

FROSTS DAMAGE FRUIT, FIELD CROPS

Ray Pellett, Dean of Men at W.S.T.C. to be Convocation Speaker

Freeze Damages Orchard, Field

Now Here's the Proposition

Uncle Hank of Hills Corners sez:

Consarnin sum peepul, it runs in my nut: The smaller the roocier the bigger the strut.

It Was All Over Town Some idea of the way news can run away ahead not only of the reporters but of the truth as well is afforded by the strange case of the suicidal shooting here last week.

We were standing under the awning at Mark Treat's looking at the floral display, when we first heard about it from a friend. Jonas Franks had shot himself at 9:30 a. m. in the morning, in the back porch and in the head. Financial trouble complicated with romance had been contributing causes. Funny we hadn't heard about it—9:30 a. m. and here it was 5 p. m.

We met a lady we know who is next-door neighbor to Jonas Franks. Had she heard anything about him shooting himself that morning? Why, land sakes! she saw him leave home at 1 p. m. and walk away in the direction of the ball park.

Well! Well! Well, better late than never, and we swung into action to get the facts. Down the street two rods one of the procession of Clark employees off shift stopped us. Well, we'd had a suicide in town, hadn't we? Name was something like Francis Johnson. It happened about 11:15 a. m. He didn't know many of the particulars but it was all over the shop. John's had shot himself at 11:15 in the morning, in the bathroom and in the stomach just over the collar bone. Ill health had been the reason.

It must be the same report only different.

We met a fellow who ought to know. Had he heard anything about the suicide of Francis Johnson, who lived at the corner of Chicago street and Dewey avenue? Yes, only it wasn't Johnson, but rather Franklin Johns who lived three miles out north of town at the junction of the South Bend and Wagner roads. Funny, mistake, must have been because the names sound alike. No, he didn't know any more details. But we telephoned the police, the doctors, the ambulance operators relative to the self destruction of Franklin John. None of them had heard a thing.

A city paper correspondent had heard something though. A man had shot himself—it was Johnson French however. Funny mistake—but the names sounded a little alike. He lived on Liberty Avenue, a block east of Kathryn Park, her informant said. He shot himself at 1:30 in the afternoon, in the garage and in the lower abdomen just above the heart her informant said. He had left a note saying something about the Indianapolis derby and a horse. Yes, she'd tell us if she heard anything more. Meanwhile she hasn't called but if anyone has really shot himself we wish he would.

Melvin Sends News of Mildred, Betty W. and Virginia The Record was kindly allowed to see a letter written to Carl Remington by Melvin Burks, from the fishing resort at Charlevoix where he is working as a guide. After a few preliminary sentences Burks imparts some news of mutual acquaintances.

"Mildred is in perfect shape. She has been painted, has a new universal engine, a new fly wheel and, I believe, gear shaft. Looks real nice. Betty W. has been varnished and painted inside and out. (Continued on page 8.)

New York Times Says Free Public Library Is Insurance Policy for Democracy

The New York Times, an independent and conservative paper, reported by many the best newspaper in the United States, has the following to say of library support in a recent editorial: "The free public library is as American as corn on the cob. The trouble seems to be that this fact has not yet been fully realized. As a whole the country spends 37 cents a year per capita for library service. The two states at the bottom of the list spend two cents a year per capita; the top state, Massachusetts, spends $1.08 a year per capita. A dollar a year or three times the present national average, is accepted as a reasonable figure for good library service. Such an investment can be well afforded even in these thin times. A good library system is one of democracy's best insurance policies." The $450 appropriation made by Buchanan last year represents 11.25 cents per capita, compared with the 37c national average. While the goal of a dollar per capita, which would mean $4,000 a year in Buchanan,

ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

Tells of OM Band The Record is indebted to Clifford Peters for the loan of an old issue of this paper of the date of June 9, 1903, in which a lead story is that of the organization of the "Buchanan Cornet Band." Prime movers had been Charles A. Phillips and Arlin Clark, who were the only ones of the original nucleus who could really perform. The first meeting had been held in April 1902, with Phillips, Clark, A. W. Roe, Clarence Runner, Matthew Bestle, and George and Jesse East present. Only George Phillips and Arlin Clark had instruments. The first of the non-playing members to get an instrument was Clarence Runner, who bought a snare drum. Louis Runner bought an alto horn. They then leased the Roe hall and Arlin Clark had the scale painted on the wall and the boys started to practice. George French, then a lad, but already a skillful pencil artist, drew a cartoon of the band which was reproduced in the Record. About this time they secured the services of Henry Dickinson, a resident who had had fifteen years of experience in leading bands. On the evening of July 3, 1902, they made their debut on the streets of Buchanan. The issue also contains a cut of the band, with the following members: Henry Dickinson, C. A. Hallock, Jesse East, Arlin Clark, Charles Marbel, Jay Conrad, Emory Schrieber, P. A. Graf-fort, William Koons, George Stantner, Walter East, Clarence Runner, Louis Runner, Eugene Hallock, Charles Phillips, Thomas Cox, Charles Simpson, Clarence Stryker and Rex Lamb.

