Now Here's the Proposition

One advantage we got here in Glenbury, in this depression, is that all go to the poorhouse...

The easiest way to influence
public opinion is to agree with it.

Authors
Many the makers of speeches,
many the writers of books,
All of them learned in language,
even more learned in looks,
Knowing for sure and for certain,
where all the rest of us grope,
For they are the fountains of knowledge, they are the dopers
of dope,
Each of them expert in all things,
wise as a tree of owls.
In lore of the earth and the waters,
fishes and mankind and fowls, Trailing their names when they write them with many M. A.'s and M. D.'s—Gosh, if these guys all admit they're so wise—why can't they ever agree?

Transfer Is Denied
Chief topic of conversation
about town in the past week was the source of the mistaken information published last week to the effect that H. L. Hayden and W.
J. Miller had traded properties.
"I know nothing about except that it is utterly false, and I don't know who started it but you might ask Bill Miller," stated H.
L. Hayden.
"It's just somebody's pipe dream
and I don't know whose," said Mr.
Miller, "but you might ask Hayden."

To Present Plays at Church of Christ

The Senior Christian Endeavor
of the Church of Christ will present three playlets at the evening services next Sunday, entitled "Using the Bible as A Daily Guide,"
"The Wonder of the Bible," and
"Ideals Worth Living For."

D. A. R. Will Aid Intending Citizens

The Fort St. Joseph Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution announce that they have booklets in several languages for the instruction of aliens
who wish to study to take examinations for their citizenship papers. Mrs. A. G. Haslett is the chairman for such activities in Buchanan. Anyone who wishes
such information should see her.

Margaret McFarlin Purchases D's Cafe

Mrs. Margaret McFarlin took over possession and management of D's Cafe yesterday morning,
having bought the business and equipment from Mrs. Ernest Mangold. Mrs. McFarlin is a restaurant operator of long experience.
She states that she will be in a position to cater to parties and banquets for clubs, organizations and individuals and solicits the trade and good will of the Buchanan community.

Juniors At Buchanan To Present Drama

Birdsell Pictures Indian Life From Fragments on Moccasin Bluff

Shows Significant Collection at Open Forum Meeting
at Library

Among the curious Indian remains which were exhibited by John C. Birdsell of South Bend in his display made at the Open Forum hour at the public library
last week was a clay pipe with the letters TD inscribed on the bowl,
which he found at the site of Weesaw's village on the St. Joseph river between Niles and Buchanan.
This is a purely journalistic angle on the story of Mr. Birdsell's display, as the clay pipe is clearly
of white man's manufacture and belongs to a comparative late period after the arrival of the white man in these parts. Its find was not important at all from a scientific point of view, but it leads to a curious little story of the Ripley
"Believe it Or Not" type.

It seems that shortly after the achievement of American independence and during the days of Indian trading in the St. Joseph valley, one Thomas Duncan, a Scotchman, sold the Indians on the idea of the superiority of a short-stemmed pipe, and furthermore sold them so thoroughly on his own make that they would buy no
pipe that did not have his initials TD inscribed on the bowl. The initials were not trademarked and consequently other manufacturers managed to muscle in the trade by putting TD's on their pipes. And so that inscription has become a matter of course on clay pipes,
and it is said that such pipes are still being made in Japan with those letters inscribed on them.

Just to illustrate the point Mr.
Birdsell bought a new "TD" pipe
at a South Bend tobacco shop
just before coming to Buchanan, and displayed it side by side with the one found on the site of Weesaw's village, the latter one differing in that it had thirteen stars
circling the initials to represent the then thirteen American states.
Birdsell displayed an exceedingly interesting collection of relics found in the St. Joseph valley and especially in the Moccasin Bluff district. Among the latter were bones dug from the refuse pits
common on the Elwood Horner
and Berglund farms, representing animals eaten by the Indians, and including a moose jaw, an elk jaw
and the bones of a Virginia white-tailed deer. The Indians of the Moccasin district lived principally on Sturgeon, having at hand one of the finest sturgeon spearing sites along the river. Bones found in the refuse pits indicate that their food
was about 60% sturgeon. 35%
deer and the remaining 5% smaller animals. Birdsell has authenticated the bones he found by sending them for identification to leading museums and authorities over the United States.

Moccasin Bluffs was evidently a cross roads of Indian travel, he states, as relics of widely scattered Indian civilization are found

there, including many pieces of pottery usually identified with the lower and middle Mississippi culture and believed to have been made in that district. A species of wampum shell originally identified
only with the North Atlantic coast of New England and Canada has been found here. The most frequent indication of a mingling
of races and cultures at Moccasin Bluff are the arrow heads and various stone implements of the materials which have been identified in origin with many localities
widely scattered over the United States.
One of the most interesting individual exhibits shown by Bird-
sell was a collection of fragments
of a large clay pot which, reconstructed, would have been about 30 inches high, 17 1/2 inches across
at the widest part of the mouth
and 14 1/2 inches across at the neck. This pot showed no indication of having been over fires. One pot fragment had charred food found on the interior side. These charred fragments were sent to chemists and identified as squash.
Perhaps one day centuries ago an Indiana squaw incurred the wrath
of her lord and master by burning the dinner.

Dr. Fish Leaves To Enter School

Dr. D. C. Fish announces this week that he plans to relinquish
his practice here and leave early in March for Toledo, O., where he will attend the McCleson school
for anaesthesia for several months
with a view to specialization.
Dr. Fish states that he has built up a very satisfactory practice during the eight months he has spent here and regrets very much to leave Buchanan but that he feels he has an opportunity at hand that he cannot afford to relinquish. The many friends which Mr. and Mrs. Fish have made locally will regret to see them
leave.

Dry-Zero Foremen Hold Meet Here

The Foremen's Club of the Dry-
Zero Corporation held a Valentine Party in their club room Monday evening. At luncheon prizes were won by Josephine Yurkovic, Cecil Davis, Mrs. Charles Lewis and Joseph Ulick.

Moving pictures were shown of the Buchanan and Chicago plants
by Mr. Ulick, superintendent of the local plant.

Take Doubleheader From Cassopolis Hi

By JOHN SCHULTZ
Coach "Doc" Miller's basketballers were just too much for Cassopolis Junior High Thursday and dished out two decisive defeats to the two teams representing Cassopolis.

In the first game the reserve
team came close to a shut out victory but a freethrow spoiled their chances. The final score was 26 to 1. The Millerites outplayed
the Cass five in every department.
Vatua led the Buchanan five with an 8 point total. Lewis scored the one free throw for the Cass five.
The first team made a day of it
by defeating the Cass first team 34 to 9. The Millerites showed a well balanced attack and a stubborn defense and held their opponents in check all the way. This was the Millerites second victory
the first being 40 to 10 victory
over Three Oaks.

Bowman led the Buchanan five
with 4 field goals for 8 points.
Cobb with two fielders for 4
points led the losers.

Samantha Johnson Reaches 90 Years

A party of friends surprised
Mrs. Samantha Johnson Saturday
at her home at 406 Berrien street,
to honor her on her 90th birthday.
Mrs. Johnson has lived at Buchanan most of her life, being the widow of "California" Johnson,
one-time noted pioneer teacher
and the instructor of many of the older citizens of the town. She is in good health and able to do much for herself.

Miss Doris Glinker returned Monday from Jackson, where she had visited over the week-end with her father, Virgil Clinker.

