafe Svea at breakfast the first morning. We were seated at one of the little tables that prevails when he came in with a rolling gait, cowboy or sailor or both, and seated himself. The waitress came, up and addressed him in Swedish.

"Ah'll take ham and eggs," he said in an accent that I remembered from the Texans I used to know out in the Wyoming country. Puzzled the waitress tried a little Swedish again. "Ham and eggs," repeated Mr. Lee. The waitress got a menu and placed it in front of him. He shoved it back with a gesture of mingled disgust and despair and protested: "All Ah want is mah breakfast!" Then my wife came to the rescue and translated his order, getting his ham and eggs as he wanted them. For all of which Mr. Lee was most grateful.

"Ah been in this country three weeks and Ah've had an awful time," he said. Seems that he was a sailor who had been firing on the yacht of the Swedish head of the Electrolux refrigerator corporation. (Adv.) This Swede, one of the two inventors of the refrigerator, makes his headquarters at Stockholm. He had just docked his palatial steam yacht there three weeks before, after a 13,000 mile cruise from Florida through the southern Atlantic and Mediterranean waters. At Stockholm he released his American crew, giving them their fare back to New York City. Mr. Lee had been doing Sweden in the meantime, and did not wholly approve.

"It's an awful dead country," he said, "Why they haven't had a war in this country for 120 years and as far as Ah can see they ain't had a fight for that long." Sweden was so orderly it hurt, Mr. Lee said. Best thing you could say for it was that they gave you the right change back.

"Now these Swedish girls," said Mr. Lee, "They will go out with you, but you got to take them home early and when you get to their front door about ten o'clock the evening is over. They go about their business and you got about yours. Ten of us sailors hunted this town over until 1 o'clock last night for some live ones but nary one. Never mind, we'll soon be in New York City." (To be continued)

The Eyes of a Thinker Eyes large, clear, set deeply and wide apart beneath strong eyebrows and a square, massive forehead, which has an angular, knotty appearance. Ridge of eyebrows projects downward beyond the outer corner of the eye. The pupils are large. A single perpendicular furrow runs between the eyes.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Judge C. E. Sabin spent a few days last week at Angola, Ind., among the scenes of his boyhood, and from which he left to fight in the war of the rebellion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Montgomery were very pleasantly surprised last Friday evening by the young people of the Christian Endeavor society of the Christian Church.

Rev. E. O. Mather returned Tuesday from the conference of the M. E. Church which was held at Traverse City. He has been returned here for another year.

Albert Nutt is in Howard City on a business trip.

Rex Lamb was up from St. Joseph Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaultrop and daughter spent Saturday evening with relatives and friends at Dowagiac, and Sunday in company with a party from that city spent the day in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor.

Mrs. Ed Steele left Sunday for Gaylord, Kas., to visit her sister whom she had not seen for twenty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Keen attended the Inter State fair at South Bend, Thursday.

Mrs. R. J. Burrows, who has been spending the past few weeks in Washington, D. C., is expected home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rehm and Mrs. W. R. Bough visited Mrs. Rehm's cousin, Mrs. J. L. Berger, Elkhart, Sunday.

Miss Winifred Andrews will assist in Mrs. E. Parkinson's millinery store during the coming winter.

A new cement walk has been laid in front of the Fowlers and Starks residence properties on Fourth street.

The Standard Bearers of the Methodist church enjoyed a wienie roast at the home of Miss Orpha Hess, who is on the Battleship Leiter Saturday evening and a fine time was enjoyed by all.

Bright were the faces with smiles and words of goodness and welcome fell from their lips as Mr. and Mrs. George Jones welcomed the members of the Bethany class to their comfortable, spacious country home near Clear Lake Saturday afternoon to enjoy a corn roast. Sixty responded to the invitation. Near the driveway leading to the house was dug the roasting pit. Heaped high at first, the logs soon yielded to the encircling flames and soon both corn and wienie were placed on a screen held over the coals. The committee also served pickles, sandwiches and coffee. In the business session the class were admonished to send profits to one of their members, John Edward Massachusetts, and also to Mrs. Charles Key, who is in the University Hospital at Ann Arbor.

One of the largest crowds ever to assemble in Galesburg gathered here Tuesday to pay tribute to the young men who have been selected in the southern half of Berrien county to become a part of the National Army.

The selected men began to arrive about 9 a. m. and at 11 a. m. the roll was called, all responding except William Belleger of Clear Lake, whose number is 258. It was later learned that he had misunderstood and had gone directly to Little Creek, Tennessee after the roll call badges bearing the words "U. S. National Army" were placed on the breasts of the men. The line was formed, and the selected men marched to the Christian church followed by a delegation of twenty old veterans and the Boy Scouts. There the ladies of the Red Cross served 400. John Furtz had prepared the meal without any expense to the organization, and the ladies of the Portage Prairie Ladies Aid gave the dinner committee a most agreeable surprise by sending a number of delicious cakes.

tion officials proposed Aug. 17 to set up four federal marketing agreements to bolster potato prices received by growers on this year's large crop.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration Aug. 24, would consider the potato marketing agreements for producers and shippers in nine states. The potato crop this year is officially estimated at 402,537,000 bushels, or 72,540,000 bushels more than last year.