Air Letter Starts On Long Journey

Among the letters which started on long journeys, all or part by airmail, bearing the Jack Knight cachet, was one for Miss Lucy Beach, a missionary located at Alimora, India. The letter was written by her cousins, Mrs. M. L. Mills and Miss Mae Mills. Miss Beach lived at Buchanan and attended the high school here, her father, John Beach, being a retired Methodist minister who lived on a farm west of the Mt. Taber Grange. It ordinarily takes a month for a letter to reach India, but it is estimated that the partial carriage by plane will reduce the time to two weeks. A total of 105 airmail letters left the local office Monday and 104 Tuesday, representing about four times the usual amount. Mrs. Nancy Lyon had as her guests Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Gordon of Mishawaka and Mrs. Reamer of South Bend.

Grape Crop Almost Destroyed; Heavy Loss Strawberries; Many Leaves Frozen

The remnants of the 1938 fruit crop which escaped the April freezes was again reduced by the three successive frosts of last week, culminating in the freeze of Friday morning, when mercury readings here were as low as 27 degrees above.

As a result the grape crop of the section was nearly destroyed, only a few favored vineyards escaping. The estimates on strawberry loss ranged from 33 1/3% to 85%, with the exception, again, of a few favored patches which escaped hurt. In the Bend of the River section large berries which would have been ready for harvest by May 20 were destroyed. In other patches the berries were apparently not hurt but the blossoms were blasted in whole or part.

The peach crop was badly hurt, growers reporting in general that the fruit was still hanging but that much of it was black inside and would soon drop. Apples were damaged, but it will require a few days for it to show up. Some of the earlier raspberries which were in bloom were damaged.

Among the heaviest losses were the entire destruction of over 1,000,000 tomato plants on about 500 acres of Campbell Soup company contracts, mostly in the Gallen, Three Oaks and Bardonia sections. Glenn Vite burned straw to smudge his tomato plantings, saving a part. The use of a sprinkling system at the Emlogn nursery failed to save their strawberries.

Aside from the fruit, field crop and gardens suffered. Early corn was blasted. In the gardens nearly all beans and corn which had come up was destroyed and potato tops were frozen down. Some damage is anticipated in wheat where the straw had jointed.

A peculiarity of the freeze was the damage to forest leaves. Sumac leaves were entirely killed and young tree sprouts were frozen down. Hickory leaves were partly blackened and the leaves of other trees not entirely blackened hung limp for several days.

Borst Vineyard Unhurt Among the few vineyards of this section reported undamaged by freezes was the fine Borst vineyard east of Buchanan on the Niles Road. The crop of this vineyard was pronounced the best in Berrien county a few years ago.

PROCLAMATION

Saturday, May 28, was proclaimed "Poppy Day" in Buchanan in a proclamation issued today by Mayor C. J. Wilson. The proclamation urged all citizens to honor the World War dead and aid the war's living victims by wearing The American Legion and Auxiliary memorial poppy that day. The proclamation reads: "Whereas, in the World War of 1917-1918 the young men of Buchanan gave their service to the defense of the United States in an exalted spirit of patriotism and some were called upon to sacrifice their lives in that service;

"Whereas, many others were called upon to sacrifice health and strength, with resulting suffering and hardships to themselves and families which continue to this day;

"Whereas, the memory of these patriotic sacrifices should ever be kept fresh in the minds of patriotic citizens, while fullest aid should be extended to those still within the reach of human aid;

"And, Whereas, the wearing of the Memorial Poppy both honors the dead and aids the disabled and dependents;

"Therefore, I, C. J. Wilson, Mayor of the City of Buchanan do hereby proclaim May 28th, Poppy Day and urge all citizens to observe the day by wearing The American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary Memorial Poppy."

U. OF M. OFFERS MANY COURSES IN RELIGIOUS THOUGHT

If University curriculums are any indication of trends of thought, interest in religion in its broader ethical and social aspects at least is an expanding rather than contracting.

Witness the courses offered to students in the college of Liberal Arts in the University of Michigan, Bear in mind that these courses are not for divinity students but for those who are studying with intent to envisage the social scene.