Maroons Trim New Carlisle

Hoosiers Defeat Reserves in Spite Final Quarter
Rush

By JOHN SCHULTZ
The Bucks and the New Carlisle
Tigers uncorked a hard fought high school basketball battle on the Hoosier's court Friday night
with the Maroons edging out the Tigers 32 to 29.

The battle was waged on even
terms throughout the first half, ending in a 15 to 15 deadlock. The Bucks outscored the Tigers 17 to 14 in the final half to turn the tables.

The Maroon quintet had just been biding its time, however, as it laid down a withering fire in the second half to squash the Tiger's victorious ambition.

The Bucks nearly defeated
themselves on fouls having 18 called against them. Two players were banished by the four foul rule.

The Tigers played without the services of Bledsade, star forward. Center Davenport kept the Tigers in the battle by long one-handed shots from far out. He dumped 11 points through the mesh to be high scorer for the evening.

Simpson and Smith, both guards,
were ringmasters for the Bucks hitting the circle for 8 and 7
points respectively.

The curtain raiser found the New Carlisle yearlings keeping the evening from a complete flop by fast breaking the Buck team to death and defeat the Bucks 27 to 18. An early lead increased to 17
to 5 at the half.

The first three quarters saw the Bucks show a wobbly offense and a very ragged defense. In the final quarter Coach Langer sent in his second team and this team set up a stubborn defense and flashed down the floor to outscore the Tigers 8 to 1, but the lead was too large.

Lindsay was high for the winners with 8 tallies. Hess, Topash, and Neal all got 4 points to be high for the Bucks.

Draw for District Tournament Today

Principal F. J. Moore and Coach
J. Miller will represent Buchanan high school in drawings to be made today at the Niles high school for first games in the district basketball tournament to be held there March 3-4-5.

Two Buchanan men, Leiter and Simpson are listed as prospects for the all district Class B team, decision to be made during the coming week.

Desenbergs Defeat Rudy Furnace Five

The Desenberg independent basketball team defeated the Rudy Furnace team of Dowagiac on the latter's floor Friday evening
by a score of 33-30.

The game was close the entire route, Dowagiac leading 14-13 at the end of the first half. The Furnace makers were also leading 30 to 25 with four minutes left,
when the Buchanan team snapped
it and scored eight points, shutting out their opponents. D.
Topash and D. Ellis were high for Buchanan with 7 points each.
Warner was high for Dowagiac
with 10 points.

Death of Glendora Woman Brings To Light a Strange Tale of Life

Come From Upper Strata of Chicago Life to Live as Hermits on Farm

What strange tales of life may be all about you without your knowing it is illustrated by the case of Mrs. Sybil R. Morton, who died week before last in Chicago and was buried Sunday in Glen-dora cemetery.

Mrs. Morton and her husband,
Frederick Morton, lived for 25 years the life of recluses on their farm immediately east of Hills Corners, bought later by James Hanover and now owned by J. G.
Boyle. Frederick Morton was an Englishman, a graduate of Harvard University, and one time publisher of the Pen and Pencil and proprietor of an establishment in Chicago called the "Dilettante's Salon." Just what the publication was or what the "Dilettante's Salon" was no one here knows.

Mrs. Morton had been private secretary to the famous Chicago surgeon, Dr. Murphy, for fifteen years previous to coming to Chicago, and was apparently a very accomplished woman. She had also taught piano music and was a fine musician. She and Mr. Morton had a radio but listened only to Sunday afternoon symphony orchestra concerts and to music of that order. They had a large room entirely filled with choice books.
They very rarely left their home,
Mrs. Morton having been to Buchanan only twice during the 24
years she lived at Glendora.

Although very aloof and select in her tastes, she worked hard at farm labor, in addition to raising 200 chickens annually and many rare and beautiful flowers. Although she was in her latter forties and he was elderly when they came to Buchanan, they made a success of their farming, or anyway they made a living and although their means were invested in the farm, she was able to sell
it after he died three years ago,
and to retire independently to Chicago on the proceeds.

She was born in Peru, Ill., Nov.
8, 1862. She is survived by a son,
W. M. Morton, by two grandsons
in Chicago, by a grandson, Vance Smith in Buchanan.

Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Beistle went

two days. Dr. Beistle also attended the annual reunion of his

Tight-Wadding It Through Europe

CHAPTER XXV

By HAWES

I remained for eight days at the Sesam hotel, flattering myself
that I was fortunately and economically located, although I learned later that I could do better.

It was a hotel on the third floor of a building in the second oldest part of the city. Directly across the street from my room was an old three-story building with quaint overhanging windows. In the room to the left of my door
was a Chicago real estate man and his wife. He told me later that he was in charge of the real estate holdings of a Chicago financial company and that he was looking over Stockholm's method of financing home building.

"It works fine here but it wouldn't work in America," was his verdict. "The American working man is not in the same frame
of mind as the Swede."

Across the hall was a young Russian woman who represented
an English publishing house in Stockholm. She very likely was one of the Russian upper classes
who fled that country at the time

'ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

Among His Souvenirs

Among the treasured relics of a lifetime of political activity on the walls of the office of Atty. A. A.
Worthington is an autographed picture of the nine judges of the U. S. Supreme Court a few years back, signed by the following judges of that time: Chief Justice
Charles E. Hughes, Owen D. Roberts, Pierce Butler, Harlan F.
Stone, Louis D. Brandeis, Willis
Vandewater, J. C. McReynolds,
George Sutherland and Benjamin Mendsohn.

Worthington has another picture of Justice Hughes alone,
autographed, also one of that
"peerless leader" and "plumed
knight," who opposed Cleveland in his first campaign, James G.
Blaine. Worthington met the magnetic Blaine when the latter spoke before an immense throng at South Bend in the heat of the campaign.

Blaine would have been president, in Worthington's opinion,
had it not been for the unfortunate expression of a Republican actor branding the Democrats as advocates of "Rome, Rum and Rebellion." This expression was seized on by the Democrats and became a campaign issue.

Nelson Transfer

Driver Injured

Sidney Adams, truck driver for the Nelson Transfer, incurred a painful neck injury when he fell backward from the rear of his truck in South Bend Tuesday afternoon striking on the pavement
on the back of his neck and head.

He was able to drive his truck
home but then went to a doctor
and was taken to the Niles hospital, where physicians placed his neck in a brace. Later examinations indicated there had been no
fracture.

Earl Bachman Goes to Washington, D. C.

Earl Bachman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bachman of the Bend of the River, and supervisor of National Parks for the state of California, has been transferred for several months from his San Francisco office to Washington, D. C., for research work.

A FAIR AMBITION?

How worthy an ambition is the aspiration to own a home—not only to own a home but to build a home or alter one and fit it in accordance with a long-cherished and carefully formulated ideal?

The writer not so many months ago was talking with a young English postal clerk on a railway platform in northern England. He was curious about wages and about standards of living in America. In England, he said, most men in the middle and lower brackets of income considered the first and fundamental expenditure to be the construction and the comfortable equipment of a home.

Have we in America underestimated the importance of the home? We talked a while back with a young Hollander lately arrived in America. Americans are careless about their homes, he said. Workingmen in Holland put much attention in their homes—their first attention. They built beautiful homes, much better built on the average than those common in workingmen's settlements in America.

What should be the attitude of the home builder? What he will put into his home or what he will get out of it? Must a home be considered merely a financial investment with an ultimate eye to what it will bring on the ordinary market? Or should the home be considered an investment in living values, with the market as only a very secondary consideration?