AAA officials said the agreements would control shipments by prohibiting inter-state trade in "cutts" or "very small potatoes."

The states to be included in the agreement are: Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming, and Idaho.

Public hearings were held at Denver, Colo., Waupaca, Wis., Caribou, Maine, and Scotts Bluff, Neb., Aug. 25; Princeton, Minn., Aug. 26; Idaho Falls Idaho, Aug. 27; and Twin Falls, Idaho, Grand Forks, N. D., and Cadillac, Mich., Aug. 28.

HOLLYWOOD

"WEE WILLIE WINKIE" WITH SHIRLEY TEMPLE

Adventure as only Rudyard Kipling could write it blazes from the screen in the Twentieth Century-Fox picturization of his "Wee Willie Winkie," with Shirley Temple and Victor McLaglen in the starring roles will play here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Adventure—suggested as the killed Highlanders holding Khyber Pass, colorful as India's jeweled and brilliant hues, strange as the skirling bagpipes on the roof of Asia, romantic as empire's last unclaimed frontier—fills every moment of this exciting film, the most spectacular production in which Shirley Temple has ever appeared.

WESTERN

Lovely blonde Bernadene Hayes and stalwart Russell Hayden provide the love interest in "North of the Rio Grande," the action-packed outdoor romance which opens Friday for two days at the Hollywood Theatre. The cast is headed by William Boyd and includes George Hayes, Stephen Morris and many others.

MYSTERY

Mystery is injected into the picture from start to finish. Real murder is cleverly concealed until final denouement. Weird lighting, strange Hindu characters, the scenes in which the medusa goes into a trance, and the clever way in which suspicion is made to fall on all concerned, makes "The Thirteenth Chair" a sure-fire thriller showing Friday and Saturday. Romance gets its share of the limelight.

HEADLINE THRILLS

Co-starring one of the screen's most popular teams, Gene Raymond and Ann Sothern, "There Goes My Girl," a high-voltage newspaper drama charged with romance, reporterly rivalry, and a murder mystery, is coming to the Hollywood Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

ROMANCE

Two rough-and-tumble sweet-hearts who just can't leave love enough alone, GLORIA STUART and MICHAEL WUHLER are featured Wednesday and Thursday in the gay Twentieth Century-Fox romance, "The Lady Escapes."

King Arthur

Modern critics may doubt King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table ever existed, but in Tintagel, England, Arthurian legend is so strong that a stone memorial hall was erected to the memory of the monarch who is said to have led the Christian kings of Britain against the Saxons of Kent in the Sixth century.

larged fish, according to official records which had ever been caught in the waters of Lake Michigan a mile and a half from Traverse City at 2:30 p. m. on Friday afternoon with a 1300 foot wire tackle of which 700 feet was played out for 30 minutes. Any-way Messrs. Kolhoff and Remington toiled assiduously for 30 minutes to land the marine monster and when it was at last safe in one end of the boat with Messrs. Kolhoff and Remington both in the other end of the boat to balance it, both men and the line were pretty well played out.

And, laying all jokes aside, you have to hand it to Remington and Kolhoff to bring back the fish. Stories, anyway.

Back from Service at Historic Fort

Eugene Kelley returned last week from Mackinac Island, where he had had the unique experience of serving as a member of the Eagle Scout "garrison" of the famous old military post on the island.

The duties of the Eagle Scout force of twelve were, of course, non-military. They kept the post in order and hauled the flag up and down morning and evening, but otherwise their duties were to guide tourists about the post and relate its history. The fort had been manned all summer by detachments of 12 Eagle Scouts serving two weeks at a time, each Boy Scout area being entitled to representation. Young Kelley and Dick Crippen of Niles represented the local area.

About 300 tourists entered the fort daily. Each Scout served five hours as a guide. The fortnightly periods of service overlapped so that Kelley had the benefit of two days of instruction in Fort history from the previous contingent. The oldest building there date from 1780, the most recent from 1885. The fort was evacuated as a military post in 1896. It has a winter population of about 300, swelled to 4,000 and 5,000 by increments of summer tourists. Many of the late summer residents are hay fever refugees. No automobiles are allowed, all transportation being by horse. The island is 2 1/2 miles across, and is 6 miles from the Upper Peninsula and 8 miles from the Lower Peninsula.

The Scouts had privileges, including the use of the 220 yard verandah at the Grand Hotel, said to be the largest summer hotel in the world, and the use of its swimming pool free. They could also rent bicycles, saddle horses and carriages at half price.