Students of religion are offered a broad program of study in their field at the University of Michigan. Some 45 courses are offered by the University in a degree program in the field of religion and ethics.

Students in the field of religion and ethics at the University are required to distribute their work among three major divisions: 1. Religion as an aspect of civilization; 2. Religion as an aspect of thought; and 3. Religion as an aspect of social relationships and social institutions. The student is expected to do the equivalent of one semester's study in each of these general fields.

Students entering the field of concentration must have reached their junior year in the Literary College of the University and must have a reading knowledge of French or German or the equivalent of two years of college Latin. It is also recommended that students in the field have a background of study in philosophy and psychology.

Rather than being bunched together into a separate department, the courses in religion and ethics are taken from the various departments of the University which have bearing on religious and ethical problems. Therefore, concentrates in the field may elect courses from the departments of anthropology, Greek, history, Oriental languages, philosophy, sociology, Latin, psychology, and education.

BILL ROGERS COMES BACK

Lovers of America's great cowboy humorist, the late Will Rogers, will welcome an opportunity to see him again on the silver screen in the coming of "The County Chairman" to the Hollywood, May 25 and 26.

This writer will never forget the time, a few days after the accidental death of Rogers, when a picture of the humorist was thrown against the sky in aerial fireworks at Soldiers' Field Chicago, as part of the display accompanying the Tribune's Music Festival. As the pictures of Rogers and of Wiley Post were thrown on the night sky, the throng of 20,000 people stood at silent attention while a bugler played "Taps."

Why did Rogers win the position that he holds in the American heart? Doubtless his success was as much of the heart as of the head. People believed that he was honest and sincere. He never sold his great talent of humor to any cause or faction. He was independent, and his humorous sallies might hit first on one side and then on the other, but all factions "took it laughing" because their faith in Will Rogers' essential sincerity and soundness of heart outweighed any minor disagreements in opinion.

Looking at the situation realistically it hardly seems that his humor can take as permanent place in American thought as that of Mark Twain, let us say, or of James Whitcomb Riley. For its mediums, the newspaper and the screen, were ephemeral; it was comment of the passing day. But if he is not to be of the ages, he was indeed, while he was, for all America; and in a sense for the world. He was a man for all men and for humanity; it seems likely that the tradition of his great and loveable personality will live decades longer than his humor will be quoted.

Tight-Wadding It Through Europe

CHAPTER XXXVIII
By HAWES
Story of a Day's Routine in Blue Crow Playhouse of a Great Cooperative Apt. House

Next to Chicago, Stockholm fascinated me more than any other city I was ever in, and I left it with reluctance.

It was a never fading delight to rise early and wander about the granite-paved streets watching the tides of people surging to work, nearly all on foot or on bicycles, when not riding the street cars and busses. Few went to work with cars. But there would be shoals and shoals of bicyclists.

From P. U. B., a block and a half from the Mission Olander, where I staid, Kungsgatan (Kings street) pitched steeply a few blocks down to an arm of Lake Malar, on whose islands the city is built like a northern Venice. One morning I saw a carpenter coming up this hill about 7:30 a. m. He was an elderly man, perhaps 60, but he pushed up the hill ahead of him a cart piled high with scaffolding. I thought that were he in Buchanan, Mich., U. S. A., he would be riding in a car, with his scaffolding and tools in a trailer. It was astonishing what some would carry on their bicycles.

On down this Kungsgatan I used to go en route to the bus to Sodra Angby, across the bridge and through an apartment house section. In one of these new apartment houses I had the privilege one day of seeing into a children's "playhouse" as the apartment nursery is called. This playhouse was empty, but it was nevertheless a fascinating sight with its transparent glass partitions separating the rooms. It was empty at the time, probably because so many of the apartment dwellers were living in their summer cottages in the Archipelago, or at one of the cooperatively owned resorts.

After a brief description of the cooperative apartment houses and stores, I will leave Stockholm for Denmark and the Continent.

In one social tour I was supposed to be conducted through one of the more modern cooperatives, but for some reason that particular arrangement fell through. Consequently I saw little of them except their marvellously neat and attractive exteriors. Anyone who is interested can find a good general description of the scope of the cooperative housing movement in Marquis Childs' "Sweden, the Middle Way," in the Buchanan Public Library. For this week I will transcribe a description of the "playhouse" system, translated from a Swedish pamphlet with the help of my wife.