Is it not a defensible policy on the part of a man of very moderate means to refuse to be impressed by current attitudes and to form his own standards of what is a worthy expenditure?

Isn't it something to have a long range ideal of a desirable home, with a program to be worked at from year to year, and as a matter of fact, never finished? There is the landscaping you would like to do this year; the kitchen you would like to finish next year; the new floors you would like to do the year after that. There is the shelving you would like to put in the basement and the rose arbor you would like to build in the garden.

But this is a rapidly changing country and the tides of industry ebb and wane and flow from one locality to another. So how do you know you will have a chance to build the shelves and the rose arbor?

But what if you don't? After all, as Mr. Stevenson once remarked in substance "it is always better to travel than to arrive."

ON RESPONSIBILITY IN PAYING BILLS

Sometimes it seems that we are educated to be purchasers rather than in the responsibilities of purchasing.

There is the responsibility of paying our bills so that the other fellow can pay his bills. Did you ever fully realize that when one man does not pay a bill he may be responsible for a long line of similar failures. For our failures in that respect tend to be cumulative, and the man we fail to pay may also, if he is depending on us, fail to pay some one else, and the ultimate extent of the consequences is incalculable. That is the ordinary trend of the vicious circle that tends to make recessions become depressions and depressions become panics.

Here's a living, recent instance of what a small payment may accomplish. Not long ago a man of the Buchanan community sold his farm and got an earnest of payment of only $25. But he took that $25 and used it as a down payment on a home in a nearby town and the man he bought from took the same $25 and in turn used it as a down payment on a home in the country. Three homes, all bought, with the same $25.

NEW DE LUXE FORD V-8

Ford gives you something really new in the De Luxe Ford V-8 that makes its bow to the motoring world this year. Back of it is a line of more than 26,000,000 Ford cars, honestly built. Ahead of it is a new public appreciation of performance and beauty in the low-price field! It sets a new high — an 85-horsepower high! The biggest and roomiest Ford V-8 ever built, offered in eight body types.

TWO FORD CARS FOR 1938

In addition to the De Luxe Ford, there's another outstanding Ford car for 1938 — the Standard Ford V-8. The two cars have many features in common, such as the 112-inch wheelbase chassis with its high quality of materials and workmanship. The Standard Ford V-8 offers a choice of V-8 engine sizes — 85 horsepower or 60 horsepower. Introduced last year, the thrifty "60" broke records for economical operation! (Many owners reported from 22 to 27 miles a gallon.) See your Ford dealer.

Remember, 1938 Ford V-8 prices are unusually low when you consider that delivered prices INCLUDE all the equipment necessary for driving comfort!

Maroons to Close Season vs. Bridgman

By JOHN SCHULTZ

The Maroons holding a record of eight victories and three defeats will play their final home game of the season Friday night, February 18, with the Bridgman Brigadiers.

The Brigadiers hold a record of 5 victories and 11 defeats. Both teams gave the strong New Buffalo team big scares. The Bucks lost 26 to 20 and the Brigadiers lost 20 to 15.

In the previous meeting of these two schools the Bucks were victorious 28 to 18.

Coach Herder's boys, always tough cookies, will want revenge. Coach Miller will send his wares through their usual drill this week in preparation for this game.

This will be the last game of the season for seven seniors at home namely: Donley, Smith, Stevens, Beck, Dalrymple, Weaver, and Trapp. These boys will be playing their hearts out to win their last home appearance.

The game will start at 7:30 o'clock, that is a preliminary game. Come and see the curtain be drawn on the home basketball season.

Probable lineups:
Buchanan Pos. Bridgman
Lester P. Keith
Donley F. Jance
Beck C. Bliss
Smith G. Stelter
Simpson G. Smaltz

"I know we will outlast them. Give in? Never! This fight is mine."
GEORGE WASHINGTON

How trivial our troubles appear compared with the difficulties he faced. How rich in luxury are the poorest of us compared with the average of his day.

George Washington conquered failure, outlasted opposition. His life is a well of inspiration from which we may draw clear draughts of courage for today.

Can you give up in any worthy thing you have planned or started, with this immortal example before you?

Portage Prairie

Mrs. Olive Allen has returned to Chicago after a visit at the R. B. Franklin home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Riffer had as guests Friday Mrs. Mary Hess and son, Frank, and friend, Herman Lindgren, all of Racine, Wis.

The Crusaders class of the Portage Prairie church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Housworth, the ladies entertaining the men at a chicken supper.

J. E. Vite writes from Orlando Beach, Fla., that he and Mrs. Vite have enjoyed a pleasant winter, cool at times but very good weather for the most part. The orange orchards are now in bloom and there is prospect of a fine crop. If a frost should strike this next month, it would destroy this crop of blossoms and the growers would have to wait for the next or "June bloom." Will Haslett spent five weeks with them but is now in Tampa.

The pupils and teachers of the Kansas school enjoyed a Valentine party Monday afternoon, the occasion being also a farewell for Curtis Miller, who is leaving with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Pruitt, who are moving from the Mary Myers farm to their own home north of Niles.

Mrs. L. B. Rough is improved after illness at her home.

Clarence Councilman visited from Saturday until Monday with friends in Indianapolis, Ind.

Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Trueschal left Tuesday for a few days' absence. Rev. Trueschal went to see a specialist in medicine at Saginaw, and his wife and children went to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Shesaning, Mich.

The Live Wire Class of the Evangelical church will hold an all-day meeting Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rhoades, with a potluck dinner at noon.

Fred Koenigshof had as guests Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Irving Swartz, Mr. and Mrs. Ira House, Mr. and Mrs. LaRue Gillette, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rhoades.

Mrs. Mary Swartz and son, Ira, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swartz and family attended a birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Snyder, South Bend, Sunday. Mrs. Snyder gave the party in honor of the birthday of her sister, Mrs. Murie Fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Swartz entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Chilcote, Niles, at dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rhoades motored Sunday to Bremen, Ind., and return, visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. Earl Barts and husband.

Mrs. Dora Councilman and son, Clyde, were business visitors in Bridgman and Benton Harbor, Saturday.

The Berrien County highway department is building a new gravel road 28 feet wide over what is known as the old Pollywog school road, which has been nearly impassable in some places for years. The road extends from the road east and west between the Bakerstown school and the Howe school south to the Chicago road, past the Ted Sickman, Joe Swartz and other farms and the Pollywog school.

The members of the Portage Prairie Grange attended the county birthday party for all the granges at the Bend of the River hall Friday evening.

The Portage Prairie Home Economics club will meet at 10 a. m. next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Rough for a cooperative dinner and all day meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rough have as guests the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Dillman of the Panama Canal zone.

Clarence Huss is moving from Portage Prairie to the Glenn Haslett farm in the Bend of the River.

Windstorm Co.
Makes Big Gains

The annual meeting of the Michigan Mutual Windstorm Insurance Company of Hastings was held at the Home Office January 19, all the directors being present. Reports showed that the company had a very successful year.

The board of directors of this sound old company is composed of members chosen from various parts of the state as follows: Orr G. Stanley, Indian River; Clara O. Thorp, Kalamazoo; Harrison Dods of West Branch; Robert Bessmer, Owosso; E. A. Parker, Hastings; Jerome Harmon, Ludington; W. P. Green, Hillsdale; M. DeYoung, Muskegon; L. W. Sunday, Guy E. Crook, Hastings; M. E. Gota, Big Rapids; William A. Bartlett, Merrill; Charles H. Hughes, Delton; Fred R. Likens, Memphis; W. H. Burd, Ann Arbor.

The company is in splendid health condition. During the past year the 700 agents have written $43,000,000 worth of new business, with a net gain of over $13,000-

1936-37

Michigan's largest source of income for financing the State's governmental services is the sales tax, while the largest expenditure in the State budget is for highways, according to a survey of State governmental revenues and expenditures conducted recently by the Michigan Education Association. Liquor sales, licenses, and fees provide the second largest source of State revenues, while the second largest item of expenditure on the budget is for educational purposes.

In 1936-37, the State of Michigan received more than two hundred and two million dollars—an increase of more than nine million dollars over State revenues for the year previous. The principal increases in revenues came from the sales tax, liquor sales and fees, gasoline tax, weight tax, and general licenses and fees.

State expenditures for 1936-37

were more than one hundred and ninety-eight million dollars, an increase of more than sixteen million dollars over 1935-36. Major increases in expenditures were for highways, schools, liquor control and purchases, and for curative purposes, including state hospitals and other curative institutions.

While the proportion of State revenues expended for highways increased in 1936-37, as compared with 1935-36, the survey indicates that the proportion of State revenues expended for educational purposes decreased during this same period. More than 27 percent of State revenues was expended on highways in 1935-36, while in 1936-37 this was increased to more than 28 percent. Schools received slightly more than 24 percent of State revenues in 1935-36, and in 1936-37 this ratio was decreased to 23.5 percent.

More than 67 percent of State revenues was derived from four sources: sales tax; liquor sales, licenses and fees; gasoline tax; and weight tax; while more than 80 percent of funds was expended on four items of the budget: highways, schools, regulatory purposes, including disbursements for administration of public utilities and trusts, state sales tax, health and welfare, liquor control, and other commissions; and charitable purposes, including disbursements for Old Age Assistance Bureau, Emergency Welfare Relief Fund, and other relief agencies.

Dr. A. J. Phillips, executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association, points out that this survey of State governmental revenues and expenditures corrects an erroneous impression that more State funds are spent for educational purposes than for any other item on the budget. A complete picture of State governmental expenditures shows that less than one-fourth of State expenditures are for educational purposes.

"While State-aid for schools has been increasing during the past few years, the total amount of money spent for school operation purposes in 1935-36 was twenty-seven million dollars less than the amount spent in 1930-31," said Dr. Phillips. He explained that the decrease in available revenues for school operation was caused by the breakdown of the property tax and the operation of the 15 mill tax limitation on property.

"Michigan schools have been operating on inadequate budgets for the past seven years," says Dr. Phillips. "During this time, school enrollments have increased, buildings and equipment have depreciated, and the cost of living has risen. Construction of new and repairing of old school buildings, additional equipment, and increased salaries for teachers are necessary if public education in Michigan is to be improved."

topic for discussion will be "Land soaping."

Mr. L. R. Stanley, Smith-Hughes teacher in the Benton Harbor High School was the guest speaker of the evening. He gave us a short history of Berrien County, the problems and hardships that the early pioneers faced when they first came to this part of the country. How they started by clearing the land, planting small acres and marketing their produce at St. Joseph, transporting them by boat on the St. Joseph River. As we come to later years we find the situation considerably changed. He suggested that we are too near the present to appreciate the great changes that have been made. It is only after we have passed it and look back that we will fully appreciate them. In closing he left a challenge to the members of the Junior Farm Bureau: "Can we develop a country, can we develop Berrien County that we as Farmers can have a decent living, that we can work out a society in which the different groups can come together and live peacefully? If we cannot we are bound to face what which exists in other countries. One objective of the Junior Farm Bureau is to develop leadership which will function five or ten years from now."

Jr. Farm Bureau
Has Valentine Fete

By HAASE

The Berrien County Junior Farm Bureau held a Valentine party Monday night at the River School south ofodus. There were 59 persons in attendance. Bert Prillwitz, Edna and Elsie Prillwitz, Anna Mae Versaw, Ada Steinkne, Arthur, Richard and Gladys Pudell, all ofodus, committee in charge of the party, conducted several peppy games after which they presented two short comedies, "Look Out for Louisa" was the first, starring Edna Prillwitz as Miss Van Dyne, Anna Mae Versaw as Miss Bright, Anna Steinkne as Missy Woggles, and Richard Pudell as Abner Woggles. The other, "Family Hold Back," drew much applause. Gladys Pudell as Mirandy the older daughter of the family played opposite Barton Prillwitz, Alfred, the young man in question, the remainder of the family were played by Ruth Versaw, as Sis, Claire as Bud, Ada Steinkne as Ma, and Arthur Pudell as Pa.

Burton Richards, Berrien Center, president of the organization, gave a report of the standing of the Berrien County Junior Farm Bureau in the State contest. As of January 27th it is leading by 150 points. He also reported that the acting secretary and treasurer, Wesley Strong, had received a check of $5.00 from the Buchanan Co-ops for the playlet "The Fatal Quest" which the cast presented at their annual meeting, January 27th. He then thanked those who so capably and efficiently helped in putting on the banquet Feb. 7th.

Robert File and George Nieb will have charge of the next meeting which will be held Monday night, February 21st, at the Berrien Springs High School. The of the Revolution. During the World War Stockholm was a refuge of fugitives from war conditions all over the world; in fact the housing shortage first became acute in Stockholm at that time and was accentuated after the War by the growth of the city's manufacturing industries. She spoke Swedish, French and German fluently but her English was scanty and proved altogether inadequate in an attempt at conversation.

It was my fortune or lack of it to arrive in several strange cities on Saturday afternoon to find everything closed. So it was in Oslo, Stockholm and London. In Swedish cities the afternoon of "Lördag" is a general holiday. I had several store errands but they had to wait over until Monday.

So I merely sauntered down old Nybrogatan to the Strand, a block below, and along that street by the side of Lake Malar, with the picturesque old city on the island on the opposite side. The Strand is a wide avenue with the lake on one side and a row of official buildings, including a number of foreign consulates on the other. My eye was caught by a sight about a half mile down the lake shore—that of fifteen sailing vessels drawn up at a pier there unloading firewood. There I found the city's firewood market and a sailor that could talk English. He said that they had been held there for several days, unable to sell their wood on account of the unusual warm weather. Practically all the ships were from Finland. Times were reputed to be hard and wages low in Finland. Finnish girls came to Stockholm to take the domestic positions that the Swedish girls would no longer take. "Finland is another of the Scandinavian countries that has held its finances on a solvent basis, but with considerable tightening of belts and more hardship on the working classes than in Sweden."

The sailor told me it would be all right to explore the ships, which I did, peering down in the tiny cabins where the sailors lived before the mast. The lake front here appeared as the Chicago docks must have appeared 75 years ago. Sitting on a pile of cordwood and gazing between the ships at the quaint old city across the narrow lake, with a vessel with billowing white sails just swinging into position to dock, it was not hard to imagine the march of time reversed to another century.

The next day was Sunday. Stockholm does not shut up as tight on Sunday as does Oslo, but it is nevertheless the rule that if you are living in a hotel on a board and room basis, you are supposed to lie late and your breakfast is brought to you in your room by beives of immaculate, white clad waitresses, probably about 9 a. m. It seemed like a good idea but I wanted to be up and about seeing the city so I arose away early and went for a long walk. Arriving back near nine o'clock I entered the automatic elevator and shut the door—it was the first time I had ridden in it alone. When I arrived at my floor, I found the elevator had another of those Scandinavian door fastenings, and I could not immediately solve it. It was still very early for the leisurely Swedes to get up and there would likely be no one out for an hour to release me.