Three Meals Plus for 16 Cents. In the more modern large apartment house there is a suite of rooms where the younger children of the occupants may be cared for during the day by trained attendants at a very small charge. This plan is instituted mainly for the benefit of the mothers who work by day. I was told that 40% of the women of Stockholm are wage earners. It is likely that a large percentage of such mothers and their families live in the apartment houses, where there are many aids for them.

The children of working mothers are known as "holiday children." They are brought to the playroom from 7 to 8 a. m. and stay until from 5 to 6 p. m., or 17 to 18 o'clock Swedish time, which has no a. m. or p. m. During that time they receive 3-meals, and several hours of play and kindergarten training under trained supervisors, with the services of a doctor and nurse available, for the following prices per day: one child, 16.2 cents; two children (of same family) 27 cents; three children 35 cents; four children 43 cents. Or if they are to stay a fraction of a day, the charge is at the rate of 2.7 cents per hour per child. The charge may be even less in cases where the superintendent decides that a reduction is advisable.

Just what this means is the more apparent when it is understood that grocery prices are practically the same in Sweden as in the United States, and Stockholm is rated the highest city in Europe in living expenses, according to a survey by the Ford motor company. Milk prices are among those which run somewhat lower in Sweden, but at that, three meals a day for four children, plus constant care and supervision in play and education by trained experts at the rate of 16 cents for one or 43 cents for four for a day seems unbelievably low. But this is in a strictly non-profit, cooperative enterprise.

The "garden children" are those whose mothers do not work and who therefore stay in the home apartment most of the time but may come to the playhouses for a sort of kindergarten and play period from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. at a charge of 81 cents a month (no meals). Such children may stay a whole day on special occasions, by application, at a small extra charge.

These small charges apply mainly in the care of the smaller children of working mothers and are obviously designed to meet what are considered special needs. The charge for the care of children brought to the playhouse during the evening while their parents are on social engagement is 50 ore (13.5 cents) an hour.

The charge for children seven years old or older brought to the playhouse regularly after school to spend the evening is 40 ore (11cents) for supervised play and study and one meal. In the late afternoon the playhouse is open for two hours free of charge to all children in the building.

There are special rooms for the babies, who are kept strictly separate from other children. The regular charge is a crown a day per baby, but reductions may be arranged.

In the evening these rooms are also open to young people for use as club rooms for organizations formed by the young people themselves. All these meetings are supervised by the playhouse personnel. Here the youth of the apartment house may hold their parties, or the girls may come to do their sewing and the boys their woodwork. These activities are directed with the purpose of interesting the young people in wholesome amusements and to achieve for them a sort of group competency, complementary to their home training.

Almost as noticeable to the American in Stockholm are the stores of the Kooperativa Forbundet, the great retail cooperative society. The grocery stores of the society are easily distinguishable by their white fronts, with the word "KONSUM" in large letters along the front, and by their peculiar architecture which in effect made each store and its entire exterior like a show window. The work of the retail cooperatives of Sweden has been told many times and it is hardly necessary to tell it again here.

Sane Living Objectives. Mr. Lundeen, the eloquent and enthusiastic young man in charge of the Kooperativa Forbundet information booth at the P. U. B. store, had a sort of general lecture on the retail store movement which I heard him give. He dwelt on the work of its leader, Albin Johansen, rated as one of the great merchants of the world, and on a par in mercantile genius with Field, Wanamaker and the chain organizers of the United States. Johansen is easily the outstanding mercantile genius of Sweden, yet he gets a salary of only $5,400 a year. He has in his employ experts in charge of cooperative factories who receive several times his salary.

"How does it come that the head of the cooperative works for a little when some of his assistants get so much?" I asked Lundeen. "It is because Johansen is cooperative minded and they are not," he answered, which seemed an adequate response. It seems likely that a main part of the "secret of living" which the Tribune mysteriously refers to is merely arrival at an understanding of more decent objectives in life than money in excess of the needs for a reasonable modern standard of living.

The slogan of the Kooperativa Forbundet and of the Social Democrat party with which its membership is largely identified is: "The best possible standard of living for all."

In the next installment I will gather up a few scattering threads, and bid goodbye to the "Queen City of the North."

Seeds to the Pound. Seed dealers talk glibly of the numbers of seed to the pound; did you know that lobelias run 12,000,000 seed to the pound, and that there are more than 4,000,000 tiny potential red clover plants in one pound?

Add Buildings at Camp Madron

Work Begins on Library, 1st Aid Room and Executive Rooms for Camp

Through the generosity of many named below it has been possible to start work on the library, first aid room, and Executive offices at Camp Madron. Through the generous help of M. G. McGawn of Three Oaks, Frederick W. Chamberlain of Three Oaks, Edw. K. Warren II, of Three Oaks, and Wm. H. Krauer of Three Oaks, and Edw. K. Warren Foundation.