Visions of hussling the breakfast in my room and the attentions of the waitresses sharpened my faculties and just when I had about resigned myself to riding up and down the elevator shaft until somebody got up, I thought of another twist and presto, it worked. So I arrived at my room in good time and in a few minutes here they came. One with a tray of dishes, one with steaming pots of coffee, and one with a tray of Swedish pastries. To think I missed all that at Oslo while I was combing the town for a cafe.

After breakfast I struck out for the old city, on the island, where I planned to attend services in Storkyrkan "the great church," once the official headquarters of the Swedish Lutheran church. Down around the arm of a lake, past King's Park, and through narrow streets to another arm of the lake and over a wide bridge leading directly to the palace I went. It's a waste of time perhaps to tell about it for I can't make you see it, but it is a vivid path to me yet in memory. Around back of the great Royal Palace, almost in the heart of the crowded old city was Storkyrkan.

I don't remember a lot about the service, since it was in Swedish and I could not understand it. And except for a few exceptions, church interiors did not stick in my memory. From Storkyrkan I went down through a narrow lane of a street to the Riddarholm church, known as the "Swedish National Pantheon," that is, the church where the great dead of the kingdom are buried. This church dates back to about the 12th century—I tell this from memory. At the further end from the door were the oaken coffins of two kings of that date, the wood still sound. Of greatest interest to those interested in such things are the graves of Sweden's great military heroes, Gustavus Adolphus and Carl XII. It is fitting that this old church should be tucked back in a little frequent part of the old city, for Sweden's military glories are a part of the remote past, and the swarms of foreigners who throng the city in summer are far more likely to be interested in the modern social programs of peaceful improvement for which Stockholm is noted world wide.

Down the great central nave of the Riddarholm hang the mouldering battle flags which her famed chieftains captured from Germany, from Russia, from other foes.

Sweden has not had a war for 120 years, and will not have a war again unless it is forced on her by the overweening ambitions of one or another of her great neighbors. I was in the vicinity of the church and visited it as a matter of course, to clear my way, so to speak for more vital things. It is for living, present-day achievements that I remember the city.

One of those living things I was to see that evening—the track and field meet between teams representing Sweden and Holland, on the 25th anniversary of the opening of the Olympic games in Stockholm in 1912. I had been able to decipher part of the stories on the meet in Stockholm papers. Bobbing up frequently in these stories was the name of the great Indian, Jim Thorpe of Carlisle, who won the pentathlon. Thorpe apparently made a great impression on the Swedes. One story told of the calm unconcerned manner in which he went through his events, joking or whistling the "wild native melodies of his native land."

"EASY PAYMENTS" Cease To Be Easy if They Are Not Paid Promptly When Due!

Letting payments lapse and "pile up" defeats the very purpose of the "out-of-income-plan", which is to make it easy for the average citizen to acquire the things he needs most without waiting to accumulate the entire purchase price.

Today you may buy a home, an automobile, a radio, an electric refrigerator, groceries, meat clothing - or any of the numerous items offered to you by Buchanan merchants - and pay for them in easy payments out of your income. These home town merchants trust in you and are dependent on your trade and your PROMPT PAYMENT of your obligations to them.

Buchanan merchants caution you NOT TO BUY BEYOND YOUR ABILITY TO PAY and DON'T FAIL TO MEET YOUR PAYMENTS PROMPTLY.

If you buy beyond your ability to pay, you are not only destroying your credit --- you are defeating the very purpose of the credit system maintained by Buchanan merchants.

Two New Minerals Found by Chile Expedition

Washington.—Two new and rare minerals—antofagastite and bandylite—discovered by a joint Smithsonian institution-Harvard expedition to Chile, has just been added to the list of about 1,200 known rock components.

Lichen-like greenish crusts found on rocks brought back from the district of Antofagasta, Chile, by Mark C. Bandy, leader of the expedition, were found to be copper chlorides, a common substance in chemical laboratories, but never before found in nature. This mineral has been named antofagastite by Dr. Charles Palache of Harvard and W. F. Foshag of the national museum.

Minute blue crystals, composed of boron, chlorine, and copper, never before discovered anywhere, have been named bandylite, in honor of their discoverer. Both of these minerals occur near the surface, in what miners call the oxidized zone. Antofagastite dissolves in water; bandylite is dissolved by ammonium hydroxide. Both rare minerals color a flame green.

Disease Fatal to Civil Warriors In the Civil war, disease killed more soldiers than did war wounds, says the Standard American Encyclopedia. According to a statement prepared by the adjutant general's office, 67,058 were killed in battle, 43,012 died of wounds, and 199,726 died of disease.

"Mind" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 20.
The Golden Text, from Psalm 92:5, is: "O Lord, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Romans 11:33, 34): "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! How unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counselor?"

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 275): "Divine metaphysics, as revealed to spiritual understanding, shows clearly that all is Mind, and that Mind is God, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience, that is, all power, all presence, all Science."

The High School group will meet in the church parlors this Monday evening at 5:30. Arless Fairman, Barbara Palmatier, Ellen Vandervend and Marjory Kelley are members of committee in charge.

Children of the Junior department will have a meeting after school Monday. There will be both social and devotional periods and refreshments.
The Junior High School group composed of classes taught by Mrs. Frank Kean, Mrs. Rice, Mr. Claude Carter and Mr. Becker will meet Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the church parlors for a penny potluck, the proceeds to go for their missionary project.

Plants, Like Men, Have Their Hours for Heavy Drinking

Durham, N. C. — Plants have "drinking hours" during which their roots absorb more water than is evaporated from the leaves, Dr. Paul J. Kramer of Duke university has determined.

They also have "evaporation hours" during which the amount of moisture given off exceeds that absorbed, he reports to the American Journal of Botany.

Moreover, the hours of maximum absorption and of maximum transpiration, as the reverse process is called, are remarkably constant.

Various types of plants in pots mounted on a revolving table in a greenhouse, apparatus for determining moisture losses and gains and for determining the water content of leaves were the experimental raw material used by Dr. Kramer.

Four Hours After Noon

The hours of noon to 4 p. m. are the hours of maximum water absorption as well as of transpiration, with the balance in favor of the latter, he reports. But the plant is not the loser, for although both processes reach a low during the night, absorption is carried on at a rate sufficiently faster than the rate of loss during the day to more than make up for the water loss.

The common prickly-pear cactus proved to be the only exception to the general rule of noon to four o'clock as the period of greatest evaporation. This cactus, as well as other cacti, reached its peak in transpiration and absorption between 6 and 10 p. m. During that time transpiration was greater for a time, then absorption forged ahead.

Specimens of loblolly pine, cactus, sunflower and ash were grown in small flower pots equipped with an "auto-cone" irrigator, which controls the water supply automatically and gave the botanist a means of checking on how much water was taken up by the plants. The soil in the pots was covered with two thicknesses of oil cloth to make sure that there was only a negligible amount of evaporation of water from the earth.

Both Toltec and Mayan
A number of prominent archeologists offer the theory that Mexico's famed San Juan Teotihuacan is both Toltec and Mayan in origin. They say that the temple, particularly, has distinct Mayan characteristics.