A complete first aid room, suitable for taking care of four patients, is being erected at the Camp at the present time. This addition to the administration building is on the southwest side, and the architecture of this addition will be in line with the present building. The first aid room will take care of four beds and the first aid director. The room will also be equipped with all necessary items to take care of anything along the first aid line. There will be a clothes closet and a bathroom in connection with the addition. On the northeast side of the building it has been made possible through the generosity of several of our donors to transform the old handicraft room into a library. Several windows are being added; the room is being refurnished the same as the present dining hall, and reading tables and books, magazines, etc., will be in readiness for the camp when it opens in June. This addition has also long been a necessity in a large camp such as is conducted at Madron Lake.

All of these men who are assisting in this contribution to the camp have felt that in order that successful camping might be done it would be necessary to have three additions to the equipment.

The Service Clubs of the Twin Cities during the past several weeks have had entertainments to raise sufficient funds to add 4,300 square feet of playground to the Camp Madron outdoor set-up. This new playground is located at the foot of the hill to the north and joins the old playground. This will give sufficient room for a baseball diamond, a football field, basketball court, volleyball court, and other outdoor activities. The following clubs participated in this project: Twin City Rotary, St. Joseph Kiwanis, Benton Harbor Kiwanis, Benton Harbor Lions, St. Joseph Lions, and the Exchange Club.

Suitable dedication services will be held at the opening time of the summer camp and all of those in these projects will be invited to attend. The first aid room will be known as the Three Oaks First Aid Room. The library will be known as the Fred Russ Library, and the playground will be known as the Twin City Service Club Playground. Suitable tablets will be erected and attached to each of the projects.

Work is being rushed by the contractors to complete everything before June 18th.

Now that the prom is just round the corner, it is well to turn our attention to the attendance of this event. So far, twenty couples are planning to attend. Where are the rest of the juniors and seniors?

And when the night of the prom comes, let it not be too formal. Why not mix formally with an informality so that a happy medium can be reached? Let the dress and the grand march remain formal, but be sociable and talk and dance informally.

Then, too, cliques contribute their bit to spoiling the prom for those not included in their circles. If these "social detriments" could be made to realize that they are not especially important, the prom could be bigger and better.

If you are going, don't stand like a stick with a sober face—dance, smile, and visit cordially with everyone. Above all, don't think you are superior to the next person, but be a good mixer to all.

Make the prom a success by staying until the end. To whom it may concern:

Why not plan your fun for the prom instead of chasing all over the country in the wee hours of the morning in a wild dash from place to place? Do you call that fun? An accident is not a very happy climax to a pleasant evening.

SCOOPS

Invitations to the junior-senior prom have been given out. Those who want to take a guest may do so.

The girls are starting track in gym this week. Those who want to play tennis may do that instead of track.

Points for new G. A. A. members are being counted and initiation will take place after track and tennis are over.

All classes are preparing material for the spring exhibit. Now that the band festival is over, the glee club is meeting during home room again.

It seems as though Bonnie Mitchell and Bill Beardsley are once more "that way" about each other.

COOL KATHLEEN

California heat waves can't ruffle pretty Kathleen Wilson, N. B. C. dramatic star of One Man's Family, for when Old Sol beams his hottest, Kathleen snuggles under the garden hose with enough ice cream to baffle Old Sol's best.

Don't Pinky Fitch and his brother, Tom, know that they nearly blind people by wearing those loud striped shirts?

What has happened to the year-long romance between "Dutchie" Vander Van and John Schultz?

It's too bad the freshman girls aren't juniors because they don't seem to be lacking in invitations for the prom.

F. B. A.

The F. B. A., The Future Bachelors of America, is having a farewell party soon at either Clear Lake Woods or Welko Beach. The party is to be in the form of a farewell party as this is the end of the club as far as active work is concerned, since next year a new class will take this one's place.

Committees Work on Arrangements for Junior Prom

Have you noticed how busy some of the juniors are lately? With the prom coming on, they are doing their best to make it a success.

The decoration committee consists of: Bob Habicht, Chairman; Rex Hungerford, Louis Pascoe, Bill Strayer, Leland George, Kathryn Longworth, Ruth Jean Haslett. The refreshment committee is made up of: Ruby Hall and Dorothy Arnold.

And for the music, Philip Barbara and his orchestra are going to play. So, boys, if you really want to come, you'll have to have a girl friend.

So far the line-up of couples is: "Kelsey" Bainton—Carol Kobe. Dale Lyon—Sally Reed. "Jerry" White—Shirley Kubeck. "Phil" Pierce—June Weir. "Swede" Aronson—Phyllis Hunt. George Riley—Agnes Phares. Lawrence Zupke—Caroline Webb.

John Fuiks—Martha Young. George Ernst—Irene Cook. Ruth Beardsley—Melvin Campbell.

Phyllis Lamb—"Dickie." "Pep" Trapp—Mary Garoutte. Rex Shreve—Beverly Koons. Louis Pascoe—Ann Mogford. Winston Sands—Eunice Shafer.

"Bill" Strayer—Karol Dunlap. Bob Habicht—Mary Edwards. Dale Simpson—Daisy Reamer. Art Trapp—Bessie Crothers. "Chuck" McIntosh—Wanda Walters.

Earl Stevens, Ivan Price, Mark Heiney, and Bob Wesner have permission from their girl friends to go.

The public address system is going to be used to carry the music.

Her hobby is reading so that may account for her large variety of books. Barbara's favorite expression is "Well, you don't say!" "Tip-Tin" the popular song which tells about Manueto and Rosetta is her favorite musical selection. Getting up in the morning seems to be her chief dislike.

During the month of April we kept a rain chart and discovered that there were seven rainy days in that time.

Kindergarten

The kindergarten appreciates the kindness of the merchants in allowing the children to have orange crates. They have made many worth while things from them, including furniture, boats, aeroplanes and their latest project of bird houses.

The boys and girls of the third grade are enjoying their first poster painting. They are making large illustrations of their drawings on transportation.

Second Grade

The boys and girls have made a zoo by free hand cutting of animals from colored paper. They have also made and decorated folders, in which to keep their papers and drawings.

HOME ECONOMICS

An interesting demonstration was given Tuesday, May 10, in the home economics room. This cooking school differed from the previous ones in that gas was used. Mrs. Bartels, the representative, made use of the broiler pan, oven, and surface burner.

Girls taking home economics were free to attend from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. Door prizes were won by ten school girls.

The tenth grade class are working on their last project. Dresses, blouses, and divided skirts are being made by the majority of the class.

Plans are being made for the high school exhibit and style show within the home economics room.

MRS. LAMB'S DEPARTMENT

When asked about her department for next year, our faithful, nurse, Mrs. Lamb, replied, "There is no new equipment for next year, but there is a new test for children. In former years the Parent-Teachers Association has sponsored a physical examination for kindergarten children. By the plans that are hoped to be put through next year, there will be a physical examination given to the kindergarten children and also to younger children which will be sponsored by the P. T. A. and the Child's Conservation League. This examination will include a new immunization test against diphtheria."

WORKING WIVES

William J. Campbell, state director of the National Youth Administration for Illinois, who declared in a recent address that one-half of the 5,000,000 married women now working in the United States could give up their jobs without causing serious financial distress and provide a much-needed panacea for youth unemployment through the nation. Mr. Campbell explained that he was not referring to those married women who are the main wage earners of the family.

Many Entitled to Accrued Age Benefit

Many persons aged 65 who are now idle are entitled to lump-sum benefit payments under the old age insurance portion of the Social Security Act, according to Newton E. Lincoln, manager of the Kalamazoo field office of that agency of government.

"There are many persons who are now temporarily unemployed who are entitled to but have failed to claim these benefits," Mr. Lincoln said today.

"Persons who have worked in commerce or industry covered by the Act since January 1, 1937 are entitled to lump-sum benefit payments equal to 3 1/2% of such wages. It is not necessary to retire to receive these benefits. In many cases employers place the names of furloughed workers in an inactive file and thus do not report to the U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue the fact that such employees have reached the age of 65 years and cease to be covered under old-age insurance plan," Mr. Lincoln added.

He said the fact that no such report is made deprives the Social Security office of an opportunity to contact workers who have reached this age and are entitled to lump-sum benefit payments. Any person who has become 65 after having been employed in an occupation covered by the Social Security Act should apply at once for a lump-sum benefit payment, Mr. Lincoln said. His office serves all of Berrien, Branch, Calhoun, Cass, Kalamazoo, St. Joseph and Van Buren counties.

Keeping Up With Science By Science Service

Role of Glands in Mental Disease Is Unsolved Problem

By MARJORIE VAN DE WATER

New York.—One of the most puzzling problems faced by the scientist exploring man's mind is the role played by the powerful glands of the human body.

A matter of demonstrated fact is the knowledge that these glands serve as chemical factories, pouring out potent substances capable of changing the whole behavior of the individual. Presence or lack of a glandular chemical may make a person energetic or lazy, submissive or rebellious, mentally alert or stupid.