The Great Pyramid
The Great Pyramid was the scene of unbelievable prophecies. Among the forecasts of more than 3,000 years ago were the World war, the liberation of the Jews in Palestine, and the restoration of the ancient gods of Babylon. The pyramid covers thirteen acres and rises to a height of 485 feet.

Whale Is a Mammal
One of the commonest popular errors of zoology is the notion that the whale is some sort of fish. It is not; it is a mammal which went to sea. The whale is warm-blooded, has a well-developed brain, and in all other respects shows a far higher organization than any of the fishes. Its young are born alive, and are suckled and cared for by the mother as with land mammals.

So pleased was Darryl F. Zanuck by the public acclaim given to his "most exciting sweetheart of the screen," Tyrone Power and Loretta Young, that the Twentieth Century-Fox production chief selected Kathryn Scola and Darrell Ware to write the screen play for "Second Honeymoon," coming Friday and Saturday, which is their perfect picture together.

The merriest "marry-est" romance of the year, the film proves their love is new again as Tyrone and Loretta find love at first sight is romantic enough, but love at second sight. . . MMM!

JOHN WAYNE HEADS CAST OF "BORN TO THE WEST"

In the second feature of the double bill, Friday and Saturday life is just one gay lark for John Wayne, happy-go-lucky cowboy in "Born to the West." Zane Grey's action drama until he happens to drift into a cow town where his cousin, John Mack Brown, is the big power. Brown offers to give Wayne a job but the latter refuses—until he sees Marsha Hunt, and decides to hang around. In order to win the girl it becomes necessary for him to break up a rustlers' band, expose a gang of crooked gamblers, head a cattle drive through dangerous country and to prove to Miss Hunt that he's a better man than his cousin—all of which he does to everybody's satisfaction.

"GLAMOR GIRL" REVEALS REAL SONG SURPRISE
Besides turning to her first love Comedy—which she long has wanted to try on the screen, Simone Simon is bursting into song for the first time in the movies.

Possessing a remarkable coloratura soprano voice, the thrilling thriller sings several numbers in Twentieth Century-Fox's new idea musical, "Love and Hisses," the Walter Winchell-Ben Bernie-Simone Simon film currently coming Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The songs in Simone's debut vary from the difficult "Bel Song" in "Lakme" to several popular new hits composed by Gordon and Revel for the picture.

"I am so excited about the songs," exclaimed Simone during the filming of the picture under the supervision of Darryl F. Zanuck, ace hit-producer, "This is a dream coming true for me. I have always wanted to sing in the movies, just as I once did in a very small way on the musical comedy stage in Europe."

Even the comedy scenes in "Love and Hisses," for which Curtis Kenyon and Art Arthur wrote the screen play, reveal a change in Simone's personality. Instead of being the exotic creature she was in past performances, she enters wholeheartedly into the Winchell-Bernie spirit of fun.

Bargain night theatre goers will see a rollicking fun festive in "A Damsel in Distress," with Fred Astaire. The supporting cast will include those two lovable funsters George Burns and Gracie Allen. Bargain nights will be held at the Hollywood Wednesday and Thursday.

"My Old Man"

Recently we listened to a group of students discussing the coming basketball game. We overheard the following conversation: "No, I can't take the car to the game. My old man won't let me." In answer: "Yeah, my old lady is afraid I'll wreck ours." We wonder if these students realize what they are saying. Most of them don't actually mean to show disrespect to their parents, but just say "my old man" and "my old lady" because they think it sounds "cute." Students think it makes an impression on others, but it merely shows their ignorance. If other students, who don't use these disrespectful names, would say in reply to those who do, "You mean your mother, don't you?" much of this would be eliminated.

Grade News

Miss Carnagan's first grade has been developing a unit on Winter. As a summary of the work they have constructed a small scene on the sand-table to show how a community looks during winter. There were charts made to show winter scenes, animals to be seen in winter, and play activities which can be engaged in during winter. The following story was written as a group composition:

Winter follows autumn. The nights are long in winter; the days are short. The air is cold. There are very few animals. Some hibernate and some migrate. Snow falls in winter.

The second grade children in Mrs. Heim's room are enjoying a trip through Mexico. In our Art class we studied the coloring and designing of Mexican rugs. George Hawkins made a very artistic rug for the class.

Evadne McCarty has had her name added to the Dental Honor Roll.

Harold Heierman has a perfect record in attendance up to the present time.

Robert Yoder entertained Miss Spear's room last week with his moving picture machine.

In connection with the Post office unit in Miss Virginia's room they have visited the local post-office and are constructing one in their room.

A "Snow White" set up is also being completed. The children are doing various types of hand work. Miss Ekstrom's room has begun work on fractions. The lessons this week covered the four ways of expressing division.

As part of an Indian project in Miss Quicke's room, the children have written to the Junior Red Cross Headquarters, Washington, D. C., asking to be assigned to an Indian School with whom they can exchange pictures and letters.

French Floor Show

The French class enjoyed an interesting floor show given to them by ten members of Miss Quicke's third grade Wednesday morning. The first number was a French song, "Frère Jacques," then they answered questions in French as Miss Quicke asked then in French. Miss Quicke gave them orders in French to which they obeyed readily. They were each time rewarded with "Merci, mademoiselle" or "Merci, beaucoup, Monsieur."

Students, Faculty Show Traits of Comic Characters

What would our school be without our Andy Gumps, Ralph Rosenberg? Jerry White is in many ways Officer 67. Have you ever thought that Raymond DeWitt and Johanna Burke make a good Jiggs and Maggie? Kathryn Hess has a slight resemblance to Ma Green. Can you figure that out? Watch Geraldine Reamer and see if she remind you of Boots. Now who is Blondie? Tell us if Nancy Schultz fills the bill.

Perhaps Edmund Hayden and Lester Hanover remind certain well-known students of the great Hawkshaw and his pal, Whatso. Don't you think Cleland Eagly makes a good Moon Mullins? And as for Marjorie Kelly she is none other than our Kitty Higgins. Don't you think so?

Our comic strip would be incomplete without a few more notables: Bill Gregory makes a fine Buck Rogers; Carol Dumlup, a lovely Snow White. What a swell Flash Gordon would "Toad" Smith make, and what would the freshman class do without its Preckles, George Fitch?

Last but not least here we have Lee Tpcash as Little Joe; Charles Bainton as Hairless Joe; Mark Heinle as Joe Palooka; Catherine Wynn as Fritz Ritz; Robert Heinle as Phil Fumble; Richard Rose as Dinglehooper; and Richard Austin our famed and much-loved Dick Tracy.

This does not, by any means, conclude our comic strip. Will you tell the reporters who others are. If you do so, next week's paper will conclude this interesting slant of the B. H. S.

If it's a smile you want, a certain brown eyed, brown haired, freshman girl passes them out freely. She's often seen talking to a nice looking sophomore boy who plays a trumpet in the school band and orchestra. Her hobby is playing a trumpet. Say, is that catching? Her favorite dish is Red Bud hamburgers, and she doesn't like onions or inquisitive people. Her favorite song is "Me, Myself, and I." Could there be a reason? She has a jolly disposition and is quite humorous. Of course, you guessed, she's Doris Allee.

John Melle, born in January nineteen twenty-two, who is a freshman this year, says he likes movies very well. His favorite one is "Hell Divers." John likes to read books very much. The book he liked was, "Dick Hamilton's Steam Yacht." John also has a favorite dish which is lemon pie with ice cream. Football and basketball are his favorite games. His hobby is obtaining airplane pictures. John has a twin sister, but most people don't believe it because they don't look alike.