That the endocrine glands occupy a place of power in determining the mental soundness or illness of the individual has long been suspected by physicians and psychologists. Glandular disorders have been noted in the mentally ill and to some this has meant that the glands could be blamed for the mental illness.

Others, reversing the relationship, see the emotional strains of mental disease as effective in throwing the endocrine system out of balance. Actually, medical science today has no crucial evidence of any cause and effect relationship between the powerful glands of internal secretion and mental disease or mental deficiency.

Dr. James Vaughn of the University of Cincinnati gave the Rorschach ink blot test (that's what it is called, after the psychologist who devised it) to 43 patients in mental disease hospitals, all of whom had paranoid tendencies and thought people were persecuting them when they were not. He also gave it to 52 college students.

Imagine his surprise when he found that many of the apparently normal students showed unusual character in the forms they saw, for seeing such forms has been taken as an indication of mental derangement.

"One can hardly escape the conclusion that insanity is a difference in degree and not in kind," Dr. Vaughn told the American Association for the Advancement of Science meeting. "The degree seems important."

The idea that a thing is bigger and better just because it belongs to the Good Old U. S. A. received support from tests by another psychologist, Dr. Heinz Ansbacher of Columbia university. He used postage stamps in his investigations.

After the possible influence of size, shape, color and other postage stamp features had been eliminated, Dr. Ansbacher was able to prove that sheer acceptance of the stamp as a stamp of one's own country gives it an apparent size greater than that of the stamp of some other country.

If the trifling matter of postage stamp size is affected in this way, how fundamentally, argues Dr. Ansbacher, is our personality as a whole determined by the people and surroundings in which we live and are reared.

Flight Strips Proposed on Highways for Airplanes

Cleveland.—Desperate hunts for landing fields, with the gas getting low and the fog closing in, may be a thing of the past for airline pilots, if the scheme proposed to the thirty-fifth annual convention of the American Road Builders association by Lieut. Col. Steadman S. Hanks is adopted.

Proposed not only as emergency landing fields, but for the use of private pilots, these paved strips beside main highways, at least 200 feet wide and 1,800 feet long, built and maintained by highway engineers, on state-owned land, may also be used as way-stations, from which air mail and air freight may be picked up by arrangement.

Chest Pains Often Due to Great Overweight

San Francisco.—Severe chest pain resembling that of the dread heart malady, angina pectoris, is in many cases due to excessive overweight, Dr. William J. Kerr, professor of medicine in the University of California medical school, has found.

The huge pot belly or "bay window" of very fat men forces them to adopt an abnormal posture which cramps the chest, causing breathlessness and preventing the heart from getting a normal supply of oxygen. Severe pain and low blood pressure accompany the condition.

The pain and other features clear up when the weight is reduced and the posture brought back to normal. Dr. Kerr found. Diet, exercises and properly fitted abdominal belts are used in the treatment.

Christian Science Churches "Soul and Body" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 22.

The Golden Text, (Ps. 42:11), is: "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God."

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Matt. 8:16): "When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils; and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 210): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

Nose Spray Helps Prevent Infantile Paralysis

Washington.—New research, which gives a clue to the mechanism that gives immunity to infantile paralysis and seems to show that spraying of the nose with chemical or other germ-fighting agents will eventually prove the means of preventing this crippling malady was reported at the meetings of the Society of American Bacteriologists here.

In actual practice with children, the method has so far not been anything like 100 per cent successful. But from reports presented it appears that the method is fundamentally sound and that success is only a matter of perfecting details, such as finding the best substance to spray and the surest way of getting the spray onto the strategic area.

The lining of the nose appears to be the key to the situation. Not only does the virus of the disease enter the body through this lining, but resistance to the virus develops naturally in this lining. This last important point appears from research reported by Drs. Albert E. Sabin and Peter K. Olitsky of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Of all the chemicals they tested, zinc sulphate was the most effective.

Ship's Officer Sees Two Moons in the Tropics

Washington.—Ordinarily, if a seafaring man in the tropics sees two moons he discreetly says nothing about the matter, lest a cynical world raise an eyebrow and murmur something about too many swizzles. But Third Officer R. T. Lewin of the American steamer Yorkmar saw a double image of the moon recently for which an abnormal refractive condition of the earth's atmosphere was responsible.

Mr. Lewin observed the strange phenomenon during a run from Balboa, C. Z., to San Pedro, Calif., while his ship was off the tip of Lower California. The crescent moon was going down through a thin haze, when it appeared double, the lower crescent scarcely touching the upper. Twenty minutes after he first noticed it, the moon set, still appearing double.