IN THE GARDEN

(Eugene Spalla, Fourth Grade)
When you open the garden gate, suddenly all the birds seem to sing, all the bees seem to hum and all the frogs in the pond croak their greeting. Once a boy saw that one bird did not sing. "Why don't you sing?" said he. "Why should I sing?" said the bird. "There is nothing to sing for," said the bird. "Well, if that's the matter why don't you ask all the other birds and flowers?" said the boy. "The bird objected to this but after the boy had left he called a wise old bird and asked him why he could not sing. . . . The next morning when the little boy came into the garden he found the bird singing. "Why are you singing?" said he. "It always happens that way," said the other bird. . . . "It always happens that way in the garden."

Octogenarian Bishop at Play

Although he is eighty years old, Rt. Rev. Arthur F. W. Ingram, bishop of London, England, just refuses to feel old. The bishop is shown here (right) as he took part in the annual hockey game for the old Maiburnians against Radley college in the grounds of Fulham palace recently.

Dental Work in Schools Showing Much Improvement

Number of children examined in 1st 6 grades	1927	1937
Percent defective teeth	68%	61%
Percent defective permanent teeth	29%	24%
Children having some fillings	25.9%	44.6%

This is a comparison of the reports submitted by Dr. B. E. Leachman, for the examination of the teeth of the Buchanan school children in the first 6 grades in Sept. 1927 and Sept. 1937.

In comparing the two reports the 61% with defective teeth in 1937 does not show the amount of improvement in conditions for 10 years work over the 68% with defective teeth in 1927. It is shown by the larger number of children who have some fillings. The reason for this is that many have had much work done on their teeth which has not been quite completed.

There were two years we had no dentist in the school. At present we have the services of Dr. Leachman one-half day a week.

BYE—DALE

We are wondering what we are going to do without that ever-ready Dale Lyons. Of course, all the time we are missing him, he will be having a grand time down in Cuba or somewhere.

Friday, Dale, accompanying his parents and brother, Ted, will leave B. H. S. for a vacation. They plan on spending the night in Nashville, Tennessee, and go on to Georgia the next day. They will probably not stop in Georgia long, but when they get to Florida they will unpack for two or three days. But they aren't through. From there they will travel on to Cuba—way out of the United States! They will be there five or six days to see the sights. Then they will start leisurely homeward. We will expect Dale to tell us many things of his trip. Everyone doesn't go to Cuba for a few days. Let's hope Dale doesn't come home with sore eyes! Good luck, Dale!

PHONICS AS AN AID IN READING

First grade pupils are interested in learning to read and write their own name—Call attention to those that begin alike, as, Dorothy and Dan, Jack and Jane. Words that rhyme are a good example of phonics as, cat, fat, pat, hat. There are many such word families.

A child should have a sight vocabulary of 100 to 150 words before they begin to designate likenesses and differences. Most teachers start phonics second semester in first grade. For children who have had inadequate training to prepare them in attacking new words it is advisable for teachers in grades 2, 3, and 4 to teach phonics using more difficult words, as, found, sound, and unfasten, unlock.

Older phonic methods began by teaching sounds of single elements as, m, s, ay. These separate letters or combinations were then combined orally to form words. This was not a very satisfactory method. The modern phonic procedures are based on a plan that develops knowledge of simple phonetic principle, rather than "families" of word elements. Without being forced to learn rules, children gradually develop an insight which leads to rapid recognition of unfamiliar words. Words should be pronounced as wholes in order that the appropriate sound and the natural blend of the elements will be distinguished but not distorted.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

The aims of the mathematics department attempt to provide for the two groups of students: Those who are going on to college, and those who plan to do other-wise.

Pupils from the first group who will go to college to take engineering courses need a thorough foundation for mathematics used in all engineering courses. Those who will go to college but not to take an engineering course must prepare themselves in general mathematics.

Students who do not go on to college need preparation in dealing with numbers and formulas which are used in daily life.

The procedures used in the aims of those taking engineering courses are taken up in trigonometry, arithmetic, algebra, and geometry.

Trigonometry is a subject which measures triangles. The word "trigonometry" comes from "trigon" meaning triangle and "metrein" meaning to measure. Trigonometry combines fundamentals learned in arithmetic, algebra, and geometry.

Algebra and advanced algebra are subjects which aid in the solution of formulas. Plane geometry deals with the properties of plane figures such as polygons and circles. Plane geometry is a subject that helps one to think logically and clearly.

The students that do not go to college take elementary algebra since the formulas and problems one meets as a good citizen can be solved by the fundamental principles which are the foundation of algebra.

Trigonometry is a very popular course which is evidenced by the fact that this year there are 33 students taking it.

Solid geometry and trigonometry are half-year subjects. Mr. Hyink, who is head of the mathematics department, is the instructor of all of these subjects.

Mr. Rizer has all other mathematics classes except one algebra class taught by Mr. Carter.

The general purpose of the business arithmetic classes is to teach the uses of business arithmetic and its application to common measurements.

These are innumerable other aims of the classes: 1. To show the power of formula and value of graphs in every day business and attempts to interpret graphs.

2. To try to show mathematics as it is related to all forms of life in that today we would have no modern travel, currency, science, without the use of mathematics.

3. To gain the power to analyze and connect things in a logical manner. 4. To acquire the ability to gain mental pleasure from mathematics as it is used in the different arts. 5. It affords unusual opportunities for concentration and play of constructive imagination. 6. Associate math with moral conduct by finding the right answer and in learning the right thing.

THROUGH THE KEYHOLE

What's this about Bob Nest having rush dates with a girl in Niles? Aren't home-town girls good enough for Bob? Eh, Bob?

Virginia Lohmough seems to like the red-headed part of the Wednesday night basketball game. What if he were a brunet? Would that make a difference?

John Shultz sits right behind Maryette Richards in first hour study. Now if "Cannonball" Smith could just change with Maryette, the "Mike" staff would have more scandal to write about.

It is said that Raymond DeWitt likes his part in the junior class play. Wait 'till you see him in the last act, Folks. Oh, boy!

Then there's Eugene Stretch who seems to like to walk through town with Norma Hamilton. Have you seen them together?

Don't you think James Hemminger must have a terrible time telling the Hebner twins apart? How about it, Jim?

We wonder why Lawrence Zupke likes Main Street so well when we know that he lives at the other end of town. Better sidewalks, Lawrence?

FRENCH CLUB

George Riley and Lawrence Zupke, members of Senior French Club, presented the French Department with a large French flag, and each member of the club a French calendar last Monday. These were obtained from Paris, France, through the Importing Department of Mount Holyoke College, Massachusetts.

The committee in charge of the meeting was Phyllis Lamb and Carolyn Webb. French games were played and hot chocolate, the favorite French beverage, was served.

Buick is the ONLY car on the market today offering the efficiency of valve-in-head straight-eight design—modernized with the phenomenally efficient new DYNAFLEX principle of combustion. Buick is the only car your money can buy with the marvel-ride of TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING—springs of stout, shock-smothering coiled steel that lessen skid-risks, lengthen tire life, actually make the whole car more directable.

Buick is the only car with the safety-security of Unisteel Body by Fisher—plus the blessed quiet and peace of Silent Zone Body Mounting.

Buick is admittedly the best looking car on the market—chosen as such by popular vote with a greater margin over its nearest competitor than any other car enjoys!

Buick's performance is easily the most outstanding on the road—for soaring, thrilling lift and power it doffs its hat to no other car even approaching it in size and comfort.

Such are the facts, and on them you can well decide, "Better buy Buick!"

But they do not end the tale. There are two points dealing with figures still needed to complete the full picture of Buick value:

— Buick is not only the lowest-priced straight-eight of its size on the market

— But Buick actually lists at lower figures than do some sizes!

Check the facts, check the figures. We know where you'll find yourself in the end.

In a Buick dealer's showroom getting the dope on his easy terms!

COUNT THE EXTRAS IN THESE USED CARS!

You get a complete car when you buy a Used Car from a Buick dealer—completely reconditioned, completely safe, completely equipped.

Count the extras in the way of special equipment—the heaters, radios, defrosters, fog lights—that are included in his prices on many of his bargains.

He gets the pick of the trade-in crop—reconditions his cars with skilled Buick workmen—sells his cars at prices un-padded with fat profits.

Remember—for a BETTER used car BUY see your BUICK dealer first!

A NEW BATH FOR BABY? ... NO!

It's An Electric Washer With A New Principle

Although the inventor does state that this washer was made to wash clothes, not babies, it is still possible to place a baby in the tub, fill the washer with water, set the machine in full operation and then let the youngster splash around in it to his heart's content. It would be all fun, no discomfort and above all else, safe, as there are no moving parts in the washing compartment. The illustration merely explains how easy this new washing principle is on clothes.

No Agitator!
The necessity for an agitator is done away with, just as the self-starter did away with cranking cars. Soap and water alone do the work. An aluminum pump (which does not come in contact with the clothes in any way) maintains a continuous circulation of hot suds water at high velocity. The surging suds water pushes through the fabric, taking the dirt with it to the bottom of the tub. The clothes are alternately opened up and squeezed together in the turbulent suds water—not too much, not too little, just enough—to insure the finest type of washing. While the action is the most gentle known, the clothes come out absolutely clean—soft and fluffy—practically like new materials. Wear is reduced to the very minimum.

FREE DEMONSTRATION
Call 210 and have the new Water-Flex Washer demonstrated in your own home, on your own clothes, without obligation.

Relates History Berrien Courts

Atty. Robert Small of Benton Harbor Addresses County Teachers Friday

Berrien county history was linked with the address on "Function of Courts in State Government" which Assistant Prosecutor Robert P. Small of Benton Harbor delivered here last Friday afternoon before the social science section of the county Teachers' Institute.

He traced development of the courts in Michigan from time of the Northwest Territory in 1787 to the present day. The government of Michigan Territory was approved Jan. 11, 1805, and Michigan became a state on June 15, 1836. He also discussed amendments to the state constitutions of 1835, 1850, and 1908.

"Long before Michigan became a state," said Attorney Small, "there were courts established in Berrien County. The probate court, first to be established, held its first term in Niles on Dec. 27, 1831. The first will in Berrien County was probated Sept. 24, 1832.

"The first term of county court was held July 3, 1832. The first case was a suit for slander, later dismissed. This court was abolished in 1833, re-established in 1847, and abolished in 1853.

"Circuit Court for Berrien County, meeting for its first term at Newburyport (now St. Joseph) in October, 1833, succeeded the old so-called county court first established. This circuit comprised three judges on the bench, a presiding judge who was a lawyer and two 'side judges' who were laymen."

Assistant Prosecutor Small also traced movement of the Berrien County seat from Niles to Newburyport, then to Berrien (later Berrien Springs) and finally back to Joseph. "No courthouse was built," he told the teachers, "when first court was held in Newburyport in 1822. The courtroom first was a log schoolhouse, later held in what was known as the "old white schoolhouse."

Inevitably, he added, pioneer schoolhouses served as community centers—even as courts of law.

"The Second judicial circuit, originally embracing a large number of southern Michigan counties, had its seat in Berrien. Judges have held office here continuously since 1833, which today counts up to 105 years. In 1888, this circuit was partitioned, leaving Berrien and Cass together. Court then sat at Berrien Springs, where it remained from 1837 to 1893. In 1899, Berrien County became a separate judicial circuit retaining the same designation—the Second circuit, so-called because it was second to be established in the territory of Michigan."

"Two years after the county seat was removed from Newburyport to Berrien Springs, a courthouse was built. Construction was made in 1839, and the building is still standing on its original site. Voters of the county in 1893 ratified the removal of the county seat to St. Joseph by majority of 240.

Hound Holds Vigil for Dead Priest Despite Cold

Weston, W. Va.—The season's first cold wave was not enough to force old Barney, a 12-year-old mongrel hound, to give up the daily vigil he has kept at the doorstep of his master, Msgr. Thomas E. Quirk, mountain priest who was buried last September 15.

Miss Katherine McCaddon, young teacher in the Loveberry school, eight miles from here, revealed today that old Barney, long a companion of the ninety-three-year-old priest, had kept watch on the porch of the abandoned rectory on Loveberry ridge constantly for three months.

Miss McCaddon said she took food to the dog every day. Her school is in sight of St. Bernard's church, which was part of Msgr. Quirk's charge.

On the day the priest was buried, old Barney walked slowly to his grave, stayed for a moment, and returned to the rectory. Neighbors tried to make a home for the dog. Once he chewed a rope in two and another time he dug out of a pen to get back.

Msgr. Quirk used to take pleasure in telling stories of his dog and his horse, Price. He told how old Barney would follow him for miles on his visits to the sick or while he was making his mountain circuit, sometimes through the snow. The dog always would greet his master gleefully at the door after a mass.

Crosses Sunflower and String Beans in Test

Tamworth, N. H.—The latest addition to the vegetable kingdom is the "sunflower-string bean."

Making a novel experiment last spring, Richard Berry planted several sunflower seeds in his back yard. A few days later he planted some scarlet runner string beans in the same place.

Last fall Berry found the sunflowers and beans had mixed. Each of the sunflower seeds had a bean inside it, and instead of bearing the ordinary black and white markings, the sunflower seeds were deep purple, the same color as the beans.

Whisky at 12½ Cents a Quart Noted in Old Book

Philadelphia.—One hundred years ago whisky sold for 12½ cents a quart, but a better brand brought as much as 16 cents, according to an old account book of the Bird-Hand general store, Upper Merion township.

Eight cigars—spelled "segars" in the accounts—could be bought for two cents. Other deals showed that one dozen teaspoons were sold for 3½ cents; one dozen eggs, 13½ cents; a quarter-peck of salt, 5 cents; and one pound of ham, 13 cents.

TELEPHONE ENEMY NO. 1

Rain, wind, a freezing temperature. Together, they produce the telephone's arch-enemy—a sleet storm.

At the first warning of this enemy's approach, your telephone company starts preparing for defense. Every department is notified. All stand ready. And soon crews of men in repair trucks are rushing to the point of attack.

Such emergencies as this dramatize the value of our association in the Bell System. For we can call upon all the System's resources . . . in manpower and equipment and experience . . . to restore and protect the service.

Emergencies, however, represent only one phase of the many-sided program that safeguards your telephone. Rigid inspection, indoors and out, goes on day after day. Thorough tests and check-ups are made constantly. Millions of dollars are spent every year for new and better, sturdier equipment.

To keep your telephone always ready for use . . . at any hour of the night or day . . . neither pains nor expense can be spared in combating the enemies of the service.