God's love as revealed in Jesus a sin-forgiving, character-building, joy-producing power that assures the individual he is a son of God. To renew faith in a religion that would build a world at once beautiful and brotherly, wherein men seek truth, establish justice, find greatness in service, love one another and behold in personality the supreme value.

Church of Christ Paul E. Ewing, Supply Pastor 10:00 a. m. Bible school. 11:00 a. m. Communion. 11:30 a. m. Preaching on the theme: "Spiritual Fillings We Need." 6:30 p. m. Girl Scouts Great Lakes Regional Conference The Buchanan Girl Scout Council was represented at the Great Lakes Regional Conference, held May 11-12 at the Palmer House in Chicago, with ten ladies present. Those attending the entire sessions were Mrs. E. C. Pascoe, commissioner of the local council, Mrs. Philip Boone, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Morris Dalrymple, leader of the recently organized Brownie Pack, and Mrs. Andy Pierce, one of the Girl Scout leaders. Those attending one day were Mrs. M. H. McKinnon, Mrs. Earl Rizor, Mrs. George Chain, Mrs. C. W. Kelley, Mrs. Glenn Haslett, all committee members and council members, and Miss Maude Slate Girl Scout leader.

The Girl Scout program has recently been revised so that it is better suited to the girl of today. It is distinctly adapted to three age groups. Girl Scouting begins at 7 years with the Brownie Girl Scouts; then at 10 years they are Girl Scouts, with Tenderfoot, second class and first class ranks; from 14 to 18 the girls are Senior Girl Scouts with a new older girl uniform and pin, and with a program of vocational exploration.

The conference was one of great interest, for it brought many of the national staff, including Mrs. Frederick H. Brooks, the National President, Chicago. Then the presenting of the revised program was discussed in many round table groups, for it is affecting the whole set-up of Girl Scouting. Girl Scouting is 25 years old, it and it must be revised to meet the needs of the girls today if we expect to hold their interest and to be of help to them.

Winter Tax Rate of 3.7 Mills Asked

A 1938 winter tax rate, for county purposes, of 3.7 mills, was asked by the Berrien county board of supervisors Friday afternoon, in passing the 1939 county operating budget.

The request will be submitted to the county tax collection board which will meet on Monday to organize its work. The allocation board adjusts tax rates so that the total of county, township and school district assessments will not exceed 15 mills. Total county operating budget for 1939 was estimated at $359,375, and estimated revenue was placed at $91,200, leaving $268,175 to be raised by taxation. This would come to 3.7 mills, explained Chairman John Warman of the finance committee, the same as last year's spread. For county road purposes, the board asked a levy of 0.7 mills, which was 0.2 mill higher than last year, and which would bring the rate for all county purposes, including roads, to 4.4 mills. The county's 1939 budget is $22,830 higher than for 1938. The increase is offset greatly by an estimated $14,200 increase in revenue, which was estimated at $77,000 for 1938, but which Chairman

John Warman says will be exceeded. These revenues include $12,000 in fees from the register of deeds, $28,000 fees from the county treasurer, $8,500 from county dog licenses, $7,000 in fees from the county clerk, and $700 from circuit court fees. An additional $35,000 is expected from the state in payment for contagious disease claims. The tax rate is based on a 3.7 mill assessment against an equalized valuation of $72,500,000.

Salaries of county employees, estimated at $80,300, is the largest single item in the budget. Per diem and mileage is placed at $27,795, travel expense at $2,445, and motorcycle police, $2,000. Health and welfare are major items. The county poor fund calls for $12,000; county welfare fund $5,000; hospital fund $25,000; soldier burials, $1,500; contagious diseases, $77,150; and care for children, $2,000. Provision is made for $11,200 for board and meals at the county jail and the juvenile detention home. Other important items are $4,000 for operation of justice courts; $7,465 for witness and jury fees in the courts, $12,000 for quarterly settlements, $9,175 for printing and binding, and $1,575 for fees. The contingent fund holds $35,000. Four thousand dollars is set aside for appropriations. The budget was prepared after examination of county expenditures and receipts over the past three years, Mr. Warman said. Some minor accounting changes have been introduced to obtain a more accurate budget method. Departmental expenditures for the coming year will include: County clerk $10,300; Elections 15,300; County treasurer 6,100; Register of deeds 8,600; Prosecutor 6,100; Probate court 12,100; Drain commissioner 4,200; Agricultural agent 3,800; Road commission 1,150; Sheriff's office 40,800
